CASSELBERRY — DeLand played the role of spoiler Friday, spoiling Lake Howell's bid for a perfect season and perhaps knocking the Silver Hawks out of the state rankings.

Lake Howell, already assured of a spot in post-season competition, may have been looking past DeLand and to a playoff game against Lake City-Columbia.

Man accused of 'dirty pool'

OVIEDO — A man who allegedly had to be beaten with a broom to prevent him from drowning his wife in a family swimming pool has been charged with aggravated assault and aggravated battery.

Junior Clark Craig, 36, was arrested at the scene of the incident at 1057 Corkwood Drive, Oviedo, the house of his sister-in-law, who told police she had to beat him with a broom to get him to release her sister, H. Charmaine Craig, 37.

According to the victim's sister, June Smart, 31, Craig threw her sister in her swimming pool, despite her sister's fear of the water. He allegedly held her underwater and threatened to drown her.

Gigantic tax bonus

Millions would be added to Sanford's tax revenue if proposed mall annexed

By LAURA L. SULLIVAN
Herald staff writer

SANFORD — The city's commercial center may shift to the area around I-4 and S.R. 46 if the city approves the annexation of land where a huge retail and commercial development has been proposed.

The commercial development would be a major economic boost for Sanford's tax base.

City Manager Frank Faison said the application for annexation Friday by Sanford Interstate Properties, Inc., is a "major accomplishment" he has worked toward with the city commission since he took his position in 1985.

"We're elated," he said Friday. The property under consideration abuts I-4 on the east and extends from S.R. 46 on the north to the proposed Seminole Expressway. The site development proposal calls for a 1.6 million-square-foot regional mall, 400,000 square feet of office space, 60,000 square feet of office-showroom space and two 200-room hotels.

Sanford Interstate Properties plans to begin construction of the mall by late 1990 and complete it in the year 1997.

Faison said he recommended to the commission three years ago a strong movement to boost what he called dormant city tax rolls in order to make $38 million in state-mandated improvements to the city's wastewater system. The tax base increase he recommended required expansion to Interstate-4, he said.

"That has been our major goal with the commission sitting in 1985 and the commission to follow," Faison said.

"We knew that everything had to be right; the political climate had to be right, the way we do business had to be right," Faison said.

In a joint planning agreement reached in June, Seminole County agreed not to oppose annexations east of I-4 or south of State Road 46, and north of SR 46, east of the Rinehart Road extension.

Mayor Bettye Smith attributed the proposed expansion to cooperation with Seminole County government.

"Had we not gotten into a cooperative mode, we could still be having lawsuits over annexations out that way," Smith said.

Jim Willard, attorney for Sanford Interstate Properties, said the company decided to seek annexation.

Local group joins fight against porn

Catholic Women to take their case to city boards

By LAURA L. SULLIVAN
Herald staff writer

SANFORD — The All Souls Council of Catholic Women is organizing an effort to demand city ordinances restricting the sale and rental of adult movies.

Karen Reilly-Morton, member of the council, said last week's White Ribbon Against Pornography (WRAP) campaign demonstrated the community's objection to the sale of pornographic movies and magazines in Sanford. WRAP was part of a national effort to demonstrate opposition to pornography.

Reilly-Morton said the white ribbons are a way to demonstrate community standards. When courts have been asked to define what is pornographic, they have required community panels to make that decision. Films and magazines are considered obscene by the court if a community panel determines a predominant appeal to sexual interests, a departure from customary limits in describing sex, or a lack of serious literary, artistic, political or scientific value.

"By displaying white ribbons, the community is saying, 'We don't want this.' From there, we will push the city commission and tell them we would appreciate an ordinance," Reilly-Morton said.

The Council of Catholic Women will work with the Greater Orlando Coalition Against Pornography (GOCAP) and women from 62 other Orlando-area Catholic parishes in

GOLDEN AGE GAMES

If the shoe fits, pitch it

SANFORD — Art Thompson and James Eckerson say they pitch horseshoes all the time.

The pair are retired and live in a trailer park in Orange City. They go out to the horseshoe court just about every afternoon while their wives are watching their favorite soaps.

At the Golden Age Games, they battle the early morning sun, trying to set their eyes on the pit some 40 feet away. Thompson jokes that perhaps he should try from the ladies start-off point at 30 feet.

The grass is still slick with dew and a shoe which has missed its mark, skitters past the pit and scatters some of the red clay with it. Someone in the stands applauds anyhow.

Eckerson, a retired police chief from Warwick, N.Y. is 63 years old. He came to Florida "a couple of years back" for the sunshine.

"I just wanted to get away from my snow shovel," he said. "I got tired of shoveling out from my house all winter."

Thompson, 69, a retired food inspector for the state of New York, agreed.

SANFORD — Carmen Fogarty looks wistfully at the board in front of the room as Jeanne Daly jots in another number.

Fogarty, chairman of The Heart of Florida United Way campaign, and Daly, Seminole Area Director, are chalking up the dollar figures reported last Wednesday at a luncheon meeting hosted by The Salvation Army in Sanford. This was the last report before next week's Victory Breakfast when the United Way's goal must be reached.

On her board, Daly tallies the dollar amounts received from Seminole municipal governments, commercial manufacturing and utility companies, department stores, educational institutions and major "metro" companies. The campaign has received $721,857, or 83.5 percent of the county's $864,000 goal.

Fogarty addresses the 18 volunteers seated around the tables. They are all civic or business leaders in the Seminole area. She says the results are "outstanding."

Man charged with battery

OVIEDO — During a reported argument with his former wife over boys in her car, Oviedo police report Alfonso Noble, 32, P.O. Box 74, Franklin St., Oviedo, allegedly punched Tammy Noble in the face.

The incident occurred at the home of Noble's mother at 74 Ross St., at about 2 p.m. Thursday, police said. Noble is charged with battery.

Stolen goods recovered

WINTER SPRINGS — Seminole County sheriff's deputies on the lookout for a car involved in a burglary Thursday at 4217 Cricket Hollow Cove, Casselberry, reported stopping the car, recovering goods stolen in that and another burglary and arresting two suspects.

Peggy Ridenour Johnson, 43, 1204 N. County Road 427, Longwood, and Joseph Crawford, 25, 140 Bedenath Drive, Winter Park, were both charged with two counts of burglary at about 2:30 p.m. Thursday on Tusawilla Road, rural Winter Springs.

Deputies said a television, a video recorder and frozen foods stolen from another house on RoAnn Drive, were recovered from the suspects' car, along with a camera and a bag of coins and two watches stolen from the other house.

Wife reports battery

SANFORD — A Sanford man, accused of punching his wife and shoving his daughter into a parked car in a fight at the Lucky Star Bar on Dunbar Street, was arrested after the three left the bar and the women called Seminole County sheriff's deputies.

Eddie Lee Bailey, 35, 452 McKay St., Sanford, was charged with battery at home at about 8 p.m. Friday. His wife was treated for facial cuts at Central Florida Regional Hospital, Sanford.

Police see dollar become $20

SANFORD — Sanford police report they watched a man attach two corners from a $20 bill onto a $1 bill to make the bill appear to be a $20 bill.

The incident occurred outside the Ideis Food Store on W. 13th Street, in a known drug dealing area at about 8 p.m. Friday.

Police charged the suspect, Titus Manning, 19, 1011 S. Holly Ave., with forgery, possession of a forged note and loitering to engage in narcotics activity. Bond is $1,000.

Suspect distracted Sanford police

SANFORD — A man distracted police from himself by telling them he had seen a burglar flee down Fourth Street after a burglary to the Army-Navy Store on Sanford Avenue. The man was later arrested as a suspect in the Army-Navy store burglary.

Police said the man who pretended to aid them allegedly tried to sell knives stolen from the store. Ronald Wayne Adkins, 21, of no address, was charged with burglary, dealing in stolen property and grand theft at the county jail at about 1 a.m. Friday. Sanford police said knives stolen had a total value of $350.

Man jailed for having stolen tires

CASSELBERRY — City police were called to Allied Discount Tires on State Road 436, Casselberry, at about 6 p.m. Friday, because a man had come to the store to reportedly confess he had four tires on his car that had been stolen from the store by another person.

Police said they recovered the tires and charged the man, Victor Alexander Rubert, 30, of Christmas, with grand theft. Bond is $1,000.

One wounded at shooting on UCLA frat row

United Press International

LOS ANGELES — Shots were fired during a clash between white fraternity members and black students attending a party on UCLA's fraternity row early Saturday, apparently wounding at least one person, police said.

A group of students from Santa Monica College and University High School were attending a party Friday night at the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity house on the UCLA campus, which had been rented by a black cultural group for the night, UCLA police Lt. Jim Vandenberg said.

Campus police broke up the party around midnight after receiving several noise complaints, Vandenberg said.

At 12:50 a.m., as people were leaving the fraternity house at 555 Gayley Ave., they encountered some members of Beta Theta Pi, another fraternity whose house is at 581 Gayley.

The two groups began arguing and exchanged racial slurs, Vandenberg said.

The confrontation blossomed to involve between 400 and 800 people, many of them passers-by, and blocked the intersection of Gayley and Strathmore Drive, Vandenberg said.

Soon after police arrived to break up the confrontation, six shots were fired from within the crowd. Officers at the scene reported seeing a gun aimed at them, but they were not hit, he said.

UCLA police arrested three men that witnesses in the crowd identified as accomplices of the gunman, Vandenberg said.

Police then noticed a trail of blood down the street, he said.

"Somebody was shot, but it's not clear who," Vandenberg said. "The blood trail went down Strathmore about two blocks. Quite a bit of blood was lost, so it was obviously a gunshot wound."

Vandenberg said no one has come forward to report the wounding, and inquiries at area emergency rooms have not led to a victim.

The three arrested were Robert White, 19, and Lloyd Avery, 20, both Santa Monica College students; and Joe Fairley, police believe he is 28, but he refused to give either an age or address.

Fugitive keeps police at bay for five hours

United Press International

KENWOOD, Ohio — A wanted suburban Cincinnati man armed with two handguns drove a car through the side door of a Catholic church Saturday and kept authorities at bay for five hours by claiming he had a hostage.

Timothy Hunt, 34, of Redding, Ohio, threw down his guns and surrendered after talking with his pastor, who previously had counseled him.

Hunt had been wanted by Hamilton County authorities for the attempted murder of his older brother Wednesday. The suspect was being held in the Hamilton County jail pending charges and arraignment.

Sheriff Simon Lies said Hunt drove a late model car through the side door of All Saints Church at 6:40 a.m. EST and ran up to the choir loft, telling the pastor he had a hostage with him. Hunt claimed he picked up the hostage at a truckstop.

Lies said he began to doubt that there was a hostage when Hunt refused to allow officers to speak to him. The sheriff said Hunt told him he did not want to hurt the hostage's mustache by removing tape he had placed over his mouth.

Suspect may have supplied guns to gangs

United Press International

GAINESVILLE — A Miami man suspected of being the main source of weapons to Gainesville youth gangs was questioned by police late Friday after he was brought from Miami, where he had been arrested earlier this month.

Gainesville police also arrested two 15-year-old boys, charging them with shooting a person earlier this month in gang-related violence.

Dwayne Anton McGee, 21, known as "He-man" for carrying a .357 Magnum, was extradited to Gainesville because he is believed to have been buying or stealing weapons in Miami, then bringing them to the Gainesville gangs, said Lt. Cpl. Larry Roberts.

"He is known as the muscle man for the largest family in East Gainesville," Roberts said. Police would not reveal the family's name.

McGee had been wanted on Gainesville warrants for possession of a firearm by a felon. On Nov. 2, McGee was arrested by Metro-Dade police in Miami.

Soon after his arrest, police found several types of ammunition, including a type of powder used in grenades, when they searched his bedroom. Metro-Dade police also found a manual for an assault rifle in McGee's car.

Informants describe McGee as cocky, believing he can't be successfully charged with a crime, police said.

Roberts said McGee is a suspect in several crimes in Gainesville, including several drive-by shootings. McGee allegedly was involved in a shooting in Gainesville in December 1988 that resulted in the death of Marvin Williams, Roberts said. McGee was never charged with the shooting.

Before speaking with McGee Friday, police arrested two teens in connection with an Oct. 22 gang-related shooting, bringing the number of gang-related arrests in Gainesville to three.

2.7 million East Germans given visas

United Press International
EAST BERLIN — Authorities said Sunday 2.7 million East Germans had received visas since the Berlin Wall fell last Thursday night. But most of the visas were issued to East Germans to return home after a stay in the West.

Games draw to a close with track, field meet

By SARAH SCHNEIDER
Herald staff writer

SANFORD — It was dry, warm and breezy — a perfect day to close the 1988 Golden Age Games with the Track and Field competition, one of the most popular of the 38 competitive events.

Sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Sanford, the games attracted over 1,500 participants who came from as far away as Puerto Rico and Canada to compete. Most of the athletes were familiar faces. But a few were new to the event.

Men and women, ages 55-94 made running look effortless as they zipped around the 400-meter (1/4-mile) track at Seminole High School in five different competitions, ending with the one-mile run.

Fellow runners, supporters and other spectators cheered and prompted from the sidelines as the tanned and fit bodies of the elderly athletes put themselves to the ultimate test.

Sixty-six year old Larry Rush, who on Tuesday won in the Five-Mile-Run event, also competed Saturday in the one-mile run. Rush, who competes in nationals and about 20 races during the year, ran for Lafayette College in Philadelphia in his younger days. Rush said he just runs "when I'm feeling good."

On Saturday, Rush appeared to be feeling on top of the world as his lean, tall body sprinted around the track.

He and his 61-year-old wife, who also competed in the one-mile race, are running partners in Ponce Inlet where they live.

Executive Director of the Golden Age Games David Farr called the last day of the events a "no mishap day."

"It went very, very smoothly. The volunteers worked fantastically," Farr said.

There was only one minor incident Saturday when a gentleman who was not competing in the track competition fell on the track and required medical attention for "road rash." However, he quickly dashed off to compete in another event, Farr said.

The day ended with the announcement of the winners who competed during the week-long event.

"It was a sad time in a way because it was drawing to a close," Farr said.

The turn of a card

Nothing to it

It was a piece of cake for Hamilton Morningstar, 72, of Flint, Mich., Saturday as he eased himself over the high jump bar in the track and field competition.

Morningstar was one of a reported 1,500 competitors at the 15th annual Golden Age Games.

DeBary woman relocated to be closer to the Games

By WENDY BUCHANAN
Herald staff writer

SANFORD — Mary Schanzle, a horseshoe competitor, said she moved to DeBary from Palatka so she could be nearer to the Golden Age Games.

"I would have moved to Sanford but property is so much cheaper over there," she said. "I still do all of my business and banking here in Sanford. I just live eight miles over that way," she said pointing across Lake Monroe.

Schanzle said she attended her first Golden Age Games competition a decade ago and fell in love with the competitors and the people of Sanford. "I wouldn't miss these games for anything," the 65 year old retired pharmacy employee said. "I told my family that no one is allowed to get sick or plan anything during the Golden Age Games."

When her husband was alive, she said they would make their annual pilgrimage to the games in two cars. "In one car we'd have all the track and field equipment," she said. "And in the other we'd have all my plants." She said she did very well in the horticultural competitions.

This year, Schanzle said she competes in track and field events one year and things like horseshoes and billiards the next.

"I did horseshoes last year too," she said. "I won a silver medal and qualified for the national Senior Olympics in St. Louis so I figured that I'd try it this year again. I know I can be competitive in this."

Though she qualified for the national games in June, Schanzle didn't participate. She did not find out she would be able to go until it was too late to sign up. "I did end up going to watch," she said. "I took a friend who was competing, but it was too late for me to sign up."

She doesn't consider herself to be a "real athlete." Instead, she enters the games for the fun and, sometimes, for the medals.

"I'm pretty competitive," she said, "especially when I know I can win."

One year she won medals in every event she entered. This year, she has taken a medal in four of the six events she entered so far.

"If I just take one I'm pleased," she conceded.

Schanzle said she is planning to go back to work part-time. "I don't need the money," she explained. "I just want to do something."

She said her children don't want her to re-enter the work force because they are afraid it'll reduce the time she has to visit them.

She said she does not train for the games. She comes out once a year to compete. "There isn't anyone to practice with," she said. "Like billiards...what am I going to do? Go to a pool hall?"

street to walk," he said. He enjoys walking to keep in shape, going about four miles a day. He doesn't think of walking as exercise however.

"I just like getting out there in the sun and staying in shape that way," he said.

Eckerson said that he walks too, but purely for recreation. He doesn't know how far he walks. He said he doesn't really care.

"I guess it helps me keep active, but I just go out and walk," he said.

Both men started pitching horseshoes many years ago in New York, well before the sport became popular as the sport of presidents. "I think George picked it up from us," laughed Thompson. "I've been playing since I was a kid."

Thompson said that he played "every sport there is" as a kid and was fairly good at all of them, but he doesn't choose to be an active athlete in his golden years.

"I retired so I wouldn't have to work," he noted.

Ekerson, on-the-other-hand, said he was never much of a participant in organized sports as a young man, but he has a lot of fun competing in the Golden Age Games.

"This is my third time here," he said. "I'll be back next year."

Off-duty cop slain in traffic dispute

United Press International

NEW YORK — A motorcyclist fatally killed an off-duty policeman, as the officer's girlfriend watched, during an argument touched off by a traffic dispute in Brooklyn early Saturday, police said.

Officer Gary Coe, 38, a member of Brooklyn's South Tenth Force who had been on the force less than three years, died little more than an hour after he was stabbed three times in the chest and two times in the legs about 3 a.m., said Chief of Police Robert Johnson.

The officer's attacker fled the scene on his motorcycle, accompanied by a woman, police said. Eventually, the stabbing took place as the policeman was returning home from a charity fundraising game benefiting the family of Officer William Gunn, who has been in a coma since he was wounded in the line of duty earlier this year.

The policeman's girlfriend, whose identity was withheld, told detectives Coe accidentally drove his car into the back bumper of the assailant's Harley-Davidson motorcycle at a street corner in the Bayridge section of Brooklyn.

The officer, who was not in uniform but who was wearing his police badge, got out of his car and began to argue with the man, Johnson said.

Coe's girlfriend said the officer identified himself as a policeman, angering the motorcyclist further, and prompting the man to draw his knife and stab the officer five times before fleeing.

Mayor draws fire after making racial remark

United Press International

PORTLAND — Leaders of the black community are demanding an apology from Mayor Bud Clark for what they say was a racially insensitive remark.

They threatened Friday to stage demonstrations, sit-ins and other forms of protest if the mayor does not apologize by Tuesday.

Blacks have been enraged since Clark fired Otis Smith, the only black member of his staff and the man who served as a liaison to the black community.

In a meeting to discuss Smith's firing, Clark allegedly told black leaders he would "try to get a convict" and serve as his own community liaison.

Ron Herndon, leader of the Black United Front, said an apology must be given before a national conference of black educators convenes in Portland Tuesday.

Herndon said that, if Clark does not apologize before the meeting of the National Alliance of Black School Educators, blacks will take to the streets to send a message to the rest of the country about race relations in Portland.

Bush helps dedicate Texas Vietnam Veterans Memorial

United Press International

DALLAS — President Bush delivered a solemn Veterans Day salute Saturday to those who fought in one of America's longest and most unpopular wars by helping dedicate the Texas Vietnam Veterans Memorial, inscribed with the names of 3,437 men who did not return home.

At a sun-drenched ceremony attended by thousands of veterans, many dressed in old battle fatigues, Bush said: "If the Texans we honor today could speak, they might say 'Fraise us as you will — but above all we want to be remembered.'"

Thousands of former warriors, many with their families, gathered for the dedication of the memorial, inscribed with the names of the 3,437 Texans lost in Southeast Asia. Several were in wheelchairs.

Bush received several rounds of applause, particularly when he vowed to continue working to determine the fate of a 2,351 veterans still listed as missing in action in the war in Southeast Asia.

At one point, numerous veterans attending the ceremony at the Texas State Fair Grounds chanted, "Bring 'em home, bring 'em home."

In a speech to the veterans, Bush said: "Unlike other veterans, the brave boys who went to Vietnam had to endure two wars."

"The first war was the battle waged in the swamps and jungles abroad," Bush said. "The second was fought for respect and recognition at home."

And, with the passage of time, they have finally won the battle for the hearts of their countrymen.

Bush used the occasion to once again welcome the recent wave of democratic reforms in Eastern Europe, including this week's opening of the Berlin Wall, long a symbol of the Iron Curtain.

"Look to the very heart of Europe, to Berlin, and you will see a great truth shining brighter each passing day: The quest for freedom is stronger than steel, more permanent than concrete," he said.

Bush praised "the Lone Star heroes of America's longest war," but also saluted all veterans of Vietnam as well as America's other wars this century, World War I, World War II, and the Korean War, particularly those who died.

"Because they gave the last full measure of devotion, our nation is at peace. And because of them, the peaceful ideals of America are now the ideals of the world," he said.

Near the end of his remarks, Bush read a letter he received from a Dallas mother, Connie McWright, who lost two of her four sons in Vietnam.

Pro-choice protest may draw 1 million

WASHINGTON — A massive rally at the Lincoln Memorial and demonstrations in more than 100 cities nationwide Sunday will mark the largest groundswell of support for legal abortion ever, organizers of the event said.

The March for Women's Lives Campaign, on the heels of major abortion-rights victories in elections Tuesday, could attract 200,000 people to the nation's capital and will include more than 1 million participants nationwide, Molly Yard, president of the National Organization for Women, said Friday. Sunday's events will begin with a "1,000 Points of Light for Women's Lives" sunrise service near President Bush's vacation home in Kennebunkport, Maine. The day will end with a sunset vigil near San Francisco's Golden Gate Bridge.

Gangs kill two, wound 13

LOS ANGELES — Street gang members killed two rivals and wounded more than a dozen other people in weekend attacks, authorities said Saturday.

One fatal drive-by shooting tied to gang activity occurred shortly before 1 a.m. Saturday near the Silver Lake district of central Los Angeles.

An 18-year-old Montebello man was wounded and later died at Queen of Angels-Hollywood Presbyterian Medical Center, Sgt. Martin Mince said.

Two others men were treated for minor gunshot wounds and released. No one was in custody.

Military begins paying for crash

SEYKRA, Ga. — Military officials Saturday began reimbursing residents for damage to their apartments from the crash of a Navy fighter jet that killed two people in a suburb north of Atlanta.

Porty Officer Roger Turner said the Navy's legal services department filed out money at a post set up at the Cobb County Center for Senior Citizens across the street from the disaster site.

"We will be issuing checks on the spot," Turner said, adding that he could not estimate how much money would be requested by the residents of Pine Village apartments, where 13 units were leveled by the crash of the A7E Corsair jet at 6:30 p.m. Thursday.

Residents of the apartment complex were allowed to return home for the first time Friday night.

Bush: Cuba must release three prisoners

DALLAS — President Bush called on Cuba Saturday to release three political prisoners, including one who is in the third week of a hunger strike and is seriously ill.

Bush also urged "the international community to raise its collective voice and press the Cuban government to let these people go."

In a brief statement, Bush, wrapping up a two-day visit to Dallas, said, "I view with grave concern the news that long-term Cuban political prisoner Alfredo Mustelier Nervo has been on a hunger strike since completing 20 years in Castro's prisons on Oct. 27."

The president noted that Cuba's revised penal code limits incarceration for all offenses to no more than 20 years, except when the death penalty may be imposed.

Aquino offers no commitment on bases

WASHINGTON — Defense Secretary Dick Cheney said he discussed the issue of returning the bases of U.S. bases with Philippine President Corason Aquino and that she made no commitment pending next month's official talks.

"It was one of many subjects we discussed," Cheney said Friday after his 20-minute meeting with the visiting Aquino at the Willard-Intercontinental Hotel. "Our exploratory talks are beginning next month."

Scientists study birth of universe

United Press International

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. — Launch this week of a satellite to study the radiation left over from the birth of the universe has been delayed until at least next Sunday because of a faulty computer, officials said Saturday.

The Cosmic Background Explorer — COBE — had been scheduled for launch this Friday atop an unmanned Delta rocket, the last such expendable launch vehicle owned by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

But NASA spokesman George Diller said Saturday the long-awaited flight was off until at least Sunday, Nov. 19, and possibly to as late as Nov. 22 because of work to replace a guidance computer in the second stage of the Delta booster.

"The chickens came in to roost right in the middle of our launch readiness review (Friday)," Diller said. "A couple of guys picked up on something that looked irregular in the electrical system of the guidance computer."

The builder of the computer, Deico, quickly determined it was a hardware problem and that the unit would have to be replaced.

"The problem is, it's on top of the second stage," Diller said. "The (nose cone) fairing is already on around the satellite. That gives us an access problem."

He said normally, the nose cone fairing would be removed to allow engineers to reach the computer. But that would delay launch to Nov. 21 or 22 and technicians Sunday reviewed a plan to remove the computer using a different technique.

"Engineers may be able to remove the computer through a different access port," Diller said. "We're probably going to be on for the 19th."

Lord mayor celebrates 800th anniversary

LONDON — Thousands of flag-waving people lined the streets of London Saturday to witness the colorful pageantry of one of Britain's oldest traditions — the annual Lord Mayor's Show.

Balloon-covered floats, scores of military bands and an African elephant accompanied the newly elected lord mayor of the City of London, Sir Hugh Bidwell, in a grand parade marking the 800th anniversary of the first lord mayor's election.

The lord mayor has sovereignty over the square mile Corporation of London, which includes the Tower of London and the London International Stock Exchange, and even the queen must ask permission to enter. As the public figurehead of London, he is host to major foreign visitors, travels abroad as an ambassador and is in charge of overseeing Saturday's celebration of the 800-year anniversary of the office.

Allende's widow returns to Chile

SANTIAGO, Chile — The widow of President Salvador Allende, who died in a 1973 coup d'etat, has returned to Chile to join the opposition campaign for the December elections that will signal the end of 16 years of military rule.

Hortensia Bussi arrived in Santiago Friday night for her second trip to Chile since the Sept. 11, 1973, coup brought President Augusto Pinochet to power.

Bussi said she returned to join the campaign of opposition presidential candidate Patricio Aylwin and "to see how democracy returns to Chile."

Two dead in rebel bombing attack

United Press International

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador — Suspected urban rebels bombed the National Guard military quarters Saturday morning, killing at least two civilians and injuring four others, a Red Cross spokesman said.

The spokesman, who asked not to be identified, told United Press International that the presumed guerrillas launched four bombs at the military quarters in the capital, killing at least two youths.

Four other civilians were transported to local hospitals, he said, and the explosion partially destroyed the building.

The armed forces confirmed the Red Cross report but said the number of deaths and injuries had not been determined.

The U.S.-backed Salvadoran government has battled leftist guerrillas since 1979 in a war that has left dead an estimated 70,000 people, most of them civilians.

The government continued Saturday to ration electricity, a move begun Thursday because rebels have increasingly sabotaged power lines and electric towers, leaving many parts of the country blacked out.

The central, western and eastern regions of El Salvador have been affected by complete or periodic blackouts from either rationing or rebel attacks. Construction crews were working to re-establish service lines, government spokesmen said.

The rebel Farabundo Martí National Liberation Front, or FMLN, has made economic sabotage a major part of its decade-long guerrilla insurgency against the government.

Vatican conference on AIDS will reject use of condoms

United Press International

VATICAN CITY — The Vatican served notice Saturday that a world AIDS conference opening in the Vatican next week will uphold the Catholic Church's refusal to accept the use of condoms as a protection against the disease.

Archbishop Lorenzo Angelini, president of the Pontifical Council for Pastoral Activity among Medical Workers — sponsors of the conference — told reporters the use of condoms to protect against AIDS is "a hypothetical, distasteful and indecent act."

Angelini was replying to reporters' question about the Catholic Church's declared opposition to the use of condoms in tackling the AIDS epidemic.

U.S. bishops, meeting in Baltimore this week, condemned educational programs promoting the use of condoms to counter the risk of AIDS, saying such programs create a false sense of security and can encourage promiscuous behavior.

The bishops' recommended sexual abstinence outside of marriage to prevent the spread of the disease.

About 1,300 medical experts and theologians from 85 countries, including the Soviet Union, will take part in the Vatican conference Monday through Wednesday in the Vatican's Synod Hall.

Emergency called in Moldavia

United Press International

MOSCOW — The Moldavian government in the Soviet Union Saturday banned public meetings, prohibited the sale of alcohol and imposed a dusk-to-dawn curfew for minors following riots in the Soviet republic that left 83 police and 46 civilians injured, the official media said.

"The presidium of the Supreme Soviet and the Council of Ministers of Moldavia have decreed the immediate imposition of a number of extraordinary measures in Kishinev aimed at stabilizing the situation in the capital and ensuring public order and safety," the official Tass news agency said.

The government in Moldavia, the smallest of the country's 15 republics sandwiched between the Ukraine and Romania in the southwestern Soviet Union, also banned "the entry of vehicles not connected with the functioning of the national economy" and directed police to confiscate weapons from private citizens, Tass said.

The emergency measures were imposed a day after as many as 6,000 people set the Moldavian Interior Ministry headquarters on fire and hurled stones, sticks and metal pipes at police, who fought the rioters with tear gas, water cannons and rubber clubs, Tass said.

"As a result of the clashes, 83 policemen were injured," the state-run news service said. "Forty-six demonstrators were taken to medical institutions, where they received medical aid. More than 30 people were detained but later released on the demand of the protesters."

The leadership of the Moldavian Communist Party charged that the nationalist Moldavian Popular Front "joined in an open struggle to topple the legitimate government and called for escalating extremist manifestations," Tass said.

The disturbances in Kishinev began Friday afternoon when about 1,800 people marched to the Interior Ministry building to demand the release of people arrested during clashes Tuesday that disrupted the Revolution Day celebration in Moldavia.

Memphis pitches for Sonics

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Memphis promoter Sidney Shlenker and city officials made a presentation to acquire the Seattle SuperSonics of the National Basketball Association and move the franchise.

Shlenker, who recently sold the Denver Nuggets of the NBA, said the meeting was held in Seattle Oct. 27 and a "strong presentation" was made for Memphis.

Shlenker confirmed that Memphis made an undisclosed financial offer to SuperSonics owner Barry Ackerley.

Memphis Mayor Dick Hackett said it is the goal of city and county officials to bring an NBA team to play in The Great American Pyramid, which will have a 20,000-seat arena.

"Barry's a good friend of mine and I feel certain he'll give Memphis every consideration," Shlenker said. "Everybody would have been proud of the presentation the officials made."

Bosox would trade Greenwell

CLEVELAND — The Boston Red Sox are willing to trade left fielder Mike Greenwell to Cleveland in exchange for Joe Carter, the Plain Dealer reported Saturday.

The newspaper said the Indians needed only to say yes to Boston's offer in order to peddle the unhappy Carter to the Red Sox for Greenwell, one of the top young outfielders in the American League. Carter has said he wants to pursue free agency when his contract expires after the 1990 season, and the Indians announced they would trade the slugger rather than risk losing him without compensation.

Carter, 29, hit 35 home runs and drove in 106 runs last season, and has a lifetime .347 average in Fenway Park. Greenwell, 26, has averaged .330 with 28 home runs and 101 RBIs in his first three full seasons in Boston.

Clayborn files for bankruptcy

BOSTON — The New England Patriots' Raymond Clayborn, one of the highest-paid defensive backs in the National Football League, has filed for personal bankruptcy, a published report said Saturday.

Clayborn filed for Chapter 7 in U.S. Bankruptcy Court in Boston on Oct. 13. A meeting of his creditors is scheduled Nov. 20. Investments in a real estate deal in Texas have left Clayborn nearly $2 million in debt, The Boston Globe reported.

"I don't want to say very much about it now because I still have to do a few things," Clayborn said. "But I can say that it involves some real estate holdings I have in Texas. Things are tough down there, and I had to do something to protect myself."

Clayborn signed notes as guarantor on several real estate projects in Austin, Texas, over a period of nearly 10 years, the Globe said. The projects were arranged through a real estate company run by, among other, some of Clayborn's former roommates at the University of Texas.

Sutter, Tocchet power Flyers

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. — Ron Sutter had two goals and two assists Saturday afternoon, his second goal at the 18 second mark of the third period being the game winner, to spark the Philadelphia Flyers to a 7-5 triumph over the New Jersey Devils.

Rick Tocchet also had two goals and two assists for Philadelphia. Sylvain Turgeon notched two goals and an assist for New Jersey.

The Flyers got additional goals from Murray Craven, Mark Howe and Kjell Samuelsson. New Jersey got single goals from Mark Johnson, Aaron Broten and John MacLean.

Referee Don Koharski was removed from the ice on a stretcher after colliding with Philadelphia defenseman Samuelsson after getting struck by the puck just below the right knee with 11:46 remaining in the second period.

After the collision, Koharski took two short steps then sagged to the ice, blowing his whistle to stop play. He was taken to the hospital for x-rays.

'Noles win district title

By TONY BOGNER
 Herald Sports Editor

SANFORD — As soon as his team gathered around him after beating Leesburg 22-6 on Friday night, Coach Emory Blake told his Seminole High School football team. "Don't eat too heavy on Thanksgiving because we've got a playoff game the next day."

By beating the Leesburg Yellow Jackets this past Friday, the Seminoles not only celebrated their homecoming in fine style, they laid claim to the 4A-District 7 championship and a berth in the 4A-Region IV championship game on Nov. 24.

Because this is an odd-numbered year and Seminole is the winner of an odd-numbered district, the Tribe will host the Tarpon Springs Spongers, ranked No. 4 in Class 4A, in the regional game. Tarpon Springs, 8-1, defeated New Port Richey-Ridgewood 33-12 on Friday to clinch the District 8 title.

"Now we have to get ready for Tarpon Springs," said Blake, whose team improved to 6-3 overall and snapped a two-year losing streak to Leesburg (the only Class 4A team to beat the 'Noles in the regular season the last two years).

"We want to keep running a balanced offense. And our defense looked real good tonight. We got good pressure from Willie McCloud and Robert Moore (who both moved over from offense to defense for this game). Our defense has bent at times but other teams have to press to get into the end zone against us."

Even with the added presence of McCloud, Moore and Terrance Hillery — who combine with Isiah Williams

CASSELBERRY — DeLand High School played 48 minutes of mistake-free football and came up with a huge 31-28 upset over second-ranked Lake Howell Friday night to spoil the Silver Hawks' chance of a perfect record and their homecoming.

DeLand, 4-5 overall and 3-5 in 5A-District 4, will conclude its season next Friday against Deltona. Lake Howell, 9-1 overall and 7-1 in the district, is the district champion and has two weeks to get some players healthy and prepare for first-round opponent Lake City-Columbia.

"This is great for our school, great for our program and especially great for the team," DeLand coach Dave Hiss said

Bouey leads Greyhounds

LONGWOOD — Cedric Bouey rushed for 219 yards and three touchdowns and Octavius Holliday ran for one touchdown and intercepted two passes to lead the Lyman Greyhounds to a 48-6 victory over the Lake Mary Rams before a crowd of 2,000 fans at Lyman High School.

"We played our best game tonight," said Lyman coach Bill Scott. "The offensive line gave Cedric the openings and he took them. He did a great job running the ball tonight."

Lyman, now 5-4 overall, 3-4 in 5A-District 4 and 2-3 in the Seminole Athletic Conference, started quickly. Bouey took Lyman's second play from scrimmage 84 yards for his first touchdown of the game with 8:59 remaining in the first quarter.

Diaz, Diaz fuel Oviedo in shutout

From staff reports

OVIDO — Hector Diaz returned a punt 60 yards to give the Oviedo Lions an early lead, then intercepted three passes to help preserve the shutout in Oviedo's 41-0 romp over Mainland in a 5A-District 4 contest on Friday night at John Courier Field.

Oviedo, 9-1 overall and 7-1 in the district, will end its season against Orlando-Oak Ridge in a 28-23 loser to Evans on Friday in the Rotary Bowl on Nov. 22 at Lyman High School. Mainland, 0-9, finishes its season at Daytona Beach-Seabreeze next Friday.

Hector's brother Frank had a relatively quiet night Friday, carrying the ball just nine times for 40 yards and a touchdown. He also caught a touchdown pass from Brian MacInnes in the first quarter.

Sharks spike Oviedo girls

By ROBBIE STOCK

BOCA RATON — Terri Lowenthal and Jennifer Panquet each recorded 12 kills as the Spanish River swept past the Oviedo Lions, 15-9, 15-10 to take the 4A-Section II girls' volleyball title and earn their second consecutive state tournament berth.

Lowenthal blocked spikes by Jenny Wise and Shannon Wilcoxson as the Sharks (35-3) jumped out to a 4-0 lead over the Lions (27-3) early in the first game. The nervous Lions committed six of their 22 unforced errors in the first eight points of the game as they fell behind 8-0.

A block by Jenny Wise and Betsy Hughes and an ace by Jill Wise gave the Lions their first two points of the match. Hughes and Jenny Wise each came up with a kill to cut the lead to 12-6. Heidi Steiner blocked a Suzanne Dawson spike to give the Lions a side out and another chance to reduce the lead.

However, the Sharks would not let the Lions too close. Tina Hermann pounded out two kills while Dawson and Lowenthal each added one. Lowenthal's kill was a left-handed one which gave the Sharks a side out with a 13-7 lead. The Lions came as close as 13-9 in the first game, but

Small Raiders must control tempo

By MARK BLYTHE
 Herald sports writer

Seminole Community College's men's basketball team will look to make up for its lack of size with hard work in its effort to make the 1989-90 basketball season a successful one.

The Raiders will start their smallest team ever under Coach Bill Payne, entering his seventh year with Seminole, and he will look to get his team playing good defense along with capitalizing on every opportunity.

"We're very small," Payne said. "And we have 12 new players. Right now, there isn't much work being done on playing basketball. We're molding a team together and trying to see who plays well where. We're concentrating on the basics and learning the fundamentals of basketball."

Seminole returns four players from last year's squad, all of whom will be key to the Raiders' attack this season.

Point guard T.J. Scaletta, 5-8, will run the SCC offense this year. Scaletta is a graduate of Lyman has showed his talents last year for the

Jones rallies UCF past No. 4 EKU

By MARK BLYTHE

ORLANDO — Rudy Jones and Sean Beckton connected on a 39-yard touchdown pass with 6:05 left to play to cap an incredible 20-19 come-from-behind win for the University of Central Florida over Eastern Kentucky University on Saturday night at the Orlando Citrus Bowl.

UCF's Knights improved to 6-3 and will host Texas Southern next Saturday night. The EKU Colonels, which came into the contest ranked No. 4 in Division I-AA, lost for the second week in a row to fall to 8-2.

"If we can continue to grow as our program grows, we should build a very good Division I football team," UCF head coach Gene McDowell said. "Tonight's win was one of the biggest in this school's history."

EKU jumped out to 6-0 lead on a pair of 35-yard field goals by James Campbell as the two teams waged a defensive struggle through much of the first half.

UCF finally got on the scoreboard with 2:14 left to play in the second quarter. Mark Giacone broke two tackles in the backfield and went around the right tackle for a 6-yard touchdown with Franco Grilla adding the extra point to give the Knights a 7-6 halftime lead.

In the second half, the Colonels came out strong as Ken McCullem returned the opening kickoff 79 yards to the Knights' 13-yard line. Fullback Rick Burkhead scored on EKU's next play and Campbell kicked the PAT to give EKU a 13-7 lead.

EKU stretched the lead to 19-7 when Markus Thomas scored from 8 yards out in the third quarter. The attempt for the two-point conversion failed.

UCF took the following kickoff and drove 73 yards, aided by three consecutive personal foul penalties against the Colonels. Jones found Mike Dickison with a 4-yard pass to trim the lead to 19-13.

UCF's defense throttled Mark Moses (No. 86) and the Eastern Kentucky offense in the late going Saturday to key the Knights' 20-19 upset win.

Hampton sparks Georgia

United Press International
JACKSONVILLE — Rodney Hampton, emerging from Emmitt Smith's huge shadow, rushed for 121 yards and scored twice following third-quarter turnovers Saturday in sparking Georgia to a 17-10 triumph over Florida.

The Bulldogs, 6-3 overall and 4-2 in the Southeastern Conference, won their fourth straight, overcoming a 7-3 halftime deficit by forcing a fumble and an interception midway through the decisive third period. A Gator Bowl crowd of 81,577 watched Florida's hopes for a Jan. 1 bowl game dissolve in the 87th meeting between the schools.

Florida, 6-3 overall and 3-3 in the SEC, dropped its second straight and has lost to Georgia 10 times in the last 12 meetings. Freshman Donald Douglas tossed a 19-yard scoring pass to Ernie Mills in the second period and John David Francis added a 24-yard field goal with 3:18 left after another freshman quarterback, Lex Smith, guided a 69-yard drive.

Facing the nation's top-rated defense, Hampton carried 29 times and scored on runs of 10 and 2 yards.

Study shows fitness lengthens life

United Press International

BOSTON - Experts have released strong new evidence that physically fit people live longer and even moderate exercise can improve health substantially.

An eight-year study involving 13,344 Americans, the largest study of its kind, found those in top form live longer than people out of shape, researchers reported in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

Compared to the most-fit men, the least-fit men in the study had more than triple the death risk while the least-fit women had more than quadruple the risk, researchers from the Institute for Aerobics Research in Dallas said.

The group that appeared to benefit the most was the least-fit. The greatest difference in death rates was between the least fit and the moderately fit groups. The least-fit were about twice as likely to die as the moderately fit.

"Getting up off our butts and moving around a little bit offers a substantial benefit. You don't have to be a marathon runner," said Steven Blair, who led the study.

"Mr. and Mrs. Average, if they would just get up and turn off the television and do moderate amounts of exercise ... I think they would get some important health benefits," he said.

Moderate exercise, such as walking briskly for about a half-hour to an hour every day, is probably enough for most people to achieve moderate fitness, he said.

Between one-third and one-fifth of Americans would probably fall into the least-fit category.

Physical fitness appeared to reduce the death rate primarily by lowering the chances of developing heart disease or cancer, the researchers said.

The most-fit were between eight and nine times less likely to die of cardiovascular disease than the least-fit while the most-fit were between four and 16 times less likely to die from cancer, the researchers found.

Previous studies have shown being physically active was linked to improved health and longer life.

But there have been few studies examining the relationship between physical fitness and reduced mortality rate.

The new study is the first to examine the relationship between fitness and mortality in women and to the risk of dying from cancer, said Blair.

In the study, 10,295 men and 3,150 women who underwent an extensive physical examination at the Cooper Clinic in Dallas from 1970 to 1981 and were followed for the next eight years.

Being physically fit probably reduces the risk of dying of a heart attack by strengthening the heart muscle while the benefits of fitness for reducing the cancer rate are less clear, said Blair.

Based on his findings and similar studies, Blair said fitness should be considered an important health consideration as other widely recognized factors, such as smoking, blood pressure and cholesterol levels.

"Low fitness is in the hall of fame of being one of the most important risk factors and deserves more attention than it has been getting," Blair said.

Hospice conference is Friday in Orlando

ORLANDO - How do the body and mind interact? Can stress and nervousness cause physical illness? If so, are people somehow responsible for making themselves sick? What is meant by "faith healing" and is it really possible? If so, how does it work? How much and what kind of control do we have over our physical health? Is "healing" the same as "getting rid of disease"? These and other questions will be the focus of the Eighth Annual Hospice Health Care Conference Friday at the Harley Hotel of Orlando. The conference, scheduled from 7:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. is hosted by Hospice of Central Florida, Inc.

Registration for the conference is $50.

Entitled "A College of Hope: Medical, Psychosocial and Pastoral Ministries," the conference will feature the Rev. Ruth Tiffany Barnhouse, M.D., as keynote speaker.

Dr. Barnhouse's address is scheduled for 10 a.m. She is professor emerita of psychiatry and pastoral care at the Perkins School of Theology at Southern Methodist University in Dallas, Texas. She is an assistant editor of Anglican Theological Review, and frequently teaches a course on the significance of religion in clinical practice at the annual meeting of the American Psychiatric Association.

Hedy Schliefer, an internationally known lecturer and workshop leader, will present the afternoon session, entitled "Firing the Heart." Schliefer maintains a counseling practice in Winter Park.

Workshop topics to be covered in the morning and afternoon are:

"Symbol of Hope: Women in Ministry," Dr. Barnhouse (morning only).

"No Time Like the Present: Gathering Inner Resources," Dr. Judy Wright, director of counseling, Southern University.

"Great Expectations: Meeting the Hopes and Expectations of Volunteers," Jean Sharp, director of the Orange County Additional Program.

"Hopeful Horizons: Fostering Hope in the Midst of Loss," David Matthews, Th.D., pastor of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Orlando.

"Paw Wowing With the Patients: Physician-Patient Interactions," Dr. Rebecca Marone, oncologist in private practice; and Helen Records, R.N., B.S.N., oncology clinic coordinator at Florida Hospital.

"The Chrysalis Within: Reconciliation," Hedy Schliefer (afternoon only).

Thursday is 13th annual smokeout

ORLANDO - Thursday is the American Cancer Society's 13th annual Great American Smokeout, in which smokers are urged to make it through one day without smoking.

Florida Hospital is beginning a four-week stop smoking program that day, and 60 Subway restaurants throughout central Florida will offer a free turkey sandwich and cookie to anyone who turns in at least a half-full package of cigarettes to them.

Robert Schweitzer, president of the American Cancer Society, said 18.4 million, or 37 percent of the nation's smokers, participated in the event last year.

The Great American Smokeout began in 1977 when nearly 75 percent of the nation's population was smoking. Schweitzer said that figure has been reduced to 59 percent.

Florida Hospital's four-week "Breathe Free" program will begin at 6:45 p.m. Thursday in room 237 of the hospital's Medical Plaza at 2501 N. Orange Ave. The first session is free. The cost of the entire program, which includes eight sessions, is $85. For more information, or to register, call 897-1785.

SANFORD — Debra Schellay of the Lower Welton Aquatic Preserve gave an informative presentation on her organization at the Oct. 26 meeting of the Junior Women's Club of Sanford, according to publicist Betsy Phillips.

Schellay also addressed environmental problems associated with the rapid growth of Central Florida. To help members visualize the impact of growth, she brought maps of the area showing the latest developments and the new beltway.

Kids' Judge like a dad

By BRUCE GIBSON
Herald staff writer

SANFORD — Judge Leonard Wood compares being a juvenile court judge to being a father, and said both jobs have given him a lot of satisfaction.

Judge Wood, who has been Circuit Juvenile Court Judge in Seminole County since January, said, "you can't have a juvenile justice system that just operates in the courthouses."

"I think you have to take on the job the same as if you were a father," he said, noting he has three grown children. "Of every role I've ever had, I enjoyed being a father the most. You have to be tough, but you also have to demonstrate that you care. It's the same being a juvenile court judge."

Wood visits kids in detention regularly, and keeps track of those in drug and alcohol treatment centers. "I also check up on those who are under a curfew, calling them at home to make sure they are there when they're supposed to be."

He also has taken busloads of troubled juveniles to events in Orlando. One occasion aroused some controversy when three of the kids walked away from their chaperones during the outing.

Wood admits he took some criticism after the three escaped, but said he thinks such trips do more good than harm. "Three of 67 walked away. I don't think that's a bad percentage," he said.

"It's not like a jail escape," he adds. "Normally, I can only hold juveniles in detention for 21 days anyway, and the group that went on that trip were not in detention but in community control programs. All three of those kids were back in custody within a week."

Wood said the first trip, to a Harlem Globetrotters game last March, had some positive effects on those who attended.

"Some of those kids who were in detention re-enrolled in school when they were released and got good grades that term. I can't help but think the trip had a positive effect on them," he said.

Wood said drugs are as much a symptom of juveniles' problems as a cause of them. He is equally critical of parents, local and state government for not paying enough attention to the problems of young people.

"We have to find ways to get more community involvement in youth activities," he said. "We need youth recreation facilities. It is kids that are the most neglected."

"The community has to realize that the adult criminals that cost society and the state so much all are graduates of the juvenile justice system," Wood noted.

He also is critical of the state's lack of involvement in youth problems. Most juveniles who appear before Judge Wood end up under the supervision of the state Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services (HRS).

"Community control just doesn't work," he said. "HRS doesn't have the manpower to supervise these kids. The way it works, the kids are not supervised at all unless they get into trouble again."

Kids who have drug or alcohol problems get ignored by the state, Wood said.

Aerialist uses faith rather than nets

By CYNTHIA AUSTIN
Herald columnist

LAKE MARY — "He makes my feet like those of a deer. He makes me walk on high places." is the philosophy and motivation of Tino Wallenda Zoppe, who literally lives by the Bible verse of Habakkuk 3:19.

Zoppe is the seventh generation of the famous "Flying Wallendas," who originally came from Germany, but have been traveling in the circus circuit around the United States and other countries for the last century. Wallenda performs a high-wire act, without nets.

Through the recommendation of Bob Wilbur, the pastor at Abundant Life Christian Fellowship in Lake Mary, Wallenda was brought to Lake Mary to perform and then to speak. His performance took place Saturday at the Oaks Shopping Center in Lake Mary.

Wallenda will be speaking today at the Abundant Life Christian Fellowship, which meets at the Lake Mary Dance Academy in Driftwood Village. The service begins at 10:30 a.m.

Wilbur was fortunate enough to see Wallenda perform at a church in Mississippi. That church had a huge front lawn where Wallenda set up his high wire and, using a clip-on microphone, spoke to the congregation while balancing on the wire.

"It was an excellent way of communicating one's faith in Christianity," Wilbur said.

Because Wilbur's church doesn't have a place for Tino Wallenda Zoppe, a descendant of the original "Flying Wallendas," teased gravity yesterday and will speak about his source of courage today.

Wallenda to perform, Wilbur still wanted to let the public experience Wallenda's act, so he set up the show for Nov. 11, with the help of Sandefur Realty and the Merchants at the Oaks Shopping Center. Wallenda's performance helped to raise money for Ursula

Sunshine Child Abuse Prevention Crisis Nursery in Casselberry.

Wallenda makes his home in Sarasota, where he was born. He travels most of the year with his wife, Olinka, and his 15-year-old daughter, Alida. On this trip to Lake Mary, however, Wallenda came alone.

The Wallenda family sets up all their equipment at their home during their two- to three-month vacation to rehearse and perfect their act.

"I don't consider myself to be a daredevil, which would surprise most people," Wallenda said. "What I do is very carefully planned and worked over and over until it's near perfection."

Wallenda said the reason he doesn't use a net (except for areas where nets are required) is that a net can put a false sense of security in the performer's mind.

"You might take chances that you shouldn't," Walenda explained. "I get paid for staying up there, not for falling."

Using a net also might eliminate the performance's element of danger in the eyes of an onlooker.

"Not using nets is part of the aura of being an aerialist," Wallenda said.

As an aerialist, Wallenda considers himself an artist on the wire.

"The audience is the final judge. I hope that's how they perceive me, too," Wallenda said.

When speaking as Wallenda will do today, he uses many analogies in comparing his art with his life as a Christian. An analogy he likes to use goes as follows:

"When you tight-rope walk, you must have a point to concentrate on to derive your balance. And as a follower of Jesus, you must also focus on a point and that point is Jesus."

Fun Fest lives up to its name for around 6,000

A combination of favorable weather, loads of entertainment and many willing volunteers covered the success of Fun Fest '88. The festival was held Nov. 9-11 at the Church of the Nativity in Lake Mary.

"Last year, around 4,000 people came. We hoped to better that number by 50 percent," said Ray Tucker, the chairman of Fun Fest '88. "We made it."

"Anytime you have favorable weather, people want to come out and do something," said Ray Tucker, a co-chairman of the event, of this year's success when compared with last year's rain.

The successful event raised money for the parish's building fund, which includes adding on to the parking lot.

There was yet another reason that attracted the public to the festival—the great prizes for the raffles. The grand prize of $2,000 went to Jerry Ross. Ross was at the festival with one of his relatives, and was put to work in the ocean county courtroom the morning he walked in. During his first break he bought a raffle ticket. He came home a little later and thought he had better buy a couple more. That was enough to win him the grand prize.

Another special raffle, with only 500 tickets sold, went to Patricia DiCocco.

"How did you know I needed a new car?" DiCocco quipped when her name was called to receive the 31-inch remote control TV.

The second grand prize, a Pi Myers getaway, was won by Benny Ross, who was visiting from out of town. The third prize, a lawn mower, was won by Art Deigh. The fourth prize of $500 cash went to Kim Alford.

The women who made the festival's crafts put on a separate raffle. The grand prize, made by the church's Women's Guild, was a king-size quilt. The lucky winner of the quilt was Norma Lerner. Another hand-made prize was a ceramic book with the story "The Night Before Christmas" went to Shirley Lange. The third prize made by the Women's Guild was a huge stuffed bunny, which was won by Jim Pascoe.

"A lot of the members were from the community, not the parish," Ross Tucker said.

As far as the entertainment went, the Naval Band's Blue Jublet, Charon, entertained their audience under the big tent, singing such patriotic songs as "God Bless America."

"They were really a crowd-pleaser," Tucker said. "People stayed and stayed to hear them."

The opening entertainment was done by the dance team from Seminole High School called "Destiny." The dancers brought out crowds for the beginning of the festival.

The Lakeview Middle School Band also performed fabulously, and brought even more of the community out to enjoy the fun.

The School of Dance Arts also brought out its students for a great performance.

"We just loved those little kids," Tucker said.

Every part of the festival was enjoyed by those who came: the food, the games, the rides, the entertainment and the prizes.

"The whole weekend was a lot of fun," Tucker concluded.

Until someone comes up with his ransom, Willie Wall (on knee) may remain a victim of pirates (from left) Beth Jensen, John Justice and Jackson Bignew. As fierce as they look, the pirates are actually on the Dorey Jones Center, a place of refuge for the benefit of the Junior Woman's Club of Sanford, set for Nov.

Those kidnappees will have to raise ransoms (pledge contributions) from friends. To have a good-natured pirate kidnappee or make contributions, call Julie Wert at 321-9870 (day).

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

For several years Bois Distilleries has sponsored a "bridge tips" competition among leading journalist-experts. George Rosenkranz's tip for 1989 is "Direct the opening lead during the auction." Today's deal will illustrate the strength of making the appropriate lead-directing bid. South ended up in a six-heart contract, after East and West had bid a lot of spades. West's leap to four spades was meant only to thwart the North-South slam-bidding process, and East's continuation of five spades was more of the same. In South's methods, six clubs after Blackwood interference showed two aces, and so he arrived at six hearts. Not being clairvoyant, West led a spade, and 12 tricks were easy to take. The point of Rosenkranz's tip is that East should have bid five diamonds rather than five spades. Since North is trying for slam, it is very likely that he has the diamond king, and getting a diamond lead may be crucial to preventing North-South from making a slam. Of course the opponents may then be smart enough to stop bidding and double five diamonds, and double again when East or West runs to five spades. But from East-West's point of view, giving up 300 points is far better than losing a possible 1430. And who knows? Perhaps South would show his two aces in some fashion over five diamonds and reach a slam that would be defeated with the diamond lead.

The Good Samaritan Home has administered the Emergency Shelter Grant Program, assisting the needy and homeless referred by the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services, and the Food Vouchers Program under the Community Service Block Grant.

Recognizing the importance of these services to Central Florida, Mayor Betty Smith of Sanford has proclaimed Nov. 9-30 as "The Good Samaritan Home Awareness Month" in an effort to heighten the visibility and concern of the community and the Good Samaritan Home.

Perhaps a great number of local citizens would like to be a part of this effort in reaching out to those in need. Sunday, Nov. 19, has been designated "Church Emphasis Day," and it is hoped that individuals and/or churches will commit to adopt the Good Samaritan Home for a month (providing funds to cover food, supplies, etc.)

Donations can be mailed or brought 1704 W. 8th St., or one may call 323-5331 or 323-3394.

Dual Day is today

New Mt. Calvary Missionary Baptist Church will observe their annual Dual Day Service today at 11 a.m. The speaker for the occasion will be Missie Boyer Woodruff, educator in the Orange County educational system.

Woodruff is the eighth child of the Rev. and Mrs. C.L. Boyer Sr. of Winter Park. She attended the local schools of Orange County, received her bachelor's degree from Spellman College, Atlanta, her master's degree from Indiana State University, Terre Haute, Ind., and her doctorate in education from Nova University, Fort Lauderdale.

She has been named the Woman of the Year from the American Association of University Women, and is a member of the Delta Sigma Theta sorority. She also is the wife of Coach Claude Woodruff and the mother of two daughters, Elythe and Conchita. The music for the Dual Day Service will be rendered by The Choirs of Calvary, Jean Brown and W. Morris are chairmen of the event.

Chapter of the American Business Women Association will hold their monthly meeting Wednesday, Nov. 15, at Patsio's restaurant. All members or business-minded ladies are invited to attend the 7 p.m. dinner meeting. Denise MacDonald is president.

Pastor to be installed

St. John Metropolitan Baptist Church, 920 Cypress Ave., announces the installation services of the Rev. Robert Doctor for Sunday, Nov. 19, at 3 p.m.

The installation message will be delivered by the Rev. Melvin Doctor, and the St. Mary Missionary Baptist Church, Conway, will be in charge of the services. Other guest ministers will give inspirational words and share with the St. John family in this hour of honor for their new shepherd.

The community is invited to share this inspirational afternoon of praise and fellowship.

Crooms reunion meet set

The Classes of the '50s of Crooms Academy will hold their classes reunion meeting on Sunday, Nov. 19, at 6 p.m. at the Celery City Elks Home, Cypress Avenue and Seventh Street. Richard Evans is chairman.

Tickets reservations due

Ticket reservations are due by Nov. 17 for the second annual dinner meeting of the Orange County Community Action Board.

The dinner meeting is planned for Saturday, Dec. 9, at 7 p.m. at the Orange County Civic Center.

Tickets are available for $15. For reservations and more information, call coordinator John Cummings at 420-4444 or write to P.O. Box 561457, Orlando, FL 32856-1457. Checks should be made payable to the Community Action Board Dinner.

Safety seats boon to campers

DEAR ABBY: In a recent column, you praised the "Hug a Tree" survival program and credit "Ab Taylor" as its creator. In the first place, the man's name is "Ab Taylor," and in the second place, he did not create the program, I did.

I wrote every word of that program and took every photographic slide. Of course, Mr. Taylor was very helpful, but the material was mine. I even had it copyrighted.

In the past you have always given credit where credit was due. Will you kindly do the same for me?

THOMAS E. JACOBS, AUTHOR OF HUG A TREE AND SURVIVE

DEAR MR. JACOBS: You bet! Consider yourself duly credited for that wonderful program. And my apologies to Ab for calling him Abe.

For a dandy tip for campers who camp out with toddlers, read on:

DEAR ABBY: Hugging a tree is good advice for youngsters who lose their way in the woods, and as one writer suggested, a whistle around the neck is also a good idea for campers.

But what about toddlers who wander off in the wooded area and are too young to follow instructions about hugging a tree? Or even blowing a whistle should they get lost?

My husband and I have been camping in the Colorado Rockies with our children since they were babies, and I have a suggestion for parents who camp out with very young children.

To keep your children from getting lost, simply removed their "car seats" from the automobile and use them as security chairs. Infant car seats provide comfortable, "escape-proof" chairs that can be placed by campfires, rivers or wherever you are on your camping trip. While parents are fishing, erecting a tent or preparing meals, with the little ones safely in their escape-proof car seats, there is no need to worry about where they are.

Children under 3 years of age do wander, and in hilly, wooded terrain like we have in Colorado, only a few minutes is all it takes for a youngster to get lost. And sound doesn't carry very well in the mountains.

I hope this suggestion will save some toddler the grief of getting lost, or some parents the pain of losing a child on a camping trip. Sad to say, it happens to somebody's child every year.
