Board rejects health clinic

50 room assisted-living facility gains preliminary approval

By Joe DeSantia Staff Writer

SANFORD — By identical 5-0 votes Thursday night, Sanford's Planning and Zoning Board gave preliminary approval to an assisted-living facility in the 1400 block of South Magnolia, but shot down a developer's plan for a health clinic on adjacent property.

Developer Rami Yosefian, newly appointed to the Planning and Zoning Board, had sought to construct a health clinic and a 50-unit assisted-living facility at the former Velma Mitchell Center.

The board approved amending the Future Land Use map to accommodate the assisted-living facility under a Medium Density Residential zoning, but denied his request to convert three adjacent lots to Neighborhood Commercial zoning to accommodate the health clinic. Yosefian excused himself from the dais prior to the public hearings and engaged in 90 minutes of amicable dia-logue with some 30 neighborhood residents and board members over concerns about the joint developments.

Yosefian told the audience that the assisted-living facility would be comprised of 50 studio type apartments for the elderly. Conversion of the building would include interior modifications for a kitchen, auditorium-stage area, and dining area. He said plans also called for exterior landscaping and other improvements to reconstruct the building in a 1920 era architectural design. Yosefian said the facility would be staffed with a full-time nurse and eight staff members and that elderly residents would pay approximately $1,800 per month for small apartments, food, laundry, transportation, and recreational ser-

Woodruff enters District 1 race

By Joe DeSantia Staff Writer

SANFORD - Toss another hat into the growing field of candidates in Sanford's upcoming District 1 City Commission race. Art Woodruff has joined the race to fill the seat being vacated by incumbent Brady Lessard, who is running for the Mayor's office. Woodruff has filed papers with the city clerk appointing John Rhoades as his campaign

"I thought about running before and decided not to the last time," Woodruff said.

"I'm concerned over develop-ment issues in Sanford, and I've received a lot of calls encouraging me to run."
Woodruff said he is concerned about the development pressure on the city and that it appears so easy to change the comprehensive plan.

"I hope to make the city a better place to live, grow and raise children," he said. "There's a lot of good things happening in the city, particularly redevelopment, but still there are a lot of people being left behind."

Woodruff, 38, is a sixth generation Sanford resident. He is employed as a physics teacher at Oviedo High and previously taught at Seminole High School for 14 years. His wife Patti is a home healthcare nurse. The Woodruff's have two children, Daniel and Rachel, 21 months and 5 months.

The political newcomer is an active member of First Presbyterian Church in downtown Sanford and is a member of the Christian Education Committee.

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

A time for Christmas stories

This is the big weekend --- Christmas 2000. All across the nation, special celebrations have been or will be held in various cities, and of course, in private homes. Hopefully, families with members who live far off will be able to get together.

A number of Christmas related stories have come to mind, some of which you may not have heard of, others which ! believe may be interesting.

HOLY NIGHT

SILENT NIGHT,

Most of us will be singing or at least listening to this Christmas song. It was first presented publicly in Oberndorf, Salzburg, Austria, in 1818.

WHEN IS CHRISTMAS?

Pfeifauf The exact date of the birth of Christ is not known. The most popular early observance was the Feast of the Nativity, which history shows dates back to the 4th Century. The Western church determined that the observance should be Dec. 25, possibly to counteract non-Christian observances which had been held on the same date several centuries ago, although a number of customs have been adopted from those rites (having nothing to do with the birth) including Christmas lights, the holly and ivy, holiday tree, wassailing and gift giving. Some Orthodox churches celebrate Christmas on Jan. 7, based on the old Julian calendar.

CHRISTMAS BABIES

Many births on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day have produced people named, Holly, Ivy, Mary, Christian, Nicholas, and possibly even a Rudolph or two. Some of the prominent names of people born on Christmas Eve, Dec. 24, are Howard Hughes, Ava Gardner and Ricky Martin.

On Christmas Day over the years, births included Humphrey Bogart, bandleader Cab Calloway, nurse Clara Barton, frontiersman Kit Carson, Jimmy Buffett, Barbara Mandrell, and Sissy Spacek.

I'LL BE HOME FOR CHRISTMAS

Finally, a personal story, one of the favorites from my early years. At the end of World War II, my brother Pete had planned to be home for Christmas, after serving four years in the Army Air Corps. His orders were changed and he wrote home that it would be mid-January. My sister Mary told him she would keep her Christmas tree up until he came home.

It was a live tree and she kept it watered regular-ly. But as luck would have it, Pete didn't come home from the service until May. The tree was still alive, and fully decorated. Within three days after Pete got home, the branches of the tree browned and the tree died, almost overnight. But it had served its purpose. Naturally, it died because she stopped watering it, but the concept that this tree managed to survive almost a half year has always been in my fondest recollections of the holiday sea-

Toxic Audio to headline holiday bash

By Michelle Jeria Managing Editor

SANFORD — Toxic Audio is returning to the Helen Stairs Theatre, and the group is bringing a few friends with them.

Some of Orlando's top improvisational comedians and other performers are joining the vocal acrobats in a New Year's Eve celebration. The reason for the performance—to sing in the New Year

Yes, Virginia, There is a Santa Claus

The following 1897 editorial was Francis P. Church's response to Virginia O'Hanlon's letter asking the New York Sun if there really is a Santa Claus.

We take pleasure in answering thus prominently the communication below, expressing at the same time our great gratification that its faithful author is numbered among the friends of The Sun:

I am 8 years old. Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus. Papa says, "If you see it in The Sun, it's so." Please tell me the truth, is there a Santa Claus?

Virginia O'Hanlon Virginia, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a sceptic al age. They do not believe except they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's, are little. In this great universe of ours, man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole of truth and knowledge.

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! how dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight. The external light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

Not believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies. You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if you did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign that there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders there are unseen and unseeable in the world.

You tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, nor even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived could tear apart. Only faith, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that curtain and view and picture the supernal beauty and glory beyond. Is it all real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding.

No Santa Claus?Thank God he lives and lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay 10 times 10,000 years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood.

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!!!!

From The People's Almanac, pp. 1358-9:

Francis P. Church's editorial, "Yes Virginia, There is a Santa Claus" was an immediate sensation, and became one of the most famous editorials ever written. It first appeared in the The New York Sun in 1897, more than a hundred years ago, and was reprinted annually until 1949 when the paper went out of business.

Thirty-six years after her letter was printed, Virginia O'Hanlon recalled the events that prompted her letter:

'Quite naturally I believed in Santa Claus, for he had never disappointed me. But when less fortunate little boys and girls said there wasn't any Santa Claus, I was filled with doubts. I asked my father, and he was a little evasive on the subject.

"It was a habit in our family that whenever any doubts came up as to how to pronounce a word or some question of historical fact was in doubt, we wrote to the Question and Answer column in The Sun. Father would always say, If you see it in the The Sun, it's so,' and that settled the

" Well, I'm just going to write The Sun and find out the real truth,' I said to father.

"He said, 'Go ahead, Virginia. I'm sure The Sun will give you the right answer, as it always does."

And so Virginia sat down and wrote her parents' favorite newspaper. Her letter found its way into the hands of a veteran editor, Francis P. Church. Son of a Baptist minister, Church had covered the Civil War for The New York Times and had worked on the The New York Sun for 20 years, more recently as an anonymous editorial writer. Church, a sardonic man, had for his personal motto, "Endeavour to clear your mind of cant." When controversial subjects had to be tackled district editorial page, especially those dealing with theologic the assignments were usually given to Church. Virginia O'Hanlon went on to graduate from Hunter College with a Bachelor of Arts degree at age 21. The following year she received her Master's from Columbia, and in 1912 she began teaching in the New York City school system, later becoming a principal. After 47 years, she retired as an educator. Throughout her life she received a steady stream of mail about her Santa Claus letter, and to each reply she attached an attractive printed copy of the Church editorial. Virginia O'Hanlon Douglas died on May 13, 1971, at the age of 81, in a nursing home in Valatie, N.Y.

Sanford resident thanks neighbors for sharing Christmas spirit

This year has been hard. I'm a single mom with two jobs, raising a two-year-old and renovating a 1906 house. The inside of the house is coming along great but exterior was in shambles. Last Friday night, as I drove up after work, I was surprised to see cars from friends and family. Written in paint across the front of the house was Merry Christmas.

A neighbor and friend, Mike Skat, organized with Brady Lessard, the greatest Christmas gift I have ever received. They called on friends and family to chip in not only time (the most precious commodity during the hustle and bustle season) as well as money. In one weekend, the front of my house was transformed from a dilapidated mess to a beautifully painted home.

Thank you! The spirit of the season does live in Sanford, and I'm glad I do too.

Clinic -

Yosefian tried to convince homeowners and the board a health clinic on the site was a natural extension of assisted-living facilities.

The idea of the clinic is for use of the residents and not for economics. It's a strong selling point for an assisted-living facil-ity. It could also benefit the neighborhood by being a walk-in health clinic," said Yosefian. City Planner Jay Marder said the assisted-living facility would be compatible with current zoning, but amending the land use to neighborhood com-mercial for a health clinic was

"This neighborhood commer-cial use doesn't appear like other neighborhood commercial use in the area," said Marder. "This location is off the beaten path. It's better to maintain residential use in that location."

While many of the surrounding homeowners on hand agreed with the assisted-living center in principal, they likewise expressed concerns about traffic impact in a residential section and long-range plans for the type of clientele that would use the facility.

Speaking on behalf of more. than 20 nearby residents, Eric Breitenbach read from a prepared statement, listing a score of concerns and citing sections of the city's zoning and land use regulations...'

"Question one — It's not clear how this facility would fit In with the existing surrounding neighborhood; Question two - what assurances do we have that the facility will not be used for other clientele down the road in addition to the elderly; Question three -what about required parking and street paving to accommodate visitors and emergency vehiclea?"

Other residents expressed similar concerns that the facility might some day house drug rehabilitation clientele, Alzheimer's patients or become a foster home center.

"About 11 or 12 years ago this city paid dearly for a consultant to make recommendations about land use in a Historic District," said Laine Wood. "Please use those recommendations. This is a neighborhood. Commercial impact would be devastating." Oak Avenue resident Steve Myers told the board, "There are better alternative sites for the clinic on larger streets like Park Avenue. We comprise the city, we can determine the direction we want to go. This facility will have an impact on the fabric of the neighborhood."

"If parking questions and concerns can be addressed I say yes to the assisted living center but no to the health clinic," said resident Marveen Kelly.

"It's unrealistic to think that a health clinic designed for geriatric patients can also serve as a walk-in neighborhood clinic or vice-versa.

Yosefian told residents that the licenses he would seek to run the assisted living center would be for elderly only, that there would be no Alzheimer's unit and that he would agree to restrict the resident clientele to elderly only.

The board ultimately gave preliminary approval to designate the assisted living facility as a Planned Development pending site plan approval that will address specific questions about parking, paving, access and egress issue as well as landscaping and road buffers. Following the vote Yosefian huddled with a number of the residents, exchanging phone numbers and setting up a future meeting with property owners to discuss their concerns and address them in a future site plan that will come before the planning and zoning board and ultimately the Sanford City Commission for a final vote.

"It was a good meeting," Yosefian said afterward, "Our main concern was getting approval for the assisted living facility. It is certainly needed in this area."

In other board action

Thursday, unanimous approval was given to the Orlando Catholic Diocese for rezoning of property located at 3280 West 1st Street for the future construction of a Catholic High School. By a 6-0 vote the panel approved a request for a Planned Development Rezone from General Commercial-Restricted Industrial-Agricultural and Medium Industrial to that of Planned Development.

Officials for the Diocese said plans call for the construction of a Catholic High school on the site that would accommodate 1,200 students. All Soul's Catholic Church would also relocate to the site in the future while the Church's elementary school would remain in operation in Sanford's Historic District.

Official qualifying for city races begins Jan. 8 and closes Jan. 19. Election day is March 6 with a March 20 run-off date if necessary.

Earlier this week Lessard, perennial candidate Dean Ray, and newcomer Bates Reed announced for the mayor's race.

Honor society wins awards

The Seminole Community College Pi Lambda Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, the international honor society of two-year colleges, took home multiple awards from the Florida Regional PTK Comtention in St. Petersburg last month. Among top honors was the presentation of the Distinguished Service Award and Most Distinguished Alumni Award to SCC President, Dr. E. Ann McGee

Among other awards, Faculty advisor Christopher Robbins was named "Outstanding Advisor" for Florida; Jennifer Whittaker, vice president, won the "Best Short Story Award" in the creative category, and Juliet Schwartz won two creative prizes in photography.

Reed will be Sanford's first openly gay candidate. Incumbent mayor Larry Dale left open the possibility of seek-ing a second term. On Monday Dale confirmed that he would prefer not to run again but may reconsider.

The Way We Were: People from Sanford's past

Today and next week I depart a Elizabeth. Their family home was little from giving you information from the past. Instead I will tell you of some accomplishments of a few former Sanfordites who have done well in other places. This information has been given to me by various people during the past few months and deserves to be published.

John Damell'Fite John D. Fite died at his home in Belleaire, Nov. 27, Grace Marie 2000, while under hospice Stinecipher care. The Seminole Herald could not use all the information in the obituary, so it was ... forwarded to me. Since I knew John, I will also add my own knowledge and comments.

John was born in the Fernald Laughton Memorial Hospital In Sanford on May 2, 1933, to May (Morris) and Kirby Fite. His siblings were Kirby, Mary Helen and on Celery Avenue.

John was an active member of the Seminole High School Class of 1951. He will probably be remembered most for his musical talents. He was an accompanist and piano soloist for the Glee Club and also played the Sousaphone in the band, and was student conductor. A few of his other activities included the Debate Club where he served as secretary, both Celery Fed and • • • • • • • Salmagundi staffs, Key Club and Boys State. He also appeared in several plays and was vice president of the Thespians as well as student director. He was selected by his classmates to be featured in the Salmagundi as one of the 12 outstanding seniors.

In 1955, John graduated cum laude and Phi Beta Kappa from Davidson College. Soon afterward, he was drafted into the U.S. Army where he served in the Canal Zone. After his discharge in 1958, he attended the Duke University School of Law and graduated with honors. He was also elected to the Order of the Coif.

John had been an attorney with the firm of Richards, Gilpey, Fite, et al, in Clearwater since 1961. He also served on the board of several area banks and was active in the motel business.

John was very active in the Duke University Alumni Association. He contributed funds for a computer instruction room in the new law school library. He had also funded a John D. Fite mordecia Scholarship which provides law school tuition annually to a scholar. His will has made provisions for the establishment of four additional such scholarships.

John had one son, William Neal Fite, born March 16, 1962 during his ten year marriage to Meagan Goodman.

I knew John quite well many years ago, but had not seen him in a very long time. One of his best friends was Ronnie Garner, son of Dr. and Mrs. Wade Garner, and sister of Rosemary Gamer, my good friend. I was in the Garner home often during our childhood and so was John.

John was also in the SHS Band, as was !.

Also, many of you may be interested to know that John went steady with Donna Lou Harper, later Mrs. Reubin Askew, while in high school.

Herman "Foots" Brumley Harold "Chip" Chapman gave me this information on Foots Brumley. It had been sent to him for their SHS Class of 1945

Foots had been an outstanding football player at Seminole High for which he was awarded the coveted Peter Schaal Trophy in 1944. He, of course, earned his nickname because of his big feet.

Brumley coached football at Hastings High School for 18 years (1950-68), leading his team to eight conference championships.
"At Hastings there weren't a lot of great athletes," Brumley said, "but they were hard-nosed kids — farm boys."

In 1968, he took over the St. Augustine football team and immediately turned the program around. During his 12 years there, SAHS won three district titles and qualified for the play-offs five

One of Brumley's former stu-dents stated, "Coach brought a commitment and a heart to the program. St. Augustine High School has been much blessed."

This information came from a newspaper article, not dated, that tells of Herman "Foots" Brumley's induction into the St. Johns County - St. Augustine Sports Club's Hall of Fame.

Another article tells of the St. Augustine Football Stadium being named the Herman "Foots" Brumley Stadium. This local boy "made good" in his chosen profes-

I have known the Brumley family all of my life. Genevieve Lehman Brumley, the mother of the four boys, was a childhood friend of my mother's. Mrs. Brumley's brother, Rodman Lehman, taught with my mother at SHS in the 1930s and they cosponsored the Class of 1934.

Genevieve and Bill Brumley had four sons, Billy (SHS Class of 1943), Foots (1945), Stanley (SHS, 1950) and Rodman (SHS 1954). Rodman was in my class. It would take another article to write about him. He died in 1990 of a heart attack, having been previously disabled by a stroke. He was only 54.

BUSINESS

People on the Move

Larry Strelb, Orlando Division President of David Weekley Homes - Orlando, with offices in Altamonte Springs, has announced the promotion of Linda Bamhart, of Lake Mary. She will become Purchasing Manager for the company, effective Jan. 1, 2001. Barnhart has been with the company for five years, having served in various pur-chasing related positions.

David Weekley homes is now considered the largest privately owned home builder in several cities across the nation including Orlando.

Florida Solar Technology, Inc., in Sanford, has promoted Barbara Johnson as assistant manager for the telecommunications. Skip West, company president, sald Johnson has been with the firm for one year and was formerly an Orange County school teacher.

Business Notes

New Product Onlinelabels.com, the Longwood Internet company that sells peel-and-stick labels for inkjet and laser printers, plans to launch a new product line in January that Company President David Carmany said could bring incremental monthly revenues of as much as $20,000 next year: labels for personal photo stick-ons in a wide variety of shapes and sizes.

"This is a large and grow-ing market that could really explode," Carmany said, adding, "especially among young people. They down-load photos from the Internet or scan their own and print them out on their desktop inkjet printers - peel-and-stick labels with pictures."

Carmany said he spent four months investigating and developing the product - high gloss paper with peel-and-stick backing that's compatible with most inket and laser

"With most of the bundled duce your favorite pictures -including your own - with a high quality phototgraphic finish."

New Leases Realvest Partners, Inc., negotiated two new leases for office warehouse space in Sanford and Lake Mary.

Realvest Founder and President George Livingston and Michael Heidrich, director of industrial and land at Realvest negotiated both transactions.

At Realvest's Lake Mary Business Center, 1150 Ernma Oaks Trail in Lake Mary, Heidrich negotiated a lease for 3,500 square feet of office space and 28,858 square feet of warehouse space. Realvest represented the landlord in negotiations. Goulds Pumps, Inc., a division of Sheraton-ITT Corp. is the tenant and was represented by Mike Davis of Cushman and Wakefield.

Heidrich negotiated a sec-ond transaction to lease 2,100 square feet of office warehouse space at 49 Coastline Rd. in Sanford. Solarveil America, Inc., subleased the space from Magna Machinery Corp. of Troy, Mich. Realvest represented Magna Machinery in the transaction. Maitland based Realvest Partners, Inc., is a fully integrated real estate operating company specializing in bro-kerage, investment, leasing and management, consulting, and development services in the U.S. and worldwide through CORFAC International, a global real estate services network active in the 60 largest markets in North America, Europe and

DVRs still need development

You've probably seen the adstouting the digital video recorder (DVR), the latest next big thing in home entertainment. Among the ads' selling points: DVRs' ability to "con-trol" live TV by replaying an event, such as an incomplete pass or a courtroom confession, without missing any of the continuing action.

Also known as personal video recorders, DVRs are essentially set-top boxes that record to a computer-like hard drive. Their interactive onscreen program guides let you choose TV programs for viewing or recording simply by clicking on the title with your remote. Some have software that can learn your viewing preferences and automatically record shows that match. Others can automatically record shows based on a title, actor, director or category you choose. All let you fast-forward or skip through commercials while you're watching, as well as pause live shows and resume them where you left off.

Their ability to easily shape the programming you want to record and watch could make owning a DVR tempting, but beware: This next-big-thing may be experiencing growing pains. When we tested DVRs in the summer of 2000, there were two service providers, ReplayTV and TiVo. By Dec. 1, ReplayTV had halted manufacture of its own line of set-top recorders, although it will continue to provide the programguide service and software to run other manufacturers'

Then there's the cost of controlling live TV. DVR models we tested will set you back $400 to $700. Plus, you'll need a VCR to archive what you record, since anything you save takes up space on a DVR's hard drive. In addition, TiVo charges $10 month, or $200 for the life of the unit, for its program guide. ReplayTV-based units give you the guide without a fee, but their higher initial cost puts them in the same price league as TiVo units with the lifetime fec.

We tested two TiVo-based DVRs (the Sony SVR-2000 and the Phillips HDR312, both $400) and two that use ReplayTV software (the $700 Panasonic PV-HS2000, and the $600 Replay RTV-3030, which is discontinued but may still be available). All performed similarly, scoring "very good" overall. However, there are some differences — centering more on service providers and price than on hardware — that could influence your decision on which to buy.

Ease of use. The ReplayTV DVRs proved easier to set up and use. For example, a grid format for the program guide lets you scan programming on several channels at once. With

3001 W. Lake Mary Blvd. Lake Mary, Florida 32746

Tel: 407.323.8485

TiVo models, you often have to scan the program guide one channel at a time. ReplayTV models' "keyword" option also gives you more control over automatic recording. With the "learned preferences" feature on TiVo DVRs, the unit can automatically record shows based on what you've watched — Picture quality. DVRs accept signals from your antenna or cable/satellite provider and compress what they record. You get the best picture quality using the least compression, though that eats into storage space faster. While the DVRs we tested were very good at their highest-quality setting (and on par with an average VHS VCR at their lowest-quality setting), none matched what a DVD player can offer. What's worse, as with VCRs, a mediocre incoming signal yields a mediocre picture.

— Sound quality. Here the TiVo models have an edge. Their sound quality is comparable to a hi-fi VCR's and good enough for high-quality home-theater sound. The ReplayTV models' sound quality wasn't as good.

- Phone costs. DVRs require a phone connection for nightly program and periodic software updates from the service provider. These calls are toll-free for TIVo models. On ReplayTV units, you may pay a long-distance charge if a local number isn't available.

Lions overwhelm "Great" field

By Dean Smith Sports Editor

KISSIMMEE — Yes, the Lions are for

The Oviedo boys basketball team proved that what they have done so far this season is no hoax as they completed an impressive run through the field in the 20th Great Florida Shootout with a 78-74 overtime victory over Carver High School from New Orleans Wednesday night.

The Lions, now 12-0 and ranked No. 3 in the Class 6A State Poll, won 25 games last year and had beaten a good DeLand team in its new gymnasium earlier this month.

But a lot of people were probably still sceptical because the team had also been blown out in the district championship game last year, has no player over 6-foot-3, and had not played a real strong schedule as vet.

Bur all of those thoughts should have been put to rest after seeing the ease with which Oviedo rolled through the strong 16-team field this week in Kissimmee.

After thoroughly dismantling Gateway and Jacksonville-Ribault in its first two games in the tournament, the Lions got their first test against Traditional High

After three blowouts, Oviedo boys go to overtime to claim Shootout title at Kissimmee

School from Buffalo, New York in the semifinals on Tuesday.

But as in the other games, Oviedo took a quick lead and never trailed, leading 24-18 after one quarter and 41-28 at half-

After the Lions scored the first basket In the third quarter, Traditional ran off nine straight points to cut the lead to 43-37, but Oviedo outscored the Buffalo quintet 29-19 the rest of the way to cruise into the final.

Senior Darrell Freeman led the way for the Lions with 29 points, while junior Shawn Witherspoon (14 points) and senior Justin Smith (12 points) were also in double figures.

The Championship Game looked like It was going to be just like the others as Oviedo jumped out to a 22-9 lead after one period and led by 22, 34-12, midway through the second quarter.

The Lions still led by 17, 47-30, after scoring the first six points of the third period, but then Carver (12-6) started its comeback, finally taking its first lead, 55-54, with 4:50 left in the game.

Carver then took a 58-54 advantage before Oviedo came back to regain the lead only to see Carver hit a shot at the buzzer to send the game into overtime tied at 62-62.

Carver then appeared to take control, building a 69-66 lead before the Lions rallied back again behind Witherspoon, Freeman, Tim Kiscaden and Marcus Hayes to pull out the victory.

Freeman again led all scorers with 27 points and was named the tournament's Most Valuable Player, Witherspoon, who made the All-Tournament Team, netted 18, while Hayes finished with 13.

Simon, who hit six of Carver's 10 three-pointers in the game, scored 22 for

The championship was the third in the tournament for Oviedo head coach Ed Kershner, who started the event back in 1980 when he was the head coach at Osceola and won back-to-back titles in 1981 and 1982 as coach of the Kowboys.

LAKE MARY — With school out for the holiday break, basket-ball and wrestling teams will turn their attention to tournament action next week

Five Seminole Athletic Conference basketball teams, both the boys and girls squads from Lake Mary as well as the boys from Lake Brantley, Winter Springs, and Seminole will take part in the Lake Mary High School 2000 Holiday Classic running next Wednesday through Friday.

Other boys teams include defending champion Apopka, Winter

LAKE MARY - The Seminole Athletic Conference very nearly made it a clean sweep in the Quarterfinals of the Target Soccer Classic 2000 Thursday.

Defending Class 4A State Champion Lake Howell, host Lake Mary and Oviedo along with undefeated Satellite, which blanked a very strong Lake Brantley team, 4-0.

The highlight game of the quarterfinals was a rematch of the 1999 final between Lake Howell and defending Target Champion Seabreeze.

The game was another nailbiter with Randi Holcomb scoring the only goal in the first half and the Silver Hawks defense held the 1999 champs to only eight shots on goal for a 1-0 win.

The final week of the season has arrived and The Crystal Ball of Football is still a nervous wreck. Not only did the Bucs win on Monday Night, a game I wasn't allowed to watch, but my STOCK LOCK OF THE YEAR is on fire.

As the Stock Market continued to pummel friend and foe alike, the Crystal reached into his bag and pulled out a winner for you. I stumbled out of bed this morning, turned on the computer, and Converse Technologies was up another $14 a share! I had to sell.....remember my motto, "I'm a profit taker, not a risk taker."

There have been a bunch of bloody noses and bruised egos in this market, but fear not, I'll help you in this department as well.

Last week, the SAN FRANCISCO FORTY-NIN-ERS delivered big time as they smashed the CHICAGO BEARS as my LOCK OF THE WEEK. In an effort to start the holiday early, the Herald Sports Department is rushing my column this week. We're not wasting any effort on games that will in no way impact the complexion of the play-

Let's get right to the schedule and find some winners.

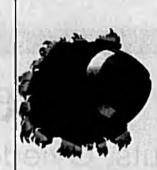

BALTIMORE (-5) VS. NEW YORK JETS

The Ravens are foaming at the mouth as they wait for the Jets in this one. Old Vinny won't want to play against this vicious and at times cruel defense. Ravens 21, Jets 12.

ST. LOUIS (-4) AT NEW ORLEANS

The Aints' are on a roll, but my sources tell me bad things about team discipline. Bourbon Street has been packed with players all week and It's going to cost them. The Rammies are desperate for the first time in two years. Rammies 27, Aints

DETROIT (-10) VS. CHICAGO I cannot believe that the Lions actually have a chance to make the playoffs. All they have to do is beat the Bears so I guess they will, but this shouldn't be happening. In my opinion they should let the Bills switch Conferences and fill in for them. Lions 13, Bears 0.

PHILADELPHIA (-11) VS. CINCINNATI

The Eagles are having a tough time getting any respect from the League and will have to earn it in the playoffs. The vast majority of my sources around the country consider this team to be a fluke. I'm not sure if they are a Super Bowl team, but I do think they have a solid defense and offense making them one of the better balanced teams still standing. The Bungles may be my team next year, they keep showing up for games everyone knows they'll lose. Eagles 27, Bungles 10.

GREEN BAY (-3) VS. TAMPA BAY The Battle of the Bays. This happens to be one of my favorite games of the year. Everyone and their uncle is figuring the Bucs will choke, I'm not sure. I'm hoping for warm weather and a repeat of the offensive firepower that was on display Monday Night. TOO CLOSE TO CALL.

MIAMI (-4) AT NEW ENGLAND

The Dolphins are a team in chaos. Two weeks ago they seemed invincible, today they are almost invisible. The Patriots may forfeit the game but regardless, Miami gets a meaningless win in this one. Dolphins 23, Patriots 20.

INDIANAPOLIS (-3) VS. MINNESOTA

The Colts are looking to keep the momentum going after their thrashing of the Dolphins. The Vikings have once again proven that their defense is almost as bad as the Rammies. Manning will unload at home and Culpepper won't be able to keep up. Colts 41, Vikings 35.

OAKLAND (-8) VS. CAROLINA

The Cheaters are feeling good about themselves and have a good chance at home field advantage. The Panthers are known to play spoiler well, but they face too much talent in this one. Cheaters 31, Panthers 23.

TENNESSEE (-14) VS. DALLAS The Cowgirls have more injuries than they can count, but the Titans won't let up. Tennessee is getting ready for the playoffs, and they don't plan on blowing it this year. If I'm not mistaken, Dallas is down to their third quarterback. Aikman may retire and I'll miss him. Titans 27, Cowgirls 9. Each week the Crystal Ball of Football releases his patented LOCK OF THE WEEK. This is the game that after research and contemplation, I feel most comfortable telling you to take to the bank.

We've all done extremely well over the past five years and I plan for us to continue in the New Year. Today your favorite Santa, the Crystal Ball, brings an early Christmas gift with INDIANAPO-LIS(-2) OVER THE MINNESOTA VIKINGS.

Peyton Manning has all cylinders going on this team right now, and they may be contenders for the Super Bowl. Get some extra bulbs for the scoreboard, this will be a shootout.

Enjoy your football this weekend and remember, everything else can walt.

Except Christmas.

The Crystal Ball wishes you and yours a wonderful and safe Holiday Season.

Why is 'Walker' actor missing from the show?

Q. In a recent episode of "Walker, Texas Ranger," one of the cast — C.D. Walker — dies of a heart attack. Did this actor actually leave the series because of his death, or for other reasons? If so, what was the reason? He was such an asset to the show. — A.F., Payneway, Ark.

A. He was C.D. Parker, not Walker, and he was played by Noble Willingham. He left the show to run for Congress — he lost.

Q. Early in their careers in the 1970s, both Jane Fonda and Barbra Streisand had co-starring roles in two movies that weren't widely known. Fonda starred with George Segal in "Fun With Dick and Jane," and Streisand starred with a young man whose name I can't remember in "For Pete's Sake." I've brought these titles up at many a video store only to get blank looks in return. Are they available? — J.H.S., Bloomington, Ill.

A. Yes, both those movies are out on video. The young man in "For Pete's Sake" was Michael Sarrazin.

Q. There was a made-for-TV movie back in the 1970s, when "Disease Of the Week" movies were big. It was about a young couple who struggled through her battle with cancer after giving birth. This was a very touching movie and I was wondering if you knew the name, and if it was available. — C.M.,

Q. My friend and I argue about who has been in the most movies. I think Gene Hackman. Could you tell me how many movies Gene Hackman has been in? -- C.S.M., Rome, Ga.

A. At last count, Hackman has had roles in 65 films, but he is a piker compared to the oldtime movie stars like John Wayne, James Cagney and Edward G. Robinson who were in 100 or more. Q. I love country music and among the stars, I like Billy Walker. He appeared in at least two movies -- "Second Fiddle to a Steel Guitar" and "Red River Round-Up." I have never seen them and would love to. Are they out on video? -- V.S., Worthington, Iowa

A. Unfortunately, "Now and Again" was cancelled. "La Femme Nikita' is set to return in the New Year (Jan. 7) with several new episodes.

Sanford house staps decorated all year

By Michelle Jeria Managing Editor

harlene Valerino never puts her Christmas decorations into stor-

Instead, she has created The Christmas Room — a room that remains decorated for the holidays throughout the year. It origi-nated 10 years ago when Charlene and her husband, James, decided it was easier to keep the room decorated rather than putting everything away after the holi-

"By the time we packed everything away, it would be time to unpack it again," Charlene said. "It's become our favorite room.

The focal point of the room is a corner where a giant tree is covered with colorful antique ornaments. A miniature snow village surrounds the pine and includes James' childhood Lionel train set.

In another corner, Charlene has placed most of her 200 miniature Santas, and in another are various dolls dressed in Christmas attire. The walls and ceiling are painted red and a dark teal. Verses from "A Christmas Carol" scripted in gold trim the walls, and golden stars create a nightscape on the

Everything in the room is about Christmas, including the coffee table books with titles such as "A Miracle On 34th Street," and "It's A Wonderful Life." Even the lamp that illu-minates the room, which was made by Charlene's sister sev-

Pictured above, the Valerino's Christmas room remains decorated all year long. It's easier, Valerino said, to keep it decorated. She also noted it's a nice place to visit when she needs a little cheering up. At right, a pair of antique dolls sit on Santa's lap. The dolls are part of a collection by Charlene Valerino that number more than 200.

Jolly Ol' St. Nick

Santa Claus talks about final preparations before he makes his trip around the world

We were indeed fortunate to have a brief time to question the joby old man in the red suit, before he began final preparations for his trip around the world on Christman Eve. Herald Staff Witter Nick Pfellauf, (no relation to St. Nick), saled Santa Cleus about his big ecospede.

Q: With just a few days left, are you ready? A: Yes, the eives have worked very diligently during the past months, and Mrs. Santa got my suit back from the dry cleaners yesterday. That suit gets very dirty, mostly soot from those chimneys. I'm told the Herald sleigh is in good condition with the runners waxed, and the reindeer are all healthy. So we're ready to roll.

Q: Are you going to use the standard eight reindeer this year or will you be including Rudolph?

At I only use Rudolph on those foggy nights or when there is a major snow storm. The rest of the time, he and Olive just sit in the barn at the North Pole and pass the time away.

Q: Olive? I've never heard of a reindeer named Olive, where did that one come from? At I've had her for years. She was the one that used to poke fun at Rudolph and refused to let him join in any reindeer games. Perhaps you remember the song: "Olive, the other reindeer, used to laugh and call him names." She doesn't do that anymore.

Q: I've always wanted to ask. Why do you use reindeer instead of horses? As Good question. It's the antiers. You'd be surprised how many flying objects, especially birds, those antiers fend off during a flight. Getting hit in the face with a pigeon isn't something I look forward to.

Q: Do you have any help in distributing toys? A: Yes. I couldn't do it alone. There are many people who help. The firefighters for example, even those in Sanford. They've been helping the U.S. Marines in the Toys for Tots drive. The Salvation Army and many other organizations help to gather toys for children, and many times. food for those who may not be able afford good meal for the holidays. All of us owe a debt of grati-tude to these folks for the wonderful work they do in helping keep the spirit of the season.

Q: Do you still give lumps of coal for those who haven't been good?

A: No! Not with the price of coal these days. Some people up north would actually like it if I left them some.

Q: Do you have to go back to the North Pole every time the bag of goodies gets emptied?

As No, the elves have it fixed so that as soon as it gets even partially emptied, it automatically fills up again. I don't know how they do it, but they've been able to take care of that for all these years. When the bag does get empty, I know my trip is over, and I can return home to the North Pole.

Q: Where Mrs. Santa will be waiting with some milk and cookies for you? As No way! I get enough of that when I make my rounds. Sometimes I est so much during my trip, all I need when I get home is some Pepto Bismol. How do you think I put on so much

Q: Some people say you don't exist. Does that bother

As No it doesn't. As long as people believe in the spirit of the holiday, I'll be around, even if they don't actually see me. (Naturally, Mrs. Claus believes in me).

"A lot of people think we are just too weird," Charlene said. "Others think we are cool."

The couple moved to Sanford's Historical District in 1986 after they decided Altamonte Springs was becoming too congested. After completing some necessary renovations to the Victorian house, Charlene decided to begin decorating the rooms in various themes.

The Christmas Room was finished first, and Charlene moved on to her daughter's

"It was originally decorated for a little girl, but as she got older, she wanted something different," Charlene said. "She wanted it painted black with an Orlando Magic theme."

However, Charlene wanted something timeless, so she chose an Egyptian theme.

"I've always loved Egyptian things, they are so beautiful," she said. "The art of Egypt has been with us for centuries, and it will always be with us."

For more than a year,

Charlene painted murals of Egyptian gods and goddesses on the walls. Although basically finished, she occasionally decides she doesn't like something and will change it.

"It feels like it is taking me as long as it took them to make the pyramids to get the room ready," she said.

As renovations continue on the house, Charlene continues to visualize more themes for its rooms. She wants to create a fantasy world of knights, castles and a yellow-brick road for her grandchildren's play room, and one of the bathrooms is currently becoming the site of ancient Roman ruins.

James encourages his wife's imagination and said he likes living in what many consider a unique house.

"Everybody sees what she does and can't believe how talented and creative she is," he said. "She has an imagination that I don't possess."

Charlene agrees.
"If it were left up to him, the walls would be white and all the furniture would be regular," she said. "But, this is our home, and it reflects who and what

James Valerino stands in the Egyptian Room create by his wife, Charlene.

Medieval Dinner, visitors enjoy wonderful food while being serenaded by different Lake Mary choirs. They also learn some of the rules of dining as they applied during medieval times. Some of the don'ts were: Don't pick your teeth with your knife at the table, don't put your feet on the table, and don't stick your thumb in the water. There was a lot to remember during medieval times! If you missed this year's feast, the choir will be doing it again next year during December.

Woman's Club

Members Make Bears Some of the members of the Lake Mary Woman's Club have been busily sewing to benefit others. Bonnie Preston, Ruth Lauria, Mary Lester, Jeanette Schwable, Kathy Austin, Skip Orlitzki and Ruth Basen have been working feverishly making bears. Combined, the women have made more than 100 bears, which have been donated to the Island Lake Center Nursing Home in Longwood.

Nativity On Display At Church, Members of the First Presbyterian Church in Lake Mary got together and donated the money and the time to put up a Nativity scene on the church property and at the cor-ner of Wilbur and Country Club,

The Nativity scene is beautiful by day or night and will be up through the end of the year for those wishing to stop by.

Tajiri School presents 'Oh What A Night

"Oh What a Night Before Christmas," an adaptation of the "Night Before Christmas," was directed by Peggy Nixon of Tajiri School of Performing Arts and Academics.

The evening's performance was introduced by Tajiri Director Patricia Merritt Whatley.

A Night Before Christmas was a musical tale about five crafty mice at the North Pole, who almost destroy Christmas, and four elves who save and enjoy Christmas. After a panic attack, they take charge and the mice make for a joyous Christmas.

Opening scene of the winter wonderland began with the street scene of singer and guest artist Kawan DeBose, who now lives in Miami, and received his early training at Tajiri. He, along with Jackie Peterson, Christ Peterson, Tamiya Johnson and mime artist Robert Hayes, indeed gave professional taste to the opening street scene of the Expressed throughout the performance was the desire to spread love, to care, help others' dreams come true, help others make laughter at Christmas, and celebrate the reason for the sea-

The young performers of Tajiri Arts certainly graced the Helen Stairs Theatre last Saturday evening, Dec. 16, 2000. The talent of Sanford, Tajiri Arts, Hamilton Elementary Gospel

Choir, Hungerford Elementary Voices, set the background music for the evening of music and talented production of the arts.
Millennium Middle

School String Quartet entertained guests as they entered the theater lobby.

On what talent was Hawkins displayed by the youth of Sanford and Seminole County.

Special showmanship goes to Master Mice Chris Nixon, William Taylor, Mistress Mice Kemonte Miller, Krista King, Ashley Starworth. Elves, Soni Warren, Whitney Tillman, Summer Brown and Paige Watkins. Santa; Christ Peterson, and Mrs. Claus, Dashaneka Wright of the North Pole.

A very special thanks from the director and staff of Tajiri Arts to the Helen Stairs Theatre Director and Board, Mr. Stairs, the lighting, sound and all who helped make this first production of "A Night Before Christmas."

The poem, "A Perfect

Miss Brandy Light and dedicated to all of the over 200 guests.

"How nice things would be if everyone in the world could gather under one Christmas tree and peace be more than a word. When Christmas carols could be felt as well as heard. Where Santa could descend a chimney from on high, where people kiss under mistletoe as winter winds pass by.

Where families of this world could gather at one big table, while remembering the Christ Child's birth in a crude and shabby stable.

The story of the occasion we know so well, the singing of songs, the ringing of bells.

For He came as a Savior, a gift to the world, but kings were frightened, so were dukes, so were carls. He meant no harm to these people you see, just that we all live in peace and harmo-

When Christ was born there were angels seen all around, and people carried the news to the villages and towns. People brought gifts, silver and pieces of gold, for their dreams of a savior had finally unfold. Oh we thank you dear God for your Son to this world you give, and for saving us and keeping us day by day.

lesus had one wish, with you men to be free and trouble not anywhere. I'm sure that I speak for most people in the world when I say, we hope His dreams for us come true some day. Sometimes it's hard to keep peace all year long, but I know you will try to remember while you sing His songs. Remember his birthday, this I shall do, I'll say Merry Christmas to you."

DAR chapter enjoys spirit of the holiday season

The spirit of the season drifted throughout the lovely new DeBary home of Julia

Sartin when she entertained members of the Sallie Harrison Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, and Fort Mellon Society Children of the American Revolution. Amid beautiful decorations, DAR Chapter members were enter-tained by the C.A.R. and all participated in singing Christmas carols with Melissa Schneider providing the accompaniment. Chapter members brought specialty dishes to share and all enjoyed the Christmas polluck lun-cheon. Chapter members also presented a beautiful red poinsettia to the hostess.

Susanna Sovran, C.A.R. president, presented the C.A.R. Grace Parks Award to Virginia Mikler, senior advisor, in appreciation of the valuable assistance she provided during the past year. Other C.A.R. members attending were: David Sovran, William Sovran, Victoria Sovran, Amy Pilk, Abby Durham, Caroline Schneider, Melissa Schneider and Tiffany Kelsay.

According to Virginia
Powell, Regent Julia Partin welcomed members and guests and presided over a brief business session. A letter to Holy Cross Episcopal Church was presented for signing to support a grant Chaplain Mary Williams closed the meeting with a benediction and cheerful Christmas greetings were exchanged as all departed until the next meeting in 2001.

Holiday Bridge Social "Dib" McElrath was hostess at her Oak Avenue home for the December gathering of the Bridge Social of the Sanford Woman's Club. Peggy Mergo and Shirley Mills were co-hostesses who assisted in serving a variety of delicious refreshments. Shirley said, The house was decorated beautifully." Winners were: Betty Bruestle, high, and Rose Edith Jacobson, second high. Other players were: Doris Stein, Emy Sokol, Wilma Heaton, Margaret Gross, Terri Millikan, Helen Ernest, Mary Dale Jones and a guest, Maron Smith.

It was noted that Betty Halback, a member of the group, had open heart surgery some time ago, and was recently hospitalized again. Betty is wished a speedy recovery.

Women's Circles Participates In Annual Luncheon

The women's circles of the First United Methodist Church combined for the December meetings to participate in the annual luncheon. Mary

"Dib" McElrath, right, was hostess at her Oak Avenue home for the December gathering of the Bridge Social of the Sanford Woman's Club. Peggy Mergo, center, and Shirley Mills were co-hostesses who assisted in serving a variety of delicious refreshments

Williams, chair of the Sarah Circle, and her daughter, Mary Anne Cleveland, decorated the tables with red poinsettias, candles, red napkins and white cloths.

Overall chair was Marian Rethwill of Rachel Circle. Marian said, "We had lots of delicious foods, as usual." Members brought covered dishes including salads, vegetables and desserts.

A Christmas video including singing, dancing and music was shown.

Easy Street Hosts Sanford Pilot Club

Members of the Sanford Pilot Club met Jan. 19 to celebrate the season at Easy Street. The business meeting was brief so that members could enjoy dinner and fellowship.

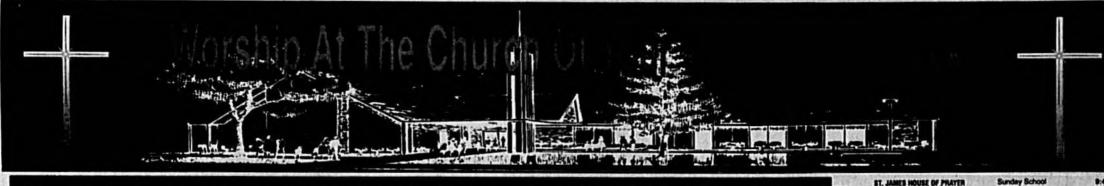

The Holidays And The Arts

Sanford-Seminole Art Association celebrated the season Dec. 16 at a luncheon at the Bistro Cappuccino in Lake

About 22 members and guests attended the event under the chairmanship of Carolyn Towles.

According to Faye Siler, "The food was real, real good."

Door prizes were awarded and the group sang carols.

Church Notes

Christmas Eve Services:

Altamonte Chapel The Altamonte Chapel, a community church of United Church of Christ, will be dedicating a new organ at 11 p.m., Christmas Eve. According to the pastor, Rev. Terry Grove, although new to the Chapel, the Kimbel pipe organ is actually as old as the chapel itself, approximately 115 years of age.

The general public is cordially invited to attend this Christmas Eve service and hear the glorious pipes of the Kimbel.

If you think it is interesting to learn how people in other countries celebrate Christmas, you might find it even more interesting to learn how people in your own neighborhood observe the holiday.

A woman at a church Christmas party I once attended said that at her house they always have bananas' and cream before they open their gifts on Christmas morning.

There is no reason for it, she said. It's just the Way they have always done it. One Christmas, however, something happened so that the gift-giving began without the bananas-andcream ritual. Nobody remarked on the omission or even seemed aware of it. But then the mother noticed that the boy in the house was walking around with a sad face. She asked him what the trouble was. "It just doesn't seem like Christmas," he said. His mother couldn't understand. They had a tree and plenty of gifts. Puzzled, she asked him, "Why, whatever do you mean, Freddie?"

"We didn't have our bananas and cream this morning," he said.

Ann Landers has pointed out that how you celebrate Christmas at your house isn't as important as celebrating it exactly the same way each year.

Christmas customs take on hallowed associations with most of us. That is why, Ann Landers says, the first Christmas after marriage is usually the most difficult.

The wife brings her sacred set of Christmas customs, while her husband remembers with fondness how they celebrated at his house while he was growing up.

It can be a touchy situation if his mother gave him bananas and cream before they opened the presents and his new bride offers him bacon and eggs on Christmas morning. It may not seem like Christmas to him at all.

Christmas can raise other problems, too — such as, what do you tell your children when they ask why Santa Claus always leaves more presents at the Gottrocks' house than at your house? One of my neighbors says her family was relatively poor when she was a child. That could have created a serious problem at Christmas time, for how do you tell a youngster that because his parents do not have much money, Santa Claus won't leave many presents? That wouldn't make much sense to a child. What difference would it make to Santa how much money a family has?

A child would reason that Santa would leave poor children more — not less — than he left others.

"My parents figured out an ingenious answer to this dilemma," my neighbor said. "They told us that Santa filled only the stock-ings by the chimney on Christmas Eve. The other gifts, we were told, came from parents or relatives or

'It was a good solution, for no matter how poor my family was, they were always able to fill the stockings to overflowing. The rich kids might get more presents then we would because their parents had more money. Santa Claus, though, didn't do any better by them than he did by us. For us kids, that was important."

Dad doesn't want someone else's son

DEAR ABBY: I'm 27 years d. When I was 18, I got mar-d because my girlfriend was regnant. We're now divorced, and my son lives with me ecause my ex refused to be responlble for hlm. She ran off with her new oyfriend.

I have just learned that my son isn't really my son after all. My ex finally admitted to me that she had always known he wasn't mine, and that his real father died of a drug overdose in 1996. A DNA test will prove it this week.

I'm extremely frustrated because I don't feel I should have to take care of a child who isn't even mine. I love the boy, but I don't feel he's my responsibility anymore. I was tricked into being his father. I wouldn't have taken the job had I known eight years ago that he was someone else's.

Abby

We have a very close relationship and I take good care of him, but I would like to live my life for myself and do what I want when I want - like his mother does. I can't do that because he's my responsibility.

I know he needs me and loves me, and I'm afraid of what it would do to him if I sent him to live with his moth-

DEAR USED: The last thing you should do is send the boy to live with a woman who has already proven she's an unfit mother. You are young, and you're feeling overwhelmed with responsibility. However, quitting is not an option, and I doubt you could live with yourself if you tried it.

You need time for yourself

— every single parent does. If at all possible, arrange for rel-atives or close friends with children to invite your son to stay with them for an evening or a weekend once or twice a month.

Another alternative would be to find a single-parent support group in your area. Parents Without Partners is a good one. You can contact the organization by calling (800) 637-7974 or visiting the Web site: www.parentswithoutpartners.org.

DEAR ABBY: When my beloved transferred pictures and cards to a new wallet, he found a clipping from an old Dear Abby column. He'd carried it for ages. Unfortunately, it is tattered, frayed and worn away around the folds.

The Magic Christmas

"The door is on the latch tonight
The hearth-fire is aglow. I seem to hear soft passing feet The Christchild in the snow.

"My heart is open wide tonight For stranger, kith or kin. I would not bar a single door Where love might enter in.'

My childhood home was in a little town where walnut trees lined the streets with their majestic beauty. There, up the hill, a church Nacu stood tall with its five towers where bells rang joyously on every Sunday morning and tolled sadly when a friend or neighbor passed on. In the winters with heavy snow, we rode in sleds pulled by horses. On cold winter nights, the sled floor would be covered with straw and children would be wrapped from head to toe in heavy horse blankets. Close to church was my school, atop of a steep hill scattered with diamonds on winter nights and perfect for a tobog-gan or slide. On bright days, we had to squint our eyes when the sun poured down on the winter snow because of the dazzling brightness of the sun-light on the hill. In the back of our yard there was a creek that always froze over in November. We skated up to the bridge, and sometimes the older skaters pulled the small children on their sleds up and down the creek. Our faces stung as the wind cut our cheeks, but who would even stop to feel anything?

Decorating the Christmas tree was the most exciting day, because we never knew what my mother was going to come up with next since everything was kept a secret. Small boxes large boxes, home made cookies and ornaments - everything was so exciting; but, most endearing and fascinating to us were the icons. It was family tradition to give an icon, usually a hand painted portrait of a religious icon that was carefully chosen or ordered at monasteries. The message behind the gift was that we should always remember that there is a greater gift for us then the one wrapped in white or red tissue paper. It is the faith in God to fortify us in trouble or sorrow or loneliness, to guide us in ill-ness and health, through life either if we be poor or wealthy. And, it was faith in our home and in ourselves that I was taught to hold dear.

My thought travels this Christmas to home as I will for-ever cherish in my heart my parents and grandparents who planned and saved for months to buy gifts, though they could hardly afford them, just to see the sparkle of excitement in our

It is traditional, in Romania, for children to travel from house to house on Christmas night singing carols and recit-ing poetry. Ancient legends are told and retold. According to custom, the leader carries a large wooden star called a Star (Steaua), which is covered with shiny paper and decorated with bells and colored ribbon. A picture of the Holy Family is past-ed in the star's center, and the entire creation is attached to a long pole. A lighted candle is placed inside to give the effect of a heavenly lantern.

A special cake, the delicious Cozonac, is made for the Christmas Eve. It is composed of thin layers of rolled dough which represents the swaddling clothes of the Christ child.

> "Cozonac," the Italian "Panettone" of Romanians

A classic in Romania, Italy and France at holiday time, this bread is so light and well packed with fruit that it's almost a confection. It's good anytime you want something sweet with tea or coffee. I make it in a spring form pan, as authentic panettone pans are difficult to locate. If you have one, use my recipe in a well-buttered mold, but experiment with the baking time — it may take longer.

1/2 cup seedless golden

1/2 cup seedless dark raisins 1/2 cup lemon peel 3/4 cognac

Prepare the dried fruit (allow eight hours or overnight). Heat the cognac in a small saucepan until just warm, then pour over raisin mixture. Set aside at least eight hours or overnight. Stir occasionally if possible.

Combine the milk and yeast in a medium bowl. Stir with a wooden spoon until yeast dis-solves. Add the flour and stir until the mixture is the consistency of a batter, about 100 strokes. Scrape down the sides of the bowl with a rubber spat-ula. Cover with a clean damp towel or plastic wrap, and put in a moderately warm (74-80 degrees) draft-free place until it is puffy and domed.

Mix and knead the final dough (20 minutes). Measure the ingredients. Combine the butter and sugar in the bowl of a heavy-duty mixer fitted with a paddle blade. Beat on medium speed until smooth, about 1 1/2 minutes. Using the tip of a small sharp knife, scrape the seeds out of the vanilla bean. Discard the pod. Add the eggs and egg yolks, salt and vanilla seeds that on madium speed. seeds; beat on medium speed five minutes, then gradually add 1 cup of the flour. Fit the mixer with the dough hook.

Add 2 1/2 cups of the remaining flour and continue beating at medium speed for 10 minutes. Drain the fruit well, if necessary, and add, beating two minutes more. Turn out onto a lightly floured surface and knead, until smooth and slight-ly sticky, adding more flour if necessary, about three minutes.

Ferment the dough (about 2 1/2 hours) Shape the dough into a ball and place smooth side down in a well buttered 6quart bowl. Turn the dough to coat the top with butter. Take

If it is lower than 78 degrees, put it in a warmer than 78 degrees place until the dough warms to 78 degrees. The point is to try to keep the dough at 78 degrees during its fermentation. If you do have to move the dough, be gentle and don't jostle it, or the dough

Divide the dough and shape into a loaf (about 10 minutes). Deflate the dough by pushing down in the center and pulling up on the sides. Transfer the dough to a lightly floured work surface and knead briefly. Shape into a log.

Proof the loaf (two to three hours). Butter a 10-inch spring form pan or panettone pan.

Press the loaf into the prepared pan. Cover with a clean damp towel or plastic wrap and put in a moderately warm (74-80 degrees) draft-free place until the dough rises nearly to the rim of the pan.

Bake the loaf 45 minutes.

Forty-five minutes to one hour before baking, preheat the oven and homemade hearth or baking stone on the center rack of the oven to 400 degrees. Bake 20 minutes.

Cover the top loosely with foil and continue baking until the loaf is golden brown and a toothpick inserted in the center comes out clean, about 25 minutes. Remove from oven and brush the top with the melted butter. Cool on a wire rack 20 minutes. Unmold and cool completely before serving.
