SENATE DISCUSS MATTERS OF BIG IMPORT MONDAY

Farm Aid Legislation In Given Important Consideration Monday.

By The Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The administration's policy on non-recognition of the present Soviet government of Russia was supported vigorously in the Senate Monday by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican leader and chairman of Foreign Relations committee.

Quoting extensively from public records and documents to show the interlocking of the Soviet government and Communist international Senator Lodge also brought additional evidence in support of Secretary Hughes' contention that officials of the Soviet government are party to propaganda campaign to govern this country.

REP. GARNER HAS SUBSTITUTE FOR MELLON TAX PLAN

Garner of Texas Announces New Plan For Tax Reduction

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—A substitute proposal for the Mellon tax revision plan was made public Sunday by Representative Garner of Texas on behalf of himself and other Democrats on the house ways and means committee.

The "high spots" are: Fix normal income tax rates at two per cent on amounts of $5,000 and under instead of three per cent and $4,000 as Mr. Mellon proposes and of four per cent under existing law; four per cent on $5,000 to $10,000 instead of six per cent above $4,000 as recommended by Mr. Mellon and of eight per cent on all amounts in excess of $10,000 instead of eight per cent under existing law.

Start the surtax graduation at one per cent on incomes from $12,000 to $14,000 instead of $10,000 to $12,000 as proposed by Mr. Mellon and $8,000 to $8,000 under existing law. The rate would increase progressively to a maximum of 44 per cent on incomes of $92,000 and more as compared with the Mellon proposal for a maximum of 25 per cent on incomes in excess of $100,000, and the present maximum of 50 per cent on incomes of more than 200,000.

Increase the exemption of the head of family from $2,500 to $3,000 and of single person from $1,000 to $2,000. The Mellon plan would continue the present exemptions.

Fix the deduction allowed on earned incomes at 33-1/3 instead of 25 per cent, as recommended by the treasury secretary and broaden the provision so as to include farmers owning and personally operating their farms and merchants and traders who combine capital and personal service for the purpose of earning income.

Representative Garner, in a formal statement outlining the minority's program, made this reference to the so-called nuisance taxes:

"There was no reason to single out one or two of the miscellaneous or nuisance taxes as Secretary Mellon and propose their repeal within at the same time carefully analyzing the entire mass of these taxes, including those on automobile trucks, jewelry, candy, stamps on notes, etc., and offering the maximum of relief."

"Honest and equitable peace time taxation is the goal of the Democratic party," Mr. Garner said. "The foregoing proposals are in pursuance of this policy. Resting upon sound economic views he believe they do full and equal justice to taxpayers large and small, individual and corporate and avoid the extreme views of any class."

"We ask an unbiased comparison of the Democratic tax proposals with the Mellon proposals and with full confidence invite the deliberate judgment of taxpayers and of all the people."

Mr. Garner said the Democrats would give whole-hearted support to "many good features" of the Mellon program, particularly the provisions aimed at more efficient administration of the revenue law and to close up avenues of tax evasion. He added that "the general idea of readjusting downward normal rates and surtax rates in unity in order to together with reduced rates on income derived from personal service is excellent."

BIG BUSINESS PROPERTY BOUGHT BY THE HERALD

One of the most important realty transactions for several months was consummated Saturday when The Sanford Herald bought the north east corner of Park Avenue and Commercial Street as a site for a new home for the newspaper.

The property was bought under a 90-year lease, the sale being negotiated by Charles L. Britt of the Britt Realty Company and is said to be the first 90-year lease to be closed for Sanford real estate.

According to Mr. Britt there is a frontage on Park Avenue of 105 feet, and on Commercial Street of 148 feet, the property adjoining the county court house on the north and is across the street from the Valdez hotel on the south.

It is the intention of the owners of the Sanford Herald to build a new home for the newspaper at some time in the future. The location is considered ideal for business purposes.

"Sanford is on the eve of a great building and development program said Reese Combs, president of The Sanford Herald, in discussing the purchase of this property Monday morning. "We are thoroughly 'sold' on Sanford because we are certain that it is soon to grow into a big city of commercial importance."

Then there is the tourist business that Sanford is now going after. When ample hotel accommodations are provided and Sanford put on an advertising program, there will be more tourists here than the city can accommodate. They will bring new money and new ideas which will mean greater development for the city in all lines of activity.

"Tourists become 'winter visitors' and eventually permanent citizens. They bring pep and push to a community. They provide money to carry on vast construction programs. They come from every section of the country and make good citizens. "We believe in Sanford because we are convinced that Sanford holds the vision and the determination to work together for the advancement of the community. The Herald intends to keep pace with the growth of the city."

U. S. GOVERNMENT WILL DISCOURAGE ARMS SHIPMENTS

Announced Policy of This Government Will Be Against Sale of Munitions

(By The Associated Press). WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Shipment of arms from the United States to the de la Huerta revolutionary group in Mexico are being discouraged by the administration as against the policy of the American government.

The attitude of this government on the question was sent to department of justice agents in New Orleans Sunday after a conference between officials of the attorney general's office and of the state department.

No Embargo on Army. Reports that agents of the Mexican revolutionary group were negotiating in New Orleans for quantities of munitions and that the purchase would be permitted was the direct cause of the announcement of policy. A telegram was sent to New Orleans by the department of justice which read:

"Matter presented to secretary of state, and he today issued following denial: "Although there is no embargo on the shipment of arms to Mexico, such shipments are being discouraged. The state department does not look upon them with favor and they are against this government's policy. Moreover, private concerns making such shipments do so entirely at their own risk."

"You are authorized to repeat this information in response to any further inquiries."

Officials said that while it might be lawful from a strictly technical standpoint for the revolutionists to purchase arms in this country provided their activities did not violate the conspiracy clause of the act prohibiting the fomenting of American soil of movements against friendly nations, they did not believe American manufacturers would run counter to the announced policies of their government, regardless of the question of an embargo. It was pointed out however, that the president has authority to proclaim an embargo. In some quarters it was said the embargo coupled with the effect of sale of arms to the de la Huerta group would have a future bid for government contracts would weigh heavily with manufacturers who might be inclined to make such transactions.

War and navy department officials, however, do not believe there is anything in this country material in quantities desired by the de la Huerta forces. The government's surplus stock and regular reserve equipment warehouses, of course contain them but the business of private manufacture of military rifles has not been remunerative since the war department has been building its own guns under federal patents.

Ford Car Stolen In Sanford Is Recovered

A new 1923 Ford Touring car that was stolen from T. J. Humphrey of Sanford about two weeks ago was recovered Friday by officers of the Tampa police force. A white man whose name could not be learned but who is said to have several aliases, was taken into custody when the officers found the car.

Sunday officers Walker and Vickery went to Tampa to bring back the prisoner and car to Sanford. Upon their arrival there they discovered that the man had made his escape from the city stockade of Tampa. The car was brought back to this city.

It is believed that the man arrested was a member of an organized gang of crooks who make a specialty of stealing automobiles because instead of a new car that was stolen, the one brought back has a different body and different attachments on it. The serial number had also been changed but by a chemical process which the Tampa officers used, the original number was discovered under the one made by the crooks.

EX-SERVICE MEN WANT BONUS SAY AMERICAN LEGION

American Legion Commander Replies to Bonus Opponents. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 7.—Making reply for the American Legion opponents of adjusted compensation, John R. Quinn, national commander in a letter Sunday addressed to Representative in Congress, accused employers of coercing their ex-service men employees into writing letters to Senators and Congressmen in opposition to the proposed adjusted compensation bill.

"The anti-bonus propagandists" said Commander Quinn, "take as their slogan 'everything is disabled, nothing for the able bodied,' yet not one of these has appeared before Congress to urge passage of legislation for the disabled during the four years the American Legion has made the disabled man's cause its own."

"The organizers of the present unfair barrage of Philadelphia," the letter continues, are boasting of being able to delay congressional action on the adjusted compensation bill so that their propaganda may, through its force, cause members of Congress to desert the soldier's cause. Five years ago the American doughboy went over the top in spite of the barrage of steel calling around him. He stood his ground and he has every confidence that American senators and representatives will stand their ground and not desert him because of a mere barrage of organized propaganda."

"The adjusted compensation bill is now in the ways and means committee of the house of representatives. The American legion earnestly urges the congress to have the bill brought before the house immediately for action and to demonstrate to the country its determination to fulfill the nation's obligations to its defenders."

"The country can afford to meet this obligation. It should meet it promptly and without delay. It is perfectly evident that Congress can and should adjust the compensation bill and also provide for substantial reduction in taxes. The American Legion has the confidence that Congress will enact this inevitable legislation."

AT THE MILANE

Picture goats of Sanford are in for a real treat when Goldwyn's "Souls for Sale" is shown at the Milane Theatre Tuesday, for this production affords a glimpse into America's great wonder city of make believe, Hollywood. It has been adapted to the screen by Mr. Hughes himself from his novel of the same title and has been directed, edited and titled by him. Although the story deals with life and events of the motion picture colony, Mr. Hughes has not forgotten how to be easy, natural and human in the telling of his tale. It possesses an abundance of those qualities which have endeared him, both as a novelist and motion picture author-director, to the American public. In addition to the to-be-expected and greatly admired qualities of Mr. Hughes, one may find in "Souls for Sale" the conception of what the screen spectacle should be, revealed in the destruction by fire and storm of a great modern circus, covering acres of ground. This is the dramatic and highly realistic story of motion picture people.

A "trouble bureau" is operated by the Service Citizens of Delaware, an organization which co-operates with the state department of immigrant education in preparing foreign-born persons for citizenship. More than 1,000 problems concerning naturalization were presented to the bureau during the past year by 746 applicants who needed help. These applicants represented 33 nationalities.

SUPERINTENDENT GIVES APPROVAL OF STATE SURVEY

Superintendent of Public Instruction Endorses Educational Survey in Speech At Palm Beach.

By The Associated Press.
WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Jan. 5.—Strong approval of the proposed educational survey of Florida was expressed by W. S. Cawthon, state superintendent of public instruction, in an address here Friday before the annual convention of the Florida Education Association.

A survey of this sort would bring beneficial results whether conditions revealed should be favorable or otherwise, the speaker declared. "If our people are doing all they can for education, and under circumstances the most favorable that could exist, it would encourage them if good authorities on educational systems would make a diagnosis and publish the results," he declared, and added that if "on the other hand, if a survey would reveal certain fundamental weaknesses in our system, the survey should certainly be made and those weaknesses corrected as speedily as possible. The longer a change is delayed, the more difficult it is to bring about the change."

Superintendent Cawthon pictured some of the problems which he believed would properly come within the province of a survey. "It is possible," he said, "to quote statistics about our schools that encourage or discourage us, the final impression conveyed depending on interpretation. When we learn that during the five-year interval, 1917-1922, the enrollment in our public schools increased nearly 39,000, the length of term from 129 days to 136 days, the percent of enrollment in average attendance from 72 to 75, the average monthly salary of all teachers from $58 to $66, that of white males from $79 to $137 and that of white females from $69 to $98; and that the number of graduates of normal schools (teaching in Florida increased from 824 to 1,234, we are disposed to congratulate ourselves upon the rapid strides that the state is making educationally."

"But there is another angle from which the situation should be reviewed," he continued. "Recent reports of one of the rural school inspectors reveal a different aspect in at least several counties. In 38 of the 41 white schools in one county, the length of term is only 100 days, and that of all the negro schools only 80 days. In another county only two of 29 white schools have a term of eight months—the period generally recognized as of minimum standard length—while more than half of the white schools and all of the negro schools in that county are operated for only four months during the year."

Keep Pace With Evolution

Darwin declared that the human race was merely an evolution of the monkey tribe. Some people agree with him. Others do not.

But there is no denying that within the memory of most of us, there has been considerable of an evolution in the human mode of living. And today, this evolution is buzzing along faster than ever.

There has never been a time when conditions changed so rapidly—when life bettered itself so consistently. New comforts and conveniences are coming in all the time, and the rapidity with which they are invented and put before us vitally affects us all.

To take advantage of these things, you must keep yourself informed. You must know not only what they are, but also how much they cost and where and how to get them.

The only way you can know this is to be a regular reader of the advertisements.

Advertisements tell of all that the world is doing to methods better, your clothing and food problems less make you more comfortable, your work easier, your irksome. They tell you how you can save time—and effort—and money in the selection of the things that make life worth while.

Advertisements are interesting, instructive and highly profitable to you.
