EDUCATE WITH A PURPOSE

Educators of wide experience and who have given thought to the subject do not hesitate to affirm that industrial education is what has made modern Germany the leader in manufactures, and the one thing that has revived her industrial and commercial life.

While not disparaging any form of education, nor in the slightest degree, belittling the value of the classics and the higher grades of learning, it must be conceded that the vast majority of the scholars of the public schools, particularly the boys, are compelled to enter industrial life to gain a livelihood.

There is an agitation for the establishment of manual training in the public schools of this city. If it can be shown that enough of such instruction can be given to be of value, it should be added.

The man who started the "Buy a Bale of Cotton" movement was inspired and he has since inspired the greater part of the United States with his enthusiasm for this great idea.

The educational system of this country is sui generis—that is, it is unique, peculiar, of its own kind. In buildings, equipment and pay of average teachers no nation is our equal.

For this great army of the young that must work, the thoughtful educator of experience is of opinion that the preparation should be largely for the work-a-day world, in consequence of this necessitous condition of the majority. Is he not right in his conclusions? Mr. Elliott's recent answer to the question what constitutes education, replied that "he has the best education that is educated to be most useful to society."

It is time then, if all this is true, to go seriously at the question of vocational training and settle it quickly. It is an important and vital question to this country. The genius of our institutions has given us great inventors, great special workmen, but the mass of handcraft workers are inferior to those abroad, and especially to French and German workmen.

TO THE SOCIETY EDITORS

The Orlando Reporter-Star has a new member on its staff, Miss Eloise Robinson, who will take care of the social department of that paper and all matters relating to the growing activities of women as factors in this progressive age.

Right you are. We can no more get along without a lady on the paper than we could without a lady in the house.

BUY A PAPER

The man who started the "Buy a Bale of Cotton" movement was inspired and he has since inspired the greater part of the United States with his enthusiasm for this great idea.

pert and that of your neighbor when you belittle yourself by the act. The people in Sanford who do the borrow act are many and right now they should swear off and take a paper of their very own.

THE DESPISED POTATO

In an unfortunate moment of casual and careless phrasing the Sanford Herald spoke of "the despised Florida sweet potato." We have no desire to "rub it in," we merely quote the veteran Editor Caldwell of Jagger News, who has been charming his palate, satisfying his stomach, cancelling the indebtedness of his subscribers and strengthening his mental and moral fiber with Florida sweet potatoes ever since he left the hard fare of Lee's army.

Florida now produces a wonderful supply of things to eat. Its fruits and vegetables are in demand in every state of the Union. Its fish and its farm products are shipped to all parts of the country.

One item that is open for a great development is the poultry business. There is no state better adapted to this industry. It is an industry that brings handsome returns, if intelligently conducted and handled on a business basis.

The sympathy of the state press is extended to Senator Zim, editor of the St. Augustine Meteor, in the death of his beloved wife last Tuesday. Mrs. Zim passed away very suddenly of apoplexy at her home.

There are several counties in the state making a big noise about Natal grass when in truth the Rhodes grass has the Natal bested in many different ways.

Every citizen of Florida should boost for Florida and all she has and all she is. There has never been an opportunity equal to the present for Florida to gain population, and increase her farm acreage in cultivation.

Villa and Carranza were in a fair way to be left out of the public eye and overshadowed by the European muddle and they have started another little war down in Mexico, but only killing off fifty or more per diem makes no impression upon the reading public.

History professors are busy rearranging the map of Europe, but they will have little to say when peace arrives to stay.

Notice to Citizens of Seminole Co. For several years I have been studying the abstract business, and one of my reasons for wanting Orange county divided, as many of you will remember was for the new county to own its own abstract office and build a plant that would be up to date and in keeping with the times.

Now, after finding that these views are held by our commissioners and no doubt they are right, I have organized and started two forces to work. I expect to give the people of Seminole county the most up to date and complete abstract in the state of Florida.

WHY? It has been stated that Ninety-Seven Per Cent of men work for their actual living after they are 60 years of age. Why is this? They have failed to save systematically and have not a surplus for old age. Now is the time to begin saving in earnest. Your account is invited. Four Per Cent. Interest Paid on Savings Accounts. you or your lawyer can go in your office and examine it without having to go to the court house to examine the records. Some lawyers have told me that it was the best they had ever seen and that they were glad I was setting the pace and hoped that others would follow.

Vast American Industries. Private capital invested in timber lands, mills, logging railroads, and other forms of equipment in this country reach an enormous aggregate, and the lumber industry, which employs 739,000 persons and has an annual output valued at one and one-sixth billion dollars, is the third largest.

NOTICE As I have charge of the business of the Title Bond & Guarantee Co., East Sanford Land League, and W. A. Whitcomb, I can be found in the Tax Assessor's Office in the court house.

Now, I ask the people of Seminole county to bring their work to me, and if it is not satisfactory it will cost them nothing. Try me, and by so doing help build an abstract plant in your county that you will be proud of. It is strictly a Seminole county institution, being built by Seminole county help, and I believe that you will give it your support.

Girdles That Are Popular Just Now

THE management of the waist line in the matter of belts and girdles, is left very much to the fancy of the individual this season. These range from narrow belts, of which there are few, to the widest of girdles, of which there are many. Of the latter the majority fasten at the back. But fastenings at the sides or at the middle front are used wherever the effect is more desirable than a fastening at the back. As to the fastenings, some girdles are finished with one or two falling from a knot. The favorite adjustment of the wide girdle is in a position in which it extends from an inch or so above the normal waist line to six or eight inches below. It is adjusted rather loosely, or has that appearance, although the girdle is bone or fastened to a support to hold it in the proper place. It is closed with hooks and eyes. Some of the long sashes of very wide soft ribbon are wound about the figure and pinned into position. Three girdles are shown here which are typical of those favored at present. In the first a wide taffeta ribbon of white with crossbars of rose-colored satin and Dresden roses woven in is designed for wear with white summer gowns. It is finished with a large flat bow and fastened at the back. The ends of this girdle are stayed with bones to which the hooks and eyes are sewed. The bow is adjusted near the top of the girdle and pinned loosely to the dress with the aim always in view of avoiding a stiff effect. The second girdle is a wide white taffeta ribbon with a broad stripe of black satin near each edge. This is finished and fastened at the ends with bones and hooks and eyes. The fastening is concealed under two short hanging loops of the ribbon. These black and white girdles of wide ribbon, or made of silk, are worn with all white gowns. The third belt is designed for wear with tailored dresses or skirts and blouses, and is made of white suede leather bound with black. It fastens with a buckle covered with leather and is finished with a single bias end. JULIA BOTTOMLEY

ROUND THE WORLD

Italy last year produced 1,430,000 gallons of grape wine. Chicago will soon be surrounded by a cuprete pond system. Under a new Illinois law no physician may own a pharmacy. Each year a million dollars' worth of horses die in New York. Tokyo's population is 2,000,000, an increase of 100,000 since 1910. New York is to have a $20,000,000 group of museums of peaceful arts. Of the world's corn production 74.2 per cent is grown in the United States. Switzerland's annual production of chocolate amounts to about $15,000,000 a year. East St. Louis has a curfew law requiring all children to be off the streets after 9 p. m. Australia will this year greatly extend its coast-guard system and telephone system. A windmill in England furnishes electric light for a church and rectory and power to blow a church organ. Rural carriers are now required to report forest fires throughout the United States to proper authorities. In co-operation with the weather bureau forest rangers are to measure snow depths in the western mountains. The Terra Nova, which took the Scott expedition to the south pole, has been returned to the north Atlantic whaling service. Fashionable women in London are now carrying black handkerchiefs with their initials embroidered in the corners. Two Austrian engineers have invented a process for casting false teeth in metal by which the necessary uniform density is obtained. Eleven surveying parties will be sent out this year by the United States geological survey to investigate the mineral resources of Alaska. Small farms are the rule in Japan and every foot of land is put to use. The father who has more than ten acres is considered a non-politician. Oxford university will send out an expedition of Englishmen to study the origin of the native tribes of Siberia. Cuba is spending $1,200,000 in compensation to 2,000 farmers for workmen to cut sugar cane. The workers will become owners by paying a small monthly rent. Spectacles with white spots in the centers of black disks on the lenses have been invented by an English doctor to cure insomnia by inducing drowsiness in a wearer. In the Malay peninsula an English naturalist has discovered a species of ant that makes its nest in the leafy stems of ferns that grow on the trunks of trees high in the air. The Chinese government, which owns the country's telegraph system, has extended it until now to 30,000 miles of land lines and about 1,000 miles of cables are now in use. Mount Terstor's secretary says that the great writer's library numbered 10,000 volumes in thirty-two languages. There were almost as many books in English as in Russian, 2,415 against 2,205. The first of a series of cables to be sent from the United States to the Pacific coast is to be sent to the United States. The Virginia coast to be utilized in brick manufacture. Women of the Portuguese province of Mozambique in Africa make a white cosmetic by grinding a certain kind of wood in water. They assert it removes wrinkles and prevents eruptions of the skin. French bankers opposed by many recent failures have gathered steel mill motors for conveying fuel, saw, rams and other valuables through the streets of Paris as well as distributing money to outlying banks. Professor Dudley A. Sargent of Harvard, physical director, says that ordinary dancing, as an exercise, does not compare favorably with rowing, swimming and many other forms of gymnastics and athletics. Mrs. Winchester, a confectioner's wife in Worthing, England, who died on Monday, April 20, was born on a Monday, christened on a Monday and married on a Monday. Before she was married her name was Munday. French scientists have adopted the word "frigory" meaning the amount of cold necessary to reduce the temperature of a kilogram of water one degree C. as a unit of measurement for refrigerating and allied industries. The University of Wisconsin regimental band expects to make a concert tour to the Pacific coast during 1915, probably appearing at the Panama-Pacific and the Panama-California expositions at San Francisco and San Diego. American physicians who think of practicing medicine in Egypt are warned through consular advices that the khedive's government will henceforth require a license, and licenses will be granted only to graduates of recognized colleges. Sir Thomas P. Whitaker, M. P., is responsible for the statement that if as much liquor per capita had been consumed last year as in 1874 in Great Britain the national drink bill would have been £50,000,000 greater than it actually was. A social progress item emanates from Stockholm, where, we are told, a chemical method will hereafter be applied, in case a man under arrest denies that he is drunk, to determine the amount of alcohol in his system. Intoxicating liquors and intoxicated persons will both be a matter of per cent.

HINTS FOR THE BUSY HOUSEWIFE

Garbage Can That Uncovers by Foot Pressure.

A garbage can with a cover that can be opened by a simple pressure of the foot has recently been patented. When the can is standing upon the ground its handle falls over the front and forms a lever that automatically raises the lid when the toe is pressed upon it. Its advantage is in the fact that the lid is always closed. The device is being marketed in several forms for garbage, waste or oily refuse.

Canning Whole Tomatoes. Remove the skins and cut up some tomatoes, put in a preserving kettle and boil for twenty minutes. Remove them from the fire and run through a strainer. Return the strained liquid to the fire. Now select some small ripe tomatoes that will go into the mouth of the jar, dip them in boiling water, remove the skins and drop the whole tomatoes into the jar. Fill the jar with these, add one level teaspoonful of salt to each quart and pour in the strained liquid still boiling until all spaces are filled. Put on rubber and top and place in the boiler or sterilizer on the false bottom. Have the water in the boiler already hot to keep the jars from breaking, bring to a boil and sterilize for thirty minutes. Clamp on the top tightly and remove the jars from the boiler.

Around the House. Grease spots may be taken out with weak ammonia in water. Lay soft white paper over and iron with a hot iron. Cheese will not mold so readily if the cut parts are rubbed with butter and covered with greased paper. Clean your brass bedstead with kerosene and then polish it with a camellia.

Remove white spots from furniture by covering a piece of flannel with turpentine and rubbing the spot hard. Fresh ink stains may be removed from carpets by an application of salt. A little salt rubbed on the cups will take off tea stains. Use borax to remove the grease from the bottom of a tin.

The Scrap Pitcher. To prevent syrup from sticking to the sides of a pitcher treat the pitcher as follows: Rinse out the pitcher with hot water. Melt a teaspoonful of butter, pour it into the warm pitcher, shaking and turning it until it has covered all parts. Pour out what remains through the lip or spout. Put the pitcher where it will become cold. The butter will adhere to the bottom and sides. It is then ready for the syrup, which will not stick as formerly. This may seem like a good deal of red tape but it is easier than scraping and soaking a pitcher to get it clean.

Preparing Loin Chops. Cut off the long, tough ends of the chops and put them once or twice through the meat chopper, chopping the fat with the lean. Place this in a frying pan and cook over a hot fire for one minute, or till the fat has all dissolved and the lean is crisp and brown. Broil the chops. Heap the chopped portion—which will be surprising in amount—in the center of the platter, place the broiled chops around, season and serve. This method of preparing loin chops makes palatable and really delicious that portion of them which is usually wasted.

Cheese Bits. A most economical way to use hard, dry ends of cheese is either by grating them or putting them through the food chopper, and to every cupful add a cup and a half of flour, a level tablespoonful of butter melted, a liberal sprinkling of paprika and enough water to make a dough that will roll out thin. Cut in oblong strips, bake a light brown, and when done dust very lightly with salt. These will keep splendidly and are most delicious to serve with cold refreshments.

Serving Hints. All hot food should be served in hot dishes. All dishes should be offered at the left of the guest if the guest is to help himself. Dishes left for the guest must be placed from the right side. Remove dishes from the right of guest. Never reach across the guest to place or remove any dish. If a dessert is served remove everything from the previous course before serving the dessert.

Laura Jean Libbey's Talks on Heart Topics

HOW TO TREAT A SWEETHEART.

The kindest and the happiest pair will find occasion to quarrel.

The man who has progressed sufficiently in his love affairs to call his best girl sweetheart need not think that love's pursuit is entirely won.

This is the critical period in a lover's life. He has not as yet asked the all-important question.

Min lacking in heart warmth, even in interest. After escorting her home from some affair and the hour is drawing close to midnight.

It hasn't earned the right as yet to claim her undivided attention, nor must his conversation always be on the one topic of love.

A MARRIED MAN'S RIGHTS.

Without our hopes, without our fears, without the home that pledged love and cheer.

Without the smile from partial beauty's lips, without the words were man? A world with it is mine.

Are there hard and fast rules regarding a married man's rights? Let us see!

He has the right to be called the pillar of society because he is the foundation, the main support of a family.

A married man has a right to be up before dawn on a bitter cold morning, making a fire in the kitchen range, calling his wife when the coffee is ready.

A married man's rights are to deny himself anything more than he absolutely needs and to save, save, save, while his little girls are growing up.

He has the right to wear clothes of last year's cut, inexpensive, even a bit shabby, so long as his women folk are arrayed in the gowns of the prevailing mode.

He has the right to invite marriageable young men home to dinner to meet the daughters, that the certain lectures may cease upon him.

He has the right to have his say about having the kind of dinner he likes—corned beef and cabbage at least once a week—that one day of all others when guests rarely drop in to dine—Monday, wash day.

The married man has a right to keep up with the times that his family may be pleased instead of ashamed of his carelessness in dress, speech or habits.

A married man has a right to all the devotion of his family. He has a right to provide for them bountifully—and to be glad that he is able.

WHEN COURTSHIP IS ONLY TALK.

Lured her of the knight that wore Upon his breast a banner bold, And rode upon a steed that years he wooed The Lady of the Land.

It is wonderful how many excuses women make for men who court for years, but somehow evade popping the question.

Some women say it is the man's faultfulness; his cold nature; lack of sufficient funds; anything, everything, but the right reason, that he really doesn't want to marry.

Women are wont to pin their hopes upon such trifling expressions as "some day, I expect to have a home of my own."

It is a delicate matter for her folks to interfere. He may have valid reasons. Then again he may not have any reason for not proposing at present.

It is a delicate matter for her folks to interfere. He may have valid reasons. Then again he may not have any reason for not proposing at present.

Vegetable Sponges

One of the most remarkable instances of nature providing for the wants of man is in the vegetable sponges of Ecuador.

Upon ripening the fruit is gathered and dried, when the interior is seen to be composed of a tangled network of fine fibers, with black seeds similar to those of the watermelon.

Felt He Had Paid His Fare.

It happened on a three-cent car line. The car was crowded. A German got on. He bought a quarter's worth of tickets (eight). The conductor took one and handed him the others.

Aid to the Tired.

Yeast—A German invention is a jointed lamp-post, the upper portion of which may be lowered with a rope.

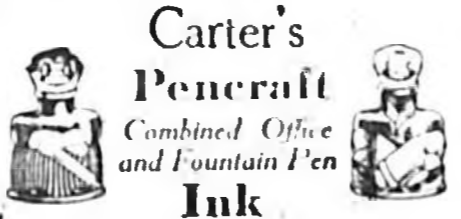

Vanity of Life. It would be difficult to rival the epithet of Cardinal Onuphrio which, in half a dozen words sums up the vanity of life.

In the Years of Great War. A great war sweeps the country with three armies of armies, an army of armies, and an army of armies.

Two Inks in One Bottle

We have always tried to be just a little ahead of the other fellow in the general equipment of our store.

The steering committee after an hour of discussion, agreed that legislation should be confined to the pending war revenue bill and measures of a similar character.

It is expected the Clayton bill conference will be disposed of by the end of this week, and that the war revenue bill will be brought in on Monday.

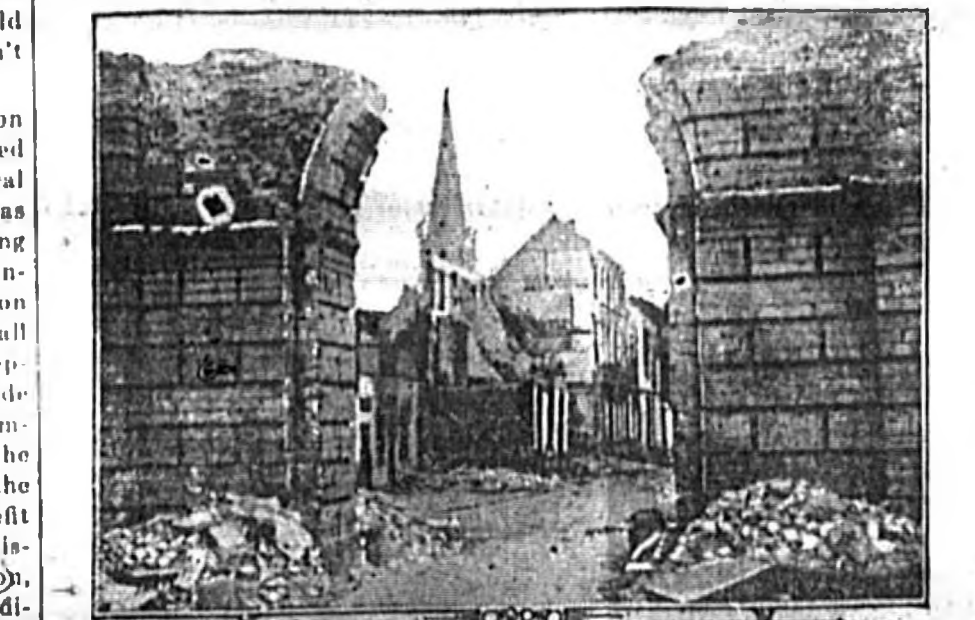

There was some talk of extended Republican opposition to the war tax bill, but it is generally believed less than two weeks will be needed to pass the measure after it comes from the finance committee.

Indications are now that the plan to have congress take up the administration bill for government purchase and operation of ships at a special session in November following the elections will be abandoned with an understanding that the measure will be taken up at the opening of the regular December session.

Commercial Club

The regular meeting of the Commercial Club will be held next Friday night in the City Hall at eight o'clock and a full attendance is desired as there will be business of importance to transact.

Paris, France, Oct. 6.—While the French realize that the battle of the Aisne has not yet been won it does not seem to many of them that it can now be lost.

Lieutenant Colonel Rousset declares that the battle still can last for some time. In the furious fighting now going on, Lieutenant Colonel Rousset says, neither adversary can claim what Napoleon called "the result."

With the shifting of the battle scene the railroads are resuming traffic through a number of cities which have been occupied by the Germans.

Red Cross Contributions

At the close of the union meeting of prayer for peace last Sunday, the suggestion was made that a practical manifestation of our sympathy for the cause of peace would be a contribution for the Red Cross Society...

The Undertaker a Developer

There are in many communities successful business men and farmers who stand like stumps in the highways of progress and in such a situation the undertaker is an important factor in development.

It takes live men to build up a community and there is no sadder sight in life than a few noble spirited citizens staggering under a load of dead timber.

RURAL CARRIERS HAVE BETTER PAY

EXTRA SERVICE FOR PARCEL POST MATTER IS TO BE PAID

Washington, Oct. 6.—Star route carriers in the state of Florida will have their pay readjusted so as to provide compensation for the extra service caused by the parcel post.

The Post Office Department which is now taking steps to ascertain what would be a fair basis upon which to estimate the increase of pay.

As a result of competitive bidding among the poorest paid employes in the government service, thousands of contracts throughout the country now in force were awarded before the parcel post came into existence and as a result the carrier is doing three or four times as much work as he agreed to do.

"I have in mind," said a member of congress, "a carrier in my district who has accepted a contract at ninety-nine cents a day when the task required only the services of one horse and a boy."

CONFIDENCE IS GROWING DAILY

New York, Oct. 6.—Despite the probability that the European war will continue indefinitely, it is now agreed that commercial conditions in this country are rapidly improving and that the outlook for business generally is very bright.

"Very much greater confidence is felt here," says a Washington dispatch from the New York Journal of Commerce, "in the prospect regarding the rectification of the general commercial situation."

"It is probable that within a short time, according to the best informed men, the exchange situation will thus become very much more nearly normal, and as a result, one phase of the present difficulties will be eliminated from further consideration."

"Improvement in the near future is predicted not only in cotton but also in a number of other lines on the strength of the information which has been received here during the past day or two."

In New York foreign exchange is steadily dropping. The exchange market is now being regulated by the natural order of supply and demand and that the former exceeds the latter.

BRIGHT OUTLOOK FOR FLORIDA GROWERS

SEASON PROMISES GOOD RETURNS FOR FLORIDA PRODUCTS

The Arcadia Enterprise has the following article:

Vegetable growers throughout Florida have every reason to feel encouraged and should not hesitate to go their full length in producing the various crops known to the trucking interests of the state.

The new organization, headed by prominent and influential men of the state—men who have the interest of the truckers at heart—is going to prove an awakening to the vegetable interests and it is to be hoped and expected that all growers both large and small will promptly align themselves in the movement to bring about lower express rates and a more vigorous market.

The bureau is getting results now, although in existence less than a week, and it is going to get still greater results when its machinery gets in full working order.

The reduction of the express rates on vegetables cut to 15 or 20 per cent, that is promised to J. D. Hockaday, general manager of the Southern Express Company...

The growers have suffered long on account of not being able to get beyond the walls of the commission concerns into small markets, now "undiscovered" territory...

With the express agents throughout the country taking orders for delivery of less than carload lots, in the smallest towns, and sending these into the central bureau, they can be promptly filled and a wide distribution of the vegetables be secured.

The express company, of course, expects to get increased business on the part of their agents, and by the cutting of express rates on vegetables, the express business is a large one last season about 25,000 carloads were shipped out of the state.

Shipping vegetables by express has the strong point of getting the produce to market quicker and in better condition, and while the rate is higher, it oftentimes is more than worth the difference.

At present the truckers are getting their seed beds ready for the new crops. Shipments begin in November and December, and are heaviest in January and February.

sugar, coffee and other commodities in New York City are practically out of the market.
