Gold Taken By Germans To Be Returned

Over $330,000,000 To Be Restored Immediately As Aid In Economic Crisis

PARIS, Sept. 24. (AP)—French leaders were reported today to have informed U. S. Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder that unless aid comes from America within a few weeks France will face a financial crisis and may be forced to accept the Marshall Plan...

BERLIN, Sept. 24. (AP)—Senator H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) said today it was "highly necessary" that at least the three western zones of Germany be tied into the Marshall Plan...

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24. (AP)—An Allied Big Three commission has agreed to make a prompt distribution of part of a $330,000,000 gold store seized during the war from the Germans...

Undersecretary of State Robert Lovett said today that representatives of the United States, Britain and France, forming a "gold pool" commission, agreed to restore the gold to those countries from which it was looted by the Nazis...

Lovett told a news conference that only about half of the gold pool can be distributed immediately. In answer to a question, Lovett said he believes use of the gold will not eliminate the need for stop-gap aid for Western Europe from the United States.

But he added, it will be a substantial help and might help to ease France over its present financial crisis.

Today's below freezing marks were at Grand Forks, Pembina and Dickinson, each reporting 30 above, and Jamestown, N. D., and East International Falls, Minn., 31 below. The mercury was 23 at Winnipeg, Man. The cool air was expected to spread into Iowa, South Dakota and Wisconsin today and move into Illinois, Indiana and Michigan tonight.

Conveyance Of Airport To City To Be Rushed

Increasing Activity At Airport Results In Approval Of Many Leases By Board

Commissioner Lea R. Lesher and Chamber of Commerce Manager Edward Higgins were authorized by the City Commission at its meeting last evening to leave today for Washington, D. C. to confer with CAA and WAA officials to expedite conveyance of property at the Municipal Airport to the City.

The City has already obtained title to property immediately adjoining the airport proper. This includes the Assembly and Repair building near the Hangar. The Commission approved a lease agreement of this building to Florida Fashions, Inc. which will be sent back to that firm for approval.

A notice from the Tee Bilt Company of Miami was read stating that the company would occupy the Airport maintenance buildings for the making of prefabricated homes about Oct. 1. More than 15,000 square feet of floor space is available for this purpose, it is estimated.

A letter from the New York Giants baseball team was read and the representative will arrive here this week to lay out eight baseball diamonds at the airport for farm training purposes.

A request by the Dusty Boots and Saddle Club for use of property on the south side of the airport adjacent to Mellenville Avenue in order to practice racing with the provision that riders not interfere with baseball practice activities.

U. S. Joins Russia Against Britain On Palestine Debate

Red Newspapers Slap McNeil For Attack On Russia

Americans Reported Recovering From Vishinsky's Blast

MOSCOW, Sept. 24. (AP)—Soviet newspapers published today a Tass dispatch from New York accusing British Minister of State Hector McNeil of making "a direct attack full of provocations against the unity and cooperation" of members of the United Nations.

The dispatch referred to the address which McNeil delivered Monday before the U. N. General Assembly. Tass said that McNeil had "supported with humility all the proposals" previously made by U. S. Secretary of State Marshall and declared that New York newspapers had printed the speech under headlines reading "Banan Joint American Attack on Russia."

McNeil, replying to a speech by Andrei Vishinsky in which the Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister had accused the U. S. and Britain of "warmongering," blamed Russia for the present state of the world affairs and charged her with inconsistency, obstructionism and abuse of the veto power.

Reporting on the address which Delegate Declan Slapper delivered for the evening monthly Tass described it as an exhibition of "great cynicism" in which he "unconditionally supported" Marshall's proposals.

Slapper, a former ambassador to Moscow, accused Russia of warring "a war of nerves" against America. He added, and the major concern is the effect of movies, crime broadcasts and comics on impressionable minds.

He applauded the National Broadcasting Company for its recent order banning crime and mystery shows until after children's usual bedtime. James V. Bennett, federal director of persons, who presided at the meeting, expressed hope that the other network would follow suit.

He suggested these three alternative courses of action: (1) To suggest that the Federal Communications Commission to oppose renewal of a license, creating a test case on whether an excessive volume of crime broadcasts violates the "public interest." (2) To have the movie and broadcast codes be examined with a view to injecting "outside" supervision. (3) To have an independent commission survey the subject and make recommendations.

Efforts To Save Cattle In Glades Prove Fruitless

FLORIDA, Sept. 24. (AP)—Efforts to herd 3,500 head of Brahman cattle toward corrals with motorboats failed as the fight against floods went optimistically toward its conclusion in the Glades area today.

A fleet of small motorboats loaded with sandbags chugged back and forth to a weakened dike, three miles long and head high, and word went around among exhausted, mud-caked farm laborers, volunteers and convicts: "We're winning the battle."

Exhausted and confused by wind and high water, the cattle stampeded and sank a motorboat attempting to herd them into a corral where they could be loaded in flat bottom boats and moved to high land. All attempts to herd the cattle failed.

THE BEST ARE SPIRITUAL FOR THEIR LAST ETERNALITY. -1 Cor. 12:31. Covet earnestly the best gifts.

Do you figure that you are better off than you were five years ago? The Labor Department announced a few days ago that the average income is higher. But the Commerce Department revealed yesterday that the total public and private debt in the United States... $2,050 for each man, woman and child. Did you or are you one of those who figure that into your calculations? Are that your debts don't count?

Frosts and even snows are already being reported throughout the north... which means that our winter visitors will soon be with us, perhaps a few snow-birds as well. As a matter of fact a good winter season is generally preceded by an influx of wooden check artists, gamblers, racketeers and second story men for whom everyone should be on the lookout. Be hospitable and friendly to strangers, but don't cash their checks.

On the Overseas Highway north of Key West a motorcycle crashed into a ditch late one night. The sailor who was driving it was not killed, though he laid in the ditch for seven hours before regaining consciousness. By his side was the dead girl who had been riding on behind and who was killed instantly. A man who takes his girl friend for a ride on a motorcycle where her legs have not the slightest protection if a truck is scraped, or the motorcycle skids, does not think much of his girl.

The modest demands of the European nations probably deserve our appreciation. They only asked for 19 billion dollars from us, 3 billions more from the International Bank which we support. That's only 22 billion dollars and it is spread over four years. We don't have to pay it all up right away. We can wait three or four years for some of it. But sooner or later we will have to shell out at least this much. Oil, of course, next year they may find they will have to have more than they are asking for now, but that is another story.

Henry Wallace says that the United States can't win the third World War. It probably couldn't if he were elected President and allowed the Army to become a corporal's guard, the Air Force to completely disintegrate, and took all our warships out in the Atlantic and sent them as a demonstration to the rest of the world that we are a peace-loving nation. The next Pearl Harbor with its atomic bombs and long range planes would leave us without a chance of ever getting ready to fight a war. But fortunately, Henry Wallace is not President. Nor is he likely to be. The American people have too much sense for that.

Francis Whitehair really laid it on the line Monday night in denouncing the stubborn tactics and the aggressive designs of the Russian Communists in seeking to dominate the world. This former candidate for governor who was defeated by the sometimes conservative Spessard Holland outside of saying our junior senator ever said about leaving policies or support... "I would rather die tomorrow and have my family die with me," said this veteran of World War II, "than live under any system of Communism." We should like to see him debate that question with Claude Pepper, Florida's leftwing representative. It would be a lively discussion.

Three Governments

The Veterans of Foreign Wars are to be commended for their efforts in driving home to their own members and to the general public, the value of good government and the benefits of the economic and political system under which we live in this country. They are not seeking, as was pointed out at their supper meeting Monday night, to advance their own selfish interests, but rather to bring to their membership a better acquaintance with their public officials and a broader grasp of international problems.

Present at the meeting the other night in addition to leading state officials in veterans organizations were city and county commissioners, our state senator and representatives in the Legislature, other city and county officials, as well as many other civic leaders in various walks of life. Their principal speaker was Francis P. Whitehair of De Land, one of Florida's ablest attorneys, a former candidate for governor, and himself a veteran of the recent war in which he served with the Navy in the Pacific theater after taking a ten months' course in military government at Columbia University.

Mr. Whitehair's talk was appropriately called "Three World Governments" and in it he sought to define clearly the differences between Democracy, as we know it in this country, and Fascism and Communism, as well as to emphasize the obvious similarities which exist between these two alienisms but which we are often so prone to forget in our prejudices against one or the other. Mr. Whitehair made it perfectly clear that as between the two he had little choice, and that he would as soon fight one as the other.

The first thing which both Fascism and Communism do, as soon as they get the power, Mr. Whitehair pointed out, is to abolish every other political party except their own. Lenin did it first in Russia. Then Mussolini did it in Italy. And finally Hitler did it in Germany. And all of them have done it in every other country over which they have achieved the power. The next thing they do is to abolish all trade unions, all civic clubs, all organizations of any kind which are not directly sponsored and controlled by the state.

Simultaneously with these attacks upon personal freedom, of course, is the abolishment of freedom of speech and the press, as well as all religious worship. It is absolutely impossible for either Fascism or Communism to exist in an atmosphere of unrestricted debate or tolerant understanding. The people can expect to have no voice under any regime where the dictator decides. Nor can they worship God as they please in any country where the State is the Supreme Being and can bear no competition.

These and many other similarities between Fascism and Communism Mr. Whitehair pointed out, all diametrically opposed to everything for which this country was founded, on which it grew and flourished for over a century and a half, and in which most of us still believe. Unfortunately, there are some who have fallen victim to the opiates of alienisms, who have wormed their way into positions of trust in political offices, in our educational system, in trade unions, and in civic organizations.

These and their fellow travelers and sympathizers must be carefully watched, and wherever possible, as Mr. Whitehair said, the termites must be exterminated. The VFW leadership has made a good start in bringing Mr. Whitehair to Sanford and in promoting a better understanding of governmental problems. May they keep up the good work until Americanism is no longer in danger from anywhere in this world.

Yes, We Have No

Bananas and the buying and selling of them would not seem to involve a political disturbance. But such is the case in Haiti, where this popular fruit is grown in large quantities.

Bananas are sold to American traders on a concession basis, and since the overthrow of the former president of this republic and the establishment of the new executive, President Estime, the concessions have not been established on a permanent basis.

H. Stuart Morrison, who writes for the Chicago Daily News asserts that Estime's one desire "is to get the highest possible price for the needy Haitians who grow bananas. The American trader's one aim is to get as many bananas as possible for as few dollars as possible, and the professional politician is after as many of those Yankee dollars as he can get."

Black markets in Europe sound simple compared to this three-way struggle. If the situation is not untangled soon American buyers are likely to pull out of the market, and the resulting shortage will affect everyone from Father, who likes bananas on his cereal, to the baby, who thrives on the mashed fruit.

Behind The Research

A woman scientist of Jerusalem, attending the recent International Cancer Research Congress in St. Louis, told of her patient and long-time experiments with rodents which led to belief in a connection between leprosy and cancer. Her discoveries that these two age-old diseases of mankind might have some interrelation, plus some further findings were acknowledged as important contributions toward attacking the mystery of cancer. This woman, Dr. Rivka Ashbel, was trained in the University of Rome and formerly worked in Naples and London.

Her clinical findings and deductions are too technical for the average layman to comprehend. Yet there is something heartening in her story. Here is a woman who somehow managed to remain steadily at her professional pursuits despite living in several centers where the world's storms raged most fiercely.

The brief announcement of her research conclusions carries no hint of what personal difficulties she has overcome. And that story probably would be as thrilling a human narrative as was her report from a medical point of view.

THE WORLD TODAY

By DEWEY MACKENZIE All Foreign Affairs Analyst

The battle in the United Nations between the democracies and the Russian bloc has developed a new angle through the declaration by a high Soviet source that the Soviet Union undoubtedly will boycott the "Little Assembly" proposed by U. S. Secretary of State Marshall if it is established.

The "Little Assembly" would be a general committee on which all members of the UN would be entitled to representation and it would sit permanently to consider vital matters such as those which now are being sidetracked in the powerful Security Council by Russian veto. The Muscovites hold that such a committee would contravene the UN Charter.

This Soviet threat may be bluff, but if we accept it at face value, for the sake of argument, the question immediately arises whether a boycott would jeopardize the whole UN. Some observers fear that it might, since it would tend toward a peace organization from which the Soviet bloc would stand aloof.

The answer to this, unfortunately, is that statesmen generally recognize that the UN already has been rendered impotent by Soviet tactics of obstruction. So the Little Assembly would create no threat to a unity which doesn't exist. The UN already is divided along the same lines as the world at large—the Soviet bloc on the one hand and the rest of the globe on the other.

The ideal solution of these divisions of course would be that advocated yesterday by Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the UN. He made an impassioned appeal to the warring East-West powers to reconcile their differences which he declared were breeding fear and hate throughout the world.

"The indispensable condition for peace," Lie told the Assembly, "is that nations with different social systems and different interests shall strive and work together, side by side, in peace. This must find expression in political negotiations which show willingness to compromise. Without the maintenance of international peace and security, however perfect, can be effective."

That obviously is a true bill. However, until the happy day of compromise arrives, these would seem to be merit in the effort of the Democracies to drag the present helpless UN organization out of the doldrums so that it will be partly effective.

As a matter of fact a reconstructed UN could be highly effective, since the majority of the world's nations want to make it work. The absence of Russia and her satellites would be a shocking thing, and it is to be avoided by all reasonable means, but there are many who believe that it wouldn't render the reconstructed organization useless by a long shot. It still could perform a great service for most of the globe.

There are those who would cinch this view by pointing to the late League of Nations saying that it died because the United States declined to join. But that's not true. The League failed, not because of America's absence but because its major members were playing power politics.

The United Nations organization was conceived in the one-world spirit fostered by allied unity in war. Since then the globe itself has been divided into two camps—the Soviet bloc versus all others. This being so it strikes us that it isn't strange to get a continuation of the split in the UN. This situation can scarcely be remedied in the peace organization until the global break is mended.

Meantime the Democracies are trying through creation of the Little Assembly to give the UN a pair of crutches.

Head Of Red Cross Believes In Being Ready For Disaster

By HOWARD DOBSON AP Washington

WASHINGTON—All you can do about a disaster, says Colin Herrie, is get ready for it.

And he is. As national administrator of Red Cross disaster services, nothing that man or nature may cook up in the way of devastation can surprise or dismay him. Herrie, a tall, gray native of Washington, is 55 years old and has spent 37 of those years with the Red Cross—35 of them getting ready for, and getting over, disaster from Vermont and Louisiana to China and Serbia.

The Red Cross depends primarily on its local chapters—one in every county, at least—for its disaster effort. Each chapter has a disaster chairman in charge of surveying local resources and getting them lined up for emergency use. One of the best setups we have in Florida, the Dade County organization in Miami, Herrie told me. "If they had a hurricane this morning they could put 30,000 people under shelter tonight."

Disaster business in this country is big. The Red Cross gets about a disaster a day, ranging from small fires up to floods, cyclones and hurricane. It still is paying for the care of people injured in cyclones 10 years ago and expects to be taking care of injured from the Texas City, Tex., explosion and fire 10 years hence. Here, roughly, is the way the Red Cross goes to work on a disaster:

The U. S. Weather Bureau makes daily rainfall reports, at noon, to Red Cross headquarters here. When a hurricane is spotted, it reports more frequently, sometimes a half-dozen times a day, on the storm's progress and probable path.

Suppose a hurricane is headed for Florida and the Weather Bureau thinks it will hit Dade County first. The nearest Red Cross area office, at Atlanta, Ga., makes sure the local chapters have been warned and are getting ready. It may establish a temporary regional headquarters to direct the work of chapters in several counties or even several states.

The local workers get their machinery in operation and make sure that families along the coast have been warned and moved out. If necessary, the Red Cross moves them.

When the storm strikes, emergency aid—food, shelter, clothing and medicine—is on hand. The local chapter even plans truck routings in advance.

After the storm, specially trained disaster workers go into the

Richard H. Cooper Talks in Kissimmee

KISSIMMEE, Sept. 24 (Special)—Calling for action on Florida's water control problems, Richard H. (Dick) Cooper, candidate for governor, spoke to the Kissimmee Lions Club Monday night.

Since he opened his campaign with a Sanford talk, Cooper has been invited to speak and has spoken in Gainesville, Clearwater, Tavares, Clermont, Winter Garden and Sarasota.

The 27-year-old war veteran and newspaperman asserted that: "We must educate, we must mobilize, we must fight to protect our great natural water resources. "It took millions of years since the dawn of the World to build up water resources," said Cooper. "Yet in the span of a lifetime, we have seen our water system dangerously unbalanced."

has been at it since. His toughest jobs have been two Florida hurricanes, two Mississippi river floods and the 1927 flood in Vermont.

Broadway

NEW YORK—Since the "name band" business is a multi-million dollar trade, the folks who play and sing the nation's ditties have become a matter of intensely serious moment not only to music publishers and composers, but to the listeners who buy sheet music and recordings.

Billboard Magazine has just polled the disc jockeys, the fellows who twist the records on the nation's radio stations, and these are its findings, the result of some 1,800 questionnaires.

Eddy Howard won in the "Sweet" orchestra division with out any trouble, polling 1,272 votes. Tex Beneke and the Glenn Miller Orchestra, an organization some folks uninitiated to hot jazz might consider a highly territorial organization indeed, was runner-up with the bands of Claude Thornhill, Freddy Martin and Tommy Dorsey following in that order. The last-named gentleman placed fifth in both the "Sweet" and "Swing" categories.

Stan Kenton's orchestra won the "Swing" poll, an honor unusual in itself since the Kenton orchestra has since disbanded for some time. Runners-up in the "Swing" class were Benny Goodman, Duke Ellington, Harry James and the aforementioned and double-honored T. D.

Xavier Cugat and his assorted castanets, ghouls and horns won for that master of the rumba and the samba the "Latin-American" title.

Hints To Housewives

Weekly from Home Demonstration Specialist, Tallahassee

WOMEN'S BUSINESS

The old idea that legal matters are the sole concern of the man of the house is refuted by hundreds of farm women in home demonstration clubs in many states who each year study wills, taxes, deeds, contracts and similar questions affecting family property, according to the Extension Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Many state extension services now publish bulletins for women on business and legal affairs.

The modern attitude is expressed by Barbara Higgins, Massachusetts home demonstration agent, who says: "A woman can learn business methods and become a good business partner just as she can learn to be a good cook. Every homemaker should share the responsibility of keeping family business affairs in order."

A leaflet on avoiding financial and property traps, recently published by the Nebraska Extension Service, says: "Every day the homemaker comes in contact with laws when she writes a check, signs a note, gets a receipt or even orders groceries. Marriage and death in a family give rise to legal consequences. There is nothing unwomanly in learning about laws affecting the family."

The least that every homemaker should know about family business was suggested recently by Mary Coleman, Alabama home management specialist, who says home records should include: (1) all insurance policies in the family, with benefits provided and names of companies; (2) social security cards on family members and numbers; (3) numbers of all government bonds in order to make claim in case they are destroyed; (4) all family debts, with schedule of payments and interest agreed upon.

Two facts that every homemaker should know are: (1) that all valuable papers, including birth and marriage certificates, should be kept in safety vaults or in a locked metal box for protection from fire and theft, and (2) that bank accounts and safety deposits boxes are best held jointly unless a will gives wife or husband access to funds in case of death.

Tight Play Featured In Softball Congress

PHOENIX, Ariz., Sept. 24. (AP)—In a game featured by tight playing by both teams, the Andrews Motor Company of Rome, Ga., knocked the Platt Rogers nine of Boulder, Colo., into the loser's bracket, 1-0, in last night's second round of the national softball congress men's tournament here.

The Georgians showed their lone run across in the fourth inning. Pison got an infield hit and stole second. Melroe flied out and Gravelly walked. Pison then scored on Rucker's single.

In the opening contest the Bell Merchants of Bell, Calif., were eliminated from the tournament by the White Central Athletic Club of Seattle, 6-1.

Phoenix's Phalanx Fraternity edged out Harold's Club of Reno, Nev., 2-1, in the closest played battle to date in the second round. The Milwaukee Royals will meet the New York Hatters of Gainesville, Fla., in tonight's opener at 8:30 P. M. (Mountain Standard Time, 8:30 P. M., EST).

COMMENTS from the SIDELINES

By ARTHUR BECKWITH, JR.

Red Hats
Approximately 60 DeLand Red Hat supporters and officials have unanimously accepted recommendations of a ten member committee that the DeLand Baseball Association be changed to a non-profit organization with membership fees set at $5, it was reported here today.

The action came as the result of extensive study on how to tie down the loose ends of the organization that has been running the Florida State League entry for the past few years.

It is reported that Homer Smith appointed a five man committee to draw up a new charter.

Bill Seinecke has other "iron in the fire" for next year, and it is unlikely that he will return to the helm of the Hats for the 1948 campaign. Therefore, Smith stated it is imperative that the new organization be formed as soon as possible, and that the new skipper be secured.

Orlando Senators
Jimmy Burns, sports editor of the Miami Herald, states that the Orlando Senators are destined to become a member of the Florida International League.

Here is what he has to say: "Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators, plans to dispose of his half-interest in the Havana club. Then he will peddle his Orlando franchise in the Florida State League to Ocala, which is anxious to return to organized baseball. That would leave Griffith free to enter Orlando into the F. I. L."

"This intricate bit of business will require simultaneous action on several points. Major hitch at the moment is that there is no vacancy in the F. I. L."

"It is possible that within the next year, either Fort Lauderdale or Lakeland might withdraw. That would be the signal for Griffith to start moving."

"Some say Orlando isn't a good baseball town, and attendance figures in the F. S. L. lend credence to that claim. Defenders of the beautiful lake-dotted city say that their ball park is too far from downtown, and that Orlando fans won't go for D baseball."

Hurns is a man of repute and has words of sure fire info on all the sports activity in the state, so we would say that there might be a chance that the change is in the offing.

If the Senators move to the F. I. L., Clark Griffith and his Washington Senators will have to get busy and put a team together far better than the one that just completed the 1935 Florida State League season, because some of the ball clubs that were in the F. I. L. this past season were really pretty good ones.

Kramer Leads Way In Annual Pacific Tennis Tourney

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24. (AP)—The 1936 Pacific Tennis Tournament was won today by the program committee that rearranged its schedule in the wake of yesterday's downfall of numerous foreign challengers.

Three singles matches were on the schedule, plus two feature doubles battles, as the committee counted such victims of third round play as Jaroslav Drobny, The Czech Davis Cup star; Geoffrey Paish, Vihri Rurac of Rumania, France's Robert Abbesiam, New Zealand's Roland McKenzie, and Australia's Geoff Brown.

Kramer was paired against Vladimir Cernik, Drobny's fellow countryman. America's Big Jake having trounced New Zealand McKenzie in easy fashion, 6-2, 6-2.

Dick (Pancho) Gonzalez, dark-horse Los Angeles public courts player, who upset the highly favored Drobny, and the tournament committee, by scores of 3-6, 6-3, 7-5, drew Los Angeles' Bob Falgouture for what promised to be a close match.

Pancho Segura of Ecuador, who won from Abbesiam, 6-4, 2-6, 6-2, drew Earl Coehill of Los Angeles, who knocked off Geoff Brown in another reversal, 8-6, 6-3.

YESTERDAY'S STARS
Batting, Andy Pafko, Cubs, led 17-hit attack against Cincinnati with three singles and a double, driving in three runs in 7 1/2 innings.

Pitching, Allie Reynolds and Frank Shea, Yankees, tuned up for World Series jobs by hurrying New York to 2-0 and 3-1 victories over Washington.

Hurns' many Sanfordites will be turning their eyes toward the radio to listen to the great sports classic, Sanford's own son, Walter Lanier (Red) Barber, will be broadcasting those games and will be ably assisted by Mel Allen.

During the regular season Red broadcasts the Dodger home games over station WJMR and Mel announces those of the Yankees on station WWSW.

The 1947 series will be broadcast over nearly 500 Mutual stations from coast to coast and in Hawaii and Alaska, starting next Tuesday. A 64 station Canadian broadcasting company will link up for the broadcasts and will offer a French translation in addition to the regular Barber-Allyn broadcast.

The Armed Forces Radio Service will relay the games to the forces around the world and on the high seas.

Enlargement of the Orange Bowl stadium to a 70,000-seat capacity for the New Year's football classic here is being carried on this Fall without interference to eight University of Miami home games and 30 high school contests.

Touchdowns have been scored in the final moments of four of the 13 Orange Bowl classics, and two of them have decided the outcome of the game.

The Clubhouse

By FRANK ECK

MacPhail features Sports Editor FRANK ECK, a resident of Miami, who has been in the baseball business for many years. He stretches right through every organized league in baseball. Yet the all-New York World Series—Brooklyn is part of New York, you know—finds two managers who a few months back wanted no part of running a big league team.

Bucky Harris of the New York Yankees and Burt (Harney) Shotton of the Brooklyn Dodgers had managed teams before and they said they had had enough.

However, the picture changed when both President Larry MacPhail of the Yanks and Branch Rickey of the Dodgers earlier this year found themselves with teams and no one to manage them.

MacPhail hired Harris last season to see what was wrong with the Yankees. Bucky had no title. The Yank called him a sort of trouble-shooter," said MacPhail.

Meanwhile, it was felt by veteran observers that MacPhail figured he could lure Leo Durocher away from Brooklyn where MacPhail, when he was Brooklyn boss, installed storied Lippy as manager in 1933. Harris ultimately was appointed manager against his better judgment. MacPhail talked him into the job which today Bucky says it is the best job he ever had in baseball. Harris now makes it emphatic that he expects to be back again in 1948.

Shotton's case is almost similar, with a few important variations. Harney was living in Florida practically as a semi-retired club but didn't have too much to do.

He read with interest that Friday before the season opened that Commissioner Chandler had suspended Durocher for one year "for conduct detrimental to baseball." The following Thursday, after the Dodgers had lost their manager Clyde Sukeforth, had won their first two National League games of the season, Rickey wired Shotton to come to New York.

Shotton hopped an early plane the following morning and Rickey met him at LaGuardia Field around 11 o'clock. Three hours later Rickey had talked Shotton, 63 and with no managerial intentions, into running the Dodgers for 1947. Shotton, like Harris, has said "this is the best job I ever had."

However, Shotton claims he isn't interested in managing again. But unless Rickey rehires Durocher, his $50,000 salary per year as a 1947, the Brooklyn boss can always give Shotton, one of his lifelong friends, another sales talk about managing "for just one more year."

Shotton handled the once hapless Phillies from 1928 through 1933 with little success. The best he ever did was to lead them under his leadership was fourth in 1932.

The Yankee team is the fifth managed by Harris. Only Connie Mack, 84, has managed more seasons of baseball as a player. Harris, however, is only 50. Bucky won pennants his first two years as the "Boy Wonder" player-manager with Washington in 1924 and '25. In 1924, at the age of 28, he led the Senators to a World Series victory over John McGraw and the New York Giants.

Florida Breeders To Get Opportunity To Race Horses In '48

MIAMI, Sept. 24. (AP)—Twenty-four Florida Thoroughbred breeders are eligible for the history-making Florida Breeders Stake next winter at the Hialeah track, it is disclosed by a state-wide survey by Hunter Lyon, chairman of the board of the Florida Thoroughbred Breeders Association.

Addition of the blue ribbon races—exclusively for two-year-old horses—failed in the state-to-Hialeah's 1948 stakes program marked the realization of a long-time dream for Florida breeders. The classic will be run for $5,000 added over the three-furlong straightaway of the Hialeah nursery course on Feb. 6. A suitable trophy, also will go to the winning owner.

The Florida Breeders Stake will be one of 17 stake races—the most in winter racing in America—announced by President John C. Clark of Hialeah for the 40-day meeting, Jan. 16 through March 2, at Florida's oldest, largest and finest track.

The 24 eligible Cracker races are in the hands of 12 owners. Carl Bone of Ocala has five. Charles O'Neill, Jr., Mrs. T. Christopher and Stefan A. Zachar of Miami have three each. Fred C. Peters of Hialeah and Dr. C. C. Collins of Jacksonville have two each. Hunter Lyon, Mrs. A. B. Christopher, Dr. H. L. Whitten, A. Robinson, H. H. Horne, all of Miami, and W. H. Keene of Ocala have one each.

The sires represented are Liberty Franc, Swing and Sway, Suffern, Swashbuckle, Macho Gusto, Pierre Chance, Petrose and Doubtrah.

"This is the best crop ever produced in the state," says Lyon. "and no excuse or apologies need be offered for them."

"The Christopher form reports the Doubtrah yearlings as fine as he has ever seen anywhere," continues Lyon. "My Liberty Franc colt, Franca's Cracker, is a big black, strapping colt patterned like his daddy. In the cool of the evening when the running begins he'll be there by thursabouts. The Macho Gusto colts are splendid lookers, and according to Mr. Zachar will give somebody a race for his money."

Race Between Armed And Assault Is Set

NEW YORK, Sept. 24. (AP)—Their $100,000 off-again-on-again match race apparently here to stay, Armed and Assault each scheduled today to have one more workout before they go to the post at Belmont Park Saturday.

Trainer Max Hirsch, who after seeing Assault go through a spirited jog yesterday morning changed his mind and decided to run the Comet, said an extensive workout was slated for Thursday.

With Ben and Jimmy Jones apparently satisfied that Calumet's Armed is close to peak condition, a five-eighths of a mile speed test was scheduled for the golden gelding on Friday. The distance of the special is a mile and a quarter.

With Hirsch's apparent reluctance for the race, the betting odds favor and the guess was that 3 to 5, with Assault just a little odds moved even further in Armed at most time it would be Armed at better than even money.

Cardinal Griffin Warns Catholics Of Communism

Politics Is Called New Theology At Buffalo Congress

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP)—Myron C. Taylor, President Truman's special representative to the Vatican, arrived by plane today at La Guardia Field and said he would report to the president next week on conditions he observed during a European tour. Taylor said that what he saw was "a pretty sad picture, politically and economically." He left by automobile for his home at Locust Valley, N. Y.

NIAGARA FALLS, Sept. 24 (AP)—Bernard Cardinal Griffin, archbishop of Westminster, London, today called upon Catholics to unite "against the common enemy of Communism and of materialism."

In a sermon prepared for delivery at a pontifical mass here, the only out-of-town event of the Buffalo Centennial Eucharistic Congress, Cardinal Griffin said: "In many countries the state shows a benevolent tolerance of the Catholic religion. In some countries there is an active prosecution of our holy faith."

"Now more than ever it is necessary that Catholics throughout the world should be united against the common enemy of Communism and of materialism."

"It is the mass that will unite us," he said. "It is the sharing in the body of Christ by Catholics throughout the world that unites us to him and to one another."

"We here today are united in a very real way with our brethren in Yugoslavia and in many countries east of the Iron Curtain where the faithful have to attend mass at a great risk to their lives."

Meanwhile, St. Joseph's new cathedral in Buffalo was the setting for one of the most impressive ceremonies of the four-day demonstration of the Catholic belief that Jesus Christ is present in the sacrament of Holy Eucharist (communion).

It was the rare oriental pontifical mass, sung in Ukrainian and Aramaic language of Christ.

Other events scheduled for today, the third day of the Congress, included a low pontifical mass for children, presided over by Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York, and a civic stadium sectional meeting for working men expected to attract 50,000 persons tonight.

About 20,000, the largest gathering in the Congress to date and the biggest indoor crowd in Buffalo's history, jammed Memorial Auditorium last night to hear the Rev. McGr. Fulton J. Sheen, Washington, D. C., declare that "politics has become the new theology."

"Passion and zeal which were once associated with the cause of God have now been transformed into fanaticism for Caesar," said McGr. Sheen. "By losing themselves in politics they seek to find the way out of individual chaos."

City Meeting

ance of chicken coups to 50 feet from neighbors homes and 25 feet from homes of owners, was adopted. Numerous complaints about chickens being kept too near homes prompted the action, according to Mr. Sawyer.

The Commission adopted the State approved beer and wine ordinance amendment which increases the license cost for selling these beverages above 3.2 alcoholic content from $15 to $50.

The ordinance increasing the utility service tax to $2.00 maximum was placed on final reading and adopted. It will go into effect Oct. 1, said Mr. Sawyer.

Estimates for the resurfacing of a number of City streets were made. City Attorney Fred R. Wilson rendered an opinion that the City had the right to assess abutting property owners as to street paving costs. The average cost to an owner of a 60 foot lot on a 24 foot wide street was estimated at $40, Mr. Sawyer reported that he had taken up the matter of financing the paving with Ledy and Wheeler, Orlando brokers. Action on the matter was deferred by the Commission pending receipt of advice from the brokers on how to finance the paving which is needed on about 40 miles of streets.

The Commission, said Mr. Sawyer, instructed him to notify Harry Crossen, who leases the Municipal Trailer Park on French Avenue that unless he makes a promise to clean the place up and make necessary repairs to buildings within 10 days that the City will terminate his lease.

Who were authorized for a new automobile for City Building Inspector Grady Duncan, including trade-in of his old car. Purchase of 1947 refunding bonds was approved. The sum of $1033 authorized for a new cash register for the Water Utilities Department.

Celery Crate for funds, the club voted to make a monthly donation of $5 until such time as the amount could be increased. Mrs. Felice West was appointed to act on the advisory board of the crate.

Making a report of the Milk Bank, a project of the club, Mrs. West stated that five quarts of milk are being given daily to four needy families in the county, representing a cost of $32.98. The president, Mrs. Joel Field, requested that a complete report be sent to the donors of the Milk Bank each month. The Pilot Club guarantees $15 a month toward the bank and solicits the help of other organizations or interested persons in this worthwhile project.

Volunteers for the forthcoming Tuberculosis Seal Sale were called upon to help prepare the seals and folders for mailing, to which a number of the members responded. Mrs. Mary Hawkins, finance chairman, displayed samples of Christmas cards which the club will sell. She also urged members to make preparation for the rummage sale which will be held early in October.

Miss Ramsey, civic chairman, stressed the importance of courtesy to strangers for our midst, also for all members to better inform themselves in civic affairs throughout the county, state and nation. She pointed out the importance of electors to avail themselves of the opportunity of voting.

A report from Mrs. Laura Albrecht, president of Pilot International, revealed that several new clubs have recently been organized in California, the latest one being in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Sarah Hughes of Orlando, district governor of district four, in a letter to the club, requested as many members as could to attend the Fall Council meeting to be held at the Sheraton-Plaza Hotel in Daytona Beach Oct. 4 and 5.

"The secretary was instructed to place an order for clothes hangers which will be sold by members to raise money for club projects. There were 26 members present at the meeting."

ancial difficulties. In Paris, French leaders were reported to have told Secretary of the Treasury Snyder that France will face a financial crisis within a few weeks unless help is forthcoming and that any aid under the Marshall Plan would be too late.

Lovett said the United States urged a preliminary distribution of the gold not later than Oct. 15 and the commission has agreed to try to meet this deadline.

Of the Nazi-looted gold, about $260,000,000 worth has been recovered by American forces in Germany and about $70,000,000 worth recovered from other countries.

Eleven countries have filed claims to the money, totalling nearly $500,000,000, and Lovett explained about half the amount now in hand will have to be withheld to meet claims.

Aside from France the claimants include Albania, Austria, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Greece, Italy, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Poland and Yugoslavia.

The new big power clash on trusteeship occurred as the Assembly shifted from Flushing Meadow Park, New York, to begin committee work here at UN headquarters. It came amid these other developments:

1. The United States delegation reported working on a plan for a special "watch dog" commission to help restore peace to the Balkans under assembly authority.

2. Warren R. Austin, No. 2 delegate, was unanimously elected chairman of the assembly's new committee on planning and financing the projected world capital on Manhattan's east side.

3. A fight over the Union of South America's refusal to submit the mandated territory of South West Africa for trusteeship was delayed until tomorrow.

General Strike

last night to be "the first Communist attempt to hamper the essential life of Trieste," arrested nine union members at 3 A. M. on charges of assaulting and intimidating workers who refused to strike.

The accused will be arraigned before an AMG court. They included Andre Turcovic, president of a factory committee at the San Marco ship yards, and Giglio Di Patrecco, secretary of the same committee.

The charges grew out of alleged beating of members of the moderate Camera Del Lavoro union who refused to participate in a strike called to protest the machine gun killing of an 11-year old girl in Slav-Italian rioting at the birth of the Free Territory.

The beatings originally led to AMG suspension of the six Sindacati Unici members, which resulted in yesterday's general strike order.

AMG police yesterday arrested ten persons after a bomb was thrown at a trolley car, injuring a passenger, and took into custody another 12 persons, accused of intimidating workers who wanted to go to their jobs.

Henato Rizotto, president of Sindacati Unici, admitted today that the work stoppage was a "political strike."

He said in an interview it was called to protest "the attitude of partiality shown by AMG in favor of fascist elements" as well as a protest against living conditions in Trieste.

Rizotto charged AMG with "encouraging incidents which resulted in violence."

Communists and Yugoslav sympathizers were arrested and held for months without charges, he asserted, while "Fascist elements found with their bombs and tommyguns in their possession were released almost immediately."

Meanwhile, AMG said there was nothing new to report concerning the American officer, Maj. William Van Allen of East Orange, N. J., and two enlisted men who fell into the hands of a Yugoslav patrol Monday. No reply has been received to the American Military Authority's request for their return, it was said.

Storm Damage

save the valuable herd worth many thousands of dollars, have failed, reported H. L. Speer, assistant county agent here.

The rancher in the boat escaped with his life. As word of possible victory in the battle of the dike spread, the cattle of the Everglades were set forth in all its optimism by W. H. Van. He has been able to control the water on 400 acres between Belle Glade and Pahokee—and today he was planting beans.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 24 (AP)—A tropical storm which originated in the Caribbean Sea and caused anxiety but little damage as it crossed Florida and Georgia, moved through the Carolinas today and the Weather Bureau said it is no longer "active."

The latest advisory from Miami placed the center of the disturbance about 50 miles northwest of Charleston at 10 A. M. (EST) It was moving northward with strongest winds of 35 miles and 45 miles an hour gusts. It was expected to reach the North Carolina-Virginia cape section tonight.

Heavy rains accompanying the disturbance flooded streets in Savannah, Ga., and other coastal cities. Storm warnings were up from Hatteras to Manassquan and small craft warnings flew from Hatteras to Brunswick, Ga.

Meanwhile on Florida's West Coast harrassed last week by a severe hurricane and again this week by threat of one, the sun came out. Some minor damage from the latest storm was reported on beaches at Bradenton and Sarasota. The citrus crop escaped.

Jews Protected

LONDON, Sept. 24 (AP)—The British government, fearing a "very nasty situation" might develop from anti-Semitism, has ordered a police campaign against orators who denounced Jews, a government source said today.

The informant said that under the present government policy street speakers who supported Fascist ideology but did not denounce Jews would not be molested.

President Meets With His Cabinet On Big Problems

President Truman met with his cabinet in special session this afternoon and invited congressional leaders to the White House Monday to discuss the general food situation at home and abroad.

An official told a reporter the cabinet discussion involves the "general food situation," presumably including European relief and the effect this may have on the high cost of living in the United States.

There were also these other developments:

1. Senator Taft disclosed in Seattle that Mr. Truman has asked Republican and Democratic congressional leaders to discuss with him Monday the world food situation as it relates to proposed exports under the Marshall Plan of aiding European recovery.

2. Top level American officials are arriving or are enroute home to give President and Secretary of State Marshall first-hand information on European conditions and on the 16-nation Paris conference calculations that $22,400,000,000 will be needed in outside aid, chiefly from the United States, to help rebuild Europe in the next four years.

The problem of soaring prices for food and other items, subject of country-wide debate—in public meetings, legislative halls and in corner grocery stores—is being given "every consideration" by President Truman.

Mr. Truman, giving no indication that he plans to call a special session of Congress on the price situation, says he hopes to reach a decision soon "on the best manner of approach" to the price situation.

The President's views were expressed in a letter to Rep. O'Toole (D-N.Y.) in reply to a letter O'Toole had written to Mr. Truman while he was in Brazil.

"The danger from high costs is becoming increasingly serious every day," O'Toole said, adding that if Mr. Truman "gives the problem the consideration I know he will, a special session is practically inevitable."

Mr. Truman, who is to make a statement on world food problems "in a few days," is studying recommendations of his cabinet committee and was reported consulting the possibility of a voluntary food rationing system at home and smaller grain shipments abroad.

Also in Washington, Senator Connally (D-Tex.), describing the control of soaring prices "a very difficult and troublesome problem," said he was "prepared to say whether a special session of Congress to control prices would be justified." He said he planned to confer with the President about the price situation.

Senator Ralph E. Flanders, subcommittee of the joint congressional committee investigating (R-V-I), chairman of the eastern high prices, said in New York that the group would ask Mr. Truman to take action to curb speculation on commodity exchanges.

At the hearing in New York testimony yesterday stressed charges that speculation in the exchanges was in large part responsible for recent increased prices of food.

Rep. Robert F. Rich (D-Pa.), a committee member, said if commodity exchanges would not curb speculation "the government ought to." He asserted that "letting speculators make profit on food stuffs is a crime against our civilization."

In the country's commodity markets yesterday, only wheat made substantial gains, continuing its upward trend with closing prices 3 to 4 and a half cents higher. Prices of corn, oats, sugar and eggs showed slight declines.

Throughout the country, however, retail prices for meat, milk, bread, butter, eggs and other staples generally remained at about the same levels as last week.

The commentator pointed out that "very recently one Iranian diplomat in Iran has added his voice to the campaign directed against fulfillment of the Soviet-Iranian agreement." He did not name the diplomat.

"Covering himself with hypocritical phrases about 'national interests' of the Iranian people and concerning himself with strengthening the position of imperialistic circles of his country in Iran, this diplomat said Iranians would not be bound by obligations undertaken by her in the Soviet-Iranian agreement," the article said.

Foreign observers here said the reference probably was to U. S. Ambassador George V. Allen in Tehran.

games are scheduled, with two in the offing, he said, and predicted even better attendance than last year.

Assistant Coach Tyler, former Rollins gridder, said that his "green boys" were coming along pretty well, were constantly improving and expressed the hope of a good showing against the Jacksonville team of seniors Friday evening.

Principal Morris highly praised the work of Coach Kettles and his assistants.

(Guests introduced by Joel

Field were: T. Mead Wilson, former state Legion commander; Lieut. Col. M. G. Williams and Capt. George C. Walsh of Jacksonville, Lloyd F. King of Winter Park, Salvation Army Major Allan S. Wherton and Herbert Stenstrom of the Key Club.

Among the first examples of the comic strip, which started to appear in magazines during the latter half of the 19th century, was Palmer Cox's "The Brownies," which depicted the romantic life of tiny elves.

MEDICS SUMMONED
SANTA ANA, Calif., Sept. 24 (AP)—Medical witnesses were summoned today by Louise Overell and George Gollum as they opened their sur-rebuttal to the state's accusation that they killed the Overell yacht.

Prosecutor Eugene Williams rested the state's rebuttal late yesterday. The defense lawyers said they planned to use three or four witnesses and should conclude their testimony by late today.

Chief contention of the defense will be that the people's witnesses erred in estimating that financier Walter E. Overell was no more than 12 inches away from the yacht when it was struck by the cruiser, the Mary E., last Mar. 15.

Twin-Pack's my favorite
"A little family like ours doesn't use a lot of bread. But we enjoy variety and that's why we buy Southern Twin-Pack 2-in-1 Bread. We get two kinds of bread in one package—and what's more, we know it will always be fresh."
* Mrs. J. P. Arthur, Jacksonville, Fla.

THE TWIN-PACK REPORTER
* Mrs. J. P. Arthur with cute little 2 1/2-year-old Gwan, was recently interviewed by Gabriel Benzur, Southern Twin-Pack Bread's traveling reporter. Her husband is a ticket agent for an airline. Mrs. Arthur made the statement quoted above without pay because of her appreciation of Southern Twin-Pack Bread.

No wonder Mrs. Arthur is happy. With Southern Twin-Pack 2-in-1 she gets bread variety and saves money at the same time. Like thousands of other thrifty homemakers throughout the South this Jacksonville mother buys the 2-in-1 loaf because she gets white bread and wheat bread in one package for the price of a single loaf. With Twin-Pack's handy zipper, Mrs. Arthur's kitchen work goes easier, faster. With each half loaf separately sealed, her Southern Bread stays fresh longer. Russia Accuses U.S. Of Violating Pact

Potsdam Agreement Bought Into Argument On Admission Of Balkan States

LONDON, Sept. 25. (AP)—Britain is urging a postponement of the Foreign Ministers' Council meeting on the German peace because the United Nations Assembly may go on for two months, the Foreign Office announced tonight.

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 25. (AP)—The United States demanded late today that Albania and Bulgaria be barred from participation in the United Nations Assembly's political committee debate on the Balkan question unless they agreed in advance to accept Assembly decisions.

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 25. (AP)—Australian Delegate W. R. Hodgson today accused Russia of using "blackmail" aimed at forcing the Security Council to admit Soviet satellites to United Nations membership. Hodgson made the blackmail charge in referring to a statement by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko that Russia would vote for admission of Italy only if the Council also admitted Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria and Finland.

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 25. (AP)—Russia charged today that the United States and Britain were violating the Potsdam agreement by opposing the admission of Soviet satellites to membership in the United Nations. The new Soviet attack on the big western powers took place in the Security Council.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, sitting as Council president for this month, declared he would not vote for Italy's admission unless the Council admitted Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria and Finland.

The United States and Britain supported Italy, but objected vigorously to admission of the Communist-dominated governments of Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria. They insisted that a separate vote be taken on each of the five enemy states.

Polish Foreign Minister Zygmunt Modzelewski touched off the new big power fight by proposing formally that the Council admit Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria and Finland.

New Atomic Chain Reactor Pile Is Planned For Oak Ridge Plant

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25. (AP)—Plans for a new atomic chain reactor pile at Oak Ridge "several times more powerful" than the one now operating at the Tennessee plant were announced today by the Atomic Energy Commission.

A member of the commission staff said the pile will open new opportunities to explore some of the "many things about the atom that still are a mystery to science."

He said it will offer means for developing more powerful atomic weapons and broaden the field for uses of peace-time use of atomic energy.

The plans were disclosed in an announcement that the control of the Clinton Atomic Laboratories at Oak Ridge will be taken over by the University of Chicago under a four-year contract. Since July, 1945, the laboratory has been operated by the Monsanto Chemical Co.

Fourteen southern universities, members of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies, will cooperate with the University of Chicago in research at the Clinton Laboratories, the announcement said.

It listed as a principal part of the new program the design and construction of a new high-temperature reactor several times more powerful than the existing Oak Ridge pile, for further studies and expanded research requiring intensities not now available.

The announcement also said the laboratory will continue its efforts to apply atomic power to industry, engineering and industrial firms are cooperating in this program.

The program includes a school for the training of scholars and industrial personnel, to spread the "know-how" of producing and applying atomic energy as widely as possible throughout the nation.

There will be "on-the-job" training for graduate students who will be given credit toward advanced degrees.

The program brings to a total of 52 the universities sponsoring this plan of expanding atomic knowledge.

Besides the 14 southern universities, 29 are participating in the work of the Argonne National Laboratory at Chicago and nine eastern universities are allied with the Brookhaven National Laboratory at Patchogue, Long Island.

The 14 southern institutions, allied with the Clinton project are: Alabama Polytechnic (Auburn); Catholic University, Washington, D. C.; Duke; Emory University, Atlanta, Ga.; Georgia Tech; Louisiana State; Tulane; Universities of Alabama, Kentucky, North Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, and Virginia; and Vanderbilt University.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25. (AP)—Maurice S. Eccles, chairman of the federal reserve board, suggested today the United States might better spend less on its military forces in order to aid foreign democracies.

"It may be we could spend less on military forces if more were spent on maintaining conditions on which democracy and peace depend," Eccles said in a speech to the National Association of Supervisors of State Banks.

"We can't very well continue to spend as much as we have on both," Eccles said, declaring "vigorous inflationary forces" already are at work and a "severe economic storm appears to be threatening."

Eccles said the United States had spent more than $25,000,000,000 for maintenance of national defense in the first two postwar fiscal years, or a third more than the $15,000,000,000 he said had been provided in foreign aid for that period.

"It cannot be denied or ignored that continued large loans and grants to foreign countries are either a heavy current burden upon our tax payers or a strong inflationary force on our economy," he said. "But so are our even larger military expenditures, which are considered by
