

Millions Lacking Job Despite 50 Pct. Trade Gain

Army of Idle Men Is Estimated As High As Twelve Million

This is the second of a series of six articles on the progress of economic recovery.

By FREDERICK R. GARDNER
WASHINGTON, May 4.—(AP)—While the hammers of American industry beat today at the fastest tempo in six years, they chip away but slowly at the stubborn mass of unemployment. Although no census of the jobs has been taken, latest estimates range from 9,800,000 by the National Industrial Conference Board to 12,550,000 by the American Federation of Labor. Each calculation indicates a pronounced lag between recovery in employment and the sweeping pick-up in industrial production.

The estimates of the National Industrial Conference Board, a statistical organization supported by corporations, show that the huge accumulation of jobless from 1929 to 1933 has been reduced by only about 20 percent. The American Federation of Labor, using a different basis for its computation, figures that less than 25 percent of the extreme increase in idleness has been hammered away.

Most statistical measurements show that about half of the loss in industrial production between 1929 and early 1933 has been recovered. The U. S. bureau of labor statistics shows a similar recovery in factory employment.

What is perplexing to many analysts, however, is the fact that in the later phases of recovery, factory employment has not kept pace with the gains in production.

For instance, for the last two years alone, the federal reserve board figures show a jump in industrial production of about 12 percent, while the bureau of labor statistics shows a gain of only 7 percent. This brings up what is perhaps the most controversial phase of the entire problem, the growing use of labor saving machinery.

How many men have been displaced by machines? How much of the idleness is what is known as "structural unemployment"? Labor leaders say much of it is due to this cause, and demand a shorter work week.

A number of industrialists, on the other hand, assert that labor saving machinery increases employment by adding to the cost of cheap production, making more jobs in distributing, selling and serving the increased output of useful appliances and goods.

Then whence comes this huge army of jobless? Among the explanations offered is the estimated 8,000,000 added to America's population in the last six years.

Another factor cited is that building and construction activities still are relatively depressed, although there has been pronounced improvement in the past year. Employment also appears to lag in the miscellaneous services, embracing that vast army of workers who wait on tables, shine shoes, deliver ice and do a host of other odd jobs.

Business analysts say also that in the early phases of recovery, capital is timid and new enterprises are slow to develop. They explain that the development of a new industry which would thrive as the automobile industry did in the decade after the World War might greatly alter the scene.

Another factor tending to deter the decrease in the total of unemployed, some point out, is that many workers, in the worst of the depression, were employed only one or two days a week. They now receive faster pay envelopes, but at no time were they listed as unemployed.

In the meantime, the government continues to support millions of families with relief funds. Latest estimates indicate that the number of persons supported, including those able to work and their dependents is around 19,000,000.

(In the third article, Frank I. Weller of the Washington staff of The Associated Press will discuss recovery in agriculture.)

Patient To Turn On Dr. New Deal, Mencken Thinks

Henry L. Mencken, former editor of "The American Mercury," predicts in the May issue of that magazine an early end for the theological philters prescribed for the American public by the Administration in Washington. Soon, he says, the patient on whom political doctors have tried their copious remedies will begin to move a toe then rise from his bed and give the doctors "what, on less exalted levels, would be described graphically as the bum's rush."

Mr. Mencken based his prediction on an analysis of the New Deal as one compounded chiefly of opiates or painkillers, followed by instruments of medicine men and coothesayers, and the beginning of time. He likens them however, to other quack cures offered by Communists and Fascists, and expresses his surprise that even the dumbest yokels have succumbed to them.

"There is no actual newness in the so-called New Deal," he writes. "Its fundamental pretension goes back to the dark abyss of time, and even its most lunatic details are not novel to students of world-saving. If it differs from the other current panaceas—for instance, Communism, Fascism and Naziism—it is only in its greater looseness and orthodoxy, its more reckless hospitality to miscellaneous nonsense."

The social and economic objectives of the New Deal, Mr. Mencken observes, belong in the great tradition of theological humbug. What he calls "its rumble-bumble has its roots, he says in the oldest practices of the magic art of fooling people through theology, magic and mystery.

"The New Deal offers a less potent medicine," he ventures, "but what it offers belongs indubitably to the same category.

It, too, is a kind of religion, though somewhat cheaper and less sophisticated than the variety propagated from Moscow. It is to the latter, roughly speaking, as the Holy Rollers, the Feet-Wash Baptists and the Salvation Army, stand to the elegant arcana of Holy Church.

Added to the theology in the New Deal, Mr. Mencken has found definite traces of the anodyne proffered in the past to the lame and the weary by poetry. The final ingredient, according to his analysis, has been booziness completing the list of man's traditional avenues of escape what he does not want to face.

"The wizards now rampant in Washington, in some of their aspects," he writes, "are far more poets than theologians. At every excess they turn from harsh prose of exegesis to the lascivious measures of hymnody, and sing down the groans of doubt. Moreover, there is about their giddy gladness something that clearly transcends the spiritual; if it were not notorious that they are all extremely abstemious men one might almost call it spiritual."

Before long, he concludes, even the patient and long suffering American public may be expected to turn against its brain

Many Excursionists Spilled Into Water In Ship Collision

NEW YORK, May 4.—(AP)—The man died and five other persons were injured when a 65-foot boat carrying a Sunday fishing party collided off Annapolis lightship with a 4,775-ton freighter.

Most of the 48 persons aboard the fishing boat, the M. J. R. 3rd, were thrown into Sheepshead Bay by the impact. They were picked up by several other boats in the vicinity.

Marine police identified the freighter as the Evangeline of the Bull Line inbound from San Juan.

Capt. Frank Polecek of the M. J. R. 3rd said he was at anchor when the crash came. He suffered a fracture of the left hand.

An unidentified man died, apparently of a heart attack, after being picked up by a rescue boat.

The fishing boat, slowly sinking, was towed ashore.

General Hagood Will Leave Army And Write Book

WASHINGTON, May 4.—(AP)—After serving one full day as commanding officer of the Sixth Army Corps Area at Chicago, Major General Johnson Hagood, who spent seven weeks in military exile after criticizing WPA spending policies, today requested immediate retirement.

In a communication received here at the same time from Chicago, the veteran officer announced he expected to return to his home in Charleston, S. C., to write a book in which "I shall show how the United States can get much better national defense at very much less cost to the taxpayer." Hagood said his friends feel he had been "mishandled."

Granting his retirement request is mandatory since after more than 44 years' active duty he is entitled to retire with the rank of major general and full retirement pay.

Mussolini May Put Puppet On Throne

GENEVA, May 4.—(AP)—Members of the League of Nations generally anticipated that Premier Mussolini would put a puppet emperor upon the throne of Ethiopia upon his own terms.

An Italian spokesman emphasized that Italy always recognized the existence of Ethiopia. From this it was deduced that the Duce will continue to recognize an independent Amharic State, though probably under Italian supervision with the remainder of the country passing to Italy in the form of a colony or mandate.

Yesterday's primary was the second in which Roosevelt and Breckinridge have contested over New Deal policies in the state. Pennsylvania Democrats swung the President a 20 to 1 ratio.

Democrats favored Roosevelt over Colonel Breckinridge by more than six to one in the primary. In the 400 polling places, the President 54,560 to 8,555 over Colonel Breckinridge. The count from 15 out of a total of 740 Baltimore county boxes was: Breckinridge, 185; Roosevelt, 568.

There was no state-wide Republican contest. Both parties balloted on candidates from the six congressional districts. All the incumbents are Democrats. Four of them had opposition within the party.

Auxiliary Will Join In Exercises Next Sunday Eve In Hut

Honoring the mothers of America and particularly the mothers of members of the American Legion and the Sons of the Legion, the Auxiliary of the Legion, Campbell-Lossing Post of the Legion and the Women's Auxiliary will present a program in the Legion Hut on Lake Front Boulevard next Sunday evening (Mother's Day) at 8 o'clock. Due to the size of the room the attendance will be limited to Legionnaires and their families. The Rev. J. Bernard Root, pastor of the First Congregational Church and chaplain of the Legion Post, in announcing the program to be given here, said that while such programs are mandated by the national department, the Legion and the Auxiliary would doubtless have arranged one irrespective of departmental ruling. The Auxiliary will furnish a speaker on child welfare, and Dr. Ralph Stevens of St. Petersburg will speak for the Legion. Mrs. J. J. Holly, president of the Auxiliary, and Lloyd F. Case Against Karpis Called "Air Tight"

ST. PAUL, May 5.—(AP)—Alvin Karpis was subjected to his fourth day of almost continuous questioning today as District Attorney Sullivan announced the government had an airtight case and would ask that bail be set at $400,000 when the trial is arranged on kidnapping charges.

In explanation of what he said he believed was an unprecedented bail demand, Sullivan called Karpis "one of the most desperate characters in the history of the nation." He said he was prepared to arrange for a $400,000 bail bond, but he would not accept a questioner's suggestion that Karpis be held in lieu of bond. BRITISH LEGATION HAVEN FOR AMERICANS

The heavily fortified British legation (top) in Addis Ababa became the asylum for most Americans and other foreigners in the Ethiopian capital when rioters ran wild following the flight of Emperor Haile Selassie. Because of its unprotected position, the United States legation (below) was deserted save for Minister Cornelius Van H. Engert, his wife and a handful of co-workers who repelled an attack by marauders, but they were forced to evacuate the legation, shortly before the arrival today of the victorious Fascist Legions. Troops Arrive Soon After Americans Are Compelled To Evacuate Legation

Rome Celebrates African Victory

Selassie Flees With Nation's Treasure On British Cruiser

ROME, May 5.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini declared tonight: "The war is over" and "Ethiopia is Italian." He made the declaration to half the population of Italy gathered in a huge mobilization. The populace was assembled in honor of the fall of Addis Ababa.

The British Minister to Ethiopia Reported That Large Force of Conquering Italian Soldiers Entered Thousands of Foreigners Besieged for Four Days in Various Legations

This word was wirelessly to London by Sir Sidney Barton, British minister, shortly after the sorely pressed American Legation had been evacuated.

The United States Received Assurance From the Italian Government That Lives and Property of Foreigners Would be Protected According to the Rules of War as Soon as Italian Forces Occupied the City.

Sirens and bells sounded in Rome late today summoning citizens to a celebration after the war ministry received information Addis Ababa had fallen. The summons was to the long-expected national mass meeting expected to symbolize Italy's victory over Ethiopia. In response to the tocsin, half the population of Italy sprang to military and semi-military formation, as the former Emperor of Ethiopia moved through the torrid Red Sea, safely aboard a British vessel. Leaders of the southern Ethiopian forces, Ras Nasibu and his Turkish advisor and staff officer, Wehbi Pascha, fled also to Djibouti.

London sources, reporting the British government as frankly humiliated by the unexpected easy conquest of Ethiopia, reflected demands of laborites that punishment of Italy through sanctions should be continued and increased.

Selassie Takes Treasure

DJIBOUTI, May 5.—(AP)—Emperor Haile Selassie went into exile laden with rich treasures. His possessions aboard the British cruiser include the imperial family jewels, many cases of gold bullion and gold and silver coins. The emperor was reported to have stopped at Dire Dawa while coming here and removed all cash from the treasury and customs house there. He even took six automobiles with him aboard the ship.

Well Paid

Do you know how much it costs the English people to support their King Queen Mary and the other members of the royal family? According to the royal budget committee, officially selected for that purpose, no less than $750,000 will be required during the twelve months period to keep body and soul of the various members of the House of Windsor together.

This tiny little item is divided between the King and the other members of his family in such a way as to give him what seems to us to be the lion's share. He gets $2,000,000 annually and all the rest of the royalty gets $970,000 altogether. But, of course, out of his stipend, the King has to pay for lots of functions and whatnots from which the others are exempt.

And at that, King Edward's income has been reduced $500,000 from what his father used to get. But, of course, Edward being a much younger man, and more or less inexperienced, probably isn't worth as much as his father was. Out of his $2,050,000 income, the sum of $764,000 has been set aside for his household expenses, and $670,000 for salaries and pensions for his secretaries, clerks and so forth.

The King gets $600,000 every year which he is supposed to give to charity, beggars, and special contributions of such a nature. He also gets $500,000 for what they call "the King's private purse"—the money which he would call "his" in this country—which he can spend any way he wants to, or not spend it at all, if he is thrifty. This year's budget also includes an item of $200,000 for King Edward's future wife, and another $395,000 for the future Prince of Wales, just in case.

Besides this income which the King gets from the state, he also has his own private fortune represented largely by the Duchy of Cornwall, and the Duchy of Lancaster. From the former he draws about $500,000 a year, and from the latter the tidy sum of $30,000 annually. Queen Mary gets a salary of $550,000 a year from the state, and the Duke of York, who is heir presumptive to the throne, draws another $250,000.

The civil lists are supposed to support kings, queens, princes and princesses in the style to which they are accustomed, while at the same time keeping their expenditures within certain upper limits. The first civil list was instituted by King George III, the annual sum being voted being far higher than that of George II, which was $1,500,000 annually as suited to their rank, and George III got $4,000,000, but they were real spenders and had trouble living on those allowances.

King Edward's private list, which was set up in 1901, was $1,112,000 in liquid assets. The annual sum being voted being far higher than that of George II, which was $1,500,000 annually as suited to their rank, and George III got $4,000,000, but they were real spenders and had trouble living on those allowances.

From the former he draws about $500,000 a year, and from the latter the tidy sum of $30,000 annually. Queen Mary gets a salary of $550,000 a year from the state, and the Duke of York, who is heir presumptive to the throne, draws another $250,000.

Convicts Know The Dog Watch Gets Its Man

By WILLIAM M. PINKERTON
CHILLICOTHE, Ohio, May 3.—(AP)—The Federal industrial reformatory slows down to a walk at 4:30 P. M. each day. Pietro and Davis start their guard tours at that hour.

The two police guard dogs of the federal prison service, who have been as an experiment two years ago, have convinced guards and inmates alike it is not safe to run across the main prison yard while they're on guard.

Trained in Switzerland to bring down a running man or to destroy a man carrying a gun or club, Pietro and Davis patrol the fields of the reformatory reservation at the heels of their guard each night. So successful have they been that eight other dogs have joined the ranks of their guard staffs at institutions where large tracts of outside territory must be patrolled. No man ever has slipped past them.

If the guard sees a prowler, a word sends the dog after him, if the man stops in his tracks, the dog will not attack. If he brandishes a weapon, the dog will grab his wrist.

To guards and others at rest, the big, muscular police dogs are friendly and affectionate. But a man on the run is their enemy.

Guards here tell the story of a doublet who scooped at Pietro and Davis when they first arrived. "You can't tell me those dogs will attack a running man," he said. "Go ahead, who had trained with the dogs in the east offered to let him experiment."

The doublet set off for a man's a short distance away. Giving him a head-start, the guard loaded his charge. The man slipped and the dog leaped at his leg. He didn't scold that.

Another time, an inmate chasing a long fly on the baseball field during the late afternoon "rest" period, ran directly into the path of one of the dogs. Guards had cautioned inmates repeatedly to stop when the dog gave chase. The inmate-flied was intent on the ball, however, and the dog was after him. The man before the guard could stop him. A sharp command from the guard stopped the dog.

WHERE KARPIS WAS CAUGHT BY FEDERAL AGENTS... EAST MASTERS OF SANFORD LODGE NO. 62 OF THE MASONS... PUBLIC ENEMY RINGED BY GUNS

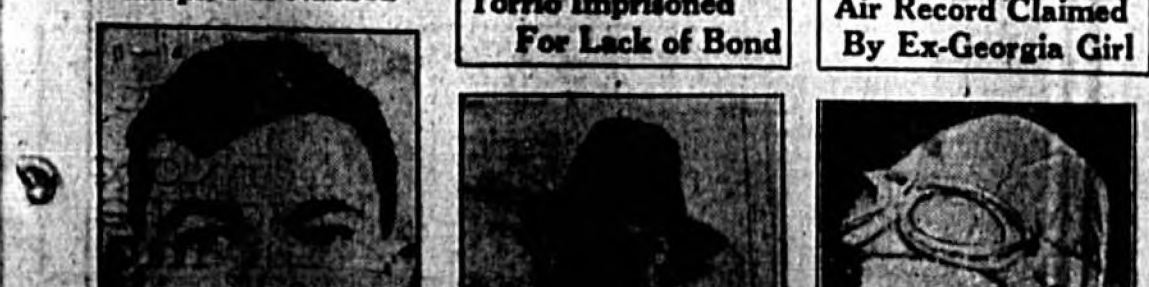

Just as Alvin Karpis and two companions stepped from this New Orleans apartment house, they were surrounded by Department of Justice agents led by their chief, J. Edgar Hoover, and surrendered peacefully. The country's Public Enemy No. 1 and the woman arrested with him had been living in this house under the name of "Mr. and Mrs. O'Hara." Arrested with them was Fred Hunter, wanted on robbery charges. (AP Photo)

HE SAW KARPIS CAUGHT—SHE 'COULDN'T BELIEVE' IT

Adeline Gale (left), high school student, happened to alight from a trolley car just as federal agents led by J. Edgar Hoover surrounded Alvin Karpis in New Orleans—and so witnessed every movement of the Public Enemy No. 1. He lived in the same building in which Karpis had taken an apartment. Mrs. J. E. Meyer (right), manager of the apartment house, knew the notorious outlaw as "Ed O'Hara" whom she regarded as "such a nice, quiet little man." At first she "just couldn't believe" her tenant really was Karpis. (Associated Press Photo)

Members of Sanford Lodge No. 62, F. & A. M., who went to Jacksonville recently to pay tribute to one of its past masters, Rayn H. Chapman, who was installed Apr. 23 as deputy grand master of the Grand Lodge of Florida, placing him in line for election as grand master next year. In the group are front row, L. R. Phelps, Frank L. Miller, Mr. Chapman, and Dr. O. L. Miller; second row, James Moughtin, E. B. Randall, Jr., John Gove George W. Huff, A. K. Rosseter, James O. Huff, G. E. McKay, and L. B. Hodges.

Surrounded by alert Department of Justice agents gripping Tommy guns, Alvin Karpis, heavily manacled, is seen being taken to the St. Paul federal building after he was flown from New Orleans, where he was captured. The Public Enemy No. 1 was to be arraigned at St. Paul on charges of kidnaping William A. Hamm, Jr., and Edward Bremer. (Associated Press Photo)

KARPIS ARREST HOOPER'S FIRST

Although J. Edgar Hoover has devoted a long career to directing the federal government's war on organized crime, he participated in his first actual arrest when he led a squad of his agents in capturing Alvin Karpis at New Orleans. The tenuous chief of the United States Bureau of Investigation is shown riding along the street after Karpis, so-called Public Enemy No. 1, and two accomplices were set in front of their apartment. Comment From The Sidelines

Sheffield, who umpired the game in Sunday's game, changed some of his decisions when he put Daytona base runner out at second after first calling him safe.

It is always considered the privilege of fans to boo the umpire, and Umpire got plenty of boos Sunday from the crowded grandstand. All of the fans did not come from Sanfordites, either, as there were plenty of Daytona Beach folks there.

If Zim Beck, Chattanooga scout, had not been at Sunday's game, the Lookouts might have won. But they knew the scout was there and they were looking for a likely material for his team and for holes in the Sanford team he might be able to plug, and the boys were nervous. In their over-cautiousness to make a good showing, some of them did not do as well as they have in other games.

Thanks for those kind words from Zim Beck. His statement that Sanford has a good team as any other in the Florida State League with one exception is heartening.

Baseball players are no exception, they have their "off" days as do men in other professions, and Sunday was one of those days for Buddy Lake. He pitched a great game Thursday against the DeLand Reds, winning 16 to 5, and had not rested up sufficient when put in the box against the Daytona Beach Islanders three days later. Doc Hardin was sent in to pitch too late to save the day, but he kept the visitors from running up a higher score.

While the Lookouts are reposing in the cellar at the present writing, they will go into a tie with St. Augustine and Gainesville if they win today and the Saints and the G-Men both lose. Sanford has won five and lost nine games, St. Augustine and Gainesville have each won six and lost eight games. A Lookout win today will give Sanford a 6-9 rating, and defeat for the Saints and G-Men today will give them the same rating, giving the three .400 in the percentage column.

Official averages compiled by Earl Blue, loop statistician, for all Florida State League games up to and including Apr. 29, place Sanford fourth in batting average and fifth in club fielding, in individual hitting, Cates, third baseman, ranks fifth in a field of 17; Blatruff, catcher, ranks sixth, and Barnes, left fielder, ranks seventh. Doc Hardin is rated as the sixth best pitcher in the league, with Loper bringing up the rear in eighteenth place.

Dave Swindell, Sanford center fielder, is the home run king of the Florida State League, according to the official statistician's record. He also stole the most bases, five in number. He made three circuit drives in a game with the Azaleas in Palatka a week ago Sunday. Another Swindell record is the most times to bat in one game. That was in the Palatka game when he went to the plate six times.

Wagner, Sanford shortstop, has the uncertain honor of being struck out the greatest number of times during the first 10 days of play in the State League. He was struck 10 times. Norwood, right fielder, made three sacrifice hits during the period, the greatest greatest number by any player of the six teams.

The Chattanooga Club of the Southern Association has first claim on any promising player in the Sanford Lookouts and, under the working agreement the local club has with the Chattanooga, no payment will be required for the first man selected. But Zim Beck, scout for Chattanooga, has promised not to pounce upon Lake and take him away to help the Tennessee win the Southern pennant.

With such men as Bert Chapman, Ed Rivo and other former baseball stars coaching them, the boys in the Legion Junior League should soon be able to get up a pretty good brand of ball. Mr. Chapman formerly coached with the Boston Red Sox of the American League. Mr. Rivo and Earl Adams were members of the old Florida State League as was Floyd Palmer who also played with the White Sox of the American League. W. C. Hutchinson played baseball with Eddie Bremer, of the Legion Junior League, played on the United States Olympic team with the Boston Braves, and was a member of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Legion Juniors Open Their '36 League Season

Cardinals Defeat Reds, 17 To 3, In 7 Inning Contest

First Ball Is Pitched By State Athletic Officer Of Legion

Another baseball season opens. Legion Junior League teams played their first game yesterday, at Sanford Field before a fair sized crowd of fans. Despite the one-sided score and so many errors that the score-keepers' count, those who saw the contest report it was an interesting one. The Reds won by a score of 17 over the Cardinals who got only three men across the plate. The score by innings:

Reds 2 0 0 1 0 0 — 3
Cardinals ... 3 5 2 0 1 0 — 17
Stenstrom for the Cards and Koloff for the Reds were the opposing pitchers. Wallace was behind the bat for the Cardinals, but the Reds (they chose that name because about half the boys on the team have red hair) used four catchers—Young, Pearson, Echols, and Newman. With the exception of Echols, each at two calls go by.

Stenstrom struck out three men and Koloff struck out five. Runs: Cardinals—Wallace 2, Cooper 3, B. Odham 4, Adams 1, Ganas 2, Lawson 1, Stenstrom 1, A. Odham 1; Reds—Knight 1, Koloff 1, Echols 1.

Cooper, Cardinal third basemen, batted in three runs, while B. Odham, Cardinal third sacker, and Koloff, Red pitcher, each tatted in a run. Bases were stolen by Young, Red catcher, and by five Cardinals—Stenstrom, pitcher, Ganas, left field; Adams, shortstop; Cooper, second base; and A. Odham, right field. R. Meriwether, second base and W. Meriwether, first base, put over a double play for the Reds, and Thirli Baseman Steele for the Reds worked a double play unassisted.

Morris Spencer and Bill Cates, the latter the Lookouts third sacker, were the umpires. The first ball was pitched by Lois Griffith, Legion State athletic officer, who is in charge of all Legion Junior baseball leagues. The next game in the Legion Junior League will be played on the new Ninth Street diamond at 6 o'clock Wednesday afternoon between the third and fourth teams, as yet unnamed.

3 Join Lookouts To Replace Trio Given Releases

Three new men joined the Lookouts today, though they may not appear in this afternoon's game in Sanford field against the Saints. They replace three who were given their releases yesterday.

The three new men are Fred Gleason who will play shortstop, "Shorty" Malby, a second baseman, and Ed Davis, outfielder. Watters who has been playing at short will return to his home in Brunswick, Ga., and Outfielders Norwood and Cooper are the other two who were released. Both have been playing in the right field. Norwood came here from Cocoa and Cooper came from Lakeland.

Eddie Davis, the new right fielder who replaces Norwood and Cooper, is sent to the Sanford Lookouts by the Chattanooga Lookouts, and Zim Beck says he is a good man. His home is in Birmingham, Ala. Malby comes from Winter Park and Gleason from Sebring.

Zim Beck Pleased With Local Team, 'Stacks Up Well'

Scout Says Club Is As Good As Others Excepting Daytona

Zim Beck, Chattanooga scout, said today that after having witnessed games between all Florida State League teams with the exception of the G-Men of Gainesville he is firmly of the conviction that Sanford has as good a team as any other with the possible exception of the Daytona Beach Islanders. He saw the Saturday and Sunday games between Sanford and Daytona and expected to witness the game between the Lookouts and the Saints from St. Augustine on Sanford Field this afternoon.

"There are some weak spots in the team, of course, but that is to be expected this early in the season," the scout said. "You're not playing seasoned men as on the big leagues, but trying out youngsters, and it takes a little time to find out what's what. I am pleased with the performance of the Lookouts on the whole. You've got the making of a good team."

The Chattanooga scout sent Eddie Davis, new rightfielder signed today, to join the Sanford lineup. Beck is going to Jacksonville tomorrow where he has a couple of other players farmed out, and then plans to join his own outfit and witness a few games in the Southern Association.

"But I'll be back after awhile," he said. "I'm interested in the Sanford team."

Scores Of Little Children Take Part In Field Sports On Grammar School Park

Fifth And Sixth Graders Compete In Foot Races, Running And Broad Jumps And Basket And Baseball Throws

Nearly 100 children in the fifth and sixth grades in Grammar School participated in the field sports on the school grounds. There were 25-yard and 50-yard races, relay races, running broad jumps and standing broad jumps, and basketball and baseball throws. Only one boy and one girl from each room was allowed to participate in the different events. The pennant was won by Mrs. Bybil Routh's room. Mrs. Harold Varn and Miss Lillian Thornley coached the children.

Winners in the various events were as follows:

- 25-Yard Dash: Girls: Audrey Walters, first; Anna Bell Shannon, second; Lois Caldwell, third; and Bessie Adkins, Marjorie Newman, Susan Kirtley. Boys: John Edwards, first; Billy Hoolehan, second; Kirby Fite, third; and Scott McIntyre, Linwood McGill, Richard Merriwether.

Special Sleeve Made For Foxx's Uniforms

CHICAGO, May 5.—(AP)—Fans who used to spot Al Simmons by his baggy pants, and Jimmy Foxx by his blacksmith's arm bulging from a shortened shirt sleeve can't recognize these American league stars so readily this season. When Simmons reported to the Detroit camp he was given one of Firpo Marberry's old suits. The knees curled up instead of drooping below the knees as Simmons' old uniforms always did, and Al liked the hand-me-down

Leaders Humbled By Ivey's Yanks To Tune Of 19-4

Too Many Errors Was Cause Of Downfall Of Team Up At Top

The Yankees got the scalp (and nearly got the goat) of the Seminoles in Monday afternoon's game in the Lions League. The Yanks won, 19 to 4. It was the first time the Seminoles have met defeat in the eight games they have played since the season opened on Apr. 6.

As usual, it was a pitchers' battle between Carroll Godwin for the Yankees and William Brannan for the Seminoles, though Seminoles errors played a big part in the defeat of the League leaders. Brannan has pitched nearly every game for the Seminoles and last-ed through the game yesterday, but many of John Ivey's Yankee batters were able to smack the pill, and others got to first base on balls, and after the Yanks once got started there was no stopping them. Eugene Cochran caught for the Yankees and Roland Floyd was behind the bat for the Seminoles. The figures 375 now replace the perfect 1,000 opposite the name of the Seminoles in the Lions League, and the Yankees climb to 750, only two games behind the leaders, as the Seminoles continue to top the League despite yesterday's defeat.

The Seminoles play again tomorrow afternoon, against the Giants, and the Yankees will be seen on the field again next Thursday when they meet the Cubs. Lions League games are played on the Seventh Street and Elm Avenue diamond at 5 o'clock each week-day afternoon with the exception of Saturday.

Extra Clerks Authorized In June Primary

Will Work In Shifts To Hurry Count Of Expected Unusually Heavy Election Poll

Candidates Must Qualify Thursday

It Is Also Last Day For Filing Of First Expense Accounts

Expecting an unusually heavy vote in the June 2 primary, the Board of County Commissioners authorized the dividing of the two Sanford City precincts into four voting booths and the employment of two extra sets of clerks and inspectors. The two sets will work in 12-hour shifts, the first until the polls close, the second in counting ballots through the night, then the first back on the job the day following the primary, and the second set on duty the second night. County Clerk O. P. Herndon expressed the opinion that even with working double shifts it may be the second day before the count will be known, as the registration is so heavy and the ballot will be unusually long with the names of more than 100 candidates for the various offices.

There will be a clerk and three inspectors for Precinct 1 and a clerk and three inspectors for Precinct 2-A, both in the Court House; and a clerk and three inspectors for Precinct 3 and a clerk and three inspectors for Precinct 3-A in the Waikiki building.

All candidates for County offices must qualify before midnight tomorrow, and they also must file expense accounts before that hour. The time for qualifying candidates for state offices closed last Saturday night.

Election returns will be made next week to pay their poll taxes as the final date is May 14. When Tax Collector Jno. D. Jenkins closed his office last evening 1,899 electors had paid their poll taxes.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—(AP)—The State Department announced today an agreement with France on a reciprocal trade pact which it is to be signed here late this afternoon. Although no details of the agreement were announced, great importance was attached in both countries to the commercial accord which is intended to lower restrictions now applied by the French against American products.

France is America's fifth best customer and the new agreement is regarded by the state department as second only in importance to American foreign trade to the recently signed agreement with Canada.

Crime Cost Equal To National Debt, Says Cary Landis

Attorney General Is Speaker At Meeting Of Sanford Kiwanis

In addressing the Sanford Kiwanis Club today at its weekly luncheon in the Mayfair Hotel Cary D. Landis, attorney general of Florida, said that if the American people could stamp out crime they would pay the national debt in one year with the money saved.

The attorney general in discussing the national crime situation explained how various factions of the government are combatting crime, and said that in a recent report issued by the federal government it was shown that crime alone costs the United States 15 billion dollars a year and that the racketeers take another 15 billion from the American people.

"When the American people become aroused over the crime menace of today, they will stamp it out," Judge Landis said, and illustrated his point by telling of an incident when Al Capone is said to have made the assertion that he would quit his racketeering when "two percent of the citizens of this nation turn against crime."

Judge Landis came to Sanford to address the Better Business Association tonight and was a guest of President Walter L. Coleman at the Kiwanis luncheon.

Half Of Votes In Party Conclaves Have Been Chosen

Major Parties Swing Into Home Stretch Of Early Campaign

WASHINGTON, May 6.—(AP)—Major parties swung into the home stretch of the pre-convention campaigns with more than half of the delegates chosen for big political shows next month in Philadelphia and Cleveland, with immediate attention directed toward primary battle grounds in California and South Dakota.

Latest tabulations showed the Democrats have picked 552 of 1100 delegates to the national convention which will renominate President Roosevelt. Republicans have chosen 685 of 1001 delegates amid clashing predictions as to the way many of them will vote.

Incomplete returns from the California Republican vote showed delegates pledged to Governor Alf. M. Landon of Kansas, without his endorsement, were running behind a slate of unattached delegates. On the Democratic side a slate pledged to and picked by Roosevelt was far ahead of slates behind technical candidates of Upton Sinclair and Representative John McGroarty.

Conquerors Greeted By Natives Trying To Imitate Salute Of Fascist Nation

Soldiers Succor U. S. Legation

Besieged Americans Sought Assistance From The Invaders

The population of Addis Ababa, which had run riot for four days, turned out en masse today to greet the conquering Italian forces. While the Italian flag flew over Emperor Haile Selassie's palace, natives stood along the streets and gave imitations of Fascist salutes to 30,000 Italian soldiers who poured through the city.

Order was re-established with the coming of the Italians, and soldiers were posted to prevent raids.

The State Department at Washington received a message from Vice Consul William Cramp at Addis Ababa saying an Italian guard around the American legation had been withdrawn after disarming a number of natives during the night. Fascist soldiers were summoned to the assistance of the besieged Americans in the legation after the building had been attacked yesterday afternoon by Ethiopian bandits.

Marshal Pietro Badoglio appointed Major Giuseppe Bottai, former governor of Rome, as civil governor of Addis Ababa.

Premier Mussolini, who proclaimed to his mobilized nation last night that the war was ended, and "Ethiopia is Italian," permitted Roman celebrations to continue, but directed business to proceed to combat the League of Nations sanctions siege. A tentative plan to transform Ethiopia into an Italian possession already was formulated, and rejoicing Rome students, celebrating before the Quirinal palace, hailed King Victor Emmanuel as "Emperor."

Other capitals of Europe, after seeing the failure of the League of Nations sanctions to halt adjudged Fascist aggression, took the futures of both Ethiopia and the League under consideration.
