Starting with the coming May primaries, Seminole County will follow the trend of Florida and nation from the hand-written ballot to voting machines. The unanimous decision was made during the closing minutes of the regular meeting of Seminole Board of County Commissioners today.

Following up a previous appearance before the Commissioners, J. T. Landon, sales representative for the Shoup Voting Machine Co., outlined numerous advantages of voting machines, their use, storage and cost.

"The Shoup machine is absolutely fool-proof and heavily insured by Lloyds of London against fraud and tampering," Landon said. "The voter cannot make a mistake. But can, however, change his mind by erasing a vote, as nothing is recorded on the machine's tape until the switch is thrown closing the booth," he stated.

Mr. Citizen - Remember Ballot Is Official License For You To Gripe

The lid is off! This political season is on! At noon today, political hopefuls and incumbents, began qualifying for the various State offices to which they are aspiring.

The voter begins to get a closer look at the citizen who declares himself an official candidate for the post in his State government to which he thinks he is most capable.

Not only does John Q. Public get a closer look at the man himself and the platform on which he bases his candidacy, but he also gets a closer look at the dollars that are being spent in his behalf.

Each candidate for the office in State government must report weekly his expenditures for advertising, radio and television time, campaigning expenses, office expenses, printing, stationery, stamps, and the like. To this information, Mr. Citizen takes a look.

Along with the listed expenditures must come a name by name account of every person who contributes money to the candidate's benefit.

Thus, according to the requirements of legislative action, the citizen is assured that wealth cannot contribute more than a fair share to the campaign expenses of any candidate. Certain firms and organizations cannot, in any way, provide money for a candidate.

Every dollar, spent in any way, on behalf of a candidate must be reported through the centralized campaign fund of a candidate.

Even though millions of dollars will be spent on behalf of candidates in the 1956 race for offices throughout the State and nation, in counties throughout the State, each fund must meet the strict scrutiny of officials, who by law are given the authority to examine them, with penalties for avoiding them.

Mr. Citizen is assured that every candidate must abide by the same law which controls the contributing and the spending of campaign funds.

With experiences already behind us, even though some loopholes are certain to be existing, it has been demonstrated that the voting public receives the benefits. Buying of votes has been outlawed by these modern laws. Most every move of the candidate is under surveillance and the candidates, for the most part, are forced to go to the people with their appeal for support.

You'll be hearing more from these candidates, now that the official date for qualifying is here. Until noon, March 26 each citizen, qualified to hold an office in State government, is given an opportunity to make known his or her desires to represent his people in every section of the State.

On May 8, each voter, qualified to cast a ballot in the Democratic Primary, will be given an opportunity to make his selection from the array of candidates that will parade across the political arena this year. From now on, it is up to the voter to listen carefully, watch closely, and study minutely, each and every candidate.

Until May 8, it is up to the candidate to present his platform in such a manner that the voter will be convinced that he will represent the people fairly, impartially, and above reproach.

If an office holder has not filled his particular niche in State or County government, to the taste of the voting public, this is the time to choose a replacement.

Every word, every statement, every plank in the many platforms, must be weighed and studied carefully.

This is the season for grippers (who have voted) to make known their dissatisfactions. However, a ballot is the official license for a citizen to gripe.

Show Your Appreciation!

Appreciation is an expression that makes known a citizen's faith and love for his or her community.

Now that French Avenue is nearing completion, every citizen must make ready to show appreciation for the modern thoroughway that will prove to be just the beginning on highway expansion for Seminole County.

Be sure that your plans include taking part in the March 9 ribbon-cutting ceremonies that will officially dedicate and open to the public the boundary-to-boundary 6-lane highway through Sanford.

The time is 4 o'clock in front of Seminole High School, Friday March 9.

Meets Open To Public

Many citizens are beginning to realize that it is necessary for each person to know more about City government as well as State and County government.

Meetings of the Board of Sanford City Commissioners are open to the public. Official meeting nights are the second and fourth Monday nights of the month at 8 p. m. in the Commissioners Room of the City Hall.

You may sit and listen to the entire proceedings of the Board of City Commissioners meeting, you may speak up and be heard on any question that arises, you may bring up any question that you might like to make known.

It is this active participation that makes a successful, growing, democratic government.

Okay For Inquiry Not Probable

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON, (AP)—"Fat chance" was the cynic sized up the possibility the Senate might permit a double-barreled, all-out investigation into political spending and lobbying.

This is an election year. Such an investigation might be explosive. It almost certainly would have to dig into the campaign money received by members of Congress and how they spend it. Both parties would be affected.

Nevertheless, such a twin inquiry shows signs of getting started. Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) says he will investigate campaign contributions and attempts to influence elections. Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass) says he will investigate lobbying.

But over the weekend the Republican Senate leader, Knowland of California, while saying there would be an investigation, made a move which may throw sand in the wheels. If enough Democrats and Republicans join him, Knowland questioned whether the subcommittee headed by Gore has jurisdiction to make the kind of investigation Gore has in mind. Knowland suggested the Senate might set up a special committee to do the job. Special committees usually are more restricted than regular ones, like Gore's.

Gore is a member of the Senate's regular Committee on Rules and Administration and chairman of its subcommittee on privileges and elections. Other members are Senators Mansfield (D-Mont) and Curtis (R-Neb).

The three men met last week and voted to make the investigation which Gore then announced. But Knowland says it might be better to have any such investigation made by a bigger committee comprised of an equal number of Democrats and Republicans.

Knowland says a "jurisdictional" question is involved—that the Senate Judiciary Committee has jurisdiction over any revision of the Corrupt Practices Act.

But Gore's group held jurisdiction hearings on proposals to improve the Corrupt Practices Act. It drew up a bill to amend the act and the bill is now waiting for Senate action.

Further, the Senate itself, under Rule No. 25, long ago specifically said the Senate Committee on Rules and Administration—of which Gore's subcommittee is a part—is the one to which "shall be referred all proposed legislation . . . and other matters relating to the election of the President; vice president; or members of Congress; corrupt practices;

While St. Augustine will never give up its claim to the original site of the fabulous Fountain of Youth, West Coast historians have been delving into musty records in an effort to prove that the real Fountain of Youth sought by Ponce de Leon is a warm mineral spring located a short ways off U. S. 41 south of Venice.

Rasis of the claim goes back to a visit to the West Coast by Ponce de Leon in search of a miraculous warm spring described by Indians of the area. Records, it appears are not too authentic and historians seem sadly confused.

First white man to ever see the spring is said to be Juan Ortiz, Spanish priest who it is reputed was captured by Indians when with a West Coast expedition in 1509. He reported Indians journeying great distances to bathe in the healing waters and it was his account of the spring that led Ponce de Leon to visit the West Coast where it is said he landed near Charlotte Harbor.

It happens, however, that there is a very remarkable warm mineral spring possessing amazing curative powers for sufferers from such afflictions as arthritis, rheumatic conditions, neuritis, paralysis and nervous conditions.

Located in an undeveloped area with no roads other than woods and sand trails leading to it, the spring has remained undeveloped although it has been known to old settlers for many years.

Water in the spring maintains a year-round temperature of 87 degrees and it flows at the rate of 17,000 gallons every three minutes. Geologists say it is Florida's only volcanic crater and warm spring. A U. S. Geodetic Survey engineer attempted to sound the spring in 1931, reaching 2,900 feet where he ran out of line. Grottoes line its walls and skin-divers report it is full of fish.

The property was recently acquired by a Miami developer who has incorporated under the name of Warm Mineral Spring and plans extensive development with a sanitarium and clinic.

Company vice president Thomas H. Ennis, a tall, graying gentleman with boundless faith in the project, explains that until recently the spring lacked publicity and was difficult to reach for lack of roads.

"Right now," he says, "we're spending most of our time engineering, getting topography surveys, deciding how to properly drain, beautify and improve the area and are constructing two paved roads to connect with U. S. 41.

A mystery connected with the spring is the fact that the water changes color. It is crystal clear in the morning and then about 10 a. m. after the sun has released gas bubbles, it changes to an odd greyish blue color. On cold days it gives off steam.

Hundreds of people testify to the curative power of the spring's unusual waters. Sam Schar of Libertyville, Indiana learned of the spring six years ago. Suffering from muscular trouble and high blood pressure the clinics had given him up. He arrived in a wheel chair, but now, although 74 years old, he is as active as a youngster. He swims daily and several doctors are interested in operating a power mower as one of the property caretakers, the proposed clinic. They have seen patients aided by waters of the spring and recognize its curative powers. One remarkable case was that of Iris Woolcock, a photographer and resident of Venice. She broke her back in 1916 and was stricken with pleurisy and phlebitis all at once. Her case seemed hopeless but she bathed in the spring each day and after an eight weeks period was able to walk with a cane and can even dance the Conga.

Warm Mineral Spring may some day mean as much to Florida as Warm Springs does to Georgia.

Nor can there be any doubt that Kennedy—as chairman of the Senate's subcommittee on the reorganization of Congress—has authority to look into lobbying. The Lobbying Act of 1945 was part of the general legislation passed that year by Congress to reorganize itself.

Kennedy's group has authority to study how the Reorganization Act—including the law on lobbying—works.

It's possible the Gore and Kennedy investigations might overlap a bit—on where lobbyists contributed work out that problem between themselves.

Only Hardy Survive At Academy

By HAL BOYLE

LOWRY AIR FORCE BASE, Colo.—Any young man who thinks admission to the new U. S. Air Force Academy here is an easy step toward a soft life in the armed forces gets a quick disillusionment.

Only the hardy survive.

Of the 306 cadets selected last summer from 6,300 applicants to join the first class of the nation's third service academy, 41 have already been washed out.

The reason most of them left: The going was simply too rugged, the discipline too Spartan.

The survival rate actually so far has exceeded the expectations of academy officials, who deliberately have planned a four-year course of study tough enough to strain the stoutest. They aren't interested in creating a corps of swivel chair warriors. Each cadet signs a statement that upon graduation as a navigator-observer he will go on and become a pilot.

As Lt. Gen. Hubert R. Harmon, academy superintendent, points out:

"Today a single officer in the U. S. Air Force may be called upon to carry out a mission which, during World War II, would have required the crews of a thousand planes. That officer must have the courage, the character and the patriotism to press home his mission against any and all odds. He may have to do this alone in the skies with no other American within thousands of miles to observe his conduct."

What kind of a boy aspires to become this type of officer?

The average cadet here is 19 years old, serious-minded, a good student, and comes from middle class parents. Comparatively few

Products and Drugs Make Medical News

By HERMAN M. BUNNEN, M.D.

A new type dentist's drill and two new antibiotics are among the top advances in this month's medical news. And there's also a new infatiable, portable baby crib on the market.

High Speed Drill

New high speed diamond drills, operating at speeds of 15,000 and 20,000 revolutions per minute, promise to help dentists prepare teeth for fillings, crowns and other restorations with a lighter touch and in less time.

One new hydraulic turbine handpiece, developed recently at the National Bureau of Standards, operates at 45,000 rpm. Experimental work is now under way with a belt-driven handpiece using speeds in excess of 150,000 rpm.

Since these machines produce less vibration, the dental patient feels less discomfort.

Electric Drug

The new antibiotic, cathyomycin, tests indicate, is effective against some bacteria which are resistant to all other known antibiotics.

Scientists report that in test tube and animal studies it has successfully combated bacteria causing abscesses, whooping cough, blood stream infections and serious urinary tract infections.

Another new antibiotic, Albamycin, now undergoing clinical trials, has proved effective against a variety of infections. It also has been effective in certain cases of whooping cough, skin infection and bronchitis due to bacteria insensitive to our more common antibiotics.

An important feature of Albamycin, tests indicate, is that bacteria which have become insensitive to other commonly used antibiotics, may remain sensitive to the new drug.

Baby Crib

With an infatiable baby crib now on the commercial market, a baby can nap just about anywhere.

Made of soft plastic, it can fit inside a large handbag when it is deflated. Inflated, it measures 35 to 30 inches and stands 8 inches high.

The soft material won't mar floors, beds or auto seats.

Upholstery Fabrics Are Getting More To Man's Tastes

By VIVIAN BROWN

There seems to be a let-them-live-too campaign afoot. Or maybe there is a movement under way to keep the men home nights on long winter evenings.

Anyway you look at it, the trend is toward pleasing the men in home furnishings.

Upholstery fabrics are getting more to the man's taste. Ditto slip covers. Great big floral patterns which Mom preferred are almost impossible to find these days.

Fabric people are peeping through with smart but forthright designs in fabrics that are built for men only. One new collection is devoted to the idea with a series of ten colorful designs of activities of special interest to men.

The motifs range from collector's cars, outstanding examples of accident car models from James Melton's autumns, to a gallery of game birds by Don Eckelberry, a top bird illustrator. Dog lovers and hunters will appreciate canine favorites—beagle and hunter, also depicted on 36-inch cotton fabric.

A gun collection of foreign and domestic fire arms should make a big hit with the modern gun man and for all-by-the-fire types there is a charming eagle, humbird and a pipe pattern. Golf enthusiasts will surely tee off at portraits of golfers, and racing enthusiasts can be at the post any day of the week with race horses, prize ribbons, caps and spurs cavorting on fabrics in living rooms or dens.

How to use them in the home? Most women will find a way to use these or some of the fabrics designed for men. A slipcover or draperies in a masculine print is ideal for den or living room. The woman who senses departure from the norm in home furnishings may begin with throw pillows of a pattern.

Garden Nook

By SADRIS E. GUY
The Sanford Garden Club of F. F. G. C.

The following article on table arrangements is taken from a program given recently by Mrs. Fred Murray to the Inora Circle.

When planning a table arrangement, consider the overall effect. It is the focal point of the setting and should complement the table appointments, and in fact the whole room.

Arrangements are centered on the table when diners are seated all around, but may be placed at one or both ends, if not being used for seating, as when end of table is against a wall or window.

Finished arrangement should not obstruct the view of the diners, except at a very large dinner or tea, and should be of a size and shape to conform with the table and size of room. To relieve monotony, height may be introduced without obstructing vision, by use of candles, glassware or a slender topped line arrangement. The latter is particularly suited to a modern setting.

Strive for an air of distinction using equipment on hand. While good china or porcelain and fine linens are important to a formal setting, an informal table may be very gay and colorful with a bright new cloth and decorative dishes.

After dinnerware, silver and tablecloth or mats are selected, choose a flower container in keeping. White should be used only if cloth or plates are white; glass or crystal to harmonize with crystal used, silver for a formal setting. Unusual containers such as a sugar bowl, shell or a wooden bowl does much to catch the mood of the setting. Candles should be used only for evening meals or late time and should repeat color of cloth, flowers or plates. Flowers and/or fruits should be chosen to blend with dishes used. For example: coarser textured garden flowers such as calendulas, marigolds, geraniums or zinnias complement informal pottery and a textured cloth. A bold form or color in flowers, such as amaryllis, streptolizia, calla lily, ginger or magnolia would go well with a plain modern setting for dramatic simplicity. Camellias, roses, sweet peas, snapdragon or stocks would be effective with fine porcelain.

For the popular outdoor meal, be sure the arrangement is well secured and candles, if used, are in glass hurricane shields.

Footnotes to fashion

By SANDRA

The TOP INTEREST to spring this year "giving 'at-the-top' emphasis to the 'free form' lines of the sheath dresses are such important grace notes as brief boleros, puff sleeves, mandarin collars, panel backs, and wide, wide slashes.

"Tiny little capelets to waist-length capes and smart sheaths will duet this spring as a costume theme.

"Cafan"— Webster defines it—"an Arab or Turkish undercoat having long sleeves and girded with a sash"—but leading fashion designers define it a side-slit, slim straightlined coat to top slim, straightlined dresses."

Believe it or not, dear friends, spring-into-summer dresses are being topped this year with smart looking awesters.

Another TOP notch fashion in this year's spring "book-of-fashion" is the "white coat revival". Hopasacking and smooth Orion fleeces are favorites in the budget-price range.

When spring showers come, let's not be caught in the "wet-weather mood." The allichest "item is the cotton raincoat. Light-hearted but practical, it looks wonderful in a gentle shower or a downpour.

"The cotton raincoat is styled with a cloudburst of fashion. One designer, for instance, tailors a cardigan coat and umbrella-slim skirt in sunny Roman-styled water-repellent cotton satin.

Something new, new, new is the practical gal who styles her cheery raincoat in the shirtdress fashion. Smart is the word there.

The perfect travel coat is a black or white stocking coat in bulky cotton knit, that's water-repellent, of course, in the tubular silhouette.

Guess what! The good old T-shirt takes on an elegant look in pullover styles that reflect the Oriental influence. Cotton knits have gold patterns and are studded with rhinestones.

ACCESSORY ACHIEVEMENTS: Black equals white. What? Well for instance this year why not choose a new black and white PRINTED pump and handbag with your new-for-spring black silk, linen, or silk-linen frock? Also a note to remember... since the fashions this year go for lightness in color and looks, choose the Vinylite shoes and handbag add their clear brightness as a dramatic note to the lightweight air of the fine fabrics.

Ladies Aid Plans Combined Meeting For Next Month

The Ladies Aid of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer held a meeting at the home of Mrs. Joe Melsch on West First Street, Thursday.

Mrs. Melsch gave the devotional. Mrs. Henry Thurston presided over the business meeting and reports were given by committee chairmen. Mrs. Marvin Page reported on visits made during the last month. Plans were made for a bake sale to be held March 17.

It was voted that the next meeting be held March 15 at the home of Mrs. M. G. Hodges, would be a combination of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League and the Ladies Aid Society.

Those attending were, Mrs. Walter Knaser, Mrs. J. C. Jorgensen, Mrs. P. L. Skates, Mrs. Jerry Senkarik, Mrs. J. L. Altsman, Mrs. David Green, Mrs. Harry Wilson, Mrs. Henry Thurston, Mrs. Bessie Wacker, Mrs. Marvin Page, Mrs. Hannah Peterson, Mrs. Esther Trued, Mrs. Alice Atkinson, Mrs. Elba Lee, Mrs. Blanche Ziebell, Mrs. John Senkarik, Mrs. Phillip Schlessmann, Mrs. Armin Diels, Mrs. Mildred Mack, Mrs. Joe Melsch, Mrs. J. S. Ekern and Mrs. M. G. Hodges.

Butter slices of bread; cut each slice into six equal strips and sprinkle with celery seed. Bake in a moderate oven until crisp. Nice to serve with soup or salad.

Here is a requested recipe for skeletizing leaves for dramatic flower arrangements. Boil leaves in soda water for about 30 minutes (1 tsp soda to 1 qt water). Let leaves cool in solution then spread out on a newspaper. With dull knife scrape off fleshy part of leaf on both sides, being careful not to slip or tear the skeleton.

Prepare a solution of a bleaching agent (2 teps bleach to 1 qt water.) Soak leaves in solution for an hour or longer, then rinse with clear water. Wipe gently between absorbent paper and press between pages of a magazine or book for 24 hours. Avocado leaves are probably the easiest to do.

DRAPED FROM A BUTTERFLY POUF is this unique Nettie Rosenstein "Degas mauve" silk satin evening gown. The bodice is elongated from a high-moulded bosom.

Bridge Club Has Canceled Games For This Thursday

The regular Thursday evening duplicate game of the Sanford Duplicate Bridge Club has been cancelled this week to avoid conflict with the Sixth Central Florida Bridge Tournament which will be held at the Ansebilt Hotel in Orlando from Feb. 23 through Feb. 27.

Due to this cancellation, last week's game was a Master Point session. Top score was held by Dr. and Mrs. Leonard Mumson, with Cecil Rinos and Clyde Ramsey placing second. Third- and fourth places went to two Orlando pairs, Miss Ina Kiehl and Mrs. Dwight Freeman, and Mrs. Al Bricklin and Mrs. Blake, respectively.

It is hoped that a number of the Sanford bridge enthusiasts will plan to take in one or more of the ten events scheduled for the Orlando tournament and perhaps bring honor to the Sanford Club and earn some master points for themselves.

The next meeting of the Sanford Club will be held Thursday, March 1, at 8 p. m. at the Yacht Club.

Pretty Navy Wife Gives Art Lessons To Local Residents

Now a gal can combine raising three bouncing children, keeping an immaculate house, painting pretty pictures and teaching the finer things in life to aspiring artists and look as glamorous as Polly Brubaker, is a question only Navy Wife Polly can answer.

Polly and her husband, Lieutenant Don Brubaker, are recent arrivals to the fair city of Sanford, coming from Monterey, Calif., where Lt. Brubaker was stationed as a flight instructor at the Naval Air Station there.

Pretty Polly began giving art lessons to local residents this week and is open for more students. Her courses include oils, water colors and black and white sketching for beginners.

"Anyone interested in art can attend my classes," says Polly. "All they have to do is call 860-R for all the information."

A former member of the Carrol Art Association in Calif., Polly has been painting since she was old enough to scribble and in 1953 won a blue ribbon and in 1954 a gold ribbon at the Monterey County Fair. She credits her interest in art to the progressive educational system of which she is a product.

"They considered art as important as French or mathematics. In fact, they wouldn't let me go on with mathematics when they felt I had no aptitude for it. They felt that later on my art would mean a lot more to me than the math."

Polly is said, in a way, except that often she and her husband will explain something complicated and she's sorry she doesn't understand.

Coming from Buzzard's Bay, Mass., Polly attended the Cambridge Preparatory School and went on to Dana Hall Academy and Pine Manor Junior College in Wellesley, Mass. From there she went to New York and attended The Powers School of Modeling. Her professional experience included modeling for an agency in Boston.

She and Don met while he was stationed at Oita Field on Okinawa in 1944. "I was working practically around the corner. We knew each other for a week, and then he went to sea. We kept the mail bags full for a year, and a week after he returned we were married."

Don was executive officer of Squadron 194 on the carrier Valley Forge during the Korean War. He is now attached to VAH-11 and is undergoing further training with the Heavy Attack Training Unit at present. The Brubakers have a home in Douglas, Wyoming, and Polly hopes to spend more time there again. "There's no end to the painting material there. Don could hunt and fish, which he loves best, and I could paint... it's rugged and we love it!"

Don, Polly and their three children, Tina, 7 1/2, Tommy, 6 1/2, and David, 2 1/2, live in a large two-story white house at 2018 Melrose Ave.

Rotarians, Wives To Enjoy Chicken Supper Tonight

Rotarians and their Rotary wives (wives of the members of the 40-year-old international organization) with a few Rotary Annettes (their daughters) will meet tonight in the first ladies night of the year on the grounds of the local Elks' Lodge to partake of a chicken supper.

A choice of barbecued or smoked chicken with all the "fixins" will be offered by the cooking committee headed by Al Lee. A crowd of about 80 is expected to attend the supper which Skipper Al Lee will be served promptly at 6:45.

President Bill Bush reminds local Rotarians that there will be no meeting at the Yacht Club next Monday but Dr. R. W. Sweeney, club secretary will be on the job to give attendance credit to all visiting Rotarians and club members unable to attend the business meeting.

Jaycees Launch Membership Drive Here This Week

With the slogan "We invite you to join the Jaycees, an organization of young men at work," the Seminole County Jaycees are launching a drive for new membership. Tony Rusal, chairman of the membership drive stated, "The Jaycees feel they are building for themselves and their community a life instead of a living. Inviting you to become a Jaycee gives you the opportunity to take part or to help these young men in their active participation in constructive projects which will improve community, state and nation."

The Jaycees throughout the year have maintained their ideas for a better Seminole County through their various programs such as Trade Promotion and Tourist which includes: Operating the Information Booth, highway signs, advertising in various magazines and newspapers, mailing of fishing maps to over 25 states; Youth Activity; Fishing Rods; Christmas Parade, Easter Egg Hunt and the organizing of the Jaycees for high school boys; Promoting industry by educating young men in the how, why and wherefore of securing industry for Seminole County.

Rusal urges all civic minded citizens to renew their Jaycee memberships and all young men between the ages of 21 and 30 are strongly urged to become an active member of the Jaycees.

The public is cordially invited to attend the ground-breaking service. Construction of the new chapel building is expected to be completed in 108 working days.

City Operations To Close March 9 For Dedication

A shutdown of City operations has been approved for Friday, March 9 by the Board of Sanford City Commissioners, so that all City employees may attend the ribbon cutting ceremonies dedicating the official opening of French Ave.

In a letter from City Manager Warren E. Knowles to the chairman of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce French Ave. Dedication Committee, Knowles said, "Since this is one of the greatest strides forward in the progress of our City and County, it was felt only suitable that the employees should be given an opportunity to observe the ceremonies for a project that they were intimately connected with."

The ribbon-cutting ceremonies will be held at 4 p.m. Friday, March 9 in front of the Seminole High School where a broad view of French Ave. can be seen from the lakefront to Park Ave.

James A. Wright, chairman of the committee planning the dedication, requested that the entire staff of city employees be allowed to attend the ceremony. He has also asked that Sanford merchants allow as many of their employees as possible to attend the ceremony.

Many of the statewide road minded dignitaries will attend the afternoon dedication and ribbon cutting. However, names of these State leaders who have accepted invitations to be here have not as yet been released.

The afternoon ribbon cutting precedes a French Ave. Dedication Banquet that will be held at the Mayfair Inn at 7 o'clock the next evening.

Lutheran Lenten Services Tonight

Mid-week lenten services begin this evening, for the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, at the Yacht Club where services are being held regularly until the construction of a new chapel building.

The Rev. Phillip Schlessmann, pastor of the Church, revealed that the services which start this evening will begin at 7:30. They will be held on Wednesday evenings Feb. 22, 29, March 7, 14, and Friday nights March 23 and 30.

Speaker To Give Counsel Regarding Church Building

W. T. Peary, executive secretary of the Board of Church Extension of the Disciples of Christ, Indianapolis, will speak Thursday, 7:30 p.m., at the First Christian Church, giving counsel and guidance concerning an educational building which the local congregation plans to erect. Questions from the audience will be answered. The national board of which Mr. Peary is secretary employs a full-time architect, advises churches regarding building plans, and makes loans for the construction of church edifices.

Board chairman O. D. Landress says that anyone who is interested in the building project may attend the meeting. The building committee, which is composed of G. W. Morgan, Harr Fink and Mrs. W. H. Young, is studying preliminary plans that call for a 40' X 104' building which includes a fellowship hall, kitchen, study, restrooms, and enough additional classrooms to double the capacity of the present structure. For more than a year a building fund has been accumulating. The church already owns a suitable site between the sanctuary and parsonage in the 1600 block on Sanford Avenue.

The afternoon ribbon cutting precedes a French Ave. Dedication Banquet that will be held at the Mayfair Inn at 7 o'clock the next evening.

Rosen Unsuccessful In Cross-Examination

Assistant District Attorney E. David Rosen failed to make his point yesterday, in the cross examination of suspended Sheriff J. Luther Hobby when he was called back to the witness stand.

Rosen accused Hobby of calling an Ashburn, Ga., man in an attempt to correct statements, Rosen told Hobby, "Do you know Mr. Pate is on his way here to testify?" Hobby said, "I hope that he is, sir."

However, Defense Attorney William W. Judge in quick rebuttal asked Hobby, "On whose instructions did you call Mr. Pate?" and Hobby said, "Yours." Pate is the Ashburn, Ga., man from whom a lot was bought, purportedly as a gift from Hobby's father. The assistant district attorney had previously asked Hobby if he had not peeled off 43 $100 bills in payment for the lot. The suspended sheriff denied that he did.

A Negro store operator, James Smith, who admitted that he could not read or write, accused Hobby of "stealing" money from the Government Investigator C. S. Hodgson had told him "we'll bump you off if you don't sign that statement." Smith pointed to Hodgson, in the court room and said, "That's the man that said he would bump me off."

Smith produced papers from the Florida State Bank upholding the fact that he had borrowed money to pay Hobby for the lots and material purchased for him, and insisted that Hobby had "stolen good" for materials purchased.

Stating that he knew Maybelle and Johnnie Gaines, Smith stated that it was because of a fight between the two that Hobby had come to see him on the night the suspended sheriff is accused of delivering moonshine to him. "He brought me an empty five-gallon jug I had asked for in which I wanted to keep water for my home."

Admitting that he knew officers Carl Dodson, Joe Hickson, Prosecutor Karlisle Housholder and Investigator C. S. Hodgson, Smith said, "They brought a paper out to me, read it, and wanted me to sign it."

"They said that they wanted me to tell that I was paying the sheriff off and that the sheriff had brought me some whiskey," said Smith. "I refused to sign the paper," he said.

Assistant District Attorney Rosen, in his cross examination of Smith, did his best to put words into James Smith's mouth and until ordered by the Judge, William J. Barker, had not explained the paper or instrument from which he was directing his questions. "Didn't you tell Mr. Housholder this?" asked Rosen as he read from a paper allegedly to be the statement Smith was requested to sign. "I did not tell them that," Smith said. "I deny it."

"I was afraid of Mr. Hodgson when Mr. Dodson told me about him bumping me off," Smith told the court and jury.

World War I Vets Ask Legislators To Provide Pension

The Veterans of World War I, headed by national commander, Harry J. Milten, Watertown, N. Y., presented their legislative program to the House Committee on Veterans Affairs, Feb. 7, and asked that the legislators provide every World War I Veteran with a pension of $100 a month at age 60, and with no strings attached.

Making the presentation for the veterans of 1917-18 was George J. Young, Buffalo, N. Y., following the appearance before the committee of spokesmen for the Veterans of Foreign Wars, who also made a strong appeal for pensions for the World War I veterans and proposed a new relief bill of their own.

Young stated the fact that his organization is made up almost exclusively of members and former members of the VFW and American Legion, but emphasized that the vets of 1917-18 have felt it necessary to organize into a separate association in order to gain the strength necessary to "reach their objective."

"A long series of circumstances have compelled us, (World War I Vets) to make this presentation to you as a somewhat new organization of older veterans, difficult for men of our age to become gainfully employed, and it is our belief that a grateful nation would not want its veterans to have to resort solely to a Welfare agency for their existence; the precedents of the past have long established this principle.

"The vets request that you give favorable consideration to our legislative objectives as follows:

(1) A congressional charter to be granted to our organization, which can be identified as bill H. R. 4733 and which is now in the Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives.

(2) A pension of $100 a month at the age of 60, which is embodied in the Fine Bill, H. R. 4264.

(3) Passage of Resolution 4438 in the Veterans Administration granting accreditation to service officers of the Veterans of World War I.

(4) To give active support to all legislation beneficial to widows, orphans and disabled veterans."

In closing he said, "... I thank you for your attention and for your patience in listening to an appeal from an organization of men who did their part in 1917-18 in preserving the democracy of the world."

There will be a meeting of the local World War I Veterans Baracks No. 488 Friday night at 8 p.m. in the American Legion Hut. All qualified Vets are asked and urged to attend this meeting.

SHS P-TA Meeting Set For Feb. 27
The March meeting of the Seminole High School P-TA will be held Feb. 27 in the high school auditorium at 8 p. m. There will be a panel discussion by a group of the high school students.

Their topic will be "Going Steady". The reason for the change in date from March 6 to Feb. 27, Dr. Schmidt of Florida State University of Tallahassee, will be in Sanford March 5 for a family life institute course. There will be a board meeting at 7:15 p. m.

Rinehart Demands Board's Apology For Letter Sent

E. D. Rinehart, Rinehart Road, Route 2, It was brought to the County Commission at its regular meeting yesterday that you had removed dirt and fill from the County right-of-way on Rinehart Road, and this has resulted in an encroachment on County property and also presents a dangerous hazard for the motoring public.

The Board instructs me to write you requesting that you return the dirt and fill immediately and place it back in the same condition that it was.

The Board sincerely hopes that you will comply with this request so no further action will be necessary.

Signed by Mack Cleveland for the Board of County Commissioners

This rather innocuous appearing form letter sent on the County Commissioners regular letterhead on the motion of Commissioner Fred Dyson may boomarang into a real hot potato in the lap of the Rinehart. It was revealed at Tuesday morning's regular meeting.

Given the floor at the outset of the meeting, E. D. Rinehart appeared in person and read the above letter to the Board of Commissioners. He labeled the letter as "ridiculous" and followed with a lengthy history of the Rinehart Road, in which he pointed out all the expense and work he had put into building and maintaining the road over the past 30 years.

In very pointed, legal phrase, Rinehart declared the Commission blundered in permitting the letter to be sent without a full investigation of the situation. He resented the letter's implication that he was a thief, and demanded an immediate and complete retraction and apology, saying "I am prepared to dictate such a letter at once."

Since Attorney Mack Cleveland was not present at Tuesday's meeting, the Commissioners individually assured Rinehart that it was not the Board's intention to accuse him of theft, and some action would be taken on his protest as soon as Cleveland was available.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Rinehart took the floor several times during the Commission's discussion of the letter and demand for retraction, to re-state their desire for immediate retraction from the Board, or stronger legal measures would be taken.

Judge Housholder To Attend Confab In Jacksonville

The Juvenile Judges Council of Florida is headed by Judge Walter H. Beckham of Miami, president.

Judge Housholder will participate in a panel discussion, scheduled for 11 a.m. tomorrow. The discussion on "Criminal Procedure and Jury Trials" will include Judge Ernest Housholder, Harry Lee, Thomas A. Yarns, Frank Scofield, and Archie Owens.
