Students Raving About Music Clinic

By DELORES BAILEY
Everyone who went to the All-State Music Clinic in Tampa has come home more than a week. The Clinic seems to be all they want to talk about.

Fifteen members of the Glee Club, Middle-Tones and six members of our S. R. S. Band attended. From the Glee Club were Linda Anderson, Connie Brown, Marcia Bumgardner, Diana Flanders, Marcia Loecheit, Janice Luzzo, Shirley Morgan, Ellen Viles, Lynda Yesske, Johnny Barry, Donnie Carter, Al Collins, Pat Donahoe, David Stanley, and Teddy Walker. From the Band were Irma Corley, Amoret Spier, Sue Ann Toney, Wally Pope, Dick Rountree, and Berry St. John. Mr. Cowley was their patient bus driver and chaperone. Also acting as chaperones were Mrs. Cowley, Miss Whitte, and Nedie.

Thursday morning, Jan. 9, their school bus was packed with suitcases, formal, and uniforms. All the way to Tampa Pat played a whole.

They arrived in Tampa at their hotel, the Mirasol on Davis Island, in time to unpack, eat supper, and then go to rehearsal. Most of the rehearsals were held near the University of Tampa, more than a mile from the hotel. From the way those people talk, they walked everywhere they went!

At the first rehearsal, they got acquainted with their directors, Bernard Fitzgerald, of the University of Kentucky directed the High School Concert Band. The High School Chorus was directed by George F. Krueger, of Indiana University.

After their practices, they went back to the hotel, where the Sanford Clinic members played records and danced in the lobby 'til 11:30 that night. The hotel manager at the Mirasol must have been a very nice person to let them do that.

Friday morning, after a very busy breakfast, everyone hurried to rehearsal again, and they didn't stop working until time for lunch. That afternoon, rehearsals were still scheduled. But from 8:00 to 10:00 o'clock that night a dance was sponsored for Clinic students. Those who went said that they enjoyed the dance very much. Again, they were allowed to play records in the hotel lobby.

Saturday morning, the chorus members had to report to the Armory for their rehearsal. Everyone was dismissed at noon, and given an afternoon, with no rehearsals. The directors recommended that all Clinic members go to their hotels to rest for the concert that night. Our Clinic members decided to go out together for dinner, after the concert, since they didn't have time to eat and dress in formal clothes before the concert.

And so they reported to the Armory at 6:30 for the final rehearsal, that of the mass chorus and band number. Promptly at 8:00 o'clock the concert began. The Junior High Chorus offered seven songs, and then the High School Concert Orchestra performed four numbers. The High School Chorus presented five songs, after which the High School Concert Band played five selections. Then all four Clinic divisions participated in the last song, "O, Brother Man."

After the concert, the Sanford Clinic members and chaperones went to Howard Johnson's for dinner. They didn't finish dinner until 12. There was no dancing in the hotel that night; it was a little late, and everyone was too tired, anyway!

Everyone was planning to stay up all night, but they didn't quite make it. Most everybody skipped breakfast Sunday morning, so they could sleep just a little bit longer. They left Tampa around 9:30 Sunday morning. They say there was no music on the way home, because everyone was trying to sleep (for the first time in three days!).

They did revive enough to eat lunch in Groveland. (There was something mentioned about a pretty girl in Groveland, that went steady with Pat during lunch. But no one will tell me the whole story.)

When questioned about Clinic, the participants say, "We had a wonderful time at Clinic in Tampa and we met a lot of people. We worked extremely hard, but even enjoyed the work. We learned a great deal. It was exciting, and an experience that we'll always remember."

Only one mishap occurred during the trip. Connie Brown accidentally dropped a camera from the top row of bleachers in the

I see Connie Brown has a ride to school every morning, and I don't mean the school bus. Tell us more about it, Connie?

Beverly and Darrell are still dating regularly. Good for them. I think they are a perfect match. I wonder who the matchmaker was?

I've heard that Richard Phagan and Jean Southward have been dating quite often lately. Isn't that wonderful? I think so.

It seems that Bobby Holloway has a girlfriend in Art. Who can it be?

Freddie Knight has been running around with a love light in his eyes. Who caught it, Freddie? We're all sorry to hear Mr. Lande is leaving Seminole High. But nevertheless, good luck in your new business venture, Mr. Lande.

Why is it that Cindy Roullet can't have the car? It was fun though wasn't it, Cindy?

That lone wolf, Teddy Walker, is still lone. You bright Senior girls should be doing something about this, or should I say, Teddy?

Joe Pickens and Joyce Benton are dating now. Congratulations, Joe. (Joyce the Senior that is.) She is really a nice girl. You wouldn't choose a sweeter girl.

What has happened to Pat Donahoe's class ring? It could be on some lucky girl's finger. And she could be from New Smyrna. Is this true, Pat?

Jimmy Cordell has been taking that gorgeous Kay Ivey out. I think he should continue doing this. She's a real doll.

Nancy Richards and Ernie Morris are still faithful to each other. Everyone is happy about this. He's a mighty nice guy, Nancy. Hold onto him.

Well, Angelo, I'll be signing off for now. This is the Snoper, Dolores, saying to pick up a paper next week to read your favorite column, (I hope). Again, Bye-Bye now.

Couple Of Week

By FAYE GARNER
The "Couple of the Week" is Janet Glenn and Alva Collins. Janet was born in Illinois but has been a native of Sanford for eleven years. She is a sophomore and is president of her class. Janet is active in her class, pep club, and is president of the Latin club.

Al was born and reared right here in Sanford. Interested in sports, he is on the "A" squad football team and track team. He is a thespian and is president of the Key Club.

Janet and Al are well-liked by everyone. They have been going steady since Jan. 13. Congratulations and good luck to a real cute couple.

Armory. Connie's still glad she went!

Confidentially, between you and me, I don't think we have heard the last of Clinic. Most of the Sanford people who went to Clinic have ordered the records that were made of the concert. You'll let us hear your records, won't you?

Kiddie Korner

By John Miller
Well (sorry day), Christmas vacation is over for another year, and it's back to the old grind again. I'm sure many of us would and did welcome school again, but as for this reporter, well, he'd rather loaf. How 'bout you?

Since we have not put out an issue of the paper for several weeks, I'll try to sort of bring my column up to date. (Please pardon me for not using the plural tense of the personal pronoun I, me, etc. Our splendid editor and worthy advisor tells me that it's good reporting language, but since this column is an informal one, anyway, I'd just as soon use the singular.)

Of course the Key Club Christmas Formal was just perfect in every respect, as everyone knows by now. It was handled with the utmost in taste, entertainment, and decorations. The decorations must have been mighty special, because for days afterward I was stopped by members of the KC who asked if "you liked the tree". Also, the girls' formals were spectacular. If I stepped on one train (or whatever you call 'em), I must have stepped on a thousand. I know for a fact that Sunny Skinner's coat was trodden on many a time during the evening. Oh, well, Sunny wasn't looking at the coat!

The tree cakes were just right as refreshments. That darn bartender was so uncooperative, though. He didn't have anything on hand. Everybody was teasing Barbara Bradley about having her coke spiked. Too bad you didn't get the free dinner for two at Spencer's, Barbara.

We tried to get up a delegation to invade the bar, but, alas, everybody was chicken. And they had the most interesting drink, too; it was called the "Grasshopper", and cost a dollar and a quarter. I spent all evening wondering about that thing. Of course, the entertainment was wonderful. Everyone got into the spirit of the thing, and although I could mention a few girls who weren't especially happy about the Broom Dance, we boys were convulsed with laughter. And the position some people can get into while dancing! And all to keep a little lemon from falling, too. Shame, shame.

People, I am hard up for news. If you have anything, I would appreciate it if you would send me at school, or call me at home. My number is Fairfax 2-0723, NOT FA 2-0728, as they printed in the handbook. If you want a good column, I have to have material. You know, originally this was supposed to be a column for freshmen. However, it seems to have become a sort of mixture. People are always stopping me, looking me straight, and saying, "Are YOU the Miller who writes that column in 'Smoke Signals'?" I wonder... should I deny it? After all, I WRITE this stuff. I don't read it like you do. Well, I DO read it after I'm done, but you always view something that you did yourself in an entirely different light than you would view it if it was written by someone else. Heavens, if the County Judge reads it, I'll probably get hauled into court for contributing to the delinquency of minors. But I'm a minor, too. They'll probably just stick me up at Chattahoochee and be done with it. Oh, well, I don't know that that would be too bad. My mother drove by it one time, and said that it looked very peaceful. I guess if you're loony you're loony.

I know something about John Ott. You know how everybody thought he was so quiet? Well, he has to that. He's been reading "The Adventures of Dracula" in his spare time. Maybe he's taking a correspondence course in the art of being a werewolf. Anyway, the book looked interesting. Guess that just proves you can't make snap opinions of people. I'm fully expecting a breakout of grave-robbing within the next week or so. It won't be before that, because John hasn't gotten his final exam back yet. You can guess where he had to send it!

Well, I must finish my homework so I can watch television. Happy New Year. (Editor's note: Dear readers, to give you an example of what John Miller ACTUALLY writes, I have passed this column by without altering, revising, or censoring one single, solitary, unorthodox, and outlandish statement. Be not surprised to find me without the confines of the state when this bizarre column appears, and to whatever lawyer defends John Miller I add: plead frailty of mind for John ACTUALLY he has few, widely-separated SANE moments.)

Problem Corner

Dear Readers,
This is the same Miss Cry-Shoulder who was believed to have skipped town, but who was actually just swamped to no end with a few thousand serious problems of her own to attend to. It was most thoughtful of a friend of mine to volunteer to continue my column, but I'm sure I can manage once more. Miss Cry-Shoulder writes again. Thank you, Dear Miss Cry-Shoulder.

I am a senior who has had several desirable opportunities for work away from my hometown after graduation. My parents are upset over the idea of my leaving home and I am desperate for a decision as graduation is drawing near. Should I settle for a less important job and continue to live at home to keep my parents happy?

Dear Senior,
If I were you, I think I would continue living at home and settle for a less important job, as you phrased it, for a while until I adjusted to the situation of earning my own living. I'm certain your parents would be much happier

Over Two-Thirds Of Expenditure In '59 Budget For Farm Price Aid

WASHINGTON (UP)—In last week's scathing attack on Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, the chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee accused Benson of sharp practices.

Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) was the fiercest. He objected to Benson's estimate of the 1959 cost of the farm price subsidy, contending that other costs were included in the lump sum which Benson was reading from a prepared statement.

The lump sum was $2,300,000,000 and Benson was coming in his text to mention of the economic, military and other activities abroad which also were included in the figure. He failed to get that far, however, before Ellender and others cut in with their charge that Benson was attempting to mislead the public with a padded estimate of farm subsidy burdens on the federal Treasury.

Republican senators joined Democrats in giving Benson as rough a congressional going over as any cabinet officer is likely to face unless he were up for impeachment. Benson would have been better off explaining his program before the Senate in its chamber than he could hope to before the Agriculture Committee.

The committee was led by Ellender. It reflects the opinion, prejudices and aspirations of one of the most effective pressure groups operating in American politics. That group commonly is called the farm bloc.

Benson spent six somewhat disorderly hours before the Senate committee attempting to state the administration's case for its farm proposals which are intended to reduce or prevent over-production and thereby to cut the costs of government efforts to support basic farm prices with federal subsidies.

There are facts and figures on both sides of the argument. Benson's best argument is that the subsidy program has not worked so far. The taxpayer who is or is not a farmer has a stake and a legitimate interest in the farm price ruckus now developing here. The taxpayer pays the bills and the bills have been considerable over the years.

For a lasting solution of the farm problem the price would have been cheap. But the problem remains and the money is gone.

Without trying to mislead anyone, as Benson was accused of trying, it is worth knowing that a publication called the federal budget in brief states that federal expenditures for 10 fiscal years, 1950-59, inclusive, for functions for "agriculture and agriculture resources" add up to $33,400,000,000.

These functions are officially described as farm price support and related programs, agricultural land and water resources, rural electrification and rural telephone loans, farm ownership and operation loans, research and other agricultural items.

In the new 1959 budget, for example, more than two-thirds of the projected expenditure is for farm price support and related programs. That accounts for $3,200,000,000 of the $4,600,000,000 budgeted. That is more money than the preceding Democratic administration was accustomed to spend to aid farmers.

Harry S. Truman prepared the budget for 3 of the 10 fiscal years referred to. The greatest expenditures in any of those years for agriculture and agricultural resources was $2,900,000,000 in 1958. The least under President Eisenhower was $4,400,000,000 in 1953.

Weather
Partly cloudy and colder tonight and Saturday; low tonight 43 to 48.

Jaycee Award To Be Awarded Tonight

Twelve past presidents of the Sanford - Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce yesterday held the "highlights of their administration" at the Jaycee Past Presidents' luncheon held at the Yacht Club.

Floyd Palmer, the first president of the local organization said that the "Sanford Zoo was our project" and the top highlight being the organization of the State Jaycees organization here in 1956.

M. L. Horn Sr., Ed Kirchhoff, Richard Deas all related highlights of their terms as president of the Jaycees.

Brinley Odham said "It was the greatest experience of my life thus far. Civic improvement," said Odham, "is like life itself. It is a continuing proposition." Odham served also as State President of the Jaycees.

Gordon Bradley, William H. Stemper, John Kador, Douglas Stenstrom, Cliff Able, Tommy Peterson and G. Andrew Speer all spoke briefly of their experiences and highlights.

Stenstrom told the Jaycees "I think we are on the threshold of our greatest year—the outcome of which will be largely determined by young men like you. I believe the Jaycees can have a big part in that year."

Past presidents, immediately following the luncheon meeting, considered nominations for the Jaycee Distinguished Service Award. The selection remains a secret until tonight when the award will be presented by a National Director of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The annual Jaycee banquet will be held tonight at the Shrine Club building beginning at 7:30.

The banquet climaxes Jaycee Week, a week in which Jaycees demonstrated to the public what they do and how it is done.

M. L. Horn Jr., president of the local Jaycees said that the organization will assist in the forming of a Safety Committee which will be made up of representatives from various civic clubs.

Over 50 members attended yesterday's luncheon.

Rotarians To Tell Favorite Funny Stories At Meet

Sanford Rotarians, at their regular meeting Monday afternoon at the Yacht Club, will be given an opportunity to offer their favorite funny stories for the delight of their fellow members, program chairman for the day Charlie Morrison announced this morning.

"The rainy, cold weather of the past several days has caused many of us to get a rather dreary, down-hearted outlook on things," said the usually genial "good-will guy" in answer to the question as to why he is coming up with a funny story producer, Monday.

"We had our choice of two movies, another speaker (and wasn't Dr. Decker who spoke to us last Monday on Venezuela, outstanding?), and vocational service talks," Morrison continued. "But the thought came to us that a few laughs would do us a world of good; might even cause us to smile at our respective wives, for a change. So we're asking our members to cooperate and tell us his favorite laugh producer. A suitable prize will be given to the man whose effort gets the biggest laugh," he concluded.

Chicago Banker To Be In Sanford For Lions' Arrival

The arrival of two lion cubs in Sanford on Feb. 5 will be a big occasion with a Chicago banker here for the occasion.

Harold W. Lewis, vice president of the First National Bank of Chicago, will come to Sanford to see the two lion cubs from Cleveland, O. safely placed in their new cages at the zoo.

Lewis, said Mervin Crandall of the Florida State Bank, was one of the first people "I contacted in search of a lion for the Sanford Zoo." Crandall revealed that Lewis furnished names of zoos he contacted where lion cubs might be obtained.

The two lion cubs, the state donated to the Sanford Zoo by the Florida State Bank and the female donated by the Sanford - Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be shipped to Sanford by air.

"It's so cold in the Midwest," said Crandall, "that even the lions are coming south."

Riddle Air Lines will bring the two cubs from the Midwest on a non-stop flight to Atlanta, Ga. and then on to Orlando where they will be met by a host of Sanford officials and dignitaries.

"We don't know yet what our plans will be but a great program and reception are being planned," he said.

The airline stop in Orlando will be at 7 o'clock in the morning and "we expect to have everyone there with bells on," said Crandall to welcome the two new members of the Sanford Zoo family.

Crandall revealed this morning that the two cubs are of the same litter. "There were three," he said, "and one has already been sold."

City Manager Warren E. Knowles is assisting in the planning of the reception. However, right now, the City Manager is busy getting three lion cages renovated and ready for the two cubs' arrival.

Chief Roy G. Williams, it was revealed this morning, bought the first lion for the Sanford Zoo.

U. S. Speeding Work On 'Magnetic Bottle'

WASHINGTON (UP)—A U. S. scientist disclosed today this country is speeding work on a device expected to set off controlled H-bomb reactions at temperatures twice those in the center of the sun.

The scientist, Dr. Lyman Spitzer Jr. of Princeton University, said he expects the device, called "magnetic bottle"—to go into operation in early 1960 and produce temperatures of 50 million degrees centigrade.

That is 20 to 30 million degrees higher than temperatures in the sun's thermonuclear firebox and 10 to 20 million degrees higher than those necessary to sustain one kind of H-bomb reaction under study as a possible power source.

Tame H-Bomb Violence
Spitzer emphasized, however, that the new device will be merely a laboratory gadget and not a power plant. He agreed with other experts on both sides of the Atlantic that the day of unlimited thermonuclear power from controlled H-bomb reactions is "many years" distant.

Spitzer and nearly a dozen other scientists joined Atomic Energy Commission officials at a news briefing on recently declassified papers reporting progress of British and American projects to tame the H-bomb's violence for peaceful power.

Both governments made it clear, however, that the work is still in the research stage and the huge British and American investments in atomic power are not in jeopardy.

The two nations partners in the thermonuclear research since 1946, simultaneously released technical papers reporting all H-bomb discoveries except in what was described as "a very small area" which might have military application.

Hunting Club For Youngsters To Be Formed

Youngsters will have the thrill of their lives Saturday night when a "hunting club", all their own, will be formed.

J. P. Sizelove, a construction worker of Lake Mary, said, when he announced plans to organize a hunting club for boys between 12 and 15, that "I would rather see a group of boys in the woods hunting than behind the wheel of a hotrod."

Sizelove said that boys interested in learning more about hunting, hunting safety, hunting rules, and good sportsmanship, will meet tomorrow night at the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce Bldg.

"I've talked to Hugh Carlton of the Sanford Junior High School and to Harold Heckenbach of the Sanford Grammar School and they'll all for it," he said.

As a matter of fact, Sizelove talked to eligible boys at Sanford Grammar School yesterday and there was "wonderful reaction."

"Most everyone agreed that it would be a good idea," the young hunting enthusiast said.

Sizelove revealed yesterday that he has been hunting since he was old enough to get into the woods. "My home is in Kentucky," he said, "and I started hunting when I was only six years old."

"You can say that I've practically spent my life in the woods and I like it," he commented yesterday.

"We're going to have our first meeting Saturday night and see just how many boys between 12 and 15 want to learn hunting and form their own hunting club," said Sizelove.

Male Chorus Will Sing Sunday Night At Church Service

A group from the Male Chorus of Sanford will be heard in two special selections at the evening worship service at the First Methodist Church here, at 7:30 o'clock, chorus director Harry M. Welton announced today.

The men will sing "Heaven Is My Home" and "Near To The Heart of God". Mrs. Lulu Bailey will assist as piano accompanist. The service will be broadcast over WTRB.

Hope For Early Release Of Six Americans Dim

WASHINGTON (UP)—Hopes for early releases of six Americans held prisoner in Communist China dimmed today.

Officials had given about a 50-50 chance of success to the direct appeals of three American mothers, now in China, to the Peiping government to release their sons. But Peiping radio announced today that the appeals have been rejected.

Earlier it was learned that the Communist government also has failed to answer a U. S. offer, made six weeks ago, to resume the ambassadorial talks at Geneva on release of prisoners and other matters.

The American - Red Chinese negotiations were halted Dec. 12 when U. Alexis Johnson, chief American negotiator, told Chinese diplomats he was being recalled for reassignment.

At the farewell meeting Johnson said the United States would be glad to appoint a new negotiator if the Chinese Reds agreed to resume the negotiations. No answer has been received yet from the Peiping regime.

Diplomatic experts believe the Chinese Reds will resume the talks. President Eisenhower is expected to nominate John M. Allison, who has been recalled as ambassador to Indonesia, to be the next U. S. ambassador to Czechoslovakia succeeding Johnson.

He also would serve as the top U. S. negotiator at Geneva, if the Johnson precedent is followed.

The United States would be reluctant to break off the Geneva talks entirely. The meetings, which began in August 1955, are believed to have prevented trouble between the two countries.

50 Men Receive Good Conduct Medals Today

Fifty men of Fleet Aircraft Service Squadron Fifty One received Good Conduct Medals and Bronze Stars in lieu of subsequent medals at a commanding officers inspection this morning at the Sanford Naval Air Station.

Personnel inspection this morning, Cdr. Herschel A. Pahl, commanding officer of FASRON-51, commended the squadron for its achievement.

"You have improved wonderfully since the last inspection," he told the squadron.

Uniform of the day was dress blues. The inspection was held this morning in the hangar area due to the inclement weather.

Cdr. Pahl presented each award personally and congratulated each individual for his achievement.

Those receiving the Good Conduct medals today are: A. G. Hague, ATC; P. N. Fritts, AEC; A. J. Gregus, ADG; R. M. Cook, ADC; F. S. O'Connor, Jr., AGL; L. L. Carter, PHG; G. P. Bonini, AMI; L. E. Mathieux Thank People For Help

"We just can't stop thanking everybody for all that they've done for us," Mrs. Elizabeth Mathieux said this morning.

"Frankly, we didn't realize that people could be so good and so thoughtful," she said.

"People have been so wonderful to us and we're so grateful and proud that we have so many friends," Mrs. Mathieux stated.

"We have been deluged with clothes and food, some of it coming from as far away as Jacksonville, and from Orlando and Sanford," she said.

"Our biggest problem right now is to find a home and get settled," Elizabeth Mathieux revealed this morning.

Joe Mathieux and his wife Elizabeth, lost their home Saturday afternoon when fire destroyed it before anything could be removed.

Speaking for her husband and children, Mrs. Mathieux, thoroughly convinced that everybody is a friend said "Thank God for living in America and for those that have even thought of us and remembered us in their prayers."

And that's the way it has been. People—friends and neighbors everywhere—have responded to the loss of the Mathieux home. News spread throughout the county following the disastrous fire that reduced the Geneva home to ashes so quickly.

There have been offers of clothing, shoes, furniture—everything one would need, Mrs. Mathieux revealed this morning.

Mathieux Thank People For Help revealed this morning.

But that's the way Sanford and Seminole County friends are. They "turn to", so to speak, to furnish everything that has been lost—and to bring happiness where otherwise there would have been sorrow.

"We will never get through thanking everybody, for they've all been good to us," Joe and Elizabeth Mathieux said.

Umpire School Opens 22nd Year

In spite of the inclement weather, a fairly large group of friends of the popular group of George Barr Umpire School attended the opening of the 22nd session of the Barr "Umpire University" at the Longwood Hotel, yesterday afternoon. Prominent among the visitors were Mrs. John J. McGraw and Mrs. Clarence Jonard whose husbands were at one time associated with the Giants; Mrs. Grace Edwards, Mrs. Melba St. John, Mrs. Purdy Van Winkle, Mrs. John Purdy, Mrs. Henry Jameson, Mrs. W. E. Jameson and Mrs. Ruth Hamilton.

Charlie Morrison, Sanford's "good-will" Ambassador, pinning the trophy on L. V. (Dick) McLaughlin, who for the past seven years did the opening day honors, but who was forced to stay at home on account of illness, introduced the Rev. Robert J. Spear, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene who offered the invocation. Mayor Bob Klein of Longwood, welcomed the school and the visitors to his community and after which Mayor Merle Warner extended a welcome on behalf of the citizens of Sanford. Morrison then introduced John Krider, former president of the Florida State League for many years, presently chairman of the Board of County Commissioners of Seminole County and Manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

Krider engaged in a few reminiscences that brought smiles to his hearers after which Morrison introduced friends of the school: C. D. Brown, Howard McNulty, Roland Weston and Mervin Crandall, three of the staff of the Florida State Bank; Howard Chadwick, Henry Jameson and several others. Each student at the school then arose and introduced himself and the place from which he came.

Many were in the armed services and one was sent here by the Veteran's Rehabilitation Service. They came from all sections of the country and each expressed the hope that the "sun would soon shine."

Morrison introduced Barr as a former major league umpire of 10 years in the "big show" who has been coming to Central Florida for many years. The genial, "listening dome" exponent of "calling 'em as you see 'em" was in great form and kept the audience in a spirit of fun and seriousness as he mentioned what was expected of the men and what they could accomplish.

The meeting closed with the taking of pictures to record the event, after which the Rev. Spear pronounced the benediction.

Jesus loves me
...this I know

I still remember the happy words, and the easy tune.
It was the first hymn I ever learned.
More important, I remember the certainty with which I sang "This I know!"
That was faith... My faith, firm... undoubting.
Have I outgrown that faith? No! But I have grown out from it. The ever-widening circle of experience has been drawing me away from the Center of life.
And when I heard little Janey singing her happy hymn just as I once sang it... I knew it was time to get back to the Real, the Unchanging.
And I've found that the Church is the one place in all this world where a man's heart—free from dread, fear, uncertainty—can sing "THIS I KNOW!"

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church: They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Study Of Combat Surveillance Begun

BUFFALO, N. Y.—The Army has assigned Cornell Aeronautical Laboratory Inc. to tackle a rather unusual project—combat surveillance.

According to a CAL spokesman, combat surveillance long has been a neglected area in effectively developing a capability for both large-scale and limited war.

Under a contract awarded by the Signal Corps, a cooperative group will be set up in the Washington, D. C., area composed of CAL scientists and engineers in company with military personnel of the Army Combat Surveillance Agency. The study will be conducted over a two-year period.

Issue Authorized $1 Million Bond

TALLAHASSEE—The Development Commission has authorized a one million dollar bond issue to finance acquisition of right-of-way for improvements to major highways through traffic congested St. Augustine.

The funds will be pledged to acquire right-of-way for the completion of four-laning U. S. 1 through St. Augustine, reconstruction of parts of SR A-1-A in St. Augustine and re-location of SR A-1-A from Mantanzas Inlet bridge to the Flagler County line.

Waco Has Plan To Attract Buyers

WACO, Tex.—This thriving city of 110,000 in the heart of Central Texas believes it has found the answer to the problem of a buying shift to the suburban centers.

A new organization known as Downtown Waco, Unlimited, already has sponsored one event that gave cash registers a merry jingle.

Three blocks of Austin Avenue in the heart of the city—were closed to all but foot and emergency traffic for a showing of new automobiles.

Baptists Publish Own Profile

Religious News
By LOUIS CASSELL
United Press Staff Correspondent

While the Southern Baptists may not reach that goal, it does seem likely that they will, in a good deal less than 10 years, surpass the Methodist church to become the nation's largest Protestant denomination.

When the last official count was taken, the Methodist church had 8,222,883 members to 8,708,823 for the Southern Baptist Convention. But that was in 1956, and many churchmen feel the gap has closed considerably since then.

Twenty-One West German Scientists To Be Released

MOSCOW—The Soviet government is preparing to release 21 West German scientists, including rocket experts, and their families who have been working in Russia since the end of World War II.

It was the first such group to be released in years although West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has asked their return in correspondence with Premier Nikolai Bulganin.

The "Cart Before The Horse" Comes Now At The Wrong Time

There have been many examples of "the cart before the horse" type.

But Tuesday provided one of the prime examples when Seminole County Commissioners refused to cross the "budget line" to appropriate $10,000 to the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

Minutes after a terrific round of heated discussion, participated in by some of Sanford's leading business men, the board of commissioners approved "deficit spending" to put Big Tree Park in shape so people could visit it.

"This is one of Florida's few free attractions," Clerk of the Board O. P. Herndon told commissioners at a prior meeting and "we should go all out to make it a place of attraction."

However, we contend that a place of attraction is worthless unless a program to attract people to it is carried out—a program such as the advertising program proposed by the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

Present plans seem to indicate that Big Tree Park will be improved and beautified "just to be thrown in the path" of those who pass by perchance.

The road leading to the Big Tree Park, one of the modern highways of the state, was promoted by a committee of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce. The Navy was retained in Sanford and Seminole County through the efforts of a Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Committee.

Many other programs—such as the present Sanford-Titusville Canal dispute—are programs of interested citizens and taxpayers of the county.

As county commissioners well know, the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce is now doing an effective and forward looking job of promoting Seminole County. The industrial program alone is well worth more than the paltry $10,000 the Chamber of Commerce asked for.

The Board of Commissioners has been groping in the dark for funds with which to operate the county government. Growth has provided the means for additional taxation—interest has provided the stimulation for additional growth and expansion—citizens organizations have provided the effort.

There certainly should be no stumbling block placed in the path of progress and expansion.

Commissioners could have found, just as they did for Big Tree Park improvements, the necessary money to provide the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce with funds to carry out its budget—and to fulfill a promise made by the commissioners when the request was made for the appropriation. This is no time to get the cart before the horse!

Medicine In The Years Ahead

As usual, all manner of prognostications have appeared with the new year. A significant one is found in the January 4 issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association. Written by Dr. Julian P. Price, a practicing physician and an AMA trustee, it forecasts some of the changes that will take place in medicine in the next thirty years.

The trend toward specialization will continue, in Dr. Price's view. There will be an increase in group practices in clinics which are staffed and equipped to furnish complete care for the ambulatory patients. At the same time, a new type of general practitioner will emerge to care for those who want individual physicians for themselves and their families. His work will consist of internal medicine, pediatrics and psychiatry, with office procedures in orthopedics, gynecology and surgery.

The hospital building program will continue, with the emphasis on more hospitals in suburban areas and the smaller communities of the country. The large metropolitan hospital will add special wings for the care of the convalescent, the chronically ill, and the patient who needs rehabilitation.

On the scientific side of medicine, there will also be many changes. Due to the increasing number of older people, degenerative diseases will become of greater concern to the physician. Most of the communicable diseases, tuberculosis included, will probably be eradicated. Leukemia and certain types of cancer will be curable. Diabetes will be treated without injections. Various mental diseases will be controlled through drugs. There will be better understanding of all manner of physical plagues—arteriosclerosis, coronary disease, hypertension, and so on. And electronics and atomic energy will be used extensively in the diagnosis and treatment of disease.

It is a bright prospect that Dr. Price presents. And there can be small doubt that independent private medicine will achieve these and many other great goals.

YOKEL nudged the sword swallower at a circus side show and urged that he give a slight demonstration of his skill. The sword swallower obligingly picked up a handful of nails and needles and gulped them down.

"Hold on there," protested the yokel. "Them wasn't swords."

"I know," soothed the sword swallower, "but I'm on a diet."

SCARECROW

My New York

BY MEL MEINER
NEW YORK — I don't want anyone out there to question my bravery ever again. I've just finished meeting Tim Carey and I'm still on my feet, still punching, still snarling all right, you guys, who's next?

Timothy is this year's Jayne Mansfield, male division. Ol' Plain Jayne has slowed down a little now and no longer does anything short of murder to get her name in the public prints. However, Timothy—"Hollywood's wild man"—has taken up the slack.

He's big, black-haired Brooklynite of 24 who is, I am told, an actor. At least he's made pictures and currently is in Paths of Glory. Stanley Kubrick, its director, says of the wild man that he may be a clown of stage but he's "an artistic giant" when you point the camera lens his way.

Kubrick, of course, doesn't have a detached viewpoint, so you'd better go see the picture and make up your own mind. I'll go when I get my breath back. "I'm in this other picture Bayou," Timothy plunged in, something out his Italian silk suit carefully, "and I do such a sensuous dance that it had to be censored. How about that? I got the inspiration for it from Lilli Christine, the burlesque 'Cat Girl,' who I saw dance in the 500 club in New Orleans. It's supposed to be an artistic dance. Hah, hah, it's pure burlesque. Bayou's a good picture but you can't understand most of the actors. Now Paths of Glory is a different kind of picture. It's bold. You might say it's brash. Woman get a spiritual cry out of it."

TIM FINGERED his thick gold wristwatch. "I've seen Paths of Glory 10 or 15 times. I think I'm very good in it. I was oh, kind of subdued in it. I liked the scene where I killed the cockroach." "We were playing French soldiers and Ralph Meeks saw a cockroach on the table and said bitterly 'Look at that cockroach; tomorrow we'll be dead and he'll be alive.' So I slammed my hand on the cockroach and said, 'Now you got the edge on him.'"

"I'm very good with snakes. I've got two, a 10-foot python named Zee Zee and an eight-foot boa constrictor called Emily. I hope they're females. You can't tell with snakes, you know. This friend of mine has a snake farm in Maryland and the first time he showed me some of his pets. I was enticed, you might say. I did a bit with a snake in the Oasis club on Western avenue, Los Angeles, and 30 people ran out of the joint. Snakes are all right. Once a snake is civilized he's no harm at all.

"I did a snake scene at a personal appearance in Hartford, Conn., and had trouble getting a girl to help. I mean, I didn't want to get my mother for it. Got one, through. My snake-farm friend flew in from California to help out. He brought me a big python. Smuggled it on the plane by wrapping it around him.

"We registered the python at the Statler in Hartford as Pete Cajun' but it was disappointing; the hotel people didn't bat an eye. Later I rode through the town with the python around my neck. I guess I might say I threw dignity to the winds."

THERE WAS A LOT MORE OF THIS but maybe you should know some of Timothy's background. He was expelled from five schools and joined the Marines at 15.

Billy Wilder, the director, who had had some unsettling experiences with Tim when the wild man was trying to break into film (Tim came into Billy's bathroom at 4:30 a. m. when the director was getting ready for an early day's work—and promptly asked him for a job, entrusting Wilder so he slashed his chin), ran to get in East of Eden.

"I beat up James Dean in that picture," Tim said thoughtfully. "It was a wonderful experience. In The Killing, I shot a racehorse. My mother wants me to be a priest."

Tim's the man who lasted a week with Columbia, B. C. ball club (he's never played ball) by telling the manager he was a good pitcher but had a sore arm. There's a studio in Hollywood that put up a sign reading 'Let's Make the Best Pictures Here but Let's Make Them Without Timothy Carey.'

Tim is working on three projects: (1) to out-dance Elvis Presley in Mae's window, (2) to kidnap Marilyn Monroe ("with her permission, of course"), and (3) to steal an Oscar.

BY HENRY CATHCART

Central Press Washington Writer
WASHINGTON — Look for bitter opposition on Capitol Hill to plan to end inter-service rivalry by vesting greater power in Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy.

A number of influential legislators say they are convinced that the real answer to the rivalry problem lies in doing away with the Joint Chiefs of Staff system and putting the armed forces under a single chief.

This is the solution urged by Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, who is retiring from the Army in protest against what he calls the "Pentagon system" and its labyrinth of red tape.

Among key lawmakers favorable to Gavin's views are Senator Stuart Symington (D), Missouri, a former secretary of the Air Force, and Senator Ralph Flanders (R), Vermont.

The most powerful Democrat in the Senate, Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, also is said to be receptive to the single chief of staff proposal.

LIKE IN COMMAND — A high source very close to the President has it that he is taking "personal charge" of the defense reorganization problem.

This official said Mr. Eisenhower is exercising his role as commander in chief and that he will devote much of his time to the situation in the coming weeks.

It is reported that the President is considering the designation of a top military man to serve McElroy as overall military adviser. This plan also would concentrate complete defense budget control in the secretary.

While Congress immediately began digging into the matter, White House sources said that Mr. Eisenhower will not rush his recommendations because he does not want to interfere with the present emergency speedup in missile production.

TAXES—UP OR DOWN! — A possible income tax cut this session appears to be out the window at this time as a result of the President's record peacetime spending program, but a definite movement for a reduction will be made if the business downturn continues.

Some of the biggest tax law makers on the Hill take this view and are keeping close tabs on the situation. One of these is Chairman Wilbur D. Mills (D), Arkansas, of the tax-writing House ways and means committee. Another is Rep. Dan Reed, of New York, the chief GOP expert on the group.

DEMOCRATS SPLIT? — The Democrats have a tight hold on Congress, but there is no assurance that they will present a united front on key issues in the new session.

Party chieftains are split on such major problems as foreign aid, reciprocal trade and education.

How, I'm pretty conservative now. I'm writing screenplays and I want to direct. Then I want to retire. Maybe I'll go back to 79th street in Bay Ridge, Brooklyn, to live. I've always been very proud of Bay Ridge.

Inside Washington

THE battle over civil rights left a number of scars and some of the wounds may be reopened. Attempts to pass stringent labor legislation to cope with abuses uncovered in union scandals will put some Democrats on the spot, especially those who count on union political support.

There is also considerable disagreement on how the Pentagon should be reorganized to deal with the missile and satellite programs.

Follies Chairmen Give Enthusiastic Reports At Meet

"Things are going beautifully", exclaimed general chairman of the High Fever Follies, Mrs. Don Brubaker, at a meeting of committee chairmen Wednesday afternoon.

The chairmen gathered in Mrs. Brubaker's tremendous house on Mellonville Ave., where the High Fever Follies has taken precedence over all other activities. The dining room is filled with posters, signs and papers. Large posters with the seating in the high school auditorium are spread over the dining table.

Program chairman, Mrs. George Harden, reported that the program sales had already surpassed last year's.

Mrs. J. W. Hill reported that her tickets had all been placed with team captains, who would be selling them from now on.

Mrs. A. B. Peterson Sr. revealed that the box office exchange would be open February 6 and 7 from 10:00 A. M. until 6:00 P. M. Monday, February 10 it will open at noon, and open again at 10:00 A. M. the rest of the week at the Chamber of Commerce building, in the U. S. O.

Mrs. Richard Bauer, publicity reported that she and Mrs. Brubaker were planning to visit outlying communities, including neighboring cities in the next three weeks. They will sell tickets and present either some of the Queen contestants or an act from the show.

Reports from other chairmen revealed that all departments are in readiness for the arrival of the director next Monday.

A telephone committee has been formed headed by Mrs. Robert of the Queen contest, reported Shelden. Mrs. Talley, chairman that separate voting boards will be placed in Lake Mary, Debarry, Longwood and the Navy base, as well as downtown.

Ethel Root Circle Installs Officers

Mrs. Ralph Lassing was installed as president of the Ethel Root Circle of the Congregational Christian Church Monday evening.

Mrs. Osca Zittrower, assisted by Mrs. Maurine Carbill, conducted the impressive ceremony.

Installed as vice-president was Mrs. Herbert Thurston; secretary, Mrs. Ed Ludecke; treasurer, Mrs. Honner Carter; devotional, Mrs. Gus Schmah.

The ceremony was held in the Fellowship Hall of the Church. A business meeting was held after the installation. Announcements were made and reports given.

Refreshments of sandwiches, cookies and coffee were served by the hostess, Mrs. Bea Alford.

Your Girl Scouts

BY RUTH TULLY

A new Browale Troop in Loch Arbor, No. 104, under the leadership of Mrs. Fran Robertson held an investiture ceremony on Thursday, January 16th. Invested were Sally Carman, Judy Conn, Debbie Donovan, Leslie Hawking, Kathy Kelly, Jody King, Susan King, Lynn McRoberts, Mary Elizabeth Parson, Carolyn Robertson, Virginia Rogers, Becky Symas and Cynthia Uiz. Sally Robertson was presented with a pin indicating her second year in Brownies. All the girls wish to thank Mrs. Fran Robertson for the use of her home as their meeting place. Mrs. Mary Parson is the Assistant Leader for the troop.

On Saturday, January 11th, Intermediate Scout Troop 212 held a covered dish luncheon at the Pinecrest Baptist Church. The members of his troop are working on their cooking badge and each was responsible for preparing and bringing an item of food for the luncheon. Mrs. Ruby Jordan, their leader, instructed them in the art of cake decorating and the dessert included a cake which the girls themselves had decorated. This past Saturday the troop made a visit to local radio station WTRR. Mr. Hawthorne, their host and able guide, explained the radio equipment and procedures. The girls sang a song and each introduced herself, all of which was recorded to be played back at a later date.

The new Intermediate Girl Scout Troop in the Pinecrest area had real cause for celebration this week when they received notification that they were now officially Troop No. 244. At an investiture ceremony held Wednesday, January 22, Troop Leader Mrs. Jackie Austin presented pins to six new Girl Scouts. The new fly-ups are Vicky Wright, Daryl Coe, Miriam Hearn, Muriel Hearn, Sheryl McQuatters and Jill Stogner. Mrs. Louise Drebert was also invested and pinned as Assistant Leader of the troop. This ceremony took place in front of a new flag which had been presented to the troop by the Sanford Chamber of Commerce. Singing and refreshments concluded the meeting.

Jacksonville Guest Demonstrates Skill For Hairdressers

Unit 31 of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association met in Sanford Sunday night. The meeting took the form of a workshop. Rosemary Kerner of "Rosemary's Hair Styling Salon" in Jacksonville was the guest artist.

Mrs. Kerner featured the circle hair cut with razor shaping and styling with directional curl formation.

Plans for National Beauty Salon Week, February 9 to 15, were discussed during the short business meeting.

Hostesses for the evening were Claudette Hawkins, Mary McMahon, and Mary Brown. They served refreshments to Amy Bachelis, "dixie director" and her husband, Ann Chapman, Edith Van Ness, Vela Nelson, Betsey Class, Barbara Harvey, guest, Marie Uiz, guest, Harriett Slawter, Rosemary Kerner and Mr. Kerner.

Joe and Ruth Tully are expecting his parents in today for a visit. The Senior Tullys have met with bad weather, but hope to make the long drive from New York in two days.

Going in the other direction are Dolly and Mar McAdams who left Thursday morning for New Jersey. "Inclement" weather forced them to drive instead of Dolly and the children flying as originally planned.

Betty McRatall's mother and father are visiting here and taking care of the children while Betty is in Mayport until Saturday.

Made a mistake as usual when I reported that Mrs. Christopher Butler was the new secretary of the Hospital Auxiliary. Not so. Priscilla Butler from Geneva is. Sorry, ladies.

Club Hears Mrs. Laura Brown

Mrs. Laura Platt Brown was the versatile speaker and performer Wednesday when the Sanford Woman's Club held a covered dish luncheon, sponsored by the Civic Department.

Mrs. Brown gave numerous suggestions for games and hobbies for retired people. "Problems of Retired Citizens" was the theme of the program which was arranged by Mrs. Raymond Smith.

Mrs. Brown followed with a review of the opera "Lohengrin". Mrs. Louis St. Amand sang "Elsie's Dream" from that opera accompanied by Mrs. Brown on the piano.

Sketches from "Fanny Crosby" were presented by Mrs. Brown. Mrs. St. Amand then led the members of the club in group singing of several of Miss Crosby's famous gospel songs.

The program followed the covered dish luncheon. Mrs. C. L. Redding, Mrs. Frank Evans and Mrs. John Eick were hostesses.

Preceding the luncheon a short business meeting was held, during which it was announced that the Departments nominating committee had been selected. Serving will be Mrs. C. R. Dawson, Mrs. J. L. Jewel, and Mrs. F. E. Boiz.

Mrs. Arthur Brannen, a former member, has rejoined the Women's Club. She was introduced, as was Mrs. Pritchard, also a former member.

Following the luncheon and program, bridge and canasta were played under the direction of the Social Department. Hostesses were Mrs. L. E. Spencer, Mrs. H. S. Duggar and Mrs. S. J. Nix.

Mrs. Al Hunt won high score for bridge and Mrs. Louis St. Amand, high for canasta. Mrs. Howard Montelith won screeno.

Arbor Day Program Held At Southside

Two Arbor Day programs were presented Wednesday at the Southside School in the auditorium. The classes were divided so that all might attend.

The program was dedicated to Miss Zillah Welch, who was seated on the stage during the presentation. Miss Welch is a first grade teacher who has taught for many years.

The same program was given at different times. Children from Mrs. Hartwig's and Mrs. Nancie Lane's third grades gave the exercises during the first performance. Mrs. Whitehead and Miss Caroline McNeill's fourth grade rooms helped during the second hour.

The Arbor Day program opened with the singing of "America" and the flag salute. A Bible reading followed pertaining to trees. Then the children sang "Nature's Prayer."

Open My eyes that I may see,
The wondrous beauty of a tree,
Open my ears that I may hear,
Nature's music everywhere.

"Arbor Day, Sweet Arbor Day," was sung by the children. The first exercise presented was "Why we plant the tree". The second was "What the trees teach us."

The program concluded with the singing of "Where the orange blossoms grow". Trees, by Joyce Kilmer, and "Florida, My Florida". Accompanying the children on the piano was the music teacher Mrs. Arletta Coberly.

Several Braves Refuse To Sign 1959 Contracts

By TIM MORIARTY
United Press Sports Writer

Several members of the Milwaukee Braves, just like any other employees who did a good job and expect additional compensation in their pay envelopes, have refused to sign their 1959 contracts.

The worst "champions" salary difficulties came to light when outfielder Job Hasis disclosed he was dissatisfied with the terms of his new contract.

Then General Manager John Quinn announced in Milwaukee that "there are others who have returned their contracts unsigned."

Although Quinn declined to identify the other dissatisfied Braves, they probably include World Series hero Lou Burdette, Hank Aaron, Warren Spahn and Red Schoendienst.

The New York Yankees also encountered their first potential holdout Wednesday when Tony Kubak had a change of heart and announced he was returning his first contract unsigned.

The Yankees, who expect their player payroll to hit a record $500,000 this year, always trail other major league teams in the "open ink race." They only have six players under contract this far, including regulars Yogi Berra, Harry Simpson and Hank Bauer, plus three rookies.

The Los Angeles Dodgers increased their list of satisfied players to 23 by signing southpaw Johnny Podres.

NEW YORK—The heavy-weight champion Floyd Patterson on down, walked a dead end street today despite a flurry of contractual action.

Two bouts among those in the top 10 promised some activity. But the ultimate goal—a heavy-weight title defense—still was stymied by a feud between the IBC and the Patterson camp.

And there's no peace in sight.

Eddie Machen, the top ranking challenger, and Zora Foley meet in San Francisco on March 17 and Argentinian Alex Mileff will tackle Cuba's Nino Valdes in Madison Square Garden on Feb. 21.

Shuns IBC "Puppets"

All this means that the standings of the top 10 challengers may be juggled, because Gus D'Amato, Patterson's manager, will have nothing to do with what he describes as IBC puppets and places Machen, in particular, at the top of his black list.

D'Amato says he has "several solid offers" for a title defense Friday. He is the kind of man with whom I want to deal—a man who is actively and aggressively opposed to the IBC.

But D'Amato isn't revealing any of his concrete plans.

"Every time I do," he charges, "the IBC counterattacks. They tell the man I'm trying to line up that if he fights Patterson he will get no more fights from their fighters. So, all of a sudden, they are no longer available."

D'Amato reiterated that anybody who "turned down a chance to fight Patterson doesn't get another crack."

Backing Wrong Horse

"If they tried to black list me," he harked, "they'll find they were backing the wrong horse."

D'Amato also said he isn't concerned with the ratings of the National Boxing Assn.

"Other champions fight nobodies and get away with it," he argued. "Well, we have made as many title defenses as Rocky Marciano or any of them — and just as much money, too. Not even the NBA can say that I have to fight any one guy."

So there is a definite impasse. It stands to reason that the top 10 won't break away from their "union." They can keep busy by fighting each other while one crack at an independent Patterson could ruin their title hopes for all time.

This fight fan is doomed to a series of "nothing" heavyweight bouts—and Patterson apparently is going to have to take his business abroad to prevent a repetition of the Hademacher fiasco.

Obviously D'Amato and the IBC aren't going to bury the hatchet, unless it's in each other's back.

Wheaton Tops Small College Cage Rating

By EARL WRIGHT
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK—Wheaton Ill. College topped the United Press small college basketball ratings today for the second straight week but Southwest Mo. State cracked the Midwest's grip on the first four places.

Wheaton 11-1, which replaced Evansville, Ind. in first place last week, strengthened its grip on the lead while Evansville 10-2 slipped to third. Strubenville 11-1, an Ohio school with the highest victory total among the top 10 teams, moved from third to second.

Southwest Missouri 11-0, one of two perfect-record teams in the select group, broke the Midwest's two-week monopoly of the top four places by advancing from fifth to fourth. Western Illinois 13-0, the other unbeaten team, slipped from fourth to fifth.

West Virginia Tech 13-3 remained sixth, Tennessee State A&I 15-2 held seventh and Pacific Wash. Lutheran 9-2 remained eighth. Boston University 8-1 advanced from 10th to ninth and Louisiana Tech 11-4 slipped from ninth to 10th.

The nation-wide board of small college coaches which rates the teams weekly for the United Press based its latest selections on games played through Jan. 18. Each coach chooses his top 10 teams. Points are awarded on a 100-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis for votes from first through 10th place.

Texas Southern was 11th for the second week in a row. St. Peter's N. J., Brandeis Mass., McNeese La., South Dakota, Youngstown, Ohio, Mount St. Mary's Md., Grambling La., Mississippi Southern and Montana State rounded out the second 10 group.

There are more than 700 schools in the "small college division" of the intercollegiate basketball program. Sixty-four received votes this week.

ROCHON WON'T APPEAL

MONTREAL—Canadian tennis ace Henri Rochon, who has been a member of 10 Davis Cup teams, doesn't plan to appeal his indefinite suspension by the Province of Quebec Lawn Tennis Association Council. The 33-year-old Rochon was set down for remarks "degradatory to the council" in 1956.

Cagers Outfox Parkers But Lose Game 34-29

By Jerry Covington
The Sanford Seminoles failed by only five points in upsetting the high-flying Winter Park Wildcats in Winter Park Tuesday night. Coach Bud Lavers psychology payed off, throughout the game and the only difference in the two teams were three crucial lay-ups that were missed in the first half.

Winter Park received the opening tip but the Seminoles took possession of the ball and proceeded to freeze it for better than four minutes before there was finally a score. At the end of the first period the score stood a 5-4 and the halftime score was 9-7. This type of basketball completely threw the Parkers out of stride and it looked all along that the Seminoles might come through with a win. The first quarter had the crowd on edge because no one could figure out just what was going to happen.

Guards Ray Lundquist and Cecil Dandridge really put on a ball handling show for the folks and gave the Parker a fit by stealing the ball several times and driving in for the bucket. Ray led Thursday, Feb. 13. Sandwhich into the program this season will be the sports car races scheduled for New Smyrna Beach Airport, 15 miles south of Daytona Beach, on Sunday, Feb. 16, these being sanctioned by the Florida Region Sports Car Club of America.

It was a well played game on the part of both clubs and the Seminoles show plenty of signs of causing trouble in the OBC tournament this February. The local club will travel to Leesburg tonight where it will face the Yellow Jackets for the second time this season. The Jackets were victorious in the first meeting but it was only by two points.

Early Moss of Creedmoor, veteran campaigner of the modified circuits for many years and George Dunn of Raleigh, one of the top 10 of the national sportsman ranks for 1957, have both filed entries for sportsman class cars to compete in the 125-mile here.

England May Get Three Top Oscars

By VERNON SCOTT
United Press Hollywood Writer
HOLLYWOOD — Merle Oldé England may march off with three top Oscars in the 30th annual Academy Awards with Alec Guinness and Deborah Kerr early favorites for best acting statuette and David Lean leading the pack for best director.

The field will be narrowed to five in each of 20 categories when nominees are announced Feb. 17.

Two elements stand out in this year's balloting: Lack of foreign-made pictures in the competition and a strong showing by independent producers.

Inasmuch as the Oscar Derby still is very much up for grabs, a morning line has been set down by the betting fraternity. At post-time here are the pace-setters:

Best Picture — "The Bridge on the River Kwai," "The Man of a Thousand Faces," "Sayonara," "Paths of Glory" and "Witness for the Prosecution."

Best Actor — Anthony Franciosa, "A Hatful of Rain"; Alec Guinness, "The Bridge on the River Kwai"; Charles Laughton, "Witness for the Prosecution"; Marlon Brando, "Sayonara"; James Cagney, "Man of a Thousand Faces."

Best Actress — Joanne Woodward, "Three Faces of Eve"; Deborah Kerr, "Heaven Knows Mr. Allison"; Lana Turner, "Peyton Place"; Anna Magnani, "Wild is the Wind"; Jennifer Jones, "A Farewell to Arms."

Best Supporting Actor — Ed Wynn, "The Great Man"; Errol Flynn, "The Sun Also Rises"; Sessue Hayakawa, "River Kwai"; Red Buttons, "Sayonara"; Nigel Patrick, "Raintree County."

Supporting Actress — Best supporting actress — Carolyn Jones, "The Bachelor Party"; Carol Haney, "The Pajama Game"; Sandra Dee, "Until They Sail"; Miyoshi Umeki, "Sayonara"; Diane Varsi, "Peyton Place."

Best Director — Joshua Logan, "Sayonara"; David Lean, "River Kwai"; Sidney Lumet, "Twelve Angry Men"; Nunnally Johnson, "Three Faces of Eve"; John Sturges, "Gunfight at the OK Corral."

Butting it out for most awards will be "Bridge on the River Kwai" and "Sayonara."

Biggest disappointments in critical acclaim are "Peyton Place" and "A Farewell to Arms."

Out of the running altogether — "I Was a Teenage Frankenstein."

THE 55 VOICE University Choir of the University of Florida will appear in Sanford Feb. 3 and 4 during its mid-semester tour of the state. The choir, under the direction of Dr. Elwood Keister, assistant professor of music and former member of the Robert Shaw Chorale, has scheduled an appearance in Pinecrest Auditorium at 8 p.m. Feb. 3 and will appear again at an assembly Feb. 4 at 8:50 a.m. in Sanford High School. The mixed vocal choir will sing sacred music, contemporary compositions, modern arrangements and spirituals.

TV Review

By VERNON SCOTT
United Press Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD — Wayne Preston, star of TV's "Colt .45," may not be the fastest cowboy on the draw, but he can out-think the rest of 'em with his I.Q.

The rangy 6-ft., 4-in. actor hunched down at a table in the Warner Brothers Commissary during the noon break and said flatly, "I don't want to talk about my I.Q."

"Ah, c'mon Wayne," a press agent argued.

"No," said the cotton-topped Preston. "People wouldn't believe it anyhow. There's no way for me to prove my I.Q. is 145."

Could illustrate

"What I mean is most actors have above-average I.Q.'s," he amended.

The P. A. smiled forgiveness. "All good things must come to an end sometime," said Wayne, polishing off his steak. "When this show eventually goes off the air, I'd like to become a well-rounded actor, playing modern roles and dramatic parts."

"But if I can't do anything but make Westerns that'll be okay, too."

Preston left the table to head back to the sound stage. The press agent looked after him and said, "You won't get many actors to admit a thing like that."

Studio Warfare Explodes Over Rock Hudson

By VERNON SCOTT
United Press Hollywood Writer
HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Studio warfare exploded this week between mammoth MGM and "little" Universal International for the services of matinee idol Rock Hudson—with U.I. winning out.

In addition to Metro, the losers are Hudson and, possibly, the movie-going public.

Producer Sam (MGM) Zimbalist decided several months ago that Hudson was the only man to star in his remake of "Ben Hur."

Zimbalist then asked Universal if he could "borrow" the handsome actor for a few hundred thousand bucks. U.I. demurred. Hudson is under contract to Universal, and if he is to perform in any money-making pictures, the studio decrees, he will make them on his home lot.

Outraged, Rock threatened to take off on a three-year vacation.

Rock Out of Picture

Zimbalist appealed to Universal's better non-monetary nature. Nothing, so the producer had to get the Rock out of his head.

"Hudson's dying to do the picture," Zimbalist says, "and I'm dying to have him. But it looks like we're dead. There's no chance of a deal now."

"We have four other actors in mind, but the leading men are hard to find these days. There are too few young editions of the Gables, Tracys and Pecks. The actor's studio school of mumbler doesn't produce the true heroic type."

Picture, if you can, Anthony Perkins charging around on a chariot.

Zimbalist mentioned Kirk Douglas, Charlton Heston and others, discarding some because of age, others because of their "All-American boy" appearance.

"This is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity for an actor," Zimbalist continued. "We're going to spend 10 million dollars on 'Ben Hur,' which will make it one of the most expensive pictures ever made."

"I leave for Rome next week to check on our sets. We plan to begin shooting by the end of April. But we can't cast anyone until after we find our leading man."

Zimbalist compared his search to David O. Selznick's quest for Scarlett O'Hara in "Gone With the Wind."

"David was lucky in finding an unknown who turned out to be perfect," he said. "Brando would be ideal—he has muscles and talent. Still, Hudson was the man we wanted most. He would have made a great Ben Hur."

Cost of Living Remains Same During December

WASHINGTON — The cost of living remained unchanged in December, the government has reported.

This was only the second month in the past 16 that living costs had not reached record highs.

The Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said its consumer price index leveled off last month at 121.6 per cent of 1947-49 prices.

The bureau said that dealer discounts reduced selling prices of new cars by 2.7 per cent. Hershey E. Riley, chief of the bureau's cost-of-living division, said the lower prices on new cars were the major factor in the index's stability.

Food Prices Rise

The cost of food, housing and other services rose slightly. These increases were offset by lower charges for transportation and clothing.

Despite the December leveling off, wages of 650,000 workers went up because of past increases in the index.

Company Reports Consolidated Net Income For '57

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — Southern Co. reports its consolidated net income for last year totaled nearly 35-million-dollars for an increase of four and one-half million dollars over 1956.

Southern directors were paid total income for 1957 reached $34,822,424. The directors approved a quarterly dividend of 30 cents per share on common stock.

The directors also approved Southern's largest construction program in its history, 153-million-dollars for its subsidiaries, Alabama Power Co., Georgia Power Co., Mississippi Power Co., and Southern Electric Co.

Southern tentatively planned a three-year construction program of 300-million-dollars from 1958 to 1960.

Committee Okays New Addition To Raiford Prison

TALLAHASSEE — The Raiford Prison Architecture Committee has authorized the construction of a new addition that would house some 1,800 prisoners.

The proposed addition, a 12-cell block maximum security structure, is expected to be used in addition to older facilities. Prison officials said they would like to raise the old buildings but said it would not be practical because of the great number of prisoners being admitted each month.

Some $7,500,000 was appropriated by the Legislature for the construction of the first phase of improvements at the prison. Other plans call for a hospital, reception center and other modern features.

Committee consultant George W. Aderhold, Oklahoma City, said the plan calls for shortening a 700-foot corridor to less than 350 feet to make the building more compact and workable. He pointed out that the new building would be more economical and would reduce the number of guards needed.

OLDE WORLDE BEDS

LONDON (UP) — Uncomfortable beds in British hotels cost the country hundreds of thousands of dollars each year, the president of the Bedding Federation said Wednesday night. Hector Rawson told a bedmakers' meeting that American visitors like old Dickenson types of hotels and inns, but don't like "ye olde worlde" mattresses to sleep on.

KENNAN LEAVES CLINIC

ZURICH, Switzerland — George F. Kennan, former U. S. ambassador to Russia, leaves for England today after having a physical check-up at the Cantonal Clinic here. Kennan entered the clinic four days ago. He is returning to Oxford University where he is a visiting professor. Kennan, 55, recently gave a series of controversial foreign policy lectures over the British Broadcasting Corp.

ARMY CHIEF TO SPEAK

JERUSALEM, Israel — Brigadier Meir Amit, Israel's acting army chief of staff will address a conference in Miami, Fla., early next month launching the 1958 state of Israel development bond drive. It was announced today. Joseph Schwartz, executive vice president of the drive, said the campaign has a target of 75 million dollars for the year.

BUT WHO'D YUH SUPPOSE WROTE IT?

Income Tax Fax

The Florida Accountants Association — an affiliate of National Society of Public Accountants — Here are some suggestions that will help the Internal Revenue Service in processing your return.

Uncle Sam takes in over $5 million income tax returns each year. That is several trillions of pieces of paper and it is hard to understand how the Revenue Service does as good a job as it does, considering the sheer volume of pieces of paper it must handle and the short space of time it must handle them in. Let's do all we can to make their job easier for them and maybe we'll cut their expenses and our taxes.

Send a separate check with each tax return. If Forms 1040 and 1040-ES are filed or mailed together, please forward a separate check for each and fasten securely to the face of each return. See that all checks are signed and payee is Internal Revenue Service.

In submitting separate returns for husband and wife, please do not staple together, just attach by clip.

Attach securely all schedules including the return. Only Forms W-2 and check should be attached to the face of the return. Do not place remittance under return. Your name and home address must be complete.

Space is provided on the income tax return for the Social Security Number of each spouse. This should not be overlooked.

If the taxpayer or wife was 65 years or over at the end of the taxable year, make certain the blocks provided thereon on line 1, page 1, are checked.

The names of children entered on line 2 should equal the number entered on the right hand margin of line 2.

The number of exemptions claimed on line 3, page 1, should agree with the number of individuals listed on Schedule 1, page 1.

If you are claiming "Head of Household" status or if you are a surviving widow or widower who qualifies for special tax computation, make certain the block provided thereon is checked on page 1.

Attach all forms W-2 to the face of the return. If it is absolutely certain you cannot obtain forms W-2, please attach full explanation. In such instances, if the

Aliens Have Only One More Week To Report Address

Joseph Savoretti, District Director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service at Miami, said today aliens in the state have only one more week in which to comply with the Federal law requiring that aliens report their address to the government during January of each year.

The Immigration official urged all aliens who have not yet complied to go as soon as possible to the nearest Post Office or Immigration Service office to file the report.

Parents or guardians must file the report for alien children under 14 years of age.

Savoretti said the address report is required each year from all aliens except those in diplomatic status, representatives of certain international organizations and persons admitted temporarily as agricultural laborers.

He pointed out that failure to comply carries penalties including a fine and deportation.

The officials said only an estimated 35,000 aliens in this state have complied with the address report requirements, compared to 71,500 who filed reports last year.

Responsibility Law Changes Are Made

TALLAHASSEE.—The Financial Responsibility Division — administered by State Treasurer and Insurance Commissioner J. Edwin Larson, today announced some early results of changes made in the Financial Responsibility Law by the 1957 Legislature.

Expectations of law enforcement officials as well as Financial Responsibility Division planners were justified as a total of 500 persons were sent notices from the Division in December indicating that they come under the Financial Responsibility Law after having been found guilty of DWI or reckless driving. This represents the third month of operation under the new regulation.

This new provision of the law seeks to make responsible drivers of those motorists who drink and drive or who are plain careless with their own and others' lives and property. It is not even necessary that such a person have an accident—now. It's enough that he is convicted or forfeits bond on such a charge.

No change was made in the provisions which bring you under the accident provisions of the law, however, they still require anyone who is involved in an accident in which the total damages exceed $50.00 or anyone is injured to comply with its requirements.

And exactly what are these requirements?

They reflect the determination of our legislative body that every driver who takes the road in Florida will be responsible for damage or injury he causes to others, regardless of fault. If the involved party was uninsured this compliance takes the form of meeting just damage demands and insuring that the affected party be able to pay in any future accident. If the motorist was insured at the time of the accident and thus can meet his obligations, he is considered to have complied with the law after filing a form listing his insurance coverage with the Division for verification.

And how is it possible to take care of possible future accidents? The Financial Responsibility Division can and does require the uninsured motorist to get auto liability insurance and certify to

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

If for all your evil you know how to give your children what is good, how much more will your Father give the Holy Spirit from Heaven to those who ask Him?—(St. Luke 11, 13.)

First we ask our Father, Almighty and Eternal God, for the gift of His love, in true and humble devotion. Then, knowing in faith that it is ours, we begin to live a new life that is joyous and useful in His service, in love and brotherhood.

Central Baptist Church Schedules School Next Week

Central Baptist Church is cooperating with the Seminole Baptist Association in a School of Missions beginning Sunday Jan. 26 through Thursday Jan. 30th.

The schedule is as follows:
Sunday Jan. 26 at the 11:00 A. M. service Dr. Ferrell Runyan, Baptist Missionary, principal of the Husa Baptist Pastor's School in Kaduna, Nigeria.
Monday Jan. 27 7:30 P. M. Rev. Marion F. Boyd. His work is in Michigan and is part of the Baptist Home Mission Board's Pioneer Mission work.
Tuesday 8:15 P. M. Mrs. Sam T. Mayo, a field worker from the Baptist Home Mission Board, Atlanta, Ga. She works with Migrants.
Wednesday 8:15 P. M. Miss Faye Taylor, a Missionary to Indonesia.
Wednesday 8:15 P. M. Miss Helen McCullough. She has served in Shanghai, Honolulu, Hawaii. She is now serving on the Hong Kong Staff.
Thursday 8:15 P. M. Dr. Ferrell Runyan.
Monday through Thursday each evening at 7:30 P. M. preceding the speaker of the evening, classes in Missions will be held for Primaries, Juniors, Intermediates, Young People and Adults. The Nursery will be opened. "You are invited to attend these services," said Rev. J. W. Parham. Visitors will be welcomed.

Quarterly Bombing Derby Scheduled

Commander J. M. MILLER, USN, Chief Staff Officer of Heavy Attack Wing ONE, is studying the Conover Trophy which is awarded each quarter to the Heavy Attack Squadron amassing the greatest number of points during the Quarterly Bombing Derby. The squadron participating in the derby will be VAM-1, VAM-2 and VAM-11.

Any squadron that is able to hold the trophy three competitions in succession will be awarded permanent custody of the trophy. Heavy Attack Squadron FIVE won the trophy for the first two derbies of 1957 giving the rest of the competing squadrons quite an obstacle to overcome. In August 1957 Heavy Attack Squadron ELEVEN proved by their results that they could compete with the best of them, cutting off Five's two legs thus preventing permanent custodianship of the trophy. Unfortunately during the late evening hours of 29 January and the early morning hours of 30 January the unforgettable whine of twin J-47 engines will awaken the sleeping populace of Sanford at fifteen minute intervals, as the fourth derby draws to a conclusion. Even as the crews taxi to their parking areas their scores will be posted as long distance

Feathers Moved To Fredericksburg

Clyde E. Feathers, mechanical engineer in the research division of the American Viscose Corporation here, has just been transferred to the film division of that company in Fredericksburg, Va. He and his wife Ruby and their twin daughters Joan and Judy, who have been living at 603 W. 27th St., left Friday for their new home. They will reside at 802 Brompton St. in Fredericksburg.

Feathers in the 24 years he lived in Sanford was quite a place for himself in the life of the First Christian Church. He taught a class of intermediates, served as business manager of the monthly church paper, and was appointed to fill a deacon's unexpired term. As chairman of the board of officers in 1957 he was given a rising vote of thanks for his mastery and improvement of the functional organization of the congregation. In December he was elevated to the eldership and was named one of the three trustees. On Jan. 7 the board re-elected him as chairman. Vice-chairman Chandler Vail is expected to take his place.

Pastor Perry L. Stone said today, "Mr. Feathers was one of our finest workers and will be sorely missed. He and his family take with them to their new home our best wishes and brotherly love."

Cousins, Crew Make 10,000th Landing On Ship

Captain A. R. Matter, USN, the USS Saratoga's skipper congratulated VAM-2's LCDR. J. E. Cousins and his crew who made the 10,000th landing on the super carrier. With LCDR Cousins in his crew were the bombardier-navigator, Ensign R. L. Martin, USN, and third crewman, C. D. Arrington, Aviation Machinist Mate Second Class, USN.

Lieutenant Commander Cousins' ASD Sky Warrior was the last plane to cross the Saratoga's flight deck on Jan. 9 as the ship completed her flight schedule and headed for Mayport.

Cousins, a native of Hannibal, Mo. attended Hannibal-LaGrange College in his home town and later received his BS degree from the University of Missouri. In addition to his flying duties, he serves as VAM-2's assistant maintenance officer. He presently makes his home in Sanford with his wife and two children.

It was altogether fitting that the ASD Sky Warrior — the largest carrier-based plane in the Navy — should make the Saratoga's historic 10,000th landing. Heavy Attack Squadron Nine, which flies the giant ASD, is home based in Sanford. The squadron was aboard the Saratoga last fall for the NATO maneuvers.

18 To Qualify In Operation

VAM-2's "Savage Sons" are preparing for carrier qualifications aboard the U.S.S. Ranger. The period assigned is from Feb. 4-8. Eighteen pilots will qualify in the five day operation. They are presently involved in intensive field carrier landing practice. Preparation includes flying morning and afternoon on a 7-day week schedule. Briefings take up their time on the ground.

All of the plane commanders will be landing the huge ASD Skywarrior aboard the carrier for the first time. Also, some of them will be experiencing angle deck landings with its complicated relative motion problems for the first time.

Cdr. Joseph M. Tully Jr. is commanding officer of VAM-2.

Former Resident Dies Thursday

Mrs. Bertha Hand, 79, passed away at Fort Lauderdale Thursday morning after a short illness.

Mrs. Hand was born Feb. 12, 1879 in Grand Rapids, O. She was the wife of the late W. H. Hand and was a member of the First Baptist Church of Sanford.

Mrs. Hand has lived in Fort Lauderdale for the past 12 years. Survivors include: one daughter, Mrs. S. O. Taylor, Fort Lauderdale; one son, W. C. Hand, Kansas City, Mo.; three grandchildren; six great grandchildren; several nieces and nephews. Among the nieces are: Mrs. Helen Jorgensen, Fort Lauderdale; Mrs. A. L. Betts and Mrs. G. J. Meriwether, of Sanford.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a. m. tomorrow morning at Erlson Funeral Home with the Rev. W. P. Brooks Jr. officiating. Burial will be in Evergreen Cemetery.

Stemper Installed As New President Of Realtors Board

William H. Stemper was installed as president of the Seminole County Board of Realtors for 1958 at the organization's annual installation of officers held last night at the Pinercrest Inn.

Other officers installed were: Wally Dietrich, vice president; Laura B. Oiler, secretary and treasurer; Cecil B. Waller and Raymond M. Ball, directors.

Raymond M. Ball, retiring president of the organization, served as installing officer.

Two new members were also admitted to the organization at last night's meeting. They were Mrs. Rosa Payton and Omar B. Ringer.

"We had a very good turn out in spite of the weather and an enthusiastic meeting," said Raymond M. Ball this morning.

The Seminole County Board of Realtors plans to hold two meetings a month during 1958, it was revealed.

Lutheran Church Services Changed

Church services at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer have been changed effective Sunday, Jan. 26.

Services will begin at 10:45 a. m. instead of the 10:30 hour which has been observed for many months.

However, the 15-minute change in church services will not affect the Sunday School. The church school will begin at 9:15 as usual.

Agriculture Dept. Inspection Service

LAKELAND — The U.S. Agriculture Department says its inspection service will prevent any inferior frozen orange concentrates from reaching the consumer market despite a new regulation allowing it to be made from freeze damaged fruit.

Meanwhile, Florida Citrus Mutual reported the state's determination to prevent freeze-damaged fruit from reaching the fresh fruit market is paying off with bigger sales.

The Florida Citrus Commission reported Monday that the agricultural department's inspection service had advised it will demand that all concentrate in interstate shipments meet the rigid standard imposed by the commission.

The commission, in repealing a ruling limiting use of freeze-damaged fruit to 25 per cent in concentrates, added other regulations to insure a good quality product. It said all concentrate

Officers Named, Reports Heard At Church Meet

The annual congregational meeting of the Upsala Presbyterian Church was held recently with the Rev. J. M. Thompson presiding.

Reports of the work accomplished during the past year by the various organizations within the church were read and approved. All reports showed encouraging progress during the year closing, a spokesman revealed.

George Pasold, Mrs. George Simmons and Mrs. Albert Hodge were elected to serve as elders and trustees increasing the board to a total of seven.

Pasold was also elected to serve as Sunday School Superintendent. A. K. Nettles was named assistant superintendent and secretary while Robert Carroll was chosen treasurer.

The business meeting was preceded by a covered dish supper served in the Sunday School annex.

Revival Services At Church Of God To Begin Sunday

Revival services will begin Sunday night at the Church of God on French Ave. at Twenty Second St., with Rev. C. B. Donohue of Chattanooga, Tenn., as the Evangelist.

The pastor, Rev. Joel Brown, says the public is urged to attend these services to be held nightly and hear this outstanding speaker.

Attacks On Party Could Be Challenged With 'Lets' Look At Record'

WASHINGTON (UP)—It would be a fair question to inquire why Republican members of Congress fail to challenge some attacks on the Eisenhower administration by means of the device which the late Alfred E. Smith found so handy in the political wars.

Smith, of course, was a master politician, proud of his policies and confident that they could withstand partisan attack. It was his habit to answer up personally when his public acts were challenged. In a gravelly voice rich with the curbstone accent of New York's lower East Side, Smith would cite a challenge and exclaim: "Let's look at the record!"

Business Slant Charged

Right now the Eisenhower administration is under a scattering fire of charges that it has no heart for the little fellow but is dedicated to the welfare of the fat cats of business and industry.

More specifically, the complaint is that the Republicans under President Eisenhower's leadership tend to put economy and tax relief ahead of human welfare, a heartless program without much vote-getting oomph.

If the charge be true, it could not be for lack of any willingness on the part of the administration to spend the taxpayers' money for the taxpayers' welfare.

A comparison of the spending record of the last five Truman years with the last five Eisenhower years seems not to support such a charge. The 10-year span covers the fiscal period 1950-59, inclusive. Former President Truman made the budgets up to and including the fiscal year 1954.

In the comparative five-year periods, the Republican Eisenhower administration outspent the Democratic Truman administration by a score of $27.9 billion to $21.1 billion.

Five in Four

The budget lists by function nine major categories of government spending. The record will show that, on a comparative basis for the two five-year periods, the Eisenhower administration outspent the Truman administration in five categories. Mr. Y outspending Mr. E in four.

Eisenhower topped Truman in spending for:

- Major national security ($21.9 billion to $16.1 billion).
- Labor and Welfare ($15.9 billion to $11.1 billion).
- Agriculture ($8.4 billion to $6.9 billion).
- Interest on the public debt ($36.3 billion to $30.3 billion).
- General government ($7.1 billion to $6.8 billion).

Truman was tops in spending for:

- International affairs and finance ($10.7 billion to $4.8 billion).
- Commerce and housing ($10.1 billion to $8.7 billion).
- Veterans $25.4 billion to $24 billion).
- Natural resources ($8.8 billion to $6.3 billion).
- Currency inflation which made goods dearer was a factor in the higher Eisenhower spending achievement. That scarcely could explain wholly the comparatively high rate of spending under an administration which won office in 1952 with something quite different in mind. It could be that the Republicans do not brag about their spending record because they are not proud of it. They are in pretty good shape, however, to say: "Let's look at the record!"

Canal To Be Discussed At Called Meet Friday

A meeting to "bring together all interested organizations and parties to discuss the Sanford-Titusville Canal," has been called by John Krider, Manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting will be held Friday, Jan. 31, at 11 a. m. at the Angell Hotel in Orlando. Krider said in a letter distributed and

City Commission To Tackle Six Problems Tonight

The board of Sanford city commissioners tackled a half dozen problems tonight at its regularly scheduled meeting.

Already meeting on a near daily basis to consider application for city planner and recreation director, the commissioners tonight will consider two proposed sales of city property.

A site for an industrial area for expansion of the firm of Lee Brothers Plumbing and Heating will be discussed with Harry Lee Jr., a representative of the firm.

Another site, proposed by Architect John Burton IV, is for the possible location of a bonded warehouse and would be on city property.

High on the agenda for tonight is a discussion on a request for annexation. Commissioners have planned an approach to the annexation proposal forwarded by the city. It was predicted that the city would complete annexation during 1958 and the solution to the problem would be much easier than expected.

A request for a blinking caution traffic light at the intersection of 20th St. and Mellonville Ave. has been filed with the City and will come up for discussion and possible approval tonight.

A public hearing date will be set tonight to consider rezoning recommendations of the zoning and planning commission of the city headed by Clifford McKibbin.

Follies Director Arrives Today

Chris Carter, director of Jerome Carroll Inc., arrived in Sanford on the 12-30 train today. Mr. Carter will direct the High Fever Follies for the Hospital Auxiliary.

Three weeks of vigorous activity will begin tonight with Talent Night at the Mayfair Inn at 8:30 p. m. At this time the director will be introduced and the contestants for the High Fever Queen presented. All those interested in helping with the show are urged to attend. There will be no try-outs tonight.

City Improvement Program Project Nears Completion

The city's Capital Improvement Program is more than 50 per cent completed according to City Manager Warren E. Knowles.

A survey of the three building projects show that construction on the Sanford Civic Center, Fire Station No. 2, and the Goldsboro Swimming Pool are all more than 50 per cent toward final completion.

The roof on the Civic Center, said the City Manager, should start to go on some time this week. All of the laminated wood arches have been installed and mechanical equipment, including plumbing, electrical, boilers, air conditioning, could start when the roof is completed.

The Civic Center is approximately 50 per cent completed, said Warren E. Knowles with work progressing as scheduled.

"There has been no hitch at all in the construction of the new Fire Station," said Knowles and the roof is nearly one-third completed. Mechanical equipment is being installed here, the City Manager said, and work should be completed somewhat ahead of schedule. Construction is 60 per cent. (Continued on Page 8)

Waterways Committee Underway

A statewide membership drive for the Florida Waterways Committee, headed by John Krider of Sanford as president, is underway.

Letters calling for members throughout the state to support the Florida Waterways Committee were mailed from the Tampa office of the committee and are signed by W. S. Arthur, Executive Director.

"Only those who have been interested since the inception of the Florida Waterways Committee, can realize the rapid and certain growth of this new organization," said Arthur.

Four meetings have been held since with members attesting to the great accomplishments during the past seven months.

Krider said "members will see even greater progress when they attend the next meeting slated to be held in the Tampa Chamber of Commerce auditorium on Feb. 14."

"Every man interested in channels for all crafts, conservation of our water resources, drainage, irrigation and future betterment of Florida's industry, commerce and agriculture, is invited to join us," the Executive Director noted in his letter.

Krider, this morning, said that letters have been mailed to nearly 500 citizens in the Sanford-Seminole County area.

Individual memberships are $5 with the most popular contribution at $10. Corporation memberships are $50 and group memberships from $50 up. Associate memberships (non-voting) from $1.

A membership card will be mailed to all who join the statewide waterway organization, said Arthur.

City Manager Gets Jr. Service Award

The Junior Chamber of Commerce Distinguished Service Award, presented for annually outstanding community service, went this year to Warren E. Knowles, Sanford's City Manager.

Knowles received the award Friday night at the annual "Jaycee Week" banquet and dance held at the Shrine Club.

Tommy Blythe of Cocoa, a National Director of the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce, presented the award to Knowles.

Blythe, citing a description of a Jaycee said "There is no job too big for him or no job too small. Such a man is never poor."

Said the national Jaycee director "We need businessmen who know how to use their heads."

"The Sanford-Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce is very fortunate in having a young man in its area so qualified for this award," said Blythe before he named the 34-year-old recipient of this year's plaque and certificate.

"This man is held high in the esteem of Jaycees," he said.

Knowles said "I find it impossible to reach for words—you've thrown me off track for the moment—but I want to thank you all very very much."

Ox Fibre Brush Co. President, Wife Burn To Death

The president of the Ox Fibre Brush Co. and his wife were burned to death in their home south of Woodstock, Va.

Alfred R. McEwen, 51, and his wife Mrs. Francis McEwen, 51, died in their home early Sunday morning.

The fire was discovered by a breaker of homes in that area. Mr. McEwen was a frequent visitor to Sanford and the Ox Fibre Co. plant located at Benson Junction.

He succeeded his father, the late Alfred McEwen, as president of the company and was the grandson of the late J. K. Robinson, founder of the Florida Division of Ox Fibre Brush Co. in 1881.

Survivors include: three daughters, Mrs. Francis H. Phelps Jr., Bloomfield Hills, Mich.; Mrs. Parker H. Vaughn, Arlington, Mass.; and Mrs. Kenneth Ludlum, Troy, N. Y.; one brother, John A. McEwen, Greenwich, Conn.; two sisters, Mrs. Ralph Todd, Tarztown, N. Y. and Mrs. William A. Candy, Los Angeles, Calif.; and two aunts, Mrs. Laura Evans, Greenwich, Conn. and Mrs. Francis R.
