Energy Plans Limp Along

President Ford was being charitable when he said the energy bill finally delivered to him by Congress was "by no means perfect." In signing it he apparently recognized the futility of trying to get something better. He has spent a year arguing the case for prompt decontrol of domestic oil prices as the cornerstone of a national energy policy. What he has settled for is a 40-month phase-out of controls, with even a slight rollback in prices next year.

The Democratic leadership in Congress could not really argue with the logic of Mr. Ford's position. The present disparity between domestic and imported oil prices is a glaring weakness in the attack on our energy programs. It is a surrender to political expediency to mandate, as Congress has done, that an inevitable increase in fuel prices be postponed until after the 1976 election.

Other aspects of the energy bill, particularly those which will encourage fuel conservation, are saving factors, and as the President said, we at least have a "foundation" for a more comprehensive program in the future. Such a program cannot get off the ground until the government is willing to stop tinkering with the price mechanism which governs the production of energy.

Charles E. Spahr, the retiring chairman of the American Petroleum Institute, says slow movement toward price decontrol simply prolongs those which will encourage fuel conservation, are saving factors, and as the President said, we at least have a "foundation" for a more comprehensive program in the future. Such a program cannot get off the ground until the government is willing to stop tinkering with the price mechanism which governs the production of energy.

The Library of Congress has just released a study showing how far our energy policy is limping behind the realities of our energy needs. Our oil imports are now at six million barrels a day and rising. We will need 10 million barrels of imported oil per day by 1980, with more than half of it coming from the politically-volatile Middle East and North Africa. We are allowing energy to become the "Achilles heel" of U.S. foreign policy, the study points out, putting us in much the same position as the Soviet Union, which must court the favor of foreign governments to augment its food supply.

The study concludes that the United States cannot approach the goals of energy independence unless the executive and legislative branches of the government resort to "draconian measures" to reduce fuel consumption. The more that Congress tries to avoid coming to terms with the new economics of energy — as it did in the energy bill — the more likely this country will be faced with such "draconian" measures as fuel-rationing at some time in the future.

Right Listing?

Presuming that the Agriculture Department's Food Stamp program is designed to help people who by some definition are considered needy, it demands some fuller explanation why any serviceman on active duty should be on the eligibility list. Compensation for servicemen has been increased substantially in recent years, and by all reports this is helping make a success of the all-volunteer program for attracting men and women to the Armed Forces.

Either the Food Stamp regulations fail to account for all the non-cash benefits received by service families, or the pay and fringe benefits offered by the military still are not adequate. With manpower costs now making up well over half the defense budget, we find it hard to believe that the latter is the case.

Ship Collisions Point Up Navy Problem

As a measure of the poor state of the U.S. Navy, its ships were involved last year in an incredible 17 collisions — most of them with other Navy ships.

In the past month alone, three of the Navy's proud aircraft carriers — the Independence, Saratoga and John F. Kennedy — have banged into other ships at sea.

The worst collision occurred the night of November 22 in the murky waters of the Ionian Sea. During routine flight maneuvers, the carrier JFK collided with the cruiser Belknap. The accident set off blazing fires aboard both ships. Eight persons were killed and 46 injured, 25 of them seriously.

Clearly, something is wrong with the Navy, which supposedly is supreme on the seas but apparently can't steer its ships straight. We have written a number of reports, most of them taken from secret Navy documents, about the deterioration of the fleet. Here are our conclusions:

The admirals have let the fleet run down. We have seen classified reports about ships with rusting hulls, broken gear, inadequate equip-

Foreign Reliance A Trap

WASHINGTON — Though the oil crisis developed two years back, the evidence is that this nation's and the Western world's response has been far too little and too late. New government studies indicate our dependence on the oil cartel countries will escalate dramatically in the next several years, making a mockery of U.S. national defense and foreign policy. Both can be torn to shreds by a boycott or slowdown by a handful of countries, each of which is highly susceptible to a totalitarian takeover.

Oil is in the public eye. Our efforts began after a crisis. But, as is well known, we are heavily dependent on foreign sources for a string of other raw materials crucial to our defense and economic stability.

A major share of the available export production of at least six of these essential commodities is held tightly by potential cartels. Forty one per cent of the free world's exports of iron ore is controlled by seven major producers, 85 per cent of tin exports by six, 44 per cent of lead exports by five, 31 per cent of copper exports by four, 30 per cent of zinc exports by four and 75 per cent of bauxite exports — raw material for aluminum — by seven major producers.

The problem is the more serious because it is not simple to find substitutes quickly in the large quantities necessary for iron ore, lead, bauxite. Zinc substitution is also difficult in the short term.

There is enough known, however, about new sources for some of these materials, new forms of substitution and improved conservation methods, to make it possible in time to reduce our dependence on the import of most of these items.

As in the case of oil, the complete elimination of imports is neither possible nor desirable. What's wanted is independence sufficient to prevent our being blackmailed or unduly pressured politically, militarily or economically.

But we must begin now while we have time and when conditions, in the main, are propitious for success.

Note first that all six of these commodities can be stockpiled without serious difficulty. In fact, if my memory serves correctly, five of the six have been stockpiled extensively at one time or another by this country. The stock-piling can be carried out slowly, during those periods of low prices which occur from time to time in these cyclical years.

Over the long pull, substitutions and alternate sources are possible for most of these commodities. If we put some thought and effort into the task.

Bauxite is plentiful, virtually worldwide, if developed. There are other ores believed suitable for economical aluminum production if better techniques are found. Recent laboratory work suggests it will be possible to come up with a wide range of plastic substitutes.

Aluminum, in turn, has been popular in recent years as a substitute for some uses of tin and copper. Other substitutes can be found — and other sources of tin and copper ore, given the proper stimulus.

Practically every day we hear sad stories about missing pets, but the one relating to 16-year-old Penny Hammond, 132 Mayfair Circle, Sanford, is particularly touching.

Seven Penny's little puppy, Jasper, is missing and if it isn't found in a hurry, serious problems could arise.

The puppy just happens to be a 185-pound St. Bernard named Shepherd and it suffers from epilepsy. If it doesn't receive its medication for the affliction and a seizure results from the lack of treatment, someone may mistake it for rabies and do the dog great bodily harm.

Therefore, anyone spotting a dog fitting Jasper's description is urged to contact the Hammond family at 323-4547.

You'd be doing a humane thing as well as helping to ease the minds of the five Hammond children.

In case you've been wondering, the Florida State Legislature will convene in Tallahassee for this year's session on April 13.

Most state legislatures convene in January with only Alabama, Louisiana and North Carolina meeting later than Florida.

The Florida session is scheduled to last for 60 days.

Sanford has been selected once again to be among those communities in Florida which will be visited by field service units of the Disabled American Veterans.

This year marks the third annual tour of these DAV mobile service offices which offer free service to all veterans and their families concerning benefits to which they are entitled by federal law — disability compensation, pension, employment and job training, hospitalization and medical care, social security, death claims, etc.

Each field service unit is manned by experienced DAV national service officers, the majority of whom are disabled veterans of the Vietnam conflict.

This service to veterans and their families is completely free of charge and the DAV urges that veterans, because large numbers of these young men are not taking advantage of the benefits which they have earned, especially in the areas of education and vocational rehabilitation, and to which they are entitled.

Remember that date — Thursday, Jan. 22.

No Time For Soft Speaking

The great debate over Angola continues, with much heat but precious little light being shed on certain fundamental questions:

Just who are the various factions contending for power in that country? What do they represent? Whom are we being asked to support, and whom oppose? And why?

The American people know less about Angola and the Angolans than they did about Vietnam and the Vietnamese in 1964. The issue is stated solely in terms of United States-Soviet challenge to our role as defender of freedom around the world.

To co-columnists Rowland Evans and Robert Novak, the "stampede to isolationism" by anti-administration Democrats and the senseless "congressional rampage" against President Ford's "comparatively modest" efforts to slow the rise of the Soviet-backed MPLA to total control of Angola reflects a superpower in decline and symbolizes U.S. inability to respond to Soviet challenges because of the ravages of Vietnam and 10 years of internal political upheaval.

The Soviets, says the Wall Street Journal, are "testing our resolve."

Well, they tested our intelligence with the 1972 wheat deal. They tested our gullibility in the first SALT disarmament agreement. Now they are apparently testing the limits of our devotion to détente.

Perhaps it is time the United States did a little testing of its own. Rather than opposing the Soviet Union by proxy again, rather than insisting on our national prestige in a part of the world whose politics are far more tangled than they were in Vietnam, perhaps it is time we went right to the heart of the matter — to the Kremlin itself.

True, Secretary of State Kissinger has been dropping increasingly strong hints about the danger Soviet meddling in Africa poses to détente. But his words are merely words, backed up by no real prospect of deterrent penalties, and the Soviets know it.

What penalties could we impose? We could, for one thing, stop underwriting the Soviet economy with massive shipments of grain. For another, we could stop exporting our hand-made and scientific technology to the Soviet Union.

But we won't if the administration has its way. We will continue to bluff about Soviet "recolonization" of Africa and frighten ourselves with the vision of a Soviet colossus astride the Atlantic, even though we continue to provide the Soviet Union with much of the economic wherewithal to pursue its imperialistic adventures.

And as long as we continue to base our policy on knee-jerk reactions to Soviet initiatives, as if the world were a giant red-and-white checker-board with our attention presently focused on a square that happens to be labeled Angola, we will continue to play a foolish and costly game according to rules laid down by the Kremlin.

CBS cameraman Bill Wagner and audio technician Richard Wiggin film former 'hippie' Sandy Webster and daughter, Carrie at Central Florida Zoo for "Sixty Minutes" feature.

'Flower Child' Film Shot By CBS At Zoo

By JEAN PATTESON
Women's Editor

"Where Have All The Flowers Gone?" is the question CBS newsmen Dan Rafter will be exploring in a feature on the Sunday night program, "Sixty Minutes," some time in late February.

One of the "flowers" is Orlando resident Sandy Webster, and Rafter will be asking her questions against the backdrop of the Central Florida Zoo. The zoo was chosen, Ms. Webster said, because it is one of her favorite places in the area to visit with her five-year-old daughter, Carrie.

"The feature is an effort to trace and talk to several of the people who were part of the Haight-Ashbury Study back in the late 60's," explained the show's producer, Joe Decola who flew to Central Florida from New York City with Rafter and a small technical crew Sunday, returning Monday night.

The study Decola recalled, was undertaken by social scientist Steve Pittell over a five-year period to examine the then-unusual lifestyle of a group of young people living near the intersection of Haight and Ashbury Streets in San Francisco — the so-called "hippie" or "flower child" generation.

Ms. Webster is one of the 250 persons in the study who, in Pittell's opinion, has re-entered society. The "Sixty Minutes" feature will present several persons like Ms. Webster, as well as some who have remained with the hippie subculture.

"We talked about my experience in San Francisco, about why I became a hippie and what the use of psychedelic drugs was all about," Ms. Webster recalled her Sunday afternoon interview with Rafter.

"He asked some pretty difficult questions, like 'how did it change my life,' and 'would I be the same person today if I hadn't been a hippie?'"

"I did it, I suppose, because it's what was happening at the time," she explained. "Obviously, there had to be some things missing in my life for me to look for answers in something so different, but mainly I did it because I had a lot of friends there and it seemed like fun."

Asked whether she considered herself changed since the "flower power" days of a decade ago, Ms. Webster replied, "I'm older." Her smile implied, perhaps, "and wiser."

Ms. Webster is a social case worker with a Division of Family Services in Orlando.

Front-Seat Mothers-in-Law Still Under Fire

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I liked your answer to the indignant young wife whose husband agreed with his mother that out of respect for her, she should sit in the front seat of the car and his wife should sit in the back.

(You said, "When push comes to shove, you should defer to your mother-in-law, not because your husband wants you to, but because she is your elder.")

I am a mother-in-law, and I always sit in front with my son because my daughter-in-law insists upon it! She says that I see little things that I see since his marriage, and she wants to share him with me as much as possible.

I can't tell you how much I appreciate her thoughtfulness. I am grateful that he has such a warm and loving relationship. Much of it is due to her unselfish and understanding nature.

Respect? No! All it takes is

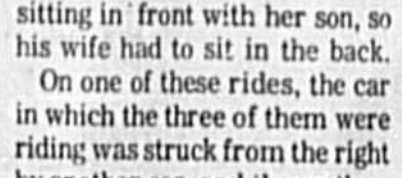

Dear Abby

Two women who really love the same man.

SITTING IN FRONT IN LA DEAR SITTING: Thanks, I needed that timely mail has been running late to me against my advice to let the mother-in-law sit in front beside her son. Read on for a few typical letters lambasting me.

DEAR ABBY: The controversy about whether a man's mother or his wife should sit in the front while he's driving the car brings to mind this true story.

A notoriously possessive mother always insisted on sitting in front with her son, so his wife had to sit in the back.

On one of these rides, the car in which the three of them were riding was struck from the right by another car, and the mother-in-law was killed instantly. The husband and wife miraculously survived with only minor injuries.

Had the mother-in-law been in the back where she belonged, she'd have been alive, and her daughter-in-law would have been killed instead.

Care to comment? WITHHOLD MY NAME DEAR WITHHOLD: Her it comes time to enter the Kingdom of Heaven, I think people are where they "belong."

DEAR ABBY: Tell MISERABLE IN THE BACK backhome.

First, she should tell her mother-in-law that the Bible says that when a man marries he should "leave his father and mother and cleave unto his wife."

And if that doesn't sink in, the wife should put both her mother-in-law and her husband in the back seat. Then Sonny can climb onto Mamma's lap to be cuddled and rocked again.

These Mamma's boys make lousy husbands.

GOT RID OF ONE DEAR ABBY: You certainly blew it with your advice to MISERABLE IN THE BACK.

When a man marries, his mother automatically takes a back seat to his wife, both figuratively and literally — unless she is either angry or crippled. In this case, the mother-in-law was only 47, and I assume she was able-bodied.

You say that the daughter-in-law should defer to her mother-in-law out of respect? For her experienced needlewoman.

Dear Elsa,

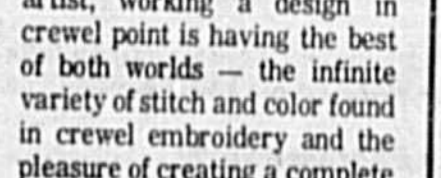

Would it be possible to use clear, bright colors for a traditional design when it's temporary to be used in a contemporary room?

Dear R.J.,

Anything is possible if it pleases the eye of the embroiderer but wouldn't advise working a Jacobean Tree of Life in the bold, strong colors we call "true" colors. These are better reserved for projects where contrast is more important than color harmony — military emblems flag or pennant designs — and sometimes, designs for children's rooms. Natural colors — those we find in nature — adapt beautifully to designs of trees, flowers, earth, sky and animals.

Crewel Point Offers Versatility

Joy Of Stitching

By ELSA WILLIAMS

To the experienced needle artist, working a design in crewel point is having the best of both worlds — the infinite variety of stitch and color found in crewel embroidery and the pleasure of creating a complete pattern (including background) that you get with needlepoint.

Crewel is associated with the use of fine wool crewel yarn; if you embroider with this yarn, you're doing crewel embroidery. The word "point" comes from the French word meaning stitch. When we say needlepoint we mean stitching with a needle, combining the two in crewel embroidery on canvas can result in handsome and unusual effects.

Many needlewomen have used the cover design of my book, "Creative Canvas Work," as a guide to this combination. They've studied the realistic flowers in the foreground which are done in many surface stitches and noted that the Tent stitch background only seems to be in a solid color. Related shades are mixed and the background deepens in color near the bottom of the picture to give an almost three-dimensional effect.

The question I'm almost always asked about this design is: "Which do you do first, the flowers or the background?" If you're working out an entirely new composition, you wouldn't fill the background before you work out the focal points of your design. If, on the other hand, with a pre-planned design and colors in a kit, it's usually easier to work the background and then complete the design.

I wouldn't advise a beginner to start with a project like crewel embroidery on canvas but I think combining the two types of embroidery is a fascinating challenge for the

Seminoles, Hounds, Patriots At Home

High school basketball questions hit the air tonight as four games involving Seminole County teams are scheduled, and answers should be forthcoming shortly after tipoffs. Game time tonight is 8 p.m.

One of the biggest questions is can Seminole rebound from that 66-25 humiliation at the hands of Evans last Friday night? Seminole is home against DeLand, a team which won earlier, 64-46.

Then there's the query as to whether Lyman can stick to its guns and improve on a 6-2 log. The opponent is a toughie for the game in Longwood — Montverde Academy in Sorrento.

Friday's schedule finds Lyman at Bishop Moore, Boone Brantley bounce back? The Patriots are mired in a 1-10 season, and entertain Osceola of Kissimmee tonight.

The night's other game is Sanford Naval at Mount Dora Bible and Spruce Creek at Oviedo.

Tarkenton Heads All-Pro Tandem

NEW YORK (AP) — Record-shattering quarterback Fran Tarkenton of the Minnesota Vikings heads the National Football League All-Pro team selected by The Associated Press and announced today.

Joining Tarkenton in the All-Pro backfield are runners Chuck Foreman of Minnesota and O.J. Simpson of Buffalo. Speedy Cliff Branch of Oakland and Mel Gray of St. Louis are the wide receivers with Denver's Riley Odoms chosen at tight end.

Up front, the nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters chose Ron Yary of Minnesota and George Kunz of Baltimore at the tackles. Joe Delamelleure of Buffalo and Larry Little of Miami at the guards and Jim Langer of Miami at center. Jim Bakken of St. Louis was picked as the "sam's" placekicker.

On defense, the 78 AP voters selected Jack Youngblood of Los Angeles and Pittsburgh's L.C. Greenwood at ends with Alan Page of Minnesota and Houston's Carley Culp at tackle. Pittsburgh's Jack Ham and Washington's Chris Hanburger are the outside linebackers, flanking Philadelphia's Bill Bergey.

Mel Blount of Pittsburgh and Roger Warlick of St. Louis are the cornerbacks with Minnesota's Paul Krause at free safety and Ken Houston of Washington at strong safety. Tarkenton enjoyed a brilliant season, directing the Vikings to their seventh NFC Central division title in the last eight years. The veteran quarterback shattered three of Johnny Unitas' career passing records, setting new marks for attempts (5,225), completions (2,931) and touchdowns (291). The Minnesota quarterback led all NFL passers, completing 64.2 per cent of his attempts and hurling 23 touchdown passes.

His favorite target was Foreman, who led the NFL with 73 catches, the most ever for a running back. Foreman also led the conference with 22 touchdowns and rushed for a club record 1,070 yards.

Simpson rushed for a league-leading 1,817 yards and set a single season record with 23 touchdowns, one more than Gale Sayers had for the Chicago Bears in 1965.

Branch caught 51 passes for 892 yards and nine touchdowns for the AFC West champion Raiders. Gray grabbed 48 for 926 yards and 11 TDs for the Cardinals, champions of the NFC East. Odoms had 46 catches for 540 yards for Denver. Bakken connected on 19 of 24 attempted field goals and scored 97 points.

On defense, Blount and Krause led their respective conferences in interceptions. Blount picked off 11 passes, returning them for 121 yards. Krause had 10 interceptions and 201 yards in returns.

Krause and Page anchored a Minnesota defense that led the league.

Dallas Fans Ticket Crazy

DALLAS (AP) — Dawn McFlae admitted he "shot off his mouth" back in September and promised to take the wife to the Super Bowl if the Dallas Cowboys ever got that far.

McFlae didn't believe it would ever happen "especially with all those rookies," but Monday night, with his blue and white Cowboy toboggan cap pulled down over his ears, he was one of about 2,000 persons standing in the wind and cold to purchase tickets for the Jan. 18 clash with the Pittsburgh Steelers in Miami.

The area around Moody Coliseum on the Southern Methodist University campus where the tickets were to go on sale at 7 a.m. today looked like something out of the 1930 depression.

There were makeshift tents, smudge pots, kerosene lamps, three or four persons huddled into one sleeping bag, and a shelter made of cardboard boxes.

Several of those standing in line admitted they were being paid by season ticketholders to purchase the Super Bowl tickets.

Fullback Robert Newhouse said, "There is nobody who works any harder on this team than Coach Landry, so we don't mind it. Coach Landry has had red eyes year and you know it comes from work."

Doug Todd, assistant public relations director for the Cowboys, said Monday, "Our telephone hasn't stopped ringing. I have been here five years and I've never seen anything like it."

IT'S HUMANLY POSSIBLE

One, two . . . is the way the count goes as referee Johnny Rouse takes a peek at the pin Lyman High's Jerry Human has on Boone's Mark Phipps. Human wound up getting the pin in the 185-pound category, and Lyman registered a Metro Conference wrestling victory over the Orlando school Monday night by a margin of 46-31. Brantley Freshmen Club Oviedo, 50-43

FOREST CITY — Lake Brantley High's freshman basketball team won its third game in five outings as the Baby Patriots defeated the ninth grade team from Oviedo, 50-43.

Led by Dwayne Honaker's inside play and Jerry McGee's outside shooting, the Patriots were able to open up an eight point lead, 14-6 after the first period.

From that point, both Seminole County squads were able to, just about, match basket for basket, as the home team held its advantage.

The score was 28-17 at half time and 38-28 at the three quarter mark, before the Lions were able to outscore Lake Brantley in the final eight minutes, 15-12, to cut the final margin to seven.

Honaker finished the game as the leading scorer with 16, while McGee followed with 13. Lance Hall added nine in the winning effort.

The Lions were sparked by David Geiger's 12 markers as the Oviedo wing hit four buckets and added four foul shots. Following closely behind Geiger in the Oviedo scoring parade were Brad Cluxton and Dan Nash who both finished the game with 10 points each. Cluxton also accounted for seven points for the losing Lions.

Monday's loss left the Lions looking for their first win of the season, as they have dropped all three of their starts this year.

Oviedo will get another chance to break into the win column this week when it meets Lake Howell Thursday.

Crooms Nails No. 6 Over Hornets, 60-37

It was billed as the battle of the undefeated.

And "The Bishop" lost.

Crooms High's freshman basketball team put together a chess-like game plan and executed like a Monopoly player who just caught an opponent on Boardwalk with a hotel and four houses.

The final score of 60-37 didn't tell the story Monday night.

But the fourth quarter did. Bishop Moore had hung close to Crooms going into the final stanza, 38-31. But Crooms coach Bob Bray put his charges into their full fast break pattern, and all of a sudden the close game wasn't so close.

Crooms outscored Bishop Moore in the final quarter, 22-6.

Defense was the biggest thing we saw them do completely when we needed to," said Bray. "We got a good defensive job from all five starters. Ed Hudson had a key role with 11 rebounds."

Bishop Moore tried to get back into the game in the last quarter by asserting a full court press. It backfired as the quicker Crooms squad got the ball back downcourt faster than the Baby Hornets and capitalized on too many two-on-ones and three-on-twos to out-Bishop Moore.

Felix Williams benefited well from the full court press, because he scored most of his 16 points in the last period of the fast break.

Backing Williams' 16 points for Crooms was Chris Gillmore with 12, Hudson with 12 and Willie Nelms with 10.

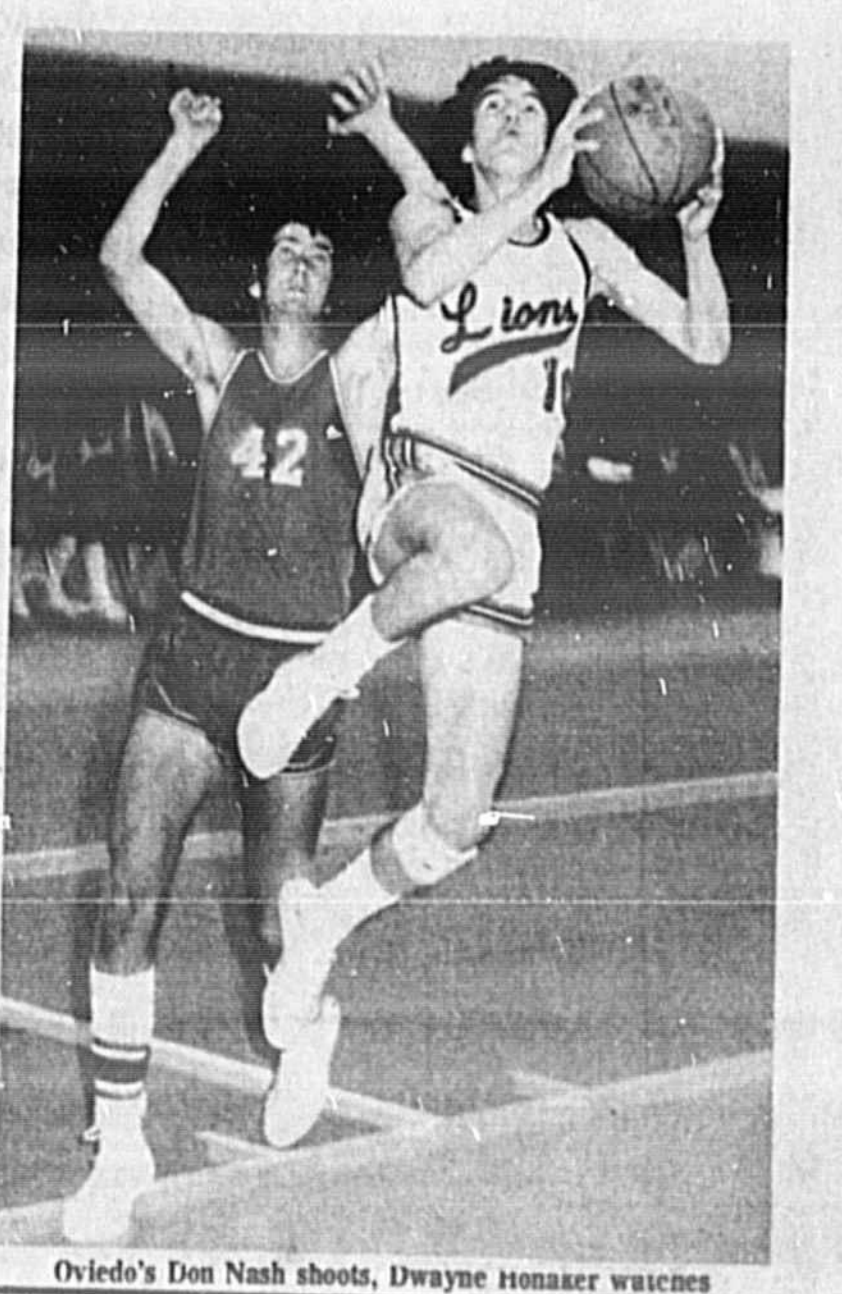

It was Crooms' sixth straight victory.

BISHOP MOORE: Farmer 20.4, Fox 31.7, Carlton 13, Loney 7.2, Smith 2.5, Scribano 1.6, Totals 77 37.

Thompson & Son Roofing
Helps With Your Overhead Plumbing Needs Any Day

LET THOMPSON & SON ROOFING KEEP A GOOD ROOF OVER YOUR HEAD ... Pictured above is Lonnie Thompson

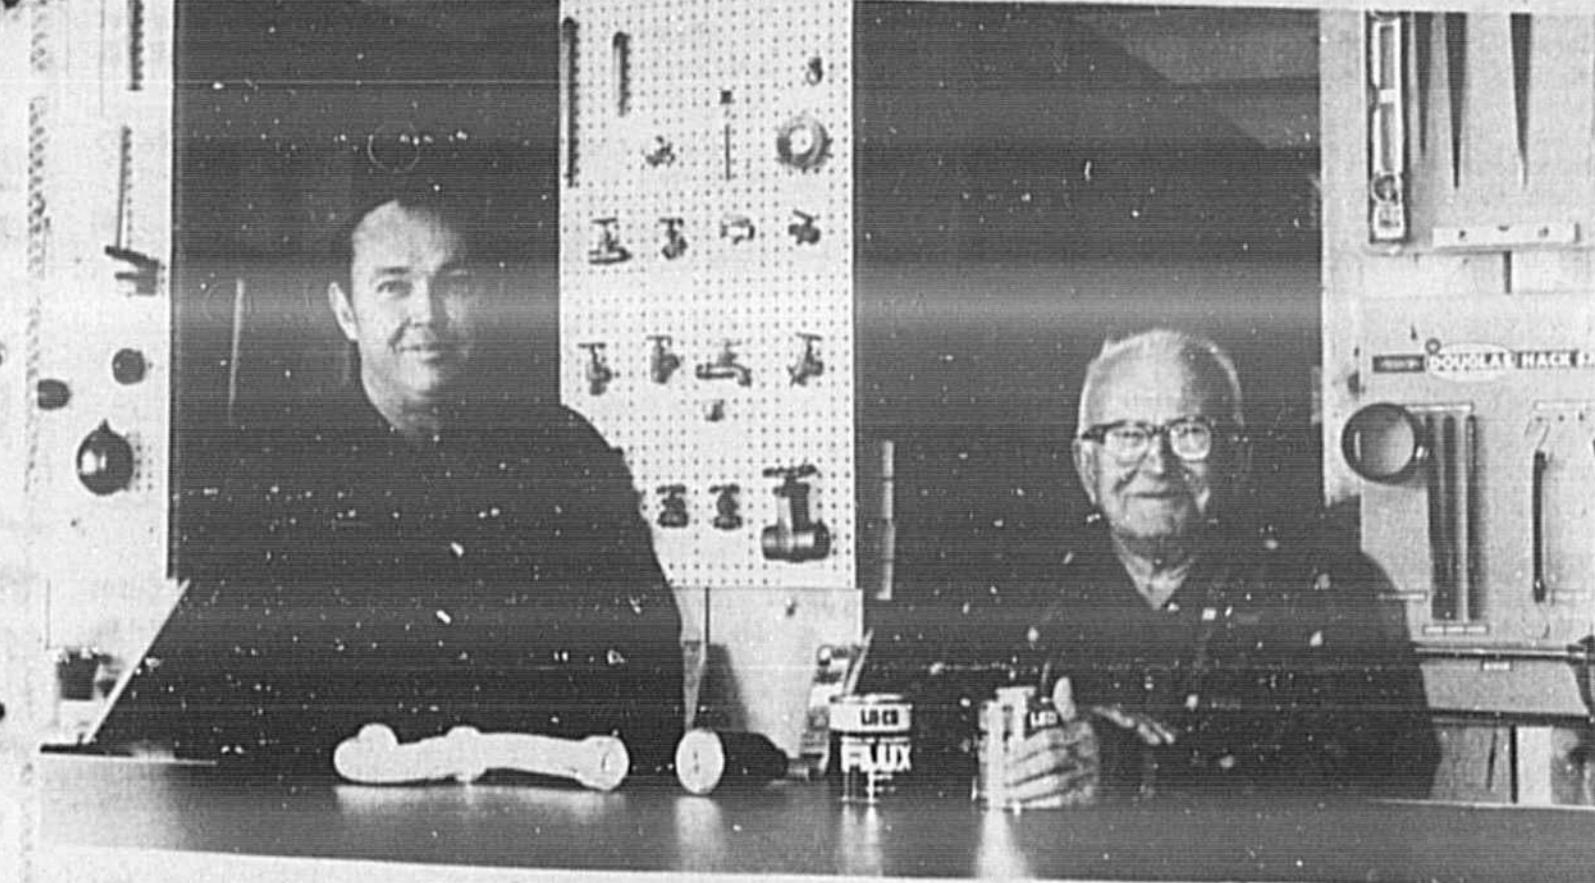

The roof of a home or building is the primary protection against the elements, so when repairs or replacement is necessary it is essential that the job be done by someone with the knowhow and skill to do the work.

Thompson & Son Roofing, operated by Lonnie Thompson and his son Richard Thompson, possesses the experience, equipment and skill to do any roofing job and do it right. "No job is too large or too small," is their claim.

Lonnie Thompson has been in the roofing business for over 20 years, which testifies to his ample experience in his line. He has also been in Florida for over 20 years. Lonnie has been in business on his own for three years. Father and son have only recently formed the partnership and combined their operations in the Sanford area.

Seminole Supply Inc.

FOR ALL YOUR PLUMBING NEEDS ON ANY DAY SEE SEMINOLE ... Pictured above are Don Allen (owner) and Matt Malloy (ready to solve any plumbing need).

There are a number of plumbing supply houses in the Sanford area, but only one that combines a complete line of plumbing supplies with 7 day a week availability.

That one is Seminole Supply Inc., 100 Seminole Blvd., (Race Track Road), Casselberry.

Seminole Supply Inc. is a new business, having opened up at the above location Nov. 1, 1975. It is a family owned and operated, consisting of Don Allen, his wife Louise, and son Larry.

Don has been in plumbing for 20 years, so has plenty of experience in the plumbing supply field. He does all of the buying and pricing for the concern.

Louise handles all the office work while Larry works in the warehouse. Both wholesale and retail business is handled by Seminole Supply.

Matt Malloy is warehouse manager. He was with Great South Supply in Orlando as warehouse manager until he retired three years ago. Don lured him out of retirement to work on a part-time basis. Seminole Supply Inc. can solve just about any problem in the plumbing line that anyone brings to them.

If you are a do-it-yourselfer, Seminole has the tools you need to handle your own repairs; they will also tell you how to use PVC pipe and fittings. The PVC, a plastic pipe, lasts longer than copper, according to most plumbing experts. Complete replacement parts for toilet links are handled, along with several types of kitchen and lavatory faucets.

Water heaters, tub and shower valves, single lever and double valve faucet handles, underground sprinkler equipment, both wood and plastic toilet seats — these are part of the complete supply inventory carried by Seminole Supply.

If you are a do-it-yourselfer, Seminole has the tools you need to handle your own repairs; they will also tell you how to use PVC pipe and fittings.

If It's Not Clean

It's Not Crickets!

If you're a working person you have probably found that after each week's house cleaning, the dirt seems to be gaining on you a little bit. Or possibly, you're not capable of keeping pace with the cleaning needs of your home. In either case, the answer to your cleaning problems is a true heavy professional house cleaning by Crickets.

Crickets' Professional House Cleaning is owned by Rose (Crickett) Mims, a pretty energetic lady who along with her crew will give your house the cleaning it needs, and deserves.

Crickett's owner stresses that her business is not a maid service, but heavy house cleaning. Some of the jobs covered are time consuming for the average housewife or bachelor. These jobs include stripping and waxing kitchen floors and other areas, cleaning the bathroom tile to remove all of the soap film, oven cleaning of baseboards, walls, windows and refrigerators (upon request). Kitchen cabinets are cleaned inside and out, and the white glove test will show that even doors and heating vents are cleaned!

Crickett guarantees your complete satisfaction with their work, and promises to thoroughly clean your home, including the dog if he gets in the way.

Crickett's owners used to be a "new house" cleaner, but found that there was a real need for a cleaning service for homeowners at a price they could afford, so she established her business to fill the need.

Your spring cleaning is not far off, and what better way to house back in sparkling shape than to take advantage of Crickets! Call today to book your cleaning!

Germany abounds in beautiful spots. There are the Black Forest and the Bavarian highlands, the valleys of the Rhine, Neckar, Mosel, and Esar Rivers. The German countryside is always lovely, but especially in the spring when the Rhine runs through acres of blossom, and in the autumn when the foliage is at its height of color. Germany is the music land of the world, and here are the most famous opera houses to be found, as well as some of the world's most ambitious power compositions. Most of all, however, Germany is known for its warm hospitality.

Europe offers countries filled with charm and interest. Learn more about spots to visit from those at CARIBBEAN CRUISES OF ORLANDO INC., 574 N. Orlando Ave. Tel. 445-2060. Open 9:30-5:30. Sat. 10-2. We specialize in cruises anywhere in the world. All modes of transportation available.

Kidnap Suspect Is Held

A camper van stolen in the Monday night abduction robbery of a Sanford woman and her daughter has been recovered in Daytona Beach near the scene of a similar kidnap-robbery last night and a juvenile suspect in both cases is being held on multiple felony charges.

A LICKING GOOD TIME Happiness is having all the ice cream you can eat is apparently the thought of seven-year-old Teresa Warren of Okevika as she gleefully digs into a giant ice cream cone getting almost as much on the outside as inside in the process.

Morris Deposition Taken Officials Stay, Askew Decides

Gov. Reubin Askew's office announced in Tallahassee at noon today that the governor has decided not to suspend indicted Seminole County officials or to send in a special state attorney to probe possibilities of perjury by a grand jury witness, Askew press aide Jim Bacchus said.

Williams said the board is now "back at the beginning" on the personnel director's position. He urged commissioners to go with two positions, as opposed to hiring one person to handle personnel and labor relations.

Goal Now To Fill Post In Two Weeks Commission Presses Effort To Hire Assistant

The Seminole County Commission Tuesday night put its efforts to hire an executive assistant into high gear by voting to fill the $19,000-$25,000 position within two weeks.

Development Corp. To Announce Board

Sanford's new Downtown Development Corporation will hold its first official meeting by mid-January and announce its board of directors before the end of the month, according to Sara Jacobson, executive director of the Downtown Development Council (DDC).
