Retention Of Trade Treaty Plan Is Asked

President Asserts Commercial Agreement Is Movement For Peace

Seek Extension For Three Years

Roosevelt Believes 'Emergency Conditions' Existing

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today urged Congress to continue the administration reciprocal trade treaty program as a means of promoting "durable peace" and "balanced economic recovery."

The appeal was made in a letter to Chairman Doughton of the House Ways and Means Committee before which Secretary Hull appeared in person to ask the passage of a measure extending trade treaty three years.

The President said the nation's "vigorous initiative in the field of liberalization of commercial policies has been an important factor in arresting the world trend toward national economic isolation, which seemed almost irresistible three years ago."

Asserting the task was by no means finished, Roosevelt said "emergency conditions" still exist in international trade relations and excessive barriers continue to operate against American trade.

Rollins Teacher Names 3 Points To Better School

Educational Association Votes To Assume New Name

Better teachers with lighter pupil loads in the first and second grades, an opportunity room for unusual and sub-normal pupils, and a curriculum of high school curriculum were proposed yesterday before the West Coast Teachers' Association in Orlando, County Superintendent T. W. Lawton said.

Dr. Audrey Lillian Packham, a member of the Rollins College faculty, education department, made the proposals in the principal address before the assembly which included nine individuals of Seminole County schools.

Dr. Packham emphasized point number one, asserting that it is the first two grades of school where the greatest number of failures are recorded, Mr. Lawton reported.

In point number two, the superintendent said, Dr. Packham said unusually brilliant and unusually dull pupils should not be allowed to hinder the normal progress of the average student.

Jap To Give Own Life If Charge Untrue

Cites Attempt Made By Army To Dictate Policies To Political Groups

TOKYO, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Kunitatsu Hamada, leader of the Seiyukai, second largest party in the Japanese Parliament, offered tonight to kill himself if his accusation, that military leaders are interfering with Government, were disproved.

His threat to commit hara-kiri climaxed an angry discussion with Count Juichi Terauchi, Minister of War, over what Hamada described as the army's desire to dictate to the political administration.

Members of the Diet boomed high-ranking cabinet members who rose to defend the policies. At the Premier's request the emperor issued an imperial decree suspending the Diet for two days.

70 Below Is Recorded In Pacific Area

Citrus Growers Look To Smudgepots To Stave Off Damage To Valuable Crop

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Winter invaded temperate sections of the west today, locked a northern region in 70 below zero, dazed frosty fingers at rich fruit crops, and caused at least five deaths.

Snow fell for the first time in four years at Phoenix, Tucson and Yuma in Arizona. At the Northwestern National League pitcher, the caretaker reported 70 below.

A week's cold siege was blamed for two deaths in Montana, two in Colorado and one in Northern California.

Smudgepots protected California citrus groves where crops worth $112,000,000 were harvested last year.

Sub-freezing temperatures last night invaded the Imperial Valley where official agricultural sources estimated the recent damage from cold at $2,000,000. Freezing weather prevailed in Southern California.

Thousands Abandon Ohio River Valley Homes For Safety

As the Associated Press Henry rains heightened sharply the river menace to widespread east and central west areas today, driving some streams to crests which threatened to equal record floods of 1913.

Property loss and human misery mounted with rising waters. In Cincinnati alone police estimated the damage in excess of $1,000,000.

Thousands abandoned Ohio Valley homes and sought the refuge of higher lands. Hundreds banded together to maintain dikes and levees, while others formed emergency crews to transfer merchandise from periled areas.

Floods covered miles of land in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Maryland, Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, Tennessee, Missouri and Arkansas. Yellow waters crept up city streets and flooded basements in scores of communities.

County Agents Outline Ideas For Soil Plan

Program For '37 Remains Practically Unchanged From '36

Possibilities existed today that Seminole County farmers and growers will receive more money for participation in the 1937 Federal soil conservation program that they were paid for the 1936 plan, C. R. Dawson, farm agent, announced this morning.

He attended a convocation of all Central Florida farm and other agricultural interests in Orlando yesterday where tentative outlines for the new program were laid out. Mr. Dawson reported that there would be no special price for the diversion of celery in 1937, despite the efforts of Seminole County to have the vegetable placed in a separate position aside from other truck products.

The agent announced that with the exception of a few technical changes, the program for this year should be materially the same as the one just completed.

He believed that the incoming plan will be cleared away much more satisfactorily because of the experience gained in putting into operation the '36 venture, something new in farming and growing. In no event, Mr. Dawson reported (Continued on Page Three)

Large Yacht Stops At Municipal Pier; To Leave For Beach

Convention Plans Tentatively Laid By Woodmen's Circle

The "Westwind," a 103-foot pleasure yacht of Dr. Ogden M. Edwards, Pittsburgh, tied up at Municipal Pier this morning to break a leisurely voyage down the St. Johns.

Manned by a crew of nine, the craft left Wilmington, N. C., several days ago and met Dr. Edwards and his party at Charleston.

It is the party's second stop in Sanford in the past two years. After remaining here for some time, Dr. Edwards plans to return to Jacksonville, take the inland waterway along the east coast and stop in Daytona Beach for several days.

Three committees were appointed last night by Mrs. J. O. Andes, head of the Grove No. 268, Woodmen's Circle, to make arrangements for a district convention here Feb. 26.

The group on registration is comprised by Mrs. R. B. Floyd and Mrs. E. P. Caraway; table decorations are to be attended to by Mrs. E. B. Phillips, Miss Bernice Edmondson and Miss Louise Collins; hall decorations will be supervised by Mrs. C. C. Collins, Mrs. Mary Ruth Ruid and Miss Pauline Bellamy. A program committee will be named later.

Miss Mildred Wheeler, State president of the organization, attended last night's session and outlined tentative activities for the convention.

Several applications for membership were received.

Auto Tag Office Reports Slack Sales Over Week

The "slowest week of the year in automobile license sales" was reported today from the tag window of County Tax Collector Jno. D. Jinkins' office in the Court House.

Nearly 50 plates have been sold since the office opened Monday morning, license clerks said. At the close of business Saturday, about 1,500 of the County's estimated 5,000 plates had been purchased.

Eight more days remain in which to obtain a '37 tag before the 1936 licenses become void, according to an executive order issued by Governor Fred Cone who extended the usual 15-day grace period to 30 days, the limit allowed under State law.

At the expiration of the 30-day extension, enforcement of the license statute probably will fall into the hands of County sheriffs, since the State Road Patrol will have been abolished at that time.

Best available information at the War Department in Washington today indicated that the Gulf-Atlantic canal study will last for at least another week before the go-signal is given for another fight on the $103,000,000 project, the Associated Press reported.

The fight is certain, the news service continued, whether the report is favorable or unfavorable.

"Already," it said further, "Senator Vandenberg, Michigan, Republican, apparently foreseeing an effort to override the Board of Engineers if its decision is against the canal, has introduced a resolution seeking to establish a Senate rule that only favorably reported projects should be considered on the floor."

City Health Inspector Urges Removal Of Fruit

Paxton Asserts Dropped Citrus Provide Breeding Places For Pest Files Covering County

Persons owning citrus groves, especially in Sanford and the area surrounding, should remove all dropped fruit from the ground within a day or so after falling from the tree, City Health Inspector G. P. Paxton said today.

The Sanford official pointed out that by adopting such a procedure, a very definite step would be taken toward the control of pest flies which breed in decaying citrus and vegetable wastes.

Inspector Paxton said he completed a tour of several outlying orange and grapefruit groves yesterday afternoon and found considerable fruit lying on the ground, making a perfect incubator for the tiny black nuisances.

Mr. Paxton reiterated that residences within the City limits should use a spray of kerosene or used motor oil on the inside of garbage cans.

Roy Williams, local chief of police, said certain articles in Palmer's possession at the time of his arrest were identified as those removed from DeLand and during a series of robberies recently.

The Second Inaugural

With his inauguration yesterday at noon President Roosevelt began the second administration under conditions quite in contrast to those prevailing four years ago.

REASON TO COVET: Let your conviction be without covetousness; and be content with such things as ye have; for he that saith, I will never have, for he saith, I will never have, shall never have them.—Matthew 12:12

DR. WILLIAM HARVEY This mild geographer set and his mark On unknown seas, lakes, rivers vast in flood, He loved to ponder softly in the dark The motions of man's blood.

Don't forget to file your application for homestead exemption. If no benefits go so far, the Social Security Act has certainly given a boon to the practically bankrupt.—Plant City Courier

The horse will never go to war again.—Col. G. R. Parker, Canadian Department of Warlike Services. And neither would people if they had horse sense.

When that fellow escaped from the county jail the other night, he's a five horse from the 17th floor, he did it the hard way. He should have seen the right people.

Shipments of Florida citrus fruits would be limited. This may be regarded as a severe blow.—Miami Herald. And as the old saying goes, one good squeeze deserves another.

With all the improvement in economic conditions, President Roosevelt declared yesterday that there are still some thirty million people in the United States who do not have enough to live on, who do not in reality know where their next meal is coming from.

It will be four years before Roosevelt's second administration will end. In the light of European and Asiatic conditions today, it is hard to believe that those four years can pass without some great war breaking out somewhere which conceivably could spread without much difficulty to involve the whole world.

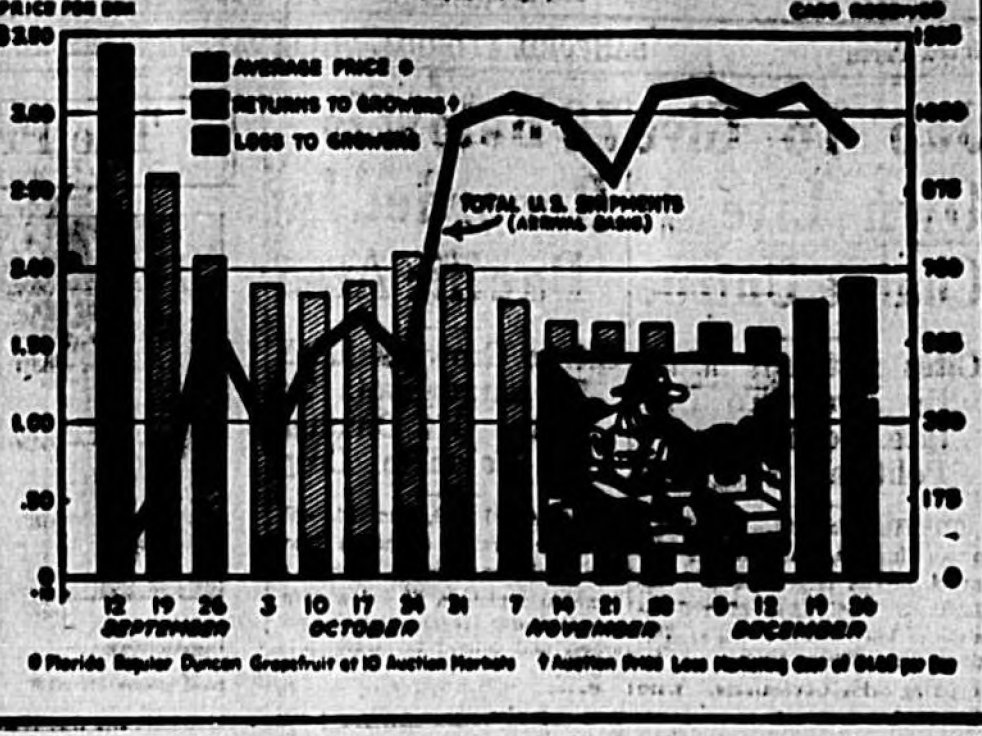

Sanford has been receiving some splendid publicity recently as a result of the celebration of Founder's Day on February 8, marking the one hundredth anniversary of the first white settlement at Mellenville, which is being sponsored by the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Among other newspapers which have commented favorably on Sanford's Founder's Day are the Miami Herald which in addition to a review of this city's historical background, says, "The Miami Herald joins in extending best wishes to Sanford on her coming birthday and may the celebration be a glorious one in keeping with the splendid record of the past."

Sanford appreciates such fine publicity as this and realizes that without the co-operation of other parts of the State it could not get very far. The local D. A. R.'s are to be particularly commended for sponsoring an event which has received such favorable response elsewhere in Florida.

UNITED STATES GRAPEFRUIT SHIPMENTS; RETURNS TO FLORIDA GROWERS, 1936

LAKELAND, Jan. 21.—Florida grapefruit sold in northern markets must first bring around $1.65 per box to cover marketing costs before the grower can begin to realize anything for his fruit.

"TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY" By RUSSELL KAY

I discovered a nice new indoor sport last week and have been having more fun than you can imagine, diggin' in the archives. When you become bored and weary with life as it is today, and start tryin' to talk yourself into the idea that you'd like to go back to those "good old days" take a few hours off and go into a huddle with the archives and they'll give you a real jolt and make you realize that this "good old days" stuff is largely a mess of mental hoey.

It all came about by my being asked by the Tampa Chamber of Commerce to get up a fifteen minute radio program. I hit on the idea of presenting "Tampa, Yesterday, to-Day and To-Morrow" as I want to the newspaper offices and panned over the files of papers published 10, 20 and 30 years ago to see what folks were doing and thinking and talking about in the so-called "good old days" and see how they stacked up compared with today. I figured that maybe a little "lookin' back" might prove helpful as a guide for the future.

Well, from hearin' the women folks talk I had the idea that livin' costs to-day were all out of reason with food prices sky high, imagine my surprise to find on checkin' prices of 10 and 20 years ago, find that they just about average up the same today. While meats and a few items are higher today, a careful check reveals that other items are much cheaper so it averages up about the same.

In the matter of clothing, the shopper can get much better values for his dollar to-day, standardization and mass production have brought prices down amazingly. Rems were higher 20 years ago. Discounting the boom years, real estate prices are lower in many instances. We used to pay from $75 to $200 for a phonograph, compare that with what you can get in the way of a radio to-day for less money. If anyone tried to charge us $1,500 or $2,000 for the kind of an automobile they sold us for that much money in 1920 we would call it highway robbery.

As for foods we just didn't have any for a few years back, and trails led from one town to another, and a trip from Miami to Jacksonville or Tampa to Pensacola was harder to make than a trip across the continent to-day. Life was harder and rougher in

"Educated Dog" Is Help To Farmer

FINDLAY, O., Jan. 21.—(AP)—When a fractious cow defies pasture fences on Oren Ahman's farm near here, Ahman does NOT even bother to go in search of her, because Ted, collie dog belonging to his daughter, rounds up the strays without orders.

"He makes the cows, horses and chickens 'see the line'," says Ahman, "and if a neighbor's cow wanders onto our place, Ted herds it home. He's a self-educated dog."

One thing that impressed me was the value and importance of the Chamber of Commerce. Following the unbiased record, following the years, the part the Chamber of Commerce plays in a community's growth and development is truly amazing.

It is the one clearinghouse for the whole community, it's closest contact with the outside world as it is representative of the city as a whole and it was interesting to note that it was the courage and faith and vision of those civic leaders of an earlier day who took an active interest in the Chamber of Commerce, that is largely responsible for the improvements and advantages that are yours and mine today.

In 1916 for example a group of Tampanians set around a Chamber of Commerce committee table and discussed plans for a highway to connect Tampa and Miami, across the Everglades. The same group were working on plans for a Tampa state railroad to connect Tampa and Palm Beach, they talked of bringing new industries to the city, improving our harbor.

To-day we ride in comfort across the Tamiami Trail that those men knew only as a vision, in air-conditioned Pullman trailers we ride from Tampa to Palm Beach over the railroad those men only hoped would be built. Great industries of which they talked have come, the Cement Plant, the Canning Factories, the Railroad shops to employ thousands of people and increase payrolls.

When your children and mine dig into the archives 10, 20 or 30 years from now they will find it was the work we are doing to-day through the Chamber of Commerce and other civic bodies that gave them greater opportunities and advantages.

Stetson Music Head Views Future Growth

Dr. William Duckert, head of the department of music at Stetson University, was very enthusiastic about the future of the music department when interviewed this week on the election of Stetson to membership in the National Association of Music Schools.

He feels certain that this recognition will be the stimulus for a rapid student growth and an enrichment to musically minded young men and women all over the South.

In commenting on the musical facilities available at Stetson Dr. Duckert said:

"Recently while attending the meeting of the Music Teachers Association in Chicago I had the opportunity of talking with many executives of different schools. I found that the material equipment offered at Stetson is better than that found at many of the larger universities. Our instrumental study and practice rooms are of the highest quality."

In all probability the newly accredited music department will grant three bachelors of music degrees this spring. Candidates for the first awards are Miss Dorothy Haines of this city majoring in music education; Miss Ruth Murphy, majoring in piano; and Roberta Greut, majoring in voice.

14,000 KILLED

BAYONNE, France, Jan. 21.—Fourteen thousand persons have been executed by Spanish fascists in Navarre Province since the beginning of the Spanish civil war, the Basque Nationalist Government at Bilbao charged today.

Chinese To Drive Against Illiteracy

NANKING, China, Jan. 21.—Somewhere between a half and a third of China's 400 million people—no one knows exactly how many—are completely illiterate, or so nearly so that the characters standing for their surnames are the only ones they can recognize.

But by enforcing compulsory schooling for the young and providing after working hours and night time education for adults, the Chinese government hopes within a period of six years to have achieved success in its fight against illiteracy that will in a generation all Chinese will be able to read and write.

Eight million Chinese children are now receiving the rudiments of a general education in public and private elementary schools of the country.

Approximately four and a half million persons were injured and 31,500 killed in their homes in 1935.

Beards May Be Aid Against Silicosis

LONDON, Jan. 21.—Beards and mustaches, according to a magazine article published here, may be a protection against silicosis, the disease of the lungs caused by inhaling stone dust.

Suggesting that masons use "nature's respirator," the article recalled that when the Walter Scott monument was being built at Edinburgh during the last century, it was found that the clean-shaven suffered most "and men with full bushy beards and mustaches were practically immune."

Worthless Banknotes Cause Worry For Countries Of Middle Europe

VIENNA, Jan. 21.—Middle Europe, region of depreciated currencies, has one problem peculiarly its own: What to do with vast stores of worthless bank notes which have been superseded by new issues?

Every Vienna bureau drawer is just about sure to contain a bundle of pre-war crowns of a face value totaling millions, even billions. They are sorry reminders of the days when a good cup of coffee cost a million crowns, a sum which would have bought a first class apartment building before the war.

Some rooms have been papered with these old bank notes. Housewives pass them on umbrella stands, such as nineteenth century Americans decorated vases with cigar bands.

City Ordinance In Protection To Cats

NORRIS, Tenn, Jan. 19.—(AP)—A city ordinance makes Norris safe for cats.

When 3,000 persons moved from the Norris reservoir, it was last summer several hundred cats were left stranded.

Sportsmen, fearing the animals would become nuisances, offered a 10-cent reward to youngsters for each pair of tabby paws turned in.

Reservoir cats became scarce. Then Norris feline animals started disappearing.

Some charged youths were stalking housecats.

As a precautionary measure city council passed this ordinance: "No child under 16 may carry a gun in Norris, loaded or unloaded."

One detail which required considerable time and worry—that of measuring every farm in the County—will be eliminated this year provided that no new property has been added to a participant's farm.

Rollins Teacher Names 3 Points To Better School

(Continued From Page One) stated Dr. Packham's remarks with a short address which brought out the fact that "no child should be given grades which he does not earn, but that there should be some system where a pupil might be passed from some subject to another."

The body yesterday voted to change its name from the West Coast School Officials' Association.

Next session will be held in February on Feb. 27, it was decided. A topic, "Disposition of Bonds Collected Under the Fitch Act and the Payment of School Taxes," will be led by Sam Brauner, Kalamazoo.

"The Proper Time to Name Teachers" is a discussion to be led by V. S. Fugate, superintendent of Pinellas county.

Mr. Lawson said the Orlando session included short talks by F. N. K. Bailey, president of the Florida Educational Society, and by Mrs. G. F. Parin, president of the Florida Parent-Teachers' Association.

Seminole County school officials attending were Mr. Lawson, G. E. McKay, Herman Morris, H. K. Kipp, E. T. Haines, Mrs. Stella Arrington, R. F. Cooper and Mrs. Annis C. Thompson.

Potato Given New Economic Ratings

SAVANNAH, Ga., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Experiments by Dr. Charles Henry, noted scientist, reflect new importance for the sweet potato in the economic scheme.

It is a suitable substitute for motor fuel and stock feed derived from the tubers in initial experiments.

Using a carload of potatoes in carrying out a test run, Dr. Henry says he learned sweet potatoes readily adapt themselves by mashing into a mash easily handled for fermentation. To this, he said, was added fermentation products and alcohol was poured off. The residue tested 25.5 percent and the scientist said it was found excellent for stock feed.

A 10 percent mixture of alcohol may be used in automobiles without carburetor modification, according to Dr. Henry.

Comedienne Helen Broderick started her stage career in the chorus, at the age of 14.

Voting Only Begins Political Campaign

BELLO HORIZONTE, Brazil, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Members of the municipal administration here refused to give up their jobs when voted out of office, and prepared to hold the town hall by arms.

When the newly elected staff pulled into the building and carried on business outside, however, the old group came out through the windows and surrendered.

Man Wins Stork Race Over Auto Crash

GREENVILLE, O., Jan. 21.—(AP)—A mere automobile accident couldn't keep Frank Miley of Greensburg from winning a race with the stork.

The auto he was driving ran behind one taking Mrs. Miley to a hospital was stopped by a collision. Undaunted despite severe lacerations Miley "thumbed a side" and reached the hospital in time to greet his newly-born son.

Fascists Are Told What To Think

ROME, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Instructions have been promulgated by Achille Starce, fascist party secretary, telling what good black-shirts shall think during the next 12 months.

The instructions invite critical examination of bolshevism and democracy as political systems inferior to fascism, extolation of the leading role in Europe, and glorification of its civilizing mission in the Mediterranean and Africa.

Turks Ban Writing In Arabic Letters

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The government has ordered that anyone found writing in Arabic characters be immediately arrested.

Wood Ducks
Raided By Trapper

SAVANNAH, N. Y., Jan. 21.—More than a half century ago a young hunter chanced upon a wood duck's nest in a tree overlooking a river near here, brought home its dozen eggs and hatched them under a hen.

From this nesting the man, Foster Parker, now more than 80 years old, has developed what is believed to be the only wood duck farm in America.

Federal and state governments have given Parker permits to raise the fast vanishing wood duck and in the more than half century he raised them he has never sold one except to zoos and parks for exhibition purposes.

Although wood ducks are his specialty, he breeds canvas backs, American Widgeon, Bluebills, Hooded Merganser, Butterballs, Shovelers and other ducks.

Philadelphia Zoo

They have been in the Snake House for 11 years and no one thought much about them until

Reading And Writing

By JOHN SELBY

It is rather difficult to resist the public's notice, there would be no business at all, and the town would be still further in the red. It didn't help at all that on the very day Asey arrived and consented to take charge of the investigation, a presumably harmless female antique dealer was shot to him with a charge of deer ball fired from a 12-gauge shotgun.

Asey was equal to keeping even this quiet. From this point on Mrs. Taylor provides a first rate tangle. She not only has a good murder on her hands, but the complicated intrigue necessary to keep the murder quiet. Asey wanders in and out in his usual obliquely efficient manner; Asey of course solves everything in the end. You may guess the solution, but if you do you've a right to be proud of yourself.

Farmer Likes Beaver
But Not Too Much

JERSEYVILLE, Ill., Jan. 21.—L. E. Goppel likes the beaver on his farm, but they do provoke him.

They are building a dam which will stop up an outlet and make a lake on his farm 40 feet deep and spread it over 20 acres. It now covers 10 acres.

"I think a lot of these little fellows, but I don't want that pipe stopped," he said. "Of course they want all the water they can get. But I feel as if 10 acres is all I can let them have."

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 21.—Dr. E. P. Allen, Oklahoma City veterinarian, purchased three purebred Holsteins from the dairy department of Oklahoma A. and

M. college and placed them on his farm.

Some weeks ago one of them had twin bull calves. Later another of the trio produced her owner with twins—a bull and a heifer. Then the third gave birth to two calves, one of each sex.

Experts said twin calves ordinarily arrive once in every 100 births.

Trumpet Is Souvenir Of Alcazar Siege

LISBON Portugal, Jan. 21.—An historical trumpet, dating from the reign of King Charles the Fifth and found in the armorium of Toledo's Alcazar, has been offered to Portugal as a souvenir of the siege.

The trumpet, which was found

Quilter Takes Close Position By U.S. Chief

New Bodyguard Given Presidential 'Over' Older Men Of Staff

By HERBERT PLUMMER
WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—(AP)—As the President's new bodyguard, a Massachusetts state trooper has inherited a place in the official family closer to Mr. Roosevelt than any of the other members. Thomas E. Quilter's duty will be to guard the life of the nation's chief executive 24 hours a day. But if he follows the example of his late predecessor, broad-shouldered, fun-loving Gus Gernerich, who died suddenly in Buenos Aires during the President's visit, Quilter will do much more than that for F. D. R.

There is no parallel in secret service annals for the exact relationship, personal or official, which existed between Franklin D. Roosevelt and Gus Gernerich. Gus made it his business, as a friend as well as a government agent, to guard the President from embarrassments in all his comings and goings, both at home and abroad; to help where he could in fostering his friend's cheerfulness of spirit, contentment of mind, and ease of body in off hours as well as those of which the public had knowledge. Quilter's job includes serving not only as a bodyguard, but to a certain extent, as a body servant.

He must rarely leave the President's side in his waking moments and must constantly be on call. He must keep watch at times in the White House until far into the night while he presides at working or entertaining. He must accompany the President on all his trips in and out of Washington. On motor tours his place is in the front seat of the President's car and he is the first to alight and proffer his arm to the chief executive. He might be called on—as was Gernerich—to personally shield the President from bodily harm in such instances as when Zangara fired at Mr. Roosevelt in Miami. He also might be called on to punch a crank occasionally.

Originally, he will accompany the President in his daily swim in the White House pool. (And, incidentally, he must be a good swimmer. Mr. Roosevelt likes to play water polo and delights in wrestling a companion around in the water—"even drown you," as Gernerich used to say.) For his services, he will receive a secret service salary estimated at $4,000 a year.

Postoffice 'Gator' Mystery Is Solved

ROME, N. Y., Jan. 21.—(AP)—The mystery of Rome's postoffice alligator has been solved, to the relief of postal workers whose burden of feeding the creature has been shifted to the rightful, although unsuspecting owner—Delos A. Humphrey.

The alligator was discovered one day wandering about in the postoffice. Postal workers not only had little idea of what to feed it, but could not discover where it came from.

The mystery was finally unraveled when a box, empty and with a hole in its side, was discovered in the outgoing parcel post. It had been addressed to Humphrey's son by an aunt of Pass-a-Grille Beach, Fla.

Properly repacked, the alligator then continued the journey to his destination.

Questions That Some Folks Ask

About Cardui BENEFIT FOR MAL-NUTRITION

Thousands of women testify Cardui has helped them to overcome malnutrition and to ease many of the functional pains of malnutrition. "What is meant by 'helping to overcome malnutrition'?"

Cardui contains extracts of two plants which are classed among the "bitters" in medicine because they are known to increase the flow of digestive juices—to improve digestion—so there is a craving for sufficient food for the body's needs, and by their action more energy (or strength) is obtained from the food eaten. This food, of course, brings the additional strength, but Cardui serves as the means to end this by its good influence on the digestive system.—Adv.

Exhibit Of Oil Paintings In Paris Is Inspiration For Coiffures Of '37

PARIS, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Hair-styles are flocking to Paris art exhibits where old paintings give them inspiration for new coiffures. Last year the Italian school of art laid a heavy hand on women's heads—brunettes and blondes alike. This year the lighter French touch of the later nineteenth century dictates hair styles.

Renoir, Cezanne and Manet are all potent influences in coiffure fashions, according to Rene Ramond of the Emile hairdressing shop. Likewise, the exposition of the works of the later Gros, whose scenes of the Directorate and Empire periods are well known to art students, has let loose a whirlwind of the Directorate which has struck both coiffures and gowns.

The modern coiffures adapted from the "deliciously tranquil" epoch (1878 to 1900) pictured by Renoir, Cezanne and Manet show the hair drawn up from the temples and stuffed on top of the head—with sometimes a center and sometimes a side part. Foreheads are outlined with soft waves or light curls. The curls at the back start high and fall low on the neck where they are spread out slightly at each side to frame the face.

Because many of the coiffures of the Directorate period were styled along Grecian lines, the Grecian influence is reflected in the hairdresses copied from Gros. Much use is made in them of numerous curls, height at the brow and masses of curls low on the neck. Especially popular among Parisian hair styles are copies of the coiffures of Josephine de Beauharnais (Napoleon's Empress), Madame Tullien and Madame Recamier—all painted by Gros. What will be next? The Rubens exhibit is now on, so spring hair styles may be Rubens-inspired.

Senior Senator For Peninsula Is Undetermined

Floridians May Show Capital Precedent In Politics

By BEN GRANT
WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—(AP)—With Congress well into its second week, Florida still is without a senior senator, and apparently there is no immediate prospect of getting one.

A possibility exists—and some say a strong one—that Senators Pepper and Andrews—whose senatorial ages actually are identical, will show the capital there is NO necessity for the traditional designation of junior and senior.

Nevertheless, if there has been any agreement between them to set a precedent in Senate organization, they have kept it closely guarded. The fact is, their friends say, neither has chosen to give in and let the other be known as senior.

It is all as much of a puzzle to the Senate parliamentarians as to anybody else. Both of them, explained one whose duty it is to straighten the Senate's parliamentary tangles, hold meritorious claims on the honor of seniority. Outlined, the situation looks like this:

Andrews was elected for the unexpired term of the junior senator, the late Park Trammell, but directly he succeeds the senior senator, Scott M. Luffin. Alphabetically, he is ahead of Pepper, and would be first on the committee rosters if they had drawn the same assignments.

Pepper, young enough to be his colleague's son, fills the unexpired term of the senior senator, the late Duncan U. Fletcher, but he is in direct succession to the junior William L. Hill. Chosen without opposition, he is to serve the short term, two years. Although the Senate secretary's office reports there was NO significance to it, Pepper's name appears ahead of Andrews' in the congressional directory.

They were sworn in simultaneously on the opening day of Congress. Both were elected in the Florida general election last November.

It is customary, the parliamentarian explained, for the president's office to refer to members according to their designations, instead of by name, as "the senior senator from Florida." He added, however, that it was entirely possible to proceed indefinitely without designating them. There would be a tangle, of course, if both demanded the floor at the same time—an eventually NOT deemed likely.

Outwardly, there is not a more harmonious delegation on Capitol Hill than the Floridians. Frequently, putting aside such differences as seniority and the disputed ship canal, they join to press for departmental action on some pending project in their State, and on Saturdays they sit about the luncheon table in the capitol and talk over what each has been doing during the week.

South Pole Resident Finds Miami Hot

Boiling into Miami in his cute kalamobile, powered by an ordinary kalamobile auto battery, Mr. Penguin finds some swell scenery in which to park his unique 1937 model. This diminutive roadster will run without attention of any kind for more than eight hours, but who, asks Mr. Penguin, would want to drive away from this spot for even eight minutes? It makes 15 miles an hour but has no rumble seat, with the results seen here. Don't fight, girls—and as for you, Mr. Penguin, not too many flippers around flapper!

Mechanical Birds Used In Coal Mines

ELDORADO, Ill., Jan. 21.—(AP)—"Mechanical birds" have replaced live canaries and white mice in many southern Illinois coal mines to warn of odorless carbon monoxide gas. Michael Taggart, superintendent of the Eldorado mine rescue station, said the unfeeling "birds" had proved effective in detecting the presence of the deadly gas. The device consists of a small barrel, tube, rubber bulb and an inlet and outlet valve. When the bulb is squeezed a few times there is a color change in the liquid in the tube. The degree of color change indicates the amount of carbon monoxide in the air.

An all time record for shipments of bituminous coal was made on the Great Lakes in 1936.

Melee Breaks Up City League Battle

St. Johns Hold 17-12 Lead Over Eckerson Cannery As Game Abruptly Terminates

One Is Injured When Players Battle in School Gymnasium

Starting off as a battle for the leadership of the City Floor League, the game between the Eckerson Cannery and the St. Johns River Line turned out to be a battle along more realistic lines, flaring arguments abruptly concluding what had turned out to be a good contest.

The St. Johns, in need of a victory to tie the Cannery for first place, were evidently on the way to doing so when the pugilistic excitement took place after two minutes of the fourth period had been played. The St. Johns were leading at that point by a 17-12 count, having broken up the attack of the Cannery and dispatched it with a powerful one of their own.

The Rivermen had taken the lead early in the second quarter after the teams had ended the first period with a score of 2-2. Early in the third quarter, the Cannery had tied the count but again lost a 7-6 margin as that period closed.

In the third quarter, the Rivermen tallied eight points while the Cannery scored six, the latter coming up under the short end of a 15-12 count going into the hectic fourth quarter. In that period, the St. Johns, by a rally from the field, increased their advantage to 17-12. A few moments later, Ahman was ejected from the game via the personal foul route.

From then on, confusion reigned. Words spoken in fits were taken seriously. One player went so far as to follow an opponent into a dressing room and strike him over the forehead with a shoe.

That was the spark that ignited the fireworks. In less than 10 minutes, the gymnasium presented the appearance of a miniature riot which was quelled after a short time by the more-cool-headed gentry.

The game had the game been terminated abruptly.

place near the scorer's bench as one of the original scrappers again became involved in an argument.

Referee McCracken, deciding enough was enough, called the game, ordered the B squad, which was to have played in the second contest off the floor and duty resumed any further action for the evening.

City League officials today prepared to take action on last night's trouble. Players participating may look for surveillance from league competition following the announcement of the decision which the executive committee will make.

Tomorrow night the B squad will play the Lake Mary team in the first game on the high school floor while the second contest of the evening will feature the National Guards and the Lake-River Cannery.

Super Movie Houses To Aid Nazi Theory

BRUNSWICK, Ger., Jan. 21. (AP)—Super-outdoor theaters will sell "second hand participation" in Nazi mass meetings to German.

An outdoor moving picture amphitheater with seating accommodations for 400,000, claimed to be the largest in the world, has been completed recently at the first of a series to be erected at numerous places in Germany.

These moving picture places are intended as rally-points where rallies of the Nazis party convention, the May Day celebrations and other mass meetings of the Nazi party can be given greater publicity on a super-scale and some hundred thousands more can see and hear the Führer speak.

Quinine Substitute Is Made By Soviets

MOSCOW, Jan. 21. (AP)—Scientists of the Soviet Union report that production of a synthetic quinine, which is clinical properties resemble and is even superior to quinine, will jump to 45 tons next year.

Soviet scientists, who found the compound, say the amount of synthetic quinine required for treatment of malarial patients is 6-7 times less than that of quinine. Hence, the 45 tons should equal 260 tons of quinine.

The first lot of synthetic quinine was very small with the plant expected to produce six tons by the end of 1936.

Celery Feds To Face Bulldogs At DeLand Tonight

Sanford Cagers Seek Fifth Victory Of Present Season

DeLand Is Eager For Battle After Loss To Tigers Tuesday

Sanford by a margin of one slim point last Friday.

The locals will be after their second consecutive victory and the fifth in six starts when they enter the arena this evening. After defeating Ocala, Winter Park and Tavares, and then losing to Orlando, the DeLands returned to Sanford for a highly-contested Daytona Beach quarter Tuesday evening.

The Sanford team is expected to start Billy Zachry and Art Williams as the forward post, Jack Purden at center, and Johnnie Morgan and Dal Ferguson as the guard positions. The Bulldogs, in all probability, will have Sample and Pazy, forwards, Shadburn, center, and Kicketator and McMillan, guards, in the starting positions. Shadburn in his last appearance, Tuesday night against Orlando, accounted for 13 points and will be the man to watch tonight when the DeLand crew sets its offensive machinery in motion.

The local B squad, boasting four wins in five starts, will be out to chalk up their fifth victory in the preliminary battle at 7:30 o'clock when it clashes with the DeLand B combination.

Trained by a 64-20 lashing administered them by the fast-stepping Orlando High Tigers Tuesday evening, the Bulldogs of DeLand High School are prepared to give the Celery Feds of Sanford High School a warm reception when the teams lineup tonight at 7:30 o'clock on the hardwood court of DeLand High School.

Dared by the unbreaking of unexpected power displayed by the Sanford champions, the Bulldogs were unable to click as any advantage Tuesday, trailing 17-2 at half time and 30-4 at the end of the third quarter. With the return of a flock of substitutes sent in by the Tiger mentor, Coach Walter Howater, the DeLand team was finally able to do some scoring, accounting for 20 points in the final period.

Tonight's contest may be a different story. Humiliated by their recent training, the Bulldogs are expected to give a high pitch and will fight to the last ditch in hopes of upsetting the favored Celery Feds who were noosed out by the ### Little boys who like to play basketball shouldn't spend their practice session watching a folies show, at least that's what five members of the high school squad learned Tuesday night.

An punishment for missing practice Monday at noon in preference to the show, four members of the B squad, namely Page, Telford, Leavitt and Greek, were forced to sit on the sidelines during the entire contest Tuesday.

Billy Zachry, regular on the varsity squad, was punished by being put out of the starting lineup, getting into the contest in the second quarter however. When asked whether he'd prefer basketball or blondes on a stage in the future, Greek replied in favor of the former, although his answer seemed to come in a shy way, probably denoting thoughts of the future.

We were told that altogether about 110 brilliant minds were forced to serve time in the detention room Tuesday afternoon for cutting classes the previous day to go to the theater. Ah, turn backward time, in thy flight and make me a child again, just for tonight!

Had the Celery Feds shown the same spirit Friday night against the Orlando Tigers which they displayed Tuesday, we're of the opinion that they would have come out on the long end of the count instead of losing by one point as they did. That night they were playing the ball in perfection, throwing light throughout and passing and changing with unsway accuracy, seldom throwing the ball away as they did almost a week ago when they suffered their only setback.

Do the same thing against DeLand this evening boys and when you face these Tigers at

Orlando early in February, just forget that they're from a bigger town and larger school.

Remember, there's only five of them allowed on the floor at the same time and you have just as many of your men there also. . . . Let's give it to them!

Considering the statement of Zion Beck, Chaitanoga scout, as our basis, we can look forward to seeing an excellent team representing Sanford in the Winter State League during the coming season. . . . An ardent follower of baseball, this will please the writer no end.

The baseball school, an innovation for Sanford, is something else which will prove of interest to local followers of the national pastime. . . . They will be afforded the opportunity of watching at least 100 or 150 young bloods capering over the diamond, learning to handle themselves in the right manner and preparing for seasons to come. . . . One of them may become a future Babe Ruth, another may develop into a Hazzy Dran, there may be a Honus Wagner or a future edition of Christy Mathewson, or Lou Gehrig, Paul Waner, Frankie Frisch, Jim Bottomley, Bill Dickey or Carl Hubbell in that group. . . . Many of these fans who will see these boys in training may some day come through with the old saying "I remember when he

Wilcox Favors Tariff Against Cuban Produce

Representatives In Battle To Protect Vegetable Growers

Representative J. Mark Wilcox, in a statement directed partially to Seminole County truck farmers, today insisted that he "could be a Democrat and still sponsor a tariff high enough to protect growers in this State," the Associated Press reported from Washington.

Concerned because certain Florida vegetable farmers told him they could not make a living unless the low tariff agreement with Cuba was scrapped, the West Palm Beach congressman proposed duties high enough to equalize the cost of production on domestic farms and those on the island.

When Wilcox explained to Representative Treatway of Massachusetts the House the Floridian's theory was in line with Republican policy.

He turned to Wilcox and said, "Thank you, sir." "The gentleman," said Treatway, "should have run on the Republican ticket and should be sitting on this side of the aisle if he believes in that principle."

Wilcox insisted he was a Democrat. "But the statement of my position does not give the gentleman the privilege of charging me with Republican inclinations," he said.

Whole Cities Facing Doom After 40-Mile Dash Over Ice

Weather Forecaster Expresses Fear For Entire Citrus Crop Of California

The Rampaging Ohio River today threatened to engulf whole cities and villages as it beat back lowland defenders along 1,000 miles of the nation's most critical flood front.

It poured through a broken levee at Lawrenceburg, Ind., driving 7,000 residents in high ground. It forced officials of Portsmouth, Ohio, to flood the business and industrial districts purposely to save a $1,000,000 sea wall. Some 13,000 of Portsmouth's 50,000 dwellers fled to the hills.

The Ohio's all-Indian waters barreled more than 50,000 from their homes in Ohio and 15,000 in Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Arkansas, Tennessee, North Carolina, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Missouri contributed to the estimated national refugee total of 80,000 in 10 flood-harassed states.

Doctors Believe Work Now Imposed On One Man Too Much For Proper Care

Offer To Give Portion Of Time

Suggest Combination Of Work In Co-operation With City

Dr. PAT PATTERSON

The proposal that a full-time physician be employed by the County to handle welfare work was presented this afternoon in County Commissioners by the Seminole County Medical Society in a letter signed by Dr. D. G. Scott, secretary of the body.

Presented by the assertion that the society "believes that the method of handling the situation as practiced heretofore has been extremely unfair to the County physician," the communication set forth four suggestions. They follow:

"First—That a full-time physician be employed who has no private practice, his work to constitute care for welfare patients and patients who need medical attention; examination of preschool children and giving of toxoid to those who desire it; examination of midwives, school teachers, school bus drivers and any others who are compelled to have State and County examinations. Also, he would give anesthetics on welfare patients admitted for surgery.

"Second—The Seminole County Medical Society on the other hand, agrees to institute both a surgical and medical service in the hospital which will be on a rotating basis among the doctors, each taking his share of the work without cost to the County for their services.

"Third—The County physician will hospitalize cases which need (Continued On Page Two)
