

German Red Cops Flee To West In Larger Numbers

By BRACK CURRY

AP Newsfeatures
FRANKFURT, Germany—An "I'm fed up" feeling is growing in the Soviet-trained People's Police of East Germany. Four of five members of this red force fled across the border daily to freedom in the west.

Each new arrival claims he will be followed by hundreds and perhaps thousands of others. During June, 137 deserted. Most of the deserters are members of the regular Eastern police force. But some members of the Soviet Zone's police-army also are bolting.

What makes them risk their lives to scamper to West Berlin or Western Germany? A U.S. High Commission survey tells the story of the typical deserter as based on interviews with 1,500 former People's Police members and members of the police army, now refugees in West Berlin.

Fear and an incurable hunger for political and personal freedom apparently are the main reasons behind the desertions. Specific complaints include:

Too much Communist ideological indoctrination, suspicion about former residence in the east, failure of the People's Police command to fulfill pre-enlistment promises of leave and promotion, and harsh discipline.

Deserters have recently cited a new general order, No. 201 under which People's Police members with relatives in the west can be discharged. Existence of these relatives is checked through spies and by examining mail.

Reading material for the police is restricted almost entirely to Communist pamphlets, magazines and newspapers. It's a major offense for the police rank-and-file to be found with western literature or listening to RIAS, the American-sponsored Berlin radio station.

Indoctrination classes, discussions, newspaper-reading sessions and self-study courses occupy three to five hours of the People's Police member's day, week in and week out.

Estimates of the monthly cost of written propaganda for a People's Police member average about 10 percent of his wage. He has to pay this "voluntarily," after the fashion of Nazi-sponsored welfare collections.

Temperatures at Madrid, Spain, may vary 60 degrees in a day.

Women Stream Back To Factories As Shortage Of Workers Develops

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK. (AP)—Rose the riveter today is more likely to be a Mrs. than a Miss.

Why are American mothers swarming back into defense factories again in numbers reminiscent of second World War days?

In the last war many women felt it was a patriotic duty to go to work in defense industries. Now many feel that way again. Others want to earn money to get more luxuries for themselves or a better deal out of life for their children.

"I guess with most of us it is a mixture of patriotism and a desire to help out our families," said Mrs. Margaret L. Packer.

Mrs. Packer, a pleasant featured, hazel-eyed woman of 42, has five children. She looks and talks like any average housewife, and she is typical of millions of mothers who now are working again in America's expanding defense plants.

"Two thirds of the women in the plant I work in are married," she said, "and of those, two-thirds have children under 14."

She has two married daughters and a son, Donald, who is in the Navy. Still at home with her are two younger daughters, Virginia, 14, and Donna, 1.

Mrs. Packer is employed by the Pratt & Whitney Aircraft Plant at Hartford, Conn. She worked there from 1942 to 1945 as a lathe operator. She was pleasantly surprised when they called her last May, to find they wanted her for a better post. Women were being hired on exactly the same basis, and at the same rate of pay, as men.

She was immediately made one of five women instructors who train mixed classes of new men and women employees how to operate the machines that stamp out airplane parts. It is exacting work. At first there was some grumbling among the men at being taught by a woman.

"After I talked with them, and showed them how I could operate the machines," Mrs. Packer said shyly, "there weren't any more objections."

"I've found the men very nice to work with. They are more nervous at the start and make more mistakes than women. But they are eager to train and learn faster."

She earns up to $350 a week, including overtime, and works from 7:30 P. M. until midnight. Her husband, Chauncey, an skilled craftsman, is employed by the same firm from 7:30 A. M. until 3:30 P. M.

"Sunday is about the only real time we get to see each other, except coming or going," said Mrs. Packer, smiling.

But she says that working outside the home hasn't disrupted her husband takes care of the lawn and the garden.

Mrs. Packer feels that only in such a way can the problems of the outdworiking wife be solved.

"There has to be a lot of cooperation in the family," she said firmly. "Each must help the other. But if they do, everything is all right, and it is worthwhile."

"I've had no difficulty, and we've been able to do more things for the children. It is that way with most of the women I've talked to. So long as there is love in the home, there is no trouble."

In the plant that employs her one out of every three machine operators is a woman, the same ration that existed in the last war. Mama is back in overalls again—for the duration.

U.S. Seeks To Line Up Allies At Treaty Meet

Methods Of Halting Russian Obstruction Are Planned By U. S. Delegates

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 3.—(AP)—The United States sought firm support from 48 nations today for a set of tough rules designed to prevent Russia from blocking the signing of a Japanese peace treaty.

The rules would limit debate and prevent treaty amendments. Their adoption is the key to American strategy for assuring success of the treaty conference opening here tomorrow night with an address by President Truman. Red bloc countries are expected to protest the rules viciously.

The Soviet deputy foreign minister, Andrei Gromyko, isolated himself in a suburban mansion with his 38-member mission and said nothing.

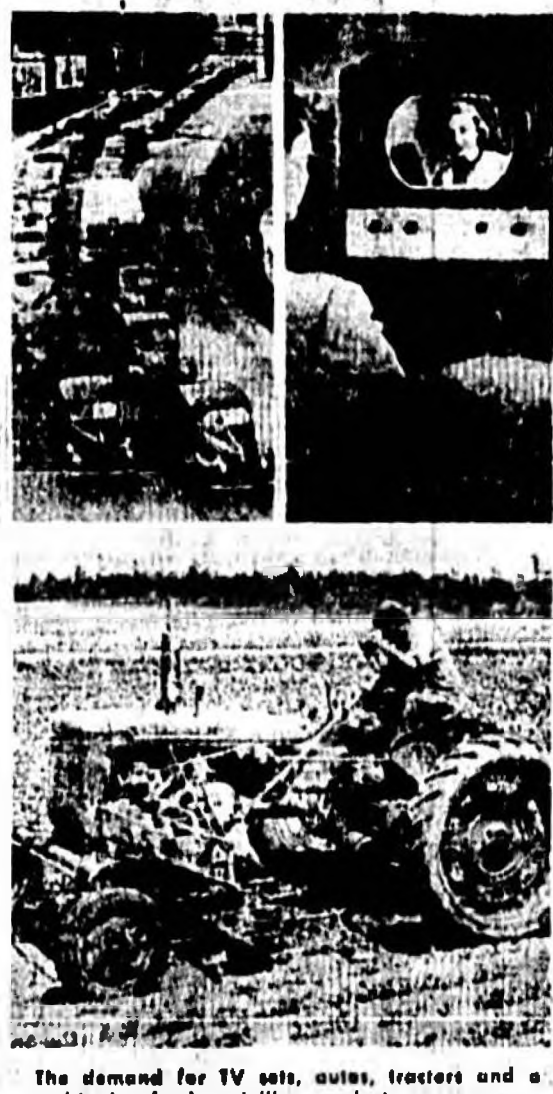

Western diplomats had no clue to the strategy or intentions. Debate must proceed and bring the delegates to an expected favorable vote if the Russian, Polish and Czech delegations attempt a filibuster. The signing was scheduled for Saturday.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson was to confer today with French, British, Belgian, Dutch, and other delegates on this and related problems.

Informed diplomats said Acheson may urge Truman to agree that "reasonable" debate on the rules may be permitted to prevent any appearance of Anglo-American steamrolling.

President Truman was due from Washington by plane at 1:30 P. M. (See Page 7).

Holiday Accident Toll Reaches 328 On Long Weekend

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
Motorists have racked up a bloody death toll on U. S. highways during the Labor Day holiday and they still face homebound traffic.

Early Monday morning there were 328 fatalities reported. An additional 63 persons died by drowning and 67 others in miscellaneous accidents. The grand total was 458.

Ned H. Dearborn, National Safety Council president, said the Labor Day traffic toll was well beyond the estimated 300 deaths unless motorists start home earlier, drive slowly, and be patient.

The largest single accident during the holiday was a fishing boat disaster off the eastern tip of Long Island Saturday. The boat sank with 15 people on board.

Question Of Japanese Resurgence Brought Up At Peace Conference

By ROBERT EUNSON
Chief of the Associated Press Tokyo Bureau

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Will Japan ever come back with a strong Army and Navy and fight the United States? This is the first question usually asked of anyone returning from Japan.

Briefly, the answer is: America's helping hand makes this unlikely.

Japan's new constitution forbids the organization of an Army, Navy, or Air Force. However, that document probably will be amended to provide for the country's defense once the peace treaty has been signed and ratified.

Japan and the United States agreed to sign a treaty to provide for American defense of the former enemy until that country is able to defend herself.

The U. S. needs such an arrangement because of the danger of war from the north and because of the need for maintaining Japan as a supply base to wage the war in Korea.

Japan's only armed force is a police reserve of 75,000 men, intended to provide a cadre of non-commissioned officers if an Army is formed.

The old militarists in Japan who have been in the background since their country's defeat, don't agree with the police reserve arranged by General MacArthur. They prefer a new army.

The only thing known publicly concerning the U. S. Japan separate defense treaty is that it provides for stationing American troops in Japan once the occupation has ended.

A high source said it is "short and to the point."

Japanese newspapers have reported that the defense treaty would allow Japan 20 army divisions with strategic air force and coast guard.

This would place about one million men under arms.

A former Japanese admiral, whose name will have to be kept out of this story for obvious reasons—says it is not necessary to have 20 divisions from the beginning. He suggests dissolving the police reserve and using those as trained men as five divisions of 15,000 men each, then creating another 15 divisions after drawing on the first units for non-commissioned officers.

General Huxford from 75,000 to 1,000,000 men is suggested so that excessive pressure would not hit the nation's economy and labor pool all at once.

Premier Shigeru Yoshida, an anti-militarist, is especially concerned about the possibility of a new Japanese army taking too many men from their jobs. The Sanjō cabinet is to maintain a military force also would be too much of a burden on working men, already reeling about half their (Continued on Page 8)

Cornerstone Laid At Castle Brewer In Big Dedication

Stemper Addresses Gathering On Value Of New Project

The cornerstone of the Administration Building in Castle Brewer Court, Sanford's first housing project for Negroes, was laid yesterday afternoon in Gold-burn and the project is dedicated to an impressive program, with the Rev. J. E. McKinley of the Sanford Housing Authority presiding.

He in turn introduced City Commissioner W. H. Stemper, named in honor of the Rev. Edwin T. Brown, first past state's attorney, and the case will be given to the grand jury on Friday in an attempt to obtain a manslaughter indictment.

The charge carries a possible penalty of 1 to 14 years in prison. Pending the grand jury action Fabian will be held in the juvenile home.

Wealthy Mexican To Throw Biggest Party Since 1939

By ALBURN D. WEST
VENICE, Italy, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Don Carlo De Bostegui staged a dress rehearsal last night for Europe's biggest and probably costliest private party since the war.

The house warming here tonight will have everything from champagne for the rich to greased pole climbing for the poor.

The Mexican-born millionaire is spending dollars by the thousands for his widely publicized party opening his newly-restored 18th Century Palace.

Some 400 of the 3,000 guests showed up last night to relax in the palace and watch the fireworks that will be exploding at tonight's masquerade, a representation of bygone Venetian days.

Beverly carried their ermine storks, standards of their noble houses and even their leveled words, but the expensive 18th century costumes for the main event were left at home.

Barbara Hutton is expected tonight. Word has spread through Venice that she will wear a $18,000 dress designed in Paris.

Tonight's rich guests can step out on one of the palace's balconies and watch the poor of Venice. They will have a party of their own in the square below.

They will have a greased pole to climb for prizes. Hand actors will parade in ancient costumes and there will be dancing and singing. Palace steward said he had been planned to serve cakes and wine, but this scheme was abandoned because the poor might get out of hand.

The guests at the "palace-warming" itself will be able to eat and drink whenever they feel like it. French wines and champagnes and the finest food service will be available. There will be bars and huge buffet tables.

Civil Air Patrol Has Cub Airplane

The Sanford Squadron, Civil Air Patrol, has acquired an Air Force Cub airplane for training purposes, Capt. David L. Ramsey, announced today.

He stated that he had flown Lieut. Henry McLaughlin to Tampa last week to pick up the airplane for use by the local C.A.P. members. It is now located at Glades Ranch at Longwood where a hangar is about completed.

Members of the C.A.P. have been working during week ends for the past two months on the construction of the hangar.

"Due to the lack of funds to furnish the hangar, it has been a slow process," said Capt. Ramsey.

A contribution of $15 from Leo Brothers Plumbing Co., this week has furnished funds for nailing strips on the rafters, but the Squadron still needs money to buy tin for the roof, he declared.

All C.A.P. members are requested by Capt. Ramsey to be present at the meeting Wednesday night to discuss important matters. The Squadron will meet in the City Commission room at the City Hall at 8:00 P. M.

Haley Committee Seeks Money For New Investigation

SARASOTA, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Rep. James A. Haley of Sarasota left for Tallahassee today to seek an emergency appropriation of $15,000 to $20,000 so his committee can "probe other State institutions and agencies."

Haley is chairman of the Florida House investigating committee appointed during the 1951 legislative session. The committee completed hearings on reported conditions of "unrest" at the State tuberculosis hospital in Lantana Saturday.

Haley said he planned to appear before Governor Fuller Warren and the Cabinet in the next day or so to ask for the appropriations.

"The Committee has received several requests to probe other State institutions and agencies," Haley said in an interview before departing for Tallahassee. "It's too early to name any of them, however."

The committee chairman said the money also would be used to clean up expenses incurred at previous hearings, such as the Lantana investigation.

Haley was asked if his committee planned any further investigation of conditions at the state TB hospital.

"I think the State tuberculosis board will clean up the situation in its own way," he replied. "There have been some personal changes already."

Russians And Chinese Moseow

MOSCOW, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Prime Minister Stalin today called the Soviet-Chinese alliance "unbreakable."

Stalin's statement appeared on the front page of Pravda in connection with a message from Chinese Communist leader Mao Tse-Tung congratulating Stalin, the Russian armed forces and the Russian people on the sixth anniversary of the defeat of Japan.

Mao's message to Stalin also referred to the "firm alliance of the U. S. S. R. and the Chinese People's Republic directed at joint prevention of the restoration of Japanese aggressive forces."

Stubborn Irishman Travels With Reds Across Continent

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Joe Butler, 57, after crossing the country in the private pullman car of the Russian delegation to the Japanese peace treaty conference, said today "I don't get all this fuss over me."

"I don't get all this fuss over me," he said. "The phone keeps ringing and every time I turn around there's flash bulbs popping off."

Butler was dubbed the "stubborn Irishman" after he insisted that the railroad honor his reservation—which changed to be right in a block of Soviet compartments.

Rev. McKinley traced the first beginnings of a low cost housing project in Sanford to the time in 1940 when Volle Williams, Sr., on a business trip to Panama City, broached the subject of Sanford's housing needs of Sanford, N. C., state director of Federal Housing, and asked for a survey.

This was before the City Commission organized the Sanford Housing Authority. World War II came on, said Rev. McKinley, and the project remained dormant. The dream for the project, however, found "fertile lodgment" in the mind of the late Edward Higgins, and he and Mr. Williams continued to hope that the project could be carried on.

King's Health

LONDON, Sept. 3.—(AP)—A Buckingham Palace spokesman said today "there is no concern whatever" over the health of King George VI.

Two physicians who have attended him previously flew to Scotland Saturday to examine the King, who is having a grouse-shooting holiday at Balmoral Castle.

"It was a routine check" it was said at the Palace. "His physicians see him at regular intervals, and they went to him by plane because they were in a hurry to get back to London."

Reds Are Accused Of Using Peace Talks As Lever In Jap Treaty

Muscular Youth Admits Slaying 6-Year-Old Girl

Child's Head Slammed Against Wall In "Airplane Swing"

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Authorities will try to obtain a manslaughter indictment against George Fabian, 16, eighth grade pupil who admitted slaying 6-year-old Yvonne Butz in a hotel jungle.

Police said Fabian speed a statement yesterday in which he admitted crashing the girl's head against some rocks in a vacant lot near the Chicago bridge while playing airplane swing.

He said it was an accident. In the game, he took the girl's ankle and set it in his hands and swung her around in a circle. He denied any motive in the slaying.

"On the last swing, her head hit the fireplace where the hand cook threw food," he stated. "It's made of old concrete slabs piled together. She hit her head three or four times."

The youth, who is tanned and muscular, said he then became frightened, but he got in the weeds, and ran home.

Edwin T. Brown, first past state's attorney, said "The case will be given to the grand jury on Friday in an attempt to obtain a manslaughter indictment."

The charge carries a possible penalty of 1 to 14 years in prison. Pending the grand jury action Fabian will be held in the juvenile home.

Hurricanes Flare Up In Caribbean; Ships Are Warned

MIAMI, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Another hurricane, the fifth of the season, was discovered far out in the Atlantic today as hurricane number four churned steadily westward in the Caribbean Sea.

Grady Norton, chief storm forecaster at the Miami Weather Bureau, said the new storm was about 1,100 miles east of the Windward Islands, or about half way across the Atlantic to Africa.

The storming hurricane further identified only as enemy aircraft. The Red planes made their hit-and-run attacks through clouds between 6 and 6:10 A. M. Monday. They flew north immediately after the attacks.

Deliberate Delay At Kaesong Charged By UN Commander; Fighting Is Bloody

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Communist fighter planes today made six bombing and strafing attacks on United Nations ground forces on the east central fighting front. One of the planes was identified as a Russian-type Yak-9 fighter. The others were identified only as enemy aircraft. The Red planes made their hit-and-run attacks through clouds between 6 and 6:10 A. M. Monday. They flew north immediately after the attacks.

Senator Demands Resignation Of William Douglas

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Rep. Roy O. Woodruff (R-Mich.) today demanded the resignation of Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, who resigned yesterday, President Truman should request his resignation.

The congressman accused Douglas of "a lack of words and act" which he said "is a disgrace to the office of the United States and democracy."

Woodruff negated his attack by interviews given by the post during his return from a mountain climbing expedition in Asia. He said:

"Mr. Douglas' latest outburst is a statement in San Francisco that the United States should recognize Red China as merely the latest demonstration of a mode of conduct that is highly praiseworthy, in the least, in a Supreme Court justice."

Douglas told newsmen on the spot that U. S. recognition of the Chinese Communist regime would "do nothing to weaken the ties they now have with Russia."

"This is like saying that black people in this case Korea, a totally helpless pawn in the expansionist Red struggle elsewhere."

"Having failed to destroy the Republic of Korea and to subdue the Korean people by force of arms, the Reds may be deliberately prolonging Korea's suffering and frustrating its eventual unification in order to blackmail the rest of the world at San Francisco."

Statements issued by the public information office usually reflect the thinking in the supreme Allied commander's headquarters.

The statement again accused the Reds of manufacturing charges to prevent resumption of peace talks. Negotiations began July 10 and were broken off Aug. 23 by the Reds on the allegation that an Allied plane bombed the (Continued on Page 8)

Jobless Payments Decrease Slightly

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 3.—(Special)—Unemployment insurance payments descended slightly the week of Aug. 20-24 as total payments were reported at $784,444 less than the previous week with 25 fewer unemployed receiving payments.

Chairman of the Florida Industrial Commission, S. James, trial Commission, affirmed in weekly reports today.

Computed totals showed that $240,695 in insurance was shared by 14,302 unemployed workers in the state.

Within Seminola County 180 of its unemployed received $283,400 of the state's total.

Six of the 67 counties reported no unemployed receiving the state's large average check payment of $16.75, while with the larger counties, Hillsborough and Polk, over 200 unemployed were paid and over 1000 in Dade and Orange.

MONDAY, SEPT. 3, 1951
 TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

We show small respect for the hallowed ceremony by making it common or casual. We hold it as a sacrament. It should not be degraded by boisterous license and levity. How come thou in hither not having a wedding garment?—Matt. 22:12.

This is Labor Day; that is to say, no labor day.

Only one out of four automobiles in the United States must be inspected annually before licenses are sold for their operation. The other three out of four may be operated as long as they have four wheels to run on and an engine that will chug.

Gambling which has been running wide open in Henderson, Ky. for many years was closed tighter than a drum the other day on orders from "up north." It is reported in the newspapers "it is that damn Kefauver committee," someone is quoted as saying. That "damn Kefauver committee has stopped a lot of illegal activities in these United States including some in our fair state of Florida. Long live Kefauver and other committees like him!

Florida is now consuming gasoline at the rate of 66,812,000 gallons a month, up 8.5 percent since last year, which brings into the State Treasury $4,676,000 a month in revenues. That speaks very well for the growth of this state as well as for the prosperity of its citizens enabling them to own 441,000 automobiles. What would happen to this gasoline consumption, this highway transportation, this State revenue in the event of another war, might be somewhat like what happened before.

Out in Pensacola two Negroes filed suits seeking to gain admission to a white vocational school. The old concept of racial relations that the Negro himself, in the South at least, did not seek abolition of the principle of segregation is undergoing a radical alteration. It is becoming increasingly apparent that some of them, perhaps many of them, will never be satisfied with anything short of a complete intermingling of the races in places of business, in public schools, in churches or wherever people congregate. If that proves to be the case, a workable solution to the problem may be difficult to find.

More great nations have been destroyed by moral and spiritual degeneration than by armed invasion. The United States is in greater danger from personal immorality and political corruption than from Communist aggression. Former President Hoover, calling for moral indignation on the part of all decent law-abiding citizens, says there seems to be a belief in high quarters that a certain amount of dishonesty is necessary. But he adds, "No public man can be just a little crooked. Our strength is in our politics, our industry, our science, our art, our literature, our spiritual concepts in public conscience to yield. Loss that we lose everything."

Joseph Daniels, one of the South's foremost editors and Joseph Daniels, Secretary of the Navy in Wilson's wartime cabinet, predicts not only that Truman will run again in 1952, but also that he will be elected. As for the new Southern revolt and the "segregation movement" of 1951, he says, "There is no movement of a segregationist movement in 1951."

Great American Resource

Labor Day was conceived as an occasion for displaying the gathering strength of organized labor, being built up as a force with which to press the demands of workers for fair pay and decent working conditions. It has been observed since to serve this end and also to celebrate the great upward strides which have been taken by labor, and to point out how well off the American worker is.

The day might also be used as an occasion for pointing out how well off America is because of our labor force. Travelers often return from other parts of the world with tales of the cheap wage at which it is possible to hire workers in many other countries. The more observant ones may also be heard to comment, "It's all they're worth, too." The American worker has the highest pay scale in the world, and he also has the highest rate of productivity.

American industry is a marvelous array of machines which seem to do everything but think. The worker does the thinking, and it is because the American worker understands machines, knows what to do with them and how to take care of them, that the machines can be used successfully. American industry and distribution are the wonder and envy of the world because the American worker is clever, adaptable, ingenious and intelligent. Without these qualities at the workbenches and assembly lines, in the warehouses and stock rooms, on the railroads and docks and trucks, this country's fantastic development could never have been.

America is a team, a big and effective team. The inventors, the capitalists, the entrepreneurs and the workers are all essential to each other and to the whole. We have the best working conditions in the world, and the best working force.

Start Of The School Year

The beginning of each new school year brings with it a feeling of excitement for those whose school days are far behind them. The sight of a mother holding a child's hand and lending him to the door of a school is pleasing and a cause for optimism. It is a comment on the drive within man to educate his young so that civilization will continue and that which has been good in his life will also be good and important in the life of his child.

In some classrooms, somewhere in the world, there may be today another Edison, another Pasteur, another great painter or poet. This is why the job of the teacher is so important. Most of the great men who have lived in modern times learned to read and to write in a classroom. Their first contact with the world of ideas may have been with a teacher whose name may not be remembered but whose accomplishment was reflected in the deeds of his students. Education is not the job of the teacher alone. Much of the most important learning is done at home and in play groups where the child seeks amusement. The parent who assumes that his child's education is purely a problem for the school system is neglecting his duty.

It has often been said that the kind of adult a child will grow up to be depends on how he is taught. We can always hope, as each school year begins, that the children starting off to school will someday know more than we would like to have. Perhaps they are beginning the studies which will lead them to solutions for wars and poverty. We must maintain our interest in our schools and help them at least have the opportunity to move toward that goal.

The Needless Blind

Like most statistics, the figures telling how many persons are overtaken by blindness each year would make only a superficial impression on the average reader. Sixty persons become blind every day in America. The figure doesn't seem large; chances are you won't be one of the sixty today, or next day.

The really startling figure is this one: At least half of these sixty new cases of blindness every day are unnecessary. Over 80 per cent of the blindness from infectious diseases, half that from glaucoma and cataract, and almost a third of the blindness from all other causes could be prevented by timely treatment. Too many people accept failing vision as inevitable. It may not be.

No Compromise

Tampa Tribune

Gambling and murder walk side by side down the dark alley of lawlessness. Their kinship is exposed once more by the killing of Armando Flores, 38-year-old Tampa man with a record of gambling convictions here and in Pinellas County. The man accused of the murder also is described by officers as a figure in the racket.

Thus, for the third time in less than three years, the crossed wires of Tampa gambling rackets apparently have set off the spark for murder.

The circumstances this time were different. There was no volley of pistol shots by a silent gunman springing from ambush, as in the case of Jimmy Valasco in December, 1948; no sudden shotgun blast from a passing car, as in the case of Jimmy Lamin in June, 1950. This time the shooting took place in a crowded club, before eyewitnesses and apparently after an argument.

We cannot prejudice the guilt or innocence of the accused. That is for the courts to decide. But the ugly shadow of the gambling racket which lies across the case cannot be ignored.

Wherever organized gambling goes, murder is sure to follow. For the gambler lives outside the law. His business has only one chance that official tolerance gives it: his quarrel with his partners or with rival criminals.

Serious Guerilla Threat Against Reds Builds Up In Southeast Asia

HONG KONG. The first serious guerrilla threat against the Chinese Reds is building up in a wild corner of Asia where China's Yunnan province thrusts down between Burma and Indochina.

As a spawning ground for such a project it is both good and bad. It is good because it is a mountainous country controlled mostly by tribal chiefs who hate the Communists; bad because there is no satisfactory supply line and because of the danger of bitter labor or disputes with third parties.

But, if the anti-Red Chinese find their real chance to fight back.

Can it be held and expanded? There's a chance—a slim, outside chance. Only that. The odds are with the Reds, yet if this guerrilla growth is handled with skill and imagination it is possible for it to win through and turn the tide against Chinese Communism.

Chinese Nationalists on their Formosa Island stronghold report that guerrillas led by Col. Li Mi already control one-third of Yunnan province. This probably is not true.

Formosa is claiming that part of Yunnan which the Reds don't directly control. The Communists control the useful, productive parts of the province—perhaps half of the territory.

The guerrillas hold a sliver of land not far from the Burma border. There are big areas in which neither side has a man.

The beginning of the guerrilla build-up goes back to 1948, when some of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's armies crossed into Burma and Indochina after Nationalist collapse on the mainland.

Some of the nationalist troops were interned in Indochina and some eventually reached Formosa. Some joined the Shan state tribes in Burma. This was embarrassing to Burma, which recognized the Red regime at Peking.

There was one effort to wipe out the Nationalist fugitives, but it failed. It is almost impossible to corner a refugee force in that force is aided by the locals. Besides, Burma had more pressing problems.

The border is not clearly defined. The Shan tribes are relatively the Miao and Lolo tribes on the Yunnan side. So ethnically and geographically you can't tell where Burma ends and China begins.

On the China side, the Miao and Lolo tribes are among the many minority groups with which the Chinese Reds are trying to cope. The tribesmen are not Chinese, strictly speaking, but descendants of the Han.

Some of the chiefs are from families that have ruled since the Ming dynasty (1368 A.D.) in the past they have been left more or less alone.

Poisonous Desert Animals Are Used At Tempe College

AP Newsfeature
TEMPE, Ariz.—Deadly Gila monsters and scorpions are being put to work in medical research at Arizona State College here.

In charge is Dr. Herbert L. Stahnke, director of the poisonous animal research laboratory. Dr. Stahnke also gives a special course for upper classmen on "Poisonous Animals of Arizona."

As one of the current projects, Dr. Stahnke and his research assistants are determining the effects of venoms on temperature as part of the Damon Runyon campaign against cancer.

"We're testing the scorpions. Gila monsters, 14 kinds of rattlesnakes, coral snakes, black widow spiders, tarantulas, centipedes and other poisonous animals from desert countries," Dr. Stahnke explains.

All the work remains in the experimental stage and it will be some time before the results are known.

Experiments here have indicated certain venoms from scorpions are beneficial in the therapeutic treatment of migraine headaches and arthritis and the laboratory is working on a serum to combat the sting of the scorpion.

A recent survey showed that in 10 months there were 1,871 scorpion stings cases in Arizona. They are especially dangerous to children.

Li Mi contacted several Americans in Hong Kong to get some commitment on arms aid. He got none. He moved on to Indochina and Thailand (Siam).

What he managed to get in his pocket of reality, Chinese stated him to equipment. None of the reports has been confirmed.

How he receives supplies also is secret. It seems obvious that someone in authority is looking the other way to permit fund-raising. The flow is not believed to be very large.

There are several former Nationalist Chinese generals in Hong Kong, who fled from the Communists in 1949 but refused to rejoin Chiang's forces. Most of them are experienced in guerrilla tactics.

Asked their evaluation of Li Mi and his guerrilla build-up, they said they were not hopeful. They described his situation as tactically good if he could have supplies coming, but that would be later his supply route would be blocked.

They say the guerrillas are a real force.

The Way Is Open

Louisville (Ky.) Courier-Journal

In changing its rules to permit local chapters to cooperate with community fund-raising drives, the American Red Cross is probably bowing to the inevitable. A number of cities have begun to investigate the Detroit Plan, which combines all fund solicitations in one week-long drive; several have instituted their own variations. But in almost every community large enough to sponsor a Community Chest drive, the problem of multiple solicitations has become a pressing one, and organizers are looking eagerly at cities which have worked out a system for their consolidation.

The Community Chest originally came into being in order to cut down the number of appeals for worthy causes and to save the time of citizens constantly called upon to solicit. It worked well, although always without the participation of the Red Cross, until other good causes came along and other campaigns were begun, jealously guarding their individuality. Now the situation is almost as bad as that which called Community Chests into being. Scarcely a month goes by without a national appeal of some sort, and local calls are made on a year-round basis.

All of these efforts are worthy. Many of them are educational and therefore not, strictly speaking, charities. But they all speak or wish to follow the same pattern of a general appeal, then a systematized drive among organized groups and industry are what caused industrialists there to deliver their own ultimatum. All drives and charities must combine their solicitations in one common period; no cause would be permitted to solicit in plants outside of the period.

The Detroit Chapter of the Red Cross agreed to participate in this common effort; national Red Cross rules forbade any participation in general fund drives. Agreement was finally reached to dangerous in small children. Following an editorial campaign by the Tucson "Daily Citizen," a fund of $4,600 was raised for the anti-scorpion serum. Then the legislature took official notice of Dr. Stahnke's laboratory and appropriated an additional $1,500.

To make the serum, cats are injected with the progressively greater amounts of scorpion venom and then some of their blood is drawn. Cats, it is explained, have a natural immunity to the stings.

It takes about 1,400 scorpions to furnish enough venom to inoculate one cat. It's estimated 10 inoculated cats will be needed to provide sufficient serum for use in Arizona.

Taking off the venom from the long slender tail of the scorpion is an unusual process. Forceps which are wired with electricity hold the stinger in position. When set, a charge is sent into the scorpion tail, the muscles contract with the shock and the venom is ejected into a jar.

The same process gets venom from the lower jaw of the Gila monster and scorpions are being stung by the anti-scorpion serum.

Gila monsters have a venom which Dr. Stahnke describes as 10 times more deadly than the most deadly rattlesnake venom. It kills from a bite by a lizard as fast, however.

Dr. Stahnke, who received his Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Chicago and his Masters from the University of Arizona, came to the study of poisonous animals in 1938.

"We had a three-year-old daughter and we were alarmed at the possibility of her being stung by scorpions," he says. "I was a doctor? I found they knew very little about the scorpion stings and people here know little or nothing about the various types."

Today there's a big difference. The Reds have an air force, 500,000 men, and a navy.

China here who have the development of a guerrilla movement from 1949 to 1951 is a leader. One former Nationalist general commander, Li Mi, is now in Hong Kong.

Li Mi is now in Hong Kong, who fled from the Communists in 1949 but refused to rejoin Chiang's forces. Most of them are experienced in guerrilla tactics.

Asked their evaluation of Li Mi and his guerrilla build-up, they said they were not hopeful. They described his situation as tactically good if he could have supplies coming, but that would be later his supply route would be blocked.

They say the guerrillas are a real force.

HOLLYWOOD BY BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 3 (AP)—What was Rudolph Valentino really like?

The screen's greatest lover has been dead just 25 years, this month, and legend has already clouded his real nature. There are still many people in Hollywood who knew Valentino in his prime and I sought out their impressions of the famous actor, although he was one star who really didn't need to be publicized. The women did the publicity job for him.

He was all right as long as he remained down to earth, but sometimes he would get some grand idea about his own appeal. He was nice enough to the people he knew and liked, but when he didn't like someone, watch out.

One of those he didn't like was the noted press agent Harry Belchenback, a dynamic man who was doing some special publicity work on Valentino. Once the actor was making up for a scene, usually, his valet, Chris, knelt before him with the makeup kit open. Belchenback hustled up, placed his hand on Valentino's shoulder and started talking.

"Screen me in," Valentino ordered to Chris. Belchenback watched open-mouthed as the valet played a screen around the disfigured Valentino.

"He wasn't a woman chaser," and Mrs. Bonnie Osteen motored to Lake Wales and visited Bok Tower and St. Peterburg. They visited old friends on the trip that they had not seen for several years.

Only two more days of V.B.S. The Youth Revival is on each night and we are all enjoying the sermons and the motion songs. They are fine. Friday night the children will hold graduation services.

Teacher Honored By Phebean Bible Class

The Phebean Bible Class of the First Baptist Church met on Thursday night at the home of Mrs. R. C. Whitmore at 8:00 o'clock with Mrs. Eric Peoples as co-hostess. Mrs. A. J. Poterani led the devotional based on "Fate" and the business meeting was conducted by Mrs. R. C. Harbour, president.

Following the business meeting a birthday party was held honoring the teacher, Mrs. George C. Dixon. She was given gifts by the members and refreshments consisting of ice cream, cake, candy and punch were enjoyed. Decorations in the Whitmore home were of double pink hibiscus and greenery. Those attending were Mrs. William Crabtree, Mrs. Joe Fulgum, Mrs. Hill Harvey, Mrs. M. T. Matine, Mrs. John Bezelchin, Mrs. H. J. Davis, Mrs. C. H. Goetze, and Mrs. E. M. Whitmore.

said Dr. Jennings, who photographed Valentino in "The Conqueror" and is still an cameraman at Paramount. When I knew him in 1920, he was just a young man with a few dollars and a few girlfriends. He would just have a few friends up to his home in the Hollywood Hills. He seldom went to the big parties.

"He had a great love of Italian cooking and loved garlic in his food. He used to have Italian food in his dressing room at lunch time. That was based on his leading ladies and Nita Naldi said she was going to chew garlic for revenge.

"Rudy's hobbies were riding, fencing and boxing. Here's one thing most people don't know, his left ear was cauliflowered. I had to use special lighting on him and avoid shining him on the left side."

Another Valentino hobby was hunting, and he often went on mountain trips with fellow star Stuart Holmes. Holmes, now a movie bit player, declares that "whatever he did, he did with all his heart."

He added that Valentino had a passion for foreign cars, but was a conservative spender.

"He was always sincere in his work," Holmes said. He remembered one when Valentino wanted to wear a grey derby in a scene, but the director said

Sanford Giants Slaughter Cocoa Indians 12 To 3 In Final Game

By ED HARPER
The Sanford Giants went out in a blaze of glory Friday night defeating the Cocoa Indians 12 to 3 in the final game of the Florida State League season.

Buddy Lake, only Sanford hurler with a 1,000 pitching average, won his second tilt of the year although needing help from Manager Richie Klaus in the ninth frame.

Buddy, perennial favorite with Sanford crowds, hurled a mastery game showing the bewildered Indians a bewildering array of curves, sliders and knuckle balls.

Only once was the former major leaguer in trouble. In the fourth inning the Indians slashed out a double and a single in four trips. The Indians used every hurler on their staff in the final game but were unable to halt the Giants' 14-hit barrage.

Flora Dies After 2 Operations Fail In 11th Ring Death

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Boxer George Flora lost his greatest fight early today.

The 30-year-old Brooklyn rearweight died at 12:20 A. M. of a brain injury.

He had been in a coma since Wednesday night when, before a large crowd in Madison Square Garden, Roger Doughton knocked him out in the eighth and final round of their bout.

Flora's 18-year-old wife, Elaine, mother of a month-old son, was at his side when he died. She collapsed after Dr. Peter Greig announced that Flora had died.

She had kept a close, ever-hopeful vigil, leaving the hospital only to change her clothes.

According to "Ring Magazine," boxing's unofficial bible, Flora's death was the 11th in the world this year. Six of these deaths have occurred in American rings.

Flora walked from the garden ring Wednesday night, apparently unhurt, but collapsed in his dressing room.

He never regained consciousness. The doctor, 111-year-old, was rushed to the hospital, and an emergency brain operation to remove a blood clot was performed.

Flora failed to rally after this operation. Another was performed on his throat late Saturday afternoon to facilitate his breathing.

Early last night Flora was very low and the attending physician recorded "no pulse" for him.

Flora's death was the 11th in the world this year. Six of these deaths have occurred in American rings.

Florida Practices For Rough Season; Coach Is Confident

GAINESVILLE, Sept. 3.—(AP)—If Florida's Gators stored up any tight muscles over the weekend—and they should have following six hours of work on opening day Saturday—the odds are good that coach Bob Woodruff will loosen them up again before today's work is done.

The Gators, some 63 of them on the varsity squad, reported back in excellent physical condition and were blessed the first day with an overcast sky that enabled them to work at top speed all the way, with a sudden shower to cool them off from the practice field to the dressing room.

Co-captain Carroll McDonald, hard-hitting center from Belle Glade, came up with the first injury, but not at practice—wrist he put his weight down on a piece of broken bottle Sunday and suffered a slight cut just above the elbow.

It will hamper him a little, trainer Sam Sanford said, but should heal very rapidly and be okay in a few days.

Two expected candidates were not in uniform for the opening work. Junior college transfer Bob Dennis, a tackle who was here for practice, did not return to school.

Sophomore tackle Jack Walwright of Lawley, fell from a scaffold while on a construction job the day before reporting for practice and suffered cuts on the head and hands. He will be out of action for approximately two weeks.

The Gators were expected to go through two more intensive sessions of group drills today and will probably enter the first full-fledged scrimmage sometime Tuesday. They will be called on for their first public showing a week from Saturday against Wyoming in Jacksonville.

Larsen Meets Big Test In Sedgman; Savitt Recovered

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 3.—(AP)—The rain-out semifinals in the National Tennis Championships were rescheduled today at the West Side Tennis Club with more than usual interest in one of the principal characters—defending champion Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif.

Larsen meets Frank Sedgman, the big Australian ace, in one of the men's matches, and tennis followers are wondering if the champion can make a mid-summer threat come true.

"Wait until the nationals," he was ready then, Larsen warned when he was getting knocked out almost every other Wednesday night in a little slum. "I'll show them in the big one."

Now the "big one"—that is, the National—has come down to the round of four and the strategy is to get the best of the best in the first round.

Sedgman offers the big test. Dick Savitt of Orange, N. J., seeking to add the U. S. championship to the Australian and Wimbledon titles he already holds, plays giant-killer Victor Seixas of Philadelphia in the other men's match.

The women's semifinals also are on tap today with top-seeded Doris Hart of Jacksonville meeting Maureen Connolly, the 16-year-old whiz from San Diego, Calif., and England's Mrs. Jean Walker-Smith facing Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio.

Tom Casagrande, the former Forest Hills giant who pitched two no-hitters for Wilmington, Del., also beat the Phillies in an exhibition game. He allowed four hits.

Happy Home Run Hitter Mueller To Retire Bat That Beat Dodgers

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Don Mueller plans to "retire" the bat with which he belted a record-tying home run to celebrate the birth of his son.

The New York Giants' outfielder, who yesterday smashed his fifth homer in two successive games after learning of the arrival of his first child, said today he will ship the bat to his home in St. Louis "and keep it for my little boy."

"The bat will act as a reminder of the happiest day of my life," said Mueller joyfully. "I'm going to pack it up tomorrow along with the bat with which I hit three homers on Saturday, and send them home."

Wasn't the bat with which he hit two homers yesterday the same one he used on Saturday?
"No," Mueller replied with a grin. "I used a different bat. I got the other one all packed up for shipment home. I was afraid I'd break it if I used it again. After all, it was the first time I ever had hit three homers in a game and I wanted to keep it as a souvenir."

"Now I've got a better reason for keeping it along with the bat I used yesterday."
The 26-year-old flycatcher, never known as a home run hitter, belted in 10 runs, five each day in exploding those five round trippers. He was the big gun in the Giants' sweep of the two-game series with Brooklyn, N.Y. 11-2.

Only four other players—all sluggers of note—ever hit five homers in two successive games. They were Cap Anson, Ty Cobb, Tony Lazzari and Ralph Kiner. Kiner, the last to do it before Mueller, accomplished the trick three times, all in 1949.

"Naturally, it was a happy young man who handed out cigars yesterday."
"I'm so happy I could even give cigars to Newcombe and Ingustad (the pitchers who served him those last two home run pitches)," said Don. "Yes, that's my first child. We're going to call him Mark. No, it won't be Henry."
"I don't know why I'm hitting home runs all at a sudden," the outpaw swinger added. "I haven't swung the same way. I haven't changed my batting stance. I guess I'm just getting more wood on that bat."

Mueller, hitting at 2nd, has slammed in home runs this season. Last year he hit seven. "Playing in a total of 87 games in 1948 and '49, he hit only one round tripper."

SMU Mentor Asks Tougher Schedule For Top Elevens

By HAROLD RATLIFF
DALLAS, (AP)—R. N. (Rusty) Russell, head football man at Southern Methodist, shudders when he discusses his 1951 schedule. Its toughest in the nation, he says.

Georgia Tech, Ohio State, Missouri and Notre Dame in a row opening the campaign, then six of those blood-thirsty Southwest Conference teams.

But that interconference schedule that finds the Methodists playing the first two games on the road—Georgia Tech at Atlanta and Ohio State at Columbus—then meeting Missouri in Dallas, only to hit the road again the next week to tackle Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind., is making even Russell's coaching colleagues in the Southwest feel sorry for him.

"I'd rather play the best ones even if I lose," Russell says. "Sure, we could get some set-up games but who would want to see them? My idea is that we play the strongest teams we can find and give the fans some football. If we keep on doing that, we might get to be on of them."

SMU always has played interconference standouts but, only the last five years have the Methodists taken on an average of four of the strongest teams in the country in each season. They just don't put the "warm-up" teams on their schedule.

SMU has played 17 of the nation's top teams, winning 14 games, losing two and tying one. Missouri beat the Methodists once and Notre Dame once, the latter winning by a touchdown in 1949 when it had what was considered its greatest team.

Russell hopes the home fans understand the situation—what it's a lot better to play the best even if you lose than to beat somebody 40 or 50 points.

The only objection Lester Jordan, the business manager of athletics who counts the money at the gate, has to this year's schedule is that it won't allow SMU to set an all-time attendance record.

Last year the Methodists played before 550,447 fans in 10 games—the all-time high. But SMU had five games in the Cotton Bowl where 75,000 can be seated. This year there are only four and the Methodists play in small stadiums on their road trips. Jordan figures a potential of 200,000 for the four games in the Cotton Bowl but outside of Ohio State, which can handle over 100,000, the other stadiums are comparatively small.

SMU isn't sure it can't beat its own record. Last year SMU had a record of 10-2-1 in 1950. Last year's record was 10-2-1.

Al Lopez Declares Tribe Slump Over After 3 Homers

CLEVELAND, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Al Lopez thinks the three home runs Harry Simpson, Al Rosen and Luke Easter belted on a cluster of four pitches yesterday snapped a hitting slump and put Cleveland back in the pennant race.

"I think that did it," said the Cleveland manager who previously had noted his club had to break out of its hit-and-run famine if it was going to stay close to the front-running New York Yankees.

The blow-off of Ned Garver's pitching—sparked an 11-hit attack and led to a 6-1 win over St. Louis. The victory pushed the Tribe to within half a game of the Yankees who still at Washington was rained out.

"We hit a good pitcher and he had good stuff," Lopez continued.

The 11 hits were the most the Indians had collected in any contest in their last 14 starts. Last week when the Yankees pushed them out of first the Indians averaged six a game.

Simpson smashed the first of the four-baggers, with two out in the third after Bob Avila singled. The ball lined to left field where Ken Wood missed a shoe string catch.

Rosen, next up, hit Garver's first throw for a ball and then rified the next pitch into the left field stands. Easter tagged the next one over the right field fence.

As the early-arrivals checked in and received their room reservations, they swapped yarns about the slump.

Co-Captain Clarence Hughes of Daytona Beach, did handcuffing after a turn at the ROTC Summer Camp. Co-Captain Joe Raffaele worked in a New Jersey postoffice. Quarterback Bill Johnson, of Waterville, Ohio, worked in a power plant and played baseball. Ron DeLilla, of Rutherford, N. J., and Frank Ringler, of Remerton, Ga., worked in home-town plants.

E. J. Leathers, of Belle Glade, mentioned along with Johnson on All-America teams last season, was in Jacksonville during the summer where he was gym instructor for underprivileged children.

Kermit Coble, of Greensboro, N. C., and Jim Nance, of Collingsville, Ala., were in summer school at Stetson.

Fulmer Armstrong, of Deland, worked in his father's mill and fished. Ron Fasaka worked in an open-hearth furnace in home-town Buffalo.

Jerry Gallagher, of Lake Wales, was a life guard; Tom Gibson, of Coral Gables, sold and installed stoves; Dick Hendry, of Ft. Myers, worked in a bank. Jim King, of St. Petersburg, was a fireman.

Dave Laude worked in a lumber mill in his home-town of Southwick, Mass. Red Lonsinger, of Des Plaines, Ill., sold black soil. Don Martin, of Toledo, worked for an oil company, and Sonny Parrish, of South Miami, spent most of the summer recuperating from an appendectomy. Del Reinke, of Lorain, Ohio, worked on the docks and Tony Samarkos, of Tarpon Springs, was a painter.

Will Ham, of Torrington, Conn., George Jochem, of Coral Gables; Bob Marks, Ft. Lauderdale; Joseph Land, St. Petersburg, and Al Sappia, Ridgefield, N. J., were all in construction work.

Twenty Five New Football Hopefuls Turn Out For First Stetson Session

DELAND, Sept. 3.—(Special)—Twenty-five football hopefuls, new students and transfers, showed their wares to the Stetson Hatter coaching staff on Hulley Field Thursday afternoon seeking a spot on the 1951 squad.

First practice session of the season is scheduled for Saturday when about 35 members of the 1950 squad are due to report. After two workouts tomorrow, Head Coach Joe McMullen and his staff will select the number of try outs to be retained. Assisting McMullen are Jay Patton and Wes Berner.

One of the 1950 pony backs, Gene Bowden, of Atlantic Beach, who dropped out of school last year to join the Army, is back in camp this year as his service desires failed to materialize.

A new man is Bob Wilbey, of Jeffersonville, Ind., whose family recently moved to Deland. Bob was a back on the Hanover, Ind., College team last year and will be a sophomore at Stetson.

As the early-arrivals checked in and received their room reservations, they swapped yarns about the slump.

Thoughts on LABOR DAY!

HARD WORK and STRAIGHT THINKING HAVE MADE AMERICA GREAT!

Within half a century, much of America's "labor" has changed from toil and sweat to skilled craftsmanship in great plants, using special machines and the world's greatest power supply. Today's American workers are at least ten times as productive as they would otherwise be.

...supplies the power and the great machines for most production. Cooperating labor has turned out the flood of goods that has given America the world's best living.

So we say, "More power to labor! You can depend on America's great private utility industry and its skilled employees to supply the added electric power needed to make America an even better land in which to work and live."

Key A-Sub Announcement

Seeks Russians to Punct

Expect Soviet Atom-Power

Claim To Be Made Soon

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—The Navy's sensational announcement that a contract had been placed for the world's first atom-powered submarine took a bit of the edge off Washington speculation concerning production of electricity with atomic energy.

Insiders had expected the Soviet Union to come up with an announcement—any day now—that it was using A-power to produce electricity. The fact is that the United States Atomic Energy Commission already is turning out "A-Juice," but has been unwilling to discuss progress in this direction because it may be some time before certain experiments will be considered conclusive.

There are three main reasons why the AEC has held back on any announcement about atomic electricity.

For one thing, the commissioners are very much averse to any "stunt" production of power. By that, they mean that the electricity must be economical. They point out that it would be possible to rig up an apparatus on any smokestack to produce electricity but that the procedure would have no significance.

For another thing, the experimental power plant at Arco, Ida., is producing 100 kilowatts of electricity successfully but there will be no guarantee that the power is economical unless it creates more atomic fuel than it burns.

In the third place, the rate at which fuel is consumed, possibly a pound a year, is so slow that it will be months before the fuel can be taken out to see whether the machine has created more new radioactive atoms than have been destroyed by splitting.

● ROAD WORK—Political insiders in Washington take it for granted that President Truman will light out on a transcontinental "whistle stop" tour shortly after Oct. 1.

Congress is expected to adjourn on that date, leaving unfinished some of the legislative business Mr. Truman has labeled as "must," and falling to satisfy him on other items.

Therefore the President is eager to go to the country with his side of the story and to complain in his tried-and-tested, off-the-cuff fashion about the Republicans and Southern Democrats whom he accuses of having gauged up against him.

The junket may be camouflaged as a tour of defense plants and military installations, but its political overtones will be obvious.

Several Presidential advisers, including Senate Secretary Leslie Bush, have counseled Mr. Truman that his popularity with the grass roots folks is on the rise and that now is the time for him to make a personal appearance tour.

Most observers expect the President to decide, from the reaction to his proposed trip, whether or not he will seek a return trip to the White House in 1952.

● ARGENTINE ELECTION—Diplomatic observers are looking for a flare-up of violence in Argentina when dictator-president Juan Peron comes up for re-election next February.

Travelers recently returned from Argentina report that discontent is more widespread than the government-controlled news dispatches would indicate.

They are not by any means predicting any overthrow of the Peron government, but they believe that Peron may have more trouble pulling back into office than he has ever had before.

News of the recent railroad strike was too big to suppress but the outside world hears little of the evidence that Peron is losing popular support.

For one thing, travelers insist that Argentinians are becoming increasingly tired of Evita, Peron's capricious blond wife. Some anti-administration congressmen have even dared ask publicly for an accounting of the millions of pesos allegedly poured into the Senora Peron's entertainment fund.

Then there are reports of inflation rampages with the cost of food especially high. This, in a land of agricultural plenty, is said to be particularly hard for Argentinians to bear quietly.

Jap Treaty

He is to deliver a five-minute treasury bond rally speech at 7:30 P. M. (9:05 E. S. T.) tonight.

Other developments:

1. Acheson, Ambassador John Foster Dulles and other top U. S. delegation officials conferred with Japanese premier Shigeru Yoshida last evening. They discussed the signing of an American-Japanese security pact which they long have planned to conclude after the signing of the peace treaty. The pact would provide for keeping American troops in Japan after the occupation ends.

2. Acheson, Australian Ambassador Percy Spender and Sir Carl Berenson, New Zealand's envoy to the United States, signed late Saturday a three-power mutual defense treaty. It extends America's already great security commitments into the Southwest Pacific.

3. The State Department in Washington predicted that in spite of expected Soviet opposition the treaty will be signed "in a matter of days."

4. Acheson, at an official dinner Saturday night, predicted peace going and broadly hinted that he will rely on Australia's Spender to help make the conference successful. Acheson is expected to be elected chairman and Spender deputy chairman.

5. The task of presiding over sessions in which the United States and Russia clash head on.

6. The possibility that difficulties for the United States will arise from negotiations other than that of Russia grew with arrival of Dutch Foreign Minister D. U. Stikker. He said would demand compensation Japan for more than 200,000 Dutchmen imprisoned during World War II and call for a settlement on Japanese fishing boats which they took from the reparations from Japan.

Japanese Premier Yoshida and his party, technically still World War II enemies, arrived Sunday. Diplomats said they will take no active part in the conference except to sign the treaty. Yoshida may speak then. To reporters he expressed hope "the peace conference will proceed and terminate successful according to schedule."

Delegates doubted that the Saturday deadline would be met. The prevailing prediction is that it may not be possible to have the signing ceremony before the following Monday or Tuesday.

And a signing even then depends, in the American view, on adoption of the rigid rules which the United States has drafted. It is seeking support for them from every delegation at the 51-nation meeting, except the three Communist groups.

The rules would limit speeches of each delegation to about one hour and would state, in effect, that the purpose of the conference is to sign the Anglo-American sponsored draft treaty.

Under this definition, Russia's proposals for changes in the text could be ruled out of order.

Until some rules are adopted, however, Acheson as chairman has no authority to run the proceedings. Thus if the Russians want to tie up the conference with marathon speeches they may try to do it before his power is established.

About 155 different jobs are open to enlisted men and women in the U. S. Army.

He commended Bradford Builders, Miami, for a "job well done."

Mr. Stemper pointed out that the part played by the City Commission in the construction of Castle Brewer Court had been one of co-operation.

The City Commission, he said, originally authorized the appointment of a committee, the Sanford Housing Authority, composed of the late Edward Higgins as chairman and other members of the County Chamber of Commerce.

This committee, at the request of the Public Housing Authority, was required to conduct an extensive survey showing the need for public housing in Sanford. The City Commission, he added, advanced the money at this time to conduct the survey, thus saving many months of time.

From the results of this survey, said Mr. Stemper, Castle Brewer Court was authorized. The Sanford Housing Authority, then acting as a representative of the federal government, secured a co-operative agreement with the City embracing agreements on land, streets, sewers and other facilities. These agreements have been substantially carried out.

He pointed out that the dream and realization of Castle Brewer had not only meant hard work but also resulted in temporary hardships on colored residents who were moved to other homesites so that the project could be built.

Among those cited by Mr. Stemper for their work for the project were the late Mr. Higgins, R. C. Cowan, George Williams, Volie Williams, Sr. and Volie Williams, Jr., Rev. McKinley, Harry Lee, Sam Martins, W. V. Hitting and Clarence Redding.

H. L. Duhart told of his association of more than 40 years with the late Rev. Castle Brewer, whom he described as one of the greatest colored ministers who ever lived, and who served St. Paul's Baptist Church for more than 44 years. He described Rev. Brewer as a meek and smiling man who was noted for his amiable disposition and co-operativeness.

Kaesong neutrality zone where they were held.

All charges have brought denials from the U. N. command. An official Communist note delivered Sunday night said that "if you are determined to break up the negotiations you should openly and formally declare your intention to do so, instead of ceaselessly carrying out such scoundrelly provocations."

It told the U. N. command: "If you still have the intention of resuming the Kaesong talks" he must "conscientiously and responsibly deal with the series of grave, provocative incidents."

Red China's Peking radio added to the scope of Communist charges.

Peking said an American plane bombed Manchuria and American warships entered Chinese waters. The broadcast said two bombers flew across the Yalu River border between Korea and Manchuria last Wednesday. One of them dropped a bomb in the Antung area of Manchuria, the radio asserted.

Peking said American warships entered North China waters the same day. The ships were alleged to have flashed their searchlights and shot flares along the Shantung coast near Chefoo, off the north coast of Kung Tung Island east of Chefoo, and off the east coast of Lung Kou Chen.

Previous Red charges centered on alleged U. N. violations of the Kaesong neutrality zone. There has been a long series.

Vice Admiral C. Turner Joy, chief Allied truce negotiator, added to the equally long series of denials Sunday night.

The Reds had charged that "South Korean troops" murdered two military police in the zone Thursday.

"If the alleged incidents of Aug. 30 actually occurred," Joy replied, "it is reasonable to assume they were perpetrated by the same group of irregulars that was involved in the incident of 19 August."

Holiday Deaths

Boat, with 56 persons aboard, capsized. Thirty-seven persons perished. Nineteen bodies have been recovered and 19 persons were rescued.

There were traffic fatalities in all but five states, Texas had 30 deaths reported, Ohio 23, New York 22 and Pennsylvania 18. The states with no deaths were Montana, Nevada, North Dakota, Rhode Island and Wyoming.

The Associated Press survey of deaths began at 6 P. M. Friday (local time) and will continue to midnight Monday.

During this period in 1950 there were 383 traffic deaths, 80 drownings, and 94 miscellaneous deaths, an all-time high toll of 557 for the three day labor Day holiday in 1949, the record for traffic deaths was set with 410 recorded.

The death toll by states; traffic, drowning and miscellaneous: Alabama 6-0-0; Arizona 3-0-0; Arkansas 8-1-1; California 17-4-3; Colorado 3-0-1; Connecticut 4-0-0; Delaware 1-0-0; Florida 12-3-0; Georgia 7-1-1; Idaho 3-0-0; Illinois 16-0-1; Indiana 9-0-0; Iowa 4-1-2; Kansas 2-1-0; Kentucky 3-0-2; Louisiana 5-0-1; Maine 4-0-2; Maryland 5-3-1; Massachusetts 7-0-0; Michigan 10-0-1; Minnesota 12-0-0; Mississippi 1-1-0; Missouri 16-2-1; Nebraska 2-0-0; New Hampshire 1-1-1; New Jersey 9-2-1; New Mexico 7-0-1; New York 22-7-7; North Carolina 6-0-2; North Dakota 0-1-0; Ohio 23-2-5; Oklahoma 4-5-1; Oregon 1-0-2; Pennsylvania 18-0-1; South Carolina 3-0-0; South Dakota 3-0-0; Tennessee 11-0-0; Texas 30-1-16; Utah 1-0-0; Vermont 2-0-0; Virginia 11-0-0; Washington 7-2-0; West we don't know the strength of the winds near the center." He said an Air Force B-29 would check the new hurricane this afternoon.

Meanwhile the Caribbean hurricane—number four—continued its westward movement.

The San Juan, Puerto Rico, Weather Bureau reports the storm, which formed yesterday in the same general area that spawned the hurricane that killed almost 300 persons last month, was located at 8 A. M. today about 225 miles south of Cabo Rojo, P. R.

Winds near the center of the tropical twister were estimated at 100 miles an hour while gale winds extended about 100 miles to the north.

The Weather Bureau predicted the storm would continue to move westward at a speed of about 18 miles an hour and that it would increase in size and intensity during the next 12 hours.

Land areas are in immediate danger and chief storm forecaster Grady Norton of the Miami Weather Bureau last night said: "Unless there is a radical change of direction it will be a long time before any land area is endangered."

Ships in the path of the hurricane were advised to avoid it.

Votes Are Lined Up To Prevent Disruption By Soviet Treaty Delegates

By JOHN W. HIGHTOWER
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Intensive behind-the-scenes negotiations today convinced American leaders, including President Truman, that they have the votes to defeat any Russian drive to disrupt the Japanese peace conference opening tonight.

The "puppet air force" is in the "Manchurian sanctuary" across the Yalu River border from Korea, headquarters said. A Public Information Office release from the headquarters of General Matthew B. Ridgway, U. S. commander, said the Reds have 70 divisions available on the battle line and in reserve—and may be preparing to launch a new offensive with this force.

Forty of the divisions, about 400,000 men, have been identified as on the battle line. They would be supported in an attack by the "puppet air force" and by artillery tanks and armored cars brought in Korea by the European volunteers.
