

MANUFACTURER'S RECORD IS BEHIND MOVEMENT TO HELP OUR GROWERS

Sends Wire To McAdoo To Give Relief

Due to the activity of the Sanford Board of Trade and the wonderful aid loaned this organization by the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce and the Florida Metropolis, through Editor Carter and his able assistant E. T. Hollingsworth, the personal attention and support of Richard H. Edmonds, Editor of the Manufacturers Record of Baltimore has been secured in carrying to the railroads our dire need in the way of better transportation for our perishables and food crops. This aid comes because of organization and because of the realization of the correctness of our stand. We feel greatly indebted for this timely assistance and as a Board of Trade we stand ready to retaliate two fold when the occasion presents itself. Mr. Edmonds sends the following telegram:

Hon. Wm. G. McAdoo,
Director, General Railroads,
Washington, D. C.:

From all parts of Florida reports come as to the delay in the handling of vegetables and other perishable products for northern and western markets. It is estimated that Florida will this year produce over fifty thousand car loads of foodstuffs for northern markets but growers are reporting heavy losses due to delay in transportation and are discouraged in undertaking to increase food production for nation's needs. The claim has been made that locomotives are overloaded and are undertaking to haul much heavier loads than they can possibly deliver in the east on time; thus seriously injuring the entire industry and lessening the ability of Florida to provide foodstuffs.

It has been suggested that the south would not be doing its duty to the nation if it did not produce all of its own foodstuffs and thus had to call upon the railroads for transportation to bring in food. But here is one state in the south which in this season producing about fifty thousand car loads of foodstuff with which to feed other sections who must seriously suffer unless Florida and other vegetable producing parts of the south feed them. These perishable vegetables so essential to the food supply of the east and west can be produced in ever increasing quantities in the south, provided adequate transportation for prompt delivery can be secured. But the production of this kind of foodstuff will be seriously hampered to the great suffering of the people of the north and west unless quick transportation is available. Can you wire me any information on subject as to what action can or will be taken to overcome this situation, as Florida food producers are anxious to hear what can be done to meet the acute situation. Is it true that locomotives are overloaded forcing them to make slow time and is this due to inefficiency or to impossibility of roads providing sufficient number of locomotives to meet actual needs of Florida food growers?

Richard H. Edmonds,
Editor Manufacturers Record.

STEAMER SINKS SUB

Tanker Makes Slinker Take The Count

An Atlantic Port.—March 17.—At the end of an hour's battle between a German submarine and an American tank steamship, the Paulaboro of Vacuum Lill Company, which arrived here today, the U-boat was apparently sunk, according to officers of the American vessel.

One of the crew on the tanker was wounded by a shell fired by the submarine. Two other shots struck the American ship, which was not seriously damaged.

The fight took place in the Bristol channel on February 24. The tanker tried to escape and was pursued. After the American vessel had been within torpedo range for some time without any attempt being made to sink her in this way, the U-boat began shelling her.

The tanker halted and gave battle. The officers said the shrapnel shells fired by the American gun crew either fell short or passed over the U-boat for a short time, but finally one struck the submarine fairly in the center and she disappeared immediately.

Sear's Important Bill
Washington, D. C., March 14.—Rep. W. J. Sears of Kissimmee, Florida, chairman of the house committee on education has introduced a bill which he believes will be the most important measure he will ever father in congress. He has been in conference upon it with President Wilson who is very much interested in the proposition. This bill epitomized an ambition of Congressman Sears ever since his school days of make it possible for young men limited means to get a college education. Under this bill 250,000 scholarships in state universities would be opened up for such young men, and more than 1,000 in Florida alone.

The Sears bill is to promote military training by providing scholarships for students enrolled in public institutions of higher education. It appropriates $50,000,000 annually to be apportioned among the states to provide 250,000 scholarships, only those who are graduates of high schools and between the ages of 16 and 20 are eligible for military training at the institutions designated by the several states. The course of instruction as far as possible will be made the same as at West Point, without interference with the regular collegiate course.

Congressman Sears has given especial attention to the section of the bill which described the manner of making the allotment of scholarships in order that its operation may be absolutely fair. Great care has also been taken in wording the section which provides for furnishing uniforms and equipment.

Rep. Sears in explaining his bill pointed out that only about 85,000 boys are now taking a collegial course in the United States. He feels that certainly more boys should be in the colleges. Those not financially able to take a college course and compelled to take up some other occupation when they have completed their high school course, should be given an opportunity by the government to get a college education, Rep. Sears believes.

Young men between the ages of 21 and 31 are now drafted, he points out, and taken in the army. While patriotically responding, he feels that they should be given the opportunity for advancement before they are called to the colors, and argues that they would be prepared for more efficient service in defense of the nation.

SOME HERE IN SANFORD

Book That Has Been Sold Here In Taboo

Some Sanford people who have purchased a book called the "Finished Mystery" and those who have sold them should read the following: Oklahoma City, Okla., Feb. 15.—As the result of a raid late today by Chief of Police Nichols and a squad of police detectives, five thousand copies of "The Finished Mystery," a volume issued by the International Bible Society were seized. No arrests have been made.

A telegraphic communication from Attorney General Gregory received today in answer to one sent by the county council of defense, embodied information to the effect that past activities in the book's distribution would be attended by arrest and imprisonment.

Three members of this society were arrested at Frederick, Okla., today for having copies of the book in their possession, and one man was arrested at Cleveland, Okla., for the same reason.

FARMERS ATTENTION!
Employers of farm labor are requested to meet with the Local Draft Board at the court house on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. This meeting is of vital importance to you.

ORLANDO TO ATTEND BIG CIRCUS

Will Assist Sanford Red Cross Society Circus

Orlando will come up to the Red Cross Society Circus and will do all they can to assist Sanford in the undertaking. The advertising committee went to Orlando yesterday and the business men of that city responded willingly and took space in the program. The beautiful city of Orlando is thronged with tourists who are remaining in Florida later this year than usual and these people will all come to Sanford to see the big circus.

The program committee reports that they could have sold all the space in Orlando that was left if they could have spent the day down there instead of a few hours but the royal welcome accorded them at Orlando and all the other cities enroute speaks well for the success of the circus.

In fact the circus is progressing most favorably and this week the Queen's contest was started and the ballot boxes delivered at all the stores. There will be a full explanation given in next Friday's Herald relative to the Queen's Contest and that it will go big is an assured fact. The young ladies are all anxious to get the beautiful prizes to be given and to help the Red Cross at the same time.

The freaks are coming in slowly and at least ten good freaks are wanted at once and those who will take this easy job at the circus are asked to give their name to the committee of which R. J. Holly is chairman. The freaks have the softest snap of any of the performers and all they have to do is to sit on the platform and exhibit their peculiar idiosyncracies to the public for about two hours per night. We want snake charmers, fat girls, living skeletons, monkey girls, etc., these parts to be taken by prominent gentlemen of this county. One prominent attorney has already consented to act as one of the fat girls and another one is wanted, also many other freaks. Acrobats and high jumpers, bare back riders and cowboys and fifty little girls for the big spectacular pieces are badly wanted and the committee will canvass the city this week to get them. Those who take part will have the time of their life and will be doing a great part in raising funds for the Red Cross Circus.

Really the Circus here will be larger and better than any one here can imagine and should have the support of those who can and should take an active part in this great undertaking.

One of the real big attractions at the Red Cross Society Circus to be held in Sanford the 11th, 12th and 13th of next month will be the Marvelous Melville. It will be remembered that he was the feature of all feature attractions at the recent state fair in Jacksonville. This is just one of the many good things that are coming to make our circus a success. Frank B. Miller's Educated Horses and Dogs will be here, besides many other real circus features. However in Marvelous Melville, the unequalled sensational aerial gymnast we have a feature attraction that will hold the people spellbound with amazement, for it is said by the New York papers that he shakes dice with death at each and every performance for the pleasure and amusement of his audience. Melville has toured the entire country and is an artist of note; it is doubtful if a more famous performer has ever exhibited in this part of the country before. He was secured by the State Fair only at an enormous expense, but very generously he has contracted a few dates for a few circuses that the Red Cross are staging in the south as a means of raising funds to carry forward this great work. To give some idea as to who this man really is, it is said that the management of the Hippodrome in New York, where he appeared for one solid season paid him a salary almost equal to that paid the great artists at the Metropolitan Opera House and in presenting this great artist at our Society Circus we know that we can do so

SEMINOLE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Met At Court House To Prepare For Primary

The Democratic Executive Committee of Seminole County met in the court house Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, March 16, the object of the meeting to arrange for the primary election on June 4th being stated by Chairman C. H. Dingee, the following members being present: C. H. Dingee, Felix Frank, Theo. Aulin, G. M. Jacobs, L. J. Hartley, J. W. Osteen and W. V. Dunn.

It was moved by J. W. Osteen and seconded by L. J. Hartley that the candidates be assessed two percent. Carried.

Moved by Felix Frank and seconded by J. W. Osteen that the following resolution be adopted, same being carried:

Whereas, The United States is entering upon the second Year of the world war and every patriot is giving up life or substance to maintain the supremacy of democracy as against autocracy and

Whereas, Our President, Woodrow Wilson and his cabinet and the heads of the departments and officials generally are doing all in their power to win this war, Therefore be it

Resolved, That this County Executive committee in meeting assembled uphold the hands of our President in every way. That we condemn all manner of German propaganda and pro-German attitude upon the part of any citizen of the United States, regardless of his nativity.

Resolved, That since the government has seen fit to take over the railways of this country that we condemn the actions of railways in obstructing the efficiency of the roads, in impeding shipments, in delaying shipments especially of perishables and otherwise hindering the work of the government. That since the government has asked the farmers to grow more food stuffs and since Florida and especially Seminole county has responded nobly to the call that it seems unpatriotic and disloyal for the common carriers to delay these shipments or impede their progress and we ask for drastic measures from the government to force the railways to give better service to the farmers of the United States. And be it further

Resolved, That this committee, speaking for the people of this county do pledge our continued support to our President and our government. That we continue to assist in the Liberty Loan, Red Cross, Y. M. C. A. Thrift Stamp and all War Work drives for funds to carry on this war and that we are especially gratified at the record so far achieved by our county. And be it

Resolved, That this committee go on record as opposing the present Bryan Primary Law that has proven too intricate, too expensive and too cumbersome for the proper efficiency in voting, and that we favor the former primary law as being well adapted to proper balloting, easier facilities for counting and gave satisfaction in every particular.

Moved by Felix Frank and seconded by G. M. Jacobs that the following resolution be adopted, same being carried:

Whereas, on the 5th day of February, 1918, Hon. Board of County Commissioners in and for Seminole County, Florida, and County School Board of Seminole County, Florida, in joint session assembled, passed the following resolution to-wit:

Resolved that a committee of two be appointed by the board of county commissioners, namely, E. A. Douglass and L. A. Brumley, and a committee of one by the County School Board, namely: F. P. Forster, as a steering committee to name members of various committees representing different lines of business and industries of Seminole county, whose duty it would be to draft legislation affecting the various interests represented by said counties,

ROUSING MEETING OF THE BOARD OF TRADE CALLED FOR FARMERS

submit same to General Legislative Committee to be approved later by the joint boards of county commissioners and county school board,

And Whereas, this movement meets with our hearty approval, be it, therefore,

Resolved, That this the Democratic Executive Committee of Seminole County, State of Florida, in regular meeting assembled, does most heartily endorse said action of Board of County Commissioners and School Board of Seminole County, Florida, and pledge our hearty cooperation.

After a general discussion of various topics beneficial to the county at large the committee adjourned subject to the call of the chairman.

METROPOLITAN WORKING

Insurance Agents Must Sell Savings Stamps

Fifty-two agents of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company working in Florida will sell during the year 260,000 worth of War Savings Stamps. This is in accord with the plan which has been made by the Metropolitan to sell $65,000,000 worth of this loan, apportioning $5,000 to each man.

The Company has 13,000 field representatives in the United States. Each one of these is supposed to sell $5,000. State Director J. F. C. Griggs says that he finds more active personal contact work is being done by these agents than any other organization in the state. They are now working in nearly every county in the state and expect to complete their quota.

To stimulate the work among the agents the Metropolitan has offered many handsome medals and souvenirs, and at the conclusion of the campaign will give territorial dinners to those men who have successfully carried out the plans and sold their pro rata share of the loan.

Mr. William H. Stewart, superintendent of agencies was recently in Florida and went all over the state in the interest of this campaign, to speak to his agents in Jacksonville, Tampa and other places and awaken a new sense of obligation to the government in the hearts of these men. Chas. L. Polk is the agent for the county and he is busy night and day on the W. S. S. sales.

Presbyterian C. E. Social

The Presbyterian C. E. enjoyed a most delightful social on Friday evening after the regular prayer meeting.

The entertainment was in the form of a "Track Meet" of two rival colleges, "Doolittle College," and "Dunmore University," with Miss Bessie Long and Miss Blanchard chosen as the respective presidents. In the "Athletic" events that followed Doolittle College made the best score and was presented with a handsome tin loving cup.

Delicious strawberry ice cream and angel food cake were served by Mrs. Green, chairman of the refreshment committee and her assistants.

Dr. Brown Goes to Sanford

Dr. LeRoy Brown, the dentist has made arrangements to move to Sanford, where he will continue the practice of his profession.

Dr. Brown expects to leave next Tuesday. The News has not talked with Dr. Brown, but we believe he feels there is a good opening for him in the Celery City. Certainly Palatka will regret to lose him. He grew to manhood in Palatka, is a graduate of our high school and at the dental college in Philadelphia, was an honor graduate. People of Sanford will make no mistake in receiving him with open arms, for he is all to the good.—Palatka News.

The Kissimmee Cattle Company is opening up one of the largest cattle ranches in the southern part of the state. There are 520,000 acres now under fence and numerous and expensive buildings have been erected. The ranch is sixty-five miles below Kissimmee and the lands are in four counties—Osceola, Polk, DeSoto and Okeechobee

Marlowe To Washington On Transportation Problem

At a rousing meeting of the growers in the court house last Saturday night it was decided to send Secretary Marlowe to Washington to confer with Secretary McAdoo in reference to better transportation of our perishable crops.

The meeting was called by the Sanford Board of Trade, President Holly stating the object of the meeting and before the real business was called introduced Hon. Frank Baker of Miami to those assembled. Mr. Baker was enroute home from Jacksonville and stopped over here after making the St. Johns river trip. He has always been an advocate of water transportation and has been Sanford's friend on every occasion where then the inland waterways were discussed. He gave a most forcible talk to those assembled on the vital importance of the St. Johns river, on cooperation and organization and the good work of the Board of Trade. His remarks were well received and he was given hearty applause.

President Holly then gave a brief outline of the transportation troubles and stated that nothing could be done, individually but collectively through the Sanford Board of Trade much could be accomplished. Ed. Putnam gave facts and figures and cited the good work of the Board of Trade for the farmers.

A. P. Connelly gave a most interesting talk on the operation of railroads and paid a high compliment to Secretary Marlowe.

Frank Talbot explained about the "lost train" and said that it had made good time and it seemed that the railroads were doing much better and were not to blame for the "slow trains through the Potomac."

Several letters from W. P. Holden of the firm of Smith & Holden were read showing that something must be done at once to bring these important matters to the attention of the proper authorities at Washington.

Mr. Scoggar wanted action at once and favored sending Secretary Marlowe and wanted all present to assist in the movement.

F. P. Forster followed with one of his earnest appeals to those present to come into the Board of Trade and all pull together as one man in the strong organization that had already attained such wonderful results. Together with E. T. Woodruff he called for a strong vote of expression and asked that every man come forward and put up his money. The entire crowd responded and a large sum in memberships was raised as Mr. Putnam stated, that donations were not wanted but active memberships.

Such a spontaneous response was never before witnessed at a Board of Trade meeting and augurs well for the success of the Board of Trade in this city.

There will be a campaign waged this week for more members and the Board of Trade will send Secretary Marlowe even if it takes their entire capital to do it as the condition is serious and the need urgent.

The meeting Saturday night demonstrated that organization is needed here and organization through the Board of Trade will get results. Every citizen here should join and keep up his dues for the Board of Trade is working and spending money on these great movements that mean so much for Seminole county.

The work of shelling the uncompleted end of the DeLand and Osteen ferry road out of New Smyrna, which was included in the roads to be built with the recent issue of bonds, but which was never completed has been finished and is now ready for use. This new stretch of hard surfaced road gives an easy and direct connection with the DeLand and Osteen ferry roads out of Canal street and across by the Tanner place. The board of county commissioners recently gave commissioner Swope authority to have this piece of road built and the work has been done under the direction of Road Supervisor Bonnet.

PLANT PEANUTS FOR MARKET

May Is the Best Month for Planting the Spanish Variety.

The white Spanish peanut is the variety wanted by oil mills and for which a good price is paid; the proportion of meat to hull is greater than in other varieties, and it yields a higher percentage of oil. This peanut is grown successfully in the area given over to the crop throughout Florida, and its culture has proved profitable.

Some sections of the state will grow peanuts for the market for the first time this year, and many inquiries as to the best time to plant them have reached the University of Florida extension division. This recommendation will answer the question:

The Spanish peanut may be planted any time between April 1 and July 15. Early planting will undoubtedly give the heaviest yield of nuts, but if planted early the crop will mature in July or August during the rainy season—a time difficult to harvest them, and even more difficult to cure good hay. For oil production it is preferable to plant in May, which will allow the crop to mature in September. By planting late, Spanish peanuts may follow oats or other spring crops.

About two bushels of seed in the pod will be needed to plant an acre of Spanish peanuts. It is not necessary to shell them even if they are to be dropped by a planter. On account of the thin shell and small nuts, and because there are seldom more than two kernels in a pod, planting in the pod is satisfactory. Planting in this way does away with the tedious shelling.

Spanish peanuts are planted in thirty inch rows, with one plant every six to eight inches in the row. Except on very thin land peanuts do best when planted thick as they cover the ground thicker and check the growth of weeds and grass. Since they must be cultivated thoroughly until the crop is set, a too close planting would interfere with cultivation.

West Florida farmers plant flat and cultivate in the same way. They plant the whole nut with a Cole plainview double planter, and seed from five to ten acres a day. Plantings are made on a soil previously limed and thoroughly prepared. One thousand pounds of acid phosphate broadcasted prior to planting has helped make the largest yields. If the soil is deficient in lime, from 400 to 500 pounds of land plaster per acre is applied to the crop just before the plant sets to bloom.

The weeder is the superior implement for early cultivations. One eight feet wide can be pulled by one horse and twelve to fifteen acres covered daily, making it possible to tend forty to fifty acres with one implement. The weeder is run at any angle across the fields, as soon as weeds or grass begin to show, and the operation may be continued until the plants are of considerable size. Which means that most of the weed seed will have germinated and been killed.

Mrs. Southwick's Recital a Success
The rendition of Percy Macaye's "Jeanne D'Arc" by Mrs. Southwick

of Emerson College of Oratory, Monday evening at the Woman's Club rooms under the auspices of the Literature Department of the Club was a success in every particular, and the members are congratulating themselves upon being able to secure so great an artist for Sanford. The highest praise is heard on every hand, and from this, as well as the perfect attention given her at the recital by her splendid audience and the enthusiastic applause at the conclusion of each act, it seems fitting to quote from one of the Boston papers describing her rendition of "The Merchant of Venice," "she covered herself with glory." Milder phraseology seems inadequate to give any idea of the depth of feeling and heights of vision granted her rapt audience as this consummate artist, by her clear spiritual insight, with the aid of the marvelous voice which is the wonder and admiration of all who hear her, pictured most vitally the strange and inspiring scenes of this Spirit-led peasant girl, who by obeying her inner visions became the saviour of her country. So clear was the artist's conception that we saw Joan of Arc develop from a simple, trusting child to the leader of the armies of France, who clad in white armor, symbolic of the purity of her soul led them to victory. We followed through the din and fury of battle, sensing the pain of the arrow which she plucks from her own breast; but more keenly did we feel the strength of purpose which so overmastered her as to render her insensible to the pain, conscious only of the glory of victory. Through the injustice and bitterness of her imprisonment the truth that it was not the physical suffering which baffled her, but the loss of her feeling of at-onement with the saints which grieved her most, and when the harmony was struck again, the artist's subtle, joyous acclaim of it was like a paean of praise from a mighty organ which communicated itself to the entire audience.

Mrs. Southwick was obliged to respond to the insistent demands of her hearers, giving the "Swiss Good Night" which illustrates the splendid range and power of her voice, also one of her own poems, "Christmas Bells," the beauty and insight of which suggested to her audience the keynote of her power.

WAR SAVINGS CAMPAIGN

Records Its First $3,000,000 Day
The War Savings Campaign reached its first $3,000,000 day on March 7th, as shown by today's report of receipts by the Treasury Department. Sales of the Savings Stamps for March 7, 8, and 9 were:

$2,295,000
$2,970,000, and
$3,049,000.

Three Millions a day from the thrift stamps provides the Treasury with about one-tenth of the entire amount now being expended by the nation for the war. While $3,000,000 is only 3 cents a day for every man, woman and child in the country, the entire cost of the war is only 30 cents per capita a day.

The National War Savings Committee, delegated by the Treasury to enlist 100,000,000 investors in the "baby bonds" anticipates soon reaching the $6,000,000 a day rate necessary to place the $2,000,000,000 issue within a year. This will be six cents a day per capita.

The sale of these stamps will finance the Government's entire emergency shipping program. The current Treasury receipts from their sale are already averaging the cost of building 12,000 tons of shipping a day.

SOUTHERN CELERY IN FAIR DEMAND

Florida Golden sold at 70c per 10-inch crate, and 70-1.40 per 12-inch crate, f. o. b. shipping stations. Florida shipping movement increased to 27 cars for the week. Demand was very light, condition ordinary and most lots moved north on consignment. The general jobbing range in distributing markets was $1.1 per crate, in the rough, with fair demand. California Golden Heart held a wide range, at $2.50-4.25 per crate in the rough.

LETTUCE IN MODERATE DEMAND

Florida head lettuce in 1 1/2 bu. hampers sold to jobbers in northern markets at a strong range $1.00-2.50. California Iceberg ranged lower in leading markets at $1.50-2.25 per crate. Hothouse head lettuce continued in good demand at a slightly lower range 30-50c per dozen and hothouse, leaf lettuce was steady at 11-12 per pound. Demand for all lettuce was fair to good in most markets. Lettuce shipment fell away 86 cars to about the volume of two weeks ago, the decline being chiefly in the Florida movement.

CITRUS MARKETS FIRM AND ACTIVE

Oranges: Fancy, Indian River Seedlings sold at auction $7.00-7.75 per standard crate in New York, and Pineapples, Brights, ranges $6.00-8.25. West Coast Seedlings, Brights $4.75-6.50 and Valencia, Brights, $7.50-8.00. Central District Seedlings, Brights sold higher at $4.75-$5.00 and Valencia, Brights, 6.00-7.50. Demand was good in larger markets. Volume gained sharply, with 375 cars from California, and total of 529 cars against 374 last Central Districts Brights, ranged about steady at $3.50-4.25. Demand was good. Shipments were lighter, with 106 cars compared with 116 last week and 134 the preceding week.

Cabbage shipments from the Boynton neighborhood are moving right along and in large quantities. The largest crop in the history of that section will be marketed this year, so it is said. Tomato shipments from that section will begin soon and the yield promises to be good.

Moore Haven farmers in the very near future will have one tremendous advantage over those of other sections by reason of the fact that a big cannery is to be established to care for the surplus product, "ripes" and other things grown that for one reason or another are not suitable for shipment. The Imperial Canning Company of Philadelphia having thoroughly investigated the possibilities of the lake region has decided to erect a $150,000 cannery and will build as soon as the plans have been drawn up and approved. The company's output will be sold under the "Goodrich" brand, the same brand used by its northern canneries and which is so well known all over the country.

Chinese Plant Statuettes.
Chinese gardeners sometimes plant statuettes of tiny men firmly in pots, just like real plants, and then train live evergreens to grow up over these statuettes. The vines thus form a kind of robe for the statuette men, their white faces and hands protruding from the green leaves.

The Potato.
The potato was first introduced into Spain by Hieronymus Cardan, a monk, in 1553; into England by Sir John Hawkins and Sir Francis Drake in 1503, and into Ireland by Sir Walter Raleigh in 1550.

ORGANIZED EFFORT

The Sanford Herald has discovered that the transportation problem is one for thought. Many of us have been thinking about it so long that it has become nigh a nightmare.

That sounds funny coming from Palm Beach county where they have made no organized effort and to the people of Sanford who have started the great movement looking toward better transportation and who have already sent several men to Washington looking to better efforts on the part of the railroads and the food administration.

THE IS LABOR'S WAR

This is labor's war. No element of the people of this country, or of other countries, would suffer more than the workers from a German victory, a German peace.

What the Germans mean by a "strong peace," a "German peace" was recently expressed by Gen. Von Liebert, a leading Prussian conservative.

"For us there is but one principle to be followed, and we recognize no other. We hold that might is right. We must know neither sentiment nor humanity, consideration, nor compassion. We must have Belgium and the north of France. France must be made to pay until she is bled white. We must have a strong peace."

Mr. Gompers spoke well for American labor when he said:

"The Republic of the United States is not perfect; it has the imperfections of the human—but it is the best country on the face of the earth, and those who do not love it enough to work for it, to fight for it, to die for it, are not worthy of the privilege of living in it."

"I say to the kaiser, I say to the Germans, in the name of the American labor movement: You can't talk peace with the American workers; you can't talk peace with us; you can't talk to us at all now. We are fighting now. Either you smash your kaiser autocracy or we will smash it for you."

The workmen of America have a tremendous interest to serve, a vital cause to defend, a work of surpassing importance to accomplish. What is vital to them is vital to America and to the world. That they see their duty and the great mass of them are performing it with unimpeachable loyalty is a cause for congratulation to the nation and to the world.

TRUCKGROWERS DILEMMA

Secretary McAdoo, as general superintendent of the entire railroad system of the United States has some very knotty problems to solve and one of them, not the least either, is that of moving the perishable crops of the Florida (and probably the entire south) truck farmer to market speedily.

The truck farmer in Florida is naturally inclined to feel wronged in that after he has grown a very necessary crop for the use of the people of the nation at large, much of it has been allowed to perish on the way to market, and much more of his crop is still in the field rotten and worthless. But these are times when patience is certainly known to be the greatest virtue. There is just so much rolling stock and just so much power to move it in the whole country. Then there is also a limit to the endurance of the men who are handling the trains.

The freight to be moved is enormous, and it is graded according to the imminent necessity which confronts the government. Individuals what now stand aside, no matter how great their interests, and let the government have the right of way in all matters of transportation.

First and foremost at all times are the requirements of the army. Lumber and material for cantonments, then food supplies and clothing, and the moving of the men from camp to camp, and all that. When Mars comes trooping by all other matters fade into insignificance.

But these matters will all very soon be regulated. The great congestion will have been relieved, and more and still more cars and engines will be available, and without a doubt, when time comes to ship the real mass of the trucker's crops in Florida, there will be a way provided for its expeditious movement to the markets of the country.—Gainesville Sun.

The real mass of our crops here has been moved or will be moved in a few weeks and we need relief at once.

GERMAN KULTUR NOT A NEW THING

"Every village they have apsed through has been the victim of what is only organized pillage. Every city has been practically sacked, ransacked on system; its citizens plundered, its civil officers terrorized, imprisoned, outraged or killed. The civil populations have been, contrary to the usage of modern warfare, forced to serve the invading armies, brutally put to death, reduced to wholesale starvation, and desolation. Vast tracts of the richest and most industrious districts of Europe have been deliberately stripped and plunged into famine, solely in order that the invaders might make war cheaply. Irregular troops, contrary to all the practice of war, have been systematically murdered, and civil populations indiscriminately massacred, solely to spread terror. A regular system of ingenious terrorism has been directed against civilians, as horrible as anything in the history of civil or religious wars. Large and populous cities have been, not once, but 20, 30, 40 times, bombarded and burnt, and the women and children in them wantonly slaughtered, with the sole object of inflicting suffering. All this has not been done in license or passion, but by the calculating ferocity of scientific soldiers."

The above was not written, though it might have been, yesterday, last week, last month or last year. It appeared in the English Fortnightly Review February, 1871, shortly before the surrender of Paris. Frederick Harrison, the writer, is still alive. His statements were true then, are true now. Julius Caesar in his commentaries narates events which show that even before the time of Christ the Germans demonstrated the possession of all of the rudiments of their modern "kultur." It is no new thing; and hundreds of thousands of men will have died in vain in this war if this sinister thing is not absolutely and utterly exterminated forever by the forces of civilization arrayed against it.

MOVE THE CROPS

Some sections of Florida are in the midst of the producing season for perishable products, and much complaint has been heard relative to transportation facilities. The railroads move the cars, but the goods in many instances, according to reports, have reached destination in bad order; and, as the result of this, some shipments have been dumped as unfit for consumption. Everyone realizes that the tendency to complain is too common, but in the face of the increased cost to produce food products this year and owing to urgent requests that every available acre be planted, with the promise that the vegetables would be moved in ground for complaint.

Everyone knows that the government means to do the best possible, but the belief is growing that if the government guarantees the railroads, which are under its control during the war, against losses greater than were incurred in pre-war times, then the government should by all means compel a more prompt movement of perishable products, grown at the request of the food administration, which, of course, co-operates with the other government departments, or which has the co-operation of these departments. The view of many is also growing that if industrial enterprises engaged in war work are guaranteed against losses, the grower of products should be guaranteed against losses due to inability of the government controlled agencies to perform a service that was promised. Seed and fertilizer must be paid for, and the man who grows the crops must eat while he is cultivating the soil. But if he cannot get the products to market, how is he going to eat? The food administration does not recommend extension of credit, except in extreme instances, and where is the dealer in foods who would be willing to advance credit to a man engaged in growing products which, to a large extent, appears to have an element of gamble to it? Transportation companies do not lose—they require freight to be prepaid if the markets look weak. The grower loses, and sometimes, seedman and the fertilizer dealer tote part of the peak load.

Plant City has been accorded reasonably good service in marketing the strawberry crop, which, however, was late and light, but the growers in this section will, next month have an enormous crop of vegetables to ship. The people in the north and east need these products because the winter has been abnormally cold, and Florida is about the only state that is producing great products just now. It is hoped that some method will be reached that will get these products to the consuming centers, and that the transit will be rapid enough to insure the grower against complete loss by having the goods dumped as spoiled.

This is a vegetable producing section, but staple crops will grow as well, and it will be well for every farmer to consider carefully the situation that confronts, first the government which is engaged in the most serious conflict in the history of the world, and his individual needs. If it is seen that the government cannot expedite transportation this spring, then it will be best for farmers to plant only staple crops—something they can use at home—and let the rest of the country look out for itself. There is no use in throwing away time and money. Look the situation squarely in the face. Plant cotton and corn, cane and potatoes, and raise more hogs and poultry, livestock and what few vegetables you will need for your families.—Plant City Courier.

A Big Book Drive

Two million books are needed by the Library War Service of the American Library Association to furnish reading matter to soldiers and sailors in camps in America, on transports, on board naval vessels and overseas. A big drive to get these books is being carried on this week.

The Sanford Library and Sanford people are asked to do a part. Look over your book shelves and pick out the books you are going to send to the men in khaki.

Wrap them up and label the package "Library War Service."

Send the package to the Sanford Library open every day this week from 3 to 6 p. m. or phone to 37-J and they will be called for.

Experience in the camps indicates that our soldiers and sailors want books of great variety, but there are certain limitations. The following list of subjects is based on reports and recommendations from the camp librarians:

Fiction
Adventure, Western Stories, Detective Stories, Love Stories of the best sort, Stories of business, Historical Novels.

Non-Fiction
Military Science, Aeroplanes, Engineering, Agriculture, Business, Automobiles, Electricity, Mechanics, Horses, Drawing, Books on the war, especially the tales from the trenches

Wireless Telegraphy and Telephony, Arithmetic, Algebra, Geometry, etc., Letter Writing (personal and business), Filing, Poetry, old and new, Biography, especially autobiography, Travel and History, especially of Western Europe, French Conversation Books, Popular books in foreign languages.

They do not want out of date books on science and technology, nor out of date text books.

They do not want worn out books of any kind.

They do not want the kind of books that appeal especially to women.

No magazines asked for this time. Mrs. Key, Librarian. Phone 37-J.

I receive it regularly and enjoy reading the happenings very much, and appreciate the good boost spirit you always have for Sanford for I have had great hopes of Sanford becoming a great city in the near future and with the continual good work of the Board of Trade I see no way to keep her back. Even though times may be close for a year or two I expect to see one of the finest hotels erected in Sanford of any town of like size.

I am getting to be a real sailor and enjoy my work very much—think I shall be in line for a trip to France soon.

Wishing you and surrounding country a prosperous season I wish to remain,

THE GREAT AMERICAN SPIRIT LETTER TO SOLDIER FROM HIS FORMER EMPLOYER

The following letter from an employer to his employees taken from the Charlotte Observer is so good that it is reproduced for the benefit of Herald readers:
Your letter of the 19th inst. received Saturday and read at dinner Saturday evening and enjoyed by all of us. I hope that all danger of epidemic at the camp is ere this time passed. I think it is remarkable that there has been so little loss of life due to epidemics throughout the cantonments as a whole. It is a very fine testimony to the efficiency and deep concern of this government in the welfare of the men. In fact, I am impressed day by day when the accomplishments and plans of the government are made known to us a little more, with how great a thoughtfulness and interest in the physical and moral well being of the men is being cared for. It is worthy of our highest ideals as a people and certainly it can't help but thrill the ardor of every true American in or out of the trenches.

In regard to labor troubles, I don't believe there is as much to that as there has been right along in normal times. It seems to take hold of us more just because of the tremendous issues that are at stake and we must have a united nation co-operating loyally, each ready and eager to make a sacrifice even to the "last full measure of devotion," but when you consider the secret propaganda that has been carried on by German influences—aided by well meaning but misguided socialists (the American bolshevik)—when you consider that millions of dollars have been spent to bribe, buy, extort and coerce men and women in every walk of life, I gather courage and faith from the situation. I feel that labor is standing loyally. Did you get a chance to read the last issue of The New Republic in which the English speaking men have stated their principles in this late war? If you do, you will feel thrilled I am sure. The statement comes pretty nearly being a platform of Christian principles—it's an historic document and will rank in England, second only to the Magna Charta. The world is being rapidly disillusioned as to Germany's real practice and purposes. The poor, trusting, child-like bolshevik of Russia are paying bitterly for their stupid credulity. This Russian grab of Germany's will open the eye of a great many more who still somehow believe in Germany's protestations. The world is gradually, day by day, grasping the real significance of this world crisis. Oh, we have been so slow in seeing it but the scales are falling from our eyes. The socialists in this country are now witnessing Germany's despotic treatment of their fellow socialists in Russia—this despite of the fact that Germany entered into peace negotiations of a platform of no annexations and no indemnity. The perfidy, the greed, the heartlessness and settled purpose of dominating the world are here all clearly revealed. They can no longer conceal the real purposes behind the mass of high sounding protestations and claims of kinship with God. We now see that what France and England have said—what the President has so forcefully and aptly stated are but truths in every respect.

Now, labor in this country is intelligent. They have got more at stake as a class than anybody else in the United States—anybody else in the world, and they are becoming alive to that. Labor under Germany's rule would be the most pitiable sufferers if the allies lose in this great war. This is our war now—it has been our war since the very first although we didn't realize it and we stood back—our own President cautioning us to be neutral, not even to discuss it. We didn't realize as we do now that France and England and Belgium were fighting our battle—our fight—that for three years they stood there giving up treasure and blood for us as much as for themselves. We stood aloof, taking a neutral attitude—indirectly aiding the Germans—allowing all sorts of propaganda to go on unhindered here and now I feel that there is nothing that this country can do—that no sacrifice that can be made will be too great to atone for its stupidity—for its indifference when these nations were attacked, who saw more clearly than we what was involved and nobly and with a bravery and only an absolute faith in the justice and righteousness which their cause could inspire, fought on. Now, we, the greatest nation on earth whose principles of government whose ideals of life are in direct contrast to that of Germany representing the other ideal—moral and political—are destined in my opinion to be the deciding factor. It isn't in the program of things that we who have most at stake, should not be required to give up most in order to win the just and lasting peace which will only come when the Rhine has been crossed—the military despots of Germany have been hurled from their seats of power and until a crushing military victory—a victory of arms will have been achieved and Germany will have been required to disgorge Russian provinces—to withdraw from Belgium and France and to abolish her military ideals. Now that sort of thing isn't going to come in three months nor in six months nor in twelve months in my opinion. It isn't going to come until practically every American has given of himself and of his treasures until it hurts. We have got a part to play in this that we haven't yet realized. We are just beginning to wake up—a great section of our people yet don't really believe or realize what is involved—don't see its relationship to them, in their lives, in their future. My feeling now is, that I would sooner give up my life now in this great cause, in some way, if it will add in the right settlement of this rather than to come to any patched up peace because I believe that if we get a patched up, German-made peace that my boy and my girl will suffer at the hands of the next generation of Germans, the same treatment, only ten times more diabolical that has been perpetrated upon the men and women and children of Belgium. Either justice, kindness and unselfishness and the Christ ideals are going to prevail or the opposite represented by Ger-

GERMANY MAKES A HOWL

Air Raids Bringing It Home to Them
Geneva, Thursday, March 14.—Reports reaching here from Germany say that planes have been brought about by the British aerial attacks on German towns. At Coblenz, according to Basel dispatches there were several outbreaks of fire in the southern portion of the town and an ammunition factory was blown up. The railway station at Fribourg was again badly damaged. Swiss travelers report that in the principal Rhine cities many houses and apartments are vacant; numbers of persons moving to central Germany and Switzerland. They say opinion is growing against continuation of German air raids.

In Clay county the farmers are preparing to plant heavily to sweet potatoes. One farmer alone has broke and harvested 6,500 acres of land which he will plant to staple crops. Another has 7,000 acres that he is developing for the same purpose.

Columbia county will construct $560,000 worth of brick and sand-clay roads this year. The brick roads will connect on the north with the brick roads of Hamilton county and on the east with the sand-clay roads of Baker county, thus completing the paved highway from the Georgia line through Lake City.

An effort is being made to get the farmers around Crystal Springs to plant a sufficient acreage of broom corn to justify the establishment of a broom factory in that town.

Four thousand five hundred acres of Everglade lands put to the plow is the record being made in the Olney chobee region. Some of the leading farm crops will be these: 1,500 acres of Irish potatoes that is expected to yield 160,000 hampers; 500 acres of cabbage, estimated to be good for 100,000 crates; 1,000 acres of onions that will yield a 150,000 hampers and 1,500 acres of tomatoes with a production of 250,000 crates.

Red Cross Members and Others
The week of March 18th will be observed throughout the country as "Clothing Week" for the Belgian women and children. —This is another feature of Red Cross relief and as it is a question of second hand clothing only there should be a generous response to the appeal. Second hand clothing in good condition, clean and mended ready for use can be sent to the Red Cross workrooms in the Pico building, Rooms 1 and 2, and will be forwarded by the shipping committee to Red Cross headquarters. Baby layettes will be greatly appreciated or any article of a layette. Any article of clothing for women and boys and girls of all ages will be of use. It would be a splendid idea if each church organization would take this matter up as their especial work for the week.

Wouldn't it pay greater interest on the effort to help clothe these unfortunate ones than one rummage sale would profit the church?
Notice
Notice is hereby given that the board of county commissioners offer for sale one pair of mules, pair to be designated by the board. For information see commissioner in your district.

Change in Speaking Hour
Capt. Hobson speaks at Baptist Temple Wednesday night at 8:30 o'clock, instead of 8:00 o'clock as was announced in Friday's Herald. Subject: "America in the War."
Whitner May Be Prisoner
The following from the Atlanta Journal gives hope that Richard Whitner may be a prisoner in the German lines:
With the American Army in France, March 16.—Second Lieutenant Richard Whitner of Atlanta, Ga., an American artillery observer, flying with a French aviator over the Champagne sector was brought down somewhere within the German lines Wednesday, it was announced today.

Whether Whitner was killed, wounded or made a prisoner is not known. Whatever his fate may have been, he will receive the French cross, it was learned. The decoration will be sent to his relatives in the United States.
Lieutenant Whitner was one of the American soldiers who accompanied a French raiding party in a flight far into Germany a month ago. A White Plains, Mo., lieutenant, who also accompanied the party, shot down a German machine.

Since that raid Lieutenant Whitner has been attached to the French squadron as an observer. The details of how he was brought down have not yet been received. He is the first American observer lost.
Lieutenant Richard H. Whitner, a former Atlanta boy, was 22 years old, the son of the late Mrs. Mary H. Whitner. He was a nephew of Mrs. George W. Harrison of No. 1238 Peachtree road, who received Friday night from Washington an official statement that Lieutenant Whitner had died March 13. In spite of the fact that a subsequent dispatch, given above, expressed an uncertainty about his fate, the relatives here have given up hope that he is alive. Another aunt is Mrs. E. H. Phillips of Atlanta.
Lieutenant Whitner was a grandson of Julius A. Hayden and a great-grandson of Reuben Cony, both Atlanta pioneers. He received his military training at Fortress Monroe, Va., and went from there to France.

BIG BLUFF OF GERMANS ABOUT DRIVE

Have No Idea of Driving Especially American Front

Washington, D. C., March 19.—Germany's threat of a great spring offensive on the western front, no longer impresses the American military men. In its weekly review today the war department records the conclusion that the enemy, in spite of his vast preparations, will not take the offensive unless forced to. This confirms the opinion, many officers have expressed for weeks in the face of official forecasts to the contrary from both sides of the Atlantic.

The nature of the information upon which this opinion is based is not disclosed. The review says:

"The period of inactivity in the west is being prolonged. Although the raids now taking place would in the past have been considered important engagements, nevertheless, owing to the fact that they are of minor tactical value, they cannot be held to be major operations.

"While hostile preparations for an offensive in the west are not slackening, it is becoming more evident that the enemy will launch this offensive only if compelled to do so by the exigencies of the general strategic situation.

"While fresh German divisions are reported as arriving in the west it is important to note that the density of enemy forces has nearly reached a point beyond which it will be impracticable to go, for should any large additional body of men be massed, the chances are that the congestion of the lines of communication will become so great as to make it impossible to maintain the flexibility of maneuver, which is so essential.

"Our forces in France have been constantly in action.

"Our troops are now in the trenches at five different points.

"This week we undertook our first assault against German positions unassisted by any allied contingent.

"At dawn on March 11 after a preliminary bombardment lasting three-quarters of an hour we drove a highly successful raid against a German trench segment. Our men penetrated the German line to a depth of 300 yards. The enemy was driven off after a hand to hand fight whereupon our contingent returned to our lines.

"At three places in Lorraine American troops, acting in co-operation with small French detachments, raided two trenches. These operations were carried out simultaneously each on a frontage of some 600 yards. After a prolonged bombardment the attacking units were able to reach their objectives. Few of the enemy were found in the first line trenches and the attackers swept forward into the German second line. Our men remained for nearly an hour in the German positions and retired after inflicting much damage and keeping considerable quantity of material.

"There has been a decided increase in sniping owing to more favorable weather conditions.

"We kept up a vigorous bombardment on the rear areas opposite our Toul sector. Our men occupied trenches several times. During the past week Sec. Baker has had interviews with the leading authorities and is about to undertake a careful inspection of our schools, training areas, rest camps, as well as those sectors of the front where our forces are in action.

"In the western front from the North Sea to the Alps there was much hard fighting. The Germans carried out a number of air raids against London and Paris. Allied aviators raided German industrial centers of the Rhine region.

"In the Italian theater, the arrival of more hostile units, and the concentration of material coming from Germany is noted in the area east and west of the lake of Garda which would point to hostile operations between Verona and Brescia as their objective.

"In the east the chief feature of the week culminated in the capture of Odessa. Odessa, no doubt, will be of economic importance to the enemy.

RICHARD WHITNER KILLED

Former Sanford Boy Aerial Observer
in France Killed in Accident

Mrs. J. N. Whitner of this city received the sad intelligence Saturday night that her nephew, Richard H. Whitner had been killed in France while flying in his machine as aerial observer. No details of the accident have been learned. He was the son of R. H. Whitner and was born in this city about 24 years ago passing his early boyhood days here and afterward going to Atlanta where his father engaged in business. Richard was well known here and spent several months in Sanford about three years ago and will be remembered by many Sanford people for his sunny disposition and gentlemanly manner. When the war was declared Richard enlisted at once in the officers' training corps, being given a commission in the heavy artillery as second lieutenant and after arriving in France he was transferred to the aviation corps as aerial observer. He wrote to the Whitner family here, one of his letters to Miss Mell Whitner a few weeks ago describing his life in France some of the extracts as follows:

"The ones in the aviation are lucky in a way. There are several nice things about it. There is not much danger of coming home bunged up. It is either "all hog or none." The life of an aviator is a good one and a comfortable one. But on the other hand when the Germans are bringing down fifteen or twenty planes a day a man might not last long. I am glad to know that you have the right war spirit. Most people talk about their bit. As soon as the people learn that this war takes more than a "bit" the sooner we beat the Huns."

Richard could be depended upon to do his part in the great war and he is the first Sanford boy to be killed.

Utilizing Rice Hulls.

Experiments have been made with rice hulls in combination with different binding agents, but while the resulting briquets gave every satisfaction from the standpoint of heating, yet the initial cost of the various binding agents made their cost too high for practical purposes. The experiments, however, are being continued, and it is hoped that in the future a briquet can be manufactured that will be satisfactory from an economic standpoint.

History of the Louvre.

The Louvre was originally a royal residence. Napoleon turned it into a museum and deposited in it the finest collection of paintings, statues and art treasures known in the world. Many of those brought from Italy have been restored to their rightful possessors. The magnificent buildings of the new Louvre begun by Napoleon I and completed by Napoleon III, were inaugurated in 1877.

Cupid Makes Early Call.

An American professor who has spent his life investigating and has collected the evidence of 1,703 young people, declares that both sexes start being wounded by Cupid's darts at the age of three and that a woman's love reaches maturity at twenty-two and a man's at twenty-four.

HAPPENINGS OF INTEREST IN AND AROUND SANFORD

Mrs. Ernest McCown Galloway entertained about one hundred and fifty guests yesterday afternoon at her lovely country home in honor of Mrs. Ethel Elliot Colson of Memphis, Tenn., who has been her guest for several weeks. As you entered the screened porch you immediately exclaimed upon its beauty, bowls of purple flag lilies greeted you from all sides. Mrs. Aylett Fitts and Mrs. W. E. Watson met the friends at the door. Mrs. Galloway, Mrs. Colson and Mrs. Miller of Eustis were in the receiving line. Mrs. Galloway and Mrs. Colson wore lovely afternoon gowns of white lace. Mrs. Miller wore white Georgette. Easter lilies, roses and sweet peas were in profusion in the living room where the guests were received. Mrs. Puleston and Mrs. Thrashed invited you into the dining room, where from a beautifully appointed table ice tea, hot tea, sandwiches and war cookies were passed.

The color scheme pink and green was beautifully carried out, a large cut glass vase in the center of the table being filled with the most exquisite pink roses and asparagus fern, the baskets were tied with green tulle and a lovely bowl of luscious strawberries gave the finishing touch to this artistic table. Mrs. J. W. Dickins and Mrs. McLaughlin poured the early part of the afternoon, their places being taken later by Mrs. W. J. Thigpen and Mrs. R. R. Deas. Those assisting in the dining room were Mrs. Deane Turner, Mrs. Hal Wight, Mrs. W. C. Hill, Mrs. W. L. Morgau, Miss Hawkins, Miss Elder, Miss Wilkie, Miss Fox and Miss Charlotte Hand. Mrs. Deas' playing during the afternoon was very much enjoyed. Mrs. Colson is one of the most attractive women that has ever visited in Sanford and we are all regretting that her stay is so short.

Garden Hose Restores Vision.
Garden hose, at full pressure, restored a man's sight at San Rafael, Cal., recently. The man, Charles Brown fell 40 feet from the roof of his home. Neighbors turned the garden hose on his head as a first aid measure and after an examination Brown was found to be the better instead of the worse for his tumble. His vision was completely cured. He is wondering whether it was the fall or the garden hose that was responsible.

Do Your Work Properly.
Make up your mind that you will do what you have to do the very best you know how. There is very little work that is really difficult. But all good work is painstaking. If you put your whole soul into your work, you will learn to enjoy it, and you will become continually better and more worth while.

Velvet-Making.
Velvet was developed and originated from fur in China. Thence velvet-making was introduced into India, and in the fourteenth century into Italy, where that sort of fabric especially appealed, and where the art of velvet-making reached its height.

BUDGET OF OPINION "JUST BETWEEN YOU AND ME."

EVEN THE GATE POST NOT IN IT

A CHIEF IS AMONG YE TAKING NOTES AND FAITH. "HE'LL PRENT 'EM"—SO SAYS SAUNTERER.

¶ Potatoes and eggs have fallen in price to such an extent that they do Herculean duty on meatless days.

¶ Knowing when to stop the conversation is one of the high lights of good horse sense. Knowing when to stop writing is also a sign of discretion.

¶ "Vienna" bread and rolls, like sauer kraut, probably will stick despite their foreign origin. Lots of sweet folks in Seminole can make good with the kraut.

¶ Curtailment of flour sales may yet make all of us take to eating hay. Some of us used to do it in peace times and pay 15 cents a package for the privilege.

¶ Men who rob the government in ordinary times are bad enough scoundrels, but in war times their acts approach treachery and they should be given terms in the federal penitentiary.

¶ Women are different than they used to be. Abe Martin says that forty years ago a woman wouldn't climb in a buggy if anybody was looking. Nowadays lots of women won't climb into an auto if nobody is looking.

¶ This is Children's Year. We are to save the lives of 100,000 children under five years of age, according to the Child Welfare Department of the Woman's Committee of the Council of National Defense. This is certainly a laudable object. Expert care of our infants and tots up to five years of age will save the lives of 100,000, it is said, the estimate being based on statistics of those who die at that age annually. By doing this in war time we won't be burning both ends of the candle; we'll necessarily lose some men on the battlefields of Europe, but can save more than the number of dead we may lose there by adequate care of the young here. Sanford should go in on this proposition. All that is asked is that all children be given the best possible care—better care than ever given heretofore. It doesn't cost more and will save 100,000 lives.

¶ It seems that our transportation problems will soon be solved and that the spring crops would get to markets in better time thus giving the growers some margin for the many losses suffered by the slow movement of trains all during the winter. Unless we can move our perishable crops from the Sanford section there is no use in raising them and while our growers are patriotic they cannot see anything but ruin in again raising the crops of perishables without some guarantee that they will be moved.

¶ There is a well known difference between planning to do something to benefit Sanford and doing it; between talking about it and doing it.

The trouble with too many civic meetings is that nothing substantial comes of them. Too often men get up and talk and talk, then somebody else does the same, and as a wind-up somebody else finishes with more talk.

Too frequently community clubs and chambers of commerce are a sort of safety valve—men go to hear themselves talk or to hear somebody else talk.

They all dodge ACTION. There are lots of things in Sanford that need action this spring. The war cannot camouflage community essentials.

And community essentials do not necessarily mean commercial essentials. The weakness of the average business man is that he thinks and talks in terms of dollars and cents. Talking in terms of community benefits once in a while will be good for a change.

¶ Are you co-operating with the food administration because you have to or because you want to?

Do you call yourself a loyal American citizen, anxious for the speedy triumph of the American cause, the success of its brave soldiers abroad and welfare of its fine people at home, and yet dare to hold back and whine and quibble and say you can't or you don't want to, or you must first know the reason why, when you are called upon to conform to requirements.

Are you only willing to follow orders as long as it suits your convenience, your pocket book and your individual views, or are you man enough and American enough to say: "That which is the best for my country is best for me. I will follow the call of my trade; serve as it is demanded of me; do what is required; stand fast for the good of the whole regardless of my apparent interests. My country and its needs first, my business and its advantages last. Come what may I will not falter or fail in this hour of trial."

On your answer to such questions as these will depend your status in this country now, in the time of action, when each man's help is needed, and later, in the time of judgment, when each man's record is reviewed.

In God's name stand up and don't be a skulker.

¶ The war is coming home to us every day and when our own boys get "over there," and getting over there come back wounded or do not come back at all we will settle down to the stern facts and realities of war and give up the frivolous things of this life. I really think it is sacrilegious to carry on now just like we did before the war. It is true that we should keep up our spirits and cheer up as much as possible but we should not try to get the pleasures that we formerly did and those who want such pleasures should be frowned upon by the sober minded people of the community. There is plenty of real work to do here in winning the war and trophies should stop. This is the time to settle down to real business of winning the war and the person who still thinks of his pleasure should be placed in a cage, to be left alone by the decent people of the community. When our homes are darkened by death we will have but little sympathy for the roisterer and the fellow who wants to enjoy himself as formerly and now is the time to place the soft pedal on these occasions before the news comes home.

¶ We cannot think too much of the Red Cross and we cannot do too much for the Red Cross and all of us can do more and all of us should do more than we are doing for this great organization. Read what others think of this great organization and the work it is doing on the battle lines.

Harold R. Peat, the young Canadian who wrote the stirring war story "Private Peat," in an article on war conditions asks the question, "Why do the wounded not die? We do not die because we have such infinite faith and hope and trust. We do not die because we are firmly convinced of the infallibility of the Red Cross."

"I lay on the battle field after I was wounded for fifty-two hours, without dressing, without water and without food. Nothing was with me but God and hope. I knew that if they found me I would not die."

"One side was totally paralyzed as a result of the explosive bullet which hit me. For long I suffered torture with the weight of my knapsack pressing into the gaping hole below my right lung through which the bullet had exploded. At last I chewed through the strap of it, and at length too, I was able with my left hand, feeble though its movements were, to loosen the string of an emergency dressing with which every soldier's tunic is equipped in a concealed pocket. I was able to plug roughly and only temporarily the bleeding gash. What if the supply of emergency dressings had given out before reaching me?

"If all the Red Cross workers who could handle surgical dressings could realize even to half the extent, the importance, the vital importance of their work, there would be three women to each job where there is only one now."

WAYS OF KEEPING YOUTHFUL

Man Who is Determined Not to Grow Old Really Has Only to "Make an Effort."

"I see it in my changing hair, I see it in my growing hair, My growing thirst for early news. It is a fact, I am growing old. And so growing old is just a case of finding what one's looking for, observes the Minneapolis Journal. A man decides that the time has come for him to be old, and so instead of bracing up, ignoring the symptoms and finding some other explanation for the change, in the color of his hair, he neglects his dress, walks with a stoop, uses a cane, stops taking exercise, eats too much, indulges in reminiscences, retires from business, and in general acquires the foolish habit of growing old. He should remember that it is possible to keep a youthful spirit, an active mind, an interest in current events and a purpose to serve his fellows, and that he who does these things will always be young.

The fact that women generally decline to contract the old-age habit and that some men have also resisted the temptation to fall into it would seem to indicate that if those who do yield to it would only take the advice of Dombey to his wife, and "make an effort," they would learn how foolish and how unnecessary it is to grow old.

Henry Clay's Diplomacy. The following is an instance of Henry Clay's readiness in getting out of a difficult situation. On one occasion a vote he had given in congress offended one of his constituents who unbraided him for it and declared he would never again support him for congress.

Meeting this constituent on the court green Mr. Clay said to him: "I am sorry you will not again support me for congress because of a vote I gave on a certain measure. Where your rifle mases fire do you throw it away?" "No," replied the constituent, "I do not throw it away." "What do you do with it?" asked Mr. Clay. "Why, I pick my flint and try it again," replied the constituent. "Well," said Mr. Clay, "are you going to throw me away because I have missed fire once? Won't you let me pick my flint and try again? Won't you treat me as you do your rifle when it misses fire?" This ready reply satisfied the constituent and completely won him over, and he was ever after one of Clay's most faithful supporters in his candidacy for congress.

ATHLETICS AT CAMP DEVENS

Very Few Dull Moments After Day's Work is Done, Says Sergt. Francis Outmet.

Sergt. Francis Outmet, former national amateur and open golf champion, writes from Camp Devens at Ayer, Mass., that he is having lots of fun. He says that there are few dull moments left after the day's work is done, as athletics are very popular. "When America gathers her men together for a great drive against the Germans, she will have the finest collection any nation could boast of," is Outmet's opinion.
