

Doctor Presented to Longwood Folks At Gala Reception

Dr. Edward W. Mencher was presented to residents of Longwood and surrounding area at a gala reception held Friday evening in the Liberty Hall. Sponsored by the churches and civic organizations of Longwood, this was the biggest social event of the year.

Chairman of Commerce president H. B. Arnold called for silence then asked Rev. Louis Futch pastor of the First Baptist Church to offer the invocation. Arnold then presented the mayor of Longwood, Olin Egan, who, speaking to the people of the area, welcomed Dr. Mencher to the town, presenting him a key to the city. Dr. Mencher responded by noting that such united community spirit and co-operation makes me more sure that I have made a wise choice in coming to Longwood.

Dr. Mencher expressed deep appreciation for the welcome extended him, not only by the more than 500 Longwoodites, but also the many out of town guests who came to welcome him to Seminole County.

In the receiving line were: H. B. Arnold, president of Chamber of Commerce; J. R. Grant, chairman of affairs committee; Dr. Mencher; E. C. Carlson, chairman Longwood Council; Rev. Louis Futch,

Widmark Says TV 'Vicious Medium'

By VERNON SCOTT
United Press Staff Writer
HOLLYWOOD — Richard Widmark, who earned to film fame in "Kiss of Death," says the title of that 1947 film might apply to TV, which he describes as "the most vicious medium for actors in history."

The usually mild-mannered actor lashed out at video as if it were a barrel full of rattlesnakes.

Most TV holdouts — Robert Taylor, Clark Gable — blast the medium with pop guns. Widmark cut loose with a howler.

"Television runs through talent like a buzz-saw," he said. "When it seizes every last bit of intelligence out of actors it casts them aside. It's the same old rat-trace that radio used to be — only worse."

Actors Sell Entertainment
"In the movie business actors are selling entertainment. The whole purpose of a picture is to entertain people theatrically, TV's purpose, self-admittedly, is to sell a product. And I don't like Madison Avenue dictating to actors on determining art or good taste."

Widmark paused to catch his breath in the MGM commissary where he is starring in "The Tunnel of Love."

Leaving no loopholes in event his movie career falls flat, the blond leading man waded into the electronic medium with some heavy body punches.

"Fortunately, I keep busy enough making pictures," he said. "I don't have to depend on TV for a living. No one appears in TV because they like it. It's great for youngsters getting started. That's all."

"Even if I needed the dough I wouldn't be interested in making a series."

"Who wants to be seen by 50 million people. I feel bad enough when I make a poor picture and five million see it."

"Television has never developed its own technique for telling a dramatic story. It is a combination of pictures, radio and the theater. It doesn't do justice to any of them."

Widmark, like Burt Lancaster and Kirk Douglas, also non-TV performers, has a loyal following of fans who almost guarantee his pictures a profit. He stars in two or three films yearly, almost all of them lucrative participation deals.

"This isn't sour grapes," the trim, athletically constructed actor added. "I've had hundreds of offers to appear on TV. I'll get hundreds more."

"Television wants new faces all the time — to replace the ones it runs through. I'm not going to travel that route."

My Neighbors

"We present 'My Neighbors', a sparkling comedy in 10 episodes, starting on April 1st at 8:30 P.M. on NBC. It's a new kind of comedy, with a new kind of humor. It's a must-see for everyone."

Parakeet Population Soaring

By GAY PAULEY
United Press Staff Writer
NEW YORK — A report which came across my desk this week says the parakeet population is soaring.

A says there are about 11.5 million of the feathered critters in one sixth of the nation's homes; an increase of more than 1,000 per cent since the first pet census was made in 1931.

The news comes as no surprise to me, because I'm one of the millions who've succumbed to their supposed charm and personality. I'm the proud proprietor of two — one, because he came as a birthday gift from a friend trying to be thoughtful; the other because I figured the first needed company. I use the word "proud" for one reason.

Good For Gabbiting
Got a bunch of parakeet fan-clubbers together swapping stories about their pet exploits, and they put me through a gauntlet of questions. They asked me about the talents of their children.

Misses have hardly reached the word stage — only the landing-on-the-finger or lost-behind-the-curtain stage. But the experts at the B. T. French Co., which makes bird foods, says give them time and training.

They may turn out as bright as one I. San Francisco named "Melanie." She reportedly has a 300-word vocabulary including the Lord's Prayer, the Pledge of Allegiance, and a couple of nursery rhymes.

There's another bird named "Poppy," who converses in two languages; and one named "Murphy," who belongs to the literary editor of a Jesuit publication and can voice 18 ecclesiastical phrases.

Lost parakeets are often found because they "talked" the home telephone number or address of the owner. French says there is one bird named "Jo-Jo" in Atlanta who last year filed an income tax return. He earned $15 a week for uttering a company sales slogan on the air.

Chilled But Talkative
W. B. Knott, French's president, says his company sells about 18,000 letters a year. There was the Canadian woman who wrote that she missed her pet about the same time she put a plastic bag of bread in the refrigerator to keep it fresh. Several hours later, preparing a sandwich, she found the bird. He was in the bread bag, chilled, but still saying "Pretty boy."

Knott said the interest in parakeets apparently boomed when federal restrictions on shipment were relaxed in 1931, although a few states still forbid interstate transport of them.

Factors include Sir Winston Churchill, Mamie Eisenhower, Billy Graham, Lawrence Welk and Faye Emerson.

CAB To Reach Decision Soon On Investment

By BONCOS SNIPES
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — (UP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board will soon reach a decision on whether U. S. airlines may invest in foreign air carriers, especially those in the smaller nations of Latin America.

The decision will have important ramifications, not only in the aviation industry but on the country's diplomatic and military policies.

The specific decision being awaited is whether the one-third interest Panamerican World Airways holds in a Costa Rican Airline is in the public interest or should be disposed of.

The Defense Department fears that if U. S. carriers are forbidden to invest in Latin American Airlines, Russia will step in and offer aid for their development.

Official Agency
The CAB is the official policy-making agency of the U. S. government in matters pertaining to civil aviation. One of its examiners, after a public hearing, found that the investment of Panamerican in Lineas Aereas Costarricenses E. A. LACSA was not in the public interest.

The five members of the board itself are now considering whether their finding should be upheld or overturned.

The board heard public oral arguments on the merits of the case on March 26, the last procedural step before its decision. At that time the Defense Department emphatically reiterated its position that it was not only desirable but vital for security reasons that C. E. airlines assist the development of foreign airlines.

Mal. James G. Mosley, Jr., of the staff of Judge Advocate General of the Air Force presented the defense department's position.

Recalls U. S. Position
In doing so, he recalled the precarious position in which the United States found itself at the outset of World War II when German capital controlled domestic airlines in South America, notably in Colombia in the vicinity of the Panama Canal.

Mosley also reminded the board that when Charles E. Wilson was secretary of defense he sent the board in 1953 a letter expressing his department's interest in continuing U. S. flag carrier service in Costa Rica.

"Mr. Wilson stated that any action which might result in the cessation of service by a U. S. carrier might well invite substitute operations by non-U. S. carrier which would be undesirable from a military point of view," Mosley told the board.

Justices Suffering From Front-Seatism Says Safety Men

By MORRIS LEVIN
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — (UP) — State Safety Commissioner Russell Brown said today the backseat high justices of Pennsylvania appear to be suffering from "front-seatism," a state of mind that causes hardening of the attitudes.

Brown himself is an ardent advocate of "back-seatism" — a philosophy which promotes highway safety by encouraging backseat driving wives to speak up before their husbands run the car into an accident.

He roused a national tempest in the family car a year ago with his first pronouncement of the doctrine.

The Pennsylvania Supreme Court wasn't convinced. It has handed down a decision which in effect tells the ladies to "shut up."

Who Should
The court ruled in connection with a car-truck collision in Chester County, on Jan. 24, 1954. Harry A. Cole, the driver, his wife and a four-year-old son were injured. Cole said a lower court ruled against him on the ground Mrs. Cole did not make her husband stop the car as it approached the truck on a snowy road. Mrs. Cole, the lower court held, was guilty of contributory negligence.

The Supreme Court reversed the lower court ruling.

Justice Michael A. Musmanno wrote the decision.

"If there is one thing that a wife should do when her husband is at the wheel of an auto, it is to do what Mrs. Cole did, and that is to remain silent," it said. Musmanno said the authority of the husband "has undergone considerable shrinkage" in recent years.

Less Than Absolute
"He is something less than an absolute monarch. But the husband-father is still king at the wheel of his car."

"Granted," safety man Brown dissented today. "But he's a constitutional monarch by virtue of the marriage contract. And that means he is subject to advice from the Supreme Court jurists. I'm afraid their remarks smack of front-seatism," Brown said.

Brown went on: "A wife has more purpose in a car than to bang her head through the windshield if hubby makes a driving mistake. I'm dead set against nagging in a car, but if a woman's only defense is her tongue, I say she should use it."

Brown said he's an "expert witness." He's married.

GOP Tax Reduction Proposals

By LYLE C. WELSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — If there is any policy coordination of all within the Republican Party, the administration's tax reduction proposals will follow very closely the pattern of a bill already introduced in the House of Representatives.

That is a big "if." So it could be that the administration proposals will be quite different from the tax bill now awaiting House Ways and Means Committee consideration.

The bill was introduced a fortnight ago by Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa.) Simpson is the No. 3 Republican on the Ways and Means Committee. That ranking does no justice to Simpson's standing in the House as a legislator nor to his standing in the Republican Party as a conservative expert on taxation.

President Eisenhower must look to Simpson as the most effective Republican spokesman in Congress on fiscal affairs of government.

That is what makes the Simpson tax reduction bill important and that is why it might be expected that the administration will be guided by its pattern in proposing any tax reductions.

Reduction Incentives Act
Simpson titled his bill the "tax reduction incentives act of 1954." It would, for example, cut in half the 10 per cent excise tax on automobiles. This would obtain an instant reduction of from $78 to $150.

Cuban Rebels Continue Hunger Strike; Others Join Protest

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (UP)—Thirty-five captured Cuban rebels carried a hunger strike into its second week today, joined in their starvation protest by rebel groups in New York, Chicago and Miami.

The men have vowed to starve "to the death if necessary" to protest their imprisonment following the scuttling of their heavily-armed expedition to support the forces of Cuban revolutionary Fidel Castro against the government of President Fulgencio Batista.

They and the other hunger strikers are protesting also continued shipment of U. S. arms to the Batista government.

In Florida Tuesday, 22 Castro supporters were arrested after a demonstration at a railroad station where they believed a delegation of Batista emissaries was passing through on the way to Washington for more arms. Two Cuban nationals were arrested at Key West as they tried to smuggle arms to Castro's forces in an outboard motorboat.

Arrests in Virginia

At Winchester, Va., three men arrested in an allegedly stolen car with a cargo of knives, bayonets and a sawed-off shotgun, said they were part of an army of 1,500 to 2,000 men being trained here to join the Castro forces.

They gave their names as Forest Lipscomb, Patrick Patterson and Harry Volker.

Fourteen of the 22 men held in Brownsville since their ship was rammed by a Coast Guard cutter last Thursday have been transferred from jail cells to Mercy Hospital beds and are being fed intravenously, U. S. Marshal James W. McCarthy said.

Although the formal hunger strike began only after their capture, doctors said the men actually hadn't eaten for two days before that — they were too busy or too excited.

Most of them are U. S. citizens and residents of New York. The wife of their leader, Arnaldo Barron of New York, said "most of them fought for this country in World War II or Korea. Now they thought they couldn't stay in this country and do nothing."

Mrs. Barron, who came to Brownsville after her husband's arrest, said many of the men had good jobs in New York. They saved $20,000, she said, to buy arms and ammunition in Mexico and charter the 70-foot freighter in which they sailed.

New York Hunger Strike

In New York, 14 men and four women members of the Orthodox Committee, headed by Barron, began a hunger strike at 7 p. m. Friday and were still on it today. Of 10 members of the rebel Revolutionary Labor Directorate, only two remained on a similar hunger strike today. Two became ill Monday night and four more were forced to begin eating again late Tuesday night.

Another group of Cubans pleaded the U. S. Court House at Chicago with signs protesting the Brownsville capture.

Nine more rebel sympathizers were conducting a "sit-down hunger strike" in the lobby of a Miami television station.

Down Payment Rate On FHA Loans Lower

WASHINGTON (UP)—Starting today, homes, financed by FHA-insured loans can be purchased with lower down payments.

This reduction is one of the principal provisions of a $1,500,000,000 antirecession housing bill signed into law Tuesday by President Eisenhower. The legislation is designed to speed the building of 200,000 homes this year and to create 500,000 new jobs.

Eisenhower gave his approval to the bill somewhat reluctantly. He conceded it will create new jobs, but said in an unusual message to Congress that it will also saddle the taxpayer with "a wholly unnecessary burden of up to one percent to assume obligation which rightfully belongs to business."

Here are the major provisions of the legislation and when they will take effect:

Federal Housing Commissioner Norman H. Mason ordered the lower down payment rate on FHA-insured mortgages into effect immediately. The reduction will apply not only to new applications, but to those already on file and not yet processed.

The downpayment requirements in the past have been three percent on the first $1,000 of value, 15 percent of the next $6,000 and 30 percent of additional value. The new law lifts the first bracket to $13,500. Thus, on a house valued at $15,000 the down payment is trimmed from $1,050 to $630.

The law increases from 4 1/2 to 4 3/4 percent the interest rate on GI housing loans. The Veterans Administration is expected to order the increase into effect late this week.

Improvement Assn. Committee Will Meet On April 9

A meeting of the seven man committee of the St. Johns - Inland River Improvement Association, devoting into the Sanford-Titusville Canal proposal, will be held Wednesday, April 9 at the Ansbill Hotel in Orlando.

The meeting has been called to discuss strategy for the April 28 hearing before the River and Harbors Board of Engineers in Washington.

Critical comment on the "adverse report" submitted by the District Engineers of the U. S. Corps of Engineers has been prepared and forwarded to the Rivers and Harbors showing points that will be discussed at the hearing. Gee and Jensen, consulting engineers and Dr. V. W. Bradbury, special consultant on economics, prepared the report.

The meeting slated for 11 a. m. in the Vista Room was called by John Kjaer, chairman of the committee.

Rainbow Division Veterans To Gather Here For Reunion

Rainbow Division veterans of World War I and World War II will gather in Sanford on Apr. 12 and 13 for another of their state reunions.

More than 60 of the veterans of the famous Rainbow Division will meet at the home of the State President of the Rainbow Division of Florida, W. F. Gordon, 1207 East Second St.

The two-day reunion will climax with a barbecue at the Elks Club on Sunday afternoon Apr. 13.

President Urges Careful Study Before Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower sounded another gong warning today on cutting taxes.

The President told a news conference he must stop and look very steadily at proposals to cut taxes. He said we must really make sure that we are right and that a tax cut would have a beneficial effect upon the economy in future years.

He was asked about New York financier Bernard M. Baruch's congressional testimony Tuesday that it would be "folly" to cut taxes. The President replied he had known Baruch for 30 years, had a great respect for his opinions, and believed that they warranted serious consideration.

In other news conference highlights, the President:

Said his Defense Department reorganization plan, which he probably will submit to Congress Thursday, is based on the necessity of the defense secretary having central authority as to the size, composition and strategic planning of armed forces.

Disadvantages Outweighed

Explained that despite his objections, he signed the antirecession housing bill Tuesday because he believed its advantages outweighed the disadvantages.

Said he decided against a unilateral suspension of nuclear tests because he didn't believe it would be for the good of the United States.

Said he hadn't abandoned hope that Russia would change its attitude sufficiently so that there could be a constructive East-West summit meeting.

Described as ridiculous a statement that a so-called palace guard was keeping from him information that he should have.

Automation Good Thing

Expressed the opinion that industrial automation will be a good thing for the nation but he cautioned that industry should not use it only for the purpose of throwing people out of work.

Said he does not believe a large nuclear test device can be exploded secretly without detection by other countries.

U.S. May Schedule New Nuclear Tests Next Fall

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States may schedule a new series of nuclear tests next fall or in 1959 unless the Soviet Union agrees to mutual inspection under an international test ban, administration officials reported today.

"The possibility of more tests to perfect nuclear defensive weapons was raised as President Eisenhower faced questioning on administration nuclear policy at his regular weekly news conference today.

Criticism of U. S. nuclear policies erupted following Moscow's unilateral cutoff of nuclear tests and disclosure by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles Tuesday that the President and his National Security Council on March 24 considered but rejected a move to halt the forthcoming American nuclear tests in the Pacific.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), chairman of the Senate Disarmament Subcommittee, called Dulles' disclosure of the decision to continue testing "nothing short of shocking" and said it had been better left unsaid.

Sen. George A.iken (R-Vt.), a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, countered that it was shocking some people would halt Russia's announcement with "shouts of acclaim" and "evidence of goodwill and a genuine desire for peace."

Aiken conceded the "Soviet stratagem" would have a psychological impact but said he was "not yet ready to rejoice at this Soviet promise by assuming its fulfillment."

Administration officials said the government hopes to complete its studies soon on whether nuclear tests can be safely halted under an international inspection agreement.

Ministerial Assn. Sponsoring Good Friday Service

The Seminole County Ministerial Association is again sponsoring a service of meditation on the Seven-Last Words of Christ. The service will begin at 10 noon on Good Friday and continue until 3 o'clock. It will be held at the First Presbyterian Church in Sanford. The three-hour service commemorates the hours during which Christ hung upon the Cross when he was crucified. It is divided into seven 25-minute periods, 12 noon; 12:25 p. m.; 1:00 p. m.; 1:15 p. m.; 1:40 p. m.; 2:05 p. m.; and 2:35 p. m.

Devotional address by Chaplain William C. Fuller of the Sanford Naval Air Station will be on the First Word: "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."

The choir of the First Christian Church will sing "The Man on the Cross."

Rev. Joe H. Courson of Pinecrest Baptist Church will speak on the Second Word: "Verily I say unto thee, today shalt thou be with me in Paradise."

Mrs. Nick Pfeiffer will sing "Hosanna."

The Third Word devotional address will be delivered by Rev. R. E. Rutland of the First Methodist Church: "Woman behold thy son—behold thy mother."

Mrs. James Hazard will sing "God So Loved the World."

Rev. Fred B. Fisher of the First Baptist Church will speak on the Fourth Word: "My God, My God, why has Thou forsaken me?"

The Senior High Ensemble, Deeds Sharon, June Jennings, Pat Mitchell, Janice Luxen, Teddy Walcott, will sing "The Man on the Cross."

Rotary Baseball League To Select Teams Monday

The Sanford Rotary Baseball League will meet Monday afternoon, April 7 at 4:30 p. m. at the Municipal Baseball Stadium to select teams. Sonny Powell, Chairman of the Rotary's baseball committee, said today.

Complete new teams will be selected this season with five teams in the league instead of the usual four. There will be 12 players on each team, said Powell, with full uniforms for each one.

The schedule calls for 16 games to be played by each team with two games per day on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. Eligible age for players in the Rotary Baseball League is 18 through 19 inclusive. Any youngster becoming 19 years of age before April 7 is ineligible. Birth certificates are not necessary on all students' ages will be checked at the school they attend.

At the end of the scheduled games there will be a night game between the pennant-winning team and the All-Stars from the other four teams.

All regular games will be played on fields three and four behind the Memorial Baseball Stadium at 4:30 p. m.

This is the 18th year of baseball sponsored by the Sanford Rotary Club. The purpose of the league, Powell stated, "is to promote youth enjoyment and welfare."

"The youngsters will be in the capable hands of some of Sanford's most able men. One manager, Roy Hollen, has been working with youth for over 23 years. George Stine, another of the Rotary Club's able managers, has been with the league since it was started," said Powell.

Other managers are Scott Burns, Flower Power and Light Company; Ben Wiggins, U. S. Soil Conservation; George Touhy, First Federal Savings and Loan Association; Bud Tally, manager of Gregory Lumber Company; Bob Crumley, insurance agent; M. L. Raborn, Sr., Seminole County Laundry; and Bob Cornell, former high school athlete and president of Florida Pre-Cooling Co.

Jaycees To Elect New Officers At Noon Meeting

The annual election of officers and directors of the Sanford-Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce will be held Thursday at the Yacht Club.

The election will follow the noon luncheon of the group.

The Jaycee Journal, weekly bulletin published by the local Junior Chamber of Commerce organization, points out that "This is the most important meeting of the year."

2 Important Items To Be Discussed

A meeting of the membership of the Sanford Merchants Association has been called for Friday morning at 10 a. m. in the City Commission Room of the City Hall.

F. E. Roumillat Jr., in a letter to all members, said that "two items of importance will be discussed."

Roumillat, in outlining the two questions, asked the members "Think these matters over and try to be at this meeting."

Mrs. Patty Gatchel Receives Gift From Philippines

A gift arrived in Sanford yesterday after traveling thousands of miles during 35 days in transit.

Mrs. Patty Gatchel of the Florida State Bank, received the gift of a pocketbook, hand embroidered, from Mrs. Concepcion Jaladqui, president of the Rural Bank of Iloilo City in the Philippines.

Mrs. Jaladqui was one of the group of Philippine bank presidents visiting Sanford to discuss the economy of this country especially in relation to the reorganization of the banker and farmer.

The nine bank presidents have, since their visit here, continued to express the "happiness and pleasure" experienced during their stay in Sanford.

Early Life Of City Revealed Tuesday In Picture Display

The early life of Sanford was dramatically revealed yesterday when R. W. Vincent displayed his collection of pictures, newspapers, journals, and other artifacts significant of the 1880's.

Pictures on display during the open house at the General Sanford Memorial Library depicted Sanford as a "boom" center served by both railroads and water transportation.

The display will be seen again tomorrow morning between 9 a. m. and 12 noon at the General Sanford Memorial Library with Vincent on hand to point out the names of individuals shown in the photographs and to explain the dates, times and occasions.

Longwood News

By HANS SYM. GRANT
 A Fiesta Time in Longwood. The Civic League Hall has undergone a transformation for one day (Sunday) for the special annual fund-raising project. Under the direction of Mrs. Ralph Steyn and Mrs. George Otto, co-chairmen, the Civic Hall has taken on the look of a small "United Nations," having booths representing many nations of the world, in their native surroundings.

The Bohemian Shop, specializing in wearing apparel, shoes, hats, purses, etc., was under the direction of Mrs. Glenn Norman. The Holland Shop, presided over by Mrs. J. A. Matlines, offered a bright selection of flowers and potted plants.

Mrs. B. C. Greene, Florida State Secretary of International Grapho Analysis Society Inc. announced and conducted the business of the Grapho Analysis Shop, by reading character through their handwriting. Mrs. John Reames, in charge of the India Shop, displayed her work of jewelry, woven baskets, hand made novelties etc. to its fullest advantage. Mrs. E. Abbott and Mrs. Ella Cummings were behind the table filled with delectable foods, cakes, pies, and goodies in the Swedish Shop.

In the French Shop Mrs. Stephen Bonwell offered for sale many sets of useful objects, and ideas for the craftswoman.

Mrs. Larry Cunniff sold dolls, center covers, sofa pillows, etc. in the Sewing Center.

In the American Snack Bar was

Miss Dorothy Heath, Mrs. L. L. Cam, Mrs. Ellery Madden, Mrs. B. C. Hill, Mrs. Margy Hanner and Mrs. E. C. Dunning. They sold soft drinks, tea, coffee, hamburgers, and sandwiches, all morning but they were especially busy at noon since the booth was fixed as a restaurant and people could get their lunch there.

All during the fiesta tickets were sold on 2 dolls and a complete wardrobe for each. Miss Dorothy Heath and Mrs. B. Postler were winners of the dolls. At the close of the fiesta Mrs. Ruth Hamilton, prominent Realtor, won the door prize, a pruned box of candy.

The fiesta was declared a success, netting the league over 100 dollars.

Mrs. F. J. Zartman has returned from a visit to her mother, Mrs. Sarah Richel in Beloit, Wis. She also visited her son, Mr. and Mrs. Fay Zartman and daughter Betty. Mr. and Mrs. Phil Hawkins and Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Roggensack, grandchildren.

Enroute home Mrs. Zartman visited her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. La Nubes in Chicago, and her only daughter Mrs. Mildred Kretzer. Mrs. Zartman had been gone for about 3 weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. McDaniell of Fiamello Street in Longwood had dinner and spent the evening with Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Anasley and daughter Susan Waters of Summerland Drive, Sanford. Mrs. McDaniell is very active in social affairs in Longwood and she and Mrs. McDaniell are both active members of the First Pentecostal Church in Longwood.

The Lyman High School Band drive, a one day affair, promised to be a success as the band that began as a handful of enthusiastic youths has now outgrown its 40 souls.

Saturday morning members of the band, dressed in their band garb, made a door-to-door campaign to acquaint the residents of the band program and accept donations. An additional delegation of band members were dispatched to the business district and the post office.

Stationing themselves in front of the highly popular Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club just prior to the machine performances, the band played selections of varied music while the majorities accepted donations from patrons of the club and other citizens gathered to witness the event.

Early indications are that the band drive will be successful, and Lyman's urgent need for more uniforms will not go unanswered as the band continues to grow.

Lyman is the largest school plant in Seminole County.

"Your Family Affairs" is the topic chosen by Representative Mark N. Cleveland Jr., the guest speaker of the Longwood Civic League, at the April Meeting. Cleveland was Speaker of the House pro tempore in last year's session of the State Legislature. He is a practicing Attorney in Sanford, and is well known throughout Seminole County. Civic League Building, Tuesday, at 4 p. m. Mrs. George Otto, President, cordially invited everyone to attend the meeting and hear the timely lecture.

April 1-11 has been designated "Courtesy Time" in a campaign for courtesy led by Lyman High School Student Council. Official announcement was made in assembly Friday morning by Vice-President Kitty Kimball. Further emphasis on the virtues of courtesy followed in a skit "The award will be given the student nominated by this committee, as the most courteous student in Lyman High School. The presentation of this award in assembly will be given on Friday, April 11, will conclude the campaign, but not the courtesy of the students.

The Ladies Home Demonstration Club will meet Thursday morning at 10:45 in the Civic Building. A demonstration on yeast bread and rolls will be given by Mrs. Austell Largent. Mrs. Sam Martin, and Mrs. Ben Gray, all residents of Longwood. Mrs. Gray and Mrs. Largent have also been active in 4H work as leaders. The ladies will exchange ideas, and talk of the work they are doing. The meeting will conclude with a covered dish luncheon.

Mrs. Ted Johnson, of Homestead, is visiting at the home of Mrs. Ruth Hamilton, while her husband, Captain Ted Johnson, on the Alert is in Africa on official business. Capt. Johnson will be gone for several weeks. Mrs. Johnson has lived in the Longwood Area and worked as a model in one of the larger department stores in Orlando.

Mrs. A. H. "Patsy" Webb, of 213 East 4th Street, Sanford, visited Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Grant and family for several days. Mrs. Webb has been a friend of the Grants for more than 20 years. She returned to her home Saturday.

G. L. Anasley, of Jacksonville, and his son, Jeff, visited relatives in Longwood Saturday and Sunday. Visited by Anasley during his stay were his mother, and husband, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. McDaniell and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Grant and family. Mrs. Grant is the sister of Anasley.

His son made comment in the Sanford Herald last year after the Anasley residence in Orlando was burned and Jeff was hospitalized with severe burns. Being grabbed by his father and rushed through the flames, Jeff's clothes were almost entirely burned off. Throughout it all, however, Jeff never cried.

Anasley is an investigator for the Civil Service, operating out of Jacksonville headquarters. He returned to Jacksonville Sunday, stopping for visits in Sanford en route.

Committee Moves On Proposed Bill To Fix Boundaries

WASHINGTON (AP)—A congressional subcommittee will meet in Miami next month on a proposed bill to fix permanent boundaries for Everglades National Park. Pending legislation, co-sponsored by Reps. Danie Fessell of Miami and Paul Rogers of West Palm Beach and Sens. Spessard Holland and George Shalters, would set the park boundaries to encompass 1,377,500 acres. It would include 919,400 acres of land and 458,100 acres of water. The interior subcommittee, headed by Rep. Gracie Post D-Idaho will make an inspection trip through the park April 10-12. Originally, the park was authorized 2,164,000 acres, but many felt some of the lands to be included in the park should be held instead for private development.

A new kind of mayonnaise for Florida

It's new! It's Mrs. Filbert's special recipe Mayonnaise

...in a useful new refrigerator jar!

If you think all mayonnaise is the same, there's a real surprise waiting for you at your local store. It's Mrs. Filbert's Special Recipe Mayonnaise... and it really is special! We make it with these special extra touches you reserve for your own special recipes. You know, that extra care in the making... those special, costlier ingredients. For instance:

1. Extra egg yolks. We use premium-priced, whole eggs... and beat in extra yolks for extra richness.
2. Special seasoning. The flavor "heart" of choice spices, imported from across the seas, give our special recipe mayonnaise its unique zest.
3. New tanginess. We add a delightful new tang with real lemon juice... aged apple vinegar. Natural ingredients that synthetic flavors cannot match.
4. Choice salad oils. Never heavy... never oily... our special recipe calls for fresh-pressed salad oils.
5. Expert blending. We have a certain knack for blending all these delectable ingredients. Then, we whip them up to just the right firmness. Note that "distinctive dimple" when you open the jar.
6. Useful refrigerator jar. We put our new special recipe mayonnaise in a new reusable jar with a rich red-and-white label. Has straight sides so you can scoop out every last bit. Handy for leftovers... preserved... so many household uses.

FREE INTRODUCTORY OFFER:
 Try Mrs. Filbert's Special Recipe Mayonnaise at our expense.

We want you to taste the difference between our special recipe mayonnaise and the other brands you know. So we offer you a free jar of Mrs. Filbert's Special Recipe Mayonnaise. All you need to do is send us a coupon good for one jar of Mrs. Filbert's Special Recipe Mayonnaise. We'll send you a coupon good for one jar of Mrs. Filbert's Special Recipe Mayonnaise. We'll send you a coupon good for one jar of Mrs. Filbert's Special Recipe Mayonnaise.

is everything we say it is, you may use your coupon for a pint of any other brand of mayonnaise you prefer. Only one offer to a family. Offer expires midnight, May 3, 1936.

P. S. If you prefer a Salad Dressing, the same offer is good on Mrs. Filbert's Salad Dressing. Look for the jar with the distinctive blue-and-white label.

Education Means Hard Work Plus Solid Framework Of Knowledge

Education is one of our most important assets. It is the key to our progress, to our betterment, to our future. It is the only way we can hope to overcome the many difficulties that face us today. It is the only way we can hope to build a better world for ourselves and for our children.

Education is not just a matter of going to school and learning facts. It is a matter of developing a solid framework of knowledge and skills. It is a matter of learning to think, to reason, to solve problems. It is a matter of learning to work hard, to persevere, to overcome adversity.

Education is the foundation upon which we build our lives. It is the light that guides us through the darkness of ignorance and uncertainty. It is the power that empowers us to change our world and to create a better future for all.

Who Wants The "Good Old Days"

Among those of us old enough to remember the so-called "good old days" are some who long to turn back the calendar to 50 years ago when customs prevailed which are now out-moded in all but the remotest sections of this country.

In the "good old days" the horse was the major source of power for farming and local travel. A farmer turned land with a team harnessed to a walking plow which he guided with his hands and followed in the newly opened furrow. In hot weather frequent watering of men and beast in the shade of a convenient tree was absolutely necessary, and if he turned two acres a day, an extra good job had been done.

Much cultivating of crops was done with a one-horse cultivator which stirred the soil between the rows of the crop, whether it be cotton, corn or cabbage. Occasionally the work was done with a riding cultivator drawn by a team.

The trip to town, or church, or anywhere within the local community, was made afoot, on horseback, or by wagon or buggy. There was no heater in the vehicle in winter, and the owner of a buggy, boasting a top and spring seat, was really "somebody."

Most crops were harvested by hand, particularly corn and cotton, and although there were horse-drawn mowers and rakes, the job of making hay was largely with hand pitchforks.

Parables of Christ

WHEREFORE whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock:
 "And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock."
 "And everyone that heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, which built his house upon the sand:
 "And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall of it!"
 St. Matthew 7:24-27

What Easter Means To Me

By Dr. R. E. Rutland
 It means that we can depend upon God.
 God was real to Jesus. When Jesus appeared and asked to be baptized of John the Baptist, a voice from heaven said "Thou art my beloved son in whom I am well pleased." The life and work of Jesus were inspired by God, the Father. He had a great deal to say about the Father, God. "My Father is greater than all... the Father which hath sent me... beareth witness of me... we have one Father, even God."
 Jesus sought God often in prayer. It appeared that He received strength and guidance through prayer. He invites us to pray.
 Jesus assured us of God's love. "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son that whoever believeth on Him should not perish but have eternal life."
 God's one great purpose, according to Jesus, is the redemption of mankind. Certainly that is still His great purpose. We may not fully understand the atonement but the fact remains that people still experience God's salvation. Men are lifted from a low, little selfish life—even from a mean, vulgar, sinful life by faith in God through Christ.

YOU'RE TELLING ME!

RECENTLY a London junkman refused to pay $1.49 for an old painting which has now sold at auction for $2,500. Can't blame his business for being an expert judge—of junk.
 The Agriculture department issues a pamphlet, "Chiggers—How to Fight Them." Best advice—just don't go near 'em!
 Swiss women are being given the right to vote. If you hear any peddling in a soprano voice, you'll know why.
 A total of 99,300,000 persons visited our 100 National Parks in 1957, statistics show. Just a nation of phishers?
 Hungarian cobblers, we read, are making top quality shoes of the pelts of stray canines. Now the Beau Brummets of Budapest can look downright daggly!

Look Ahead At Top World News

By UNITED PRESS
 United Press correspondents around the world look ahead to the news that will make the headlines.
French A-Bomb
 Look for France to explode an atomic bomb but not as soon as Rep. Edwin Price predicted. The Illinois Democrat hinted Friday it would happen in a week. The word in Paris is that it probably will not happen even within a month. The reason: France has perfected the trigger but has yet to acquire the fuel. It has no uranium 235 and it may be months before it can make the minimum 7.5 pounds of plutonium needed for a critical explosive mass.
Middle East Tremors
 Washington insiders say the Middle East could be heading toward a new world-shaking crisis. The answer will come as Saudi Arabia's Prince Saud begins wielding more and more of the power shifted to him by King Saud. The fear is that he might join the United Arab Republic and Abdel Gamal Nasser would get control of the fabulously rich Middle East oil. This could put Nasser in a position to nationalize the oil wells as he did the Suez Canal and exert great pressure at will on the Western European economy.
Khrushchev's Next Step
 They are not going overboard on it, but some Soviet affairs experts think Nikita Khrushchev eventually may pass along the premiership to a younger protégé. At least, they feel it would be no bigger surprise than his assuming it himself after ousting Malenkov last Thursday. The feeling is that he better position to gain formal entry to a small but important role would have no need of this after that since he rules Russia as the Communist Party chief.
Senators
 Bulled is growing in Washington that the controversial Lewis L. Brown will retire as a member and chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission. Democratic members of the House Senate Atomic Watchdog Committee have been of odds. Latest: Sen. Everett R. Hollen, Brown's personal assistant and right hand man, has found another job, with General Dynamics Corp. Atomic Commissioner Harold G. Vance is believed most likely to be next chairman.
Burgman Is Love
 Ingrid Bergman believes she's in love but she will not jump hastily into another marriage. Friends say she plans to spend her summer vacation with Swedish businessman Lars Schmidt on an island off Sweden and will decide then whether he is the man. He introduced her to his parents this month.

NARROW VICTORY FOR REED
 MADRAS, India.—The Communist government of the Indian state of Kerala ousted defeat by only two votes Wednesday on the government's budget demands. An independent, who usually votes with the Communists, joined the opposition and set the government majority to two.
COUPLE CHARGED
 BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—Police arrested a man and wife Wednesday on charges they looted the parsonage of church members who had befriended them. Officers said transient Robert Lee Snider, 25, and Billie Maxine Snider, took money and valuables while being treated to a meal at the church.
SEARCH PLANES FOR ITALY
 ROME.—The first of six Grumman EA-16 planes supplied by the United States for Italian search and rescue operations arrived at Campiano Airport Wednesday.

Income Tax Tips

The Florida Accountants Association—an affiliate of National Society of Public Accountants—were self-employed in 1957?
 If your self-employment earnings were over $4000.00 and you are not otherwise exempt, then you owe Uncle Sam 94% (.658-75%) of your net self-employment income, but not more than $141.75. This is 3 3/8% on $4,000.00, the maximum amount that is taxed.
 This is your Social Security tax and is used to pay for your retirement pension at age 65, etc.
 Income from the following occupations is exempt from this tax for the calendar year 1957:
 1. Doctors of Medicine
 2. Christian Science practitioners are not subject to this tax, unless they elect to be covered by filing Form 2031.
 3. Religious services—Income from performance of services by a duly ordained, commissioned, or licensed minister of a church in the exercise of his ministry or by a member of a religious order in the exercise of duties required by such order, unless he elects to be covered by filing Form 2031.
 4. Your self-employment income, for tax purposes, is reduced by the amount of any salary or wages you had which were subject to F. I. C. A. tax. If you received wages in excess of $4,300 then your self-employment income is not subject to tax.
 This tax is reported on Schedule C attached to your 1957 income tax return and the tax is paid with your income tax for 1947.

Conning The News

Who does not like to be appreciated? I sure do, and therefore doubly enjoy notes from an admiring bundle of energy, Esther Eliskovsk. Esther spends much time writing herself—and has been responsible for many articles in this newspaper. Another past activity is the Mental Health Association, and I have by my hand an epistle, not a note, about said organization.

The Association feels that in order to achieve its goals, its better facilities for mental patients; juvenile detention homes; psychiatric helper in Seminole County—and others, it must first explain itself to the public and do away with mental health associated with mental health.

To this end a forum has been planned for April 28 in the Pinecrest Auditorium. So far, the panel consists of George Touhy, Mrs. Margaret Reynolds, principal of the Pinecrest School, Rev. A. G. McInnis, Senator Douglas Stenstrom, Pat Hardin, and myself. We will attempt to answer and discuss questions about mental health. Of course, we will be well briefed. The topic "What's On Your Mind" will be followed by an enlightening film.

Mrs. Sidney Ives will assist with questions that may be too difficult. Mrs. Ives has been working with the schools on a guidance basis, and has only this week begun a service, which will include counselling. She will see anyone by appointment and discuss his problems.

It may be interesting to those who think that mental health does not affect them, to know that problems are not limited to "crazy people", retarded children, or split personalities. Mildly disturbed children may take to crime for psychological reasons. Many marriages may be helped with counselling and analysis.

As Esther pointed out, senility is also a factor in Florida, due to the vast numbers retiring here. There are so many facets which might touch anyone, that it is hard to conceive of public indifference.

Esther has spoken to several civic clubs, revealing conditions in Seminole County rarely discussed. One is the need for a juvenile detention home. (And this I have talked about with Chief of Police Roy Williams, myself.)

Most of the children who commit crimes are raised in the custody of the parents, or temporary foster homes are found for them. The judges are reluctant to place the children in the city jail, until their cases are settled.

However, sometimes this is unavoidable. So they are, except to the rare bare facts of life. The judges they can see and hear can do them no good. It has been proven that the surrounding judges, and the Mental Health Association, a juvenile detention home is a must! Educators have also been pushing one with all their might, but without the co-operation of the public, not much can be done.

Since the human mind is such a frail thing, the Seminole County Mental Health Association hopes to convince residents that they should not be hidden. Our society is breeding more mental problems than ever before.

We also hear about them more than ever before, but still think mental illness cannot happen to us. Some of the answers might be found the night of April 28. Please make plans to come.

"Take Me Out To The Ball Game" will be the cry next Monday night when the Sanford Shrine Club sponsors the second annual baseball game between Corpus Christi and Phoenix. The game will start at 7:45 p. m. A Band Concert by the Bahia Shrine Band from Orlando will precede the game.

Naturally, the game will be held at the Memorial stadium. Should give the good people of Sanford a chance to see young men at work. By this I mean the young men who have been seen all over town for the past few weeks.

Chances will be popcorn and so forth during the evening. Good chance to drug us and all the kids away from the television set to see a really good ball game. All the Sanford clowns are in on the act and will be playing the game from mid places all this week. They plan to parade downtown Saturday morning, before a muck ball game on the corner of First and Magnolia.

MRS. JULIAN DETYENS, supervisor of nurses, at Seminole Memorial Hospital receives a cash award for naming the new monthly newsletter, "The Pink Pill". Claude Jones Reunited With Family After 38 Years

By Virginia Conn

A boy leaves home to make his fortune, and goes to California. There he works for many years as a stunt man in the movies. Horses are his greatest love, so he turns to rodeos, where he makes a name for himself. As the years pass by, he turns to the construction business as a more settled way of life. For thirty-eight years he does not have any contact with his family of a mother and sister and three brothers.

Then, suddenly, a phone call from Sanford, Florida; some careful questions and the time of parting is over. This is briefly the way it happened. And today, the Jones family is reunited.

This is the story of Claude Jones, son of Mrs. Josephine Jones, brother to Mrs. Newton Evans of West Palm Beach, and Videll, Leon and Ted Jones, all of Sanford.

The reunion took place last week when the whole family waited eagerly for the arrival of Claude and his wife. It began when a stranger approached Leon at a sporting event and told him that he knew a man in California who "looks enough like you to be your brother." As it turned out, the stranger had not seen Claude for fourteen years, but had known him well, and was sure he could trace him. His name was different, but certain incidents rang true, and the family started hoping.

At last they traced the former stunt man, bronc rider, and equestriologist to his home in Bakersville, Calif. A phone call provided the dramatic clincher. The California Jones packed their car and travelled east to complete the family after thirty-eight years of separation.

Since their arrival last week, Claude has been catching up with family history, and providing much of his own. He has had an exciting life.

As a stunt man in Hollywood, he took the cliffs, the runaway buck boards, and many of the leaps (when the hero pulls the villain off a horse). During his rodeo years he traveled over the west winning trophies, silver belts and fancy jackets. He has studied at the Academy of Dramatic Art, and is still a member of the Screen Actors Guild. He has written many short stories and is working on his first novel, "Two Noble Palomines."

For fifteen years, Claude has lived in Bakersville, where he has been in construction work. He was married five years ago.

On Easter Sunday, thirty-five relatives will hold a big reunion to welcome Claude and his wife, Videll, back to the Jones clan. This will climax a week of dinner parties, luncheons and family celebrations. The couple is presently staying with his mother at 112 French Ave.

They are seriously considering staying in Sanford. This is the way we hope it will be. The Jones family has lived in Sanford for thirty-seven years. They are well known here, and two more would be a welcome addition.

Final Plans Announced

Miss Carol Anne Bridges will become the bride of Charles Clayton Russell at 8:00 p. m. Saturday. The service will take place in the Central Christian Church, 250 West Ivanhoe Blvd., Orlando.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Emerson B. Bridges and the late Mr. Bridges, Cranston, R. I. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Russell of Orlando, formerly of Sanford.

Dr. Paul C. Carpenter will officiate at the ceremony. A reception will follow in the social hall of the church.

Miss Bridges has chosen Mrs. William Leper, Demorest, Ga. as her matron of honor. Her sister Gloria Bridges of Cranston, will be a bridesmaid.

Best man will be Charles Wilke Sanford, Ushers will be Rolly Reel, Sanford, cousin of the prospective bridegroom, Curtis Hughes and James Brown of Sanford.

Friends of the couple have been invited to attend the ceremony and reception.

"Open Door Faith" Title Of Program

The Y. W. C. A. of the First Baptist Church met Monday at the home of Marjorie Campbell. The devotional was given by Marjorie Efrid.

A program was given on missionary work in Cuba, entitled, "Open Door Faith."

During the social hour refreshments were served. Attending were Eva Jo Wynn, Miriam Routh, Marjorie Efrid, Ann Turner, Carolyn Petty, Hilda Ergle, Cathy Ventry, and Mrs. M. C. Hagan.

Hospital Newsletter Named "The Pink Pill" By Mrs. Detyens

Mrs. Julian Detyens, supervisor of nurses at the Seminole Memorial Hospital, was the winner of a cash award Tuesday when the name she had submitted for the new hospital newsletter was selected.

In a surprise presentation, Mrs. Detyens was informed that her title of "The Pink Pill" would hereafter appear on the masthead of the bulletin.

The newsletter was designed to cement relations within the hospital, between the staff and the "pink ladies" of the Hospital Auxiliary. The monthly sheet contains news about patients, nurses, auxiliary members and anything pertaining to the hospital of interest to members.

Comprising the staff of "The Pink Pill" are Mrs. James Stowell, editor, Miss Dorothy Fouracre, circulation manager, Mrs. Richard Bauer, and Mrs. A. O. Payne, circulation assistants. Advisors are Harry Weir, hospital administrator, and Mrs. R. N. Blackwelder, president of the Women's Auxiliary.

The contest for the name appeared in the first edition of the newsletter. Titles were submitted by members of the staff and auxiliary.

Helping with the distribution of the first 350 copies were Mrs. Joseph Tully, Mrs. Robert Fay, and Mrs. R. N. Blackwelder. Harry Weir made the presentation to Mrs. Detyens.

Southside School Hosts A.C.E.

The Seminole County Branch of the Association for Child Education International was held March 25 at Southside School for a supper, program and business meeting.

The business was conducted by the president, Mrs. Harry Wait. Approximately sixty members and guests enjoyed a dinner served in the school lunchroom by Mrs. V. A. Davis, dietitian, and her co-workers. The tables were beautifully decorated by Miss Zillah Welsh. Lighted candles were surrounded by fern. Foreign dolls, furnished by Miss Caroline McInnis, created much interest as part of the decoration.

Mrs. M. W. Coberly, music director, led the group in singing "A. C. E. Will Shine Tonight" and "Follow the Dream". The devotion was given by Mrs. C. A. McInnis.

Mrs. Sybil Routh was the program chairman. She introduced Miss Carolyn McInnis and Miss Gretchen Kirchhoff, who showed slides of Europe taken during their trip last summer. Although their travels were interesting, educational and beautiful, the young teachers assured the audience of the satisfaction of American citizenship. They closed the program with the poem "America For Me."

Mrs. J. C. Mitchell, principal, and members of the faculty of Southside School served as hosts for the occasion.

Calendar

WEDNESDAY

There will be a first aid course sponsored by the Lake Mary Home Demonstration Club at the Lake Mary School. Instructors will be from the fire department. Anyone is eligible to attend. Mrs. Leon Taylor is in charge of arrangements.

"Majors" for Minors

Suits, before a minor part of the fashion picture for minors, will be highly suitable for them this year. The eased lines of the classics, produce a freshness and youthfulness that is really new! Boxy jackets in a longer length with the belt dropped to the bottom are good lines for young figures.

Orioles Club Better

By HAL WOOD
United Press Sports Writer
SCOTTSDALE, Ariz., 6-15—The Baltimore Orioles will field a "considerably better" club than ever before since the city came back to major league baseball, manager Paul Richards added.

The greying boss of the Orioles optimistic about the chances of this team and is willing to tell the world.

Two Fine Catchers

"In Gus Triandos and Myron Cinsberg we have two fine catchers. Triandos has the best throwing arm in baseball. We expect his hitting to improve year after year. He has hit 40 home runs for us in the last two years in the biggest park in the majors.

"We have two good first basemen. Bob Boyd hit .318 for us last year and is a slick fielder. Jim Marshall, up from Vancouver of the Pacific Coast League, hit 30 home runs and drove in 100 runs.

"At second base we have the best defensive fielder in the league in Bill Gardner. He hit .286 for us last year and played every inning of the season. On top of that he is a clutch hitter.

"Our two shortstops couldn't be compared with the best defensive men in history, but Willie Miranda and Ronnie Hansen give us adequate protection.

"Our third baseman is Brooks Robinson. He is a great defensive player. If he hits better — and we have hopes — he will mean a lot to us.

Outfield Set

"The outfield is set with Al Pizarick, Larry Doby and Bob Niekirk. They'll provide a good punch with defensive ability. Backing them up we have Jim Busby and a couple of other good men."

"Our pitching staff is headed by Connie Johnson, Billy Loes, Hector (Skinny) Brown, Jack Harshman and Bill O'Dell. Behind them we have George Zverink and Ken Lehman as relievers. We also have Charley Beamon, Jerry Walker and Art Houtteman. Houtteman may make it all the way back."

Richards drew a deep breath. "It all adds up to a considerably better club than we've ever had before at Baltimore. It is a club improving all the time," he said.

Australian Swim Coaches Harried

By JEFF DODD
SYDNEY — 6-15—Australia may be the place where swimming stars are made, but it doesn't seem to be too healthy for the swimming coaches.

In recent weeks two of Australia's top coaches, Don Talbot, trainer of the famous Konrads kids, and Frank Guthrie, mentor for world champion triple Olympic gold medalist Lorraine Crapp, have run afoul of authorities.

Talbot, who coached in his spare time, had a job as teacher at Revesby Primary School. He resigned because Public Service Board (the government department controlling schools) conditions clashed with his coaching.

A letter he received from the Board late in January took exception to his coaching star pupil John Konrads at early-morning, pre-school-time sessions. The practice would have to cease, the board told Talbot, although fans are still wondering exactly why.

Talbot quit his job.

"This happened despite good results I achieved as a teacher," he said. "I had been rated as perfectly satisfactory by different school inspectors."

The 24-year-old Talbot started coaching five years ago. "Quite frankly," he admitted, "I needed the extra money." He is the father of three children, and the youngest of Australia's top coaches.

"I've got other good prospects besides John and Lisa," says Talbot proudly. "You'll be hearing plenty from them in the not too distant future."

Talbot figures that with the spate of publicity which has surrounded the Latvian migrant "waterbabies," he should have no trouble making coaching a full-time occupation.

Guthrie, already well-known when Miss Crapp embarked on her record-breaking spree, has been forced to employ three assistant coaches to help him with classes.

O'Hara, Tanaka Wrestle Tomorrow Night in Rematch

Doran O'Hara, his Irish up, will get a chance to settle a grudge with Great Tanaka, the arrogant Japanese wrestler, in the featured event of the three best wrestling show at the National Guard Armory tomorrow night.

Last week these two met here and Tanaka used a blacklock to knock out O'Hara. When O'Hara recovered, he immediately began negotiating for a rematch.

Finally, the first of this week Tanaka agreed on the condition the match be under Japanese rules. O'Hara accepted the terms. "All I want is another chance at him," he said.

Girls are on tomorrow night's program with fiery Juanita Valles, the Latin bombshell, meeting Mae Maston.

Also on the program is a mixed tag team match in which a girl wrestler and her male partner will meet a like team.

The first match tomorrow night will begin at 8:30. The National Guard sponsors and promotes the wrestling matches.

United Press Sports Writer
TAMPA, Fla., 6-15—Ailing Al Smith, who has spent most of the spring on the rubber table, assured the Chicago White Sox today he will be ready to play in the season opener and prove to them they made a good deal of getting him from the Cleveland Indians.

Troubled by an injured right ankle all spring, Smith has seen no action at all in exhibition games but feels he'll be ready to take his place in the lineup within a week or so.

More Annoying Than Serious

"The ankle injury is more annoying than serious," said the 30-year-old Smith, who is being counted on as the White Sox regular left fielder this year. "But the treatments I've taken this spring have made the ankle stronger and I think I'll be ready to go in a few days. I've kept my weight down so it won't take me very long to get in stride."

Smith came to the White Sox along with pitcher Early Wynn from the Indians last December in exchange for outfielder Minnie Mirosa and infielder Fred Hatfield. No one was happier over the deal than Smith.

"I had my best years playing for Al Lopez in Cleveland from 1953 to 1955," he says. "I guess I'd rather play for him than any one else in baseball. And if I'm in shape, I know I'll be over .300."

With the Indians last year, Smith slumped to .247 and was roasted unmercifully by impatient Cleveland fans. Things reached

Red Sox Facing Gloomy Prospect

By FRANK LETSBY
United Press Sports Writer
The Boston Red Sox, touted by Coors Menzel as the Yankees' most dangerous American League rival, faced the gloomy prospect today of opening the season without their possible No. 1 battery.

Tony Brewer, the leading Red Sox pitcher last year with 18 wins, and Raywood Sullivan, a rookie looking for the starting job behind the plate, both suffered fractured fingers Monday. Brewer will be sidelined at least three weeks, Sullivan at least six weeks.

Brewer, 36, was taking batting practice when hit by a Bob Fotheringham pick. Brewer suffered a hairline fracture of the middle finger on the pitching hand.

Food Wits Sullivan

Sullivan, 27, was hit by a foul off the bat of Roy Sievers of the Washington Senators in the first inning of an exhibition game. Sullivan's right index finger was fractured and dislocated. The Red Sox were hoping that Sullivan would play well enough to replace Sammy White behind the plate.

Another catcher, Yogi Berra of the Yankees, also was put out of commission. A foul off the bat of Charley Neal of the Los Angeles Dodgers struck Berra on the right hand, split the web between two fingers and sidelined him for 7 to 10 days.

Aide from the injuries, tight scheduling performances by some of the best in baseball featured the exhibition exhibition program.

Billy Pierce and Jim Wilson combined for a one-hitter as the Chicago White Sox shut out the St. Louis Cardinals, 7-0. The Cards won a six inning nightcap, 7-5.

Mark Secor ran his scoreless streak to 11 innings in the Cleveland Indians' 6-3 victory over the San Francisco Giants.

Perrone Ross Brewer

Low myrtle pitched four scoreless innings for the Milwaukee Braves before the Pittsburgh Pirates got to his relievers and won, 6-5. Hank Pate singled in the winning run in the ninth.

In other games, the Chicago Cubs blanked the Baltimore Orioles, 1-0; the Dodgers scored a 7-3 triumph over the Yankees; the Red Sox whipped the Senators, 3-2; Cincinnati Reds took a 2-1 decision over the Philadelphia Phillies; and the Kansas City Athletics beat the Detroit Tigers, 5-4.

In the roster trimming department, the Dodgers optioned shortstop Bob Lillis to St. Paul and returned outfielder Felipe Montemayor and catcher Norm Sherry to Spokane. The Orioles sent Wayne Causey, a bonus infielder to the Louisville training camp. The White Sox shipped pitcher Jim Derrington and outfielder John Callison to Indianapolis.

DODGER TICKETS ON SALE

LOS ANGELES 6-15—Over the counter ticket sales for all Los Angeles Dodgers home games began Tuesday at the club's main ticket office at the Coliseum. Tickets also can be purchased at agencies throughout Southern California.

such a state that Smith publicly voiced a desire to be traded. The fact that he often was asked to play third base instead of the outfield didn't make him any happier, either.

"I'd like to feel I have no enemies in Cleveland," said the White Sox outfielder, slipping into a pair of moccasin shoes after a light workout. "I feel I deserved some of the criticism I received from Cleveland fans. After all, I remember days when they cheered me, too."

Relations Between India, U.S. Better

By SALPH TEATSORTH United Press Staff Correspondent NEW YORK—India and the United States appear to be moving toward closer friendship...

It is not easy to pinpoint when the tide began to turn, but it is a widely recognized fact that today the governments and people of India and the United States have learned to live with the faults they see in each other.

India's policy of non-alignment in world politics has seemed strange to many Americans. At the same time, Indians have pointed out the policies of non-alignment and downright isolation that guided the United States until comparatively recent times.

The main issues helping divide India and America were, firstly, U.S. military and economic aid to Pakistan and American sympathy for Pakistan's claim to Kashmir; secondly, wide divergence of opinion on the best way to deal with Russia and Communist China; thirdly, defense against international communism; fourthly, well-publicized statements by officials of both countries that magnified existing differences.

It is not easy to pinpoint when the tide began to turn, but it is a widely recognized fact that today the governments and people of India and the United States have learned to live with the faults they see in each other.

Some observers say the change began with the downgrading of Stalin by his successors. Others believe it came when India and the United States lined up on the same side in the Suez Canal crisis of 1956.

At about the same time they took almost identical views of the Soviet crushing of the Hungarian rebellion although they disagreed on what to do about it.

Ever since Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru visited the United States and talked with President Eisenhower in December, 1956, officials of the two governments have treated one another with more than customary respect.

There have been few outbursts from either camp. Indian Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon, who is also chief Indian delegate to the United Nations, is no longer an irritant in Indian-American relations. He has noticeably toned down his vituperative speeches that once rubbed Americans the wrong way.

My New York

NEW YORK—A few years ago, drunk with power after a winning night at seven-card stud, I approached Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, a millionaire by avocation, and offered him $4,000 for one of his race horses named Look Alive. I used the negative approach. "This goat is a pig," I said cryptically. "You will be lucky to give him away in a few months."

Mr. V. apologetically said he left all negotiations for his cheaper stock to Bill Winfrey, his trainer—so I went and talked to Winfrey, and as he finished talking a half hour later, I heard the words—"so we will let you have him for $7,000." That was the end of that. Of course, in the next 18 months Look Alive won $28,000.

I don't want any unkind questions at this point about where a newspaperman could lay hands on $4,000. Any man can be a king as long as there's a Morris Plan.

Anyway, the episode is mentioned here because once again I am planning to be a horse owner. This time they aren't going to be any $4,000 outlays, nor any Vanderbilts to duck the issue. This time I am going to win the horse. All I have to do is think up the worst name for a horse in the world.

MISS HELENA SEROY blew into the office yesterday to tell me about the fifth annual "Derby Day" contest sponsored by a tobacco company. Miss Seroy is a slim, handsome brunet who once danced with the celebrated Hamilton Trio and now helps the cigar-chewing impresario, Ted Wornet, to publicize elephants, horses, washing machines and what have you. "All you have to do," said Miss Helena, "is name this colt that was bought at the Saratoga yearling sales for $17,000 and you're in business."

I asked her what the four previous prize colts had been named. She didn't bat an eyelash. "Fill," she said, "Derby Day in 1955, Aurecol in 1956 and All Hurry Hbal in 1957," she said. I jotted all these epithets down and looked at them. It was obvious. They were the most dreadful names a horse could be given.

Miss Seroy broke in, defensively. "Listen," she said, "there are so many hundreds of thousands of names submitted in this contest that the Kentucky Club people almost automatically have to throw out the best ones—because at least 20 persons suggest each one. You can sweat it out for a week and come up with an abominable brilliant name—a name—and then find two dozen others have done the same thing. So they have to choose as good a name as they can find among the entries that's only been suggested by one person."

This corresponds, roughly, to passing up Abraham Lincoln and George Washington and naming Warren Harding as a compromise candidate. But can Harding's worst detractors say he ever committed any political act as horse?

ESTROGEN MAY PROLONG LIVES OF MANY MEN

BY DELOS SMITH
United Press Science Editor

NEW YORK—It still may be possible to prolong the lives of many men without at the same time making life intolerable by treating them with the variable queen of female body hormones.

That hormone is estrogen which accounts for the more obvious female characteristics of body and mind. It may well be the most important male feminine chemical component which permits women to live longer than men.

For instance, women generally go through life with better-conditioned arteries, lower blood pressures, and comparatively fewer heart attacks than men.

It is well known that when estrogen is given to men with hardened arteries and men who have had heart attacks, it changes their blood chemistry very much for the better.

One Drawback

But unhappily estrogen feminizes them, most dramatically by stimulating the dormant male mammary glands into development. It also robs them of normal masculine sexual drive, neediness to say, most men would rather die of heart attack.

In past experiments with estrogen in man, these untoward and intolerable "side effects" were produced by as little as one thousandth of a gram given daily for not too many days.

But newly reported experiments indicate that as little as ten millionths of a gram daily will bring about the much-to-be-desired changes in blood chemistry. There is reason to believe that masculine body chemistry can tolerate that minute amount without being turned toward the feminine.

The experiments were conducted at the University of Southern California, Los Angeles, by a scientific team headed by Prof. Jessie Marmorston and Oscar Maynard. The subjects were 20 women from 48 to 32 years old who had had at least one heart attack.

Rapid Change

The women were given tablets containing 10 millionths of a gram of estrogen daily. The blood chemistry measurements of all changed for the better almost at once and were at their best six or seven weeks after the treatment began. The women were treated and observed for a maximum of 30 months and the measurements remained steadily on the good side all that time.

The scientists remarked, in reporting to the New England Journal of Medicine: It "seems evident that very small and very

Costs Man $30 To Take Final Step To Degree

TALLAHASSEE—It cost James Francis Facos $30 to take the final step to a master's degree. He took the final examination by telephone.

Facos, who has been hospitalized frequently with injuries suffered as a World War II bombardier, lives at Springfield, Mass. He already had passed a written exam at Florida State University and needed only the oral phase to finish up.

So a panel of professors shot the questions to him from their end of the line and he answered from his. The exam took about an hour.

Large doses of estrogen appear indistinguishable in their ultimate effect on blood chemistry. They will make a full report on that when the work is completed. Including, of course, the answer to the key question for men: are there still feminizing "side effects" even in doses of 10 millionths of a gram?

Aircraft Experts Predict Helicopter Era in 50 Years

BY GEORGE C. BARLAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK—That the soaring maverick of the air lanes, the helicopter, is expected to churn up a major transportation revolution within the next 50 years.

With jet and atomic-powered motors, the whirlybirds of the future can be expected to darken the skies between key U. S. cities carrying anywhere from 50 to 100 passengers at speeds of conventional aircraft, according to many far-sighted industry officials.

Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, chairman of Eastern Airlines, said recently that all cities of any size will soon building heliports in their downtown areas and bridge the streets to make heliports for the convenience of the greatest number of people.

Help By 1960
However, more immediate promises are held out to the neighborhood commuter whose frazzled nerves and threadbare disposition cannot wait for this transportation millennium.

D. Le Roy Du Vivier, North American manager of Sabena Belgian World Airlines, predicted that turbo-jet powered helicopters now being tested will be in commercial operation by 1960 or 1961.

Du Vivier, whose company operates Europe's largest helicopter service, further forecasts that these "jet-jet" helicopters will make commuter hops "competitive" with rail travel.

As the range and payload of helicopters increase, passenger service between such cities as New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Baltimore and Washington not only will be feasible but economically practical, he said. The same will be true for Detroit, Chicago, Los Angeles and Buffalo areas.

Bus Men's Opinion
Robert L. Cummings Jr., president of New York Airways, a company operating a helicopter shuttle service between airports in this area, predicted that by 1965 more than a million commuters a year will be transported in and out of this city by "copters."

"Such a feat," he said, "can be multiplied in big urban centers all over the country."

Some of the nation's big inter-city bus companies are keeping an eye cocked on developments in the field.

Arthur S. Genet, president of Greyhound Corp., said his company made an effort in 1960 to enter the helicopter transportation business but found it "economically impractical."

The bus executive said that while he is ready to "jump" as soon as the radical mode of travel looks "promising," he feels the aircraft industry is too optimistic about its timetable.

Public Protests Now-You-See-It, Now-You-Don't TV

BY VERNON SCOTT
United Press Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD.—Public opinion murdered Hollywood's first timid attempt at televised subliminal perception before it could be demonstrated on the air.

The now-you-see-it, now-you-don't process of communicating with viewers was to make its debut on station KTLA Channel 5 next month, but station bigwigs have been scared off by mountains of multicolored mail.

General Manager Lou Arnold announced last January that KTLA would flash subliminal messages to viewers at a rate 1-60th of a second too fast for the conscious eyes to see.

But the subconscious mind would register such slogans as "drive carefully" and "lock your doors."

Public Is Outraged
Public reaction was immediate and outraged. You'd have thought the station was attempting to goad its viewers into breaking all 10 Commandments.

"We have been deluged with phone calls, letters and petitions," the harried Arnold said. "I've never seen anything like it."

Made It Clear
"We made it clear we weren't planning to use subliminal methods of advertising, but that didn't make any difference," Arnold said. "Two of our advertisers were interested in using subliminal devices, and a group representing mentally retarded children thought the method might help the youngsters."

Answer the following question truthfully and you'll see what I mean: How often do you eat foods you dislike because you know they are good for you? Fresh fruits are both tasty and healthy, yet how many of you virtually ignore them? And what about liver? It's stuffed with valuable vitamins, but how often do you eat it?

Obviously, this situation is bad enough—but wait, it gets worse.

Great Imitators
Children, as you well know, are great imitators. They inherit order in determining if there is your food habits, just as you any disease, such as tuberculosis probably inherited yours from or diabetes, that is weakening your parents. If these habits are

Sen. Lehman Says Leadership Plan Unrepresentative

NEW YORK.—Former Sen. Herbert H. Lehman says that the present system of congressional leadership "is utterly unrepresentative of the country" and is particularly unrepresentative of the nation's Democratic voters.

For his own Democratic Party he seriously questioned the wisdom of resting party leadership in the hands of a handful of men—Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn, both oriented "to the voters of Texas rather than to the voters of the nation as a whole."

Lehman, speaking before the National Democratic Club at a lunch honoring his 80th birthday, Bayburn, both "men of outstanding ability and patriotic devotion," were nonetheless the prime architects of the Democratic defeat in 1950.

They failed to establish a responsible opposition to the Republican administration, he said by doing "almost everything to prevent any controversial issue from being seriously joined or vigorously debated."

Lehman said he was not as optimistic as most pollsters about a Democratic victory in this fall's congressional elections or in 1960's presidential year. He said congressional Democratic leadership is "substantially better" than it was in the last Congress and that Democratic changes are also better because leadership of the Eisenhower administration "has been considerably worse" than in its first term.

Lehman said he believed both parties should hold annual or biennial conventions to "lay down party policy and give the country a better picture of the national leadership" than is possible through the dominance of congressional leaders.

He said that as a result of the election is coming in the future. "There is no doubt that it is a new method of communication and a means of education."

Plant Inspectors Trained in N. Y.

WASHINGTON.—A unique school is being operated close to the waterfront in lower Manhattan, New York, by the Agriculture Department.

It is training a new generation of plant quarantine inspectors—that sharp-eyed corps of scientists who protect America's farms from foreign plant pests.

The school's goals is to equip men to keep plant pests—insects, nematodes, snails, mites, and disease organisms—away from America's shores. Developing such men is complicated.

The course lasts six months and only men who have had college training in biological sciences can enroll. Three months are spent at lectures and other classroom activities. During the last three months, students practice inspection work in and around New York City under the direction of instructors.

The trainee learns the laws of detecting importation and inspection. There are intensive courses in entomology, botany, plant pathology, and nematology as they relate to quarantine enforcement. Foreign pests likely to arrive with imports of plant materials are given special emphasis.

On rotated assignment, the trainee is sent out to actual inspection sites. This includes docks where the student learns to apply knowledge of pest habits in examining newly arrived ships. He examines cargoes, stores, and personnel quarters. On the pier, he learns how to cooperate with customs inspectors in searching passenger baggage for pest carriers.

At the International Airport, Idlewild, he learns to adapt maritime methods to airborne traffic. At the Hoboken Inspection Station, he learns various ways to inspect and treat propagating material. He is shown advanced methods recently developed through research.

The Center operates year round.

Justice, My Brother

FOUND the judge sitting alone inside the depot, waiting for the train. He looked at the sheriff, "What is it, young man?" "I want to talk to you," I said. "My time is short, but if you can make it brief..." "It's brief," I said. "I promised the judge I would be here at three and pass out twenty years of hard labor to a man after you've heard evidence that proves me of the wife's guilt." "What's the name of the man?" "Luther," he said. "Luther?" "Overland was lying his head off when he said he didn't know it. He knew, because he had seen the man ever since she was from Miami Springs." The judge's attention picked up. "Consider the case, and his eyes became as sharp as drill points. "What's this you're saying?" "You know what I'm saying. You may think it's a thing I've to repeat before you understand it." The train whistled for the grade crossing a few miles out and the judge stood up, beckoning under his arm. "I shouldn't have done it, but I grabbed his arm and swung him around so hard that he fell back down. "The hell with your law book. You hear me out or you ain't going to get on it." "I'm afraid I may have to call Marshall Lottetier here," he said. "Call him here, because I want him to hear it too." "You're serious," the judge said, "Believe me, what you're saying is strange to me. For a moment I thought he was lying, then I knew that he wasn't. Didn't my brother, Cord, fall to you?" "I allow no one to speak to me after a jury returns a verdict; I have no intention of being intimidated or influenced," while I'm pondering a decision." "But he tried to see you?" "I doubt that very much," he said. The train was slowing down and the judge got up again, moving toward the door. He followed him while trying to figure a way to stop him without landing in jail. "Judge, won't you wait? Won't you please listen?" He turned to me, his voice gentle and very kind. "Young man, I can understand your feelings, and believe me, I'm in sympathy with you. Had the evidence been anything but strongly circumstantial, I most certainly would have sentenced your brother to hang. As it is, there was strong doubt, a lack of conclusive proof. In the future any facts that arise—solve the case—"

"No, I'm not. But Heck Overland could be." "That's occurred to me," I said. "I know for sure the stars were shifted from there. I heard my brother say, 'When it comes to having brains, Overland's got it, shipping stolen cattle right under our noses.'"

"I don't know," Bill said. "Not many people get up to Hinder's Springs any more. Myself, I have not been there for some time." He looked at me. "Overland left town right after the fight, I hear tell." He finished his beer, then pushed the glass aside. "You feel up to a little ride, Smokey?"

"At home," I said. "You bring yours along?"

"Yes," he said. "Seemed like only a bunch at the time, but now I'm glad I did it. It's under the front seat of the buggy."

We got up and Bill put his beer stein on the bar. To Lanahan, he said, "Pete, you got a gun around here?"

"Yeah," Lanahan said. "Figuring to shoot somebody?"

"No," Bill said. "Just wondered if I could borrow it."

"I guess, Lanahan said and dug around beneath the bar. He came up with a long-barreled Colt .45 and shoved it toward Bill, who rocked open the loading gate, checked the loads, then slipped it on to me.

"You'll get this back," I said and Bill and I went out.

Since Bill had driven to town in the buggy, I went to the stable to rest a horse for him. When I came back, leading my own and the livery pony, Bill was standing on Lanahan's porch. He was wearing his gun.

"In all the years I'd known him, I'd never seen him packing his six-shooter, but I must say that he wore it pretty casually, as though he had a long-standing familiarity with it. He stuffed Pete Lanahan's .45 in my belt and let it go at that. Even when I practiced regular, I never could draw fast. But I knew which end did the damage and could point it fair to middling, which was about all the average westerner could do.

I had a notion to stop and tell Cord where I was going, in case Heck Overland did me in, but Bill was in a hurry to leave. . .

"He lay on his bed, looking blood. His eyes were wide-open as though he found the dark, calling utterly fascinating"—the story continues tomorrow.

Tallahassee JCs To Place Jingles Along Highways

TALLAHASSEE — The Tallahassee Junior Chamber of Commerce will place forest fire prevention "jingles" along state highway rights-of-way.

The jingles were granted permission for the signs by the state Road Board over opposition of its traffic and planning engineer, Mel Conner.

Conner said any signs along the right of way other than those dealing with traffic safety and route directions would constitute traffic hazards and distract drivers attention from the road.

Tom Fouts, Tallahassee Jaycee, argued, however, that the signs would break "driver hypnosis" in motoring along monotonous stretches of timberland areas and would be a safety device to

Farmers Seeking Aid In Draining Off Floodwaters

CENTER HILL — Stricken farmers in this central Florida farm belt have asked for aid in draining off waters which have flooded at least 39,000 acres of their land.

Superior County Agent O. M. Staines Jr. said that the flooding was caused by heavy rains during the past three weeks which have overflowed lakes in the area. He said drainage canals are clogged with debris and unable to handle the heavy flow.

Staines said the worst flooding is in the Linden-Mabel-Terrytown area where more than 100 growers have lost their cucumber, strawberry or pepper crops.

Rufe Wrenn, county water control board chairman, reported that he and other board members could not get into the Lake Olden area near Linden because high waters had covered roads.

Japanese Plan Modern Pavilion For Brussels Fair

By CHARLES RIDLEY
 United Press Staff Correspondent
BRUSSELS — Japan will show Europeans at this summer's Brussels World Fair a modernistic "temple of the August moon" with industrial power behind it.

The Japanese pavilion, designed and built by architects Kenzo Taniguchi and Ryuei Amano, will be a far cry from the tall wooden pagoda which so beguiled Belgium's King Leopold at the Paris Universal Exhibition of 1889 that he bought it for his own royal park.

Yet it will be open on all sides to nature, the way the Nipponese like their buildings. It will be grain gravel and 300 tons of Japanese rocks will be scattered inside and out.

And it will be walled with Hinoki white-wood panels, the sweet-smelling wood which Japanese have used in their homes for millennium.

The Japanese wood, along with other equipment for the 300,000 exhibit, arrived at Antwerp recently aboard a Japanese freighter.

Three sections

"We aim to show the nature-loving human touch and 3,000 years of tradition in the building and the wondrous Japanese industrial development since the turn of the century," said Yoshio Miyajima, currently representing the commissioner general in charge of the Japanese pavilion at Brussels.

"We want to demonstrate how we have harmonized our ancient culture with our modern mechanization.

"In Japan we felt that the rest of the world does not know enough about us," Miyajima said. "We hope Europeans will understand us better after the six-month Brussels fair."

The Japanese pavilion is divided into three parts:

A section showing Japan's ancient history and its geography. This will include ancient clay idols depicting men, dolls, monkeys, hawks and wild boar, an ancient ivory-and-bamboo inlaid backgammon board, a bronze lacquered mirror Tachi and Wazirashi swords and other objects loaned by the National Museum of Tokyo.

A section showing how Japan has developed in the course of 3,000 years into a modern industrial nation. Emphasizing the most recent phase of its history, huge photographs show the atomic destruction of Hiroshima and Nagasaki. Other photographs show how the nation repaired the damage. This section also features delicate instruments made by the Tokyo Shibusawa Electric Company and the Sony Corporation lenses, optical glass and cameras for which Japan has found a booming market.

Dancers To Perform

A section showing the long tradition of national life behind the displays of textiles. This section shows an array of the traditional household objects such as rice bowls, tea-cups, sake (rice wine) bottles and cups, rice services, flower bowls and folkloric dolls. Japanese Nations Day at the 47-nation fair is May 13. Folklore dancers are coming over from Tokyo to dance to the haunting traditional music. There will also be a mammoth fireworks display.

Outside of the exhibition, the Japanese hope to show—and sell—hundreds of kimono dating all periods of Japanese history, in addition to silk ties and dolls.

But the great hit of the Japanese exhibit is expected to be the restaurant, facing the romantic Japanese garden which will surround the pavilion when it is completed.

Because of a Belgian law against importation of foreign flora, the Japanese were not able to import characteristic trees for the garden. As a substitute they are using willows, maples and pine trees grown in Belgium.

Jose de San Martin, who played a leading part in helping Argentina, Chile and Peru to become independent of Spain, was called the Napoleon of South America.

THE CARD OF THANKS

Very often a Card of Thanks in The Sanford Herald meets a need which is difficult to fill in any other way. Not only is it a gracious expression of gratitude to those who have been kind and helpful, but it also courteously acknowledges the services and kindnesses of the many to whom a personal note of thanks cannot well be mailed.

Newspaper Cards of Thanks are accepted as socially correct. Emily Post, the noted authority on etiquette, feels they serve many good uses.

There is no prescribed form for a Card of Thanks. It can be as brief or as detailed as you desire. When the occasion comes, you will find a sympathetically understanding member of our staff to assist you.

THE "IN MEMORIAM" NOTICE

It is the custom of many families in this country to commemorate a bereavement by an "In Memoriam" notice in newspaper classified columns. They find a real solace therein. Preparation of such notices is a suitable verse brings back to them tender, pleasant recollections. As Eliza Cook, the English poet has so beautifully expressed it:

"How cruelly sweet are the echoes
That start
What memory plays an old tune
On the heart.

Most frequently an In Memoriam is inserted on the anniversary of death. However, other dates, which it is felt are appropriate or meaningful are also selected. The birthday of the departed, the wedding anniversary, Memorial Day, even Christmas are among other significant occasions chosen.

If you are hesitant to express your tender thoughts in poetic form, you may avail yourself of the Herald's collection of original verses. These express in poetic beauty the emotions of the heartstrings. Among them are verses appropriate to any circumstance.

CARDS OF THANKS and IN MEMORIAM notices, due to the fact they may run to considerable length, are billed at $1.00 per column inch.

Milanesa Grows Some Pearls To Prove Point

MILAN, Italy—If someone else can do it, a Milanesa can do it too. And that includes growing artificial pearls. Jewel wholesaler Enrico Campodonico spent seven years in Japan and said he did it merely for sport, since he is not trying to crack Japan's monopoly on the world market of artificial pearls. ...

But he did not give up his pet idea. When he went to Japan on a business trip in 1960, Campodonico took a careful look at the oyster fields near Osaka, and located all the oysters needed to live and thrive in clean water, no waves and plenty of seaweed. ...

President To Send Congress Proposal For Reorganizing Pentagon

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower planned to send Congress today his proposal for reorganizing the Pentagon to put more power in the hands of the secretary of defense.

The President also said the defense secretary has to have a degree of financial flexibility for defense planning. But he said the question of how much financial authority the secretary should have is for Congress to decide.

makers to give the defense secretary direct control over the size, composition and strategic planning of the Armed Forces.

Another defense request Eisenhower sent Congress Wednesday was the creation "at the earliest possible date" of a civilian-run National Aeronautics and Space Agency to direct non-military, scientific space projects.

He also requested an extra $1,455,757,000 for stepped-up space research programs, and more missiles, H-bombers and Polaris-firing submarines in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The new expenditures would hike defense outlays next year above $40 billion dollars—a step almost certain to cancel out the $60 million dollar budget surplus predicted by the President last January.

The Senate preparedness subcommittee meanwhile summoned Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy to a hearing today to give progress report on post-Sputnik steps he has taken to beef up the nation's defense program.

Changes Unnecessary
At his news conference Wednesday the President said he did not think his Pentagon reorganization plan "necessarily" would require great changes in present law.

Weather
Partly cloudy becoming mostly cloudy with scattered showers Friday; low tonight 64 to 72.

Citrus Earnings High Despite Bad Winter

LAKELAND (UP)—Florida's citrus growers came out of their most frosty winter with the sweet smell of orange blossoms in their groves and a large pile of green money in their banks.

The winter was the coldest in Florida history, but higher prices on the fruit they did manage to produce made up for all the discomfort and extra work. Their 1957-58 winter income may be the best ever.

The reason is the law of supply and demand. Citrus is less plentiful now and consumers are willing to pay more for it. The result—the basic price of Florida oranges this year is about twice what it was at the same time last year.

The segments of the industry suffering solid financial blows from the series of freezes which began in December and continued through February are growers in northern lowland areas where the cold hit the hardest, suppliers and laborers.

The firms which manufacture boxes, sacks, cans and other materials used in the industry were hurt by the drop in fruit volume. The workers were hurt because fewer of them were needed. And some growers in the hardest hit areas simply haven't got enough fruit to take advantage of the price increases.

2 Men Narrowly Escape Death In Wreck Today

Two men narrowly escaped being crushed to death when the 1955 Cadillac in which they were riding went out of control and crashed into trees and underbrush early this morning.
