Large aircraft return from Nassau

SANFORD — Four Friday, four today. Big passenger aircraft will be stopping at the Central Florida Regional Airport today, returning from Nassau in the Bahamas.

Two 737's, owned and operated by Carnival Airlines, and two 727's, owned and operated by Continental Airlines, are expected to arrive in Sanford between 1:20 and 5:35 this afternoon.

All four of the aircraft are returning from flights loaded with vacationers who have been attending the Conch Ball in Nassau. Because they are arriving from a foreign country, the passengers are required to go through customs upon arrival. Although the flights originated from the Daytona Beach Regional Airport, Daytona has no customs, while Sanford has a fully operational customs service in the recently remodeled terminal building.

All four of the aircraft were in Sanford Friday, during the noontime, returning from flights to Nassau, but containing only crew members.

Downtown solutions

Parking hassle to be resolved

By J. MARK BARFIELD

SANFORD — Downtown businessmen say they're relieved to hear a growing problem will be gone by next April.

That's when the Florida Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services will move its food stamp office from the historic Welaka Building at 107 1/2 N. Oak Ave. to the former Fairway Market shopping center at 2672 Orlando Avenue.

The long line that formed for food stamps last week is not unusual.

LAKE MARY — The Lake Mary Park system continues to grow. The latest effort is to obtain lighting and a sound system for Central Park, adjacent to the City Hall.

The City is preparing a joint agreement with the Seminole County Tourist Development Council, for a $50,000 grant. With an additional $50,000 in matching funds from the city, the project will be ready to be put out for construction bids.

The Seminole County Commission has not had the full proposal presented yet, but Lake Mary Parks and Recreation Director John Holland predicted it would come before them for a decision within a few weeks.

Central Park was created to enhance the physical appearance of the City Hall property facing Lake Mary Boulevard, and was built on the order of an amphitheater. With lighting and a sound system, it will be used for a number of official city functions held during the year, as well as other needs that may arise.

Lake Mary Parks and Recreation Director John Holland said, "Part of the agreement with the Tourist Development Council is that this park be used for events that would be of benefit to tourists coming into the County, as well as our local residents." Among additional programs that could be held in the park, he included the possibility of evening band concerts, and various nighttime festivals. "Two thirds of the year it's too hot in the daytime to hold special events," Holland said. "So if we get Central Park lit and outfitted for special programs, it will be of great benefit to the city as well as the County and our visitors."

The design of the park lighting system has already been accomplished by Gladding, Lopez, Kerchr and Anglin. Holland is anticipating awarding of the contract by January, and the beginning of construction.

SANFORD — While the gridiron conflict between the Fighting Seminoles of Seminole High School and the Leesburg Yellowjackets was what many consider the culmination of the Homecoming week activities at the Sanford school, there are some who might argue that the crowning of the King and Queen of the event was a bigger thrill.

Tina Brown, elected by her peers as the 1991 Queen, was crowned by last year's monarch Shannon Latimer who is a now a freshman at the University of Florida. Vashaun Williams, the school's first Homecoming King was crowned with a Indian head-dress worthy of a chief.

"It's always an honor to be a part of history in some way," Williams said. "And I was delighted to be honored by the seniors who voted me King."

Brown, a former varsity cheerleader, devoted herself to academics and community service this year and did not try out for the team, according to assistant principal Bobby Lundquist.

She is near the top of her class in academic standing. See Crown, Page 5A

Redskin fever gets AAA rating

By VICKI DeSORMIER

SANFORD — Beer-30, located in an otherwise empty strip mall at the intersection of 25th Street and Airport Boulevard, might seem like the unlikely place for more than 100 Washington Redskins fanatics to meet every week to watch their beloved team.

But every Sunday, that's exactly what happens. "We got tired of going places and having (Miami) Dolphin and (Tampa Bay) Bucs fans keep changing the station on us," said "Redskin" Pete Everett, the founder of the local fan club.

The majority of the members of the club are employees of the American Automobile Association's national headquarters in Heathrow.

Two years ago this weekend the headquarters moved from Falls Church, VA to Seminole County. Everett said that while they love the area and have made it their home, most of the employees have not changed their allegiance in football teams.

"The club started out to just be employees, but they all came with spouses and kids and they all wanted to join too," Everett said.

On Sunday the normally sedate pub, where patrons watch minor (non-Redskins) games and play foosball, turns into a mad-house. Everett said, of screaming Washington fans who wouldn't take kindly to someone changing to the Bucs' or the Dolphins' game.

"We can get pretty wild," said Everett. Bartender Doyle Blake said they are a lot of fun.

"I think they're a great bunch," he said. "I like having them watch the game here," Blake said.

The club has gained some notoriety in their old stomping grounds this weekend. A Washington Post reporter heard about the club from a friend who had visited his brother who is a member of the local group. She wrote a story about them which was to appear in Saturday's edition of that newspaper.

"I called my parents and told them to buy 10 copies of the paper," Everett said. "All their neighbors are going to buy us copies too."

The group will watch the Redskins play Pittsburgh today at 1 p.m. from their favorite seats at Beer-30.

Bartender Doyle Blake and top Redskins fan Pete Everett do a high five at the Beer 30 Grill and Pub.

Piggly Wiggly puzzle solved

The more question and answer columns we do the more questions we get. Here are a few of them:

Question: Although you recently wrote that the first chain grocery store in Sanford was a Piggly Wiggly on the north side of East First Street, you later said you did not recall it being there nor did Lake Mary historian Margaret Green Wesley. Have you found out for sure one way or the other?

Answer: Yes, we did. We now know there was a Piggly Wiggly store on the north side of East First Street for sure. We also know the store was established in 1925. We even know the manager was not Ernest "Shorty" Nelson as we had been told. It was Walter L. Stoudenmire, Sr., who, after leaving Winn-Lovett Grocery Company, opened his own independent grocery on East First Street right next to what is now called Rand's Mall.

Also, by 1927, Winn-Lovett had two other Piggly Wiggly stores in Sanford. In addition to the original store at 222 East First Street there

Seminoles cheered on to huge win

Sammy the Seminole and the varsity cheerleaders get afternoon prior to the 'Noles 7-6 victory over the ready to participate in the school's pep rally on Friday Leesburg YellowJackets.

Tina Brown, on the arm of her father, reacts to being named Seminole High School's 1991 Homecoming Queen at Thomas E. Whigham Field Friday evening.

Under the shadow of the ominous Leesburg Yellowjacket mascot, members of the Seminole Band sound the battle call.

Seminole seniors Autumn Pemberton, Thalya Garma and Kirk Anderson entered the hat competition.

AIDES debate: abstinence or education

The Judeo-Christian ethic subscribes to the ten commandments. One of the commandments specifies "Thou shall not commit adultery." This is interpreted as limiting sexual activities to one marital partner. Consequently, it is understandable that some members of the clergy advocate total abstinence from pre-marital sexual activity as the 100 percent AIDS preventative measure. This is the ideal to which everyone should aspire. On the other side of the debate education of the population is the central theme.

An examination of the reality that confronts American teenagers is in order. Teenagers are maturing earlier and many are not being provided with moral values and ethical standards. Values and standards are necessary for navigating life's troubled waters. There are 54 million adolescents and young adults between the ages of 10 and 24 in the United States. They comprise one fifth of the total population. More than 34,000 20-29 year olds have been diagnosed with AIDS as of March 1991. The incubation period between the HIV infection and the onset of AIDS suggests that these young people might have been infected with the fatal disease as teens. In 1988 120,000 American teenagers were thrown out of their homes or not permitted to return home after running away. One in five children 8-12th grade reported they had not had a 10 minute conversation with one of their parents within the previous month.

The environment that American adults are providing for youth is one that fosters a preoccupation with sex. Teenagers are raised on a plethora of television programs, magazines, tapes that are sexually explicit. Often, the examples that caretakers get leave much to be desired.

AIDS is a fatal disease and statistics relative to teenage sexual activity confirm this activity. In 1988 one million teenagers became pregnant. The number of babies born to teenagers that same year was one half a million equivalent to the entire population of Denver. Regardless of the reasons, it is apparent from the statistics that teenagers are engaging in sex prior to marriage. Can this society afford to refrain from educating them when it is a matter of life and death.

Coupled with the aforementioned problems is the expectation that the number of young people 10-24 years old will be 18 percent of the population by the year 2038. Our population is aging and we need to do everything possible to assure that youngsters have the opportunity to grow up to be healthy in mind, body and spirit. Adults are responsible for the environments in which children find themselves, at home, in the community, in the world. Whatever is harmful and not nurturing in these environments we have created. As an adult you must concur that we have made growing up difficult for our children. What values, concepts, ethics are promoting through our movies, television programming and other types of entertainment.

We need to unite and clean up the environment in which our children are growing to adulthood. The advocates of celebrity and those who affirm education are both correct. Children need to understand that pre-marital sex is taboo. However they also need to know the facts about AIDS and its dangers. AIDS is a one time choice, making the wrong choice sentences the decision maker to death and there is no reprieve.

Commissioner Howell and Pro & Con

The commissioner explains himself

I must admit I have had better nights, and purchasing cocaine to prove a point in today's society was a costly mistake. Seeing someone selling drugs at "Park on Park" where many of our local citizens raised $50,000 and donated hundreds of hours constructing a better environment outraged me. I wanted this person stopped and took immediate action, and in my push for a better community, set myself up. At this point, I cannot correct what I have done but hope the citizens of Sanford can understand my intentions. Just saying "No" doesn't always work in this increasingly drug-related society and (we) must have more involvement from concerned citizens to overcome this addiction.

Your remarks (in the Nov. 14 story) that this was not the first time that I was involved in illegal activities: If you recall, I took a Sanford Herald reporter into the Florida Hotel to show her the illegal activities that were present. Your reporter did an excellent story and consequently made a change for the better.

This is a prime example of what can happen when the citizens become involved and call the police on a regular basis.

Commissioner Lon Howell
Sanford

Many residents offer support

Lon Howell's actions seem deviated from the norm but his intentions are based on concrete values. Lon could be one of the most unorthodox city commissioners Sanford has ever had but, in the same manner, one of the most caring.

You see Lon is a commissioner in the district where my business is located. I've worked with him in Sanford Rotary, a civic club. Lon is like most of us in that he has an opinion on a lot of topics. This latest incident is a case of letting your best judgement be your guide.

Lon Howell is becoming overwhelmed with the goal of making Sanford a nice peaceful town as it was 20 years ago. Lon Howell wants Sanford to be safe for his neighbors to walk the streets. Lon Howell cares — some say too much — about his neighborhood. Lon Howell believes in right over wrong.

The City Commission, with Lon's recommendation, appointed me to the Sanford Housing Authority. Serving on the board was eye opening. When HUD officials came and inspected our (the City of Sanford) project their statement to me was "not in Miami or anywhere do we see open drug dealing like we witnessed in Sanford."

I must admit, I gave up. I quit, thank God Lon hasn't.

Robbie Robertson
Sanford

The citizens of Sanford should applaud the efforts of Lon Howell, our city commissioner.

It is about time our local government got involved in the effort to stop crime on the streets of Sanford or any other city for that matter. I believe if we as citizens, try to do our part to stop crime on the streets we would not act so fast to criticize or spotlight something negative about someone. He's actually doing what the people expect, but rarely see, a city commissioner that is working for the people of Sanford.

The point Commissioner Lon Howell made was not in vein.

Have you looked out your front door lately?

Liz and Gary Williams
Sanford

City Commissioner Lon Howell's purchase of crack cocaine at Park on Park was poor judgement, but the fact that cocaine is being sold at one of Sanford's busiest children's playgrounds is alarming! The police have been making arrests daily for drug-related crimes, but they can not rid our streets without every concerned citizen's help. We should not hesitate to call the police for any suspicious activity observed in our neighborhoods. If the police do not respond, then it is up to our elected officials to do something to keep our streets safe. If our elected officials do not respond, they can be replaced at the polls.

We have lived in old Sanford for three and one half years. The crime in our immediate neighborhood doesn't seem to be as prevalent as when we first moved in. Many improvements have been made, not only in the appearance of the city, but also in ridding our neighborhood of undesirable elements. On the whole, the Sanford Police Department has quickly responded to our calls, however we would feel safer seeing them on regular patrols in our neighborhood. We have often thought that they should be riding bicycles so they have greater mobility (at reduced expense to the city). It would also give the officers a better element of surprise since some of the observed suspicious activity has occurred by people who are also riding bicycles.

Sanford is a great place to live. Please, let's keep it that way.
Warren & Jean Skipper
Sanford

We have lived in the old city of Sanford for 18 years and have seen the area badly deteriorate and then eventually start to improve after the rezoning.

I give Lon Howell credit for the rezoning with the help of John Mercer and others. People were annoyed with him then too, because he is outspoken and stands up for his beliefs.

He was also the one who called attention to the inappropriate design of the addition to the Sanford museum on First Street. This gave people time to rethink the decision and hopefully make the exterior blend with the Historic District.

He lives in our neighborhood, he knows what's happening and he tries to make things better for all of us living here and in the entire city. He may have handled this situation improperly but the intent was right and he and the policeman involved were honest enough to report it and admit what had happened.

I think Lon Howell has been a valuable commissioner and I certainly hope this incident won't make him lose that position. We're missing the point if we zero in on him instead of the drug dealers. I also want to commend Steve Harriett and all the police for doing as well as they can with their hands tied.

Helen M. Hickey
Sanford

Arrest me. My money has also bought drugs on the streets of Sanford. My home was burglarized, piggy banks smashed, jewelry stolen and I'm sure the money ended up in the drug dealers pockets on the streets of old Sanford. You see, Chief Harriett we are desperate! How many homes and businesses in old Sanford have not been broken into? "Desperate times call for desperate measures."

Although I didn't personally hand the money over to the drug dealers, my home was invaded, my security threatened and my possessions stolen. Where did the money go? To the street of old Sanford perhaps. But, I doubt for the beautification and restoration of this beautiful city.

It is time Chief Harriett to get tough!!! Not with Lon Howell, but with the real source of the problem: the drug dealers and prostitutes that have claimed the streets of our city with their "business."

Valerie Brackman
Sanford

After reading the article about Commissioner Lon Howell on Nov. 14, 1991, I feel we should not condemn what Commissioner Lon Howell did. Perhaps he may have been zealous in his efforts to show the people of Sanford his concerns about drugs being blatantly sold on the streets. However, if we had more city commissioners involved with the citizens, we would already have had a head start on the drug problem in Sanford.

As a community we should seek more people who are willing to take a stand against crime and elect them to stand beside Commissioner Lon Howell and his efforts.

Sometimes it seems as though even government officials have to fight the system to get the job done.

Anthony Hudson
Sanford

I came to Sanford as a member of a Swedish family in 1928. I have always thought of Sanford as the greatest city anywhere. I have seen many mayors and city commissioners come and go, some good, some not so good.

I knew very little about City Commissioner Lon Howell before he took office. Since that time I have admired the way he has performed in office. Unlike most other politicians, he believes in "actions rather than words." His actions in the recent drug situation in Park on Park may not have been just as it should be, but it is a sure thing that a multitude of Sanford people who were uninformed of this situation are well aware that it exists. All the years that I was in business, I welcomed any corrections or suggestions that would improve my business and performance so as to do a better job of service. I think our politically influenced officials would do well to accept Commissioner Lon Howell's action in that same light.

Clifford E. Gustavson
Sanford

As a merchant and property owner in downtown as well as outer Sanford since 1966, my sincere thanks and loyalty goes out to City Commissioner Lon Howell. He most definitely stuck his neck out and put his commission seat on the line to prove that a dreadful drug situation is going on to our "pride and joy" Park on Park.

Lon's concern and "do something about it" attitude are commendable.

Charlotte Gustavson
Sanford

In reaction to the newspaper article in the paper concerning Mr. Howell, I would like to say it made me stand up and take notice of the drug situation, and how close to home it hit! Even though Mr. Howell may have tried to make a point in the wrong fashion, I wonder if more emphasis is on the fact that Mr. Howell is a city commissioner rather than his efforts to make us aware of our city's drug problem. I thank Mr. Howell for the facts he made aware to us and hope his efforts were not totally in vein.

Jane Myers
Sanford

Although Mr. Howell's methods were unorthodox by most standards I find his concern for our growing drug problem here in Sanford very commendable. If everyone would make an effort to get behind the police department maybe we can make a difference. Drugs are a major problem here in Sanford and although you may want to ignore it, it will not go away. One person can't do it all, but at least he is trying and people do notice the one that speaks out in their behalf as opposed to those who sit back with their eyes closed.

You can try and make Sanford a good place to live and bring up a family by improving the surface appearance but until you do something about the inner problems there is no hope of it ever being the city I know it can be, more important we can make it the city it once was. Please don't let Mr. Howell be condemned for his actions but get behind him and show your support and caring for this growing drug problem that if left unnoticed will tear our community apart.

Betsy Harkness
Sanford

I recently read in your newspaper and saw on TV the possible prosecution of City Commissioner Lon Howell. I, as a tax payer, voter, and law abiding citizen resent this action against him or anyone who is trying to clean up "Historical Sanford."

Mr. Howell may have been wrong in the way he went about his action, but he certainly made a very valid point as to how easy it is to buy drugs on the streets of Sanford. It is all well and good to spend money to restore and beautify Sanford, but I'd much rather have my tax money spent to really clean up the drugs and crime that have taken over this city.

Lon Howell has been an asset to our city. I'm pleased that he had the courage to bring this nasty and serious problem to the attention of those who have chosen to ignore it or "sweep it under the rug."

Well done, Lon. You have my full support. My friends and fellow tax payers are behind you 100 percent.

Nancy H. Tiller

My opinion about Commissioner Lon Howell buying crack at a city park is as follows:

It would be a great injustice to the people of Sanford if the state attorney's office decides to find criminal intent on Commissioner Howell's act.

Justice can only be served by those who care enough to get involved. His efforts to help the police department by exposing the people who deal in drugs should not go unnoticed.

We owe it to ourselves as well as our children to do what we can in the fight against drugs.

I would like to thank Commissioner Howell for doing an outstanding job. By being involved in the problems of our city he is showing the people he cares for the future.

Don't give up the hard work after all you have accomplished.

In response to the Sanford Herald's Nov. 14, 1991, front page article "City leader's cocaine buy scrutinized," I am writing to express my support for Sanford's City Commissioner Lon Howell and his efforts to make Sanford a better place to live.

Mr. Howell's service to the city of Sanford began long before his election to the city commission in 1988. He spearheaded, he was the catalyst in the struggle to rezone the old downtown residential area from multi-family to the less intense single family use. At that time myself and most resident in that area thought his efforts would be thwarted by city manager at that time "Petie" Knowles and the city's power structure, who opposed the change.

Mr. Howell's leadership and energy brought people from our neighborhood into a cohesive force that prevailed and won a hard fought campaign that culminated in a city commission vote to rezone the district to single family use. Subsequently this same area is now designated an Historic District.

Commissioner Howell's energies have recently been directed towards reducing crime in this area.

Sanford Police Chief Steven Harriett, Commissioner Howell and residents have worked together to stem the fast rising tide of crime in both the downtown commercial district and the adjacent residential area. Thursday's Sanford Herald article and other recent Herald stories have pointed out the dramatic increase in street crime downtown. I also can see this from my own front yard and on our streets.

Commissioner Howell's Oct. 24 action was unorthodox and as your article quoted him... "a mistake," however his actions are consistent with his efforts to publicize and rally support to fight street crime.

Mr. Howell in the past has had the support of the people, the city administration, the mayor, police chief and his fellow city commissioners. In their collective effort to make Sanford a better place to live and do business. I trust the state attorney's office appreciates Mr. Howell's efforts and his intent.

For too long myself and Sanford have turned a blind eye toward the problem of rising crime in the streets. Commissioner Howell's leadership and energy along with the law enforcement community may stem the tide of rising street crime and I laud their efforts.

Not all residents side with Howell

(The) Commissioner should learn to "Just Say No!"

What does Commissioner Lon Howell want to be when he grows up, a law-abiding Commissioner or "Down by law with the Dope Man." I think the Commissioner's recent actions put him in the same position as many other drug abusers, guilty of breaking the law.

Mr. Howell's alleged intention was to prove how easy it is to purchase drugs in the community. We already know how easy it is. What we need to know is how to solve the problem.

It is my feeling that a definite point was made. If our community leaders can be enticed into purchasing drugs, what hope is there for the down-trodden drug addicts, who face such temptations, on a daily basis.

was a store at 120 Magnolia Ave. and 405 Sanford Ave.

In 1927, there were three A&P stores in Sanford. One was at 205 Magnolia Ave. in the building just south of the Milne Theater and was managed by Jack Flynn. A second was on East First Street managed by John McKinnon, and a third was on the northwest corner of Sanford Avenue and 26th Street, managed by E.D. Price.

Question: I seem to remember a time way back when the colors for the local high school were something other than the present orange and black. Am I right?

Answer: To my surprise you are absolutely correct. Colors for the Sanford High School from its inception to December, 1926, were green and white — we suppose the same as Bletson University's colors. When the student body moved to the new high school in January, 1927, the school name was changed to Seminole High, and new school colors, orange and black, were chosen. We've learned a great deal about Sanford we didn't know researching your questions. Thanks for asking.

Question: Do you remember the name of the fellow who owned and operated a sporting goods store on East First Street in the old Arcade Building? And, didn't that arcade building have a name?

Answer: The sporting goods store owner and operator was a nice chap by the name of George W. Deetch. He carried a full line of sporting goods. Now, about the name of the Arcade Building, that took some digging. But we discovered it did have a name. It was known as the McLanders Building. We tried to find out where the name came from but ran into a brick wall. Maybe one of you readers could tell us.

Question: Did the local high school ever have a soccer team?

Answer: Right off the bat we said "No". But when we dug into it we discovered that back in the 1926-1927 school year the local high school did have a soccer team. For some reason the sport did not "catch on" here. Today, many of the schools in Seminole County have boys and girls soccer teams.

Personally, we have our doubts that soccer will ever become a popular spectator sport in our lifetime. There's simply not enough scoring. Playing the game may be one thing. Watching it is another.

northwest of the Orlando Ave.-27th Street intersection. HRS will also move its local Children, Youth and Families program offices to the Reflections center on Lake Mary Boulevard.

HRS has operated at the Welaka Building offices since 1978.

"I can bear it until then," said Alex McKibbin, a partner in The McKibbin Agency, an insurance company with offices located near the current North Oak Avenue food stamp office.

"I wish I could say it's tomorrow," said Dave Farr, executive director of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce.

McKibbin wrote Sanford Mayor Bettye Smith Nov. 12 complaining about the monthly traffic problems and long lines of people standing outside the food stamp offices.

"There is a 10-day period during the first and middle weeks of each month that finding a parking place in the area is almost impossible," McKibbin wrote. "The recipients will park anywhere, including private parking spaces with the owner's names on them."

"During the last couple of years, we've been really annoyed," McKibbin said Thursday. "It just keeps building up. You hate to run somebody out, but most businesses, when they outgrow their location, move on."

On stamp distribution days, the city parking lot is full as is every available parking space downtown, McKibbin said. McKibbin's privately-owned spaces are often occupied by recipients' autos, he said. His spaces are located immediately behind their 114 N. Park Ave. office. Each space is marked "Private Parking" and has a company employee name in, he said.

But across an alley from McKibbin's spaces is a 26-space municipal parking lot adjacent to the food stamp office.

"I think the problem is the people who come to the food stamp office think they are city spaces that we just painted our names on them to keep them from using them," McKibbin said. "We own them."

Chris Cranias, owner of Chris's Classics Restaurant on First Street and president of the Sanford Historic Downtown Waterfront Association, said the food stamp recipients generate little business for downtown merchants.

"They're not there to shop or to spend money, they're there to get something for free," Cranias said. "They may buy a soft drink or something like that, but they don't bring much business. Now, the HRS employees, they spend a lot of money here. We'll be sorry to see them go, but not the parking problem."

Cranias said Sanford police have been ticketing illegal parkers in the vicinity of the Welaka Building.

"Since they started that this week, it's been a pleasure," he said.

City Planner Jay Marder said the last downtown traffic study was performed in 1986, which showed there was adequate parking, although not always convenient.

"People want to be able to park in front of the store they're going to," Marder said. "They can't always do that. But they can park somewhere."

Marder said as a result of McKibbin's letter to Mayor Smith, office personnel in the Welaka Building have been asked to police the parking situation. (This was as specific as he could be, didn't know details.) Mayor Smith said she's glad the problem will be resolved.

"I can certainly sympathize with the merchants downtown," Smith said. "But it sounds like the situation will be cleared up by April."

Farr said the parking situation causes problems for many downtown businessmen.

"It creates animosity," Farr said. "Also, folks waiting in line may have a coke or eat their lunch and there's not very many garbage receptacles along there so their garbage winds up on the ground, creating an eyesore."

Paul Adams, district HRS manager of administrative services, said district officials recognized the growing congestion problem at the downtown Sanford office several months ago and began seeking bids for a new location after their lease lapsed more than a year ago.

Adams said he understands merchant's unhappiness over the downtown parking.

"It's like coming to the big bowl game," Adams said. "People are going to park anywhere."

The Welaka Building is now owned by the Resolution Trust Corp. as a result of their takeover of St. Petersburg Federal Savings and Loan Association last year, said listing broker Becky Courson of Heathrow.

fighting the problem.

The Sanford Historical Downtown Waterfront Association, SHDWA, is sponsoring the gathering to be held at 5:30 p.m. at the First Street Gallery. SHDWA also is sponsoring the 8 a.m. Tuesday meeting that is to deal with the Historic District in general.

Although an estimated three dozen invitations have been sent to downtown area merchants for the Monday meeting, all local merchants interested in the crime situation are invited to attend.

In the announcement sent out to downtown merchants, SHDWA suggests they attend and "be a part of the solution."

The meeting is scheduled to begin promptly at 5:30 Monday evening, at the First Street Gallery, 203 E. First Street, in downtown Sanford.

On Tuesday morning, the past, present and future of Sanford's downtown historic district will be discussed.

A panel consisting of members of the Sanford Development Corporation will lead the discussion, focusing on the results of plans made when the area was first placed on the National Register.

Among featured speakers will be Cal Conklin, Sara Jacobson, John Mercer and Doug Stenstrom. They will be giving an overview of the Corporation's activities, as well as provide some ideas on how to continue improving what has been accomplished thus far.

A report by Barbara Watson will also be given, on SHDWA's latest venture.

struction immediately.

The members of the Lake Mary City Commission are strongly supportive of the project. During a meeting last week, Commissioner David Mealor said, "From the citizen comments I have heard, this area is going to be the focal point of our city."

Mealor added, "The people also asked me to look into the possibility of installing a fountain in the park. That would greatly enhance the appearance of the area."

With approval by Seminole County, the money would come from the Local Option Tourist Development Tax revenues, distributed by the Tourist Development Council.

The only hesitation in the Lake Mary portion of the project was centered on what the Commission considered to be necessary word changes in the joint agreement. Under the original proposal, either party could terminate the agreement with or without cause, with 30 days written notice.

Following Commission discussion on the termination section, the City Attorney was instructed to reword the item to state, in effect, "Once the city starts work on the project, funds cannot be cut off and the County cannot terminate its portion of the agreement."

The proposal to enter into the joint agreement was approved unanimously by the City Commission, subject to the attorney's modifications on the

The improvements to Central Park are part of an ever-expanding city park system. Liberty Park, on North Country Club Road, recently began operation as a combination playground and picnic park. The first in a series of neighborhood parks, presently known as Donald Duck Park, is to be rebuilt with citizen volunteers on Saturday, Nov. 23.

Williams and a group of other students and administrators visit churches in the area to tell the members about the school and to encourage parents as well as students to get involved in the activities at the school.

Lundquist said that he is not sure why there had never been a Homecoming King at the school, but noted that students had petitioned new principal Gretchen Schapker to introduce the new tradition.

"It's something the kids really wanted," he said.

Homecoming King, Queen are special

LAKE MARY - It takes a special someone to be named the king or queen of a Homecoming celebration.

Fortunately, the halls of Lake Mary High School just happen to be brimming with special people and there was no trouble finding many to nominate for the honor.

However, in the end, only two seniors could claim the crowns of Lake Mary High School's Homecoming '91. The royal couple is Anush Collins and Cymonda Scrubbe.

Anush and Cymonda are both outstanding students and active participants at LMHS.

Anush is a star athlete, leader and student. He has helped lead the Rams to many victories in his role as varsity running back. In his performance in the Homecoming game against DeLand, he carried the ball 32 times for 307 yards and three touchdowns.

He is not only ranked as third in the county in rushing and was recognized on the "USA Today" high school football honor roll.

Anush has also been an active student government member during high school, serving as junior class president and more recently as a member of the leadership class.

Cymonda is also an achiever inside and outside the classroom.

She is a member of the Marching Rams band and she most recently led the band in a dance to "Gonna Make You Sweat" as part of the band's halftime show.

She also serves as an officer in the Alpha Teens Club at Lake Mary High School and works hard in honors and AP classes.

Cymonda and Anush reigned over the "Blast to the Past" dance on Saturday, Nov. 9 and will be invited back to the ceremonies next year to crown the 1992 winners.

School spirit is high at Seminole

SANFORD - The week of Homecoming left us with many good memories. It also reminded us of how great our school spirit is at Seminole High.

Each and every student participated in some way toward this big event. Whether it was working on floats for the parade, dressing as a hippie on Hippie Day or wearing the Seminole colors.

Everyone joined in to make this Homecoming possible.

The week culminated in the traditional Homecoming parade on Thursday, followed by the biggest and best pep rally of the year on Friday afternoon.

Then, it was on to the game which featured all the Homecoming festivities at halftime, including the crowning of the king and the queen.

After the game, everyone danced the night away at the Homecoming dance held at the Civic Center. Homecoming '91 was an all-around huge success.

On Nov. 19, 102JAMZ is headed to our school to challenge the elite faculty basketball players we have at Seminole. The game is a senior class project to raise money for an end-of-the-year party. The Seminole players are geared up and getting ready to show that they're not so old after all.

Look out. These men are ready to win.

Balfour will be on campus Nov. 18 and 19 to collect order forms and money for graduation announcement.

Cap and gown orders will be taken at a later date.

The high school football season will be coming to an end soon. As one sport ends, another begins. The soccer and basketball seasons are getting ready for their seasons to open.

There is never a spare moment here at Seminole. The faculty and students work hard before, during and after school to benefit our school and our community.

Turkeys teach lessons

By VICKI DeBORNIER
Herald Staff Writer

LONGWOOD - The traditional Thanksgiving turkey will take on an added educational perspective when it's served at Lyman High School next week.

The agribusiness, economics and marketing classes at the school have taken an interdisciplinary approach to learn about the traditional and command principals in the nation's market economy.

The culminating activity at the school will be "Thanksgiving the American Way," which has been planned by the students to take place in the school's media center on Thursday and Friday Nov. 21 and 22.

The school is located at 1141 S.E. Lake Ave. in Longwood.

In addition to dining on food prepared by students in the traditions of their families, using recipes that may have been passed down from generation to generation, the students will use skills in all their classes to prepare graphic reports relating to the study of Thanksgiving traditions.

Also students will construct table centerpieces and create holiday placemats for the meal.

Historical and marketing aspects of the traditional holiday will also be studied.

The project was part of a school-wide emphasis on the Blue Print for Career Preparation, a program which provides career education that will better prepare students for life and continuing education after graduation.

Lyman is a pilot school in the Blueprint program in the state of Florida.

A school in transition

By VICKI DeBORNIER
Herald Staff Writer

LONGWOOD - Milwee Middle School is still very much a school in transition. The old campus, built between the 1920s and the 1950s was torn down last year to make way for all new buildings.

"The old buildings were literally falling down around us," principal Eugene Petty said.

As part of the 1985 bond issue, the school is being completely rebuilt.

Classes during the construction have been held in portable classrooms. As buildings are completed, the students have been able to move in. The full project is expected to be completed by the end of the school year.

Despite the chaos of construction, the school has had to continue to function and improve. Petty thinks they've done a fine job.

"We have all the exceptional programs you can name," Petty said, "and then some."

As a Blue Print school, Petty said, the school was headed in what he called a "more high tech" direction.

"We have been implementing labs for aeronautics, drafting, computers and robotics," Petty said.

Plans are in the works to open a television production lab at the school in the near future.

The administration at the school has worked hard, Petty said, to ensure the school has not been disrupted more than necessary by the construction.

"We tried to keep the portables arranged so that they were still in teams, with four together," said Petty. "We think we've done a good job."

Petty said the morale of teachers, students and administrators has improved dramatically since the first phase of construction was completed.

"The idea of watching the project unfold has lifted morale," he said.

South Seminole awarded accreditation

LONGWOOD — The South Seminole Community Hospital Department of Radiology has been officially accredited by the American College of Radiology. The accreditation had been sought for a number of months.

Strict guidelines were given to the hospital by the College of Radiology. The requirements were closely monitored prior to approval of the accreditation.

According to Michele Hurd, Director of Radiology for the hospital, "Although we were already providing this high level of care, we felt it would be reassuring to the community that we not only meet the requirements of the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Units, but also the American College of Radiology."

The accreditation was being sought in an effort to reinforce to physicians and patients that a high standard of mammography services were being maintained at the South Seminole Community Hospital.

Obstetrics unit under construction

LONGWOOD — Construction of South Seminole Community Hospital's $2 million Obstetric and Women's Services Unit is now underway, according to Diane DeAngelis Oatman, a representative of the hospital. The facility is slated for completion in April of 1992.

The 126-bed HealthTrust hospital will incorporate the six birthing suites or labor, delivery, recovery postpartum suites (LDRP) into the existing units with expansion on the fourth floor including a 16-bed antepartum, post-partum unit (before and after delivery), 11-bed gynecological unit and one labor, delivery and recovery suite. The LDRP suites or birthing suites will be complete with solid oak furnishings, including a rocking chair for nursing mothers, lounge chairs which open into a bed for father's overnight stay, a dinette set will be convenient for mothers to dine with spouses or write letters, oak bassinet for baby and a television/VCR in every suite. A whirlpool bath will be included in every suite along with parquet flooring, carpeting, coordinating wall covering and decor. Technical equipment will be hidden in an attractive wall unit behind the mother's specially designed birthing bed which may be used for the duration of her stay.

Additionally, two operating rooms are being constructed to accommodate emergency and planned cesarean births and a well baby nursery. Mothers and babies will enjoy "rooming in" where the baby stays in the birthing suite with mother or as the mother decides, the baby can be cared for in the well-baby nursery. An obstetrical nurse will be assigned to care for both mother and child to ensure maximum communication and caregiving.

Other planned construction scheduled to begin soon will include Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI), Cardiac Catheterization and expansion of the Physical Therapy Department and Outpatient Surgery Department.

Breast cancer mammograph tests planned at senior center

SANFORD — Important mammography tests will be available Monday and Tuesday. A special mobile screening unit will be at the Sanford Senior Center both days.

One in nine women will develop breast cancer in her lifetime. Regular periodic medical exams, monthly breast self examinations and getting a mammogram are credited with helping reduce the risk of developing breast cancer.

A mammogram is a low dose X-ray examination that detects breast cancer early, when it is most curable.

The Sanford Senior Center, in cooperation with the Women's Center for Radiology will be providing the screenings for only $55. Mammograms will be interpreted by radiologists who are accredited in mammography by the American College of Radiology.

The $55 fee is required at the time of service unless the person is covered by Medicare. Medicare participants will only be required to pay $11.

Hours for the mobile screening at the Senior Center Parking Lot area, are 8 a.m. until 5 p.m., Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 18 and 19.

Advance appointments are recommended. Phone 330-5699.

Stress On Spinal Discs

Without spinal discs, your spinal column would be a solid mass of bone. These are the cartilage pads that separate the 24 vertebrae in your spine. In some ways they can be said to operate like an automobile's hydraulic system. They give your spine flexibility in movement and provide a much needed cushioning effect.

Spinal discs account for about one-fourth of the length of your spine and play an important part in every movement of your body. They are constantly exposed to compression, torque, twisting, and injury, and this can bring stress to the disc mechanism. When misalignments in your spinal column occur, this can interfere with the normal functioning of your nervous system. The brain sends nerve impulses through the spinal column occur, this can interfere with the normal functioning of your nervous system. The brain sends nerve impulses through the spinal column to all the organs and cells in your body. Every part of your body needs an adequate supply of nerve impulses to function in good health.

If you are feeling any pain or discomfort in your neck or back or in other parts of your body, you may be able to benefit from a spinal examination and treatment.

New aid benefits many jobless

By CATHERINE WILSON
AP Business Writer

MIAMI — About 300,000 Floridians out of work during the worst recession in 10 years are eligible for up to $2,925 in fresh unemployment benefits, and some checks will arrive by Thanksgiving, state officials said Saturday.

"We're sending the notices out as quickly as we can," said Mike Switzer, director of the state Division of Unemployment Compensation. "The computer printers are cranking all weekend, trying to get to the most distant locations first."

People whose jobless benefits expired after March 1 will be notified by mail that they are eligible for 13 weeks of additional aid under a law signed Friday by President Bush, who vetoed two previous measures.

The state will pay benefits of $20 to $225 a week based on previous pay. Checks will be issued every two weeks to people who remain unemployed during the life of the program and list job contacts to show they are actively seeking work.

"These benefits will provide renewed hope for Floridians discouraged and frustrated by their inability to find work," said state Labor Secretary Frank Serugga.

The state has anticipated passage of some version of the benefit-extension bill since July and has been gearing up to handle a crush of requests, but Switzer fears gridlock at division offices Monday.

About half of those eligible — those who haven't worked at all since March 1 — can apply by mail, he noted.

"We've been able to identify a lot of them, so they don't have to go through the frustration of trying to get into one of our offices," Switzer said.

If people have worked since March 1 but are out of work again, they are still eligible for the extended benefits but must apply in person.

About 10,000 former Eastern Airlines workers — two-thirds of them near the defunct airline's Miami base — are in the time window covered by the federal legislation.

Citing Eastern's collapse, Gov. Lawton Chiles said, "Floridians are painfully aware of the massive impact on the lives of dislocated workers."

The single largest segment of layoffs this year have come in Florida's drooping construction industry, but Switzer had no estimate of how many might be eligible.

"The numbers get a little mind boggling because year-to-date we've taken a half-million claims," he said.

Jobless people participating in approved job training programs are covered by the legislation, Switzer noted.

Persistent economic problems raise new re-election worries

By MARTIN GRUTSINGER
AP News Analysis

WASHINGTON — The huge sell-off in the stock market served to highlight a growing perception that President Bush and Congress don't have a clue about how to help a troubled U.S. economy.

While the fifth largest stock market loss in history hit investors in the pocketbook, wiping out $130 billion in stock values in one day, Bush and other politicians are worried their losses will come at the ballot box.

Trying to project an air of doing something, both the administration and Congress have scrambled in recent weeks to come up with a winning prescription for what ails a sick economy.

The trouble is that everything they've tried so far has made the problem worse.

Financial markets were first rattled last month when a batch of proposals to give tax cuts to the middle class were unveiled in Congress. Worried investors promptly sent interest rates rising out of fear that a tax-cut bidding war would make already record budget deficits even worse.

Then last week, Bush tried to jawbone commercial banks into lowering their credit card rates so consumers would spend the economy back to prosperity.

Congress got into the act the next day when Sen. Alfonse D'Amato, R-N.Y., led a successful effort in the Senate to pass an amendment imposing a 14 percent cap on bank credit card rates, which are averaging 19 percent.

Many analysts believe the credit card cap played a part in triggering Friday's huge 120.3-point drop in the Dow Jones Industrial average as investors worried about the effects such a cap would have on the already troubled banking system.

While the House Banking Committee was scheduled to take up the cap proposal Monday, there were a variety of signals in the wake of the market turmoil that policy-makers were furiously backing away from the idea.

Housing and Urban Development Secretary Jack Kemp said Saturday that if the credit cap proposal did make it through Congress, Bush would veto it.

But still, many were left with an uneasy feeling.

"There is a sense in the land that Washington is losing control of the economy," said David Jones, an economist at Aubrey G. Lanston & Co. "The president doesn't have a plan to get the economy moving again except for relying on the Federal Reserve to lower interest rates and that hasn't had much of an effect."

Bush's top economic policy-makers have been sharply split among themselves over what should be done.

Kemp has been leading a fight inside the Cabinet for Bush to come up with a bolder approach to stimulating the economy that would couple the administration's proposed capital gains tax cuts with at least temporary tax breaks for the middle class.

But Treasury Secretary Nicholas Brady and Michael Boskin, chairman of the president's Council of Economic Advisers, have argued strongly against such a proposal, contending that more time should be given for the Fed's interest rate cuts to work.

Kemp, interviewed on CNN Saturday, denied he had been ordered to keep quiet about the internal administration arguments. He said Bush was "tolerant of the debate."

Shuttle launch set Tuesday

CAPE CANAVERAL — Six astronauts bound for space this week on a semi-secret Pentagon mission will drop off a missile-warning satellite, then do a little reconnaissance of their own.

For 1½ weeks, the Atlantis crew will zoom in on naval ships, ports and U.S. military compounds to determine how much detail can be seen from 224 miles up. The astronauts also will talk by radio with tank commanders and other officers who pass within camera view.

"If we are able to make out things on the ground with any kind of detail or resolution, that would be something of significance should that information be needed in time of crisis," said astronaut Mario Runco Jr.

Atlantis was scheduled to blast off on NASA's 44th shuttle flight at 6:51 p.m. EST Tuesday. The countdown was to begin at 12:01 a.m. EST Sunday.

Zoo repairs stuffed animals

By VICKI DeSORMIER
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — Ivan the bear's ears are a bit tattered and just the other day his nose fell off.

His owner, Kelli McLaughlin, 7, of Winter Springs, brought him to the Central Florida Zoo on Saturday for what zoo officials are calling the first annual Teddy Bear Day.

Ivan and other stuffed animals came in the arms of children of all ages to see the zoo residents and be checked by a team of teddy bear doctors.

Alice Clark, a volunteer at the zoo who makes the vests worn by all the zoo workers, patched up well-loved companions with a needle and thread.

Ivan's nose was reattached with Super Glue. He sported a Band-Aid over the surgical site with instructions not to remove the bandage until the next day.

Clark said that quite a few people had brought in their cherished buddies for a once-over by the health crew. Andrea Farmer, director of marketing for the zoo, said she was pleased with the response to the first time event.

"This is good," she said. "Next year we'll have much more even."

Aurea Alieca, a secretary in the education department at Central Florida Regional Hospital in Sanford, is a certified teddy bear nurse. She checked the heart beats of each animal that was brought to the event and filled out health certificates to proclaim each a "beary healthy teddy bear."

Eloise Larson, 3, of Lake Mary, had brought her bear, Fluffy, to be checked out by the experts, but when it came time to hand the golden furred animal over, she changed her mind.

"No, I'll hold him," she told her mother Benni and hugged him to her chest.

Her mother took her hand and escorted her to the face painting booth where she had a Ninja Turtle painted on her face.

"This was her idea to come here," the mother said. "But she is very attached to Fluffy so I'd be surprised if she gave him up."

Farmer said she believed the Teddy Bear Day would be something that the zoo would continue to celebrate well into the future.

"I think this is something that will really catch on," she said.

AROUND THE STATE

Miami takes over No. 1

TALLAHASSEE — After 59 minutes and 45 seconds of sweat, struggle and fierce fighting, the battle between top-ranked Florida State and No. 2 Miami came down to this — one foot.

Gerry Thomas' 34-yard field goal attempt sailed wide right by the length of a football with 25 seconds left Saturday, giving Miami a heart-pounding 17-16 victory and a solid shot at its fourth national championship in nine years.

It was the fourth time in the last five years that Miami (9-0) probably spoiled the Seminoles' (10-1) bid for their first national title. But this may have been the most painful loss of all for Florida State.

Florida rolls over Kentucky

GAINESVILLE — Fifth-ranked Florida's passing game has worked so well this season that Tre Everett's absence for nearly half the season was barely noticed during the team's drive to the Southeastern Conference championship.

The Gators' best receiver returned to the lineup Saturday after sitting out three games with a hamstring injury, and he caught two touchdown passes to spark a 35-26 victory over Kentucky, which rallied from a 22-point halftime deficit to make Florida scramble to put the game away.

The triumph clinched a berth in the Sugar Bowl as undisputed SEC champions — the Gators' first official title in 58 years of league play. Florida (9-1 overall, 7-0 SEC) also finished first in 1984, 1985 and 1990 but were denied titles and trips to New Orleans because of NCAA probation.

AROUND THE NATION

Blake passes ECU to win

BLACKSBURG, Va. — Seminole High School graduate Jeff Blake passed for 337 yards and threw a go-ahead touchdown pass with 7:21 remaining Saturday as No. 14 East Carolina overcame a two-touchdown deficit and beat Virginia Tech 24-17.

Blake completed passes of 16 and 45 yards to Dion Johnson and then threw a 14-yard TD pass to Clayton Driver.

Virginia Tech (5-5) led 14-0 and East Carolina (9-1) still trailed by seven points in the third quarter when Greg Grandison intercepted a pass and returned it 95 yards for a touchdown that tied the score at 14.

The Pirates, who are going to the Peach Bowl, held twice in the final quarter after Virginia Tech twice moved the ball to midfield.

Todd, Rams run down win

By TONY DeBORMIER
 Herald Sports Editor

LONGWOOD — Even in a team sport like football, the outcome of a game can be decided by the result of any number of one-on-one confrontations that occur during the contest.

For example, the Lake Mary Rams' 17-14 win over the host Lyman Greyhounds Friday night at Lyman Field came down to a 50-yard sprint between Lyman's Bobby Washington and Lake Mary's Troy Todd.

Holding a 14-10 lead early in the fourth quarter, the Greyhounds had the ball at midfield. On a second-and-one play, Washington danced around the left end and headed to the end zone. The only Ram defender with any chance to catch him was Todd, who has been nursing a pulled right hamstring almost all season.

"I just had to suck it up," said Todd. "I didn't want him to score. I know how fast he is from playing against him the last couple of years."

Todd caught up to Washington and pulled him down at the Lake Mary 12. The Rams then pushed the Greyhounds back out of field goal range, employing a 16-yard sack of quarterback Todd Cleveland compounded by a 5-yard intentional grounding penalty.

After taking the ball over on downs at their own 26-yard line with 7:21 to play, the Rams drove for the go-ahead touchdown. Anush Collins capping a 110-yard night with a 20-yard touchdown run with 2:39 left in the game. Norm Henkel kicked the extra point for 17-14 Lake Mary lead.

Lyman took one last shot as Cleveland passed the Greyhounds down field. It appeared that the Greyhounds had pulled off the upset when Washington pulled in a 16-yard Cleveland pass for winning score.

Inconsistent play turns Ram netters into Shark bait

From Staff Reports

BOCA RATON — In championship events, the difference between winning and losing often isn't decided by who plays the great game, but by who doesn't play the bad game.

On Friday, the Lake Mary Rams (33-2) played what Coach Cindy Henry described as their worst match of the year against the Boca Raton-Spanish River Sharks in the 4A-Section III girls' volleyball championship match. By comparison, the Sharks played a solid match, pulling out a 12-15, 15-10, 15-4 win.

"We didn't play well the whole match," said Henry on Saturday. "They're a good team. You had to win points from them. They didn't give you anything. We just had a bad night."

"It seem like we were a little bit scared. Only someone who has seen the kids play would have seen it. Our serve receive was terrible. And

Tribe forces tiebreaker

By DEAN SMITH
 Herald Sports Writer

SANFORD — "We're going back to Kansas."

That was Seminole assistant coach Lenny Sutton's reaction to Friday night's 7-6 Homecoming win over sixth-ranked Leesburg at Thomas E. Whigham Stadium.

What Sutton meant was that the victory, along with Edgewater's 35-0 slaughter of University, assured the Tribe of going to its third Kansas tie breaker in four years to decide the 4A-District 7 champion.

Seminole will join Leesburg and Edgewater in the playoff on Monday, Nov. 25, at a site and time to be announced. The winner of the district will host Tarpon Springs in the regional game on Friday, Nov. 29.

Last year, the Tribe defeated both Edgewater and Leesburg to advance to the regional.

Seminole's win avenged last year's loss to the Yellow Jackets that knocked the Tribe out of sole possession of the district title.

"This was payback time," said Seminole head coach Emory Blake. "It was a super, super game. The kids knew what they had to do and they went out and did it. It was a good game for both teams, but somebody had to lose and I'm just glad it was them."

Seminole improved to 5-3 overall with the victory and 2-1 in 4A-District 7. They will conclude the regular season next Friday night at Lake Mary. The game will be played at Don T. Reynolds Stadium starting at 7:30 p.m. The Tribe is also scheduled to play DeLand in a makeup game at DeLand on Thanksgiving Eve, but that game seems unlikely with the district playoffs being that week.

The Yellow Jackets fell to 7-2 overall and 2-1 in the district race. They will conclude their regular season at Wildwood next Friday.

Leesburg scored on its first possession of the night on a 10-play drive that was helped along a little by Seminole.

CASSELBERRY — Not too little, but probably too late.

After a slow start, the Lake Howell Silver Hawks finished their season with six straight wins, capping the streak with a 31-14 win over DeLand Friday night in a 5A-District 4 contest at Richard L. Evens Field. But they are still all but out of the district race.

"We came from obscurity to win our last six games," said Lake Howell head coach Mike Bisceglia.

OVIDO — A defensive ground war erupted Friday night between the Oviedo High School Lions and the Mainland High School Buccaneers at Oviedo's John Courter Field that ended with the Buccaneers pulling out a 14-10 win.

Neither team accumulated more than 150 yards rushing as the two defenses shut down the running game. Through the air, each LAKE MARY — In a state-qualifying event the calibre of the 4A-Region III cross country meet, the anticipation isn't over who will make it to the state meet, but who won't.

With only the top four teams and top five individuals earning berths in next Saturday's Class 4A state track meet, competition was extremely tight. And in the case of two boys' teams, it came down to less than a second.

Leading the Seminole County contingent into the state meet will be the Lyman Greyhounds, who finished second in both the girls' and boys' team standings. Winter Park edged Lyman by three points in the girls' standings while Lake Worth-John I. Leonard was a runaway winner in the boys' team competition.

without the serve receive and the first ball pass, we couldn't attack. And when you can't attack, you don't win."

Henry said that Spanish River's experience — the Sharks now have won five consecutive sectional championships — was the biggest factor in the match.

"They didn't look nervous, even after they lost the first game," said Henry. "They just went off the court and regrouped."

into the game, was stopped for a loss on his first carry but the Tribe was called for a face mask penalty. After a couple of first down runs, Seminole's defense stiffened, and Tribe safety Britt Henderson nailed Singleton for a six-yard loss forcing a third and 16 from the Seminole 30.

But, with Seminole anticipating a pass, Singleton ran for 19 yards on a draw play to give the Yellow Jackets a first down at the 11. Quarterback Steve Gooden (than ran for eight and three yards on option keepers for the score. But Brian Raush's extra point try was wide right and the score was 6-0.

Little did anyone know, but Leesburg would not get within 22 yards of pay dirt again.

Singleton gained 45 yards on five carries on the scoring drive but finished with just 89 yards on 17 carries. Seminole defensive coach Bill Berry said an adjustment at halftime made the difference.

"They were faking the pass and running the sprint draw," said Berry. "And our linebackers were dropping back into coverage. Once we realized they were only sending out two receivers, we told the linebackers to stay at home and that shut off the draw."

The Tribe answered Leesburg's touchdown their only score of the game, coming on a five-play, 66-yard drive which was aided by a major penalty against the Yellow Jackets.

On second down, Vashaun Williams, who was named the Homecoming King in halftime ceremonies, hit Arthur Polk with a 15-yard pass before freshman Robert Ruffin ran 21 yards for another first down. On the run, Leesburg was called for a personal foul, tacking 15 more yards onto the play.

The penalty ended the first quarter and on the first play of the second period, Williams again found Polk, this time for a 19-yard scoring strike. Shayne Stewart's kick for the extra point ended up being the winning margin.

Leesburg attempted a 45-yard field goal at the end of the second period that was well short, but the rest of the game was virtually left to the defenses, which both played outstanding games.

Seminole did mount a couple of drives, but an intercepted pass at the 13 ended one threat and the other stalled at the 34.

The Tribe's defense really rose to the occasion, holding the Yellow Jackets to eight plays for 12 total yards, two punts and no first downs in the third quarter, and four plays for 1 yard of total offense and two punts until the final 1:12 of the game.

"Their offense is the toss option and inside veer," said Berry. "We've practiced since last spring on stopping the outside pitch because so many of our opponents run the option. So tonight, we knew what to expect."

Leesburg mounted one last drive, marching 60 yards on seven plays to the Seminole 22. But after a pass from Gooden found Ryan Eshbaugh down at the 22, Seminole's Anthony Roberts tackled for a fumble and Marlon Knight recovered to seal the win.

The Seminole defense, behind the hitting of Roberts, Henderson, Carlo White and Emory Green, held the potent Leesburg attack to only 184 yards of total offense. When asked what was the key, Berry said, "There's no doubt, it's our athletes. We can do things with our defense others can't because of our team speed."

The Tribe offense accumulated only 162 yards of total offense but a pleasant surprise was the performance of Ruffin and several offensive linemen that were playing on the freshman team just two weeks ago. Ruffin led Seminole with 62 yards on 11 carries.

"We decided we were going to give the young kids a chance," said Blake. "Because they don't know how to mess up. You tell them to follow someone (a blocker) and they don't think about it."

but the play was nullified when Lyman was called for having 12 men on the field. The victory gives Lake Mary 7-2 overall, 6-1 in the district its first 5A-District 4 championship since 1987, when the Rams finished in a three-way tie for first with Lake Howell and DeLand.

There's still the possibility that a lawsuit filed by some Lake Brantley parents could overturn a decision by the Florida High School Activities Association that resulted in the Patriots having to forfeit two games (including a win over Lake Mary), but Lake Mary coach Doug Peters wasn't worrying about that Friday night.

"If it's meant to be, it'll be," said Peters with a shrug. "This is a good group of kids. We've been doing good things on the field. Good things will happen for us."

"Our goal is to win the district. But if that doesn't happen, we'll probably go to a bowl game. It's out of our hands."

As they have all year, the Greyhounds played well enough to win. Except for six-minute stretch during the second quarter and the last 2:39 of the game, Lyman held the lead.

Lyman went up 6-0 when Brian Grayson scored on a 16-yard run with 47 seconds left in the first quarter. Paul Klaus' kick on the extra point was blocked by Mike McKenna. The touchdown was set up when Ladaryl Fenney recovered a Jason Rasmussen fumble for the Greyhounds at the Lake Mary 38-yard line.

It took 5:44 for the Rams to counter. Rasmussen hooking up with Jermaine Ferguson on a 42-yard scoring strike with seven minutes left in the first half. Henkel kicked the extra point to give Lake Mary a 7-6 edge.

Lyman's next drive ended when Cleveland was intercepted by Brian Marotta. But the Greyhounds got the ball back four plays later when Donte Bell recovered another Rasmussen fumble at the Lake Mary 49 with 2:22 remaining in the second quarter.

Cleveland moved the Greyhounds down field, gaining 13 yards on a pair of runs and completing three passes for the other 36. He covered the last 14 with a scoring strike to Jason Green. Cleveland then passed to Grayson for the two-point conversion.

"What we talked about in the pregame was to not dig ourselves a hole tonight," said Peters. "Lyman seemed to gamble a lot on defense. That gave us some trouble."

Lake Mary dominated the third quarter, having the ball for 19 of the 23 plays run during the 12-minute period, but had nothing to show for it until the second of the its possessions resulted in a 36-yard field goal by Henkel 12 seconds into the fourth quarter.

quarterback was picked off at least once. "This was a great football game," Mainland coach Doug Stanley said. "This is what high school football is all about. It was hard-nosed and it was clean."

The Lions took an early lead, scoring on a 41-yard Eric Lombard field goal that capped an 11-play drive. Oviedo's defense made the slim lead hold up, shutting out the Buccaneers in the first half as the Lions took a 3-0 lead into halftime.

Mainland came back strong in the second half scoring on a drive that started on its 40-yard line and lasted seven plays. The key play of the drive was quarterback Mark Schnebly's pass while under heavy pressure to Antwan Wyatt, who ran 18 yards for the touchdown. Jaese Johnson added the extra point.

On their next drive, the Lions drove down to the Mainland 1-yard line. But Lion quarterback Dan Hargrave was shaken up and had to sit out a play. Leon Lowman, taking over at quarterback on second and goal from the one, mis-handled the snap and James Trimble recovered for Mainland on the 1-yard line.

However, Mainland was unable to get a drive going and were forced to punt.

Oviedo took over on the Mainland 30 and needed only one play to capitalize. Travis Jackson going the distance with

"That's quite an achievement. This shows the character of our team. The players matured as they went through the season. They could have folded up early on. I'm proud of my team."

Lake Howell, which lost three of its first four games, finished 7-3, 5-2 in the district.

DeLand, which fell to 2-6 overall and 2-5 in the district, kept the game close through the first half, trailing just 17-14 at halftime. But Lake Howell dominated play in the second half as Pat Jorgensen rushed for 117 yards in the final two quarters, finishing with 143 rushing yards.

"We picked it up in the second half," said Jorgensen. "We got fired up."

The Bulldogs took over nine minutes to score a touchdown on the first offensive series of the game. On fourth and one at Lake Howell's 49 yard line, Edgar Davis ran 14 yards on a fake punt to maintain the drive. Jon Black capped the drive when he scored on a 40-yard pass from Craig May.

Torrey Demps scored for Lake Howell in the second quarter with a three-yard touchdown run, but Ted Lane missed the extra point.

The Silver Hawks grabbed the lead when DeLand punter Jason Barra kicked the ball into a teammate and Anthony Mays

The Greyhound girls, who will be attempting to defend their 1990 state championship, were led by individual champion Kianah Bresnick (11:54.4) and ninth-place finisher Janet Greenberg (12:49.2).

"The motto this week was 'Taking care of business,'" said Lyman coach Fred Finke. "We just wanted to go out and not make any mistakes. Before you have a chance to win the state championship, you have to get to the state meet."

Lyman got another boost Saturday from Danielle Garrett. A member of the Lyman swim team, Garrett finished 23rd with a time 13:34.5 and immediately left for the 4A-District 5 swim meet at the Orlando International Aquatics Center, where she was scheduled to swim in the 200-meter freestyle relay and 100-meter butterfly for the Greyhounds.

"It was a class act by Coach Don Clark and his swim team," said Finke. "After they saw how well Danielle ran last week in the district meet, they took a vote and said it would be OK for her to run with us today and in the state meet next week."

John Scott finished ninth in 16:11.8 to pace the Lyman boys. Also representing Seminole County next week will be the Lake Brantley girls and Lake Mary boys. Lake Howell's Natalie Newberry earned an individual berth in the state meet by finishing fourth overall with a time of 12:22.5.

Heather Anderson was the top finisher for the Lake Brantley Patriots, coming in sixth at 12:37.5. The Lake Mary Rams were headed by the top 10 finishers of D.J. Lewis (second, 15:29.4) and Toby Ayers (fifth, 15:41.1).

Other county teams that competed in the regional meet were the girls' teams from Lake Mary (fifth behind Winter Park, Lyman, Boca Raton-Spanish River and Lake Brantley) and Lake Howell (sixth) as well as the boys' teams from Lake Brantley (fifth) and Lake Howell (10th). Oviedo's Tracy Kotsos, an independent qualifier, was ninth overall in the girls' race.

For the Lake Brantley boys, the difference between going to state and staying home was less

'How are you today?'

LAKE MARY — New computerized services have been launched by a Lake Mary firm, designed to check on home-bound persons. The service is called, "How Are You Today?"

Richard B. Hartwell, owner of the firm, started the service on Nov. 1. The area being served includes Sanford, all of Seminole County, and a large portion of the Greater Orlando area within the telephone calling zone.

The system operates in a very simple manner. The telephone rings at the residence of a shut-in, and a computer monitoring service basically asks, "If you are okay, please press the 1 on your touch tone phone now. If you are in need of any type of assistance, please dial 0 on your phone."

If the phone is answered but no digit is pushed, the computer system automatically calls an additional phone number, and if there is again no response, another person is contacted to check on the resident.

The service, headquartered in the Lake Mary Computer Services office, 732 Palmer Court, will call up to three times a day, at times to be pre-determined by the person purchasing the service.

Because the entire operation is done by computer, Hartwell said, "The charge is very nominal."

The charge for the "How Are You Today" service is $1 a day. It is billed monthly, quarterly or annually. For an advance payment on an annual basis, the cost is lowered.

Wages Pay goes slightly further here

By J. MARK SANFORD
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — Although an economic analysis of 27 of the most-populated Florida counties shows Seminole County ranks 14th in terms of average hourly wages, that pay goes further than many other urban counties.

"The jobs in Seminole County are still largely service-oriented," said Ron Thibodeaux, senior vice president of the Economic Development Commission of Mid-Florida Inc. "But if you look at the per-capita income, it's probably much higher."

According to the analysis, the average wage earned in Seminole County was $6.81 per hour, compared to $7.54 in Orange County and $7.12 in Volusia County. Lake County was slightly less at $6.58. The statewide average was $7.34, nearly 53 cents per hour more than the average Seminole County wage.

David Denalow, an economics professor at the University of Florida and researcher for the university's Bureau of Economic and Business Research, published his analysis in the November, 1991 edition of the BEBR "Economic Leaflets."

The analysis used 1989 Florida Department of Labor wage survey information, the most currently available, and the state's county-by-county Florida Price of Living Index, a list of prices of a standardized list of goods and services. The average wage, taking surveys of 89 different job types from nurses to truck drivers to financial managers, were compared in each county.

The numbers were adjusted slightly for the number of people employed in the occupations in each county, then multiplied by the FPLI to arrive at the "real" wage, showing how far a salary dollar can go in that same county for needed goods and services.

The result shows that people who live and work in Seminole County can purchase slightly more with their wages than Orange County residents, but not as much as Volusia County residents and about the same as Lake County residents.

When adjusted, that $6.81 paid in Seminole County bought $7.02 in the county, 21 cents more. The Orange County $7.54 average wage bought $7.65 in goods and services, only 11 cents more. The Volusia County wage of $7.12 bought $7.42 in goods and services, 30 cents more. The Lake County average wage of $6.58 per hour actually bought $7.04 there, nearly 50 cents more per hour.

By comparison, Palm Beach County, which had the highest average wage in the state at $8.28, had a buying power of $7.87 — 41 cents less — because the cost of things outpaces the higher salaries.

Thibodeaux said Seminole County's wage picture should increase as more higher-paying companies move here. He said the county is particularly attractive to companies seeking to move their headquarters, such as the American Automobile Association. He also said Lake Mary is in a prime location to become a major job center.

"If you look at U.S. State Road 436 is already built out. State Road 434 is almost built out and Lake Mary Boulevard is next," Thibodeaux said. "It's coming."

'We Care' consumer project now offered at Sanford store

SANFORD — Sanford Dry Cleaners has been named as a participant in a consumer awareness program. The nationwide program is called "We Care."

The project is sponsored by Safety-Kleen Corp., the world's largest recycler of contaminated fluid waste. It is designed to inform consumers about what dry cleaners are doing to comply with environmental regulations, and what individual customers can do to further protect the environment.

Sanford Dry Cleaners has been actively participating in a recycling program that involves special clothing covers, as well as the recycling of bags and hangers. A large display including all elements of the program, has been set up in the front lobby of the establishment at 113 S. Palmetto Avenue in Sanford.

Safety-Kleen provides participating dry cleaners with counter and window displays to inform their customers that 100 percent of the used filters and fluids collected in the drycleaning process, are being disposed of in an environmentally safe manner.

According to Safety-Kleen Marketing Manager Rich Bravert, "More than a billion plastic bags and hangers end up in landfills each year from drycleaned clothes. With the We Care garment bag program, we think we can initially eliminate about 80 percent of these bags and recycle a major portion of the hangers for reuse."

'We Care' labels are on returnable, reusable garment bags offered by Sanford Dry Cleaners, participating in a nationwide recycling program. The business also recycles solvents used in the dry cleaning process, which are purified, and re-sold to other cleaners.

SANFORD — Elegant local luminaries decked out in the latest fashions sashayed through Magnolia Mall in Sanford Thursday as patrons who paid $8 for the event enjoyed a gourmet bag lunch and the outside show. The first Fashionscape was organized to encourage community events downtown.

Blessed with beautiful weather, organizers were pleased with the turnout.

"We are excited with this new concept designed to show off the Historic District of Sanford. The consensus of all who worked on the project and of the audience is that it was a great success," Chairman Kay Bartholomew said.

Bartholomew cited two reasons she thinks may have contributed to the event's success. She said bringing people downtown enabled organizers to project a bright, unique image of Sanford, "one that we here in the historic district are attempting to enhance."

Bartholomew was thrilled that downtown merchants worked so well together, the second reason for the event's success, she said.

"Working together helped to strengthen the Sanford Historic Downtown Waterfront Association (co-sponsor with the St. Lucia Festival) and also showed that our merchants, who gave over 25 lovely door prizes, are cooperative and supportive," Bartholomew said.

Teen Miss ends memorable reign

By DORIS DIETRICH
Herald Columnist

SANFORD — A pretty girl is like a melody as the favorite tune from yesteryear recalls.

And those words are as applicable today as way back then. Take a look at Florida's Teen Miss, 1991. A pretty teen-ager with Sanford roots, Lori Lynn Livingston, 16, is about to end her reign as Florida's Teen Miss.

The Eustis beauty queen was selected last November in Orlando and since that time, she has traveled the state and several sites outside Florida in her official capacity.

Lori's grandparents, Oma Lee and A.T. McArdle of Sanford, have kept tabs on their lovely granddaughter by traveling to many functions in which she has been involved. "We've really had a ball going around with her," Oma Lee said.

Lori's mom, Vicki McArdle Wettstein of Eustis, was educated in Sanford schools and her father, Rick Livingston, also lives in Eustis.

In addition to her royal obligations this year, Lori, a junior at Eustis High School, is Junior Class president, a member of the track team, a member of Interact Club and a varsity cheerleader.

Lori's talent is dancing and she really wows the audiences when she performs at various functions. She is a member of Students Against Drugs and appears at shopping malls on behalf of this organization. During the year, she visited nursing homes during Easter and Mother's Day.

She also made three trips to Tallahassee this year where she rode on a float in the Inaugural Parade with Miss Florida, Gov. Lawton Chiles invited her back to Tallahassee for a special visit. During that time, she and the governor exchanged autographed photographs. Lori presented the governor with a photo taken by her mother of the governor and her on a sidewalk in Tallahassee.

Lori also received an autographed photo of President Bush and his wife, Barbara, with words of commendation about her outstanding accomplishment.

Battling cancer with a positive spirit

By LAGY DOMEN
Herald People Editor

SANFORD — Tiffany Gregory's life has been like a roller coaster ride; a frightening plunge when she learned she had cancer and her marriage broke up, and a euphoric high when she learned the cancer may be arrested.

Diagnosed earlier this year with Hodgkin's Disease, lymphatic cancer, Gregory was shocked when the swollen glands that plagued her for two weeks turned out to be a life-threatening symptom.

"I just woke up one morning and my lymph nodes were swollen. Doctors first thought it was Cat Scratch Fever or Mono(nucleosis), but it persisted for two weeks. I just knew when they finally told me it was cancer that it couldn't be. Not me," the bubbly 1982 Seminole High School graduate said.

The ordeal of chemotherapy and radiation hasn't dampened her optimism.

"If I can survive this there's not much I can't handle," she emphatically announced.

Gregory has undergone a series of chemotherapy and radiation treatments, losing some of her hair and body weight.

But her spirit remains indomitable.

Tiffany Gregory plans to overcome her lymphatic cancer.

"My 10-year high school reunion is coming up and I wanted to lose weight anyway. I lost 22 pounds from the first radiation. I may lose 45 more from the second to my abdomen. It's not my diet of choice, but I should look great for the reunion," she joked.

"The radiation also burns out oil and sweat glands. Your hair comes out," she said, pointing to patches on her scalp on which hair had not grown back yet. "Actually, I begged them to do the hair on my legs," she quipped.

Office manager for Dr. Roger Stewart in Sanford, Gregory plans to finish her second and hopefully final round of treatment in the M.D. Anderson Cancer Center, Houston, and be home for Christmas. She would like to resume working for Dr. Stewart.

"Her boss has been extremely considerate about the time off she has had to have," Myra Freeman, Gregory's mother, said.

Gregory has kept a journal of her ordeal. The treatment she is receiving was established in 1988 and is accepted but not proven until "five years of results are established. I'm part of a clinical trial. Cure rate is 90 per cent.," she said.

Everyone at the medical center has been wonderful, Gregory said. She said she has gotten used to being probed and poked, but will be happy when she no longer has to be.

"There's no pride or dignity when they're

Come one, come all to Holiday ball

It's been a long time since Sanford has seen a Holiday Ball, but believe it or not, the Sanford Woman's Club is hosting a community fling this year on Dec. 14. So, come one, come all to the festive Holiday Ball.

The exciting dinner-dance will be held Dec. 14, at the American Legion building on South Sanford Avenue. The hospitality hour begins at 7 p.m. with an open bar, followed by dinner at 8 and dancing from 9 to midnight.

According to Jean Metts, chairman, tickets are limited to the first 250 patrons. Also, Jean says corporate tables for eight are available for $200. Individual tickets are $25 each which includes hors d'oeuvres, a prime rib dinner with all the trimmings and dancing to the music of the Bob Glickman Orchestra.

The committee plans to decorate with magnolia leaves enhanced with pink, silver and gold tones in a candlelight setting. The committee, along with Jean, includes: Mary Childers, Fran Mitchell, Jeri Kirk and Mary Tillis.

An added feature for patrons will be that they will be able to purchase photographs taken of them under an arch on the premises.

Attire is optional, according to Jean. She said patrons should wear whatever makes them comfortable. "Put on your best bib and tucker," she suggested.

Seminole County Sheriff Don Eslinger purchased the first ticket to the ball. Tickets are available from any club member. Reservations are due Dec. 9 by calling Jean Metts, 323-2993.

Club aids recycling

Recycling was the topic of the address given by Sherry Newkirk to the Woman's Club of Sanford at the November meeting. As the Seminole County Solid Waste Coordinator for Recycling and Solid Waste, Newkirk told the women how to recycle and minimize yard trash.

She said that on Jan. 1, 1992, county residents will have the responsibility of separating vegetative yard debris from the household garbage. This waste can be collected in separate bags at a cost to the citizen or can be composted, she said. The county will notify the residents of their options before January, she said.

Gail Hill Smith, chairman of the Conservation Department, introduced the guest speaker.

President Marty Colegrove conducted the business meeting when routine reports were given.

Beth Bridges was elected recording secretary to fill the vacancy created by the death of Lesae Pauline.

Emy Bill reminded members to bring their entries to the clubhouse on Dec. 3, at 10 a.m., for the Annual Arts and Crafts Festival scheduled the next day at the regular monthly meeting.

Members were also asked to bring to the December meeting unwrapped stocking stuffers for Hacienda Girls Ranch.

Second Vice President Mary Tillis introduced Patti Ferrero as a new member. DeLores Lash was named the club's candidate for the Sanford Kiwanis Club's Roberta Jatchel Woman of the Year Award. Jean Metts is the candidate for the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce's Dr. Luis Perez Humanitarian Award.

The President's Star of the Month Award for November went to Jean Metts, first vice president. The president cited Jean for her outstanding contributions to the club. She is in charge of fund raising and plays the piano for the club, among other club activities.

For the meeting, the clubhouse was decorated in an autumn harvest motif. Luncheon hostesses were: Shirley Mills and Sarah Bowen, co-chairmen, Mildred Coker, Derry Harris, Louise Harris, Toni Hobson, Audrey Roush, Isabel Wilson and Julia Coeb.

A lady named Jackie

Jackie Caolo sounded as chipper as usual on the telephone when she called from Dallas Tuesday. Frankly, Jackie is always up, enthusiastic and positive. But after she had a pituitary gland tumor (base of brain) removed the preceding Thursday? Right!

The tumor was benign, but Jackie will still have to undergo a lot of careful observations for a long time. She probably shocked her doctors and hospital staff with her overwhelming zest for life. She said the doctors said she was doing so well because of her "wonderful physical condition" and the fact that she is such "a gutsy lady." It didn't take them long to learn all about a lady named Jackie, did it?

After Jackie's surgery date was scheduled in Dallas she returned to Florida in late October to attend the 50th class reunion of her alma mater, South Broward High at Dania. "We had the most wonderful, wonderful class reunion," she said. Of the 62 grads, 30 attended the reunion and 13 are deceased, she said.

For a number of years, Jackie has been center stage in the swimming pool at her Sanford home where she taught water safety to hundreds of youngsters, including babes in arms, and numerous oldsters. She has also appeared in several recent dance performances.

Last Tuesday, she was to be the center attraction at a medical seminar in Dallas when attention was focused on her surgical procedures etc. After her seminar appearance, Jackie was to leave the hospital and recuperate at the home of a son. Her address is c/o Michael Caolo Jr., 2917 University Blvd., Dallas, Texas 75205. She sends her thanks for the "stack" of mail she has already received.

The Caolo family plans a Thanksgiving reunion at the Greenville, S.C. home of daughter Bonnie and Jackie hopes to be back in Sanford in early December.

Did we say chipper? Listen to this: Jackie said, "If you see Valerie (Valerie Weld of School of Dance Arts), tell her to hold a spot for me in the spring performance."

Atta girl, Jackie!

Sisters join Rho Chapter

Two sisters who grew up in Sanford to become educators were initiated into Rho Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society in a ceremony at Carlton Union building, Stetson University, DeLand.

Delta Kappa Gamma is an international honorary teachers' society. Rho Chapter members of the teaching profession are from Seminole, Lake, Volusia and Flagler counties.

The new Rho Chapter members are: Linda McArdle White, Sanford, a kindergarten teacher at Pinecrest Elementary; and Vicki McArdle Wettstein, assistant principal at Beverly Shores Elementary, Leesburg, and formerly assistant principal at Eustis High School.

The teachers are the daughters of Oma Lee and A.T. McArdle, longtime Sanford residents.

Get-well cards can go astray

DEAR ABBY: I am a volunteer at the local hospital, and I deliver the "get well" cards to hospital patients. Here are some suggestions to ensure that the cards are delivered to the patients without delay.

- Be sure to put your name and return address on the envelope. This helps the patients determine whether or not the card is meant for them. Also, if the patient has gone home, or died, we are able to return the card to the sender. (Today we had two women with the same first name, middle initial and last name. One woman opened all six cards, and four of them were for the other patient.)

- When addressing the cards, use the patient's given name ("Mary L. Jones") not a nickname ("Sissy Jones") or her husband's name ("Mrs. John Jones"). Also, do not use room numbers; patients frequently change rooms.

- Last week we received a card for "Buddy." We also had a "Charles E. ———" listed, and all his cards were addressed to "Ed," "Eddie" and "Edward."

- Please write clearly and do not use the entire face of the envelope for the address. If the patient has been released, we must mark through the hospital address and squeeze the home address on the card.

- And last, but not least, if a patient is in the hospital for a long time, send cards at frequent intervals.

ADVICE

NAOMID, TRENARY, WINCHESTER, PA.

DEAR NAOMI: Thank you for the suggestions, which everyone should heed. Greeting cards can boost a person's flagging spirit — but only if they are received by those for whom they are intended.

DEAR ABBY: Last Friday, some friends and I went to a nightclub to listen to the band and have drinks. Shortly after I arrived a very attractive man asked me to dance. (I'll call him Bill.) We hit it off immediately, and he asked if I was married. I told him I wasn't, and he said, "That's great — neither am I." I invited him to sit at our table, and I found him to be a really neat guy.

At the end of the evening, Bill said his ride home had left, so I

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Frivolous pursuits may prove temporarily enjoyable, but they could leave you feeling unfulfilled today. Try to spend your time doing something helpful and constructive. Scorpio, treat yourself to a birthday gift. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Be alert today, because there is a possibility you could discover a profitable opportunity that others have been treating indifferently. You'll know how to make it work.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) A satisfactory solution to a dilemma you've been unable to resolve can be found today. Keep an open mind and think things through again very carefully.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Your financial aspects look good today, but not awesome. If your expectations aren't outlandish, you should be able to find a way to add to your resources.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By Phillip Alder

In the late 1960s, Control struggled against Kaos to be the top spy organization. Later they continued the fight at the bridge table. In the third rubber, with both sides vulnerable, Harry Hoo, the detective, had just misled Siegfried in a six-club contract.

In the sixth deal, Maxwell Smart opened one spade, and Hoo responded with two no-trump, the Jacoby forcing raise. Smart's three-no-trump rebid denied a singleton but promised extra values. Three cue-bids followed, and Smart then overbid with six spades.

Leadsid, sitting West, had an unappealing lead. As a start from any side-suit could cost a trick, he selected a trump. After Hoo had tabled his dummy, Max could see that, even though he had avoided the fatal diamond lead, he was still facing two probable minor-suit losers. Was there any chance to make the slam?

Max realized he had to collect three club tricks, discarding dummy's two diamond losers in the process. With this in mind, Max drew two rounds of trumps, led a club to dummy's ace and followed with the club six. Siegfried defended well, playing low smoothly. But Max was enjoying one of his few lucid moments. He put up the club queen, winning the trick. Now he conceded a diamond trick and claimed.

"Did you have jack-third of clubs, Leadsid?" asked Max. "Of course I did, Smart," answered Leadsid. "Otherwise Siegfried wouldn't have ducked the club king."

"Amazin'." Mr. Smart. You have put Control ahead by 10 points."
