

Miss Beasley Weds In Oviedo Rites

By MARIAN E. JONES
Miss Nellie Ruth Beasley and George A. Riggins exchanged wedding vows and rings in an impressive candlelight ceremony at the First Baptist Church in Oviedo Saturday evening at 7:30 p. m. The marriage was performed by the Rev. Jack T. Bryant, pastor of the church, in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives.

MRS. GEORGE A. RIGGINS

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Beasley of Oviedo, and the groom the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Riggins, of Omega, Ga.

More Winners

The bride, given in marriage by her father, J. C. Beasley, was radiant in her gown of nylon lace over taffeta and net. The gown featured a nylon chiffon cummerbund. The floor length scalloped lace skirt parted in the back, revealing nylon lace ruffles and a lace bow. Her fingertip veil of pure silk illusion was attached to a crown of seed pearls. She carried a white Bible centered with a white orchid and white satin streamers and a small bouquet of carnations.

Splash Party Held For Jay Morrison

Jay Morrison, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Jack Morrison, recently celebrated her 8th birthday with a "splash" party at the home of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. McRaney. Many prizes were given for swimming relays, water games and rollicking fun was enjoyed by Anna Lee Moore, Kay Forquisen, Debbie Angel, Judy Lynn and Tommy Judy. Bill Bracken, David Aiken, Mett Morgan, Ricky and Tommy Oiler and Cyndee and Laurie Lee Morrison.

REGISTRATION NOTICE

The Registration Books of the City of Sanford, Florida, are open at the City Hall, commencing Monday, September 21, 1969, for the purpose of registering for the Municipal General Election to be held on November 2, 1969, and will remain open up to and including Friday, October 24, 1969.

H. N. Tamm, Jr.
City Registration Officer

The matron-of-honor wore a ballerina length dress of green organza and carried a crescent bouquet of green carnations with autumn leaves and satin streamers. She wore a matching head-dress and feather-clip. The bridesmaids wore identical gowns fashioned after that of the matron-of-honor of yellow organza and carried crescent bouquets of yellow carnations.

Patli Lynn Nolle, niece of the bride wore a dress of yellow organza. She carried a white basket and scattered rose petals in the path of the bride. Ringbearer was the groom's brother, Randy Riggins, Omega, Ga.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a gown of antique gold print with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations.

The mother of the groom wore an outfit of blue with matching accessories and a white carnation corsage.

A reception was held immediately following the wedding in the Educational building of the church. Mrs. Joe I. Beasley, cousin of the bride, presided at the reception and was assisted in greeting the guests at the door by Mrs. Milton Gore.

Baskets of white gladioli were placed about the spacious room. The bride's table, overlaid with a white cut-work linen cloth, was centered with the traditional tiered wedding cake, flanked by crystal candleholders holding white tapers. Two crystal punch bowls graced either end of the table.

Mrs. Ben F. Ward Jr. and Mrs. R. L. Ward cut the wedding cake. Pouring punch were Miss Katherine Mikler, Miss Ann Lundy, Sandy Chambers and Yvonne King. Circulating hostess were Misses Marlene Bellhorn, Junie Fleming, Julie Gore, Marilyn Mathers, Besale Fleming, Jackie Pendarvis, Gladys Alford and Clyde Dunklee.

Rose Marie Beasley, sister of the bride, kept the guest book while Mrs. George C. Means played soft background music.

For traveling the bride wore a two-piece, royal blue suit with a feathered hat, gloves, bag and shoes to match and the orchid from her bride's bouquet.

Following a short honeymoon in Florida, the couple plan to make their home in Omega, Ga. where the groom is engaged in farming.

Von Braun Lashes Space Policy As Medaris Retires

Missile Expert Says New Program Will Slow Up U.S. In Space Race

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Missile expert Werner von Braun lashed out at the nation's new space policy today in a growing interservice quarrel following announcement of Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris that he is retiring.

Von Braun said the decision to give the Air Force full control of the space program indicates lack of confidence "in a proven rocket team," and threatens to put the United States even further behind in the space race.

Von Braun, German-born scientist who led the team that launched the first U. S. satellite, addressed a breakfast meeting of National Assn. of Food Chains. His criticism of the policy shift came on the heels of Medaris' announcement that he will step down Jan. 31 as boss of the Army Ordnance Missile Command, which has headquarters at Huntsville, Ala.

Associates said Medaris was not retiring because of his disappointment with the Army's new scaled-down role, but he has spoken out against the move.

Von Braun said constant "re-evaluations and reassessments" are slowing American progress in space.

"We must carry forward a long range space program if we don't mean to abandon the heavens to the Reds," he said.

Von Braun said the Army agency is twiddling its thumbs, waiting for "someone in Washington" to decide whether to break up its "marital relationship" with the Army and make it the new "bridegroom" of the Air Force.

"We have not sued for this divorce," he said.

America could make a great stride toward matching superior Russian rocket thrusts by speeding development of the Saturn, a 1,500,000-pound thrust rocket, he said. He said the Saturn project is moving ahead "but it could move faster."

Medaris, 57, is retiring after 28 years of service. He scheduled a news conference this afternoon in New York.

The fight over the military space program is one of the major headaches Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy will face when he returns this afternoon from a month-long Pacific tour.

McElroy, who hopes to leave his cabinet post by the end of the year, must decide what to do about the German scientist in Medaris' command at Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville, Ala.

By a recent decision which appeared to lodge chief responsibility in the Air Force, McElroy took the Army largely out of the space field but left unsettled the future of the 2,100 scientists and technicians at Redstone.

The Huntsville scientists have been developing the giant Saturn rocket, a 1,500,000-pound thrust vehicle, for the Defense Department's Advanced Research Projects Agency ARPA. But the Army men have complained they are getting insufficient funds to speed the development.

Medaris, a native of Milford, Ohio, has been active in missile work since 1935. He supervised the launching of America's first earth satellite in 1958 and has led in development of the Jupiter intermediate range ballistic missile.

Friends said that Medaris has not "entertained any offers" from industry and would not, at least until he leaves the Army. There was speculation he might join some private firm, however.

News Briefs

Two Face Charges
WASHINGTON (UPI)—A federal grand jury today brought contempt of Congress charges against two union officials and two other persons in connection with testimony before the Senate Rackets Committee. One of those named was Maurice A. Hutcheson of Indianapolis, president of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters.

Marriage Rumor
PARIS (UPI)—A French weekly claimed today that Britain's Princess Margaret soon will become engaged to young Canadian lawyer John Turner, one of her escorts in Canada last year. British court circles immediately called the report "impossible" and pointed out that Turner is a Roman Catholic. The 28-year-old princess' spokesman declined to comment.

Blast Takes Toll
BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—A mechanical failure caused an explosion in an engine room of the Woodward Iron Co. today, injuring four men, two of them seriously. John Urquhart, chairman of the board of Woodward, said the explosion was caused when "a cross head on a blowing engine broke and a piston went up into the engine and allowed gas to keep burning."

Hits Justice
SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (UPI)—Caryl Chessman—who sidestepped the gas chamber for nearly 12 years after being condemned for robbery, kidnap and rape—lashed out today at California justice. The 38-year-old convict-author also criticized Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who refused to grant clemency which would have saved Chessman from the gas chamber for the seventh time. He is scheduled to die at 10 a. m. p. t. Friday.

Layoffs Soar
DETROIT (UPI)—Almost one-third of the assembly lines closing out 1959 Chevrolet were closed down by steel shortages today as auto industry layoffs soared to 72,521. Layoffs today soared to 10,000 at the Fisher Body plants at Janesville, Wis., the Chevrolet assembly plant at Atlanta and GM's plants at Saginaw and Flint, Mich., added 3,976 to the growing number of idled workers.

Widow Kills Children
ALLENTOWN, Pa. (UPI)—A widow who police said admitted killing her five children with overdoses of barbiturates because she couldn't support them was to be charged with five counts involving murder today. Mrs. Ruth L. Urdanivia, 41, widow of a Peruvian diplomat, sobbed to police, "Who wants a woman with five children?" She told investigators she tried suicide three times after giving the children 74 barbiturates last Wednesday.

No Lepus Seen In Peace Drive
LONDON (UPI)—Western observers today saw no lepus in Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's "peace drive" despite the expulsion of the security officer at the American Embassy in Moscow in an incident reminiscent of the Stalin era.

Dipomats were surprised, even shocked, by the kidnapping and arrest of Russell Langelle and his ouster by the Soviets on charges of espionage. But they tended to regard the incident as an isolated episode rather than any switch to the methods of the cold war.

All signs, in the belief of officials here, still point to a continuation of the "spirit of Camp David" as far as Khrushchev is concerned, coupled with a genuine desire on his part to get along with the West.

The Langelle incident jolted officials here. However, they did not regard it as any indication of a switchback to cold war tactics.

The general British view was summed up in an editorial in the Times of London which said Monday, "The incident is a sign that the Russian police services are still strong. It is probable that the affair was due to the momentum of the machine rather than any deliberate decision by the government."

Red China Urged To Talk Peace
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI)—Ireland appealed to Red China today to negotiate a peaceful settlement with the Dalai Lama and recognize the right of the small Tibetan people to control their own destiny.

Government Asks Court To End Steel Walkout

STEEL FACT FINDERS Paul Lehotsky, George Taylor and John A. Perkins cleared the way yesterday for the injunction bringing a cooling-off period in the steel strike. They reported to President Eisenhower that there was "no agreement" by the industry and the union. (UPI Telephoto)

Union Ready To Fight Injunction

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—A U. S. attorney, acting under orders of President Eisenhower, today asked federal court to issue an injunction to halt the 90-day steel strike for 80 days.

U. S. Atty. Hubert F. Tellebaum handed the Taft-Hartley back-to-work petition to the clerk of the Western District court of Pennsylvania, putting it up to Federal Judge Herbert P. Sore to decide whether to order 500,000 steelworkers back to their jobs.

Sore accepted the petition and then went into a closed session with Tellebaum and Clerk James Wallace, saying, "Until I have read the petition, I cannot say when a hearing will be held."

The government petition was nine pages long and listed all the strike-bound companies.

Tellebaum received the petition from George C. Bomb, an assistant attorney general who flew here from Washington.

The petition asked for an injunction directing the United Steelworkers Union to on pickets since July 15—to instruct its members to return to work for 80 days and for the immediate issuance of a temporary restraining order pending issuance of the injunction.

The United Steelworkers Union said it would fight an injunction because the work stoppage "does not imperil the national health or safety."

President Eisenhower, saying it was a "sad day for the nation" Monday ordered the Justice Department to seek the injunction.

The big steel union's executive board was called to a meeting this afternoon and the wage-policy committee to meet Wednesday morning. The strike is now 90 days old.

"The steel strikes does not imperil the national health or safety within the meaning of the Taft-Hartley Act."

"The provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act which have been invoked are unconstitutional."

The spokesman did not elaborate on the union's contention of unconstitutionality.

United Steelworkers President David J. McDonald said his union would try to block the order in district court here and, if unsuccessful, it would carry the fight to the Third Circuit Court of Appeals in Philadelphia and to the United States Supreme Court.

McDonald said the steelworkers would obey a return to work injunction but would be free to strike again at the end of 80 days if their demands were not met.

Government lawyers were geared for what was expected to be the first all-out challenge of the government's power to force striking workers back on the job under the 12-year-old Taft-Hartley labor law.

Justice Department lawyers were known to have examined every aspect of the strike in their long preparation for a legal battle with the Steelworkers Union.

Population Gains May Add Judge

Population increases in the Ninth Judicial District, which includes Seminole County, have more than doubled over the past three years, making the circuit eligible for two more judges, it was announced today.

Three years ago, the population estimate was 405,379. At that time two additional judges, Volie Williams and Vassar Carlton, were named.

A new estimate for the circuit's population is nearly one million, according to G. W. Laycock of Rockledge who was here today.

Laycock is serving on a special population committee with William H. Dial, Orlando, and W. T. Warren Jr. of Fort Pierce.

Laycock and the committee are touring the circuit this week before making their recommendations to Gov. LeRoy Collins.

The criteria and method used in making the estimates are in accord with the methods used by the Bureau of Census, Laycock said.

County-by-county totals in the new estimate are: Seminole, 32,000; Orange, 247,300; Brevard, 107,000; St. Lucie, 34,800; Indian River, 23,100; Oseola, 18,600; Martin, 15,500 and Okeechobee, 5,600.

Public hearings will be held in Melbourne and Orlando at which the committee will hear data to support these population figures. City and county officials, chamber of commerce officials and utility managers will be invited to give their views.

President Urges DeGaulle On West Summit Meeting

PARIS (UPI)—President Eisenhower has sent three letters to French President Charles DeGaulle in the past three weeks urging a Western summit meeting in Paris to prepare for an East-West conference, diplomatic sources reported today.

French officials refused to confirm or deny the reports.

The sources said Eisenhower's latest letter was delivered to DeGaulle on Friday. They said Eisenhower called for an "early meeting" of the Western "Big Four" to settle differences of opinion before sitting down with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, for "cold war" talks.

The sources said it was the third letter from Eisenhower since his talks with Khrushchev at Camp David, Md., last month.

According to the sources, it is now almost inevitable that DeGaulle will invite Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to Paris, possibly by the end of this month.

Judith Speeds Towards Azores

MIAMI (UPI)—Hurricane Judith sped across the Atlantic toward the Azores Islands today, no longer a threat to any major land area.

At 5 a. m. Judith was about 310 miles east of Bermuda, racing to the east northeast at about 40 miles per hour.

The Miami weather bureau said the hurricane, which cut across Florida Sunday as a tropical storm, is expected to continue the same forward movement at the same speed during the next 12 hours with a slight increase in forward speed in the same direction thereafter.

Gale winds extended 300 miles in the southeast semicircle and 80 miles to the northwest. Ships in the path of the storm were warned to use caution.

An official Weather Bureau report issued Monday showed the storm packed little punch when it hit the southwest Florida coast Sunday. The highest wind recorded was a 36 m.p.h. gust at Fort Myers Beach, a weather official said.

Comparatively minor damage was done and no deaths, although 1,500 to 1,900 persons left beaches and islands in the face of the approaching storm. Rainfall for the Fort Myers area was 7.57 inches in a 24-hour period.

State Flood Board Issues '61 Plans

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Florida Flood Control Board presented its plans for fiscal 1961 today to the Corps of Engineers.

The board asked the Budget Bureau Monday to include its request for $22,289,800 in appropriations for the year, including $13,555,000 for new projects and $8,734,800 for continuing contracts.

The board also requested that $1,777,800 be included to repay funds appropriated by the state for flood control above matching amounts from the government in previous years.

County Plans Junior College Survey

Seminole County school officials will conduct a survey during the early part of 1961 on the need for a junior college for the county, Supt. R. T. Milwee said this morning.

Discussing the need for a survey, Milwee said that a 75 percent enrollment growth in the county over the last three years made locating a junior college here a prime necessity.

An earlier survey was conducted in 1956. At that time, Seminole County was given a priority three rating.

Milwee said school officials plan to work on the survey as soon as they complete their present building program.

Weather May Aid Control Of California Brush Fire

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—More than 2,500 firefighters today were expected to contain the 14,200-acre brush fire that has flamed through Los Angeles National Forest for a week.

Fire officials remained cautious but said if weather conditions continued favorable they would have the blaze fully encircled during the morning hours.

They began releasing equipment and firefighters Monday night but plan to leave a large complement on hand for weeks to handle mop-up operations.

Some 100 men Monday contained a 3,500-acre fire near Castaic, 10 miles northeast of the central blaze in rugged mountainous territory. The fire started Sunday when a bullet tore through a high-tension power line.

A Long Beach school camp facility has to be evacuated when fire broke through the northeast corner of the Angeles blazes from Bear Canyon. There were 10 adults and three children in the camp.

Two Presidents Honor Marshall

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Two U. S. Presidents pay final homage today to Gen. George C. Marshall at simple, touching funeral services for the stateside soldier-diplomat they considered one of the greatest Americans.

President Eisenhower and former President Truman, Marshall's comrades in momentous events of war and peace, will lead the small group of government and military leaders at the private ceremony in the chapel of nearby Ft. Myer, Va.

Marshall then will be buried in family-only rites in Arlington National Cemetery. The nation will give its last tribute—a 19-gun salute, three volleys of rifle shots, the melancholy notes of "Taps"—when the distinguished old soldier is brought to his final resting place.

The five-star general died Friday at Walter Reed Army Hospital of old age, kidney trouble and the effects of a series of strokes. He was 78.

Boy Taking Long Bike Ride Brings Out Searchers

Billy Schaeffer, 11-year-old Lake Mary boy, took a bike ride after school yesterday to mull over a bad report card and wound up being sought by a countywide search party which included the National Guard.

He was found about 9 p. m. by the father of one of a group of Boy Scouts aiding in the search. T. A. Best, also of Lake Mary, said Billy was pushing his bike between Casselberry and home.

The boy said he had "just been riding around" since school was dismissed. Some friends said he had received "a bad report card" and said he wasn't going home.

Absentee Ballot Deadline Oct. 29

Seminole County Supervisor of Registration Camilla Bruce said today that the deadline for absentee voting in the Nov. 3 re-apportionment election is Oct. 29.

All ballots must be postmarked not later than 5 p. m. on that date, Mrs. Bruce said.

Only 3 Qualify For Trustee Post

Only three candidates qualified to run for the Seminole County school trustee post. The deadline for qualifying was yesterday.

All three will run for re-election. They are R. F. Cooper, Jim Bikenmeyer and Roy Mann.

Espionage Charge By Reds Denied

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The State Department has denied Russian charges that the security officer of the U. S. Embassy in Moscow was involved in an American espionage ring in the Soviet Union.

Department spokesman Lincoln White said Monday night that the country gave the true facts Saturday when he said the official was kidnapped, threatened and offered bribes to spy against the United States.

This country, White said, was not backing down "one fraction of an inch" from that account.

He spoke out after the Soviet government published a statement asserting that the official, Russell Langelle, had been caught attempting to pass a package containing money and an intelligence code to an agent while they were on a bus together.

White said flatly that "there's no such person. He (Langelle) did not give any rubles" to anyone.

The spokesman said Langelle, who is on his way to Washington, would be replaced in Moscow by another official. He said he did not know what Langelle's new assignment would be.

Opponents Of New Amendment Hit

ORLANDO (UPI)—House Speaker Thomas D. Beasley leveled scorn today at political candidates opposed to the legislative reapportionment amendment.

The DeFuniak Springs lawmaker, planning himself to run for governor next year, did not name any such opponents.

But in a speech to the annual convention of the State Association of County Commissioners, he attacked "people trying to ride into high office by opposing reapportionment without regard to the harm they are doing the state."

Enterprise Parent Council To Meet

The regular meeting of the Enterprise Parent-Teacher Council will be held at the school today at 7:30 p. m.

Program will be under the direction of Mrs. Katherine Sellers with final plans completed for the annual Halloween carnival scheduled for Thursday, October 29.

Truman To Name Choice Later On

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former President Harry S. Truman has promised to name "a little later on" his personal choice among the dozen Democrats he believes could be elected president in next year's election.

Arriving here Monday from Independence, Mo., for the funeral today of Gen. George C. Marshall, Truman was peppered with questions from reporters about the campaign.

He told them that he hoped the Democrats would select a candidate "who can win — and I'm sure we will."

"We've got a dozen men who could win. But you can't trick me into saying who they are," he said. "I'll tell you my choice a little later on."

Pilot Saves 4 As Plane Burns

SEATTLE (UPI) — A veteran Boeing test pilot today was credited with saving the lives of four of eight persons aboard a 707-220 which crashed and burned on a river sand bar 50 miles north of here Sunday.

Four survived the fiery crash of the jet liner because it was not on the ground when it crashed. The plane was on the water when it crashed and the four were thrown away in what Boeing Airplane Co. called a "brilliant maneuver due to misapplication of controls." Only the test pilot, in which those who survived were riding, remained aloft after the plane crashed.

The rest of the plane became a smoldering pyre for Baum and three others, two of them personnel of Braniff Air Lines for whom the airplane had been manufactured.

Boeing officials, when pressed for clarification of the "misapplication" remark, said that any further explanation would have to wait until after an investigation which will be conducted today by the Civil Aeronautics Board and Boeing.

Boeing said their original statement was based on brief interviews with survivors of the crash who were taken to Arlington Hospital at Arlington, Wash., near the crash site.

After the engine pods ripped off, Boeing said, Baum "looked over and recovered the airplane to level flight with power from the remaining engine. The pilot made a controlled wheel-up landing in the best available spot, resulting in the saving of four lives.

The four who survived had gone into the tail of the airplane which separated from the rest of the aircraft on impact."

Those who died with Baum were identified as George C. Hagen, 32, Boeing flight engineer from Boston, Wash., and Capt. John A. Burns, 40, and Capt. M. Frank Staley, 41, both of Braniff.

The survivors were listed as William Alloopp, Seattle, a Boeing pilot; William Huebner of the Federal Aviation Agency and Al Krause and Fred Symmak of Braniff.

THE RENAULT DAUPHINE has joined the other 1960 model cars being shown in Sanford and Bob McKee of McKee Motors is extolling the virtues of the sporty, but economical import from France. The whole Renault line is available at McKee's.

Quotable Quotes

United Press International
WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower in ordering the Justice Department to seek a Taft-Hartley law injunction in the steel strike: "It is a sad day for the nation."

WASHINGTON — Former President Truman, arriving in the capital, asked if he liked still to be recognized by the public.
"When a fellow is fool enough to make himself notorious he's got to pay the penalty."

BOSTON — A spokesman for an advertising agency which handles posters for the Metropolitan Traffic Authority on why the artists and model costume ball posters had to have clothing painted over the bare figures:
"We considered the posters offensive. We have to be very careful with things like that."

FRANKFURT — Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan reporting seeing a light on a church tower in Warsaw which many believed was a miracle:
"There definitely was a light and I don't know any explanation for it."

Club To See Civil War Film

"Mansions, Magnolias and a Mad Memoir" will bring scenes of the Deep South to the screen at 8 p. m. Thursday when the Sanford Camera Club presents a free slide show at the Pinecrest School Auditorium.

Photographic Society of America Yellow Don Nibbellink will combine the slide presentation with his recorded commentary, background music and sound effects. A story of two war-thrilled lovers will be woven into the scenes of antebellum Natchez, Miss., homes.

The Gettysburg battlefield, complete with Rebel yell, the Delta Queen river boat, Natchez mansions and a drill team at Jefferson Military College, are among the sounds and sights of the Old South to be brought to the audience through screen and tape.

Nibbellink will suggest ways to use a color camera and flash to capture the mood of homes and gardens. He will give tips on time exposure, available-light pictures, use of people as picture subjects and the desirability of telling a story with vacation pictures.

Red China Army To Tighten Grip

HONG KONG (UPI) — The Communist Chinese regime, worried about its army, has ordered a vigorous re-indoctrination drive in a determined fresh move to tighten the party's grip on the armed forces.

Informed sources reported that newly appointed Defense Minister Lin Biao issued instructions that the party must be obeyed absolutely and unquestionably and that the army's contact with the communists should be strengthened.

The army is to be given an ideological and political refresher course, with all implications that go with such a measure in a Communist country.

Party leaders have been hinting lately that so-called middle-class tendencies in some strata of the Communist Chinese army conflicted with the government's policy line.

In thinly disguised statements, the demand has been raised in Peking for the strengthening of party leadership.

Lady Godiva Has Horse Trouble

NIAGARA FALLS (UPI) — Patrolman Mardig Aiolan was dispatched to "investigate theft of Lady Godiva's horse," but the case proved anticlimactic despite its historic implications.

It turned out that Lady Godiva is the stage name of an entertainer who was appearing at a local restaurant, and the horse used in her act—hadn't been stolen but the lock was broken off the animal's trailer.

New Historic TV Series Proves Honest Drama

BY FRED DANIG
NEW YORK (UPI) — "Divided we stand," the first in the new NBC-TV series called Our American Heritage, sped across our American history books Sunday night in depicting the deep philosophical differences between Secretary of State Jefferson and Secretary of the Treasury Hamilton.

Both men made their points in a play that came to life with many angry outbursts and passionate, bitter arguments. The impact of Arthur Kennedy's Hamilton — a snobbish, quick-tempered, mistrustful, cynical portrait — was heightened by Ralph Bellamy's subdued, patient and wise portrait of Jefferson. Alex Segal's direction conveyed a fine sense of immediacy and Morton Wintzberg's script produced spirited but honest drama. The major drawback however were the telescoped scenes. Examples: "President Washington's cabinet was called to an emergency meeting and a neutrality policy was adopted after a debate that lasted, at best, 30 seconds. They didn't kid around in those days.

show of this sort, is still a thing of beauty.

On Friday night, Victor Borge's NBC-TV special had a short supply of the zany humor that made his earlier shows so enjoyable. While the filmed segments, made in Copenhagen, were interesting, Borge's takeoff on "Hamlet" was tedious.

In short, the great Dane's special was a bit dog-eared. Another NBC-TV special, Project 20's Life in the Thirties, recaptured the flavor of that decade with some fine old film clips, clever editing, excellent music and a solid writing job.

A new ABC-TV series, Robert Taylor starring in the Detectives, (whatever happened to titles like M-Squad, Dragnet and Lineup?) debuted on Friday with a promising premise, good acting and commercially acceptable detectives. I think the series will do well.

The Channel Swim: Perry Como's production firm, Huncom, will produce two 13-week half-hour filmed shows as Como's NBC-TV summer replacement. Executive film producer Alvin Cooperman, whose credits include the Shirley Temple Storybook and the June Allyson series, also will turn out four one-hour pilot films for Como's firm.

Vice President Richard Nixon has just joined the guest list for NBC-TV's Oct. 25 tribute to Eleanor Roosevelt. But Alec Guinness has been forced to drop out because of other commitments. . . CBS-TV's Ed Sullivan visits NBC-TV's Jack Paar Show this Wednesday. . .

Friday night's Person to Person on CBS-TV will visit the homes of Jack Lemmon and "Prince" Mike Romanoff.

Cliff Arquette, or Charley Weaver, announces he'll fly in the best Peter Pan tradition during his Wednesday night ABC-TV Hobby Lobby show. . . Lee J. Cobb and Sylvia Sydney will star in "The Commitment," one of the 10 special productions in the new CBS-TV G. E. Theater series.

Comedy For Judith

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Judith Anderson, one of the world's foremost serious actresses, switches to comedy in Jerry Lewis' "Cinderella" for Paramount. Miss Anderson will portray the wicked stepmother in the modernized spoof of the old fairy tale.

U. S. Plans Heavy Rocket Schedule

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States will launch 10 rockets during the week starting Nov. 16, in an effort to get more information about the earth's atmosphere, radiations from the sun and tiny meteors in space.

The program was announced by the National Academy of Sciences in a report on the U. S. program for International Geophysical Cooperation—1959, known as IGC-59.

IGC-59 is a world research program which took up where the International Geophysical Year left off. Under the IGY program, 66 nations worked together to learn more about the earth, sun, and space.

You Can Lead Him To Water...

ELKTON, Md. (UPI) — This is the story of the reluctant bridegroom, or "you can't get a man with a gun."

The not-so-anxious groom, Robert K. Worrell, 68, told police a former girl friend forced him out of his bed in Moorestown, N. J., at gunpoint and made him accompany her to the marriage license bureau here. Object: matrimony.

The would-be bride, Angeline Saller, 47, a Burlington, N. J., factory worker, didn't make it to the altar. Instead she's in jail under $500 bond charged with carrying a concealed deadly weapon—a .38 caliber revolver.

Sheriff Edgar U. Startt, who broke up the wedding, said the FBI was investigating the affair to determine whether to bring kidnaping charges. Startt said Worrell and Miss Saller had gone together for three or four years until they broke up in June.

The sheriff said Worrell claimed that Miss Saller and a friend, Alex Olson, 55, of Ocean City, N. J., routed him from bed Monday morning. Worrell said Miss Saller told him, "You're going to marry me or I'm going to kill you."

Miss Saller, Worrell said, then forced him to accompany her while Olson drove them to the marriage license office in Elkton.

WSCS To Sponsor Lecture By Former UN Observer

Dr. Mabel Head of Lakeland and New York City will be guest speaker Thursday at 10:30 a. m. in McKinley Hall of the First Methodist Church. Her subject will be "The United Nations Works For Peace" and will be sponsored by the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

Dr. Head, after 13 years as a teacher, left that profession to serve the cause of missions more directly. For 11 years she worked at the task of Home and Foreign Missions and Christian Education in the church. Believing strongly in the unity of Christian forces to meet the world's needs, she helped to unite the three inter-denominational women's organizations—the Council of Women for Home Missions, the Women's Committee of the Foreign Missions Conference and the United Council of Church Women, in 1941. She served on its board until called to be official observer at the United Nations in June, 1941, a position she held until December, 1950.

Since then she has kept close touch with the UN and has learned to know its work and many of the personalities there. She was one of the group that made recommendation of items to be included in the Charter of the United Nations adopted at San Francisco.

Her life-long interest in World Affairs has been enriched by study and travel in the Orient and Latin America. For the past few years she has traveled all over the United States speaking to women's clubs, men's groups, schools, colleges and churches.

The public is invited. A fellowship luncheon will follow her talk and the church nursery will be open.

Gala Plans For Party Completed

The Officers Wives Club of the Naval Air Station have completed plans for a gala cocktail party to be held at the BOQ Friday night from 7 to 9 p. m.

VAH-5 will be in charge, with Mrs. E. W. Foote and Mrs. D. J. Brough serving as co-hostesses. Mrs. H. G. Goblen is decoration chairman and her committee consists of Mrs. D. E. Dearolph, Mrs. R. D. Murphy, Mrs. C. N. James and Mrs. K. M. Sandon. Mrs. I. M. Rowell will be in charge of the food and Mrs. Foote is ticket chairman.

Many door prizes will be awarded during the evening.

Teachers Guests Of Woman's Club

The annual Teacher's Party given by the American Home Department of the Woman's Club was held Thursday at the Pinecrest school.

The teachers and their guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. George Wells, president of the Woman's Club. Mrs. Donald Flamm, chairman of the American Home Department, invited everyone into the dining room for a buffet dinner.

The center of each table was decorated with fern and artificial flowers of pink and white and a favor was at each place.

After the dinner a program, "It Could Be You" was presented with Frank Mcbane as master of ceremonies. He gave door prizes and announced the commercials for the show.

Mrs. S. G. Harriman was commentator for the program and was assisted by Mrs. J. P. Wilson.

Guests on "It Could Be You" were Mrs. Elizabeth Sharon, Miss Zilla Welch, Bud Layer, Ernest Cowley, Mrs. Beulah Crockett, Mrs. Lucille Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Koskey, Harold Heckenbach, Mrs. Velma Mitchell, Mrs. Margaret Reynolds, Stewart Gatchel, Miss Mary Alice Cochran, Mrs. Ola Cochran, Hugh Carlton, Miss Barbara Ruprecht, Roger Harris and Andrew Bracken.

Each guest was introduced by a funny joke about himself, and presented a gift suitable for the occasion.

Mrs. Mae Fort was presented a bouquet of flowers for having taught the most number of years in the Sanford schools.

The mystery guest was Mrs. J. E. Terwilliger Jr., whose mother, Mrs. Nancy Brock, is a teacher.

Members of the club in the program were Mrs. William Stemper, Mrs. Gordon Sweeney, Mrs. Donald Flamm, Mrs. Herman Stanley, Mrs. John White, Mrs. George Wells, Mrs. S. J. Nix, Mrs. Ralph A. Smith, and Mrs. George Stein.

Mrs. A. W. Woodall was general chairman with Mrs. J. P. Wilson as co-chairman.

Hostesses were Mrs. William Kirk, Mrs. Ralph Jarvis, Mrs. Paul Coleman, Mrs. William Stemper, Mrs. John White, Mrs. Alfred Chiles, and Mrs. Donald Flamm. Others helping were Mrs. William Gramkow, Sr., Mrs. Jack Stemper, and Mrs. Carl Schilke.

Future Teachers Club Entertains

The Future Teacher's Club of Seminole High School entertained new members with a hamburger fry and swimming party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. McAlexander in Loch Arbor.

Initiated as new members were Larry Gilstrap, Bedford Aiken, Pat Place, Sena Locke, Sandra Corbett, Babs Odham, Pam Jones, Donna Young, Susan Tammy, Judy Buntun, Sandra Richards, Sherelene Shepherd, Barbara Middleton, Jeanne Markham, Cathy Bond, Betty Slaton, Sally Wallace, Susan Tanner, Ann Pharr, Betty Thomas, Rhoda Upstein and Carol Beppard.

Officers for the 1959-60 school term are Dian Aiken, president; Janet Glenn, vice president; Eileen Myers, secretary, and Dot McAlexander, treasurer. Janet Glenn will serve on the state panel at the F. T. A. convention to be held in Daytona on Oct. 30-31. Also elected as delegates to attend are Bonnie Gielow, Eileen Myers and Dian Aiken. Candidates from Seminole High School for state officers are Eileen Myers, president and Bonnie Gielow, secretary.

Delegates will be accompanied to Daytona by their sponsors, Mrs. Kent Bateman and Mrs. Bill Wray. At the convention, displays will be shown by different schools and Seminole High will enter a scrap book that has been kept by Joanne Ziegler.

Members discussed American Education Week and decided to place special emphasis on National Teacher's Day.

Garden Gate

BY EUNICE R. LAMBERT

Arranging flowers is a distinct change of pace for me. Horticulture has always been my forte in Atlanta, Norfolk, Sanford and DeBary. Growing things, rather than manipulating the end products, flowers, foliage and greenery into something artistically beautiful, has given me aesthetic pleasure. However, sending bouquets from my garden to neighbors and friends, to add gaiety to a festive occasion or bring comfort to a friend who is sad, is an inherited part of me, for so always did my mother.

I believe neither of us thought too much in terms of strict adherence to rules but we did follow certain principles of design that came to us naturally or had been selected from experimentation, so that they brought us satisfaction. I'll describe them briefly under: proportion, balance, contrast and harmony or unity.

A flower arrangement is in good proportion when it seems the right size for its container. If you are using a tall vase, the safe general rule is to have the height of flower materials extend one and a half to two times the height of the vase. For a low container have your longest stems one and a half to two times the length or diameter of the bowl.

Easy flower arrangements look well balanced when they give us a sense of stability; do not appear to be lopsided. The two kinds of balance we try for are: symmetrical (the two halves identical or nearly so) and the asymmetrical, where the two sides are not actually equal but appear to the eye to have equal weight or importance. Symmetrical arrangements are easier, but asymmetrical ones can be more rewarding and challenging to our skill.

Contrast is achieved through color and form in materials used. Color contrasts in a flower arrangement are gained by combining hues of greater and lesser values. Pale hues have less value than deep shades. Dark colors look best low in an arrangement as they appear heavier to the eye.

Contrasting textures are easy to secure for they often come built in—soft, velvety flowers with shiny foliage or coarse, ruffled petals with slick leaves. Contrasting forms add value when placed together—rounded flowers, pointed leaves—deeply cut leaves with solid looking flower heads.

Arrangements are harmonious when all elements are well blended. Unity is always your goal in making an arrangement, resulting from selecting plant materials, container, accessories and setting so that they seem to fuse together. Now that I think of it, these principles of proportion, balance, contrast and unity are all a part of creative beauty, whether it be in music, art, writing or even in effective speech. These are the very same principles that I emphasized over and over again when I tried to develop reasonably good speech and writing habits in high school and college students.

Chief Would Tighten Up On Young Drivers

Police Chief Roy Williams has made a firm stand on the courts treat all juveniles who drive automobiles as adults are treated.

The chief said he thinks youths with regular drivers' licenses should be tried in adult courts if they violate traffic laws. Licenses are issued to 16-year olds, but they cannot be subjected to regular court action, he pointed out. They are taken to juvenile court.

Chief Williams said he also is in favor of a parental liability law being discussed by the city, especially in view of auto accidents.

While he admits that there are not an unusual number of traffic accidents in Sanford involving juvenile drivers, the chief still thinks the problem warrants attention.

Raising the minimum age for drivers' licenses to 17 or 18 and the age for trial in regular courts to 16 was recommended by the police chief.

"There's a gap there that ought to be closed up," he said.

It is fortunate that most drivers—and most is correct—exercise enough caution in traffic or observe regulations closely enough. It is worse that young drivers are held strictly to safety requirements while they are beginning to drive.

Southern Congressmen Reversing Old Trends

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Southern congressmen are more often in the anti-administration camp than not but several of the exceptions are notable, an analysis by the Congressional Quarterly showed today.

Although the majority anti-administration camp is led by Sen. D. Johnston of South Carolina with 75 per cent of his voters favoring administration proposals, Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia with 64 per cent against, Johnston's fellow South Carolinian Thummond ranks second with Frank J. Lausche of Ohio the Democrat who voted most against the administration line.

Thummond voted with Eisenhower 65 per cent of the time.

Thummond's pre-like record, although high among the Democrats, was far down the line among Republicans.

The conservative southerners, with the exception of Johnston, went along with the much more than Democrats from other sections of the country.

Southerners, including Thummond, held the No. 2 through 5 spots on the pro-like roll.

Sen. Spessard Holland, Florida had 64 per cent; Sen. A. Willis

Robertson, Virginia, 61 per cent; Sen. John Stennis, Mississippi, 54; and Sen. Harry Byrd, Virginia, 54 per cent.

Sens. Lister D. Hill and John Sparkman of Alabama; George A. Donahoe, Florida; Herman E. Talmadge, Georgia; Sam J. Erwin and Everett B. Jordan, North Carolina; Albert Gore and Estes Kefauver, Tennessee, all voted against the more than they voted with him.

Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia and James O. Eastland of Mississippi strung along with the administration a majority of the time.

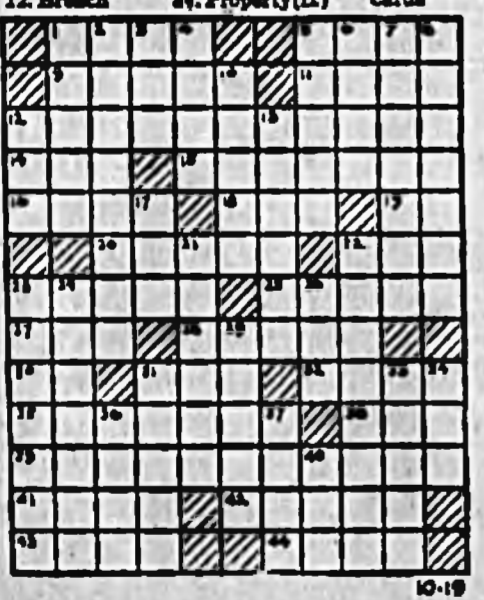

On the House side, a southerner was one of Eisenhower's five champions among the Democrats. Rep. J. Vaughan Gary of Virginia voted with the 57 per cent of the time as did four other congressmen.

Southern congressmen were pretty active in the lineup against the administration proposals.

Rep. Randall S. Harmon of Indiana was first with 75 per cent. He was followed by George M. Grant of Alabama, 72 per cent; Paul Brown of Georgia, 70 per cent; and Erwin Mitchell of Georgia, 69 per cent.

Assignment Washington

BY ED KOTERBA

WASHINGTON — Berk in 1958 the TV announcer gushed with the flair of an old-time currier: "Dot, dot, dot into pictures, and pictures into dollars!"

But, as it turned out, some of the lines were missing.

Those lines made a different kind of picture. And now supply them was a part-time comedian appearing, free, under the auspices of the Congress of the United States, specializing in fizzy quizzes.

Eddie Hilgemeier of New York was, as a comic, sad. But he described, dramatically enough, his prowess with keen eye and deft finger.

He related how, with his sharp eye, he spied a notebook of Dottie's contestant Martin Wien in the girl's studio dressing room while he was a standby on the program.

With his nimble fingers he plucked the last page from the notebook, which, alas, contained the very answers to questions being asked the girl on the air at that very moment.

This stealthy move by comedian Hilgemeier eventually sprung the dam of destruction upon the pots of gold that dangled from a half-dozen nationally televised quiz shows.

It was this incriminating sheet of ruled paper, three inches by six, that made Dottie go to pol-o.

Hilgemeier was, as Rep. Oren Harris (D., Ark.) put it, "the man who blew the whistle on TV quiz shows."

And ever since then Hilgemeier has been, mostly, blowing his top.

Chronologically, it went this way: First he complained to the Dottie producers. They paid him $1500 "hush money" (which he spent). Then he told his story to the newspapers. They published it.

Next he blew his top to the sponsors. They killed the show. And then another part-time comedian, Jack Paar, made some reference to Hilgemeier on his TV show, so again Eddie the comic blew his stack and, he said, he's now suing for $750,000 for libel.

And now, at the invitation of the U. S. Congress, he was retelling it all, complete with kinesthetics of the half-hour show in which he never did get to appear.

Hilgemeier was the saddest comic in the House caucus room, even though he was the sort of hero in the quiz fix. (It was after his "expose" that the Herb Siempel facts were disclosed).

The reason he was sad was, he said, because he hadn't had a chance to make New Yorkers laugh, for pay, since the fixed

Washington Calling

By MARQUE CHASE

WASHINGTON — The pleas relative to stop politics at the water's edge has been honored more often in the breach than in the observance and it is likely to be ignored once again in the Presidential contest that will be at a furious heat just one year hence.

By taking the initiative in inviting Premier Khrushchev to this country and thereby opening a prolonged negotiation to end the cold war, President Eisenhower has presented the Democrats with an acute dilemma. They appear to be put in the position either of saying "Me, too" or of insisting on the "strong line" and accusing the Republicans of going soft on communism.

In taking the latter line, as some Democrats already have done, they risk putting the party in the position of opposing peace, which is a little like being against motherhood and the sanctity of the home. It is, in short, a highly dubious position for a politician seeking votes.

The real difficulty is that in the nearly seven years they have been out of power the Democrats have stood on the record of the past. That record, once the desperate urgency of 1948 following the Communist takeover of Czechoslovakia had been recognized, was one of great achievement, beginning with the Marshall Plan and the reconstruction of European strength.

As chairman of the advisory committee on foreign policy to the Democratic Advisory Council, former Secretary of State Dean Acheson has stood like Horatius at the bridge saying so to any suggestion of change in the continuing policy. Increasingly Democratic leaders have grown restive under this restraint, urging the need for new ideas and a new approach to foreign policy in the light of a changing situation.

But Acheson has tolerated no back talk. When two years ago George F. Kennan, who had been a member of the State Department's policy planning staff under Acheson, ventured to suggest the need to re-examine German policy and the possibility of a mutual withdrawal of military forces in central Europe, Acheson hit hard. He denounced Kennan's proposal in almost-brutal language.

Pointing up this difference was the statement Acheson made the other day in Germany to the effect that he would never have discussed Berlin with the Russians, since the situation there is satisfactory to the West. That statement, seeming to encourage the most intransigent elements in Germany, his stirred a mutter of protest in Democratic ranks.

The dialogue is now to be joined again, since Kennan is making an important speech on foreign policy here this week. Having refused literally hundreds of invitations, he accepted the bid of the Women's National Democratic Club to speak at a luncheon meeting. In a talk in Chicago in April that received almost no notice in the East Kennan said that the Western powers had no business in Berlin and that it was high time to come up with some new propositions for resolving an abnormal situation.

Perhaps before convention time when they will have to draft a foreign policy plank in their platform the Democrats will be able to agree. But with the backing of former President Truman, under whom he served, Acheson will continue to be powerful force. In response to the Eisenhower initiative many Democrats concerned with foreign policy are saying, "Yes, but..." This will hardly be a valid posture, however, if the lines are drawn as between those who favor peaceful negotiation and those who oppose it.

There are divisions in Republican ranks, too. Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, chairman of the Republican conference of the Senate, was openly critical of the Khrushchev invitation. But these differences tend to be submerged because the initiative came from a Republican administration. Bridges is an all-out supporter of Vice-President Nixon, one of the principal beneficiaries of the new turn in foreign policy.

The viewers with alarm at whom Acheson is the most apt and articulate foe are the American people overcome by a kind of euphoria; a nerve gas labeled peace. So pervasive is it that all thought of defense and security will be abandoned. They compare the Eisenhower overture to Chamberlain's approach to Hitler and the "peace in our time" of Munich.

No one can deny that this danger exists, so deep and pervasive is the longing for an end to the threat of nuclear annihilation with a glimpse of daylight at the end of the tunnel. But the step that has been taken is surely tentative and cautious. And at times it must seem that those with a vested interest in continuing the cold war are bound to frustrate even this timid step.

Benedictine, a liqueur containing 20 different herbs and including honey and China tea, was first concocted about 1250 by a Benedictine monk named Dom Bernardo Vinelli.

There's nothing like a new car and no new car like Chevrolet. This is the exciting Impala Convertible!

SIXTY'S SIZZLER

The car with the year's hottest style is getting the warmest reception of all. And it's no wonder... when you look at all the new and different things Chevrolet has for 1960! Come and see it!

THAT'S CHEVY!

You can tell already, by the growing number of new Chevrolets you see on the road, that this one's the sizzler for Sixty! It was bound to happen. When you make an effort to find out all the things most people want in a car, then make sure they're all designed into a car most people can afford, you're almost certain to receive a pretty hot reception.

People look over Chevrolet's 16 freshly styled '60 models. They see a choice of 24 engine-drive combinations, including a new Economy Turbo-Fire V8. They drive a Chevy. They like the way the ride has been polished and perfected with new rubber-cushion body mounts muffling road hum and vibration. They like Chevy's wide seals, its wonderfully easy handling, the whole feeling of cruising along smoothly and comfortably in a car that never tires of travel. They just can't see a good reason for looking any farther.

Matter of fact, it looks like Chevrolet has a corner on quality and fine features in its field. Even costly cars have to look to their laurels—Chevrolet sets a new standard by matching elegance with economy. By offering luxury you've never seen before in Chevrolet's price class. We've got a hunch you'll go for this one. Just try it... and see if we aren't right!

The Superlative '60 Chevrolet... nearest to perfection a low-priced car ever came!

LSU Remains No. 1 In College Ratings

NEW YORK (UPI)—Louisiana State, Northwestern and Texas—still enjoying perfect football records although they were hard-pressed in their latest starts—remained 1-2-3 today in United Press International's major college ratings.

Southern California, Mississippi, Syracuse and Penn State advanced and took over the 4-5-7 positions in the latest balloting by the 33 leading coaches who rate the teams for UPI.

Auburn, moving back into the top 10 after a three-week absence, was eighth. Georgia Tech slipped from fourth to ninth in the wake of its 7-6 loss to Auburn. Wisconsin was the other newcomer in the select group, advancing to 10th after ranking 21st last week.

Purdue skidded from 5th to 14th in the wake of a 15-0 loss to Ohio State. Iowa, ninth last week, dropped into a three-way tie with UCLA and Ohio and Ohio State for 17th following a 25-16 loss to Wisconsin.

Oregon was 11th and Illinois top 20 in that order. TCU, Washington and Tennessee tied for 20th. Indiana was the only other team mentioned on this week's ballots.

Still On Top

NEW YORK (UPI)—The United Press International major college football ratings (with first-place votes and won-lost records in parentheses):

Team	Points	Record
1. LSU (28)	330	(6-0)
2. Northwestern (7)	299	(4-0)
3. Texas (6)	238	(5-0)
4. Southern Cal (2)	232	(4-0)
5. Mississippi (2)	225	(5-0)
6. Syracuse (1)	175	(4-0)
7. Penn State (5)	96	(5-0)
8. Auburn (3)	85	(3-1)
9. Georgia Tech (4)	70	(4-1)
10. Wisconsin (3)	54	(3-1)

11. Oregon, 33; 12. Illinois, 23; 13. Arkansas, 22; 14. Purdue, 11; 15 (tie), Oklahoma and Clemson, 5 each; 17 (tie), Ohio State, UCLA and Iowa; 20 (tie), Texas Christian, Washington and Tennessee; 23, Indiana 1.

New Dodger Park Gets Court Okay

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A U. S. Supreme Court ruling opened the door today to construction on the new Dodger baseball stadium in Chavez Ravine, and owner Walter O'Malley said he hopes the lavish park will be ready in time for the 1960 World Series.

But not even O'Malley, displaying optimism on the Dodger chances of repeating as champions, predicted the team could open to play in the 15-million dollar baseball showplace before next fall. That meant another regular season in the Coliseum—or in Wrigley Field, home of the defunct Los Angeles Angels.

The court Monday dismissed appeals of two taxpayers of earlier opinions upholding the city's contract with the Dodgers for land in the now "famous" Chavez Ravine. Attorney Phil Silver, representing the taxpayers, let it be known he no longer intended to dispute the case in view of the high court's action.

Doby Nears End Of Baseball Trail

United Press International Larry Doby, the first Negro to wear an American League uniform, apparently has reached the end of the trail as a major league baseball player.

The one-time slugging outfielder, who spent the last three seasons shuttling back and forth between the Cleveland Indians, Detroit Tigers and Chicago White Sox, was assigned to San Diego of the Pacific Coast League Monday for the second time in three months by the White Sox.

Doby, picked up from the Tigers on May 13 for in excess of the $20,000 waiver price, first was sent to San Diego on Aug. 2 to make room for rookie pitcher Kent McBride, whom the White Sox purchased from Indianapolis. Oddly enough, it was Bill Veck, the man who brought the big slugger into the major leagues with Cleveland in 1947 who reluctantly was forced to send Doby to the minors in August after a hassle with Manager Al Lopez.

In 39 games with the Tigers and White Sox, Doby batted only .230 with no home runs and 13 runs batted in, a far cry from his heyday with the Indians between 1949 and 1953 when he smacked 168 home runs and had a .286 batting average.

With the White Sox in need of hitting help, Doby again was assigned to the club's new minor league affiliate, this time but right. Also going down to San Diego were catchers Les Moss and Chuck Lindstrom and pitcher Hal Trisley. Their removal reduced the Chicago roster to 36, leaving the club with room to call up four promising farm hands to protect them from the forthcoming player draft.

Doby, of course, could come back to the majors if a club is willing to draft him for $20,000.

The Indians also shuffled a number of players, promoting six youngsters to the parent club. Called up, obviously to protect them from the draft, were pitchers Wynn Hawkins and Carl Mathias from Mobile of the Southern Association and Don Schaeffer from San Diego, and outfielders John McLane from Mobile, Harold Jones from Minot of the Northern League and Al Lapow from Batavia of the New York-Pennsylvania League.

The Baltimore Orioles, meanwhile, purchased long-ball hitting first baseman Jim Gentile from St. Paul of the American Association for an undisclosed sum of money and two players to be named next spring. Gentile, who failed in two previous trials with the Dodgers, hit 77 homers with 87 runs batted in and compiled a .286 batting mark in 1959.

Fox Of Chisox Named Top All Player Of Year

NEW YORK (UPI)—Nelson Fox, a little guy who's used to doing it the hard way, was an easy winner today in the United Press International's poll to select the 1959 American League Player of the Year.

The 135-pound "heart" of the American League champion Chicago White Sox all season, Fox was the choice of 18 of the experts who formed the 34-man committee representing every city in the circuit.

Luis Aparicio, the brilliant-fielding shortstop who teamed with Fox to give the White Sox their watch-charm double play duo, was second in the balloting with four votes. Outfielder-first baseman Tito Francona of the Cleveland Indians had two votes and outfielder Jim Landis of the White Sox had one. One expert declined to select a player of the year.

Once scooped at as too small ever to play major league baseball, the 31-year-old native of St. Thomas, Pa., developed into one of the sharpest hitters and most adept second basemen in baseball through sheer determination and hard work. The sparkplug of the White Sox in '59, he batted .308, drove in 70 runs and covered more ground than any other second baseman in the league.

Fox' fiery spirit and determination also were credited with helping Aparicio develop into a short stop who this year won comparison with such stars of other years as Marty Marion, Phil Rizzuto and PeeWee Reese.

Flowers Of Mississippi Is SEC Back Of Week

ATLANTA (UPI)—Fullback Charlie Flowers, 200-pound battering ram for the unbeaten, fifth-ranked Mississippi Rebels today was named Southeastern Conference back of the week by United Press International for his performance in the Rebels' 53-7 rout of Tulane.

Flowers, a 22-year-old senior from Marianna, Ark., took over the SEC scoring lead with three touchdowns against Tulane. He gained 84 yards in 14 carries to raise his season's average back near the six-yard pace he has held through two and a half years of varsity football.

In addition, Flowers caught a pass for 23 yards, set up two of his own touchdowns, and threw the key block that enabled a teammate to score another.

Jackie Burkett of Auburn, the 220-pound senior center who was third-team All-America a year ago, was named SEC lineman of the week for his fierce play in Auburn's hard-earned 7-6 victory over Georgia Tech. Burkett was a near-unanimous choice with the only votes he didn't receive going to his teammate, second team All-America guard Zeke Smith. Flowers' choice was not as clear cut as he had competition from quarterback Bobby Hunt of Auburn, halfback Tom Moore of Vanderbilt, and quarterback Pat Trammell of Alabama.

Hunt gained 47 yards against a tough Tech defense — 23 during Auburn's one touchdown march. A fake handoff to his fullback and a six-yard slash into the end zone by Hunt gave the Tigers their score.

Moore, off to a slow start this season, was back to 1958 form Saturday night as Vanderbilt upset previously unbeaten Florida 13-4. The 203-pound senior scored one touchdown, gained 77 yards rushing, caught four passes for 81 yards, and was outstanding on defense.

Trammell, the heart of an uncertain Alabama offense, gained 84 yards on a day dedicated to defense. He passed for 56, including a 21-yard aerial that scored the Tide touchdown, and ran for 46 more—both high for both teams.

Senators Assured Capital Stay

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Refusal of American League club owners to approve a shift of the Washington Senators to Minneapolis today assured the team of at least another year in the nation's capital.

Owner Calvin Griffith announced late Monday that the Senators would stay in Washington because he was unable to get the votes of five other club owners necessary to make the move.

Sever Connections

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI)—The Indianapolis Indians, whose working agreement with the Chicago White Sox has been severed, will decide today whether they will operate as an independent team in 1960 or seek another major league tieup.

Expansion Of NFL To 14 Clubs Expected By 1960

CHICAGO (UPI)—Expansion of the National Football League to 14 teams has been unofficially approved by 11 of the 12 club owners, George Halas said today, and Dallas, Tex., and possibly Houston, Tex., will begin play in 1960.

Halas, owner-coach of the Chicago Bears kicked off a bitter intra-league scrap Monday in announcing the expansion. In addition two more teams will be added in 1961 or 1962 under terms of a proposal approved by every owner except George P. Marshall of the Washington Redskins.

Halas introduced the owners of the Dallas franchise, Clint Murchison Jr., and Bedford Wynne, both 36, Monday night, and said that the major shareholder applying for the Houston franchise was Craig Cullinan Jr.

The Houston franchise is contingent upon the franchise applicants finding a stadium "satisfactory" for National League play, Halas said, and if the stadium cannot be obtained, then the 14th franchise will go to another city. He could not suggest what other cities might be considered.

Murchison and Wynne in a statement expressed their pleasure at obtaining the franchise. "We understand that this expansion will be dealt with at the regular league meeting January," it read, "and that it is the present intention of the owners to grant the Dallas franchise to us. With this assurance, we are proceeding with our organizational plans."

"These plans just started today," they said. "We have no coach or general manager in mind."

Murchison said he felt that the National League would see that both new franchises would "have players representative of the league," and "we hope to have some of the good players."

Trainer Suspended

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York State Harness Racing Commission has upheld the suspension of driver-trainer George Sholly after granting him a hearing Monday. Sholly was suspended for "inconsistent performances" with the pacer, Hi-Lo's Flag.

Gators Prep For Roughest Task Of 1959 Schedule

United Press International LSU, which left its home stadium for the first time last weekend to play Kentucky and returned with one of its smallest victories, may find Florida Field just as tough down at Gainesville in the Gators' homecoming this Saturday.

Coach Paul Dietzel's squad beat Kentucky, 8-0, in its first Southeastern Conference game of the year. But the Tigers were evidently shaken at not having thousands of partisan Bayou fans on hand.

If the Tigers can become Gator bait, Florida may be the team to topple the undefeated Florida, which lost to LSU last year 10-7, which promises some surprises. "We are planning closed practices all week," Coach Bob Woodruff announced Monday, "and there may be some lineup changes."

Most SEC teams took Monday off, marking a hard weekend of football and the half way point of the season for some teams. Georgia Tech, Auburn and Alabama players were given a holiday.

Mississippi Coach John Vaught ran his unbeaten Rebels through a light contact scrimmage for what Rebel fans are calling Mississippi's biggest test to date, this Saturday's game with Arkansas at Memphis.

Vanderbilt, fresh from its win over Florida, ran through a brisk, hour-long workout in preparation for the game with Virginia.

Mississippi State Coach Wade Walker reported four of his players were injured in the Georgia game Saturday night. Walker said tackles Floyd Powers and Ray Osborne, guard Benny Stacy and fullback Bill Schoenrock are on the current injury list.

Tennessee, keeping in mind how little Chattanooga defeated them 14-6 last year, worked out Monday.

Crescent City Downs Lyman

The Lyman Greyhounds were downed 26-7 by Crescent City in a hard-fought game last Friday night. Crescent City's speedy backs proved to be too much for the Lyman defense. The Greyhounds moved the ball well but failed to get the scores.

Coach Proctor said he was favorably impressed with the playing of Cal Presley who was converted to offensive halfback.

Ed O'Neal, another converted defensive man, and Keith Tennant alternated at the fullback slot for Lyman.

Paris Sidewalk Affords View Of Bardot Parade

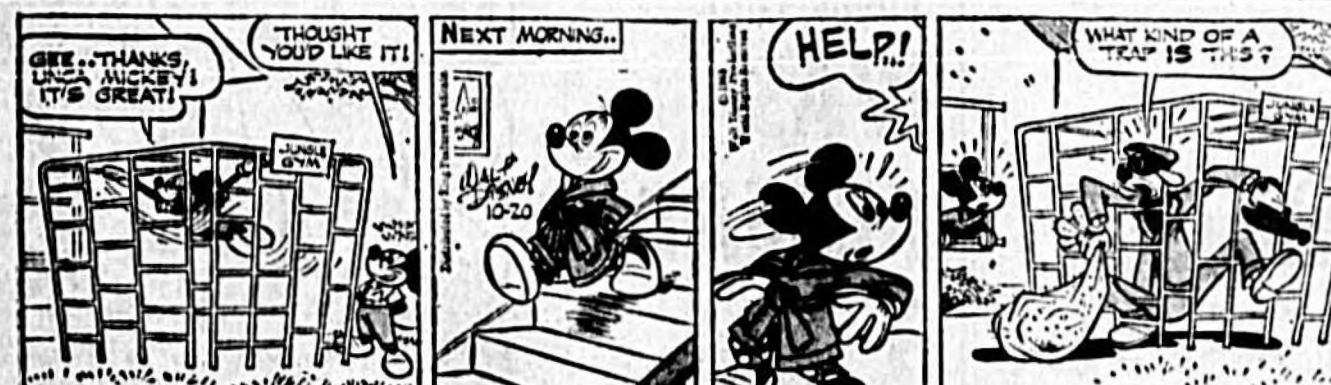

(Editor's Note: This is the sixth of a series of articles by A. M. and R. H. Haskell who are now in Europe).

PARIS — The square around the church of St. Germain de Pres is the heart of the Paris Latin Quarter. It is lined with sidewalk cafes, including the Deux Magots, and La Flore, made famous by Hemingway. Sitting at one of the tables late in the afternoon, it is diverting to watch the crowd on the Boulevard St. Germaine. Young bearded artists pass, carrying pristine, freshly stretched canvases, on which they will no doubt paint one of those non-objective horrors called, perhaps, "Storm No. 9", or "Woman, Goat and Violin."

The girls all go in for the Brigitte Bardot look, blonde "combed with an egg beater" hairdo, generally a little dark at the roots, skirts up to the knee, or higher, one size too small, and bulky sweaters two sizes too big. They either wear flat sandals or very high heeled pumps in some unexpected color like robin's egg blue. We saw a fragile, straight-backed old lady — surely she was a countess — with a high bridged nose, all in black, her delicate head supported by a high-boned lace collar held by a jet brooch. She was elegant and immaculate, something of a contrast to the young girls slouching along.

The Jeu de Paume, the beautiful little Renaissance building on the Place de la Concorde end of the Tuilleries Gardens which used to house the royal tennis courts, has been recently renovated. It is used as a museum for the impressionist paintings owned by the Louvre. It gives a bird's-eye-view of the impressionist movement from Boudin to Gauguin. Here one may see the two Manets — "The Picnic" and "Olympia" — which caused a scandal when first shown in the 1880's and are now considered masterpieces.

The collection of Dr. Gachet, who befriended so many of these experimental painters (Van Gogh was staying with him when he shot himself, though this was no fault of Dr. Gachet) is hung here, generously donated by his son, Luscious Renoirs, light-struck Monets, beautifully conceived and executed Degas, are all on display. This is a little jewel of a museum, small enough to be enjoyed without fatigue. The Paris Museum of Modern Art is currently showing a collection of paintings owned privately by Belgian people which are rarely on exhibit. This includes some rare antecubist Braques, some remarkable early Picassos and Matisse's. The permanent exhibit of later painters, Derain, Vlaminck, Raulo Duffy, Vuillard, Bonnard and many others make up one of the best collections of this type in the world. Unlike the Jeu de Paume, this museum is so big it is exhausting, both physically and emotionally. It should be taken in small doses. Every week day on the Isle de La Cite, under the shadow of the grim Conciergerie where Marie Antoinette was imprisoned, is held a flower market, a fragrant and brilliant sight. On Sundays the same place is a bird market, equally as brilliantly colored as the flower market, but much noisier. Unable to resist the charm of the birds, we bought a pair of Royal Bungaloes Singers, the male purple and the female gray with a yellow breast. We gave them to two small French children, thereby making them our fast friends, though their parents, while polite, were not quite so overjoyed. Paris, prosperous and gay, is to us the most fascinating and interesting of European cities.

Nobel Prize Winner Gives Credit To Aides

United Press International
Dr. Arthur Kornberg, co-winner of the Nobel Prize for Medicine, says much of the credit for his achievement goes to his fellow scientists — one of whom is his wife. Kornberg, 41, is a biochemist at the Stanford University School of Medicine. He and Dr. Severo Ochoa of the New York University Medical School, won the $42,610 award for their work in the synthesis of nucleic acids. Kornberg worked with one such acid called DNA and Ochoa with another called RNA. Scientists believe that their ability to create these acids in test tubes will shed increased light on the basic chemistry of life, both normal and abnormal. Kornberg praised his wife, Sylvia. "She has been very much a part of all this," he says. Kornberg said he became interested in research when he contracted jaundice while a medical student at the University of Rochester. "I decided I wanted to know more about what causes the disease," he said. He began working on blood disorders and eventually on the basic biological processes, including the inner workings of cells. He believes scientists are "near to understanding the nature of life." Kornberg will receive the Nobel Prize in Stockholm on Dec. 10. He hopes to take his wife and three sons to witness the presentation. The Brooklyn-born scientist is interested in other things besides the laboratory. He's an avid baseball fan, an enthusiasm he shares

Parliamentary Law Association Honors Mrs. Leonardy

A former Sanford resident and leader in the state on parliamentary law, has been placed at the head of the list of officers of the National Association of Parliamentarians. Mrs. Herberta Ann Leonardy, now living in Coral Gables, was elected president at the national biennial convention at Kansas City, Mo. Mrs. Leonardy, now on sabbatical leave as a teacher at Coral Gables High School, taught her first parliamentary law class at the University of Miami in 1953. Also in 1943, Mrs. Leonardy formed a group called the University parliamentarians. Since then she has taught many similar classes. She is the author of a Parliamentary Law Chart, used in teaching, and is the only one in the country who teaches via tape recordings. While living in Sanford, approximately 20 years ago, Mrs. Leonardy was president of the local women's club and other civic organizations.

Texas Quints Born But All Die After 18 Hours

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) — The last of the Hannan quintuplets—a mite about as big as an adult's hand—died today in Lackland Air Force Base hospital after living 18 hours and nine minutes.

The baby that survived the longest was Baby D, the fourth of five daughters born Tuesday within 18 minutes to Mrs. Cecilia G. Hannan, 37. Her husband, Lt. Charles G. Hannan, 29, is an Air Force aviator.

The babies slipped away on by one. Capt. W. D. Munroe, an Air Force pediatrician, worked through the night to save Baby D. Munroe was not surprised by the death of the baby; he has announced earlier "at the outlook for its living was 'not good'."

The parents issued a statement through an Air Force officer saying they were "terribly sorry" but confident that "God has a better place for them." The officers said the parents are "terribly broken up" and will not see outsiders.

The babies were born Tuesday—the 47th recorded birth of quintuplets—at 12:22 p.m., 12:24 p.m., 12:25 p.m., 12:31 p.m. and 12:34 p.m.

There was not much doctors could do to save them except keep them warm in incubators. Munroe said they couldn't be handled.

They were three months premature and "too delicate."

Baby D nevertheless had the strength to whimper and move her arms and legs about.

Doctors estimated Baby D's weight at one pound and 13 ounces. She was the size of an adult's hand and doctors didn't feed her. They said babies of that stage of development were not fed for 72 hours after birth.

The first two babies died within minutes after their father had said about a tender scene with his wife.

"I kissed her at least one time for each of those daughters," he said.

The Hannans already have two sons, Robert, 8, and Patrick, 4.

But after the tiny girls started dying, Hannan went into seclusion to avoid the many inquiries, some of which included commercial offers, that followed the news of the birth of quintuplets, and to shoulder the grief that followed with the deaths of four of his girls.

Mrs. Hannan, 37, the former Cecilia Thong of Taylor, Tex., was under heavy sedation but medical authorities described her condition as good.

But the best in medical science was to no avail for the tiny girls who weighed one pound, 13 ounces each or less.

The cause of their deaths was given simply as "immaturity" in the announcement made by Lt. Col. Thomas M. Holcomb, chief of pediatrics at Lackland.

The officer said he and Mrs. Hannan met while they attended St. Mary's school in Taylor, Tex. Neither had any record of multiple births on either side of their families. He is an only child and she has four sisters and a brother.

The births brought quick greetings from one of the Dionne survivors and called for quick looks into medical history.

OVER THEIR QUOTA, is the report of Altamonte Springs United Fund co-chairmen Mrs. Frank Henderson, center, and Mrs. Kristian Juthie, who have turned in $1,809.29 to county UF headquarters. United Fund treasurer Howard McNulty today thanked the co-chairmen for the contribution which was $309.27 over the Altamonte quota. Twenty-four solicitors collected the money.

Strike Halted

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Federal Judge Herbert Borg today granted an injunction in the steel strike ordering union men to return to work for 30 days.

News Briefs

Rock 'N Roll Riot
NEW YORK (UPI) — Dick Clark denied Tuesday night that his rock 'n roll "Caravan of Stars" was responsible for a riot last Saturday night in Kansas City where 40 persons were arrested. "The show was over when the incident took place," Clark said.

Gunman Runs Wild
MIAMI (UPI) — A jealous suit-or fired five bullets into a home during a 50th anniversary celebration Tuesday night, killing an elderly guest and injuring another critically, police said. The suspected gunman, John P. Pearson, 42, was arrested early today after fleeing to Fort Myers, officers said.

Charge Denied
LYNCHBURG, Va. (UPI) — Dr. Emmett B. McGuirk, chairman of the Southern Presbyterian Church, has denied charges of any trend toward hierarchy or liberalism in the church. McGuirk criticized an Alabama lay group which had accused Moderator Ernest T. Thompson of Richmond, Va., and the current church leadership of liberalism.

Negroes Seek Entry
MIAMI (UPI) — Six Negro children seeking admission to white schools here go today before the Dade County School Board. Negro attorney G. E. Graves Jr., counsel for the NAACP, said the children will go "clear to the top if necessary" to get approval of transfers to Miami Jackson High, North Miami Beach Junior High and Fulford Elementary.

Helps Friend Out
FAIRFAX, Va. (UPI) — A former school janitor who told police he pulled the trigger to help a dependent friend commit suicide was in jail today. He said he turned himself in because his conscience bothered him. John Thomas Hale, 66, told police he fired the gun to help Walter Pugh commit suicide eight years ago at Spanish Fort, Miss. Hale said Pugh was dependent upon the death of his wife and the drowning of his son.

Hand Shaking
WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower and former President Truman shook hands and exchanged one-sentence greetings Tuesday when they met for the first time in six years at the funeral of Gen. George C. Marshall. Truman and Eisenhower, who have been decidedly cool toward each other since the bitter 1952 presidential campaign, sat two seats apart in the same pew in the chapel at Ft. Myer, Va., during funeral services for their old colleague.

Rains Flood County Area, Affect Citrus, Building

New Squall Mounting In Gulf

The prolonged rainy spell in Seminole County has seriously hampered construction, curtailed telephone service, flooded residential areas and blocked highways in some places.

County Zoning Director Robert Brown said permits issued during the month have been down and a survey of building contractors in the area today showed that work on new homes have been hampered because of the rains.

The Central Florida Experimental Station reported that more than five inches of rain has fallen in Sanford alone since Oct. 1.

There has been some rain each day for the past 15 days.

City Manager Warren E. Knowles said today that the rains in the area have not hurt city streets to "any extent" and Police Chief Roy Williams said there has not been any unusual rash of accidents in the city due to the rains.

The heaviest damage has been to low lying areas outside the city where county officials are having their problem of answering complaints from citizens because of drainage problems.

State Highway 434 in the Forest City area has been blocked by the rains at several times, causing traffic to be detoured.

The county engineer's office reported that officials are working out a series of canals to be dug to alleviate drainage problems.

Industries in the area have not been seriously affected by the rains except for shipping purposes.

Truck and moving companies have been hard hit, according to one official who said he has been having trouble because of the heavy rains that have "racked" the southern portion of the state.

Shipments of citrus have been seriously hurt but growers are optimistic that a break in the weather will occur soon, according to County Agent Cecil Tucker.

Utility companies also have been troubled by the recent rains and a telephone company spokesman said this morning that various lines were "waterlogged" but repairmen were in the situation under control by late morning.

$33,100 Budget Approved By C Of C Directors

The Seminole County Chamber of Commerce board of directors last night approved a $33,100 budget for 1959-60 operations at a dinner meeting at the Sanford Civic Center.

Biggest expense items in the budget which runs from Oct. 1, 1959 to Sept. 30, 1960 are $13,700 in salaries for four workers, $8,500 for advertising and promotion, $1,800 for automobile expense, $1,700 for an addition to the chamber building, $1,625 for miscellaneous and the contingency fund and $1,000 for additional storage space.

Receipts expected are $10,000 from Sanford, $10,000 from Seminole County, $12,000 from membership fees and $500 from miscellaneous funds.

The Chamber membership drive has brought 134 paid members and $4,900 during its first three weeks drive chairman Bob Crumley told board members.

If a membership isn't received through the mail, a personal call will be made, Crumley explained.

Ike Meets With Brass Over New Space Wrangle

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower conferred for 70 minutes today with his top military and civilian advisers in the wake of a new open wrangle over the nation's space programs.

Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy told reporters after the White House meeting that it dealt with "the handling of our space programs."

"Anything that's going to come out," he said, "is going to come from the President."

Associate press secretary Anne Wheadon said any statement on the meeting would be issued at Augusta, Ga., where the President flew today for a five-day vacation.

The presence of Aiding Budget Director Elmer Staats indicated that not only clarification of military and civilian space roles was under discussion but also the amount of money that could be devoted to speeding up space exploration.

The meeting with military and civilian aides was arranged after the U. S. space-missile program came under new fire from Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, retiring Army missile chief, and rocket expert Werner von Braun.

Embarrassed by the Russian Lunik, the administration is under pressure to get confusion out of military and civilian space efforts and speed the business of overtaking Russia.

At best, authorities have said, it may be several years before America can hurl as big payloads into space as the Soviets. The Russians' rocket boosters admittedly are vastly more powerful and there is no way to catch up overnight.

One thorny issue on which the administration has been apparently marking time and now must meet head-on is what to do with the Army's ballistic missile agency and the team of scientists and technicians headed by the German-born Von Braun.

With assignment of the chief military space role to the Air Force, the Army's space outlook has become progressively dimmer. But that service wants to cling to its ballistic missile agency at Huntsville, Ala., and do space work under contract to other government agencies.

Stenstrom Urges Reapportionment Passage To Aid Senators Do Job

State Senator David Stenstrom, of Sanford, today urged reapportionment of Florida's 27 Senate seats to aid senators do their job for the people of Florida until the reapportionment issue is settled "at least temporarily."

Stenstrom, who last week announced he would not seek another term as senator, expressed the hope before the group that the reapportionment amendment will be passed in November.

"Further gains are far more probable under this amendment than under the present constitutional provisions," he said.

"The proposed amendment is, in my judgment, an improvement over the present provision which has not been adhered to in any manner since the reapportionment fight began in 1955.

"The amendment is fair not only to our own area and particularly the 37th District, but it is fair to all of Florida.

"Those who believe that Dade

County should have the same number of senators as the 44 smallest counties are 27% better off than the 44 largest counties will not be satisfied with the amendment. On the other hand, neither will those be satisfied who believe the 44 smallest counties in the state should each have a separate senator, without regard to population, just because Dade County has a senator. Certainly, it will be impossible to

Collins Tries To Patch Up Amendment Quarrels

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. LeRoy Collins Tuesday tried to patch up his reapportionment quarrel with two strong gubernatorial hopefuls.

But there was no indication that the prospective candidates, former House Speaker Ted David and Circuit Judge John McCarty, were about to end their feud with the governor.

Collins had some kind words for David during a news conference here. But he dismissed McCarty, brother of the late Gov. Dan McCarty, with a "no comment."

Newsman brought up the feud by asking the governor to comment on David's charge that Collins has used the reapportionment for his own purpose, and McCarty's inference that Collins sacrificed principle when he agreed to go along with the redistricting compromise.

"I have nothing to say about Mr. McCarty," Collins remarked. As for David, he said, "I will return good for evil."

"Mr. David has a fine record as a speaker and was most cooperative with me in many important ways which I shall everlastingly appreciate," he said.

Collins disclosed that he talked to McCarty on the telephone Monday, but refused to say whether they discussed the possibility of McCarty resigning as a circuit judge to make the governor's race.

McCarty told newsmen he would discuss this with the governor before he formally announces or undertakes a campaign.

The governor also reported that his "pitch" for the reapportionment plan has been taped for distribution to television stations throughout Florida.

"I hope it will be used widely over the state," he said before leaving for speaking engagements today in Orlando and West Palm Beach in which reapportionment will be the central theme.

Collins pledged to give the people "the true facts and leave it up to them to decide how they will vote" in the Nov. 3 election on adoption or rejection of the proposal.

A TV SET FOR THE HOSPITAL was presented to Administrator Harry Weir, left, yesterday by Dr. Edwin L. Lindsey, president of the Sanford Civic Club. Director of Nurses Mary Detjens sampled a fruit cake like that which the Civitans sold last year to buy the TV set and finance other civic projects. Yesterday marked this year's start of Civitan fruit cake sales.

Court Grants Chessman Stay

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court today granted an eighth stay of execution to Carl Chessman, one time "red light bandit" of Los Angeles, so he can bring his 10th appeal to the high tribunal.

Chessman's lawyer, George T. Davis of San Francisco, had applied to Justice William O. Douglas for the stay.

Chessman, 38, was to have been executed Friday. He had already arranged to have "in body cremated, and made his will. The estate presumably is royalties from the books he has written in prison.

Douglas referred the petition to the entire court, which announced its action today. Chief Justice Earl Warren, a former governor of California, did not participate in the decision.

The reprieve will allow Chessman to file appeal papers and await the high court's disposition of them.

Davis had filed a clemency petition with California Gov. Edmund G. Brown. But, after hearing and considering the plea over the weekend, Brown turned it down.

Insurance Code To Be Explained

The new Florida insurance code passed by the 1959 state legislature will be explained by the managing director of the Florida State Life Underwriters' Association, Stanley Stone, at the St. John's Life Underwriters' Association meeting tomorrow.

Stone will discuss the code's application to the agent and the buying public at the luncheon meeting at Jim Spencer's Restaurant.

Judith Moves Far Out In Atlantic

MIAMI (UPI) — Hurricane Judith raced eastward in the Atlantic today more than 300 miles east of Bermuda.

Forecasters said there was a possibility that Judith, barely holding hurricane intensity with 75-mile-an-hour winds, would soon disintegrate into a line of squalls.

Castro Rushes To Eastern Cuba To Nip Revolt

HAVANA (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro was reported to have rushed to Camaguey province today to nip a suspected army revolt against his regime.

The report was broadcast by Radio Rebel in Havana as dispatches from Camaguey reported that "a mystery airplane dropped two crudely-made bombs" on buildings of a sugar mill complex at Punta Alegre.

The threatened army revolt was reported centered at the Ignacio Agramonte military barracks in Camaguey, a province in eastern Cuba west of Oriente province where Castro staged his own revolt less than a year ago.

The leader of the revolt was believed to be Maj. Hubert Matos, commander of the Ignacio Agramonte post.

Hoffa Battles Orlando Court

ORLANDO (UPI) — Teamsters boss Jimmy Hoffa and a battery of union lawyers went to court today to try to force an Orlando bank to release $400,000 in union funds.

The Florida National Bank of Orlando has refused to yield the money until a $350,000 loan on a Teamsters-backed housing project is repaid. The project has gone into bankruptcy.

Game Cancelled

The Sanford Junior High School grid game scheduled tonight has been cancelled because of wet grounds, school officials said today.

Senator Greeted

Senator George Smathers was greeted at the Seminole-Volusia County line this afternoon by a host of Sanford civic and business leaders who escorted him into town in a caravan.

Sen. Smathers will speak at the Civic Center at 7:30 p. m. today at a joint meeting of county civic clubs.

FBI Investigates Sub Sabotage

PORTSMOUTH, N. H. (UPI) — The FBI and naval intelligence officers today investigated the possibility of sabotage aimed at this country's nuclear submarine fleet.

Capt. Carl A. Johnson, acting commander of the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard, disclosed Tuesday that the nation's first nuclear-powered sub, the Nautilus, had sustained "apparently intentional" damage.

Johnson said he did not know of any other ships or submarines being damaged at the yard, but added that it was a "qualified" answer.

Shipyard officials refused to comment on reports of fires, broken pipes and other incidents at the yard.

In Groton, Conn., extreme security precautions were in force at the Atlantic submarine base and the nearby Electric Boat Yard where the world's biggest atomic-powered submarine, the twin-reactor Triton, is scheduled to be commissioned Nov. 10.
