MRS. MASSIE WILL TESTIFY FOR HUSBAND

Attack Victim Chosen To Deal Final Blow
For Defense In Its Fight For Acquittal

HONOLULU, Apr. 20.—(A.P.)—Mrs. Thalia Massie, unwilling player in the drama of passion and homicide that has shaken Hawaii politically and socially, was chosen to strike the final blow for the defense in the Joseph Kahahawai lynching trial today.

Clarence Darroff promising to end his case today announced he probably would call the 22-year-old assault victim to the stand in an effort to free her husband, Lieutenant Thomas Massie, and three others accused of the killing.

A direct story of brutality suffered by the woman in the assault last September is expected as the defense sought to reinforce the testimony of Massie who admitted holding the pistol that killed the native.

Alienist testimony that Lieut. Thomas H. Massie was insane at the moment Joseph Kahahawai was killed put the prosecution in a fighting mood yesterday as the defense effort to clear four persons of the lynching approached its finale.

Isolating the young naval officer was mentally deranged when he stood before Kahahawai with drawn pistol and supposedly heard the native confess taking part in the attack on Mrs. Thalia Massie. Dr. James Orbison, Los Angeles psychiatrist, stuck by his story under a furious attack at the hands of Barry S. Ulrich, assistant prosecutor.

Dr. Edward Huntington Williams, another Los Angeles alienist, likewise testified Massie was mentally unbalanced. This witness added he believed Massie was telling the truth.

Clarence Darroff, 75-year-old defense attorney, announced he would close his case today and probably would call Mrs. Thalia Massie, attack victim and wife of the accused naval officer, to the stand.

This made it virtually certain none of the other defendant, Mrs. Granville Fortescue, mother of Mrs. Massie; Albert O. Jones an E. J. Lord, naval enlisted men, would be called to testify.

It was learned the defense some time ago decided not to call Mrs. Fortescue and Lord but for a time had considered putting Jones on the stand because of prosecution hints of its belief he was the real killer of Kahahawai. The defense, it developed, decided this would not be necessary and elected to take its chances on Massie's story.

Dr. Paul Whittington, former Harvard athlete, who attended Mrs. Massie and performed an operation upon her after the attack, and Samuel Stewart, retired army captain, had testified briefly, after which the prosecution recalled Massie to the stand to question him about participating in amateur theatricals.

Dr. Orbison explained the meaning of the word psychiatry for the benefit of the racially mixed jury. He then termed Massie's condition at the time of the tragedy as "delirium with ambulatory automatism." Darroff asked for a simplified definition and the witness called it mental derangement.

"Massie carried around this terrible memory," Dr. Orbison continued, "and also what his friends had told him—terrible rumors about his wife and one that he himself hit her on the jaw and broke it."

"Do you believe his condition of mind, started with the assault on his wife, was contributed to by something else that followed?" Darroff asked.

"Oh, certainly."

The witness then went into a long discussion of glands but Darroff cut him off with:

"Well, doctor, you believe the defendant, Massie, was insane when the shooting occurred?"

"Certainly," Dr. Orbison said. "Massie told me that in the moment Kahahawai uttered the words 'we done it,' he didn't know what happened. I asked him what he did with the gun and (Continued on Page Three)

Opposition Is Voiced To Dry Law Changes

WASHINGTON, Apr. 20.—(A.P.)—Vigorous opposition to any modification of prohibition laws was expressed before the Senate Judiciary sub-Committee today by a spokesman for more than 150 prohibitionists, mostly women. Miss Vida Mulhall, New York, member of the woman's committee for law enforcement, advocated withdrawing from the medical profession the privilege of prescribing liquor. Mrs. Richard Aldrich, New York, said "drinking brings divorce" and she has "never known of a divorce between two drunks."

STATE SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS TAG PENALTIES

Tribunal Reverses Re- cent Decision Ren- dered By Albritton

TALLAHASSEE, Apr. 20.—(A.P.)—The State Supreme Court yesterday held constitutional an act of the 1931 Legislature imposing a penalty of 25 per cent on motor vehicle owners who fail to obtain license tags before Feb. 1 each year.

The court reversed a recent decision by Circuit Judge Paul G. Albritton of Sarasota, who held the penalty clause of the automobile license tax law unconstitutional. The penalty provision was attacked in circuit court by the Florida Automobile Owners Protective Association and J. A. Leudum.

Judge Albritton's decision was appealed to the supreme court by Walter S. McLean, state motor vehicle commissioner, and W. A. Keen, sheriff of Sarasota county.

The supreme court, in its opinion, said the title of the 1931 automobile tag act meets all constitutional requirements, while the provisions in the law do not violate "due process" and "equal protection" clauses of the United States constitution as claimed in the attack.

The legislature, the court held, has every right to provide for penalties in its tax laws, and the amount of penalty in the motor vehicle law was considered "entirely reasonable." A decision of the United States Supreme Court, quoted, showed 50 per cent penalty legal in some cases.

"The amount of license tag tax exacted under the constitution as amended," the court said, "is not only collected as an excise tax on the privilege of using the roads, but as a property tax in substitution for the previously levied ad valorem taxes, which were applicable to motor vehicle licenses prior to the constitutional amendment."

Voters of the state in 1930 ratified an amendment to the state constitution which removed all personal property tax levies against automobiles. The 1931 Legislature increased the amount of license fees, and also added the penalty on those who fail to obtain tags prior to Feb. 1.

Newspapers Seen As Finest Medium For Advertisers

NEW YORK, Apr. 20.—(A.P.)—Newspapers were called the dominant advertising medium in the United States by Kenneth Collins, executive vice president and advertising director of R. H. Macy and Company, in his book, "The Road to Good Advertising," published yesterday.

"Few business ventures in America requiring the stimulus of advertising could live without the newspaper," said the department store executive.

"In it we spend more than one-half of the entire budget for all forms of publicity. We do so rightfully."

He held that advertising could help greatly in ending the business slump by the use of absolute frankness as to conditions and showing how values are the greatest in many years.

Collins said newspaper advertising had not produced results to the full extent of its capability only because of "fearful mishandling of advertising by the advertiser." He emphasized that newspapers of today are much better than those of other times and called upon advertisers to take advantage of the superior facilities now offered.

BRITISH MAKE NO PROVISIONS FOR WAR DEBT

New Budget Balanced But No Relief For Burdened Taxpayer Is Contemplated

LONDON, Apr. 20.—(A.P.)—Chancellor of the Exchequer Neville Chamberlain introduced another hard times budget in parliament yesterday, balancing the British national revenue and expenditure during the coming year at £767,000,000 pounds, revealing a small estimated surplus of £66,000,000 ($3,000,000).

No relief was afforded taxpayers from the heavy burdens levied during the national crisis last autumn. The chancellor resisted all temptations to relax efforts, which he said had proved such a wonderful revival of public confidence.

Chamberlain informed the House it is "only in the last ten months that some revival of trade and employment has led us to hope that at least the worst is over."

"Coming now to the financial year 1932-1933," he said, "I am enclosing in the budget no receipts from reparations and no outgoings for war debts. The two are self-balancing."

The chancellor explained the omission of reparations and war debts did not imply that any new decision had been made in our policy in this delicate question."

The tall and dignified chamberlain relieved his speech only by a joke about gastronomes sporting "spoons for worse" and not in any way disappointing the British Exchequer.

He reviewed the British financial position and touched briefly on the world problem of balance of expression, reparation, and war debts.

The chamberlain explained that Britain was trying not to exact from taxation but nothing would be more harmful to ultimate moral recovery than to multiply perhaps premature hope of better times.

The new tax of 31 million £($60) a barrel will remain and a tax on oil will be fixed at four pence ($0.06) a pound.

Chamberlain said he expected the recent tariff measures to produce 27,000,000 pounds (£10,000,000), and that new tariff levels, which will be announced during the coming week were counted on for 5,000,000 pounds (£1,800,000) additional.

Firecracker Ban Will Be Asked By Safety Committee

A ban on the sale and discharge of firecrackers and fireworks within the city limits of Sanford will be asked of the City Commission at its next meeting by a special committee composed of members of the Seminole County Safety Council.

Decision to make this request of the Commission was made at a meeting of the council at the City Hall Monday afternoon. The request is in the form of a resolution, passed by the unanimous vote of members of the Council who termed firecrackers "one of the greatest hazards to life and property."

A discussion of several traffic hazards in the county was also held and Howard Overlin, chairman of the County Council, declared that four of the most dangerous hazards recently had been corrected.

It was also reported that three Florida cities, Sanford, Ocala and Tampa are among the 417 American cities entered in the National Traffic Safety Contest, and that the local group is making substantial progress toward high state honors for the year.

Agriculture Club's Meeting Postponed

Alex R. Johnson, advisor to the Seminole Agriculture Club, today announced that owing to several conflicting affairs in Seminole County, the regular meeting of the club, scheduled for tomorrow night, has been called off.

Members of his group are working on plans for the successful staging of the second annual Farmers Day, an event of May 19, and Mr. Johnson reports that from all indications, it will be another outstanding day in the county.

SALE OF WINE ASKED BY HEAD OF GRAPE MEN

Says U.S. Reversal On Its Liberal Policies Threatens Disaster To Grape Industry

SAN FRANCISCO, Apr. 20.—(A.P.)—Revision of the Eighteenth Amendment to permit the sale of naturally fermented beverages was advocated today as a new policy of the California Vineyardists' Association by Donald Conn, managing director. He charged a reversal of governmental prohibition enforcement policies threatened disaster to the grape industry and made the legalization of wine making imperative.

He charged that for 12 years the government by legalizing and interpreting of the Volstead Act had approved and assisted the growing and sale of juice from grapes for home wine making only to "sharpen" the grape growers, later by "complete reversal" of the prohibition enforcement policy. In view of the Volstead Act, Conn urged adoption of a national liquor plan to be enacted by Congress after the Eighteenth Amendment was repealed or modified.

A Senate opportunity to vote on this bill in this session was virtually assured yesterday despite disapproval yesterday of the manufacturers committee of the Bingham bill to legalize 4 percent beer.

In reporting the measure adversely by a 7 to 4 ballot, committee members agreed to let it go to the Senate floor.

Speakers over the political effect of the Bingham speech was largely in Roosevelt's favor. Governor Roosevelt did not touch upon debts in his St. Paul speech, but it was the general belief the Bingham speech might help him considerably in next week's clash with Smith in the Massachusetts and Pennsylvania primaries.

Smith has indicated he will not make an immediate rejoinder to his successor at Albany by enacting the bill unless he can make a primary speech in Massachusetts and Pennsylvania.

McIntire, an official of the American Federation of Labor, told the committee yesterday that the proposed bill would be a "disaster" to the employing power of beer in industry received, but before an other Senate subcommittee Bingham speech was filed.

The doctor was taken to his home in a car, and refused medical assistance.

It was reported that during his trip, "Jafis" met two other men in another rowboat, and conferred with them for some time.

A bulletin issued by the Hope well police last night said,

"The situation with regard to Norfolk, Va., continues the same and we have received no information which tends to change."

"Various phases of the investigation which we cannot reveal at this time are still under active investigation."

In addition to these, considerable information is being received through the mail daily, and this is also being investigated.

Representatives LaGuardia, of New York and Summons, of Nebraska, formerly of the air service, and Representative Johnson, of South Dakota, once an infantryman, assailed the cutaway expansion plan to cash the bonus certificates.

All three Republicans favored changes in the existing law, a point immediately stressed by Representative Patman, Democrat, of Texas, who is leading the house fight. But none favored the $2,400,000,000 cash payment.

Brig. Gen. Frank Hines, veterans' administrator, is the next opposition witness scheduled. Charles G. Dawes, head of the reconstruction Finance Corporation, is expected to show Thursday how this huge cut in the bonus certificates has helped the small banker and business man.

LaGuardia, independent leader, led off for the opposition, demanding national unemployment insurance instead of the bonus payment.

If a secret vote taken on tis bonus plan in the House, there would not be 30 votes for it," LaGuardia said. "I am here this morning in behalf of six million unemployed and unemployed who have no right of reaching Congress and can't understand why Congress doesn't do something."

"Not over 14 percent of the unemployed are veterans. What will be the feeling of the veteran's neighbor who is out of work if Congress says it has settled the unemployment question by paying the bonus?"

A large collection of snakes of many varieties arrived in Sanford this morning, and Captain Arthur spent the day in placing them in several pens from which they will be readily accessible as he points out their principal features. He will explain the difference between a poisonous and non-poisonous snake, and will show spectators how to handle any snake with which they might come in contact.

Included in the snake collection is a Baby Boa Constrictor about six feet long, a native of Africa. Two Western Coach Whips, a large tamed rattler, a large Blue Racer, a big Texas Bull Snake and a Rat Snake, are also to be displayed.

"If we are going to print money, let us use that money as an initial fund for national unemployment insurance."

LaGuardia predicted legislation soon would be passed refunding interest charges against loans on veterans certificates. Johnson favors a reduction allowing veterans with certificates less than two years old to borrow $1000. Summons joined in urging amendment of the two-year provision.

Included in the snake collection is a Baby Boa Constrictor about six feet long, a native of Africa. Two Western Coach Whips, a large tamed rattler, a large Blue Racer, a big Texas Bull Snake and a Rat Snake, are also to be displayed.

"I don't think you can pass this bill without creating another panic," Johnson testified.

BORAH CRITICIZES SMITH PROPOSAL ON MORATORIUM

Says Debt Postpone- ment For 20 Years Means Cancellation

WASHINGTON, Apr. 20.—(A.P.)—A special dispatch to the Brooklyn Eagle from St. Johns, New Brunswick today said the curly locks of a child seen there have been sent to Colonel Charles Lindbergh for possible identification.

A beauty parlor operator saved the locks several days ago when she cut the hair of a child who resembled the kidnapped Lindbergh baby.

The operator said a woman brought the child in representing it as a girl. The operator discovered the child was a boy whereupon the woman became flustered and fled with the child. The woman said she was enroute to England from the Western United States. A dispatch said Harry Fleischer, Detroit gangster sought in connection with the kidnapping was reported seen in St. Johns.

Dr. John F. Condon, returning late yesterday from a six-hour trip in a row boat that carried him from City Island to Baxter Creek inlet, several miles away, presumably seeking a contact with the Lindbergh baby's kidnappers, fell from the cat as he was about to land, and was pulled from the water by oarsmen.

The doctor was taken to his home in a car, and refused medical assistance.

It was reported that during his trip, "Jafis" met two other men in another rowboat, and conferred with them for some time.

"Disorderly Conduct"

Is At Milane Tonight

It may seem strange to have a hero and a heroine who depict one another throughout a picture—and stranger still when the heroine decides to marry another man at the conclusion—but there are only two of the unusual features of "Disorderly Conduct," the farcical and comedy story of police adventure and politics which will open tonight at the Milane Theater with Miss Elvira, Spencer Tracy and Elliard in the leading roles.

Spencer, as one of the most powerful characterizations in talking pictures, has created nationwide comment. Ralph Bellamy, who had no notable part in "Suspense," is said to be even finer work in his offering as Tracy's comandant, while Eddie Albert plays the love interest.

names as Felipe Moreno and Alice

The fight began when Assistant Prosecutor Ulrich took Dr.
Orbison for cross-examination.
Prosecutor John C. Kelley previously had expressed disbelief in the story told on the stand by Massie, and hinted that Dr. Jones, another defendant, actually fired the shot.

Ulrich sought to get Dr. Orbison to admit that his opinion was based on the assumption that Massie's story was true.

"I would still believe he was insane whether he believed him or not," the witness said.

"Do you believe the prevailing conditions made it unlikely he killed this man in a fit of anger?"

"Why?"

"Because in this case the man's whole idea was to get a confession, and it was unlikely he would kill the person from whom he expected to get this confession unless his reason were unbalanced."

"Did you approach this case," demanded Ulrich, "intending to learn if this witness were telling the truth?"

"I certainly did. An insane man will lie to you and you know he's lying, but you know he's insane." As Dr.
Orbison was about to leave the chair, Ulrich asked:
"Do you think this defendant subject to only one killing?"

The witness, who previously had said he didn't believe the same thing would happen to Massie again, replied:

"I don't know about that. These days it depends a lot on locality.
One killing in Chicago is retail."

Closing his testimony about Massie's condition, Dr. Orbison said:

"He carried about with him a mental bomb. He also carried a
