Erratic Josephine Drifts Over Bahamas

MIAMI (UPI) — Hurricane Josephine drifted uncertainly off the eastern Bahamas with 85 mph winds today and forecasters advised interests along the southeastern U.S. coast to "closely monitor" the storm's progress up the Atlantic.

The season's third hurricane was located in an 8 a.m. EDT advisory from the National Hurricane Center in Miami about 365 miles east northeast of Freeport, Grand Bahama.

The storm, pushing gales 250 miles east and 150 miles west of its center, was drifting toward the north northwest at 5 mph, a motion it was expected to continue through the day.

"Some additional strengthening is possible during the next 24 hours," the advisory said.

"Since the hurricane is moving slowly, this increases the uncertainty of its future course. Therefore interests along the southeast U.S. coast should closely monitor the progress of this hurricane."

A hurricane watch continued in effect for the sparsely populated Eleuthera and Abaco Islands in the northeast portion of the Bahamas and a small craft advisory was in effect along the southeast U.S. coast from Savannah, Ga. to Key Largo, Fla.

Space agency officials at Cape Canaveral said thunderstorms and cloudiness associated with Josephine could affect the shuttle Challenger's scheduled landing Saturday. They said the return from the eight-day mission could be delayed if necessary.

"It's too early for me to tell if it's going to affect the space shuttle," said forecaster Hal Gerrish. "The system has not been established in a definite steering current. It's in a stream that is not moving very fast and its movement is erratic. It's not clear to us when it will move in a definite direction."

"We expect it to stay over water at the present time. Something could come along to change that, but it's too soon to say what will happen Saturday. Our present thinking is it will continue on north northwest track on a slow pace. We don't see anything in its environment to pick it up and continue its speed," Gerrish said.

Josephine developed from an Atlantic low pressure system and was declared a tropical storm early Monday, becoming the 10th tropical storm of the June-to-November hurricane season.

Mathias Reputation To Spotlight Games

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

Bob Mathias, two-time winner of the Olympic decathlon and this year's honorary chairman of Sanford's Golden Age Games, will be the speaker at the Games' Nov. 7 Jubilee Dinner Dance. It was announced today, and Jack Horner, president of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce, which co-sponsors the Games, said Mathias' appearance will bring a wider media spotlight on the 10th annual Games.

Bob Mathias

The National Fitness Foundation headquartered in Indianapolis, won the Olympic gold medal in decathlon in London in 1948 at the age of 17 and again in 1952 in Helsinki, Finland.

Later, Mathias starred in four major motion pictures and a television series plus serving as announcer for network television sports events. He was elected to the U.S. Congress in 1966 and served for four terms. In 1977, he was named director of the new U.S. Olympic Training Center at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Tickets for the dinner dance, to be held at 6:30 p.m. in the Sanford Civic Center, are now available for $7.50 at the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce office, 400 E. First St., and Games general chairman Jim Jernigan told the event's executive committee today they are expected to sell out fast.

The 10th annual Golden Age Games will begin Monday, Nov. 5, with a "Fallen Arches" parade at 8:30 a.m. and will continue through Nov. 10. The parade will begin at Fifth Street and go north on Park to the City Hall where opening ceremonies will be held at 9 a.m.

Vic Arnett, chairman emeritus who conceived the idea of the games for seniors 55 and older, was named chairman of this year's parade to replace John and Judy Higgins, who have moved to Daytona Beach.

Arnett said he was to continue the parade in the same light-hearted vein that it was originally begun with humorous entries by individuals and groups. He asked each of the organizations sponsoring events in the Games to have some kind of entry in the parade. He can be reached at

Crime Fighters Honored

McGruff, the crime fighting canine, sniffs out a plaque bearing his postage stamp image as Winter Springs police admire the community service award they share with the dog. Wesley Dowell, left, community relations officer; officer Brenda Sonafell

Husband Sets Wife Afire

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Authorities are downplaying suggestions that a television movie about a battered wife who burned her husband to death prompted an estranged husband to douse his wife with gasoline and set her afire Monday.

The 37-year-old woman was burned over 95 percent of her body and was in critical condition.

The husband, Joe Brandt, 39, told police that Monday night he watched "The Burning Bed," a movie about a woman who set her abusive husband afire as he slept in his bed.

But the district attorney handling the case and a neighbor downplayed any connection between the program and the burning of the wife.

Assistant District Attorney Gerald Falk said there were other factors involved.

"There seems to be some indication the suspect thought his wife was having an affair," Frank said. "The press is emphasizing the movie was a catalyst to the incident, but there is more going on in their lives than just that."

When asked if he thought the movie had anything to do with the incident, Falk said, "It's difficult to look in his mind."

Frank said Brandt "indicated to police he had seen the movie. Beyond that, I don't know what his motivation may have been."

Brandt, an Army reservist who apparently did not live with his wife Sharon, was arrested at the scene. He was wearing combat dress and had blackened his face.

Police said Brandt surprised his wife, a beautician, as she drove into the garage about

Misconception

SHANNON, Ireland (UPI) — Immigration officials scrambled when they thought a Soviet couple who just got off an Aeroflot flight was seeking asylum.

It seems, however, that deflection was a long way from their minds.

The couple, on a technical stopover on the Havana-Moscow Aeroflot route, approached a counter at the Shannon duty-free store Monday.

In halting English the man asked for "protection," according to an airport spokesman.

He was quickly whisked away for questioning by immigration authorities. But after 20 minutes officials determined it was not political protection he was after, but sexual protection. He just wanted to buy some condoms.

It was the sort of merchandise the Soviets should have expected they could purchase in the West.

But even after authorities understood what the young lovers wanted, the couple could not be helped. In Roman Catholic Ireland the sale of condoms is forbidden except to married couples and then only with a doctor's prescription.

County To Expand Facilities For Disabled

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County must spend $69,000 over the next two fiscal years to comply with federal regulations requiring facilities for the handicapped — or face the threat of losing federal revenue sharing funds, estimated at $1.7 million in 1984-85.

Some $53,000 will be spent in 1984-85 providing item from special signed parking spaces for the handicapped at various county buildings to water fountains at a level which can be reached by persons in wheelchairs. Another $16,000 will be spent in 1985-86 to complete the program.

Among the projects scheduled for the two-year period are the installation of new control boxes which can be reached by wheelchair-bound handicapped in the elevators at the county services building, the courthouse and the courthouse annex (the old jail facility).

Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff asked that this item be studied further, noting that while the wheelchair-bound cannot reach the control box, neither can children.

"We have an obligation to look out for small children," Kirchhoff said and a control box within their reach could represent a hazard for them.

Kirchhoff said that sometimes items done to aid the wheelchair-bound handicapped harm those who are handicapped in other ways.

He mentioned specifically curbing that has been cut away to make it easier for the wheelchair-bound to cross the street present a hazard to the blind walking with a cane.

He said for the blind the curb is a reference point and with it cut away a blind person could find himself in the middle of a street.

Commissioner Bob Sturm said the federal government is dictating what the county must do if it is going to receive federal revenue sharing funds. "I object to that," he said. "If we must do this, the federal government should pay for it."

The county in compliance with the federal mandate published legal notice early this year that it does not discriminate on the basis of handicapped status. Non-discrimination notices are also posted in the county personnel office.

United Way Drive Reaches 16% Of Goal

The United Way of Seminole County has reached 16 percent of its record $500,000 goal for the 1984-85 drive — even though most divisions are just getting started with mailing out letters and making contacts.

Drive chairman Dave Joewick announced to campaign workers attending a Tuesday report luncheon at Holiday Inn, Sanford Marina, that $81,847 has been raised to date.

Leading the campaign with a total of $27,676 in money and pledges is the Major Industries division headed by John Knapp, followed closely by the Major Retail division chaired by Jim Montegny, who reported a total of $24,448.

Knapp said the total represents gifts from four groups — NCR, Southern Bell and two sections of AT&T. Tops in major retail giving is the Sears store in Altamonte Mall, which is 91 percent through with its United Way drive and has raised a total of $20,139 so far. Of this amount, $12,839 is from the Sears employees and $7,200 is a corporate gift.

Montegny said the Altamonte Sears is number one in employee giving to the United Way among all 25 Sears stores in Florida and Georgia.

In the Financial division headed by Robert Whitehall, Sun Bank with a gift of $9,650, makes up most of the division's total of $9,904.

Robert Blumentritt, chairman of the Medical division reported $4,800 from South Seminole Community Hospital and $3,033 from Central Florida Regional Hospital.

The Education division reported $2,852 from county school employees and $1,840 has been received in the mail. Gary Earl, chairman of the Government division, introduced Casselberry Mayor Charles Glascock, who said $641 has been given by 12 out of 164 employees as the United Way drive gets underway there. The city is the first government body to report.

Special events and agency division gifts total $6,853.

In the Professional division, Sheila Brown reported $370 from the Realtors and chairman Newman Brock said the lawyers are being contacted by mail. Letters are also going out to

Jury Chosen For Westmoreland Suit Against CBS

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gen. William Westmoreland's libel suit against CBS for saying he purposely underestimated enemy troop strength in Vietnam will be decided by jurors old enough to have had a son in combat and young enough to only know of the war through a history book.

But none of the six men and six women selected Tuesday to hear the $120 million lawsuit have close relatives who served in Southeast Asia.

Westmoreland, wearing a conservative gray suit, watched intently as U.S. District Judge Pierre Leval questioned a pool of 100 potential jurors from which the 12, ranging in age from 23 to 53, were selected.

Six alternate jurors were to be chosen today.

Leval asked the jurors a series of 40 questions, ranging from their ability to understand English, connections with the defense or prosecution, to service in Vietnam and feelings about the performance of the press.

While the jury was being selected, former anti-war activist Daniel Ellsberg stood on the steps of the courthouse and handed out copies of cables between the State Department and the U.S. Embassy in Saigon that dealt with enemy troop figures.

"These lies laid 50,000 people to their deaths. (Westmoreland) was being a good soldier but a bad citizen," said Ellsberg, who leaked "The Pentagon Papers" to The New York Times in 1971.

Ellsberg told reporters he confronted Westmoreland outside the courtroom and told him, "You should have known better at the time and should not have done this."

Westmoreland said he did not answer Ellsberg.

Westmoreland claims in his suit that he was libeled by the 1982 CBS documentary, "The Uncounted Enemy: A Vietnam Deception."

The documentary accused him of playing down enemy troop strength to deceive Congress, President Lyndon Johnson and the nation about the progress of the war shortly before the Communists' 1968 Tet offensive.

Westmoreland, the documentary alleged, underestimated the numbers of North Vietnamese troops to convince Johnson victory was at hand with continued U.S. involvement.

The Tet offensive was a devastating blow to the Americans and a factor in Johnson's decision not to run for re-election in 1968.

The general denies any deception on his part and filed the suit against the network in 1982 claiming the documentary held him up to "acorn, contempt and ridicule."

CBS has said that while certain network guidelines were violated, the documentary was essentially true.

Westmoreland, as a public figure, must convince jurors that the statements CBS made about him not only were false and damaged his reputation, but were made with "actual malice."

The defendants are CBS News correspondent Mike Wallace, who narrated the documentary, CBS producer George Crile and former CIA analyst Samuel Adams, a consultant on the program.

Crile was the only defendant present in court Tuesday.

IN BRIEF

L.A. City Council Bans Smoking In The Workplace

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The City Council of the nation's second largest city has voted to restrict smoking in the workplace, but not in public buildings.

The measure must be approved again next week by the council and signed by Mayor Tom Bradley before taking effect. Both actions are considered likely.

The proposal by Councilman Marvin Braude would require employers with more than five workers to set up smoking regulations for their workers within 120 days.

If a single non-smoker objected to the arrangements, smoking would be prohibited in that section of the workplace. The ordinance would not ban smoking in public places such as restaurants or auditoriums.

In addition to workplaces where differences cannot be worked out, the ordinance would ban smoking in company restrooms, elevators, medical facilities and two-thirds of all lounges, cafeterias and lunchrooms.

Refusal to comply with the city law would be an infraction similar to a parking ticket and could result in a $50-$100 fine.

Sex Clubs Closed; AIDS Cited

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — San Francisco's director of public health has ordered the closure of 14 bathhouses and sex clubs where he says the fatal disease AIDS is spread among homosexuals.

Dr. Mervyn Silverman said Tuesday he reached his decision to close the bathhouses — 18 months after such action was urged by Mayor Dianne Feinstein — because of new evidence that AIDS is transmitted among gays by sexual contact.

The city has recorded over 700 cases of AIDS, or acquired immune deficiency, and 308 deaths, but closure of the bathhouses has been resisted by elements of the politically powerful gay community.

Some militant homosexual leaders said closure talk was a form of discrimination against gays and an attack on gay rights. Owners of five of the bathhouses hired attorney Duke Armstrong to fight the order and promised to battle the move in the courts.

Guru Reneged On Bus Tickets?

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — The Rajneeshpuram commune, already the target of citizen fears that it is trying to take over local politics, is drawing new criticism from some of the homeless men it imported who say they have not received the tickets home they were promised.

About 10 street people, who were among the 3,500 nationwide who were brought to live at the commune, demonstrated Tuesday outside the sect-owned Hotel Rajneesh in Portland to demand their bus tickets back home.

The pickets said they were promised return trips if they did not like life at the Rajneeshpuram commune headed by Indian guru Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh.

Ma Prem Sunshine, a Rajneesh spokeswoman, insisted that anyone who was promised a return ticket will receive one but said the demonstrators were late arrivals who were not promised a ticket.

Child Restraint Law Saves Lives, Stats Show

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Florida's 15-month-old child restraint law has made traveling the highways safer for young passengers, accident statistics from the state Department of Public Safety show.

Thirty children 5-years-old and younger died in accidents in 1981, the year before the child restraint law was passed by Florida's legislature, a department spokesman said. In contrast, 10 fatalities were reported in that age group in 1983 and three have died so far in 1984.

The Florida Highway Patrol this year has issued more than 2,100 citations to drivers charged with failing to comply with the measure.

Traffic related injuries also have declined each year since the law was passed, public safety department figures indicated. More than 4,400 children 5-years-old and younger were hurt in 1981 compared to 2,340 in 1983. About 1,100 children in the same age group have been injured in accidents this year.

Shuttle To The Rescue

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — Engineers plan to start lowering the orbits of two wayward $35 million satellites Thursday so they can be retrieved by the crew of the shuttle Discovery next month and returned to Earth for refurbishment and relaunch.

Indonesia's Palapa B1 and Western Union's identical Westar 8 communications satellites were sent into useless orbits when their solid rocket boosters misfired shortly after their release by the crew of the shuttle Challenger in February.

Since then, title to both relay stations has been turned over to their underwriters, who have paid the National Aeronautics and Space Administration $5.5 million for the rescue mission.

NASA has been planning the rescue flight since the satellites were lost to showcase the versatility of the space shuttle system and to test orbital retrieval techniques.

Disability Reform

Reagan Signs Bill Revising Social Security Rules

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan has signed a bill that rewrites the rules for throwing people off the Social Security disability rolls — a new law that House Speaker Thomas O'Neill said is a rebuke of Reagan's own policies.

The reforms, worked out by the administration and Congress, were provoked by a purge of the disability program begun in 1981. More than 400,000 people were slashed from the program amid charges the administration was being ruthless.

In a written statement, Reagan said Tuesday the measure "should restore order, uniformity and consensus in the disability program."

"It maintains our commitment to treat disabled American citizens fairly and humanely, while fulfilling our obligation to the Congress and the American taxpayers to administer our disability program effectively," he said.

The law sets forth new standards for disability and for rehabilitation, and requires that benefits continue until appeals are decided, a provision Reagan said "will prevent undue hardship to beneficiaries."

Many Democrats applauded Reagan for signing the measure.

Rep. J.J. Pickle, D-Texas, chairman of the House Social Security subcommittee, said the law "will bring relief to thousands of disabled citizens whose well-being and even survival depended on an equitable solution."

"I'm gratified that the president dropped his opposition to this legislation," Pickle said.

However, O'Neill said in a statement that Reagan in 1981 "tried to cut disability benefits through legislation. After falling ...

the Reagan administration adopted illegal administrative practices to throw disabled people off the rolls."

The Massachusetts Democrat said the new law "rebutted the administration's disability policy."

The legislation rewrites a disability review procedure, set into place by Congress in 1980, that called for three-year reviews. More than half of the people cut from the program after the purge began in March 1981 were reinstated on appeal. Thousands of cases still are pending in what government officials have called a legal nightmare.

Instances of personal hardship highlighted by the reviews put intense pressure on Congress, and the administration, feeling the heat, ordered a moratorium on reviews in April, pending passage of new legislation.

Amendment 9 Campaign Cost $5.5 Million

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The constitutional amendment campaign to limit damages in negligence cases had cost doctors and lawyers at least $5.5 million — before the Supreme Court threw the proposal off the ballot.

Campaign costs continue for both sides in the bitter struggle between doctors and lawyers who financed the state's most costly constitutional amendment effort. Both sides, however, hope to recover some of the money they paid in advance for advertising on radio and television.

The Supreme Court last Wednesday threw out Amendment 9, the "Reason '84" proposal that would have placed a $100,000 limit on non-economic damages in negligence suits. The Florida Medical Association had sought the limit to curb malpractice insurance costs, but the Academy of Florida Trial Lawyers fought the proposal because it would have applied to all forms of negligence suits.

The amendment also would have required courts to apportion damages among multiple parties in a suit and to dismiss suits found to be unwarranted. The court did not state its reasons for junking the amendment, but apparently applied its single-topic rule — which requires that amendments placed on the ballot by public initiative deal with only one constitutional subject.

Oviedo Police Get 4 Radios; More Needed

Everything is 10-4 at the Oviedo Police Department now that officers are all equipped with new portable radios, according to Police Chief Robert Hancock.

Oviedo police officers were forced to use faulty radios and their own citizens band radios last month after four radios broke and had to be taken to a repair shop.

The portables that remained were old and worn and didn't work all the time. This left police officers and the citizens they serve in a potentially dangerous position, Hancock said.

Soon afterward, Oviedo Mayor Bob Whittier, calling the situation an "emergency," urged the City Commission to spend $4,000 for four new radios.

The commission coughed up the money, but Whittier said Motorola, the company that sold the radios, said the city would have to wait 6-8 weeks to get them. Instead, Whittier pulled off what commissioner Jane Dees called a miracle — he got them in the officers' hands in four days.

But Whittier said buying the radios was a "band-aid" solution to the larger task of modernizing the police department's entire communications system.

What Whittier and Hancock see as a permanent improvement is a $25,000 system that is capable of handling communications for the police and fire departments, as well as the land and development and water departments.

Whittier said he has asked Motorola for a preliminary proposal for the system, but added that it would be a year before there would be enough money, generated through impact fees, to pay for it.

NATIONAL REPORT: A blanket of fog covered the Mississippi Valley to the East Coast today, reducing visibilities to zero in some areas and threatening air travelers with delays. Heavy rain soaked the Pacific Northwest and gale warnings were in effect for the coast of Washington. Flood watches were posted in central Louisiana where nearly 4 inches of rain fell Tuesday. The National Weather Service said de-nas fog developed early today from the upper Mississippi Valley across the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley to New England and the mid-Atlantic states. The density of the fog varied erratically in Chicago, but officials at O'Hare International Airport said they expected delays today. Delays were also predicted by officials at the Greater Pittsburgh International Airport. Small planes were grounded at DuPage County Airport in Chicago's western suburbs because it was "too foggy for some planes to be flying," one air traffic controller said.

Soviet Grip Slipping? Cease-Fire Offered To Rebels

NEW DELHI, India (UPI) — The Soviet Union is offering to negotiate a cease-fire with Afghan rebels, perhaps signifying a weakening Soviet grip on Afghanistan's strategic Panjshir valley, Western diplomats say.

In another development, unconfirmed reports from "many sources" indicate up to 70,000 Soviet troops may have entered Afghanistan recently to help seal the Pakistan border, one diplomat said.

Several Afghan sources quoted by diplomats said the Soviets offered to renegotiate a truce with Ahmed Shah Massoud, one of the country's main guerrilla leaders.

Massoud, 32, controlled the Panjshir valley, north of Kabul, from 1979 until this year. In 1983, Massoud agreed to a cease-fire with the Soviets, but a massive Soviet spring offensive ended the agreement.

"According to several reports, the Soviets offered to negotiate a cease-fire with Massoud, promising to withdraw from the valley on the condition that the road between Hairatan and Kabul was not attacked by the Mujahideen (rebels)," a diplomat said Tuesday.

The road from Hairatan, on the Soviet border, and the Afghan capital is the major route used to resupply Soviet forces.

"The Russians also offered to stop all bombing of the valley and announced their intention to withdraw from Bazarak as a sign of good will," he said.

After the spring offensive, the Soviets constructed a garrison at Bazarak, halfway up the 70-mile-long valley.

"Massoud is reported to have rejected the offer and guerrilla raids against Afghan and Soviet positions continue," he said. But a second Western diplomat said "accounts differ" on whether the offer was rejected.

Similar accounts on the truce offer were reported by the second diplomat, who said, "If the reports are true, it would be a major admission by the Soviets that they cannot eliminate Massoud's hold over the Panjshir and that the ... Panjshir offensive has essentially failed."

The Soviets invaded Afghanistan in 1979. The Soviets, whose current troop strength is estimated at 105,000, are fighting an estimated 100,000 to 200,000 Moslem rebels determined to oust the communist government.

Referring to the report of 70,000 new troops, the diplomat said, "Some claim the additional Soviet troops are to be used on the Pakistan border while Afghan forces are to be used on the Iranian frontier."

He cited other reports that "a large number" of Soviet troops had been sent back from the provinces to Kabul to improve the defenses of the city, where rebels have stepped up rocket attacks and raids recently.

The diplomatic reports could not be confirmed independently because Western reporters have not been permitted to visit Afghanistan since the 1979 Soviet invasion.

East Germany Demands More Embassy Security

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (UPI) — East Germany is demanding tighter security at all West German missions in the East bloc as the price of freedom for 140 East Germans held up Bonn's embassy in Prague.

The West German Bild Zeitung newspaper, in a story attributed to government sources, said the East German government has demanded the West Germans build tiny visitors' reception rooms at diplomatic missions in Communist countries to prevent large-scale invasions of embassy buildings by refugees.

The reported demand came Tuesday on the fifth day of crisis at the West German embassy in the Czech capital where 140 East Germans are said to be held up demanding permission to go to West Germany.

West German television showed pictures late Monday of crowds of the refugees strolling in the sunshine on the embassy grounds and at the Lobkovitz Palace and children playing within sight of Czech police guards in the street.

"Talks are going on with a representative of the German Democratic Republic," West German spokesman Juergen Sudhoff told a Bonn news conference. "Our goal is a humane solution."

He gave no details of the negotiations with East German authorities. They were complicated by East Germany's refusal to grant the refugees permission to move to West Germany, although they were said to be promising freedom from prosecution if they return home.

Czech tourists returning to Prague from East Germany reported the East German border guards and customs police making close checks of East Germans crossing into Czechoslovakia.

The tourists said many East Germans had been barred from entering Czechoslovakia. Czech police Tuesday patrolled the back of the embassy to hinder any entrance into the mission over its 8-foot-high garden fence.

Dozens of the refugees climbed the fence into the grounds after West Germany closed the embassy doors to visitors Thursday in the effort to halt any further refugee incursions.

Sudhoff declined comment on West German press reports that the total of refugees in the embassy was 140, including 30 children. Some reportedly have been in the mission as long as two weeks.

"The situation in the embassy is calm," he said. "But that does not express the serious psychological burden on the people. The diplomatic staff is doing everything humanly possible to make the conditions bearable."

"It is trying to solve the problems caused by such an influx," he said. "But it is not a hotel."

Special Tissue Can Help Help Stop Spread Of Colds

By Jan Ziegler
UPI Science Writer
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Specially treated tissues can help stop hand-to-hand spread of cold germs, the transmission method believed responsible for a third of the colds that make Americans miserable every year.

A tissue treated with three chemicals, being test-marketed in New York, kills cold viruses and can stop their spread by hand if used properly, the scientists reported.

Plain tissue does not kill viruses, but when combined with hand-washing can reduce the spread of cold germs, said Dr. J. Owen Hendley, professor of pediatrics at the University of Virginia School of Medicine.

"The headline I would like to see is that viricidal tissue works — but plain tissue is pretty good too," Hendley said.

Hendley said if you have a cold and access only to plain tissue, you should wash your hands, then blow your nose, keeping your hands covered by the tissue and be sure to throw the tissue away immediately.

If you don't have a cold, wash your hands before touching your eyes or nose, he said.

Hendley and Dr. Elliot Dick, a professor of preventive medicine at the University of Wisconsin Medical School, reported on the treated tissue at a conference sponsored by the American Society for Microbiology.

Colds are caused by hundreds of different viruses, notably those of the rhinovirus family. A major route of transmission is spray from coughing or sneezing.

Hendley said about a third of adult colds are caused by hand-to-hand transmission. This occurs when cold sufferers wipe or blow their noses and touch something.

The next victims touch the contaminated object — be it the cold sufferer's hand, a deck of cards or whatever — then rub their eyes or pick their nose, the researcher said.

The treated tissue is coated with citric acid and malic acid, both found in citrus fruits, and sodium lauryl sulfate, often used in shampoos and toothpaste. It kills viruses and is also impermeable to them so hands stay uncontaminated.

Hendley, Dick and their colleagues, who have been involved in research on colds for many years, tested the treated tissue for Kimberly Clark Corp.

They found if cold sufferers blew their noses on the special tissue, they did not pass on colds. In one Wisconsin test, participants played poker with each other and were careful to wipe their hands and cards.

The Wisconsin researchers found the tissue also reduced the number of viruses on recipients' hands.

U.S. Wants Libyan-Belgian Nuclear Agreement Killed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — American officials, worried that Libya could learn to make nuclear weapons, are pressing the Belgian government to reject a $1 billion nuclear cooperation agreement with Libya.

American officials quoted by the Washington Post in Tuesday's editions said they are skeptical of the motives of Libya and its leader, Col. Moammar Khadafi, in seeking nuclear technology. They would prefer the deal be rejected.

Belgian officials said the proposal calls for building nuclear energy facilities in Libya without providing militarily useful technology. U.S. and Belgian officials told the Post the Belgian economy is sufficiently weak for Brussels to be tempted by the offer.

"First it's a civilian reactor, then it's a little reprocessing, and next thing it's a bomb," the Post quoted a senior U.S. administration official as saying.

The newspaper quoted a Belgian official as saying his government is convinced Libya could handle the agreement without using the technology for military purposes.

"The problem, as you know, is that the American government is not really pleased with the project," he said.

The official added, "The government knows very well that Khadafi is not an angel," the Post reported.

Hecklers Foul Political Process

It isn't always easy to tell the difference between aggressive campaign tactics and what, during the Watergate scandal, used to be called dirty tricks. But one tactic recently used during the campaign clearly belongs to that second category.

It's heckling. The Democratic presidential candidate Walter Mondale seems to have been the most heckled candidate, but his running mate, Geraldine Ferraro, has been badgered by hecklers, too. And so has Vice President George Bush.

Experienced politicians understand that an occasional catcall is one of those displays of rudeness that are inevitable in public life. But this year's spasms of chanting and yelling have been loud enough and persistent enough to interrupt speeches. And there have been reports that some of the anti-Democratic heckling is part of an organized campaign.

Unfortunately, when President Reagan was asked about the heckling, he said: "I wish people wouldn't do it. But I suppose if the speaker has a right to be heard, they've got a right to be heard."

How's that for obscuring the issue? What's at stake is the ability of presidential candidates to carry their messages to voters — to talk about America's economic future, about social welfare, about war and peace.

Mr. Reagan has a moral as well as political duty to denounce the excessive heckling done on his behalf, just as Mondale has an obligation to deplore the misconduct that Bush has been subject to. When candidates don't try to shush the boosers who support them, the silence can be interpreted as tacit encouragement.

Maybe booing and disrupting speeches is an inevitable feature of American politics. But while it isn't illegal, it certainly is bad manners. If the boobers can't be arrested or spanked, they at least should be told to either save their noxious noise-making for the World Series, or to shut up.

Mystery Pump

There's a good chance motorists will soon drive into a gasoline station that "goes for the spirit" and be able to "put a tiger in their tank."

Under the proposed settlement between 13 major oil companies, the nation's 50,000 franchised service station operators will be able to sell any brand of gasoline they choose — as long as they make it clear the gasoline does not come from the parent company.

Thus, motorists might be able to stop at a Union dealer, who goes for the spirit, and "fill 'er up" with Exxon, the gasoline with the tiger.

The class-action suit was filed in 1971 by dealers who held franchises to sell one specific brand of gasoline. They charged oil companies made them deal with a single supplier despite the fact that gas often was refined by a different company. They said major companies commonly traded different brands of gasoline among themselves on the wholesale level to save transportation costs.

Now the companies, without admitting the charges, have agreed to let their company-owned station operators shop around among other suppliers for the best deal.

The agreement is bound to mean more competition between oil companies and cheaper prices at the pump. Gasoline prices could be reduced as much as 10 cents a gallon — and that's good news.

Improving Education: 'Trivia Compute'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — At a time when proposals for upgrading public schools are falling like autumn leaves, I would like to suggest a plan of my own. Why not tie our educational system more closely to the trivia craze that is sweeping the country?

Not only is the game "Trivial Pursuit" expected to produce about $175 million in profits this year, it has inspired such competition as "Celebrity Trivia," which requires knowledge of "little-known facts about well-known people."

Moreover, the format has been broadened to include computers.

I am told that "Summer Games," based on the 1984 Olympics, even was played on computers at the Soviet Embassy, although the USSR boycotted the real thing.

Meanwhile, an official of the company that makes "Trivial Compute" described that game as a combination of "everything that is rather trendy today: trivia and computers."

(Speaking of trendiness, there is a new television game show called "Trivia Trap.")

Is there any doubt that computers programmed with trivia games would more readily sell to public schools? Students, after all, are top players of arcade games. So why clutter up their heads with a lot of knowledge while they are in class?

I mean, why stress the "three Rs" (reading, writing and arithmetic) when school children could be learning the "four Ps" (piddling, paltry, picaresque and petty)? And operating computers to boot.

Here are the types of questions I recommend be posed to young players in classroom computer games:

Art class — "Who was the Dutch artist, identified with a French school of painting, who reputedly cut off an ear for the love of a lady?"

Science — "What piece of fruit falling from a tree inspired Sir Isaac Newton to codify the law of gravity?"

Literature — "What author of novels with a Mississippi River setting was portrayed by actor Hal Holbrook in a highly acclaimed one-man show?"

Math — "What word did the Greek mathematician Archimedes shout when it occurred to him in the bathtub that a solid mass displaced its own volume of water?"

History — "What American Revolutionary War hero became known as 'The Father of His Country'?"

Music — "What was the name of the English village that hired a piper, rather than an exterminator, to rid the town of rats?"

Geography — "What European country did Hannibal and his Cathaginian elephants invade when they crossed the Alps?"

Once they have mastered this game, smart students could move on to "A-Plus" trivia, which would require answers to such questions as:

— "Why was Vincent Van Gogh hard of hearing?"

— "In his Farewell address, did George Washington warn against 'foreign entanglements' or 'entangling alliances'?"

— "What type of music do English rats prefer?"

— "What is gravity?"

— "What famous Greek mathematician should have been arrested for indecent exposure?"

— "What is the meaning of the word 'eureka'?"

— "What is the name of the actor who portrayed Mark Twain in a highly acclaimed one-man show?"

Poking Fun At Congress

By Don Phillips

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Russell Long, D-La., is fond of quoting his Uncle Earl. Back in the days when Long was chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, his hearings were a delight.

One day, he uttered these memorable words:

"Well, as my Uncle Earl used to say, there's more ways to kill a cat than stuff him with butter."

A whole generation of reporters and lobbyists still wonder what he meant.

In looking back over more than a decade of congressional coverage, Russell Long's hearings may be the highlight.

The low point is easy — the decline and fall of one of the most intelligent men ever to serve in Congress, Wilbur Mills.

For most folks, the name Wilbur Mills conjures up a jump into the Tidal Basin with a stripper.

For those who covered him in his glory days, his name conjures up an excitement that can come only from watching a skillful man manipulate the tax code to accomplish social purposes. Few things are more heady than watching billions of dollars exchange hands on a single close committee vote, knowing that the fate of perhaps an entire industry was just decided.

The entire Capitol seemed dark the morning Mills returned from appearing on stage in Boston with Fanny Fox.

One by one, reporters ventured down to the ornate Ways and Means committee room to sit and have coffee with him, served in funeral-like silence by a faithful aide.

Apparently he didn't remember that he'd been to Boston. It was a shock, and it was obvious to everyone that a man once considered No. 2 in power only to the president would have to go.

It is easy today for everyone to criticize Congress. The House and Senate make wonderful whipping boys, as they always have.

And it is popular these days to say that Congress is no longer fun, that it has lost its sense of humor and its sense of compromise, that it is a bitterly partisan body, tied in knots.

Senator Shouldn't Throw Stones

WASHINGTON — Sen. Gordon Humphrey, R-N.H., is a strict conservative with strong "pro-family" views. He once assailed the wife of Atlanta Mayor Andrew Young because of what he called her "campaign to distribute contraceptives to minors."

A politician who attacks other men's wives runs the risk of having to defend his own; this is the story of Patricia Humphrey.

She is a member of the American College of Orgonomy, has attended at least one international orgonomy conference and has written articles for the 'American Journal of Orgonomy.'

In 1982, she was chairwoman of the college's fund-raising effort. According to a 1982 journal article, she "took on a superhuman task, starting from scratch, organizing the campaign, appointing regional chairmen, instructing them, and arranging for workers under these chairmen."

What makes this fascinating is that "orgonomy" is a school of psychology that would curl the hair of your average pro-family con-

JEFFREY HART

College Admission Row

The Class of 1988 arrived on the college campuses this fall, many of the entering freshmen bright with talent and new clothes, but in our best private colleges and universities many applicants who had a presumptive claim on a place in the freshman class did not arrive. They were rejected for reasons that require reflection, and that can be put, broadly, as quantification and liberal bigotry.

These reflections are prompted by a thoughtful and, under the circumstances, remarkable gentle article by Paul G. Rochmis, Princeton 1980, whose son Walter was rejected for admission this fall by Princeton. It is much to the credit of the Princeton Alumni Weekly — since alumni magazines are mostly house organs — that it carried Mr. Rochmis' essay in its Sept. 12 issue. But much more is involved here than Princeton or even the Ivy League. The essay implicitly addresses very wide issues.

Walter Rochmis is surviving very nicely. He is a freshman at the University of Virginia.

Now Scholastic Aptitude Test scores, combined, of 1200 are considered Ivy League admissible. His were 1330, with a blue-chip verbal SAT of 710. He ranked high in his secondary school class, won prizes. In his essay, Paul Rochmis gently concludes that Walter may not have fit certain stereotypical criteria of the ideal candidate for admission. Walter spent much of his spare time during the past couple of years helping to build the family's rural residence. He spent a lot of time with his younger siblings, since both parents work. He was quiet and thoughtful. "There were no blanks in the admission form," writes his father, "for this kind of person to fill out."

"Let me be specific," he observes. "When the admissions officer described the criteria for selection and by extension the image of a prototype successful applicant, I began to envision an all-too-familiar individual. This person, in view of his or her multiple activities, would frequently be time pressured. Devoted to these activities and to others, there would be a deferment of pleasure. Given a choice, a clear preference of measurable achievement would be noted, such as test scores, grades, number of hours doing this or that, etc. This student would be somewhat competitive, not just in terms of scholastic achievement and sports but throughout the full range of his or her activities including interpersonal relationships."

Mr. Rochmis thus discerns, though he does not quite put it this way, that the admissions process at Princeton and elsewhere tends to exclude much that we would ordinarily consider intelligence: i.e., reflectiveness, the ability to see connections, imagination, a sense of complex significances.

ROBERT WALTERS

Running Under A Cloud

PORTLAND, Ore. (NEA) — During his 18 years in Congress, Sen. Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore., has served the public with an exceptional degree of honor, integrity and courage — but now that reputation has been tarnished by his own actions.

Watching Hatfield campaign for a fourth term in the Senate while he tries to resolve legitimate questions about a still-unresolved controversy relating to his personal finances is a task performed more in sorrow than in anger.

The senator's chances of success at the polls next month are almost irrelevant because most political observers assume that he will be re-elected by a sizable margin.

His Democratic opponent, State Sen. Margie Hendriksen, has conducted an unimpressive campaign that has disappointed even likely supporters. "We're way down," admits a Hendriksen campaign aide.

But questions persist about Hatfield's relationship with Basil A. Tsakos, a Greek entrepreneur seeking to promote a personal business venture that calls for construction of a 2,200-mile-long oil pipeline across the African continent.

Tsakos arrived in Washington in 1981 to generate support for the project in this country. In the ensuing two years, he enlisted numerous business and political figures — but all eventually quit because of questions about his background.

There were troublesome reports (all denied by Tsakos) that he had a criminal record in Greece and that he served as an intermediary in arranging "black market" weapons sales to Greece, Morocco, Saudi Arabia, Iran and other nations.

In addition, Tsakos was secretive about the source of the funding for the Sudan-to-Cameroon pipeline, estimated to cost more than $10 billion.

One Tsakos ally, however, remained faithful — Hatfield, whose chairmanship of the Senate Appropriations Committee provided the venture with desperately needed credibility.

In correspondence and personal meetings, Hatfield promoted the project to the secretaries of Defense and Energy, the presidents of Sudan and the Exxon Corp.

they are fully entitled to their emotional health and their sexual joy in life. ... The sexual needs of young people cannot be solved ... without gratifying sexual intercourse."

Humphrey has espoused pro-family conservatism in strong moral terms. In 1979, for example, he led an effort to block the appointment of Patricia Wald to a federal judgeship on charges that she would use the position to "abolish parental authority." Ms. Wald's views on children's rights, he argued, would lead to "bizarre changes in the family structure" if she were on the bench.

When my associate John Dillon asked the senator if he could reconcile his conservative social views with his wife's association with orgonomy, he said:

"What my wife's views may or may not be are her business. I don't know anything about orgonomy. It doesn't interest me and I can't comment on it."

The senator said he does not believe in promoting sex among adolescents. He said he didn't know that a central tenet of orgonomy was based on orgasms.

"I've talked to her very little about it," he said. "I don't understand it and it doesn't interest me."

Mrs. Humphrey did not respond to a request for an interview. STRICTLY PERSONAL: I have heard from thousands of taxpayers who are boiling at the Pentagon's spending practices. They wonder why the Pentagon would pay $91 for a 3-cent screw, $114 for a 9-cent battery, $511 for a 60-cent lamp and $436 for a $7 hammer.

I have a suggestion. Since the government places such high value on these items, maybe taxpayers should pay their taxes with 3-cent screws and 9-cent batteries. Of course, I doubt the Internal Revenue Service would give taxpayers $91 credit for a 3-cent screw.

You can register your protest with Citizens Against Waste, P.O. Box 1000, Ben Franklin Station, Washington, D.C. 20044. The names will be presented next January to the new leaders in the White House and on Capitol Hill.

Bush Puts Debate With Ferraro 'In Perspective'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President George Bush has said from the beginning of the campaign that the competition between him and Democratic Geraldine Ferraro will have little impact on the campaign. Bush was said to be playing down his preparation for the debate with Ferraro Thursday in Philadelphia, although he has held two practice sessions. "Bush is probably putting it in a proper perspective, meaning in the long-run, the debate is not very important," said spokesman Peter Teeley. "It's an important event in the campaign, but it's not going to decide who wins or loses" the election, he told reporters as Bush flew back to Washington after appearing in New York's Columbus Day Parade.

day was to spend meeting and eating lunch and dinner with visiting Israeli Prime Minister Shimon Peres.

After Sunday night's presidential debate, Bush said he would concentrate on attacking Walter Mondale — not Ferraro — "as much as I can." Bush marched near the head of the parade in New York Monday, but he got relatively little attention — he walked right behind Sophia Loren, the grand marshal. The Democratic ticket marched about a mile behind Bush.

What response he did get from the overwhelmingly pro-Mondale crowd was in the form of boos and catcalls, such as "pay your taxes."

Bush's $200,000 dispute with the IRS and Mondale's scorn over the vice president's payment of only 12.9 percent of his 1983 income in federal taxes may become an issue in the debate with Ferraro, who has had tax problems of her own.

Bush and his wife, Barbara, have complained that they are unfairly being made out to be extremely wealthy and somehow delinquent on taxes while Ferraro and her husband are worth more.

Recent disclosures showed the Bushes with a net worth of $2.1 million and the Ferraro family worth about $3.7 million.

Survey: Some Surgery Safer In Doctor's Office

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — A study shows some foot surgery may be safer performed on an outpatient basis than in a hospital. While the infection rate of in-hospital surgery ranges between 3 percent and 12 percent, 81 percent of the 1,000 foot surgeons responding to the survey reported infection rates of 1 percent or less for procedures performed in their office. "It's not necessarily safer to have surgery performed in a hospital. For many foot problems that require surgery, the outpatient approach may mean less risk of infection," Dr. Michael DiGiacomo said.

DiGiacomo, an Oakland podiatrist who conducted the study among members of the national Academy of Ambulatory Foot Surgery, presented his findings Tuesday at a conference of the organization.

He said the podiatric surgeon "is apt to have greater knowledge and control of what takes place in his operating room, including what types of infectious material may be present."

Dr. Gare LeCompte, executive director of the academy, said the study "was one of the largest-scale surveys I know of that has been done in this field."

The low infection rate reported in the survey, DiGiacomo said, "is all the more remarkable when you consider how easily the foot is exposed to possible infection during the recovery period."

Increasingly, foot surgery patients can walk out of the podiatrist's office almost immediately after the operation.

"The patient could pick up all kinds of infections simply in the course of walking. This survey suggests that the threat of infection is no limitation to outpatient surgery," DiGiacomo said.

Taiwan Rejects Unification Bid

TAIPEI, Taiwan (UPI) — President Chiang Ching-kuo has turned down Peking's proposals for reunification talks with Taiwan and reiterated the Nationalist Chinese government's policy "never to compromise with Chinese communists."

Chiang's statement — in a special message Tuesday on the eve of today's National Day — apparently referred to Peking's call earlier this month to open talks with Taiwan aimed at bringing together the two countries.

"There is only one China in the minds of the Chinese people, and that is the free, democratic, and prosperous Republic of China," Chiang said in what appeared to be Taipei's first response to Peking's recent overtures.

Chiang, 74, also reiterated the Nationalist government's "determination never to compromise with the Chinese communists." The Nationalist government was established on Taiwan in 1949 when the communists won control of China.

"Communist totalitarianism and democratic freedom are fundamentally incompatible, like fire and water," he said and added, "The Chinese communist advocacy of a so-called 'one nation, two systems' is simply a stratagem to confuse the free world."

The call for reunification talks by China's paramount leader, Deng Xiaoping, on Oct. 1 was followed by another offer by Chinese Premier Zhao Ziyang.

Zhao expressed hope that "the Taiwan authorities will cherish the state and national interests, go along with the desire and aspirations of the people and take a positive attitude on the reunification of the motherland."

Chiang did not make a direct reference to Peking's calls for the talks, which was never reported by the news media in Taiwan and ignored by the government.

Chiang's remarks also came a day after Chinese President Li Xiannian offered to allow a reunited Taiwan to retain its capitalist lifestyle and social system in a plan similar to that worked out for Hong Kong when it reverted to Chinese rule in 1997.

Under a recent Sino-British draft accord, Hong Kong will keep its present economic, social and legal systems for 50 years after the 1997 transition.

Chiang denounced the Sino-British agreement, saying it "totally defeats the aspirations of the residents of Hong Kong."

He said Taiwan will "take all possible measures to support our Hong Kong compatriots in their struggle to assure their freedom, stability and prosperity."

"All established policies of this government to assist our compatriots in Hong Kong will be thoroughly and immediately implemented," Chiang said, without giving any details.

Deputy Sees The Light, Arrests Man On Drug Charges

A 28-year-old Altamonte Springs man who flashed his van's headlights from high to low beam several times as a Seminole County sheriff's deputy passed his vehicle probably got more attention than he expected.

He was arrested on drug charges.

Lt. William Hogan reported stopping the man at North and Station streets, Altamonte Springs, shortly after 2 a.m. today. The man was initially charged with driving with a suspended driver's license. The drug charges were added after Hogan reportedly found a small bottle of white powder, several small packets of marijuana, a bank bag containing a pipe used to smoke pot and several foil packets of white powder in the van.

Bernard Williams of 517 Peachtree St. was arrested at 2:20 a.m. Wednesday. In addition to the suspended license charge, he was also charged with possession of a controlled substance, possession of drug paraphernalia and possession with intent to sell cocaine and marijuana. He was being held in the Seminole County jail in lieu of $8,000 bond.

RAN WITH POT

who reportedly ran when a sheriff's deputy drove past the Altamonte Men's Club, Altamonte Springs, was caught and charged with possession of marijuana after a search.

The deputy reported capturing the man several hundred yards north of the club. The suspect struggled and resisted, but was handcuffed and searched. The pot was reportedly found stashed in a plastic bag in the front of the man's shorts.

Terry Lee Small, 21, of 402 Magnolia St., was arrested at about 10 p.m. Saturday. He was charged with possession of more than 20 grams of pot and resisting arrest. He was later freed on $5,000 bond.

SHOTGUN THREAT

A 44-year-old Sanford man has been charged with aggravated assault with a shotgun after he allegedly threatened to shoot his former lover and another woman.

Beatrice Roberts, 48, of 2230 Church St., Sanford, reported to deputies that her former boyfriend who had moved out on Saturday returned Sunday and threatened to shoot her and Rosemary Roberts, 23.

Sheriff's deputies located the suspect at the Two Spot Bar,

Theodius Williams of 2220 Church St. was charged in the case and was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

TRAFFIC STOP POT

Sheriff's deputies making a driver's license check on North Street, Altamonte Springs, charged a driver with possession of marijuana and drug paraphernalia after reportedly spotting pot and cigarette rolling papers in his car.

Lee Eddie Williams Jr., 20, of 800 Citrus Tree Drive, Altamonte Springs, was arrested at 8:30 p.m. Sunday. He was released on $500 bond and is scheduled to appear in court Oct. 17.

BURGLARIES & THEFTS

Chris Peck, 16, of 550 Sweetwater Club Blvd.,

The 1989 Buick of Debra Forbus, 21, of 128 Moeswood Circle, Winter Springs, was stolen Sunday while it was parked at Longwood Village Plaza, Longwood. Deputies report that the keys weren't in the $350 car.

Jewelry valued at $1,200 and including a wedding band, ankle bracelet and two gold chains were stolen from the home of Mildred A. Lindsey, 47, of 902 Shallowford Ave., Altamonte Springs. A sheriff's report said the items were stolen between April 1 and Saturday.

Don S. Knicely, 46, of 112 Raintree Drive, Longwood, reported to deputies that a $500 gold nugget was stolen from his home while he was on vacation between Sept. 28 and Saturday.

Fishing gear worth at least $225 was stolen from the garage of James A. Hunt Sr., 66, of 112 Highland Court, Sanford, between Sept. 14 and 30, according to a sheriff's report.

A 1982 Toyota pickup truck worth $7,000 was stolen from the home of Carl S. Engler, 46, of 1717 Brazilian Lane, Winter Park. Deputies report the theft occurred Thursday or Friday.

A diamond engagement ring worth $900 has disappeared along with a $90 opal ring and other jewelry from the home of William L. Redard, 40, of 271 Fallen Palm Drive, Casselberry. The items disappeared between Sept. 15 and Friday, deputies report.

Brenda Kay Prokosch, 41, of 5107 W. 30th St., Sanford, told sheriff's deputies that her wedding ring, engagement ring and a birthstone ring disappeared from her purse at the Moose Lodge.

The rings worth a total of $2,100 were taken from Ms. Prokosch's purse as she worked in the kitchen of the lodge at 2660 Palmetto Ave., Sanford, between 7 and 9 p.m. Sunday. She told deputies that she didn't notice the jewelry was missing until she returned home.

Building materials including 100 sheets of plywood and 10 rolls of roofing felt with a total value of $860 were stolen from a home at lot 10, Lake Burkett Lane, Goldenrod, between Friday and Monday. Deputies report that the items belong to Southeast Homes, Co., 1069 W. Morse Blvd., Winter Park.

A thief who entered through a sliding glass door took $240 and other items from the home of Tommie E. Krause, 58, of 850 Forest Brook Road, Maitland, Monday, according to a sheriff's report.

Brenton Eccles of 1812 Dover Road, Winter Park, reported to deputies that his 1979 Camaro was stolen while parked at his home between 1:30 and 3:30 a.m. Tuesday.

The radios were stolen from two cars at Jim Chumbley Volkswagen, 413 S. U.S. Highway 17-92, Sanford, between Friday and Monday. The thefts were reported to deputies by a mechanic and the service manager at the dealership. The cars involved are a 1973 and a 1984 Volkswagen and the radios are worth $375 each.

Graduation Requirements Detailed

Both the 1983 and 1984 legislatures made changes in high school graduation requirements. Could you outline what is required of this year's senior class and any later requirements?

For this school year and next (1985-1986) 22 credits are required with at least three credits each in mathematics and science. Beginning in the 1986-1987 school year, seniors (who are this year's sophomores) will be required to have earned 24 credits in grades 9-12 for graduation.

These credit requirements have been plainly written in the law and the 24 credits must include:

- 4 credits in English with a major concentration in composition and literature;
- 3 credits in mathematics;
- 3 credits in science, including 2 with a laboratory component;
- 1 credit in American history;
- 1 credit in world history, including a study of the history, doctrines and objectives of all major political systems;

with Commissioner of Education
Ralph D. Turlington

1/2 credit in economics, including history doctrines and objectives of all major economic systems;

1/2 credit in American government;

1/2 credit in practical arts or vocational education;

1/2 credit in performing fine arts such as dance, painting or drama;

1/2 credit in life management skills including nutrition, drug education, consumer education, cardiopulmonary resuscitation, hazards of smoking and instruction in positive emotional development;

1/2 credit in physical education; and 9 elective credits.

School districts are allowed to require specific courses and programs of study within the minimum credit requirements and are encouraged to establish graduation requirements in excess of the minimum.

In addition to the credit requirements, a cumulative grade point average of 1.5 out of 4.0 (or the equivalent) is required for graduation, beginning with the 1986-87 school year graduates.

Remedial and compensatory classes have also been addressed by the 1983 and 1984 legislation. No more than two credits in this type of class can count toward the graduation requirements and they may be counted only as electives.

Although Florida has specified some standards for graduation since 1978-79, these have been general in nature until 1984. The intent of these more uniform and rigorous requirements is to raise student achievement levels, to better prepare our students for their roles as adults, and to provide similar educational experiences for all students.

More Study Called For Before Oil Exploration Is Permitted

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Two critics of federal plans to lease oil-exploration rights in the Gulf of Mexico have called for further study of environmental impact on Florida's western coastline.

Officials of the Florida Public Interest Research Group and state chapter of the Sierra Club said the U.S. Department of Interior's plans for leasing in November, 1985, are moving ahead too quickly. Tuesday was the final day for public objections to the government's environmental impact statement on the 56 million-acre lease plan.

Ann Whitfield, program coordinator of FPIRG, said her group did not oppose all offshore oil drilling. She said, however, the Interior Department's impact study did not take into account large areas of underwater grass, small aquatic life and the potential impact on coastal tourism.

She also said the federal "buffer zone," which forbids drilling 20 to 30 miles from the shore, should be extended to the entire western part of the state. The offlimits line now extends from the middle of St. George Island to the tip of the peninsula — leaving Apalachicola and Pensacola Bays and all of the Keys and Dry Tortugas unprotected from drilling much closer to shore.

The state has a 10-mile limit, and the federal government has agreed to a buffer zone varying 10 to 20 miles beyond state waters — effectively setting up a 20- to 30-mile zone where leasing will not be allowed.

Elaine Harrington, head of the Florida Sierra Club, said there is no critical need for quick exploration of oil resources lying below the gulf.

United Way Agencies Pitch In

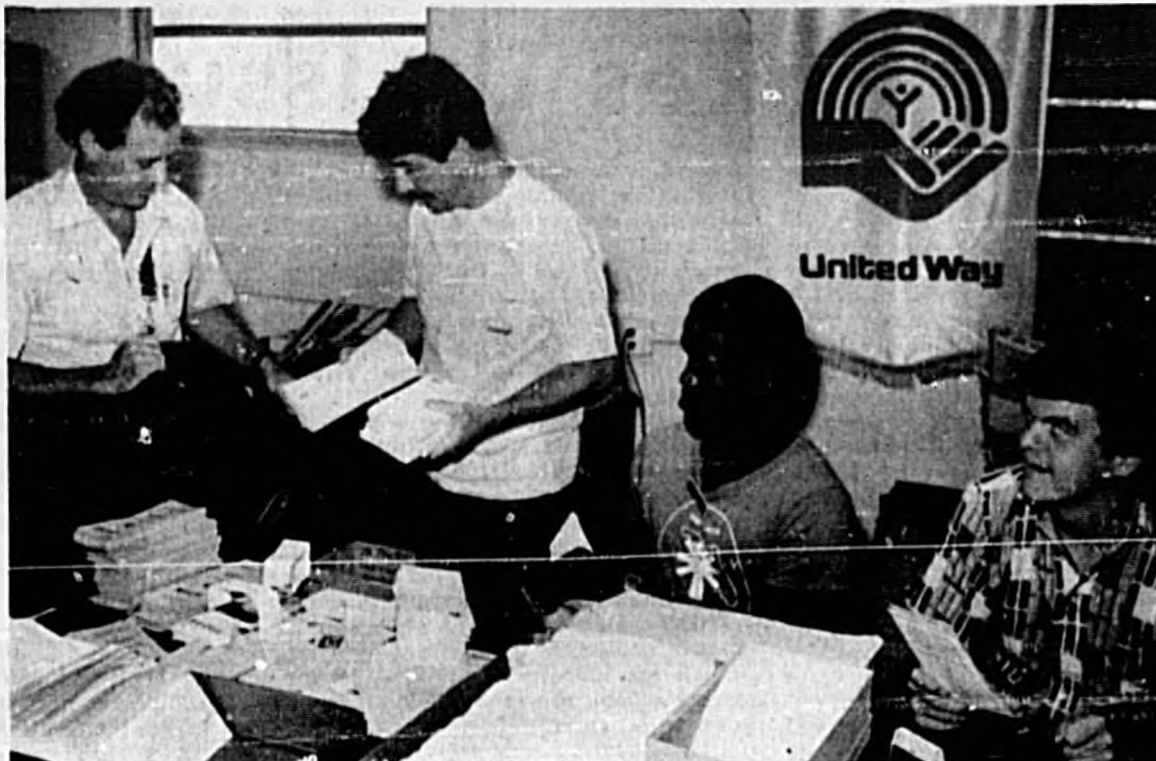

Special to the Herald
After a weekend of partying and blowing his paycheck, he came home on a Monday afternoon and told his wife that he was leaving. Just before he delivered that emotional blow, the sheriff's department had handed her an eviction notice for non payment of rent.

"I had 7¢ in my pocket and no gas in my clunker car," according to the woman.

She had worked as a bookkeeper for about 20 years but had been laid off in June and had not found work. Here she was, alone and no one to turn to and no money for food for her 7-year-old daughter.

holidays and a child to make a Christmas for. She faces the future with optimism and says she knows she can make it once she gets started in a job. United Way has helped her over a hump and given her the spirit to trudge on and make a new life for herself and her little girl.

Editor's Note: The United Way of Seminole County, Inc., is conducting its annual fundraising drive this month. They may be contacted at P.O. Box 144, Sanford, or by calling 322-5050.

In The Mail

She pawned her wedding rings, borrowed $200 from a brother-in-law, and sold all of her furniture except a bed, a table and chairs to put a deposit down on a place to rent near a girlfriend.

She had no money for utilities or food and her child was hungry. Her girlfriend, who is a single parent just barely making ends meet herself, suggested she call United Way of Seminole County for some help.

She talked to Lou Gatshall of the Information and Referral Service, a United Way Agency in Seminole County. Lou quickly made contacts to help her get utilities on and food in the house. The Salvation Army gave her a $20 food voucher to hold her over till her food stamp appointment. "I try to shop very carefully, and so far we are holding on," she said.

Several other United Way Agencies helped her get on her feet. Jewish Family Services gave her $25 and the Catholic Social Services gave her $50 towards having the utilities turned on. The woman said that all of the agencies were helpful and understanding about her situation, especially The Catholic Social Services agency.

"The lady there also talked to me for quite some time counseling me, she was wonderful!" the woman exclaimed.

Now that the immediate crisis is over for food and shelter, the larger one of finding a job looms. But the woman is confident that she'll find a job and be able to make it. She has had four job interviews already and just had a callback to be interviewed again. Things sound a little more encouraging for her.

"I was raised in the old school of strong morals, and I believe God helps those that help themselves, and so does United Way," she said.

"I worked all my life and have always given to United Way, and I never dreamed I would need the services," the woman said.

Research Means Better Control Of Most Cancer

NEW YORK (UPI) — A cancer specialist says recent advances in cell biology means doctors may be able to better control the disease by preventing some forms and curing others but it is unlikely cancer "will fade away."

"The evidence indicates that cancer is not a single disease, that the nature of cancer is such that it may be an integral part of living, an interaction between our genes and our environment," said Dr. Paul Marks, the president of Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center.

"It is therefore unlikely that the solution to the cancer problem will be analogous to that achieved for infectious diseases, such as polio," he said. "It is also unlikely that we will eradicate cancer as we have eradicated smallpox."

"It is likely that we will continue to increasingly control cancer and become more effective in preventing some cancers and in curing many others."

Opening the seventh annual Bristol-Myers Symposium on Cancer Research Monday, Marks said that "during the past several years, those of us involved in cancer research perceive that progress has advanced at an unprecedented rate."

"New knowledge is providing an increasingly detailed understanding of the process of transformation of normal to malignant cells. These advances have generated widespread excitement over the opportunities that lie ahead in understanding the nature of the cause of many human cancers."

AMERICAN HERO

Born in a large Irish Catholic family John F. Kennedy was the youngest elected president in American History. Even as a young man he showed great courage while on a torpedo mission in WWII by physically saving the lives of his crew when a destroyer annihilated his torpedo boat. Not only did he fight well but with his keen mind he authored two best selling history books, one of which won the Pulitzer Prize. After winning the office of the Presidency his accomplishments advanced man and mankind in every conceivable way. He put the first American in space, he increased wages for laborers, he fought for civil rights of minorities, he extended social security for the aged, and he reduced tariffs for businessmen. When the Russians threatened world peace with nuclear missiles in Cuba, he swiftly and strategically crushed them with a naval blockade. It is a sad fact that a man with the seeming powers of a god who touched the lives of everyone on this great planet had to suffer the fate of death by assassination. John F. Kennedy, perhaps the greatest leader in the history of the world died like a soldier — under fire.

Court Again Takes Up Issue Of 'Parochialism'

By Elizabeth Olson
UPI Supreme Court Reporter
 WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court has agreed to decide whether it is constitutional to allow public school teachers to hold classes that are paid for by the government in parochial and private schools.

The justices agreed Tuesday to hear the case challenging the constitutionality of the way the federal Title I program is administered in New York City. It will be heard together with a case already on the high court docket from Grand Rapids, Mich. where teachers also travel to non-public schools to teach classes.

The justices' agreeing to hear the case expands their examination of the traditional barriers to state aid to private and parochial schools. Over the years, the nation's highest court has approved only a few types of "parochialism" ruling instead that most forms of help to non-public schools are unconstitutional.

In the New York case, a federal appeals court held the practice of sending teachers into non-public schools to teach certain remedial courses violated the First Amendment's prohibition against entangling church and state.

That ruling was appealed to the Supreme Court by the Reagan administration, the New York City Board of Education and four mothers of children who benefit from the program.

The administration, urging the court to take the case, argued the public school teachers "in New York City's non-public religiously oriented schools did not further the religious mission of those schools at any time."

Title I is one of the nation's largest educational programs. Passed in 1965, it was enacted "to provide financial assistance to state and local educational agencies to meet the special needs of educationally deprived children."

The program, which serves mostly low-income urban areas, has been funded recently at more than $3 billion yearly. More than 5 million public school and 200,000 private school children are taught remedial math and reading and English as a second language under the program.

In other court action, the court let stand a ruling that means lower payments for thousands of men enrolled in a nationwide teachers' retirement plan in order to give women equal benefits.

The justices, taking the federal government's advice, refused to take up an appeal from the ruling that reduction in men's benefits was necessary to end discrimination against women.

In recent years, the court has ruled twice on the sex-based retirement plans issue.

In July 1983, the justices ruled, in a case involving a voluntary retirement plan for Arizona state employees, that federal law prohibits pension plans that discriminate against women simply because they live longer than men. But the justices refused to make up lost benefits to women already retired, choosing instead to make their ruling effective for contributions after Aug. 1, 1983.

At issue in the New York case is whether people who contributed to two nationwide teachers retirement plans before Aug. 1, 1983 must receive equal benefits when they retire. A Manhattan appeals court said yes.

More than 3,400 colleges and 700,000 people take part in one of two non-profit groups that provide annuities for employees of educational and research institutions through insured pension plans.

The Teachers Insurance and Annuity Association provides, called TIAA, was organized in New York in 1918 and provides fixed dollar annuities for plan members. The College Retirement Equities Fund, a companion organization known as CREF, offers variable annuities, based on returns from stock investments.

Diana Spirt, a professor at Long Island University, brought the New York suit in 1974. She was required to participate in the university's retirement plan, which is funded by contributions made to TIAA and CREF annuity contracts.

The two groups used mortality tables providing that since women generally live longer than men, they should be paid smaller monthly benefits — even though they contribute the same amount into the fund. Spirt argued that use of sex-segregated statistics violated the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

If required to pay out equal benefits, the retirement funds argued, "an infusion of additional money to pay for women's increased benefits is required." The source of that income would be found by requiring men "to surrender a portion of the retirement benefits which they would otherwise receive."

The groups estimated that 40 percent of several thousand male beneficiaries would lose up to 8 percent of their retirement benefits.

"Some $2 billion now destined to be paid to men would be shifted to women," they claimed.

In 1979, a federal court ordered the organizations not to use sex-distinct mortality tables after May 1, 1980 to calculate retirement benefits.

The 2nd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals upheld the ruling in September 1982. As a result of the Supreme Court's 1983 ruling in the Arizona case, the lawsuit of Diana Spirt was returned to the appeals court.

Last May, the Manhattan court ruled the two teachers groups had to pay sex-neutral benefits to all people retiring after May 1, 1980, regardless of when they made their contributions.

Appealing the ruling to the Supreme Court, TIAA and CREF argued that, unless reversed, the lower court's ruling "will devalue every pre-August 1, 1983 contribution made by hundreds of thousands of male participants in the TIAA-CREF system."

Officials from New York City and Florida filed separate legal papers to urge the high court to hear the case. New York City said the appeals court ruling could cost the city's five retirement systems $288 million more. Florida said the same ruling could cost it up to $144 million in additional payments.

The federal government opposed the justices' review, saying there was no legal reason why equal benefits could not be paid to both men and women.

The court let stand rulings barring 14 men held hostage at the American Embassy in Iran for 444 days from suing the Tehran government for damages for injuries suffered in captivity.

The justices refused two separate appeals by men and their relatives from federal court rulings in California and Washington, D.C., that Iran was not subject to the jurisdiction of American courts.

Favored Inmate 'Had Run Of The Place'

FORT LAUDERDALE (UPI) — An inmate who won special privileges by re-activating a prisoner self-help group "basically had the run of the place" because he was friends with the jail director, a published report says.

Mark Holden, convicted of conspiring to sell a kilogram of cocaine and 1,000 pounds of marijuana to police, was on a first-name basis with Broward County Jail Director Ken Collins. The Miami Herald said Tuesday.

He also convinced a priest to help him procure land and was anonymously accused of having sexual trysts with a female guard. Holden, a 34-year-old native of Lexington, Mich., sparked an investigation of the sheriff's detention department.

"He basically had the run of the place," said a detention officer who asked not to be named. "The only thing he didn't have is the keys."

Circuit Court Judge Thomas Coker Jr. sentenced Holden in April to five years in prison, with credit for nearly two years already served. Collins arranged for Holden to serve the remainder of the time at the county jail instead of in a state penitentiary.

"This is the first time in the history of the state this had ever been done," Collins said.

Holden, who has been moved to Glades Correctional Institution in Belle Glade, said he wants to return to Fort Lauderdale to reactivate the New Endeavors Council, a program set up in 1979 by a group of inmates to relieve tension and improve conditions at the overcrowded jail.

Collins said because of Holden's work on New Endeavors, he granted the inmate two furloughs, June 8-11 and July 4-8. Normally, county jail inmates are furloughed only for emergencies or by judicial order.

"It was a reward for a job well done," Collins said.

While on furlough July 5, Holden appeared before U.S. District Judge Alcee Hastings to plead guilty on arson charges stemming from a bowling alley fire. His sentencing has not yet been scheduled.

What Holden did with the rest of his days is still under investigation. An anonymous letter to Broward County Sheriff George Brescher alleges Holden used the time to rendezvous with detention officer Elizabeth Hamilton.

Hamilton denied to her superiors that she saw Holden while he was on furlough. She refused to answer questions by The Herald.

The anonymous letter writer also told Brescher that jail Sgt. Terry Saunders allowed Holden to borrow his personal car while the prisoner was furloughed. Saunders also would not answer questions about the allegations.

But Saunders said the letter probably was the result of resentment against Holden because the prisoner got access to his office and access to top jail brass that resulted from his New Endeavors project.

"He helped us out a lot," Saunders said. "But a lot of people don't like change."

Shot From Behind

WOODLAND, Calif. (UPI) — A 67-year-old man struggled to pull a gun from his back pocket during an argument in a bar but shot himself in the buttocks instead, the Yolo County sheriff's office said.
 James Marshall shot himself "where he sits" as he tried to draw the gun, detective Stan Mouser said Tuesday.
 An off-duty police officer in the bar wrestled Marshall to the ground and disarmed him after Marshall reportedly threatened to shoot the man he was arguing with, deputies said.
 Marshall was treated for a bullet wound and jailed on a $16,000 bond, deputies said.

Fundamentally Yours: Tigers 3, Padres 2

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — In a sense, the Detroit Tigers sealed the first game of the 1984 World Series a few years ago, on a field 3,000 miles from Jack Murphy Stadium.

It was there that Manager Sparky Anderson taught his ballplayers something that would lead them to autumnal excellence.

"We were playing the Baltimore Orioles and somebody hit the ball in the gap," Detroit right fielder Kirk Gibson said Tuesday night after helping the Tigers take a 1-0 lead in the Series with a 3-2 victory over the San Diego Padres.

"They cut down the run at the plate," continued Gibson. "Sparky turned to us and said, third baseman Marty Castillo, who finished off the key play of the game.

World Series

It came in the seventh inning, with Detroit leading 3-2. Padres designated hitter Kurt Bevacqua led off with a smash down the right field line for a double.

Then he made both a physical and mental mistake: he tried for third when he should have stopped at second. And he stumbled.

Gibson charged into the corner and retrieved the ball. He hit second baseman Lou Whitaker with the relay. Whitaker gunned the ball to Castillo, who tagged out Bevacqua.

Instead of having a runner on second with none out, San Diego had no one on and one out.

"I just stumbled. It's as simple as that," said Bevacqua. "If I didn't stumble, I make it easy. Why did I stumble. I just don't know."

"Don't forget, you have to give Gibson and Whitaker plenty of credit. They made excellent throws and if the relays aren't good, I'm in there."

Whitaker quarterbacked the play, getting in position to receive Gibson's throw and then making the relay to Castillo.

"I was just hoping to get a good throw from Kirk," said the second baseman. "The roar of the crowd told me he was trying for third. I just turned and got the ball to third in time."

"On our club we have a rule that you don't go to third in that situation, being behind by a run, unless you can make it standing."

Whitaker helped the Tigers take a 1-0 lead in the first when he doubled and scored on a single by Alan Trammell. San Diego went ahead in the bottom of the inning on a two-run double by Terry Kennedy.

That's the way it remained until Herndon launched a two-run shot off San Diego starter Mark Thurmond in the fifth.

"It was a 3-1 fastball away," said Thurmond. "When he hit it, I didn't think it was going to go out. He reminds me of a guy in our league, Jeff Leonard (of the San Francisco Giants), who has an inside-out swing. I should have come in on him."

"The fact that we won the game is more important than the home run," said Herndon. "It's only seven home runs this season after producing 20 in 1983. This was Jack's game and the night belongs to him."

Fortified with another lead, Morris then took control of the game, especially in the sixth when he fanned Bobby Brown, Carmelo Martinez and Garry Templeton with runners on first and second.

It was a glaring lack of execution. The first batter's job is to advance the runners.

"He made it difficult to bunt when we got the two guys on," said Brown. "It's only one game and they didn't clinch the World Series. Even if he threw a no-hitter tonight, it's still only one game."

Anderson said the failure to bunt the runners over was a bigger play than throwing out Bevacqua.

"That is how you win ballgames."

Anderson's reliance on fundamentals, coupled with Jack Morris' 95 mph fastball and Larry Herndon's two-run homer, has the Tigers in a position to take a 2-0 lead tonight with Dan Petry facing the Padres' Ed Whitson.

The Tigers executed the basics. The Padres did not.

Seminole Upset Throws Chaos Into Conference

The Five Star Conference is known for its wild-and-wooly football finishes. There was one year in which the race not only came down to the final night — it went past it.

Lake Howell, Spruce Creek and Apopka needed a Monday after the Friday to resolve their differences along with the Five Star title and District 4A-9 seed. Lake Howell eventually won the three-way playoff and coach Sam Weir's went on to the region where they dropped a tough one to Vero Beach.

Well, Five Star fans, thanks to Seminole High it looks like it might just happen again. The conference race was cruising along nicely until last Friday. Apopka's Blue Darters and Lake Mary's Rams were on a collision course for their Oct. 26 date and Lake Brantley was waiting in the wings for a slip by either of the two. The rest of the conference was watching.

Then came the monkey wrench. Seminole upset the then second-ranked Blue Darters Friday night and now chaos reigns in the conference. Lake Mary sits on top with a 3-0 record. Apopka, Lake Brantley, DeLand and Seminole are right behind with 2-1 marks. Mainland and Lake Howell are 2-2.

Amazing. Granted, Apopka, Lake Mary and Lake Brantley were supposed to be this year's powerhouses, but where did these other schools come from? DeLand, which played Lake Mary tough, has put together three straight wins since that loss. Seminole, which lost a four-overtime thriller to Mainland, has relied on a tenacious defense and just-enough offense to pull into contention.

More amazingly, Seminole is in great shape to win it. "All we have to do is win the rest of our district games and we're the champions," coach Jerry "Chief" Posey told his Seminoles after Friday's game. He's right. With Apopka out of the way, victories over Lyman, DeLand, Lake Brantley, Lake Mary and Spruce Creek would give Seminole an 7-1 conference mark and the title.

Lake Mary and Apopka could also finish with 7-1 records, but if Seminole whips Lake Mary on Nov. 9, the title and a berth in the regional would belong to the Tribe.

Of course, winning the rest of their games won't be easy. Harry "The Ram" Nelson said he hopes to have a say about that. "Seminole really shock things up," said the Lake Mary coach. "I don't know about Apopka. Maybe their bubble has burst. I wouldn't be surprised if DeLand went in there and beat them (Friday)."

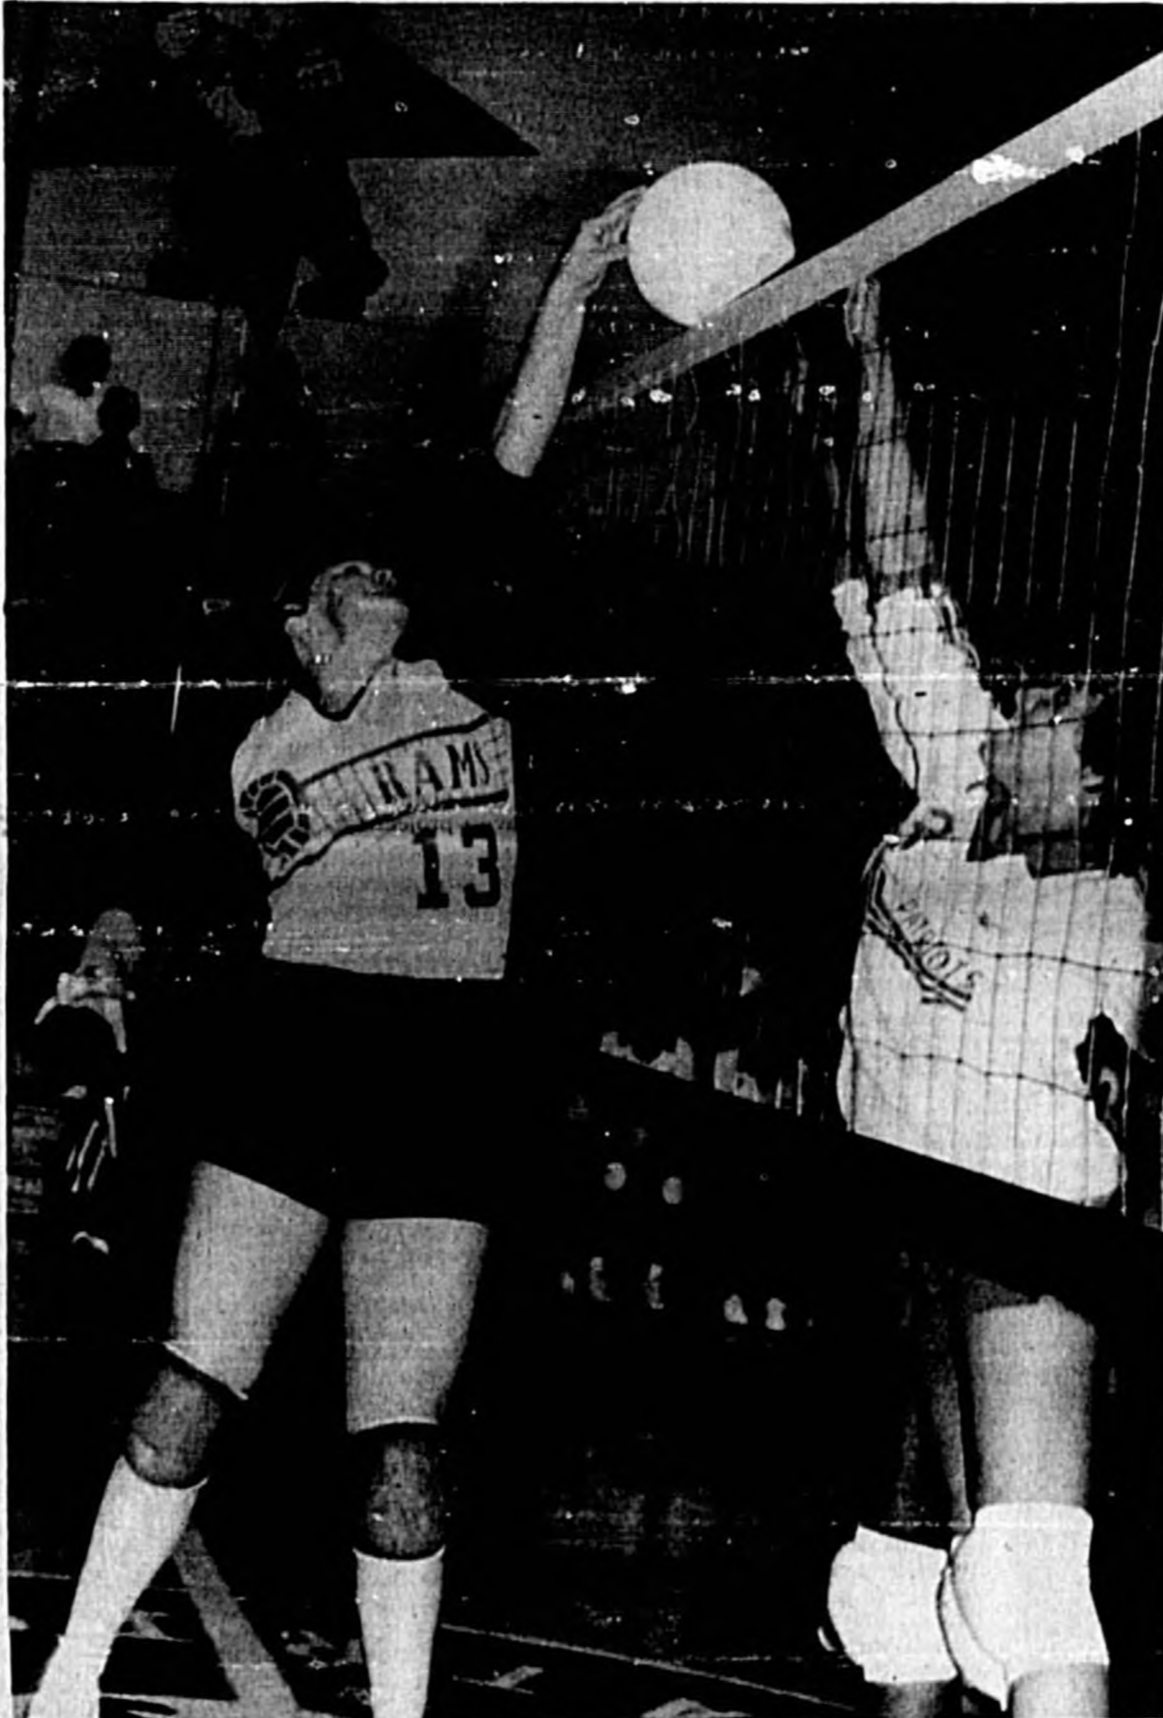

BURGER KING CITES FRANKLIN, PEARCE

The Burger King Selection Committee picked their football players of the week Tuesday. Seminole cornerback Bruce Franklin picked up the defensive award and Lake Brantley wideout Rich Pearce was the offensive winner.

Franklin, a junior, collected six tackles and four assists against Apopka. "Dexter just did a super job," said Posey.

Pearce, a senior, had a superb night in the Pats win over Lake Howell. The 6-2 wideout caught four passes for 83 yards and one TD. He also threw a 15-yard scoring pass.

Other offensive nominees included Lake Brantley's Curt Mull, Lake Howell's Jeron Evans, Lake Mary's Charlie Lucarelli and Seminole's Daryl Edgemore. Defensive nominees included Lyman's Greg Memory, Lyman's Mike Crespo, Lake Brantley's Scott Salmon, Lake Brantley's Bobby Bodoh and Seminole's Bryan DeBoec.

Scott Serves Lake Howell Past Seminole

By Ch. Is Flister
Herald Sports Writer

At Lake Howell High, instead of calling for a doctor, the volleyball fans often cry out, "Is there a Scott in the house?" when the Lady Hawks seem to be in trouble.

During the 1983 prep volleyball season Christy Scott terrorized many an opponent with her vicious spikes. Christy hit her way to a scholarship at Valencia Community College where she is starting for the Lady Matadors this season.

Meanwhile, back at Lake Howell, Christy's younger sister, Mary Kay, did some terrorizing of her own Tuesday night.

Behind the hitting of Eileen Thiebauth and Beth Saunders, the Lady Silver Hawks handily won the first game against Five Star Conference foe Seminole.

But Seminole fought back in the second game and took a 12-10 lead. That's when Scott stepped in. The Silver Hawks' junior came off the bench and drilled a spike into the Seminole defense to tie the game at 12-12.

Then, with the Lady Seminoles holding a 14-12 lead, Scott rattled the Seminole defense with four bullet serves. Two of Scott's serves were for aces, including the final point, as Lake Howell extended its winning streak to six straight with a 15-4, 16-14 victory.

"She (Scott) really came through," Lake Howell coach Teresa Tinsley said. "That's a typical Scott performance. She came off the bench and really popped her serves at the end. It makes you feel secure as a coach knowing you have players like Mary Kay who can come in and play well."

Scott had a pretty sensible explanation for her performance. "I wanted to get home early. I have a research paper to do," she joked.

The fact that Lake Howell has arrived this season is no joke as the six match winning streak gives the Lady Hawks a 7-2 record overall and, more important, 6-1 in the conference. Since Lyman was knocked off by Seabreeze Tuesday, the Lady Hawks are tied with DeLand for the conference lead.

Lake Howell gets a chance to avenge one of its losses today against the unbeaten Lady Lions of Oviedo. Action at Oviedo High starts at 3:30 with the junior varsity followed by varsity at 4:30.

Meanwhile, Seminole fell to 1-8 overall with its fifth straight loss. The Lady Seminoles stand at 1-8 in the conference and will be back in action Thursday at Lyman.

Lake Howell sailed through the opening game behind the impressive play of Thiebauth and Saunders. Saunders served the first five and the last five points for the Lady Hawks and Thiebauth hitting and dinking also highlighted the win.

But Seminole regrouped for the second game and played outstanding volleyball. Beth Nelson's sizzling serve gave the Tribe a 3-0 lead but Thiebauth's spike gave the Lady Hawks a side out and they tied it at 3-3 on Saunders' serve.

The two teams battled back and fourth until Seminole took a three-point lead, 8-5, on Sheri Peterson's serve. Lake Howell came back to rally for five points on Anita Cechowaki's serve. A pair of spikes by Saunders keyed the rally.

Seminole got the serve back on a missed block by the Lady Hawks and Janet Hauck served four points to give the Tribe a 12-11 lead.

The teams traded serves before Lake Howell regained it and tied the game at 12-12 on Kellee Johnson's serve with Scott's spike providing the 12th point.

Seminole then took a 13-12 lead as Nelson served a point and, after Lake Howell failed to score, the Lady Seminoles went up, 14-12, on Becky Baker's serve.

Lake Howell then got the serve back and Scott served four straight points to close out the match.

"She (Scott) was serving hard, but the back line made four mental errors," Seminole coach Beth Corso said. "I thought we outplayed Lake Howell in that second game until the end when we went into our choke."

Seminole's junior varsity came away with a victory Tuesday night behind the sensational serving string of Cindy Bengé. Seminole won a hard-fought first game, 15-11, the rolled to a 15-4 win in the second game.

In the second game, Bengé came on to serve with Lake Howell holding a 3-2 lead and she served 12 straight points to put Seminole in command, 14-3. Shannon Smith's spike highlighted the rally. After Seminole won the

Blake, Rudolph Bail Out Tribe; Curry Scores 3

Jeff Blake ...207 yards

John Curry ...3 touchdowns

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

Behind the clutch offensive play of Jeff Blake and Curtis Rudolph and a number of strong defensive performances, the Seminole High freshman football team pulled out a hard-fought 21-14 victory over Lyman Tuesday night at Lyman High.

Blake, the Tribe's quarterback, connected on 10 of 15 passes for 207 yards, one of the finest ever passing displays for a Seminole freshman. Rudolph was an important part of Seminole's passing and running attacks Tuesday as he caught four passes for 107 yards and picked up another 110 yards on the ground.

"Jeff (Blake) threw the ball really well," Seminole coach Mike Ferrell said. "And Curtis (Rudolph) did just about everything you could ask of a player."

Seminole, 2-2, will try for its third straight win next Tuesday (Oct. 18) at Lake Howell.

After a scoreless first quarter in which the defenses controlled the game, the two teams cranked up their offense and lit up the scoreboard with 28 points — 14 for each team.

Seminole broke the scoreless tie early in the second quarter when Rudolph scored from five yards out. The key play in Seminole's scoring drive was a 35-yard pass from Blake to Walter Hopson that put the Tribe inside the Lyman 30-yard line. Tracy Turner's conversion kick gave Seminole a 7-0 lead.

After its defense shut the Greyhounds down, Bernard Burke returned the Lyman punt 65 yards for a touchdown. However, the play was called back as Seminole was called for clipping.

"He made a great run," Ferrell said of Burke. "Just when he was about to cross the goal line, we were called for clipping."

The penalty may have slowed the Tribe down a bit, but it didn't keep them out of the end zone. Turner's five-yard TD run and conversion kick put the 'Noles ahead, 14-0, with three minutes left in the first half.

But Lyman got right back into the game on the ensuing kickoff as the return man took it 75 yards for a touchdown. "He ran it right up the middle," Ferrell said. "I can't even remember who it was that ran it because I was so mad."

The conversion kick pulled Lyman within 14-7 with 1:30 left in the half, but the Greyhounds weren't finished yet. After a Seminole fumble, Lyman took over with 43 seconds left. Then on the last play of the half, with no time left on the clock, the Greyhounds scored on a Hall Mary pass and the conversion kick tied it at 14-14 at halftime.

The defenses once again took control in the third quarter as neither team scored and it stayed tied at 14-14 going into the final period. Midway through the quarter, Seminole mounted the scoring drive that eventually provided the winning margin.

Seminole drove 85 yards, mostly on running plays through the middle of the Lyman defense. "Our offensive line just took over at that point," Ferrell said of the drive. "Rudolph and Turner were getting 7 or 8 yards at a time."

Seminole drove down inside the Lyman 10, but a holding penalty backed the Tribe up to the 25. On a key fourth down play from the 23, Blake hit Rudolph out of the backfield for a 22-yard gain down to the one-yard line. Rudolph scored the TD on the next play and Turner's kick gave the Tribe a 21-14 lead with 4:30 left to play.

Lyman mounted one last scoring drive with time running out and the Greyhounds eventually moved inside the Seminole 10-yard line. With 1:15 left to play, Lyman was faced with a crucial third down play.

The Greyhounds elected to go to the air, but the pass was picked off by Seminole's Ernest Lewis and the Tribe went on to run out the clock for the victory.

Seminole's top tackler Tuesday was Arthur Hersey who had 10 solo stops. Other defensive leaders for Tribe included Lewis, Turner, Aridine Daniels, Wilton Hooks and Nick Castello.

RAMS CAPTURE 5TH STRAIGHT WIN

Lake Mary's Rams tuned up for their county championship meeting with Oviedo Tuesday night as they pounded out a 40-7 victory over Lake Howell at Lake Mary High in freshman football.

Coach Jim Hughes' frosh won for the fifth straight time without a defeat. They battle the 3-1 Lions next Tuesday at home. Kickoff is 7 p.m. "Next week will be the big one," said Hughes this morning. "Oviedo has a tough club."

So does Lake Mary. John Curry picked up three touchdowns in the first quarter as the Rams built a 21-0 lead. Curry grabbed a fumble and raced 40 yards for the first score before adding runs of 10 and 40 yards for the next two. Kelly McKinnon booted all three extra points. Hughes cited strong side tackle Todd Wright will supplying the key blocks on the touchdowns.

In the second quarter, Terry "The Cat" Miller broke loose for a 35-yard jaunt and McKinnon added the PAT as Lake Mary took a secure 28-0 lead into the locker room.

The Rams led the game in the third period as Sheldon Richards caught a 20-yard scoring pass from McKinnon and Curt Beauchamp bulldozed five yards into the end zone for the last TD.

Curry led all ball carriers with 110 yards on eight rushes. Miller chipped in 88 on six and Beauchamp had 55 on six. "Richards, Beauchamp and Miller played good defensive games, too," said Hughes.

Lake Howell scored in the third period.

Vols Prepare For 'Physically-Endowed' Gators

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Tennessee Coach Johnny Majors is hoping his regulation-size blockers and tacklers won't get pulverized Saturday when the Vols face Florida's huge linemen.

"Very few people will line up and be better physically endowed than Florida," Majors said Tuesday at his weekly press conference. "I think they can line up with anybody in the nation physically in ability."

Tennessee, 2-1-1, hosts 18th-ranked Florida, 3-1-1, in the first meeting between the schools since 1977.

The Gators' offensive line averages 282 pounds, compared to Tennessee's 270 pounds. Defensively, Florida's line weighs in at an average of 248 pounds while Tennessee averages 241 pounds.

Florida is coming to Knoxville fresh off a 16-0 victory over Syracuse. The Gators' only loss came in their season opener to Miami.

Tennessee was idle last week and Majors said the off-week gave many of his injured players an opportunity to mend.

Morris Shuts Door, Defense Turns Lock

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Jack Morris shut the door and both Kirk Gibson and Lou Whitaker locked it.

Morris, thanks to those two things, pitched shutout ball after allowing San Diego two runs in the first Tuesday night and hurled the Detroit Tigers to a 3-2 victory over the Padres in the opening game of the World Series.

"I'd be lying to say I wasn't nervous," Morris said after his complete-game win was made possible by silent Larry Herndon's loud two-run home run in the fifth inning, which erased a 2-1 San Diego lead.

"I had butterflies," Morris said. "But I think I handled it pretty well."

"After the fifth," Detroit manager Sparky Anderson said, "I think Jack started throwing like he can. Earlier I think he was a little nervous."

Morris' nerves disappeared with San Diego's chances in the sixth after Craig Nettles and Terry Kennedy led off with singles. Bobby Brown botched a bunt attempt, wound up striking out and Morris fanned the next two batters.

"One more hit and he not only would have been gone, we would have lost," Anderson said.

The next key spot for Morris was in the seventh, when Kurt Bevacqua was thrown out trying to turn a leadoff double into a triple. Gibson dug the ball out of the right field corner, threw a strike to second baseman Whitaker and he relayed to a waiting Marty Castillo at third.

"That was a great out. I thought that was the turning point of the game," Morris said after his second post-season victory after a 19-11 regular season. "From then on, I tried to do the best I could."

The noise from Jack Murphy Stadium got to Morris and his teammates. It's a closed in stadium with four levels to reverberate the sound. Add a "Wave" like the one Detroit fans splash around Tiger Stadium and you've got enough noise to make anybody wish they had the earplugs concession.

"It was so loud," Morris said. "It was almost like silence. There was so much noise you could block everything out."

There was so much noise it blocked Herndon's post-game comments out.

The shy Detroit left fielder declined to talk to reporters after the Tigers' victory, staying in the trainer's room for nearly an hour before taking a shower. He went back into the trainer's room to dry, dress and leave.

"My wife's waiting for me," Herndon smiled when he came out. "The fact that he won is more important than the home run. This was Jack's night and the game belongs to him."

WORLD SERIES 1984

What: World Series.

When: Tonight at 8:35.

Where: Jack Murphy Stadium, San Diego.

Television: WESH-TV, Channel 2, 8 p.m.

Radio: WKIS-AM (740), 8:10 p.m.

Detroit scored in the first on Whitaker's double and a single to left by Alan Trammell. The Tigers didn't score again until Lance Parrish doubled with two out in the fifth — just before Herndon's home run.

San Diego bounced back with a pair in the first, both scoring with two out. Steve Garvey and Nettles singled and both scored on Kennedy's double down the right field line.

Garvey hit into a double play in the third with runners on first and second and nobody out and Morris got him out in the fifth after Tony Gwynn singled and stole second.

"The pitch Jack threw to Kennedy in the first was a split-finger fastball that didn't sink," catcher Parrish said. "After that most of his pitches were sinking. Outside of a couple of jams he was in complete control all night."

McNamara Eyes Bosox Opening

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI) — Manager John McNamara, whose California Angels battled to the wire for the American League West title before finishing in a tie for second place, has resigned and is a leading candidate for the top job in Boston.

A team spokesman said Tuesday McNamara was offered the job for another year by Angels owner Gene Autry but turned it down. McNamara spoke with General Manager Mike Port before announcing his decision.

"While I'm pleased the Angels wanted me back, I feel it's time for a change," McNamara said in a statement released by the team. "Buzzie Bavasi hired me in 1983, and now that he has retired, I think it is in the best interest of the club if I leave at this time."

McNamara had a 151-173 record the past two seasons, and was the Angels' 10th manager in 18 seasons.

"Speaking on behalf of the organization, I know we'll miss John," Port said. "We had hoped he would return again in 1985, but we do respect his feelings on the matter."

The Angels, despite a star-filled lineup, finished the season 81-81. They tied Minnesota for second, three games behind division champion Kansas City, California tied for fifth in 1983.

McNamara is said to be a leading candidate to replace Ralph Houk as manager of the Boston Red Sox.

The Los Angeles Times said Wednesday that Boston executive vice president and general manager Haywood Sullivan confirmed McNamara is a leading candidate.

"He knows it and I know it," Sullivan said. "I don't think this will take that long to work out."

"If the Red Sox hired John McNamara, I think it would be a big plus for them," said former Boston star Carl Yastrzemski, who is in San Diego to cover the World Series as a broadcaster. "He's always done well dealing with veteran ballplayers and the Red Sox are a veteran team."

McNamara, 52, joined the Angels after they won the 1982 AL West title, replacing Gene Mauch, who quit.

LYMAN SPLITS WITH SPRUCE CREEK
Lyman's Lady Greyhounds, who won the Palm Bay High Tournament on Saturday, came out flat Monday and dropped a 15-4, 18-16 decision to Daytona Beach Seabreeze in a tri-match Tuesday at Spruce Creek High. Lyman upended Spruce Creek, 15-12, 15-8, to come away with a split.

The Lady Greyhounds now stand at 9-4 overall and 7-2 in the Five Star Conference. Lyman is now tied for second in the conference with Seabreeze.

"We must have used quite a bit of energy in the tournament Saturday, because we just didn't have it today (Tuesday)," Lyman coach Annette Griffin said. "Now we're going to work on getting ourselves back together for the district tournament."

While Lyman was flat against Seabreeze, Griffin said Regan Stump, Dawn Boyesen and Tammy Foss all played well against Spruce Creek.

Lyman got clutch performances from all its players in winning the Palm Bay Tournament this past Saturday at Palm Bay High. Lyman beat Merritt Island in three games in the tournament final.

"The tournament was excellent experience for us," Griffin said.

In one other game Tuesday, Lake Mary took two from Lake Brantley, 15-11, 15-8.

Hodges, Smith Lead Bobcats Past Raiders

Rick Crawford
Special to the Herald
Oviedo High School may have the second coming of Charles "Pop" Bowers — but the Lions will have to wait awhile. Bowers, Oviedo's county-leading rusher with 525 yards, has been the Lions' offensive mainstay all year.

Looking down the road a few years, coach Jack Blanton may have the making of a pretty fine running back in McGill Hodges. The only problem is he's only 10 years old and playing in the Seminole Youth Sports Association football program. For the real estate Hodges is racking up, though, Blanton won't mind the wait.

Hodges' statistics after two games, though, rank right there with Bowers. The tiny tailback has rushed for 179 yards on just nine carries. That's a whopping 19.5 yards per carry. No wonder coach Brian Smith's Bobcats are 2-0 and are looking for number three against the 1-1 Teague Tigers at the Sylvan Lake Park, west of Sanford. All SYSA teams were active last Saturday except the Tuskawilla Warriors.

Jackson Heights opened Saturday's games by running all over Rock Lake, 40-0. The Bobcats used five different players to roll up 310 yards rushing. Leading the pack was Hodges with 103 yards and one touchdown, on just four attempts.

Right behind him were Shelle Elliott and Terry Smith with 89 yards and 49 yards, respectively. Two of Elliott's runs resulted in touchdowns while Smith accounted for three TDs.

Smith was also perfect in the passing department 5-for-5, and led the defense with four tackles and one fumble recovery. Kevin Blagg was Smith's favorite target, catching three passes for 15 yards.

While the Jackson Heights Junior Pee Wees had everything their way, the Milwee Spartans struggled with South Seminole for one half. Then the Spartans used two second-half touchdowns from Todd Cleveland to post a 12-0 victory. Cleveland also rushed for 122 yards on 15 tries. The Spartans had help from Torry Demps, who rushed for 80 yards on seven carries.

Defensively, Jason Mirkovich led the way with two quarterback sacks and Willie Campos collected 13 tackles. In the final game, Lakeview shut out Teague, 12-0. Anthony Roberts and Phillip King were all the Dolphins needed. The two combined for 138 yards and two TDs. T.J. Jones and Paul Wilde were the defensive standouts for coach Carl Scannley.

For Teague, Cuyler Davis rushed for 23 yards on seven carries and Nicky Talantis added 15 on three tries. Mike Speranza completed three passes in five attempts for 20 yards. Scott Simpson grabbed two of them for 18 yards.

In Pee Wee action, Lakeview defeated Teague, 19-0, and Rock Lake shut out Jackson Height, 12-0. South Seminole blanked Milwee, 19-0. Teddy Mitchell was the defensive leader for South Seminole while Braniff Bonaventure, Jerry Tucker and Jason May did the work on offense.

In Junior Midget play, Jackson Heights took a cue from its Junior Pee Wees and pounded out a 31-0 victory over Rock Lake. Lakeview, likewise, bombed Teague, 32-0.

Zachery Martin launched an impressive aerial attack for the Dolphins. Martin completed 21 of 29 passes for 243 yards and two TDs. Kyle Reynolds was the ground force with 90 yards on 10 carries. The whole defense was impressive for the Dolphins as it turned two pass interceptions into touchdowns.

In another Junior Midget battle, Milwee flexed its muscles as the Spartans upended South Seminole, 17-6. Milwee used a strong ground attack to get all three scores. Corry Anderson rushed for 80 yards on 10 tries and scored one touchdown while Paul Bowen had nine carries for 64 yards and two scores. Quarterback Matt McLissock completed five passes for 50 yards and Scott Allen led a hard-hitting defense with nine tackles.

In Midget action, coach Wes Childers' Lakeview Dolphins continued their tear, running off with a 46-0 victory over Teague. It was the Carlos Hartasfeldt-Arthur Bradford show again for the Dolphins as the dynamic duo accounted for 231 yards rushing, 85 yards receiving and five TDs.

Quarterback Raymond Williams threw for 115 yards on

Tennis, Anyone? Tournaments Are All Over The Place

If you like to play in tennis tournaments, the next couple of months should suit you perfectly. There are many opportunities for players of all ages to play in one or more events in either singles or doubles.

Starting Nov. 2, the annual Bayhead Club Championships will be held. Last year's winners' Lola Metts and Jimmy Edmonds will be back to defend their titles and are the odds on favorites to win again this year.

Edmonds is an ultra-consistent clay-court specialist and Metts is a smart and steady player who relies on patience and control. Several in the men's division at Bayhead are excellent competitors and on all given days are capable of raising their games to a high enough level to win it all.

The primary contender is Scott Reagan, who Edmonds beat in the finals last year. Reagan is much improved this year and is more than capable of winning this championship. John Holt, Rickey Holt and David Holt are all excellent players. They are young, quick and strong and have the necessary experience to push Edmonds or Reagan. In fact, John Holt is playing some of his best tennis right now, so well in fact that he has been offered a couple of college scholarships. John will probably enroll at either Central Florida Junior College or Jefferson State Junior College in Alabama.

Other players at Bayhead who should do well in the club championships are Randy Kelly, Jim Shupe, Lee Holt, Pay Kelly, Lefty Renaud, Phil Logan, John Morgan and George Duryea, just to mention a few.

Nov. 5 through Nov. 10, the annual Golden Age games returns to Sanford. The tennis tournament will be played on the SCC courts. Players from all over America will participate in the games and tennis is always one of the most popular activities. Competition will be held in age groups 55-59, 60-64, 65-69, 70-74, 75-79, 80-84, 85-89, and 90 and up. This tournament will have competition in men's and women's events and in singles and doubles.

Starting Saturday, Nov. 17 at the Sanford Recreation Department and the Optimist Club of Sanford will sponsor a junior tennis tournament. Deadline for entry is Wednesday, Nov. 14 at 5 p.m. This tournament is open to boys and girls in the 12 and under, 14 and under and 16 and under age divisions and is in singles only. The tournament will be played on the city tennis courts. Anyone wishing to play in this tournament should call the City of Sanford Recreation Department at 322-3161, ext. 261.

Bill Payne, the basketball coach at SCC, had such a successful tournament a couple of months ago that he has decided to have another go at it. This time the tournament will be for men's and women's doubles only. The entry fee is $20 per team and these will be consolation rounds.

The dates for this tournament will be Nov. 23-25. Anyone interested in playing can call Bill Payne at 323-1450, ext. 400.

Two singles tournaments are now under way at SCC, the fall faculty round robin is into its fourth week. Twenty of the faculty and staff are entered into this competition playing one or two matches per week. Larry McAdam, last year's winner is playing again this year and is the favorite to win it again.

The student fall singles tournament is also under way at SCC with forty-two students taking part. This event is held each Wednesday from 12:30-2 p.m. Santiago Uribe and twin brother Rodrigo Uribe were winner and runner up last year and seem to be the class of the field again this year.

SPORTS

IN BRIEF

Murphy, Cofield Lead Bulldogs To 12-0 Blanking of Cowboys

Joseph Murphy scored on a 10-yard run and Peanut Coefield returned a kickoff 70 yards for a touchdown to lead the Bulldogs to a 12-0 blanking of the Cowboys in Sanford Recreation Flag Football Junior League action Saturday at Chase Park.

Murphy's run came in the first half while Coefield gave the Bulldogs a 12-0 cushion when he returned the second half kickoff for a TD.

In Saturday's other Junior League game, Mike Merthie ran for two TD's and passed for another as the Rams upended the Wildcats, 25-19.

Eric Chapman score the Wildcats' first TD as he returned the opening kickoff 60 yards. The extra point gave the Wildcats a 7-0 lead. Chapman then hauled in a 30-yard TD pass as the Wildcats built a 13-0 lead.

The Rams struck back for a pair of TD's before the first half ended. The first came on William Davison's five-yard run and the second came on Merthie's 30-yard run as the Rams pulled to within 13-12 at the half.

Merthie then gave the Rams a 18-12 lead as he scampered 28 yards for a touchdown. Merthie's 30-yard touchdown pass to James Lowery put the Rams ahead, 24-12 and Merthie's extra point pass to John Jones put the Rams up by 13, 25-12.

Robert Amie's 40-yard run cut the Rams lead to 25-19 but the Wildcats couldn't catch up as time ran out.

In Midget League play Saturday, the Bucas edged the Steelers, 13-12. Andre Shaw scored a pair of TD's for the Bucas while Adary Jones' 60-yard kickoff return and Dennis Reese's 90-yard kickoff return accounted for the Steelers' two TD's.

Tim Raines Connection Rolls On

The Tim Raines Connection continued to roll in Sanford Men's Softball Association Fall League play with a pair of victories Saturday at Pinehurst Field.

In its first game, the Connection blasted Season Time, 17-0. Eddie Jackson led the onslaught with a pair of home runs and four RBI while Sam Raines clubbed four hits and Lloyd Wall had three. The Connection's defense limited Season Time to just four hits.

The Connection had to fight for its life in its second victory, a 5-4 nailbiter over the Angels. Ned Raines' RBI single in the sixth inning provided the winning margin. Ned Raines and Charles Reynolds had two hits each for the TRC while Danny Galarza, Nelson Aviles and Wayne McLean had two hits each for the Angels.

Season Time rebounded from its loss to the Connection to rout The Bullets, 18-0. Leading the way for Season Time were Greg Deshield (3 for 3, four RBI), Tommy "Wrong Team" Raines (3 for 3, two RBI) and Willie Harrison (three sacrifice flies). The Bullets had just three hits off winning pitcher Blair Kitter.

Also on Saturday, the Angels came away with a split of their two games with a 10-4 victory over Frontier Cattleman. A six-run first inning propelled the Angels to the win. Key hits in the outburst included Mike Rivera's two-run double, Manuel Oropeza's RBI double and Felix Torres' run-scoring single.

Bob Sheffield had two hits and drove in two runs to lead the Cattleman.

Phoenix Wants Domed Stadium

PHOENIX (UPI) — The drive for a domed stadium for the Phoenix area got a boost Tuesday following the Maricopa County Industrial Development Authority's unanimous approval of a request for $30 million in tax-free bonds to construct the facility.

The Metropolitan Sports Foundation, a non-profit group, put the request before the IDA board at its noon meeting Tuesday in Phoenix.

Sports Foundation spokesman William Gormly said the stadium would probably be built on one of five sites.

By Tuesday's action, Gormly said, "We can now proceed toward the next step which is final approval for the issuance of the bonds which would come in December."

The Maricopa County Board of Supervisors will determine whether to allow such a funding program.

"Although the stadium is primarily being sought for football, it could be used for baseball, basketball, soccer and various cultural events," Gormly said.

Saints Acquire Campbell — Rose Refuses Surgery

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Houston running back Earl Campbell, citing his Texas breeding "through and through," was traded to New Orleans and reunited with his old friend and Coach Bum Phillips.

Campbell claims he got some good advice. "When I said my prayers last night," Campbell said Tuesday, "I asked the Lord to do what he thought was best for Earl Campbell. And he thought this was the best thing to do."

The Saints gave up their first-round draft choice in next year's draft for Campbell, a Heisman Trophy winner at the University of Texas and the National Football League's leading rusher in his first three seasons with the Oilers.

"Earl will play this weekend (against the Los Angeles Rams in the Superdome) and play just like he's been here all year," said Phillips.

BHULA: ROSE ON INJURED RESERVE
MIAMI (UPI) — Miami Dolphins tight end Joe Rose, who suffered a separated shoulder in Sunday's 31-13 victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers, refused surgery Tuesday, Coach Don Shula reported.

"Joe Rose left the hospital on his own accord and decided against recommended surgery," Shula said.

That left in doubt the status of the talented Rose, who was injured catching a 31-yard touchdown pass. However, Shula indicated he may put him on injured reserve.

Joe Rose ...no surgery

Don Shula ...Rose's choice

Five of the team's walking wounded missed practice Tuesday to give their injuries time to heal. They were linebacker Charlie Bowser, undergoing traction on a jammed neck in the hospital, linebacker Jay Brophy, safeties Glen Blackwood and Mike Kozlowski and fullback Woody Bennett.

Dallas Struggle Grows Tougher

DALLAS (UPI) — Moments after the Dallas Cowboys were bumped off by the St. Louis Cardinals last Sunday, Coach Tom Landry said his team was going to have to perform a good deal better if it hoped to compete with "the big boys."

It is a somewhat painful thing for any member of the Cowboys organization to admit that Dallas is no longer one of "the big boys" of the National Football League.

But Landry went a step further Tuesday.

"We haven't had a club like this in 20 years," he said.

Landry does not make a habit of reflecting on past clubs. After all, since he has coached the team for 25 years the seasons sort of run together after a while.

But he knows the difference between a team that wins most weeks just because it has the talent to do so and a team that must struggle each time out to achieve a victory.

The struggle will be extra difficult next Sunday because the Cowboys must meet their old rival — the Washington Redskins. The two teams are tied atop the NFC East.

"I think this will be a good team in time," Landry said. "But we have never had to make so many changes in the team without having enough players to fill the spots."

"Since 1966, when we first became a winning team, we have had very little changeover. We have always had a lot of hangover from the previous year.

"We'd lose players, but we would just lose one receiver or one lineman or one back. This year we have had all new receivers, for instance. So it is going to take time."

Hussain, Mubarak Set Private Talks Today

AMMAN, Jordan (UPI) — The leaders of Jordan and Egypt, with ties newly restored after a five-year break, have agreed to hold a second day of private talks in the Jordanian monarch's palace on the shore of the Red Sea.

King Hussain and Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak held a 30-minute first round of talks Tuesday in the king's palace in the Red Sea port of Aqaba, 220 miles south of the Jordanian capital of Amman and only a few miles across the bay from the Israeli port of Eilat. They agreed to hold a second round of talks today.

The meetings came just two weeks after Jordan restored diplomatic relations with Egypt, relations that were severed five years ago when Cairo signed the Camp David peace accords with Israel.

Arab hardliners Syria and Libya have demanded Arab sanctions to punish Jordan for resuming relations with Egypt.

Libya threatened that Jordan would "pay" for its actions, and Syria accused Hussain and Mubarak of conspiring to form a new alliance "under the umbrella of Camp David" to "liquidate the Palestinian cause, encircle Syria and disrupt the existing balance of power" in the Middle East.

NATO Tightens Security

BRUSSELS, Belgium (UPI) — NATO has tightened security around its headquarters in response to three bomb attacks claimed by a mysterious terrorist group that said it was out to smash the "exploiters of humanity."

"NATO has taken some additional security steps" because of the bombings in Brussels as well as attacks on U.S. targets in Beirut, Lebanon, during the past two years, said a U.S. official at the alliance headquarters Tuesday.

The previously unknown Communist Combatant Cells took credit for bombings in Belgium last week against a division of Litton Industries, a U.S. company, and a West German truck manufacturer, and Monday's attack on the European headquarters of Honeywell, a U.S. defense contractor.

In letters to the Belgian news media, CCC said the bombings were part of an "anti-imperialist campaign" against companies supplying parts or transport for U.S.-made medium-range nuclear missiles that NATO began deploying in Europe late last year.

No Promise Of Aid For Israel

United Press International
Israeli Prime Minister Shimon Peres winds up his Washington visit today with a general expression of U.S. support for his country's financial problems but with no specific commitment for any new aid.

Two topics dominated the intensive discussions Tuesday: Israel's needs and how the United States can help and the conditions under which Israel will pull its remaining troops out of southern Lebanon.

One point Peres made was that the United States made no link between the two points and there was no attempt to hasten the Israeli withdrawal from southern Lebanon by withholding the promise of U.S. aid if Israel was not flexible.

Earlier, he had suggested to a congressional group that Israel would need an extra $1.5 billion over the next two years in addition to the expected U.S. aid. Current U.S. aid to Israel is $2.8 billion a year, the largest single assistance program the United States has.

10:30 p.m. Monday, doused her with gasoline and set her on fire. She ran screaming towards the back-yard swimming pool and neighbors soaked her with water, police said.

Police said Brandt apparently picked up a bucket of water and helped put out the flames and suffered burned hands, forearms and neck.

One of the couple's two sons told police he heard screams and saw flames in the backyard.

"I saw the fire break out in the yard — that's about it," the 13-year-old boy said. "I don't really know who it was. It didn't look like a real person. I felt like some part of me was getting torn away. Then I noticed my mom's shoes.

"I had a dream a couple of weeks ago about something like this happening, like someone was on fire and someone was throwing water on them. It was really weird."

A neighbor, Gerald Baade, Jr., 17, said he did not think the incident had anything to do with the TV movie because Brandt had asked him for a five-gallon gasoline can hours before the movie. Baade said he did not have a can to lend to Brandt.

The subject of the movie, Francine Hughes, was acquitted of murder by reason of temporary insanity in 1977.

Disabled Face Bias In Hiring

'He Never Really Looked At My Resume...'

Editor's Note: The author of this article is a victim of cerebral palsy. However, he has not let the affliction stop him from working.

By Randolph Clinton Williams
Special to the Herald

It's easy to assume that everything is fine and that, no matter what happens, people will survive. Many people will pull themselves up from disaster and not only survive, but thrive...That does not make things correct, it just increases the burden.

Employ The Handicapped Week (Oct. 7-13 in Sanford and surrounding cities) should not need to occur, but here it is, and with good reason. Discrimination among employers is an absolute essential if any business is to grow. If a disabled person enters a business seeking employment, and is not qualified for the position, it would be a poor and wrong business decision to hire that person. Being disabled with Cerebral Palsy, I've been in the position of seeking employment and being discriminated against for the wrong reasons...I can remember an interview appointment I had a few years ago. I arrived early and filled out an application, even though I had a very comprehensive resume to present. The person with whom I had the appointment greeted me in the waiting room and thanked me for applying for the position. He also told me that he would call me if he was interested...That was my interview.

That potential employer looked at me and his thinking stopped. He probably had very little, or no contact with disabled people. It was easy to deal with his stress by not dealing with the issues that I was kicking up for him. As a result, he spent no time finding out who I was and what I could have offered his company. He never interviewed me, and probably never really completely looked at my resume or application.

Employ The Handicapped Week is an excellent opportunity for everyone to examine their views of the disabled, and how those views might be adversely affecting their business.

Being disabled does not qualify a person for anything, it just disqualifies them for many positions. You will never see me building roads, or even working at a car wash. I chose my field because of talent...I write well!

I think, however, that it's just as important for disabled people to understand and help the employer view disabilities as a difference rather than the inability to function in a conventional capacity.

They can accomplish this by playing up their abilities and other assets they have as a human being.

Employ The Handicapped Week... It's a challenge that should be present throughout the year. Many things are not easy to understand or accept. But as employers, if you can understand the concept of profits, you are on your way to using the talents of the handicapped. It is a fact that, in general, disabled employees are more dependable and they are no exception when it comes to depending on work to live and pay their bills.

Man Faces 3-Year Prison Term For Beating His Wife, Threatening Would-Be Rescuers

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

A Caselberry man charged with beating his wife and threatening to shoot neighbors who tried to intervene has been found guilty of two counts of aggravated assault.

The verdict carries a mandatory 3-year prison sentence.

John Edward Redmond, 33, of 1010 Wolf Trail, was found guilty by a six-member jury of five men and one woman who deliberated about two hours Tuesday afternoon. Followed the verdict, retired Circuit Judge Humes T. Lasher ordered Redmond taken into custody. No sentencing date was set.

While a conviction of aggravated assault usually carries a one-year sentence, Assistant State Attorney Steve Brady asked that Redmond be found guilty of aggravated assault with the provision that he serve at least three years.

According to court records, neighbor's of Redmond heard a woman's screams coming from his home about 11 p.m. on July 7. They called the police but before officers arrived, three male neighbors jumped a four-foot chainlink fence into the Redmond backyard and tried to stop him from beating his wife, Barbara.

Redmond told the men to mind their own business, one witness testified.

According to the witness, Redmond struck his wife several times in the face with his fists and threw her against a wall. When the neighbors tried to intervene, Redmond got a handgun, covered them with a wave of the gun and then aimed it at them individually.

When officers arrived, they reported seeing Mrs. Redmond with a bloody face and chest standing inside her home screaming.

The officers entered the house and arrested Redmond.

Mrs. Redmond was treated for cuts after the incident and released from the South Seminole Community Hospital in Longwood.

In other recent court action, an Orlando woman who teaches at Valencia Community College was found not guilty of grand theft.

Kay Glen was accused of taking several items from the children's department of Jordan Marsh at the Altamonte Mall on July 9 and leaving the store after paying for only three items.

Glen Allen Kubitz, 25, of 108 Cambridge Drive, Longwood, pleaded guilty before Circuit Judge Robert B. McGregor to violating his probation for battering two police officers July 4, 1982.

McGregor placed Kubitz on five years probation and ordered him to pay the public defender's office $150.

According to court records, Kubitz was drinking beer inside Wekiva State Park when he was told to leave because drinking is prohibited in the park.

The responding officers said Kubitz became hostile, refused to leave, would not produce any identification and then resisted arrest.

He was found guilty Sept. 7, 1982 and sentenced to 5 years probation following 360 days in the county jail.

According to court records, he violated his probation by not finishing an alcohol abuse program, did not pay his court costs and did not pay a lien in favor of the Public Defender's Office.

An Altamonte Springs woman has been found guilty of retail theft from Sears, Altamonte Mall.

Hazel Denise Johnson, 22, of 507 Peach Street, could receive up to a year in the county jail when she is sentenced Dec. 5 by Circuit Judge S. Joseph Davis Jr.

According to court records, Ms. Johnson went to the store on July 26 with a companion and purchased two suits worth $328 and had each put in a bag. The companion then took the suits to another department while Ms. Johnson took two more suits, according to court records, and meeting her accomplice, put an extra suit in each bag.

Ms. Johnson was detained but the second woman could not be located.

Until sentencing, Ms. Johnson is being held in the Seminole County jail.

George Cole Jr., 46, of 97 Lake Monroe Terrace, Sanford, has been sentenced to 5-years probation for threatening a woman with a gun.

He was sentenced Friday by McGregor.

According to court records, on Dec. 23, Cole threatened his girlfriend who he had invited into his house. He reportedly wanted her to leave.

Cole was also ordered to pay the Public Defender's Office $350.

An Altamonte Springs man has pleaded guilty to grand theft after taking a trolling motor from a retail store.

William Lawrence Brockett, 30, of 220 O'Brien Road, entered the plea before Davis who scheduled sentencing for Dec. 5. The recommended sentence is one year in the county jail.

According to court records, Brockett left Kmart, 431 S. U.S. Highway 17-92, Fern Park, with a $200 trolling motor without paying for it on July 23. When the store manager tried to stop him, Brockett reportedly shoved him.

A battery charge was not prosecuted.

Scott S. Rising, 23, of 738 Ranger Blvd., Winter Park, pleaded no contest to violating his probation for dealing in stolen property, grand theft and uttering a forgery.

Rising is scheduled to be sentenced by Davis Oct. 26. He could receive up to 5 years in prison.

Cook Of The Week

Pastor's Colorful Culinary Expertise Starts In Boyhood

By Brenda Lowe
Herald Correspondent

"He that is of a merry heart has a continual feast" is a proverb which certainly rings true with this Cook of the Week, Ken Fleming. His joyous and enthusiastic approach to life adds a colorful dimension to all he sets out to do.

Ken was born and grew up in Detroit, Mich. He says good-naturedly of his childhood: "This is going to age me, but I remember playing 'kick the can' in the alley when I was a kid. The alleys then were paved and wide. It was a perfect place to play."

He adds, a bit reluctantly, that he was more than a little mischievous as a teen-ager. But when he wasn't up to typical boyish mischief, he and his friends "hung out at the corner drugstore, sipping chocolate Cokes and Boston Coolers (a mixture of Verner's ginger ale and ice cream)." Ken says he is especially grateful, however, for the Christian values instilled in him during his childhood by his father, who was a pastor in the Assemblies of God Church.

Ken started cooking when he left home, at the age of 17. He says that he used a cookbook, but enjoyed "experimenting" with different recipes. He adds that, while his mom had many fine qualities, cooking was not her strong suit. "We had lots of leftovers, and to this day I don't like leftovers. I try to cook in proportions that will allow no leftovers!"

While attending the University of Michigan where he majored in business administration, Ken was employed at Western Electric. He stayed with that firm for 10 years. After moving to the Sanford area in 1972, he was a supervisor at Stromberg-Carlson, Lake Mary, for 11 years. At this time, Ken is an associate pastor and administrative director at the First Assembly of God Church. He is also the campaign director for the fund-raising project, Harvest Time. The funds will go toward building a new church and providing larger facilities for New Life Christian School.

Ken and his wife, Pat, have three children, one grandchild, and two more on the way. When they aren't "cruising" down the river in their boat, Ken and Pat enjoy entertaining family and friends in their lovely lakeside home.

Their time-share condominium plan has allowed Ken and Pat to visit many interesting places, including beautiful Heritage Village in Charlotte, N.C. In June of this year, they were in Vail, Colorado in the middle of a surprise snowstorm. Ken says, "We weren't prepared for snow in June. We had light jackets along since we expected it to be only a bit chilly. It was exciting, but it sure was great to get back to sunny Florida!"

Ken shares the recipes for one of his favorite "feasts." The sausage quiche and the salad, with their zesty Italian seasonings, are a lively start to this meal. For a mellow finish, a dessert of old-fashioned banana pudding.

SAUSAGE QUICHE

1½ shredded, sharp cheese
1 tablespoon flour
1 deep, unbaked 9" pie crust

Child Awareness Week

Services Available During Annual Sundaes In The Park

The Junior Woman's Club of Sanford, Inc. is sponsoring a Child Awareness "safety" week. Sanford Mayor Lee P. Moore has proclaimed Oct. 14-20 as "Child Awareness Week" with the theme being "My Child to Keep."

According to Beverly Huffman, the activities during the week will focus on precautionary measures, tips, and ideas associated with the severe problem of child abduction along with other "safety" tips.

The activities begin on Sunday, Oct. 14 in conjunction with an "Ice Cream Social" in Centennial Park, Park and 4th Street, Sanford, from 2-5 p.m., co-sponsored by the Junior Woman's Club of Sanford and the Woman's Club of Sanford.

The community is invited to the "Sundae in the Park" during which time, from 1 to 4 p.m., fingerprinted free, literature will be distributed through the Seminole County Sheriff's Department and the Adam Walsh Foundation; and a film, "Who Can I Trust?" will be shown. During the week the Junior's will be in area pre-schools fingerprinting.

On Saturday, Oct. 20, the activities conclude the week, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., at the Rocking Chair Theater, Sanford Plaza. Fingerprinting booths will be set up with a wealth of information available on issues concerning children. "Who Can I Trust?" will be repeated and the "Deputy Dan Safety Show" will feature child safety and abuse.

For information, call Beverly Huffman, 323-5340, or 322-2921; or Sharon Racine 323-9624.

Chairmen of the ice cream social are Vivian Buck, Sanford Woman's Club, and Beth Freeman, Sanford Junior Woman's Club. Patrons can make their own sundaes from a flavorful variety of ice creams and sauces.

Continuous entertainment during the afternoon includes Ed Holden, organist; Showtime Performing Dance Company under the direction of Kathy Gillespie; and the Seminole High School Jazz Ensemble.

Who's Cooking?

The Herald welcomes suggestions for cooks of the week. Do you know someone you would like to see featured in this spot? The Cook of the Week column is published every Wednesday.

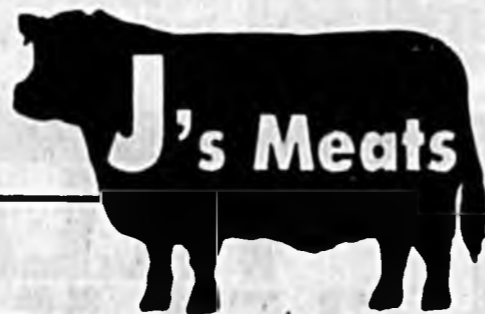

Novice cooks and ethnic cooks, as well as experienced cooks and master chefs add a different dimension to dining. Who is your choice? Maybe it's your mother, father, brother, sister or friend.

Submit your suggestions to Doris Dietrich, The Herald PEOPLE editor, 322-2611.

Credit Card Thieves Haul Away $1 Billion Annually

DEAR READERS: Have you been careless about protecting yourself against credit card thieves? I was, until I read the following illuminating facts in September's Working Woman magazine:

Credit card criminals are now committing 20,000 crimes a day and are hauling away a billion dollars a year!

Thomas F. Kelleher, vice president for security and fraud control of MasterCard, says, "Our research indicates that the dramatic increase in account-number abuse is in large part due to the participation and direction of sophisticated criminals, not the penny-ante thief of earlier times." From 1973 to 1982, credit card crime jumped 1,540 percent.

Unfortunately, the majority of offenders cannot be caught because of the lag time between fraudulent purchases and their discovery by consumers. "As long as the criminal is smart and throws the card away before the end of the month and doesn't use it for billing periods, it's difficult to get him," a U.S. attorney is quoted as saying.

Protecting your account means taking precautions. Experts have this advice for cardholders:

- Never give your account number over the phone.
- Always ask for the carbon paper after you charge an item

Dear Abby

and make sure you or the cashier tears it up.

— Examine your statement monthly and make certain you have ordered everything listed and make sure that the amounts are accurate.

Always check to be sure you get your own card back from a waiter or salesclerk.

— Don't let anyone memorize your card over your shoulder while you're signing it.

— Keep a list of all accounts and their numbers at home in a safe place and report all lost cards immediately.

I hope the above does as much for you as it did for me.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a city girl who's attending college at Ames, Iowa. I've fallen in love with a young man whose father was a farmer, and he intends to follow in his father's footsteps.

What are my chances for happiness as a farmer's wife? Do you have any statistics on this?

IN LOVE WITH WALLY

DEAR IN LOVE: No statistics, but love being what it is, statistics wouldn't help much anyway.

A reader sent a charming piece. It may not be your bale of hay, but if it is, good luck to you and Wally:

"I wanted a guy who could sit and have a cup of coffee with me at 5 a.m. when the only sounds to be heard were crickets, cows and creaking floorboards...That's why I married a farmer.

"I wanted a guy who could get out of a nice warm bed when it is 30 below, start up the tractor and plow out the driveway so the school bus can get through...That's why I married a farmer.

"I wanted a guy who could entertain four kids, a dog and a nerve-wracked wife when the power goes off, the pipes freeze and everything quits during a two-day blizzard...That's why I married a farmer.

"I wanted a guy who could put up with in-laws, outlaws and new tax laws and still be open-minded and open, loving...That's why I married a farmer.

"I wanted a guy who could count his blessings when he's depressed, count his children when he feels poor and count on God to make it all work out...That's why I married a farmer."

Xi Beta Eta Helps Society

Xi Beta Eta Chapter of Sigma Phi, a national woman's organization, began a new season with the theme "Paint a Living Masterpiece." Each member received a new yearbook and the title page had to be painted by her. Dot Raines was the winner of the contest.

Members met at the home of President Carol Ann Smith in Seminole Estates in Paola. The setting was a poolside lunch.

Other members enjoying the Beginning Day were Charlotte Blades, Dot Raines, Kathy Baker, Cathy McNabb, Marty Colgrove and Lealie Wright. New members present were Myriam Garrett, Fay Carroll and Sharon Comstock.

Cathy McNabb was elected Valentine Representative for the chapter at the annual Valentine Ball in February 1985.

The chapter is helping the Seminole Humane Society as a service project. The society is in need of items to help with the care of the animals at the shelter.

It Looks Like The Evening News

HBO Movie Tells Nuke War Story

By Julianne Hastings
UPI TV Reporter
NEW YORK (UPI) — TV channel flippers be forewarned: You may come upon veteran CBS newsmen Eric Sevareid Sunday commenting on the possibility of a showdown between the U.S. fleet and Soviet nuclear submarines in the Persian Gulf.
What you are watching is not a real newscast, although the HBO movie about a nuclear war between the two superpowers in the Middle East certainly looks like one.
"Countdown to Looking Glass," based on a scenario by Lincoln Bloomfield, a political science professor at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and a former member of the State Department and National Security Council, will premiere on the pay-cable channel 8-9:30 p.m.

It will be repeated on Oct. 18, 24 and 29.
Like the Emmy award-winning nuclear terrorist movie "Special Bulletin," seen the past two seasons on NBC, "Countdown" is a videotaped production made to look exactly as if we have tuned in to the evening news.
What makes it especially chilling is that Sevareid, newswoman Nancy Dickerson, former Sen. Eugene McCarthy, former U.S. Ambassador to NATO Robert Ellsworth, former SALT negotiator Paul Warnke and others play themselves.
The fictional television station reporting on the events leading to a nuclear exchange in the Persian Gulf is CVN, which those who combine their TV watching with cocktail time or others with dirty eyeglasses could mistake for cable TV's CNN.

Real-life newsmen Paul Watson ("The 51st State") plays Don Tobin, anchorman for CVN, who reports the murder of a U.S. ambassador in Saudi Arabia.
Aboard the aircraft carrier Nimitz is CVN reporter Michael Boyle (Scott Glenn "Right Stuff"), who manages to stay on camera right through two nuclear explosions.
Americans start evacuating cities and finally, the president, his aides and the Joint Chiefs of Staff take flight — literally.
This day-before "The Day After" movie has flashes of inspiration — using real-life public figures to play themselves — but somehow ends up crawling along like a 90-minute newscast on a slow news day.

Attacking Fear
Paul Michael Glaser and Linda Kelsey star in "Attack on Fear," a new motion picture for television based on a true story, which airs tonight at 9 on Channel 6.

Unique Apple-Glazed Beef Brisket Takes $5,000 First Place

Tennessee has long been noted for several things, among them the Grand Ole Opry and the beautiful Smoky Mountains. Now it can officially be called the home of America's best amateur beef cook.

Vicki Wadlington, who lives with her husband and two children in Memphis, captured the National Beef Cook-Off's $5,000 first prize with a unique recipe, "Apple-Glazed Beef Brisket."

David Michael Rzepa, Jackson, Mich., won the $1,000 third prize for his recipe, "Beef Diablo."

For a free folder containing the 1984 winning recipes, and information on entering next year's contest, send a self-addressed, stamped, long envelope to: Beef Cook-Off Recipes, Florida Beef Council, P.O. Box 1929, Kissimmee, FL 32742.

APPLE-GLAZED BEEF BRISKET

4 to 5-pound boneless beef brisket
1 medium onion, quartered
2 large cloves, halved
10 whole cloves
1 jar (10 ounces) apple jelly
½ cup dry white wine
3 tablespoons Dijon-style or spicy brown mustard
3 tablespoons minced green onions, including tops
1½ teaspoons salt
¾ teaspoon curry powder
¾ teaspoon cracked black peppercorns
Parsley
Tomato roses
Place brisket, onion, garlic and cloves in large Dutch oven. Add water to cover. Bring to a boil, reduce heat, cover and simmer 2½ to 3 hours or until tender. Drain brisket, cover and refrigerate up to 24 hours. To prepare glaze, combine apple jelly, wine, mustard, green onions, salt, curry powder and pepper in small saucepan and heat until jelly melts, stirring occasionally. Place brisket in shallow roasting pan. Brush with glaze and roast in oven (325 degrees F.) 45 minutes, basting frequently with glaze. Place brisket on heated serving platter and garnish with parsley and tomato roses. Carve brisket into thin slices and serve with remaining glaze. 8 servings.

* Brisket may also be cooked on charcoal grill for 30 minutes, basting often with glaze.

HERBED BEEF "LAYER CAKE"

2½ pounds ground beef round
3 tablespoons burgundy wine
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon ground pepper, divided
½ teaspoon cumin
1 large onion, chopped
1½ tablespoons butter or margarine
8 ounces mushrooms, sliced
1 cup chopped parsley
1 tablespoon chopped fresh tarragon leaves or 1 teaspoon dried
1 tablespoon chopped fresh thyme leaves or 1 teaspoon dried
1 can (drained weight 5½ or 6 ounces) ripe olives, sliced
¾ cup grated Parmesan cheese
1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese, cut into cubes, softened
1¾ cups (6 ounces) shredded mild Cheddar cheese
Assorted fresh herb sprigs
Combine ground beef, wine, salt, ½ teaspoon pepper and cumin, mixing lightly but thoroughly. Cover and refrigerate 30 minutes. Cook onion in butter in medium saucepan over medium heat about 3 minutes or until transparent. Add mushrooms; continue cooking 8 minutes, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat; add parsley, tarragon, thyme, pepper and olives. Cover and keep warm. Divide chilled beef mixture into 3 equal portions. Using an oiled 9-inch pie pan, spread a portion of beef mixture to edges to form a layer. Carefully turn out onto broiler pan. Repeat with remaining two portions of beef, forming three "layers." Broil each beef layer 5 inches from heat 3 to 5 minutes per side or to desired doneness. Stir Parmesan cheese and cream cheese into reserved onion and mushroom mixture. To assemble, place one beef layer onto flat baking sheet. Evenly spread half the herb filling to edge of layer. Place second beef layer onto flat baking sheet. Evenly spread half the herb filling to edge of layer. Place second beef layer on top of filling and repeat. Top with third beef layer. Sprinkle top layer with shredded Cheddar cheese. Return to broiler to melt cheese. Place on serving platter and garnish with fresh herb sprigs.

Cut into wedges to serve. 8 servings.

Microwave Magic

Hearty Potato Dishes To Serve With Any Entree

If you would rather be quilting, gardening, sailing or golfing or whatever, your microwave oven can be your helper in that it can "free up" time for you to pursue things you would rather do. You can figure that the actual cooking time of most foods is cut in half when using the microwave oven.

Vegetable casseroles are a good example of time saving convenience of microwave cooking.

These potato dishes can be served with almost any entree. A salad and a simple fruit dessert will make quick the complete meal preparation. Try these potato recipes with your favorite microwave meal.

SCALLOPED POTATOES AU GRATIN

4 medium sized potatoes, peeled and thinly sliced
3 tablespoons of flour
1 teaspoon of salt
1 cup of grated cheddar cheese
1 cup of milk, scalded
2 tablespoons of butter
Paprika
Arrange half of the potatoes in bottom of greased, 8-inch casserole dish. Combine flour and salt; sprinkle one half of it over the potatoes. Spread one half of the cheese over flour. Repeat layers of potato, flour, and cheese. Pour hot milk over potatoes, dot with butter, and sprinkle with paprika. Microwave on 100% power, uncovered, 12 to 14 minutes or until potatoes are tender. Allow to stand 5 minutes before serving.

Barbecued potatoes are great with steak on the grill!

MICROWAVED BARBECUED POTATOES

6 medium potatoes, peeled and sliced thin

1/2 cup of melted butter
2 tablespoons of vinegar
1 1/2 tablespoons salt
1/2 cup ketchup
Dash tabasco sauce
1/4 cup of chopped parsley
1 teaspoon of worcestershire sauce

Spread potatoes in buttered 12 x 8-inch dish. Combine remaining ingredients and pour over potatoes. Cook, uncovered on 100% power, about 8-10 minutes or until potatoes are tender.

This is a type of potato cheese dish that is just a bit different.

GREEN AND GOLD POTATOES

4 medium potatoes peeled and sliced

1 cup of hot water
1 bouillon cube
1/2 cup of finely chopped green onions
1/2 cup shredded American Cheese

In 1/2 quart casserole, dissolve bouillon cube in hot water; add potatoes and onion. Microwave on 100% power 10-12 minutes, covered. Stir occasionally. Sprinkle with cheese, return to oven, microwave on 100%, 30 seconds to melt cheese.

If you want it all together this recipe will fill the bill.

SCALLOPED POTATOES WITH PORK CHOPS

6 pork chops, browned and seasoned
8 medium potatoes peeled and sliced

1/2 cup of chopped onions
2 tablesp. ons of butter
1 can of cream of mushroom soup
1 cup of milk
1 teaspoon of salt
1/4 teaspoon of pepper
2 cups of cheddar cheese grated

In a 3 quart baking dish layer potatoes, onions, and butter. Mix soup with milk, seasonings and cheese.

Pour over potatoes. Cover and microwave on a 100% power 15-20 minutes. Arrange chops on potatoes. Spoon some sauce over each chop. Cover and microwave on 80% power for 15-20 minutes or until the chops are tender.

If you don't have a favorite meatloaf recipe that is adapted to microwave cooking you will enjoy this one I'm sure. If you're using it with the au gratin potato dishes just omit the cheese in the loaves.

INDIVIDUAL MEAT LOAVES

1/2 cup soft bread crumbs
1/3 cup evaporated milk
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 small onion, finely chopped
1/4 teaspoon of ground thyme
1 1/4 pounds of lean ground beef
1/4 pound of processed American cheese

In a mixing bowl combine crumbs, milk, eggs, salt, pepper, onion, and thyme. Add mix and mix well. Cut cheese into six cubes. Divide meat into six equal portions and form around cheese cubes to make small loaves.

Place in a 7 1/2 x 12 inch baking dish. Cover with plastic wrap. Microwave at 100% power for four minutes. Turn dish once and microwave for four more minutes. Drain fat.

Mix chili sauce with worcestershire and mustard. Pour over meat. Cook, uncovered, for 2 minutes.

Sauce:
1/2 cup of chili sauce
1 tablespoon of worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon of prepared mustard

Pumpkin Dandies

CANDIED PUMPKIN DANDIES

1 cup solid pack pumpkin
1 cup sugar
1 1/4 cups flaked coconut, lightly packed
1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg
1 finely chopped walnuts or peanuts
Red and green candied cherries (optional)

In large heavy saucepan, combine pumpkin, sugar, coconut and spices; mix well. Cook over medium-high heat, stirring constantly about 15 to 20 minutes. Candy is done when it becomes very thick and leaves the side of pan, forming a ball in center when stirred. Turn mixture out onto a buttered baking sheet; cover loosely with foil or plastic wrap; cool completely. Lightly butter hands and shape candy into balls; roll in chopped nuts. Top each with a candied cherry half, if desired. Cover and store in refrigerator. Yields about 2 1/2 dozen candies.

Variation: For a crunchier candy, stir 1 cup crushed granola into cooked candy before cooling and shaping.

Firm, Man Want What's Due Them; Lawsuits Filed

A Ft. Pierce company is suing an Altamonte Springs firm reportedly for owing it a total of $10,029 for 44,088 feet of piping. In a second suit, a man is suing an Altamonte Springs business and its president for not paying back an interest free $25,000 loan.

Alpha Products Inc., doing business as UNIMAC Plastics of Ft. Pierce, filed suit Monday against Universal Safety Railing Inc., of 1048 Miller Drive, Altamonte Springs.

Alpha is seeking an unspecified amount of damages in excess of $5,000.

According to the complaint, Alpha sold Universal the pipe between Jan. 1983 and May. The pipe ranged in size from half-inch to 1 1/2-inch in diameter and came in various colors.

While Universal has paid for some of the pipe, Alpha states the company has owed the balance since May and has thus been "unjustly enriched."

Alpha is asking for damages, costs, interest and attorney's fees.

In the second suit, filed Monday, Stanley H. Sandefur, of Sanford, is suing William Frederick, president of Shopping Center Development Corp., 303 Altamonte Drive, Altamonte Springs.

Sandefur's attorney, Michael Jones of Orlando, said he was not sure where Frederick lived. He did say however, that Frederick was not Bill Frederick, mayor of Orlando.

According to the suit, Sandefur loaned Frederick $25,000 interest free on Aug. 24, 1981. The loan was made to Frederick individually and in his capacity as president of Shopping Center Development Corp. Why the money was loaned was not mentioned in the promissory note.

On Jan. 1, 1982, the loan came due, and according to the complaint, Frederick did not pay it off. The payments were to be made at 201 E. Pine St., suite 1310, Orlando, which according to an Orlando city directory is a Southeast Bank.

Sandefur is asking for damages, pre-judgment interest, taxable court costs, reasonable attorney's fees and a trial by jury. No trial date has been set.

Reagan, Mondale Continue Debate On Social Security

United Press International

Walter Mondale demanded that President Reagan assure future Social Security recipients that they can count on full benefits. The White House issued such a pledge within hours, but accused the Democratic challenger of "demagoguery" in the process.

"The president will never stand for reduction of Social Security benefits for anybody — those now getting it or future recipients," said White House spokesman Larry Speakes, stressing his comments were authorized by the president. "No change in Social Security now or in the future — period."

That pledge went further than any from the White House before and from the president during the debate, when Reagan said: "A president should never say never, but I'm going to violate that rule and say 'never.' I will never stand for a reduction of the Social Security benefits to the people that are now getting them."

Being Asthmatic Doesn't Mean You Can't Exercise

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am 13 and have asthma. I'm a little bit overweight. Most exercise programs I see are 20-minute workouts and other things I can't do because I have asthma attacks. I am on a 1,200-calorie diet and I ride my bike, but I would like to exercise, too. What simple exercises would help me to lose weight?

DEAR READER — Exercise can precipitate an asthma attack, but that doesn't mean you cannot exercise. Riding your bike is good exercise and if you do it regularly it will help you to use calories and eliminate body fat. Walking at a comfortable pace should not precipitate an asthma attack, either. Walking is one of the best things a person can do to lose weight. If you walk at a comfortable pace, you can walk a reasonable distance several times a day.

Exercise-induced asthma usually occurs a few minutes to several hours after two or three minutes of vigorous exercise or five to eight minutes of heavy exercise. However, riding your bike or walking need not be strenuous. The asthmatic should choose activities that require only a few minutes of exertion, followed by rest. Baseball is a good example: long-distance running is a bad example.

Exercising in the cold is more apt to cause an attack. There are devices to warm the air you breathe to help avoid this. And you also can dance doors, without strenuous exertion.

There is a medicine called cromolyn sodium which is inhaled to help prevent asthma attacks. You need to take it for some time before you get the best results from it. It will not help to abort an attack once it has begun.

I'm sending you The Health Letter 8-6, Asthma, to give you more information on your problem. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — My undescended left testicle lies in the canal. I am 66 and it has never bothered me, except for a pang lasting 20 seconds perhaps twice a year. Then I read that men with undescended testicles run 40 times the normal risk of developing testicular cancer.

DEAR READER — Cancer of the testicle is relatively rare, comprising less than 2 percent of cancers that occur in men. An undescended testicle in the abdomen does have a 50 times greater likelihood of becoming malignant than a normally descended one, but the odds are only 11 times greater for a testicle in the canal — so 11 times a small incision is not the major risk you envision. At your age, without any evidence of a tumor, it is unlikely that such cancer will develop. A regular examination by your doctor should suffice to protect you.

Send your questions to Dr. Lamb, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

So you have only eight tricks in three no-trump. If you knock out the defender's diamond ace, he'll take enough tricks to set you. Go ahead and take your eight tricks, but don't throw in your hand!

When your partner makes an overall and you cue-bid the opponent's suit, you may be asking for a stopper in the enemy suit. If, on your next turn to bid, you repeat the cue-bid, you are asking for a partial stopper. And that's what happened on the current deal.

East happily cleared the hearts after the opening lead and, like a panther waiting to pounce, eagerly waited for the first play in diamonds. That was one play option for declarer — to lead the jack of diamonds from dummy as though he were missing the queen, and hope that East would carelessly duck.

There was another legitimate play for the contract and declarer took it. He played four rounds of clubs, discarding a diamond from the table. East had two easy discards — a diamond and a heart. But the fourth club gave him fits. If he gave up a spade, the spade suit would run. If he gave up one more heart, declarer would simply force out the diamond ace. There would be only one more heart for East to cash, and the contract would be assured.

Chicken Dish Fits Decade's Eating Demands

Middle Eastern foods are a sensory treat because of the use of a variety of spices and herbs.

It's not surprising that the native foods are subtly good, since the Middle East, for centuries, was the spice emporium of the world.

A Middle Eastern chicken-and-chick pea dish fits well into this decade's eating demands. It's low in cholesterol and the chick peas offer more fiber, as recommended by nutritionists today.

MIDDLE EASTERN CHICKEN WITH CHICK PEAS

1 tablespoon instant minced onion
¼ teaspoon instant minced garlic
1 tablespoon water
1 tablespoon vegetable oil
3 pounds chicken parts
1 can (19 ounces) chick peas (Ceci)
1 tomato, diced
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon ground turmeric
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
1 tablespoon sesame seed
Rehydrate onion and garlic in water for 10 minutes. In a large skillet, heat oil until hot. Add chicken, a few pieces at a time. Fry well, about 5 minutes on each side.
Remove chicken from skillet. Add onion and garlic to skillet.

Sauté for 2 minutes. Stir in chick peas, tomato, lemon juice, salt, turmeric and black pepper. Add browned chicken.

Bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer, covered, until chicken is fork tender (about 45 minutes), stirring occasionally. Serve sprinkled with sesame seeds. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 portions.

SPICED RICE WITH PEANUTS

1 tablespoon olive oil
¼ cup regular cooking rice
2 cups chicken bouillon cubes
2 cups boiling water
1 cinnamon stick (1 ½-inches long)
1 ½ teaspoons onion powder
¼ teaspoon grated lemon peel
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon ground turmeric
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
¼ cup golden raisins
¼ cup salted peanuts
In a large skillet, heat oil until hot. Add rice. Sauté until brown, about 3 minutes.
Dissolve bouillon cubes in water. Add to rice, along with cinnamon, onion powder, lemon peel, salt, turmeric, black pepper and raisins. Bring to boiling point.
Reduce heat and simmer, covered, until rice is tender (about 25 minutes). Stir in peanuts; fluff with a fork. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 portions.

Lettuce is the world's most popular green.

Apples

Freeze, Can, Dry Delectable Fruit

The apple—it abounds in song, literature, legends, and folklore. To the ancient Greeks and Romans the apple was a symbol of love and beauty. It is said that Isaac Newton, contemplating the law of gravity while sitting under an apple tree. The famous William Tell was forced to shoot an apple from his son's head. Who could forget the legend of Johnny Appleseed wearing a tin pot as a hat and a burlap sack full of appleseeds around his waist. The real person, John Chapman, actually planted apple seedlings on thousands of acres through the farm belt of our country.

Home food preservation is a way of life for many throughout the country. The Ball Blue Book, now in its 31st edition, continues to guide home canners with the latest techniques and proven recipes. From this updated book come three old-fashioned tasting apple pies: one made with canned apple slices, another baked with frozen pie filling, and a third using dried apples from a new section on home food dehydration. Of course, baking pies isn't the only way to enjoy apples. The home economists at Ball Corporation also suggest trying spicy sweet apple preserves, a tangy tomato apple chutney, and apple plum butter.

Brought to the U.S. by the early European colonists, apples are Americans' favorite fruit and come in many different varieties. Good tart varieties for pies and other baked desserts include the Granny Smith, Gravenstein, Newtown Pippin, Northern Spy and York Imperial. When it's important that the apple hold its shape in canning, the best bet is Rome Beauty, Golden Delicious, Winesap and Granny Smith. For freezing try Rhode Island Greening and Newtown Pippin. And for drying, good choices include Rome Beauty, Winesap and Granny Smith. A mixture of tart crisp apples and sweet mellow apples is perfect for sauce.

Apples in season are at their peak of flavor and texture, and because they are plentiful and often locally grown, they are a good value. Seek out top quality apples to make these pies and spreads and you will be rewarded with palate pleasing finished products. For the freshest apples, buy directly from a farmer's roadside stand. Or you may want to pick your own in a nearby orchard—a delightful family activity for a fall weekend. Then don't forget to "put up" the pickings in your favorite apple recipe and enjoy old-fashioned apple flavor all year long. Remember, when necessary, to correct processing time or pressure for altitude using your home canning guide.

 1½ teaspoon cinnamon
 ¼ teaspoon nutmeg
 2 tablespoons lemon juice
 Wash, peel, core, and slice apples. Place sliced apples in soaking solution (1 tablespoon salt, 1 tablespoon vinegar, and 2 quarts water) to prevent darkening. Combine sugar, flour, and spices. Rinse and drain apples; stir into sugar mixture. Let stand until juices begin to flow, about 30 minutes. Stir in lemon juice. Cook over medium heat until mixture begins to thicken. Pour into can or freeze jars or plastic freezer boxes. Seal, label, and freeze. Yield: about 6 pints.

To bake, place 2 pints pie filling in 9 inch double crust pastry. Cut vents in top pastry. Bake on baking sheet in a preheated oven at 425°F. for 40 minutes.

DRIED APPLES

Choose Granny Smith, Rome Beauty, Winesap, or any tart, firm-textured apple. Wash, peel, and core. Cut into ¼ to ½ inch slices. Pretreat by dipping in a mixture of 1 cup lemon juice to 1 quart water. Hold apples no longer than 10 minutes; drain before drying at 130°F. until pliable.

DRIED APPLE PIE

12 ounces dried apples
 1 quart apple cider
 ½ cup sugar
 3 tablespoons cornstarch or flour
 ¼ teaspoon cinnamon
 ¼ teaspoon nutmeg
 2 tablespoons butter
 Double crust pastry for 9 inch pie

Combine apples and cider, simmer 30 minutes until soft but not mushy. Drain apples, reserving ¼ cup cider. Cool to room temperature. Combine sugar, cornstarch, and spices. Add apples and toss gently. Add reserved cider and toss again. Place apple mixture in pastry lined 9 inch pie pan. Dot with butter. Cover with pastry, crimp edges, and cut several steam vents. Bake pie on baking sheet in a preheated oven at 425°F. for 15 minutes. Reduce heat to 375°F. and bake 30 minutes.

Granola Squares

Fall is apple time — "applesolutely!" And it's also time to celebrate the birth of the man who spread apple orchards from coast to coast.

Born John Chapman in Massachusetts, Johnny Appleseed traveled for 40 years throughout the Midwest planting apple seeds and giving them to travelers headed West. Descendants from those very trees are seen today in orchards across the country.

APPLE-GRANOLA SQUARES

1½ cups chopped pared tart apples (about 1½ medium)
 ¾ cup cut-up dates
 ¼ cup packed brown sugar
 ¼ teaspoon ground cinnamon
 1½ cups biscuit baking mix
 ½ cup dairy sour cream
 ¼ cup milk
 1 egg
 Granola Streusel (below)
 Heat oven to 350 degrees. Grease square pan, 8 x 8 x 2-inches. Mix apples, dates, brown sugar and cinnamon; reserve. Mix baking mix, sour cream, milk and egg; beat vigorously 30 seconds. Spread ½ of the remaining batter in pan; top with apple-date mixture. Spread remaining batter over top. Sprinkle with Granola Streusel; press lightly. Bake until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean, 30 to 35 minutes. 9 servings.

Granola Streusel:
 Mix 1 cup quick-cooking oats, ¼ cup packed brown sugar and 3 tablespoons margarine or butter, softened, until crumbly. High Altitude Directions (3500 to 8500 feet): Heat oven to 375 degrees. Bake 35 to 40 minutes.

Mint Party Log made from chocolate chip cookies.

Homemade Goodness From Packaged Cookies

America has long been a nation of cookie lovers. When the first settlers arrived on our shores, they brought with them treasured cookie recipes from the Old World. Some of these were changed or improved with the discovery of native American ingredients, such as pecans and molasses. But many were passed down in their original European form.

These cherished recipes were consulted or recalled from memory on baking day -- a weekly ritual in many colonial homes. It was usually the responsibility of the mother of the house or a hired cook to fill the larder with good supply of cookies that could last for at least a week.

MINT PARTY LOG
 1/2 pint whipping cream
 2 tablespoons confectioners sugar (sift if lumpy)
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 2 to 3 drops green food color
 1 package (12 ounces) mint chocolate chip cookies
 1. Whip cream in chilled bowl with chilled beaters until stiff.

Beat in sugar, vanilla and food color.

2. Using about half the whipped cream, spread some on top of each cookie. Put cookies in stacks of 5 or 6 each. When all cookies are spread, turn the stacks on edge and put together to form a "log". Spread intire outside with remaining whipped cream. Refrigerate overnight.

3. To serve, slice diagonally using a sharp knife. Serve on dessert plates.

Serves 8-10.

CHOCO-MINT COOKIES 'N' CREAM ICE CREAM

1 quart chocolate ice cream
 12 mint chocolate chip cookies

1. Place ice cream in large bowl of electric mixer. Soften in refrigerator 30 to 45 minutes.
 2. Break cookies into fourths. Beat ice cream until smooth. Stir in cookies using a spoon. Place in covered container. Freeze about 3 hours or until firm.

About 3-4 cups.

OVEN'S MORES

12 chocolate chip cookies
 1 bar (1.45 ounces) milk chocolate

2 tablespoons marshmallow creme

1. Preheat oven to 375°F.
 2. Place cookies on baking sheet. Cut candy bar in 12 equal pieces. Put one piece on each cookie. Top each with 1/2 teaspoon marshmallow creme.

3. Bake at 375° 2 minutes. Remove from oven. Swirl chocolate and marshmallow. Cool slightly. Serve warm.

Serves 12 snacks.

KRAZY KOOKIE KARAMEL APPLES

1 package (14 ounces) vanilla caramels

2 tablespoons water
 9 popsicle sticks
 9 small firm eating apples

1 1/2 cups fine butterscotch chocolate chip cookies crumbs (13 to 14 cookies in blender or food processor)

1. Melt caramels and 2 tablespoons water over boiling water, stirring until smooth.

2. Insert popsicle sticks in apples. Dip each in melted caramel. Hold over container, turning to coat and allowing excess to drip back into pan. Roll each in crumbs. When cool to the touch, press caramel and crumbs firmly against apples. Chill about 30 minutes. Press again if necessary. Chill until firm.

Serves 9.

CHOCOLATE PUDDING-CREAM DESSERT

1 tub (8 ounces) soft cream cheese

1/4 cup chocolate flavor syrup

6 serving (about 6 ounces) instant chocolate pudding and pie filling mix

3 cups milk
 1/2 pint whipping cream

2 tablespoons confectioners sugar (sift if lumpy)

1 teaspoon vanilla

Almond fudge chocolate chip cookies coarsely crumbled

1. Whip cheese with fork or wire whip until fluffy. Whip in syrup.

2. Prepare pudding and pie filling mix using 3 cups milk according to package directions for pudding. Add to cheese mixture, a little at a time, blending after each addition.

3. Whip cream in chilled bowl using chilled beaters until stiff. Beat in sugar and vanilla.

4. Build each dessert in individual sundae, parfait or dessert dish as follows: crumbled cookies, pudding, crumbled cookies, whipped cream, crumbled cookies, pudding, crumbled cookies. Cover with plastic wrap and refrigerate. When ready to serve, remove plastic wrap and top with additional whipped cream.

Number of servings will depend on size of individual dishes. You will have about 5 cups pudding-cream mixture.

*For a simple family dessert, line custard cups with 2 or 3 whole cookies. Add about 1/2 cup pudding-cream mixture. Cover and refrigerate. Top with sweetened whipped cream or whipped topping, if desired.

BANANA-BUTTERSCOTCH CHILL

2 4-serving size packages (about 3-1/2 ounces each) butterscotch pudding and pie filling mix

1 quart (4 cups) milk
 32 butterscotch chocolate chip cookies

1 or 2 medium bananas

1. Prepare pudding and pie filling mix using the 4 cups milk according to package directions for pudding. Cover with plastic wrap. Cool 20 minutes.

2. Line bottom of 9-inch square pan or dish with half the cookies. Top with half the pudding, spreading evenly. Slice bananas thinly and layer over pudding. Cover with plastic wrap. Chill several hours or until firm. Cut in squares and serve on dessert plates.
