

'Regrettable Edibles' Are Dining Dilemma

Articles are only one of a class of delicious but otherwise "regrettable edibles" that can cause dining dilemmas.

When diners are faced with a choice between a food that might present unpalatable problems as opposed to a food they know they can handle, they often opt for the latter. This leads to boredom. Dissatisfaction. And, eventually, an end to dining out. (You can always have hamburgers or chops at home, after all.)

The fact remains, however, that the correct method of consuming certain cuisine is usually the simplest and most logical way. Folks should be fretful at the thought of fingerling food should be comforted to know that with some edibles the fingers are not only okay, they are mandatory! Some foods are best open to attack with a finger-fork combination; and still others call for the use of utensils only. But which, and for what? That is the question.

The answer lies in a cheery and comforting little volume prepared by that mentor of manners, Marjabelle Stewart. Entitled "Ore-Ida's All-Rights" and All-Wrongs: Eating Manners for Hot Potatoes and Small Fries," the booklet gently and jocularly guides one through such subjects as eating spaghetti with integrity, pluckily dissecting our fine feathered friends, putting one's wrist against pins, how to cope with an artichoke... and, naturally, partaking of potato products, pleasingly.

As an example, "A Little Epistle On Eating a Thistle," "The Artichoke Cheat-Sheet for Neophyte Nibblers" deals summarily with that prickly plant.

2. Holding pointed end between forefinger and thumb, place in mouth. Draw through teeth, extracting tender portion. Place tattered remains on side of plate or on butter dish, stacking neatly (though not necessarily symmetrically).

3. When no leaves remain, you are left with the choka. Use your knife to cut away this objectionable and fuzzy object.

4. You have now reached the heart of the matter, or the fond, as it is called. If you are fond of fond, cut into bite-sized pieces, and stamp out eating ennui once and for all!

Gourmet Diet

The Allamonte Mall will host a Gourmet Diet Cooking Demonstration spotlighting recipes featured in the current Ladies Home Journal article on Diet Workshop—Dieting in Six Languages. Samples of each dish will be distributed, and this is all part of the First Annual Diet Workshop recipe Contest.

While it might seem to be throwing a dieter into the proverbial lion's den when encouraging them to step into the kitchen, it is really one of the best ways to ensure weight loss. Attractive, appealing food, imaginatively cooked, takes the dieter out of dieting, but by satisfying all the cravings, right down to the yet for sweets, a dieter can resist the need to "cheat." That is why the Diet Workshop encourages its members to refrain the fine art of cooking utilizing such ingredients as artificial sweeteners, skim milk powder, herbs, spices, yogurt, fresh fruits and a variety of vegetables.

There will be free samples and recipes for everyone passing by in the mall, so be sure to stop by.

Conduct Code, Wekiva School Win Final OK

By STEVE DAVIS Herald Staff Writer

The Seminole County School Board Wednesday night approved a code of student conduct, mandated by the 1976 legislature, that each school make available at the beginning of the next school year.

The board also has received final approval for the construction of a new southwest Seminole elementary school at the Wekiva Hunt Club.

The code includes, but is not limited to specific grounds for punishment and an explanation of the responsibilities and rights of students with regard to attendance, respect for persons and property, knowledge and observations of rules of conduct, the right to learn, free speech and student publications, assembly, privacy and participation in school programs and activities.

A significant aspect of the code deals with student apparel. The policy states students have the right to select what they wear, provided it reflects "cleanliness, modesty, safety and good taste." Clothing should not disrupt school activities, be obscene or defamatory or be worn in "suggestive places."

Ray explained the term "suggestive" means clothing containing printed matter or objects worn at suggestive areas of the body. The new standards received favorable reaction from an Evening Herald sampling of area school students last week.

Most agreed that punishment had been fair and consistent in their schools and "a line has to be drawn somewhere" regarding student dress.

School Board Public Information Officer Ralph Ray said the code is designed to be "as strict as possible" but to allow some flexibility for individual schools.

Ray added the code conforms with state and local board requirements and merely provides a guideline for schools to follow. He said different penalties for nonconformance by students will be instituted depending on the seriousness of the offense. "The individual schools may prescribe more specific penalties" than the board's adopted policy, he said.

By law, the school superintendent has the authority to establish and implement school dress codes, however no specific policy had existed previously.

In other business, board attorney Douglas P. Stenstrom told the board the U.S. District Court "reluctantly" approved construction plans for

Rudy Vallee: 'I'm Through With Megaphone'

Rudy Vallee says he's through with the megaphone into which he sang during the 30s and 40s. Though the women swooned and Vallee became the center of a cult-like following, he claims his current show contains, "no nostalgia."

"Forget the megaphone," he shouts — and it is clear from the strength of his voice that he really doesn't need it.

Performing tonight at 9:30 and 11:30 at Mr. P's Supper Club, Sanford, Vallee says he'll have his audience in the aisles laughing.

He calls his material, "timeless" and emphasizes that it will have a broad appeal for Sanfordites, who will find themselves paying only a $3.00 cover charge to see the performer.

$20-Million Center: No Decision, Just Four Puzzled Commissioners

By ED PRICKETT Herald Staff Writer

Plans for county government's new $20-million Frank Evans Service Center are in limbo.

Seminole's planning department has drawn a proposal for the center to be constructed on 80 acres of county-owned property near Five Points.

These plans, which call for the sheriff's and county commission's administrative offices to locate at the new service center, were not acted on by the commission at Tuesday's meeting.

And County Commission Chairman Dick Williams says he doesn't really understand why they are conceptual in nature and would serve as blueprints for growth when the county applies for federal grants.

"I really don't know what the board members had in mind," Williams said. "I really don't intend to bring it (the plan) back up until somebody asks for it."

The meeting was also attended by Commissioners Bill Kirchoff, John Kimbrough and Harry Kwitkowsky.

"I don't know what the deal was. I need more information," Kirchoff said today.

What information? he was asked.

"I don't know. No, I don't know anything. It's a complete mystery to me," Kirchoff said.

Kimbrough said he has several unanswered questions.

For example: He wants an automatic red light installed where the fire station is located to let fire engines out. He objects to a proposed firing range. No alternatives were listed for a $75,000 road proposed to lead to the sheriff's complex. The three major sections in the proposal didn't seem to be adequately linked by roadways.

"The plan may be absolutely perfect, but I need additional data," Kimbrough declared. Kwitkowsky attends Florida Technical University and could not be reached for comment today.

Drawn by Seminole's resident landscape architect, Jim Chantry, blueprints call for three major sections in the project, Chantry estimated when, and if, all buildings are constructed at the site, the price tag could reach the $20-million mark.

No time frame is available when construction might get underway. County officials say that depends entirely on availability of county, state and federal dollars.

Chantry said the proposed complex is named in honor of former County Commissioner Frank Evans who Chantry says was responsible for the county's purchasing the 80-acre tract of land in the first place.

John Percy, the director of county development, said he will bring the plan before the board at some later date for approval.

One pressing item is Sheriff John Polk's criminal justice complex. Planners said Polk needs to know specifically where his complex will be located because the sheriff expects to receive a $5-million grant from the federal government to build the justice complex.

The sheriff's complex would be situated with juvenile detention offices and the animal control department. A second section is comprised of public works consisting of storage and maintenance facilities.

The third subdivision would be an administration section consisting of all offices related to the county commission, an agricultural center and a new fire station.

Lt. Gov. Williams To Speak

May 21 Set As Farm City Day

Everything from Zellowood corn to cumberbers for pickling will be available at Sanford's Farm City Day set for May 21, according to Harold Hunziker, Chairman of the Agri-Business Committee for the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce.

The celebration, intended to make produce grown in Seminole County available to the public at wholesale prices, will be held at two locations.

Tables displaying produce and manned by boys and girls of the 4-H Clubs in Seminole County will open at Mellon Park at 9 a.m. Saturday morning, May 21. A second set of tables will be located outside stores in the Sanford Plaza at Airport Boulevard and 17-92.

The tables will be manned by Seminole County Junior Deputies.

A banquet sponsored by the Chamber Agri-Business Committee will be held Friday evening, May 20, to kick off the Farm City Day celebration, said Hunziker.

Guest speaker at the banquet, which will be attended by invitation only, will be Florida Lt. Gov. James H. Williams, Jr.

Exactly what types of produce will be available to buyers at Farm City Day will depend on what products are available.

Hunziker and his committee have confirmed that celery, yellow corn and cabbage will be sold at the celebration.

Other possible produce items available include black eyed peas, pickle cucumbers, beans, "and there may be a gentleman there with fresh honey and a bee display," said Hunziker.

In addition to merchandise for sale, in both small and large quantities, Farm City Day will offer displays of farm equipment, including tractors and other implements.

"We also hope to have some antique farm equipment on display," Hunziker said.

Although individual farmers selling produce at the Farm City Day celebration will be allowed to charge what they wish for produce, prices will be kept low and most will be in line with wholesale rates.

Public Hearing Set For May 17

County Spokesman Reassures City Officials On Plan

By MARK WEINBERG Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County's proposed comprehensive plan development framework represents a set of policy guidelines — not a completed plan, County Planner Bill Kercher emphasized in a Wednesday meeting to discuss the plan with Sanford City Manager W. E. Knowles and other city officials.

Knowles had requested the meeting on the development framework last month, charging in a memorandum to Kercher that the framework "has transgressed the municipal operating boundaries" by proposing the establishment of governmental units to coordinate on a countywide basis such functions as drainage and transportation.

"The development framework is only the portion portion of the plan," said Kercher. The next step would be the development of a specific short-range land use plan and five-year capital improvements program, according to the planner.

The county commission will consider the framework in a May 17 public hearing, after which the commission will either accept, modify or reject the framework, guidelines for services and facilities and a development pattern map.

Detailed work to flesh out the comprehensive plan will take place during the summer, said Kercher, but first the county commission will be asked to adopt the development framework's guidelines by ordinance.

"At this point we've got to see if we're on the right track... I don't want to do the next step until (the county commission) tells me what they want to do about" the policies.

The development framework is "a planning document, not a comprehensive plan," Knowles said.

Kercher admitted it would be "impossible for the county to unilaterally implement" many provisions of the framework "with the powers we have today." Countywide coordinating mechanisms would have to be established by state law or interlocal agreement, Kercher said.

Knowles said he had discussed the framework with officials of several cities in Seminole County, and "they're upset as heck

Knowles and Kercher agreed they would not meet again before the May 17 public hearing.

Robbery-Murder Suspects May Be Headed For Daytona

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A man who used $100 bills to light his cigars while buying rounds of drinks at a suburban tavern is being sought as the mastermind of the multimillion-dollar robbery and murder of a reclusive grocery heiress. Authorities say state murder charges and federal fugitive warrants have been issued for Howard Willard, 38, and a woman believed to be traveling with him, Marjorie Pollitt, 48. They are thought to be en route to Daytona Beach, Fla. About $1.6 million was found in the possession of three persons already in custody in the case. Authorities say at least $1.4 million is still missing from the home of Marjorie Jackson, 66, who was found shot to death early Saturday.

Oil, Gas De-Controls Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republicans are ready to counter President Carter's energy program with a major proposal of their own that seeks to increase U.S. energy production by lifting price controls from oil and natural gas. The GOP energy "alternative," expected to be backed by the Senate's Republican membership, would allow energy companies to reap larger profits on domestic energy production.

Stolen Computer Mysteriously Returned

Sanford police said today that a $7,000 mini-computer stolen in a weekend burglary at Seminole High School has "mysteriously reappeared" undamaged at the school. Detective Tom Bernosky said today that the computer, which had been on loan to the school from the National Cash Register Co., was found "almost on the school steps" intact and undamaged "after investigators conducted a number of interviews." Still missing, police said, are three school-owned small electronic calculators that were also taken when burglars pried open a classroom door and ripped a padlock off a storage closet door. Bernosky said today that no arrests have been made in connection with the mini-computer burglary but that police are continuing their investigation. Asst. Principal Wayne Epps said the mini-computer was being used to examine possibilities of its use in data processing and math classes at the high school. He said the weekend burglars evidently knew what they were looking for and where it was kept.

Rape-Related Charges Dismissed

Judge: She Didn't Protest Enough

By BOB LLOYD Herald Staff Writer

Circuit Court Judge Robert B. McGreggor has ruled that a 31-year-old Port Orange woman wasn't raped and has dismissed two sexual battery charges against a Lake Mary man. Lewis D. Wade, 29, of S. Third St., Lake Mary, was arrested and accused of raping the Port Orange woman, who was picked up by a man April 6 when she was stranded near I-4 when her car broke down. Wade was free on bond at the time in connection with the Dec. 22 rape of a 16-year-old girl near Sanford. A jury found Wade guilty on April 13 of raping the teenager and he could receive a sentence of up to life imprisonment on June 2. He is in county jail awaiting completion of a pre-sentence investigation and sentencing.

In a Wednesday hearing Judge McGreggor dismissed two sexual battery counts against Wade in the case of the stranded motorist. Assistant State Atty. Don Davis contended the Port Orange woman was coerced into submission and put in fear of her life after she accepted a ride.

The alleged victim didn't testify at the hearing but Judge McGreggor, after reviewing a lengthy statement by the woman, said the court wasn't convinced that she resisted "to the extent the law expects her to do so. It doesn't appear she offered any great amount of resistance at any time." The woman's statement to sheriff's detectives outlined in detail how she went to a store with a man who gave her a ride and sexual intercourse and alleged assault incident in woods off General Hutcheon Parkway near U.S. 17-92 and Big Tree Park.

Reading extensively from the woman's statement in open court, McGreggor noted she had "extracted" promises from the man that he wouldn't hurt her. "It appears to the court, that while she was unwilling, that she in a sense did consent (to sexual intercourse) and alleged assault incident in woods off General Hutcheon Parkway near U.S. 17-92 and Big Tree Park." McGreggor said that if the statements made by the woman in the investigator's interview were true that they didn't make a prima facie case of sexual battery.

Sanford police today were looking for mailbox vandals and sheriff's deputies were investigating a number of south Seminole burglaries and thefts.

Sanford police said two persons in a dark blue pickup truck apparently used a baseball bat Wednesday night in a spree that demolished or damaged at least 25 residential streetside mailboxes.

Patrolman Lewis Coombs reported the vandals struck on Laurel, Elm, Myrtle and Oak Avenues between the 2000 and 2600 blocks.

Sheriff's deputies reported burglars broke into a 29-foot motor home at Christiansen-

Kitchen Motors, Forest City, and stripped out furnishings valued at $800. Listed as missing were two five-foot seat cushions, an AM-FM-Tape stereo unit and speakers, and a swivel chair seat.

Longwood, residence by someone who gained entry to the residence. In other sheriff's reports, James G. Lilly, of 1855 Eastbrook Blvd., reported an assortment of tools and a toolbox, total value $1,000, were taken from a carport at his residence.

JEWELRY TAKEN James Sanford reported to deputies that a man's gold watch and diamond ring valued at $1,200 were taken from the kitchen of his 1920 Hobson St.

MARIJUANA ARREST Sheriff's detectives arrested Bobby Dale Clark, 20, of Langwood Route One, at an Altamonte Springs apartment complex on a felony marijuana possession charge. Bond for Clark was set at $5,000, according to county jail records.

Robert Nolan Brooke, 34, of Oak Hill in Volusia County, was jailed in lieu of $5,000 bond on a grand larceny of auto charge. County jail records indicate that Brooke was arrested by deputy R. L. O'Dell Wednesday night in downtown Sanford.

For Forgery

Ex-Auxiliary Policeman Sentenced

A former Sanford auxiliary policeman who pleaded guilty to uttering a forgery in using funds collected for a graduation dinner for auxiliary officers by his personal bills has been placed on five years probation. Circuit Court Judge Robert B. McGreggor meted the sentence to Robert Dennis Boatner, 27, of Sanford, boatner, now assistant manager of a restaurant at DeLand, told the court he's been able to make restitution for nearly $300 of the $399 banquet bill for last Nov. 19.

Earlier Boatner told the court he crossed out the name of a Longwood area motel-restaurant on a $42 check drawn on a Florida Highway Patrol Auxiliary bank account, inserted his own name and cashed the altered check at a Sanford supermarket because he'd been out of work and owed four months back rent.

Restaurant officials contacted FHP instructor C.L. Tomlinson Jr. three months after the dinner about the unpaid bill. Tomlinson arrested Boatner in the case Feb. 7. Boatner said Boatner had been an auxiliary officer with the department until two weeks before his arrest.

At sentencing Boatner told Judge McGreggor that he had learned "that you can't buy friendship or respect. They both have to be earned. I realize I made a very stupid mistake." He said he'd tried to "find an easy dollar and an easy way out."

Trooper Tomlinson told the court that he felt if Boatner "is required to associate with hardened criminals (in prison) that it will polish his skills." Judge McGreggor warned Boatner that if he fails "in any trust" during the probation that he'll end up serving a five-year prison term.

Police said the air rifle was equipped with a dart attached to a .22-caliber bullet.

"It could have fired," Judge McGreggor noted.

In other sentences, Harold Bernard Swain, 18, of Sanford, received one year probation on his guilty plea to carrying a concealed weapon. When Swain was arrested by police on a downtown street the night of Feb. 2, he was carrying an air rifle concealed by a towel.

Police said the air rifle was equipped with a dart attached to a .22-caliber bullet.

"It could have fired," Judge McGreggor noted.

Bill Aids Homeowners Faced With Tax Increase

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Homeowners facing property tax hikes as city businesses crowd around them would get a break under a measure approved by a Senate committee. The Senate Finance and Taxation Committee voted 7-1 Wednesday for the bill despite arguments that it was unconstitutional. The bill would exempt homes from having property taxes raised solely because commercial or industrial property was developed adjacent to them.

"The person who is 67 years old and didn't ask for two banks to be built next to her, that is the one who hurts," argued Sen. Jim Glisson, R-Tavares. "It's not fair to have higher appraisals on homesteads for that reason."

Sleep Needs 'In Your Genes'

GAINESVILLE (AP) — If you have trouble getting up in the morning or falling asleep at night, blame your ancestors, sleep researchers say. "The amount of sleep each individual needs is inherited," says Dr. Wilse Webb, professor of psychology at the University of Florida. "It's in his genes. We are essentially the same sleepers we were in Babylon."

Bisexual Hawkins Aide Quits

MAITLAND (AP) — The chairman of the Public Service Commission says she has received the resignation of a top aide who says he is bisexual. "We discussed it last night and thought it would be for the best for the commission," Paula Hawkins said Wednesday of executive assistant Jim Curasi. "He had stated to me at the beginning that he was prepared to resign."

VERO BEACH (AP) — When their yacht began sinking off the Atlantic Coast, five Michigan residents aboard grabbed "six-packs of Coke and beer, a gallon of fresh water, two pineapples and a can of beans." "We expected to be out there at least a week," Mark Brown said after the five drifted safely ashore in a small sailboat and dinghy Wednesday, 24 hours after their 55-foot yacht sank a few miles offshore.

Orlando Gets $36.7 Million

JACKSONVILLE (AP) — Over the protests of officials from several Florida cities and counties, Orlando will get a $36.7-million slice of the state's $161 million in federal funds for sewer treatment plants. Orlando did not file its application by the March 15 deadline, but the Florida Environmental Regulation Commission (ERC) decided Wednesday to extend the deadline to June 14.

Death Penalty Vote Slated

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — The full 120-member House will get a chance to vote on proposals abolishing the death penalty in Florida as a result of a persuasive plea by a former prison guard who advocates capital punishment. Rep. Frank Williams, D-Starke, a former corrections officer, agreed with an argument by one of the bill's sponsors that members of the House Corrections Committee should send the measure to the floor regardless of their own feelings about the death penalty.

Sanford To Serve As Lead Applicant

Sewer Panel Okays Regional System

By MARK WEINBERG Herald Staff Writer

A regional sewage treatment system for northern Seminole County will be developed with the City of Sanford operating as lead applicant to develop the system, the Interim Regional Sewer Plant Committee voted Wednesday. The committee also decided to invite eight local realtors to a meeting next Wednesday to discuss the proper method of utilizing the realtors to assemble 1,468 acres of land for a spray irrigation system as part of the regional system.

The committee's action means Sanford will improve its treatment plant to eliminate the discharge of treated waste water into Lake Monroe and will contract with Lake Mary and Seminole County to provide sewage treatment to those areas.

The committee also decided to invite eight local realtors to a meeting next Wednesday to discuss the proper method of utilizing the realtors to assemble 1,468 acres of land for a spray irrigation system as part of the regional system.

When the state legislative delegation agreed April 15 to sponsor the bill to create a North Seminole Sewerage District, the legislators asked the committee to decide if it wanted to proceed with Sanford as lead applicant rather than create the sewage district spelled out in the bill.

The lone dissenting vote came from Seminole County Administrator Roger Newsome. The legislative delegation had accepted the county's bill, which provided for a three-member board appointed by the governing bodies of the county, Lake Mary and Sanford and contained no provision for

The Hunt For Central Landfill: Feasibility Study Almost Complete

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County is one of those counties designated by the state to study resource recovery and to have a plan in effect for recovery by next year.

Schuder Wednesday night said if locating a more central landfill is found to be feasible, the county will most likely finance the acquisition of the land and necessary equipment by a revenue bond issue.

He said the county might agree to take the route of a centrally located landfill if the commissioners can be assured that no tax funds would have to be used for either acquisition or operating costs.

Meanwhile, Mack LaZebny, Sanford City Engineer and acting utilities director, told the group that reports given at a recent U.S. Environmental Protection Agency seminar in Washington were pessimistic about the success of resource-recovery programs from garbage and trash now in operation around the country.

LaZebny said a major problem with resource recovery appears to be the lack of markets for the resulting products. He said for municipalities to get into the resource recovery program with any hopes of finding a market is a risk few can take with tax dollars.

Von Herbulis One-Hits Seminole Petroleum, 14-2

Hogan Spins Two-Hit Win

Brett Von Herbulis was something of a one-man wrecking crew for the Flagship Bank of Sanford baseball team Wednesday.

The lean right-hander held Seminole Petroleum to only one hit and did plenty of damage with his own bat, banging out a home run, double and two singles in Flagship of Sanford's 14-2 triumph.

Stanley Hogan also came up with a sound pitching performance in Sanford's Florida Little League, exchanging American Produce Exchange to two hits in an 8-4 victory by George's.

Seminole Set For Sectional Playoff, But Rain Fogs Friday Night's Foe

Seminole High School has a baseball team complete with just about everything.

Pitching, hitting, fielding and defense.

The element which is missing is an opponent.

Plantation and Lake Worth were to have staged a regional playoff earlier in the week, but rain kept putting it off. The game is rescheduled today at 11 in Fort Lauderdale, and once that regional champion is crowned, Friday night's matchup at Sanford Memorial Stadium will be ready to go.

The game is ticketed for 7:30 p.m. and tickets are $1.50 for adults and $1 for students.

Seminole, 22-1, rolled past three straight district foes and stopped Merritt Island, 2-1, in Tuesday's regional contest.

"I'm still optimistic," said Seminole coach Bobby Lundquist today. "We have been getting a real good team effort. David Wiggins has gotten most of the headlines, but everyone has been doing their jobs, and that's what it takes to take a team far."

And... 58 Seconds Later

NEW YORK (AP) — Like a tornado striking a Kansas farm house, it was over in 58 seconds.

A man in the red-cushioned 850 ringside seats reached down to pick up his hat. A lady in a long white gown turned to speak to a mustachioed man behind her. Another man reached in his pocket for change to buy a beer.

They flew the fight completely. NBC-TV set an all-time record for reruns. The midnight show came on an hour early.

Tall, hard-hitting Ken Norton gets another shot at Muhammad Ali — his fourth. They're already booked — contracts signed and in the safe — for a title fight in Rio de Janeiro in September. It's appropriate. The end of the season's reruns on the big tube. Will fight fans stand still for a fourth Ali-Norton fight for millions of dollars?

Time in next September.

And young Dianne Bobick, boxing's new "Golden Boy," the handsome ex-Olympian who came up from the cow country of Bowls, Minn., almost destroyed in a first-round knockout after 30 straight victories — what of him?

"He is young and strong. You haven't heard the last of Duane Bobick," Norton said graciously afterward.

The polite farm boy with the shock of curly copper hair is too good to lose early. He seems a fighter of his craft — modest, pleasant, soft-speaking, without bombast.

He took a terrible right hand shot to the throat early in the battle. Water welled in his eyes. He couldn't see. He became a helpless target of Norton's slapping, relentless fists — a vicious blow to the stomach, a right to the head, left, left, right, left.

Blood spewed from Bobick's handsome features and he crumbled. At the count of nine he rose on rubbery legs, his face a dazed mask of bruises and blood. Referee Patty Della stopped it. It was quick and merciful. Bobick had been brought along too quickly. He was a young bear thrown into the arena with a roaring lion.

Bobick's voice was as raspy, from the blow to the throat, that he could barely be understood. He had no allies.

"I start slow, I didn't have a chance to get loose," he explained. "He came out barreling to get me."

Somebody asked him what he remembered about the fight.

"There wasn't much to remember," he replied, giving the smartest appraisal of the bitter night.

Another reporter suggested that maybe the fight proved what some had charged, that Bobick's victories were over setups. Could this bout have proved it?

"There must have been one live body in the bunch," he answered.

How would he describe his disappointment?

"Shucks," he said.

Norton, who already has been guaranteed $2.25 million to fight Ali in Brazil this fall, was a gracious victor.

He said he was surprised that Bobick hadn't applied more pressure — it was almost as if the kid was frozen.

"You haven't seen the last of Bobick," he warned.

A's Bomb Jenkins; Vows Only 'Junk' From Now On

By The Associated Press

Oakland's Mitchell Page is making American League pitchers rewrite the book.

And as far as Boston pitcher Ferguson Jenkins is concerned, you can include the A's Wayne Gross and Earl Williams.

"I went to slow stuff in the fifth inning," said Jenkins, "but by then it was too late."

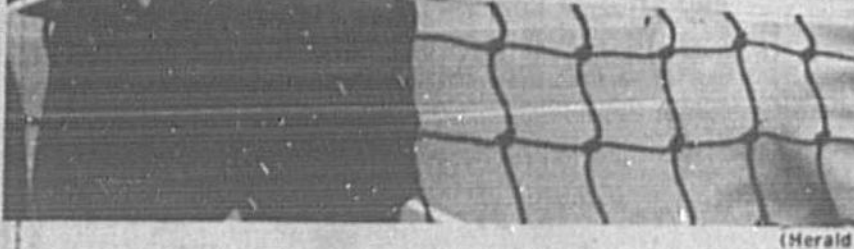

Jenkins gave up only five hits, but three were home runs by Page, Gross and Williams as Oakland downed the Red Sox 3-1 Wednesday.

"I threw a hard slider to Page, fastballs to the other two guys," Jenkins said. "Next time, I'll throw them nothing but slow."

Gross has nine home runs this season, second best in the American League, while Page is tied for third with eight. Williams was his seventh.

Doc Medich, 24, went the Boston way for the victory. Boston's only run was unearned as Carlton Fisk, who had three hits, doubled home Jim Rice, who had reached base on an error.

In other AL games Wednesday, Cleveland clipped Milwaukee 4-3. Detroit stopped Minnesota 8-3. The Chicago White Sox ripped Texas 4-3 in 10 innings. Seattle defeated the Yankees 5-2 and California blanked Baltimore 6-0.

Bristol Gets Vacation, Turner In Braves Dugout

By The Associated Press

Ted Turner is in the dugout and Dave Bristol is in limbo.

Turner, the flamboyant 38-year-old yachtsman and broadcasting executive who owns the Atlanta Braves, decided he needed a close-up look at what was wrong with his team, which had lost 16 games in a row. So Wednesday he told Bristol, his manager, to take a 10-day vacation, and donated the manager's cap himself.

There was no noticeable effect — the Braves lost No. 17, 2-1 to Pittsburgh.

"It seemed like I had done all I could, sitting up in the stands," explained Turner, who doesn't have a baseball background and is leaving all strategy matters to coaches Vern Benson and Chris Cannizzo. "I wanted to see what it's like down in the trenches."

From those trenches he got an eyeful of Dave Parker, the slugging Pirates outfielder who is tearing up the National League. Parker had two hits, including his sixth home run of the season in the third inning which snapped a 1-1 tie.

Parker now has hit safely in 22 consecutive games and is batting .437 — both major league highs. And the Pirates have won 11 in a row, the longest streak in the majors.

Bristol, meanwhile, was "taken aback" by Turner's move.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers beat the Montreal Expos 5-1. The San Francisco Giants trimmed the Philadelphia Phillies 4-2. The Cincinnati Reds defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 5-1. The Houston Astros whipped the Chicago Cubs 9-2 and the San Diego Padres swept a twilight doubleheader from the

79 Mayfair Top Score

Betty Daniels and Peg Robinson teamed up for a low gross 79 to take top honors in the Mayfair Country Club Women's Association member-guest tournament Wednesday.

Gloria Prosser and Nora Schram had low net honors with a 69. Second was Vivan Conklin and Pete Brown on a match of cards over the Frankie-Clark-Muriel Scott and Anette Hodges-Maggie Klein teams.

Barbara Powell went feature with a closest-to-pin shot on No. 7 of six feet.

Hockey Or Wrestling Is Stanley Question

BOSTON (AP) — Montreal defenseman Serge Savard listened to the charges of aggravated assault that the Boston Bruins were leveling at his teammates. And he grimaced.

"It sounds like they're trying to promote a wrestling match," he said, slightly bemused by the threats that revenge would be sought tonight in Game Three of the National Hockey League's Stanley Cup finals. "If that's the case..."

In this corner, wearing the gold, black and white, the Bruins. And in that corner, in red, white and blue, the Canadiens.

The featured match pits Montreal's Larry Robinson against Boston's Stan Jonathan. The 6-foot-3, 205-pound Robinson might be a slight favorite should he continue his adversarial relationship with Boston's 5-

Dekle's Creeps Toward First Half Metro Softball Title

Dekle's Gulf moved a step closer to wrapping up the first half championship in the Metro Softball League Wednesday night at Pincrest Park, scoring three times in the last inning for an 8-4 victory over the Seminole Community College Faculty.

With four first-half games remaining in the slowpitch, Dekle's shows a one-game edge over Seaboard Coastline.

The two teams don't meet again in the first half.

Elsewhere Wednesday night, Seaboard crushed Eldridge Standard, 12-3, and Lay's Gulf took 13-6 measure of Auto-Train.

Last inning singles by Larry McCorkle, Matt Stewart and Carl Lee plus a SCC error proved the difference for Dekle's.

Lee led the attack with a triple and two singles. SCC was paced by Don Harvey, who homered and had two singles. Mark McGraw and Alan Baky had two hits apiece.

Glen Robinson doubled and ripped out two singles for Seaboard, while Rico Peterson had three singles. Charlie Newell and Steve Cooper also had two hits.

Don Hubbard tripled and singled and Paul Massey had two hits for Eldridge.

Double Drummond tripled, doubled and singled to pace Lay's Gulf while Danny Lee and Duane Lee each had two hits. Ray Marple, had 4-for-4 for Auto-Train while Dave Bach was 3-for-4.

Bowl Gals Win, 21-4

Bowl America trounced Kader's Jewelers, 21-4, Wednesday in the Sanford Junior Girls softball 1 League as Liz Galm and Estelle Hayes each went 3-for-4.

High school officials say the problem is that most of the county's schools were built before the federal law was passed.

For example, Palmetto Senior High has a varsity training room with a whirlpool bath, ice machine and treatment table for the boys' locker room, officials said. The area is closed to girls.

"To pick up that kind of money we're talking about deferring a new elementary school or a junior high school," said Sam Blank, physical plant director for the system.

The Bucs also signed Ray Carr, a 5-10, 190-pound defensive back from the University of Kentucky. Carr, a native of Shelbyville, Ky., played strong safety and cornerback for the Wildcats.

FREE SAILING

DALLAS (AP) — Ray Floyd showed why he will soon become the professional golfer's next millionaire. He wouldn't let himself surrender at the Byron Nelson Golf Classic Sunday when he appeared young Ben Crenshaw had bagged the $40,000 prize with a spectacular eagle.

"I heard the crowd reaction when Ben made eagle on No. 15, but I just gave myself a subconscious kick in the rear," the 35-year-old Floyd said. "I could have quit but I didn't allow myself to. Then I made one hell of an eagle."

Floyd made up five strokes in the final four holes with a cross-country 40-foot putt for an eagle on No. 15 and an eight-foot birdie putt on 17 for a final-round two-under-par 69 over the Preston Trail Golf Club.

BOSTON (AP) — Montreal defenseman Serge Savard listened to the charges of aggravated assault that the Boston Bruins were leveling at his teammates. And he grinned.

"It sounds like they're trying to promote a wrestling match," he said, slightly bemused by the threats that revenge would be sought tonight in Game Three of the National Hockey League's Stanley Cup finals.

In that case, wearing the gold, black and white of the Bruins. And in that corner, in red, white and blue, the Canadiens.

Singers Make Who's Who, Win Superior State Rating

STEVE KAPELKA (LEFT), PAT DEL VILLAGGIO; SCOTT WACHMAN, DRUMMER

By ELDA NICHOLS
Herald Correspondent

Now in their fourth year, the Greyhound Singers of Lyman High School are raking in the honors. In the recent state contest, the ensemble won a superior rating, the highest awarded.

In addition, two of its members also got superior ratings. Pat Del Villaggio as soloist and Steve Kapelka as student director.

The Singers are 18 students under the direction of Ms. Karen Nelson, and work three afternoons a week, after school on their own time, to prepare the numbers that they have performed all around Central Florida.

Attired in natty red, green and tartan plaid uniforms, the young enthusiastic group swings into such numbers as "Walk On By," and "Ease on Down the Road," with the casual perfectionism of a professional troupe. Ms. Nelson puts an added zing into each performance with her deft choreography.

"We'd really like to see this class added as a regular credit course next year," said several of the singers. No credit is given at the present time.

Four of the students are listed in "Who's Who in American High School Musicians," including Villaggio, Kapelka, Becky Connett, pianist and Cindi Dunton.

Scott Wachman is drummer for the group. A recent musical tour took them to the Miami area where they performed several times.

A note of sadness was experienced recently when one of their number, Lisa Maynard, was fatally injured in an automobile accident.

Other students in the group include Karen Wilmoth, Kim Kohler, Kyra Schweizer, Patti Cosentino, Lynette Blaine, Tamie Smith, Walter Mulligan, Rhett Pyle, Dan Elkin, Andy James Darryl Wilson and Dean Rand.

Lyman Thespians Win Trophy

The Lyman High School Thespians, under the direction of Coach Stempier, returned from the Regional Conference at St. Petersburg with a trophy and many compliments on the on-stage play, "What Use are Flowers?" which they performed.

"Presently we are awaiting word as to whether we will be invited to international competition," said Mrs. Stempier.

A superior rating, the highest given, was awarded for a group mime presentation. "We were one of three out of 30 entries that won the top rating," said Mrs. Stempier.

Poor Diet Can Affect Hair

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB - I am an 18-year-old girl with hair that just reaches my waist. In the last three weeks large amounts of it comes out whenever I brush it or wash it. I have never done this before and has always been beautifully thick and it has never been cut shorter than mid-back length.

I'm 5 feet 5 and I try to maintain my weight between 112 and 115. I eat toast for breakfast, some type of fruit for lunch and a large green salad with cheese and several kinds of raw vegetables for dinner. I also drink a couple of cups of coffee a day. I eat some type of meat usually once a week.

I gain weight very easily so I diet pretty severely. Is there some type of vitamin or mineral that I'm lacking? I take a multi-vitamin tablet.

I am very upset about what's happening and I would appreciate it if you could tell me what is wrong or what type of doctor I should see. Can you suggest a low calorie food I can use to replace whatever I am lacking?

DEAR READER - This may be a temporary problem for you. The most important feature of your story is your terrible diet. If you have given the true facts you have a protein deficiency. Protein deficient diets lead to loss of hair, as will semi-starvation or crash diets or prolonged illnesses associated with inadequate intake of calories and particularly protein. Dieting and hair loss have a well known cause and effect relationship.

What low calorie food can you eat? I would suggest at least seven ounces and preferably 14 ounces of lean meat every day. Actually 14 ounces of lean beef with the fat removed before cooking contains less than 600 calories and will provide the protein you need. You need calcium which you should get from milk.

There are two other possibilities - you may have an iron deficiency which will cause loss of hair even if you do not have an anemia or if you are overdoing it-potency vitamins may be getting too much vitamin A which can cause a loss of hair.

About 85 per cent of the hair follicles have normal hair growth while the remaining follicles rest. The resting follicles are not dead, just sleeping. Since the scalp hair has a life cycle between two and six years this usually doesn't affect the abundance of scalp hair.

During the last part of pregnancy more than 90 per cent of the hair follicles are active. Because of the natural life cycle for hair about two or three months after delivery a larger than normal amount of follicles enter the resting stage. The older hair drops out and is not immediately replaced with a new growth of hair. The woman is frantic if she doesn't know about this. She is not losing her hair or going bald but is simply replacing to the normal ratio of resting and active hair follicles. In a few months time her normal hair growth pattern will be reestablished.

Many diseases can cause a loss of hair. If a person has unexplained loss of hair it is a good idea to see a dermatologist.

Babysitting Not Sissy Work For Boy

DEAR ABBY: The problem is not with me but with some people I know. First, I am a boy.

Why do they think it's "un-masculine" for a boy to babysit?

I'm a senior in high school, and I've been babysitting since junior high. I have sat with children as young as four days old and some were ten and eleven years old. I don't say this in a bragging way, but some of the people who have hired me say I'm better than most girl babysitters my age.

Dear Abby

I like children, and I really enjoy babysitting. Besides I think it's good practice for fatherhood. (Not to mention the money I'm saving for college.) I hope this makes your column. A lot of us boy sitters who get teased for doing "sissy" work would appreciate it.

BOY BABYSITTER

DEAR BOY: My hat is off to you and to all the other boys who enjoy babysitting and regard it as good training for fatherhood. And what a compliment to be left in charge of parents' most precious possessions - their children!

DEAR ABBY: Recently I drove through a small "art-colony" village in Pennsylvania, which is normally frequented by tourists. I got the shock of my life when I saw about 75 young people all dressed exactly alike - in blue denim! I wondered if there had been a prison break, or an invasion of the "Union Army."

What is it with our young people? They have about as much individuality as succumbed sausage links. They all look alike. Same dress, same jeans, same long straight hair - it's hard to tell one from the other. Go anywhere young people gather, high schools, colleges, social affairs, it's the same story. Why are they afraid to be different?

It wasn't like that 20 years ago. Kids looked and acted like individuals and enjoyed it.

DEAR WANDERER: The DEAR WANDERER: The young people who dress uniformly today do so because they want to identify with each other. There is comfort and security in "belonging" to a gang, group or band. And if it makes them happier, what's the harm?

DEAR ABBY: Please help me! I am pregnant, but I never went all the way. I know that's hard to believe, but it is true, so help me God!

I'm 17 (so is he) and we have gone steady for a year and five months, during which time we did a lot of very heavy petting, but I swear to you that I am a virgin. We came close, but never actually went all the way.

How can I get my parents to believe me? They will think I am lying for sure. Have you ever heard of this ever happening to anyone else?

Please help me. We love each other very much, are graduating in June and plan to be married.

NEEDING HELP

DEAR NEEDING: Yes, I have heard of such cases. It is indeed possible for a girl to become a virgin again. I remain a virgin. Girls who do everything "but" qualify only as technical virgins, but virgins they are.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box No. 47700, L.A., Calif. 90048. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovey Wedding," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 131 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (25c) envelope.

SHA Eyes Construction Of 250 New Housing Units

The Sanford Housing Authority (SHA) Thursday night approved preliminary plans to build 250 new units of public housing.

The plans would be approved by the city commission before submission of an application by the city to the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) for the estimated $4,287,450 construction cost.

SHA also approved a comprehensive modernization plan for all 125 units of SHA's Castle Brewer Court on W. 10th Street and all 30 units of Cowan Moughton Terrace on Olive Avenue and an operating budget of $409,640 for the fiscal year beginning in October.

If the city commission approves the request to build the 250 units, it would bring total units managed by SHA to 730.

SHA's proposals include construction of a four-to-six story, 60-unit complex for senior citizens, a 120-unit walk-up apartment complex and a 70-unit complex consisting of semi-detached apartments for individuals and families.

The walk-up and semi-detached complexes would include five apartments each specially designed for elderly, handicapped or disabled individuals with children, according to the SHA proposals.

SHA Executive Director III said the plans for 250 new units are in accordance with SHA's housing assistance plan, which has been approved by the city commission.

The plan calls for construction of an additional 300 units of assisted housing by 1978.

Austin Development Co. of Altamonte Springs has received a conditional commitment from HUD to build 50 units on Celery Avenue. Austin would build and manage the complex, whose tenants would be provided by SHA.

HUD would provide an annual subsidy to Austin which would be the difference between the fair market rent and rents paid by the tenant.

If the four complexes are built, assisted units would be increased from the current 480 to a new total of 780.

Under HUD regulations, the city commissioners must approve the proposals to build 250 new units and submit the application for money to build the units to HUD on behalf of SHA, which would supervise the units' construction and manage the complexes.

SHA would choose the complex' locations, which would have to be approved by the city planning and zoning commission.

Construction costs— not including land acquisition and site improvements— would total $4,287,450 for the three complexes, with HUD providing all the money.

Wilson said he wanted to review the proposals with City Manager W. E. Knowles before they are presented to the city commission.

"I believe the city commission is cognizant of the plight of Sanford's low-income families," said Wilson. SHA's waiting list now includes over 1,500 families.

The comprehensive modernization plan approved by the SHA board Thursday night must also be approved by the city commission, which would apply to HUD for $1,852,039 in community development block grant funds.

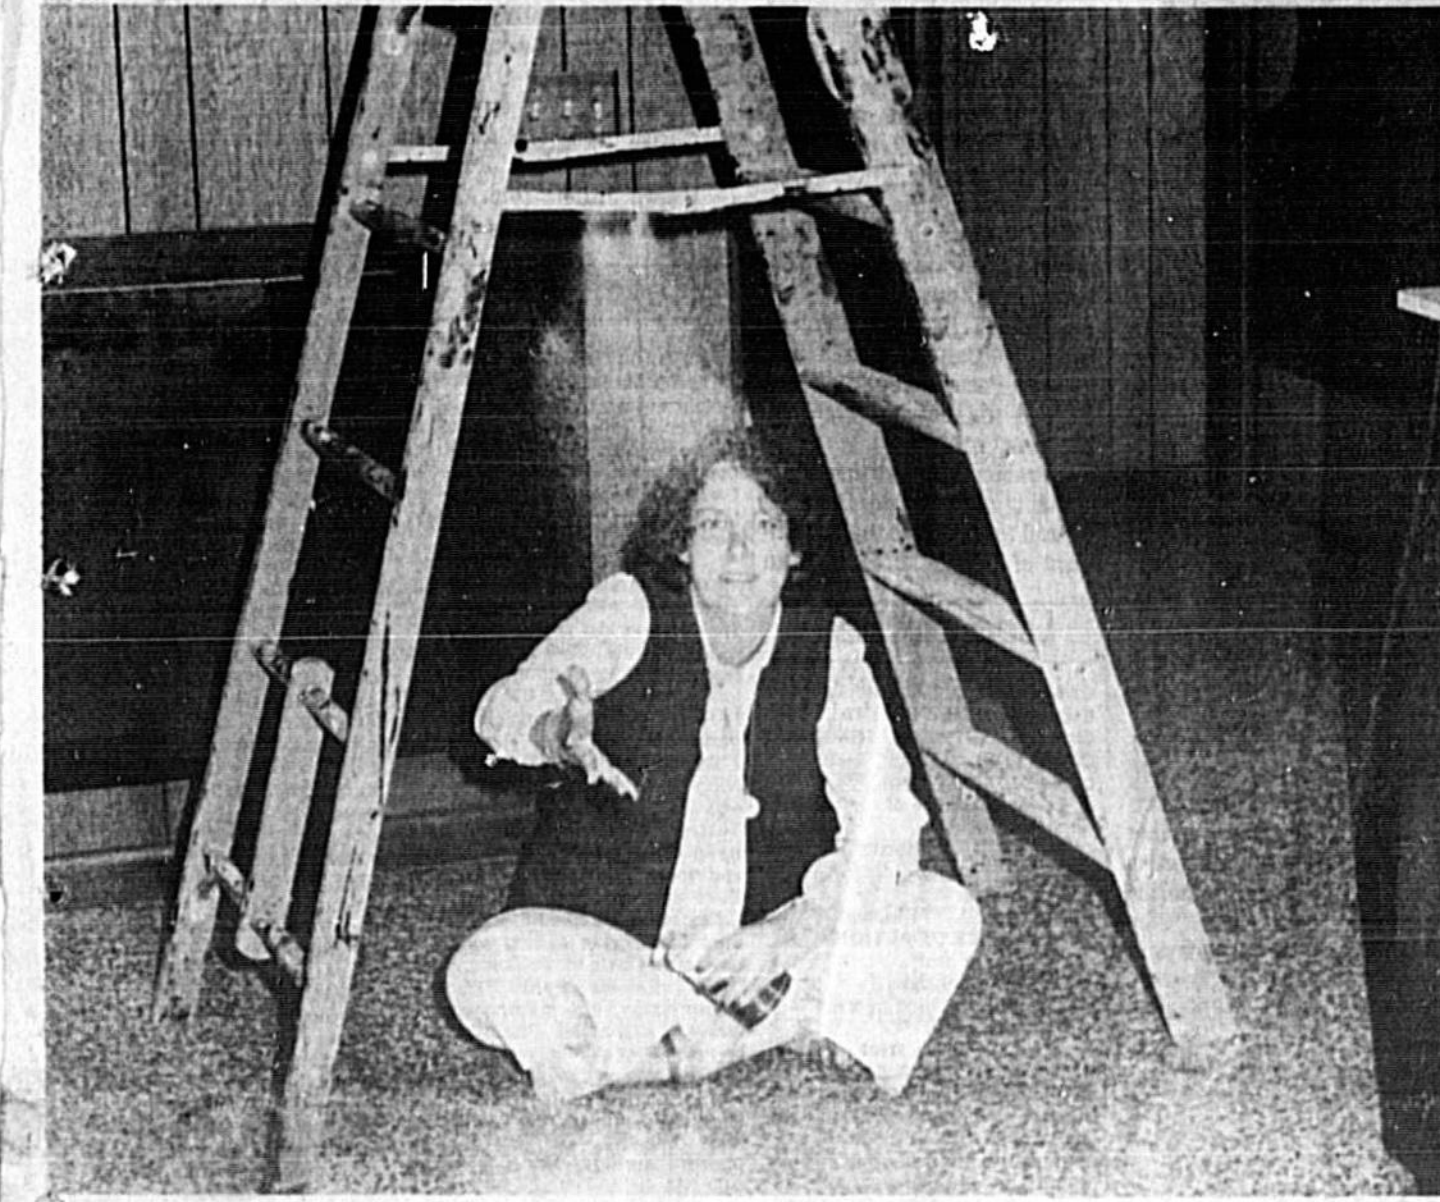

The modernization plan includes storm sewer improvements in Castle Brewer Court and within the public right-of-way on W. 10th Street which would cost $163,000.

The rest of the money would be used for rehabilitation of dwelling units in Castle Brewer Court and Cowan Moughton Terrace, including: redoing interior walls, insulation and providing weatherstripping exterior doors and windows.

Also installation of transfer ducts for better heat distribution, new kitchen cabinets and sinks, installation of gas ranges and gas water heaters, interior painting and installing closet doors.

'Hotel' Sale Complete; Repairs Begin Monday

By MARK WEINBERG
 Herald Staff Writer

Sanford's historic 52-year-old Mayfair Hotel—originally named after a former mayor who eventually wound up in jail—built during the Florida land boom of the 1920s, said to have been visited by such luminaries as Tullulah Bankhead, Al Capone and H. L. Hunt, once owned by the New York (baseball) Giants, is now owned by a worldwide Christian missionary group.

Officials of the New Tribes Mission Thursday signed an agreement to buy the old Mayfair Hotel (Sanford Naval Academy) on W. 1st Street from a California liquidating trust for $400,000.

New Tribes Mission, a non-profit, tax-exempt missionary organization, plans to move its international headquarters to Sanford from Woodworth, Wis.

The group plans to renovate the old resort hotel for its headquarters where at least 30 families will live and work.

A group from New Tribes' Orviedo facility will begin Monday preparing the building for occupancy. The group's first efforts will be devoted to cleaning the exterior of the building.

Macon G. Hare, vice chairman of New Tribes, said, "We'll move in as soon as we can. City building inspectors are now checking the building to see if we can use it. It will take a lot of work, but we hope to use the building."

The signed agreement includes purchase of an air base in Sanford, the Navy club and a gymnasium south of the hotel on W. 1st Street, where New Tribes plans to operate a printing press as part of its private publishing facilities.

The Garnett White Agency of Sanford handled the sale. Sun National Bank of Orlando acted as a local representative for the California trust.

Sanford realtor John Sauls represented the purchasers, who operate a "boot camp" in Orviedo to accustom missionaries to the primitive conditions they will face when they perform their evangelical work among native tribesmen in 18 countries including the Philippines, Indonesia, South America and Southeast Asia.

He decided to sell, negotiating a purchase agreement in 1947, but the new owner defaulted on the mortgage and the courts ordered the hotel closed. The tenants at the time, participants in a high school baseball tournament, were ordered out.

Sanford realtor John Kridler, who was involved with the then New York (baseball) Giants at the time, and Ed Higgins, who was active in the Chamber of Commerce, went to New York and persuaded the Giants to buy the hotel. The Giants also took the Mayfair golf course.

The Giants organization spent $75,000 renovating the hotel and renamed it the Mayfair Inn, which could accommodate 300 people and had a swimming pool and tennis courts.

The ballroom was lined with antique black glass and contained ornate crystal chandeliers. The lobby was trimmed in imported mahogany. Frequenting by tourists, the inn became a successful operation.

The Professional Golf Association conducted tournaments at the country club and golf course for three years.

Writer Tempts Evil Spirits During Friday 13th Week

By MARILYN SHEDDAN
 Herald Staff Writer

Go ahead, dare destiny. Fly in the face of fate. "Take this assignment," the man said, reminding me that Friday the 13th is supposed to be an unlucky day.

"Let's see how much courage you really have," he challenged, as he suggested I engage in several "acts" considered bad luck to "see if anything happens to you."

So—how much courage does it really take to spend a week of your life walking under ladders, enticing black cats to walk in front of you and tossing clouds of salt into the air?

It took a little more than I thought it would. Because I pride myself on being absolutely without superstition it was very revealing to discover that my heart really did flutter just a bit as I challenged superstitions, some of which are centuries old.

It isn't really difficult to understand how spilling salt came to be considered unlucky. Several centuries ago when people received their wages in salt, it was a very precious commodity. (So precious, in fact, that the word salary is a direct derivation of the word for salt.)

Spilling the salt had the same effect that tossing money into the wind would have today: it limited your buying power considerably. Since the grains of salt were both tiny and sand-like in appearance, retrieving them after spilling them was next to impossible... bad luck, indeed.

Walking under ladders became unlucky in a way that was almost as obvious—they simply fall too easily and too often to be safe.

Mirrors play a part in many old superstitions. Breaking one, accidentally or deliberately, is supposedly a guarantee of seven years bad luck. Why? Because, as "everybody" knows, the mirror reflects your soul as well as your body.

When you smash the mirror image you destroy the protection granted your soul by the forces of good—because you destroy the physical image to which they are attracted.

Then there is the number 13—long considered unlucky and achieving at least part of that reputation because of its relationship to Wicca ("old religion," witchcraft) and before that the sacrificial rites of the Druids.

There are those who blame Judas Iscariot, one of 13 people who formed Christianity, and the one who betrayed Christ, for making the number 13 unlucky.

Superstitions about the number, however, go back several centuries before Christ. Witches held 13 "sabbats" a year, one under each full moon. Druids also held celebrations and sacrifices 13 times a year. Certainly the number 13 was unlucky for the sacrificial victim—at least from an outsider's viewpoint.

Add to that the fact that Friday was the traditional day in medieval times for hanging, and it becomes easy to see how Friday the 13th became considered the world's most unlucky day.

Of course, all that stuff is only in your head, right? Whoops! Excuse me. I just tripped and twisted my ankle on my way to the phone. Gee, I haven't done that in years. Come to think of it, I haven't broken a zipper in months, but the same day I spilled the salt, the zipper in that brand new dress gave way. I wonder...?

Rep. Hattaway Balks At Fellow Lawmakers' Spending

By DONNA ESTES
 Herald Staff Writer

State Rep. Robert Hattaway (D-Altamonte Springs) pledged Thursday to attend the current session of the legislature that he would be voting for new taxes to help education and to build and improve roads locally.

But, he said today, since the "coalition of large counties worked together Thursday to pass an unrealistic budget that will be devastating to the taxpayers, I've changed my mind."

"After working on the budget for two days and having seen the reckless spending in the House, I will not vote for any tax increase at all," Hattaway said.

He said he is still committed to help education and the road program. Hattaway said while going through the budget he found a Dade County request for $1.2 million this year to start a mass transportation system, with a commitment to fund an additional $7.1 million from state coffers over the next five years and a total of $750 million for phase one of the program.

Hattaway said he and Fred Jones of Alachua, chairman of the transportation committee, tried to strike the Dade County allocation from the budget.

"We got enough votes to kill the measure on the floor, but Gus Craig of St. Augustine who was acting as chairman refused to recognize hands and ramrodded the measure through. It was wrong on his (Craig's) part and wrong for the House to fund that kind of project," he said.

Hattaway said his attempts at amending the budget failed when debate was limited just before and just after his amendment was placed on the floor.

"It will be a rocky time until Monday with the talk of taxes," Hattaway said, adding that the budget as approved requires spending every penny of a one-cent sales tax increase and insufficient funds will remain for relief for education, roads and property taxes. "There is no property tax relief at all in the budget," Semnole's only resident legislator said.

Seminole's other House representative, Vince Fectel (R-Leesburg), also voted against the budget.

The freer-spending House would need $336 million in new taxes to finance its budget while the Senate bill calls for a $100-million tax hike.

The Senate passed its measure on a 28-12 vote Thursday night after 10 hours of debate in which the leadership beat back all major efforts to increase the deficit further.

However, final passage was left until today after Sen. Lori Wilson, I-Cocoa, moved to reconsider the vote.

The Senate bill grew by only $250,000 in needed new taxes as the leadership was able to show down attempts to hike funding primarily for education and roads.

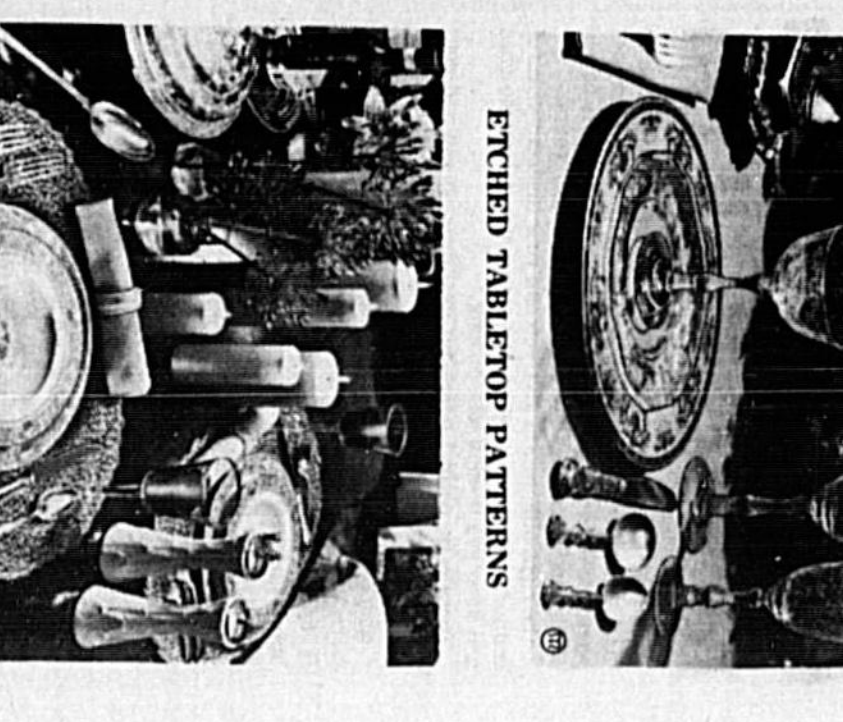

But the situation in the House was far different as representatives went on a day-long spending spree with the biggest boost coming in a $101 million increase for roads.

The lower chamber voted 66-46 for the $5.8 billion bill, but left final passage until next week with leaders admitting some funds would have to be cut.

Forget Glamor, Try Utility

Since the age of liberation is upon us, it may be time to consider a different kind of dress. One that is practical, but not indecipherable to the bride and groom as they set up housekeeping.

Remember, the larger the table, the longer the evening small table—10' to 15' for a more formal dinner party. For a more casual appearance, buffet reception, even have a larger table.

Best results are obtained by having your rings, diamond bracelet, and automatic watch immediately at end of cycle, smoothed by hand and fold immediately by hand and fold.
