Security guards indicted

By Steve Paradis
Herald Staff

SANFORD — A Sanford mother never wavered in her belief that two white security guards would face charges in the shooting death of her 16-year-old son, the woman's attorney said Friday.

Guards Bryan Ansley of Sanford and Patrick Swofford of Orange City turned themselves in at the Seminole County jail Friday afternoon.

Swofford, 26, was charged with manslaughter, shooting into an occupied dwelling. He received $10,000 bond. Ansley, 26, faces a charge of shooting into an occupied vehicle and a $4,900 bond.

Both men posted bond and left the Seminole County jail Friday afternoon.

Sharon Bostic of Sanford has been waiting for these arrests for more than four months.

"She had been confident the entire time that the citizens of Sanford would stand up and make the security guards stand for killing her son," said attorney

Gregorio Francis of Morgan and Morgan.

He referred to Bostic, who raised Travares McGill, although she is not his biological mother. McGill was shot through the heart around 3 a.m. July 16 at the Country Lake Apartments near Seminole High School, where McGill attended classes.

A Seminole County grand jury handed down indictments Thursday afternoon.

The 19 members of the grand jury filed quietly passed reporters into Courtroom 5B with Circuit Judge Marlene Alva presiding.

Assistant State Attorney Wayne Holmes told Alva about the grand jury's decision to indict. Alva mentioned defendants, meaning more than one, but she sealed the indictments and the grand jury report until arrests could take place.

She asked the jurors if they required 12 or more members had agreed on the indictments, and several together replied: "Yes."

Wife charged with serving anti-freeze tea

From Staff Reports

LONGWOOD — Sheriff's deputies arrested a Longwood area woman Nov. 15 on a charge of attempted murder for trying to kill her husband with engine coolant that she said was green tea.

Alisa Freeburn, 38, denied giving her husband, Richard, anti-freeze, but she did tell police that she served him green tea that she poured from a plastic bottle of tea, according to an arrest report.

Richard told police that his wife gave him a fluorescent green liquid Nov. 4 at their home at 605 Remington Oaks Drive in unincorporated Seminole County.

Richard said the "tea" was fluorescent green and "nasty" tasting. During the night, Richard became sick and he recalled paramedics being in his bedroom and being in South Seminole Hospital.

Governments line up to send 'Gifts for Gulf'

From Staff Reports

SANFORD — Seminole County Government, the seven cities, Chamber of Commerce, Seminole County School Board and area church and business groups have joined to bring holiday cheer to the residents of Pass Christian, Miss.

Hurricane Katrina destroyed 80 percent of the small coastal city. Through a multi-jurisdictional coalition, many county and city employees have personally seen the devastation and visited the city to assist with the on-going recovery efforts.

Many residents, hoping to rebuild their homes and lives in Pass Christian are now moving into "tent villages" with little to no personal belongings.

After assessing the needs of the community, a holiday drive titled "Gifts for the Gulf" has been organized to help gather donations in hopes of bringing some relief to these residents, according to a Friday news release from Seminole County.

The DuPont Company is providing semi trucks to transport all of the donated items to Pass Christian in time for the holidays.

SCC will keep athletics, and turn to fundraising

By Joe Hendricks
Herald Correspondent

SANFORD — Seminole Community College is still in the game.

Three months of speculation and uncertainty about the future of SCC's Athletic Program ended with the official announcement to keep athletics was made at the Nov. 15 SCC Board of Trustees meeting.

The Board of Trustees came to its final decision after reading the reports and recommendations submitted to them by the Athletics Program Study Committee — a panel made up students, faculty members and members of college President Ann McGee's executive staff.

The three-month study examined the costs and financial impact of maintaining the athletic program and weighed that information against the personal, academic, and community benefits of having the program.

The study included comprehensive cost comparisons of athletic expenditures made by five other Central Florida community colleges, including Daytona Beach Community College. The study also included an

Manager knew he belonged in government since age 8

By Steve Paradis

SANFORD — City Manager Robert Yehl has been on the job for just more than one month, but he made a promise to members of the Kiwanis Club of Sanford Nov. 9.

"I want to be known as someone who is active in the community," Yehl told the service club at a luncheon at Buck's restaurant on Sanford Avenue.

He said his vocation is a bit unusual because he has known since eighth grade that he has wanted to work in government. So like anyone with governmental aspirations, he went to Washington, but he met a person who had served as a city manager.

He had never considered that position, he said, but city managers aren't elected and they really act as a chief executive officer of a city.

"The city of Sanford is really a $56 million corporation," Yehl said. He added that local

SEMINOLE SUMMARY

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

ATC Forum: I received lots of interesting comments regarding the multi-story condo project proposed for downtown. Most of the comments were opposed to the project. The ATC Forum is not a scientifically conducted poll, so I wouldn't read a lot into that other than people are more enthusiastic about writing about what they're against rather than what they are for.

The most thoughtful response — and the one that won the $15 gift certificate to the Willow Tree Café — came from Mayfair resident Doug Groseclose, who contends that I asked the wrong question.

"I believe there is a right answer about the proposed lakefront development, but it has very little to do with the number of stories of the buildings," Groseclose writes in an e-mail. "Once upon a time the Sanford city government decided to dedicate valuable and picturesque lakefront property to government buildings and parking lots. Later they dedicated part of Marina Island to buildings with no architectural ties to the city and virtually no rental income. ... Lest anyone jump to the conclusion that this myopic decision-making was confined to 'long ago in a galaxy far, far away,' the memorial to its continuation in recent history sits vacant at the corner of 1st Street and French Avenue."

He goes on in his e-mail to state that downtown Sanford is at a crossroads because there is no "compelling vision that drives downtown development."

Around the Clock

by Dan Ping

"The real issue," Groseclose writes, "is will the city of Sanford and its elected officials continue to prostrate themselves before virtually any developer who waves a potential increase to the tax base under their noses? Historically, this has been the rehypnotized given the city prior to, well, you know. An increased tax base is not a bad thing. In fact, it is a good thing if one sees it for what it truly is, a result rather than a goal. If the goal is cash flow to the tax base we will continue to end up with abandoned national chain stores sitting like dead white elephants in our city and the potential greatness of our city never fulfilled."

Groseclose believes Sanford should follow the model set by Asheville, N.C., which offers a unique experience for residents and visitors alike.

"As you walk the streets of downtown Asheville you will find a wonderful array of shops you cannot find elsewhere," Groseclose writes. "... What you will not find is one single national chain store. ... It is a place containing stores you cannot find in a mall or in any other city its size in the country. It is unique.

"... The point is this," Groseclose concludes. "Without a clear, compelling, and articulated vision of what Sanford wishes to be decades hence, the city government will continue to make decisions based on what feels good at the moment and downtown will continue to be a hodgepodge without a theme that draws people to it. Having escalating the tax base as the goal will continue to drive haphazard development, ordinances, and enforcement. Based on that approach, since the current ordinance states 10 stories, the right answer is 10 stories even if it means walking away from a little cash on the city's table."

I agree with Doug that Sanford needs to offer unique stores and restaurants downtown. In order to attract those businesses, there has to be local support from residents who will patronize them. I believe more residential development downtown is a must, and perhaps 20-story buildings are the future of Sanford. To date, however, city officials, the developers and the citizens have yet to articulate a "clear, compelling and articulated vision" either for or against such buildings.

More on this issue in the weeks and months to come.

As for next week's ATC Forum, tell me what you're thankful for and why. Thanksgiving is next Thursday so tell about the dog, husband, friend, job, etc. that makes life special for you. The winner of the $15 certificate to Willow Tree will be selected by a random drawing from all entries submitted. Submit your entry by mail (P.O. Box 1667, Sanford FL 32772), e-mail (dping@seminoleherald.com, subject line: "ATC Forum") or stop by the offices at 300 N. French Ave. The deadline is 5 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 24.

Quick hit: Seminole County Manager Kevin Grace resigned "unexpectedly" Tuesday. Word Around the Clock is Grace's resignation came after pressure from county commissioners who were upset he wouldn't fire the Fiscal Services Director, Lisa Spriggs. Interesting. Commissioners were unwilling to comment about the University of Central Florida's plans to build an on-campus stadium because it "wasn't in their jurisdiction." With the exception of the county manager, neither are personnel matters. ... Don't believe the spin the Sanford Chamber of Commerce is trying to put on its failure to host next year's Mardi Gras parade. Chamber officials make it sound as though the city suddenly decided not to waive fees for the event. Those discussions have been going on for at least six months. The real reason the chamber isn't doing Mardi Gras is that the organization has no organization. They hosted a half-cooked October bike event when they should have been planning for Mardi Gras. By the way, ask downtown merchants how well the bike event helped their business.

Yeh!

government appeals to him because it is largely non-partisan.

"There's no republican or democratic way to treat sewage or pick up garbage," he explained. City government should be run like a business, he suggested.

A city government provides services that a regular business could not feasibly supply, he said. He named law enforcement, fire services, senior services, and noted in particular the Golden Age Games that were taking place.

"So we're a service industry," he said.

A challenging aspect of local government, Yeh said, includes how open it is in the public eye.

"I think that's good," he said, adding that President Clinton tried to reform health care out of the limelight and President Bush tried the same thing with energy.

Local governments in Florida operate in the sunshine, a term for open government. It's decisions are made in public.

Those same good reasons, also make local government work difficult, he said.

Democracy is not an efficient for of government, Yeh suggested, and it wasn't meant to be by our forefathers who created it. They wanted issues to be debated and discussed, he added.

He summed up the essence of his job as city manager as "satisfying the irritated without irritating the satisfied."

"Sanford is a great place to be," Yeh said. The city is booming like people say and development and especially downtown development show how desirable Sanford is.

"Sanford interests me for that reason," the new city manager said.

Upcoming for the city is a new public safety building. He said a referendum may be coming in the spring with a proposal to build a much-needed facility for police and fire.

Kiwanis Club members asked about the location for the new building. Originally, the plan was to construct it at the Farmer's Market, but the state is not interested in letting that acreage go. Instead, nearby property across from Sanford Middle School is being considered now, he said.

In his experience, he added, the situation with the police and fire departments is unique as far as their cooperation on a new facility to house both.

"That's fairly unusual," he said of the cooperation. "Typically both want their own little empires."

Yeh said he believes workers' performances are affected by their environment, so the new safety complex is important.

Another question centered on the proposed 20-story condominium project along the lakefront west of downtown.

The CRA has given verbal approval to the project, and Yeh said the city commission is expected to hear a formal proposal at its first meeting in December. That decision will be important, he added, because it will make a statement about the city.

One concern is whether there are enough downtown services to handle the people who move into the proposed 444-unit condominium. A difficult question that many cities face is whether the people should move in first and then business will follow, or does it work the other way around.

There was also a mention about improvements to the north shore beach and attracting a regatta back to Sanford. Yeh said the city could use more boat slips as well.

He suggested that Sanford is not using the resource of the river enough. "Clearly we want to make it more user friendly," he said.

Sanford has gone through some extreme changes in the last six years or so, Yeh said.

As the year 2005 comes to a close, the city is home to about 50,000 people. In the year 2000, that number was just 36,000. By the year 2010, the population is expected to climb to 63,000.

"Sanford is going to change," Yeh predicted. "What's important is how we remedy that change."

He vowed that his door is open to anyone who wants to call on him at City Hall.

"I have an open door policy," Yeh said. "Don't hesitate to contact me."

Thanksgiving

Another Thanksgiving is coming up this Thursday. We have, in one way or another, observed this event beginning with the Pilgrims landing on Plymouth Rock, Massachusetts, on Dec. 21, 1620.

Youngsters are told that the Pilgrims, having a bountiful harvest of crops within a few years, decided to observe the anniversary with a feast, at which time they invited local Native Americans (Indians) to attend. We all grew up believing that the Pilgrims had turkey and dressing, yams or sweet potatoes, cranberry sauce, and either apple or pumpkin pie. Recently someone also stressed that ham should be added to the traditional Thanksgiving meal.

Nick Pfeifauf

Anyone remembering the column I wrote on the subject last year, will possibly recall the list of foods I had, which they say were actually presented at that time. They hadn't started growing cranberries or sweet potatoes in the early colonies, and whether the Indians managed to obtain a turkey, which would have been wild, remains questionable.

Nevertheless, they probably did have a feast, and it is known that there were Indians on hand. After all, they did make a few friends among the natives, although others probably would have felt better scalping the Pilgrims rather than sharing a meal with them.

Can you imagine what those first few years were like? The Mayflower landed near the area in December, and while Governor William Bradford wrote that it was a beautiful area and he expected it to be fit for growing and shipping, the temperatures were not exactly what I would call comfortable. It was probably in the 40's during the day, and down to the 30's or even 20's at night. That is not conducive for the planting of crops, and they had to spend most of their time constructing some form of cover to protect them from the elements, and obtaining wood for fires to keep them warm and allow for cooking.

During the first years of their stay at Plymouth Rock, it is estimated that half of them died, from exposure to the elements, or sickness.

There were times, especially early in their trek, that there was hardly any food. The winters were freezing. Some became homesick for their old homes and wondered if they could ever get back there. There was a situation probably none of us today would want to go through.

Yet, legend has it, and I believe it, they did have a feast, and rather than bemoan their situation, gave thanks for their crops, and the lives of those still among them.

Aren't we in a similar situation? We have a war going on in Iraq. There are terrorist bombings in various parts of the world. We haven't even come close to eliminating (or reducing) poverty at home or in various other nations. Some of the hurricane disasters still need to be cleared up. Yet, this Thursday, on Thanksgiving, most of us WILL be giving thanks for what we have, for the lives of those still with us, and for knowing others who may not be with us any longer.

Thanksgiving is a family event. Gather everyone around the table for whatever feast you may have, and if you don't normally do it by habit, do it for this special occasion — Say a prayer for your blessings.

Chair: Chamber wanted Mardi party to continue

To the Editor:

Let's not be so quick to condemn the Chamber.

Sanford's Mardi Gras is a great event and the Sanford Chamber wanted to put on the 2006 Mardi Gras just as we have for the past three years. Not just the parade but the street vendors, the entertainment, the rides, the games, the displays; all of the wonderful things that make the Mardi Gras one of the most interesting, successful and celebrated events in Sanford.

The success of the event means different things to different people. Kids love the rides, games, colorful party atmosphere, and all of the excitement of Mardi Gras. It is truly a family affair. Sanford gains recognition among neighboring communities for the friendly, welcoming nature of our residents and businesses. The businesses have a landmark day of sales and advertising. Theo Hollerbach, owner of the Willow Tree Café told me at lunch Thursday of record sales the day of Mardi Gras and other business owners have reported to the Chamber that this is their biggest day of the year.

Based on the success of the previous three Mardi Gras celebrations, the Chamber asked the City of Sanford to add the Mardi Gras to their list of signature events. Those on the list do not pay for city support such as fire, police and sanitation. The cost equates to $32,000, which was paid for by the City for the last three years. The City Commission voted unanimously for a list that did not include Mardi Gras, which means that the Chamber would have had to raise an additional $32,000 to pay for the above services. The notification of this in September made it a major timing issue to raise the additional funds.

The mission of the Sanford/Seminole County Chamber of Commerce is to create and maintain an environment where business and community will prosper by several means including, but in no means limited to, "supporting all projects, activities, and events which will contribute to the positive growth and development of the Chamber service area". The key word here is SUPPORT. It takes more than money for a successful event. It takes time, manpower and partners. The Chamber was put in a position where it would have consumed all of our President's time to put on this event properly. This is not what the Chamber membership pays her to do. The Chamber is here to act as a liaison between the residents and visitors with the business community. We are here to act as a tourism center, a new business center, a relocation center, a distribution center for businesses and non-profit organizations, a public relations and welcome center. We are here to promote and assist new businesses by helping with Grand Openings and Business after Hours opportunities. We are here to conduct realtor tours as it relates to our schools and produce business expos. In other words, we are here to promote and grow business opportunities for the members of our Chamber. Yes, events like Mardi Gras are wonderful events which brings needed attention to and promotes our great community — but it can only happen with partners.

For the past two years, the city has given the Chamber $35,000 annually for services on their behalf. This is neither a donation nor a gift. The $35,000 from the City covers a list of services the Chamber is to provide throughout the year.

This year, the financial arrangement with the City was first delayed, then changed. The Chamber submitted the usual invoice to the City and the City withheld payment pending a new contract. In the new contract, the requirements for services had doubled. Additionally, the contract includes a scheduled decrease in funding while the new services will remain constant. The payment schedule changed from a single October payment to half in October, half in April. What does all this mean? His change in cash flow would strain the Chamber's finances to the point of not being able to pay for Mardi Gras.

The city does not owe this money to the Chamber and there is no requirement for the City to provide any funding or support to the chamber. The Chamber is always grateful for the support of the City. However, if the Chamber does not have financial partners of this magnitude, the Chamber simply cannot pay for events such as Mardi Gras.

Ideally, the Mardi Gras would make a profit and become self-supporting but it does not. The money the Chambers makes on Mardi Gras covers expenses but does not provide a significant profit. The focus for the Chamber is to make Mardi Gras a magnificent event and we put the money we collect back into the event to guarantee its success.

The primary goal of the Chamber is to help bring new business and economic strength to Sanford and to support and promote our existing businesses. The Chamber hopes that we will be able to arrange a more equitable partnership with the City of Sanford and continue to host successful celebrations such as Mardi Gras and others in the future.

Thank you.

The Way We Were:

News from 1870s, 1880s

The following was edited from the Florida Times Union as found in the transcription made by the Museum of Seminole County History and the Seminole County Historical Society. These are now in several books available at the museum.

Grace Maria Stinecpher

August 1877

The editor of the Fort Reid newspaper wishes that a liquor store be established there. Would that add to the prosperity of the place?

September 5, 1877

The growth of Sanford has been so rapid that the citizens deem it necessary to incorporate it. This will take place on the 39th by the electing of officers. We will give further information next week. (But there was no further information).

October 27, 1877

The community will be gratified to know that Mr. J.B. Wister will be with us again this winter. He writes that he will assume the management of Sanford House and the Lake Monroe House. He has 18 rooms already engaged and anticipates a lively season. He will cater to all the wishes of our amusement loving young folks and there will be pleasant socials at the Sanford House which will be looked forward to. The Sanford House will be opened about December 1.

Messrs. Pearson and Hull, agents, have commenced the construction of an extensive addition to the Sanford House. The new building will be 35 x 55 feet, two stories high and will be used for an orange packing house and warehouse.

November 1877

General Henry Shelton Sanford has been appointed to the Belgian Mission on November 3, 1877.

November 3, 1877

Early in the season, we offered a one year subscription to the Journal for the largest watermelon and a six months subscription to the second largest. We take pleasure in announcing the awards: Mr. C.H. Beck, whose melon weighed 48 pounds, and Mr. Homer Brooks, whose melon weighed 41 pounds.

December 3, 1877

The new steamer Georgia arrived Thursday night and will take her place on the daily mail line to Lake Monroe on Tuesday. It has a staunch complete propeller and has a convenient cabin for passengers. Her speed is said to be good.

Improvement in Sanford is becoming a great nuisance. From our office, the large carriage shop entirely shuts off the view of Sanford Avenue and Dr. French's tasty, gothic cottage, completely hides the fine view we had of the Episcopal Church and Eureka Avenue. There have been 12 new houses in Sanford since the first of January which is calculated to make the eyes of the old settlers stick out with amazement.

December 17, 1877

The Sanford House threw open its doors for the season on December 1. Several guests arrived the previous evening and several on Tuesday.

Now that all scare the danger from yellow fever at Jacksonville and Points below are over, the season promises to be a thronged one and profitable to our hotels.

The Sanford House offers unusual facilities for pleasure seekers, sportsmen and invalids as the rooms are finely furnished and each has either a stove or fireplace. Billiards, Ten pin, croquet, boating, hunting, fishing, are all at hand and Mr. Wister has purchased over two dozen decoy ducks for sportsmen.

December 31, 1877

Mr. Wister is having a flagstaff, 70-feet high raised in the front of his Sanford House. He will hang the starry banner there.

January, 1878

Sanford has the prospect of hearing the "toot toot" of the steam engine whistle. A capitalist has offered to grade the road and furnish the crossties.

November 27, 1881

Horses are dying from pink eye in Sanford. The Orlando councilmen are "on the outs" and hold no meetings nowadays.

December 16, 1881

The Sanford and Palatka Railroad organized last week by electing J.H. Campbell treasurer, S.B. Harrington, secretary, C.F. Lansong, president, J.A. MacDonald, general superintendent and civil engineer, and T.E. Wilson, attorney. A board of five directors was also elected.

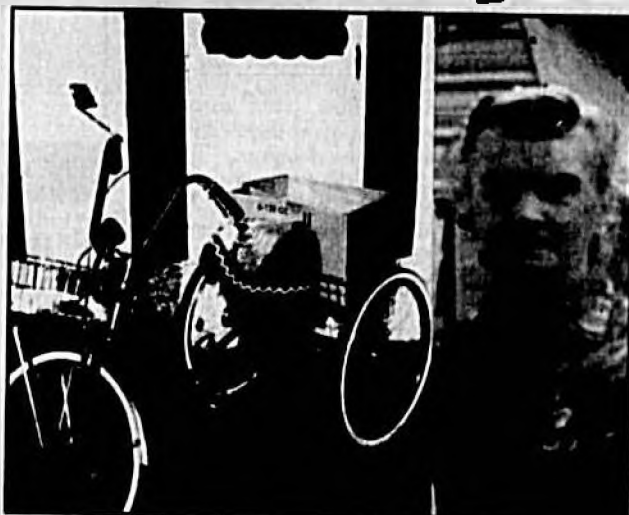

December 20, 1881

The South Florida Railroad will soon be running to Kissimmee where a fine hotel is going up. The car shops here are busy. Two passenger coaches are being built and two elegant coaches are on their way to Sanford. Iron has arrived for the construction of 10 more cars and iron has been ordered for 20 more. A two-story depot will be built immediately.

January 18, 1882

On October 23, 1875, Captain B.F. Whitner and his father began clearing land near Lake Jessup for an orange grove. The first tree was cut on that day and the first orange trees set out on August 1876. The grove at present is an alternation of seedlings and budded trees. The grove covers about 20 acres and the crop being shipped this year will reach 50,000 to 60,000 oranges. This is the first season that fruit has been shipped from this grove.

Veterans visiting Veterans

Members of Gaines Morgan Post 17 and Auxiliary share Veterans Day with shut-in veterans at the Healthcare and Rehabilitation Center.

Stetson's Corner Education for all

"A Strong America Starts with Great Public Schools"—was the theme for national American Education Week celebrated, Nov. 13-19. Each day of the week had a topic:

Monday, Nov. 14: AEW Nationwide Kick-Off Celebration;

Tuesday, Nov. 15: Invite Parents to School Day;

Wednesday, Nov. 16: Education Support Professionals Day;

Thursday, Nov. 17: Teacher for a Day;

Friday, Nov. 18: Substitute Educators Day.

We hope that many parents took advantage of Tuesday November 15, "National Invite Parents to School Day." Parents were invited to experience a day at school with their children with the goal of highlighting parental involvement. As the NEA points out, involved parents generally produce kids with less absenteeism, improved performance, and increased confidence in the educational system.

Education Support Professionals Day or ESP, celebrated the many support professionals involved in educating our kids. Custodians, secretaries, nurses, bus drivers, class aides, cafeteria workers, maintenance, and more serve shoulder to shoulder with teachers in our public schools. Their roles are invaluable and have been publicly recognized as "essential and equal partners" since 1987 when the NEA changed the name from Support Personnel to Support Professionals.

Teacher for a Day was an interactive program where community leaders took on the many roles that teachers perform for the day, such as teaching, lunch and corridor duty, study hall, and recess supervision.

Substitute Educators Day celebrated the important link our substitute teachers provide in the educational process. The focus improves the "respect" level for these educators who have not always received their due from kids and our culture in general.

Principal Karen Coleman from Geneva Elementary recently spoke at the Geneva Homemakers' Association monthly meeting. Her genuine concern and caring was evident as she spoke about what a privilege and joy it is each day to greet 510 wonderful kids each morning.

We say "We love you" to the students and we say it often," said Principal Coleman.

"For some children who come from families that are able to meet their needs, the Geneva faculty and staff are the 'icing' on the cake; for others, we are 'the cake and the icing too'."

Geneva residents should be so proud of the continuing efforts that Principal Coleman and her team make every day at Geneva Elementary, 4 years in a row, a 5 star A+ school!

Parents can find additional opportunities for involvement by checking out the NEA website, www.nea.org/parents which has many links to enhance parents' own understanding of their children's school experience. The NEA promotes involvement as soon as possible—like starting early in fostering a home environment that encourages learning. Easy tips like limiting television, providing an organized, quiet study area, and checking homework are a few of the many suggestions.

Some of the links provide parental guides in English and Spanish on tricky subjects like how to help with homework that parents may not understand, how to help with special needs children, and how to apply for additional help like tutoring, small group, or computer learning. This is part of the "No child left behind program." Did you know there are homework hotlines for parents to check on what homework should be in progress? There is also information on how to help your child organize his time, develop better study habits, help your child understand how much time your child should be spending on their homework, and even how to set up a portfolio of best homework pieces. There are also suggestions about studying and reviewing subjects when your child says, "I don't have any homework." This is all part of developing a culture of wanting to learn above and beyond specific assignments.

Another "roadmap for success" in addition to the three R's is what the NEA calls "Building Resilience." This involves building support and communication skills by focusing on character building like respect, caring, embracing challenges, and meeting higher expectations. For parents it also involves supporting teachers, attending parent-teacher conferences, and being very engaged in the school curriculum and educational issues. In short students should feel that they are supported and respected both at school and at home.

Seminole county parents, understand the huge emphasis on Reading especially at the Elementary levels. Reading aloud to your children is one of the single most important actions to foster and support a lifelong love of reading. Talking about stories and books is also key. Volunteering to help kids with reading is another great way of making a positive difference. Thanks to the NEA for their informative website which provided most of this information.

At any age we should borrow the inspiration of our public, private, and home schools and make the time to educate ourselves. By learning new subjects studies show that we can fend off age related mental issues like dementia and Alzheimer's disease. Taking up a hobby or classes in the arts, computers, or a physical activity is fantastic stimulation for our brains. Joining organizations that feature guest speakers is a less formal way to continue our education. Classes at the junior and four year colleges are always in demand in addition to schools like The Knowledge Shop that offer a world of learning opportunities. From Baby Einstein to centenarians, it's never too early or too late to foster a culture of learning.

We need you to tell us what you know that is good about Geneva! Please share your information, ideas and comments by calling 407-221-7002, via e-mail at karenmphilips@bellsouth.net, (please put "Stetson's Corner" in the subject line), or with a fax to 407-349-2800. Thanks!

Love greets you at the Trinity door

Trinity United Methodist Church, "Where Love and Concern Greet You at the Door", Rev. Donna M. Latham, pastor, and the community, joined in the celebration of the 126th anniversary of the church Sunday, Nov. 13 at 3 p.m. It was a worship and praise service with the theme, "126 years Walking By Faith".

Mistress of ceremonies for the event was Minister Francis Oliver.

Marva Hawkins

The Christian fellowship was led with prayer by Deacon Roosevelt Cummings, with Scripture by Alder Craig, and responsive reading by Gregory Robinson. Guests were welcomed by Cheryl Sheppard, musical renditions were given by Oliver Harold and Albertha Taylor. The audience enjoyed a musical selection by Joanna Smith.

The messenger of the occasion was introduced by his wife, Shawntara Edwards. She presented the Rev. Sammie Edwards, pastor of the Bethlehem House of Prayer, a Sanford native son. His message of knowledge and change came from Romans. Pastor Edwards encouraged us to change our attitudes and God will change our minds.

Rev. Edwards truly fed us from the Holy Word. Pastor Donna Latham extended the invitation to Christian Discipleship.

Spiritually filled music was rendered by the Bethlehem House of prayer choir under the direction of musician Cynthia C. Brown.

Thanks and words of appreciation were extended by chairpersons Kathryn Alexander, Albertha Taylor, Pastor Latham, and the Trinity United Methodist church, "Still Walking by Faith after 126 Years."

Crooms Academy classes of 1961, 1962, and friends are invited to an update-planning meeting for those who will be in the Sanford area for the Thanksgiving holiday.

Local resident and vice president Mary Jelks, Audill and Tiny Hudnell will be in attendance hopefully, for the meeting.

All local Sanfordites, contact your classmates of 1961 and 1962 from Crooms Academy. Johnnie Harvey requests a donation of $10. See you Wednesday, Nov. 23, at 7 p.m. Place - IHOP Restaurant, on Highway 1-92, 3150 Orlando Drive, next to the Budget Inn. Phone 407-688-0899, and RSVP to Juanita Adams Golden at 407-323-7641.

Amvets Post No. 17 and Ladies Auxiliary of Gaines and Morgan Post observed Veterans Day on Friday, Nov. 11, after participating in the Sanford parade. Commander James Melton and Post members and women's auxiliary "We Care Day Committee" gathered to visit veterans that are shut-ins at the Good Samaritan Home and the Healthcare and Rehabilitation Center. (See photo above.)

America's veterans fully realize their responsibility to our community, state and nation.

Those who have served their country always have the desire to let those who are sick, wounded and are shut-ins, know that they are not forgotten and they are still recognized for their dedicated service to their country in all wars.

We salute those who helped keep our world safe.

Gaines/Morgan Post 17 talked with the veterans and presented each one with a "We Care Health Bag", with gifts.

Amvets Post No. 17 and Amvets Auxiliary Gaines and Morgan Amvets Post No. 17 invite the community to their annual Thanksgiving Dinner, Sunday, Nov. 20, at 3:30 p.m. at the Boys and Girls Club, 919 Persimmon Avenue.

If you need a ride, call 407-323-7722 or 407-322-7419 before noon.

James Melton, Commander, Patricia Andrews, Auxiliary President.

New Salem Primitive Baptist Church of Jesus Christ, Inc., "Winning the World To Christ", 1500 West 12th Street, Rev. Elder Ivory Amos, pastor, and the church family, invite everyone to observe "Homecoming", Sunday, Nov. 20 at the 11 a.m. worship service. Guest speaker will be the Rev. Jerry Hall of St. John Primitive Baptist Church in Mims.

Guards

Holmes could not say how many voted to indict, but said more information would come out once the indicted people were in custody. He also could not say how many people were indicted.

McGill, 16, was shot in the car he drove with three passengers. McGill did not have a license to drive, according to police.

Two white security guards, Bryan Ansley and William

Swofford, had approached the vehicle. They opened fire claiming they feared for their lives because McGill had hit one his passengers who had just exited the car, police reports said.

"They haven't arrested them yet, but we are encouraged that this is a step in the right direction," Francis said Friday. McGill's family and the Seminole County chapter of the NAACP had criticized the Sanford Police Department for not arresting the guards the day of the shooting.

"The indictments at least initiate the legal process that we said should have taken place that first night," said Turner Clayton Jr., president of the local NAACP. He said it shows that all along the police had enough probable cause to arrest the two guards.

"This is just the beginning, but we are happy that the citizens of Sanford saw fit to have these guys indicted," Francis said.

The indictments also allow Bostic to file a wrongful death civil lawsuit against Ansley's Lake Mary-based security company called Community Enforcement and Country Lake Apartments.

"We wanted to ensure that we in no way interfered with the criminal investigation, but now that the indictments have taken place, we feel that we can now move forward with our civil case," Francis said Friday.

Holmes, the assistant state attorney, said he had the utmost respect for the work that the grand jury does. He noted how hard members worked over three days to make their decision.

The grand jury operates on a burden of probable cause, just as a law enforcement officer would, he said, but the trial jury will have to determine the case under a tougher standard, beyond reasonable doubt.

Athletics

Athletics Study survey of SCC faculty members to get their opinions.

In its final recommendation, the Athletics Program Study Committee deemed SCC sports as both effective and efficient.

Considering the controversy generated in August when talk of cutting Athletics first surfaced, the Tuesday night announcement was anti-climactic.

The August Board of Trustees meeting took place in a board room overflowing with concerned players, coaches, faculty members, students, and community members.

The crowd in attendance at the Nov. 25 meeting included members of the study committee, Athletic Director John Scarpino, baseball coach Mike Nicholson, a handful of faculty members and curious students.

Now that the program's fate is settled, the focus now becomes fundraising. Scarpino will focus on developing ways to increase the community, athletic booster, and corporate financial support of SCC Athletics.

Two-thirds of the $770,000 annual operating budget for 2005/2006 SCC Athletics Program comes from the Student Government Association's $1.3 million annual budget — money gathered in the form of fees attached to tuition costs.

Cutting athletics would have saved the college a little over $200,000 in general operating funds out of the 2005/2006 operating budget of $48 million.

Board of Trustees member Rick Lee asked about fundraising efforts to offset some of the cost of the program. These costs include scholarship amounts, new lights for the baseball field and general operating funds.

There are tentative plans to relocate the baseball field and equip the fields with lights in hopes of drawing more people to night games. SCC baseball and softball games are currently played in the mid-afternoon.

"I think we need to do every thing we can to make that [the Athletic Department] an excellent program at this college, just like we do with everything else that we do," Lee said.

"I don't think it's an excellent program because of some of the facilities we use. Whatever we can do to help out, that's our job. I think the right decision was made to keep it."

"Five or six years down the road, young men and women will have no idea that this occurred and they'll have a place to play," Scarpino said.

Lady Raiders Coach Tara Gibson said the athletic program impacts the lives of these young students.

"Right now, I think what's important is that we make sure we incorporate athletics into the rest of the campus... that we get more campus spirit and more community spirit," Gibson said.

Deputies said Alisa Freeburn called 911 Nov. 5. A firefighter on the scene described the woman as "alooof" and unconcerned initially, the arrest report said.

She became quite upset, later, and the same firefighter saw her at the hospital two days after the incident. She appeared shaken up, he told investigators.

South Seminole Hospital notified the Sheriff's Office Nov. 11 after receiving the toxicology report from Mayo Medical Laboratories. The report said Richard had 13.7 mEq/L of ethylene glycol, or anti-freeze, in his system. Any amount greater than or equal to 2 mEq/L is toxic and greater than 20 is lethal, the lab report said.

Investigators interviewed Richard Nov. 11 in the intensive care unit. They met Alisa at the Sheriff's Office later that day. She signed a consent to search the house. The tumbler Richard described as drinking the liquid from was in the dishwasher, the arrest report said. No anti-freeze was located.

Alisa Freeburn was arrested at Lake Mary High School Nov. 15. She was charged with premeditated attempted murder.

Gifts

To kick off the event, area leaders will gather "Gifts for the Gulf" at Lake Mary Fire Station No. 37, 911 Wallace Court, at noon, Monday, Nov. 21.

The general public is also invited to drop off donations at any fire station located in Seminole County from Nov. 21 to Dec. 9.

Residents are in need of all the basic living essentials, however, the specific items requested are:

- New, unwrapped toys, bikes, games, puzzles, books, crossword;

SEALS MAKE CHANGE

The Florida Seals made a roster move heading into their three game weekend. Forward Rob Sich has been added to the roster and will wear number 20.

Sich comes to Florida after starting the season with Flint in the United Hockey League (UHL). The 6-foot 190-pounder played in six games registering one point and four penalty minutes. Head Coach Tommy Stewart expects the newest Seal to work hard and add to the scoring punch the Seals are looking for.

"Rob scored over 40 goals in juniors so I know he can put the puck in the net," said Stewart. "He will also be a guy that can work hard in the corners for us and make a difference moving the puck."

To make room on the roster the Seals have waived Don Patrick. The rookie played in six games and scored one goal. Patrick's goal was historic as it was the first goal ever scored in the Silver Spurs Arena.

The Seals have had a busy week, wrapping up a three-game homestand tonight (Saturday) with "Coggin Choertix Night."

Fans are asked to bring a canned food item to benefit Second Harvest Food Bank Of Central Florida. Every fan that brings a canned good will receive a free ticket to the January 11 game. The puck drops at 7:35 p.m. for each game.

Lake Brantley drops a heartbreaker

By Dean Smith
Herald Staff

For the second straight year, the Lake Brantley High School football team saw a late lead evaporate as the powerful Edgewater Eagles rallied to nip the Patriots, 27-24, in a Class 6A-Region 1 Semifinal Friday night at Tom Storey Field.

Things did not much better for Lyman as the Greyhounds saw their tremendous season come to an end at the hands of Niceville High School, 27-7, in a Class 5A-Region 1 Semifinal in the Panhandle. Lyman ends the season with an 8-3 season, while Niceville improves to 10-1 and advances to take on Palm Bay in the 5A-Region 1 Finals.

Lake Brantley (7-5) played a great game but still trailed 14-10 at halftime. But the Patriots controlled the clock, and the ball, in the third quarter almost not allowing the Eagles to touch the ball.

Edgewater rallies late to oust Patriots; Lyman falls on the road

Lake Brantley took the lead on a long touchdown run by Bryan Bearden and then recovered a trick on-side kick to keep the ball.

The Patriots appeared to clinch the victory when their defense forced an Edgewater fumble in the end zone and the hosts recovered for a touchdown and a 24-14 lead with four minutes remaining.

But Edgewater, which has finished second in the state for three straight years, went on a quick 80-yard drive to cut the lead to 24-20 with two minutes left.

Lake Brantley was unable to kill the clock and was forced to punt after three plays.

The Eagles then got another drive started with the help of a 15-yard personal foul against the Patriots.

Edgewater unmercifully marched down the field and scored the game-winning touchdown on a run with just 20 seconds left on the clock.

While not exactly the same, the result mirrored last year's regional in which the Patriots dominated the game and had a lead late, only to see victory slip through their fingers.

The Eagles improve to 11-1 on the season and will travel to Winter Park to face the Wildcats, the team ended then No. 1 state-ranked Edgewater's undefeated season in the final week of the regular season, in the 6A-Region 1 Finals next Friday at Showalter Field.

Shootout at SCC

Raiders outscore Lancers in O.T.

By Dean Smith
Herald Staff

SANFORD — Freddie Williams saved the day and the perfect season for the Seminole Community College men's basketball team Tuesday night.

The 6-foot-1 freshman guard from Jacksonville scored a team-high 33 points, grabbed four rebounds and handed out six assists, but it was a little play in overtime that allowed the Raiders to regain the momentum and control of the game as the hosts improved to 3-0 with an amazing 112-111 victory over Manatee Community College at the SCC Health and Physical Education Center.

After a phenomenal regulation in which SCC let a lead slip away late and the Lancers (1-2) hit a tying three-pointer at the final horn to send the game into overtime, the two teams traded the lead back-and-forth over the three-and-a-half minute of the five minute overtime period.

Then came Williams' heroic effort. After hitting a jumper to put the Raiders

Freshman shooting guard Freddie Williams (No. 5, above) scored a team-high 33 points, including six in overtime, and also had four rebounds and six assists and sophomore center Jerome Boyd (No. 52, right) scored 18 points, four on two crucial layups in overtime, and also had nine rebounds and two steals as the Seminole Community College men's basketball team remained undefeated after three games with an amazing 112-111 overtime victory over Manatee Community College at the SCC Health and Physical Education Center Tuesday night.

Dodge named football finals sponsor

From Staff Reports

Dodge, the official car and truck of the Florida High School Athletic Association, has been named title sponsor of the Dodge FHSAA Football Finals state high school championship games effective with this year's event, the FHSAA office announced.

Dodge has been the presenting sponsor of the football finals since its corporate partnership with the FHSAA began in 1997. It's title sponsorship of the event is the first-ever title sponsorship of a state high school championship event in the 85-year history of the Association.

The FHSAA also unveiled a new official logo for the event in which the Dodge name and familiar Rams head logo figure prominently.

"I can think of no better corporation than Dodge with which to share billing in the name of an FHSAA Finals event," said Commissioner John A. Stewart. "It's the first time ever that the Association will place a corporate partner's name in the title of an event, more less ahead of the Association's own. It's a big step. Of course, Dodge was our first-ever presenting sponsor in 1997, so it's only natural that we take this next step with them."

Raiders remain perfect

Women rally in second half

By Dean Smith
Herald Staff

SANFORD — Self discipline and adherence to rules are important.

That is one of the main things most coaches try to instill in college athletes, but sometimes a coach has to take action.

That is exactly what first-year Seminole Community College women's head basketball coach Tara Gibson did for the second time this season on Tuesday, benching a pair of starters for the first half for violating team rules.

Then when another potential starter, redshirt freshman small forward Lindsey Violette, was forced to sit out because of a sprained knee in practice, the Raiders went into the game with Indian River Community College needing a boost from their bench.

And that's what Gibson got as sophomore point guard Tiffany Scott and redshirt freshman center Aneika Henry rose to the occasion in the first half to keep SCC in the game and the rest of the team responded in the second half as the Raiders rallied to defeat the Pioneers (2-3), 76-71, in the opening game of a women's/men's doubleheader at the SCC Health and Physical Education Center.

The SCC women remain undefeated with the victory, improving to 3-0 on the season heading into their first road action of the season.

The Raiders should get an indication of how good they are playing as they are in Ocala playing in the Central Florida Community College Classic. SCC opened the tough three-day event with a game against Okaloosa-Walton Community College on Friday and will face Tallahassee Community College today (Saturday) at 2 p.m. and then conclude with a 1 p.m. contest Sunday against Miami-Dade Community College.

The team will then take most of Thanksgiving week off before returning to the court next Saturday (November 26th) to host national-power Cincinnati State College at 2 p.m. at the SCC Health and Physical Education Center. The women will also be at home next Sunday, welcoming Palm Beach Community College to town for a 3 p.m. tip-off. Admission to all home games is free.

Missing three of their main cogs did not hurt the Raiders at the start on Tuesday as the hosts raced out to a 13-4 lead.

But IRCC came roaring back, scoring 15 unanswered points to take a 19-13 lead and the Pioneers maintained the lead the remainder of the half, building the margin to seven points, 36-29, at intermission.

Henry, a 6-foot-3 post player from Coral Gables, and Scott, the 5-foot-3 jet from Port St. Lucie, kept SCC in the game as Henry dropped in 11 points and Scott hit three three-pointers for nine points.

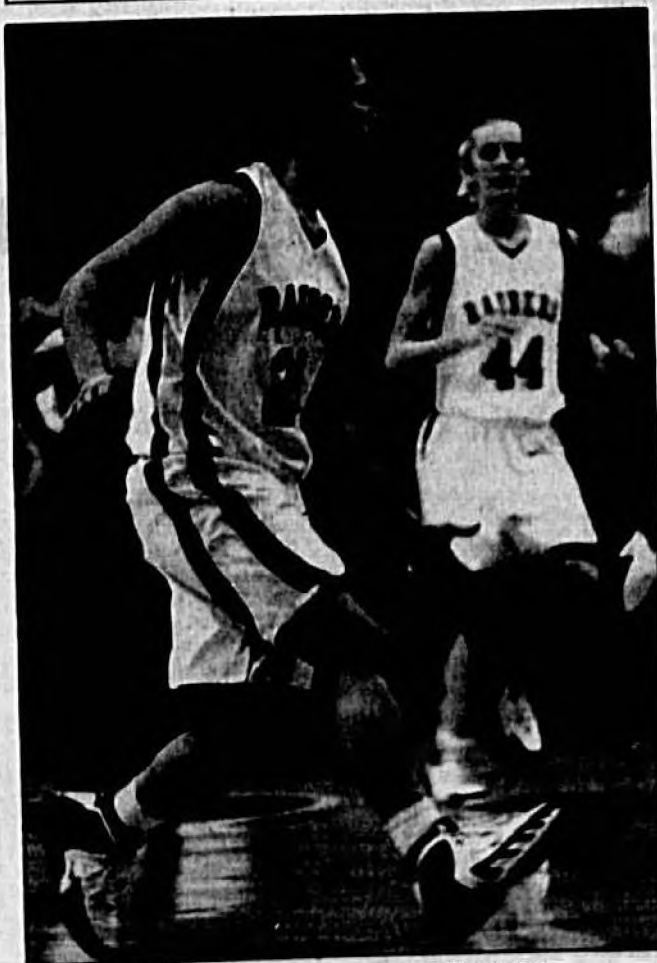

But the normally balanced SCC attack was held in check by a slew of turnovers as only four players scored in the first 20 minutes.

Sophomores Tamara Layton and Rita Grayson chipped in with seven points and two points, respectively.

Back at almost full strength to begin the second half, the Raiders still struggled during the early part of the second half, getting as close as four points, but not quite being able to gain the momentum.

SCC was still down by as many as 10 points with under 10 minutes to play, but the Raiders

Oviedo High School graduate Sis LoSauro (No. 24, above) was 3-for-3 from three-point range and scored 11 points in the second half, helping the Seminole Community College women's basketball team rally from a seven-point halftime deficit to defeat Indian River Community College, 76-71, at the SCC Health and Physical Education Center on Tuesday and improve to 3-0 on the season.

All Souls girls romp to CMAC championship

Vergara, Jessica Russi lead Bears to perfect 12-0 record

Special to the Herald

It's been quite a season for girls' varsity basketball team from All Souls Catholic School.

The Lady Bears began the school year by competing in the Catholic Middle School Athletic Conference (CMAC), a league comprised of 12 Catholic schools in the Diocese of Orlando, and dominated the regular season, posting a perfect 9-0 record.

That gave All Souls the No. 1 seed and the team headed into the tournament with an abundance of spirit and determination.

The Lady Bears continued their winning ways in the tournament, winning easily in the Quarterfinals over Holy Family and in the Semifinals over St. Andrews to earn a spot in the Championship Game opposite the No. 2 seed from Good Shepherd.

For one of the few times this season, All Souls was put to the test and the game turned into a hotly contested, edge-of-the-seat game with the Lady Bears eking out a 28-26 victory to become the 2005 CMAC Varsity Girls Basketball Champions!

Jessica Russi led All Souls in scoring with 12 points, but it was an outstanding defensive effort from Brittany Nooney throughout the game that proved to be the difference.

Nooney also got to be in the offensive spotlight at the end as her layup with 4.4 seconds showing on the clock led the victory for the Lady Bears.

Following the tournament, Jessica Russi, the team's point guard, and forward Monica

The Lady Bears Varsity Girls basketball team from All Souls Catholic School has gone 20-0 and won two championships in the past six months, the latest being the Catholic Middle School Athletic Conference (CMAC) Tournament title. Following the tournament Monica Vergara and Jessica Russi (left to right in photo at left) were named to the 2005 CMAC All-Star Team. Members of the All Souls Lady Bears (above) were (back row, left to right) Monica Vergara, Meg Frank, Brittany Nooney, (middle, left to right) Theresa Moore, Sara Russi, (front, left to right) Jillian Holt, Jessica Russi (with ball) and Gina Scheraldi.

Vergara were selected to the CMAC All-Star Team for their outstanding play throughout the season.

The team, which also went 8-0 over the summer to win the championship in the CYL (Catholic Youth League) basketball program, is coached by Cheryl Russi and in addition to Jessica Russi, Vergara and Nooney, other members of the team are Meg Frank, Jillian Holt, Theresa Moore, Sara Russi and Gina Scheraldi.

A banner will be raised in the All Souls Gymnasium later this month in recognition of the team's accomplishments.

Every member of the team is in their final year at All Souls Catholic School and all of their teamwork and dedication has resulted in a 20-0 record and two championship trophies this year, giving the team four CYL championships, two CMAC championships and two school banners during their time at the school.

"We are grateful to the Florida Dodge Dealers and South Florida Dodge Dealers for their continued support of high school sports and the FHSAA."

"We have been proud to support the FHSAA and the football finals since 1997," said Chris Smith, treasurer of the Florida Dodge Dealers. "We are excited to be the first title sponsor of this prestigious event. Our commitment to high school athletics is equal to our commitment to the local communities of which our dealerships are an integral part. High school sports exemplify teamwork, sacrifice and dedication. Dodge is proud to support the athletes, parents, coaches and fans of high school sports in Florida."

The 2005 Dodge FHSAA Football Finals will be played Dec. 1, 2, 3, 9 and 10 in Miami. Games on Dec. 1, 2 and 3 will be played at Florida International University Community Stadium. Games on Dec. 9 and 10 will be played at Dolphins Stadium, the site of Super Bowl XXIII in 1989, Super Bowl XXIX in 1995 and Super Bowl XXXIII in 1999, and the future site of Super Bowl XLII in 2007 and Super Bowl XLIV in 2010. Dolphins Stadium also is the site of the FedEx Orange Bowl, which doubled as the 2000 and 2004 BCS national college championship games.

CLASS 5A CHAMPIONSHIP GAME LIVE Sun Sports and FHSAA has announced that the Class 5A championship game to be played Friday, Dec. 9, will be televised live statewide with the exception of the South Florida market, which instead will see the Miami Heat host the Denver Nuggets in NBA action.

The live telecast will be the first of an FHSAA Football Finals state championship game since the 1984 Class 4A championship game between Miami Southridge and Woodham in Pensacola.

CLASS 2A CHAMPIONSHIP GAME RESCHEDULED FOR THURSDAY, DEC. 1 The Class 2A championship game originally scheduled for 7 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 3 at FIU Community Stadium, has been moved to 7 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 1. The switch was made at the request of FIU officials so that the Panthers can play a makeup game with Middle Tennessee State, which originally was scheduled for Oct. 29, but was postponed because of Hurricane Wilma.

"FIU has been extremely cooperative with the FHSAA," Stewart said. "They have provided their facilities for the boys volleyball finals the last two years, and now the first weekend of football finals this year. We're happy that we are able to return the favor by assisting them with their scheduling dilemma."

The FHSAA office contacted several top-ranked schools in Class 2A and Class 2B that have the potential of reaching the respective championship games and discussed a number of scenarios with them before reaching its decision.

STATE BOWLING Seminole County came away with a pair of sixth place finishes at the 2005 FHSAA Bowling Finals at Boardwalk Bowl in Orlando.

Lake Mary's girls team finished sixth after being eliminated in the semifinals. The other local girls' squad, Lyman, was ousted after the first day and finished 21st.

On the boys' side, both Oviedo and Lake Brantley failed to advance past Day 2 with the Lions finishing 10th and the Patriots 16th.

Individually, Oviedo's Mark Labalbo finished a respectable sixth, accumulating 2,650 pins in 12 games, finishing less than 200 pins behind champion Paxon from Apopka, who racked up a score of 2,811, and just 129 pins out of second.

In the District 4 Tournament, the Lions and Lake Brantley had earned trips to state, by finishing ahead of third place Lake Mary.

Winter Springs wrestling team off to impressive 2-0 start

From Staff Reports

Two matches, two romps. The Winter Springs High School Wrestling Team kicked off the 2005-06 season with a 77-6 win over visiting Lake Howell in "The Den" Wednesday night and then came right back on Thursday, with a 71-6 win over Lake Mary at home.

Alex Curley, JJ Morgan, Kevin Dietrick, Dwayne Tolleson, Brandon Hatchett, Cameron Nerelm, Ian Murphy, Robbie Lucero, Brandon Bonham and Luther Walls each recorded falls (pins), while Dan Rivera added a technical fall, and Morgan Beveridge and Joel Merchant received forfeits to close out the scoring for the Bears against the Silver Hawks.

Dietrick and Nerelm each picked up hard-fought wins and Rivera scored his second consecutive technical fall to close out the scoring against the Rams.

Kroker.

On Thursday, The Master's Academy won its second straight game, edging Hagerty, 42-35. Again it was Frisz (19 points) and Daimwood (eight points) leading the way for the Eagles, while King dropped in a game-high 21 points for the Huskies.

Birthdays

Compiled by Nick Pfeiffaut Staff Writer

Saturday, Nov. 19 is the anniversary of the birth of Roy Campanella. He was born in Philadelphia, Penn. in 1921 and was one of the first black major leaguers and a star of one of baseball's greatest teams, the Brooklyn Dodgers, "Boys of Summer".
Campanella, as he was known by his friends, was named National League MVP three times during his 10 years of active play. He had his highest batting average in 1951 (.325) and in 1953 he established three single-season records for a catcher - most putouts (807), most home runs (41) and most runs batted in (142). That year he had a batting average of .312.
His career was cut short on Jan. 28, 1958 when an automobile accident left him paralyzed. He gained still more fame after the accident as an inspiration and spokesman for the handicapped. He was named to the Baseball Hall of Fame in 1969. He died June 26, 1993 in Woodland Hills, California.

Nov. 19 is also the birthdays of Gail Deever, (1966), Olympic gold medal sprinter; Kerri Strug, Olympic gymnast (1977); and Ahmad Rashad (born Bobby Moore in 1949) sportscaster.

Nov. 20, 1866 was the birthday of Kenesa Mountain Landis. He was a baseball Hall of Fame executive and was the first Commissioner of Baseball. (Previously he was a Federal Judge). He ruled with a firm hand and imposed his view of how baseball should operate from the points of both players and owners. He was inducted into the Hall of fame in 1944.

Billie Jane King, famous tennis star was born on Nov. 1943.

Nov. 23, 1914 was the birthday of Emmett Littleton Ashford. He was the first black to officiate at a major league baseball game in 1966. He died March 1, 1980 in California.

UCF looks to clinch C-USA East title at Rice

Special to the Herald

The UCF Golden Knights (7-3, 6-1 Conference USA) will hit the road for the seventh and final time this year today (Saturday) to face the Rice Owls (1-8, 1-5 C-USA) for their last contest of the regular season. Kickoff at Rice Stadium is scheduled for 3 p.m. Eastern.

The Golden Knights, thanks to a Southern Miss loss last weekend, now control their own C-USA destiny. A UCF victory today would make the team Eastern Division champions and would give them a berth in the conference championship on Dec. 3. UCF has engineered a remarkable turnaround after its 0-11 campaign just a year ago and dropping the first two games this year. The Golden Knights have won seven of their past eight games and have solidified themselves as one of the nation's most improved teams with their plus-seven increase in victories in 2005.

The game will be televised on CSTV's "All-Access" package. Fans can view the game for free on Dish Network (channel 449), via pay-per-view through your local cable provider on digital cable and on the Internet at www.UCFathletics.com. Fans that have purchased the CSTV "All-Access" package through Bright House Networks in Orlando will be able to view the game on digital cable.

The UCF ISP Network and its flagship station 740-The Team AM (WQTM) will broadcast the game live. Marc Daniels will once again have the call with Gary Parris. Jerry O'Neill will handle the sideline duties. Network affiliates include WMMV-1350 in Cocoa, WDCF-1350 Dade City, WRDQ-1340 in Daytona Beach and WMMB-1240 Melbourne.

Fans looking for a more extensive preview and UCF head coach George O'Leary's thoughts on Rice, should tune into "The George O'Leary Show," which will air at 1 p.m. on WESH-2.

UCF is currently tied for third among the most improved teams in NCAA history. The victory against UAB on Nov. 12 made UCF the most improved team in the history of C-USA.

ABOUT RICE

Rice is coming off its first victory of the year, a 42-34 win over Tulane last Saturday. Prior to the win over the Green Wave, the Owls had owned the nation's longest current losing streak at 14 games. Rice, just like UCF, is wrapping up its first season in C-USA after nine years in the Western Athletic Conference.

The Owls come into the game with the number two rushing attack in the league and 13th overall in the country. Much of their rushing success is due to utilizing an offense that UCF has not seen this season.

"Well it is the wishbone (offense) and different formations with the wishbone," said O'Leary. "I think that is what makes it unique. You do not see it any other time during the year. It is the wishbone and then the quickness of the wishbone. You really can't duplicate it in practice."

"It breaks down the responsibilities of your defense in that somebody has the dive, somebody has the quarterback, somebody has the pitch and somebody has the play action. I always look at missed assignments because all it takes is one and somebody is running free."

Running back Quinton Smith leads the Owl rushing attack, averaging 6.4 yards per carry. He has rushed for 766 yards and four touchdowns on the season. John Hall has also had a successful season on the ground. He has rushed for 411 yards on just 75 carries this season and scored six touchdowns. Overall, the Owls have three players who have rushed for over 300 yards so far this season and as team they have accounted for 20 rushing touchdowns this year, compared to just five through the air.

Quarterbacks Chase Clement and Joel Armstrong have both split time under center this season. Clement has thrown for 469 yards and four touchdowns while Joel Armstrong has accounted for 343 yards and one touchdown.

The Rice defense has had its share of struggles this year. The Owls are giving up over 212 yards per game on the ground this year and over 460 total yards per game, ranking them near the bottom of both those statistical categories in both the conference and the nation. They are also giving up just over 42 points per game, ranking them 116th nationally in scoring defense.

Rice has had one of the tougher schedules in the country this year, facing three opponents that appeared in a bowl game last season: Texas, Navy and UCLA.

ABOUT UCF

The Golden Knights are coming off a 27-21 come from behind victory over host UAB last week. The victory over the Blazers was their second come from behind victory on the road this season.

Senior place kicker Matt Prater turned in his best performance of the year, converting on 4-of-5 field goal attempts, including two in the final five minutes to give the Golden Knights the victory. Prater was named C-USA Special Teams Player of the Week.

For the second week in a row, the UCF defense stepped up when it was needed the most. The Golden Knights forced four fourth quarter turnovers that put them in position to win the game.

"It is amazing that when you are playing well how many more opportunities you get through turnovers to make good things happen," said O'Leary.

Freshman cornerback Joe Burnett ranks second in C-USA in interceptions with five on the year. Burnett had an interception against UAB to help set up the final Prater field goal that put the Golden Knights up for good.

UCF has now recorded an interception in eight straight games and leads C-USA in turnover margin at plus-14.

Quarterback Steven Moffett continues to lead the offense. Despite having his streak of 12 straight games with at least one touchdown pass end, Moffett completed 15-of-24 passes for 183 yards with no interceptions against the Blazers. Moffett continues to be one of C-USA's most efficient passers as he is currently ranked third in the conference in passing efficiency.

Jason Peters and Kevin Smith continue to be a dual-threat in the UCF backfield. Peters ran for 87 yards and a touchdown, while Smith ran for 67 yards and the only other UCF touchdown a week ago. Smith and Peters have helped engineer a rushing attack that has averaged nearly 200 yards a game on the ground against C-USA opponents this year.

The UCF turnaround has helped gain some national attention as well. For the first time since 1998, the Golden Knights received votes in both top-25 polls this week.

Convention Center.
The event, which includes a $1 million prize fund and is the first in a series of International Pool Tour tournaments, will feature 42 professional pool players competing in three grueling days of 8-Ball round robin action, with the winner facing off against nine-time World Champion Mike Sigel for a chance to earn $200,000.

"The beauty of this event is that it will bring some of the greatest players in the history of the sport out of retirement and at the same time feature some of the best players currently making a living playing pool," Sigel said. "There are a lot of players who want to be part of this tour and I think it is exciting that only 150 have been given their card to play this year. Yes, the prize money is huge, but it is equally exciting to have all of these great players competing to keep their IPT card and continue to be part of this exciting renaissance of professional pool."

Sigel, considered by many the world's greatest living pool player, was crowned the IPT's World 8-Ball Champion after defeating Loriejon Jones last August in the inaugural IPT event. The field for the IPT King of the Hill Invitational includes 12 Hall of Famers and 30 of the hottest players in the sport competing for a chance to knock off Sigel. Among the players expected to compete in Orlando are legendary snooker champion Ronnie O'Sullivan; perhaps the greatest female player of all time, Allison Fisher; Corey Duel, one of the hot young guns on the IPT; former World Champion and 11-time WPBA champion Gerda Hofstatter; and four-time World Champion and winner of more than 40 titles, Johnny Archer.

"The International Pool Tour is taking professional pool to an entirely new level," said Kevin Trudeau, founder of the IPT. "We have combined real prize money with a top shelf television production package and have gathered 150 of the top pool players in the world under the International Pool Tour banner. We are committed to providing the best setting for pool the sport has ever seen."

Tickets range from $35 (general admission) to $75 (VIP reserved) each and are available by calling 847.850.2013 or online at www.internationalpooltour.com.

did not panic, realizing that they were starting to get the Pioneers under control and that there was still plenty of time left on the clock.

Redshirt freshman center Aneika Henry (No. 42) got her first start of the season on Tuesday and made the most of it with 15 points, 11 rebounds and four blocked shots in SCC's 78-71 victory over Indian River Tuesday night.

UCF signee Lynette Jackson, the 6-foot-4 sophomore center from Fayetteville, N.C., took over the game in the final 10 minutes, scoring most of her team-high 19 points while pulling down eight rebounds and getting credit for blocking six shots, not counting the many shots she changed because of her intimidating presence in the paint.

Slowly but surely the locals took over the game and finally regained the lead with four minutes to play and with the help of three big three-pointers from Oviedo's Sis LoSauro, the Raiders managed to open a gap.

Unfortunately for SCC, however, they missed several chances to put the game away earlier as the team was horrendous from the free throw line, making just 9-of-23 attempts from the charity stripe in the second half, and 10-for-23 for the game, to allow IRCC to keep the game fairly close until the end.

In addition to Jackson, who was chosen the Florida Community College Athletic Association (FCCAA) Player-of-the-Week on Monday, three others finished in double figure scoring for the Raiders. Henry finishing with a double-double with 15 points and 11 rebounds and also blocking four shots, Scott with 12 points, on 4-for-9 shooting from the floor and 4-for-7 from three-point land, and two assists, and LoSauro with 11 points, going 3-for-3 on three-point attempts.

Also having good games were Layton with nine points, three rebounds and six assists, Grayson with six points and seven rebounds, Oviedo's Trimar Hernandez with nine assists, four rebounds and three steals, and freshman Ashley Armstrong, who got her first start of the season and chipped in with two rebounds, three assists and two steals.

Chiniree Winns had a huge game for IRCC with a game-high 27 points, seven rebounds, three assists and four steals, while Kaela Boyd had 16 points and Cynkelitha Thompson had 12 points, 14 rebounds and three assists.

back ahead, MCC fumbled the ball just past midcourt and when the Raiders players were slow to react, Williams dove head-long from near the three-point line to grab the loose ball and call time-out before the visitors could tie him up with 1:14 remaining.

SCC scored again after the time out to go ahead by three and held the lead the rest of the way, taking a four-point lead on a long three-point jumper by another freshman guard, Kiasimnee's Renaldo Bell, and despite missing four straight free throws in the final 30 seconds, the lead was big enough to withstand a halfcourt three-pointer by MCC's Keith Davis at the final horn.

As has been their way all season, the Raiders jumped out to an early lead behind a jet-quick fastbreak offense and a strong defense.

SCC did a good job of getting the ball inside to 6-foot-8 sophomore Jerome Boyd from Edgewater and 6-foot-7 freshman Haakim Johnson, but it quickly became apparent that the first half, at least, was going to be a shootout between the Raiders' Williams and the Raiders' Ledonahay Johnson.

The hosts were able to maintain the lead throughout the half, but SCC could find no way to stop Johnson, who seemed to answer every time the Raiders would start to pull away.

Freshman point guard Renaldo Bell from Kiasimnee had 26 points, three rebounds and seven assists to help the SCC men improve to 3-0 on the season with a 112-111 overtime win over Manatee Community College Tuesday night.

Williams would outscore Johnson, 21-to-18, over the first 20 minutes as SCC took a 55-48 lead into the lockerroom. The difference in the score was Bell, who was also in double figures with 12 points at intermission.

MCC came out in a fullcourt press to begin the second half as the pressure defense had seemed to bother the Raiders over the final five minutes of the opening half that allowed the Raiders to get back in the game.

And the pressure continued to bother SCC as it turned the ball over several times, letting MCC to get even closer and the game would be a dog fight the remainder of the evening.

When the Raiders did beat the press, they got layup after layup as Houston Wright and Haakim Johnson scored nine points each and Boyd added eight.

But SCC was unable to pull away, because Ledonahay Johnson continued his amazing offensive evening and the Raiders were basically inept at the free throw line, making just 14-of-26 from the charity stripe in the second half.

It still looked like SCC would still win the game in regulation as with less than 20 seconds to play, the Raiders, holding a one-point lead, forced a turnover and Haakim Johnson got wide open down court for a breakaway lay-up with 6.1 seconds left to give the hosts a three-point lead, 99-96.

In hindsight, it would have been better for Haakim Johnson to take the ball into a corner and run out the clock as he was far ahead of the defense and the Raiders probably would not have been able to foul him before time expired.

But that didn't happen and after an MCC time out, the Raiders broke down the defense and William Cooper got the ball near the three-point line. But it looked like he had made a mistake as he went inside the line headed for the hoop.

Just in time, he stopped, ... stepped back and dropped in the tying rainbow as the horn sounded.

Haakim Johnson finished with a game-high 43 points and also had a team-high eight rebounds and six assists for the Raiders. Gary Godbolt, who played at SCC last year, chipped in with 16 points, Cooper added 13 points and seven assists and Davis and Jason Parrior were also in double figures with 10 points each.

Five of the seven Raiders in uniform finished in double figure scoring led by Williams' 33. Also having big games were Bell with 26 points and seven assists, Boyd with 18 points, nine rebounds and two steals, Haakim Johnson 16 points, six rebounds and five assists and Wright 11 points and six assists.

Stephen McMillan came off the bench to score six points, grab three rebounds and hand out three assists and Dexter Lewis added two points, three rebounds, three assists and a steal.

The Raiders were to have wrapped up a three-game homestand on Friday against Broward Community College and will then take off a week before heading to St. Petersburg next Friday to play in the St. Petersburg College Classic against Hillsborough Community College at 6 p.m. and then facing the host Titans on Saturday at 4 p.m.

SCC will return home a week from Tuesday, November 29th, to host Brevard Community College at 7:30 p.m. Admission to all home games is free.
