Nancy's lonely. Nobody bothers with her much these days. Mommy's always sad and upset. And when Daddy's home, the quarreling and shouting make Nancy so frightened that she hides. She couldn't put it into words, but she knows that her safe little world has fallen to pieces.

The number of broken homes grows every year. Mutual affection and mutual interests are good reasons for marriage, but they are not enough. Our ancestors used to hang the framed words "God Bless Our Home" over the mantel because they knew that He must be a member of every closely knit family circle.

No matter how difficult a marital problem may seem, it can be solved with God's help.

Church membership and regular church attendance do much to strengthen and enrich family ties. Bring your family this Sunday. Every member, from the oldest to the youngest, will be welcome.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and citizenship. It is a storehouse of moral values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

50,000 Boaters Look Ahead To Riverport Marina

Dock Walkout Cost Daily Is $25 Million

NEW YORK (UPI) — Atlantic and Gulf Coast longshoremen went on strike today out of fear of automation, hamstringing the U. S. maritime industry and costing the nation's economy an estimated $25 million a day.

The walkout of 60,000 cargo handlers closed ports from Maine to Texas, leaving scores of ships either marooned at their piers or at sea with no way to discharge their cargo.

Forty ships, including the luxury liner United States with 1,013 persons aboard, were due to dock in the port of New York after today.

The dockers walked out at 12:01 a. m. contrary to the advice of their highest union leaders. Few pickets appeared immediately but officials of the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) said they would be out in force later in the day and the thousands of tons of cargo which normally would be handled will not be touched.

Assistant Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds Jr. who had mediated the automation-centered dispute between the ILA and shippers for seven months, returned to Washington to report on the situation to President Johnson and the Labor Department.

Reynolds said after meeting with the shippers' 14-member negotiating team Sunday that they had voted unanimously to seek compulsory arbitration.

"They had no other direction in which to go," he said. Alexander P. Chopin, chief negotiator for the New York Shipping Association (NYSA), said, however, "Presently we do not plan to contact the President." The NYSA said Saturday the President would be asked, through Congress, to intervene.

As to the shippers' position on the stalemated bargaining, Chopin said "there is no possibility that we will give them more than has been offered."

Bandmaster Ernest Cowley of Seminole High will be the guest speaker at the Monday meeting of the Sanford-Seminole Art Association. Cowley will talk about the relationship of art and music, says Helen DeWitt, SSAA representative. It's at the Cultural Arts Building on Fifth Street at 7:30 p. m.

Hunting yarn: Two men were discussing their day in the field. One asked, "Did you kill anything?" The reply, "Yeah, a couple of fifths."

Want another? Two men were deer hunting. One was driving, the other on watch. The driver flushed out a deer and it whizzed right by the watcher. The driver ran up to his companion asking "Why didn't you shoot it?" The reply, "Well, I took a couple of quick shots but before I could get the cork back in the bottle, the deer was gone."

Just a thought but why couldn't the city change the diagonal parking markings so that cars can back into the area instead of drive in. This way the driver would be up front and in a better position to see oncoming traffic when he is ready to leave.

The new one-man art show at Senkarik Paint and Glass is an exhibition of the work of Chester Scott of Sanford. The talented local man combines bold colors in a variety of landscapes. He is a realist and most particular about the tiniest detail.

Trailer Proposal Will Be Opposed

An application to rezone an area adjacent to Yankee Lake Terrace subdivision to permit a zoning of T-1 (trailer homes) will be heard Wednesday night at 7:30 when the Seminole County Zoning Commission meets in the County Commission chamber.

However, the application will be met with opposition by property owners on the lake, according to Mrs. Roy W. Brown, spokesman for some owners.

Traffic Toll
TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Traffic accidents took the lives of nine persons in Florida over the weekend, the State Patrol reported Monday.

Order Ignored
JAKARTA, Indonesia (UPI) — United Nations officials here today ignored Indonesia's order to cease operations and get out of the country.

Second Week
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress went into the second week of its new session today still occupied with the problem of getting organized. No legislative action was on tap.

Burch Out?
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republicans are reported near an agreement for Dean Burch to step aside as GOP national chairman, sooner or later, presumably in favor of Ray C. Bliss of Ohio.

LBJ Attacked
TOKYO (UPI) — In a statement believed to have been written by Mao Tse-tung, Communist China today attacked President Johnson as an imperialist who is "whetting his knife while tilling his beads."

North Belted By Blunderbuss
By United Press
A blunderbuss storm that belted much of the Appalachians and Ohio Valley with heavy snow during the weekend swept into New England today.

The weather bureau warned of up to 10 inches of fresh snow.

Roads were snow-packed and icy from Kentucky and Pennsylvania into central New England. The storm hampered travelers at New York City's two major airports, where 225 flights were canceled Sunday.

Six Airmen Lost At Wake Island
HONOLULU (UPI) — Air and surface vessels searched the ocean around Wake Island today for signs of the six crewmen aboard a four-engine Air Force transport plane which crashed and burned just seconds after takeoff.

The crewmen included Capt. Arthur F. Wiegand, 30, aircraft commander, son of Mrs. Jacqueline V. Wiegand, Clearwater, Fla.

Editorial Comment Target Is In Sight

There's gold in the St. Johns River and Lake Monroe. It's been there for centuries.

But it may not stay hidden much longer. This city is setting up a treasure hunt never before seen in its varied history. The leaders are leaving nothing to chance. They're preparing for the windfall in every conceivable fashion.

They have top plotters mapping out each and every step of the way to the gold. They have other experts arranging for the financing of the hunt. The search will be costly, but the yield will be many times greater.

Many people have known of the hidden gold. Some have made modest efforts to get it. But they haven't put the necessary effort, the necessary money in their ventures.

They tried to find it with good intentions. They failed. The failures have dominated the thinking of citizens for many, many years. They know gold existed in the water. But they shied away from going all the way to get it.

The dreamers hunted it in their minds. But they didn't organize for the historic search. Their search was haphazard.

Sanford officials are getting into high gear for the hunt. Their target is in sight. They call it a Riverport Marina and they need all the help, all the moral support each of us can give.

Court House Annex Proposal Revived

By Jane Casselberry
Local bills the Seminole County legislative delegation will be requested by the County Commission to present before the 1965 Legislature were revealed by newly elected Commission Chairman John Alexander for civic classes at South Seminole Junior High School.

Guest speaker for students taught by Mrs. Jo Ann Rowe, Alexander pointed out that since commissioners can pass no new ordinances or controls, among those they will ask the delegation to introduce in the 1965 Legislature will be: (1) An act to permit location of court house facilities in other parts of the county in addition to those in Sanford, the county seat; (2) an act to provide speed limits and safety controls on the waterways; and (3) one to permit the county to lease equipment to volunteer fire departments.

In other parts of his talk he outlined functions and limitations of the board and various county officials and explained how the annual budget is prepared.

Ken McIntosh To Be Honored

City commissioners tonight will present a resolution of appreciation to former municipal judge Kenneth McIntosh at the commission meeting in City Hall.

McIntosh resigned his post with the city to assume the office of county prosecutor.

In other action the City Commission will consider appointing a community action committee as suggested last week by Marvin Meltzer. His plan would be the start of special schools in the area to teach the unemployed various trades needed in this community.

The Zoning and Planning Commission will present a recommendation to allow apartment buildings in C-1 areas and to zone the newly annexed area at 27th Street and French Avenue to R-1.

An ordinance will be considered on prohibiting the keeping of junk cars, parts and debris in residential sections.

City To Air Plan Today

By Harry I. Johnson
Central Florida boaters—an estimated 50,000 of them—are looking to the progress of the Riverport Marina here with anxious eyes. The reasons are simple:

They put in at the launching sites in Lake Monroe now and they're limited to a half-day of travel out and a half-day travel back before sundown.

The thousand miles of beautiful river and lake shoreline is waiting for sightseers' pleasure within a day's cruise of Lake Monroe.

The typical yachting family from the entire Florida peninsula is soon to be within a half-day travel of Lake Monroe, what with the super highways being built. The shortage of a "boatel" is keeping these vacationers away from this area.

With such accommodations, multi-day lake and river travel will become commonplace. Visitors from downstream as far away as Jacksonville and beyond can visit the upper reaches of the river and stay overnight, or several nights.

The Cape Kennedy-Cocoa area has considerable boating in the immediate waterway, but that area is relatively monotonous for pleasure boating. Access to the ocean is difficult, it's believed by authorities that fresh water will be favored by the majority of the new residents of that area.

On completion of the Sanford-Titusville Canal, the entire East Coast will benefit by waterway accessibility to the Sanford area.

The opening of the Florida Cross-State Canal will also link the boating vacationers and sportsmen of the entire West Coast to this Central Florida boating center.

The City of Sanford's consulting engineers, Maurice H. Connell & Associates Inc. of Miami, have devised a master plan for the Riverport Marina. It delves into virtually all aspects of the energetic project and offers detailed data on what is considered ideal for the marina.

It dwells on publicity for the program, on advertising methods, the importance of the project to jobs and business in general.

The proposal will be spelled out in complete detail tonight when the City Commission meets in the City Hall. All persons interested in it are being urged to attend. The matter is scheduled to be the first item of business starting at 8 p. m.

Truck Overtakes, 7 Persons Hurt

A Plymouth Citrus Growers Association truck, loaded with a score of fruit pickers, overturned late this morning on SR 431 south of Forest City near the Orange County line.

The identity of the injured could not be determined but State Trooper Tommy Tomlinson said that six or seven of the passengers on the truck appeared to be seriously injured.

The driver of the vehicle told police that the truck went out of control on a curve and flipped over, spilling those who were riding on the bed of the truck.

Dale Set For Opening Of New Civic Center

Formal opening of the Greater Maitland Civic Center will be held Sunday, Feb. 4 with ribbon cutting ceremonies followed by an open house for the general public.

The opening, to take place just two years after the first project was held by the Maitland Women's Club to launch the building fund drive, was announced today by Don Tauscher, president, who advised that speakers and other events of the program will be announced pending completion of arrangements.

Groundbreaking for the $100,000 building were held June 6, 1964, at the Civic Center site on Maitland Avenue overlooking Lake Lily. The structure is divided into equal areas for adults and youth with a conference room provided for civic club and business organizations. In addition, a Little Theatre and dressing room area will be located in the adult section and movie facilities and basic food preparation equipment will be available for adult members.

The Teen Center includes a general activity area which will be used as a dance floor, separate bandstand, game and snack areas.

Estimated total cost, Tauscher reported, will be at $200,000 when additions of an Olympic-size swimming pool, bath house, land, and other furnishings are completed and will approach $300,000 if value of furnishings, labor and supplies contributed were included.

3 Gunmen Steal Gems, Furs, Pup

MIAMI (UPI) — Police hunted three young gunmen and a poodle Monday after the three barged into the home of an industrialist Saturday, tied up seven persons and fled with $3,300 in gems and furs.

Mrs. Joseph Seaf, her parents, her three children and a friend were in the Seala home on Ekystone Point when the three burst in and ordered "everyone to keep quiet and cooperate or you'll get hurt."

One of the gunmen picked up "Tuffy," a six weeks old poodle which the family had given Mrs. Seala for Christmas, and fled with the dog.

Longwood Civic League Has Program On Book Reviews

By Donna Estes
Book reviews were given at the program for the January meeting of the Longwood Civic League. Members and the books they discussed were "The Bascais," by Sterling North, and Mrs. Mary Hartley, "Snips and Snails," by Louise Baker.

Mrs. Laura Putman, "Winter of Our Discontent," by John Steinbeck; Mrs. Lillian Cox, "Serving as Master of Ceremonies for the program was Mrs. Ida Stewart.

Many of the women came to the meeting dressed as their favorite book characters or titles including Mrs. Lorraine Dunning as a woman from the Bible, Mrs. S. L. Tupper as Meg from Little Women, Mrs. Putman as The Robe, Mrs. Ralph Hammond as Huckleberry Finn and Mrs. Stewart as Little Red Riding Hood. Others carried articles or wore signs portraying titles only.

Councilman Held

LYONS, Ga. (UPI) — City Councilman Rufus Lang today was held at an undisclosed jail in connection with the fatal shooting of the brother of Mayor Donnie Thompson about high noon Saturday.

Authorities said the slaying resulted from a bitter fight on the main street of Lyons between Dewey Thompson and Lang which was triggered by a political disagreement.

Modified Bill On Medicare To Be Offered

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass.), said today he would offer a proposal to provide health care for the elderly with federal assistance from general revenues rather than from Social Security payroll taxes.

Saltonstall said other GOP lawmakers would join him in sponsorship of the measure.

He said the bill would provide a voluntary program rather than the administration's plan which is "based on Social Security financing."

The senator said his plan would build upon the present Kerr-Mills plan though federal-state matching funds with state administering the program.

He said it would "increase the number of people eligible to receive health care assistance and . . . also avoid the burdensome means test requirements of the Kerr-Mills Act as implemented in many states."

Indiana Visitor Dies In Sanford

Mrs. Ruth Ellen Silvers, 60, of 117 Lawdale Avenue, South Bend, Ind., died Friday in Sanford while visiting relatives.

A native of Indiana, Mrs. Silvers was a member of Church of the Brethren in South Bend.

Survivors are two daughters, Mrs. Irene Murphy, of Niles, Mich., and Mrs. Ida Mae Nimitz, of Dowagiac, Mich.; two sons, Lee W. Silvers, of South Bend, and Warren Silvers, of California; a brother Richard R. Ransbottom, of Sanford; a sister, Mrs. Stella Hissong, of Plymouth, Ind., and 10 grandchildren.

There are more than 100 species in the tree farms of the Pacific northwest, 23 being of major commercial importance.

Picture Framing Discussed For Longwood Homemakers

By Donna Estes
Mrs. Beth Gregory, past president of the Sanford Art Association and currently an art teacher and instructor in Lake Mary, presented the program for a meeting of the Longwood Extension Homemakers Club held Thursday at the Civic League Building on Church Street.

Mrs. Gregory discussed and demonstrated the proper methods of framing pictures including appropriate pictures for various rooms of the home, the correct size groupings and simplicity and refinishing of frames.

Mrs. Ralph Newcomer, health chairman, urged members to have their eye checks made regularly and stressed the importance of such examinations.

Mrs. Felix Mege, president, who conducted the meeting, reported on the county council session held recently at the Agricultural Center. Special events scheduled at the center as announced were pelton classes, Jan. 20; canning, Feb. 11; canning class, Feb. 18, and upholstery class, Feb. 23-25.

Tables for the meeting were decorated with symbols representing each month of the year. A Happy New Year's greeting was stretched across

Freeport Marina 'Ultra'

By Julian Stenstrom
They recently constructed a marina at Freeport, Texas. This one was built by a pair of Houston diamond merchants. The cost was $1.5 million.

But there have been some unusual things about this marina that might help Sanforites make up their minds as to whether or not a marina might do something for this area.

It's an ultra modern marina on the intra-coastal waterway from Galveston. It wasn't built to be the biggest marina of its kind, but it was designed to be the most modern.

At first boating Texans thought it was a mirage but they soon found out it wasn't.

But stronger than even the shock of something as modern as this in Texas was the impact it made upon the boaters in that area. For a long, long time the spot where the marina is now located featured only ramshackle and weathered buildings. But not any more.

Reflecting across the waters at night are the multi-colored lights of a glass-walled structure surrounded by some 500 palms, manicured lawns, boats with their cabin lights burning in a seemingly endless line and the whole area bustling with people.

They say there's nothing like it in Texas.

But Bridge Harbor Marina, even though it is still in completion stages, is just the beginning of a big change in the Texas waterfront.

The marina features a plush motel-hotel, a private club overlooking a restaurant. It's glass fronted and overlooks a vast harbor containing thousands of feet of bulkheads and piers. There's a swimming pool, too.

The marina contains a specially designed building with "pigeon holes" for the dry storage of some 75 craft of all kinds. A specially designed forklift does the pigeon holing of the boats. There's a large outdoor repair shop, a complete marine ways capable of handling yachts, a boat sales building, a ship's store, parking area for 500 autos and storage sheds which can accommodate 40 large cruisers.

There's a long row of fuel pumps where as many as five boats can be fueled at one time. Storage customers have it made. A customer calls the night before, gives his boat number, specifies what fuel, food, beverages and what he wants aboard and what hour he will arrive. Night crews do the launching and loading and when the customer arrives he's ready to go.

The place is jumping most of the time and far into the night.

It's a safe bet, say the owners, that within a couple of years the entire area will be built up in a manner nobody dreamed about a few years past. Most of the boats remain at the marina, even when the summer season is over. Most of their owners remain, too. As a result, home construction lots have begun to sell and residences are going up.

But perhaps more amazing than anything else about the Freeport marina is the fact that its wet stalls have been filled ever since the project was opened. In fact, the Bridge Harbor Marina was turning away customers even before the initial stages were completed.

Bubble Pipe

In this day when science is unquestionably the greatest force shaping our daily lives, even blowing bubbles takes on atomic proportions. One of the heaviest liquid bubble chambers in the world has been shipped from the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, where it was made, to the Argonne National Laboratory near Chicago, where it will be used in the study of nuclear particles. Physicists will make photographs of bubble tracks produced in the chamber by invisible particles produced by a new 12-billion electron volt particle generator (or atom smasher). When reassembled, the chamber will be 45 feet long and 16 feet high. Quite a bubble pipe.—D. O.

Fun: Popular Course

More than half of 18,000 freshmen questioned in a recent survey acknowledged that they are going to college primarily for "collegiate" reasons rather than for "the pursuit of knowledge and the cultivation of the intellect." This revelation should be neither surprising nor alarming, even if it is conceded that "collegiate" may be a fancy term for fun. These youngsters were just being honest. It seems only fair to assume that almost every college student understands that the basic purpose of going to college is to get an education. It is also a fact, however, that a big part of the thrill and excitement of college life are the extra-curricular activities—the football games, the social life, the weekend fun. Nineteen per cent of the freshmen surveyed by the Educational Testing Service said they go to college for academic reasons. Another 26 per cent said they go to prepare for a career or profession. Another 4 per cent were described by Dr. Henry Chauncey, president of EST, as "non-conformists." The remaining 51 per cent were those who like college best for the things that supplement classwork. Dr. Chauncey seemed to take results of the survey in stride. "They reflect the mores of our society," he said. "Having a good time over the weekend is an important part of life. These figures should give the colleges a better understanding of their students. They won't be living in a fool's paradise. They will know that they do not have a lot of little Einsteins on campus." We hope the colleges remain as calm and undisturbed as Dr. Chauncey. It's just possible some of those fun-loving freshmen may get academically proficient somewhere along the four-year educational journey and actually become not little but full-sized Einsteins. After all, a little fun never dulled anybody's intelligence.

Make Haste Slowly

United Press International LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson began the new year at a more measured pace than he may have planned. With 80 of his "first 100 days" behind him, most of Wilson's basic aims—to remake Britain's industry and society in the image of the Labor party—remain the same. But Wilson and his supporters already have learned that they'll have to make haste more slowly than they may have bargained for. Wilson came to power in the Oct. 16 election proclaiming his plans for a "first 100 days of dynamic action to get Britain moving again." It was a spirit that demanded fast progress. But applied to Britain's tradition-minded society, it caused perhaps more trouble than progress. Two weeks after taking office, the Labor government moved to close Britain's trade gap by imposing a 15 per cent surcharge on imports.

Her trading partners, who had not been told in advance of the move, complained loudly. In explanation the government stressed that Britain's economic situation was serious. This alarmed some foreign investors into starting a run on the pound. Rumors of devaluation flew before $3 billion in international credit poured in to shore up the currency. Wilson unveiled a new model for Western defense only two months after taking office, but the haste produced a fuzzy outline. Until now it has gotten a cool reception everywhere among Britain's allies.

Wilson's press and political critics—and even some members of his own Labor party—have charged that, while his ideas may be sound, he stepped on too many toes in trying to go too fast. There are signs now that the new prime minister is taking this criticism to heart. With a wily majority of only five seats in the House of Commons, he must muster every ounce of parliamentary diplomacy to see his trail-blazing program become law.

The Wilson program includes such controversial items as the nationalization of steel, an anti-inflationary policy controlling all incomes and prices and the selective seizure of prime building land to keep it out of the hands of speculators. In addition, the April budget will bring new capital gains and corporation taxes, and probable new measures for industrial and export expansion.

Any unforeseen circumstances—a revolt by Labor's left wing, the loss of three seats through by-elections unlikely or the departure of liberal party support—could throw this whole program into jeopardy.

This danger has spawned rumors of a snap election sometime this spring to give the government a more solid base. But government officials are spreading the word that Wilson plans no election unless forced to—and certainly, they said, not early this year.

Barbs

By Hal Cochran Ever notice how people jam up to the front of a bus two or three blocks before their destination? They'll never learn they can't get out until the door opens. "In my day," says the Old Cynic, "we had the 'Casual' Look, too. Only we called it 'sloppy'."

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

CASE 4787 Jay Ostrander, aged 60, is a unique high school teacher at Goodrich, Mich. "Dr. Crane," one of his former pupils informed me, "he is the kind of teacher you'd endorse." "For he likes students and enjoys increasing their enthusiasm for education. He is as dedicated as a church missionary!" "He is also a perfect example of the Bible's statement about 'going the second mile.' "For he not only goes out of his way to help his pupils inside the classroom, but he enriches their lives by outside cultural projects, too. "For example, last year he took about 40 of his students, plus three of their mothers, in a chartered bus to Chicago. "At his own expense he then gave them a five-day tour of the city with special stress on the Art Institute, the Museum of Science and Industry, etc. "Including the total hotel accommodations and other bills, this trip cost him $2,000. "And he has done this same thing every year for about 25 years.

"Over 1,000 students (600 girls and 400 boys) have thus had an exciting and educational trip to Chicago at Professor Ostrander's expense. Most of them had never visited a big city before. "Dr. Crane, wouldn't you rate him as a Very Superior teacher on your 'Test for Good Teachers?'" Would that more teachers had this missionary fervor to transform the lives of youngsters in a constructive manner. All such dedicated teachers are storing up a great deal of credit in the eyes of the Almighty. "But some teachers simply go into that field because of inertia or laziness. "It's a good racket," one college graduate recently confessed. "Despite the yelling about poor pay, you get over 3 months' vacation every year, and draw $500 per month for a nice white collar job." Such motivation indicates a poor teacher, even before he ever sets foot inside the classroom! For the cardinal asset of every superb teacher is a missionary fervor to transform children's lives and cultivate a liking for cultural subjects. A woman with only two years of college, but with such missionary motivation, is much superior to a teacher with an M. A. or Ph. D. degree who simply picks teaching as the line of least resistance. And many college professors never had any professional preparation for pedagogy. Thus, they aren't allowed to teach in grammar or high school for lack of such technical courses. They have had no "practice teaching" and often can't even make a 10-minute talk that would keep any audience awake. Yet they are accepted for college jobs just because they have a Ph. D. in some technical field. But superb-teaching requires far more than a college degree! School boards, please take note, and send for my "Test for Good Teachers," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20c. Don't be stampeded merely by an applicant's fancy degrees!

Bruce Blossat -- Ray Cromley Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Presidents, having no higher station to reach for, work for the history books. Though history is the final arbiter of presidential success or failure, one historian — Samuel P. Hays of the University of Pittsburgh—argues that history's verdicts too often are founded on narrow and shallow ground. In a paper presented here to a panel of the American Historical Association, Hays says our presidents need to be viewed in a far larger context of time and social depth than is now generally the case. As have other historians, Hays finds something markedly artificial in cutting political history up into the four-year segments representing presidential terms. Many attitudes, trends and developments overlap two or more such terms. The truth is not served when credit or blame is assigned to a particular president on the basis of events in his term which actually have a prior history. For instance, some appraisals gave lavish acclaim to the late President Kennedy for the important achievements in manned space flight which occurred in his brief tenure. Yet the foundation for these advances was laid under President Eisenhower. By the same token, Kennedy was upbraided for deteriorating conditions in Laos in 1961, when in fact the previous Western government there had been giving way before the Asian Communists long before Kennedy reached the White House.

1928, almost undetected was an important Democratic breakthrough. For the first time, the 12 largest U. S. cities voted—in the aggregate—for the Democratic nominee. It was a key signal of events to come. With deeper opinion poll studies and "voter profiles" today, the historian perhaps has better materials for a more exhaustive analysis of voter performance in presidential and other tests. We could do with a fairly quick effort in this field right now, before too many myths get firmly planted as the make-up of Johnson's winning 43 million votes and Barry Goldwater's 27 million. If our presidents labor for history, historian Hays seems to be saying, with some justice, that it is time for history to do a little better by our presidents.

Letters

The Herald welcomes letters from its readers on public affairs. The editor may use a pen name provided the letter also carries the writer's true name and address. Letters of fewer than 250 words will be given preference. Letters addressed to others are acceptable provided they do not deal in personalities. Poetry is not published by The Herald.

Editor, The Herald: The Jaycees wanted to know why more people who decorated their homes for Christmas didn't enter into the lighting contest. Do you suppose it's because they figure it's no use because the same one has won best overall three times? Did it ever occur to them that the amount of money spent on decorating was not nearly as important as the thought and work behind some of the "cheaper" decorating jobs? I've moved from town to town and have never seen some of the decoration ideas I saw here in Sanford this past Christmas, such as Santa soaking his feet after a tired night or Santa coming to Florida by boat. They should limit the number of times the same homes could win or give more awards. But certainly I, and lots of others, feel it would help to change the situation. WONDERING Editor's note: This is something the Jaycees should consider. Arizona, Alaska and Hawaii, in that order, were the last three states admitted to the Union.

Dick West's The Lighter Side

United Press International WASHINGTON (UPI) — The American Historical Association held its 79th annual meeting here this week at the same time that Bill Cooby was holding forth in a jovial night club. If the significance of this confidence eludes you, let me point out that Cooby is a professional comedian. Down through the years, historians have always been good for a lot of laughs, and now Cooby has returned the favor by inventing a theory of history. There are, of course, almost as many theories of history as there are historians. One is the so-called "great man" theory which holds the course of history is shaped by the occasional appearance of world leaders of outstanding abilities. Running counterblockwise to that theory is the theory that great leaders are only the products of their times, and that circumstances make the men, rather than vice versa. Cooby does not subscribe to either of these theories. It is his theory that the course of history is shaped by the toss of a coin, as in football games. Football captains, as you know, meet in the center of the field before a game to decide which teams will kickoff and receive, and which will defend what goal. First choice goes to the captain who wins the toss. When applied to a specific event in history, such as the Revolutionary War, Cooby's theory works like this: The American colonists won the toss and elected to fight from behind trees in loose formations and to wear nondescript uniforms. The British then exercised their option and elected to fight in open spaces in tight formations and to wear red uniforms. Similarly, in the Indian wars, the settlers won the toss and elected to fight dismounted and drawn up in a circle. The Indians then elected to fight on horseback in the open. If you apply Cooby's theory to the broad sweep of history, you can see that those coin tosses are mighty important. Suppose, for example, that in the second Punic War against Hannibal's Carthagin-tans, the Romans had won the toss and elected to cross the Alps with elephants. Or in the siege of Troy, suppose the Trojans had won the toss and elected to build a "Greek horse." This is something for the historical society to think about at its next meeting.

WARM and COOL your home YEAR-ROUND with

reverse-cycle ELECTRIC AIR-CONDITIONING

One compact heating and cooling system does both! Just dial for cool comfort in summer and cozy warmth in winter.

No need to take up precious space in your home to install heating equipment, because reverse-cycle central and window models now cost little more than straight cooling units. So, the heating comfort is practically a free bonus!

And the recent $10 million electric rate reduction (our 4th major price cut in 10 years) makes year-round electric air conditioning the biggest bargain ever.

SAFEST by far... flameless and fumeless. CLEANEST, too... no grime by-products of combustion.

Electric Air Conditioners have been drastically reduced in price, over the last several years. Now everyone can afford this year-round comfort.

So, join the hundreds of thousands of Floridians already enjoying this truly modern double blessing. See your appliance dealer or air conditioning contractor today.

Now cheaper than ever to GO ALL-ELECTRIC than to use it in combination with flame-type fuels.

GOP Congressmen Are Scarce

WASHINGTON — (NEA) —When the House of Representatives convened on Jan. 4, there were many open stretches of seats on the depleted Republican side of the chamber. Noticing that several GOP congressmen had brought their children along, an observer noted: "They've got so much room they can bring their families with them."

Answered a companion: "Families? They've got enough room to bring their constituents!"

During president Johnson's holiday stay at his Texas ranch, most of his key staff people were with him as he shaped his 1965 plans. By New Year's Eve, however, many were back at their White House desks. An exception: aide Horace Busby, an old presidential associate.

Commented a White House man: "Busby seems to be the leading ranch hand."

Getting on an elevator recently, a prominent lady mathematician asked the operator to take her to the fifth floor. When the elevator stopped there, she blurted: "Oh, heavens! I'm terribly sorry. I meant the seventh floor."

The operator promptly whisked the elevator up two more flights and as the lady got off, she apologized again: "I'm very sorry about my mistake but, after all, they're both prime numbers."

After the announcement of the election of Rep. Gerald Ford, (R-Mich.) as House minority leader, an observer, mindful of the Republicans' relatively low state following the 1964 elections, commented: "It matters about as much as the recent election of the president of the National Press Club."

Senators receive hundreds of urgent requests from their constituents each year. Sen. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) nominates this one as the most desperate of 1964: "Dear Sir: "I'm a seaman second class in the Navy and presently I'm AWOL. Can you help me get a discharge as soon as possible?"

Between you'n me

By MURRAY OLDERMAN
Sports Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Almost as unhappy as the New York writers, who were shut out from seeing Bill Bradley on his 41-point night against Michigan, was Bradley himself. At 3 a.m., he phoned one of them to apologize and explain that he would just as soon have talked to the press—if coach Butch Van Brockhoff hadn't yanked the whole Princeton team off the premises. The 6-5 ace is a natural for a political career some day. . . . The second hottest basketball prospect at Michigan isn't even playing the sport. He's Bill Yearby, the All-

Joe Lapchick

American tackle on the Wolverine Rose Bowl squad, who was visualized as another Cassius Russell but wouldn't turn out for the sport. . . .

When Coach Joe Lapchick of St. John's quintet upset Michigan, the No. 1 ranked team in the nation in the finals of the Holiday Festival, the old Original Celtic found himself cradling a good-looking blonde who had jumped right into his lap. It wasn't a girl you had never seen her before because Lynn Burke is one of the best skin cheerleaders, and four years ago she was an Olympic Gold Medal winner in the backstroke. "But I didn't let go," grinned Joe. . . .

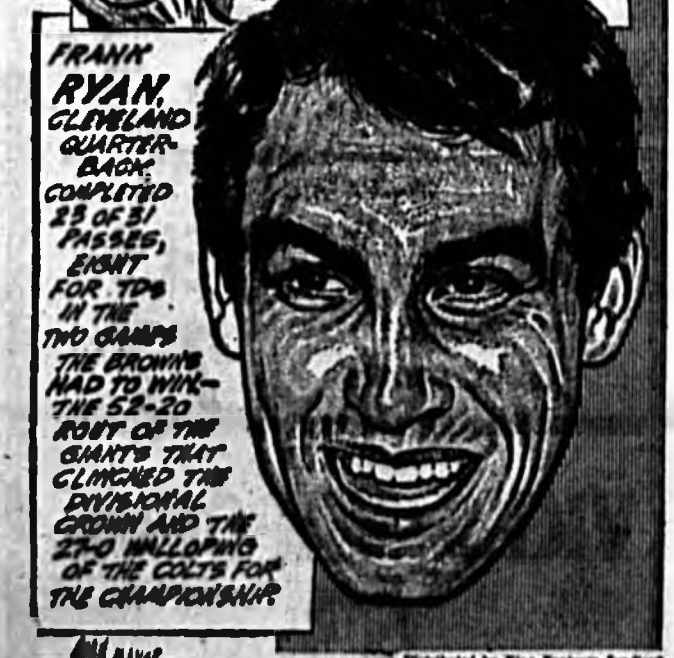

For all who froze in Cleveland's Stadium watching the Browns clip the Colts at $10 a head, think of it this way: If the Colts had won the Eastern Division and the game had been played in St. Louis, the NFL was thinking of charging a $15 top in small Busch Stadium. . . .

You can't get Bernie Parrish, the defensive halfback who plotted the close coverage of the Colts, to admit that he's miffed about not being chosen to play in the Pro bowl. "The way they've got the rigging for that game (i.e., no red-dogs, standard 4-3 defense)," explained Parrish, "we've got to look bad on defense and I'd just as soon stay home." . . .

The deal that Joe Namath got from the New York Jets was something like $50,000 a

Seminoles Lose 44-59 To Trojans

By David Higginbotham
Herald Sports Writer

The Seminole High Cagers lost their fifth straight game Friday night to the Evans Trojans by a score of 44 to 59. This was the second time the clubs had met this season with the Trojans taking home the honors after both games. The Loss gave the Tribe a one win and eight loss record with the tough Oak Ridge game on tap for Tuesday night. In the first period of play the Trojans racked up 20 points to Sanford's seven. Ron Hinson held the lead for the Tribe with three points with Steve Groover dumping one basket and Mike Gray and Gary Lloyd each adding a point on free throws.

The heated play of the second stanza saw the Trojans move up to a 30 to 13 lead, but the Seminole weren't out of the game. Hinson again led the total number of points for Sanford with seven points, Groover dropped in six, Buddy Stumpt got four, and Jack Hunt made two. The Orlando Club held a 46 to 33 lead over the locals at the end of the third frame.

In the final period of play Frank Murray and Groover led the Tribe with four points each with Chuck Pigott adding two points and Lloyd one. The game ended with the Trojans ahead 59 to 44. In the preliminary list the Sanford Jayvees played a controlled game against the Baby Trojans, but still lost 10 to 22.

Rolf Anderson won the game for the Trojans with 17 points which was more than the entire Sanford score. Frank Whigham led the Baby Tribe with three points and Terry Echola, Paul Leroy, and Wally Jarnigan each added a basket. The Tribe will travel to Oak Ridge to face the Pioneers Tuesday night.

Baby Braves Beat Slavia

By David Higginbotham

The Sanford Junior High Braves Junior Varsity won their third game of the season by defeating Slavia 87 to 28 Saturday night. In the first period the Braves held a 19 to 11 lead and it looked like it would be a fairly even contest but as the game went on they continued to add to their lead.

Matt Morgan led the Braves with 32 points which was more than the entire score for Slavia. Bill Brackner came in second with 21 points and Dan Wright and Bobby Lundquist took third with 14 points each. Skip Senkarik and Tom Sandage added three points each. In the preliminary affair the Baby Braves took a 38 to 2 win with Larry Dodson leading the Braves to victory with 11 points. Dean Schultz and Skip Senkarik added eight each and Scott Harris made six. Kit Jarrell added five.

The game with Slavia gave Coach Ron Hunt of the Braves a chance to get a good look at all his players and to give some of the regular members of the squad who had previously not played a chance to show what they had.

THE OTHER END—Just four years ago, Lynn Burke was receiving the cheers as a member of the U.S. Olympic swimming team. In Rome, in 1960, Miss Burke, now a senior cheerleader at St. John's University (N.Y.), won two gold medals for the 100-meter backstroke and 400-meter medley relay. An elementary education major, Lynn will teach second grade after graduation in June. She does not swim in competition any more but spends a lot of time during the summer teaching youngsters at country clubs in the New York area. She also models and has done a number of television advertisements. At St. John's, she writes a sports column for the student paper and was named to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." And in case anyone is wondering, Lynn is engaged to a St. John's law student and will be married a year from June.

New York Boat Show: Submarines To Supertuxury

By Bill McCormick

NEW YORK (NEA) — Once a year the duly accredited—as well as the self-appointed—Commodore of fun fleets have a field day. It is known as the annual boat show. The first of these—fore-runner of some 30 to be held later throughout the country—is the National Boat Show at the Coliseum in New York Jan. 15-24.

One will display everything from submarines to supertuxury yachts. The largest boat in the show is a 41-foot Pacemaker motor yacht, priced at (starting it says), $24,300. Not gasp, because that is not the most expensive craft at the show. That honor goes to a 42-foot Canyon Commuter, luxury sport fisherman, which comes at $70,000—and up. How far up depends on what kind of luxury gadgets you prefer to deck out this job with.

Two submarines are on display. One is a completely enclosed, one-man glass fiber affair, 10 feet two inches long, powered by twin electric engines of 500 watts each. It weighs 1,389 pounds, will descend to a depth of 164 feet, travel at a surface speed of about 5 1/4 miles per hour and go 3.7 mph under water. It can stay submerged for at least four hours and costs just under $1,000.

Another and less costly (just under $1,500) underwater craft on display is a nine-foot boat with built-in Scuba tanks that runs on a compressed air or revolutionary new dry ice engine.

Perhaps the least expensive boat at the show is a 10-foot fishing catamaran, manufactured in Missouri, which goes for $69.50. It has a 40-inch beam, takes outboards up to five horsepower and is braced about by its producer as "The world's lowest cost efficient boat."

A novelty item at the show is a craft called the Sea Dart, which is driven from a prom position, steered by the driver's legs and shifting of position. Only 82 inches long and with a beam of 30 inches, the Sea Dart is highly maneuverable and attains speeds up to 30 mph with a 22 hp motor.

Boating, outboard type, becomes quieter with this show. Klekhafer Mercury has come up with what is called a "wall of water" silencing system, which reduces the noise of its motors an estimated 50 percent. Mercury also is introducing a 60-horsepower stern drive diesel setup which is more economical than the gasoline-driven engines and offers safety from explosion hazard.

For those who dislike "stink-pots" the show introduces the Columbia "40", a 39-foot, $27,955 square foot of working sail area.

In the fourth the Lions continued their come-back and with just two minutes left Billy Mikler tied the game up for the Lions at 42-42 but the Cardinals bounced back with a field goal and Ocoee was out front to stay.

Rex Brooks was high for Ocoee with 15 markers and Jimmy Courier found the range for 13. Ted Bellhorn and Tim Culbert picked up six each and Billy Mikler hit two field goals for 4.

Leading the Cardinals were David Grant with 16 points and Wayne Hurst with nine. The Lions hit 20 field goals and held the Cardinals to 18 but the Cards capitalized on too many Ocoee fouls to put them on top.

In the junior varsity encounter, Ocoee rapped Ocoee 49-37 to add another victim to their long list of wins. The J. V. Lions took a 20-12 halftime lead and never fell behind.

But Lose To Ocoee

By Jim Baechus
Herald Sports Writer

If the Lyman High cagers want to win basketball games it looks as though they will have to remain in the Orange Belt Conference and eliminate any non-conference opponents.

Friday night the Greyhounds travelled to Wildwood and got hot in the third period to overtake the OBC Wildcats and rack up their third consecutive league win without a single setback. But Friday night the 'Hounds went out of the conference and lost their fourth straight non-loop tilt.

Friday night at Wildwood it was Lyman, 66 to 60. Saturday night the Ocoee Cardinals, fresh from a victory over the Ocoee Lions the night before, espurred a 82 to 68 win over the Greyhounds.

Joe Aher led the 'Hounds against the Wildcats with 16 points while Dave Matia parked an even dozen through the hoop. For Wildwood Tommy Thompson posted 22 points with Dagny Jones right behind him with 20.

Lyman was outscored 19 to 14 in the initial period and 18 to 17 in the second stanza to start the third period trailing 37 to 31. However, Head Coach Dick Copeland's crew barged ahead in the third with 19 points while limiting the Wildcats to 10. In the final frame, it was Lyman again with 16 points over Wildwood's 13 and the 66-60 margin.

In the junior varsity affair, Lyman won 52 to 28. But it was a different story Saturday night. Lyman led the Cardinals 10 to 7 at the first quarter and the two clubs were tied at 27 all at the half. Lyman had a one-point lead, 39 to 38, going in the final period which saw the Greyhounds limited to nine points while the high flying Cards picked up 14.

Asher paced the 'Hounds with seven field goals and three free shots for 17 points with Eddie Long getting 10 points. The lead changed 21 times during the contest but the difference came from the charity line. Ocoee dumped in 18 free shots while the best Lyman could score was 10.

The Lions hit 20 field goals and held the Cardinals to 18 but the Cards capitalized on too many Ocoee fouls to put them on top. In the junior varsity encounter, Ocoee rapped Ocoee 49-37 to add another victim to their long list of wins. The J. V. Lions took a 20-12 halftime lead and never fell behind.

Altamonte Springs To Get $1,623 In Disaster Funds

By Donna Estes
Altamonte Springs Town Council was notified at its first meeting this year that disaster funds totaling $1,623 will be turned over to the town as soon as repair is completed on the culvert at Tropic Drive and Robin Road. A. C. Brown, manager of the water department, was authorized to proceed with the work. In other business, council decided to have a competent firm test the depth of muck on a portion of Newburyport Avenue extending from First Street to Magnolia on the north end.

It was announced that Harold Radcliffe, city engineer, would appear for the Jan. 20 meeting to give final reports on the water works.

Motion was adopted to authorize the recreation committee, when it is appointed, to study sites available for one or more town playgrounds and estimate a cost and prepare plans for utilizing each site.

It was agreed to request the State Road Department's permission to establish between six and 12 regulated parking

Clerk Receives A New Excuse

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Mrs. Barbara Landes, a clerk in the Superior Court jury commissioner's office, has heard a lot of reasons for perjury to be excused from jury duty, but the one she got was a sure winner. A man summoned for jury duty told her he was the sheriff of Los Angeles County. Sure enough, it was Sheriff Peter J. Pritchess. He was excused.

HEADS OR TAILS—Actually, it is both, and both parts belong to the same dog. It seems that Nip used to howl when his master closed the gate. So his Wolverhampton, England, owner cut a special hole in the gate so that Nip could see what was going on on the other side.

Forest City VFD To Elect Directors

By Maryann Miles
The Forest City Volunteer Fire Department has called a special meeting for 8 p.m. today at the Bear Lake Elementary School for the purpose of electing five members of the Fire Association as a board of directors.

To qualify for the board one must be a paid subscriber to the association. Every interested person in the area is urged to attend this meeting. The Forest City Department formerly was the Wekiwa Volunteer Fire Department and any paid member living in the Wekiwa district should join the Apopka Department when dues next are payable.

Residents of the Forest City area wishing to become members of the newly organized and re-named group should contact any of the firemen or may pay at Brown's Service Station.

There are no inhabitants on the Mountains of the Moon, scenic Rwenzori ranges of east central Africa.

T. E. Tucker and Loring Burgess were elected chairman of the board and president, respectively, of the new United State Bank of Seminole.

The election by the board of directors followed the annual meeting of stockholders in the Florida State Bank lounge Friday afternoon.

John Y. Mercer was elected vice president and Mary R. Douglass was chosen assistant vice president and cashier.

The stockholders elected Tucker, chairman of the meeting and Mercer as secretary and designated a board of directors consisting of Tucker, Burgess, Mercer, Harold H. Kastner, J. D. Wright Jr.,

MRS. MARY HAY, seated left, fashion coordinator and narrator, goes over final details for a pre-spring fashion showing to be held next Saturday during the luncheon hour at the Langford Hotel in Winter Park. The public is invited to attend the show and proceeds will benefit the Veteran's Hospitals throughout the state. Some of the models pictured with Mrs. Hay are Mrs. Mary O'Donnell, center front, who was hostess to the group of models and Mrs. Edna Murray, right. Standing from the left are Minnie Kennedy, Nora Williams and Marie Sundvall.

Mrs. Joseph Wolfe New President Of BPO Does

The Sanford B.P.O. Does, Drove 160, recently elected Mrs. Joseph Wolfe as president for 1965. The installation will be held at the Elks Club on Jan. 23.

Virgilia Bowersox, who is the Florida North District state president, will be the deputy supreme president. Mrs. Al Coe, Florida North District state vice president from Orlando Drove 66, will be the deputy supreme conductor.

Peter Bowersox, past exalted ruler of the Sanford Elks Lodge 1241, will be guest speaker. The following officers will serve under Mrs. Wolfe during the coming year: first counselor, Mrs. Harry Kenny; senior counselor, Mrs. Frank Wilson; junior counselor, Mrs. James Smith; secretary, Mrs. James Via; treasurer, Mrs. Lloyd Lowe; inner guard, Mrs. Lynn Lyons; outer guard, Mrs. Peter Bukur; and conductor, Mrs. Bobby Caruthers.

The Sanford Does held their annual Christmas dinner and party at the Elks Club on Dec. 19. The tables were decorated with Christmas vines and baskets, and the entire Elks Club portrayed the Spirit of Christmas. After a delicious dinner of turkey, ham, dressing, etc., the Does and their husbands and guests exchanged gifts.

Common Measles Dangerous Threat During Pregnancy

Severe common measles during pregnancy is a serious threat to the life of the fetus, according to a report in The Journal of the American Medical Association.

In a study of 18 cases of common measles that occurred during pregnancy, 11 were mild and 7 were severe. The 11 patients with mild cases delivered normal children, but the 7 patients with severe measles had either abortion, abnormalities, or premature delivery.

This information was reported to a meeting of the Southern Medical Association at which viral diseases—rubella (German measles), mumps, hepatitis, influenza and chickenpox, and their effect upon the developing human embryo—were summarized. Stewart A. Fish, M.D., Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, University of Arkansas School of Medicine, Little Rock, led the discussion which included the practical management of the diseases.

Dr. Fish pointed out that common measles can and does affect the outcome of pregnancy. In considering management of the disease, he noted that live attenuated measles vaccine now available should not be used during pregnancy since its effect upon the unborn infant has not been evaluated.

Of the other virus diseases, Dr. Fish noted: A vaccine for rubella (German measles) may be forthcoming. Recent data show that German measles occurring as early as four weeks prior to conception may damage the fetus.

When smallpox is endemic, 50 to 60 per cent of pregnant patients abort.

Although there is no substantial evidence that the fetus is adversely affected when the mother has mumps during pregnancy, recent observations indicate the need for further investigation.

Pregnant patients who are exposed to hepatitis and are then given prophylactic immune gamma globulin should be adequately protected for six weeks. The gamma globulin should be repeated if the exposure continues.

Although there is no evidence that influenza carries a threat comparable to that of common measles, vaccination of the pregnant woman is advised.

Chickenpox does not seem to pose a real threat. There does not appear to be any increase in susceptibility or damage by the virus to the fetus during pregnancy.

Forest City Personals

By Maryann Miles
C. F. Field of Forest Lake Drive is now at home convalescing. Mr. Field has had to return to the hospital a number of times since his accident last July, when he was struck by a truck as he was turning into his real estate office in Forest City.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dane have had as houseguests over the holidays, Mr. Dane's mother, Mrs. H. W. Dane, from Biscayne, Fla., and Mrs. John Warren, also from Biscayne. The two sons of Mr. and Mrs. Dane, Bill Jr. and Kris, were home from college also over the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Miles of Jewel Drive had friends from back home in Belvidere, Ill., stop in to see them during the holiday. After not seeing the family for 1 1/2 years it was a pleasant surprise to see Mr. and Mrs. Ed Behnke and their three daughters, Valli, Nancy and Susan.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Rigby of West Lake Brantley had a good old fashioned New Year's party with the following guests at their home: Mr. and Mrs. E. ## Miss Rosemary Southward, M. A. Kornreich Repeat Vows

Miss Rosemary Southward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Southward of this city, and Martin Allen Kornreich, son of Mrs. Lawrence Kornreich of New York and the late Mr. Kornreich, were united in holy matrimony on Friday, Jan. 8, at 4 p.m. at the bride's lovely Mayfair home.

Carlson Family Observes Holiday With Dinner

On Christmas day the Charlie Carlson family celebrated with Christmas dinner at the Carlson home. Home on leave from Fort Jackson, S. C., was Charlie Carlson Jr., who spent the holidays with his parents and also celebrated his 21st birthday on that date.

Enjoying the celebration were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Howard of New Smyrna Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thomas of Cocoa; Mrs. A. S. Hawkins and Mrs. Claude Hawkins of Lake Monroe; Raymond King and Doris Carlson.

DeBary

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Allen of Carnation Lane entertained their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Austin, of Stamford, Conn., over the Christmas holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Randall Smith of Seminole Drive entertained Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gorman, former neighbors from Parkchester, N. Y. After luncheon at the DeBary Restaurant they proceeded to their winter residence at Miami Shores.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Diehl of Buena Vista entertained their sons and daughters at Christmas time, who are Mr. and Mrs. John Bert and children, Karen and Christ, from San Selmo, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. John Diehl Jr. and children, Denise and John, III, from Tipp City, Ohio. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Diehl and children, Phillip, Jon and Danny, from Union, S. C., and daughter, Mrs. Joseph Mahony, and children, Susan and Michael, from Alexandria, Va. This was the happiest Christmas family reunion the Diehl family has had for many years.

Mrs. Clyde Moore of Buena Vista had as her guests during the Christmas holidays, Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Fowler and son, Bobby, from Warner Robins, Ga., her son-in-law and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Kimmel of Coronado Road spent the Christmas holidays climbing Abcoha Mountain on the outskirts of Atlanta, when they visited their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Kimmel Jr., and their three grandchildren. They all popped corn before the open fire place on Christmas eve.

interspersed with greenery and white satin bows and two pedestal arrangements of white stock, glads and mums.

The entire mantle and fireplace were banked with a triangular cascading arrangement of white stock, glads and mums combined with delicate pink miniature carnations. A matching arrangement in an oversize silver compote centered the piano flanked by five branched candelabra holding white tapers.

Mrs. Edward Kircher, organist, played the traditional nuptial hymns.

The lovely bride descended the stairway, which was decorated with white nylon roping intertwined with ivy, on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. A crest arrangement of white stock, crystallized bells and white satin ribbon was on the newel post at the foot of the picturesque stairway.

The bride was radiant in a formal gown of white peau-de-soie with long tapered sleeves. Appliques of Chantilly lace enhanced the sabrina neckline of the fitted bodice and the detachable wateau train. Her tiered bouffant veil of silk illusion fell from a crown of seed pearls, iridescents and sequins and she carried a cascade of white starlight roses centered with pink Phalaenopsis orchids with natural foliage.

Miss Susan Southward attended her sister as maid of honor and was gowned in aqua peau-de-soie with a matching Dior bow head piece and short white gloves. She carried pink sweetheart roses and miniature white carnations arranged in a crescent cascade.

Miss Candi Southward was her sister's bridesmaid and her gown and flowers were identical to the maid of honor. Jack Kornreich of New York served his brother as best man.

Mrs. Southward chose for her daughter's wedding an elegant pink crepe sheath with Alencon lace bodice. Her accessories were, matching and her corsage was of pink and white roses.

Mrs. Kornreich, mother of the groom, was attired in a lovely blue crepe frock with matching accessories and a white rose corsage.

Immediately following the wedding, an elaborate reception was held at the home with Mrs. B. L. Harkey, Miss Judy Burchaell and Mrs. A. L. Doudney assisting.

Centering the serving table, which was overlaid in imported white silk organza over pink satin, was a silver epergne arrangement of white stock and miniature white carnations accented with three tall white tapers. The beautiful three tiered wedding cake was at one end of the table with pale pink sparkling punch in a silver bowl poured from the opposite end. Silver appointments were used in the serving of the dainty wedding refreshments.

For her going away outfit the petite blonde bride chose a blue knit sheath with matching jacket and marshmallow accessories. Her hat was fashioned from blue velvet bows and veiling and she wore the orchid corsage from her wedding bouquet.

Following a wedding trip to the east coast, Mr. and Mrs. Kornreich will reside at the Prairie View Apartments in Gainesville, where both are students at the university.

Among the out of town wedding guests were Mrs. Lawrence Kornreich, Jack Kornreich, Herbert Kornreich and Saul Kornreich, all of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jacobs, Mrs. Milton Jacob, and Miss Susan Jacobs, all from Miami Beach.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My problem may seem small to you, but it's big to me. Whenever my husband and I go to his "parents", my father-in-law lies down on the living room floor and insists that I jump on his stomach as hard as I can. I suppose he's trying to show off how strong he is. I've tried to get out of these demonstrations because it makes me feel so foolish, but my father-in-law insists, and rather than make a big scene I go along with it. How can I get out of these silly performances without hurting his feelings? He is a very dear man otherwise, and quite sensitive.

PART OF THE ACT DEAR PART: Even though your father-in-law may be "dear" and "sensitive," you as a woman, are entitled to be "sensitive" about jumping up and down on a man's stomach. If he must show off his abdominal strength, he shouldn't ask a woman to do a man's job.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is married and has a lovely family. Her doctor told her that she must either give up smoking or die young. She's had pneumonia four times and her lungs are seriously weakened. I arrived the second day after she had quit smoking. On the fourth day she invited two of her

The day after I entertain I am so bored that all I want to do is crawl into a corner and stay there. But now, thanks to you, Dear Abby, I have to jump up every five minutes to answer the phone and listen to somebody "thank" me again for the lovely evening.

I don't like written thank-you notes, either. When the postman delivers one of those little envelopes I think "it is an invitation to a party, and when I discover it is just a formal 'thank you' note, what a letdown!"

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

It is always worth-while for declarer to plan his play at trick one by using the code word ARCH where "A" is Analyze the lead; "R" is Review the bidding; "C" is Count your winners and losers and "H" is How to make this hand.

It is equally worth-while for the defenders to do the same thing. It is almost impossible for them to get any value out of a hand but they can change "H" to How to beat this hand and get some mighty good results.

Thus, if you are sitting East you note that your partner has opened the jack of hearts against South's four spade contract. Is it a singleton trick? Not that would give South seven hearts. Is it a doubleton lead? Not that beat the contract? Yes! North does have 19 high-card points and he has bid strongly, but South has not shown much except a probable five-card trump suit.

Where are three tricks coming from? Not in a red suit surely. How about two club tricks? Most unlikely! If your partner held ace-king of clubs he would have opened the "suit." How about one spade, one club and a club ruff?

Now you have found your one chance. Instead of blindly and hopelessly returning your partner's lead, you play the nine of clubs. Your partner will take his ace and return the suit. You will have to follow this time, but later on when he gets in with the king of trumps—he will lead another club for you to ruff.

So they quite logically use the method they know works best. And who does that have as the illogical sex? The men, of course.

They are the ones who let a woman persuade them to do what she wants them to do. It is a logical enough to appeal to their sense of superiority, to their vanity, and to their need to feel like a lost and lonely.

Women have always got what they wanted by using feminine logic.

If few of them ever become top-notch bridge players, it is probably because logic tells them that there are more important things for a woman to succeed at than tournament bridge.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millett

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. It's women's lack of logic that keeps them from becoming top-ranking bridge players.

So says the only woman on the North American bridge team that will compete for a world championship in 1965. She is Miss Dorothy Hayden, and apparently thinks she has a logical explanation for that conclusion. Says she:

"Women are trained to be illogical from the time they are children. Let's suppose a woman wants a bigger allowance, more spending money from her husband.

"Is she going to write a list of all the reasons she needs more money? Of course not. Instead, she puts on her best perfume and her nicest nightgown and uses not logic at all—but it works!"

So far, so good. But is a woman writing illogically when she plays up to a man instead of trying to reason with him when she is pretty sure the first will work and the second will likely get her nowhere?

It seems to me that, faced with a problem, it's only logical to try to solve it in the one way that is almost sure to work.

If that's true, then women are very logical creatures. They realize early in the game that men are much more susceptible to sweet talk and "pretty please" from a woman than from a business-like, let's-put-the-facts-straight approach.

"I am invited to the wedding of my niece. The church ceremony is at 10:30 and luncheon follows at a large and fashionable hotel. What should I wear?"

A suit of brocade or metallic fabric would be smart. Have a tiny hat, such as a raffia cap (church demands a head covering, long gloves, and a smart "cocktail" type bag.

"I am taking my daughter and friends to Switzerland to get a good I properly wear a heavy tweed cape (black and white) for walking in the snow. I, of course, do not wear a hat."

The wife will look very smart. Have high black boots, a short or black knitted hood, and wear a heavy sweater under the cape. While very attractive, capes are not very warm.

"I would I wear low-heeled slippers to a wedding. I have had my foot and cannot dance in high heels just now. My husband would be very disappointed if we did not dance."

Why not wear the high heels for your "entrance" and do as a lovely lady did recently at a large New York wedding. She took her slippers, low-heeled and comfortable, in a small bag, changed in the dressing room, danced all the dances and no one even realized that she had changed.

"When I use hair spray, my hair curls up in short strands and looks awful. Is there any special kind that I should buy?"

Perhaps your hair is "allergic" to hair spray. I hear

Sailor Ends 20-Year Career, To Stay Here

William H. Clark, commissary steward second class, was retired from the Navy at a brief ceremony held by Reconnaissance Attack Squadron 7 on board the Naval Air Station, Sanford.

W. H. CLARK

Clark, who completed 20 years of honorable service, has been awarded the Asiatic-Pacific Campaign Medal, National Defense Service Medal, Navy Occupation Service Medal, World War II Victory Medal, four Good Conduct Medals and the American Campaign Medal. He first enlisted in November 1943 and has served aboard the USS Miller, LST 344 and the USS Randolph.

State Service Aide To Visit

Howard H. Harrison, Seminole County service officer, reports C. R. Prince, assistant state service officer, will visit this county Jan. 21 to confer with area veterans.

He will discuss technical questions and problems with veterans and their survivors or dependents concerning Veterans Administration benefits such as hospitalization, education and training, insurance, disabilities, widows and dependent parents benefits, GI housing loans.

Prince represents the headquarters office in the Florida Department of Veterans Affairs at Pass-a-Grille and his services are offered free of charge.

Record Income

CALICO (777) The Suez Canal Authority announced a record income of $779,100,000 for 1964 compared to $493,900,000 for 1963 and $241,176,000 for 1962. The last year before the canal was nationalized by Egypt.

GI Insurance Holders Get Modified Plan

A new plan of permanent GI insurance—called "modified life"—is being made available to all holders of National Service Life Insurance through the new law which reopens NSLI for disabled veterans of World War II and the Korean Conflict.

The VA plans to notify all term policyholders at the time of renewal of the opportunity to obtain "modified life" policies.

Any type of National Service Life Insurance, including policies already issued, may be exchanged for or converted to this new plan which will be issued at lower premium rates than the present permanent plans.

The "modified life" plan provides a level premium throughout the life of the insured. However, the face value will be reduced automatically 50 percent when the insured veteran reaches the age of 65. At that time the policyholder will have the option of restoring the full amount of coverage by purchasing ordinary life insurance without a medical examination.

This "modified plan" is offered as an inducement to NSLI term policyholders to convert to a lifetime-level premium plan before the premiums on renewable term insurance become prohibitive as the policyholders grow older.

There are still some three million NSLI term policyholders who have not converted to a permanent plan.

Nuclear Sub, Freighter Hit

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The nuclear submarine Ethan Allen collided with a Norwegian freighter in the Mediterranean Sunday, but damage to both vessels was negligible and no one was injured.

The Navy, in reporting the accident, pointed out the freighter was the S.S. Octavia, 10,000 tons, and was en route to Los Angeles after exchanging identification.

The collision happened off the coast of Spain, according to a Navy spokesman in Washington.

Richard Kipling wrote his column "The Rescue" in honor of Queen Victoria's diamond jubilee.

Cut Your Own Taxes - 6

By Ray De Crane
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

PROBLEM: Your daughter, whose total support you furnished all year long marries on New Year's Eve. Can you claim her as a $600 dependency credit on your tax return?

Answer: Pop, you may be stuck. Since your daughter and her husband were married on the last day of the year they are treated by the tax collector as if they had been married all year long. This means she may file a joint return with her new husband or be listed as an exemption on his return. Should the newly married couple file in either of these two ways you may NOT list her as a dependent on your return.

The remedy: Make a deal with your son-in-law. It's perfectly legal. Assuming that your income is higher than your son-in-law's and therefore your tax rate higher, suggest that he file as if he were unmarried. In that way you can list your daughter as your dependent. Your savings on this $600 credit will vary from $95 to $402, depending on whether you are in the 16 per cent or 22 per cent tax bracket. Offer to share your savings with him.

Two other questions concerning dependency occur almost as frequently. This is the first: "My son graduated from college last June. I paid all his expenses until graduation—tuition, clothes, housing, medical and dental care, spending money. After graduation he started to work and earned $1,500 through the end of the year. Can I claim him as a dependent? Can I at least get credit for that first six months?"

Answer: You either get full credit or none at all. There is no such thing as getting a dependency credit for part of the year. Since your child qualified as a student by having attended college full time for at least five months of the year he may claim more than $600 and you may still claim him as a dependent. PROVIDE you furnished the chief support.

Lets Off Steam

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Panama's "Golden Rule" was established three times by his wife Julia when he tried to surprise her by letting steam out of his new pressure cooker while she was leaving. The wounds were not serious.

Now how do you determine just who furnished the chief support? This is the time for work with a pencil and paper. Put a line through the middle of your sheet of paper running from top to bottom. On one side enter the expense of your contributions to his support. On the other side enter his $1,500 plus any other earnings he may have had for the year.

Your contributions will have to exceed his before he can be claimed. Start with the cost of his tuition, if any, then add room and board for the six months, clothing purchases, spending money & transportation expenses, medical care and any other items of expense in his behalf.

If your total is greater than his, you claim him on your return. If they are not you are out of luck.

The other frequently asked dependency question goes like this: "My mother lives in my house. She has no income other than her Social Security checks which amounted to $720 last year. She paid me no board. May I claim her as a dependent?"

Answer: Ordinarily anyone who has more than $600 gross income may not be listed as a dependent. (The exceptions are students and your children under 19.) It is true that Social Security is not considered a part of gross income but it is still spendable income. Therefore the question revolves around who furnished chief support. Proceed as in the problem above and record the cost of support contributed by each. If your total is greater than your mother's $720 you may claim her as a dependent.

Question: How is the tax situation affected by a birth or death during the year?

Answer: A child born any time during the year—even on Dec. 31—entitles the supporting parents to a full year's $600 dependency credit. In the case of death the controlling factor is the status at the time of death. If the deceased person was a qualified dependent of the taxpayer until his death, the taxpayer may claim a full year's credit. Similarly, if a husband or wife dies during the year the surviving spouse may file a joint return and claim a full year's exemption credit for the deceased partner.

One final hint: A wife is never considered a dependent for income tax purposes even though she may have had no income. As a spouse, she qualifies the taxpayer to the same $600 credit but in many other ways a spouse is given different tax treatment than a dependent.

For example, a dependent need not file a return until his gross income is $600 or more. A spouse will pay an income tax on her first dollar of income, whether it be on her own separate return or included with her husband's income on a joint return.

Mercury,

year's most successful car, awarded year's top honor

Receives Car Life's Annual Award for Engineering Excellence. The car you see on this page is the proud recipient of the hardest won award in the automobile business.

In selecting Mercury for 1965, Car Life Magazine stated, "Mercury shows a quality of concept, design and engineering far above the ordinary."

Wide press acclaim. The New York Times called Mercury "the surprise hit of 1965 in the medium-price field." Automotive News says it's "probably the most changed car in years." Life Magazine, the Miami News, the Pittsburgh Post Gazette have echoed these sentiments.

But what counts most, really, is customers—people who come in and say, "I like"—and then buy. Right now, the 1965 Mercury is getting its greatest customer acceptance ever.

Production up 83%. To assure meeting the increased demand, production schedules for Mercury have been increased 83%.

Credit, of course, goes to the car itself. A new kind of Mercury—built in the Lincoln Continental tradition. Beautifully proportioned, and with luxury features and options once reserved only for the most expensive cars. No medium-price car has ever come so close in luxury to the high-price class.

Come see what all the talk is about. Drive the new Mercury—today.
