Wilcox Made Gift Of Tinted Photograph

The Seminole County Chamber of Commerce sent Congressman Mark J. Wilcox at Washington yesterday a hand colored framed photograph of two local girls standing in a celery field each holding several large stalks of fancy celery. The girls are Mrs. Andrew M. Carraway and Miss Camilla Puleston.

The trade photo recently sent a similar photograph to Congressman Joe Sears. It now hangs on a wall in his office, as does a membership card indicating that he is a member of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce. Cards also are displayed in the offices of other Florida solons in Washington.

ROOSEVELT GIVES REASONS AGAINST BONUS MEASURE

President Views Flat Money As Starting Of Orgy Of Inflation

(By Albert L. Warner) WASHINGTON, Mar. 17.—Pro-nouncing doom for the $2,400,000,000 bonus bill should it finally reach President Roosevelt, the White House repudiated uncontrolled inflation and for the first time acknowledged dangers which might result from report to the Thomas inflation amendment permitting issuance of non-interest-bearing notes to retire maturing government debt.

The President made it clear that he flatly opposed flat money to pay the running expenses of the government because it represents uncontrolled inflation. He believes there is an immense difference in so-called "baby bonds," or amortized non-interest-bearing notes issued to replace outstanding federal obligations, but he also takes the position now that such an issue while in itself devoid of offense, might attract winner of the Faville-Symes match, and Howard Faville against Mr. Housholder. In the second flight, Chandler Sharon won from Henry Zurflido, John Eick won from Dr. A. C. McReynolds, Jack Peters won from Fred Bolly, and Dr. A. S. McCallum won from Kirby Pitt.

Second round play in the second flight will be between Mr. Sharon and Mr. Eick and Mr. Peters and Dr. McCallum.

CONGRESS TO THE GENERAL USE OF PAPER MONEY FOR OTHER PURPOSES

The White House remarks on money were regarded as particularly important as a quietus, at least for some time to come, on speculation over the possibility of some form of "greenback" inflation. Discouraged by the orthodox financing operations employed by the treasury, this talk has been dying down for the last three months.

The President made plain that there was no question what would happen at the White House to the bonus bill with its provision for payment of the veterans in greenbacks. He was confident, however, that the Senate would prevent the necessity of a veto.

If Congress pays off the veterans with flat money this year, no valid reason remains for not paying off other people the same way next year, as the President said. He pointed out that there are a great number of people who made munitions for the government during the war working long hours in difficult conditions. It might be urged that they be paid off next. Then would come some other class of government employees.

Once the government starts paying in paper money, it would keep on doing so, the President said. Each group would demand the same special treatment of being paid with paper money.

The President also expressed the belief that the government and the veterans have a contract which should be fulfilled. This contract does not call for payment through a special currency issue.

Mr. Roosevelt's remarks were the first he has made on the subject of currency in some months. What he has to say now might be considered academic except that, with conditions still relatively unsettled speculation might be revived. When that speculation was at its height the President refused to discuss inflation or the Thomas amendment, contenting himself with indicating he did not favor "uncontrolled" inflation. With the devaluation of the gold content of the dollar much of the agitation for a currency issue, according to the observations of Administration officials, has tapered off.

ARMY PLANES AGAIN CARRY MAIL OVER U. S.

8 Routes To Be Flown Daily Under Strict 'Safety First' Rule; Ships Are Improved

WASHINGTON, Mar. 19.—(AP)—Eight laden Army planes again roomed over a skeleton system of airways with "Safety First" the order of the day.

Grounded for a week because of a ten man death toll now raised to eleven, Army mailmen took to the air again over eight routes. Flight operations were started during the night.

The War Department awaited a Board of Inquiry report into the crash which took the life of Lieutenant H. G. Richardson at Champaign on Saturday.

When Brigadier-General Oscar Westover, chief of airmail activities gave the word that his men were "all set," fliers were provided with carefully inspected planes newly equipped for blind and night flying and with improved radio facilities.

After a personal flying inspection over the eastern and central zones, and a conference with all zone commanders in Chicago, Foulke announced that he was well satisfied that "everything is in readiness to resume operations."

Brigadier-General Westover last night expressed himself as satisfied that the air corps was "all set" and would perform its duty with efficiency and safety.

Routes on which service was resumed are: Boston to New York, New York to Atlanta and Jacksonville, Chicago to Dallas, Salt Lake City to San Diego, Salt Lake City to Seattle and Portland, Chicago to Denver, New York to Chicago, and Chicago to San Francisco.

Depressions Are Caused By Too Much Thrift, Scientist Claims In Explaining Theory

WASHINGTON, Mar. 19.—(AP)—The seemingly paradoxical idea that "too much thrift" is the cause of depressions is the central point of a new theory of how to prevent them developed by Dr. H. C. Dickinson, retiring president of the Washington society of automotive engineers and bureau of standards scientist.

He has invented a machine which demonstrates mechanically that depressions are caused by excess application of the slogan "a penny saved is a penny earned." It is called the "economometer," and when a switch is turned it will stage a "sample" depression for you.

G. O. P. SOLONS WARN OF PRESS CENSORSHIP

Newspapers Of Nation Urged To Fight New Move To Throttle Them By Legislation

WASHINGTON, Mar. 19.—(AP)—Press censorship through both legislative and administrative actions were seen by Republican senators yesterday in pending moves in congress and under the NRA.

Senator Dickinson, of Iowa, charged the "sudden demand of the administration that all telegraph companies appear Monday to be placed under a new NRA code is the fourth attempt of the Roosevelt administration to censor the press."

Senator Schall, republican, Minnesota, asserted the federal communications bill now before House and Senate inter-state commerce committee contained a "new national libel law which can be used to gag the press of the United States."

Dickinson said Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator, had "failed to force censorship into the newspaper code" and was now "attempting to secure the same result by forcing a censorship on the telegraph companies conveying the news dispatches to the daily newspapers."

Boston Merchant Appeals For An End Of Threatened Strike In Auto Industry

PARI - MUTUELS HAD HEAVY PLAY AT HIALEAH PARK

BOSTON, Mar. 19.—(AP)—Edward A. Filens, prominent merchant and chairman of the New England district recovery board, yesterday issued an appeal to the American Federation of Labor and General Motors corporation to come to an agreement and avoid a threatened strike.

"All America looks to the great American Federation of Labor and the great General Motors corporation to prevent any such nationwide calamity, which would not only be a dangerous blow to the President's recovery program but seriously injure the morale of the whole nation."

"Industrial statesmanship of the highest order is needed on both sides; for the situation is unprecedented and calls for a courageous breaking of precedents on the part of both employers and employees organizations."
