Majority and Total of Ballots Is Larger Than Was Expected By Bond Advocates

Measure Carried In All Precincts

Eighty-Eight Miles of New Highways To Be Built In 3 Years

Seminole county's proposed $1,750,000 bond issue for good roads carried in Tuesday's election by approximately six to one majority, according to the official count as canvassed today by the Seminole Board of County Commissioners.

The highest vote, 582, was cast for series A, which provides for the issuance of bonds totaling $750,000 to be made at once. The vote for series B, $450,000, to be issued in two years was 574 to 97. The vote for series C, $550,000 in three years, was 574 to 97. The total vote on the $3,000,000 issue was 182 to 66.

The majority in favor of bond was even greater than was expected, according to bond advocates, who were familiar with the attention through the county, and the vote cast was larger than anticipated, it is declared.

The total number of votes cast was 676 out of 1,388, the number qualified. The poll was within 36 votes of one-half of the total qualified.

This proportion of votes cast held good in all of the precincts. Passage of the county-wide issue is hailed by good roads enthusiasts all over the county as being one of the greatest steps taken by Seminole citizens in the history of the county, which when completed, will give this county one of the finest systems of hard surfaced highways in the state, it is declared.

Seminole county, it is pointed out, already has many miles of good roads and the addition of approximately 88 miles as provided for by the bond issue, will open many other sections of the county which heretofore have been more or less isolated. The issue also provides for about 45 miles of present roads to be widened and reconstructed.

The county commissioners for the past year have been working on the bond issue, endeavoring to secure its passage. It is pointed out that would develop every section of Seminole county. That their efforts have been rewarded is stated by the overwhelming vote in favor of the issue.

HOUSTON, Tex., May 5.—Advertising peace and progress to the world will be the underlying thought for the convention of Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, meeting here May 9-11. The general theme of "Advertising as a Means to World Peace" has been selected as a topic for general discussion.

Addresses of welcome will be delivered by the governor, Senator Sheppard, Mayor O. P. Holcombe, Amos G. Carter, publisher of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, and William S. Patton, president of the Advertising Association, Houston. The response will be made by Lou E. Holland, president of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the world.

The subjects of sermons in Houston churches on Sunday, May 10, will be along the theme of the convention. At the city auditorium in the afternoon of that day the Prairie View Normal chorus of 125 negro voices will sing. Congressman Eaton will be the speaker of the afternoon. Sunday night there will be a concert of Houston's musical bands, the majority of the city's Quinn and Henry H. Rogers of San Antonio will speak a world peace.

The last afternoon, Thursday, May 14, will be devoted to reports of committees, passage of resolution and election of officers.

Pilgrim's Progress Story Is Found In Psalms Translation

SEATTLE, May 6.—An Old Testament Pilgrim's Progress has been found in four of the psalms by Dr. Herbert H. Gowen, professor of Oriental languages and literature at the University of Washington.

Dr. Gowen's translation differs from the standard one. He says he has preserved as nearly as possible the original meter of the Old Testament songs and has diligently connected the four chants into a continuous story of the pilgrim's return to the Promised Land.

"The conception behind the four psalms, which begin with the 120th, was the return of the Jewish exiles from the Babylonian captivity," Dr. Gowen said. "The joy of the returning captives as they noticed the hills of their native land and the towers of Jerusalem is reflected in the songs."

Marriage Performed Couple In 1911 Results In Divorce Suit In 1925

MEDIA, Pa., May 6.—A marriage ceremony performed by themselves 14 years ago was revealed today in the divorce granted to Mrs. Josephine Lucas from Alphonse Lucas, realtor of St. Petersburg, Fla.

Mrs. Lucas, in her testimony asking for a divorce, said the pair went to Wilmington, Del., in March, 1911 to be married but arrived too late at night to obtain a license. They then agreed to "marry" themselves using a wedding ring and going through the ceremony without a minister.

Home and Health Authorities Counsel Betterment of Homes As Happiness and Health Aids

Dr. Lee K. Frankel, Gen. Hugh S. Cumming, and Donn Barber.

The Better Homes in America movement seeks to give to every American family the opportunity to realize to the utmost every physical, social, and spiritual advantage the home should afford. It is directed mainly to assist families whose incomes are not large.

Dr. Hugh S. Cumming, Surgeon General of the U. S. Public Health Service, has strongly stated the importance of this popular movement in the following terms: "The value of a campaign for Better Homes in America is inestimable. One of the most important factors in the success of such campaigns is to convince the American people that real happiness in a large measure is found in providing themselves with comfortable well-built homes in which they can live and rear their families."

"Happiness depends in a large measure upon good health. Suitable housing facilities and agreeable environments are essential factors in maintaining the health and efficiency of the nation and, therefore, a campaign for Better Homes in America should have a nationwide appeal and receive the hearty cooperation of all."

The small home and the home for the family of moderate income is a matter of concern to Better Homes in America. Donn Barber, Fellow of the American Institute of Architects and a member of the Better Homes in America Advisory Council, gives this counsel: "Every home should be composed of the fewest elements possible—straightforward planning, making convenience of paramount importance, and living requirements reduced to the most direct and labor-saving effort. Houses should be seriously planned, and built with words and paper and pencil before venturing into the realm of construction."

Dr. James Ford, Executive Director of Better Homes in America, at 1653 Pennsylvania Ave., Washington, D. C., reports that over 1500 local committees have already been organized to observe Better Homes Week, May 11-17, 1925.

Head Grain Marketing Agency Lays Blame On Speculators For Price Drop

WASHINGTON, May 6.—The recent collapse in grain prices after their advance of last fall and winter, in the opinion of G. E. Marcy, chairman of the board of managers of the grain marketing company of Chicago, was caused by the tremendous holdings of speculators, and the mistaking of the public as to the condition of the world grain market.

"Mrs. Marcy, in a statement made public here Sunday, declared that this misleading information made the American grain prices to much higher than the world's prices during the period preceding the collapse for the time being the American farmer lost his market, and at the same time a much higher market was made for the Australian and Argentine farmers."

"If the law of supply and demand had been allowed unrestricted play," he said, "I believe the American wheat would have sold on a daily domestic basis, which means the world's price plus an import duty of 42 cents."

Male Pedestrians In Zurich Responsible For Their Own Lives

ZURICH, May 6.—In the opinion of a Zurich justice of the peace "motor car drivers must necessarily halt when they approach women, cattle or hens, for noody can tell which way they will run, but there isn't any reason to suspect that two men standing in the middle of the road will run in opposite directions when a driver sounds his horn." With this reasoning the judge declined to fine a driver for running down a male pedestrian.

S. Bureau Chief and Civic Leader Urge Better Homes For Sake of Growing Boys and Girls

Miss Grace Abbott

J. Horace McFarland

The home in its relation to the child is the place where the character of the future citizen of the nation is most influenced and shaped. It is one of the major centers of better homes in America. The National Congress of Parents and Teachers with its 12,000 local organizations, the National Teachers' Association, for example, is one of the great national organizations co-operating with better homes in America.

Miss Grace Abbott, chief of the Bureau of the United States Department of Labor, who is a member of the Advisory Council on Better Homes in America, has issued this phase of the education of the child in the following terms: "The home is the child's world and the most important habit-forming period of his life. 'Better homes' could be provided for the vast majority of American children during this year of our Lord 1925 with little real sacrifice. Better Home Week could serve no more useful purpose than as a re-education of the home to the object for which it really exists and stimulating community co-operation in the elimination of everything that detracts its purpose."

J. Horace McFarland, president of the American Civic Association, also a member of the Better Homes in America Advisory Council, speaking of the movement, says: "The work that has been done and is being done by better homes in America cannot be comprehended in the accomplishments of one year. The movement as it has proceeded is the best answer to the old, un-Christian, un-social and un-civilized fallacy which refers the housing of our people to the law of supply and demand.

'He's a Good Fellow, but-'

How many times has this been said about YOU when some merchant called up the Sanford Credit Association to ask for your credit rating?

"But he's awfully slow"—that statement has kept many a man from actual necessities when he needed them most. However the merchant would LIKE to carry you indefinitely, few can do so. He MUST pay the wholesaler, the manufacturer, the supply house. For HIM to be able to pay, YOU must pay.

Prompt payment of bills reduces the cost of doing business, and this means a saving to everybody. Pay your bills promptly when due, YOU'LL feel a lot better over it and the merchant will, also. REMEMBER—

At the monthly meeting of the Seminole County School Board this week, a communication from the Junior Chamber of Commerce was read asking that school buses discharge passengers on the side of the street nearest the schools in order that the children may not be compelled to cross the street and be placed in danger of being run over by passing automobiles.

The board instructed Superintendent Lawton to inform the Junior Chamber that next year the suggestion would be taken and this danger eliminated.

FRANCE HAS trouble with the Riffs, barbarous tribes convinced that they should own North Africa. This, have driven the Spaniards north to the sea coast and plan to drive the French from their valuable African lands.

LOID GEORGE says the Hindenburg election does not mean restoration of the German monarchy. He believes that 'kirgly and imperial government' has done to drag her down, and will not return to autocracy.

THE seaplane with the new record is the P-9, built for non-stop flights from California to Honolulu. Bear in mind also, Messrs. THE END of war (for the time being) finds the world turned upside down financially, with conditions never seen before. This was pointed out the other day by a learned German economist, at the luncheon given by Mr. Kreeh, head of the Equitable Trust Company, to the German Ambassador.

The most remarkable thing in all history, economically speaking, is the present position of the United States. MY FAVORITE STORIES BY IRVIN S. COBB

One of the oldest stories in the known world—and in my humble judgment one of the best ones as well—deals with three actors—an aged negro, and itinerant conjurer and a twelve-pound snapping turtle.

THE PROVOCATIONS OF PROCURSTES

If you could have refrained From nudging your companion, The while you fight with me With those big brown eyes— Or, if you had been able To repress the embryonic sneer That twisted the corners Of an otherwise adorable mouth, I might have succumbed to you As I have succumbed to others. But, no; you were too sure Of your serpent-like charms, And the security engendered By your escort's presence; You were too intent Upon your own beloved ego. To note the red herbertig. You thus drew across the trail. Allow me to offer you This bit of advice, dear lady: Get an old gambler to show you How he would play a full-house Against a man 'out on a limb' With one small pair! —Miami Tribune.

Eve Again, The "Delicatessen Wife"

Apparently agreeing that "the way to reach any man's heart is through his stomach", Mrs. John D. Sherman, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, asserts that the chief cause of divorce is the "Delicatessen Wife".

Mrs. Sherman declares it is "no wonder divorces have increased from one in every thirty marriages, twenty-five years ago to one in every five marriages now" considering the kind of homes women make for the men they have married. "I have no patience," Mrs. Sherman says, "with women who enjoy themselves away from home and rush back at the last minute before the husband arrives, or even after, to buy their dinner at a delicatessen store."

In other words the President General of the nation's organization of women would have a wife not only capable of cooking and serving a wholesome, pleasing meal, but would have the lady regard the job as her share of the partnership her marriage brought. Possibly Mrs. Sherman did not expect the wives of successful men to do the actual cooking. She just wanted them to "see to it" that the husband would find well-cooked, satisfying food, attractively served.

And regardless of the opinion of women who do not give any time to learning the cooking art, Mrs. Sherman has probably touched upon the most vital cause of broken homes. Well-fed, comfortable men are usually good-natured. We "beasts" are made that way. And if a woman has brains enough to be a fine cook and yet keep herself attractive to the eye and unruffled in disposition, she is pretty certain to retain the faithful devotion of the man she feeds.

In the case of the woman with brains who is clever enough to have good cooking done by well-trained servants, an especially strong anchorage is provided for the marriage bark. The "Delicatessen Wife" is really a silly bit of femininity who thinks it is possible to go through life to the tune of a jazz band.

Under the leadership of Mrs. John D. Sherman perhaps the Women's Clubs of America will take up a campaign against the "Delicatessen Wife" in her many phases. It is sometimes among club women themselves that such a campaign is needed. And the daughters of today's club workers are being trained to be just the sort of a wife as their training insures.

Let's watch the response to Mrs. Sherman's opinions of the "Delicatessen Wife." Some valuable club programs may be inspired by the President General's attitude toward women who fail to be home-makers.

Follow The Leader

There is among many people a certain lack of individuality which not only holds them down on the lowest rung of the ladder but also makes them absolute bores to all who come in contact with them.

This characteristic may show itself in two different ways. Frequently you meet a man who agrees with you on every subject you bring up. Later you will find out that he is also the kind of a man who never leads in any movement, yet who is always ready to follow the leadership of someone else into anything, no matter what that may be. He is simply one of the mob.

Frankly, is there anyone more boring than the man or woman with whom you CANNOT have an argument? You know the type. No matter what subject you bring up, no matter which side you take, the summation of his opinions on the subject is, "Yes, I think so too." Isn't it awful? Don't you sometimes look around for the proverbial custard pie?

And yet this type is not really dangerous until it becomes dominated by some evil leader. Most of the lynchings committed in the United States, most of the strikes and riots, are the result of the bringing together of one evil, unprincipled leader and a group of men who cannot think for themselves, but who blindly follow the leadership of anyone who stirs them up.

Get a bunch of these spineless individuals together and let someone, anyone, get on a soap box, and start shouting, and nothing is impossible, nothing is even improbable.

And there is another way this peculiar individuality manifests itself. A civic movement is started. A campaign, we'll say, is in order to join the Chamber of Commerce. Everyone is doing it. A thousand new members a day, big headlines in the papers, and all that sort of thing. Everyone of these "lamb" will climb on the band wagon and join too.

Another illustration. Suppose Mike Idleburry is running for mayor and has the support of the newspapers and the loud talkers of the town. The subjects of this editorial do not for one moment consider using their own heads and figuring out whether it is best to elect Mike mayor. If the noise and the band and banners are on Mike's side, then they are too.

So when you meet a man who agrees with you on everything, who apparently has no opinions of his own, watch him, for all he knows is "follow the leader."

Florida is a pioneer state, the latest and perhaps the last full-scale stamping-ground in Continental United States for the trail-blazer, the axe-man and the road-builder, preparing the way for the land agent and the settler. History is repeating itself in Florida; the progress whereby every acre of America was first opened up for habitation is the process whereby Florida is now being developed. And the questions that were asked about Florida today are historical, too; they are the identical questions that were asked in George Washington's day about the Ohio country, when Cincinnati was as young as Miami is today.—Frank Parker Stockbridge in the Review of Reviews.

JOELY WELL OUT OF IT

Why Not Half Holiday on Saturday?

By R. J. HOLLY

Many of us are burdened with that idea that we cannot change certain habits and modes of living because our fathers did not change. For the same reason that some of us voted against the bond issue for good road because our fathers were against all bond issues. Or we refuse to take a bath except on Saturday night because our fathers had no bath tubs and had to fill the old zinc tub except on Saturday night.

Because years ago I advocated the stores closing on Saturday at noon instead of Thursdays the folks thought I was afflicted with the best of softening of the brain. I never saw the liver or some other ailment. I do not want to issue as a radical reformer but if we never "take the bull by the horns" as it were and adopt new methods of living we will soon be in the discard. If we cannot originate a few things, as we go through this vale of tears, and overstrains we should let Frank Miller take us to a cemetery even before we are officially pronounced dead.

All of which brings me to the story of closing the stores on Saturday at noon instead of Thursdays. I could write six columns of reasons why Saturday should be the half holidays instead of Thursday but I do not intend to do so now—In fact The Herald never has any space unless I am willing to pay for the same at advanced rates but they have granted this much to me to tell the simple tale of why we should not close on Thursday at noon and should take Saturday instead.

Just figure on this problem yourself and if you don't agree with me say so and I will keep on giving reasons why Saturday is the day for closing, despite the fact that Sanford is a farming community. But don't take my word for it today. Just read the following from the Palatka Post: "Because, as some of the business men are learning in some of the larger cities there is an aversion to having 'two Monday mornings,' several localities are taking the customary half holidays so common through the summer months upon a Saturday in place of Thursday as has long been the custom. Merchants do not like the Monday mornings, and to have two of them, for Friday takes on that aspect after closing Thursday afternoon, in one week is very distasteful. By closing at noon on Saturday both the clerks and the employers have a day and a half and two nights of leisure; thus making it possible to have an extended outing which is forbidden by the short afternoon of Thursday and the one Sunday. Merchants of West Palm Beach have decided very unanimously upon taking the Saturday afternoon closing at noon, and thus getting 42 hours of freedom from store life all at one time. For several years this plan has been agitated here, but this is the first year that the scheme has been put into practice. Business men feel sure that this plan will be a winner, and while all have concurred in the plan, it is believed that the few who hold out for the old-style plan will soon see the advantage of adopting the new idea."

ROOM AT THE TOP PROVIDENCE NEWS

One of the main consultations of the struggle for existence in these days is that there's always "room at the top." Sometimes the younger generation is inclined to doubt that fact, but it ought not to do so. It is not true that with the pioneering days of any American industry the chance of the poor boy to reach high position ended. In the industrial world of today, among the very leading men, it is the rule rather than the exception to find the man who has worked his way up from the ranks. In fact the man who is described as probably the richest individual in the world, Henry Ford, was worth but a few dollars until he had passed his fortieth year, when the automobile was already regarded as a settled element in our life.

ROOM AT THE TOP PROVIDENCE NEWS

We are moved to make this point by a success just recorded in a field that is not usually called industrial—that is the selection of Richard T. Harris as president of the New York Cotton Exchange. He is only 45 years old, but he began in the cotton business as a boy of fifteen with very little schooling. His job, then, was that of errand boy, and his motto then was what what it is today—"To succeed, you have to work."

Ideas are funny things. They won't work unless you do. Vaccinations are like vaccinations. Some don't take. A success makes his wife a far cent out of the wolf at the door. Spring is that time of the year when you even get tired of resting. Mexico has her grasshopper plague and we have our crossword puzzles. Washington scientist has a way to cure a jag in 30 minutes, which would be wasting liquor. Wonder if the former Kaiser didn't grow his own rubber trees in Georgia in his inaugural address. Statistics show we have 25 million cases of illness annually, but cause more are not prevented. We think a rumor that Ford will grow his own rubber trees in Georgia is stretching the truth. Dees higher education pay? Today we say, "Yes." Motorists have been barred from Yale campus. It may be discouraging to realize some day you may have the little worries your boss has now. LOCAL EPWORTH LEAGUE PLANS SPECIAL WEEK OF ACTIVITIES

The Senior Epworth League of the Methodist Church has adopted this week as a special week of League Activities, with every member of the league expecting to take part in the week's program.

The following program has been arranged:

Friday evening the Florida Central Union will be entertained by the Sanford League. Over 250 young people are expected and a great time is being planned. During the business session of the union the election of officers will be held. Other important business will be considered, including a discussion of the Florida Conference. The local league is not eligible in the contest for the attendance cup but it is hoped every member will be present. The First Department has worked hard this month on efficiency and hopes to keep the pin another month. League members are requested to come and share the honors.

On Saturday afternoon the Second and Fourth Departments have charge of a cooked food sale, which will be held in front of the Piggly Wiggly store.

Sunday evening at 6:45 o'clock the First Department will have charge of the "Quiet Hour" meeting. Every member is expected to be present.

Following the "Quiet Hour" meeting, promptly at 7 o'clock the Second Department will take charge of the Mother's Day program. This program has been arranged by Miss Evelyn Elenfield and Miss Virginia Jenkins.

Only One In 50,000 Movie Actors Wins Fame, Figures Show

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., May 6.—Figures compiled during the last five years by the largest moving picture producing companies reveal that the aspirant to stardom in the films must overcome a 50,000 to 1 chance of achieving success.

The figures indicate that in the past five years, screen service bureaus of Hollywood have supplied over 100,000 men, women and children, who at first were inexperienced in moving picture work. Of these 100,000, not to exceed six or seven have reached a point where their names were carried on the screen, and only two have become stars of any magnitude.

Many included in the figures had some theatrical experience, and the contrast is drawn with the fact that nearly all of the prominent stars and favorites have had stage experience.

"A beautiful face," directors say, "or a pretty figure or both, without special histrionic ability, are useless in filmland."

Educational Survey Measure Faces Some Delay With Senators

TALLAHASSEE, May 6.—House bill to provide for an educational survey of Florida was on the senate calendar today for second reading, but probably it will be several days before it is reached for further consideration because of the increased calendar. This bill introduced by Representative Dewey of Pasco, carries an appropriation of $10,000 and would authorize the governor to name a committee which would be empowered to employ specialists to conduct the survey and report not later than Jan. 19. The measure is carried by the state Department of Education and many educational organizations throughout the state.
