happiness is a high hill

It had been a long elimb. For various reasons, we were all glad to get to the top of the hill. Jackie reflect down, over and over, to the inviting creek at the bottom. Sally bolted off to climb the neighbor's fence and croom to the colts pastured there. Baby saw the buttercups and struggled to get down. Jack dreamed over the rich soil of the south forty, while I was drawn by the tall-spired church in the valley. We're happy in the home we've built on that hill. We've a dog and a cat and swings for the children. Summers, we race down the hill to cool off in the creek. Winters, we get the sled out and take it singing down the

The kitchen windows frame a lovely view of the valley and our church. On Sunday mornings, when its deepthroated bells call us clearly to worship, we go down the hill together to its doors. We enter reverently and joyfully, knowing that much of our happiness and security stems from God's love.
