PRICE RISE OF COMMODITIES IS GOING FAST

Federal Reserve Report Indicates Six Basic Commodities Are Up 60 Percent

WASHINGTON, June 23.—(A.P.)—American commodity prices have outstripped the fall of the dollar and are pointing toward a level high enough to bring some prosperity.

For the first time since stocks and commodity indexes started to climb, an official analysis indicates a spread between a true price rise and the dollar's depreciation.

The Federal Reserve Board Review, out today, says that by the end of May the dollar was down 15 percent in terms of francs while six basic commodities by the end of May had jumped 60 percent since February. The commodities were cotton, lard, silver, copper, tin and rubber.

With this also went a better business picture of growing tax collections.

The board said the American prices have advanced somewhat more rapidly than British prices even after allowance was made for the difference due to the depreciation in exchange value of the dollar.

At the end of May, American prices of these six commodities averaged about 60 percent higher than in February. Of this rise of 60 points about one-half appears to correspond in the rise in the British or world prices of these commodities.

Of the other half of the advance, a part corresponded to a decline in the exchange value of the dollar as compared to the pound sterling and a part represented price advances in the American market in excess of both the advance in British prices and the depreciation of the dollar in the exchange market.

The board reported that on May 31 there were 536 federal reserve member banks licensed to reopen with deposits of $26,800,894,000 and 1163 unlicensed banks with deposits of $1,856,427,000.

At the end of May the United States had $4,316,000,000 of monetary gold, and at the end of April, the last figures available, England had $904,872,000, France $3,169,048,000, Germany $97,701,000, Belgium $371,303,000, Italy $342,790,000, Japan $211,897,000 and Switzerland $459,883,000.

During the first four months of 1933 the United States produced $12,589,000 of gold, according to the board's information, while South Africa produced $7,489,000, Canada $14,000,000, Mexico $3,500,000 and Brazil $3,600,000.

Arthur Branan, Jr. Is Home From Operation

Arthur Branan, Jr., young son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Branan, who suffered a seriously broken arm while skating here last Sunday, was brought back to Sanford yesterday by his parents after he had undergone treatment in Jacksonville.

"Unless unforeseen developments occur," Mr. Branan stated, "the boy will suffer no serious effects as the result of his injury. He will be treated here by Dr. Park and we look for a complete recovery."

Mr. Branan stated that the youth was on the operating table in Jacksonville for more than an hour and a half. It was not considered advisable to give him any more anesthesia, and the operation was administered while the boy was protected from pain by an injection of novocain.

BLKS TO MEET

Howard Ovelin, secretary of Sanford Lodge B. P. O. E. No. 1100, today issued a reminder to all members of the lodge that the second June meeting will be held at the club rooms tonight at 8 o'clock. Members of importance will be raised, and resolutions will be served at a social hour.

Faint SOS Raises Hope For Mattern

SEATTLE, June 23.—(A.P.)—Wireless stations in the North Pacific listened in today for an explanation of the mysterious call yesterday afternoon in which the signals "S.O.S. aeroplane" were heard. With Jimmy Mattern missing off the Siberian coast the almost unintelligible message sent in Russian lent hope that it might bring word about him. It is pointed out here that the strong hopes should not be raised as the Russian letter may have been repeating the Soviet government order to aid the Mattern search.

COURT REVERSES ALABAMA NEGRO ATTACK DECISION

Holds That Testimony Against Patterson Was Contradicted

ATLANTA, Ala., June 23.—(A.P.)—The Alabama supreme court today reversed its decision in the case of Patterson, one of nine negro defendants in the Scottsboro case, who was granted a new trial yesterday by an Alabama trial court. The same one that sentenced him to death April 9 when he was convicted of assaulting a white girl.

Judge James E. Horton set aside Patterson's conviction on contention the testimony of the prosecution was not corroborated and "bears on its face indications of improbability and is contradicted by other evidence."

"Constitutional law still prevails in Alabama," said George W. Chamblee, of Chattanooga, when the decision was announced.

Attorney General Knight, who prosecuted Patterson, asked the court to set an early date for a new trial.

Patterson, defended by Samuel Leibowitz, of New York, was convicted last April. He previously had been convicted in Scottsboro, but the supreme court of the United States reversed the decision.

Judge Horton held yesterday that the evidence in the case "greatly overponderates in favor of the defendant."

"History, sacred and profane," said the judge in a slow voice, "and the common experience teaches that women of the character shown in this case are prone for selfish reasons to make false accusations both of rape and of insult upon the slightest provocation, or even without provocation for ulterior purposes."

"These women are shown, by the great weight of evidence, on this very day before leaving Chattanooga to have falsely accused two negroes of the crime of rape. The tendency on the part of the women is to make false accusations upon any occasion whereby their selfish ends may be gained."

The decision throws the celebrated cases back where they were two years ago when nine negroes were arrested and charged with assaulting two white girls on a freight train in north Alabama. Seven were convicted. The case of the eighth resulted in a hung jury. The ninth was a juvenile. The supreme court of Alabama upheld the convictions and a cry of "lynch law" echoed around the world, and many organizations took up defense of the negroes.

The supreme court of the United States reversed the decision, and last April Patterson's case came back to trial.

The jury found Patterson guilty. The negroes now are in jail at Birmingham.

David Speer Seeks Damages In Wreck

Mr. and Mrs. David Speer, who were injured in an automobile accident at Sanford Avenue and Tenth street some weeks ago, yesterday afternoon through their attorney filed two damage suits against Wight Bros. Co., of Sanford, totaling $4,000.

PARLEYS WILL BE HELD UPON SPECIAL CROPS

Fruit And Vegetable Growers Expected To Disclose Problems To Officials

WASHINGTON, June 23.—(A.P.)—A series of informal conferences with producers of fruits and vegetables and other special crops in an effort to work out programs for them in application to the farm act will be conducted during coming weeks by Dr. H. R. Tolley, recently appointed chief of the bureau of special crops by the administrator's act.

Many representatives of fruit and vegetable organizations have already presented requests with administrators for early consideration of their problems including low prices over production.

The program for using the act in case of special crops will revolve about trade agreements. Approach to the solution of problems may be undertaken in a manner similar to that planned for sugar.

There is authority under the farm act for legalizing agreements which would set up plans and requiring licenses for processors and distributors. Secretary Wallace could refuse licenses to those refusing to abide by agreement provisions including minimum price schedules. The administrators said in the case of special crops like these commodities listed in the act they are anxious that growers, their representatives, processors, and distributors take the initiative and agree as far as possible on fundamentals for any program they hope to put into effect.

The administrators do not conceive as their function devising any plan until the growers and others have presented their problems.

Administrators of the farm act are prepared to make every power it provides in an effort to trim down the spread of prices between producer and consumer and to bolster the income of the producer.

Among the weapons they were (Continued On Page Five)

All Teachers In Seminole County Have Been Paid

Once again it is possible to report that with the mailing of checks from the offices of Superintendent of Schools T. W. Lawton on Wednesday afternoon, every principal and teacher of white and colored schools in Sanford and Seminole County has received payment for services rendered.

Two weeks ago it was reported that Seminole County is one of the few counties in Florida that was able to pay its teachers' salaries for the entire school term.

An unexpected collection of taxes made this possible.

At that time it was also stated that with the exception of two weeks salaries for teachers in Seminole High School here, the school board owed nothing for salaries.

Collections since that time have brought in enough revenue to provide final payment to high school teachers.

With the school year at an end, all teachers paid, the 1933-34 budget prepared and all other details ironed out, Superintendent Lawton left yesterday for a week's vacation at White Springs. He expects to return to Sanford next Thursday.

Concert Is Postponed Because Of Downpour

Rain last night caused a postponement until next Thursday night of the scheduled Sanford Concert Orchestra entertainment program which was to have been presented from a bandstand near the Court House at 8:00 o'clock. Officials of the Orchestra today stated that the same program will be played next Thursday, including songs by Miss Marion Haynes, the Russi sisters, and Kelly Pope, and an accordion solo by Richard Hendel.

Barbara Hutton Religious Wedding Performed Amid Exotic Byzantine Beauty

PARIS, June 23.—(A.P.)—Princess Barbara Hutton, daughter of the late Duke of Devonshire, was married to Prince Mdivani, in a religious ceremony performed in a Byzantine splendor of the cathedral of St. Sulpice, Paris, today.

The ceremony was held in the cathedral of St. Sulpice, Paris, today. The bride wore a gown of white silk and tulle, and the groom wore a tuxedo. The ceremony was officiated by a priest, and the wedding was attended by a large number of guests.

SPEED IS SOUGHT TO GIVE WORK ON PUBLIC BUILDING

Leakes Holds Meeting To Discuss Spending Of 3 Billions

WASHINGTON, June 23.—(A.P.)—A broad leasement policy aimed at speeding work on public buildings was discussed today by the Federal Works Administration.

Leakes, administrator of the Federal Works Administration, held a meeting today to discuss the spending of 3 billion dollars on public buildings.

The meeting was held in the Federal Works Administration building in Washington, D. C.

Leakes said that the Federal Works Administration is committed to the policy of leasing public buildings to private contractors.

The leasing policy is expected to speed up the construction of public buildings and to save the government money.

New Recovery Act Will Be Discussed At C. Of C. Meeting

The new Industrial Recovery Act will come up for a discussion at a social meeting of the Industrial Committee of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting will be held at the City Hall in Sanford, Florida, on Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

The Industrial Recovery Act is a new law that will help to revive the economy of the United States.

The act will provide for the regulation of prices and wages, and for the establishment of new industries.

STUDENTS BODY FOUND

MOUNT WASHINGTON, N. H., June 23.—(A.P.)—The body of Joseph, 20, Harvard sophomore, was found yesterday on Mount Washington where he became lost Sunday while climbing the mountain with two other students.

DIRECTORY RECEIVED

Still another City directory for 1933 has arrived at the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce where it, with all others, may be used by any persons interested. The directory is that of the city of Tampa, and it includes the populations of nearby suburbs.

ECONOMIES OF SHOLTZ TO HIT TAG OFFICIALS

Fifty Of Approximately 125 Employees Of Department To Lose Jobs On July 1

TALLAHASSEE, June 23.—(A.P.)—Governor Sholtz's economy ax, sharpened by the depleted condition of the state treasury and the prospect that the state may be unable to meet payrolls and operating expenses on July 1, will cut off 50 of approximately 125 employees of the state motor vehicle department. The governor also said that $100,000 of the motor vehicle department's operating fund would be transferred to the general revenue fund to help meet general payrolls if the tag department's fund will "stand still."

He has said repeatedly he will not transfer state funds from one department to another unless some units have a surplus on hand. The tag department is expected to have the surplus when the 50 employees are dropped, however, the transfer would be made only if the tag department showed a sufficient surplus.

George H. Whiler, acting motor vehicle commissioner, concurred in the governor's statement. He did not say which employees would be laid off, other than to explain it would be office workers at Tallahassee.

Reduced appropriations voted by the recent Legislature go into effect July 1, the beginning of the state's new fiscal year.

The governor said all departments and state activities would have to be cut either by reducing salaries or the number of employees or both, and by lessening other outlays.

The denial reports that his request to Washington was for the purpose of attempting to borrow federal funds on which to operate the state government, rather than to confer with President Roosevelt at the President's request.

The comptroller's office report, dated June 22, shows a balance of $7,712 due to various forms of tax money received in the last few days.

Officials said low tax collections generally and heavy expenses of the recent legislative session caused the general revenue fund balance to drop. However, the governor said the state being "hard up" financially was not sufficient excuse for calling the legislature into special session to find new sources of revenue, as many legislators have been predicting would happen.

Instead, the governor called upon the tax collectors throughout Florida to make a drive for payment of occupational licenses and business taxes while the comptroller directed county tax officials to see that intangible taxes are paid.

Minor Injuries Are Suffered In Accident

A party of four middle-aged Deland women, traveling toward Orlando this morning in a Chevrolet sedan, received severe shocks and some of their limbs and cuts when the car went into a ditch on the Lake Shalustee out near the Mountain Ice Co. plant, on the West Side.

Passing motorists brought the women to the Federal-Laughton Memorial Hospital where they were given treatment and permitted to return to their homes. The car suffered slight damage, its left rear window being broken and its left fenders and running board crushed.

The driver of the car, a Mrs. Keller, stated that she misjudged the speed of her car and that as a result she was not able to swing around the sharp curve in time to avoid slipping into the deep ditch.

BEAUTY CONTEST WINNERS ARE TO BE ENTERTAINED

Program Of Festivities At Clearwater Is Received In City

A full round of entertainment planned for the Florida girls who will compete for the title "Miss Florida" and an automobile donated by the Sparks Enterprise of Florida, it is revealed in an official program received here today.

All girls who win local contests such as will be staged here next Friday night at the Milano Theater, are advised to report at the West Coast Hotel in Clearwater with their chaperones, not later than 4:00 o'clock Monday afternoon July 3. A reception committee from the Junior Women's Club will be present to meet all girls.

At 6:00 o'clock the girls will be entertained at dinner. Girls are expected to wear pajamas of a lounging type for a rehearsal will be held immediately after the dinner.

Following a rehearsal at Clearwater Beach, the girls are to appear on the stage of the Capitol Theater in sports attire, while at 9:30 o'clock they will honor guests on several yachts which will tour Clearwater Bay and the Gulf of Mexico near Clearwater.

The Fourth of July program begins at 10 o'clock when the girls will be taken on a short tour of the city. At noon they will have luncheon at the Clearwater Beach Hotel, after which they are at liberty until 3:15 o'clock.

At that hour they are to return to Clearwater to make ready for the contest which will be staged at the beach at 5:00 o'clock. Five judges, none of whom is a resident of Pinellas county, will render a decision shortly after the girls parade before the judges and audience.

At 9:00 o'clock another dinner will be given in their honor at the West Coast Hotel while at 8:30 o'clock "Miss Florida" will appear at the Capitol Theater in evening attire.

All contestants will attend a dance in their honor at the Municipal Auditorium. Girls are expected to wear evening clothes.

Presentation of the automobile, the $100 and $50 second and third prizes, will come at 10:30 o'clock, while at 2:00 o'clock the girls will return to their hotel for the night and a breakfast Wednesday morning.

The official qualifications for entry in the contest are few. Girls must be 16 years of age or over, and single. They must wear a white ribbon extending from the right shoulder to the left hip, with evening dress, sports clothes, represent printed thereon in black letters four inches high.

All girls are expected to appear with evening dress, sport clothes, lounging clothes, and bathing suit. Twenty local merchants have already entered the contest. Two of them have announced the names of the girls who will represent them. Others are expected to do so tomorrow and early next week.

All merchants are invited to participate in this contest. To do so they need only call J. L. Marrett at the Milano Theater, who will explain the rules and regulations and assist in securing a girl to appear for the firm.

RAIFORD, June 23.—(A.P.)—Plans are being drawn for a new state prison building here. Construction depends on when funds are available. It would form the unit in a larger building to be constructed later.

Eight Committees Are Working On Grave Issues, The Principal One Monetary

LONDON, June 23.—(A.P.)—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, after contacts today with delegates to the economic conference, was quoted as saying that the "previously disturbing situation had distinctly improved and that continued progress seemed assured."

Meanwhile eight committees are struggling with grave tasks. The principal subject is an effort to draw up a permanent monetary standard. Groups, wrestling with this vital problem, concentrated wholly on the American proposal.

High British quarters made no effort to conceal their serious concern over the continued gyrations of the dollar but with America's inability to stabilize at this juncture made clear, the British expressed sympathy for the position of the United States.

Finance Minister George Bonnet of France, and Premier Hendrik Collin of the Netherlands, representatives of gold standard countries, were frankly gloomy over the lack of dollar stabilization. But Bonnet, before entering for France for the week-end, flatly denied reports that continental countries must join America and Britain in suspending the gold standard.

Portland, Maine, June 23.—(A.P.)—Stephen T. Early, Roosevelt secretary, today flatly denied the President would go to London.

Rumors that the President would dash across the Atlantic on the cruiser Indianapolis in a bold attempt to swing the economic conference into line with his views have been current and have as often been denied.

The latest rumor was from Provincetown where the Indianapolis, on its way to pick up Roosevelt at Eastport, Maine after completion of his cruise up the coast, laid over last night.

Announced plans call for the cruiser to take the President back to Washington. The presidential scheduler, Ambassador Hill, still lay at anchor in Chandler's Cove in Casco Bay mid-morning today. The President's three sons are aboard.

LONDON, June 23.—(A.P.)—Australia's acceptance of the heat reduction scheme was all that was lacking today for a consummation of the five-power agreement described as an international enlargement of certain provisions of the American farm relief bill.

Russia and Argentina were the latest nations to join Canada and the United States in a gigantic proposal to curtail perhaps by 15 percent the wheat acreage and to limit exports.

Henry Morgenthau, senior technical adviser of the American delegation at the economic conference, who has been the prime mover in efforts to enlist the biggest wheat producers in a movement to increase prices, is confident that Australia will join. He said "All that remains now is a settlement of actual details."

France proposed a quota trade at the conference today which would enable the countries, using quotas as weapons against importations, to keep them indefinitely. The resolution was considered a counter-proposal to the intensive American drive for complete abolition of all embargoes, quotas, and arbitrary restrictions.

SNAKE BITE FATAL

MARIANNA, June 23.—(A.P.)—Mrs. Alice Bailey Dowling, about 36, of New York City, died last night from a rattlesnake bite on the knee received yesterday near the home of her brother-in-law, Dr. B. Dowling, of Alliance, Fla., where she was visiting.

Feds Officially Charged As Violating Loop Class Rule; Curry Is Contended Player

The scheduled Sanford-Orlando baseball game to have been played here, this afternoon was ordered called off on account of rain when at 3:15 o'clock, Umpire Carl Rodenbaugh declared the field unfit for play. The game will be played here tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, it was announced.

Otis Curry, right-handed hurler for the Sanford Cleverly entry in the Central Florida Baseball League, last night was formally charged as being a "class" player whose appearance for Sanford has brought the local club under suspicion as having violated the league ruling on "class" players.

The charge came during an executive session of members of the board. Director W. F. Nelson, of Daytona Beach, Fla., very much regretted having to take this action at a time when our league is operating smoothly as far as we are able to tell, offered as evidence that Sanford is violating the league rule, a Spaulding Baseball Guide for 1931. Pointing to the records of the Florida-Alabama League and the No. 10 Eastern League as contained in the Guide, Director Nelson indicated that a player named Curry to be the Curry he played in Huntsville, Alabama, in the former league, and in 12 games for Sanford in the latter league.

Asked if he had further evidence, particularly whether or not he knew that the Curry mentioned in the record book is the Otis Curry playing for Sanford, Director Nelson stated that he would present a sworn affidavit signed by Jake Etkin, seasons pitcher, who will swear that he and Otis Curry played at Huntsville together, and that he had seen Curry play at Daytona Beach last season, and that while he did not play for Sanford he knew the Sanford Curry to be the Curry he played for Daytona Beach.

President W. H. Mandelcorn, sitting in place of Joe Ludwig, of Sanford, asked whether Sanford had anything to say in the matter.

"We have nothing to say until further proof is presented" was the answer which was maintained and repeated during the meeting. President Mandelcorn, declaring that he will not pass on the matter without first presenting it to the directors, requested Director Nelson to submit all the evidence he could gather at once.

"I will send a copy of your evidence to Sanford," he said. "If Sanford's answer to the charge warrants it, I will call a meeting in Orlando next Friday night, June 23, at 8:00 o'clock, when we will discuss the charge."

Manager Joe Barnes today stated that he has Curry's word that he will not play 12 games at Daytona Beach, although he did play at Daytona Beach, Florida, last season, and that he is not a class man, Barnes stated, "and I accepted his word for it. As far as I know the only class men on the team are Barnes, chairman, Abbott and O'Brien, and until Daytona and Ocala can be shown to be class players, I will not charge them."

League directors moved to postpone adoption of a second half schedule until Sunday when they will report by mail whether a tentative schedule has been made.

They also will advise the league secretary whether or not to extend the second half so that it will end on Sept. 24 instead of Sept. 7, and whether or not they are agreeable to Orlando Director Joe Tinker's suggestion that all teams play double-headers on Friday.

The directors, during a discussion of umpires, voted Chico Peral, of Orlando, to a place as one of the three regular league umpires, and Roby Laing, of Sanford, and Carl Rodenbaugh, of Orlando, as alternate umpires.

They also amended a league rule relating to rained out games to read that "Should inclement weather develop between 1:30 o'clock and 4:00 p.m. and the ball is in play, the home team shall pay the visiting team $5."

Earlier in the meeting they had amended the original rule to read that "If the home team fails to notify the visiting team before 4:30 o'clock that because of inclement weather or any other cause the game will not be played, and the visiting team is ready to play, the home team shall pay them $10."

Directors attending the meeting were: Fred Herlong, Leesburg; Red Teuber, New Smyrna;

Robinson Sees Wet Victory In Arkansas Poll

Just Shouse, president of the association against the prohibition amendment, called the Iowa vote "astounding" and challenged prohibition leaders to name three states that would vote to keep the 18th Amendment in the Constitution.

Complete unofficial returns from Iowa today showed 377,275 for repeal and 239,941 against. The result in a state long considered dry impressed other senators besides Democratic Leader Robinson.

The vote in Iowa indicates general sentiment in the corn belt, Senator Dickinson, of Iowa, said, "I believe the 18th Amendment will be repealed."

Negro Slayer Bound Over To Grand Jury

Tom Daniels, negro field worker who from his bed early Sunday morning June 11 fired a single shot which killed Ernest James, a fellow worker and erstwhile friend, this morning was ordered bound over to the grand jury on a charge of murder. Bond was set at $250.

Daniels gave himself up two days after he had shot James to end an argument over a woman friend of the two negroes. The shooting occurred in the Gildersleepe section and James died at the local hospital about eight hours after he was shot.

A preliminary hearing was instituted several days ago. It was concluded this morning when Justice of the Peace J. C. Roberts ordered Daniels bound over.

New motor oil shows America how to get 28 1/2% more miles per quart

MEASURING THE EXACT AMOUNT OF OIL placed in each of the test cars. Representatives of the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association tested Gulf-lube against leading brands of 25c oils in 6 borrowed cars—and Gulf-lube stood up 28 1/2% longer before a quart of oil had to be added.

Gulf-lube wins amazing test with borrowed cars of different makes

SIX AVERAGE CARS—from new to several years old—were borrowed from their owners and placed on the Indianapolis Speedway.

In these cars, representatives of the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association tested four of America's leading brands of 25c oils.

In a 4-day grind around the track, at a constant speed of 45 miles an hour, these cars tested each of the competing oils.

And, at the end of the test, Gulf-lube had beaten every oil in every car! In Car No. 2, for example,—when oil "C" was replaced with Gulf-lube, consumption dropped from a quart every 632 miles to a quart every 847 miles!

And, averaging the figures for all cars, Gulf-lube cut the oil costs on these cars 28 1/2%!

Buy less oil—get better lubrication

Switch to Gulf-lube now. You'll buy less oil. And you'll get better lubrication. Try it! It's the finest motor oil a quarter ever bought! Get it at any Gulf station.

1930
3 YEARS OLD—One of the cars borrowed for this test run had piled up thousands of miles on its speedometer—yet Gulf-lube cut its oil consumption in the hour!

1931
2 YEARS OLD—Pistons and rings in this car had never been replaced—but that made no difference to Gulf-lube! For Gulf-lube outlasted every competing oil tested in this car by a wide margin!

1932
1 YEAR OLD—This roadster was in average mechanical shape, with pistons and rings well "broken in" but not worn. And again Gulf-lube carried off top honors against other leading 25c motor oils!

1933
BRAND-NEW—This car's mileage was little over 1000 miles. Rings and pistons were tight and oil consumption was low. Yet even in this almost new car, Gulf-lube lasted 37 1/2 more miles per quart than the average of the competing oils!

Most revolutionary of all measures passed by the recent Congress is known as the Industrial Recovery Act which provides for a two year period in which all business will be under the direct control of the government. So extreme in design is the new law, its opponents insist that some delay was occasioned in passing the bill with special trial and error by the original sponsor. However, this may be it is nevertheless a fact that something entirely new in industrial planning is being undertaken in the United States.

REAL PEACE. When we are ways of Washington, and all law paths are peace—Proverbs 3:17.

And similar as useless as all American delegate in London.

The destruction of ten million acres of cotton will undoubtedly raise the price of cotton, as well as the cost of a shirt.

The United States has decided to launch a huge battleship building program. The first in case currency stabilization fails.

When the government begins organizing a R. F. C. Refinancing Corporation, it will certainly be safe to say that the depression has hit bottom.

Sanford should have a Federal Savings and Loan Association organized under the Federal Home Owners Loan Act. The government will put up half the money.

The only trouble with the Home Owners Loan Corporation is that it is provided with only a couple of billion dollars to lend. There are about twenty billion dollars worth of home mortgages in the United States. But there may be some of them that don't need refinancing.

Walter Velton, youthful Miami handle, who killed a policeman some time ago, is among those appealing to the Pardon Board for freedom. The plea is made that since he has been confined, his hair has turned gray, and though he is only 35, he now will not turn his hair black again, nor will it regrow to his policeman he killed.

The treasury of the City of Sanford is down to its last dime in spite of drastic reductions. Not enough money is coming in to pay expenses. Before the situation is over it may be necessary to turn out the lights and close the shop. After a few weeks of this sort of thing, a solution to the problem may be found.

The latest figures released by the Department of Commerce indicate that the United States is still maintaining a surplus trade balance. In May the country sold $114,000,000 worth of products and purchased $100,000,000 worth of foreign goods. This is a total of $14,000,000 more on the exchange than we owe another country.

"Insuring bank deposits by our government will do more than anything else to put confidence into circulation," the Brookville Journal believes. Because confidence is but depositor confidence in what banks have. Miami News York, and its bankers still hold depositor confidence by theoretical government guarantees.

Farm population is steadily increasing, according to statistics prepared by the Bureau of Economic Services. The population movement is back to the farm. Some of our unemployed men have heard that the government is going to buy a lot of wheat and cotton for the benefit of the farmer so they are flocking to grow more wheat and cotton.

The Industrial Recovery Act

Most revolutionary of all measures passed by the recent Congress is known as the Industrial Recovery Act which provides for a two year period in which all business will be under the direct control of the government. So extreme in design is the new law, its opponents insist that some delay was occasioned in passing the bill with special trial and error by the original sponsor. However, this may be it is nevertheless a fact that something entirely new in industrial planning is being undertaken in the United States.

The purpose of the Act is to increase the purchasing power of the country. It would accomplish this by increasing wages, reducing hours of labor, spreading employment, and ultimately increasing prices. In order to achieve this, the law requires that swastahop methods be abandoned and cut-throat competition eliminated. Elaborate machinery is provided in an effort to make sure that the purpose of the act is not defeated by selfish interests of unfair practices.

It is proposed that each industry or trade association in the United States shall organize and prepare codes of ethics applicable to each industry. Representatives of each industry will meet and decide the wages, the hours of labor, and all other matters pertaining to that particular industry. Once the code had been agreed upon within the industry itself, it would be submitted to President Roosevelt or his representative, who would then determine whether it was equitable to all interests and in keeping with the purpose of the law.

In the event an industry fails to organize of its own volition, the President may prescribe on his own initiative a code of fair competition, may arbitrarily without any appeal from the industry itself, fix hours of labor, wages, prices, and all other matters pertaining to the industry, to the same extent as the industry might adopt its own code of ethics. And once the President has prescribed such a code, or approved one submitted by the industry, any violation of any of its provisions is punishable by a fine of not more than $500 for each offense.

Furthermore, in the event any business or industry resorts to swastahop methods, or price cutting, which threatens the purpose of the Act, the President has the power to make every business obtain a federal license, and no enterprise would be allowed to remain in business which failed to comply with the code of ethics and fair competition prescribed for its particular association.

Everyone realizes from his own knowledge that certain concerns exist which habitually employ labor at insignificant wages, frequently failing to pay off, either in full or in part, which fail to pay their rent and taxes, yet manage to obtain their quarters. And which because of these advantages are enabled to resort to price cutting, thus preventing legitimate concerns from paying higher wages and employing more men. It is the purpose of the Industrial Recovery Act to eliminate this sort of competition.

And yet, as it is with everything which is more or less Utopian in theoretical conception, the new law is open to grave abuses. There are some six thousand industries in the United States which come under its broad provisions. Each industry is composed of thousands of factories, plants, mills, stores, offices and business houses. It will be literally impossible for any bureaucracy to smell out and act upon every violation of the "code of fair competition," and it will be impossible for any "chief" to select men for his investigators who will be of the average any more above reproach than the federal "prohibition agents" with whom everyone is more or less familiar.

It is plain that the success of the Industrial Recovery Act's operation will depend almost entirely upon the support and co-operation which the measure receives from the industries concerned and from the general public. If every one of any large percentage of people, seeks ways and means of defeating its purpose for their own selfish interests, the plan will break down. But if the public fully cooperates, the purpose of the new law may well be accomplished.

Balbo And His Armada

Contemplation of Italy's impending long-distance march of 25 airplanes from Orbetello, Italy, to Chicago furnishes unusual biographical material about the man behind the expedition and interesting facts regarding details of the flight.

Balbo, the armada commander, has had a career which is most interesting and exciting in his civilian life and more so in his military. Young, full of energy, he came out of the World War with a distinguished record to take a leading part in the ascendancy of Fascism. Because of his enthusiastic and successful efforts in behalf of his political party, Mussolini made Balbo minister of the Italian air service to which was brought his blooded wings. Balbo, an outstanding aviator, from an almost boyhood Balbo brought Italian military aviation to a point second only to France. He organized a commercial airline which has not lost a single passenger in three years. His efforts resulted in numerous successful long-range mail deliveries, and as a result of his high speed school at Lake Garda, Italy, now holds the world's speed record.

Balbo is no swivel chair executive. He is a skilled aviator who leads his expeditions behind the controls of his plane. He is courageous, but he is vain, and for this reason he has been likened to a peacock. His defenders admit that he is as vain as a peacock, but they add that no peacock has the courage of Balbo.

One story has been told that Mussolini, either hearing or sensing the strong hold which Balbo has on the air service, dispatched a letter calling for the resignation of his minister. Balbo is said to have gone directly to Il Duce and handed him back the letter saying: "This was sent by mistake. There is a peacock in this story. In the recurring and surreptitious suggestions that Mussolini is encouraging Balbo to take long and hazardous flights with the hope he might not return.

WILSON BY PAY?

Wilson's credit has been the subject of much discussion. The question is whether the transfer of the war debt to the hands of the American people will be an actual relief to him, or may actually operate to relieve him of some of his present burdens.

In other words, if we agree that the debt is one of the chief burdens on each individual citizen, we can understand the desirability of the transfer of the war debt to the hands of the American people. It will not be an actual relief to him, or may actually operate to relieve him of some of his present burdens.

The total war debt payments due to the United States during 1933 are approximately 250 million dollars. At today's low level the national income of the people of the United States is perhaps $10 billion dollars. If our national income increased, through the removal of the dead hand of the debt from the world's economic life, by only one percent, we should have gained twice as much in national income as we have lost in the failure to receive debt payments.

The United States expected to receive in 1929 approximately two and one-half billion dollars worth of goods. At present our annual exports to Europe have shrunk by a billion and three-quarter dollars—seven times the debt instalments. Europe normally buys from us principally foodstuffs and raw materials, produced in the South and West—so the loss of European purchasing power has fallen most heavily on those sections. We exported 608 million dollars worth of cotton to Europe in 1929, and less than 300 million dollars' worth in 1931. For instance, it is calculated that over a million American workers, in good times, are engaged in producing goods for export to Europe alone. This loss in European trade is estimated to have thrown nearly a million of these workers out of jobs.

The above reasoning is perhaps open to discussion, for it assumes as a premise that the removal of economic inter-governmental payments will necessarily operate to stimulate trade confidence, and consequently trade activity throughout the world. This premise cannot be absolutely proved. An indication of its probable truth was given by the revival, in world confidence following the Lausanne agreement last July. Our decision is whether we shall give the debt a decent burial—by reducing them drastically—or leave their corpses lying on the field of battle to become a rotting mass throwing its stench over world trade relations.

The Administration And The Veterans

The last vote taken in the Senate was on the Administration's compromise dealing with the veterans' allowances. This compromise, while it liberalized the payments, maintained intact the principles of the reform which was instituted in March. It confined payments to those veterans of the World War whose injuries or illnesses arise from their military service; it strikes from the rolls those whose disabilities have no connection with the war; it provides for a review of those cases where the connection between war service and the disability is not clear. This does not mean that the first rulings of the Administration are not final. They can be revised. They undoubtedly will be revised. They should be revised.

My own belief, for example, is that payments to men actually disabled in battle, to men suffering from disease directly arising from the war, and to the widows and orphans of men who died in the service, should be restored to their original amounts. The only justification for reducing these allowances in March was that all wages and salaries had to be reduced, that the cost of living had fallen since these allowances were first established, and that a moderate reduction in dollars represented a real loss of income. Even that time the Administration has, however, undertaken a policy designed to raise wages, to raise salaries, and to increase the income of farmers. It would be reasonable with this policy, and an act of justice, to restore to the generally disabled and to the widows of those who died in the war, the allowances which they

SANFORD, TWENTY YEARS AGO

James Shepherd, the twenty year old son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Shepherd of this city, lost his life by drowning in the St. Johns River Sunday. James and his brother-in-law, L. M. Leinhardt, were on the drawbridge that spans the St. Johns near Mountain fishing, when James realized that it was warm and decided to take a swim. The cold water must have given him cramps for the first intimation that Leinhardt had of his trouble was when he started to swim back against the current and called for help. Efforts to rescue him were not successful for he never came up after he first went down. The searching party dragged the river Sunday morning without result and early Monday morning resumed. They finally pulled up the telegraph cable that was strung across the river at the drawbridge and the body was found caught in the cable.

George Ballard, while coming across the Ginn place near the city last Friday discovered a large rattlesnake and succeeded in killing him. When stretched out the

"No work should be constructed which would require for its maintenance or operation and additional outlay by the federal government."

Coupled with this declaration of building policy was a five-point labor program designed to get as many to work as possible, with the proviso that all contracts must meet the requirements of the national industrial recovery law for short working hours and fair wage scales.

Job opportunities, the board asserted, "shall be equitably distributed among qualified workers who are unemployed, not among those who merely wish to change one good job for another," continuing:

"These work opportunities shall be distributed, geographically, as widely and as equitably as may be practicable. Qualified workers who, under the law, are entitled to preference shall secure such treatment. The wasteful costs and personal disappointments, due to excessive migration of labor to the vicinities of work projects should be avoided. Least labor required for such projects and approximately to be secured through employment services, should so far as possible be selected from lists of qualified workers submitted by local employment agencies designated by the United States employment service."

To states, cities and counties eager to share in the work bill, the board said: "Applications for federal financing or other aid for proposed projects should not be has been thoroughly denounced by leading Republican newspapers. It is well to ask ourselves why on this issue the alignment in the Senate was almost exactly on party lines. Is it that the Democratic Senators are individually more public-spirited and courageous than the Republicans? There is no reason to think they are. What, then, is the probable explanation? It must be, I should suppose, that the Democrats are bound together by the national program of the Administration and have staked their personal fortunes on its success. The Republicans, on the other hand, have no program, not even a negative program of opposition, and therefore for them it is a case of each man for himself. The Democrats know that they will be re-elected if the Administration is generally successful. The Republicans have to struggle against for jobs and seats of votes wherever they can find them. Were the positions reversed, it is more than likely that the votes would have been reversed.

From the point of view of the President, the moral is clear. It is that the only sound policy from now on is to do only those things which will make the program successful. No compromise is worth making which in any respect diminishes it. No change whatever in the program is to be made. If the program fails, no compromise of principle or of principle will save it. The program will have to be carried out as planned.

Religious Wedding Of Barbara Hutton Is Staged In Paris

While the prince waived the French husband's legal right to control over his wife's property, a large dowry was reported to have been settled upon him. He has been divorced about a year ago from Louise Astor Van Alen, of New York.

His brothers, Serge and David, attended the wedding. Serge, former husband of Pola Negri, is married to Mary McCormack, opera singer, while David is married to Miss Murray of the films. Their wives are both seeking separations now.

Phillippe de Rivas of Paris was best man for the prince. There were no attendants, in accordance with the Russian service, for the bride. Guests at the wedding, who came especially from America for the ceremony, included Mrs. James P. Donahue, the bride's aunt, whose sons, James and Woolworth were ushers; Mrs. Charles McCann, and former Helen Woolworth, and Fraser McCann, who also was an usher, with James Bialosky and Marshall Hemingway, of New York.

The honeymoon will be spent at Lake Como and Venice, in Italy, and in Barcelona, Spain. Afterward the couple will go to Biarritz and later divide their time between New York and Paris.

Miss Virginia Jinkins Honored With Party

Honoring Miss Virginia Jinkins, whose marriage to Vernon Douglas Crawford will take place Sunday at noon at the First Methodist Church, Mrs. F. B. Adams entertained with a party and miscellaneous shower on Wednesday afternoon at her home at Silver Lake. Mrs. Adams was assisted by Mrs. Henry Nickel.

During the afternoon games and contests were enjoyed by the guests and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Fannie S. Munson and Mrs. J. B. Crawford. At a late hour the honor guest was led to her gifts by means of an artificial spider web. She found them in a corner of the dining room partly concealed by a large pastel colored web or silk threads.

At the refreshment hour punch and cakes, in shades of pink and green, were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Nickel, Miss Mary Louise Nickel, and Miss Kathleen Adams. A profusion of pink hydrangeas and ferns was used to adorn the rooms of the Adams home which were opened enroute for the occasion.

Among those invited were: Miss Virginia Jinkins, honor guest, Mrs. John D. Jinkins, Mrs. Henry Nickel, Mrs. S. W. Bradford, Mrs. Pearl S. Babbitt, Mrs. G. W. Bailey, Mrs. J. S. Gordy, Mrs. Carl Moss, Mrs. G. E. McKay, Mrs. J. B. Crawford, Mrs. Kent Rosseter, Mrs. W. S. Thornton, Mrs. Eugene Higgins, Mrs. Walter L. Morgan, Mrs. J. K. Mettinger, Mrs. S. E. Jones, Mrs. M. H. ic injuries has been deeper than was originally intended. The regulation and schedules in this respect will, therefore, be reviewed so as to effect more equitable levels of payment. Careful study will be made of the other regulations and their effects.

"By reason of the burden incident to re-rating and in order that undue hardship will not be imposed upon veterans in their application for adjudication of their cases, regional offices of the Veterans' Administration will not be closed as has been reported, except where it has been clearly demonstrated that regional facilities are not necessary.

"It is not contemplated that Government hospitals will be closed pending a careful, studious survey of the entire hospital situation. This, of necessity, will require time.

"These conclusions are in line with the President's original statement that the regulations and schedules would be drafted so as to effect the most humane possible treatment of veterans truly disabled in war service."

Genuine Rodeo To Be Seen In Tom Mix Film

In "The Rustlers' Round-up", the latest Tom Mix-Universal feature, which has been booked to play at the Milane Theater on Saturday, a real, honest-to-goodness rodeo, with thrilling events, such as roping steers, lariat throwing, stage-coach races, and many other breath-taking stunts, will be incorporated in the film. It forms a good portion of the footage of the picture, lending an unusual, thrilling note of suspense and excitement to a Western story which is brimful of action, feats of horsemanship, and a charming love story.

Mix, who has won many prizes at nationally famous rodeos, participates in all of the rodeo events shown in the film, and his facility is easily recognized. In a burst of applause and the cheers of the crowd thronging the grandstand, Mix wins the stage-coach race and is awarded a jewel-studded saddle from the judges.

Vet Organizations Hold Joint Meetings

Commander Alfred Erickson of Camp Number Thirteen United Spanish-American War Veterans, Mrs. Jennie Erickson, president of the Auxiliary, and 25 members of both organizations, held a joint meeting Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. R. C. Shearer on Elm Avenue, for the purpose of hearing reports of the delegates of the Camp and Auxiliary to the department convention held in St. Petersburg recently. Reports were given by Mrs. Shearer and Alfred King.

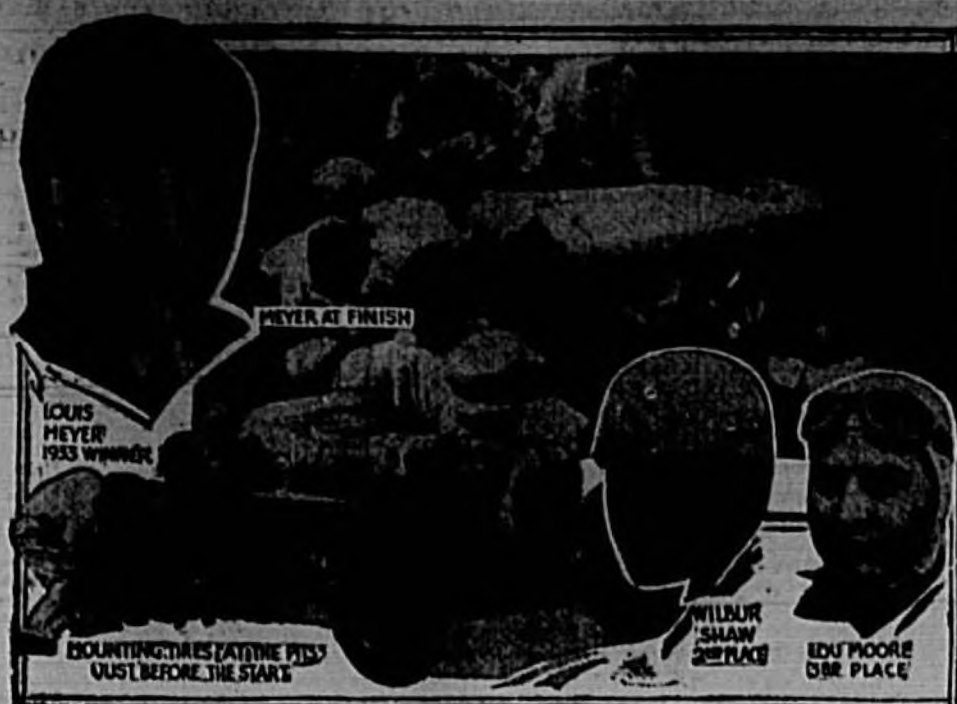

The meeting and the social period which followed marked the closing of all activities of the two organizations during the summer months. A gift box was presented in behalf of the Auxiliary by Mrs. Annie Lord to Mrs. Shearer, secretary, as a token of appreciation for her work in the organization and for the use of her home where all meetings have been held for the past several years.

Refreshments were served at a late hour to the guests. equipped with all the latest labor-saving devices for the home," said Mr. Randall today. "With similar rolling kitchens now being constructed, it is expected to do much towards revolutionizing kitchens of American homes.

"The purpose of bringing the General Electric Kitchen Coach to Sanford is to stimulate interest of housewives in kitchen modernization. Every housewife, we believe, will want to inspect this novel travelling kitchen, because it is the latest word, not only in kitchen appliances, but in arrangement, as well."

North Carolina's Dry Forces Will Fight Repeal Move

Raleigh, N. C., Twenty-five years ago, North Carolina, by a majority of 44,196, outlawed the liquor traffic. History will shortly repeat itself, when the dry forces launch a state-wide campaign to prevent ratification of prohibition repeal at an election to be held Nov. 7.

Preparatory to conducting a drive that will extend into every township in the state, 60 outstanding dries met in Raleigh May 25 and organized a steering committee, which elected as its chairman Dr. William Louis Poteat, president emeritus of Wake Forest College, who helped to bring victory a quarter of a century ago. He will lead the dry forces in the approaching crisis. Charles

L. Ruffin, Raleigh publisher, was chosen secretary. This steering committee, composed of 40 men and women, will act as executive committee in the coming campaign.

The immediate duty of this committee will be to organize dry leaders in all parts of the state and call them into convention at a later date, probably in June, when additional forces will be summoned to action.

A significant feature in connection with the drive being launched to keep North Carolina in the dry column is the fact that all organizations that heretofore have been working in behalf of temperance have enlisted under the banner of the United Dry Forces, and will work in cooperation with national leaders of this concerted movement. All members of the Anti-Saloon League, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union and other dry organizations will work together. Optimism marked the initial organization meeting in Raleigh, when leaders who had come here from all sections of the state pointed out that the silent temperance forces can be counted on
