Junior High Student Wins Honorable Mention At Fair

By VIRGINIA CONN
Joanne Zelgler, an eighth grade student at the Sanford Junior High School, has received honorable mention in the Central Florida Science Fair recently in DeLand. Her exhibit is entitled "At the Tar Pool", and is a panoramic model illustrating prehistoric animals dying in sticky tar. The model was made with "plaid" twigs, and other common materials. Accompanying the exhibit was a booklet describing Joanne's ideas, use of materials, and sources of information. Included was a description of conditions, animals and climate in prehistoric times. The contents of the booklet were of primary importance to the judges at the Science Fair.

Her subject was one of several listed by her teacher at the Junior High School, Mrs. Helen Westgate. In winning an honorable mention, Joanne became the only eighth grade student to achieve acclaim in an open competition among the seventh to twelfth grades. This means, of course, that Joanne was competing against high school students who have had far more science training.

Citrus Mutual News

By John Sims
Florida Citrus Mutual LAKELAND—Napoleon Bonaparte, with a belligerent assist from the Seminole Indians, had an unconscious hand in the origin of Florida grapefruit, now in the food-news headlines because it's some up so fast as a money-maker for the grower.

Count Odet Philippe, a surgeon in Bonaparte's armies, is credited with adapting the grapefruit to Florida culture back in 1848. The story, backed by interesting historical data, is that Count Philippe planted the first grapefruit seeds on a promontory at what is now Safety Harbor, the place-name of cozy connotation on the upper shore of Old Tampa Bay.

Count Philippe, it seems, picked up a supply of grapefruit in the West Indies, where he dropped anchor while perhaps on a scouting trip for Napoleon.

The Count tried first to originate Florida grapefruit on the East Coast. But the Seminoles had other notions and chased him away. He picked up his grapefruit, sailed around our peninsula—probably via Dry Tortugas—and found the Safety Harbor spot where he became Florida's first grower.

There's not only a bronze plaque relating the Count's grapefruit plantings at Safety Harbor. There's also grapefruit trees. They grew there from those 1848 seeds, Pinellas County Parks Superintendent B. E. Shaffer tells you.

Which, at 116 years old and still producing, makes them naturally the oldest grapefruit trees in Florida.

Furthermore, Count Philippe obviously did a good deed for today's West Coast grapefruit growers. At any rate, West Coast Grapefruit stemming from the Count's originals, today bring a premium in the fruit markets — up to 35 cents per box more than a lot of grapefruit varieties grown in some other sections.

IN QUOTES:—"Volume of fresh oranges and grapefruit sold in the country is twice as much as apples, twice bananas, four times peaches, eight times grapes, nine times pears, 18 times prunes and plums and 22 times strawberries."

PEELINGUS: Florida's original Duncan grapefruit tree was uprooted recently in the "Milwaukee" grove at Dunedin. An orange-pickin' speed merchant carried himself $375 one day this week by plucking 225 boxes (360 bushels) of grapefruit in the Adams Grove near Auburndale.

Pat's Shadow 5 To 2 Favorite In Derby Tonight

Pat's Shadow rules a 5 to 3 favorite to win the 23rd renewal of the Central Florida Derby slated tonight at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club.

An All-star field, rated by experts as the best in Derby history, will parade postward in the 11th race to tackle the exacting three-eighths mile course.

Other starters in the top event of the season at the Sanford-Orlando track are Ed's Deacon Jones, Run Happy, Where Didhe Go, Trans Kinda, Jubilant, Spring, Collina and Paradise.

Pat's Shadow has compiled the most consistent record among the many championship greyhounds competing at the SOCK this season. The circus City Rahab ace has failed to finish first or second only six times in 23 starts, picking up nine wins, 10 seconds and a third.

The fast-finishing 74-pound speedster won the Inter-City Match race against Sarasota stars here last week over the Derby route.

Ed's Deacon Jones, owned by J. M. Edwards, is defending Derby champion. The popular Deacon could go all the way tonight although his record this season has fallen far short of the 16 wins scored last year.

System Failure

By YVES ROY
Special From Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD — Failure of the "star system," combined with the rise of TV and the era of instant fame, has destroyed the structure of the motion picture industry.

In the movie heyday of the 1930s, the studio system was the dominant force. Studios owned the stars, and stars were willing to suffer through a "contract" picture just to see a favorite star or two.

But the old time idols have passed from the scene. The hands who remain, like John Wayne, Clark Gable, Joan Crawford and Bette Davis, are no longer members of the team unless their pictures are top flight.

What has happened to the "star system" is a thing of the past. Studios have been unable to maintain large contracts lists of players.

Star Contracts Drop
MGM, biggest studio of them all, now has only 18 stars under exclusive contract. Less than half of the old stars. In the old days, MGM had a star roster of more than 100 stars under contract.

Present day has no stars under exclusive contract. Fifteen years ago they numbered more than 50.

At one time, 20th Century-Fox owned 40 contracts players, the majority stars. The studio now has 75 exclusive contracts but almost all of them are "new faces."

Columbia refuses to tell how many stars it has, but the list is small. Kim Novak is the sole big star under exclusive contract. Universal-International has 61 big and little names on its roster two years ago. Today there are 17, with Rock Hudson the biggest.

Any star with his swimming pool can now demand a percentage of the profits for his movies on a free-lance basis. He is free to pick and choose his pictures. Many have formed their own production companies and are becoming millionaires.

Glamour Rebels
The glamour set has rebelled against restrictive contracts wherein major studios can force them to appear in mediocre films. They also demanded the right to appear in television productions.

This new set of ground rules has evolved the partial contract for one or two pictures a year with a major studio. The traditional contract has disappeared except in the case of the young hopefuls who have nothing to lose.

Why, then, haven't the majors built up new star stables? First cost of an all-out cam-

Marlene Dietrich Married To Same Man For 35 Years

By GAY PAWLEY
United Press Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UP) — Marlene Dietrich has been married to the same man for 35 years, which by Hollywood yardstick sets some sort of record for the conventional.

Yet it is a marriage unconventional by most standards. Mrs. Dietrich spends a great deal of her time either in New York, where daughter Maria lives and where she has an apartment, in Europe, or in Las Vegas and Miami.

Her husband, Rudolph Sieber, sticks pretty closely to his chicken ranch in California's San Fernando Valley.

Is the marriage a happy one, perhaps the time the couple spends apart?

"I was always a happy man and I have never been happier," Sieber, recently told Joe Hyman, West Coast reporter for the New York Herald Tribune.

Marriage Usual
"Perhaps our marriage will seem unusual," he added, ". . . But we are happy together and that is all that truly matters."

"Of course I see him when I'm on the coast," said the actress who once described Sieber as the "ideal husband." "And I'm on the coast a lot. At least four months of the year. But Maria's here and I'm more here than there."

She and Sieber were married in Berlin in 1923. They met when he was directing a film in which she had a small part. Daughter Maria, married to William Riv, a scenic designer, has three small children.

Marlene Dietrich has shaped a life of contrast — perennial glamour girl on the one hand, hausfrau on the other.

She has done her own decorating scheme — living room furnished with her collection of paintings and Louis XV antiques she has gathered through the years of travel. Color scheme—soft beige, white, and dull gold. The bedroom also is predominantly dull gold.

Leaves To Cook
"I wanted an apartment with a good kitchen." She explained that while she was in Hollywood making her newest movie, "Witness for the Prosecution," she invited the cast and director to a dress-

U. S. Farm Cash Marketings Higher

WASHINGTON (UP) — Farm cash marketings totaled about $4,600,000,000 in January and February, four per cent more than in the corresponding period in 1957.

Farm prices averaged nearly six per cent higher in the two months. Marketings were smaller.

The Agriculture Department reported these facts in its publication, "The Demand and Price Situation."

It said that despite the recession, consumer purchases of food continued high while retail food store sales increased and now are eight per cent above a year earlier.

The department said receipts from livestock and products during the first two months were about $2,900,000,000, up 11 per cent from the corresponding period a year ago.

Higher prices for all major types of meat animals and for eggs and chickens accounted for most of the increase.

Crop receipts of $1,900,000,000 were down about six per cent from a year ago largely because of lower prices for nearly all important crops except vegetables.

ing-room cooked lunch. "I ended up fixing lunch every day from then on," she said.

"I do all sorts of dishes . . . Russian, French, German and Italian. But I'm no good at American style. Hamburgers are Maria's department."

Five years ago the movie actress began her career as a nightclub singer. Her debut in Las Vegas was in the usual Dietrich manner of the spectacular. She stood in the spotlight in a "beams" transparent from the waist up dress, designed by Jean Louis of Hollywood, and sang in her throaty voice. "Men cluster to me like moths around a flame . . ."

She brought the house down, and has been doing the same since in regular appearances in Las Vegas and Miami.

Amazing, New Discovery Brings Triumph Over Prematurely Ageing Skin

This is a true statement, based upon scientific findings, of the visible improvements any woman can expect of her skin from now on.

Triumph over prematurely ageing skin is now an accomplished fact. If you are 25 you can now look younger or keep the resemblance of 25 much longer than heretofore. If you are 50 or 60, the immediate texture refinement now available to your skin will erase years from its appearance.

How Has the "Impossible" Finally Been Done?

Since before Biblical times, it has been known that a tropically grown plant produces a crystal clear gelatin-like substance within its leaves that rapidly heals and soothes human skin. This substance is also known over the centuries to almost instantly make skin look younger by causing its pores to resume their normal invisible size. The plant that yields this highly effective, quick acting substance is known in botanical language as the "Aloe Vera" plant grown in Southern Florida. The gelatin-like substance it produces is the very essence of life that keeps the Aloe Vera plant alive for hundreds of years. In its crude state, Aloe Vera does wonders for skin. But it is now refined and scientifically formulated with other ingredients which still further accelerate its beautifying action. The resulting preparation, named ALO-CREME FACE, demonstrates itself as the unquestionable answer to keeping a youthful look longer and regaining some of that which time has stolen.

Does Three Outstanding Things

1. Your exposed skin, such as your face, neck, arms and legs is hourly being destroyed by wind, sun, cold and chaf. Nature, with the help of rest, repairs, as fast as she can, this destruction that causes premature ageing. But the healing power of the concentrated aloe vera contained in ALO-CREME FACE helps nature to heal much faster. Proof of this fact is the noticeably smoother, softer feel that comes to your skin after the very FIRST application of ALO-CREME FACE. But this is just one of its three youthifying actions.
2. ALO-CREME FACE penetrates the skin. (You see it absorb, taking active Aloe Vera in with it.) Then, as stated above, ALO-CREME FACE acts on the pores from within, to cause their openings to become practically invisible to the naked eye. Your friends will be amazed at your new, fresher, smoother, younger look. And you will find, right from the very beginning, that your make-up gives you the appearance of having suddenly grown an entirely new and flawless skin—it will go on smoothly and perfectly.
3. ALO-CREME FACE is a true natural moisturiser, too, imparting that dewy, moist "new life" look and feel that is so desirable—adding still more to your new younger look.

From the Fabulous Florida Aloe Vera Plant Comes the Priceless Aloe Praised in The Bible

(For example in the Book of NUMBERS)
XXIV, Verse 6 "... as the trees of lign aloo which the Lord hath planted . . ."

Once a luxury that only kings and queens of ancient times could enjoy, the Aloe Vera plant now comes to serve modern woman in her quest to regain and retain her youthful beauty. As exclusively formulated into Alo-Creme products, this crystal-clear gelatin-like substance taken from the leaves of the Aloe Vera plant actually does wonders for skin that grease and oils cannot do. Scientifically proved to actually stimulate the regeneration of skin, Alo-Creme products maintain a normal beauty balance . . . herald an entirely new era in skin care that now justifies woman's eternal hope for a lovelier, younger-looking skin.

Alo-Creme FACE is used differently

Before retiring, remove your make-up. If you use cleansing cream, tissue it all off. Then apply a very small amount of ALO-CREME FACE. Use no more than your skin will absorb. That's all there is to it and you go to bed beautiful, with no grease on your face at all.

In the morning again apply only as much ALO-CREME FACE as your skin can absorb. Then, on with your favorite make-up and go through your day knowing that ALO-CREME FACE is doing its beautifying work for you every hour. ALO-CREME FACE in an attractive 3-ounce plastic bottle is $4 plus tax and it will last you a long, long time.

Make Your Hands Exciting to Touch!

Gone are the days when a hand lotion was just something you rubbed on your hands. Now comes ALO-CREME HANDS . . . the healing lotion—the only lotion in the world rich in concentrated Aloe Vera. Quickly overcomes the reddening burns of harsh detergents and keeps hands so soft and smooth they are a thrill for other hands to touch. No other hand lotion contains the fabulous gelatin-like substance from the Aloe Vera plant. No other hand lotion is so quickly healing.

Ing. No other hand lotion is anything like ALO-CREME HANDS. Also, remember, Alo-Creme HANDS is most economical because half as much goes twice as far. Apply just a very few drops and smooth them over your hands. See your skin thirstily absorb Alo-Creme HANDS and immediately become soft, smooth and soothed beyond belief. 4 ounces, $1.50 plus tax.

Makes Your Body More Delightful To Live In!

For a luxurious, lasting sensation after your bath, treat your body to the silken, soothing feeling of Alo-Creme BODY—also rich in fabulous Aloe Vera. Smooth it on from your neck down. At once your body skin feels softened and smoothed—refreshed in a lovely, comfortable, relaxed mood—all the sensation of soap dryness and tautness gone. (You'll slip into your glide with greater ease, too.) Aloe-Creme BODY is particularly wonderful in winter when life is lived in heated, dry air. It's amazing the satisfaction of poise and self-confidence you obtain from the daily use of Alo-Creme BODY. $2 plus tax, 6 ounces.

For Prettier, Smoother Legs

Nothing like Alo-Creme LEGS has ever been available before. Alo-Creme LEGS soothes chapped skin, quickly heals razor scrapes and nicks, takes the sting out of razor burn, gives leg skin a satiny soft texture. Use Alo-Creme LEGS each morning before you dress, each evening before you retire to protect your legs from chapping, wind and weather to give them the soft texture and loveliness you demand for your face and hands. Alo-Creme LEGS is rich in the beautifying, softening, moisturizing and healing magic of Aloe Vera, the natural beauty secret of the ages. Use Alo-Creme LEGS daily—morning and evening. You can actually see it work. And Alo-Creme LEGS is economical, a little goes a long way. It's a luxury you can well afford. 2 ounces, $1 plus tax.

For a more quickly gained golden tan that lasts twice as long.

The famous-in-Florida Alo-Creme CABANA SET . . . containing a four-ounce bottle of Alo-Creme FASHION TAN, the greaseless sunning lotion with its magic ingredient, Aloe Vera gel, tans quickly while your skin stays soft, smooth and beautiful on the beach. The first and only tanning lotion of its kind. Once you try it, you'll never use another. The CABANA SET includes a bottle of Alo-Creme AFTER-TAN to be used after showering. This miracle product (also with its Aloe Vera magic) makes your tan last much longer. In fact, your use of Alo-Creme AFTER-TAN lets you take your tan north with you and enjoy it for a long, long time. The Alo-Creme CABANA complete is $3.25 plus tax, and oh! how you'll love it. Fashion Tan, 6-oz. $1.75 plus tax. After-Tan, 4-oz., $1.50 plus tax.

Question Of Week

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

This past week I took a riot of survey on some of the pastimes our kids here at S. H. S. had when they were very small. It went like this:

- "What was your favorite pastime when you were a small child?"
- Jimmy Gracy—Cops and robbers. (That's always good for a last resort.)
- Carole Petty—Fighting with boys. (That was before!)
- Shirley Pope—Drowning kittens. (Aw! Wally!)
- Patsy Morton—Dressing my puppy up like a baby.
- C. L. Smith—Trying to keep out of school.
- Elizabeth Fryer—Running through the woods.
- Buddy Feeler—Gleis!
- Sandra Kader—Chasing butterflies and playing dolls.

Former Student At SHS Tells Of European Trip

Dear Mr. Bracken:

I'm sorry that I have not written but so much has happened since last May that I haven't had time.

After we left Sanford, we traveled to Middletown, New York, and then, one week later, to the Adirondack Mountains, where we spent the summer. Les Smith and Bill Kirchhoff also came up and worked with us here. While in the mountains, we decided to go to Europe in the fall. All the ships were booked through November, but thanks to the Asian flu, some people canceled and we sailed aboard the S.S. United States on the 19th of September.

The ship landed four and one-half days later in Le Havre, France. From here we went to Germany where we stayed for a month traveling around and visiting relatives.

From Germany, we drove to St. Gallen, Switzerland, where I was to eventually go to school, and where a cousin of mine lives. This cousin also owns a house in Films, a resort town seventy-five miles to the south in the region of the Grisons in the canton of Graubünden where the other main resorts of Arosa, Davos, and St. Moritz are located. We spent time in both places.

On the 24th of November, this cousin brought some royalty into the family by marrying a Russian prince, Alexander Yurievsky, the grandson of Czar Alexander II and nephew of Nicholas II, the last Czar. As it is today, he is next in line to become the next Russian Czar. The marriage took place in the Roman Catholic Church in Films. One week later, we all drove to Paris where the wedding took place again in the Russian Orthodox Cathedral. We spent two weeks here before driving back to Switzerland.

A few days later we drove to Vienna, Austria, where we spent the Christmas holiday with my sister who is studying there on a Fulbright scholarship.

We arrived back in Films just in time for New Year's Eve celebration. During the following weeks I learned how to ski (on snow). Up until the middle of January, Films was the only major resort in Europe to have enough snow for skiing. Every available room was filled with tourists, most of whom came from England. The town is 3300 feet above sea level, with the ski lift (the longest in Switzerland) reaching 8000 feet. Well, all good things have to come to an end. The new trimester of school started, so I went. The school is a private international institute located in St. Gallen, Switzerland. About 400 boys from twenty-five different countries come here. The most, 150, are from Germany, with 125 from Italy, 50 from England, 5 from the United States, and the rest from all over the world. One of the Americans comes from Daytona Beach, Fla.

We have a lot of school work to do, which takes up most of our time. We get up at 7:00 a. m. with classes from 8:00 a. m. to 4:45 p. m. Saturday we only have classes during the morning with no classes on Sunday. Because of a Swiss law, we cannot go to the movies since most of us are not yet eighteen years old.

The weather in St. Gallen has been terrible so far. One week the temperature drops to about 20° to 33° F., and we get snow, while the next week, the temperature jumps up to 50° to 55° F. with all the snow melting. This has been happening ever since we have been here. We haven't seen much of the sun, but nevertheless it really has been warm. From what I hear, we have been having warmer weather than you all in Florida. On the other hand, Films has about six feet of snow on the ground, but the sun is so hot that you only need a sweater to keep warm during the daytime.

I hope that this letter finds everything running smoothly at Seminole High. I miss the school and the kids.

(Give my best regards to everybody.)

Yours truly,

Juniors, Seniors Enjoy Prom

By Angela Campbell

If some juniors and seniors looked a little bleary-eyed last Monday, you can blame the result on that wonderful night last Friday, which we shall always treasure as the Junior-Senior Prom of '58.

The night started off frightfully slow. It was so cold outside that I was wondering if any bright girl was wearing slacks under all those unmentionables. I know I should have worn BVD's. Anyway, I'm glad my date (Mary Elizabeth Adams) didn't wear one of those overly ponderous trains. I think Shirley Morgan's was actually greater in size than she; I don't know how Gregory didn't keep tripping over it. (Incidentally, an accident did happen to it during the Grand March; I think her train got derailed or something.)

The ballroom didn't seem so crowded until one got up to dance; then people kept flying in out. The balcony above the dance floor subsided of three or four generations of females, ranging in age from 10 to 60. I noticed

Sylvia Price among these onlookers.

The room had been decorated beautifully, thanks to several teachers and several students. The whole thing was a Parisian motif, with doubtless French avenues, cafe's and phrases all over the place. There was a liquor store, but it hadn't an entrance. There was a Rue de Paris, and it did look peaceful since no one was there.

The floor show was Mr. Frank Mebane's Champagne Hour, plus the more conspicuous dancers from our own school. In this last group were Deores Bailey and Harold Frizzell, with their unique dancing, and Eva Jo Wynn and John Barley. Johnny didn't wear Bermuda like a couple of (nameless) seniors last year, but he did have to wear a top hat, which added to his customary uninhibitedness.

Talking about being conspicuous, I shouldn't fail to mention Mrs. Allen, the lemon, and me (sounds like a law firm). I thought I'd discovered how to dance with a lemon between our foreheads (that was part of the game), but it seems that my glasses weren't broad enough to hold the evasive fruit up. Well, I've never NEVER been that close to a lemon before.

The broom dance was as always good for laughs. Poor Linda Anderson got to dance with it twice. If I know Linda, she's normally not that unsuccessful at catching boys.

Bill Tyre had a gimmick to the hat game. That's the game in which you keep switching hats with the character next to you (then you start cheating), and whoever gets caught without a hat gets to sit down. Billy always (almost) had a spare hat behind his back. Anyway, hats off to him; he won over Coach Fleming in the last round. (Honorable mention for Gary Baker, who was the last junior left standing.)

The professional dancers were really very good, and their last repertoire (might as well be French about it) included tap, ballroom, and aerobics; I sure missed their not having aerobics, though. (I'm always wondering what would happen if something went wrong during an aerobic routine.)

We wound up the evening (before twelve o'clock) with the Grand March. Mr. and Mrs. Bracken (in an I-wish-I-had hospital-room-white-suit) led the way around the Mayfair, much to our delight and the astonishment of the patrons in the lounge.

After our journey around the Mayfair came the food, as served by escapees from the Folles Bergere, who were part of the scenery and didn't come with the food. (Actually, they were some of the most attractive freshman girls I've ever seen.)

Fido Baker's Trio went on playing throughout our meal, which included "menthe poivre Touchton", mint candy from Touchton's, that is!

We in the Glee Club were very glad to hear Miss Whittle announce the plans for the coming Glee Club Ball the other day. It will be held this year on the eleventh of next month, and from all reports will be a "must" on everyone's social calendar.

We were surprised, to say the least, to hear last week's chapel program. It certainly was an eye opener. Actually, though, the material was presented very well. Sometimes a touch of shock is just what we need to impress upon ourselves the importance of Very generous contribution of quite a few science and math books to our library.

In my opinion, smoking is certainly one of these important problems. I, personally, was very impressed with the movie, and I am quite certain that a lot of other people were, too. And of course the ventriloquist act was just the thing to ease the tension after that movie. All in all, I thought it a very informative and interesting session.

The Glee Club Operetta is fast coming up. It will be held on the tenth of April, and is very good. The name of this year's production is "The Gypsy Rover", and it should not be missed.

Story Of Lenin To Stalin To Khrushchev: The Bitter Fruits

Lenin was a small, intense man in a shabby hat of cloth. He was almost bald. He believed that he was the only man in Russia who was sane. He was not a Khrushchev. He was not a Stalin, and the mistakes of his successors are among the most tragic and avoidable in modern history.

Lenin's party of professional revolutionaries was converted into a ruthless organization which enslaved a great people to its will. In April 1919, Lenin was elected to the post of general secretary of the Communist party. His last years were off a friendly and comradely relationship with Stalin.

If Lenin had died, we can guess what he would say and think could be rise from his manhood and look on such of his successors as Khrushchev, not to mention Menshevik in top hat and tails. Communist Russia is the heir of Lenin's fanaticism and ruthlessness, but not of the other side of the man, his genius and the warmth in him which he suppressed in his pitiless concentration on power through his party. One of the most bitter and terrible jokes of history is the fact that Stalin, and then Khrushchev, became the heirs of Lenin. But this now seems to have been predestined by Lenin himself, by his idea of the dictatorship of the party as the alleged vanguard of the workers.

This is the root of Communist evil — dictatorship and the mystique of the infallible party. Neither power and ICBM's, not phenomenal successes of industrialism, can mask a degeneration of a revolution for freedom into the worst bureaucratic tyranny in history.

This is the essence of the story of Lenin to Stalin to Khrushchev.

The Title's Not Vital

Some people collect titles. Some collect walking sticks, some dots on old presidential campaign buttons. We know a man who collects book titles. His favorites are not always the titles of books he admires. Some of the titles that make shivers go up his spine are attached to books he has no use for.

One of his pets is the title Aldous Huxley gave one of his less interesting novels, "After Many a Summer Dies the Swan." Our friend also likes the title of Ayn Rand's new novel, "Atlas Shrugged," but he can't stomach the book's pretentious nonsense. He thinks highly, too, of the many-worded handle Robert Paul Smith put on his book about boyhood: "Where Did You Go? Out. What Did You Do? Nothing." The story is that the publisher wanted to call that one, "What Has Happened to the Magic of Childhood?" It's a good thing book publishers don't always win such arguments.

An editorial is supposed to make a point. The only point that comes to mind is the rather banal one that good books don't always have good titles, and vice versa. Scout around inside the covers before deciding. Every once in a while, it's worth the effort.

WHEN IS SPRING?

According to the date, Spring has come to Washington. But, there are no Cherry Blossoms yet—and as this is written we look out of our window at 15 inches of snow. However, one sure sign of Spring will be the vacant halls of Congress when our lawmakers take off for Easter recess. Date set for the departure from the Capital this week is April 1. They'll be back on the 15th.

HOSPITAL FOR JACKSONVILLE?

— Everyone is trying to do something about the recession. Many Congressmen are reviving old "dust covered" projects that are lying almost forgotten in their files. A notable case is that of a Federal Public Health Service hospital that was slated for Florida as far back as 1938. Congressmen in Jacksonville made a speech in the House last week in which he backed President Eisenhower's plan to extend unemployment benefits. "The President has recognized that this (unemployment) is a problem which affects the nation, and I am pleased that his leadership has been exerted toward an extension of benefits," Sikes said. "These benefits will immediately be paid out by the recipients for items essential to their livelihood. The principal matter to consider, however, is the fact that from a humanitarian standpoint, he cannot ignore the plight of those who soon will have nothing to which to turn for the necessities of life." Sikes, who is usually critical of Mr. Eisenhower's policies, pointed out that Florida's unemployment benefits only continue for 16 weeks and that the Federal Government should lead the way in extending this type of aid.

Herlong Report

Congress has just passed the bill to freeze farm price supports and acreage allotments for another year at the 1957 levels. There is a good chance that the President will veto it. I hope so because I want to see the farm price supports and acreage controls of the farm business in my judgment. This legislation only points up the failure of a program which so many farmers have been led to believe is a help to them.

The danger we get back to the law of supply and demand, the better off the farmer will be. High price supports have not only not helped the farmer, they have cost the consumer and they have cost our taxpayers plenty.

One of the reasons for our tremendous surplus is that we are not exporting as much as we used to. Artificially high prices have simply priced us out of the farm market. The taxpayer picks up the tab for these surpluses.

Typical, I think, of this Federal government mising in the farm program is the soil bank and the way it is being administered. It is not only an utter failure, but under regulations issued by the Department of Agriculture it permits Texas cotton farmers to receive payments for putting their land in the soil bank and at the same time plant these acreages in citrus. As if that wasn't enough, the Department of Agriculture is asking for an additional $200 million appropriation for the soil bank program this year. It is amazing how much money they manage to give away in election years.

We who believe in free enterprise, however, can see a silver lining to this dark cloud. The soil price support program... is it too late that we give the same consideration? The one important thing, this whole program of high farm price supports since World War II has proven a total and costly failure. To continue it for another year would mean a total loss of government farm production, higher government-owned surpluses, more costly surplus disposal programs, and a total loss of the farm business. The President's signing of the bill would only delay the day when the Congress must face facts and get the government out of the farm business. Again, I hope the veto is.

College Team Named

NEW YORK — Jim Daniels, Bob Bennett, Bonnie Swain, Jim Smith and Mel Peterson — five basketball stars who could make their major university squads — were named to the United Press small college All-America team.

The team was selected with the help of the nation-wide board of coaches which rated the small colleges for the United Press during the 1957-58 campaign.

Daniels is a 6-11 senior from Brooklyn, N. Y., who recently led South Dakota to the NCAA college basketball tournament title. Bennett is a 6-4 junior from Gary, Ind., who paced Tennessee State A&M to its second straight NIAA tournament title.

Swain is a 6-3 senior at the Texas Southern team which lost only to Tennessee State in the NIAA tournament. Smith is a 6-6 senior from Homestead, Pa. He all-around play helped Steubenville and the recent season at the nation's No. 1 small school team in the United Press ratings.

Peterson is a 6-4 sophomore from Wallace, Mich. He led Wheaton, Ill. to a 21-1 regular season record and fourth place in the NCAA college division tournament.

The second team is made up of Jim Bond of Pasadena, Calif. College, Ed Smallwood of Evansville, Ind. College, Dick Zetter of S. Michael's Vt. College, Jackie Moreland of Louisiana Tech. and Robert Teddy Wright of South Carolina State.

Peterson averaged 23.3 points while helping Wheaton build a 27-8 overall record this season. Mel, one of 10 sons of a minister, was named to the NCAA college division all-tournament team this year for the second straight time along with Daniels.

Over 1,000 Enter Florida Relays

GAINESVILLE — Well over a thousand track and field athletes are entered in the fifteenth running of the Florida relays here at the University of Florida this Saturday (Mar. 30).

Entries include over 600 in the university and college classes and some 600 in the high school class. Florida Coach Perry Beard, who initiated the Relays here in 1939, has scheduled the first events — high hurdles trials in the high school class — for 8:30 Saturday morning. The morning program also calls for the high school 100 yard dash and the 200 yard relay trials.

Trials and finals in the high school shot put, broad jump and discus also will be held during the morning.

Afternoon track events begin with the high hurdles trials at 2:30 in the university class. Some 100-150 trials and finals will be held throughout the afternoon. Field events begin at 3 p. m.

Climax of the day's program will be the awarding of the Kearney Rayburn Trophy to the athlete voted most outstanding of the day by coaches who have athletics center in the Florida Relays. The Memorial Trophy is given by teammates of former Florida greats Francis Kearney and Al Rayburn.

G. Griffith Wins Marble Tourney

Gary Griffith, sixth grade student, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Griffith of Paola won the recent marble tournament at Wilson School. Gary won all the matches he played. Fourteen boys participated in the round robin tournament.

Billy Spivey took second honors and Charles Jarret was third. The matches were conducted under National V. F. W. rules by B. C. Steele.

The trophy was established in 1947 and was first won by David Rowe of Moscow. Winners since that time were Bill Adams, Florida, 1949; Byrl Thompson, Minnesota, 1950; Robert Kirk, North Carolina, 1951; J. (Papa) Hall, Florida 1952 and 1953; Jim Dillon, Auburn, 1954; Joel Shankle, Duke, 1955 and 1956; Dave Sims, Duke 1957; and Fred Berman, Ga. Tech, 1957.

Sims, one of the world's most celebrated sprinters who holds a tie for the world record in the 100 yard run at 9.3 seconds and the world record in the 200 (not run in the Florida Relays), is listed among the entries again this year from Duke.

Besides Sims, who won the Relays 100 last year and the 100 and broad jump in 1956, other individual winners returning this year are Jerry Moore of Louisiana State in the pole vault, and George Pennington, Florida, and Sonny Foss, Georgia, who tied in the high jump.

U of F Eyes Miami

GAINESVILLE — The University of Florida baseball team turned its attention to the south this week and eyed Miami after stopping Auburn twice over the weekend.

The Gators downed the strong Tigers, 6-6 and 6-3, Friday and Saturday in their bid for honors in the SEC race, and ran their record to 4-0 this season.

Coach Dave Fuller was well pleased with the Gator nine, saying Auburn is the "team to beat in the conference this year."

"They have a good ball club," he said, "and I think they were the team that we had to beat. Of course, you can't discount Georgia. They're going to be tough too."

The Florida coach will be facing one of the better non-conference foes in Miami Friday and Saturday in the magic city.

Fuller warned his diamond squad that Miami could very well put a damper on the Gator's high spirits.

"I'm beat Ga. Tech twice and split with Parris Island, so they're anything but weak sisters," he said.

The Florida coach said he was satisfied with the way the Gator infield had been playing.

"Since we've moved Bernie Parish (Gainesville) to second base, I think the infield has improved quite a bit, and I don't think I'll make any changes for the Miami series."

Fuller lauded his pitching staff for their efforts in the Auburn games and called hurlers Ray Oestriker, Orlando, and Don McCreezy, Tallahassee, "very improved."

Oestriker pitched a great game against Auburn, and he really showed a lot. McCreezy turned in a good performance also. The whole pitching staff is shaping up fine," he concluded.

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK — Sugar Ray Robinson apparently is here to stay but as far as boxing goes there are three things which have to go.

They are:

1. Watching them long distance by television.
2. Carmen Basilio, who up to now has defied the theory that a man can only take so much punishment.
3. The lady who sat in front of me, wore an ostrich feather in her hat and could have been no other than two-ton Tony Galento's big sister, three-ton.

In retrospect, after watching the cash register kid from Harlem take back the middleweight crown through the magic lantern at a Broadway theatre, it wasn't too hard really. I didn't have to make the trip back from Chicago.

From the Peanut Gallery it must be admitted that I use the word "watching" rather loosely. From my aerie in the peanut gallery it was like tracking two trained seals through the wrong end of a telescope in a snow storm.

The picture may have been so fuzzy because on this night he didn't have to look sharp. The customer paid $5 a head and at those prices, oh happy day, you don't have to watch Mickey Mantle shave.

It was one of the few blessings. Nothing was very clear, not even to the ring announcer. He introduced Spider Webb as a "pieces of lighting machine" while the camera was focused on Frankie Sinatra (featherweight) and George Raft obviously grown into a heavy middleweight. Oh, yes, Hedda, Lauren wasn't there.

The lights went out as the participants clambered into the ring and the man in back of me said

MATTON WITH STARS
NEW YORK — Vern Hatton, high scorer for Kentucky in its NCAA championship victory over Seattle, was named today as a member of the College All-American team that will play the Harlem Globetrotters here Sunday.

At one time the ancient Romans passed a law governing the color of women's dresses to be worn at parties and at funerals.

Fuller said he would start Jim Twomey (0-0), Tampa, in the first game Friday and Hubba Williams (0-0), Gainesville, Saturday.

Yankees Favored By Most

By LEO E. PETERSEN
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — Almost everyone except a few managers and officials of rival clubs, are conceding the 1958 American League pennant to the New York Yankees.

Manager Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox and Jack Tighe of the Detroit Tigers are the leaders of the small faction which maintains that the Yankees can be beaten. On the other hand, Cookie Lavagetto, manager of the Washington Senators, predicts the Yankees will win by 15 games.

It's hard to see any team coming close to the Yankees unless they come up with serious injuries to such key players as Mickey Mantle and Bill Skowron. Even old Casey Stengel, shooting for his nine pennant in the 10 years he has managed the Yankees, agrees his club "is loaded."

"My big problem is to decide what players among our fine crop of youngsters to keep," Stengel explains. Because he has so many established players and promising rookies, only four players, outside the pitching department, are sure to play every day.

They are center fielder Mantle, first baseman Skowron, catcher Yogi Berra and Gil McDougald, who will hold down one of three infield spots — second, third or short.

Last year, McDougald blossomed into the best all-around shortstop in the league, but Stengel is giving sophomore Tony Kubek a shot at that job. If he makes it, the chances are McDougald will play second.

Also in the infield picture are Andy Carey, a veteran and Jerry Lumpe, a second-year man, who are competing for third base; second sacker Bobby Richardson; rookie shortstop Frits Brickell, and Mary Throneberry, who will understudy Skowron at first.

If Kubek doesn't make it in the infield, he probably will play left field. Otherwise it probably will be Norm Siebern, who would have started the 1956 season as a Yankee regular except for a spring training injury.

Veteran Hank Bauer and rookie Deron Johnson are candidates for the right field post. Johnson hit .302 at Birmingham last season and has shown plenty of power. Lack of experience may keep him from making the club, however, although he figures strongly in Stengel's plans for the future.

Harry Simpson, obtained from Kansas City, veteran Enos Slaughter and Bob Del Greco, the National League castoff, are other outfield candidates.

Also, there is Elston Howard, who can play the outfield, but Stengel plans to catch him behind Berra more this coming season. Berra caught in 134 games last year, but Stengel believes his ace receiver "will do better with a bit more rest." A rookie, John Blanchard, is pushing Darrell Johnson for the third-string catching job.

Stengel's regular starters figure to be Whitey Ford 11-5, who appears to have recovered com-

Rematch Slated Tonight

Jeanetta Collins, the Southeastern champion, and Mae Masten, who ended up fighting outside the ring here last week, will meet again in a rematch here at the National Guard Armory tonight.

Their bout will be one of the features of the three match card. The first bout will begin at 8:30. Both Mae Collins and Mae Masten were disqualified when they met here last week.

The other feature will be a four man tag team match and it has the Great Bolo, a masked man, and his partner, Bill (Walrus) Napolitan, wrestling Doran O'Hara and Saul Weingartoff.

Bolo and Napolitan are rated as among the roughest in the profession. Napolitan returned to wrestling last week after being suspended for four years because of his tactics. He kept in training by working out with Bolo and others. One other bout will be on the card.

The weekly matches are sponsored and promoted by the National Guard unit here.

THE NEW MILLER MOVES INTO SPOTLIGHT
 BY GAY PAULEY
 United Press Women's Editor
 NEW YORK, — (AP) — A new Miller has moved into the entertainment spotlight.
 Wynne Miller, a curvaceous 25-year-old blonde from Greeley, Colo., has taken over the role of Daisy Mae in the Broadway musical comedy, "Li'l Abner". She joins a healthy list of Millers prominent in show business through the years. The late Glenn Miller, the orchestra leader, was her uncle.
 "Then," she said, "to name some others, there was Henry Miller, the matinee idol of many years ago. They named a Broadway theater after him. And Marilyn Miller, the singing and dancing star of the 1920's. There's Gilbert Miller, the producer. And Arthur Miller, the playwright. I suppose we could even count Marilyn Monroe Miller married to Marilyn Monroe Miller."
 Suggests Joe Miller
 I suggested we also include Joe Miller, who wrote a joke book. "Well all I hope," she said, "is that I can keep up the Miller tradition."
 Far as Wynne knows, Glenn is the only Miller related to her. The screen-singer was born Valma Lou Miller, daughter of a Greeley dentist.
 For the role of Al Capp's barefoot heroine, her dimensions also must be counted in her favor. She is 55-24-34, and 5-4.
 Five Auditions
 "I got the part after five auditions," she said. "Once with my clothes on."
 She hurriedly explained that the other four auditions were in bathing suits, because Daisy Mae is scantily clad on stage.
 Miss Miller started out to become an opera singer and got so far as her own radio and television show in San Francisco and appearances with the Bay City's Symphony.
 Three years ago she set out to conquer New York.
 She became understudy in "Li'l Abner" when Ethel Adams left the show and Joyce Gladmond took over. Last week, Miss Gladmond left for Hollywood and a try at the movies.

Week's Top News Includes Khrushchev Taking Over As Top Man

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

The week's good and bad news on the international balance sheet:

Nikita S. Khrushchev stepped into Joseph Stalin's shoes this week as the one-man supreme authority in Soviet Russia.

Nikolai A. Bulganin was removed as premier. Khrushchev was named premier in his place.

Khrushchev already had held the post of secretary general of the Communist Party, the real fountain-head of authority.

Thus Khrushchev became, as Stalin had been, the head of both government and party. Stalin had held the two posts from 1941 until his death in 1953. Now the question was whether Khrushchev would turn into a Stalin-type dictator. Many doubted it.

It had been forecast that Bulganin might be kicked upstairs to the figure-head post of president in succession to 77-year-old Klementi A. Voroshilov. But Voroshilov was reconfirmed in his job.

Bulgaria apparently paid the price of a blunder he made last June. At that time Vyacheslav M. Molotov, Georgi M. Malenkov and Lazar M. Kaganovich plotted to overthrow Khrushchev. Bulganin failed to rise to Khrushchev's defense. Khrushchev won out narrowly. Since then, Bulgaria has been living on borrowed time.

Negotiations for a "summit" conference of world leaders on easing cold war tensions continued in the Moshring stage.

Russia sent the United States a note rejecting its proposal for a summit meeting.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, at a press conference in Washington, forcefully rejected the Soviet note. If Russia's terms of a meeting were accepted, Dulles said "it would mean that on the way to the summit we would have lost our shirt."

In a move related to the "summit" negotiations, the Bundestag, controlling house of the West German Parliament, approved Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's proposal to equip the German armed forces with American tactical nuclear weapons. The action was taken after a violent four-day debate in which the Socialists, the chief opposition party, fought against it.

Russia is trying desperately to prevent the possession of nuclear weapons by European members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

King Saud of Saudi Arabia gave supreme authority over both domestic and foreign affairs to his brother, crown Prince Faisal.

Diplomatic experts were somewhat cautious in their assessments of the significance of the move.

Saud has remained aloof in the Arab feud between President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt and Kings Faisal of Iraq and Hussein of Jordan. He has leaned toward the Iraq-Jordan side. But many influential Saudi Arabians support Nasser. On the surface it looked like a tactical victory for Nasser. But the possible under-the-surface significance was uncertain.

The Indonesian government opened a general attack against the rebel army officers who held Central and Northern Sumatra. The government claimed some important successes. If the drive continued, the rebels might be forced into guerrilla resistance.

Local Easter Seal Campaign Receipts Are Over $600

Receipts from the Easter Seal campaign in Sanford and Seminole County have climbed to over $600, according to a report this morning.

However, the total is expected to go much higher as the Easter Seal sale continues to its peak at Easter.

The Sanford Pilot Club is sponsoring this year's Easter Seal campaign and to add to the funds will be receipts from the Easter Lily sale to be conducted on the streets of Sanford, Saturday, April 5. Mrs. George Sims of the Pilot Club will be in charge.

"The Pilot Club is doing a wonderful job with this year's campaign," one spokesman for the Easter Seal Campaign said today.

In addition to the Easter Seal sale, others are contributing to the progress of exceptional children in the area. The Sanford Atlantic National Bank and the Florida State Bank are sponsoring a child at the Keystone Heights summer camp for apallies. The Sanford Kiwanis Club will also sponsor a child at the camp.

The Sanford Rotary Club is contributing two special type walkers for use at the Forrest Park School for exceptional children.

Speaking in behalf of the exceptional children of the area, and in support of the Easter Seal campaign, will be Mrs. Lucille Appleby who will appear on a Tuesday morning Welcome Wagon broadcast over WTRN at 9:45.

Woman Charged With Poisoning Own Husband

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (UP)—A grand jury Thursday returned a murder indictment against Mrs. Elizabeth McCollum, 30, in connection with the arsenic poisoning of her husband, a prominent Alabama Democratic leader.

Mrs. McCollum, a slender brunette, was held without bond here today, charged with murder in the first degree. Her husband, James McCollum, 30, died in a hospital here Feb. 18.

Circuit Solicitor Olin Zeanah said that before he died McCollum asked his son, James Earl McCollum, to request an autopsy because "he felt he was being poisoned." The warrant against Mrs. McCollum was sworn out by the son.

Mrs. McCollum had served as secretary in her husband's law office for 12 years. She is the mother of two children and had been married twice previously.

The woman was arrested Wednesday following a two-week investigation. She denied poisoning her husband but refused to take a lie detector test.

Florida Delegation To Outline Waterway System Proposals Today

WASHINGTON (UP)—Florida's congressional delegation was scheduled today to meet with members of the state Waterways Committee to outline the committee's proposals for an "integrated" waterway system.

Committee Chairman John Kridler of Sanford said about 200 members of the committee came here for the conference, scheduled at noon in the Senate dining room.

Kridler said the group, set up a year ago with the endorsement of Gov. LeRoy Collins, would "continue" its proposals for an "integrated" waterway system. But he declined to elaborate until the meeting.

C. Farris Bryant of Ocala, one of the delegates, said the state had a good chance of getting approval of the proposed Florida cross-state barge canal.

Treasury Warns Public Against Chain Letters

The U. S. Treasury is cautioning the public against the current rash of Savings Bonds "chain letter" schemes.

"U. S. Savings Bonds themselves are an absolutely safe investment, free from elements of risk because the principal and interest are fully guaranteed by our Government," H. L. Markham, State Savings Bonds Director, said today. "However, these schemes for acquiring Savings Bonds for nothing are a risky gamble."

He said that "the Post Office Department's experience with endless chain schemes over a period of many years is that most participants lose their entire investment. This outcome is inevitable because the supply of interested persons is soon exhausted. The greater the amount to be invested, the sooner the saturation point is reached."

"Some organizers of the new 'chain letter' plans imply that the Government and banks approve of the idea in order to increase Bond sales," Markham continued. "This is not true. The Treasury Department, through the Federal Reserve Bank, has instructed banks and other issuing agencies to reject applications for the purchase of Savings Bonds where the applicant states, or where the issuing agent has reason to believe, that Bonds will be used in the chain letter scheme."

He reported the Treasury's stand was taken more than two years ago when the chain-letter device involving Savings Bonds was first brought to its attention. The scheme, then as now, was felt to be contrary to the Government's intended purpose in selling Savings Bonds to the public.

"Savings Bonds are issued primarily for the purpose of enabling individuals and families to save safely and regularly for important long-range goals," Mr. Markham said. "The Treasury wants to sell as many Bonds to as many Americans as possible—but always within the framework of laws, and not as a vehicle for this or any other 'get-rich-quick' scheme."

Committee Okays Money For Civil Rights Commission

WASHINGTON (UP)—The House Appropriations Committee, on a second go-round, today approved in full the administration's request for $750,000 to finance the new Civil Rights Commission in the fiscal year starting July 1.

The action paved the way for a House vote on a $5-million-dollar appropriation bill to run the White House, the President's office and some other executive agencies in fiscal 1959.

The House last month delayed action on the money bill after the committee failed to include any funds for the Civil Rights Commission. The committee at that time recommended deferring action because the new agency was not organized and had not testified in behalf of the $750,000 request.

Today's approval followed a hearing last Tuesday at which Dr. John A. Hannah, commission chairman, and Gordon Tiffany, nominee for its staff director, submitted testimony supporting the request.

The addition of commission funds brought the appropriation bill's total up to $15,538,670.

The committee turned down an administration request for $200,000 to run the commission until July 1. The commission has been allotted $200,000 from the President's emergency fund for this fiscal year, but so far has spent or obligated only $28,004.

Women's Pro Golf Tournery To Be Here

Another golf tournament of national importance has been clubbed for the Mayfair Country Club next season.

Frank Mcbane Jr., General Manager of the Mayfair Inn said today that a contract has been signed for the Women's Professional Golf Association tournament to be played in Sanford Jan. 16-18, 1959.

The three-day tournament will be preceded by a golf clinic on Jan. 15. Mcbane said this morning as he made the announcement. Suggestion for the tournament first came from Patty Berg, nationally famous woman golfer, who played an exhibition earlier this year. "Miss Berg liked the Mayfair Country Club (Golf Course so well that she suggested that the Women's PGA be played here," said Mcbane.

Mebane revealed that the mid-winter tournament would draw as many people to Sanford as the Men's PGA held in early December of each year.

"We're mighty happy that we have the tournament scheduled for next season," Mcbane said. He explained that so many have expressed their genuine pleasure over our golf course here and the Women's Professional Golf Association's mid-January tournament is just a result of these reactions.

Top stars in the field of women's golf are expected in Sanford next January to participate in the tournament. It will follow the annual Sea-Island tournament, Mcbane said.

U.S. May Send Rocket To Moon Within 9 Months

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States may send at least one rocket to or close to the moon within the next seven to nine months, high-ranking defense sources said today.

Whether Russia will get there first is unknown here. The Russians had been expected to send a rocket to the moon soon but Moscow's Pravda newspaper indicated Thursday a Red launching may be held off some time.

It was learned several second-stage rockets of the Navy's Vanguard satellite-launcher already have been ordered for use with the Air Force Thor as a "lunar probe" rocket. The Thor is the Air Force intermediate range ballistic missile and will be "married" with the second-stage Vanguard rocket for moon exploration shots.

The Army is studying the possibility of using a single powerful rocket as a second stage for its Jupiter-C launcher to carry out its part of the moon program announced by the White House and Defense Department Thursday.

The present Jupiter-C has four stages. The top three are clusters of solid fuel rockets. Some Army experts believe a two-stage Jupiter-C would be better for moon shots than the multi-stage vehicle used to launch Army "Explorer" satellites.

To carry out the program for exploring the "vicinity of the moon" the Defense Department may soon seek a special appropriation.

President Eisenhower gave the Defense Department the go-ahead Thursday for moon exploration projects.

In line with its policy of extending knowledge of the early days of Sanford and vicinity, the General Sanford Memorial Library and Museum has arranged a display of pictures dating from 1880, at the library at 520 East First St. next Tuesday morning from 9 to 12.

W. R. Vincent has agreed to bring his collection and explain the pictures and objects.

Other collectors, citizens and visitors are cordially welcome, a spokesman said today. There is no charge for the exhibit.

Heavy Rains Start Big Dirt Slide

A section of the Pacific Coast highway near Los Angeles lay under 30 feet of mud and rocks today in the wake of a massive dirt slide triggered by heavy rains.

The rain storm in southern California Thursday dumped about half an inch of water in the Los Angeles area, boosting total rain there for the season to 10 inches above the total for a like period last year.

The rain loosened tons of dirt from the Pacific Palisades and sent it cascading down the cliffs creased by more than 25 per cent. and acres across the four-lane highway.

No one was killed in the slide but one motorist, Forrest Bealface, 43, who was injured when the sea of mud hit his car, said. "It just picked us up and floated us along its crest."

Authorities said the highway probably would be closed for several days.

Rain eased off in the Northeast today, with only light amounts reported along the coast. However, considerable cloudiness persisted from the southern Great Lakes to the Ohio Valley and east to the Atlantic.

Snow flurries occurred at higher elevations in the plateau region and light snow or rain hit scattered areas of eastern Wyoming and Colorado and parts of South Dakota and Nebraska.

Lake Mary Fire Destroys Railroad Section House

A fire at Lake Mary last night destroyed a railroad section house that was being demolished.

The empty house was at least 100 feet from other structures and fire did not threaten to spread to dwellings nearby.

The Lake Mary Volunteer Fire Department answered the alarm but the frame structure was fully involved by the time of its arrival. Fire Department Chief Harvey Pugh and his volunteers stood by to protect other property should flames attempt to spread to other dwellings.

Fire raged for about 25 minutes, one resident of Lake Mary said, and it was "the hottest fire I've seen here."

There was no estimate of fire damage.

Trash Collections Heavy In Area

Trash collections in the City of Sanford have been heavily overtaxed, City Manager Warren E. Knowles told the Board of Sanford City Commissioners in a report on the operation of the Refuse Division.

"They have been unable to meet and maintain their schedules throughout the residential areas of the city," he said.

During the past three weeks, said the City Manager, the two regular trucks of the division, have been helped by extra trucks and crews from the Street Division. However, he said, this still did not pick up the refuse as fast as it was being put out.

Last Saturday noon the Refuse Division and the entire Street Division went into overtime and worked throughout the weekend.

Knowles said that during the 11 hours overtime the six trucks with men picked up and hauled to the sanitary landfill 60 truckloads of refuse.

The trucks and crews have been worked overtime this week from 4 to 6 p. m. and all this weekend if necessary.

Overtime for the two departments has been approved by the Board of Commissioners.

The City Manager reports that, even with the extra trucks and crews working overtime, hundreds of telephone calls regarding refuse pickups have been received at the City Hall. "We are making every endeavor to keep the refuse pickup as quickly as possible," the City Manager said.

The heavy trash collections have been caused by the cleaning of yards and areas of dead clumps, moss, and clippings. Homeowners are clearing their premises of shrubs and plants that were killed by the freeze and clearing away moss and limbs blown and scattered over the entire area by heavy winds.

"Most municipalities in the state do not give three garbage and trash pickups per week in residential areas," said the City Manager. However, he explained, Sanford has been able to do so on schedule during normal times and people have become used to it.

"We are proud of the fact," said Knowles, "that we can give more service at the same or less cost than other communities and we wish to hold to these schedules."

He explained "we are presently, under normal conditions, maintaining these schedules with less personnel than was employed in 1950, although the population has increased by more than 25 per cent."

"Future growth will make another truck and crew a necessity, while any annexation will make it a certainty," he said.

Navy Units VAH-7 and HATU of the Naval Air Station, Sanford, are the proud recipients of the Commander John H. Bear Safety Plaque for the month of February having tied with a perfect safe driving score of .000. In brief ceremonies held in his office, the Commanding Officer, NAS, Sanford, Captain L. A. Arthur, took pleasure in presenting the award to representatives of each unit. Left to right: Captain Arthur, Commander Robert C. Explorer To Stay Up Six Months

The Army's Explorer III broken line) has joined the United States' two prior satellites, Explorer I and Vanguard I, and Russia's Sputnik II in an orbit around the earth. The new satellite, almost a duplicate of Explorer I, was launched from the Cape Canaveral, test center, but reportedly deviated somewhat from its planned orbit. Early reports indicated a short life for the newest space traveler, but a later evaluation of its orbit indicated a probable life aloft of up to six months. (UP Telephoto)
