To The Moon And Beyond Panel Says Ambitious Space Plan Affordable

By Al Roser Jr.
UPI Science Editor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The chairman of the president's National Commission on Space says the panel's ambitious blueprint for America's 21st century space program should be affordable as the nation's economy grows in the years ahead.

"Stronger leadership and greater vision will be needed, but the expected benefits to America and the world will greatly outweigh the costs," said Chairman Thomas Paine, a former NASA administrator.

The report, a plan for America's next

50 years in space, envisions the development of next-generation Earth-to-orbit transports in the next decade, establishment of a spaceport in Earth orbit in the late 1990s, a manned return to the moon by 2005 and manned flights to Mars a decade later.

The report said the "highway to space" will start with economical new cargo and passenger ships to go from Earth to orbit, and follow with ferry ships to go from Earth orbit to more distant destinations.

"The commission's bold new space program is paced to maintain NASA's budget at less than half the peak percentage of national expenditures reached during the Apollo years," Paine said when the report was formally released Thursday.

"Our report recognizes that the final decision will be made by the American people through its leaders in Washington. The commission is therefore not prophesying, but describing what the United States can make happen through vigorous leadership in pioneering the space frontier."

The commission's report, called "Pioneering the Space Frontier," originally was to be released last month but was delayed by the White House.

However, copies were mistakenly mailed out early this month to some news media by the report's publisher, Bantam Books.

The glossy 211-page soft cover book said U.S. leadership in space will be based upon a "reliable, affordable transportation system and a network of outposts in space."

"This infrastructure will allow us to extend scientific exploration and to begin the economic development of the vast region stretching from Earth orbit outward to the surface of our moon, to Mars and its moons and to accessible asteroids."

Girl Can't Keep Car, Despite Winning Essay

HONOLULU (UPI) — President Reagan personally congratulated a Vietnamese girl on winning a Statue of Liberty essay contest, but he was powerless to change welfare rules preventing her family from accepting a car as first prize.

Hue Cao, 11, who fled Vietnam with her family in a small boat in 1979, told reporters Thursday that her disappointment over the car had taught her that in America "there are regulations and rules, that we can't see GIRL, page 2A

DER Probes Waste Spills At Airport

State environmental officials will be at the Sanford Airport today to look into the possibility hazardous waste from the Superior Aircraft and Refinishing Company is making its way into a local waterway.

The firm is located on airport property at 1682 Hangar Road.

A state Department of Environmental Regulation official said this morning the DER will be investigating the situation as a possible violation of hazardous waste regulations on the part of the firm.

DER environmental specialist Jim Jarmolowski said the survey is follow-up to a preliminary study the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency conducted at the site Wednesday.

DER representative Greg Lee said the possibility exists that hazardous cleaning compounds at Superior Aircraft are spilling through a floor drain and making their way into a body of water.

The possibility is what prompted state environmental officials to pick up on a federal survey. The business has been at the airport at least 20 years, according to a nearby shop owner.

The shop owner said he is not aware of today's inspection but a few months ago environmental inspectors removed barrels of unknown contents from the site.

Spaziano Stay Vacated

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

The Florida Supreme Court vacated a stay of execution Thursday granted to woman-slayer Joseph Robert "Crazy Joe" Spaziano who was convicted in Sanford in 1976 for the sex-mutilation murder of an Orlando hospital clerk.

Spaziano, 40, a member of the Outlaws motorcycle gang, was to be executed Dec. 3 but received a stay a from the Florida Supreme Court on Nov. 25 so the high court could consider the use of hypnotism on one of the witnesses against him.

The court, ruling on the hypnotism issue Thursday, rejected Spaziano's argument. Spaziano claimed his lawyer failed to tell the jury that the testimony of the state's key witness was the product of police hypnosis. Thursday's decision lifted the court's own stay.

A spokesman in the Governor's office said he was unsure when another warrant ordering Spaziano's death might be signed. Spaziano's state-appointed attorney, Mike Mello of Tallahassee, said he will file a motion for a rehearing within two weeks and ask the justices to reconsider the issue of hypnotism in the case. If that fails, he said, he will probably ask the U.S. Supreme Court to reconsider the case. Mello said he is seeking either have the death sentence changed to a life sentence or for a new trial.

In 1976, the judge in Spaziano's trial, Circuit Judge Robert B. McGregor, overrode a jury's recommendation of life and sentenced him to die. The Florida Supreme Court, however, ordered in 1981 that Spaziano be resentenced because McGregor considered a confidential report before issuing the death sentence. McGregor, sticking to his legal guns, again sentenced Spaziano to death and forced the issue to the U.S. Supreme Court. McGregor argued that if the jury had been aware of Spaziano's record, they might have recommended the

Area Groups Plan Memorial Day Activities

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

Veterans organizations in the area will observe Memorial Day Monday by holding ceremonies to pay tribute to the men and women who have died in defense of freedom in the nation's wars. All the events are open to the public.

In Sanford, Memorial Day ceremonies will be held at 11 a.m. at the city's Veterans Memorial Park on the lakefront. The program will be sponsored by the Fleet Reserve Association Branch 147, Disabled American Veterans Seminole Chapter 30, Veterans of Foreign Wars Post, American Legion Post 53, and the AMVETS.

The Memorial Day message will be given by Seminole County Sheriff John Polk. The lead honor guard will be from the Seminole County Sheriff's Department and the honor guard by the Sanford Police Department.

Dick Parrish will be the master of ceremonies and Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce President Jack Horner will give introductory remarks and welcome. The Seminole High School Band will play under the direction of Bandmaster Bob McGuire. Also participating on the program will be the Rev. William J. Boyer, pastor of Grace United Methodist Church and former Navy chaplain, who will give the invocation; Bob Tolle, of the FRA, who will give the benediction; Dave Ogden, who will play Taps; Jim Keltner and Patty Tripp, who will sing God Bless America.

Members of the Fleet Reserve will post and retrieve the Colors and commanders and presidents of the sponsoring veterans groups will place wreaths at the base of the flag pole.

Immediately following the ceremonies, participating personnel and their families will be hosted for lunch at Fleet Reserve headquarters at 3040 W. First St., Sanford.

Area veteran and civilian organizations will commemorate Memorial Day with ceremonies at All Faiths Memorial Park on Lake Drive in Casselberry at 9:30 a.m. The main gate will be closed at that time. Among the dignitaries participating will be Casselberry Mayor Owen Sheppard, keynote speaker; Major Arnold Fields, commander of the U.S. Marine Recruiting Station, Orlando, honorary host; and Kelly L. Panter, assistant controller, Baldwin-Fairchild Cemeteries and Funeral Homes, master of ceremonies.

The program will feature placing a wreath on the symbolic Tomb of the Unknown Soldier and lighting the Flame of Freedom.

At Glen Haven Memorial Park, 2300 Temple Drive, Winter Park, ceremonies will begin at 11:30 a.m. sponsored by area military, veterans, and civilian organizations. Brig. Gen. Robert L. Howell, assistant adjutant general for the Florida Army National Guard, will be the keynote speaker. Richard D. Adameczyk, program development manager for Ground Combat Systems at Martin Marietta Aerospace, will be honorary host and Joseph Werner, senior marketing representative for Sea World of Florida, will be master of ceremonies. The program will feature two "cameos"—the "Surrender of Cornwallis" and "Surrender of Lee."

For the fourth year the Vietnam Veterans of Central Florida will sponsor a service on Memorial Day at the Orange County Vietnam Veterans Memorial at the Orange County Convention and Civic Center. The service will begin at 2 p.m. Monday. The program is different than the traditional ceremonies. Those attending the ceremony will be given an opportunity to speak to the group and offer their own thoughts, poems and appropriate comments. There will be no speeches by political figures and instead of a formal wreath-laying, all participants are asked to bring a flower to be placed at the memorial as a personal tribute to lost friends and loved ones.

Special music will be provided by the Orlando Deanery Boychoir of the St. Luke's Episcopal Cathedral and Linda Bryant Jordan.

A tribute to those who served during the Korean War will be the theme of the 36th annual Memorial Day service at 11 a.m. Monday at Woodlawn Memorial Park, Orlando. The service is endorsed by the Central Florida Veterans and Patriotic Council and over 80 organizations have been invited to take part. A bronze memorial plaque in memory of the 15 astronauts, including the seven who died in the Challenger explosion will be unveiled by the boys and girls from Edgewood Ranch while a taped dedication made by Bruce Jarvis, father of astronaut Greg Jarvis, is played.

Longwood Resident Seeks House Seat

Longwood resident Dick Van Der Weide has announced his plans to run for the Florida House of Representatives in District 27.

The 47-year old Republican is a candidate for the seat held by Bobby Brantley (R-Longwood), who is running for lieutenant governor.

Van Der Weide said his goal is to focus the state's resources on areas of greatest need, including law enforcement, transportation and education.

"The major effort of the legislature must be to operate government economically if the resources are to be found to cope with the rapid population growth," he said.

Van Der Weide said his campaign plans include formation of a little cabinet, advisory boards composed of persons working in areas of greatest citizen concern, such as crime control, education, road construction and Health and Rehabilitative Services.

As owner of Kid Stuff Child Care, Van Der Weide said he has been an active participant in programs designed to assist families in Central Florida for the past 10 years.

He is president of the Florida Association for Child Care Management and a director of the National Association for Child Care Management.

He is one of 15 members of the Florida HRS Child Care Advisory Council and a member of the 4C Training Programs advisory council.

Van Der Weide attended Wichita State University in 1963 and 1964 and served four years in the U.S. Air Force.

Step To 'Total Wellness'

GSA To Ban Smoking In 6,800 Federal Buildings

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The General Services Administration announced plans Thursday to ban smoking in the 6,800 federal buildings it manages nationwide, warning that puffing workers would be confined to special areas or private "smoking offices."

GSA Administrator Terence Golden previewed the stringent new regulations at the opening of a two-day Regional Conference on Public Employee Fitness and Health, sponsored by the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports.

"The official regulations I have proposed for federal buildings are a positive step toward the 'total wellness' of federal employees," said Golden in keynote remarks.

"Hand in hand with other initiatives to improve the quality of the federal workforce, the federal workforce can be healthier, happier

'Smoking has begun to infringe on the health interests of non-smokers in the workplace... No longer is it the right of the individual to smoke without regard for the health concerns of those who work in the same area.'

and more efficient."

But the American Federation of Government Employees, representing 700,000 federal workers, questioned the plan as too dictatorial and not broad enough.

The new regulations, scheduled for publication Thursday in the Federal Register for a 60-day comment period, would ban smoking in general office space, lobbies, corridors, conference rooms, classrooms, libraries, elevators and restrooms. Designated smoking areas will be established at cafeterias and vending facilities.

The ban probably will take effect this fall, Golden said, adding "nothing in the regulations precludes an agency from setting more stringent guidelines."

"Smoking has begun to infringe on the health interests of non-smokers in the workplace," Golden said. "No longer is it the right of the individual to smoke without regard for the health concerns of those who work in the same area."

Golden noted cigarette smoking is the cause of some 340,000 deaths and in 1984, the direct medical costs from smoking-related disease and death totalled $23.3 million. Indirect costs from smoke-related illnesses are about $9.3 million.

Calls for caution are emerging among all the hoopla over the MTA roads plan to be funded by property and gas tax hikes if Ok'd by voters June 3. Herald staff writer Karen Talley presents pro and con views in a special report Sunday.

NATION

IN BRIEF

Hands Across America: Lots Of Spirit, Lots Of Gaps

People around the country packed their bags for the trek to their spots in the Hands Across America line, while a couple of corporate sponsors of Sunday's extravaganza stood by with red and white rope to fill the gaps.

Even some milk cows could get into the act. As the hours ticked away, organizers bemoaned the fact that the toll-free 800 telephone numbers set up around the country were jammed with calls and many would-be volunteers were not getting through.

Maryland was still looking for 32,000 more volunteers to stand along a rural route dotted with dairy farms.

"We are seriously considering using cows because we would love to have the line complete," said Cecilia Rubino.

David Fulton, a spokesman for the Hands Across America national office in Los Angeles, estimated Thursday that between 2.5 million and 3 million people have signed up for Sunday's event. About 5.5 million are needed.

Fulton said he still thinks the goal will be reached.

Father Acquitted Of Baby Murder

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI) — The nightmare of facing trial charged with raping his baby daughter is over for Ralph Richard but the ordeal of seeing his pregnant wife tried for beating the girl to death may be just beginning.

Richard tearfully clenched his hands skyward and praised the Lord when a jury Thursday acquitted him of raping 4-month-old Jerri Ann and scheming with wife Donna to conceal their daughter's 1984 sexual assault and murder.

"I think we will still intend to go forward with Donna's (case)," Assistant Attorney General William Rampone said. "There was other evidence which wasn't introduced in this case."

But Rampone conceded that charges Mrs. Richard concocted a kidnapping story with her husband to cover up the rape and murder may have to be dropped now that the Superior Court jury found her husband innocent of five charges after an eight-week trial.

Reagan Criticized For Statement

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Critics say President Reagan's statement — that the nation's hungry have inadequate knowledge about food programs — only highlights his administration's refusal to make that information available.

"My major reaction is that it's kind of tragic the president's understanding is so limited," Robert Greenstein of the Center on Budget and Policy Priorities, said Thursday.

Greenstein, who ran the food stamp program for President Carter, blamed hunger on a broad range of problems: rising housing and heating expenses for the poor, declining real wages, a lower percentage of eligible people getting unemployment benefits and cuts in federal and state spending for anti-poverty programs.

New Approach To AIDS Vaccine

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Researchers have taken a new direction in the search for an AIDS vaccine, developing a substance that may prevent the disease in people infected with AIDS virus and offer a route to a vaccine against the common cold.

Scientists said Thursday the approach, now being tested in animals, also offers new clues about how the AIDS virus destroys the human immune system.

"If we do successfully develop the vaccine, which we think we have a way to do, the patient population you would consider first would be the high-risk population," meaning those at risk for acquired immune deficiency syndrome, said Dr. Allan Goldstein, professor and chairman of the biochemistry department at George Washington University Medical Center.

Headmaster Seeks 'Forgiveness'

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — The Oregon Episcopal School headmaster, asking for "forgiveness and compassion" from the families of nine climbers killed in a school-sponsored expedition up Mount Hood, called for an investigation of the tragedy.

The Rev. Malcolm Manson eulogized the seven students and two faculty members Thursday at a memorial service attended by about 1,600 people.

Manson's voice quavered when he spoke directly to the families of the victims frozen to death during last week's blizzard on the mountain. Of the 13 climbers on the school's spring survival hike, only four survived.

House Approves Trade Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — As House Democrats reveled in their stunning victory on a major trade reform bill, the opposition set its sights on the Senate where it hopes to defeat the measure.

The Democratic-controlled House, spurred by concern over a mounting trade deficit and the loss of American jobs, voted 295-11 Thursday for a bill that would force President Reagan to get tough with U.S. trading partners.

The margin was wide enough to override a threatened presidential veto, but before that bridge is crossed, the Republican-controlled Senate must act on a bill that senators have not yet begun to write.

Hopes Fade For Summer Summit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan, in Washington for the Memorial Day weekend, has put domestic and foreign matters on hold for the holiday, as hopes faded for a summer summit with Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev.

A senior administration official said Thursday that a summit "will not occur" this summer, but indicated that a Reagan-Gorbachev meeting is still possible after the congressional elections early in November.

Administration Hardens Budget Stance

By Elaine S. Perich
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Budget director James Miller, hardening the administration line, says President Reagan will not give in to congressional demands for higher taxes and lower defense spending.

The remarks, made Thursday to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, served to underline the Reagan administration's position against both the Senate-passed and the House-passed budgets.

The two congressional sides began meetings this week, attempting to solve their differences. Both the Senate and House budgets include $13.2 billion in taxes — $7 billion more than Reagan wanted.

On military spending, the two budgets are different, but both fall short of the $320 billion Pentagon budget Reagan requested. The House military budget is $35 billion less than Reagan's and the Senate calls for $16 billion less.

Reagan's budget has been rejected by both chambers, and neither incorporates the administration plan to end 44 federal programs, preferring instead to end just one or two.

"We hear the refrain that the administration must compromise," said Miller. "I disagree. We're simply not going to give in. We'd lose if we did, perhaps forever, the chance to shape up the federal establishment."

House Budget Committee Chairman William Gray, D-Pa., opening the House-Senate budget bargaining, said only administration "interference" could prevent compromise. His Senate opposite number, Pete Domenici, R-N.M., was less optimistic, saying the Senate's desires for more defense spending would be hard to compromise.

Administration officials have threatened to break up the conference, rather than see a lower defense spending figure approved, and Domenici, as the leading Republican, would probably get most of the pressure.

"When I say no to a major concession on defense spending or new taxes, I'm not being stubborn," said Miller, who heads the Office of Management and Budget. "I am simply revealing my judgment (about) ... the best way to reach the Gramm-Rudman-Hollings spending targets while at the same time adhering to the president's priorities."

death penalty. The U.S. Supreme Court in 1984 upheld the death sentence.

Since the U.S. Supreme Court has upheld the death sentence, the state stay was not based on the legality of his conviction but was an effort to have the death sentence changed to a life sentence because of mitigating circumstances, according to comments of Spaziano's attorney on previous occasions.

At the time of his 1976 conviction, Spaziano was serving life plus 5 years for the rape and knife-blinding of a 16-year-old girl. It was that report that McGregor was aware of but not the jury when they recommended a life sentence. Last year, Spaziano asked Gov. Bob Graham and the Cabinet to spare his life. They rejected his plea.

Spaziano was arrested in 1975 and charged with the death of 18-year-old Laura Lynn Harberts, who worked for a hospital.

Her mutilated and decomposing body was found in an Altamonte Springs garbage dump Aug. 22, 1973. The body of another woman was also found in the heap but no charges were filed in that killing because she could not be identified, according to court records.

President: Help Available For Hungry

By Helen Thomas
UPI White House Reporter

WASHINGTON (UPI) — No one in the United States is going hungry because of cutbacks in government programs, but it is possible that some people might not know how to obtain proper assistance, President Reagan says.

Reagan, speaking to high school students from 10 states in a "Close Up Foundation" television interview, also defended his $1 trillion defense buildup, saying the United States is now "playing catch up" with the Soviet Union.

Private and public food programs are available to feed hungry Americans, Reagan said.

adding, "I don't believe that there is anyone that is going hungry in America simply by reason of denial or lack of ability, even."

"It is by people not knowing where or how to get this help, that they go hungry, he said.

Reagan said social aid programs "are such that, where there is hunger in our country, you have to determine that that is probably because a lack of knowledge on the part of our people as to what things are available."

At a news briefing today, White House spokesman Larry Speakes said there are no plans to seek more funds in the budget to provide information on the availability of food for the hungry.

Speakes said that Reagan based his comments on a hunger study by J. Larry Brown of the Harvard School of Public Health, chairman of the Physicians Task Force on Hunger in America, who said the administration had eliminated a program to inform people about food stamp benefits.

Assistant Agriculture Secretary John Bode called Brown's findings "grossly inaccurate."

"We don't need to go back to the days of door-to-door campaigns to sign people up for food stamps," Bode said.

Speakes said that Reagan would sign a "Hands Across America" resolution in tribute to the campaign to help the homeless and hungry on Saturday and discuss the subject in his weekly radio address.

Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., who earlier Wednesday introduced a bill that would allot nearly $1 billion to government food programs next year, said in a statement:

"The president announced that hunger in this country is caused by ignorance. In a sense, the president is correct: Hunger is caused by the ignorance of those who do not see the suffering of millions of Americans."

"In the last five years, hunger has swept across this country more quickly than at any time since the Depression," Kennedy said. "This did not happen because millions of people suddenly became ignorant; it happened because they or their parents cannot find work and the safety net has been cut away."

Questioned about his $1 trillion defense buildup, the president said:

"In the last five years, the Soviet Union has outbuilt us in fighter planes, in bombers, 50 times as many, as we and the NATO nations together in artillery pieces, in tanks and ballistic missiles.

"Big as the military budget sounds ... about two-thirds is to pay for people in uniform, (the) rest for spare parts and new weapons system," he said. "Our military spending is smaller than it has been here in the past. We're spending a smaller percentage than was spent in the past and we are playing catch up."

Traffic Study Underway

A traffic study for the proposed traffic signal for State Road 434 at the Florida Central Commerce Park and South Seminole Community Hospital intersection is being made by Police Chief Greg Manning, but if comments heard at this week's Longwood City Commission meeting are any indication the signalization will not be given a green light.

Park Industrial Venture and the hospital have jointly commissioned Traffic Planning and Design, Inc., to do the engineering design for the full eight-phase traffic signal and the plans have been approved and sent out for bid, according to Phil Tatch of Florida Central Commerce Park.

Park Industrial Venture and the hospital plan to pay the full capital cost of the installation and want the city, operating under the inter-local agreement with the county, to operate and maintain the signal light. Tatch stated in a letter to the city.

Manning said he is against another traffic light on State Road 434. Commissioner Harvey Smerilson questioned if the light is really needed and asked that a decision be delayed until after the study is done by the police department.

"We're doing a fantastic job of slowing down traffic with traffic lights," Smerilson said. "The only thing that can foul up slow it more is to put police officers out their to direct traffic. If we add another light instead of a half-hour to get from city hall to 1-4 it will take two hours."

It was pointed out that the state Department of Transportation has rejected a request for a traffic light at the entrance to Island Lake retirement center.

City Administrator Ronald Waller reported he has notified Tyler's Wheel Ranch at 3010 Dane Lane in Longwood Industrial Park to cease operation by 5 p.m. today at that address because they have not applied for a conditional use permit as required by the city.

Commissioner Perry Faulkner suggested the city police and firefighters be tested for substance abuse, "not for criminal prosecution, but to rehabilitate them."

"I don't want my tax money going to subsidize a person on chemical abuse," Commissioner Ed Myers replied.

Smerilson said the Florida Crime Commission is conducting a survey and is trying to come up with the best way of testing all the officers and the city should wait for the commission's report.

Hue's essay about freedom and Lady Liberty won first prize in a statewide writing contest entered by some 2,000 students in grades 3 through 11.

The first prize was a trip to New York for the July Fourth Statue of Liberty centennial festivities and a car — a 1987 Nissan Sentra sedan worth $9,000.

Hawaii welfare officials said if Hue accepted the car, her family would be cut off public assistance because of federal regulations limiting the assets of recipients.

Reagan called Hue on the telephone Thursday, telling the young refugee, "All of us are very proud of you and people like your family who are brave enough to make the sacrifice to seek liberty."

Hue, whose father died in Vietnam, told the president, "My mom and my family and I would like to say thank you to you and the people of America for the privilege of living in this good and kind country. We really appreciate it."

Foundation officials said the car will be auctioned to raise funds for a college trust fund for Hue. An unidentified man also offered to give the family an inexpensive car that meets welfare requirements.

Hue, a sixth-grader at Waipahu Elementary School, said in her essay that her family fled "very cruel, stern, and ill-tempered" communists in Vietnam.

"We wanted to live in America, a land where there is liberty and justice," she wrote. "Everytime we saw a picture of the Statue of Liberty, my mother would tell us that SHE is America."

"America is a place that lends a hand to those in need. The Americans care for all people, from homeless to hopeless people," she wrote.

NATIONAL REPORT: A wintry Pacific storm that dumped at least 9 inches of snow in the Rockies weakened today as it moved toward the Plains, while a storm stalled over the East Coast spread rain from the middle Atlantic states to New England. The western storm waned today after blanketing the Alta Ski Resort in the mountains east of Salt Lake City with 9 inches of snow. "It hasn't died out, but it has lost quite a bit of its intensity, and it's going to continue to weaken

A storm system that spread showers and thunderstorms from Florida to New England earlier in the week lingered over the East Coast today.

IN BRIEF

Serial Killers Bundy, Stano Scheduled For Double Execution

STARKE (UPI) — Gov. Bob Graham has signed a second death warrant for serial killer Ted Bundy and prison officials have moved him to a "ready cell" to await a scheduled July 2 execution in the Florida State Prison electric chair.

Graham also signed a death warrant Thursday for Gerald Eugene Stano, another serial killer of young women. Corrections officials scheduled his execution for the same day as Bundy's.

Bundy was convicted of the Jan. 15, 1978, clubbing and strangling deaths of Florida State University sorority sisters Lisa Levy and Margaret Bowman. It is Bundy's second warrant and Stano's first, a spokeswoman in Graham's office said.

Stano, 35, a former short-order cook from Daytona Beach, Fla., has confessed to the murders of 39 women, most of them in Florida. He has been convicted of 10 murders and was sentenced to die for three of them.

Deputy Fired For Tampering

ORLANDO (UPI) — A 14-year veteran of the Orange County Sheriff's Office, last assigned to the drug enforcement division, was dismissed for evidence tampering and lying during an internal investigation.

Although the department said William Ray Porter, 36, was "terminated and decommissioned" Thursday, he technically is suspended without pay pending outcome of an appeal board hearing, tentatively set for June 2, a spokesman said.

Investigation showed Porter removed a two rocks of cocaine from a matchbox lying on a fast-food bag on the front seat of a car stopped by authorities in Apopka March 21. He then planted the cocaine in another area of the car.

Ex-Arsonist Now Firefighter

NICEVILLE (UPI) — A Niceville man who pleaded no contest six years ago to setting fire at a northwest Florida church has a new job — he's a firefighter, and that has some people hot under the collar.

Mason, 24, pleaded no contest in 1980 to a charge of arson in a blaze that caused $100,000 in damage to a Niceville Assembly of God Church. Mason was put on probation for 10 years, but Circuit Judge Robert Barron let him off probation in January.

Mason for the past two years has been a volunteer fighting fires in Okaloosa County. Fire commissioners this month, in a close 3-2 vote, decided to hire Mason as a full-time fireman.

Four Rape Australian Tourists

ORLANDO (UPI) — Two Chicago men were held without bond Thursday on charges they and two teenage boys repeatedly raped and threatened with a knife a pair of Australian tourists staying at a downtown youth hostel.

The state had not yet filed charges Thursday. The women declined aid from many Orlando businesses and residents and have left the city.

House Wants Prostitutes Tested For Sex Diseases

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Prostitutes would be tested for sexually transmitted diseases including acquired immune deficiency syndrome under a bill given preliminary approval by the House Thursday.

Prostitutes who test positively for an incurable disease such as AIDS or genital herpes and are later re-arrested for prostitution would be treated as habitual offenders and face up to a year in jail. The same penalty would apply to a prostitute found to have a treatable disease such as gonorrhea or syphilis and later re-arrested without having the disease treated.

The tests would be required only for convicted prostitutes. People arrested for prostitution would be urged to submit to voluntary tests, and their willingness to do so would be taken into consideration by the judge when setting bond.

The testing requirement was adopted as an amendment to a bill (HB 576) making technical revisions in the legal definition of prostitution. A full bill with the same provisions, plus a requirement that customers as well as prostitutes be tested, has passed through committee hearings but is not scheduled for a hearing before the full House.

The bill is scheduled for a final vote on Friday.

In other legislative action: —House Speaker-designate Jon Mills named Rep. James Burke, D-Miami, as his Speaker pro tempore. Burke will be the first black ever in the position and the highest-ranking black in Florida legislative history.

Mills, D-Gainesville, said he had unanimous support from House members for his decision to name Burke his second-in-command for the 1987 and 1988 legislative sessions.

—The House gave preliminary approval to a bill that would strip minors convicted of drug or alcohol crimes of their right to have a drivers license.

The bill (HB 128) would revoke licenses of minors convicted of drug crimes, underage drinking or lying to get alcohol while under age, including by falsifying identification. Proponents touted the bill as the best way to prevent teenagers from drinking and driving.

Crocodiles Sing On Key Largo

KEY LARGO (UPI) — The endangered crocodiles of Key Largo are endangering swimmers and pets, and complaining homeowners report they have been forced to abandon their daily swims because of the toothy reptiles.

Key Largo is the American crocodile's only remaining habitat, and wildlife officers estimate there are only about 30 left.

They are not rare at Key Largo Park subdivision, residents say. The fearsome looking saurians have reared their heads in the waters off the development and flopped their leathery bodies on homeowners' private docks.

They have stalked pet dogs and forced people to abandon their daily swims, according to residents who are organizing a crocodile removal committee.

Introspection Amid Reactions

If a recent public-opinion poll is any guide, Americans are responding to the Soviet nuclear accident at Chernobyl about as expected: They are worrying more about the safety of nuclear power plants. The poll, commissioned by Cable News Network and U.S. News and World Report, found that 52 percent of American adults believe the Chernobyl accident "shows the inherent danger of nuclear power in all countries."

Fortunately, most of what is being learned about Chernobyl suggests something more reassuring: That American and European nuclear power plants are vastly safer than the Chernobyl design and are, accordingly, vastly less likely ever to suffer a comparable accident. Moreover, there is new reason to believe that Soviet officials knowingly accepted a risky plant design and inherently risky operation at the four-reactor Chernobyl plant. Why? Quite possibly because they placed the continuous production of plutonium for nuclear weapons ahead of public safety.

As The Wall Street Journal reported recently, some American experts on nuclear power are concluding that the Soviets employ inherently dangerous graphite-moderated reactors, such as those at Chernobyl, chiefly because this design permits the simultaneous production of electricity and large quantities of weapons-grade plutonium. American reactors, conversely, are designed to minimize the production of plutonium by-products.

What is more, the evident Soviet practice of continuous fuel recycling precludes another vital safety feature almost universally employed in nuclear power plants everywhere else in the world. When a reactor at Three Mile Island suffered a partial meltdown in 1979, all but a tiny fraction of the radioactivity released by the crippled reactor was held harmlessly within the thick, concrete-and-steel containment building.

But the Soviets' graphite-moderated reactor plants are built and operated without containment vessels, apparently because these protective shields would interfere with continuous fuel recycling. So, there was no protection when radioactive materials spewed from the ruined, burning reactor.

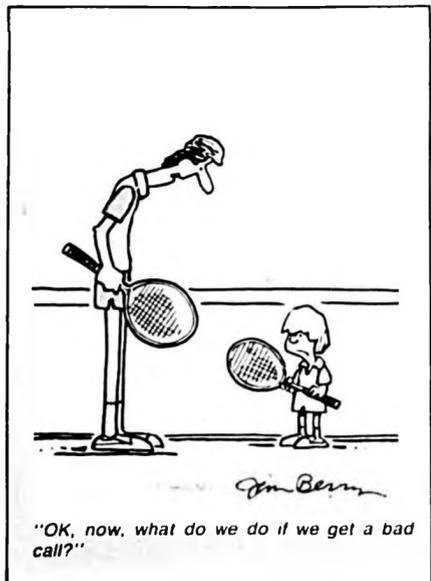

Clearly, the technical lessons to be drawn from history's most serious nuclear-power accident remain inextricably bound up in the political lessons. The Soviet state builds and operates inherently hazardous nuclear power plants because individuals and their welfare count for almost nothing to a totalitarian regime. Merely to avoid official embarrassment, the Soviets refrained from alerting their own citizens to the necessary precautions against radioactivity until days after Poles, Germans, Swedes and others had been cautioned to take specific countermeasures.

These facts mock Mikhail Gorbachev's belated, and unconvincing, show of candor and concern. Where was he and where was the rest of his government during the last two and a half weeks?

No technology is ever likely to be perfect, and only fools would discount the potential for human error. Accordingly, there is no cause for anyone to restand smugly to the Soviet disaster at Chernobyl or to assume that nothing comparable could happen here. Safety must always be stressed, and the more it is, the more willing citizens of Western countries will be to accept nuclear plants as a useful part of the energy mix.

What the Chernobyl disaster continues to demonstrate is the callous, duplicitous nature of the Soviet state. Nuclear power will never be without, some irreducible risk, just as nearly every other modern technology entails some hazards. But it is democracies that think enough of their citizens to insist on the redundant safety features that Chernobyl lacked.

Regan Rules The White House Roost

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House has become a small island compared with the time the troika, or three top aides, ruled the roost. Aside from President Reagan, in his vaulted position, chief of staff Donald Regan runs the show, and exerts enormous power.

Little by little, Regan has been able to ease out all other contenders for power sharing and he controls all the buttons that lead to the Oval Office. In effect, the Reagan administration has reverted to a structure reminiscent of the Eisenhower era when Sherman Adams was the top man under the president.

Regan clearly is a man who wants to be in on everything. When national security affairs adviser John Poindexter consults with the president, Regan is present or on the other end of the line if it is by telephone.

He is ever present at all high-level meetings, and all papers cross his desk before they get to the president. In the first Reagan administration, the ramifications of presidential power were exerted by chief of staff James Baker, deputy chief Michael Deaver, and counselor Edwin Meese.

At times, it was difficult to know who was on top. Often, it depended on the issue with Meese protecting the conservative constituency and Baker, a moderate, seeking compromise. Deaver was in some ways closest to the president, his confidant and loyal servant.

All that is now by the board. In musical chairs, Baker swapped positions with Regan, becoming treasury secretary. Reagan was about the last to know after the two men had worked out the job exchange.

Deaver went into public relations and lobbying to make more money, and wound up with a pack of trouble over allegations of influence peddling.

Regan, who is used to being the head man from his days as chairman of the board of Merrill Lynch and power struggles on Wall Street, took over his new role with confidence. Within months, he had brought in his own team from the Treasury Department, and easing out the holdovers, such as Robert McFarlane, who stepped down as national security adviser.

Others who had ties from Reagan from the old days have found themselves out in the cold. And still others are jumping ship to go with Vice President George Bush or Rep. Jack Kemp, R-N.Y., in anticipation of getting involved on the Republican side in the next presidential race.

Regan has said time and again, his only goal is to see that Reagan is able to accomplish his goals in the White House. He insists he is not bent on a power grab.

He is sometimes accused of being a "yes man" and telling Reagan what he wants to hear, but his aides say that Reagan is given a choice of options and makes the final decisions.

Nevertheless, Regan calls a lot of the shots, and in many ways decides what should be put before the president. That kind of screening never went on with his predecessor, Jimmy Carter, who did not delegate that much authority to his aides, although Hamilton Jordan, his chief of staff, and press secretary Jody Powell did weigh in with their opinions.

It was therefore typical for Labor Secretary William Brock to consult with Regan before delivering a speech lecturing the Teamsters union with overtones reflecting on Teamsters President Jackie Presser, who has been indicted.

Regan discussed the speech with Reagan, according to deputy press secretary Larry Speakes, but Reagan expressed no views on the subject.

When the administration needs a high profile spokesman these days, it is Regan who goes on the air. When reporters want to find out White House policy on any issue, they ask Regan.

The top-level staff meets with Regan every morning and they get their marching orders from him. Often, the orders deal with what statements the president will make publicly, what questions he will answer, who he will see that day, and what will be covered by the media.

Under those management rules, it is no wonder that Regan is called "Mr. Prime Minister."

No Way To Treat A Native

Why can this country be ignited to moral outrage over an Austrian presidential candidate's reported involvement with the Nazis, but yawn serenely at the systematic dehumanization of its first inhabitants?

After 300 years, the United States is still treating Native Americans like scrap iron for industrial conversion.

In Arizona, a bitter controversy between the Dine (commonly called Navajos) and the Hopi nations is coming to a violent conclusion. The tragedy of this controversy is how the U.S. government exacerbated it to facilitate a multimillion-dollar coal and oil development on the lands in dispute.

A few days ago, the House Interior Committee heard testimony about a proposed settlement of the land feud between the two Native American nations.

Congress had suggested a trade of 360,000 acres of Hopi land for 439,000 acres of Dine land with additional monetary compensation thrown in.

The Hopis aren't buying. "Land means everything. It's our mother," asserts Peterson Zah, chairman of the Dine nation.

In addition, the government expects to complete the relocation of 10,000 Dine and 100 Hopis off each other's land by July 7 — by any means necessary.

"In our traditional tongue, there is no word for relocation," says Pauline Whitesinger. "To move away means to disappear and never be seen again."

The Hopis are equally adamant. "Morally, ethically and legally, the land is the birthright of the Hopi people," claims Abbott Sekaquateka, a rancher.

Ironically, the problem is a historical reprise of a classic clash that has been played out many times in the movies — sheepherders vs. farmers. The Hopis are farmers, tracing their ancestry to the ancient Anasazi cliff-dwellers. The Dine are sheepherders whose ancestors migrated from Alaska in the 1600s.

"There is no dispute between the Dine and Hopi people. Rather this is a conspiracy by the government and the energy companies to rape the land for coal, oil and uranium."

Soviet Special Forces Harass Sweden

By Jack Anderson
And Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — Not since "The Man in the Iron Mask" has there been such a bizarre plot: abduction of the Swedish royal family by Soviet commandos to assure Sweden's neutrality in case of an East-West war.

The kidnap plot is revealed in a recent, highly sensitive U.S. intelligence report on the Spetsnaz, as the Soviet special forces are called. The purpose of seizing the royal family, the report explains, would be to sow confusion in Sweden and stifle any notion its political leaders might have of joining NATO countries against the Soviet Union.

For their own mysterious reasons, the Soviets have targeted Sweden for a wide range of harassment, espionage and apparent training missions for the Spetsnaz. Their arrogance is sometimes unbelievable. Two years ago, the Swedish army had to use machine guns and grenades to repel Soviet frogmen who had landed on the island of

Oh! The Sweet Smell

WASHINGTON (UPI) — For about as long as I can remember, entomologists have been synthetically duplicating insect "pheromones," the better to do in bugs aroused by olfactory attractants given off by the opposite sex.

When last I checked, however, the onward and upward march of the bug kingdom was continuing unabated. At least it was still in progress in my backyard "victory" garden.

Considering the many turns in the long man-vs.-bug conflict, I was not too excited by the news that "a new insect sex pheromone has been developed."

Neither, I gather, were the editors of "Agricultural Research," which relegated an account of the development to the back page under "patents."

I can recall when similar events were routinely accorded front page treatment.

The latest pheromone is touted as an aid to "control of the southwestern corn borer." Admittedly, I don't grow much corn. I can, however, sympathize with those who do.

According to the publication already mentioned, corn growers once determined the presence of adults borers mainly with blacklight traps, "which require a source of electricity for operation and attract a wide variety of unwanted insects."

Not many of the cornfields I see from the roadway are equipped with electrical outlets. For that matter, neither are backyard "victory" gardens. I can attest, however, that bugs of all sorts are attracted by candles and other light sources. Presumably, that includes electric blacklights.

Therefore, it figures that

"pheromone baited traps are more effective."

We all give off pheromones of a sort. One dictionary defines them as "hormonal substances secreted by an individual and stimulating a behavioral response from an individual of the same species."

Some individuals, maybe. It has been a long time since human hormonal substances, synthetic or natural, stimulated a behavioral response on my part.

Perhaps sluggishness of that type also may be found in adult corn borers. Possibly a more reliable method was described elsewhere in the same publication.

It tells us how "a blend of artificial, non-toxic chemicals" is being used to trap yellowjackets.

That chemical blend seems to stimulate much the same behavioral responses in yellowjackets that non-toxic after-shave lotion inspires in human beings.

"It is most effective in spring and early summer when the sweet-smelling chemicals attract yellow-jacket queens before they establish nests," explains an entomologist.

"If queens can be captured before they make nests, then they can either be killed or moved so they establish colonies in woods, fields and other areas away from people."

Either way, the publication concludes that "keeping yellowjackets with their threatening stingers from swarming around backyard picnic tables may someday be easier to do."

If research scientists also can come up a easier system of keeping corn borers from swarming around backyard garden plots, they will be performing a truly valuable service.

SCIENCE WORLD

Dukes B Or Not Dukes B

By Larry Doyle

CHICAGO (UPI) — Four days following Ronald Reagan's surgery for colon cancer last July, and after much confusion over the president's condition, White House Press Secretary Larry Speakes told reporters "the tumor was classified as a Dukes B1."

This did little to clear up the matter. The New York Times and Washington Post already had published an alarming report that the president had a Dukes B tumor, which experts said has a 25 percent to 50 percent chance of recurring.

But the president did not have a Dukes B tumor and there is no such thing as a Dukes B1 tumor.

What the president had, most pathologists now agree, was a Dukes A tumor, sometimes also referred to as an Astler-Coller B1 tumor. A Dukes A tumor has less than a 10 percent chance of recurring.

If this was bewildering to the press and distressing to the public, it created a storm in the medical community, where debate had been raging for years about which system should be used to describe what about who.

"It was more or less a coincidence that the president's cancer came along," said Dr. William McLendon, "but I think it served as a good example of why we need a better system."

McLendon, chairman of the Department of Pathology at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, is the editor of the American Medical Association's Archives of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine.

He recently published an editorial discussing the controversy surrounding the president's cancer and outlining a new classification system that should avoid future confusion.

McLendon said in a telephone interview that the classification mistakes made by surgeons at the National Naval Medical Center in Bethesda, M.D., were understandable given the state of the field.

"I don't think it was a misdiagnosis. I think it was just a confusion in terminology," McLendon said. "They were using the name of one system (Dukes) with the staging of another (Astler-Coller)."

Both ground (forces) and (the 2,000 men of) naval Spetsnaz (infiltrate) ... various vessels, including merchant ships, high-speed craft or submarines. Mini-submersibles launched from either subs or surface craft can be used either to infiltrate teams or to conduct an underwater attack against ships, shoreline or underwater targets.

In Sweden's case, the mini-subs are undoubtedly conducting reconnaissance and training activities. Their frequent and flagrant intrusions have been understandably demoralizing to the Swedish navy. One naval officer, Capt. Hans von Hofsten, has publicly complained: "Defense policy has too long been based on ignoring the facts. The extent, intensity and seriousness of the submarine operations in our waters are passed over in silence, belittled or even ridiculed (by civilian leaders)."

Another Swedish naval officer, Capt. Goeran Frisk, reported that he had made contact several times with submarine intruders, but could not take effective action because he had no anti-submarine helicopters on his ship. Meanwhile, the Spetsnaz mini-subs' distinctive tracks have been showing up in strategic locations all over the world. Tracks identical to those left on the Swedish seabed have been found off Gibraltar and near Japanese naval bases. Some were detected in the Soya Strait between the Japanese northern island of Hokkaido and Soviet Sakhalin Island — the route Soviet warships take to reach the Pacific from Vladivostok.

There are even unconfirmed reports that the telltale Spetsnaz mini-sub tracks were spotted on the floor of San Francisco Bay last summer.

Footnote: The Soviets' intended intimidation of Sweden appears to have backfired. Though determinedly neutral for the better part of two centuries, Sweden has asked NATO for help in patrolling Swedish waters for Soviet Spetsnaz submarines.

State Fines, Reprimands Pharmacists, Funeral Director

A Longwood pharmacist has been fined $1,000 for failing to keep accurate records of drugs dispensed and for filling a prescription with a drug that is not supposed to be used for the illness it was prescribed for.

Phillip E. McFarland, of 137 Shadow Trall, was also ordered to attend a law and rule seminar relating to the practice of pharmacy in the state of Florida, according to Diana Hull, information officer for the Department of Professional Regulation.

According to DPR records, during a routine audit on Jan. 3, 1985 by the DPR 350 pills were unaccounted for at the pharmacy where McFarland worked, Savemore Drugs, Orienta Plaza, 787 Orienta Ave., Altamonte Springs. Unaccounted for were 170 Dilaudids, a morphine-like pain killer; 150 Dexedrine, a stimulant similar to amphetamine and often used in appetite control; and, 30 Preludin, an appetite suppressant.

Records show the disciplinary action was also for dispensing without a prescription Prelu-2, a nonamphetamine appetite suppressant. A third charge was for filling a prescription for Preludin to be used as an appetite suppressant. That drug, however, cannot be prescribed for that purpose in Florida and can only be prescribed for narcolepsy. Mrs. Hull said, Narcolepsy is the irresistible tendency to go to sleep. The doctor who filled out the prescription for the Preludin, Dr. John R. Michaels, of 47 W. Columbia, Orlando, was ordered by the Board of Medical Examiners to read Florida Statute #458, which regulates the medical practice in the state, and read the Drug Enforcement Agency's guidelines on controlled drugs.

The disciplinary action was taken in January and announced this month by the DPR's Board of Pharmacy.

In a second case, a Sanford pharmacist was fined for not paying a fine for letting her license lapse for a month, according to DPR records.

Sharon E. Smith, 102 Hughes Ave., was fined $500 in December for not paying a $100 fine levied Feb. 6, 1985. The initial fine was reportedly for letting her license lapse in July 1984. According to the order, dated Dec. 12, if the $500 fine was not paid in 30 days, Ms. Smith's license would be suspended 6 months. She paid the fines.

In a third case reported by the DPR, a Sanford funeral director was reprimanded in connection with a 1982 incident.

The reprimand was issued March 12 to Robert L. Brown Sr., of Brown's Paradise Memorial Chapel, 905 W. 13th St., Sanford. According to the DPR the reprimand was issued after Brown did not deny allegations that he failed to comply with terms and conditions of the board in 1984 requiring Brown's to appear before the board and pay a fine.

According to DPR records, Brown was in possession of the body of a man fatally injured in a construction accident. The family, however, then decided they wanted the body transferred to another funeral home. Brown reportedly refused to release the body without a payment of $3,400. The family contacted the State Attorney's Office and the news media and Brown, who said he had a nervous breakdown, went in the hospital. Eventually the issue was settled with Brown submitting bills totaling $390.

The DPR's Board of Funeral Directors and Embalmers fined Brown $500 and placed his license on 3 years probation. Mrs. Hull said. She said one disciplinary action was for not paying the fine and another for not showing up to say why he did not pay the fine.

According to the DPR, Brown has paid the fine.

MET FOR ARREST

A 20-year-old man with no address, who agreed to meet with a man who had reported to Seminole County sheriff's deputies that the suspect may have stolen $128 from him, was charged after the meeting on Wednesday with grand theft.

Kenneth Berke, along with his son and a woman, met with the suspect at the Altamonte Mall, Altamonte Springs, at about 10:30 p.m. Wednesday. Berke told sheriff's deputies the suspect called him and requested the meeting and when they met the suspect reportedly admitted taking the cash from his home Tuesday.

Sheriff's deputies were called to the mall and arrested there was Thomas Scott Miller. He was being held in lieu of $1,000 bond.

NABBED FOR BELL

Seminole County sheriff's deputies reported charging an 18-year-old Winter Springs man with dealing in stolen property after he was reportedly linked to the sale to a pawn shop of a stolen watch and ring.

The jewelry, valued at $2,500, was stolen from Bruce McGonigal on May 7 and sold to Golden Pawn for $150.

The pawn shop manager told Seminole County sheriff's deputies that the seller of the items had told him the watch had belonged to his grandfather and the ring had been found on the beach, a sheriff's report said.

After questioning at the sheriff's department Ervin Leon Thornhill Jr., of 969 Wedgewood Drive, was arrested at 4:45 p.m. Wednesday. He has been charged with dealing in stolen property and was being held in lieu of $2,000 bond.

RAN BUT CAUGHT

A 34-year-old Sanford man who allegedly tampered with two windows of a home at 2013 Cypress Ave., before running, was nabbed by police at a nearby ball field and charged with attempted burglary.

The attempted burglary occurred at about 8 a.m. Wednesday. The residents of that home were not there, but the suspect ran away without entering the building, a Sanford police report said.

A witness identified a suspect for police and police stopped the suspect who was at Pinchurst Ball Park, between 24th and

The man was also charged with possession of a firearm by a felon, possession of a concealed firearm by a felon, and resisting arrest by giving a false name.

In addition to finding cocaine and drug paraphernalia in the home at 1324 Oleander Ave., police reported finding a .22-caliber handgun under a mattress on which the male suspect was sitting. They also reported determining he is wanted in Lake County.

Jimmie Louis Belser, 38, and Sylvia Lavern Belser, 27, were charged in the case. She was being held in lieu of $2,000 bond and he was being held in lieu of $20,000 bond.

DUI ARRESTS

The following persons have been arrested in Seminole County on a charge of driving under the influence:

—Robert Rodney Yourshaw, 45, of 402 E. Church St., Longwood, was arrested by a Seminole County sheriff's deputy at 11:51 p.m. Wednesday on U.S. Highway 17-92, Longwood.

—Tom C. Wilson, 33, of Deltona, at 1:52 a.m. Thursday, on U.S. Highway 17-92 at 13th Street, Sanford, after his pickup truck stopped in the intersection at a traffic light. He was also charged with careless driving and driving with a revoked license.

—Richard Lee Bailey, 37, of 2559 Yale Ave., Sanford, at 11:20 p.m. Wednesday after his car was in an accident on U.S. Highway 17-92 at County Road 427. He was also charged with reckless driving.

—James Conway, 66, of 211 Ruth Blvd., Longwood, at 11:34 p.m. Wednesday after a Lake Mary policeman was alerted to a possible drunk driver eastbound on Lake Mary Boulevard.

—John Oscar Henderson, 23, of State Road 427, lot 20, Elder Springs Road, Sanford, at 8:46 p.m. Wednesday after his car was in an accident on State Road 46 west of Sanford.

BURGLARIES & THEFTS

Robert E. Parker, 68, of 4505 Gabriella Lane, Winter Park, reported to sheriff's deputies that a $450 outboard motor was stolen from his boat between Monday and Wednesday.

Plywood valued at $560, 70 sheets, was stolen from lots 6 and 52, on Fairgreen in Quail Run, between May 18 and Wednesday. A sheriff's report said the wood belongs to Richman America, of Maitland.

IN BRIEF

East Bloc Panel Calls For More Nuclear Power

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Executive Committee of the Council for Mutual Economic Assistance — the East bloc version of the European Common Market — expressed sympathy for victims of the Chernobyl nuclear disaster, then voted to build more power plants, most of Soviet design.

The panel, responsible for overseeing the execution of common economic strategy among the 10 Comecon member states, also endorsed Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev's call for an international early warning system to prevent another Chernobyl-type nuclear accident from taking the world by surprise.

The actions were taken Thursday as the committee concluded a three-day meeting in Moscow, Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said.

In Vienna, the International Atomic Energy Agency said the Soviet representative to the agency advised its Board of Governors that 15 people have died as a result of the Chernobyl accident and 20 remained in critical condition. The official Soviet death toll has not been raised since May 14, when it stood at nine.

9 Killed in Car-Bomb Attack

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — A car packed with explosives blew up outside a school in Christian east Beirut today killing as many as nine people and injuring at least 84 others, including children.

"The casualty figure is preliminary. ... Rescue workers have removed six burned and unrecognizable bodies from the rubble and taken 84 wounded to various hospitals," said one of the police officers coordinating the rescue operations.

"Three other people are still missing under the rubble and are presumed dead too," the officer said.

No one claimed responsibility for the attack. "Only a few of the casualties are students because the bomb went off soon after they got off their buses and entered the school's walled courtyard. Thank god for that," he said.

Crash Blamed On Tire Explosion

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — A blowout in a landing gear tire, and not a bomb, caused the March 31 crash of a Mexicana Airlines jetliner, the worst aviation disaster in Mexican history, a Ministry of Communications and Transportation report said.

The Aviation Accident Commission report, released Thursday, discounted original speculation that the 166 who died on the jet were victims of a bomb explosion.

The Boeing 727 began breaking up at 15,000 feet as the pilot struggled to maintain control of the disintegrating craft, the report said.

The report said the left tire of the jetliner's main landing gear blew out after it had been retracted into the body of the plane.

It said the explosion was triggered by "the overheating of the middle part of the wheel" but did not specify what caused the overheating, indicating it could have been caused by "a defect in manufacture, overheating or damage caused during taxiing, takeoff and landing, or a combination of these factors."

Soviets Demand Extradition

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union demanded that the United States immediately deport a Philadelphia tailor it claims is a war criminal who participated in the murders of 5,000 civilians during the Nazi occupation of the Ukraine.

The extradition demand for Sergie Kowalchuk was made Thursday in a note from the Foreign Ministry to the U.S. Embassy, the Tass news agency said.

The embassy had no comment. The Foreign Ministry said in the note that Kowalchuk served as deputy chief of the Lyubomir District Police in the Ukraine during the Nazi occupation and fled to the United States in the summer of 1944 to escape prosecution for war crimes.

U.S. court records show Kowalchuk first applied for a visa to enter the United States in 1950 and was granted U.S. citizenship in 1960. Now in his mid-60s, Kowalchuk lives in Philadelphia, where he works as a tailor.

The note said Soviet officials handed over a full dossier on Kowalchuk to U.S. authorities in 1980 but got no reply.

UFOs Surround Fighter Plane

BRASILIA, Brazil (UPI) — Ozires Silva, head of the state oil company, was preparing to land his plane when he saw three colored lights darting like pingpong balls through the night sky and detected three objects on radar.

He canceled his landing, informed the Brazilian Defense Center and chased the fast-moving lights. The Defense Center went on alert and sent jet fighters in pursuit of the lights.

Air Force Minister Octavio Moreira Lima said Thursday six air force jet fighters chased more than a dozen UFOs and that, at one point, one plane was surrounded by the objects.

He said pilots of the planes dispatched to pursue the mysterious objects Monday night saw intense green, red and white lights that moved between 160 mph and 990 mph and picked up solid objects on the radar.

"It is not a question of believing or not," Lima said. "This requires technical information and we have neither replies nor technical explanations for what happened," Lima said.

Iranian: Shoplift Charge 'Setup'

NEW YORK (UPI) — Iran's ambassador to the United Nations said Thursday he is innocent of charges he tried to steal a raincoat from a Manhattan department store two weeks ago and called the incident an FBI "setup."

Said Rajaei-Khorassani called a news conference at U.N. headquarters in the wake of reports he was held by detectives at Alexander's department store May 7 after he tried to leave with a raincoat he did not pay for.

Representatives of the People's Mojahedin of Iran, the principal opposition movement to the regime of Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, reacted immediately by telling media about public amputation of a thief's four fingers by an electric guillotine in Tehran May 7, the same day Rajaei-Khorassani was apprehended in the department store.

Reagan Blasts Democrats On Trade Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan charged Thursday that the Democratic House leadership has put together a trade bill that is "openly and rankly political" that could plunge the world into a trade war and erode relations with allies.

In remarks prepared for the American Retail Federation that had the overtones of his political speech to a Republican fundraiser Wednesday night, Reagan praised his own economic accomplishments and charged that the opposition is "weakening our defenses and raising our taxes."

But Reagan said the American people have been repudiating "the old policies of high taxes at home and weakness abroad."

"To borrow a comparison from retailing, the opposition is beginning to look as out of it as a department store that stocks wide ties and bell-bottom pants," Reagan said. "The American people just aren't buying. Neither is the Senate and neither am I."

Reagan said the "Democratic leadership in the House has put together a trade bill — rather an anti-trade bill — that is openly and rankly political."

Adoption of the bill by the House was scheduled for this afternoon. It faces an uncertain future in the Senate and White House spokesman Larry Speakes has termed it an "A-1 candidate for a veto."

"This anti-trade bill, this protectionist legislation, would have our nation violate the most basic tenets of free and fair international trade," the president said.

"Indeed, it could plunge the world into a trade war, eroding our relations with our allies and free-world trading partners. Economic growth in America and around the world, would be the casualty."

Reagan described the legislation as "embarrassingly old-fashioned and out of date," and maintained that where U.S. trading partners "appear to be cheating Americans, we're taking action."

The House bill would cost American consumers "billions and undercut the millions of American jobs connected with foreign trade."

"Believe me, I don't intend to let that happen," Reagan said.

While His Wife Was Away, He Watched Nudies Play

DEAR ABBY: While my wife was away, I rented a nudie tape. When I returned it, to my horror I came face to face with a different clerk. She was the daughter of a friend of my wife — we used to go to the same church.

Dear Abby

The girl told her mother, the mother told my wife, and I ended up in the doghouse. To make matters worse, I complained to the manager of the video store and he fired the girl. The girl told her mother, her mother told my wife, and now I'm in the doghouse once-removed.

Shouldn't the clerks in video stores be just as discreet with their information as doctors and lawyers? So who was in the wrong? The girl for blabbing to her mother? Or I for telling her boss and getting her fired?

ARP ARP IN ARKANSAS

DEAR ARP: You were justified in reporting the girl to her boss. Your choice of tapes was none of her business, and for her to have blabbed to her mother was immature and inexcusable. Her mother was also out of line to have told your wife. And finally, an adult is free to choose his or her own entertainment. But if your wife was able to banish you to the doghouse twice, you'd better check your marriage license to make sure it's not a dog license.

DEAR ABBY: I just received an invitation to a wedding that read:

"Mr. and Mrs. John Smith and Mrs. Jane Jones and the late Mr. Paul G. Jones invite you to share in the joy of the marriage uniting their children, Mary and Harold, etc."

All the names are made up, of course, but I'm sure you get the idea. Abby, is it socially correct to issue an invitation in the name of a deceased person? How can a deceased person invite anyone anywhere? This is a first for me.

INVITED GUEST

DEAR INVITED: Obviously, a deceased person cannot invite anyone anywhere, but whoever was responsible for wording the invitations wanted to give honorable mention to the widow's late husband.

It's too late to correct the error.

so try to be more charitable and less critical.

DEAR ABBY: I am an overweight lady. I do not want to lose weight because I like myself the way I am. I've been skinny, I've been "normal," and for the last two years I've been heavy. I prefer heavy. I meet a better class of men this way. I would like to meet another man like my deceased husband. He resembled every ounce of me.

You once mentioned an organization of fat people who are not ashamed of being heavy. They carry themselves with dignity and confidence and don't care what other people think. I didn't keep the information when I read it because I never thought I'd need it. Please put it in your column. There must be other people who would like to join.

HEAVY AND HAPPY

DEAR HEAVY: Write to: NAAFA (National Association to Aid Fat Americans), P.O. Box 43, Bellerose, N.Y. 11426, and enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for a reply. I have seen the organization's newsletter and think it performs a much needed service in these times when thin is so in that fat people are made to feel guilty and ashamed.

Trophy To Seminole Students

A team of Seminole County High School students captured the first place trophy in the Florida High School Academic Tournament held recently at Walt Disney World's Contemporary Resort.

In addition to the trophy, the five students also were awarded individual scholarships of $1,000.

Thirty-three Florida counties participated in the event, which Seminole won for the second consecutive year. Seminole competed in the Division II class, for schools with more than 10,000 students. Orange County was the runner-up to Seminole, and was students awarded $500 scholarships.

Members of the winning team include Keith Woolner and Dan Robie from Lake Brantley High School, Mark Adams from Lake Howell High School, Matt Judge from Oviedo High School, and Tom Chernetsky of Lake Mary High School. The team's coach, Dr. Nancy Johnson, is a Lake Brantley High School instructor.

Superintendent of Seminole County Schools Robert Hughes called the students "outstanding".

PTA Elects

Felicia Sperti is president of the school group; JoAnne Simmons is the first vice president; Sandy Robinson, second vice president; Linda Birko corresponding secretary; Sue Ebaugh recording secretary; and Bonnie Penick, treasurer.

The new school, located in Lake Mary, will open in August.

Tracy Turner Makes USA Travel Team

Tracy Turner, the younger half of Seminole High's fine brother wrestling combination, has qualified for a USA Wrestling Federation Tournament team which will tour Japan, Korea and Hawaii this summer.

Turner, a sophomore wrestling at 154 pounds, won five matches in the freestyle competition at Fort Lauderdale three weeks ago to earn a place on the team. The hard-nosed Seminole picked up two pins, two technical pins and a 6-3 decision. First and second place finishers qualify.

"I was excited when I knew I qualified," Turner said. "But I didn't really think about it until I got it in the mail."

The team will be coached by Michael Knight from West Palm Beach.

Turner will leave from Tampa on July 29 for Tokyo. On Aug. 12, he goes to Seoul. On Aug. 15, he goes to Honolulu. He returns to Tampa Aug. 18. The team will wrestle a series of exhibitions in each city.

Tim Raines' appearance on Mazda's Sports Look with Roy Firestone was well done Wednesday. Firestone spent most of the half hour talking about Raines' battle with drugs in 1982. Firestone has a nice sensitivity to his style which made asking the "same old questions" not as trite.

Raines, who has reached base via walk or hit or error in all of Montreal's 37 games, said the streak surprised him. "I didn't realize I had it going," he said Wednesday. "If I can keep getting the pitches to hit, I can keep it going. I feel real comfortable at the plate."

Raines' three hits in four trips Thursday night raised his average to .322, which is ninth in the league. His two stolen bases pulled him even with LA's Mariano Duncan with 16.

Raines' mother, Florence, may have had something to do with plate resurgence. "I was watching him on TV early in the season," Florence said about Tim's early season slump. "He was dropping his shoulder. I just told him, 'Quit dropping your shoulder and hit the ball where it's pitched.'"

Wes Rinker, executive director of Florida Baseball Schools, will have a class for boys' 12 through 18 from June 23-28 at Sanford Memorial Stadium. The day camper fee is $105. The day-overs pay $295.

Rinker is considered one of the finest in the field when it comes to teaching a player the proper way to throw a baseball.

Rinker is also holding registration for the Buddy Lake Summer League on Saturday, May 31 from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Fee is $60. Call Rinker at 323-1046 for info.

Jeff Blake, Seminole High's talented sophomore athlete, was released from the hospital Wednesday. Blake was injured when his motorcycle collided with an automobile. He suffered a broken right leg and broken right arm.

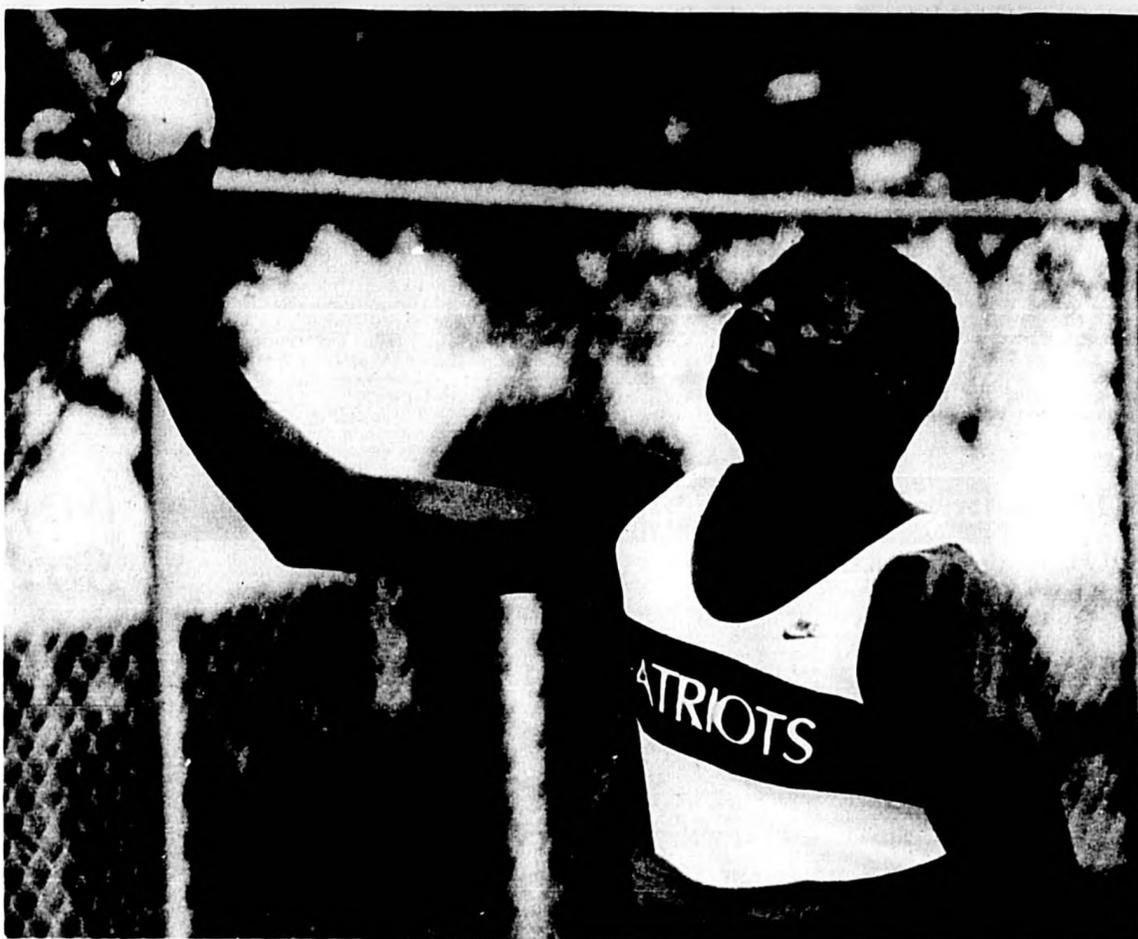

The rifle-armed quarterback will miss the 1986 season, but he hopes to return for '87 and his senior year. Most college scouts ranked the 15-year-old as a future blue-chip prospect.

Cousin Herb Hillery will take over at QB in Blake's absence.

Allison McCall, a former Seminole High swimmer and baseball batgirl, is still a Seminole. Allison, a freshman at Florida State, will assume the role of "Tommy Hawke," the FSU mascot.

Seminole Greyhound Park holds its quarterfinals for the $10,000 Sprint Championship tonight. SGP publicist Happy Ison said Holly's Cowboy, Davilla Lark and UC One Two III are the points leaders with 24 each.

There are 48 greyhounds involved. Some of the missing notables are Tip Toe Lee, Fast Alex and Beau's Rover.

Lake Brantley's Cornelius Friendly flexes every muscle as he unloads the shot put in last week's State Decathlon. Friendly, normally a sprinter, joins several other county athletes Saturday in the Golden South Classic.

Brantley's Plan: Blot Out 1985

By Scott Sander
Special To The Herald

Last year, the Lake Brantley Patriots were a team that struggled throughout the season. The Patriots finished the season with an unimpressive 1-9 record.

After a season like last year's, the Patriots will have nowhere to look but up. But, things will be far from easy for the Pats, according to second-year head coach Fred Almon.

"We are going to be a small and inexperienced team," Almon said Wednesday night. "I'm not giving up on this year, but we have a lot of young kids that are that are going to have to pull through for us in order for us to be successful."

"We will only be starting five seniors and it is tough to win with that much youth."

The Patriots will be holding their annual Blue-White game tonight at 7. Admission is $1. The junior varsity game will be held at 7 and the varsity club will take the field at 8.

In most intrasquad scrimmages, the team is split into an offense and a defense. Brantley, however, will have two full teams, which Almon said will make the game much more competitive and give all of the athletes a chance to prove their value.

"The scrimmage will give us (the coaching staff) a chance to look at everyone under game conditions," Almon said. "It will also give the kids a chance to get used to the lights and they will be able to put their game faces on."

Almon said that despite the youth and lack of size on the team (only five players over 200 pounds) the athletes have a great deal of determination. "We have small, slow players but they are enthusiastic and they all want to win," Almon added. "We don't have a whole lot of talent but the kids are giving their all and that's all that I could possibly ask for."

Almon went on to say that the team has been steadily improving throughout the spring. "We started off very slow," Almon said. "But we have been getting better every day."

Almon said he was particularly happy with the performances of three players. Sophomore Randy Green, who started last season at left guard, has matured a great deal, according to Almon. "Randy has grown up," Almon said. "He will play defensive tackle and guard for us."

Almon said junior Chris Mull, the brother of former Brantley star Curt Mull who now plays for the University of Georgia, has also done a great job and will also start both ways.

Freshman John Hoakes will start at safety for the Pats. "John has done a tremendous job," Almon said.

Almon said the offensively the Pats would like to run the football. The Brantley backfield will consist of sophomore Mark Sepe at fullback and junior Johnny Griffin at tailback. "We need to run the ball well but we have some work to do with offensive line before we will be able to run well," Almon said.

Defensively, Almon said the Pats will stunt a great deal. "I like to stunt a lot," Almon said. "We're going to try to confuse the offense."

Almon said that the Pats are looking forward to taking on Lake Mary in the spring jamboree at Lake Mary on Friday, May 30. "We've got quite a rivalry going," Almon said. "Our kids are really looking forward to playing them."

Unlike Lake Brantley, the Lake Howell Silver Hawks will be a veteran team that has a great deal of size. "We've will have about 30 seniors on the team next year," Lake Howell coach Mike Bisceglia said. "We'll be counting on them for their leadership qualities."

The Hawks will hold the annual Silver Blue game tonight at 6:30. Admission is free. Next Thursday, May 29, the Hawks will take on Seminole in the first quarter of the jamboree at Sanford.

Bisceglia said that this spring has been one of the most successful in recent history. "This is the best spring practice that I have had in the five years that I've been here," he said. "The effort has been superb to say the least."

Bisceglia went on to say that

Golden South Draws Elite Seminole's Jones To Face Stiffest Test In Triple Jump

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

For Seminole County's track athletes, Saturday's Golden South Classic gives them one more chance to go after that personal best, impress the college scouts, or catch a competitor they had been chasing all season.

The Golden South Classic, which will include some of the top competitors from around the nation, will be held Saturday at the top prep track facility in the state, Showalter Field in Winter Park. Field events begin at 2 p.m. with running prelims at 3 p.m. and running finals at 6:20.

As far as excitement goes, it could be an anticlimactic meet for Seminole High but good experience for its athletes. Seminole High's boys and girls won the State 4A Track and Field Championships just two weeks ago at Showalter Field.

One Seminole athlete, senior Alvin Jones, could run into some competition for the first time this season in the triple jump. Jones, however, is coming off a hamstring injury that he aggravated at the state meet.

Track/Field

"We plan on having him (Jones) there," Seminole coach Ken Brauman said. "We'll just have to wait and see how his hamstring is. If he's ready to go, it will be his best competition of the season."

Jones won the state triple jump for the second year in a row with a personal best leap of 50-6 1/2 in the state meet. However, Ed Manderson of St. Petersburg Admiral Farragut comes in with the state's best jump of 50-11 1/2 which won the 2A state title.

Seminole High will also get some top competition in the 440 and mile relays from Florida schools from other classifications as well as the top relays from the Southeastern states. Seminole broke the state record in winning the 440 relay with the team of Dwayne Willis, Louis Brown, Eric Martin and Pat Davis. The mile relay squad of Willis, Maurice Roberts, Brown and Martin also won the state title and is looking for competition from 3A champion Belle Glade Glades Central.

Miller Billy Penick will go after his personal best of 4:17 and will look to outrun Jacksonville Wolfson's Lemeul McEarchin who defeated Penick at the state meet.

The Seminole High girls team, the surprise winner of the state meet, will use the Golden South Classic as experience. Seminole High returns virtually all of its competitors from this year's squad.

Sophomore Shownda Martin holds the Golden South Classic record in the 880 as she ran a 2:10.9 last year to eclipse the record formerly held by Robin Campbell. Martin, though, may run the open quarter instead and come back to anchor the mile relay. Seminole will also look for strong performances from hurdler Dorchelle Webster and sprinters Ramona Jamison and Adrian Hillsman.

Since the 330 hurdles is not run at the Golden South, Webster could run the 440 yard low hurdles. If she does, she would be pushed by Oviedo High junior Kelly Price who finished second in the 440 hurdles a year ago.

"Kelly (Price) is looking to do as well or better this year," Oviedo coach Ken Kroog said. "She's better in the 440 hurdles than a lot of girls because she's so strong."

Another Seminole County athlete chasing a goal that has eluded him all season is Lyman high jumper Ralph Philpott. Philpott, the state champion in the high jump the past two years, has cleared 6-10 on a number of occasions this season but has never been able to go over the magic 7-0 mark.

Lake Mary senior Ken Rohr goes after his best in the two

Chain-Reaction Accident Puts 4 In Jeopardy

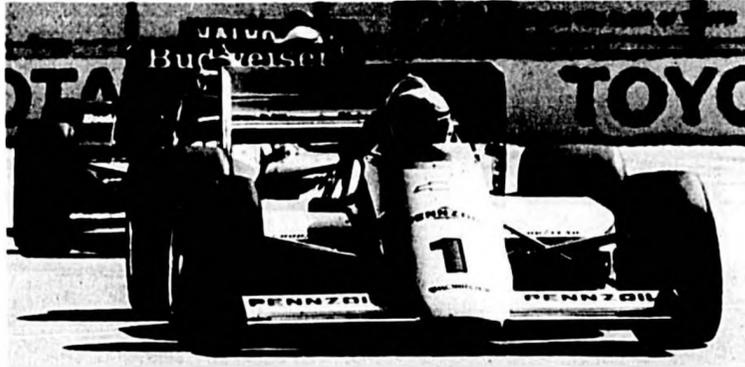

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — A chain-reaction accident along pit row Thursday has thrown the prospects of four entrants in Sunday's Indianapolis 500 into jeopardy.

The freak accident damaged four cars and caused minor injuries to four people, including driver Dennis Firestone, in the final practice session for the 70th running of the Memorial Day weekend classic. Drivers George Snider and Roberto Moreno were involved in the crash but not injured. Also hurt were two pit crew workers and a 75-year-old spectator.

Moreno and Snider will use their main engines in backup cars in Sunday's race. Josele Garza and Firestone, whose car was torn apart, plan to repair their cars in time for the race.

The bizarre accident began when Firestone's car lost its left rear wheel coming out of the fourth turn. The car hit the inside wall, slid sideways and struck the edge of the pit wall, tearing the vehicle into two sections.

"I didn't know whether I was hitting walls or cars or what," Firestone said. "As I was exiting turn four at speed, I felt an interruption in the normal movement of the car. A split second later, the car went wild. The structure at the end of the pit wall saved my life. I probably blacked out for 10 to 15 seconds. I don't even know how I got there."

When Firestone lost control, he forced the fast-approaching Moreno low into the entrance of the pit area, where he struck the rear of Snider's car. Moreno, a rookie, careened out of control down pit row at 160 mph, skidding along the inner wall and striking Garza's car, which was parked in the pits.

Braves' 7th Straight Win Adds To Cubs' Woes

ATLANTA (UPI) — For the Chicago Cubs, Thursday night's 2-0 loss to the Atlanta Braves was just another in a series of frustrations the team has faced this year. For the Braves, who know from seasons past what prolonged defeat feels like, their seventh consecutive victory was cause for celebration.

N.L. Baseball

"It feels great — I feel real good out there," said Joe Johnson, 6-3, who pitched 8 1-3 innings before Paul Assenmacher stepped in to retire two hitters for his fourth save this season.

"He's (Johnson) kept us in the ball games and they can say what they want about offense, defense and whatever else — but the key this year has been our pitching. There's no question about it," said Bob Horner. Atlanta took a 1-0 lead in the fourth inning off Cubs starter Steve Trout, 2-2. With two out, Dale Murphy singled and scored on Bob Horner's double off the right-center field fence.

Trout gave up two hits over seven innings. The left-hander walked one and struck out four. Atlanta went ahead 2-0 in the eighth off reliever Jay Baller.

Flickering Flames Fall, 1-0

Montreal goalie Patrick Roy, right, raises the Prince of Wales trophy with Mats Naslund. Roy and Naslund will be lifting the Stanley Cup with one more win over Calgary.

MONTREAL (UPI) — Low voices belled the courageous sentiments in the Calgary Flames dressing room.

Their 1-0 loss Thursday to the Montreal Canadiens put them behind three games to one in the best-of-seven Stanley Cup final. Although Game 5 Saturday will be in the friendly confines of the Olympic Saddledome, history does not favor them in their quest to take the series.

Only the 1942 Toronto Maple Leafs managed to come back from a 3-to-1 deficit to win the Stanley Cup against the Detroit Red Wings.

The teams played scoreless hockey until 11:10 of the third period when rookie Claude Lemieux intercepted a pass by Doug Risebrough and blasted a 30-foot slap shot through the legs of Calgary goalie Mike Vernon.

The Canadiens outshot the Flames 24-15, and aside from some good chances in the first 10 minutes of the first period, Calgary mounted little of an attack. Vernon made several big saves, and was helped by his goal posts on at least three occasions.

"We gave it a good try, but I guess they played better." Risebrough said. "A game like that leaves you empty. But we're still in it. It takes four to win. We'll take it a game at a time."

When asked about his errant pass that led to Montreal's goal, Risebrough said: "The pass was to the winger coming out. I guess the smarter play would have been to bank it off the boards to Jamie (Macoun) going up the side."

Lanny McDonald, who had only one shot on net the entire game, said the team can bounce back in Calgary.

"I have a strong feeling for the character on this team," he said. "We came back from an 11-game losing streak (during the regular season). We went back to Edmonton after losing Game 6 at home and won that series. I don't see why we can't come back again."

Calgary coach Bob Johnson said his team played well. "It was an excellent defensive game," Johnson said. "I thought it would be 0-0 and go into overtime, but we made a mistake."

Canadiens goalie Patrick Roy became only the eighth rookie goaltender in Stanley Cup playoff history to record a shutout in a final series. The last to do it was Harry Lumley of the Detroit Red Wings in the 1945 final against the Toronto Maple Leafs.

Roy said he felt throughout the game his team would win.

"I thought, 'Geez, we can't lose a game like that,'" he said. "We hit quite a few posts. The first three games I felt good, but not as good as tonight. When you see your teammates are hot, you feel great."

The game-winning goal by Lemieux was his league-leading fourth of the playoffs, one short of the playoff record established by Mike Bossy of the New York Islanders in 1983.

Ten other players besides Lemieux have scored four game-winning goals in one playoff year, but the Canadiens winger is the first rookie to accomplish the feat.

Lemieux said he saw Risebrough was about to pass, so he moved in, intercepted the puck.

Knepper, Giants Beat Up Gooden

United Press International

Houston's Bob Knepper had the right stuff on the mound and at the plate Thursday afternoon. The Mets' Dwight Gooden had little stuff at all.

Knepper hurled a seven-hitter to become the major league's first eight-game winner, and helped his own cause by knocking in his team's second run in a 4-0 shutout of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Gooden, meanwhile, suffered from control problems and hot San Francisco bats, as the Giants tattooed the Mets right-hander for nine hits and seven runs in four innings en route to a 10-2 victory.

Knepper, 8-2, struck out five and walked one as he registered his third shutout and fourth complete game of the season. But he was more willing to discuss his fifth-inning single up the middle that scored Mark Bailey, who had doubled, to give the Astros a 2-0 lead.

"I've been a notoriously slow starter with the bat," said Knepper, whose single gave him two hits in 31 at-bats this season. "I feel like I'm coming on pretty good, and I'll keep working on it."

The victory snapped the Astros' three-game losing streak, and enabled them to avert a series sweep. Houston has not been swept this season.

Pirates starter and loser Rick Reuschel, 3-1, surrendered eight hits and two runs in seven innings. Pat Clements yielded the Astros' third and fourth runs in the eighth inning.

At San Francisco, Gooden went to 2-2 or 3-2 on the count of eight of the first 13 batters he faced.

"Early in the game, I felt I had my stuff," said Gooden, 5-2, who has two losses and a no-decision in his last three starts. "But in the third inning, I just lost it. I really don't know why, but I've just got to turn this page and look forward to my next start."

Chili Davis keyed the Giants' offense by collecting two hits against Gooden and going 4-for-4 overall. He also knocked in four runs. Davis is 9-for-14 in his career against Gooden.

Mike Krukow was the beneficiary of the surge, as he fired a two-hitter over eight innings to improve to 6-3. Krukow struck out five and walked none. After yielding a two-run homer to Keith Hernandez in the first inning.

Reds 6, Cardinals 4

At St. Louis, rookie Tracy Jones smacked a three-run triple in a four-run seventh inning that lifted the Reds and enabled Mario Soto, 3-6, to snap a personal five-game losing streak. Danny Cox, 0-4, had a one-hitter through six innings before yielding three runs in the seventh.

Padres 6, Phillies 2

At San Diego, Kevin McReynolds, Tim Flannery and Steve Garvey all homered off Steve Carlton to down the Phillies. Carlton, 2-6, has not beaten San Diego since 1982. Andy Hawkins, 3-3, got the victory, but needed relief help from Craig Lefferts, who threw three hitless innings for his first save.

Dawson Doubles Up LA

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — With New York's Dwight Gooden losing in San Francisco, the Montreal Expos felt they could not afford to lose to the Los Angeles Dodgers Thursday night. Andre Dawson made sure they did not.

"In that situation, you want to hit the ball hard and make contact," Dawson said after he broke a 2-2 tie with a two-run double, helping the Expos defeat the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-2. "You can't worry about what you had done in your previous at-bats."

The victory moved the Expos within four games of the Mets in the National League East. Raines singled twice, doubled and stole two bases.

Mike Fitzgerald began the seventh off winner Bob Welch, 3-3, with a double to left. After Wayne Krenchicki pinch-hit for winner Joe Hesketh and struck out, Tim Lincecum lined a single off Welch's calf with Fitzgerald taking third.

Herm Winingham then walked and Tom Niedenfuer replaced Welch. Dawson drove in Fitzgerald and Raines with his hustling double to center. Winingham scored on Hubie Brooks' sacrifice fly.

Niedenfuer felt Dawson's ball was nearly caught. "It's a game of inches," he said. "Second baseman Steve Sax might've missed it by three inches."

Hesketh, who allowed two earned runs and three hits, improved to 3-3.

The Dodgers had tied the score 2-2 with a run in the fifth, but their second baserunning blunder of the game prevented them from going ahead. Mike Scioscia walked to lead off the inning and went to third when Reggie Williams doubled to left. Welch fled to short right before the Dodgers got a run when Hesketh uncorked a wild pitch. Williams was caught rounding third, however, by catcher Fitzgerald and the bases were clear.

Montreal took a 2-0 lead in the first with a pair of two-out singles. Raines walked to open the game and Mitch Webster was hit by a pitch. After Welch struck out Dawson and Brooks, Wallach singled in Raines and Galarraga brought in Webster with a single.

Key Unlocks Sox Streak With 1-Hitter

United Press International

Earlier this season, Jimmy Key considered a one-hit inning a triumph. That's why a one-hit game looked especially welcome.

He even sounded unconcerned over how narrowly he missed a pitching classic.

"You can't think about a no-hitter," Key said after hurling the Toronto Blue Jays to a 5-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox. "And you can't say you're ever disappointed to throw a one-hitter."

Key, who opened the season with three straight losses, allowed a fifth-inning infield single by Ozzie Guillen. Ernie Whitt slugged his second career grand slam, snapping Chicago's seven-game winning streak.

Key, 3-3, walked three and struck out two in a career-high eight, earned his first career shutout. Richard Dotson, 2-4, allowed five runs and seven hits in 3 2/3 innings.

With two out in the fifth, Guillen sent a dribbler that eluded first baseman Willie Gault. Second baseman Damaso Garcia made a diving stop but had no play.

"Damaso had no play," said Manager Jimmy Williams. "He caught the ball on the grass, and he never could have gotten someone with Guillen's speed."

Whitt's two-out grand slam came off Dotson's full-count pitch in the fourth, and staked Toronto to a 5-0 lead.

Chili Johnson opened with a walk, and Jesse Barfield singled. One out later, Rance Mulliniks walked to load the bases before Whitt hit his fourth homer of the season into the lower right-field seats.

The victory ended the Blue Jays' losing streak at three.

In other games, Baltimore beat California 6-3. Seattle defeated Detroit 5-3. Cleveland topped Milwaukee 5-4. New York downed Oakland 4-3 in 11 innings, and Kansas City shaded Texas 5-4.

In the National League, it was Cincinnati 6, St. Louis 4; San Diego 6, Philadelphia 2. San Francisco 10, New York 2. Houston 4, Pittsburgh 0. Atlanta 2, Chicago 0, and Montreal 5, Los Angeles 2.

Orioles 6, Angels 3

At Baltimore, Fred Lynn hit a three-run homer in the first to pace the Orioles. California rookie first baseman Wally Joyner, the major-league leader in home runs and RBI, was struck in the knee with a Jim Dwyer line drive. He was diagnosed as having a severe bruise of the tendon below the left kneecap. His playing status will be determined on a day-to-day basis.

Mariners 5, Tigers 3

At Detroit, Seattle relievers Matt Young and Pete Ladd each squelched Detroit rallies to help preserve the Mariners' victory. Young, 4-3, earned the victory but needed help from Ladd, who registered his fourth save.

Indians 5, Brewers 4

At Milwaukee, Brett Butler's three-run triple capped a four-run sixth inning that lifted the Indians. Neal Heaton, 2-3, pitched 5 2/3 innings and allowed three runs for the victory. Rich Yett went two-thirds of an inning before Scott Baker finished for his fourth save. Ted Higuera, 5-4, was the loser.

Yankees 4, A's 3

At New York, Mike Pagliarulo singled to deep center with one out in the bottom of the 11th, and the Yankees rode Dave Winfield's baserunning. New York's Dan Pasqua hit two home runs, including one in the ninth inning, to send the game into extra innings.

Royals 5, Rangers 4

At Texas, Jorge Orta lashed a home run and two-run double, and Frank White added a homer, leading the Royals. Danny Jackson allowed only two hits through six innings before firing in the seventh. Bud Black, the third Kansas City pitcher, got one out for his second save. Charlie Hough, 2-2, took the loss.

IN BRIEF

USFL Scores In Antitrust Suit, Garvey Says NFL 'Tied Up' TV

NEW YORK (UPI) — The U.S. Football League scored a point in its $1.5 billion antitrust suit against the NFL Thursday when former players' union head Edward Garvey said the NFL deliberately "tied up" the major television networks with contracts.

Stating a point the USFL has been trying to get across to the jury, Garveysaid, "If you tie them (networks) up, you make it difficult for anybody else to get in to negotiate."

Garvey, now a candidate in a U.S. Senate race in Wisconsin, appeared as the USFL's second witness in U.S. District Court in Manhattan.

The 4-year-old USFL contends its 66-year-old competitor has monopolized professional football, and specifically pressured the national networks not to give the new league coverage.

Garvey suggested the NFL had negotiated its three network contracts without putting its Super Bowl up for separate competitive bids because the arrangement gave the league "control with respect to the three networks."

"They could have gotten more (money), but it was more important for them to tie up all three networks than to get the maximum dollars available."

Starlings Capture Tournament

The Seminole Starlings, Seminole Softball Club's 10 and under all-star team, opened tournament play this past weekend with four straight victories for the West Orange Invitational title.

The Starlings opened the tourney with an 18-14 victory over host West Orange then barbecued the Runabouts of Orange County, 23-5. In the opening wins, the hitting of Amy Bourcier and Sonja McCoy and the pitching of Tina Leman led the way.

The top game of the tourney then came for the Starlings as they rebounding from a 20-14 deficit with seven runs in the bottom of the seventh inning for a 21-20 victory over the Conway Wildcats.

Allison Gorzka's grand slam homer got the rally started and Angel Daniels capped a two-out, two-run single that scored the tying and winning runs.

Conway came back through the losers' bracket to face the Starlings in the championship and the Starlings came away with a 5-3 victory behind Leman's outstanding pitching.

The Starlings return to tournament action June 7-8 at Rockledge.

Medco Rocks Rotary, 19-9

Medco Pharmacy rocked Rotary Breakfast pitching for 20 hits Thursday en route to a 19-9 victory in Sanford Junior League softball action at Fort Mellon Field.

Medco Pharmacy improved to 3-0 with the win while Rotary dropped to 0-2.

Natasha Beasley led the way for Medco as she went 4 for 4 with two singles, a double and a triple, scored four runs and drove in four. Ruth Ann Williams rapped out three hits including a two-run homer and Rita Harris also smacked three hits.

Chirita Burke, Patrice Brown, April Thornton and LaDowan Irvin contributed two hits each for Medco.

Debra Hall and Latrell Barfield each had three hits for Rotary with Barfield drilling a two-run homer. Tracey Davidson also homered for Rotary while Thelma Posley and Linda Wilson added two hits each.

FSU, Loynd Drop N.C. State

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Florida State, with a 10-6 victory over North Carolina State, and Texas A&M, 10-2 winners over South Florida, advanced Thursday to the winners' bracket of the NCAA South 2 Regional baseball tournament.

The two teams will clash Friday night after N.C. State, 35-14, and South Florida, 50-15, battle in an afternoon game to stay alive in the double elimination tourney.

Mounting an 18-hit attack, Florida State scored in each of the first five innings to take an 8-0 lead. Mike Loynd raised his record to 18-1 after scattering five hits over five innings.

The Atlantic Regional, hosted by Miami at Mark Light Stadium, was rained out.

Halldorson's 65 Leads Memorial

DUBLIN, Ohio (UPI) — Jack Nicklaus wasn't surprised his once-proud Muirfield Village Golf Club course took a severe beating during Thursday's first round of the $577,000 Memorial Tournament.

More than one-third of the field — 37 of the 102 who teed off — bettered par 72 on the 7,106-yard Muirfield course, led by Canadian Dan Halldorson's 7-under par 65. Twenty-two others were at even-par 72.

Halldorson had a chance to tie the tournament record of 64 held by Mark McCumber, but his 8-foot birdie putt on the final hole slipped just below the cup.

Nicklaus, Peter Jacobsen and Doug Tewell are one stroke back at 66.

Svantesson Sparks Flagler Win

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Top-seeded Tobias Svantesson and Per Asklund of Flagler College in St. Augustine scored a victory over No. 3 Gustavo Garibaldi and Jeff Skeldon of Auburn-Montgomery, Ala., in a semifinal match Thursday, clinching at least a tie for the team title in the NAIA national men's tennis tournament.

Svantesson, who played at Seminole Community College for two years, and Asklund won 6-1, 6-7 (6-2).

Flagler leads Lander College (S.C.) 31-30 after four days of competition, followed by Auburn-Montgomery with 26 points, Bellhaven (Miss.) with 25, and Texas-Tyler with 20.

Schmauss Returns To World 100

The stage is being set for another spectacular World Championship Street Stock 100 at Volusia County Speedway.

Dave Schmauss will be returning to defend his 1985 street stock title during the June event. The 28-year-old pilot of the No. 105 Buick car says he's "looking forward" to this year's race.

"We'll be bringing the same car we won in last year, along with a back up," Schmauss said.

The Tampa driver held off the hard charges of Tyrone Georgia's Andy Knowles to take home the $10,000 first prize money last year. The 10-year driving veteran also holds the 1985 Florida State Championship title and nearly won the Governor's Cup crown earlier this year.

In that January event, Schmauss came from a two-lap deficit to finish second despite handling problems suffered during an early race crash.

For car owner Donnie Dixon, this year's 100-lap race will be a real challenge. "There's going to be some tough competition this time with a lot of new cars on hand" said Dixon. "But we're tickled to be returning."

Dixon added that his team will be the same as last year, in fact, they've been together for five years with Schmauss handling the driving chores.

the Central Florida half mile near Daytona Beach. The event is the richest for the weekly racers and nearly 200 cars and drivers from across the nation are expected.

Activities will include qualifying on Friday evening with a $1000 pole position award up for grabs. Heat races and the regular V.C.S. divisions will be in action on Saturday evening. The $10,000 World Championship Street Stock 100 is slated for Sunday along with a 200 lap Enduro race.

Winner of last week's Armed Forces 100 Thundercar Championship at New Smyrna Speedway, Sanford's Casey Hawthorne will be there as well as Harold "Fat Rat" Johnson. A big crowd usually follows these top Sanford drivers.

scrimmage will hopefully eliminate the pre-game jitters. "The scrimmage will give the kids a chance to get used to the crowd and the basic ball park surroundings," Bisceglia said. "It will get the jumpiness out of the kids."

Bisceglia said that a computer-oriented off season weightlifting program has helped the Hawks considerably. "The computer prints out a workout for each athlete," Bisceglia said. "The program (which is the same program that the University of Nebraska uses) has already helped. Our kids are getting bigger and their strength is evident in their hitting."

Offensively, the Silver Hawks will be a balanced club. "Our quarterback (Mark Wainwright) throws a good ball. We will try to run the ball a lot though," Bisceglia added.

Bisceglia feels that the defense will be the overall strong point of the team. "Our defense will be pretty good," Bisceglia said. "We will play a straight 50 defense."

Bisceglia said that was impressed with the play of defensive tackle Marty Golloher, strong safety David Dees, and transfer Steve Shepperd who will be playing cornerback. "Marty, Dave, and Steve have done a great job so far. I hope that they will keep it up," Bisceglia said.

Count Oviedo coach Jack Blanton among the elated with his club's performance so far. "This is the most enthusiastic group that I've had since I've been here," Blanton said. "They are making coaching fun again."

The Lions will have their Orange-White game tonight at 7:30. Admission is free. Next Thursday, the Lions will be taking on DeLand in the second quarter of the spring jamboree at Sanford.

"We have been getting better right along," Blanton said. "This scrimmage will give the kids a chance to show their stuff."

Blanton has been pleasantly surprised with the play of freshman inside linebacker Willie Paldo. "Willie has been doing a heck of a job," Blanton said. "We're counting on him to continue to play well." Linebacker Jeff Joyce has also been a defensive standout for the Lions.

Blanton said that offensively the Lions will mix things up. "We should have a good running game with Steve Hofmann playing fullback and Willie Gainey playing tailback," Blanton said. "We also have two kids that can catch the ball in Robby Bowers (younger brother of ex-Lions' star Pop Bowers) and Dwight Everitt."

Defensively, Oviedo will play in an eight-man front. "We're going to make people throw over us," Blanton said. "Our defensive backs are the strong point of our team and we are expecting to get some big plays from them."

*** — Seminole. Lake Mary and Lyman will also have intrasquad games tonight. Seminole's Orange-White game will be held at 6:30 at the high school. Lake Mary's Red-Gray game will be at 7:30 p.m. Lyman's Blue-White game will also be at 7:30 p.m. There is no charge for admission at all three games. Lake Mary will hold a hamburger-corn dinner for $2 per platter.

TRC S'tretches Its Lead To 'Long' 2 Over Pants

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

The rest of the Sanford Men's Softball League may want to borrow the high-powered binoculars Tim Raines received for appearing on ESPN's Sports Look on Wednesday.

They might need it to see the first place Tim Raines Connection juggernaut.

The Connection continued to roll Wednesday night as it pounded Prestige Imports, 17-2, to improve to 14-0 for the season. Pants USA is two games back at 11-2, but it's a distant two games back. Pants USA doesn't figure to take over the top spot unless the Connection does a nose dive.

Wednesday night, the Connection broke open a close game with seven runs in the top of the third and went on to beat Prestige Imports at Pinehurst Field. Rodney Dattner's three-run homer highlighted the third inning outburst, and Steve Wall unleashed a two-run shot.

Doug Dowdy pitched a two-run homer in the second for the Connection while Bill Griffith and Levi Staines (two) added solo blasts. Ned Katus and

Softball

Squartino contributed three hits each.

Prestige Imports managed just five hits in the game with Clay Curry's two-run single giving Imports a short-lived 2-0 lead after one inning.

In Wednesday's second game, Six Flags Nursery ran its record to 10-3 with a 14-0 victory over Brown Boveri. Scott Williams got Six Flags off to a good start with a two-run homer in the first inning. Tony Dinkinson added a two-run double in the fifth to help Six Flags pull away.

David Shaller and Sonny Edmonds drove in one run each for Brown Boveri.

Wednesday's nightcap, A's took a 12-run third inning over Hills to a 23-5 victory over Central Florida Hospital.

Steve Jennings had the big work for A's as he was 5 for 5 with three home runs and eight RBIs. Kerry Hickey drilled a and solo inside the park shot. Steve Letchworth and Gary Snell had two hits each for Central Florida Hospital.

In Monday's only completed game, Central Florida Hospital downed winless Prestige Imports, 16-4. Letchworth had four hits and drove in four runs to lead the way while Snell, Joe Wachter and Jeff Bennets drove in two runs each.

Sunniland's Big Blast Theory Flattens Rinker

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

Sunniland went by the big blast theory in its Sanford Little National League game against Rinker Materials Thursday night at Fort Mellon Park. Sunniland had nine hits in the game, but two of them accounted for five of the teams' 11 runs.

Quinn Byrd blasted a three-run homer in the bottom of the second to break the game open early, and Richard Petterson helped Sunniland pull away with a two-run triple in the third in an 11-1 rout of Rinker.

Sunniland kept its hold on first place in the league as it improved to 8-2 while Rinker fell to 3-7.

While Byrd and Petterson came through with the big hits, Don Hunt and David Dunn combined to hold Rinker to one run on just two hits. Hunt pitched the first two and two thirds innings and allowed singles to Charles Williams and Travis Perkins while striking out two and walking five.

First Federal managed just six hits Thursday but took advantage of 13 walks to claim a 15-7 victory over Poppa Jay's in Little National League action at Westside Field.

Mike Dillon and Charlie Farmer had two hits each for First Federal which improved to 7-2 with the win and remains one-half game out of first place.

First Federal scored four times on just one hit in the top of the first and never looked back. Tony Davis led off the inning with a triple and scored on a fielder's choice. Davis, also the winning pitcher, scored three runs in the game as did Richard Anderson.

Poppa Jay's had nine hits in the game including three by Maurice Fisher and two by Demetry Beamon.

Phillip King and Bernard Sparrow combined on a four-hitter as D.A.V. upended the Railroaders, 13-6, in Thursday's second Little National League game at Fort Mellon Park.

King pitched the first four and a third innings for the victory, allowing four hits, striking out eight and walking four. Sparrow came on in the top of the fifth and went on to blank the Railroaders the rest of the way.

D.A.V. was held to five hits in the game but capitalized on 12 walks. Gerard Wilson slammed a two-run homer in the fifth frame while Teo Livingston had two hits on the night.

RICH PLAN WINS FIFTH
Rich Plan erupted for six runs in the bottom of the first inning Thursday and went on to claim a 12-8 victory over Leonard Shell in Sanford Pee Wee League play at Chase Park.

Rich Plan ran its record to 5-0 with the win and leads the league by two games while Leonard Shell is three back at 2-3.

Lloyd Nixon rapped a two-run triple to highlight the first inning while Raydon Byrd ripped an RBI triple and Jeff Merthie roped a run-scoring double. Lorenle Dixon belted an RBI triple in the second while Quint Hunt smashed a solo homer in the third.

Leonard Shell had five hits in the game off winning pitcher Walter Martin including two hits by Mark Watson.

KOKOMO POUNDS RINKER
Joshua Watson tossed a two-hitter and was back by an eight-hit offensive attack as Kokomo Tools downed Rinker Materials, 10-4, in Thursday's first Pee Wee League game at Chase Park.

Kokomo Tools stepped in second place as it improved to 3-2 while Rinker Materials dropped to 0-4.

Todd Hudson smacked a pair of triples and a single to lead Kokomo at the plate while Scott Hudson and Watson added two hits each. Jeremy Richard's double and Mike Rogers' single were the only hits for Rinker.

mile against a strong field with sophomore Steve Peterson looks to gain experience by who promises to be an outstanding career. Sophomore Cecil King will look to go over 400 in the triple jump while sophomore Jeff Pommer will also be on hand.

Lake Brantley has a pair of seniors in hurdler Sam Seas and sprinter Cornelius Friendly who will look to turn in strong efforts Sunday after missing out on this season's state meet. Sophomore Neil Wright will also compete in the hurdles.

On the girls side, Sunniland County has some outstanding high jumpers led by Lake Howell's Cheryl Brantley. But Miami Palmbeach's Holly Kelly will most likely steal the show in the girls high jump as she goes after the meet record of 5.82 set by Sebring's Liz Spaulding. Kelly cleared a state meet record 5-10 two weeks ago at the 4A meet and she has also cleared 6-0 this season the first time ever a Florida girl has won over a Florida girl has won over at that height.

Lake Mary's Anquetette Whack will look to improve on her best in the shot put and discus while hurdles Oneyke Berry and Josie McCurdy will also look to better their top performances.

Lake Howell will also be running sprinters Kim Hammetree and Nicole Compton along with Angie Smith in the 880. Lyman High's Jeannine Gauvin will compete in the discus along with Brantley's Debbie Lovelace.

One performer in the girls meet who is looking to show what she's capable of is Panama City Moseley's Cynthia Britt. Britt was one of the top performers in the state in four events, the long jump, 100, 220 and 440 but competed in only in the long jump at state because she mistakenly scratched herself in the regional meet. Britt is going after the record in the long jump held by former Lyman High great Princess Reese.

Waltrip, Richmond Boost Fortunes At Charlotte

HARRISBURG, N.C. (UPI) — Darrell Waltrip and Tim Richmond boosted their fortunes Thursday for this weekend's NASCAR events at the Charlotte Motor Speedway.

Waltrip, who failed to make Sunday's field in first-round runs, led the second round of qualifying for the $716,225

NASCAR

Coca-Cola 600 at Charlotte Motor Speedway. Richmond, who narrowly missed winning Sunday's 600 pole, rebounded to claim the top starting spot for Saturday's Winn-Dixie 300.

Waltrip, driving a Chevrolet, earned Sunday's 16th starting position with a one-lap speed of 164.389 mph on the 1.5-mile track.

"We just had some things that were not right yesterday, and we should have caught them," Waltrip said. "This is the car we had here last week, but when you're not running against someone, you get caught and you're a day late.

"We can't let the fact we won this race last year influence what we do here Sunday. We're just going to have to attack this race," he said. "This race is the second most important race of the year."

The Versatile Crape Myrtle A Greatly Admired Ornamental

Crape myrtles are one of the most beautiful small trees or large shrubs you can plant in your landscape. Its long blooming period and ability to grow under nearly every soil condition make it a widely used and greatly admired ornamental.

The flowering season for crape myrtle usually begins in June or July, and continues until autumn. Each long cluster of flowers is composed of hundreds of red, pink, white, lavender or purple flowers. The leaves are often reddish tinged in the spring, glossy dark green in the summer, and dull to intense yellow, orange or red in the autumn.

When the leaves fall in the winter, the crape myrtle becomes a living sculpture. The trunk and branches have an attractively gnarled, twisted character with smooth bark varying in color from light straw to rich deep brown. Patches of bark flake off in the early summer to reveal new bark in color from light pink to pale green.

Crape myrtles are very versatile in the landscape. Single-trunked or multi-trunked specimens make ideal small shade trees for a sunny deck, terrace, or entrance walkway. Multi-trunked plants can be used

Alfred Bessesen
Urban Horticulturist
323-2800
Ext. 181

as a visual barrier, a specimen in the garden, or a dominant landscape feature when planted singly or in groups. Semi-dwarf and dwarf types are suitable for foundation plantings, used in containers, or even as larger ground covers. Avoid planting crape myrtles near swimming pools as the spent flowers do fall!

Occasional pruning may be required to maintain desired size and form. Suckers appearing from the base of single-trunked specimens should be removed, too. Background plantings of evergreen shrubs or trees may be used to further emphasize the floral spectacle of the crape myrtles.

Crape myrtles are available in many flower colors and plant heights. Plant height is categorized as dwarf (less than 3 feet), semi-dwarf (3 to 6 feet), medium (6 to 12 feet), and tall (greater than 12 feet). There is a patented, miniature weeping form that is great for use as bonsai or in hanging baskets. Set your plants in an area that receives full sun most of the day. Otherwise, weak spindly plants with few flowers can be expected. Those growing in shaded areas will be plagued by plant diseases, such as powdery mildew, also.

Crape myrtles tolerate a wide range of soil types, but grow best in a heavy loam that is slightly acidic with a pH of 5.0 to 6.5. Nutrient requirements are minimal. High fertility levels produce excessive vegetative growth and fewer flower clusters. Applications of 6-6-6 or 8-8-8 fertilizer in early spring at the rate of 1 to 2 pounds per 100 square feet of planting bed may be good for established plants, especially those growing on poor soils. Mulches of pine bark or hardwood chips will help retain moisture and keep the soil temperature steady during the summer.

Heavy pruning must be done each winter if large specimen-type blooms are desired. However, one of the most fascinating aspects of the crape myrtle is its unusual plant form. When you destroy this form by severe pruning, the blooms will be all that remains for you to enjoy. Use a selective method of pruning, the unusual sculptured form, flowers, and colorful foliage will make it a plant with year-around charm. Frequently, crape myrtles are attacked by aphids and white flies. Aphids are small, green-colored lice-like insects that suck the sap and cause small, malformed leaves. Both the aphids and white flies excrete a honeydew material on which a black, sooty mold fungus lives. Both aphids and white flies can be controlled by spraying with an appropriate insecticide.

Powdery mildew is a common disease of crape myrtles, especially when it is grown in damp, shaded areas. This fungal disease causes the plants to be unsightly, but can cause some foliage drop and actual death of severely infested stems. You can control it by spraying with an appropriate fungicide, or planting resistant varieties. Both fungicides and insecticides are available at your favorite garden supply shop.

What beautiful landscapes we would enjoy if we all would plant at least one crape myrtle. Container-grown specimens can be planted anytime. Ask about them at your favorite nursery or garden supply center. Happy gardening!

Choosing Safety Over Science

Dr. Gott

DEAR DR. GOTT — In one of your columns, a radiologist challenged you about the conclusions you reached in a previous column about low-level radiation. I was disappointed, however, that you used as a reference the grossly inflated estimates of such a discredited "expert" as Dr. John Gofman. As a doctor, you should be familiar with scientific determination and objective statistical evidence and data to suit one's prejudices. You owe the radiologist a retraction. I hope you will be honest enough to give it.

DEAR READER — Thanks to you and other readers, I have learned that Dr. Gofman's testimony (before Judge Patrick F. Kelly in the case of Johnston vs. United States) was rejected because, in part, it failed to represent "the views of the vast majority of competent, respected scientists in the field." I accept the fact that Gofman takes a minority view that disagrees with conventional wisdom regarding the hazards of radiation.

There is more to the issue than Gofman's credentials and conclusions, however. As I write this reply, I have on my desk two news items from The New York Times.

The first indicates that G.D. Searle and Co. has stopped selling intrauterine devices (IUDs) because of product liability. The A.H. Robins Company, maker of the Dalkon Shield, recently filed for bankruptcy after more than 14,000 women sought damages for complications attributed to the shield. Although Searle's IUDs have generated only 775 suits, the company doesn't want further legal exposure that is costly and reduces profits. The product just isn't worth the bother.

The second article is titled "Downwind from the Bomb." It explores the high cancer rate among people who lived downwind from the 1950s atomic bomb tests in Nevada. "In the 1950s, the government said its atomic tests in Nevada were safe. Did Washington lie?" the article asks.

Thirty years ago, respected scientists proclaimed that atmospheric A-bomb tests caused no public danger. Nearly 100 tests were carried out in the Nevada desert. Children ate and breathed fallout. When livestock died of radiation toxicity, government attorneys successfully argued that "inadequate feeding, unfavorable winter range conditions and infectious diseases" caused the animals to die.

What can we learn from this tragedy? Well, I conclude that radiation is harmful and that scientists and federal authorities did not know this — or did not tell the public.

Similarly, IUDs were scientifically checked and pronounced safe when they were first marketed in the 1960s. We now know that some, if not all, are hazardous.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
One of the best bidding rules blends well with our natural tendencies: When in doubt, bid one more. See how well that dictum served South today.

South trotted softly at first in the bidding, since he expected East and West to hold cards that would enable them to fight for the contract. North should have raised South's one-spade overall right away but probably believed that that simple overall could not denote a very good hand. However, North did come to life on the next round and bid four spades over West's four hearts. When East went one more to five clubs, corrected by West to five hearts, South also followed the rule of bidding one more.

The contract was easy with a club opening lead. Declarer trumped, drew the opposing spades and forced out the ace of diamonds. The only other trick the defense could take was the heart ace. East pointed out that the hand could be beaten with a heart lead, since East could lead back his singleton diamond for a ruff. West remarked that since he had fewer clubs than hearts, it seemed more likely that a club lead would live. "Anyway," snarled West, "if you won the heart ace, you might not know to play back the diamond."

"Maybe not," replied East, "but I would have liked to have the chance."

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY MAY 24 1986
 In the year ahead, you will weed out a number of unproductive relationships. These will be replaced by new associations with beneficial possibilities.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) The allegiance you're expecting from an associate will go to another today. Your colleague's thinking will be more in line with your competitor. Major changes are ahead for Gemini in the coming year. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today. Mail $1 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, Box 1846, Cincinnati, OH 45201. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Those who labor at your side aren't likely to cover for you today. Don't wander off and neglect your duties.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Someone you think is crazy about you likes you, but not to the extent you hope. Don't go around boasting that you have him or her in your hip pocket.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) If you are entertaining at your place today, don't overindulge your guests with too much alcohol. Remember, they still have to drive home.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You'd be wise today to take your assignments as seriously as your boss does. If you don't, your superior may start questioning your value to the organization.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Don't treat your well-planned budget today as though it were merely scribbles on a scrap of paper. You'll regret it later when you have a financial shortfall.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Try to avoid an involvement today with someone who makes big promises but never keeps them. This individual plays on gullible people.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Don't underestimate your business adversaries today. Indifference or carelessness could lead to your undoing.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Do not place your hopes for being happy on the acquisition of worldly goods today. The real values of life are in giving love and being loved by others.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Today, for the sake of your image, do not exaggerate any of your feats, even if you know the guys you're talking to are doing just that.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) In a matter of importance today, it's imperative to grasp the big picture. Pay attention to details, but don't dwell on them solely.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Moneymaking ideas used by a successful friend won't work as well for you today because you lack your pal's expertise. Don't gamble on the unfamiliar.

Voices Of The Past

Tune In To The Real Golden Oldies

The sound of music may be sweeter in stereo, but some shun modern sound systems for old time music machines.

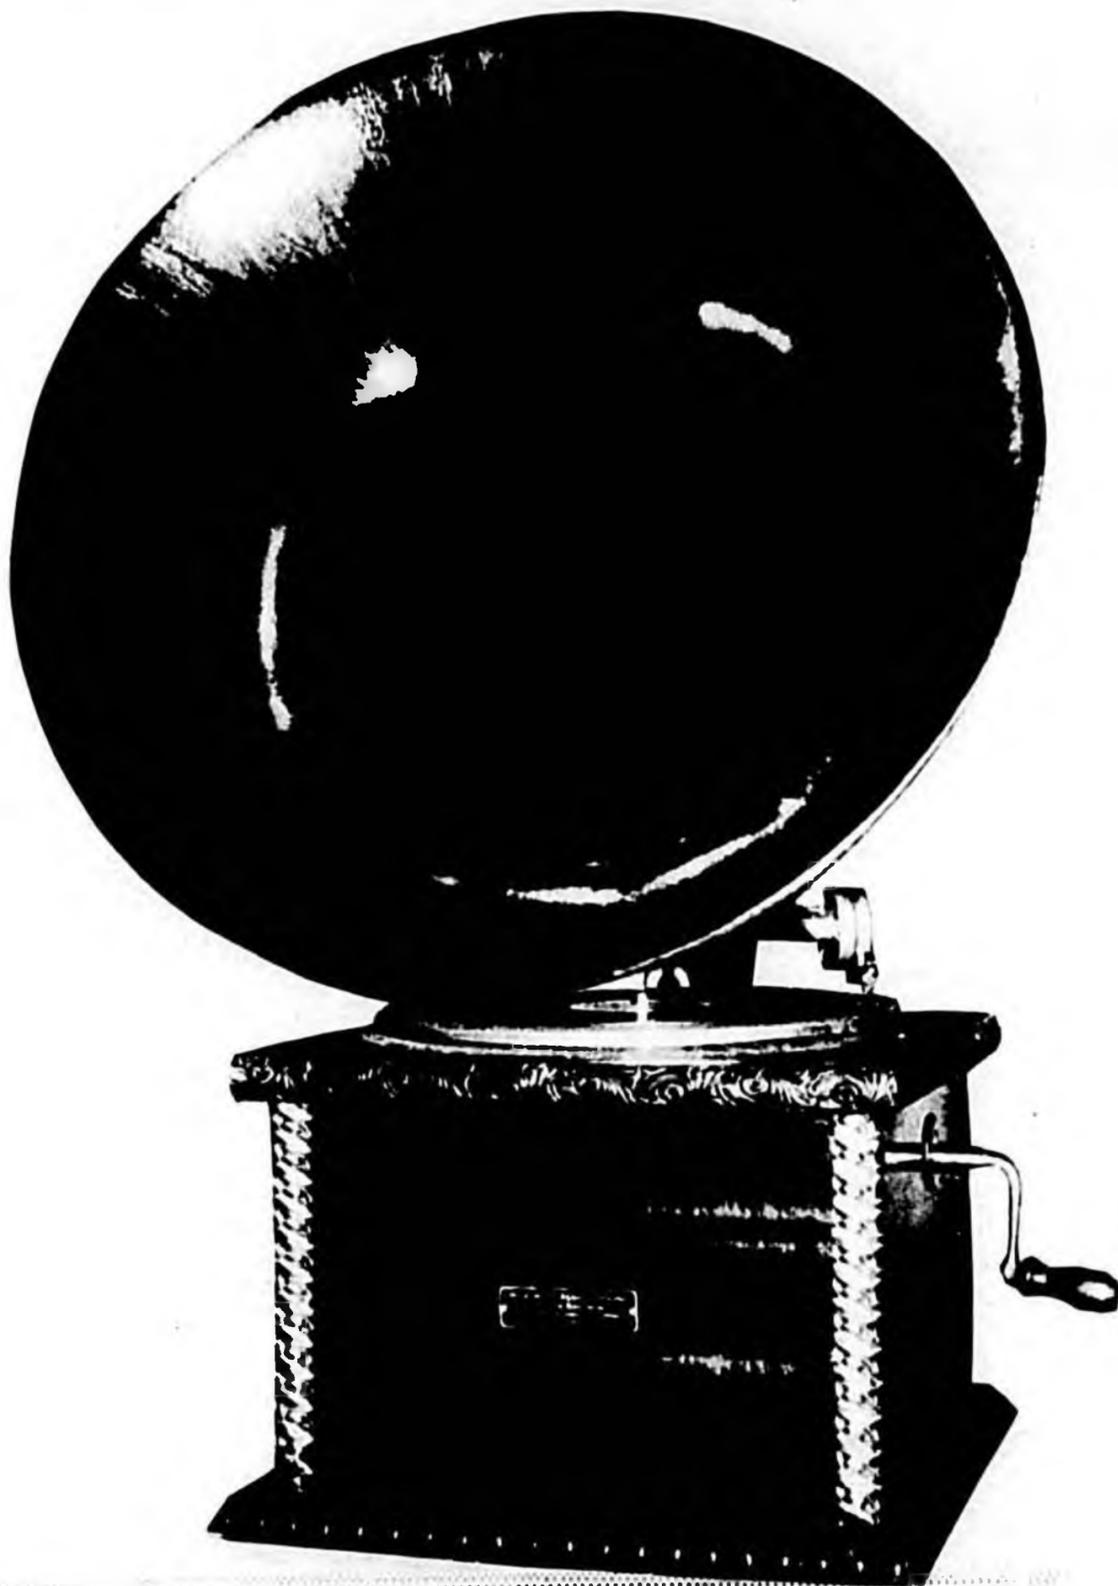

Sanford antiques dealer Billy Bridges said those who collect old radios and phonographs are listening to nostalgia tug at their hearts and not to the quality of the sound blasted from these machines.

Although thousands of first generation phonographs and radios have passed through Bridges hands in his 28 years in the business, he hasn't gotten hooked on these collectibles.

"I like antiques, but I want real antiques," Billy Bridges said, and a lot of the music machines he sees others latching onto are of little interest to him.

...Oldies

Many he said buy old bakelite radios to blend into an art deco decor that mimics the interior designs of the 1940s or '50s. But desire for those radios is greater in New York and New England, than in Sanford, where Bridges said people just don't seem to be interested in paying $60 to $85 for an old radio.

The sound from such machines, generally, Bridges said, just isn't that good. But in clearing out many estates he has found many old music machines that were still cranking out the tunes.

Even if an old radio doesn't work, Bridges said it isn't a hopeless case, because there are repairmen who search flea markets for junk radios and loose tubes to be cannibalized into parts for a radio that's slated to be restored.

The early radios and phonographs were filled with tubes, unlike today's transistorized machines, so modern parts just don't fit into the scheme of the old-time machines, he said.

Eddie Gibson, who recently had his collection of old time phonographs on display in Winter Park and Altamonte Springs, is one of those who has a personal love for the somewhat scratchy sounds produced by old music machines, as well as for the devices themselves.

He got hooked on phonographs and music boxes when he was nine and has amassed a museum quality collection.

"I guess they (phonographs) were the main attraction," he said. He still has some of the ones he collected as a boy, and he said his generation, the 25-to-35-year-olds seem to be drawn to these old machines more than their parents who perhaps in their own youths gathered around the first radios and glued their ears to the sound of an expanding world. "Most of the older people who grew up with it don't care about these things," Gibson said.

But some fanciers, he said,

"collect them like you might collect postage stamps. Other people would just want one."

Gibson restores not only old phonographs, radios and music boxes, but he also repairs juke boxes and pin ball machines.

Most of Gibson's collection of these sets have been culled from museums that were overstocked with such machines and sold the duplicates, he said.

Rarely are these music machines found in the home of someone who doesn't realize what they have, with values ranging from $100 up to $80,000. However, Gibson said, most people tend to overestimate the value of these old machines. "They think they're worth more than they really are," he said.

There are prizes in Gibson's gallery of old phonographs such as the second model of an Edison-made phonograph, a 1878 handcrank-powered device which drove a foil-wrapped cylinder which contacted with a needle to cut sound producing grooves into the lead foil.

This machine didn't record music, only voices, and after a few replays the foil wore out and had to be replaced with new foil on which a new message could be recorded, Gibson said.

He bought that machine from a private collection and would not reveal its dollar value.

Gibson also has a goldplated brass phonograph which is studded with jewels and was made in 1903 in France.

His collection of related items includes many models of "Nipper," the RCA logo dog who, since 1899, has been "listening to his master's voice."

The sound that also seems to please Gibson, who said he's not interested in the modern music machines. He also likes the old tunes that are perfectly attuned with these real golden oldies.

Bobby In The Buff

By Mark Schwed
 UPI TV Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Would you believe someone actually paid Patrick Duffy $75,000 to take off his clothes, step in a shower and say, "good morning?"

For those who resist tuning in to the mire of nighttime soap operas, Duffy used to play Bobby Ewing on the popular "Dallas" series. As is the case with unknowns who suddenly come into big money and ego-flapping fame, Duffy came to the conclusion that he was through being bad J.R.'s brother on "Dallas," that he could move on to bigger and better things. So he decided to leave the show.

The producers, Lorimar, obliged and wrote him out of the script by killing him off in a cliffhanger last season. There was no mistaking this one. Bobby Ewing was struck and killed by a car. We even saw his coffin. They put him six feet under.

So Duffy goes off into television land to make his mark. Maybe he wanted to be a "serious" actor. Maybe he thought $75,000 an episode was not enough money for a proper Hollywood lifestyle. Or maybe he was just foolish. In any case, he left, went out on his own and promptly flopped. Duffy said at the time he quit "Dallas" that the series had become "like riding a tired horse." Well, giddyap, Bobby's back.

Lorimar-Teletelures brought Duffy back at his $75,000 per episode fee, plus a reported $1 million bonus for signing on again.

All that was left was this simple matter: how do you resurrect a dead man, give him the same name, the same character, and put him in his old house, where his ex-wife has just remarried?

In televisionland, it's simple. You just do it. Forget the loyal audience that follows the show religiously. Forget that dead men don't take showers. Forget anything that makes sense. And that's exactly what "Dallas" did in its latest cliffhanger season-ending episode.

Duffy's appearance was so brief as to be laughable. In the final seconds of the hour-long show, Pam Ewing (Victoria Principal), Bobby's ex-wife, has just remarried. She hears water running in the bathroom, walks over, opens the door and bang, guess who? It's Bobby in the buff, hosing himself down in the shower. He smiles and says, "Good morning." Roll credits. Wait until next season to find out how they did it.

Next season, "Dallas" won't have it so easy. The folks over at the No. 1 network, NBC, have decided to challenge the "Dallas" clan with Sonny Crockett and Ricardo Tubbs of "Miami Vice." The two shows will go head-to-head at 9 p.m. EST on Friday nights.

What it all comes down to is this: a speeding car can't kill Bobby, a bullet can't do in J.R., a bomb can't blow Sue Ellen to bits. That much we know. But a couple of Miami vice cops driving a sleek Ferrari may just spell doom for "Dallas."

They Have A Family Feud Over Dawson

Dear Debra — I am a game show nut. My nephew and I have a bet about Richard Dawson, the host of "Family Feud." He says Richard Dawson is dead and I say he is still alive. If my nephew is right I would like to know when and how he died. Thank you. — G.S., Mt. Carmel, Pa.

If Richard Dawson could read this letter I'm sure he would have a sarcastic, tongue-in-cheek comment for you. Dawson, my favorite host of all-time, and "Family Feud," my favorite game show, was knocked out of the ratings by the very successful "Wheel of Fortune." But he is still alive himself.

Dear Debra — How many series has Dennis Weaver appeared in? — S.P., Washington, Pa.

Dennis Weaver has many TV series to his credit. He played Chester Goode on "Gunsmoke" (1955-64); veterinarian Kenneth Yarborough Jones in "Kentucky Jones" (1964-65); wildlife officer Tom Wedloe on "Gentle Ben" (1967-69); Deputy Marshal Sam McCloud in "McCloud" (1970-77); Det. Sgt. Daniel Stone in "Stone" (1980) and Rear Adm. Thomas Mallory in "Emerald Point, N.A.S." (1983-84).

Dear Debra — My family would like to know the real name of George Burns. Where was he born? I believe his name is Birnbaum and I had a cousin who was considered the black sheep of the family who decided to leave New York for Hollywood fame. I was wondering if that is

Celebrity Corner
Debra Katz

him? — R.B., Reading, Pa.

I can give you some facts about George Burns, but I can't tell you whether or not he's your cousin. For that, you'll have to do some sleuthing among your family tree. Ask relatives if the facts fit the man you're referring to. Burns was born in New York City as Nathan Birnbaum on Jan. 20, 1896. He began his show-business career in vaudeville as a child, singing, and then went into a roller-skating act and then comedy. He met and teamed up with Gracie Allen in 1923 in a vaudeville act, married her in 1926 and together, as you know, they became quite a success in every field they tried: vaudeville, radio, TV and films. Their film career got its start in 1932 with the movie, "The Big Broadcast." Does any of this sound like your cousin?

Dear Debra — Can you please tell us who played the parts of the three "Rookies" on TV? My buddies and I have a bet on the answer and we thank you for your help. — J.S., Saginaw, Mich.

Georg Stanford Brown played Officer Terry Webster. Michael Ontkean played Officer Willie Gillis (1972-74) and Sam Melville played Officer Mike Danko. In 1974, Bruce Fairbairn joined the trio as Officer Chris Owens, a new addition to "The Rookies," which ran on ABC from 1972-1976.

Dear Debra — I remember as a youngster having watched a movie whose title escapes me and to this day it frightens me. It involved a little girl who was sent a doll (Goldilocks type) in the mail by an enemy of her father's. The doll was so evil that it destroyed the youngster's other dolls. Later her father is forced to destroy the doll after he is bitten by it. At the end of the movie the father sends his enemy a grinning soldier doll to kill him for sending his daughter this evil doll. I know my information is shaky but I do appreciate your help with the movie's title, the year it was made and who was in it. Thank you so much for your time! — B.M., Galesburg, Mich.

Your letter sent shivers up my spine. You've got me stumped so I'm appealing to the readers for help. If anyone can recall the movie's title and who starred in it, I'd appreciate your cards and letters. Stay tuned.

Dear Debra — Are Justine Bateman of "Family Ties" and Jason Bateman of "Valerie" related.

Yes, Justine and Jason are sister and brother.
