Commissioners Plan Further Study Of Docks, Terminals Project

Top News In Brief

PHILADELPHIA — Sen. Harry F. Byrd, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, said in a magazine article today that $1 billion dollars could be lopped from the administration's 1958 budget "without any real harm."

MIAMI BEACH — The long legal fight of a Jewish couple to keep the 6-year-old orphaned girl they have reared since infancy will be renewed in Florida courts, it was indicated today.

WASHINGTON — The United States is stepping up its drive to swing Africa firmly into the free world camp with establishment of seven new consulates on the once dark continent.

LIVE OAK — A group of major Florida tobacco growers has strongly opposed a proposed system of acreage-poundage controls on tobacco in a hearing conducted by a congressional subcommittee.

Sanford Army To Get New Roof

The Sanford Army is to get a new roof.

State Quartermaster, Col. Ralph W. Cooper, has mailed out invitations to bid on the project to contractors in Sanford, DeLand and Orlando.

The sealed bids will be opened on Apr. 22, and work will begin on the project shortly thereafter.

Major Roy D. Green, commander of the Post here for the Florida National Guard, released the announcement this morning.

Blank Payroll Checks Stolen From Company

Approximately 60 blank payroll checks have been stolen from the offices of Odham and Tudor, Inc., just outside of the city limits on 37-02, according to Constable J. Q. "Slim" Galloway who is investigating the theft.

The payroll checks that came to a Sanford bank for clearance up to this morning had been cashed in various Orlando business establishments.

Galloway is in Orlando today checking various leads and investigating the cashing of checks in the out-of-town business houses.

There are still approximately 44 checks remaining out and as yet unaccounted for.

Galloway reported this morning.

Funeral Services Are Held Today For Mrs. Laney

Mrs. Less Laney, 63, wife of E. H. Laney of this City, died suddenly at 7 o'clock yesterday morning at her residence, 205 E. 18th St.

Mrs. Laney was born Dec. 10, 1893 in Enterprise, Ala., coming to Sanford in 1925 from Enterprise, and has made her home here for 32 years.

She was a member of the First Methodist Church of Sanford, a member of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, and a member of the Wesley Class of the Methodist Church here.

Mrs. Laney is survived by her husband, E. H. Laney, Sanford; the daughter Mrs. L. C. Tally, of Jacksonville; two sons, L. Bruce Laney and E. L. Laney, both of Jacksonville; eight grandchildren; and two sisters, Mrs. Maureen Winter, Savannah, Ga. and Mrs. J. P. Barron of Greenville, S. C.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 4:30 p. m. at the First Methodist Church with the Rev. Milton Wyatt officiating.

Burial was in Oaklawn Memorial Park.

Following pallbearers served: J. C. Davis, M. R. Strickland, C. D. Brown, W. B. Nicholson, F. E. Boumillat Sr., and F. D. Scott.

A special meeting of the Board of Sanford City Commissioners has been tentatively set for April 1 to look further into the possibility of a Docks and Terminals project.

"The first thing we've got to do is find out what means we have to finance the project," Mayor David Gatchel told W. M. Bostwick, a Daytona Beach engineer who made the recent survey for the Florida and Light Co. and the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

Bostwick told the Board of Commissioners last night that he had made a similar survey in 1948 and "came to the conclusion that the docks and terminals project should become a reality."

He said, "It will make a nucleus around which all businesses in Sanford would center around the warehouse."

"The project can start anytime you want it to get underway," Bostwick commented. However, he supplemented his statement by saying "It will be five years before you can consider it a paying proposition."

On a direct question as to whether the City of Sanford or a Port Authority should head up the Docks and Terminals project, Bostwick said "My reasoning is that there should be one head and it should be the city because it is more closely knit."

"I made a statement to the Rotary Club, and I will repeat it here," said Bostwick, "an authority is not as close to the people as an elected City government."

The special meeting set for April 1, will make possible the attendance of the city's fiscal agent, Wilson Holt of St. Petersburg. Through the fiscal agent the city will determine what method can be used to finance the project that is estimated to cost approximately a half million dollars.

He was supported by the unanimous approval of the other five commissioners of the Board.

Higginbotham explained "I am opposed to it even in its minor stages."

He said, emphatically, "If we're elected by the people we're the people's voice within the city."

The City Commissioners statement referred to the recent resolution by the Board of Seminole County Commissioners requesting legislation setting the hours for the sale of beer, wine and liquor on Sunday.

"I am not condoning the sale of liquor on Sunday," said Higginbotham, but "I am opposed to the taking away of the authority out of the hands of the city."

The Board of Sanford City Commissioners voiced its opposition in a resolution to the Seminole County delegation with a copy to be forwarded to the Board of Seminole County Commissioners.

When the $1.9 billion money measure was called up in the House, southern economy bloc was ready with a series of amendments to deepen by additional millions the $118 million cut already imposed by the House Appropriations Committee.

Rep. William M. Colmer D-Miss., a key figure in the cut-deeper group, forecast wide support for the added economies.

The southerners drafted their proposals late Monday at a closed door session attended by about 20 members in the office of Rep. Howard W. Smith D-Va.

Smith declined to disclose details of the proposals in advance. He told newsmen "there is plenty of fat in the ball" and the amendments were calculated to cut it out.

Enthusiasts Seek To Supply Organ For Blind Musician

Sanford organ music enthusiasts and interested persons feel that the music of Orlean Osburn deserves further recognition and should be made available to a greater number of music lovers.

Orlean Osburn was born 36 years ago in Dade City, and was blinded in infancy. Despite this handicap, his interest in music—and particularly in piano and organ—was evident at an early age. His first attempts were on an old reed organ of pump style.

When six years old he was entered as the youngest student in the music department at the Florida School for the Blind at St. Augustine and remained there as a student for 13 years. At 23 he received an AB Degree from Stetson University where he majored in music and piano. Since graduating he has completed all but a few hours toward a Master's Degree at Florida State University. Gov. LeRoy Collins and State School Superintendent Thomas D. Bailey both hit hard at strike threats by teachers and Collins asked for joint state and county efforts to raise their pay. But the governor also restated his opposition to the proposed $1,000 raise per teacher which would provide a starting salary of $4,300.

Bailey, however, again endorsed the proposal as "necessary if we are to secure the qualified teachers parents desire and our children deserve." But he said he feared "that extreme and thoughtless action may make more difficult the efforts of our state officials and our Legislature in their efforts to provide for teacher needs."

Bailey called on the state teachers for a "friendly understanding of the needs" in education, including the need for new school construction and facilities as well as pay raises.

Mrs. Bill Tait of Tallahassee, incoming president of the Classroom Teachers Assn., said she was strongly opposed to the suggestion that Florida teachers "strike" for higher salaries.

In Gaines City, meanwhile, some 125 teachers attended a meeting of the Polk County classroom teachers legislative committee and voted unanimously to urge a recall of the Florida Education Assn. and the Classroom Teachers Assn. delegate assemblies in Tallahassee during the Legislature.

Teachers Asked For Understanding Of School Needs

TALLAHASSEE — Florida's 30,000 teachers were asked today for "friendly understanding" of the state's over-all school needs while Polk County educators launched a new drive for a big across-the-board pay raise.

Gov. LeRoy Collins and State School Superintendent Thomas D. Bailey both hit hard at strike threats by teachers and Collins asked for joint state and county efforts to raise their pay. But the governor also restated his opposition to the proposed $1,000 raise per teacher which would provide a starting salary of $4,300.

Many Events Planned

High Navy officials from the Navy Department in Washington, D. C. will be in Sanford Saturday for the Seminole County Navy Appreciation Day, Mayor David Gatchel said today.

Mayor Gatchel, chairman of the invitations committee for the Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the gigantic event, said also that Senator Spessard Holland and Congressman A. S. "Syd" Herlong Jr. will be here to participate in the biggest one-day celebration ever held here.

He also said that Captain Harry F. Carlson, a former Sanford man, now of Pensacola, will be in Sanford for the full day's celebration in honor of the men of the Navy. Carlson, now retired, was formerly commanding officer at the Pensacola Naval Air Station.

Other high Navy officials who will be on hand for the Seminole County Navy Appreciation Day will come from the Naval Air Station, Jacksonville.

In the meantime, a final meeting to complete plans for the Saturday celebration will be held tonight in the auditorium of the City Hall. Co-chairmen Harry Canel and Garfield Willetts said yesterday that they expect all committee members and representatives of the various civic organizations who are to help in serving and other duties to attend the meeting so that the entire day's events can be coordinated.

"This is going to be the biggest day ever in Sanford," said G. Andrew Speer, president of the local Jaycee organization.

Jaycees look on the tremendous task of staging the Seminole County Navy Appreciation Day several weeks ago.

Plans for the day include a Jaycees Navy Appreciation Day baseball game at the Sanford Memorial Baseball Stadium. Two of the New York Giants top Farm System baseball teams will be seen in action.

Spain's Largest Province Blossoms With Irrigation

BADAJOS — "Go west young man" is the latest slogan in Spain where a vast irrigation project is making fertile thousands of acres of land and giving new life and hope to a population that has lived for centuries in the shadow of poverty.

The Badajoz Plan, 20 per cent completed, is a $125,000,000 scheme to harness the waters of the Guadiana River as it flows through the bone-dry plains of southwestern Spain.

The main storage dam, Cijara, already is 90 per cent completed, and the first 40,000 acres of irrigated land in the valley below are giving eight to 10 times their previous yield. A dam for irrigation control, Montijo, is finished and in use, and two other dams are being constructed.

When completed in 1965, 25,000 acres will be under irrigation, divided into neat 10-acre blocks, each supporting a farmer and his family.

Complementary to the big increase in agricultural yield, factories are springing up to can the excess tomatoes, spin the cotton and treat the tobacco.

New Towns

Sixteen new towns have been created to house the hundreds of new farmers and their families, and another 18 are planned. The men of Badajoz see no limit to the possibilities of their province now that it is getting life-giving water.

Juan Floresy Ama, engineer supervising the Cijara dam project, pointed out that when the engineers were building the dam they inundated a cemetery. Then pointing to the temporary village where 1,000 dam workers and their wives live, he said:

"Over there a new baby is born every four days."

The Badajoz planners want to insure that the province never returns to the dark days of depression when 30,000 families suffered the effects of unemployment and sheep roamed over large tracts of land owned by a few wealthy men.

Largest of the 80 Spanish provinces, Badajoz has perennially had one of the lowest per capita outputs of agriculture and industry. Over the years the men of Badajoz drifted away to other lands and other parts of Spain to look for work. Now the tide has turned.

Girls Get Jobs

There is now a shortage of manpower in the province, according to Manuel Martin Lobo, a member of the Badajoz Plan Secretariat.

More than 15,000 men are employed on the dam building projects. At Orellana, one of the four Guadiana dams, a big Spanish construction company is trying to push through in four years a job which the contract gives them five years to complete. Men work there late into the night under huge arc lights.

Thousands of others are employed building the canals which take the water out to the farms. More than 3,000 miles of artificial waterways have to be constructed, of which about 100 miles are down and functioning.

Month by month, as more land is leveled and watered, the number of settlers increases, and some 1,500 are now working their own farms. Many are employing agricultural laborers to help them.

Other hundreds are working in the factories built to handle the local produce on the spot. Young girls, who traditionally have gone into service as maids in the houses of the "senoras" are being snapped up by the manufacturers, and the servant problem in the district is acute.

Even so, one big preserving concern reported it had to hold over part of its processing of the red pepper crop because at the height of the canning season there were not enough girls available.

THE BLONDE DIED DANCING

by KELLEY ROOS

CHAPTER 29

BOB SAT down in the empty conference room and immediately proceeded to put me at my ease. He scooped me with a small, dull anecdote about a teaching experience he had recently had. Then he leaned back, crossed his legs, folded his hands over his vest and said, "Now, Hester, what can I do for you?"

"Well, Bob . . ."

"Be glad to help you, only too glad. Have any of the students been annoying you?"

"No, it isn't that . . ."

"You can be frank with me, Hester. The past, as I often say, is the occupational hazard of the female dancing teacher. And, I might add," he added, chuckling, "also of the male upon occasion."

"No, Bob, I want to help you."

"Help me?" He was amazed, rocked with disbelief. "You want to help me? How?"

"Bob, this is rather delicate, but I feel if you and I aren't friends already . . . well, we're destined to be. That seems obvious."

"Hester, what is it?"

"Well, I've heard gossip, and if it should get to the police . . ."

"Gossip about me, Hester?"

"May I be frank?"

"Yes, please."

"Just how much did Anita Farrell tell you about me, Bob?"

"Anita?"

"Yes. Is it true that you were so crazy about her that when she threw you over you couldn't take it?"

"Where did you hear this, Hester?"

"It's only gossip. But I'm afraid if the police heard it they'll think you might have . . . well, killed Anita because you couldn't live without her."

"Hester!" Bob said sharply. "I'm only trying to help you, warn you . . ."

"Thank you, but . . . Hester!"

"Yes, I know. This morning he was all business; you couldn't see the grin on his face."

"Kipron," he said bristly, looking the Walter straight in the eye, "I'm going to wrap up this case this afternoon."

"What time this afternoon?" the Walter asked.

"You're not joking. Four o'clock this afternoon. I'll know then who the Walter is. I want you to be at the Crescent School at four."

"Me? Why me?"

"I'm throwing a little party. I've invited all of Anita Farrell's pupils. I've invited Wendell Kipp and the two bartenders from the Feather Club . . ."

"And they'll pick out the Walter from Anita Farrell's pupils for you," the Walter said unenthusedly. "A great idea."

"I'd have done it sooner," Bolling said, "except that I was sure we'd pick up Ralph Tolley. But we haven't found him yet."

"Good old Ralph Tolley! No one of him to stay out of sight. It had been quite a while since I had even thought of that sterling pupil of Anita's whose lesson time Steve had borrowed, but I thought of it for it now. I thought of Ralph Tolley not only with gratitude, but with affection."

"Maybe the reason we haven't found him," Bolling was saying, "is because he's the Walter and he's hiding out. Or maybe, if he isn't the Walter, it's because he's dead."

"Dead?" Steve and I said.

"Murdered. By the Walter."

"Murdered?" we said. "By the Walter?"

Bolling nodded. He took the chart of Anita Farrell's teaching schedule out of his pocket. He showed it to us. "See this? I've got every lesson hour accounted for except the hour of the murder, which occurred on Wednesday, Nov. 11. It is the Walter, that's his time. But if he isn't the Walter, the Walter took Tolley's time. Understand?"

"So," I said, "this afternoon will wrap up the case?"

"One way," Steve said, "or another."

"Well, know," Bolling said, "who is the Walter. You be there, Barton, at four."

"So long," Bolling said.

"So long," Steve said.

"Gruesome, isn't it?" I said.

Bolling turned back from the door.

"Gruesome, Mrs. Barton?"

"You like Steve. I can tell you do."

"I admit it," Bolling said, "Charming fellow, Barton."

Deadlines for Steve is only six hours away. Can he beat it? Continue the next exciting installment here tomorrow.

Developer Plans To Donate Land For Retirement Site

DETROIT — Suburban Dearborn officials plan to meet with a Florida land developer today to study his plan to donate 1,000 acres of land for the creation of a Dearborn in Florida.

Harold A. Keats, Ft. Lauderdale, Florida, said the land is part of 10 square miles of land he owns about 37 miles north of West Palm Beach.

Mayor Orville L. Hubbard of Dearborn said he understood Keats was giving the land in the hope that the construction of another Dearborn would lead to speedy development of the rest of his land.

The offer might not be as good as it sounds," Hubbard said, "but it certainly is worth looking into."

Hubbard has long backed a plan that a city be built in Florida in which Dearbornites from Michigan can retire. Voters will be asked on the April 1 ballot whether they want Hubbard to pursue such a plan.

Dr. Van Parker Guest Speaker At Pinecrest P-TA

"What to do until the doctor comes" was the theme of the most interesting talk given by Dr. Van Parker, before the parents and teachers of the Pinecrest P-TA, at the last meeting. The doctor said that the prevention of accidents was the most important thing to work for, because more children die from accidents than all diseases combined.

Among the subjects the doctor touched upon during his talk were burns, sprains, choking, dog bites, nose bleeds, drowning, electric shocks, smothering, poisoning, abdominal cramps, croup. He endeavored to give parents some idea of what reactions to expect from these happenings, and what to look for that can be reported to the doctor when phoning to inform him of an illness or accident.

Mrs. Houshons' first grade won the room count, and an explanation was made by Mrs. Reynolds, principal, as to why only bus pupils are authorized to ride the school busses at any time.

Nominations were called for by the president of the association, Mrs. Richard Elam, for the nominating committee to select the officers for the coming year. Those elected were, Mrs. Wendy Johnson, Miss Ann Whitaker, and Mrs. Lila Dickerhoff.

An announcement was made by Mrs. Fleming, music teacher of the coming presentation by the Pinecrest Jr. High Glee Club of a "Carnival of Music" to be held April 5th in the school auditorium.

Delicious refreshments were served in the cafeteria by the home room mothers of the second grades.

Clubs, Mrs. Robert Bradford of the Altamonte Springs Garden Club, chairman of the Branch, and Mrs. F. T. Meriwether of the Sanford Woman's Club, co-chairman, have combined efforts to make this project the most successful of the year.

The hours of the affair have been worked out so working people will have an opportunity to attend. Sandwiches, coffee and cookies will be served at noon, with the food being furnished by each club. Mrs. C. M. Flowers was appointed as food chairman.

Door prizes will be awarded to those holding the lucky number. The prizes were furnished by local merchants of Sanford and surrounding area.

Everyone is urged to attend.

Was off to a pretty good start this morning, but since then my notes have been mislaid, and from the looks of the mess on this desk, I may never find them. See if my memory will fill in the gaps, but no anonymous phone calls, please.

Vi and Charlie Mildahn are leaving Monday for Norfolk, VA. I will miss them, as will the rest of their friends. The Mildahns sold their house in Loch Arbor to a young man, who, six months ago was laughing at my married plight, but it seemed inevitable that the bliss of marriage should catch up with him. Soon he will be like the rest of us, and will hardly remember when he was not married.

Before the square dance Friday night, Gene and Ernie Fritz Bob and Mike Stone, and Alice entertained Ida and Bob Radtke, and Ernie Mills.

Mike and Bob Stone had a party Saturday night. Mike served lasagna, and Bob served punch. Attending were Mary and Ed Higgins, Barbie and Jack Morrison, Jessie and Brack Perkins, Harry and Ruth Jean Robinson, Alice and Ernie Mills, Ruth and Forrest Norvell, Jane and Wally Phillips, and Lolly Roth.

P.T.A. at Southside should be unusually interesting Thursday night, as there will be a panel discussion, the subject as yet not revealed to me, and I hesitate to make one up, but representing the teachers will be Mrs. Wiggins, the mother in the home, Mrs. Robert Williams the church, the Reverend Carnefin, and the community Clifford McKibbin. Narrator will be Mary Mann.

The rain has been so persistent that even the hardest golfer has turned in his clubs for a bridge deck. All the trees and fields are turning lush again, and perhaps our canal has risen an inch or two. I know one thing; it has kept my husband from coming home for two days, and I'm not in a very good mood. Did manage to see Betty McCracken in the Seminole Memorial Hospital. She is feeling fit, looking wonderful, and the baby is the prettiest I have ever seen. She looks just like Johnny, only better looking of course.

The leaden skies are depressing. At this point I should light a fire in the fireplace, take a good book, and curl up with a cup of tea, served by my charming, quiet, children. But the wood is all wet, the book has already been read, no more tea, and heaven knows where the children are, probably out walking in puddles with their school shoes on. At least it is quiet—better see what is going on. Good-bye.

Mrs. Sparka Clonts of the Oviedo Woman's Club, Mrs. Fred Ganas of the Sanford Garden Club and Mrs. F. W. Meriwether of the Sanford Woman's Club. Ensembles ranging from bathing suits to after five dresses will be provided by the Mary Ester Shop.

The Sanford Woman's Club Stage will be decorated for the show with arrangements of spring flowers and white wrought iron furniture. Music will be provided by Mrs. Paul Middleton at the piano.

Serving at the tea tables are, Mrs. B. Gathaus, Mrs. Joe Laid, Mrs. Leslie Bryan and Mrs. D. H. Ury.

One of the highlights of the program will be Collette, a talking French Poodle, owned by Mrs. John R. McLaughlin of Lake Mary. Collette, only three and a half years old is Seminole County's newest discovery.

Judy Lavender Celebrates 11th Birthday Friday

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Lavender honored their daughter Judy, who is observing her 11th birthday today, with a "Slumber Party" Friday evening.

The group gathered at the Lavender home on Oak Ave. and Judy opened her gifts after which the girls sang "Happy Birthday" to her. They then enjoyed dinner and a show.

Later in the evening, the girls had ice cream and cake. The birthday cake was decorated with pink and blue rosebuds and topped with "Happy Birthday, Judy". Mrs. Lavender then presented the girls with favors and pictures were taken of the group.

Those helping Judy celebrate her birthday were Janet Johnson, Maria Rowland and Linda Scroggs.

Miss Louise Gehan To Sail For Geneva, Switzerland April

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Randall Chase in their home on Belair is Mrs. Chase's sister, Miss Louise Bradford Gehan of New York City. Miss Gehan will sail from New York April 3 for Geneva, Switzerland where she will work with the World Council of Churches.

She was graduated from Florida State University in Tallahassee in 1938 and received her Masters Degree from the University of California in Berkeley.

While in Tallahassee she was employed in the Dean of Students Office and later served as alumni secretary. In New York she was associate secretary of college work on the National Council of the Protestant Episcopal Church for four years.

Prior to that she was a student worker at the University of Missouri in Columbia.

Conducting summer camp work under the Summer Service Project for five summers and serving as field worker for the Episcopal Church has well qualified her for work in the foreign field.

Folks To Show Gratitude At Navy Appreciation Day Saturday, Mar. 30

Saturday, March 30, is a day that will long be remembered in Sanford.

It will be Navy Appreciation Day for all of Seminole County. The entire day and festivities will be turned over to the honor of the United States Navy and all its personnel at the Sanford Naval Air Station.

Navy people—their entire families—will be admitted free to all of the activities which will include a gigantic fish fry with all of the trimmings, a baseball game between two of the New York Giants farm system teams at Sanford Memorial Baseball stadium, fireworks early in the evening, and climaxed with a big street dance.

To make the event a complete success, the Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce, staging the day-long festivity, is asking that local citizens turn out in force to show their appreciation for all that the Navy has meant to them here in Seminole County.

Plans have been completed to feed more than five thousand people—and to do that there will be more than two tons of fish, six thousand ears of corn, and tons of other food to go along with making a fish fry an enjoyable and delicious meal. To be sure—the Jaycees even thought of butter for the corn-on-the-cob.

All of Sanford will more than likely be out to proclaim the day one of importance to them for as each person in our community knows the Navy has been the bulwark of our economy.

The Navy, when the Sanford Naval Air Station was reactivated, brought with them hundreds of families each one looking for housing, each one a customer in Sanford's fine stores, each one purchasing automobiles, gasoline, boats, fishing tackle, everything that makes life worth living—and most of those purchases have come from Sanford and Seminole County shops and stores.

Merchants of Seminole County well know that the Navy is important to our economy and the growth of the community. Merchants have prospered because of the increased sales, the movement of stocks which they had previously not carried, and because of the many intangibles Navy families purchase such as insurance, stocks and bonds, savings accounts in our banks and investments of many kinds.

Best of all is the fact that Navy families have become Sanford families. They have made the finest of neighbors, joined Parent-Teachers associations, churches, their children have made fine and honored students, the concert series became a huge success because of their attendance, Sunday Schools have been overflowing because of Navy family children, the Women's Auxiliary of our hospital have added many Navy wives to their roster and in turn they've rendered valuable service to the community—whatever the event, the organization, the group, you will always find someone from the Navy an important cog in the operation.

Now—Sanford and Seminole County want to show in a small way just how much the Navy means to the community.

The Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce has shouldered an enormous task in sponsoring and putting on the Seminole County Navy Appreciation Day. Naturally, these young businessmen have found it necessary to call upon other civic and fraternal organizations to help them out because of the huge number of people necessary to serve the meal and handle the big crowd that is expected to attend.

The Sanford National Guard, as they have done many times in the past, have pitched in to help and as these young men will see them again in action to lend a helping hand and doing their always exceptional fine job of being courteous and helping others in their trouble.

Other organizations have spoken up and voiced their desire to take part in the job to be done in showing the Navy that "we like them." For instance, the U.S.O. Girls are going to serve in one of the many serving lines, the Business and Professional Women's Club will take over one or two of the serving lines—and there will be other organizations speaking up to offer assistance in one of the biggest undertakings of the community in a long time.

The Jaycees are to be commended for the wonderful job they are doing—from every side there comes complimentary remarks about their aggressiveness and willingness to do the "tough" jobs when they come along.

The President of the group, and the officers and Board of Directors, the committee heads and members, all deserve a round of applause from a grateful community for taking upon their shoulders of this gigantic task.

When Saturday night comes to a close there won't be a Navy person in Sanford who will not have been honored for the grand job they're doing in the service to their country.

Sanford is grateful for their being here and becoming a part of the community—Seminole County Navy Appreciation Day is just a gesture in letting everyone in the Navy know that they are appreciated—deep in the hearts of Sanford people there is a greater appreciation, one that just can't be shown by any event, no matter how large or how long.

Latest statistics show the United States has seven per cent of the earth's population and 70 per cent of its telephones. We are a busy people who have no trouble or difficulty keeping most of the lines busy.

Prime Minister MacMillan of England wears paper collars to save laundry costs. Then too, when he sticks his neck out he's only risking a collar and not the whole shirt.

Foreign News Commentary

Last week's good and bad news on the international balance sheet: President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan met in Bermuda to discuss a wide range of international problems.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt had taken over civil administration of the Gaza area from which Israel withdrew at the request of the United Nations.

Nasser had announced that the Gulf of Aqaba, outlet to the Red Sea from the Israeli port of Eilat, would remain closed to Israeli shipping.

Nasser also had announced that all tolls for passage through the canal must be paid to Egypt in currency to be specified by Egypt.

Threats To Shoot Israel, still resentful over its forced withdrawal from the Gaza area and angry over the entrance of Egyptian administrators, threatened to shoot its way through the Aqaba Gulf if necessary.

President Ramon Magsaysay of the Philippines, a warm friend of the United States and an implacable foe of Communist penetration in the Far East, was killed in an airplane crash.

Delegates of the United States, Canada, Great Britain, France and Soviet Russia met in London to try again to reach an agreement on disarmament that would lead to the prevention of nuclear war and to the reduction of armed forces of the great powers.

The feeling was that though the meeting might not result in any firm agreements, it was likely to bring Russia and the Western Allies closer together.

The Eisenhower-Macmillan meeting was the first top-level British-American get-together since the Suez invasion.

Earlier Meeting Refused The President had refused to meet Sir Anthony Eden, who was prime minister at that time.

Mr. Eisenhower and Macmillan, who succeeded Eden on Jan. 10, are good friends.

But there was doubt that the two leaders could do more in Bermuda than to establish a basis for consultation and cooperation.

For one thing, they had a dozen complicated problems to discuss in a mere three days of talks.

For another, Britons still are resentful over the United States attitude in the Suez dispute. To keep in office, Macmillan will have to make sure that nothing he does can be interpreted as making Britain a junior partner in an alliance which the United States dominates.

Group To Plan Economic Advance

MEXICO CITY.—Mexico is borrowing some American ideas to push development of its "backward" economy.

With the help of experts from five states, the Mexican government is organizing an American-model Economic Development Commission to overcome Mexico's 80-year technological lag.

The commission will work on programs to decentralize industry, strengthen provincial economy and slow the migration of Mexicans seeking easier living across the border.

One chief goal will be to take part in Mexico's development.

Mexican industrialist Antonio Ruiz Galindo, former economy minister who heads the commission, calls it "the first step in facing a problem that has slowed the progress of Mexico."

U. S. Experts Consulted Taking its cue from the work of similar groups in Arkansas, Massachusetts and other states, the commission will attempt to organize and plan industrial and economic development on both regional and national scale.

It will solicit new industries and attempt to steer prospective investors to the most logical and profitable areas. Easier credit will be made available for planned new industries also fall under the program.

The Mexican Economic Development Commission got its start when Economy Minister Gilberto Loyo invited a group of American experts to give the benefit of their experience in state programs.

William P. Rock of the Arkansas Development Commission, Dr. Randal T. Kline of the Oklahoma Development Commission, Ohio Development Commissioner Prentiss Mooney, Dr. W. H. Caldwell of the Virginia Development Commission and Robert P. Lee of the Connecticut Development Commission sat down with Mexican officials in the series of meetings held here.

Both government and private enterprise will take an active part on the commission. The field of research, development, planning, financing and promotion are presented.

Richard Zavada, director of the Bank of Foreign Commerce, said Mexico now realizes it "no longer is practical to fall to plan both government and private enterprise in each and every region of the country."

Other officials emphasized that more foreign investment is needed since Mexico's economic situation—despite tremendous progress in the past 20 years—is comparable to that of the United States in 1860-70.

The officials said that if Mexico continues its rate of steady progress, by the year 2000 it can catch up with the United States level of 1957.

"But the work of the commission should boost our present progress rate considerably," said one member, "and offers a notable step in the right direction towards a better industrial and modern life patterned after Mexican needs using an adapting the invaluable experience of the United States."

WFGA-TV Station Construction Is Well Underway

JACKSONVILLE.—Construction of the facilities for the new WFGA-TV Channel 12 Television Station planned to serve Jacksonville and the surrounding areas of Florida and Georgia is now well under way.

George H. Hodges, president, and Jesse H. Cripe, station manager, reported today that the foundation of the 1,000-foot tower is nearing completion and the walls of the combined studio-transmitter building are up to second floor level.

The new television center located at 100 East Adams St., will cover approximately 28,000 square feet and will be modern in design, featuring a combination of grey brick and blue glazed brick as finish material.

Most of the technical equipment necessary to originate both color and black and white television pictures has arrived. The 50 kw RCA Transmitter, in combination with the 1,000-foot tower and antenna will enable WFGA-TV to radiate 316,000 watts, the maximum effective power authorized for VHF television stations under regulations of the Federal Communications Commission.

Presently existing home television receivers will not have to be modified to receive black and white pictures from WFGA-TV's local or network color programs, while homes having color receivers will see these programs in full color.

Hodges further stated that he believes this is the first television station initially planned and constructed for the requirements of originating color TV programs as well as transmitting network color.

Needless Fears Cause A Dread Of Menopause

By NEWMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

MANY women have a great dread of the menopause. They have heard many stories about it and are afraid that physical change means the end of life itself. This is not so.

The truth is that most women have little distress and a great many have none when going through the menopause.

As for being the end of life, let's look at things statistically.

Each Case Varies Although the time this change begins varies, in almost every case, it usually starts somewhere around the age of 50; at least between the late forties and the early fifties.

That means women generally can expect at least another 25 years of life beyond the menopause.

This physiological change actually means the end of only a single function—the capacity to bear children. It is a perfectly natural stage of a woman's development.

While this phase sometimes begins abruptly, it usually is a gradual process requiring a period of several years.

It is not even aware of the change which is taking place.

You have probably heard a lot about "hot flashes." This is a sudden rush of blood to the face, chest and neck generally followed by perspiration. But statistics show that only about 20 per cent of the women actually experience this "traditional" symptom of the menopause.

Temporary Ills Menopause does not mean a mental breakdown, cancer, a heart disorder or any such thing. The nervous, depressed feeling some women feel during this phase of life usually is only temporary.

How you will react to this situation, of course, depends upon many things. Among them are your health, the way you interpret your symptoms, your economic and social position and your understanding of just what the menopause means.

QUESTION AND ANSWER M. W.: My son recently cut himself. He now has an extremely large scar which the doctor calls a keloid. Is there anything that can be done for this? Answer: Usually a keloid can be helped by local radium or X-ray treatments, but ask the doctor and follow his advice.

Nation To Undergo Practice Attack

WASHINGTON.—The nation will undergo a hypothetical attack from nuclear bombs of from 20 kilotons to 20 megatons in the fourth annual "Operation Alert" in July.

The Civil Defense Administration has announced the program will be held in three stages this year and will be somewhat altered. Government agencies will not move to relocation sites as they have in the past. And the nature and extent of the simulated attack or the cities involved will not be published in advance.

The three phases of the exercises this year will be:

July 8-12: Rehearsal by local and state civil defense directors and the public in evacuation plans and other readiness activities.

July 12-14: Assumed nuclear attacks on U. S. cities.

July 15-19: Survival action period.

Executives Get Look At Marvels Of Electronic Age
TAMPA.—Executives of some 24 major industries on Florida's West Coast get a first hand look today into the marvels of the electronic age.
A scale model of the Univac electronic "brain" went on display here at a special all-day showing, the first of its kind in Florida.
The machine, perched atop a table measuring roughly eight by 10 feet, will greet its admirers with an electronic "voice" and perform a series of stunts to the accompaniment of flashing lights, bells and mysterious whirring. A staff of 15 specialists was on hand to show its workings.
Operators said the machine is capable of assembling the data and preparing payroll checks for 4,000 employees in an hour.

Now Hear This!

By JACKY FENWICK

Friday, March 22, was a big day for Ralph Luther, P.N.2. He became the father of a "bouncing baby boy", to quote an old saying! The Junior Luther, now named Ralph Scott, arrived at 11:30 A.M., at Seminole Memorial Hospital. Ralph and his wife Barbara Jean reside in Sanford, on Rt. 2, Box 601. The entire Administrative Dept., at the Naval Air Station, who saw Ralph through this, can now relax! I'd like to toss a few bouquets, not just for myself, but for the many people who asked me to speak for them. We'd all like to say a few words of appreciation to Dr. Keith Muntz, for the wonderful work he has done at the Dependents Clinic at S.N.A.S. Dr. Muntz was transferred yesterday to "sick call", but this was in accordance with the interdepartmental rotation policy, and I know that you'll be glad to hear that as soon as they "shift" around again Dr. Muntz will be back where we can again avail ourselves of his services.

Dr. Muntz, and his wife Mary, both hail from Cleveland, Ohio. They reside in Sanford with their young son Jon, two and a half years old. This is Dr. Muntz's first "tour of duty" as a Navy medical officer. Prior to enlisting in the Navy, in February of 1956, he attended Middlebury College, in Middlebury, Vermont. Upon graduation, he enrolled at Western Reserve University, in Cleveland, where he did graduate work in biology. From there he went to the University of Minnesota to intern for a year. He was called to active duty in September, 1956, and served at Green Lakes, Illinois, before being transferred to the Naval Air Station, here in Sanford. Thought it might be interesting to the Navy families in the area to know that their well-being is in such competent hands. As I said, I've written the little article about Dr. Muntz, because I was asked to by quite a few people who feel as I do. There are so many people who not only do their job to the best of their ability, but add a little more to it because of the type of person they are. We would like Dr. Muntz to know that the time, work, and extra effort he has expended on our behalf, is greatly appreciated.

Also want you to know that the new doctor at the Dependents Clinic will be Lt. John Sledge, from whom, I am sure, we can expect the same wonderful care.

Hope to hear that Edward Gold, A.Q.I. (another Savage Son) will soon be released from the hospital, where he underwent surgery last week. Jimi, Mrs. Gold reports that Ed is doing fine. Some of Jimi's friends were wondering what happened to her as they were unable to get in touch with her. She was staying at her Mother's in Orlando, where it was much easier to get to the hospital to visit Ed. Hope we'll be seeing Ed at home shortly.

It wasn't planned that way, but my column seems to have taken definite "slant" towards doctors and hospitals! Since no one can deny that sooner or later they both play an important part in most lives, I'm sure they deserve the small bit of recognition this column can give them.

MORE SUDS... MORE LIGHT
Modern cone-shaped, fiber glass light diffusers can transform old-fashioned ceiling lights into smart fixtures in a moment. Quite accidentally, some householders have discovered that these diffusers serve an unexpected secondary purpose—as a trap to catch and hold moths attracted by the light bulbs.

Since the moths dry up and fall into the diffuser bowls, it is necessary to wash these often. Just empty their contents, then dip them in lukewarm soap or detergent suds, rinse, and dry—if you want them to diffuse light instead of obstruct it.

Woman Plans Miles Of Wires In New Jets

United Press Staff Correspondent SEATTLE—Many housewives consider themselves electrical wizards if they can keep track of the wires leading to their toasters and automatic washing machines.

Mrs. William K. Martin of Seattle, a tiny, dark-eyed mother of two teen-aged boys, not only knows where to plug in her kitchen appliances, but she also keeps tab on the 25 miles of electrical wire used to operate the thousands of switches, relays, and circuit breakers controlling the United States' first commercial jet airliner.

As leading draftsman at Boeing Airplane Company's plant in Renton, Wash., Mrs. Martin supervises the drawings and diagrams used by construction crews to install the electrical system operating the company's four-jet transports.

Graduate Art Student "There's enough electrical wire in the Boeing 707 to wire nearly 60 average homes," Mrs. Martin said. "Showing where each wire goes keeps seven of us bent over drawing boards."

A graduate art student of the University of California, Mrs. Martin has been working in the aircraft industry nearly 15 years. "Drafting is an ideal occupation for women," Mrs. Martin said. "It's exacting work; the pay is higher than average. And you don't have to be glamorous."

Women who make drafting a career enjoy another privilege. If they stop working to raise a family, they can always return when the children are grown. Age is no barrier to employment at the drawing boards.

Mrs. Martin, "Magna" to her friends and staff, explains the engineer-draftsman relationship as being similar to the doctor-nurse status.

"The engineer plans and describes what he wants done. The minutes or until nicely browned on all sides. Insert canape picks. Serve with a bowl of barbecue or chili sauce.

TREASURER of the United States, Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest tries on a chiffon salloo hat created for her by a New York milliner as part of the Easter Seal campaign. Mrs. Priest will tour the nation as 1957 national chairman of the Easter Seal appeal, which opens its drive March 15 and continues through Easter Sunday, April 21.

draftsman puts it on paper for him."

Helpful Husband Although the mother of two boys, one 13 and the other 11, Mrs. Martin has worked steadily. "I took a few months off when they were babies, but I got back to work as soon as I could."

"I'm a better housekeeper when working than when I stay at home," she said. "I do things on schedule and they get done."

It's handy for a working wife to have a helpful husband, too. Mrs. Martin, a Seattle insurance broker, gets breakfast and sends the boys off to school.

Although their weekdays are crowded, the family saves weekends for fun. They take fishing and skiing trips together and have parties at their waterfront home.

Mrs. Martin is active in the University Women's Club and a member of a Toastmistress group. Busy as she is, Mrs. Martin isn't going to get behind as new developments arise in the aircraft industry. She studies nuclear instrumentation at night.

"After all," she explained, "you have to do something in your spare time."

CORN BREAD BEAN BAKE

Ingredients: 2 cans (1 pound each) pork and beans in tomato sauce, 1/2 pound frankfurters (cut in 1/4-inch slices), 1/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar (light or dark), 2 teaspoons ginger, 2 teaspoons dry mustard, 1/4 cup catsup, 1/2 cup sifted flour, 1 cup corn meal, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup shortening, 1/3 cup milk.

Method: Mix baked beans, frankfurters, brown sugar, ginger, mustard, molasses and catsup in a greased 2-quart baking dish; stir gently. Place in hot (325 degrees) oven while mixing corn bread topping. For topping, sift flour, corn meal, baking powder and salt together into a bowl. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add milk and stir lightly until mixture is dampened. On a floured board, pat out to about 1/4-inch thickness. Cut rounds with a medium-sized biscuit cutter. Place on hot bean mixture. Bake about 15 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Phillies Suffering Shortstop Weakness

By LEO H. PETERSEN
United Press Sports Editor
CLEARWATER — An unless they come up with a high class shortstop, the Philadelphia Phillies appear doomed to another second division finish.

Manager Mayo Smith feels he has championship pitching, but admits he has "a glaring weakness at shortstop and we might have a gap in right field, too."

However, he doesn't agree with those who feel the Phillies lost power when they traded Del Ennis to the Cardinals for Rip Repulski. "Rip hits the long ball, too, and don't let his last year's figure fool you," Smith said. "Also, he strengthens our defense."

Repulski out-hit Ennis 277 to 280 last season but had only 33 RBI's to Ennis' 85.

In Robin Roberts, who failed to win 20 games last year for the first time in seven years, and southpaw Curt Simmons and Harvey Haddix, the Phillies figure they have the best three starting pitchers in the league.

Jack Meyer was a disappointment last season when he won only seven while losing 11, but baseball men figure he has the potential to get into the select 20-game circle. He could give the Phillies the best starting four in the league.

Smith also is high on the prospects of Jack Sanford, who got out of service last year, and believes Jim Hearn, the ex-Giant, can help in spot starting roles.

Holdovers, Bob Miller 3-6, Saul Rogovin 7-4 and Ron Negray 2-3 also probably will remain.

Smith wouldn't trade his catcher, Stan Lopata, for any other in the league and declares that Lopata will only catch this year and will not be used at first base. Behind Lopata he has Mack Burk and Joe Lonnett.

The only infield post with which Smith is satisfied is third base where Willie Jones holds forth.

Rookie Ed Bouchee, who hit 294 at Miami last year with 94 RBI's, will be given every chance to win the first base job in order to free Marv Blaylock for the right field post if necessary. At second, Ted Kazanski, another bonus player, who can field but lacks power, probably will get the nod over the veteran Solly Hemus. Unless the Phillies deal for a shortstop, it will be either Bobby Morgan or Roy Smalley for the post—both of them far short in both fielding and hitting.

Granny Hamner remains a big question mark. Because of a left shoulder injury, Hamner cannot swing a bat properly and the former star shortstop is trying to become a pitcher. Thus far the experiment has been far from successful.

In the outfield, the fleet Rickie Ashburn is set in center and Repulski in left. Bob Bowman, a 277 hitter with Miami in 1956, is being given the preference over Blaylock and veterans Elmer Valo and Frank Baumholtz in right field. Glen Gorbous also is up for another try.

THE U. S. NAVAL ACADEMY recently completed an experiment regarding care of clothing. The results:

After Three years of using the famous STA-NU® finishing process on the uniforms they announced the life of the uniforms actually increased by 33 1/3 per cent.

You can be assured of the same results with your clothes. STA-NU® restores the natural oils to the fabric. Bring your clothes to us today, and tell the difference tomorrow.

Powell's Leads Bowling League By Two Games

Powell's Office Supply is now leading the Mixed League bowling by two games ahead in first place with 24 wins against only nine losses after last week's action at the Sanford Bowling Alley.

Sanford Bowling Alley took two of three games, giving them a 21-12 record and putting them in second place. Jim Maloney hit a 210 single and a 488 high series, while Nicholas came up with a 204 single game. The team has really been going pin crazy in the last four weeks having come up from a low fourth place in the league.

Clyde's Grill had a tough night against Sanford Bowling and could muster only one game, slipping into an shaky tie for third place with Harvey's Plumbing. Clyde's record is now 19-14, while Harvey's matched their record by taking a clean sweep of all three games from Weibolt Camera Shop.

Weibolt Camera Shop now holds fifth place in the league with a 10-23 record, while Seminole Dry Cleaners are in the cellar with a 6-27 record.

Richards has a high average for the league in three games with a 176, while Brown has bowled nine games and has an average of 167; Ring has a 166 for 32 games and is backed up by Mahoney with a 163, also for 32 games.

Doc Chambliss picked up a 5-7-10 split that meant a lot for his team get together in a match by Lillian Donat who picked up a 5-7-9 split.

According to the league secretary, next week the team standing could very easily change and especially when those two top teams get together in a match which will really be a match for both Powell's and Sanford Bowling Alley.

Clyde's Grill and Harvey's Plumbing have something in common, too. They are tied with each other for third place and one of the teams will break the tie, sending the other plunging into fourth place.

Weibolt Camera Shop and Seminole Dry Cleaners play against one another and will vie for glory. The teams have had hard pins and rough breaks as they have attempted to reshuffle their teams and get into the league race.

Bowling time this week is Thursday night at 8 p. m.

Seminoles, Edgewater Clash Today

Today's Sport Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK — Hits, runs and errors from the spring training camps:

If the name is unfamiliar, ask grandpa, but the news out of the International League is that Satchel Paige—47 going on 60—is primed for another season with Miami.

Old Satch, who had an amazing record of 11 wins against four defeats last season and saved 15 games in relief, surprised a 11 hands by announcing he would report before spring training was half over. The reason: He "heard the fishing was extra good this year."

One of the best pictures of the spring was one showing Giant Manager Bill Rigney giving hitting "tips" to Daryl Sponser. The zigzag is that Rigney's best full season with the Giants was 278 not exactly astronomical even for infielders.

Fielding is Free
Ted Williams figures that he'll play 100 games this season which, at $100,000, comes to a fancy $1,000 a game for his hitting. The fielding apparently gets thrown in for free because when Ted reported to camp he asked clubhouse man Johnny Orlando, "Is my glove ready?"

"What's the difference?" demanded Orlando. "Your bats are."

The Kansas City Athletics are using an electronic device to clock the speed of their pitchers' fast balls. But as Joe Dimaggio insists, "They'll hit your fast ball if it's shot out of a cannon unless you've got something on it."

Mayor Smith has his Phillies doing so much running to get into top shape that one rookie complained: "Are we out for baseball or the Olympics?" To which one side observer retorted:

Look At Pitching
"When you see some of the underway at 10 a. m. Thursday in Memorial Stadium.

After bouncing back after the opening jitters with a rousing 12-4 win over Leesburg last week, the Sanford Seminoles called practice that were called "really needed" yesterday afternoon because of heavy rain.

"The boys are up and rarin' to go," baseball coach Dave Laude said today just before he boarded the bus for Orlando, where the Seminoles will clash with Edgewater this afternoon.

Laude said that he had no idea what the Edgewater team had this year. "With a team their size, it's hard to tell just what they may come up with, but they usually are plenty tough. It will be a good test of strength for us."

In the season opener the Seminoles looked hapless in losing a sided affair to Winter Park 11-0, but the following Thursday they bounced back with a reported before spring training was half over. The reason: He "heard the fishing was extra good this year."

chance. Apopka is rated along with Winter Park and Leesburg as veteran teams with a lot of potency.

Laude said he thought the team spirit was wonderful. "We'll probably see some good baseball today in Orlando against Edgewater and the boys would like to prove to be formidable competition even against triple-A schools. They're really riding high."

The Seminoles don't return to the home field until April 2, when they face Melbourne, rated as the top power in the OBC this year.

Dallas, Springfield Play Thursday A. M.

Jack Swartz, Administrative Secretary of the New York Giant Farm System, announced this morning that the double-A Dallas Eagles of the Giants organization would play an unscheduled game Thursday morning against the A member of the Giants organization, Springfield.

Springfield has just arrived in Sanford and the players are just being settled in the new dormitories on Melonville Ave., adjacent to Memorial Stadium.

Yesterday's rain limited the Springfield club in only two hours on the practice field, where the battery staff has been working out ahead of the rest of the team.

"Springfield is a spirited team with a lot of color and should appeal to the Sanford fans," Swartz remarked.

Swartz said that most of the Springfield games may not be officially scheduled. "We want them to play as many games as they can, and we don't want to throw them against the toughest competition necessary if we are to schedule their games in advance.

The game is scheduled to get underway at 10 a. m. Thursday in Memorial Stadium.

City

Herald reporter, along with Tuck, is partner in the building of Chululota into a new city described as the layout of the town that was once the gayest spot in Florida. "We're going to have an industrial area, an area for commercial business, and a shopping center, and the subdivisions for four types of houses. The restrictions that will be placed on construction will make Chululota a pleasant place to live," he said. The developer, his wife, and the corporation secretary-treasurer began to describe and relate some of the history of the original building of North Chululota. "It was famous for Niagara grapes, sugar and cattle from the early 1800s," he said. Founded in 1827 during the War Between the States, the settlement became famous with more and more families coming in 1868. Lake Mills was named after Robert A. Mills, who in 1881 said that Chululota would become one of the biggest cities in the State.

There was a race track for horse racing at one time, two hotels, "The Palms Hotel" and "The Chululota Inn." The Palms Hotel was the original where the parties attended at Central Florida's first social set regularly. The register carries names that are familiar to every Floridian and also includes the names of a count and a princess.

The population, in Chululota's hey-day numbered 1,200, but the 1924 and 1926 freezes, as it did to every Florida community, struck hard in that section. The flourishing community, however, attempted a comeback with the advent of the Florida East Coast railroad, a new school was built, and a railroad station, and prospects for a resort center seemed good.

The idea of a city never did become indelibly etched into the efforts of anyone until Moraki saw visions of what might be done with the natural beauty of the area, the tall timbers, the beautiful lakes, and silver etched waters.

"And now," he said, "we're in the center of Florida's activities. Just 19 miles from Sanford, 17 miles from Orlando, 44 miles from Cocoa Beach, and every other Florida attraction with easy access."

"We're going to have the nicest town in Seminole County with telephone service, electricity available, and a post office that has never been discontinued," said Moraki.

The two dreams of the developers are the new subdivisions, Spring Lake Terrace and Lake Mills Shores. Plans will shortly be completed for the final subdivision and offered for approval of the Seminole County Board of Commissioners.

"The old Chululota School," said Moraki, "will be our recreation center and with redecorating and improvements will be opened to the residents of our community."

Streets of Chululota and the new development have all been named and marked, new streets are beginning to be developed and will meet the paved streets that are already in the huge planned area. In the words of Thomas T. Tuck, the secretary-treasurer of Polonia Land Co. "Chululota is in the path of progress and simply must develop—it is high, dry land—ideal for new Florida homes of the future."

Tuck is a man of action—dynamic, both in appearance and in conversation. He came to Chululota and the new development from Lexington, Mass., where he was engaged in developing home sites and home buildings. He was a pilot and instructor in World War II, served with the Air Transport Command, was an instructor for the War Training Service, served in the China-Burma-India theatre and was recalled to service for two years during the Korean conflict.

He was a private pilot for Levee Brothers for four years and now has his private plane, a Orion is an exceptional and versatile organist and is blessed with perfect pitch. He is equally at home with the classics as he is with modern music and has delighted all audiences where he has appeared.

It is ironic to note that despite his tremendous talent Osburn has never owned an organ on which to practice or entertain. The Hammond Organ Society of Central Florida, to which a number of Sanford music lovers belong, is participating in a co-operative effort with the Florida Council for the Blind to supply a Hammond Organ and equipment to transport it, so that more people may have the opportunity to hear him and appreciate his talents.

A Pop Concert by Osburn is being sponsored by the organization on Thursday, April 4, 8 p. m. at Edgewater High School in Orlando, to help fulfill this goal. The concert will be divided into three parts: classical, semi-classical and popular.

authorized to supervise the construction of two new rest rooms, at a figure not to exceed $2500, at the Community House.

A resolution was read and adopted, rezoning Lots 11-12 Block three in Sanlando Suburb Beautiful, releasing the restrictions of a single type dwelling and permitting a duplex building to be constructed on the two lots.

Repairs on the piano at the Community House were also granted by the Council.

Lockheed Lodestar, on hand for his personal use.

Now, at Chululota and the brand new development of what promises to be one of Florida's most promising communities, he can be found all over the place. He directs the giant bulldozers at work pushing new streets through the area, or working with the dragline as it dredges the lakes to make them clean and beautiful, or even maintaining the water system from which flows some of Florida's finest water.

Moraki is a native of Massachusetts, educated in Europe, but in this country became a clothing salesman, real estate salesman, building inspector at Millard, and even working in the shipyards in Jacksonville—but now imbued only with the visions of making Chululota the "living center of Central Florida."

To Moraki and Tuck "the town that needs to be awakened" is opening its eyes and will grow into a flourishing center, the "finest in Florida."

Following the Fish Fry, which is free to all Navy personnel and their families, a gigantic aerial fireworks display will be seen over Lake Monroe. Fireworks for the event are already in Sanford, said Bob Crumley, chairman of the amusements and entertainment committee.

To climax the biggest day in Sanford will be a "street dance" when the Rayborn Brothers Band, heard over Radio Station WTRR regularly, will play for both round and square dancing.

Civilians may purchase their tickets for the Fish Fry at Fort Mellon Park, the two co-chairmen announced yesterday.

In the meantime, the big task of gathering together more than two tons of fish, hundreds of pounds of cabbage for slaw, butter, lard for frying the fish, coffee to serve, cold drinks, more than 5,000 ears of corn, and other materials is underway.

Some will be presented at the first business session, Thursday morning. The Woodmen will be welcomed by Mayor Steadham with South Florida State Manager W. H. Martin, Lakeland responding. Grant Simmons, consul commander of Gainesville Camp 5, will extend fraternal greetings. Master of ceremonies will be North Florida State Manager, R. E. Vance, Tallahassee.

The afternoon session Thursday will be devoted to committee work and election of delegates to the national convention in New York City, July 22 to 25.

At 7:30 Thursday evening, the large Howard M. Lundgren class of new members will be initiated in ceremonies in the Odd Fellows Temple.

George W. Owen will be the speaker at a memorial service Friday morning honoring deceased Woodmen.

DeEmmett Bradshaw, past president of the Society and chairman of the board the past 14 years until last fall, will give a statistical report on the Society's affairs prior to the lunch adjournment.

At the final session Friday afternoon standing committees will be appointed and the newly elected Head Camp officers will be installed.

The convention will hear reports on the many fraternal and civic services performed by Woodmen Camps in Florida.

Rep. Frederick Favors Sales Tax Broadening

Top News In Brief

TALLAHASSEE — Gov. Le Roy Collins met with Florida educators today to discuss the subject which has aroused teachers through the state — a proposed raise in pay. Collins, who came out against the $1,100 raise backed by the Florida Education Assn., was expected to discuss the entire pay raise problem with the teachers. He was also expected to dwell heavily on including possible means of raising the financial contribution of counties to teachers' pay.

ST. PETERSBURG — State Sen. J. Frank Houghton of St. Petersburg predicts the Legislature will not approve any expansion of the four-year university system. He indicated this included the planned four-year university at Temple Terrace near Tampa.

TALLAHASSEE — Gov. Le Roy Collins says he is concerned over the threat of athletics, social events and other extra-curricular activities taking the minds of Florida school children off the fundamentals of education.

United Press Staff Correspondent
Israel reported today that Syrian troops opened fire on an Israeli settlement at midnight and that marauders from the Gaza Strip ambushed an Israeli truck Tuesday, seriously wounding one civilian.

3 Soldiers Killed
As Army's Exercise
King Cole Begins

FT. POLK, La. — Three soldiers were killed today as 25,000 troops involved in the Army's giant Exercise King Cole started rolling across western Louisiana toward Texas.

The three were victims of truck accidents on the opening day of the 31-day war games which are being held to test a new "pentomic" organization for airborne and infantry combat units.

U. S. forces will push paper aggressor forces from a 13,000 square mile maneuver area. The defenders will strike south and west in five phases and cross the Red and Sabine rivers to capture the Beaumont and Port Arthur, Tex., complex.

King Cole, a command post and field training exercise, will test atomic age concepts for airborne units, using some 25,000 troops.

The Air Force will back around infantry and armored combat units with day fighter tactical bomber and support elements of the 9th Air Force and troop carrier units of the 19th Air Force.

Rep. Gordon W. Frederick, speaking before members and guests of the Pilot Club at its dinner meeting in the Yacht Club last night, favored a broadening of the Sales Tax to increase money in the State of Florida. He offered three suggestions: as alternatives to the present three percent Sales Tax as follows:

1. By placing a tax on phosphates, minerals and the cutting of timber;
2. By eliminating the three percent Sales Tax and instituting a two percent Sales Tax across the board;
3. By placing a three percent tax on the purchase of new automobiles.

Defending his stand on the proposed teacher pay hike, Rep. Frederick admitted that while teachers are underpaid, it is impossible to bring their pay up to the requested level unless more taxes are raised, by some means or other, in order to meet the demand.

Rep. Frederick also explained that about 40 percent of the population, in the low-income bracket, while enjoying all of the advantages and facilities which the state

Angry Tenant Tries To Blow Up Apartment House

ROME — An angry tenant under an eviction notice tried to blow up a Rome apartment house by turning his apartment into a gas-filled bomb, police disclosed today. He used a cuckoo clock to try to set it off.

The 60 other tenants were saved when police arrived sooner than expected with the order to evict him. They entered the apartment just before the cuckoo clock bomb was to have gone off; they saved the day by switching off the electric current.

Detectives identified the tenant as Atorino Natall, 67, a former artillery officer and an electronics expert. Natall escaped and police ordered a citywide search for him.

Cabinet Is Against Proposed Boundary Dispute Settlement

TALLAHASSEE — The State Cabinet went on record against a proposed congressional settlement of the 23-year-old dispute over boundaries of Everglades National Park, but voted to cooperate if Congress passes the measure.

The cabinet, on the motion of Comptroller Ray E. Green, voted unanimously Tuesday against Gov. LeRoy Collins' plea that it approve the compromise bill now ready for introduction in Congress.

But if Congress passes the measure anyway, cabinet members agreed to go along with a provision in the compromise which would turn over to the federal government 11,000 acres of state-owned land in the northwest section of the park instead of farm lands in Dade County which were being eyed by the national government.

has to offer, actually pay a nominal amount of taxes.

Advocating that the people who live in the fringe areas are entitled to a vote in the action of annexation, Rep. Frederick declared that he favored annexation by means of a petition or a referendum only. He also stated that a person should have the right to withdraw his name from the petition, if after thinking it over, he decided he did not favor it.

Rep. Frederick was introduced by Mrs. Al Hunt, program chairman. Mrs. Sue Stevenson presided and welcomed Mrs. Vivian Gartside and Mrs. Julia Burleson. Pilots from Winter Park and Mrs. Dorothy Frazier, niece of Mrs. George Stine, from Kentucky.

Mrs. David Gatchel briefed members on their duties for serving at the fish fry which will be held on Saturday, Mar. 30 in conjunction with "Navy Appreciation Day." All members were requested to be at the Soft Ball Diamond by 4 p.m. to start serving at 4:30.

Mrs. Verne C. Messenger called for volunteers to assist with the Cancer Drive on Apr. 9.

Mrs. B. E. Chapman, vice chairman of the newly organized Seminole County Health Unit, sponsored locally by the Pilot Club, announced that plans were getting underway for the annual Fund Drive which begins the latter part of April. She announced that Mrs. Messenger will serve as public relations chairman of the drive. She will be assisted by Mrs. A. K. Shoemaker Sr. The goal this year, she said, is $1,000 or more.

Ike Considering Florida Vacation In April For Cough

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower is considering a Florida vacation next month to shake off the stubborn remnants of his troublesome cough, it was learned today from highly-placed government sources.

Exact date and location of the President's sojourn have not been determined. However the idea was described as definitely "in the works."

Because of other commitments, it was predicted the President might depart either around April 9 or April 18, depending on developments in the meantime and also possible changes in his condition. How long he would remain in the balmy, semi-tropical warmth of the southernmost state would depend on many factors.

If the President left around April 9, it appeared possible Florida might briefly be the temporary home of the nation's top elected officials at the same time.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon also reportedly has been considering a brief sojourn in Florida to shake off the final traces of an influenza attack that plagued him throughout his recent African tour and sent him to Walter Reed Army Hospital here briefly last weekend.

Schedule Of Events Revealed

Final plans for Seminole County Navy Appreciation Day, Saturday, were completed last night at a meeting of all committee chairmen of the Jaycee organization and local civic clubs assisting in many of the efforts.

Co-chairmen Harry Canell and Garfield Willets explained to the near capacity audience in the City Commission Room last night the details surrounding the entire Navy Appreciation Day program.

Harry Canell emphasized the final schedule for the series of events that will take place.

2:00 — Jaycee Navy Appreciation Day baseball game between Minneapolis and Dallas at the Sanford Memorial Stadium.

4:30 — Fish Fry which will be served in Fort Mellon Park in the vicinity of the tennis courts—The Seminole High School will play a concert throughout the dinner period.

5:30 — Introduction of dignitaries attending the celebration.

7:30 — The new Ford car will be awarded.

8:15 — The aerial fireworks will take place.

9:00 — The street dance will begin.

It was explained at last night's meeting that the entire area from the tennis courts in Fort Mellon Park to the Municipal Swimming Pool will be roped off for the big event to which more than 5,000 Navy and local citizens are expected to attend.

A special area will be set up where all attending the fish fry and entertainment will obtain their tickets. Navy personnel and their families will be admitted free. However, all local civilians will pay $1 per person with children under 12 years of age admitted free.

At least four of the booths to obtain tickets will be set up, said Canell, as he explained the entire procedure.

After tickets are obtained, 12 serving tables will be available at which each person will be served.

Twelve Sanford civic and fraternal organizations have volunteered to man the serving lines. Those taking on this chore are: Sanford Pilots Club, USO Girls, B and P.W. Club, Lions Club, K.L. (Continued On Page Ten)

School Board Will Get $56,773.20 For Expenditures

Congressman A. S. "Syd" Herlong announced today from Washington, D. C., that the Board of Public Instruction for Seminole County will receive $56,773.20 in federal funds for their current expenditures in the year ending June 30.

Congressman Herlong explained that the money is granted by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare for schools in federally affected areas.

He said, in his telegram to The Sanford Herald this morning, that of the sum allocated to the Board of Public Instruction for Seminole County, $45,418 will be paid immediately.

Superintendent of Public Instruction R. T. Milwee, this morning said that the difference between the $56,773.20 and $45,418 is withheld pending a final check at the end of the school year of the number of pupils of Navy and civilian personnel employed at the Sanford Naval Air Station and other military bases. Fastest Growth Is Expected For State

NEW YORK, N.Y. — Florida is expected to grow faster than ever in the years ahead, according to Me Gregor Smith, Florida Power and Light Company board chairman, who revealed here today that his company's revised expansion plans call for boosting electric generating capability to nearly two and a half times its present rating by 1962—ten times its capacity at the end of the war.

Addressing some 200 members of the New York Society of security analysts he outlined a record breaking program which already has four major plant additions under construction and on order which will add 640,000 kilowatts to FPL's one million kilowatt system by 1959—an increase of 64.0 in the next three years.

Florida's "Grew-Some" Story

Smith's company, which serves the rapidly growing east and lower west coast areas and parts of central Florida, added new customers to its lines last year at the rate of 1,000 a week.

Since 1947 generating capability has been more than tripled, kilowatt hour sales more than quadrupled.

Three times Smith has had to make upward revisions in his current long range program. A 10-year plan set at $32 million (Continued On Page 10)

Britain's Strike Spreads To Vital London District

LONDON — Britain's nationwide strike wave spread to the vital London district today.

The executive council of the Confederation of Shipbuilding and Engineering Unions ordered 500,000 London area factory employees to go on strike Saturday.

They will join more than 1.2 million engineering, factory and shipbuilding workers already out in half a dozen key cities throughout the British Isles. Another million are awaiting strike calls.

The labor picture worsened as Prime Minister Harold Macmillan cut short his Bermuda stay and flew home to face this and a host of other problems jeopardizing the life of his conservative government.

The Socialist opposition already is in full cry with demands for a general election which it believes could put labor back in power.

It is attacking the government on the problems of Cyprus, the Suez Canal, rent controls, H-bomb tests and the current strikes.

City Officials Watch Field Carrier Landing Practice On Visit To SNAS

Three prominent Sanford citizens visited the "Savage Sons of Sanford" squadron this morning at the Sanford Naval Air Station at the invitation of Heavy Attack Squadron Five's Commanding Officer, Commander Joseph M. Tully Jr.

Mayor David Gatchel, H. L. Perkins Jr., president of the Sanford Merchants Association, and the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce president, Clifford McKibbin attended a flight briefing in the pilots ready room and later observed, first hand, the Field Carrier Landing Practice operations with the squadron's landing signal officer, Ledr. Robert B. Osterholm.

Lt. Cdr. Osterholm, prior to taking the group onto the runway to observe the Field Carrier Landing Practice Operations, demonstrated many of the signals used in such practice to guide pilots in bringing their planes aboard a carrier. He also demonstrated the method of approach to the carriers with the use of a chart and blackboard.

He emphasized the difficulties encountered by pilots faced with the prospect of landing a 20-ton aircraft on a pitching carrier deck which resembles a postage stamp when compared to the normal airfield runways.

Osterholm further explained the procedure followed at a squadron's home field before a pilot is considered ready to "come aboard." A minimum of 50 landings under the strict supervision of the landing signal officer are mandatory. Then, each aircraft commander must undertake 20 day and eight night landings aboard ship to complete his qualifications for the squadron's periodic deployment on the Mediterranean area.

Mayor Gatchel, Chamber of Commerce president McKibbin, and Merchants Association president Perkins, who have shown much interest in the operations and problems of the Navy at Sanford, were next accompanied by (Continued On Page Ten)
