BONDING FOR BRICK IN THE ENTIRE COUNTY

THIS MATTER CONFRONTS
THE PEOPLE OF SEMI-NOLE COUNTY

At a called meeting in the city hall Friday afternoon the question of bonding the county of Seminole for the sum of $500,000 for brick roads was discussed in all its phases. The meeting was only a preliminary meeting and was attended by representatives from many of the county precincts. It was called for the purpose of hearing expressions from the various sections of the county in regard to the county bonding. The people of Seminole county were promised good roads when the county was divided but it now occurs to the county commissioners and to many of the people of the county that spending money on any but hard surfaced roads is false economy and the subject of brick roads or sand or macadam roads brought up the subject of bonding the entire county as by no other means could the entire county be joined up with good roads. There is a stretch now between the special Sanford district and the Orange county line that will be necessary to brick and yet the road district in which the road lies is unable to bond for sufficient to make the road and in this case as in other precincts it is necessary to have Sanford district come in and assist in the entire county bond issue to raise a sum sufficient for the purpose as the Sanford district pays more than half the taxes for the entire county of Seminole. Under these conditions it is thought that the county issue will appeal to all the people as a half million bond issue will mean a good brick road to Oviedo, one to Geneva, one to the Lake county line and one to the Orange county line and the remainder of the roads in the county will then receive more attention and money. This road construction will make Seminole county one of the best paved counties in the entire south and the money will be well spent and being divided over the county will not fall heavily upon any tax payer. A committee having a member from each precinct was appointed by Chairman Forrest Lake to canvass the situation and at a later meeting report the expressions of the people throughout the entire county. Secretary Walter Haynes is preparing literature on the matter and the entire plan will be given in its entirety to the people in a few days. The committee will meet here Friday afternoon at 2:30 to make a report and investigate conditions and find if the proposition is feasible and approved.

Seeds Have Been Delayed

The seeds promised the people of this section by Congressman L'Engle to be distributed by The Herald have not arrived. After the manner of such things, they are probably tied up in red tape.

As soon as they arrive, notice will be immediately given. In the meantime all applications received will be carefully kept.

There seems to be some misapprehension about the seed. A number of our friends, in their requests to be served have specified the different sorts they would like to have. The seed will come in sealed packages—one package to each applicant. All we can do is to mail or hand them out; first come, first served. We have no right nor power to sort out nor distribute.

To Entertain the Press

The Florida Press Association will not only be entertained by the committee, board of trade, Elks Club, but the city also, realizing the value of advertising will appropriate not to exceed $400 for the purpose of entertaining and amusing the pencil shavers on occasions of their convention here, March 25-27.

"It pays to advertise," said Councilman Romfh, "and the newspaper men will give to Miami lots of space when they return. Ordinarily I am opposed to donations for every convention and meeting of one sort or another, but I believe this will be money well spent and I recommend that a sum not to exceed $400 be donated to the newspaper men's convention."

The motion carried unanimously. —Miami Herald.

Confidence in Stock

New York, March 8. More confident sentiment was reflected in the firmer and quieter stock market last week. There evidently was less fear of the company becoming involved with belligerent governments on account of reprisals affecting American commerce. Official optimism at Washington over Germany's reply to this government and the chances of British concessions helped this feeling. On the other hand the British plan to interdict German sea trade and the attempt to open the Dardanelles had the effect of increasing belief in rumors of peace prospects. Prompt disproval of some of these rumors established their purely conjectural nature.

Wheat's violent tumble was affected indifferently by fears of interrupted shipments through war measures and of release of Russian shipments and by rumors of cancellation of export orders on peace prospects. Foreign trade generally was affected by these influences. February's fourth week trade balance showed a marked decrease from preceding weeks, while foreign exchange rates stiffened. There were further sales of American securities from abroad. Private banking credit to foreigners and offerings of new German war loan notes were reported at Chicago and other western points. Several small imports of gold were received and more of the precious metal is in transit from Japan.

Favorable trade balances were drawn from iron and steel, showing increase in February production and March 1 furnace capacity further expanded. The monthly enlarged steel shipments with lessened rate of new bookings, forecast a smaller increase in United States steel unfulfilled orders than last month. The price of refined copper rose again. A hull was reported in western freight tonnage and January earnings pointed to the severe economies in force.

Adjournment to congress was a favorable influence. Argument for western freight increases and Missouri's refusal to allow a 2 1/2 cent fare entered into calculations. Default of the western Pacific was without effect on the general bond market, which was broad and showed a strong undertone.

Your Christmas Money

Of the many good projects that are fronting me to time just before the public we doubt if any possess the merit of the Christmas Saving Club of the First National Bank. It will prove to be of great benefit to those who will look into it which means that they will join it. Christmas is always a financial worry to paternal families who by custom and usage must not only make gifts, but supply the family with the necessary raiment and other incidentals. The problem has been solved by the Christmas Saving Club which makes it so easy for one and all to have some ready cash for Christmas time that it would be surprising if everyone in Sanford does not become a member. Who would miss 25c a week? And yet, by paying this small sum into their Christmas Saving account each week they would receive $13.00 two weeks before Christmas. This is but one class. There are others such as the 2c or 5c progressive which means in the former instance $16.40 for Christmas and in the latter $41.00. If you have not already done so call in at the National Bank, where the genial officials will be pleased to give you any further information you may desire. The club has started, and, as it costs nothing but the first payment to join you can lose nothing by following the crowd. It is also well to bear in mind that failure to pay any week does not forfeit the money you deposited.

Buttons for the Gang

Buttons similar to those used during the Knights of Dade festival will be distributed here on the occasion of the Florida Press Association's convention to be held in Miami on March 25, 26 and 27. Elaborate plans for entertaining the delegates are being made by the board of trade, Elks Club and several others and it is expected that the pencil shavers will enjoy themselves to the limit while here.

The buttons ordered and which will arrive within a few days, bear the seal of the state with his royal highness pointing to Miami and around this setting will be neatly engraved "Florida Press Association, Miami, March 25, 26, 27, 1915." —Miami Herald.

FLORIDA MONTE CARLO PULLED FRIDAY NIGHT

SWELL GAMBLING RESORT
AT PALM BEACH CAUGHT
IN TOILS OF THE LAW

Palm Beach, March 8.—John and Edward Bradley, who live at the Biltmore, New York City, have been arrested here on a charge of operating a gambling house at the Beach Club. The raid was made Friday night after two months of detective work on the part of a sleuth from Paris, France who masqueraded as a millionaire and claimed to have seen the games actually going on, attended by members of "the 400." Several times previously the place has been under investigation, but charges have failed to materialize. The grand jury is now making a thorough probe.

The investigation started by Governor Trammell of Florida involves as witnesses seventeen other men, some of them of national prominence.

So quietly was the raid made by Sheriff George B. Baker, late Friday night that 300 people in the building, come there for dinner parties knew nothing of the arrests.

The Bradley brothers appeared Saturday afternoon before County Judge D. F. Patterson in West Palm Beach and entered a plea of not guilty. They were represented by ex-Judge I. W. Metcalf, and no statement whatever was made. They were released under $5,000 bail each, the mayor of West Palm Beach, E. N. Dimmick and G. G. Strohm, a leading business man there, going on their bonds. At the same time in another room of the court house the grand jury started the taking of testimony, announcing that the hearing of evidence would continue on Monday.

They examined Colonel James M. Schoonmaker, vice president of the New York Central lines, Charles I. Cragin, of the Fourth Street National Bank, Philadelphia, who own Reve d'Ete, one of the handsomest country places here, A. H. Gleason, of New York, Ralph J. French, general manager of the Metropolitan Detective Agency, Jacksonville, and Theodore Bauer of the agency, who made the complaint.

Subpoenas to issue before the jury have been issued for ex-Mayor John F. Fitzgerald, of Boston, his brother, Henry H. Fitzgerald, John F. Harris, one of the leading steel brokers of the country; Lytleton Fox, of Philadelphia; Harry S. Black, president of the United States Realty Company, of New York; Thomas D. Shevlin of Minneapolis, the former Yale football star, Henry Gleason, a New York lawyer, W. C. Bryant, a manufacturer of Bridgeport, Conn., Peter Vreedenburg and Thomas Vreedenburg, manufacturers of Springfield, Conn.; John Lynder, of Carlisle, Pa.; Franklin Pettit and Robert Franklin, Adams, of New York.

John Bradley when asked for a statement said: "We are running a restaurant at the Beach Club, nothing else. The Governor is acting at the instance of a banker and merchant in West Palm Beach, who is playing politics. Five times this club has been investigated by a grand jury for some such underlying motive and no evasion of the law has ever been found."

Charles I. Cragin, seen at the entrance of the grand jury room, said he had frequently been to the club to dinner but could not testify he had ever seen gambling there.

Theodore Bauer testified that he was employed to get evidence, became a member of the club and played roulette and hazard there nightly except Sunday for about two weeks, and the gambling room was crowded with prominent men and women in evening dress, most of them playing for heavy stakes.

Commercial Club Meets

The regular meeting of the Commercial Club will take place next Friday night at the City Hall and a full attendance is desired. The election of officers will occur and many other matters of importance discussed. The meeting will be called to order promptly at eight o'clock.

Commissioners Clark, Entsminger and McLain were in the city yesterday at a special meeting of the board trying to adjust the brick road matter.

COTTON SHIPMENTS TO BE MADE ONLY TO NEUTRALS

AND NONE RE-SHIPED TO THE WARRING NATIONS
OF EUROPE

Washington, D. C., Mar. 8.—The following statement was issued at the British embassy today on the subject of American cotton cargoes going to Europe.

"Many inquiries have been received as to the treatment to be accorded to cotton shipped to Europe in view of the restrictive measures proposed to be taken by the allied governments.

"As already announced there is no question of confiscating cotton cargoes that may come within the scope of the order in council to be administered. The following arrangement has been come to in London as to cotton consigned to neutral ports only:

"One. All cotton for which contracts of sale and freight engagements had already been made before March 2 to be allowed free for bought at contract prices, if stopped, provided ships sail not later than March 17.

"Two. Similar treatment to be accorded to all cotton insured before March 2, provided it is purchased before that date. The British government claims no protection to be declared before sailing and documents produced to and certificates obtained from consular agents or other authority held by government. Ships or cargoes consigned to enemy ports will not be allowed to proceed."

The arrangement is said by the British ambassador to have been made to meet a monetary demand that Americans had made contracts for the delivery of cotton to the neutral countries of northern Europe.

The statement that "ships or cargoes consigned to enemy ports will not be allowed to proceed," was explained to mean that in the case of cotton ships, at least where the shipments were made before March 1, or before the announcement of the British intention to stop all supplies to Germany, the cargo will be taken by the British at its invoiced value. In the case of cotton cargoes consigned to enemy ports, the scope of the order in council to be issued, the British embassy is not yet informed when the order is to be issued, but understands it will cover not only cotton cargoes but all supplies destined for other neutral countries or northern Europe or enemy countries. Consequently the arrangement announced today is to be regarded as purely tentative and subject to cancellation or amendment as soon as that order is ready.

Sandy Anderson Injured

Sandy Anderson met with an accident Saturday night that almost put him out of the running. While going home on his motorcycle on Park avenue late in the evening he turned out to give a passing auto the road and ran full tilt into an auto that was standing at the curb with all the lights darkened. When picked up he had a broken collar bone and was badly bruised.

Mr. Anderson is recovering from the accident rapidly and expects to be out again in a few days and his friends are rejoicing that he suffered nothing more serious. It was a miraculous escape from death when Sandy catapulted over the handle bars into the car.

The law does not require cars standing still at the curbing to have lights and this will cause many accidents of this kind along the city streets. With the lights of a passing car in the eyes it is difficult to see a "dead" car standing at the curb.

We Will All Be There

The Commercial Club will be there and all those who do not belong to the club will be there to give in their names. The meeting of the Commercial Club next Friday night should be one of the best of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Cox have returned to Sanford after an absence of several years and Mr. Cox has his former position with the department store of D. A. Caldwell & Sons. He has been managing one of the branch stores for Oscar Davis & Co. at New Smyrna.

Former Resident Dies

The following from the Cleveland, Ohio Plain Dealer will be of interest to Sanford's older residents:

Thomas Frederick Huggins, widely known insurance man, died last night at his residence, 98 Wymore-av., East Cleveland. Death was caused by a complication of diseases.

Mr. Huggins was born in Cincinnati, Jan. 10, 1855, and has been a resident of Cleveland for the past forty-eight years. He has been identified with the United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co., 1412-1415 Illuminating building, for about ten years. At the time of his death he was vice-president of the company.

A widow and three children, Licia, Margaret and Frederick survive. Funeral arrangements have not been completed, but the services will be held sometime Monday from the residence.

Mr. Huggins came to Sanford in 1885 from Cleveland, returning to Cleveland in spring of 1895. He was engaged in the orange packing business.

Resolutions of Respect

Whereas, by the sudden death of Mrs. B. G. Smith the Oviedo Magazine Club has been bereft of a beloved and valued member;

Be it resolved, that we express our sorrow for her loss, and our appreciation of her efforts for the welfare of our club during the nine years of her membership.

For the past year secretary and treasurer, and until physically unfit to attend the meetings, faithful and conscientious in the performance of her duties. Always cheerful and sympathetic, she endeared herself to the hearts of all who knew her.

Whether as a member of our club, or in the larger sphere of her life, we can but count her death as a loss to the community.

Therefore, be it resolved that we proffer to the bereaved husband and sisters our heartfelt sympathy in this their great sorrow.

Furthermore, be it resolved that a copy of these resolutions be entered on the minutes of the Oviedo Magazine Club, also a copy sent to the members of the bereaved family and a copy sent to the Sanford Herald.

Mrs. Wm. Stones,
Mrs. T. L. Meade,
Anita K. Crawford,
Secretary.

Newspaper Change

A Kissimmee dispatch says Gordon Nye and wife, who have been editing and managing the Kissimmee Valley Gazette for the past ten months left Saturday for New York, where Mr. Nye has accepted a position with the New York Daily Call as city editor. By their work here the position of the Gazette as one of the foremost papers of the state has been greatly enhanced and the Florida press, as well as their many personal friends will greatly miss them. Mr. Nye goes to his work fully capable of handling all tasks. He was recently managing editor of the Milwaukee Leader and the Chicago World during its sensational political fight. He came to Kissimmee from the Chicago American as head of its promotion department. Mr. Nye is a well known socialist and has been a prominent editorial contributor to the Call and other party organs for several years past. His cartoon work has also gained him a reputation over the country. It is safe to say that in his departure Florida loses one of its ablest newspaper men. E. E. Naugle, recently managing editor of the Florida Metropolis takes Mr. Nye's place.

Royally Entertained

Members of the Florida Press Association who will come to Miami March 25, 26 and 27, will be royally entertained if the plans of the committee, of which W. N. Urmev is the chairman, are carried out. There will be a big banquet of some sort, either a fish dinner on the beach or dinner in one of the hotels here, automobile and boat rides and a trip to the Davie farm.

The Elks have generously offered the use of their club house for the meetings and headquarters of the visitors, and there the pen-pushers will congregate for the transaction of business and for the social meetings.

A reception for the visiting women is also to be planned, but nothing definite has been done in regard to this. The entertainment committee will be ready to announce its program of amusements within a few days, and the cooperation of the citizens of Miami will be asked. —Miami Metropolis.

CONGRESS CLOSES A VERY IM- MOR- TANT SESSION

THE SIXTY-THIRD CONGRESS
ACCOMPLISHED MUCH
IN LEGISLATION

"A great congress has closed its session. Its work will prove the purpose and the quality of its statesmanship more and more the longer it is tested." President Wilson thus sums up the work of the Sixty-third congress, which held three sessions and was brought to an end on Saturday. It completed the first two-year span of the Democratic administration. The congress was overwhelmingly Democratic as to the house and the party also had a fair working majority in the senate. The Sixty-fourth congress, which will be called into action next fall unless conditions arise that compel the President to convene it in extra session at an earlier date, also will have a Democratic majority in both houses, but a greatly reduced one in the house, while there will be a small gain in the senate for the party in power.

The President urges all Americans to return to the work of straightening out business conditions that have become somewhat tangled because of the war in Europe, urging constructive endeavor along all lines. "The constant thought of every patriotic man should now be for the country, its peace, its order, its just and tempered judgment," says the president. While this will not calm the jinglers' spirits it is sound sense and good advice.

The Sixty-third congress enacted much constructive legislation. It set a mark for future congresses and outstripped any of its predecessors. Whether the people shall have learned to appreciate this class of legislation by the time the next election rolls around will determine the fate of the Democratic party, as to whether it is to succeed itself or be thrust aside for the reorganized Republican party. Many of the new laws have yet to be tried out. They are in an experimental stage, as all new legislation must be for a time. Unusual conditions have also arisen during the life of the Sixty-third congress—the European war being, of course, the principal one—and this new legislation cannot be tried out as fully or as properly as would be the case did normal conditions prevail here and throughout the civilized world.

The Sixty-third congress has been a working congress. Beginning with the extra session called by President Wilson on April 7, 1913, the congress has been at work a total of 637 days.

Principal enactments by the Sixty-third congress were:

The Underwood-Simmons tariff act, which revised the tariff downward.

An income tax law.

Reorganization of the currency system by creation of a federal reserve board, with regional reserve banks, which provides a more elastic system of currency and is a protection to the banking world and the depositors.

Supplemented and strengthened the anti-trust law, by passing the Clayton law and creating a federal trade commission which will have power to examine the business transactions of any concern doing an interstate trade, and to point the way to punishment of transgressors.

Repealed the act exempting American vessels from payment of tolls on the Panama canal.

Directed the building of a government owned railway in Alaska, to cost $35,000,000.

Passed an act to regulate dealings on cotton exchanges.

Legislation that failed of passage included:

The government ship purchase bill, urged by President Wilson, which was intended to curb the monopoly of ocean freight carriers.

Conservation measures urged by the President to protect the country from the seizure of its waterpower sites by private corporations.

A bill to grant enlarged governmental functions to the Philippines.

The congress also refused to pass resolutions calling for amendments to the constitution to provide for woman's suffrage and for nationwide prohibition.

Taken all in all, it was a great congress. Its acts will have a far-reaching effect upon the future conduct of the government.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture says no shortage of foodstuffs is likely. It estimates the total supply of wheat to the crop year of 1914 at 967,000,000 bushels and the total domestic consumption for all purposes at 610,000,000 bushels, which after providing for our own needs leaves a surplus of 357,000,000 bushels of which 210,000,000 bushels were exported by Jan. 30th. This left 147,000,000 bushels, or 40,000,000 bushels more than our average annual export, for export between Feb. 1st and the appearance of the new crop.

State and County Tax Books Close April 1st
Tax books will be closed after April First, as provided by law, and property on which taxes remain unpaid will be advertised and sold for taxes if not paid.

Paying Cash
The Metropolis seldom feels justified in giving editorial space to the interests of any one advertiser, but we have a big subject today, furnished by the progressive movement of Burdine & Sons in their adoption of a "No-Credit" system for their big mercantile business.

The advertisement announcing the new order of things is too comprehensive to need further explanation. The firm came to the conclusion, from the arguments advanced in a Metropolis editorial that it is time to protect the good pay people and make it better worth their while to buy their supplies at home.

In the editorial in question the Metropolis condemned the injustice that gives no better privileges to the man who pays his bills promptly than to the fellow whose slow pay requires the services of a bill collector. The good-pay people cannot buy goods over a counter for any less cost than the slow-pay and the no-pay people. The merchant who is required to keep a complicated book keeping system—and books on which there are numerous charges to "profit and loss"—must do something "to even up."

Furthermore, Miami wants lower prices for the things sold here. She wants lower priced groceries, lower priced dry goods, lower priced hardware, lower priced everything that can be lowered in the elimination of losses caused by too much credit.

Blackness of the Crow.
It was satisfactorily established by the old writers that the crows got their blackness in punishment for their sins. It seems to have been a futile punishment for there is no living thing that shows in its demeanor less evidence of a repentant sinner.

Abram-man.
It was at one time the practice to allow the inmates of the Abraham ward of Bethlehem hospital London, to go about begging for the benefit of the hospital. Certain vagrants imposed on the charity by pretending to be actual inmates and were therefore known as Abram-men.

SILAGE CROPS

By JOHN M. SCOTT
Florida Agricultural Experiment Station

Those who have silos or who contemplate building silos this spring or in early summer should be planning to plant an abundance of forage with which to fill their silo.

Good crops from which to make silage are the following: Japanese cane; sorghum; corn; a mixture of corn and cowpeas; or sorghum and cowpeas.

Japanese cane should be planted in the fall or during the winter. For the best results it should be planted not later than March 15. The rows should be 6 to 8 feet apart. A liberal number of seed canes are required to insure a good stand. About 2500 or 3000 canes 3 feet long will be needed to plant an acre.

Sorghum is one of our best silage crops, as it produces a heavy yield of forage per acre. It also makes a silage of good quality. If it is well matured, that is, if the seed is in the hard dough stage, or even if the seed is ripe, it will make silage of good quality. The cultivation of sorghum is the same as that of corn.

A good seed bed is prepared by thoroughly plowing the ground. The rows are three and a half or four feet apart, and the seed is drilled in the row. One bushel of seed will plant five or six acres of land. On well prepared land an application of 300 to 500 pounds of fertilizer per acre will give satisfactory results.

There are several varieties of sorghum that will do well in Florida. Among the best of these are Sumac (often called Red Top), Orange, Gooseneck and Shalla (Egyptian wheat). The Early Amber is another good variety which matures a little earlier than the others, but does not produce as heavy yields per acre. Any of the above varieties will produce two crops during the season.

Corn is also a good silage crop. On the best grade of land it will produce about as many tons per acre of green material as will sorghum. On the poorer grades of soil sorghum will perhaps out yield corn. The planting and cultivation of a crop of corn for silage is the same as for a grain crop, except that the corn should be planted much thicker. The rows should not be planted more than three and a half feet apart, and the stalks should not be more than 12 to 15 inches apart in the row.

An important consideration in the growing of any silage crop is to handle it so as to produce the maximum yield per acre. This requires good cultivation and liberal fertilization.

Advantages of Silage
(1) The nutrients of the entire crop are conserved; there is no leaching or loss of nutrients.

(2) Silage is a permanent food, but lacking palatability during severe drought. (3) Feed is economically stored, so far as space is concerned.

Prince of Tonight

Is it possible for a musical play to be over burdened with girls? The reviewer has complained that there are too many pretty girls in the chorus of "The Prince of Tonight," and that in consequence his attention was attracted from the theme and the action of the play to the fact that it had so many of them. Hebert and his colleagues are to be congratulated, for they realize that beauty is only skin deep and the girls in "The Prince of Tonight" have also fulfilled their qualifications in singing and dancing. Tom Arnold leads the pageant of all princesses in the play, and the Emperor is the prince.

The songwriters, Adams, Hough and Howard, have written some of the most popular songs that are being sung in the theaters. "You're a Dear Old World After All," "I Can't Be True so Far Away," "Can it be Love?" and "Tonight We'll Never Come Again." Much praise has been accorded the scenic production which has been built with a lavish disregard of expense.

A banquet is nice, a la this, a la that, with cranberries a la turki; but you have to get down to plain ham and eggs if you'd make a success of the work.—Palm Beach Post.

MORE THAN HER CLIMATE

The newspapers of Florida are boosters in the truest sense of the word for Florida and Florida's best interest, which means of course that the newspapers of the state do not approve every proposition that is designed and submitted as a proper thing for the best interest and advancement of the state but the term simply means that the newspapers as a rule have an eye single to the state's best interest.

But while the Florida newspapers are great boosters we fear that the majority of them are mistaken in the methods employed in their boosting. To illustrate this point more fully, many of the papers of the state find practically nothing good to say about the state save that well worn slogan "climate."

We see no objection whatever to the newspapers boosting Florida's climate, for certainly it is something worthy of every complimentary expression, but to lay so much stress on the climate and to say little regarding the resources which enable one to enjoy such a climate, is not a policy that will add materially to the enjoyment of the state.

The "climate" slogan is a good one, but it does not always serve as a booster for Florida. Too often the wrong impression is made because of the fact that the climate takes precedent over the material commercial resources of the state.

As a horticultural and agricultural state, Florida ranks foremost among the American states when the population of the state and the number of acres in cultivation is considered.

FINE PREMIUM LIST

We have just received a copy of the premium list of the Brevard County Fair and it is one of the finest pieces of work of that kind that has come to our desk. We people in Florida do not think enough of a premium list to give it an appearance but the Melbourne Publishing Co. has actually made a premium list a work of art.

EDITOR HOLLY

While a visitor at Sanford, taking in the Seminole County Fair we had the pleasure of meeting and being entertained by Editor Holly of the Sanford Herald. Bob, they call him over there, and everywhere else for that matter—where he has been twice. We can now realize why he is popular with the newspaper men of the state.

Editor Holly is president of the Florida Press Association, and if we can raise the price we hope to meet him again—at Miami, March 25, 26 and 27, 1915.—Melbourne Times.

BUSINESS FIRST

Miami is planning well for the entertainment of the State Press Association on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 25-27, and there is no doubt that all who attend the gathering will be highly satisfied.

But it should be borne in mind that such a gathering is not entirely for the purpose of feasting the eye and flooding the gastronomic capacities of the desire moulders of the state. There is a business side to the question of the newspaper proposition—a bread and butter surface which must be figured upon deliberation.

There should be action secured upon many important topics. And the deliberations should be entered into by all the publishers of the state—in order that the same should be understood. The papers of the state are a very important asset—an asset too lightly viewed by the masses. The papers are a constant source of "boost" for all sections.

There is need of legislation to benefit the profession; need of new plans to be promulgated for the gain of the publishers; need of a unanimity of action by the printer-

The DeLand Daily News announces in glaring headlines that DeLand's water has been tested and found to be pure and unadulterated. We are glad of this for Chris Codrington's sake.

The sheriff of Palm Beach county had the desperado Ashley rehearse the bank robbery for the benefit of the moving picture concern. This is a gallery play that is hardly appreciated by the public.

The city council of Miami has voted $400 for the entertainment of the Florida Press Association on the 25th of this month. That city council in Miami never did a wiser thing in all their young and virtuous lives and that $400 will return to them with dividends attached.

Our old friend Geo. Goolsby of the Wauchula Advocate is getting some swell manners in his old age and in his want column now announces an "Estrayed Cow," etc.

The Sanford Herald was awarded the official county printing at the February meeting of the board of county commissioners and will be the official organ of the county.

Every one should join the Build Now movement while all the building materials are so cheap. There never was a time when the materials for buildings were so reasonable and there will probably never be such prices again as soon as the war ceases.

There never was a time when the people of this community could not get together on any question and there is no reason why they cannot get together on the brick roads matter. Certainly all of us realize the position of the taxpayers in the matter and that the bricks in their present state are doing no one any good.

Gordon Nye has accepted a position with the New York Daily Call, which speaks well for Florida journalism. Mr. Nye has been editor of the Kissimmee Gazette, at least we learn this from the exchanges as since his advent we have received no copies of the Gazette.

Yarborough—Kilbee

In the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends Miss Ella Pearl Kilbee of Geneva and Mr. James Walter Yarborough of New Smyrna were united in the holy bonds of matrimony Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Kilbee.

The reception room and hall were tastefully decorated for the occasion with palms, ferns, roses and smilax. Promptly at the appointed hour to the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, rendered on the violin by Miss Margie Kilbee the bridal party entered the reception room where the ceremony was performed by Rev. Stone of the Geneva Baptist church.

First came the flower girls, little Misses Verlie and Evelyn Jacobs. They were followed by the maid of honor, Miss Bertie Jacobs and William Gaston Kilbee, best man. Then came the bride and groom.

The bride was gowned in a becoming suit of navy blue cloth, with hat and accessories to march and carried an arm bouquet of brides roses. The groom wore the conventional black. The maid of honor was gowned in a becoming suit of blue cloth.

During the informal reception a refreshment course was served in the dining room, which was also tastefully decorated in white and green.

Miss Kilbee was one of Geneva's most charming and beautiful young ladies. The groom is one of New Smyrna's prominent young business men.

Mr. and Mrs. Yarborough left during the evening for points in the northern part of the state, where they will spend their honeymoon. On their return they will be at home to their friends in New Smyrna.

Their many friends extend best wishes for their future happiness and prosperity.

W. C. T. U. Reception

One of the most enjoyable events of last week was the delightful reception of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, tendered the people of Sanford at the Brother hood rooms Friday evening. The rooms were well filled with those interested in the cause and the pleasing program was enjoyed by all.

The violin selection, Handel's Largo, rendered by Mr. Earl Paxton accompanied by Miss Frances Aspinwall was a beautiful number.

Mrs. Claude Herndon and Mrs. John Thomas were heard in two beautiful ballads, "For Love's Sweet Sake" Stylys and "When I Dream of that Boy." In perfect harmony the sweet voices blended in the tender love songs adding a charming addition to the evening's pleasure.

Mrs. J. W. Barnes delighted, as usual, with her humorous readings, adding again to her fame and popularity. By request she read with delightful interpretation "Sally Ann's Experience" and as the audience would not be denied followed "A Modern Telephone Romance." The Misses Grotchen and Olga Schultz, who presented at the Baptist Temple last evening by the Boubah Quartette of the Alkhest Lyceum course. A good audience greeted the singers but had the music lovers of Sanford known what a rare treat there was in store for them the auditorium could not have held the crowd. Owing to the fact that the arrangement to bring this attraction to Sanford last night was unexpected and made after Friday's issue of the Herald, it is remarkable that there were so many out to enjoy the interesting and delightful program.

Whether in the quartette ensemble when the voices blended harmoniously or in solo parts each number was perfect and the work of artists.

Mrs. Boubah Buck is a reader whose place is among the very best, and while Sanford's people have heard some of the finest readers on the southern stage this winter Mrs. Buck ranks with the talented. As song after song and the wonderful readings followed each other the appreciative audience realized that finished artists of a high order stood before them.

In the splendid program presented there were sweet old love songs, tuneful ballads and darkey lullabies that appealed to all. Several musical monologues were pleasing and delightful numbers diversifying the entertainment and appealing to the most critical.

Among her men and women." It was an interesting statement made by Mr. Whitner that the Christian Endeavor societies of Canada are posting signs along the roadways. "Wanted, 200,000 boys to take the place of 200,000 men killed by intoxicants." The fight is on and now is the psychological moment, the world is ripe for prohibition. We must do a practical work now and secure legislation in favor of state wide prohibition and put Florida in the prohibition column." Mr. Whitner's talk was interesting, practical and a clarion call in the cause of temperance. This is only an outline.

At the close of the interesting program delicious refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed.

Keoples Entertained

Miss Elizabeth Stafford entertained the Keopie Club and other friends with a charming little party on Friday evening. The house was prettily decorated with potted plants, asparagus ferns and nasturtiums, while the table was lovely with its attractive arrangements centered by the punch bowl, encircled with ferns and flowers. Sprays of asparagus fern trailed upon the white cover and caught with glowing bunches of the vari colored nasturtiums. Fruit punch and dainty cakes were served.

The young people enjoyed the pleasures of dancing and various games dear to the heart of youth.

Enjoying the delightful hospitality of their young hostess were Misses Alice Caldwell, Fern Ward, Virginia Brady, May Thrasher, Ruth McDaniel, Helen Hand, Frances Chappell, Kathleen Brady, Fred Wain, Edward Betts, Allan Jones, Harold Brown, Rush Murphy, J. D. Woodruff, Dick B. Brown, G. W. Sponner and Reginald Holly.

Seew Sew Club

The members of the Seew Sew Club spent a most delightful afternoon last Thursday with Mrs. B. A. Howard. The party met at the home of Mrs. O. E. Taylor and drove out to the machines, returning most refreshingly in the late afternoon. Mr. Howard served a most delicious refreshment course of chicken salad, cut sandwiches, devilled eggs, taddish, olives and coffee. Those enjoying the delightful occasion were Mesdames O. E. Taylor, R. J. Holly, C. E. Henry, I. S. Wilson, C. H. Dungee, F. L. Woodruff, Henry McLaughlin, R. L. Peck, Wm. McKinnon and Miss Devlin.

Birthday Party

Little Miss Mary Fields was the happy birthday girl, after a most enjoyable party of her young friends in celebration of her eighth birthday. "Pleasant games were enjoyed and a happy time was spent. Cake and ambrosia were served and little Mary rejoiced in the many presents received from her thoughtful playmates.

Quartet's Recital

The quartette rendered very sweetly "Macushla" and "A Rose in the Bud." A quartette group that was delightful was the "Little Boy," a darkey melody, "Carita," sparkling and gay, in which the voices blended with sweetest harmony and a "charming fellow."

Mrs. Buck gave a particularly fine monologue, accompanied by Miss Margery Paddock on the piano entitled "The Hindu's Paradise," which was followed by another, a negro lullaby, "Is You."

One of the most humorous and creating a whirlwind of laughter was the recitation of school boys and girls' Longfellow's Bridge. Miss Buck cleverly portrayed in turn, the timid girl, the sing song girl, the stuttering boy, the girl who had tripped (sobbing) but forgotten her name and last but not least the boy whose father had taken him to see Hamlet. This was one of the best of the humorous recitations of the evening. The audience was not yet satisfied and clamored another encore, "A Busy Merchant."

Novin's Nightingale Song was a charming number, rendered by Miss Margery Paddock in her beautiful soprano. For the encore she sang that sweet old ballad, "Annie Laurie."

Another quartette number much enjoyed was "Sweet Kentucky Babe" and "Twilight Bells." "A Voice from the Far-Off Country" was a reading depicting the pathos of a lonely old couple homesick for the daughter in a far-off land and rendered with sympathetic interpretation by the talented reader. The encore was an admonition to "Say Hello!" and give the other fellow the glad hand to send him on his way rejoicing.

"Build Now"

Have you noticed how many of the magazines are urging the American public to BUILD NOW?

The price of building material is now lower than it has been for twenty years, and it is an absolute certainty that when the European war is over these products will soar in price. Consequently, if you expect to build at any time in the near future, now is your golden opportunity.

With the lumber of the country being rapidly cut out, it is quite probable that never again in your life will you be able to build as cheaply as during the present Summer.

Miss Woodhouse, who possesses a rich contralto voice, deep and full, was one of the favorites of the evening and sang as only Miss Woodhouse can sing "The End of a Perfect Day" and responded with a delightful encore. A trio singing "Orange Blossom Time" in Normandy were Misses Paddock, Woodhouse and Whitacre.

The program closed with a charming little sketch entitled "Now and Then," in which Mrs. Buck as the aunt of long ago was a dainty old lady, reminiscent of the joys and happy days of the past. The other members of the quartette were a dainty group of nieces most attractive in their pretty gowns of our grandmother's youth. The old, old songs of long ago carried the audience back to the song's that grandmothers and mothers sang in their youth. These were "When

You and I Were Young, Maggie," "Tramp, Tramp, the Boys are Marching," "Dixie and closing with Auld Lang Syne. Other songs of the sketch were "Good-Night, Ladies," "We Won't go Home Till Morning" and a humorous delightful parody on "The Old Oaken Bucket" as sung by Mr. Hemenburger.

Misses Whitacre and Woodhouse gave a charming little minuet song that was one of the prettiest numbers of the evening. In their pretty old-fashioned gowns, their sweet voices in perfect accord and gracefully bowing and bending in the steps of the minuet, they made a charming picture.

The Baptist people have certainly struck the keynote of success in bringing to Sanford these splendid attractions of the Alkhest Lyceum Course.

The text of the series will come in April.

Mrs. E. J. Moughton entertained with a charming little luncheon party on Tuesday for Mrs. J. W. Barnes and Mrs. Harry Pilkington. A delicious luncheon was served and

FOOLISH LAWS

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

Of making laws there is no end! If they all advanced public welfare, it would be different, but a good many of them don't fit and the list includes a great many more than what are known as "freak legislation."

The State Board of Health was organized to protect human beings, citizens of Florida, against physical ills that flesh is heir to. It was not brought into existence to cure sick hogs nor cows nor horses nor mules nor dogs.

It is true that the Board has expended much time and money to fight glanders in horses and rabies in dogs, and it has done this because, and only because, these dangerous diseases are communicable from animals to men, and not from any undue solicitude for the individual brute.

A certain Florida legislature in the not dim and distant past, decreed that the State Health Board from its funds should distribute hog cholera serum, free of cost to the owners of swine in Florida. Now hog cholera is not communicable to humans. It is not a menace to the health of men and women, yet under this ruling of legislature, something more than $21,000 has been expended for hogs within the past twelve months, and the Board could have spent a lot more if it could have produced the medicine (at $15.00 a quart). The hog seemed to like it as a child likes candy, judging from the amount they absorbed.

And now the funds of the State Health Board seem to be threatened with another big draft, for it is reported that the next legislature is to be asked to dip into the funds of the Board again and to set aside $15,000 or more from the moneys which in the form of taxes were paid in good faith to conserve the health of the human residents of Florida.

to drive the cattle tick from the state.

Now, what is known as Texas fever among cattle is a disease carried and spread among them by ticks. The disease is not communicable from animals to men. It belongs to the cattle alone, and to rid them of the pest would be a splendid accomplishment; it would add several million dollars to the value of the cows in Florida. It would make them better for beef and dairy purposes, but the people of Florida have been, for several centuries, eating beef from tick affected cattle and drinking the milk from them, and no one ever heard of a human being having the Texas fever.

In other words, the funds of the State Board already have been drawn on heavily to treat sick hogs or to ward off sickness from them—a purely commercial proposition. The further menace already foreshadowed, to get rid of the tick at the expense of the state Health funds, is also distinctly another commercial proposition—it affects the pocketbooks of a certain class of property owners in the state, not the health of all. It is purely class legislation that is purposed and that has been enacted before.

While it is believed that the funds of the State Board of Health should not be diverted from the original purpose for which taxes in support of this fund are collected from the people, viz: the preservation of the health of the human family, yet the Board would interpose no objection to a moderate amount of its money being used for demonstration purposes by its own veterinarian for educational purposes, as the Board considers that in the matter of veterinary medicine it is better equipped perhaps to fulfill a mission of this kind, education of the farmer along the lines of improving the health of his stock, than other departments of the state government.

We may reasonably expect further drafts on this fund to wipe out the diseases that affect citrus trees and tomatoes and potatoes, and eventually it might be possible to transfer to the Health Board all the duties that are so splendidly performed by the Agricultural Experiment Station at Gainesville.

By such a diversion of funds, the Board would be hampered by lack of sufficient monetary means to carry on its fight against tuberculosis in Florida; it will be limited in its campaign of education on health and sanitary matters among Floridians. Its functions are circumscribed in other directions.

Now, are the people of Florida going to stand for this? Are they going to permit or sanction a diversion of taxes levied and paid in good faith for the conservation of human health, to other purposes in no way related to this work?

The legislature is to meet in biennial session next month. It might be an effective plan for the intelligent citizens of the state to have at heart to heart talk with their respective legislators in the meantime, and to impress upon them the idea that this kind of foolishness must be stopped.

TOD SLOAN WILL BECOME HORSE BREEDER

Tod Sloan.

Tod Sloan, famous jockey, was returned from Europe, where he drove a French Red Cross ambulance for several months. Sloan, who is now forty years old, is visiting friends here preparatory to taking up his residence in Huntington, Ind., to raise race horses in an attempt to win back the fortune he has squandered during the past few years.

Sloan, who as a boy attracted attention 25 years ago in races throughout Indiana, became one of the world's most famous jockeys in later years. On a trip abroad Sloan was introduced at court and became the idol of the foreign race tracks. He lived at the best London clubs, and in a few years the fortune which he had won in America had slipped through his hands.

COOLEY IS MADE GOAT

Joe Cantillon Puts Over Joke on Ancient Enemy.

Umpire Coaxed Boston Player to Tear Around Bases at Breakneck Speed After Bill Lange Had Made Wonderful Catch.

Dick Cooley, former manager of the Louisville Colonels, has little sympathy for umpire baiters, although when Dick was in the big leagues he had quite a reputation as one of the worst foes the umpires met on the diamond. But Dick excused his fault in this respect on the ground that the umpires of those days were much more tantalizing than the arbiters of the present.

No more bitter feud existed in the big leagues than that between Umpire Joe Cantillon, now manager of the Ancient Order of Millers, and Dick Cooley. For years they never spoke civilly to each other. Dick tells the story of the final break between Cantillon and himself. "Cantillon was a good umpire," said Dick, "but for some reason we were always at outs. Joe didn't like me and I had no use for him. However, we got along passably fair until one day in Chicago, when Cantillon played the meanest trick on me that I have ever known an umpire to be guilty of. I suppose the laugh is on me, but at any rate, I never got over it, and Cantillon and I have never spoken since."

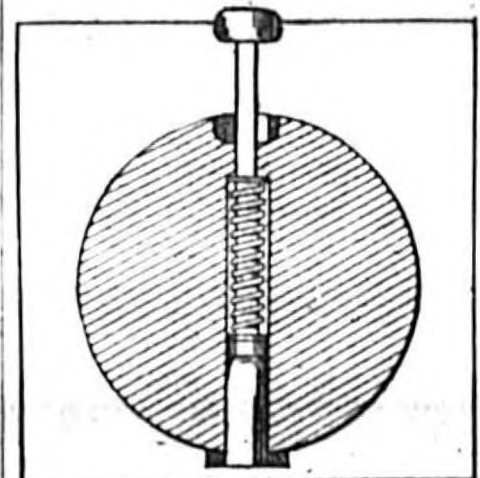

"I was playing with Boston against Anson's Chicago team. Bill Lange, one of the greatest outfielders who ever lived, was playing center for Anson. I was at bat, and caught one squarely on the end and drove the ball on a line to deep center. As I was rounding first, I saw the ball going over Lange's head. I figured it was good for the circuit, so I tore around as hard as I could. "As I was nearing third I heard Cantillon yell: 'Touch third, or I'll call you out.' I touched the sack and tore for home. When I was getting near the plate I saw Cantillon running apparently to make a close decision at the plate. As he came up he yelled 'Slide!' I slid. Then Cantillon bawled: 'You're out!' "I jumped up and shouted: 'What! Whore's the ball?' "Bill Lange caught it," said the ump. "I then found out that while I was running with my head down, confident that I could get around safely, Bill Lange made a wonderful running, jumping, one-hand catch of the ball, away back against the fence, in deep center, and that Cantillon kept me going merely to make a monkey out of me."

"After that we never spoke."

HANDLE ON A BOWLING BALL

Makes It More Convenient to Manipulate Wooden Sphere—Desirable Feature in Rolling.

The handle on the bowling sphere which has been recently patented is designed for the purpose of facilitating the transportation of the ball from one point to another. Professional players, and even amateurs, who are careful about their playing and jealous of their reputations will not play with any but their own ball, and when engaging in contests it often is necessary to carry this from place to place.

The handle shown herewith is spring-controlled and sinks into a boring through the center of the ball, and when desired it may be removed entirely so that the recess affords a place to grasp the ball with the fingers. The device not only affords a means of carrying the ball in a convenient and comfortable manner, but it is also said to be a desirable feature in the rolling of the ball, permitting certain manipulations of the sphere that are not otherwise possible. As soon as it leaves the hand the handle is instantly withdrawn and offers no obstruction to the passage of the ball as it moves along the alley.

Notes of Sportdom

Paris is preparing for the racing season and four courses are ready.

Umpire Charles Rigler of the National league has signed his contract for 1915.

The New York boxing commission has decided that the Flynn fight was not a fake.

Pat Flaherty is to manage the Grand Forks team in the Northern league the coming season.

Red Smith says that he has entirely recovered and will be able to play third base for Boston next year.

George Davis, the Braves' young pitcher, has succeeded Tack Hardwick as the strongest man at Harvard.

The catcher's mitt is a development of the bricklayer's glove is the latest dope from the old-timers at Fall River.

Bill Carrigan says that Bill Donovan has the best pitching staff in the American league, not excepting his own.

Mike Mitchell's final berth is with Richmond in the International league. He could not land a berth in the majors.

The Pirates will travel 12,595 miles next season only to find themselves back in Pittsburgh at the end of all that journeying.

The American league flatly declined to kick into the economic theory of the National league and adopted a 25-man playing limit.

Sheldon Lefune, the Sioux City slugger, who has been secured for next season by the Pirates, denies that he has been flirting with the Feds.

Joe McGlinchey, the famous "Iron Man" of the Giants a few years ago, is out of baseball for good, according to late reports from the coast.

Billy Gibson, the promoter, is angling for a bout between Patsey Cline of Harlem and Benny Leonard, the promising New York lightweight.

Ivan Olson, former teammate of Larry Lajole, believes the big Frenchman will be able to hit in the 300 class for two or three years yet.

Abe Attell, who once found out just what John Patrick Kilbane could do, says that the Clevelanders will wallop Williams if the two get together.

Hughie Jennings is now a director in a bank. Any time there's a run on the institution we suppose Hughie will go outside and eat the front lawn.

Bill Roper of Princeton, who has knocked about the football world from East to West quite considerably, is slated to coach Swarthmore next season.

Heinie Wagner resents the statement that he will succeed Donovan as Providence manager. Wagner says his major league days are far from being over.

JOHNSON PRAISES FARM LIFE

Star Twirler of Washington Team Attributes His Success to Hard Work on Kansas Ranch.

There is no pitcher better qualified to tell his fellow craftsman how to succeed in their profession than Walter Johnson, the star of the Washington American league club. Johnson attributes his success to the following program of living:

"I was born on a farm and I love the life. A good many ball players don't, but I do. When the baseball season is over I go back to our farm out in Kansas and work on the place right through the winter, just like any of the men. I get enough of the big towns and the bright lights during the summer, and I am glad to get back to the farm and do farm work just as soon as I can. And I always hate to come back East every spring to begin playing baseball again.

"I have often said, and no one has disputed me, that I work harder every winter than any other ball player. The result is that in the spring I am just as hard as I was in the autumn. Instead of hanging around hotels and poolrooms in some big city I am out on the farm, getting up every morning before daylight and going out to help feed the stock. Then I come back to the house for breakfast, have a good healthy appetite and eat accordingly.

"After that there is a lot more work to be done around the place. I put in a good day every day in the week, and by the time night comes I am ready to turn in early, for I know that the next morning I must get up just as early and start out again, lantern in hand, sometimes with the thermometer way down below zero, for we have it cold out our way lots of time during the winter. I don't do it so much because I have to, but because I like to, and I haven't yet run across any ball players with whom I would swap places during the off season."

Charley Somers Not Particular

Charles Somers, owner of the Cleveland Naps, has given notice to his players that those not satisfied with the way the club is being run can jump to the Federals or in the lake.

Famous 2014 Ruins.

Famous ruins in the year 2014 A. D. will be the Coliseum in Rome, the Acropolis in Athens, Yale Bowl in New Haven, and Shibe park in Philadelphia.

EVEN THE GATE POST NOT IN IT

A CHIEF IS AMONG YE TAKING NOTES AND FAITH. "HE'LL PRENT 'EM"---SO SAYS SAUNTERER.

Bill's in trouble
I've got a letter, parson,
From my son away out West;
An' my ol' heart is heavy
An' an'vill in my breast.
To think the boy whose future
I once had so proudly planned,
Should wander from the path of right
An' come to s'ich an' end!
I told him when he left us,
Only three short years ago,
He'd find himself a-plovin'
In a mighty crooked row.
He'd miss his father's counsel
An' his mother's prayers, too;
But he said the farm was hateful,
An' he guessed he'd have to go.
I know there's big temptation
For a youngster in the west,
But I believed our Billy.
Had the courage to resist.
An' when he left I warned him
O' the ever waiting snares,
That lies like hidden serpents
In life's pathway everywhere.
But Bill he promised faithful
To be keorful an' allowed
He'd build a reputation
That'd make us mighty proud.
But it seems as if my counsel
Sort o' faded from his mind,
An' now the boy's in trouble
O' the very wustest kind.
His letters come so seldom
That I somehow sort o' knowed
That Billy was a-trampin'
On a mighty rocky road.
But never once imagined
He would bow my head in shame
An' in the dust'd waller
His ol' daddy's honored name.
He writes from out in Denver,
An' the story's mighty short.
I jist can't tell his mother,
It'd break her poor ol' heart.
An' so, I reckoned, parson,
You might break the news to her:
Bill's in the legislature,
But he doesn't say what fur.

of his space to help the church; he had printed columns of notices of services, meetings, suppers, entertainments and lectures all free. In donating this space the editor had given more than the equivalent in of cash. He had given publicity, and thus had done more to support the church and pay the minister's salary than any three members of the church had done. An editor has two sources of income; his subscription list and his space. Yet, in this case, when he sold his space he lost a subscriber. Of course, no one need subscribe to a paper unless he wishes to do so, but no subscriber should want to dictate to the editor as to what he should publish. Many editors will not accept certain lines of advertising. Other editors cannot afford, perhaps, to be so independent. Business conditions often govern these matters. A rich and prosperous Philadelphia weekly of national circulation for years declined the advertisements of cigarette manufacturers. Business has fallen off lately for many of the big magazines. Now that paper is accepting cigarette advertising. Perhaps the editor feels the need of money, and who shall blame him if he sells his space?

Following is a copy of a bill recently introduced in the Massachusetts legislature:

An act to regulate the use of automobiles on the public highways of the commonwealth:

Section 1.—Upon discovering the approaching team, the automobilist must stop offside and cover his machine with a blanket painted to correspond to the scenery.

Section 2.—The speed limit on country roads will be a secret, and the penalty for violation will be $10 for every mile an offender is caught going in excess of it.

Section 3.—In case an automobile makes a team run away, the penalty will be $50 for the first mile and $100 for the second, $200 for the third, etc., that the team runs; in addition to the usual damages.

Section 4.—On approaching a corner, where he cannot command a view of the road ahead, the automobilist must stop not less than 100 yards from the turn, toot his horn, ring a bell, fire a revolver, halloo, and send up three bombs at intervals of five minutes.

Section 5.—Automobiles must again be seasonably painted, that is, so that they will merge with the pastoral ensemble and not be startling. They must be green in the spring, golden in summer, red in autumn and white in winter.

Section 6.—Automobiles running on the country roads at night must send up a red rocket every mile, wait ten minutes for the road to clear. They may then proceed carefully, blowing their horns and shooting Roman candles.

Section 7.—All constables and preachers (when out of work) will give up Sunday to chasing automobiles, shooting and shouting at them, making arrests and otherwise discouraging country touring on that day.

Section 8.—In case a horse will not pass, an automobile willingly the automobilist will take the machine apart as rapidly as possible and conceal the parts in the grass. If motoring in the woods or at a season where there is no grass, he will carry a bag of straw dyed the color of the ground and cover said parts with straw.

Section 9.—In case an automobile approaching a farmer's house when the roads are dusty it will slow to one mile and a half and the chauffeur will lay the dust in front of the house with a vacuum cleaner worked over the dashboard.

One of the measures which will be pressed at the next session of the legislature will be that providing for compulsory education of children of aboriginal age in this state. In view of peculiar conditions here there are reasons for and against such a law in Florida, although the general principle is sound. The Lakeland Telegram recently suggested that local option was a way out of the difficulty, by which each county would be permitted to settle the questions for itself. The Arcadia News is strongly opposed to this, and as the issue should be freely discussed in view of the proposed legislation the article in the News on that subject follows:

"We are heartily in favor of compulsory attendance for we personally know of its worth, but the local option process is not what is needed, and if such an act is passed, it will be a long time, if ever, before it can possibly produce the results that a state wide law can accomplish. What is needed is a law that gives the school officers the right to require the attendance of all children, who should attend. Under existing conditions in this state much must necessarily be left to the discretion of the teachers and officers. The conditions in Florida are not unlike those in other states that have obtained good results when administered in a common sense way. There is nothing drastic in the state wide law that has been prepared, its general provisions have been tested and found successful in a southern state where practically the same racial conditions exist as in this state. The first year showed an increased average attendance of more than twenty-five per cent, and the people unanimous in its approval."

The United States Department of Agriculture, in an effort to deal with the higher cost of living because it is no longer merely the high cost of living has instituted a campaign for the substitution in part of potatoes for wheat. Scientists in the department suggest that the ordinary household will find its advantageous to eat more potatoes and less bread. A bulletin issued by the agricultural department says: "With potatoes at sixty cents a bushel, ten cents worth—or pen pounds—will give the consumer a little more actual nourishment than two one-pound loaves of bread at five cents each. The protein and the fat are present in appreciably larger amounts in the bread, but the potatoes will be found to furnish more carbohydrates, and more heat units.

"Carbohydrates (starch) contribute greatly to the energy value of any diet and since potatoes are rich in these, families that wish to expend their money to the best advantage are recommended to consider whether they cannot make a more extended use of them. They are easy to cook and when prepared in different ways can be made to lend variety to the winter diet when green vegetables are hard to obtain. Like other foods relatively rich in carbohydrates, however, potatoes should be eaten with foods correspondingly rich in protein, such as milk, meat, eggs, etc., and with foods like butter, cream and meat fat to supply the fat that the body needs."

"Under normal conditions in Europe and America the potato ranks next to bread as a carbohydrate food. If prices change sufficiently to make it desirable from a financial point of view there is no reason why potatoes should not be substituted to a great extent for bread. In addition the potato like many fruits and vegetables, helps to neutralize an acid condition in the body. This is another reason for its being eaten in combination with meat, fish and other animal foods."

To the Citizens of Seminole County, Greetings:

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company of New York in rendering its annual statements came forth with the following facts concerning its Assets, Liabilities, Commissions, etc.
The undersigned, being their permanent representative here, and being desirous of placing the essentials of his Company's statement, together with a personal message, before the citizens of this county, has the pleasure to bring the same to your attention through the columns of the Sanford Herald.
To pursue the old, slow, individual canvassing method in getting the FACTS of my message to you, would mean the loss of time to me and you, as well as loss of money to all who are concerned in fortifying and building an estate of material wealth through the safe and sane methods of life insurance.

A Startling Comparison

The following table sets forth the annual premiums of four well known companies on $1,000 insurance at age 25 years, including the seven popular plans: Whole Life; Fifteen and Twenty payment Life; Ten, Fifteen and Twenty Year Endowment and Ten Year Term Plan.
The purpose is to show a comparison between the average annual premium of these four companies and the premium of The Metropolitan. The same relative immediate savings will be found in comparing the premiums of any age from 16 to 65.

I say this Method CHALLENGES me to "back up" my statements or do one or both of the following things: Seek other employment or leave Sanford, Fla. Now, my friends, I am taking no chances because, 1st, I highly value my job; 2nd, I am pleased with my calling; 3rd, Sanford and the possibilities of Sanford appeal to me; 4th, I am devoted to seeking the constant good will of my employer—the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

What makes up the dividend? Clearly, in the main, it must be the investment made by the company of THAT PART OF THE PREMIUMS which is RESERVED. Of course, there is some profit if the death claims and expenses are less than anticipated.

While the Metropolitan now makes all of its policies participating—so that any policy which it issues bears a dividend it pays the largest part at the start by cutting down the premium. It will be seen that but little is reserved for the chance of profit for the policy-holders. It leaves as much of the surplus as possible in the pockets of the policy-holder for HIM to invest as he pleases. Our plan is a plain business policy for plain business men and plain working men.

The subject of human life is the subject of every sermon, the refrain of every hymn, the anxious thought of every poor man's day, the lesson from every newspaper, the grief of every man. The only CERTAIN THING is DEATH. The most UNCERTAIN THING is the time of its COMING.

Life insurance is the sovereign remedy for man's greatest difficulty—that of providing for his family in case of death. In this country, man has no future to sell his life and health. Time is his only asset, but time is the one "only" substitute for the one "only" risk in a busy man's life—it prevents disaster in the case of a man's misadventure of the length of his life.

What the Metropolitan aims to do is to furnish to plain business men and plain workers of the world every kind of life insurance contract which circumstances require. Give us a chance to reason together. When contemplating life insurance, either as an investment or as a mere protection do not fail to get our premium rates before making final application with any other company—our rates are the lowest and our protection second to none. We can give you a plan, without obligation on your part—go into detail concerning our various plans, and if you so desire, help you to determine the best kind of policy suited to your particular case. Very truly,

FLORIDA RED MEN WILL CAPTURE SANFORD

TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY OF NEXT WEEK WILL BELONG TO WARRIORS

The Red Men of Florida will invade the city next Wednesday and hold their annual state Pow Wow in the Imperial Theatre. The Red Men of Florida expect to attend this meeting and the two days will be given over to business and entertainment. As Sanford is noted for its hospitality of visitors and especially to fraternities of all kinds the Red Men can be assured of a good meeting and a good time. Sanford at this season of the year presents the great celery and vegetable fields at their best and the visitors especially those who have never visited this city will carry a good impression home with them. David Becker, who has labored so faithfully to make the meeting a success gives the following greeting to the public:

The Red Men of Florida will meet in Sanford next Tuesday and Wednesday, March 16-17th and as there will be a public meeting in the opera house on Tuesday, the 16th at 10 a. m. the public is cordially invited to attend this meeting as a fine program has been arranged and there will be a number of able speakers present to entertain the crowd together with a fine musical program. Frederick O. Downes, Great Incomer of the U. S. will speak at this meeting. Come out and hear him as this meeting is free to everybody and we will appreciate a crowded house at this time. The Improved Order of Red Men is purely of American origin, fraternal, charitable and patriotic and it reverses the flag of our Union and the liberty it stands for, therefore we would like to see "Old Glory" float from every business house in our beautiful city on this occasion. Redmanship keeps the flag ever before its members and pledges itself not only to keep it red, signifying strength, its white, purity, and its blue, loyalty, unsullied, but to go to the defense of that flag whenever called upon so to do. Come out to this meeting and you will be better informed than the writer can inform you. You will be handed a beautiful program on entering the opera house with the representative business men of this city in it and wish to thank each and every one who so willingly responded to help boost Sanford and the Improved Order of Red Men.

Yours fraternally, David E. Becker

Fire at Sarasota

Sarasota suffered a fire loss aggregating $100,000 at an early hour Tuesday morning. The fire was discovered at about 2 o'clock in a shoe shop in the rear of Willis Bros. store and the flames spread rapidly, fanned by a stiff wind blowing at the time. In a short while it had reached the Palms, one of the old hotels of the city. About sixty guests escaped hurriedly, saving only wearing apparel and a few valuables. The hotel was brick veneer about 100 feet square, and made a great fire. It was operated by T. and L. Scastello, who came a few days ago from Fort Myers and took charge. The building was owned by Cassler Bros. of St. Petersburg. Building, furnishings and fixtures were a total loss.

Mrs. Willis, mother of the Willis Bros. was painfully injured in being rescued from living apartments above the Willis store. She was removed to an emergency hospital at the Sarasota hotel, where she, with other guests from the Palms hotel who were slightly injured were given medical attention.

The buildings destroyed were store of Willis Bros., shoe store of Kirk & Rawson, picture theatre of Edward C. Manus, Kreible barber shop, Mrs. E. L. Frasier's bakery, store buildings and office of Dr. Joseph Halton and Western Union office. The Sarasota Times and other buildings and offices suffered from water and moving goods. The loss amounts to about $100,000, only partially covered by insurance. Some of the parties covered no insurance whatever. Plate glass windows in the Iverson block, Gillispie block, the First National Bank and Turner & Co.'s store, were broken by the heat.

CELERY DELTA FARMS BRING GOOD PRICES

SANFORD LAND BEING SOLD EVERY DAY AT GREAT PRICES

On account of the excellent prices that have prevailed this season on Sanford crops and because the idea of winter gardening is growing in the minds of the people of this country the Sanford improved farms are changing hands every week and the old times of a few years ago will be repeated with the exception that only improved farms are being sold and most of them being purchased by home people who know the real value of them.

This means that the improved farms will bring in their new owners a good living and that the new owners will know how to farm them to the best advantage and we will have no failures to chronicle, our growers having learned from experience how to grow vegetables and how to market them.

This week witnessed one dozen good sales and many more are reported to have been made. Among them are the following:

The A. W. Ellsworth place at Cameron City was sold to Mr. Briden of Chicago.

The D. R. Moss place near Moory Station, was sold to Gregory Sartoris.

H. R. Stevens and A. Moses have purchased the Beale & Benjamin place on Beardall avenue.

Mrs. Wallace has purchased the Cust place on Cameron avenue.

Several other sales were made of small tracts on the east and west sides.

The largest sale was that of O. E. Walker, who sold his Shawnee farm of 40 acres to a prominent commission man. The Shawnee farm is on Beardall avenue and is one of the best places in that section, having been in cultivation about four years. The price was a good one and the new owner will take possession June first. Mr. Walker had fifteen applications for the rental of this place and five who wanted to buy, some of them from the north. He was not anxious to sell but intends to take a rest for some time and decided to cut down his large holdings to some extent. Mr. Walker is among the pioneers in the Beardall avenue development and having perfect faith in the Sanford section purchased about one hundred acres and cleared a large portion of it. He came here from Topeka, Kansas and being experienced in the potato business in his native state tried them here and was among the pioneers in the raising of Irish potatoes upon a large scale in this section. He came down each fall and planted his crop and returned to Topeka in the summer and his face is as familiar in Sanford as any of the regular residents. He has been a great Sanford booster always and his sale of a part of his holdings shows no lack of faith at this stage of the game, but he has large business interests in the north that demand more of his attention and getting a good price for part of his lands like a wise man sold it.

These sales demonstrate that the man with experience and the man who has travelled the country over comes back to Sanford to obtain real farming lands, and with the f. o. b. market established here now, the growing of winter vegetables has resolved itself into a safe and sane project and one that appeals to the investor more strongly than any other farming proposition in the world.

The St. Johns Potato Crop
Over fifteen thousand fertile acres of St. Johns county land are expected to net the growers a million and a half dollars clear this spring on the Irish potato crop. Considering that this is but the first crop of the year and that nine months will remain after the harvest for many other yields the agricultural possibilities of the county may perhaps be the better realized.

King Corn will soon follow King Spud. And then come bay, water-melons, cantaloupes, truck of all kinds, peanuts and finally the fall potatoes—not to mention the sweet potatoes in between. The entire year is one of agricultural activity in St. Johns—and it is worth that pays.—St. Augustine Record.

OUR SPRING CROPS PROMISE GOOD RETURNS

LUCKY SANFORD ESCAPES THE FROSTS AND TENDER STUFF IS SAVED

Lucky Sanford again! With all the good luck that has attended the Sanford growers this season on their money crops the spring crop promises to come through all right and make them some money also.

Several nights this week the weather remained cool, fears were entertained that the beans and other tender vegetables would suffer but they have escaped and the crop around here never looked finer.

Last season the Sanford growers planted spring crops and shipped stuff later than ever before, some of them shipping as late as June and this year promises even a larger crop of the profitable stuff that entail but little expense and bring good returns.

Beans, tomatoes, cucumbers, egg plants, peas, English peas, okra potatoes and last but not least green peppers are among the good spring crops raised here and after all danger of frosts are past the growers can begin to reckon how much velvet he will have from these crops that are planted after the celery and lettuce is off and a good margin of profit is in sight.

Aside from these crops the thrifty farmer of the Sanford section also plants corn for his stock. Hay springs up voluntarily after the celery and lettuce and the rich lands full of fertilizer and watered from the flowing wells make the greatest crops of hay and corn in the state and have been compared with the crops raised in the celebrated corn belts of the northwest.

A Thank You
Mrs. J. W. Barnes and the committee in charge of the play, Union Depot for a Day, given for the Woman's Club building fund wish in this manner to express their appreciation to each and every one who in any way assisted toward making the play a success.

To the public at large the committee has a long vote of thanks issue for their generous attendance when so many calls of a like nature have been made throughout the winter.

To each member of the cast, who so faithfully came to rehearsals and their excellent work on the night of the play the committee is deeply grateful.

Mr. Phillips, the photographer deserves special mention in assisting Mrs. Barnes in the "make-up" of the cast.

And to Miss Florence Frank, Miss Schultz and Mr. Witherington for the excellent music furnished.

Among the Methodists
March 14th: Sermon at 11:45 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 9:45 a. m.

Mrs. J. W. Adams and her committee are planning a very interesting and instructive program for the Sunday school service and we request that every member attend. Strangers and visitors cordially invited to attend any and all of our services.

The finance committee of the missionary society will meet with Mrs. E. L. Marshall, corner 10th St. and Oak avenue this afternoon to formulate plans for their work during the next few months. A full attendance is requested.

The Ladies' Missionary society met at the Methodist parsonage Monday afternoon. After the regular session Captain Yearlan of the Salvation Army gave a very interesting talk on their work and the good they are doing.

Fortune in Lettuce
Dallas, Texas, March 11.—Truck growers in southern Texas this week finished the marketing of their season's lettuce crop, and from all reports they have reaped a veritable gold mine. During the season as many as 200 car loads of lettuce have been sent to northern markets from a single shipping point in the truck growing region. The precooling process enables the shippers to send their product as far as Chicago and New York, where prices amounting in some instances to nearly $2,000 a carload have been realized.

Notice Auto Owners

The Redmen meet here in annual session on the 16th and 17th of this month, next Tuesday and Wednesday. At this convention it is expected that there will be present from 200 to 300 men from all sections of the state.

The committee in charge have arranged to give these men an auto ride through the Celery Delta on Wednesday at 3:15 p. m., in order to show our visitors what we really have at Sanford in the way of vegetable farms and being unable to see in person the owners of autos take this means of inviting auto owners to help show these people around. About 15 to 20 machines will be needed to report in front of the Imperial Theatre at 3:15 p. m. on Wednesday, March 17th. This will be a great chance to advertise our city and county and it is hoped that owners of autos will report promptly in order that our visitors will not be obliged to wait. Please notify Mr. D. E. Becker, A. V. French or the Herald office if your car will be available.

Attention, Men
You will want to attend the rally for men only at the Baptist Temple Wednesday evening, 8 o'clock, Mar. 17th. You owe it to yourself and the community to take part in anything that has for its object the up-building of the social life and betterment of your home people. We especially crave the support of those men who have been neglectful of their duty to the church. We need you and it will do you good to lend your support and thus do a service in our town—the best town in the state.

Don't forget the date, March 17th 8 p. m. at the Baptist Temple.

Prince of To-Night
Gorgeous costumes, dazzling spectacular effects, high class music, stunning show girls and dashing boaters from the background of that most popular of musical comedies, "The Prince of To-Night," which will be the attraction at the Imperial tonight. The cast is headed by Tom Arnold, who is seen in his happiest mood in the title role. The story tells of the adventures of Mr. Arnold, as a stranded college youth who falls in love with and is spugged by a beautiful heiress whom he meets while acting as a life saver at "The Breakers," Palm Beach. She coquettes with him and then informs him that minus wealth and position he has no chance at all. But he is befriended by an aged gardener who has learned mysteries of magic from his plants and who turns him into a prince of mythical land for a night. It is understood that if the prince fails to receive a kiss from the right girl before the night is over, he is to die at dawn. The manner in which he escapes the fate threatened him and wins the right girl gives the author, Adams, Hough and Howard, unusual opportunity to link modern characters with magic and mythical situations. The transformation scenes, the artistic grouping of the host of pretty girls included in the chorus, and the gorgeous stage pictures will prove a revelation. Joseph E. Howard literally surpasses himself in providing the music for the "Prince of To-Night," and the constant introductions of musical numbers offers much to charm the lovers of good music. Among the many song hits are "Her Eyes are Blue for Yale," "Tonight Will Never Come Again," "Mean Moon Man," "I Don't Want to Marry Your Family," "Follow the Rainbow Trail," "I Feel in Love on Monday" and "You're a Dear Old World After All."

Standing Room Required
From the movement of things now no doubt standing room will be required for the people attending the Sunday night service at the Baptist Temple, March 14th. Mr. Hyman is preaching a special series of sermons which is meeting with unusual commendation from the people.

"In the Shadows" will be the subject of the special address for the next Sunday evening. A general invitation is being given by the members of the church to their friends to hear these helpful addresses. Five polite ushers are always to be found on duty at these services and the real welcome is given. The music is excellent.

Remember that the Temple is located at the corner of Park avenue and 6th street. Rev. George Hyman is the pastor.

MORE SUGGESTIONS HAVE BEEN MADE BY THE GOVERNOR

RECOMMENDS SEVERAL GOOD LAWS FOR LEGISLATURE TO PASS

Tallahassee, March 11.—Following up his announced intention to make public from time to time a number of recommendations which he proposes to submit to the legislature, which convenes in April, Governor Park Trammell states that he will make recommendations upon the following subjects:

Game Revenue
Under the provisions of the law creating a state game department, the revenues derived from hunting licenses is paid into the state school fund, and is invested in securities paying about five per cent annually. This interest is distributed to the several county school funds upon the basis of the average daily attendance of pupils. Under this plan the amount to which each county is entitled is so very small that it cannot be of any substantial aid toward defraying the expenses of the county schools. I think it desirable to have the net revenue from the game department, amounting to about $25,000 per annum, used for the more direct benefit and improvement of our public schools. Entertaining this view and knowing the urgent needs of providing terms and better facilities for our rural schools, as well as being aware that many school boards find it difficult to finance the schools with the funds now available, I know of no more worthy way in which this fund can be used than to have it applied for the benefit and development of the public schools in the rural districts of this state. To this end I recommend that a measure be passed providing that the net proceeds from the state game department shall annually be distributed to the counties and shall constitute a fund in each county to be known as the rural school fund, and applied specifically for the use of the rural schools. The apportionment of said fund by the state to the counties to be made upon a basis of the proportion that the amount collected from the respective counties bear to the total amount of the net revenue.

County Finance
Possibly one of the most important subjects with which you will have to deal is the problem of the administration of the business of the counties respectively of our state. Every taxpayer is interested in the use being made of the tax money which he contributes to the state government, but he is far more directly concerned in the contributions he is making to the county. More directly interested because he pays four to six times as much to the support of his county as he pays for all state purposes, including pensions. Also because his tax money going to the county is or should be used for purposes which brings to him and his family more direct benefits, in the way of school advantages and local public improvement and development.

Every safeguard should be thrown around the county finances. The people are entitled to a painstaking and businesslike administration of the county affairs. In some counties there is entirely too much extravagance and too little regard for the interest of the taxpayers. Improvements and progress are desirable, but it is also desirable that the tax burden be held down to as low minimum as possible commensurate with a proper administration of the public business. Taxes are too high in some of the counties. As a means to remedy this condition to an extent at least, I suggest that a law should be passed limiting the maximum millage which can be levied for the various county purposes, and also plainly providing that no expenditures shall be made in a county in excess of the annual revenue of the county, unless such expenditure is first authorized by a vote of the taxpayers. The law provides specifically for the removal of any officer who violates its provisions.

Among the prominent visitors from Chulucota here on Wednesday were J. Tilden Jacobs and Billy Jacobs.
