Mickey Rooney As Young Huck Finn Relives Old Mark Twain Adventures

The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn, Mark Twain's sequel to Tom Sawyer, with Mickey Rooney in the title role, playing the first solo starring part in a feature film, is the attraction for Sunday at the Ritz Theatre.

Familiar to millions of readers, the Mark Twain story presents Mickey as the river boy who seeks to aid a runaway slave to escape up the river to a free state. Their raft is invaded by two comical swindlers, "The Duke" and "The King," who play bogus Shakespearean plays to sell the slave back to the owner, and are about to strand Huck and Jim on the river when Huck exposes them and precipitates a dramatic climax.

Much of the action was filmed on the Sacramento River, and the service as the Mississippi, and the one of the last old river steamers still in service in this country staged the dramatic race to rescue the slave from a lynch mob.

Richard Thorpe, who ruminates "The Crowd Hours" and other hits, directed the new picture. The cast includes Walter Connolly as the "King," who, with Mickey as Juliet, stages an absurd "Romeo and Juliet" performance in a river village. "The Duke," second of the swindlers, is played by William Strawley, veteran of stage and screen, and the kindly Widow Douglas, benefactress of the boy, is enacted by Elizabeth Risdon. Just the runaway, is played by Ingram, the negro actor who scored as "De Lawd" in "Green Pastures."

The two heroines whom Mickey rescues from the swindlers are played by Lynne Carver and Jo Ann Hayers.

Adolphe Menjou In "King Of The Turf" At The Ritz

Adolphe Menjou, star of some of last season's most notable screen successes, and Roger Daniel, already being hailed as the juvenile screen find of the year, head the cast of Edward Small's new romantic film drama, "King of the Turf," which starts at the Ritz Theatre Friday.

Small also hand-picked a supporting cast to assist his top players including Alan Dinehart, Dolores Costello, Walter Abel, William Demarest, Harold Huber, George McKay, and Tom Hannon. "King of the Turf" was directed by Alfred E. Green who recently directed the successful hit, "The Duke of West Point."

The story concerns a small-time gambler who through a series of lucky breaks becomes one of the most successful and spectacular figures of the smart racing crowd. Menjou, in the role of Jim Mason who crashes into high society by way of the Sport of Kings, plays a new type of characterization—going from a suave man-about-town to a defeated down-and-out, disillusioned and broken by a game of chance which in the end proved to be only a sham.

In order to reproduce faithfully and authentically the many aspects of the fast-racing race track business, Producer Small sent to the far corners of the country for men who could be counted on to make his picture entirely true to life in the eyes of the millions of motion picture fans who are well acquainted with the racing game.

Among the technical experts who assisted in the filming of "King of the Turf" was Paul MacPherson, the stable owner, who acted as general advisor to Director Green. MacPherson's knowledge of the racing business has signalled him out as the most qualified of experts and he served in similar capacities on such outstanding films as "Hercules" and "The Sign of the Cross."

For scenes showing the handling of horses before and after races, Producer Small engaged the services of Jack Moore, who also owns a racing stable and who is known as one of the most capable of horse trainers. Moore assisted in the selection of the more than fifty horses which were "hired" to work in the picture.

PROGRAM FOR WEEK OF MARCH 12 AT THE RITZ

Sunday and Monday, March 12 and 13—"THE ADVENTURES OF HUCKLEBERRY FINN" with Mickey Rooney.

Tuesday, March 14—Play SCREEN—"SECRET SERVICE OF THE AIR."

Wednesday and Thursday, March 15 and 16—"TAIL-SPIN" with Alice Faye, Charles Farrell and Constance Bennett.

Friday and Saturday, March 17 and 18—"KING OF THE TURF" with Adolphe Menjou and Dolores Costello and "CALIFORNIA FRONTIER" with Buck Jones.

THE STORY of these three women of the sky—the thrills that come with their split-second escapes and the heart-thrabs behind their spectacular lives—is told in "Tail Spin," 20th Century-Fox production opening at the Ritz Theatre Wednesday. From left to right are the stars of the film, Alice Faye, Nancy Kelly and Constance Bennett. Darryl F. Zanuck was in charge of production.

Others who will appear throughout the series include John Lital, Eddie Foy, Jr., and Larry Williams, while the most prominent members of the cast of "Secret Service of the Air" who will probably not appear again in the series because they are killed or sent to jail in the first story are James Stephenson, Rosella Tomes, Anthony Averill and Bernard Nedell.

Starting as a story about counterfeiting, which is the chief concern of the Secret Service, the first picture, which was scripted by Raymond, directed by Noel Smith, develops into an exciting tale about the smuggling of aliens into the United States by air.

First Of New Spy Tail Spin Is Romantic Melodrama Thriller Films To Open At The Ritz

"Secret Service of the Air," which comes to the Ritz Theatre on Tuesday, is heralded as the first out-caster of a veritable cascade of thrilling and absorbing screen entertainment, for it is the first in a series of pictures being produced by Warner Bros. which will deal with the exploits of the men of the United States Secret Service.

All of the films in the series will be based on material compiled by W. H. Moran, former chief of the Secret Service, and therefore will be but thinly disguised dramatizations of actual adventure experienced by the members of this famous and colorful Federal law enforcement agency.

The hero of "Secret Service of the Air"—and he will remain the central character of the series—is the tall, good-looking, charming and intensely virile Ronald Reagan. There is no doubt that he looks the part, and his sensational rise to prominence in scarcely more than a year of screen acting indicates that he will act it to the hilt.

Appearing opposite him in the first picture of the series—and probably throughout—will be a blonde newcomer to the screen, named Nancy Kelly, who is regarded by Warner Bros. as the most promising young actress signed by the studio in recent years.

Others who will appear throughout the series include John Lital, Eddie Foy, Jr., and Larry Williams, while the most prominent members of the cast of "Secret Service of the Air" who will probably not appear again in the series because they are killed or sent to jail in the first story are James Stephenson, Rosella Tomes, Anthony Averill and Bernard Nedell.

Of Three Young Women Of The Sky

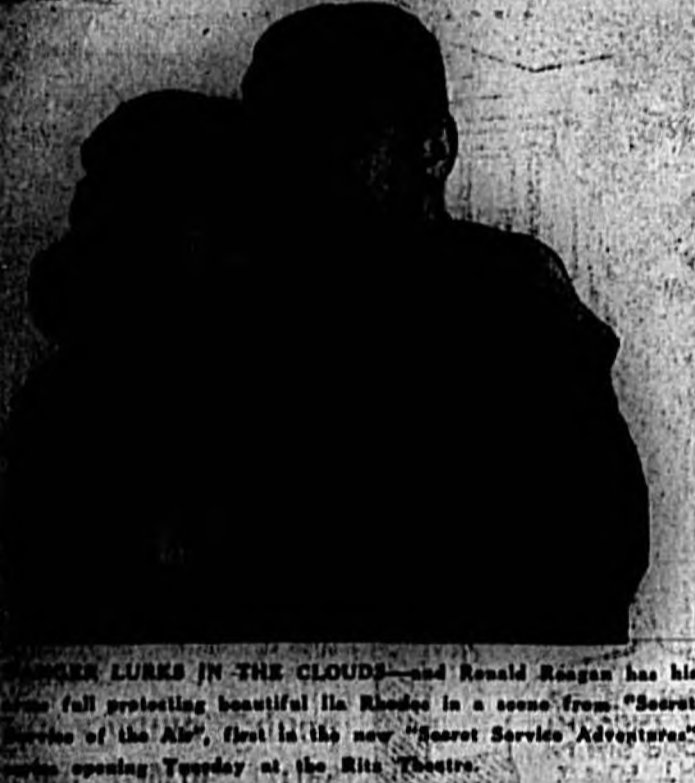

A smashing, romantic melodrama of adventure roars across the screen of the Ritz Theatre when "Tail Spin," 20th Century-Fox's thrilling story of three women of the sky, opens there Wednesday. Breathlessly paced and magnificently acted and brilliantly directed, this glowing tribute to women who fly is really something to stand up and cheer about.

Although the screen has given us many "epics of the air" and countless stories of aviation in one form or another, here is the first attempt to tell the story of women who fly, the thrill that comes with their split-second escapes and the heart-thrabs behind their spectacular lives. Now it has been told, and with what a telling effect!

With Alice Faye as Trizie, Constance Bennett as Gerry and Nancy Kelly as Lois, "Tail Spin" is the exciting tale of these three who brush wings with death in the gamble they can lose only once. Trizie flies for the money that's in it, Gerry because she finds the sky's the place to hide from love, and Lois because it brings her closer to the man she loves.

Nothing quite like "Tail Spin" has come to the screen in many a season, and from the opening scene to the breath-taking climax you'll know that you are witnessing one of the outstanding pictures of the year. Darryl F. Zanuck, Hollywood's top producer, displays rare genius again in his finest production thus far.

The film opens with a night club scene in which Trizie appears as an entertainer. After borrowing two hundred dollars from the owner of the club on the pretext that she needs it for her "mother and brother," she is next found on the starting line waiting for the flag that will send ten racing planes into the air for the Women's Trans-continental Speed Race to Cleveland.

RENO LURKS IN THE CLOUDS—and Ronald Reagan has his own full protecting beautiful in a scene from "Secret Service of the Air." First in the new "Secret Service of the Air" production opening Tuesday at the Ritz Theatre.

Detroit Cops Seek New Pistol Titles For Champ Squad

DETROIT, Mar. 11.—(AP)—The Detroit police department is quite proud of its pistol team, and rightly so. It's the nation's champion squad.

The Detroiters won 11 first places at the National rifle and pistol matches at Camp Perry, O., last summer.

During 1933 the team also won highest honors at the Flamingo tournament, Coral Gables, Fla.; the mid-winter national tournament at Tampa, Fla.; the police team matches at Berkeley, Cal., and the South Atlantic regional tournament at Savannah, Ga.

The Detroit force, officials say, is one of the few that disciplines its men and policewomen—both fall to pass marksmanship tests after a training period.

A range is set up in police headquarters basement. There participants go for practice, tests and competition for places on the police team. Each officer is given 40 hours of training, covering care of guns, "dry" shooting (without ammunition), breathing, "rescue" and firing at all angles.

The team is the only training squad. Most of this is done on their own time and expense. They get their breathing and "dry" shooting "equal pressure" from some of the grip, are instructed in practice a shooter should follow with the gun. A "dry" shooting, but not a "dry" shooting, the team is the only training squad.

Requirements For Good Garden Plot Explained By Gray

By DONALD GRAY

"More Gardens for Less Money" does not mean a series of garden articles with cheap advice. Cheap gardening is the most expensive way in the long run.

But there are ways to get results in a garden without spending a lot of money. This series of garden articles will give sound advice and suggestions of how to produce a lawn and how to raise flowers from seeds, how to have a permanent garden, and how to care for it with the least outlay of cash.

Anyone who has the money can hire labor and buy material to produce a finished garden. It takes intelligence and maybe some elbow grease to obtain the same results without spending a lot of money. Let your gardening be a sport. Exercise your muscles and use your head.

If you are about to build a new house ask some questions about the land before you buy it. Look for growing soil on the top of the ground. If there is a good growth of weeds or grass the chances are 100% are there of four inches of good top soil. If the lot measures 50 feet by 100 feet and has three inches of top soil there is a total of only 1500 cubic yards of top soil at a value of $1.00 per cubic yard. If the same amount had been purchased at $1.00 per cubic yard it would have cost $1500. Any building it has on the lot will cost the value of the lot. It is better to have a good garden and a few more dollars in your pocket than to have a few more dollars in your pocket and a bad garden.

After building the house, the garden will be a good investment. It will give a good view and a good garden, and a good garden will give a good view and a good garden.

New Fears Caused By Nazi Intervention In Czecho-Slovak Issue

Hitler Receives Deposed Slovak Premier For "Extended Conference"

German Troops Move To Vienna

Mussolini Ready For Immediate Peace With Franco Regime

Official News dispatches that Germany would intervene in the Czecho-Slovak issue called for today of a new tension in central Europe as signs of peace reappeared in Spain.

German intervention in the Czecho-Slovak dispute took a definite turn late in the day when Reichs Fuehrer Hitler received Dr. Jozef Tiso, deposed Slovak premier, for an "extended" conference.

A foreign office spokesman indicated in Berlin that even if only a diplomatic step were taken in the conflict between the Czecho-Slovak government and agitators for Slovak independence, the language would be sharp and unequivocal.

It is acknowledged that not only the Nazi brownshirts and black-shirt troops but also army detachments were moving to the southeast. He declared, however, that they were enroute to participate in the parade Wednesday in Vienna when Reichs Fuehrer Hitler will appear on the occasion of the German annexation of Austria a year ago.

Throng Watches Coronation Of Pope Pius, XII

VATICAN CITY, Mar. 13.—(AP)—The crown of the Popes was placed yesterday on the head of Pope Pius XII, 22nd Pope of the Catholic Church, in a joyous ceremonial of medieval splendor.

A festive crowd of about 850,000 persons thronged great St. Peter's Square to watch the coronation on the balcony of St. Peter's Basilica, the first outdoor coronation in almost a century.

Within the Moliner Church of Canonicians, a huge congregation of princes, prelates, dignitaries, priests and laymen witnessed the stately program of the coronation mass and investiture.

The estimate of 850,000 in horse-shoe-shaped St. Peter's Square was conservative. Vatican sources said it was closer to 900,000 and many churchmen doubted if such throngs ever had witnessed the coronation of any Pope for King in history.

They said they were certain no such crowd ever before had assembled before St. Peter's because recent demonstrations about the square had provided greater space than ever before.

Jenkins Reports 47 Percent Of Taxes Collected

With only 18 days remaining before the 1938 real estate taxes become delinquent, Seminole County Tax Collector Jno. D. Jenkins reported today that only 47 percent of the 1938 assessment has been collected to date against a collection of 50.325 percent for the same period last year.

The county tax collector reported that his office has received $151,778.86 in cash while $5,331.51 was allowed taxpayers by law for early payment of their 1938 taxes.

The total amount of State, County and school taxes assessed on the 1938 roll is $330,911.77. Mr. Jenkins said.

Reporting that a total of 447 State and County occupational licenses have been issued, Mr. Jenkins also issued a warning to a few in the county who have not yet purchased their licenses as required by law.

Quoting the law, Mr. Jenkins pointed out that "any person, or persons, firm or association, that shall carry on or conduct any business or profession for which a license is required, without first obtaining such license shall, except in such cases as are otherwise provided for by law, be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not more than double the amount required for such license, or imprisonment not exceeding six months."

Mr. Jenkins reported that the law places a particularly heavy penalty on insurance agents doing business without a license. The fine shall not be less than $100 nor more than $200 for each offense.

Collections from occupational licenses since Oct. 1 amounted to $8,894.93 for the State and $4,795.75 for the County, Mr. Jenkins said, adding that this does not include the retail store licenses which are payable to the State.

Parrish Gives Problems Of Legislature

Senator Tells Rotarians Sound Tax Structure Is Necessary For Growth

Declaring that Florida is ready to go places just as soon as it gets a sound tax structure and proper fiscal laws, Senator J. J. Parrish of Titusville, speaking at the regular weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club in Sanford today, outlined the principal problems which may be expected at the coming session of the Legislature meeting in Tallahassee next month.

Senator Parrish, in pointing out that Florida is a rapidly growing state, said that there is already a deficiency of $1,250,000 in the school funds for this year and that the natural increase in expenditures will make even more money necessary next year.

Other speakers on today's program were Capt. R. E. Rose, who described the work of the Salvation Army during the past year and explained the plans for the annual drive which begins next Monday, and Frank A. Parrish, a director in the Transportation Association of America, who told of the inroads which are being made in this country toward a totalitarian form of government.

Declaring that Germany won the World War at the Munich conference last September, Mr. Parrish said that the spearhead of the fascist drive in this country is the bill now in Congress providing for government ownership of all forms of transportation. Transportation, he said, represents one-third of this country's national production.

UAW Permanently Expels Martin After Testimony

CLEVELAND, Mar. 13.—(AP)—The United Automobile Workers Union yesterday permanently expelled Homer Martin, one-time president, after hearing extensive testimony that he had conspired with its enemies and deliberately sought to "sabotage" it in dealings with the Ford Motor Company.

The expulsion vote, which was unanimous, concerned a 14-hour trial conducted by the union's 40-man executive board. Martin, who now heads an auto workers union independent of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, did not appear.

In a statement issued through Edward Levinson, press representative, the board disclosed it heard 21 witnesses and saw Martin's record, "as revealed to the evidence," stands unparalleled in the history of the labor movement of the United States.

"He has conspired with H. H. Bennett and John Hollister, agents of the Ford Motor Company, and avowed foes of the labor movement; on the other hand he has attacked and slandered John L. Lewis, Samuel Hillman and Philip Murray, leaders of the CIO and true friends of the UAW."

"He has accepted the aid and encouragement of enemies of the UAW and the CIO in his efforts to set up an organization dual to the UAW, and to break down and diminish the influence of the CIO."

The former Baptist minister was impeached January 20 after Martin had suspended 10 executive board members for opposing his policies. In their summary of evidence, the 20 committeemen also said they learned their former leader had revealed the union's confidential affairs to its enemies; had attempted to "sabotage" its work; had organized and encouraged secret caucuses with a view to defeating the membership's desire to remain with the CIO; had incited violence against members and local unions; and had engaged in "a series of shady, back-stairs relations with automobile corporations which can only be characterized as treachery to the UAW-CIO and its membership."

President Cites Need For More Relief Money

Congress To Get Message On Needs For Operation Of WPA

WASHINGTON, Mar. 13.—(AP)—President Roosevelt discussed with the Democratic leaders of Congress today the need for additional money to operate the WPA until July 1. The President told newsmen after a message to Congress tomorrow in the subject.

The State Department, meanwhile, informed the Senate Naval Committee it knew of no Japanese violation of the treaty for holding the fortification of Pearl Harbor. Japan could not be held responsible for the attack.

Senator Harrison (D-Miss.) served notice yesterday that he would oppose President Roosevelt's expected request for an additional $150,000,000 to tide the WPA through into July 1.

The Mississippi, one of the leaders in the successful fight to reduce the WPA appropriation from the $875,000,000 requested by Mr. Roosevelt to $725,000,000 said he was opposed to voting any new funds.

The President's supplemental estimate of WPA's needs is scheduled to go to Congress tomorrow or Tuesday and economic advisers already have indicated it will stir up a sharp fight.

The opponents of spending conceded, however, that it appeared doubtful the new relief request could be defeated, or whittled down.

Some House members have taken a stand similar to Harrison's, but on the other hand, several Republicans, who joined in voting against the $875,000,000 figure in the Senate, have indicated they would favor additional funds if the President said they were necessary.

Party To Inspect Women's Home Of Salvation Army

Byrd Will Claim Antarectic For U. S.

MIAMI, Mar. 13.—(AP)—Admiral Richard E. Byrd told the Daily News in a copyrighted interview today that he planned to make another trip to the Antarctic soon to claim a million square miles of land for the United States. He said he expected to claim an area containing a coal deposit sufficient to take care of the needs of the world for some time.

From the response that we have had so far it is expected that there will be a good number to make this trip, Capt. Rose said, adding that "I believe that every one who accepts Mrs. Dinglefield's invitation will feel that their trip has been worth while."

"Some clubs have reported already on the number who will go from their clubs or organizations and those who have not reported are respectfully requested to do so as quickly as possible, either to Mrs. Dinglefield or Capt. Rose, so that Major Eunice McCrae will know the number to plan for."

The letter of invitation to fraternal and civic club heads follows: "Mr. H. J. Lehman, chairman of Salvation Army Advisory Board requests your acceptance of the invitation of Major Eunice McCrae to participate in an inspection tour of the Salvation Army Women's Home at Tampa, Florida on Mar. 16th."

Major McCrae will personally conduct the party through the institution and serve lunch there at the noon hour, therefore, she wishes the delegation of your organization to leave in time to arrive approximately at 11 A. M. Enclosed leaflet will give you further information on the party.

MacDonald Says FDR Must Have Had Incorrect Information

WASHINGTON, Mar. 13.—(AP)—Florida citrus and vegetable growers urged the House Rivers and Harbors Committee today to reject the Administration's proposal to revive plans for the $200,000,000 ship canal across Florida.

Marvin H. Walker, secretary-manager of the Florida Citrus Producers Trade Association, and Randall Chase, acting president of the Growers and Shippers League of Florida, and delegate of the Seminole County Agricultural Association, said the industry still believed the excavation would injure the peninsula's fresh water supply.

"The people don't want it," Chase said. "Shippers don't want it. The Army hasn't called for it. The Navy hasn't called for it and we are at a loss to know who does want it."

Walker said citrus growers had no confidence in the assurance of engineers and geologists that the canal would not be dangerous.

Chase and the citrus industry considered the canal "economically unsound."

He said ship lines reported to his organization that they would not use the canal because the time of transit would be as long as it is now required to go around the peninsula.

E. S. MacDonald, president of Florida Water Conservation League said his organization was "much worried today as it ever was." He said Florida growers' fears were not allayed by the "grossly incorrect statement" disseminated all over the country.

MacDonald said the War Department had distributed erroneous information, and President Roosevelt's approval of the project might be based upon such mis-information.

AAA Checks Reach New High Record

WASHINGTON, Mar. 13.—(AP)—The Agricultural Adjustment administration announced yesterday distribution of benefit payment checks to Southern and Southwestern farmers who cooperated with 1938 soil conservation programs would reach a peak this month.

The AAA said that up to March 1 about 20 percent of the total to be distributed in nine cotton growing States had been paid. Texas will lead all States with payments expected to total $50,000,000. Checks amounting to about $11,000,000 already have been sent 111,600 of the 714,000 farmers in that State who are eligible for subsidies.

The estimated total payments for other States, the number of farmers eligible, the amount already paid, respectively, included: Mississippi, $17,000,000, 364,000; $10,500,000, 145,000; Georgia, $13,500,000, 288,000; Alabama, $13,500,000, 288,000; Florida, $2,100,000, 46,000; Louisiana, $10,250,000, 178,000; $56,000.

Dr. Root Speaks At Meet of DAR Chapter

Dr. J. B. Root spoke on "Makers of History" Friday afternoon at the meeting of the Sallie Harrison Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, which was held at the home of Mrs. George A. DeCottes on Park Avenue.

In his interesting talk on great men from the Babylonian times to the present day, Dr. Root gave biographical sketches of "Florida's two sons," whose statues have been placed in the Hall of Fame—Brigadier-General Edmund Kirby-Smith, and Dr. John Gorrie, the inventor of artificial ice.

"Before Dr. Gorrie's invention, ice sold in Florida at 75c or $1.00 a pound, and often it was impossible to attain at any price. Feeling the desperate need for ice in the treatment of his yellow fever and malaria patients, Dr. Gorrie began experimenting, and could soon supply the locality with his manufactured product," the speaker said, and declared "Dr. Gorrie has not received the honor he deserves from the public for his contribution to the comfort of humanity."

Among the other "makers of history" whom Dr. Root mentioned, were Benedict Arnold and Aaron Burr, "who would rank with the great men of history, but for their egotism and jealousy."

At the business meeting, which was presided over by the regent, Mrs. W. B. Ballard, reports were heard concerning the state convention held in St. Augustine recently. Other business was also discussed.

Refreshments in the St. Patrick's motif were served by Mrs. DeCottes, assisted by Mrs. J. G. Sharon and Mrs. F. L. Woodruff, co-hostesses. The beautifully appointed tea table was centered with an arrangement of tallam roses and gerbera daisies, balanced by burning white tapers. Other Spring flowers also adorned the rooms of the hostess' home.

The following members were present: Mrs. Ballard, Mrs. Martin Bram, Mrs. C. R. Dawson, Mrs. W. L. Henley, Mrs. H. J. Lehman, Mrs. Vall Lovell, Mrs. George Morgan, Mrs. J. H. Merrick, Mrs. John Melch, Jr., Mrs. J. B. Root, Mrs. F. E. Roundhill, Mrs. J. H. Ray, Mrs. Byron S. Stephens, Mrs. Maxwell Stewart, Mrs. Sharon, Mrs. Woodruff, Mrs. DeCottes, and Dr. Root, guest.

Mr. Stowe Spoke At Garden Club Meet

"Design in Small Florida Gardens" was discussed by E. B. Stowe Friday morning when he spoke before members of Rose Circle of the Garden Club, who met at the home of Mrs. George D. Bishop.

His talk will appear soon in "The Herald under the heading, "Nature's Way."

Additional plans were made for the annual flower show, which will be held March 19 at the Episcopal parish house. Mrs. Sadie Brouse was appointed exhibit chairman, while the committee chosen to assist with registration at the show consists of: Mrs. A. W. Epps, Mrs. Fred E. Wilson, Mrs. F. E. Roundhill, Mrs. George A. DeCottes, and Mrs. Brouse. It was announced that Mrs. B. A. Newman, Junior Garden Club chairman, and Mrs. Roundhill will have charge of the South Side school exhibit.

Mrs. E. B. Stowe was elected alternate delegate to the state convention of Garden Clubs, which will be held this month in Coral Gables. The cruise outfit to purchase two books on Stoves, titled, "Flower Arrangements" and "Flower Shows."

Mrs. Walter S. Coleman, chairman, presided over the meeting. It was announced that Mrs. Newman will have charge of presenting a lavender sphum tree to the South Side school in the near future. Plant exchange chairman, Mrs. D. L. Tinsler, reported that 167 plants have been given out during the month. A feature of the meeting was an attractive flower arrangement in a metal container.

Present at the meeting were: Mrs. C. H. Mason, Mrs. Julius Dingfelder, Mrs. Coleman, Mrs. A. L. Fort, Mrs. Newman, Mrs. DeCottes, Mrs. J. H. Coleough, Mrs. Brouse, Mrs. Thrasher, Mrs. Rattie Stowe, Mrs. Epps, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Ender Currier, Mrs. C. G. Hill, Mrs. Minnie, Mrs. U. J. Epps, Mrs. J. N. Adventures Of Secret Service Told In Film

Hazardous and thrilling adventures of the men of the United States Secret Service will be dramatized in a new series of Warner Bros. pictures "Secret Service Adventures" starting Ronald Reagan, which makes its bow at the Ritz Theatre Tuesday. The lead-off film is "Secret Service of the Air."

The pictures of this series will not only be exciting and interesting but there will be no question of the authenticity of the incidents on which they are based, for all the plots will come from material furnished by W. H. Moran, former chief of the Secret Service.

"Secret Service of the Air," is concerned mainly with the breaking up of a gang which has been smuggling aliens into the United States by air.

It is for this specific task that Captain John Phillip, working as a pilot of China Clippers, is asked to join the service by a friend, played by John Hild, who is an official of the service.

He spends some time as a supposed convict in jail to gain information from a suspected member of a smuggling ring, and on the basis of what he learns gets a job as a pilot of the apparently respectable air service which is used by the smugglers.

Just as he is about to conclude his mission successfully, his real identity is learned by the smugglers and he has to put up a sensational battle for his life before he can turn his prisoners and his evidence over to his superiors.

Aide from Reagan and Hild, other prominent in the cast of "Secret Service of the Air" include Ella Rhoads, James Stephenson, Eddie Foy, Jr., Rosella Young, Anthony Averill and Bernard Nedell.

120 MPH Expected To Be Record Of Speedway Classic

Winning Driver In Indianapolis Race Hoped For Grid

By JOHN WEAVER
 INDIANAPOLIS, Pa., (AP)—The man driver who hopes to win the 1939 Speedway classic will start his race on a grid of 120 miles an hour, according to Walter Stein, manager of the race.

"The driver," Stein says, "who comes to the Indianapolis track must have a car that will hold an average speed of 120 miles, in my opinion, will not win the race."

"In the average for the entire race, there will be a noticeable change in the driving tactics of the contestants. It will be the old days of the horse,

Only Trainer Of Otters In World Visits New York

Liers Displays His Animals During Sportsmen Show

By GARDNER SOULE
 NEW YORK, Mar. 13. (AP)—Otters are people to Emil Liers of Homer, Minn.—the only man in the world who trains them. Mr. Liers and 10 otters visited the National Sportsmen's Show here.

Liers roams the upper Mississippi river—through Wisconsin and Minnesota—and whistles to the wild otters. They come to him. Sky creatures, the otters answer only the whistle they know.

MORE MOSCOW SUBWAYS

MOSCOW (AP)—Plans for the third section of the Moscow subway, to consist of two new lines aggregating about nine miles in length, have been approved. The new lines are scheduled to be ready for operation within two years.

The population of the United States increased 33 per cent between 1910 and 1939.

usual job to estimate the speed of the next race and build tires accordingly.

Stein's experience in the racing tire field dates back 25 years, to a time when he was with Barney Oldfield. Drivers are so dependent on Stein now that they will not drive on the track until they have consulted him about tires. He can tell them, usually within a few days, how much their tires will stand at such-and-such a speed.

"It is interesting," Stein says, "to study the wear exerted by various cars. The given tires of one person's construction may not be satisfactory. This, for example, may be the case which had the case of the tires which had the tread pattern of a golf ball and an unusual few holes in and out of holes or for the sudden application of brakes to evade another racer."

"This racer will exert only the normal wear on tires, while a car back in the field and fighting to move up on the leader will not have the pick of track position and, consequently, the going is just a little rougher. But the tires are built to withstand the greatest punishment."

Some believe American drivers are better than the best foreign drivers. Stein says that the American drivers are better because they have more experience and are more careful.

"I fear that they will be racing under a handicap, because usually their speeds are not comparable to those of the Indianapolis track. Granted that position, they are not with plenty of it, whether or not they will withstand punishment for 500 miles, is yet to be seen."

Stein paid tribute to "Wild Bill" Cummings, 1934 winner of the Indianapolis race, who died in an ordinary traffic accident near here several weeks ago.

"We must not forget," Stein announced, "to replace those like 'Wild Bill' whose untimely death certainly robbed the sport of one of its greatest and best-beloved drivers."

"It has become increasingly difficult each year for new drivers to break into big-time racing here because of the exacting qualifications necessary. But there is ample room for new talent."

There are 4,794 miles of navigable streams in Louisiana, a distance farther than that from San Francisco to Tokyo.

He teaches the otters to flush and retrieve game. They are better than dogs, Mr. Liers says. Better, because they can swim all day without tiring, and because they are not troubled by brush or grass, however thick. By the time one of his otters is six months old it is retrieving for him. Liers teaches the otters other things, too. All answer to their names. When he hides in the woods, the otters search until they find him.

They are very loyal, he says. This otter will stick with their master and his dogs in a fight. Once when he was attacked by a dog, the otter fought the dog to avenge his master's honor.

Liers' names for his otters are taken largely from Indian tongues. Norita, which means "wandering wolf," was named because her mother did not raise her. Itatamah and Olaita, mates, were named after two Indian lovers who jumped off a cliff into the Mississippi.

Toquash, which means "sweet girl," and Nashtash, "bad girl," were so christened because of their traits of character.

Ancient Baseball Book Recalls Game's Early Lore

Age Rules Described In Empire Manual For 1875

By BUD FORD

With the start of the Spring season, comes the crack of bats meeting horse hide solidly and little swirls of dust whirling swiftly around second and third base slowly off across the field when the rookies start hitting the dirt. All that and chewed up and the ghosts of the players of other years who left their bones for the big time, along with the ghosts of bats who had what it took only to burn out after a season or two of competition.

The coming celebration of baseball's birthday and graduation in these parts over the shorter season variety has its reflection in the present tiny blue volume of baseball lore belonging to W. G. State citrus inspector who lives on West Eleventh Street.

The book is placed in the grandiose title of "Domestic Baseball Empire's Guide" tagged with an 1875 date. Written by Robert M. Deane and edited by Henry Chadwick, the book purports to be a complete book of instruction to umpires of the professional and amateur arenas.

A quick glance through the book indicates that back in those days men did not play for the pleasure of receiving thirty-cent mugs but for the glory of being instructed to award the ball to the winning team as they trophy. The bases, back in those days, were the same as the present-day regulation in length. It's the rules governing the pitcher and activities that in the light of present regulations are especially interesting. The pitcher was allowed to stand anywhere within the foot square equidistant from first and third base but only 45 feet from home plate.

We're

remindful of present-day diamond regulations. The delivery of the ball had to be made underhanded with no outward swing of the hand or any other deviations from a straight downward sweep of the arm. Another amusing provision of the rules concerns the manner of differentiating between balls and strikes. The batter had a right to call "for" a "high" or "low" depending on where he liked his apples, and furthermore if the pitcher did not deliver same where it was called for, it was called a "ball" no matter even if it was a strike, but not "high" or "low" as the batter had requested.

In the back of this old volume were blank box scores of various teams. Mainly Rockland and Thomaston teams, with date lines indicating the games were played in '75 and '76. Only one picture appearing in the book illustrated the type of uniform worn. This shows a turtleneck sweater, wide-leg trousers, and ankle-high shoes. The only other distinctive feature was the routine pitcher's cap and a determined look that must have been acquired trying to play by rules in that volume.

Through bars of a cell he is about to occupy, Meyer Adelman, C. I. O. steel union chief, shakes hands with colimate as he begins 244-day jail term at Waukegan, Ill., for contempt of court in leadership of North Chicago's Fansteel all-down strike two years ago. Adelman began jail sentence after U. S. Supreme Court ruling in favor of company.

Fortification Of Canada's Pacific Coast Advocated

MONTREAL—Canada's security interest in the present Far Eastern situation lies in a far-sighted and practical defense cooperation with the United States, Prof. W. Wallace Uotforth, economic consultant, stated in an address before the Canadian Progress Club. He thought that not enough interest was taken in the struggle of two oriental nations which is already resulting in destruction of Britain's commercial dominance in Asia and in the brusque closing of the "Open Door" to the trade of China by Japan.

He reminded his listeners that Canada's Pacific coast now forms a serious gap in the Pacific defense of the United States. It was possible, but not probable, that Japan will exhaust itself in the process of digesting and ruling China's 400,000,000. The alternative is for Japan to emerge as one of the super-powers of the future, having a rapidly expanding, over-crowded population which looks with increasing hunger at the relatively great area of the Canadian West and the Australian hinterland. He believed that Canada can play a strategic part in re-establishing collective security on the shores of the Pacific. Professor Uotforth declared that one of the best means of deterring the militarism of Japan is to remove possibility of invasion for the Dominion's western coast.

Griffith Says Hornets To Set Pace Again In Piedmont

By JULIAN STENSTROM
ORLANDO, Mar. 12.—Calvin Griffith, stepson of Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators, ventured to say yesterday afternoon that the Charlotte Hornets of the Piedmont League would probably set the pace in that league for the second straight season.

Cal is the manager, president, and treasurer of the Charlotte Hornets of this circuit.

Young Griffith was highly successful in his first complete year as a baseball manager, for the Hornets finished second in the regular loop-race after leading the way during the entire season. However, the Charlotte boys, led by the impressive performance of Jimmy Woodworth and the fighting Ed Clary, formerly with the Lookouts, pounded away in the playoff to win the Piedmont Loop championship.

That was Cal's ambition fulfilled since he was a pitcher and catcher and also the captain of the baseball team for three years at George Washington University.

Cal attended George Washington for three years before he studied to go into the fruit office business at Chattanooga, where he was appointed vice president. In 1937, Cal was named president of the outfit when Joe Engel was made chief scout for the Washington Senators.

However, troubles were many that season and before the year was over, Griff was managing the team, succeeding Bill Rodgers who gave up the reins to return to Sanford of the Florida State League.

Last season, his father named him skipper of the Hornets and he turned out a hot ball club, that captured honors.

So far this year, Cal has been an instructor at the Washington-Cambria baseball school in St. Augustine and also a pitching instructor at the rookie training camp held by the Senators in Orlando. Cal leaves Orlando Saturday night for Charlotte where final plans will be completed for the season. He hopes to repeat last season's successes although he believes competition in that circuit will be much keener this season.

Retail Sales Show Increase In January

JACKSONVILLE, Mar. 12.—Retail sales of 281 independent stores in Florida, showed an increase of 5 per cent in dollar volume for January, 1939, as compared with the same month a year ago, according to a compilation released today by the Florida State Chamber of Commerce.

Prepared from a report by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, the State Chamber's compilation shows that sales in cities with populations of from 5,000 to 10,000 reported the largest increases, averaging a gain of 9 per cent.

Total sales amounted to $3,000,325, a 5.7 per cent increase over January, 1938. Of the 23 different classes of business reporting, motor vehicle dealers showed the greatest climb, a gain of 17.6 per cent. The furniture and appliances group was second with a gain of 9.3 per cent; dry goods and general merchandise, third, 5 per cent; and lumber and building material dealers, fourth, 3.9 per cent.

City reporting the largest increase was Tampa, followed by Orlando, Jacksonville, and Pensacola, in that order.

Action was hot and heavy as the first contingent of bowlers let loose on 32 alleys on the opening night of the ABC tournament in Cleveland. The 39th annual world series of bowling was appropriately opened when Mayor Harold C. Burton of Cleveland rolled a perfect strike.

18-Year Old Boy Causes Splash In Swimming Circles

By D. J. MARSTON
SEATTLE, Mar. 12.—The big splash in Pacific Northwest swimming circles, now that Jack Meica and the rest of the stars have graduated, is 18-year-old George Demetris Athans, who doesn't splash.

Because of him and a new $200,000 swimming pool, one of the finest on the Pacific coast, Coach Jack Torney of the University of Washington swimming team, has been in the news this winter.

This is why:

Three years ago at 15, young Athans won a sixth place at the Olympic Games in Berlin, 1936, the lower diving. (It might have been some of his Greek ancestors who started the game.)

After just winning an American championship, he took a second in the Empire Games in Australia. He's a freshman at the university.

"He's the most promising diver who ever came to Washington," said Torney, whose six-year coaching job has seen swimming spring from nothing to the status of a major sport.

"Demetris will represent Canada next in the next Olympics, to our joy. But despite his very constant superiority, he's the most modest man on the team."

A Vancouver, B. C., lad in both these respects, Athans is a handsome, well-proportioned, and beautiful specimen. He's his father's son in appearance to whom his coach attributes his perfection.

Practice sessions twice a day made up his routine. The best dives are the forward spring, the full twisting one, and a new invention and the two-way half front somersault.

Hard Work, Luck Needed To Train Field Champions

$25,000 Estimated As Cost Of Developing Average Winner

GRAND JUNCTION, Tenn., Dec. 13. —(AP)—Hard work, lots of luck and a bulging pocketbook create the field-trial champion.

The bulging pocketbook probably has more to do with it than anything else. Take it from the veteran handler, Chesley Harris, who began training blue-blooded bird dogs 30 years ago.

Harris "guesseed" (conservatively, he insisted) it cost about $25,000 to develop the average winner of the national championship, the "World Series" of field trials held here each year.

"It's no poor man's game," said the tall, rugged Alabamian who handles the dogs of W. C. Teagle, New York, old man. "You can spend a fortune on pointers and setters and still not have much success with them."

Here are some of the things an owner needs if he takes his field trials seriously.

A wellstocked game preserve, and they're buying instead of leasing them these days; well-equipped kennels; a good handler and staff of assistants; plenty of horses; and from 50 to 150 extensive dogs.

And even with all this at hand, some owners breed 50 dogs a year and never produce a champion.

Harris was offered his first kennel job at 17. He took it, he said, because he liked dogs and "regular meals."

The 1939 Teagle entries are Novias Aeroflow and Norias Aeroflow, both pointers. Since they were 10 months old Harris has spent an hour or so daily in training them for the national's grueling three-hour heats.

The field trial season opens July 1 and closes the following March. Like professional baseball players, the dogs have pre-season training camps. Early in July, they are bundled off to Canadian prairies for a three-month conditioning period. In October, lean and fit, they begin the return trip and the annual swing around the field-trial circuit.

Harris estimated training bills and starting fees alone cost the owner $1,000 a year for each dog.

Many owners never see their pets in action—but like to hear about it when they win. Handlers, incidentally, keep all prize money.

Luck plays a large part in the training of a new champion.

"It depends a lot on the draw," Harris said. "Your dog may be a favorite but if he draws a muddy course or is sent out at a time when birds aren't feeding, he won't show much."

Bird dogs are in their prime between the ages of five and six.

But a comparative youngster, Lester's Enjoy Wahoo, owned by Dr. B. S. Lester of Birmingham, Ala., is mentioned prominently as possible winner of the 1939 national. The three-year-old pointer has placed in 17 of 21 meets.

The graduation from puppy to experienced hunter requires long hours afield for both dogs and handlers.

During early training stages the beginner, restrained by a check cord, follows along behind the seasoned canine hunter. When the veteran dog sights birds the handler forces the pup to assume point position. Occasionally puppies instinctively freeze into point the first time out.

Temperament is the bugaboo of handlers. If a dog sulks when punished he usually is discarded.

Whippers usually correct the ordinary faults. If not, there's the check collar equipped with spikes which bite into the neck of the recalcitrant hunter.

J. B. Gates, handler for Dr. Lester, explained the "cure" for a gun-shy dog.

"We tie him up and take his food out to him. But before we let him eat we shoot over him. If he shies, back goes the food."

Gates said ten days of such treatment usually bring the desired results.

Bird-shy dogs—and there are lots of them—are fed nothing but birds until cured.

It costs about 50 cents a day to feed a dog during training season. The fare consists of shredded wheat mixed with hamburger and an occasional raw egg.

Roosevelt Renews Relief Request For 150 Million Dollars

President Cites Real Need Of More WPA Money To Round Out Fiscal Year

AFL Request For Hearing Granted

Former Treasury Official Urges Curb Of FDR's Powers

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14. —(AP)—President Roosevelt sent his renewed relief request to Congress today, saying there was a "real need" for the additional $150,000,000 WPA appropriation to round out the fiscal year.

He described the relief situation as "very serious" and said Congress had a responsibility of supplementing the $129,000,000 additional WPA appropriation which it had approved in trimming the White House request for $15,000,000.

Mr. Jefferson Coolidge, one-time Treasury official who quit the administration, urged Congress to curb the President's monetary powers.

He spoke before the Senate Banking and Currency subcommittee which is holding a hearing on a bill to extend the dollar devaluation power of the substitution fund until January 10, 1941.

The Senate Labor committee voted to hold hearings on amending the Wagner Labor Act, as sought by the American Federation of Labor and opposed by the CIO.

The New Deal added another pillar to its business appeasement structure yesterday when Secretary Henry Morgenthau, Jr. announced the Administration had abandoned plans to ask that the public debt limit be increased to $50,000,000,000 at this session of Congress.

The decision was reached at a luncheon conference between President Roosevelt and Morgenthau. The Chief Executive forecast the move at a press conference last week when he said that the proposal, which produced a storm of criticism in Congress, was not important.

The debt limit now is $45,000,000,000. Unless it is raised by Congress, New Deal spending must stop when the peak figure is reached. The current economy drive among the legislators stems partly from broad hints from New Deal executives that the limit would be reached early in 1940 if Congress continued to appropriate huge sums as it had for the past six years.

Morgenthau said, however, that Congress would be asked to lift the $45,000,000,000 ceiling on the issue. The Chief Executive said that he would be unable to accept a limit which would be reached by Sept. 1.

Attorneys Argue Eckerson Case Before Tribunal

No Decision Returned By Court On Validity Of Agreements

Attorneys for C. H. Eckerson, president of the Eckerson Fruit Canners and counsel for Commissioner of Agriculture Nathan Mayo, argued the validity of the "annexed" agreements which are claimed by Mayo to be in violation of the recently enacted 22-cent minimum price for Florida grapefruit.

There was no immediate decision but the court declined Saturday to issue an order that would have prevented Eckerson Fruit Canners, Inc., from using a contract with growers while the case is pending.

W. C. Pierce, attorney for Nathan Mayo, State Commissioner of Agriculture, said court approval of the contract would result in a breakdown of the minimum price regulations, although he explained that constitutionality of the price law itself is not involved in the litigation.

Circuit Judge Millard H. Smith refused to dismiss a temporary injunction restraining Mayo from interfering with operations of Eckerson Fruit Canners, Inc., and it was from that ruling that Mayo appealed to the State court.

The Eckerson Company offered growers contracts under which it agreed to act as their agent in marketing grapefruit juice. The growers would have 90 days to dispose of the canned products. If they sold the products they would pay the company for processing. If not, the company would sell the pulp and deduct processing costs.

Mayo contended the contracts were in violation of the emergency law invoked by Governor Fred P. Cone to guarantee growers 32 cents a box for grapefruit on sales within the State, while George A. DeCotte, Eckerson counsel, held the price fixing law unconstitutional.

Judge Smith upheld the growers' agreement with the local cannery company after a six-hour legal argument in the Court House here on the grounds that the contract did not preclude the grower from receiving the cost of production for the grapefruit sold under the terms of the contract.

Fears Of Floods Follow Blizzard In New England

Observers Regard Situation As Serious In Some Sections

By Associated Press

Flood, the danger of meeting snows, was the fear of New Englanders today. Forecasters watched with wary eyes the level of streams and rivers throughout that section as clear signs with indications of warm temperatures followed the worst March snow storm since 1888.

While most river levels were normal, a New Hampshire river server said floods were a "near certainty" and in Massachusetts, engineers regarded the situation as "very serious."

The storm took a toll of 15 lives in New England, while other northern states within the storm's area counted 22 dead. Traffic was disrupted in many sections.

Traffic in New York State was encumbered by two to 14 inches of snow and slippery roads. The storm whisked out to sea in the metropolitan district while 8,000 men equipped with shovels and hose set out to remove the slush. Approximately 5,000 trees broken down their branches.

Montana also had a heavy snow. Snow blizzards and sleet (Continued on Page Two)

WPA Projects Authorized By Commission

City To Ask Relief Agency For Okey Of Sewer, Street Improvement Program

City Engineer Fred T. Williams was authorized to prepare a $65,000 WPA sewer improvement project and a $45,000 project for relaying and widening several brick streets by the members of the City Commission at the regular meeting in the City Hall last night.

The sewer project which would supplement similar projects and carry to completion the renovation of the City's sewerage system, provides for the removal and relaying of several miles of sewer in the City and also the extension of all sewer exits to the channel in Lake Monroe.

Commenting on the projects, Mayor Edward Higgins declared that the City should favor these projects for two reasons: because it gives the City an opportunity to make these needed improvements and repairs at a minimum cost and also because the monthly payroll of the Works Progress Administration would be a stimulus to Sanford business during the dull summer months.

Mayor Higgins read a report from local WPA officials showing that the average monthly WPA payroll for the past year in Seminole County was $11,112 and in addition to this outlay of cash, materials and tools must be bought from local merchants.

The Mayor pointed out that since the WPA officials are faced with the necessity of cutting off some of the workers, unless additional projects are made available, Mayor Higgins said that these projects probably could be pushed through the required channels to an early approval.

Projects on the approved form will be presented by Mr. Williams at a meeting in the near future for the approval of the Commission and subsequent review by WPA officials.

The street improvement project provides for the widening of Union Avenue, for one block and the block in that street, relaying of Fulton Street from Park and Railroad Avenues and widening the street from 30 to 40 feet, widening and relaying brick on Magnolia Avenue from Fifth to Seventh Streets, also the relaying brick on Magnolia Avenue from Seventh to Tenth Streets.

Relaying brick on Tenth Street from Park to Sanford Avenue, widening from 20 to 30 feet North Street all the way across.

From the Atlantic Coast Line depot, relaying a part of Celery Avenue and improvement of the block between Myrtle and Elm Avenues on Fifth Street.

The Gulf Refining Company was awarded the contract for furnishing the necessary fuel oil for the City engines at the water plant.

The Commission heard a complaint on the erection of an "unsightly" cow pasture fence on Sanford Avenue and took the matter under advisement.

A total of $125 was authorized for incidental expenses for further improvements to the Municipal Athletic Field and also authorized was the purchase of two drums of "Cell-Cure" for treatment of the bleachers at the softball field and also new construction of the baseball field.

The Commission approved the request of a local PTA to hold a rummage sale on Sanford Avenue, the proceeds of which will be used for under-privileged children.

Broward Ministers Go To Bat With Gibbs Against Plantation

TALLAHASSEE, Mar. 14. — Three Broward county ministers, here to work on their share of the statewide drive against gambling, promised today they would continue their campaign in spite of repeated threats.

The Rev. Garfield Evans of the Fort Lauderdale Methodist Church said he and the Rev. Albert Larson of the Lutheran Church at Hallandale and the Rev. Floyd Cooper of Hollywood would continue the suit they started Friday to enjoin operation of "The Plantation" at Hollywood.

"I have been informed," Evans said, "that some members of my church were offered amounts in four-figures if they would use their influence to get me out of this picture in some way, but I'm not going to get out."

Attorney General George Cooper emphasized the current anti-gambling campaign is no flash in the pan.

It may not succeed immediately, he said, "but our efforts shall continue until the objective is reached."

"Our purpose," Gibbs said, "is to carry out to the fullest extent the governor's orders. We shall endeavor to do it equally and fairly throughout the State, work (Continued on Page Two)

Herndon Warns Expiration Of Murphy Act Is Nearing

Those who desire to cancel delinquent tax certificates under the terms of the Murphy Act should file their application to cancel not later than Thursday of this week in order to complete the necessary procedure to complete the cancellation of the act during the opening days of the Legislature which convenes on April 1.

County Clerk O. L. Herndon advised today that the expiration of the Murphy Act is not yet in effect and that many property owners do not realize that their property passes to the State at the expiration of the law in June unless the outstanding certificates are canceled.

Mr. Herndon stated that his office has notified all home owners in Hernando County against whose property there are outstanding certificates, by 1934 and prior but he said that there still remains 200 home owners who stand to lose their homesteads unless they act promptly.

Many others who have interest in property are also in this category, Mr. Herndon said, among them as possible as any outstanding certificates against their property. The County Clerk advised, however, that owners investigate to themselves to find whether there are any outstanding certificates which have not been canceled.

Quoting the law, Mr. Herndon stated that "1934 is the last date against which there is outstanding tax certificates when on the date of the act becomes a law were more than three years old, shall become absolutely void in the State of Florida, and every right, title or interest of every nature or kind whatsoever of the former of said said property or anyone claiming by, through or under him, or anyone holding a lien thereon, shall cease, terminate and be at an end, and the State of Florida, created by the Internal Improvement Fund, shall be authorized and empowered to sell the said lands at the highest and best bidder for cash."

Deposed Slovak Premier Is Made Head Of New Nazi State

By Associated Press

Czecho-Slovakia fell apart today under pressure from Nazi Germany. The Prague government formally dissolved the federal state a few hours after Slovakia, with Adolf Hitler's support, withdrew from the republic created by World War treaties out of the old Austro-Hungarian empire.

Hungary sent an ultimatum demanding that Czech troops get out of the disintegrating republic's third component part, the Carpatho-Ukraine region, wedged between Hungary and Poland.

Hungary reported her troops already were inside the Carpatho-Ukraine frontier and that fighting had broken out while more troops, including 60,000 reserves, were being rushed to the border.

The Slovak parliament voted independence as reliable German reports said German troops were ready to march into Czecho-Slovakia if the parliament failed to act.

The nation apparently was unable to withstand the blow of Munich and Vienna accords which lopped off sections for Germany, Hungary and Poland.

Dr. Joseph Tiso, deposed by the central government as premier of Slovakia, was named premier of the new state.

London reports indicated that Britain and France would maintain a "hands-off" attitude in the new crisis.

President Emil Hacha summoned the Slovak Parliament to meet at 10:30 A. M. today in Bratislava to "decide about the future and the existence of the Slovak nation."

The session was demanded by Hitler in his conference in Berlin with Dr. Tiso.

In Bratislava, meanwhile a violent demonstration on State Theatre Square at which a Slovak leader virtually proclaimed independence from Prague, was accompanied by a mob (Continued on Page Two)

Co-eds, Visiting In Special Train, Are Given Celery Hearts By C Of C

"Oooh, I'll bet this is a rabbit's paradise," said one rotund Stephens College co-ed as she helped herself to another of the celery hearts furnished by Chase and Company to the Chamber of Commerce for distribution to the special train load of students from Columbia, Mo., on an educational tour. They stopped here for 25 minutes early yesterday afternoon.

City Commissioners H. J. Guit and G. E. Rollins, and G. E. McKay, principal of Seminole High School and his wife along with the Chamber of Commerce delegation which included Secretary Ralph Bagwell, H. H. Coleman, member of the recreation committee were in the group which gathered to greet the 230 touring co-eds on the station platform.

The distribution of the celery hearts was made by a corps of ten boys and girls who were through the cars with trays of hearts and salt envelopes to deliver the Sanford souvenirs to the girls.

The students who helped with this work included Lucy Rounillat, Doris Jackson, Erna Doudney, Muriel Knox, Mary Ellen Leisher, Jack Holt, Bobby Newman, L. M. Tolford, Jr., Dick Mason and Walter Haynes.

The girls were on their way to Gainesville where they attended a dance given at the University of Florida last night.

The students in this section of the tour included approximately half of the entire group participating in this annual Stephens event.

The tour which was under the immediate direction of Dr. Merle Frantz, director of extra-curricular activities at the Missouri institution was the 14th such tour to be taken by at least part of the student body each year. Virtually one-third of the entire (Continued on Page Two)

Fire In Mucklands Threatens Damage

FORT LAUDERDALE, Mar. 14. — (AP) — A mucklands and sawgrass fire raged over a semi-circular 60-mile front west and southwest of here last night, threatening orange groves, truck farms and casting a smoke pall over Southeastern Florida cities.

Fire Warden Charles Hubson and a corps of workers threw up firebreaks in an effort to check the flames which, fanned by a brisk west wind, had advanced near the small community of Griffin and was approaching groves and farms west of Bayview.

Grove owners and truck farmers feared the smoke might taint the fruit and wilt the vegetation if the wind failed to change, even if the fire didn't reach them.

The fire left thousands of acres of the Everglades parched and cracked.
