

CITRUS GROWERS CONVENTION
Big Meeting Arranged for Tampa on Thursday, April 17
 On Thursday, April 17, there has been called to meet at the Tampa Bay Casino at Tampa, Florida at 9 o'clock in the morning, a general convention of citrus growers of the state, whether affiliated with the Florida Citrus Exchange or not, to discuss the desirability and feasibility of organizing a Florida equivalent of the California Citrus Protective League; and we trust that as many of our growers as can do so will be present at this convention, which will be presided over by Prof. H. Harold Hume, the president of the Florida State Horticultural Society.
 On the following day, Friday, April 18, will be held the annual convention of the members of the Florida Citrus Exchange, and we sincerely trust that every member of the Exchange can see his way clear to be present at this convention, and make it the biggest and most rousing convention that the Exchange has ever had.

It is contemplated to have several of our district managers present at this meeting who have never met with us before—men that you will all be interested in. The meeting will be conducted with and hearing talk. The financial condition of the Florida Citrus Exchange will also be discussed very thoroughly and fully, and as this convention of ours is held on the day following the general convention, for the purpose of establishing a state wide citrus protective association, any of our members who contemplate attending either of these conventions can attend both.
 Very truly yours,
FLORIDA CITRUS EXCHANGE.

Eustis Visitors Here
 Among the prominent visitors to the city today were Messrs. Clarence Woods and Mr. Prolieu of Eustis. Mr. Woods is the versatile editor of the Eustis Lake Region, one of the finest weekly papers in the south and Mr. Prolieu is a member of the city council of Eustis. Both of them were callers at The Herald office—an appreciated visit.

Had a Runaway
 The little son of Joe Cameron, and the little nephew, of Mr. Cameron, while driving a mule and spring wagon through town last Saturday had a rather exciting runaway that seemed to the spectators very serious at first. The mule became frightened on Second street and started to run. Near Hand's stable the little Moore boy was thrown out suddenly. The mule and wagon were stayed with the mule and almost ran into a moving train on First street, but a kind Providence was watching over him and the mule was finally stopped near the freight depot after a hair breath escape from death.

Scholey is Here
 That does not mean anything to the average reader of The Herald but to the editor it means much. Four years ago, C. H. Scholey, editor of the Guilford, Conn., Shore Line Times, spent a few hours in Sanford and left on the Clyde Line going north. On the boat he picked up a copy of The Herald and was so pleased with the various descriptions of different enterprises that he wrote the editor for exchange of papers and since that time he has read The Herald and a great intimacy has sprung up between the editors. Scholey has wanted to return to Sanford and the opportunity offering last week to take a trip to Florida he included Sanford in his itinerary and spent two days here. Our only regret is that he would never have left Sanford then. He expects to return at an early date and may become identified with our city as a winter resident. He would certainly give him and his good wife a real southern welcome and we know what no place in Florida would suit them quite as well as Sanford. Being a true newspaper man Scholey is a good booster and we expect him to talk to all his Connecticut friends this summer.

THE EXPRESS COMPANIES

Hard Hit by Operation of The Parcels Post

COUNSEL SUBMITS STATEMENTS

Other News of the World in General
That May Interest Herald
Readers

Washington, April 4.—Express companies of the country have been hard hit by the operation of the new parcel post system, according to a statement submitted to the Interstate Commerce Commission today by counsel for the companies in their final argument against the reduction in express rates proposed by the commission. It was declared that the companies had suffered a loss approximating 25 per cent in small packages business—a loss which amounts to about 6 per cent of the gross revenues of the companies. Walter Hines asserted that for the five companies he represented—the Adams, American, United States, Southern and Wells-Fargo, application of the proposed rates to present business would reduce revenues about $26,000,000 a year, or 5.85 cents on every dollar's worth of business done. Such a reduction in revenues, he said, would be absolutely destructive. He maintained also that the formula made rates would disturb seriously business conditions in large centers, such as New York and Chicago, by forcing a readjustment of competitive business conditions. B. F. Fairchild of the New York Chamber of Commerce for the express shippers attacked Mr. Hines' argument as "purely theoretical and hypothetical" and insisted that the proposed rates would yield an ample revenue to the express companies. He maintained also that the present allowances made by the express companies to the railroads for transporting service were excessive.

China and the Philippines question came prominently before the cabinet this week. The President and his advisors discussed the advisability of recognizing the Chinese republic at an early date and there is every likelihood that the United States will be the first of the powers to act.

The breaking off of all negotiations for peace with Zapata has forced the government to mobilize a strong force for a campaign against the southern rebels. This has been done in spite of the fact that rebel successes in the north have made imperative the dispatch of a large part of the regular army to that region.

Democrats swept Chicago in Tuesday's municipal election, returning 22 aldermen and the superior court judge, city clerk and city treasurer. The proposed bond issue of $2,880,000 urged by the Hearst-Harrison factions of the Democratic party carried by a small margin.

The use of Boston as a clearing house by smugglers of women's gowns is to be investigated by a federal grand jury, a special session to begin next Tuesday.

"Dayton is facing one of the gravest problems that any city of the world ever faced and we want the world to know we need money and food for our stricken people," said John H. Patterson, president of the relief committee, tonight after he returned in company with H. E. Talbot, chief engineer, from a tour of the sections of Dayton swept by the flood last week. In speaking of the tentative plan to ask the federal government for a loan of from $20,000,000 to $40,000,000 to be used in reconstruction work, Mr. Patterson said: "At a meeting of bankers and officials of the building association this evening it was decided to make an appeal for federal aid. The banks and building associations have $60,000,000 worth of assets which they will put up as collateral. It may be deemed advisable to ask the government to give us some financial assistance. We feel that the disaster is an emergency which would justify extraordinary action on the part of congress."

Sanford Assists the Flood Sufferers of Ohio and Indiana

Noble Girls of the Lend a Hand Club Solicit Donations and Receive a Ready Response

Sanford is composed of the biggest bunch of large hearted people in the world and they are never appealed to in vain when it comes to assisting the afflicted or distressed. When the first news of the dreadful disaster in the Ohio and Indiana districts came to the people of this city the thoughts of all became centered on the idea of helping the people in the valleys of the raging torrents. Chief among the philanthropic bodies of Sanford is the noble band of workers, the Lend a Hand Club, composed of girls under the direction of their patroness, Mrs. Wight, and hardly had the news been flashed over the wires telling of the frightful loss of life and the dire need for the living before this band of noble ladies had started ways for raising money and supplies. Donations were sought and freely given. Entertainments were planned and ably seconded by the managers of the moving picture shows and in two days' time $159.10 had been raised and forwarded by the society. The following letter means that the flood sufferers will be relieved as other sections followed Sanford's lead and donated quite as liberally:

Treasurer National Red Cross Society, Washington, D. C.:
Dear Sir—We are herewith handing you draft on National Park Bank, New York City, for $159.10 for relief of the flood and storm sufferers. This amount was raised by the Lend a Hand Society of Sanford, Florida, by soliciting donations, and by benefit performances at the two theatres of the city.
Yours truly,
B. F. WHITNER,
Asst. Cashier.

Lyman R. Johnson
The Angel of Death entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman R. Johnson Wednesday night and bore back to the cradle roll of heaven, their little son, Lyman R., aged 17 months, one of twins. Little Lyman had never been strong and for six weeks has been very ill. Sweet and lovely was this little son, and the hearts of their many friends go out in loving sympathy to the bereaved parents. Lyman was one of the first cradle roll babies of the Congregational Sunday School and the Sunday School at large extend deepest sympathy to the bereaved parents. The funeral took place from the home at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Cleaning Day Great Success.
The effort put forth by the West Side Improvement Association, and declaration for an official Cleaning up Day in the west side has met with undeniable success, as can plainly be seen if one takes the trouble to walk or drive through that end of town. From the A. C. L. R. R. to the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Carter on First street, the cleaning up has been almost unanimous as evidenced by the well-ordered grounds of private homes and public hostilities, the clean cut parkways and neatly trimmed trees. Everybody on the West Side caught the spirit and "co-operation," the well worn slogan of the campaign, has proven beyond a doubt that it can accomplish wonders. From the railroad to the west, and from the lake front to the south, the West Side has had a general cleaning up that has never been known before in the history of Sanford. It is the talk of the town. Perhaps among the most notable improvements are the lots on the corner of First street and Elm Ave., and the Parker lots on Myrtle, but everywhere the residents have responded generously to the call. Gentlemen have given time and personal labor on their own and the property of others; some have contributed cash, while still others employed labor to be used on the unimproved lots. Beyond the brightest of days met with a cordial support but now let us keep up the good work, not once a year but regularly let us have clean-up days in the West Side. It means cleanliness, health and beauty and enhances the value of property. The West Side Improvement Association cordially thanks one and all who helped in any way to make cleaning up day a splendid success.

Eighteen solid cars of heavy lumber, and the first special "lumber train" that ever was shown Tampa is a record. The Hart Lumber Company and the Great Manufacturing Company of Jacksonville have received orders from lines which have been put out of commission by the flood to ship every foot of lumber that it is possible to get to different points where a bridge is either down or the track is washed away.

THE NEXT LEGISLATURE

Promises to Wake Up Things In Tallahassee

EXCITING SESSION IS PROMISED

Many Measures will be Introduced and Third House will be Busy

Tallahassee, April 4. Next week this capital will begin to assume the air of a legislative center for this year there are to be some important measures offered and some queer bills placed on the files. There will be many introduced and no doubt but few passed but this will be one of the most exciting sessions in the history of Florida. The "third house" this year promises to be large and opulent and therein lies the excitement.

An opulent third house draws the janglers on as well as the legislators. Some historic poker games between the regulars and the unlookers are promised, for in those games some big winnings are recorded by certain lawmakers while their opponents are the most cheerful losers that can be imagined.

Nearly every member of both houses will be called upon to introduce bills. An avalanche of new legislation is to be started. Its end is problematical. Among the measures in sight now are the following:

- A bill for State-wide Sunday baseball.
- The National constitutional amendment for the direct election of United States Senators.
- Woman suffrage for Florida.
- The convict lease system.
- A State highway system and a fifty million dollar bond issue for good roads.
- The abolition of the fee system.
- The short ballot system for the State.
- The creation of a State tax Commission.
- The creation of a public service commission.
- Charter bills for various cities, including commission government charters for Pensacola and Jacksonville and probably Tampa.
- The initiative and referendum.
- A bill providing for commission government in any town of the State that it may be desired.
- A bill allowing cities to amend their charters without going before the Legislature, it being contended that half the consideration of local bills.
- An absentee voting bill, allowing traveling men to vote by mail.
- The income tax may come up in order to place this State on record although the amendment has become part of the national constitution by the vote of a sufficient number of other State Assemblies.
- The Federal primary will be considered and the State committee probably will be asked to call same.
- Pensions for aged teachers.

The proposed reapportionment of the State which would do away with the Congressman at Large.

The State of West Florida may be submitted to the people.

The usual bills to increase the powers of the Railroad Commission.

All the reforms suggested in the Governor's message, and those suggested that are not reforms.

Fish bills, the division of counties and other local bills galore.

Jacksonville will have a large number of measures, among them in the city employees' insurance fund, the charter amendment, good roads, water across the St. Johns river, Tugboat system advocated by real estate men and numerous bills of a general nature.

Married in Bathing Suit.
West Palm Beach, Fla., April 3.—A romance of the sea, having its inception some two weeks ago, when the parties met for the first time in the waters at the bathing beach, had its culmination Tuesday in a most original and novel manner when Miss Landa Lund and Frederick Kirchner were united in the sacred bonds of matrimony.

The bride was dressed in a handsome silk bathing costume. In her hair were arranged orange blossoms, a large bouquet of which she carried in her hand. The groom likewise was dressed in his bathing suit. The minister wore the ordinary clerical costume. At the appropriate moment the groom produced from a mysterious recess of his costume the wedding ring. The minister concluded the ceremony with placing the ring on the finger of the trembling bride, which was the signal for a mighty cheer by the crowd.

Old Bomb Exploded.
Fernandina, Fla., April 3.—Having found several bombs in old fort near the city, Giuseppe Giannimo and Tony Franciso, Italian fishermen, took one measuring five inches in diameter to Salvador's fish house on the wharf today, where they commenced to investigate. Consequently both are fatally injured, Giuseppe being shown minus a leg, while the other had his arm blown off.

The two fishermen had on several occasions noticed the old bombs which had lain idle since the Civil war. Securing hammers they commenced to beat on the metal. Suddenly there was a terrific explosion and one went a leg and an arm, while the roof of the fish house, together with a portion of the side of the building, went up in the air.

"We hita da bom' wit' da ham', an' com' da bigga noise," explained Giuseppe.

The people of Arcadia are agitating the matter of building suburban trolley lines from that town out in different directions into the surrounding country and the nearby settlements. An excellent idea. There is nothing that will cause the country within a few miles of the town to settle up more rapidly than providing means for the people to get in and out quickly and cheaply.

FLAGLER CRITICALLY ILL

The Great Man of Florida is Not Expected to Live

ACCIDENT STARTED HIS DECLINE

Other News and Views of the State of Florida by Grapevine Telegraph

Florida, and the whole country, is in breathless suspense at news of the serious illness of Henry M. Flagler. In his eighty-fourth year, he is still the idol of those who know what he has been worth to this state. A success in every undertaking he has assumed in his early years, he organized great industries and started on the road to success corporations that have caused nations to acclaim them. Salt, petroleum and railroads were his specialty. With all his other achievements, it is in Florida that he really shines as a star of the first magnitude; and Florida will ever hold his name in grateful memory for his work in making possible what the state is today.

About 100 representative citizens met at the Arcadia opera house Tuesday night for the purpose of organizing a Democratic club, also for recommending for appointment as postmaster of Arcadia such a man as shall be nominated by the Democrats of District No. 9 on April 22, and for legalizing the call made for the primary or primaries and election for postmaster. About 100 names were enrolled. Officers elected were: A. C. Freeman, president, A. L. Durranco, secretary, committee appointed to draft resolutions, J. I. Jones, J. W. Burton and Andrew Carter. They were directed to send a copy of the resolutions, when drafted, to Congressman Sparkman, setting forth the object of the meeting and requesting him to abide by the primary on April 22, which would be the voice of the people of District No. 9 for postmaster.

The people of Clearwater mean to have that big new hotel before another season opens. There was a big boating meeting held by the chamber of commerce last week at which four thousand dollars was pledged as a bonus, and since the meeting through the work of a special committee there has been nearly two thousand dollars more added to this amount. It is proposed to increase the fund to ten thousand dollars, when the chamber of commerce will be ready to receive propositions from hotel men who mean business.

The brush and woodenware factory at Tampa is an active industry. The brushes are made from the fibre of the saw palmetto roots. Extensive improvements are going to be made on the plant in a short time.

With a large colony of its membership established at Middlesboro, Ky., a small one at Florence, Ala., and individuals at other points beyond the state, the Tennessee House of Representatives met at 10 o'clock this morning and adjourned without a roll call until this afternoon. A counting of noses, however showed sixty-one members present, sixty-six being a quorum. Until a quorum is restored the wheels of legislation are securely tied.

It may be that John Trice, president of the Citizens Bank and Trust Company, will have some trouble in sitting under his "own vine and fig tree" when he gets his new bungalow done at Anna Maria. It is not probable that he will have the privilege that few people have and that is the delight of catching a fish for his breakfast from his bedroom window, his front porch, or his kitchen door. His bungalow is built directly over the water on piles near the end of the dock and set in ten or twelve feet of the water. Mackerel, kingfish, flounders and many other kinds of fish may be caught from off the dock with great ease as visitors to the beach will testify and Colonel Trice can catch them as well from his home as they can be caught from the dock.—Tampa Times.

The Ideal Newspaper
 A newspaper publisher, desiring to please his readers asked for suggestions "How can I make mine the ideal newspaper?" he inquired.
 "Cut out the crimes, the murders and the sensational divorce case reports," said the nice people.
 "Cut out the accidents, the railroad and steamship disasters!" cried the people who never read such things.
 "Cut out politics," said the old-fashioned woman. "I don't understand it, and haven't time for it anyway."
 "Cut out the heavy stuff," yawned the butterflies of both sexes. "The ideal newspaper should be amusing and diverting."
 "Cut out the so-called funny pictures, said the careful mother. "Such pictures aren't funny, and they're bad, very bad, for the children."
 "Cut out the ponderous editorials," snapped the man who merely scans the headlines. "Who reads 'em nowadays, anyway?"
 "Cut out the woman's page," said the intellectual high-brow. "Both are demoralized, and both have received too much prominence altogether."
 "Cut out—" began another, but the publisher interrupted.
 "Stop, all of you!" he cried. "On second thought, I have decided to cut out myself. It is no use trying to publish the ideal newspaper until I can come across the ideal reader."
 Saying which he shut up shop and went into the wholesale anchor business for a rest.—Binghamton Republican.

BADLY FOOLED

A man wrote the editor of The Herald last Tuesday that he would send a check for his renewal of subscription. We have not received it yet and looking up his letter find it dated April first. Stung again.

GOOD NEWS

The watermelon crop of Florida will not be extra large, but unless there is a most untimely frost it will be one of the earliest on record, and will beat the Georgia fruit to market by several weeks.—Ocala Star.

As soon as this county division matter is settled the editor of The Herald will take the Orlando editors fishing on the upper St. Johns and just because they have posed as prohibitionists nothing but water will be drank. Their awful sufferings will be punishment enough for their crime.

BAD BRAND OF BOOZE

This is an age of marvels, but for a man who has lived a quarter of a century in Orlando, to get lost on a prominent highway five miles from the city, and to get so bewildered that he turns his auto square across the road not knowing whether to go straight up, straight ahead, or round and round, is one to be added to the seven wonders. Yet a prominent citizen of Orlando did this very thing and waited for a passerby to start him on the right path.—Orlando Reporter-Star.

This Orlando man was probably in a deep study about the wet and dry phase of Harney county and failed to notice directions. We advise a change of brands.

SOUND REASONING

The Orlando Citizen in attempting an argument in the last issue says:

"The proposed new county, of one-third the area and population will require just as many officers as all of Orange county now does and you will have to pay the price to do one-third of the work with one-third of the taxable area."

That is a good argument for county division and we really believe that Howard is becoming a divisionist. We will have one-third of the present county, will do one-third of the work and pay for one-third of the work out of the one-third taxable area. And in that one-third every tax payer will pay on FULL VALUE and not on one-third or dodging the taxes altogether as some of them are doing now in parts of the new county limits. And the county officials will be paid only for what they do and there will be no criminal court or other pensions that now prevail in Orange county and our people will pay a just proportion and the money will be spent on improvements and good roads and schools.

MAC IS A LANDMARK

Hon. H. H. McCreary, editor of the Gainesville Sun and Senator from the 32nd district will have served his constituents for twenty years after he returns from this term. Harry just seems to have the habit of serving his people and just can't help going to the Senate. He has the following in Tuesday's issue:

"The editor of the Sun will leave next Thursday for Tallahassee, where he will next week enter upon his duties as senator from Alachua county, thirty-second district. At the close of the session of 1913 he will have served his people for twenty consecutive years, four in the House and sixteen in the senate, the longest continuous term of any man has ever represented his constituency in the Legislature of Florida. He has been through some strong sessions during those years, but he has always endeavored to carry out the wishes of his people. He will be glad to hear from the people of Alachua county at any time during the session in reference to any measure under consideration, or which they may wish to present to the Legislature."

MONEY NOT GOODS WANTED

The news from the flood district in Ohio changes aspect much to the relief of the nation, for the toll of the dead is probably very much smaller than at first was estimated. It is possible to be reconciled to material loss. Such things may be recovered, but there is an ex-hilarious sympathy for those who have lost their kindred, members of their own household, and who have to endure the loss of those most dear to them.

The announcement that food and clothing are not needed because so fully supplied by government, but that there is every need of throwing the flood district should be a guide to the people in making their contribution.

The Herald had planned to pick up about town whatever packages were prepared to be sent forward, and arrangement may be made at once to carry out that plan, yet the government urges by preference that money shall be sent directly to the afflicted region rather than to make the work of carrying goods into it from without, partly because of the fear of congestion which shall delay application of relief, and partly because there is an abundance of such things on the ground, and relief may be much more prompt as well as benefits conferred otherwise, if money may be brought in and disbursed in the local market for aid to the distressed.

ADVISING THE TOURISTS

The state papers are beginning to advise the tourists to stay in Florida and not rush home with the mistaken idea that the north is warm and balmy. You might just as well talk against the wind. The beautiful Florida weather has lulled the tourist into a sense of false security and he really forgets that at no other place upon this terrestrial footstool does such weather exist in the winter months. He has spent a few months or a few weeks in Florida and feels so good and at peace with the world that he fondly imagines the climate "back home" is just as good.

Let him try it! He packs his grip, commences to talk about home and the northern climate and the large cities and leaves his more quiet surroundings in Florida with the firm belief that the south will sink into a state of innocuous desuetude during his absence and hikes for the north. All is well until he gets over the mountains and the chilly blasts and snow and cold rains hit him when he leaves the comfort of the luxurious Pullman. He encounters floods, swollen streams, railroads washed away, trees devoid of green, landscape devoid of growing plants and grass, no flowers, no birds, just the dull gray lump of earth, dark clouds overhead and sodden, sloppy earth under foot, and everybody rushing to and fro stumbling over each other in the mad scramble after the north.

What an awakening! Let the tourist go home in March and April. The change will do him good. He will think better of Florida after he leaves. He will long for the good old sunshine that became rather tiresome because there seemed to be so much of it. He will long for the boat and the lakes and the ocean and gulf. The fishing and hunting and automobiling that he cannot get in the north for many months yet. He will long for the southern hospitality, the friendly handshake that means more than dollars and cents. He will long for the fruits and vegetables and fish and fowls from their native beach that in his old home will necessarily come from cold storage.

He will long for the fresh air laden with orange blossoms and roses and jessamine and the carols of the mocking birds. He will long for the vast researches of the piney woods and the health giving ozone that filled his lungs and made him young again.

He will long to get back to Nature in all her pristine glory and he will find her not, for the charming lady has taken up her residence in Florida for keeps.

"Back home" will not be the place he pictured in Florida, when he had a surfeit of all the best things in life that are possible only in the south. "Back home" will never be the same to him again and next season will see the tourist coming to Florida much earlier and staying much later and finally when his business affairs can be arranged satisfactorily Florida will get him for all time.

And the greatest surprise of his life will be his first summer in Florida, when instead of sweltering in the south he will find July and August much cooler than he ever experienced in the north.

Let him hurry home just one time. Florida will get him in the end.

HOWARD'S REASONING

Snookums Howard of the Orlando Citizen, in a distribute of abuse and invective endeavors in the last issue to fire the last broadside in county division and then sit of the footrest and melonose. He realizes, as do the other anti-divisionists, that Harney county will be made next week. He attempts to throw off on the measure by calling the editor of The Herald a carpet-bagger—a name that applies to only one newspaper man in Orange county and that man is Howard—the man who has so little faith in his town and county that he has never put a dollar in the printing business but hires his printing done and rents the outfit expecting to get out with a whole hide as soon as the division matter is settled. Howard is strong in playing to the galleries but very weak when it comes to investing his money in the printing business and expects to hire himself to a few more simoleons. Howard also takes up much valuable space in his paper attempting that county division would increase the taxes. Under his unsound reasoning he attempts to prove that no counties should ever be divided because the old county already has a court house and poor farm and really exposes the bold fact that under present conditions and high taxes in Orange county there will be no need for a court house and more need for a poor farm.

Under his reasoning no county should be divided and the whole state should be one GRAND OLD COUNTY with the county seat probably at Orlando. No need for the forty-eight counties that we now possess. No need for improvement, no need for a more compact arrangement and lower taxes. No need to disturb the present lovely arrangement whereby people are forced to travel forty miles to transact two dollars worth of business at the county seat. In other words the formation of new counties in Florida since the discovery by Ponce De Leon has been all wrong.

He makes a sobbing appeal about awful expense of compiling new records and other incidentals of new housekeeping—details that will cost no more in the new county than in the present cost to the real sufferer, the man who is forced to pay the filing of deeds and property transfers.

Mr. Howard would have the people of Harney county believe that county division is a new wrinkle patented by the Sanford reconstructionists, as he calls them. County division is an issue before every session of the legislature and strange to say the bills always pass and the new counties are formed and new counties will continue to be formed as long as Florida continues to grow as rapidly and the people continue to believe in smaller and more compact counties, lower taxes, better service, better schools, better roads, etc.

We are reconstructionists all right, and we expect to reconstruct and make over and make better this part of dear old mother Orange. We are rebels and rebelled at the present system because this section has grown large enough and strong enough to fight our battles and paddle our own canoe.

We are secessionists all right, and having seceded from the parent county, will fight to the last ditch and win because we are right.

We are not carpet-baggers. The men who head this movement and are pushing it are the largest property owners in Orange county and the majority of them have been here longer than Mr. Howard and expect to be here after he has gone to Pennsylvania.

But whatever we may be we are it, and whatever it takes to get county division we have it, and we kiss old mother Orange good-bye this week and leave Snookums alone in his rented printing office.

CAMPAIGN EXPENSES TOO HIGH

Law To Curtail Expenses and to Prohibit Corrupt Political Practices

Tallahassee, Fla., April 3.—While a candidate for the governorship, Park Trammell emphasized in his platform and also in his speeches the necessity of perfecting the primary and election laws so that campaign expenses would be reduced to a minimum, and that every feature of raud and corruption would be eliminated. He not only advocated such policy, but in his own candidacy put the same into practice, having made the race upon an expenditure of only about $3,600. The governor has championed the idea of prohibiting excessive expenditures and all forms of corruption in connection with the primary for a number of years. In 1907 while a member of the Senate, he introduced and endeavored to secure the passage of a splendid measure to prevent corrupt practices. As attorney general he also made a number of good recommendations along this line. He will recommend to the Legislature the enactment of a strong primary law. Today the governor gives out for publication his proposed recommendation upon this subject, as follows:

"The primary and election laws should be so perfected that all opportunity for fraud and trickery in elections shall be removed, and campaign expenses reduced to the minimum. I believe that a very large majority of the people in this State are heartily in accord with the idea that the man and not the dollar should triumph, and will welcome for all time to come a law that will stamp out the influence of a few that public office is a chattel to be sold at public outcry to the highest bidder. The law should be such that a poor man who is upright and capable may run for public office without financial embarrassment, and the electors of the State may have the privilege of voting for such a man. A free and uncorrupted ballot is the supreme safeguard upon which rests the permanency of our free institutions and the hope of the future destiny of our State and nation. We must make certain the purity of the ballot. Every form of election corruption should be severely punished. Candidates should be restricted in the amount of money they may be expended for such purposes. I respectfully recommend the enactment of a primary election law which will provide:

1. A specified limit or maximum which may be spent by or on behalf of or in any manner in furtherance of the candidacy of any candidate for each of the elective offices—federal, State and county.
2. Specifying clearly the purpose for which it will be legal for any candidate, or for any person or committee or club or other organization of persons, to expend, directly or indirectly, the amount authorized by law to be spent in behalf of the candidacy of any candidate for office.
3. That no candidate, citizen, political committee or club, or other organization of persons shall be allowed to employ political speakers or political workers, and shall not be allowed to compensate any such speaker or worker, directly or indirectly, or to pay their traveling expenses or other expenses.
4. That a sworn statement of all campaign expenditures made by any citizen or association of citizens or club shall be made in duplicate and filed within six days from the date of the expenditure. One copy thereof shall be filed with the clerk of the Circuit Court of the county in which the expenditure was made, and one copy shall be filed with the secretary of State at Tallahassee.
5. That sworn detailed itemized statements of expenditures made, contributions received and of outstanding obligations in any wise pertaining to a candidacy for public office, by a candidate or his campaign manager or campaign committee, shall be made in duplicate if such candidacy is for a State or national office, and one copy thereof shall be filed with the clerk of the Circuit Court of the county where the candidate resides and the other copy shall be filed with the secretary of State at Tallahassee, not more than thirty-five days nor less than thirty days prior to the date of the primary. A similar statement shall be so filed not more than twenty-five nor less than twenty days prior to the day of the primary, and such statement shall be so made and filed not more than twelve nor less than eight days prior to the day of the primary. Within ten days after the primary another statement covering all such items shall be so made and filed. Said requirements to also apply as far as applicable to the secondary primary. That if the candidate applies to an office to be voted upon by the voters of only one county, such statements shall be filed only in that county where he resides.

6. That upon every piece of literature or campaign article published and circulated the name of the person having it published or circulated shall thereon appear. If published or circulated by a club or a committee, the name of the chairman and secretary shall appear.

7. That every candidate, campaign manager, campaign committee or political club shall at least six days prior to the day of publishing or circulating any charge or attack against a candidate, serve a copy of the same on the party against whom the charge or attack is to be made and if the reply to such charge or attack contains charges that do not directly arise from the attack being answered, a copy of the reply shall be served upon the party to whom reply is being made at least five days prior to its publication.

8. That all persons who upon a promise of pay or for pay does any speaking or political work, for or against a candidate, shall be punished by a heavy penalty.

9. That an appropriation of a reasonable sum shall be made for the purpose of the detection of violations of the primary law.

All other provisions necessary to give us a strong primary law should be added."

The Easy Laxative

In justice to yourself you should try Rexall Orderlies.—your money back if you don't like them. They are a candy confection that really do give easy relief from constipation.

Good health is largely dependent upon the bowels. When they become sluggish the waste material that is thrown off by the system accumulates. This condition generates poisons which circulate throughout the body, tending to create coated tongue, bad breath, headache, dull brain action, nervousness, indigestion and other annoyances.

Persons as well as for the most robust they act toward relieving constipation and also to overcome its cause and to make unnecessary the frequent use of laxative. They are gentle and safe, and they act directly on the bowels and associated organs or glands.

Make Us Prove It

Avoid harsh cathartics and physics. They give but temporary relief. They often aggravate the real trouble. They are particularly bad for children.

We guarantee to refund every penny paid us for Rexall Orderlies if they do not give entire satisfaction. We ask no questions and we do not insist on a return. Your money is sufficient for us to promptly and cheerfully refund the money.

Rexall Orderlies

Come in tablet form, taste just like candy and are noted for their easy, soothing action upon the bowels. They don't purge, gripe, cause nausea, looseness, nor the inconveniences attendant upon the use of purgatives. Their action is so pleasant that the taking of Rexall Orderlies almost becomes a desire instead of a duty.

Doesn't that prove that Rexall Orderlies must be right? You must know we would not dare make such a promise unless we were positively certain that Rexall Orderlies will do all we claim for them. There is no money risk attached to a trial of Rexall Orderlies, and in justice to yourself, you should not hesitate to test them.

FLORIDA'S TIRE FACTORY

New Industry Will Retain Part of $20,000,000 Sent Annually

With the purchase of a magnificent site on the St. Johns river... the Seminole Rubber Company is now running forward a factory that will employ some 500 hands to start with in the making of automobile tires and other accessories.

Owing to the saving in freight rates on raw material and other advantages, a standard tire, with one extra layer of fabric and a real 5,000 mile guarantee, will be retailed at 10 per cent below the present price.

This new industry has received the enthusiastic support of Jacksonville and southern people generally, especially auto owners and it is believed that more factories of the same kind will soon be established in this section.

Here we were told we were on the highway... stream. On every hand flowers bloom, palmettoes grow, the orange sheds its sweet perfume far away in the fields and dells.

Sanford has two banks doing well. Mr. H. E. Tolar, quite a youth, is cashier of one (the Peoples) and is a popular young man with bright prospects ahead.

Wednesday Club
By special invitation the Wednesday Club held their regular meeting at "Will Showa," the handsome suburban home of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Walker Wednesday afternoon. There was a good attendance of the club members and five visitors present.

The president, Mrs. G. L. Maris presided.

On account of illness the secretary, Mrs. S. O. Chase was unable to be present. Mrs. G. B. Waldron was requested to act as secretary pro tem.

Mrs. J. W. Dickins presented to the club a request from Miss Catherine A. Stewart of Virginia, National Field Agent of the Audubon Society and of the Florida, that they cooperate with the clubs of the city in making an effort to assist in the protection of the birds in the state, by signing a petition which will be put in the hands of our representative, Mr. Lake, who will be requested to present the matter to the Legislature.

Those of the club who were present signed the petition. Mrs. Dickins stated that a similar petition had been signed by the Welaka Club.

A report from the committee in charge of the program for "Library Day," was received and discussed.

Mrs. F. F. Dutton, leader for the afternoon, opened the program with an exceedingly interesting paper on "Woman's Sphere in Mexico," prepared by Mrs. A. E. Brown, a non-resident member of the club, and which was read by Miss Alice Tetherly. "Child Life in Mexico" was entertainingly and graphically portrayed by Mrs. Dutton.

Mrs. G. B. Waldron gave some interesting and rather surprising facts concerning the "Educational System" existing in Mexico.

The roll was then called, and many of the members responded by naming a Mexican dish, and the recipe for preparing it, which concluded the program.

As a fitting finale to a Mexican program, and afternoon study of the home life of the people, the hostess surprised her guests by serving real Mexican dishes, such as "Chilli con carne," and "hot tamales," with Mexican bread and Mexican chocolates. Mrs. Walker had hoped to have some real Mexican candy but was disappointed at its non arrival.

Misses Annie Whitner, Ruth Waldron, Ethel Moughton and Claire Waldron were serving the refreshments.

Mrs. Fannie S. Munson will entertain the club at her studio with a musical program. The members are requested to come promptly at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Fannie S. Munson will entertain the club at her studio with a musical program next Wednesday afternoon, April 9th. The members are requested to come promptly at 8 o'clock.

At the Imperial

The very latest thing in moving pictures is to be seen at the Imperial theater this week in the 101 Ranch Wild West, owned and operated by Miller Bros. of Bliss, Oklahoma. They have toured the country from coast to coast innumerable times during the tenting season, and this is the first opportunity that has been given of seeing the show as it is really, at the moving picture price. Not only do the audience see the entire show, but the incidentals that go to make up the operating of such an attraction. The putting up and tearing down of the arena, the cook tent, the transportation facilities, in fact every detail is portrayed.

In addition there are the scenes on the ranch, showing the round up, the branding, and the cow boys as they really live. Bronco busting by both men and women, a realistic hull fight and other scenes too numerous to mention are included in this set of films, which are the longest in the world.

BORDEAUX ALL RIGHT

Mixture is Harmless and Growers are Informed.

Washington, D. C., Mar. 27, 1918. Messrs. Chase & Co., Jacksonville, Fla.: Gentlemen—Our attention has been called this morning by Mr. Birns, your local representative, to difficulties experienced in marketing celery in Delaware county, Pennsylvania, on account of the presence of Bordeaux mixture on the plants. This problem in its relation to the enforcement of the Pure Food and Drugs Act has already been under consideration and the subject of conference between those members of the Department charged with the control of celery diseases and the Pure Food Board of the Bureau of Chemistry. In a case which came up recently in the District of Columbia it was advised that prosecutions should be suspended pending further investigation by the Bureau of Plant Industry and the Bureau of Chemistry as to the quantity of copper carried by sprayed celery. It is understood, however, that the Pure Food Board will act whenever a harmful quantity of copper is found. The analyses that have been made thus far have not shown a harmful quantity present.

We are furthermore convinced that the celery which has caused this trouble has been improperly sprayed, using too much Bordeaux and applying it with coarse nozzles and low pressure spray pumps. It has been shown in the Department's experiments on celery in Florida this season that the blight can be prevented without incrusting the plants with dry Bordeaux. It is, therefore, of the highest importance to the celery interests of Florida that all concerned should unite to get the right kind of spraying done by the growers. We have instructed our local representative, Mr. Geo. F. Miles, whose present headquarters are in Ocala, to confer with you, as we believe your influence with the growers will greatly assist in this reform.

Yours very truly,
W. A. ORTON.

HAPPENINGS DURING THE WEEK

Here The Readers Will Find a Brief Historical Spring Flowing For Hurried Readers

With the Mississippi swelling to what will probably be the highest stage in its history and the flood beating with its greatest force against the embankments about Caruthersville, Mo., and along the Reelfoot levee west of Hickman, Ky., the only report from the levee workers yesterday that might be regarded as unfavorable came from Biggs, Ark., south of Memphis, where a "boil" developed yesterday. Officials of the St. Francis levee board, who have supervision over this section of the levee, expressed the opinion, however, that the situation there was not serious and the trouble would be quickly remedied. Additional men were dispatched from Memphis for work on this stretch of levee yesterday.

Memorial services for the late J. Pierpont Morgan were held Sunday in St. George's Protestant Episcopal church, of which he was for forty-five years a vestryman, and in which his funeral is to take place, probably on April 14. Each worshipper found in the rack before him a church bulletin recording the death of Mr. Morgan, who was a regular attendant and took an active part in the services, one of his accustomed duties being the passing of the collection plate. The pew that he frequently occupied, although all the pews in the church were free, was filled Sunday with strangers. Mr. Morgan's favorite hymn, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," was not on the day's musical program, but hymns of which he was fond, including "Nearer My God to Thee," were sung by the congregation while the choir sang the anthem "Let Not Your Heart Be Troubled." The rector, Rev. Dr. Carl Reiland, eulogized the late financier in the sermon.

Setting aside precedents of more than a century, President Wilson will appear in the halls of congress today to deliver his first legislative message in person. He announced to Democratic congressional leaders that he would go to the floors of the House, when it convened today, and there give that body his views on the tariff. The decision of the president evoked much comment among the congressional leaders. He will be the first president of the United States to appear officially before either branch of congress in deliberative session since John Adams, in the first few years of the last century. An attempt was made exactly one hundred years ago, in 1813, to revive the custom, but President Madison declined an invitation to discuss foreign relations with the senate. Since then no president has even suggested joining in the deliberations of congress.

Twenty-two men, including the ship's captain, the president of a wrecking company of Portland and the representative of the Marine Underwriters, were trapped in the hold of the German ship, Mimi, which capsized off the beach near Bay City, Ore., early Sunday after having been hauled off a reef on which she had been fast two months. How many perished is not known. Figures were seen on the bottom of the wreck at dark. It was supposed they had cut their way out.

Charges of illegally dominating and controlling the cotton seed oil industry of the South in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, made against the American Cotton Seed Oil Company, will be laid before the federal grand jury at Augusta, Ga., today. Witnesses from every state in the union will be present and testify during the trial. The Beckwith Seed Co., the Proctor and Gamble Company and others are the principal subsidiary corporations of the alleged trust.

Legislative Session Convenes Today at the Capital City

Sanford Delegation is Already on the Ground and will Push County Division Fight

(By R. J. HOLLY)

Today the Florida Legislature expects to convene for business. The preliminary skirmishing and jockeying for place will then be over, the Speaker of the House will be known and the President of the Senate. At an early stage in the game it looks as though Ion T. Ferris of Jacksonville will be Speaker and Senator Drane of Lakeland, President of the Senate. That is the proper dope today, but may be changed. Nothing is certain in Tallahassee. Every man you see can give you a line on or that but every opinion has a string attached to it and unless you have something to give you cannot expect to pull down anything for yourself.

If any readers of The Herald have never been to a meeting of the Florida law makers they should come up now and become familiar with the workings of our law-making machinery and see what makes the wheels go round. Certainly we will not tell anything at this stage of the game but to a rank outsider the legislative body has ways that are peculiar to the outlooker and yet we would not have them changed for the world.

A meeting of the legislature without the old members of the members of the third house would be an utter failure and have very little of the proper stage setting.

Your correspondent will not touch upon the question of county division in this letter because it has not been presented yet and to the anxious inquirers we will only say that the bill will pass but it will take some good work and the members of the delegation who fondly imagined the bill would be found in a few hours will find out that the legislative wheels never revolve fast enough to cause friction and the house will not be in good working order before Wednesday or Thursday.

There seems to be strong tendency among the members of the legislature to get through with local bills as quickly as possible and the anxious ones here hope this may be true.

The delegation made a visit to the Florida Female College yesterday and were most agreeably surprised to find so many fine buildings and such beautiful surroundings. McCaller was on of the committees and with several others has made application for the position of janitor of the buildings.

The only Sanford girl that we were able to see was Lillian Higgins. We expect to go out there some evening and see all of them and find out how they stand on county division.

Tallahassee is a great place to we crackers from the lowlands of South Florida. All of us have sore tendons from walking up and down the mountains around here.

The weather is cool and the bunch almost froze to death last night and this morning sought the grateful blaze of the big fire place.

The city itself is packed upon a high hill and is an old time southern town. The negroes are so thick that last Saturday night they occupied the main street to the exclusion of every one else and L. P. McCuller was crowded off the sidewalk while rubbering at an ox team. The state capitol building is another historic old pile that looks better than it has for some time, having just received a new coat of paint, but really our State ought to have a new building in keeping with the progress of new Florida. A former Sanford man, Thos. Appleyard, is state printer here and has a fine office. He is the same genial, whole-souled old Tom of old and is giving the Sanford delegation the glad hand.

Milton Smith, editor of the True Democrat, is putting out a daily paper now and it is a credit to Tallahassee. The city is paving the streets with brick and putting on other metropolitan airs and will soon be making a noise like a real live city. The legislators are coming by every train now and the city is rapidly filling up with alive bunch. The usual bunch of little boys are present seeking jobs as pages, a position that is said to pay $4 per day. Other applicants are here for other positions and if any of our delegation go broke they

WHITNER FOR DIVISION

Whitner, Ex-Member Legislature Sanford, Fla. April 5th, 1913

Hon. Forrest Lake, Tallahassee, Fla. Dear Sir Referring to our conversation about dividing Orange county, I have this to say:

In 1897 when an effort was made to divide the county I was opposed to the division for several reasons. The principal one being the poverty of the people consequent upon the freeze of 1895, and because people were leaving the county instead of immigrants coming in. Since that time the change in conditions is marvelous, almost beyond belief even by those most familiar with them. It is not necessary to enumerate them to you; suffice it to say the, now growing population of that portion of the proposed new county supplied from the Sanford post-office has approximately as many inhabitants as then lived in Orange county. Lands now known as the "Sanford Celery Delta" at that time sold for taxes and as late as 1899 actually sold for 25 cents an acre, are now held at $150.00 per acre. At that time we had not enough inhabitants to forbid cows to roam our streets. Today we have miles of paved streets (and more being paved); city and suburban street car service. We have in the course of construction twenty odd miles of country brick roads, etc. etc.

In other words, we have enough people and property, with ample territory to require for our best interests, our own county with local home rule.

I not only admit but boast of my affection for Orange county, but in my opinion the time for sentiment is past and the time for action has arrived. I say this because this division is inevitable in the near future, therefore, it should be done now on account of the friction and bad feeling which has arisen from indiscreet talk, added to natural jealousy of two rival towns in the same county.

To defeat this movement now would galling the people of this section, and give an unkind and needless triumph to those, some of whom at least would make capital of it to the hurt of Sanford and her citizens.

Should it appear to you necessary to advance this movement for me to appear before the proper committees of the legislature I shall hold myself in readiness to do so.

Trusting that you will give this matter your best and most earnest efforts in the interest of all the people, I wish for you speedy success in the matter.

Yours truly, J. N. WHITNER.

expect to hang on to the coat tails of law makers and get a position as Chief Chancellor of the cuspidors or something equally as important. Those who have never played the game think it is a cinch to come up here as a representative but the poor fellows certainly earn their money for they are pulled and hauled and badgered to death by a swarm of buzzards long before they ever get to the legislative halls and so unpleasant has this become that many of them do not get here until the opening day simply to escape this worry. Of course the Sanford boys never bother anyone or bore them to death. They are only here to view the landscape and nothing else and just to watch the deliberation of the august body of law makers. And after watching the preliminaries we have all come to the conclusion that we do not care to become a legislator. We like Tallahassee but the celery fields call us and not for work would we leave our happy homes in the sunny valley of the St. Johns to come up here and freeze and be frozen.

It is a cinch that more people in West Florida know about Sanford now than they ever knew before for the busy band of boaters have certainly talked about it. We are asked all about celery so often that McLain wired Chase & Co. for five crates and we will put it on the hotel tables and let these people see what Sanford celery really is. There will be something doing from now on and The Herald will have it.

Tallahassee, April 5. The session of the Florida legislature, which begins here today promises to be enlivened by a vigorous fight to secure the calling of a constitutional convention, and an active effort on the part of the Florida anti-alcohol league to secure the adoption of a resolution provided for an election on a state wide prohibition amendment to the constitution. The advocates of a constitutional convention claim the state has outgrown its present constitution, adopted in 1885.

The legislature also will be called upon to act on the proposed amendment to the national constitution provided for the direct election of United States senators by the people.

Many other subjects of general interest are to be presented for consideration and action. Among these is a recommendation of Governor Park Trammell that the state adopt a bank guarantee law.

The special tax commission created by the legislature of 1911 to study the tax system of the state and recommend changes will make its report through the governor and will ask for an entire remodeling of the system of taxation, divorcing state from county taxation. Under the system to be suggested the state would derive its tax revenues from railroads, telegraph and telephone lines, and from occupational license taxes, while all local property, real and personal, would be assessed for county revenue only.

Under the present system the state derives a revenue from taxing a real and personal property. The law requires that all property shall be assessed at full cash value, but this is never done, some counties placing the valuation for taxation as low as twenty per cent of real value. As there is no state board of equalization this makes the burden of state taxation bear heavily on those counties where the assessors strive to do their duty and as nearly as possible obey the law. It is to adjust these inequalities that the change is suggested.

An organized movement is now underway to induce the legislature to provide for an issue of bonds sufficiently large to give a state wide system of hard surfaced roads, to be constructed under the supervision of a state engineer.

Secretary of State H. Clay Crawford will recommend the establishment of a state hall of history, with an appropriate

Buena Vista will be included in Greater Miami, according to the plan of the council committee now working on the new charter. The new city limits have been decided upon for the most part by the council committee and it is expected that the new city map will be drawn within a few days and presented to the council and later to the people for their approval. The northern, western and southern limits have been definitely fixed, as far as the committee is concerned, though no decision has been made as far as the eastern limits—across the bay are concerned.—Miami Metropolis Franchise for a new railroad into St. Petersburg was granted to the proposed St. Petersburg and Tampa Road by the city council of that city last week. Two routes were designated by the council. C. H. Lutz, president of the company, explaining that one of them was to be used as a freight yard and the other for the passenger service. The road will touch Clearwater and Largo before reaching St. Petersburg, entering the city on the western limits.

A week ago, George Robinson, secretary and treasurer of the Key West Cigar Factory, received a small but heavy box by express, shipped from St. Augustine. Upon opening the box Mr. Robinson was fairly stunned to behold a quantity of jewelry, from which precious stones scintillated. He concluded that the gems had been stolen and immediately got in touch with a number of the hotels along the East Coast, and also with a prominent jewelry firm of Philadelphia, whose name appeared on one piece of the jewelry. He shortly afterward received a post card from Chief of Police U. G. Quigley of St. Augustine, stating that the residence of a prominent citizen had been robbed of a quantity of jewelry on March 24, 1913. The owner of the jewelry arrived in Key West yesterday, and after identifying the jewelry, it was turned over to him by Mr. Robinson, and it might be added that both gentlemen were mutually happy over the event, the owner because he had recovered gems valued at $16,000, and Mr. Robinson because he had gotten rid of valuable jewelry which did not belong to him. Just why the box was addressed to Mr. Robinson is not known, but in all probability the sender took the chance that there was no person of such name in Key West, and intended to call for the box himself later on.
