Lennon's Slaying Stuns The World

NEW YORK (UPI)—John Lennon, the former mop-haired Beatle whose music set the beat for a revolutionary youth generation in the 1960's, was shot to death outside his Manhattan home by a man who earlier obtained his autograph on the rock star's new record album, police said today.

The assailant was identified as Mark David Chapman, 25, who was only 7 when the Beatles first burst upon the world stage in 1963 with "I Wanna Hold Your Hand."

Police said Chapman killed Lennon Monday night with a snub-nosed .38-caliber Charter Arms revolver he bought in Honolulu just six weeks ago. He was charged with second degree murder and scheduled for arraignment later today.

The bespectacled Lennon, who at 40 had launched a comeback with the album "Double Fantasy," fell to the floor of the vestibule of the exclusive Dakota Apartments, the cooperative turn-of-the-century building that is home to hundreds of celebrities in the city.

Police said Lennon's wife, Yoko Ono, looked on in horror as Chapman assumed

Shops Expect Run On Records

When an artist dies, one can expect an almost immediate demand for his work and a corresponding increase in price. Area record shop owners feel this will be the case with the recordings of John Lennon, who was tragically killed last night.

"There's no run on his records yet," said Albie Baker, owner of the Sanford Music Center, "but there probably will be. They'll be collector's items. They'll be snatched off the market as soon as possible."

Chapman, a former security guard who lived in Honolulu and was described by police as "a wacko," who had been loitering around the Dakota for several days in an area of the courtyard set aside for autograph seekers.

"Do you know what you just did," the doorman of the Dakota, whose facade was splattered with blood, reportedly asked Chapman.

"I just shot John Lennon," Chapman reportedly replied.

Police said Chapman bought the pistol, similar to a model used by detectives, six weeks ago at gun shop about a block from the Honolulu police station.

Police said Lennon drove into the Dakota's courtyard shortly before 11 p.m. with his wife. The singer had been at a recording session.

In the afternoon, when Lennon left for the studio, Chapman reportedly got him to autograph a copy of his latest album, which features a cover picture of Lennon and Ms. Ono in front of the Dakota.

When Lennon returned, police said, Chapman was waiting in the courtyard. As Lennon got in his car and walked toward the vestibule, police said, Chapman approached him, calling out, "Mr. Lennon?" They said he then drew the gun from his coat, crouched down and fired five times.

Lennon staggered about six steps to a small guard's office at the entrance of the building and fell face down.

Suspect Got Gun In Hawaii

HONOLULU, Hawaii (UPI)—An unemployed security guard bought a .38-caliber handgun in Hawaii six weeks before his arrest in the slaying of former Beatle John Lennon outside the musician's New York City apartment, police said.

Honolulu police said Mark David Chapman, 25, applied for a gun permit in October and bought the weapon at a shop just a block away from the Honolulu police station.

Chapman had no criminal record, so the permit was granted, police said.

Chapman, who lived in Alabama at one time, bought what police described as a Charter Arms undercover handgun, similar to the Smith & Wesson short-barreled "Chief's Special" used by police detectives.

The suspect, described as "a wacko" by New York City Chief of Detective James Sullivan, lived with his wife in the high-rise Kukul Plaza.

Mrs. Chapman, who spoke with reporters by phone and from behind the closed door of their apartment, said her husband had lived in Hawaii for four years, was unemployed and out of town but would not say where. She said she had heard of the shooting but had not been contacted by police.

Lennon, 40, was shot five times in front of his home, the Dakota cooperative apartments on Manhattan's Upper West Side, as he stepped out his limousine after a recording session late Monday. His wife, Yoko Ono, was with him but was not hurt.

Police said the young man apparently had been stalking Lennon for days and had asked for his autograph a few hours earlier.

Chapman was described in the police firearm purchase records as 5-foot-11, 195 pounds with brown hair and blue eyes.

Police said Chapman obtained a drivers license in the island state in 1977 and originally lived in nearby Kailua. Police did not know when he moved to Honolulu but said he complained of a burglary in his apartment in August.

McCartney: We'll Miss Him

LONDON (UPI)—Paul McCartney, who wrote songs with John Lennon that changed the sound of 20th century popular music and influenced an entire generation in the 1960s, said today "he is going to be missed by the entire world."

"I can't take it in at the moment," said McCartney, who provided much of the music for Lennon's words in songs that rang round the globe, breaking the racial, language and political barriers of every continent.

They had met socially and kept in contact by telephone, said Tony Hain, a British spokesman.

"The rift between them happened years ago," he said. "They respected one another's work. They went through an awful lot together."

"Paul is very shocked and saddened by what has happened today," Hain said.

Reporters and drove away from his country home south of London.

A spokesman disclosed McCartney and Lennon had recently patched up the "differences that led to the breakup of the Beatles and were 'great friends' again for the past year."

Local Legislators To Meet

Sanford To Propose Bills On Enclaves, Chemicals

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

The city of Sanford will be seeking legislation on annexation of enclaves and a grant of power from the state to local governments to regulate waste chemical storage facilities during the 1981 session of the Florida Legislature.

The Sanford City Commission Monday night authorized City Manager Warren Knowles to take both matters before the Seminole County Legislative Delegation at its Sanford hearing next Monday. The four-member delegation is to meet at 1 p.m. at Sanford City Hall.

Knowles urged the city commission to seek the general laws that could be applied statewide by all local governments.

The first would have the Legislature define the word "enclave," which has been a subject of controversy between city and county government for some years. The definition preferred by Sanford and other cities in Seminole County is "an unincorporated area completely surrounded by city territory."

Knowles told commissioners it is expected that the Florida Senate will adopt this definition. Seminole County Commissioners have several lawsuits in the courts now against cities, claiming they have created enclaves in annexation, which is forbidden under current state law.

The county definition of enclave is "an unincorporated area partially or wholly surrounded by county lands."

Knowles said Monday there are 15 enclaves within the Sanford city limits, which makes it difficult to provide

CHAMBER'S NEW OFFICERS

New officers of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce were elected today. Janice Springfield, outgoing president, passes the gavel of office to Dr. Earl Weldon of Seminole Community College, the new president. Other officers are Jack Weible, treasurer (left), and Bert Hollingsworth, vice president. The new officers will be formally installed in office at the Chamber's January meeting.

Waterhouse To Replace Hughes?

Elizabeth Waterhouse, assistant principal at Woodlands Elementary School, Longwood, is expected to be named principal of Sabal Point Elementary School, Longwood at the Seminole County Board meeting Wednesday.

Waterhouse was the recommendation given to superintendent William Layer by Superintendent-elect Bob Hughes, who is principal at Sabal Point.

The new principal will take over the position on Jan. 7. The salary range is from $28,348 to $29,535.

Waterhouse said Monday she had not been contacted by any school officials about the position.

Waterhouse said she applied for the job because she was interested in a principal position for a long time.

Waterhouse said with her 10 years of experience as an assistant principal, she feels she is qualified to be a principal.

Waterhouse is one of 10 applicants for the position.

A selection committee met Monday to screen the applicants. The top four candidates were interviewed by Hughes, Dan Dagg, assistant superintendent of instruction, and Mary Grooms, director of elementary education.

Quitting Smoking? Keep A Diet Diary

DEAR DR. LAMB—Often I hear people say that they're afraid to quit smoking because they will gain weight. My mother is a pack-a-day smoker and says that's the reason she can't quit. I realize obesity is a risk factor for several diseases but isn't cigarette smoking more dangerous than being a bit overweight? How does smoking affect a person's appetite? What causes a person to gain weight when she stops smoking? Is there a way that the weight gain can be prevented? Do people really have withdrawal reactions when they stop smoking?

Dr. Lamb

DEAR READER—The basic law of conservation of energy applies to smokers and nonsmokers. Specifically, energy in equals energy out plus energy stored. That means simply that the number of calories consumed in your diet is either used by your body for energy or stored as fat energy.

The principle reason that people gain weight when they quit smoking is that they eat more. Not everyone who quits smoking gains weight. If a person has adequate will power to control the nervous habit of eating, she is not so apt to gain any weight when she quits smoking. Now, it is true that there are some physiological changes in the body that are associated with improved health that may account for a few pounds put that's about it.

One thing that can help a person avoid this problem is to start keeping a daily diet diary while they're smoking. This means to list everything she eats or drinks every day. If you know enough about calories you can calculate the calorie consumption on a daily basis. Then when a person quits smoking she should make a very strong point of not increasing her calorie intake. In other words, stay on the same diet that she had before she quit smoking. Many people smoke because they have a steady, as a win-tergreen, added to it.

DEAR DR. LAMB—1 rub my face, neck and shoulders with 70 to 80 percent rubbing alcohol after shaving and showering to help in the control of acne pimples. Is there a danger to my lungs in the continued daily use of this alcohol since I usually cough after I've applied it to my face?

DEAR READER—No, it won't harm you. The cough is in response to irritation of the upper respiratory passages so it's unlikely that any significant amounts of the fumes would ever reach your lungs. Rubbing alcohol means by rubbing alcohol since this means different things to different people. But what you really need is plain alcohol that has no other ingredients, such as wintergreen, added to it.

Alan: "The lead might well have been a winner. Give East the spades of hearts instead of the king of spades and South would have gone down unless he went up with dummy's king."

From time to time over the coming months you are likely to experience strong urges for material acquisition. When this occurs, give them top priority. They'll represent periods of profitable potential.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Persons who perform work or services for you today may not meet your standards or requirements. If you deal with them tactfully, it could even make matters worse.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You'll have enough to do to take care of your own affairs today without trying to manage things for another. Beware of butting in where you're not invited.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Both you and your mate are apt to have very definite ways of how you want certain things done today. Unfortunately, your views could be poles apart.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) It's very important today to have the right attitude regarding your work or responsibility. A negative outlook will make all you attempt twice as hard.

A Fine Line In Anti-Pollution Law

The federal government can demand compliance with its anti-pollution laws even if it means putting a company out of business.

The decision touches only one aspect of environmental law, but the implications are clear for business and industry as a whole.

This has been a sore point with various industries for many years, arguing that the EPA should be more mindful of the economic costs attached to complying with environmental standards.

The court's decision was unanimous in upholding the law. Justice Byron White said in his written decision that the intent of Congress emerges in "plain language" in the 1972 act.

What is legal, however, is not always logical. The court does not address the question of whether the policy embodied in the 1972 act is right or wrong.

The court's affirmation of the EPA's right to ignore the economic implications of its own regulations comes at a time when the interplay between regulatory policy and the country's economic problems is very much on Washington's mind.

The new administration is committed to a review of regulatory policies which appear to create economic burdens that are out of balance with whatever benefit to the public health and safety they are supposed to bring.

But the nature of the mandate given to the EPA and other agencies to pursue environmental goals is another question, including the wisdom and the airiness of the do-or-die rule which the Supreme Court has just upheld.

There is another balance sheet that needs to be considered. There must be a clear risk to public health in such cases to justify putting people out of work.

Strange Tale Of Hostage

WASHINGTON — Largely overlooked in news reports about the 32 Americans taken hostage 13 months ago at the U.S. Embassy in Tehran is the fact that the Iranians are holding a 32nd American captive.

It's a long way from the quiet tree-lined street in Buffalo, N.Y., where Mrs. Dwyer lived with her husband and three children to the leering jail outside Tehran where she is presumably being held.

Mrs. Dwyer, a full-time homemaker, wrote frequently for The Humanist magazine at Buffalo State University. The couple was popular on campus.

Mrs. Dwyer is said to have been fascinated with Iran's Islamic Revolution and to have spoken in glowing terms of the Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini.

She thought the media was missing the real story in Iran by concentrating on the hostages and their revolutionary guards. The real story, she often said, concerned the common people, who were much happier and better off under the ayatollah than they had been under the shah.

Nothing has been heard from Mrs. Dwyer since she was taken from her room at the Hilton by revolutionary guards.

The Iranians have not spoken of the American woman since May 6, when she was publicly charged and tried.

U.S. Leaks Fueled Israeli Missile Project

WASHINGTON — The Central Intelligence Agency is probing the possibility that the joint development of cruise missiles by Israel, South Africa and Taiwan was aided by high-level leaks of U.S. technology to Israel.

The chief target of the CIA probe is the Air Force, some of whose officials are suspected of opposing the official U.S. policy of refusing to supply Israel with nuclear technology.

Now that it's known that Israel has been sharing its nuclear technology with other nations, the CIA may be given authorization to pursue its investigation of the suspected leaks to Israel.

One problem is that U.S. intelligence

The Deer Run subdivision, adjacent to Casseberry, continues to be the rope in a tug of war between the city and Seminole County.

In 1977 Casseberry annexed the 1,200-acre area, then undeveloped, at the request of the land owner. The county challenged the annexation in court, charging it would create enclaves or pockets of county land completely surrounded by city property.

While the legal battle continued, more than 400 homes were built in the Deer Run area and hundreds of families moved in.

Newly elected County Commissioner Barbara Christensen, a former member of the Casseberry City Council, said the people in the area are more than content to be in the city of Casseberry.

But so far the only residents of Deer Run or the surrounding area who have been vocal on the annexation have opposed it.

Christensen said she opposed to live in the city but the county. This was debated between city and county officials during their most recent confrontation on the matter.

At the same meeting, Seminole County officials expressed concern that it becomes more difficult to provide police and fire protection to county areas completely surrounded by city property.

County officials debate this and Sterling Park residents said they are happy and satisfied with the services provided by the county.

John Armstrong, president of the Sterling Park Homeowners Association suggested a survey be taken of area residents to determine how many favor the annexation and how many oppose it.

Commissioner Sandra Glenn said the commission needs such a survey to find out how the homeowners in the area really feel.

A straw ballot won't do any harm. But the annexation issue should not be decided on the basis of a popularity contest between the county and the city.

Entrepreneur Marc J. Robinson has interpreted Lake Mary's 574 to 236 vote against his proposed race track as a victory.

The commission needs such a survey to find out how the homeowners in the area really feel. The commission favored the idea of such a poll if conducted after the Jan. 5 Circuit Court hearing on the matter.

The block by Miami's Baumhower sent Monday night's game to overtime and resulted ultimately in the Dolphins' 16-13 victory, all but knocking New England out of the playoff picture.

The loss dropped New England to 8-6, two games back of Buffalo, the leaders in the AFC East, and a game behind the leaders for the wild card spot.

Houston is second in the Central Division at 9-5 and San Diego and Oakland are tied for the lead in the West at 9-5. The only other team in the conference with an 8-6 mark is Pittsburgh.

Miami Coach Don Shula wasted no time and sent in Uwe von Shumann, the game winning 23-yard field goal on the next play, three minutes and 20 seconds into overtime.

"At the end there, Woodley throws up a wounded duck that anyone could have gotten, and their guy makes a helluva catch," Erhardt said. "Woodley was a little more analytical. Durliel went out and made a little move and the defensive back (safety Tim Fox) came up."

"It wasn't that the defensive back did a bad job of coverage. He was right there. Durliel just outjumped him for the ball," Woodley said. "Harris said the catch was especially gratifying because he made it over Fox."

"He'd been flying late into the pile and taking late shots," Harris said. "It meant a great deal to put something on him. "It was a circle-curl takeoff pattern, and the coverage changed in the line of scrimmage," Harris said. "If the safety comes up and takes you, you take off!"

Fox's view: "I was responsible for the deep zone. I didn't think Woodley was going to throw it, but when he did I just wanted to get to the ball and knock it down. "I thought I had a good chance to bat it down, but I didn't." The game started out with a thrill every half-hour and New England took a 6-0 lead into halftime on field goals of 23 and 33 yards by Smith as the Patriot defense shut off the Miami attack.

"At the end there, Woodley throws up a wounded duck that anyone could have gotten, and their guy makes a helluva catch," Erhardt said. "Woodley was a little more analytical. Durliel went out and made a little move and the defensive back (safety Tim Fox) came up."

"It wasn't that the defensive back did a bad job of coverage. He was right there. Durliel just outjumped him for the ball," Woodley said. "Harris said the catch was especially gratifying because he made it over Fox."

"He'd been flying late into the pile and taking late shots," Harris said. "It meant a great deal to put something on him. "It was a circle-curl takeoff pattern, and the coverage changed in the line of scrimmage," Harris said. "If the safety comes up and takes you, you take off!"

Fox's view: "I was responsible for the deep zone. I didn't think Woodley was going to throw it, but when he did I just wanted to get to the ball and knock it down. "I thought I had a good chance to bat it down, but I didn't." The game started out with a thrill every half-hour and New England took a 6-0 lead into halftime on field goals of 23 and 33 yards by Smith as the Patriot defense shut off the Miami attack.

The Dolphins' 16-13 victory, all but knocking New England out of the playoff picture. The loss dropped New England to 8-6, two games back of Buffalo, the leaders in the AFC East, and a game behind the leaders for the wild card spot.

Houston is second in the Central Division at 9-5 and San Diego and Oakland are tied for the lead in the West at 9-5. The only other team in the conference with an 8-6 mark is Pittsburgh.

"We had a chance to win it and we lost it — it's as simple as that," moaned Patriot Coach Ron Erhardt in the dressing room. "We've got the best field goal kicker from inside the 30-yard line in the league and he had an easy chip shot and all I

Design A War Memorial

Some time between now and the end of next March, some United States citizen, 18 or older, will submit the winning design for a monument in Washington, D.C., to the 57,661 Americans who died in the Vietnam War.

The idea for a monument came from Jan Scruggs, 36, an equal opportunities specialist in the Labor Department. He'd seen "The Deer Hunter" in April 1978, and as he left the theater had a "flashback" — and the idea. At that moment, he says, "I found myself looking into the eyes of my dead buddies, remembering their names."

For a year, he knocked off Capitol Hill rounds, trying to find a sponsor for his project. Finally, he talked to Sen. Charles Mathias, R., Md., who was receptive. All 100 members of the Senate eventually co-sponsored Mathias' bill and it was signed into law last July.

The legislation dedicated a two-acre site just northeast of the Lincoln Memorial to the Vietnam memorial. No federal funding is to be required.

Scruggs, a Bowie, Md., native who was wounded while serving as an infantryman in Vietnam, became president of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund. Another Vietnam veteran, lawyer Robert Doubek, became the fund's executive director, aided by Mrs. Kathie Kielich.

They have raised about $600,000 of the $2.5 million they estimate they'll need to build the memorial. They also need a design.

The design should be relatively simple, something fitting for a quiet, semi-wooded area near the Potomac River, not too far from the stately Lincoln Memorial. The design must, of course, be political and it must have space for inscribing the names of all 57,661 Americans who died in the war.

Registration forms for the competition are ready and will be mailed to anyone requesting them now until the end of the year. You can also get one by phoning Mrs. Kielich or one of her volunteers at 202-699-1151.

The deadline for entries will be the end of March 1981, and the judges' decision will be announced at the end of April or early May.

Entry of your design in the competition will cost you $20. But there's a big payoff for the winner and runners-up.

First prize will be $20,000, second $10,000, third $5,000. As many as 15 honorable mention prizes of $1,000 each may be awarded.

Mrs. Kielich says it looks like "this will be one of the largest design competitions ever held in the United States." Many architecture students plan to enter, she says.

Here's the address to write for registration forms: Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund, Design Competition, 1730 M. Street, NW, Washington, D.C. 20036.

The Cardinals are still trying to put together a package for relief specialist Bruce Sutter and Commissioner Bowie Kuhn is still of the opinion that the free agency marketplace is driving baseball to ruin.

Following an early spate of trading activity, including the biggest deal ever cooked up involving the San Diego Padres, the swapping slowed in a hurry.

The Cardinals and the Cubs have apparently agreed privately to a deal in which Sutter, the former Cy Young winner, would go to St. Louis in exchange for third baseman Ken Reitz, outfielder Leon Durham and infielder Ty Waller.

Kentucky Vaults To Number One

NEW YORK (UPI) — The University of Kentucky, having knocked off two of the Big Ten's toughest clubs, was named the nation's No. 1 college basketball team today in a remarkably close vote by the UPI Board of Coaches.

In the first regular-season rankings, the Wildcats edged DePaul by a single point — 590 to 589 — in the balloting by the 42-member Board, representing seven regions of the country.

The Wildcats, the top team in pre-season, received 18 first-place votes to DePaul's 22 but were still able to retain their No. 1 ranking. Had DePaul not been omitted from one of the ballots, the Blue Demons would have assumed the No. 1 spot.

UCLA (495 points) was third, Maryland (two first-place votes), fourth and Oregon State (419) was fifth. Kentucky, relying on good use from their freshmen and strong play in the middle by Sam Bowie, stopped two of the most rugged teams in the Big Ten. The Wildcats defeated Ohio State 76-64 and then ended the week with a superb 68-66 decision over Indiana to raise their record to 3-8.

DePaul, with a 4-4 record, last week defeated Gonzaga and Santa Clara with Mark Aquilire providing the strength.

UCLA, 3-4, routed St. Mary's (Calif.), Maryland, 4-0, downed American, Wagner and Syracuse, and Oregon State, 4-0, beat Northridge State and Pepperdine.

Roundout to the Top 10, it's No. 6 Indiana (362), No. 7 Virginia (358), No. 8 North Carolina (238), No. 9 Ohio State (178) and No. 10 Wake Forest (143).

The Hoosiers, 2-1, who beat Murray State and lost to Kentucky dropped two slots from the previous rankings; the Cavaliers, 4-8, beat Radford and William & Mary to remain at No. 7; the Tar Heels, 5-1, advanced three spaces with victories over Mercer and Duke and a loss to Wake Forest; the Buckeyes, 2-1, stayed the same with a loss to Kentucky and a rout of Colgate; and the Demon Deacons, unranked in preseason, vaulted to No. 10 by winning the Big Four tournament in Greensboro, N.C., to raise their record to 5-0.

Roundout in the Top 20, it's No. 11 Louisiana State, No. 12 Texas A&M, No. 13 Notre Dame, No. 14 Missouri, No. 15 Iowa, No. 16 Michigan, No. 17 Brigham Young, No. 18 Georgetown and Minnesota and No. 20 Arizona State.

Besides Wake Forest, other newcomers to the Top 20 are a 1-1 undefeated Big Ten entrant, Michigan and Minnesota. The biggest nosebleed was provided by defending N.C.A.A. champion Louisville, which plunged from No. 3 to unranked.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Only one obstacle now stands between the Georgia Bulldogs and their first national championship — a group of Fighting Irish in New Orleans on New Year's Day.

Georgia, the nation's only major undefeated team, held on to the No. 1 spot in the final regular-season ratings Monday for the fifth straight week. With a victory over No. 8 Notre Dame in the Sugar Bowl on Jan. 1, the Bulldogs can clinch the national title and become only the second unbeaten team in Georgia history.

If Georgia loses, a number of teams can lay claim to No. 1, provided they win their bowl games. The best of those choices is Florida State, which advanced one spot to No. 2 after beating Florida 17-13 last Saturday.

The prime official business Monday was the draft of minor league players and Kuhn's annual assessment of the state of baseball.

Kuhn, in brief, said baseball's state was bad. The commissioner said a study of certified public accountants had assisted his office in studying the financial statements of baseball's 26 franchises in order to make some "conservative projections for the years immediately ahead."

The results are not encouraging," he said. "The analysis shows that even before free agency, player salaries were increasing at a more rapid rate than revenues. With the onset of free agency in 1976 this continued. The percent of increase in player compensation has been running nearly double that of operating revenues."

Kuhn said he fears a widening of the competitive balance because of free agency. Other than the San Diego-St. Louis deal — in which relief pitcher Rollie Fingers and catcher Terry Kennedy were the main names — Houston traded away third baseman Enos Cabell to San Francisco, chiefly in exchange for le handed pitcher Bob Knepper.

Dolphins Kick Patriots In Overtime 16-13

MIAMI (UPI) — The clock was running out and the score was tied. The snap was on target, the hold was steady, but somehow middle guard Bob Baumhower snaked up the middle and batted John Smith's 35-yard field goal attempt into the maw.

The block by Miami's Baumhower sent Monday night's game to overtime and resulted ultimately in the Dolphins' 16-13 victory, all but knocking New England out of the playoff picture.

The loss dropped New England to 8-6, two games back of Buffalo, the leaders in the AFC East, and a game behind the leaders for the wild card spot.

Houston is second in the Central Division at 9-5 and San Diego and Oakland are tied for the lead in the West at 9-5. The only other team in the conference with an 8-6 mark is Pittsburgh.

"We had a chance to win it and we lost it — it's as simple as that," moaned Patriot Coach Ron Erhardt in the dressing room. "We've got the best field goal kicker from inside the 30-yard line in the league and he had an easy chip shot and all I know is some guy comes up the middle and blocks the damn thing. "I guess I believe in jinxes," he said in answer to questioning about the Pats' 13-game losing streak in Miami's Orange Bowl stadium.

Smith couldn't offer any more insight into why the kick — not to mention the season — went awry. "I got off of a good high kick. I had my head down and I knew the kick was good," Smith said. "But when I looked up, the ball was rolling on the ground."

The "snap was good; the hold was good. I can't tell you what happened," he said. "What happened next was that Miami won the toss and the football to start the overtime period. Rookie quarterback David Woodley put up a pass on second and nine that Durliel Harris snagged over the head of Patriot safety Tim Fox for a 54-yard gain to the five."

Miami Coach Don Shula wasted no time and sent in Uwe von Shumann, the game winning 23-yard field goal on the next play, three minutes and 20 seconds into overtime.

"At the end there, Woodley throws up a wounded duck that anyone could have gotten, and their guy makes a helluva catch," Erhardt said. "Woodley was a little more analytical. Durliel went out and made a little move and the defensive back (safety Tim Fox) came up."

"It wasn't that the defensive back did a bad job of coverage. He was right there. Durliel just outjumped him for the ball," Woodley said. "Harris said the catch was especially gratifying because he made it over Fox."

yards by Smith as the Patriot defense shut off the Miami attack. Then in the third period, the Dolphin offense awakened to tie it 6-6 on von Schumann field goals of 27 and 24 yards and the real game began.

Russ Francis accepted a 38-yard scoring pass from Matt Cavanaugh, falling backward in the end zone between safeties Don Besalieu and Glenn Blackwood to make it 13-6 with most of the fourth quarter left to play.

Miami stormed back with a 14-play, 78-yard drive featuring two 21-yard completions from Woodley to Harris. The touchdown was scored when rookie tight end Joe Rose tipped an eight-yard pass to the end zone into the sure hands of Dolphin receiver Nat Moore.

Next came a Patriot drive, Baumhower's block on Smith's field goal, Harris' miracle catch on the five, von Schumann's field goal and finally, funeral silence in New England's dressing room.

Recipes Combine The Best Of Two Worlds

Give A Gourmet Twist To A Folksy Holiday Table

By KATHRYN LINDEMAN
Smithsonian News Service

This holiday season surprise your family and guests with some special dishes from the rich treasury of America's folk and regional traditions.

All these recipes are contributed by southern Georgians who took part in the Smithsonian's 1980 Festival of American Folklore this fall in the nation's capital.

The Festival provides an unusual showcase for the cultural traditions of native and immigrant Americans. You'll find that these recipes combine the best of both worlds, beginning with a hot mulled wine and proceeding to a German-inspired breast of veal or chicken, pepper jelly and old-fashioned sweet potato pie.

Marja Agner of Fitzgerald, Ga., who demonstrated winemaking at the Festival, started making wine with strawberries about 15 years ago when she noticed that some strawberries she had picked from her garden for freezing had started to ferment in the refrigerator. Now she makes red and white wines from grapes, especially the scuppernon, found only in the South.

HOT MULLED WINE

- 1 pint light red wine
- 4 cloves
- 1 piece cinnamon stick
- 2 slices fresh lemon
- Sugar (optional)

Put the ingredients in a stainless steel saucepan and heat the mixture until it gets foamy. Remove from heat before it boils and serve in cups. When using a glass or crystal cup, pour the wine over a silver teaspoon to prevent the cup from cracking.

BREAST OF VEAL OR CHICKEN IN WHITE SAUCE

- 1 pound breast of veal or chicken
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 4 tablespoons flour
- 1 1/2 cups broth from meat
- 1/4 cup dry white wine
- 2 egg yolks
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice
- Dash of white pepper
- Mushrooms (optional)

Cut the meat into serving pieces and place in pot. Add salt, depending on your taste. Cover with water, bring to a boil and cook half an hour to an hour until done. Set meat aside.

To prepare the white sauce, use a stainless steel saucepan. Melt butter, stir in flour, pour in broth and wine gradually, beating with whisk. Bring sauce to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer for a couple of minutes. Beat the egg yolks with a fork in a small bowl, then mix with a small amount of the simmering sauce. Add this mixture and mushrooms to remaining sauce and bring to a boil. Boil for 30 seconds, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and stir in lemon juice. Correct the seasoning. Add meat and simmer 30 seconds.

Serve with noodles or rice. For a more elegant dish, cut the meat into smaller pieces and serve in shells or over toast.

Peggy Miller from Sylvester, Ga., another Festival participant, makes a delicious pepper jelly which she uses as a sauce for meats, though she says she's discovered recently that "the young people like it with cream cheese on crackers."

Mrs. Miller got the recipe from "Mother Miller 30 years ago" and serves the jelly on special occasions — Christmas and Easter dinners, barbecues, church socials. She has won numerous prizes at county fairs for this tasty treat.

PEPPER JELLY

- 1 cup chopped bell peppers
- 3 chopped banana peppers, with all seeds removed
- 1/4 cup hot peppers, chopped
- 6 1/2 cups sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 1/2 cups apple cider vinegar

1 6-ounce bottle Certo or other gelling agent

Mix vinegar, peppers, sugar and salt and boil 20 minutes. Add Certo and cook 10 minutes. You can add a few drops of green or yellow food coloring. Pour into hot pint jars. Makes 6 to 8 pints.

Minnie Pearl Brown of Tifton, Ga., showed Festival visitors her special techniques for canning fruits and vegetables, including apple preserves and corn relish.

But, Mrs. Brown, who has 60 grandchildren, 18 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild, is also renowned for her baking skills. Her sweet potato pie is just one of many kinds of pies and cakes she can bake, Mrs. Brown says, "You name it, I make it!"

Using 9-inch pie crusts, Mrs. Brown gets four pies from this recipe, which she learned years ago from her mother-in-law, Della T. Hooks.

SWEET POTATO PIE

- 6 medium sweet potatoes
- 1/2 pound butter
- 3/4 cups sugar
- Dash nutmeg
- 1/4 teaspoon allspice (or 1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring)
- 1 cup sweet milk (or 1 can condensed milk)

Peel the sweet potatoes and cut into quarter-inch squares. Cover with water, boil until tender, then drain. Mash the potatoes in a bowl with a fork until smooth, then add the butter, sugar, nutmeg and allspice (or vanilla) and beat in a mixing bowl. Add the milk in small quantities until the filling reaches the proper consistency (similar to pumpkin pie filling — firm but not too thick). If the filling seems to be getting too soft, don't use all the milk.

Bake in a 400-degree oven for 20 minutes, until the crust is brown, then reduce heat to 350 degrees and bake 15 minutes more. Less time is required if you have a gas oven, Mrs. Brown says.

Christmas Stollen, right, is a make-ahead, freezable holiday gift treat that anyone would be delighted to receive. Individual cherry fruitcakes, right, top off a holiday feast or a simple family meal during the holidays.

Stollen Is Ideal Holiday Hostess Gift

Holiday party-goers can take a lead from European custom and give a baked item as a hostess gift.

In Germany, for example, many cooks include a Christmas stollen in their holiday baking for just this purpose. Here is a recipe that is ideal for those hectic days prior to feasting and gift giving. This stollen has corn meal added for more nutrition, plus the traditional candied fruit, raisins and nuts that make this slightly sweet yeast bread a treat. The recipe makes four loaves and the bread freezes well. In addition, you may make the dough ahead, roll it out and refrigerate for 24 hours before letting it rise. It requires only one rising, so you mix on one day and let rise and bake the bread the next day.

Decorate warm loaves with a glaze and candied cherries to add a festive look.

CHRISTMAS STOLLEN

- Bread:
- 2 packages active dry yeast
  - 1/2 cup warm water
  - 1/4 cup milk, scalded
  - two-thirds cup butter or margarine
  - 1/2 cup sugar
  - 1 teaspoon salt
  - 4 1/2 to 4 3/4 cups all-purpose flour
  - 1 cup enriched corn meal
  - 2 eggs
  - 1 cup chopped blanched almonds
  - 1/2 cup dried mixed candied fruit
  - 1/2 cup golden raisins
  - 1 tablespoon grated lemon peel
  - 2 teaspoons butter or margarine, softened

Glaze:

- 2 cups confectioners' sugar
- 1/4 cup lemon juice

Dissolve yeast in warm water. Pour milk over butter, sugar and salt in large bowl; cool to lukewarm. Stir in dissolved yeast, 1 cup flour, corn meal and eggs. Add nuts, candied fruit, raisins and lemon peel. Stir in enough additional flour to make soft dough. Knead on lightly floured surface 8 to 10 minutes or until smooth and elastic. Divide dough into quarters; roll out each quarter to form 9-by-7-inch oval. Fold in half lengthwise to within 1-inch of opposite side. Place on lightly greased cookie sheets; spread each loaf with 1/4 teaspoon butter. Let rise in warm place about 1 1/2 hours or until double in size. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes or until light golden brown. Remove from cookie sheet; cool on wire cooling rack.

For glaze, combine all ingredients, mixing well; spoon over warm loaves. Decorate with candied cherries, if desired. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 loaves.

(NOTE: At this point, dough can be covered with plastic wrap and refrigerated up to 24 hours. When ready to let rise, remove from refrigerator. Let rise in warm place about 2 hours or until double in size. Proceed as recipe directs.)

CHEERY FRUITCAKES

- 1/2 medium acorn squash, pared
- 1/4 cup all-purpose flour
- two-thirds cup finely packed brown sugar
- 2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon mace
- 1/2 teaspoon allspice
- 1/2 cup salad oil
- 2 eggs
- 1/4 cup walnuts
- 2 tablespoons red maraschino cherry syrup
- 4 ounces diced candied orange peel
- 1 cup red maraschino cherries
- Confectioners' Glaze
- Stemmed red maraschino cherries

In food processor, with blending disc, grate enough squash to measure 1 cup. Replace disc with cutting blade. Process flour, sugar, baking powder, baking soda, salt and spices until mixed. Add oil, eggs, walnuts, cherry syrup and squash. Process until mixed. Stir in orange peel. Place cherries in 10 greased and floured 5-ounce custard cups. Pour batter into each cup. Microwave 8 cups at a time for 7-8 minutes. Run knife around edge of cups and turn cakes out onto rack. Cool thoroughly and glaze. Set a stemmed cherry into glaze.

Conventional Method:

Grate squash with hand grater. Chop walnuts. In mixing bowl, beat eggs with sugar. Blend in oil, cherry syrup and squash. Mix together flour, baking powder, soda, salt and spices. Stir into egg mixture with orange peel. Proceed as above. Place custard cups on baking sheet. Bake in 350-degree oven 25 minutes or until cakes test done.

Confectioners' Glaze: Stir together 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar and 2 tablespoons cherry syrup until smooth. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 10 individual cakes.

TOFFEE CRUNCH SQUARES

- 1 1/2 cups sugar
  - 1-2nd cup light corn syrup
  - 1/4 cup heavy cream
  - 1/4 cup margarine
- Line 2 cookie sheets with aluminum foil. Grease foil. In heavy 2-quart saucepan, stir together sugar, corn syrup and heavy cream until well blended. Stirring constantly, bring to boil over low heat. Add margarine. Stirring occasionally, cook, until temperature on candy thermometer reaches 285-degree or until a small amount of mixture dropped into cold water separates into threads which are hard but not brittle.

Four on prepared cookie sheets. Spread with greased spatula to cover entire surface. Cool a few minutes until a film forms on top. Using a sharp knife, mark surface in squares.

Begin marking candy from outside and work toward center. With wide metal spatula, press along marked lines. Do not break through the film surface. If lines do not hold, cool candy a while longer, then continue to press along marked lines, pressing the spatula deeper without breaking film. When spatula can be pressed to bottom of candy in all lines, candy is shaped. Cool. Break into squares. Store in tightly covered container.

ORANGE GLAZED CARROT STICKS

- 8 to 10 medium carrots (1 pound)
  - 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
  - 1/4 cup chopped fresh onion
  - one-third cup packed light brown sugar
  - 1/4 cup fresh orange juice
  - 1/4 teaspoon salt
- Pare carrots and cut into sticks by cutting in half lengthwise, then into lengthwise quarters and eighths. In a large skillet, cook the carrots, covered, in a small amount of water until tender. Remove carrots from skillet. Heat butter in same skillet; add onion and cook until tender. Stir in brown sugar and orange juice; simmer 5 minutes. Add cooked carrots, sprinkle with salt, and spoon sauce over carrots until glazed and heated. Makes: 4-8 servings.

The Scotts Observe 59th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton A. Scott Sr., 136 N. 9th St., Lake Mary, celebrated their 59th wedding anniversary Tuesday at Lakeside Nursing Center, Sanford, where he is currently a resident.

The celebration was arranged by Edie Scott, wife of the couple's only child, Clifford A. Scott Jr., also of Lake Mary. The couple were married on Dec. 9, 1921. They moved to Florida in 1930 and lived in North Miami Beach for 40 years. They have lived in the Sanford-Lake Mary area since 1972.

Mrs. Scott is retired from Southern Bell Telephone Co. where she was chief operator at Hollywood.

Mr. Scott, a 32nd degree Mason, is retired from the United States Civil Service.

Make Yule Glitter

By JOANNE SCHREIBER

Special To The Herald!

Make Christmas even more special this year by creating beautiful tree ornaments from festive ribbons and your own original designs.

Ribbons are offered in the brightest of Christmas colors, in stripes, gingham checks, embroidered flowers, glowing satins, glittery metallics. Many are made of polyester, so they will remain crisp and beautiful for many seasons.

The designers at Offray ribbons have created four basic ornaments shapes for you to copy. Each of these memorable keepsake ornaments will become an heirloom. You can add to the collection from year to year.

These soft sculpture ornaments are created in diamond, triangle, square and heart shapes. The background fabric is white satin; bright ribbons are appliqued in place.

Cut shape from cardboard. Then cut the same shape from felt for fabric scraps, and hang one-half-inch for seam allowances. Applique ribbon design to fabric, using a straight, zig-zag or decorative sewing stitch.

Put cardboard shape with fiberfill and cover with fabric. Turn seam allowances over edges of cardboard and glue in place. Make a three-inch loop from six-inches of narrow satin ribbon and attach to top of ornament. Finish back with felt or fabric glued in place, covering raw edges. Add additional decorative bows, and hang on the tree.

You're sure to have leftover bits of ribbon. Use them in a garland—just like the interlocking paper rings beloved by kindergartners. Cut ribbon strips 7½ inches long. Alternating colors and patterns, make interlocking rings by sewing the ends of the ribbons together. One yard of garland requires about 18 loops, or 3½ yards of ribbon.

Handmade ornaments like these are marvelous small Christmas presents, for teachers, for children, for friends. Wrap them prettily and give with cheer.

To keep your ornaments fresh from year to year, just wrap them in tissue and tuck them away after the holidays. Make additional ones next year and continue to add to your collection.

You'll be starting a whole new Christmas tradition in your house.

Meeting On New Hospital Pleases Tesar

By DIANE PETRYK
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole Memorial Hospital Administrator Jim Tesar said this morning he feels the state's objections to a new hospital in Sanford have been overcome.

Tesar said Thursday's meeting in Tallahassee with Gary Clarke, deputy assistant secretary of health planning and development, "went very well."

Clarke told Nov. 7 that it would be more cost effective to renovate Seminole Memorial Hospital than build a replacement facility. He said the hospital could be adequately repaired and expanded for $8 million. So did representatives from Adventist Health Systems-

Sunbelt in their proposal to take over the hospital last year.

Tesar said he thinks the state now realizes a $6 million renovation is unrealistic.

"I think they were taking other people's word for it and didn't have the time to do their own inspection," Tesar said this morning.

Part of the problem, he said, was that Clarke was new to his job and didn't have adequate time to assess the situation.

Following many protests to rejection of the new hospital, the state Office of Community Medical Facilities sent its own inspectors to Seminole Memorial.

Art Forehand, and Ed Meadows, architects with the office, scrutinized the hospital last week.

"We found quite a bit wrong with the facility," Forehand said this morning. He said he discussed the inspection data with Clarke at Thursday's meeting.

"I'm sure he's giving serious consideration to the latest findings," Forehand said.

Clarke said earlier his decision on the matter could come within a week.

Attending the meeting Thursday, in addition to Tesar, were Seminole Memorial Hospital Chief of Staff Dr. Kenneth Wing, Seminole County Attorney Nikki Clayton, State Rep. Bobby Brantley, R-Longwood, and several officials of Hospital Corporation of America.

Clinic Selects Acting Chief

A temporary director has been named for the Seminole County Migrant Health Clinic following the resignation of Executive Director Anita Montgomery.

The clinic's board of directors Thursday unanimously named Bill Schomberg, 46, of Orlando, to fill the post until a permanent director can be found.

The board also named Dr. Enrique L. Matta Jr., of Winter Park, acting medical director for the clinic.

Schomberg said this morning he will be on loan from the West Orange County Farm Worker Health Association, Apopka branch.

"It's a 30-day contractual arrangement between the two clinics," Schomberg explained. "There has been a clinic-to-clinic relationship for some time. Both clinics serve the same type of populations."

Schomberg said his exact salary cannot be determined at this time because it will depend on the cost involved for the West Orange clinic.

Schomberg served as business manager for the clinic and served as acting director there whenever the executive director was not available.

Schomberg said there are problems at the Seminole clinic, but having just arrived he hasn't been on the job long enough to define them.

The clinic he said will continue to provide health care equal or better to that provided in the past.

"Preferably better," he said.

The Seminole County Migrant Health Center has been under fire from federal and local officials recently for incompetent management and delivery of questionable health care.

Montgomery resigned Wednesday citing "local politics and pressure from federal health officials."

Bryden Moon, newly elected president of the clinic's board of directors, said this morning the board voted last night to accept Montgomery's resignation and grant her termination pay through February. She will stay on at the clinic as consultant until then.

A major complaint against the clinic made by federal officials recently was that it had no permanent medical director who could obtain staff privileges at the local hospital.

Matta has been retired from full-time practice recently, but Moon said he has had "fantastic experience."

Matta graduated from Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia in 1940 and served as a major in the U.S. Army Medical Corps. He served an externship at Harvard Medical School and practiced pediatrics in Miami, Puerto Rico and New York. He was director of the Brevard County Health Department from 1976 to 1978.

Moon said the board decided Thursday night it will respond to the recent criticism from federal officials in Atlanta and "take corrective action."

The board also appointed a full-time search committee to seek a permanent executive director and medical director

PERFECT ORANGE FOR WISCONSIN?

Reaching for that perfect orange, Shawn Fartley, 7, a second grader at Idlewild Elementary School, picks the fruit for the class's pen pals in Wisconsin. Twenty-nine students from the class picked oranges to send as a Christmas present to their Wisconsin friends. Instructor Nancy Kyle said she found the ideal pen pal program through Weekly Reader. She said she wrote the publication to find another class of second graders who lived where it snowed. Each student in the class has a pen pal with the New Berlin, Wis., class.

Lake Mary Asks Probe Of Track

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

The Lake Mary City Council is calling on Gov. Bob Graham to order a grand jury investigation into the ownership of the two corporations involved with the proposed horse track in the city.

The city council Thursday night unanimously approved a motion by Councilman Ray Fox, seeking the investigation.

Fox is asking that the ownership of Mid-State Development Corp. and Harness Racing Inc. be investigated to determine whether any elected or appointed state official or staff member has any financial interest in the organizations.

The council is requesting that the investigation include a determination of any conflict of interest in the drafting and adoption early this year of an amendment to the pari-mutuel wagering law. The amendment denies enforcement of city ordinances on pari-mutuel wagering facilities in capital improvement programs.

The voters turned down the proposed track by nearly three-to-one. Robinson had said he would abandon the plan if city voters opposed it. The day after the election, however, he said he may proceed with plans for the location of the track within the city.

Councilman Burt Perinchieff said even though Robinson initiated the referendum, he now appears ready to "fly in the face of the will of the people of Lake Mary." He expressed concern that State Rep. Robert Hattaway, D-Altamonte Springs, was a leader in formulating the original legislation containing the amendment pre-empting city authority.

Hattaway noted today the amendment was sponsored by someone other than himself and referred only to existing racing facilities. He said he is willing to sit down with Lake Mary officials and discuss the issue with them.

Kelly Jokes About Tape

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Richard Kelly, R-Fla., says a videotape played at his Abscam trial in which he took a $25,000 bribe and stuffed it in his clothing probably won't make him a television star.

But reacting to the government's key piece of evidence against him, Kelly told reporters Thursday, "I was impressed with the fact that although I probably was no threat to any great TV star, my hand was steady. I probably would do all right at the OK corral."

"It's not funny, but I'm not going to lose my sense of humor about it," he commented outside the courthouse at the end of the fourth day of his Abscam trial. The trial was to resume today in U.S. District Court.

Kelly, Eugene Cuzio, of Longwood, Fla., and Stanley Weisz of Smithtown, N.Y., are on trial on charges they conspired to take $250,000 in exchange for promising the congressman would introduce private immigration bills for the next month.

See KELLY, Page 2A

Entrepreneur Marc Robinson of Longwood is an officer in both corporations. He has said Mid-State Development will construct the proposed $17 million racetrack facility and Harness Racing Inc. will lease and operate the facility.

The facility has been planned by the Robinson group for construction at Lake Emma Road and Interstate 4.

Robinson initiated a straw ballot question for the people of Lake Mary to vote on earlier in the month, seeking their opinions on whether the track should be constructed.

The voters turned down the proposed track by nearly three-to-one. Robinson had said he would abandon the plan if city voters opposed it. The day after the election, however, he said he may proceed with plans for the location of the track within the city.

Councilman Burt Perinchieff said even though Robinson initiated the referendum, he now appears ready to "fly in the face of the will of the people of Lake Mary." He expressed concern that State Rep. Robert Hattaway, D-Altamonte Springs, was a leader in formulating the original legislation containing the amendment pre-empting city authority.

Hattaway noted today the amendment was sponsored by someone other than himself and referred only to existing racing facilities. He said he is willing to sit down with Lake Mary officials and discuss the issue with them.

Consumers Discovering 'Prime' Time For Investments

While the prime interest rate is at 20 percent and is predicted by national experts to go as high as 25 percent, threatening to slow down the economy, those with $10,000 in invest are capitalizing on the interest rate.

Persons with $10,000 to invest in six-month certificates of deposit can earn 15.319 percent interest. They may take their interest in monthly or quarterly payments or order the banking institution from which they purchased the certificates to re-invest the interest money in conventional savings accounts.

Bankers locally were reluctant to predict where and when the prime interest rate will peak, but most expected the interest rate on six-month certificates will surpass last year's high of 15.7 percent and rest at about 16 percent. All said their predictions are for the most part "guesstimates."

"We are going to have fairly high rates for the both prime and certificates in the first quarter of 1981," said Howard still continued upward pressure on the interest rates.

"Retail sales are at a high point with the Christmas season. Retailers had to build up inventories for the season and most sales are on credit cards. In addition to high inventory, they are carrying high receivables (money owed to the businesses) and going to their banks for more money," Courson said.

He added there is a high demand for money and "disintermediation"—the flow of funds out of banks into other money markets—the interest rates will continue upward.

Interest rates on the six-month certificates of deposit may go up again next week, Courson said. He noted that prime interest rate goes up as a consequence of the increases in the interest rate of the certificates.

"I personally expect the rates on both to peak in the next 90 days in direct correlation to each other," Courson said.

It is extremely difficult for anyone to pay 20 percent plus for money. It absolutely stifles business development and expansion," he said.

Dot Brenner, vice president and branch manager for First Federal Savings and Loan of Mid-Florida, said: "This—the increase in the two interest rates—has to stop somewhere. There is no way the mortgage rate can come down if the certificate rate continues upward.

We are talking about February or the middle of March—toward the end of the first quarter—before the interests rates peak."

Tom Buckley, senior vice president and financial manager of First Federal Savings and Loan of Seminole, said: "I feel the prime will go to 22 percent and possibly higher. I'm looking for the money market to go through 16 percent before the end of this month.

"The last time there was this type of rate increase was in April 1980 when the rate of interest paid for six-month certificates of $10,000 or more was 15.7 percent. I think the rate will bust through that.

"I feel the rates will come down in the second quarter of 1981. There will not be a sudden decrease in rates as there was then," Buckley said. He noted the interest rate on certificates dropped during a six-week period in the spring 1980 from 15.7 percent to about 8 percent. "I don't think we'll see that," he said.

Jerry Poppell, vice president and branch manager of Tropic Bank of Seminole in Sanford, predicted the prime rate will go a little over 20 percent within the next month.

"I think it will peak at 20.25 or 20.5 percent by mid-January this time," Poppell said. He said the interest rate on the short term certificates will "sneak up a little bit more. After that I don't know what is going to happen."

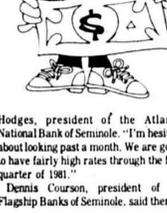

John Mercer, vice president of the State Bank of Forest City, said the prime rate will probably exceed 20 percent in the next couple of weeks. "The Federal Reserve is committed to make slow downs. It is going to continue with tight money until the money supply is reduced," Mercer said.

"Two branches of federal government are working in opposition to each other. Congress continues deficit spending and that increases the money supply. The federal reserve works to counteract this by increasing interest rates. If the Congress acts more conservatively in spending and balances the budget, the Federal Reserve won't have to react so radically to control the money supply.

Mercer predicted the prime-interest rate will peak at around 22 percent by the middle of January. "The certificate of deposit rate influences the prime rate," Mercer said.

According to Donna Smith of Atlantic Bank in Sanford the return on six-month certificates of deposit of $10,000 or more at the 15.319 percent rate will be as follows: for $10,000—the return will be $764.40; $11,000—$840.84; $12,000—$917.28; $13,000—$993.72; $14,000—$1,070.16 or $15,000—$1,146.60.—DONNA ESTES

Hodges, president of the Atlantic National Bank of Seminole. "I'm hesitant about looking past a month. We are going to have fairly high rates through the first quarter of 1981."

Dennis Courson, president of the Flagship Banks of Seminole, said there is
