Shopping Center In Over Protests

On a 3-2 vote over residents' strong protests, the Seminole County Commission approved a zoning change for 35 acres to allow the construction of another shopping center on state Road 436 near Casselberry.

The commission approved the change from an agricultural classification to a planned unit development (PUD) so a 300,000 square-foot shopping center could be built.

Area homeowners packed the commission chambers and protested the proposed center and criticized the commission for allowing uncontrolled growth in the county.

The reclassification from agricultural to PUD, rather than to commercial, allows the county to have more control over the development of the site — such as height restrictions. Richland Properities, Inc., of Tampa, planners of the shopping center, wanted the land designated commercial but county staff suggested the PUD designation.

The land, in the vicinity of state Road 436 and Lake Howell Road, is in a corridor along SR 436 designated in the county's comprehensive plan for off-highway commercial development such as shopping centers. The plan, however, recommends commercial development not intrude into nearby residential areas which are set back from the roadway.

Commissioners Bill Kirchhoff and Sandra Glenn cited the shopping center's intrusion into a residential area as their reason for voting against the rezoning.

"If Richland didn't have quite as much shopping center on the site it might have been all right," Kirchhoff said.

He said Richland designed a "very nice" shopping center but it is to be too deep, reaching too far from the road into residential areas.

He said there is not sufficient buffer area between the planned development and nearby residences.

The rezoning carries the proviso that Richland develops the shopping center with a 50-foot buffer of trees between it and the residential area and a masonry wall along Lake Howell Road. There are to be no exits from the shopping center onto Lake Howell Road, no trash bins on the Lake Howell side of the center, and the developer agreed to build a 100-foot park along Howell Branch Creek which flows through the property.

Arbor Ordinance Brings Property Rights Concern

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

Sanford's proposed arbor ordinance, designed to preserve city trees, is not yet formally adopted, but already the city commission is concerned about violating private property rights. The city commission on Jan. 28 gave its preliminary approval to the ordinance which would ban the destruction of trees three feet tall and six inches in diameter or larger, unless they are diseased, injured or within 30 feet of a buildable area, or unless a permit is obtained from the city. In the event of a dispute between city staff and the homeowner or developer, an appeal could be made to the city commission.

Final adoption of the ordinance is scheduled after public hearing at 7 p.m., Monday. The city's woman's club, garden club and Sanford's interested Sarahs to Encourage Rejuvenation (SISTERs) have endorsed the ordinance.

Commissioners at a workshop earlier this week, however, said they have received letters and telephone calls from constituents opposing the ordinance.

Commissioner Robert Thomas, prefaced his remarks by saying, "I love trees," adding developers are "ravishing the land (of trees and should be stopped), but "we should back away from private property owners."

Commissioner Milton Smith said the city should act in an advisory capacity with private property owners as far as trees are concerned and Commissioner John Mercer said individual homeowners do not cause problems with destroying trees.

Commissioner David Farr, who has opposed the ordinance because "it interferes with resident's property rights," said he is afraid the ordinance can be misused.

City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles said problems can develop whereby the city could get involved in a dogfight among neighbors. He said if neighbors are squabbling and one happens to cut down a tree, the city may be dragged into the fray.

Knowles also said if the ordinance is enforced with common sense as the city commissioners have indicated they desire, there should be no problem.

The discussion began after a memo from Knowles reminding it will cost the city about $28,000 annually to enforce the law and to issue permits.

Knowles said a new car would have to be purchased for the

Police Crash Probe: The Findings And The Results

By Tom Giordano
Herald Managing Editor

Although a Sanford Police Department investigator is convinced two officers whose police cars crashed head-on in early January were playing "hide and seek" with each other just before the collision, he apparently can't prove it.

That's because there were no witnesses to the accident, and one of the two officers involved denies it, while the other says he can't remember, according to Police Chief Ben Butler. It was Chief Butler who originally ordered an internal investigation into the accident because, according to internal documents, the chief was suspicious about how the two police cars collided.

And, there's much more resulting from the internal investigation than was originally reported. Here's what the investigation reveals, according to those internal documents, and what resulted from those findings:

● The findings: At least one officer, Patrolman Paul Little who was working the same shift when the accident occurred shortly after 6:30 a.m. on Jan. 6, admitted to firing off a "bottle rocket", a firecracker attached to a 12-inch stick, at the lieutenant, R. J. Nooney, whose car was involved in the pre-dawn accident. The firecracker

On Jan. 6 two Sanford police cars were involved in a pre-dawn crash, injuring two officers. Details on the accident were released today. They are:

WHO: Drivers: Lt. Richard Nooney and officer N.J. Raby.

WHAT: Head-on collision.

WHERE: Myrtle Ave., and 7th St., Sanford.

WHEN: Jan. 6, 6:42 a.m.

HOW: Nooney was eastbound on 7th St. traveling about 20 mph. He looked through the rear window, drove through a stop sign, turned south onto Myrtle and drove about 35 feet when his car rammed Raby's patrol car, northbound on Myrtle. The investigating officer said the officers were playing "cat and mouse" games and "hide and seek" with their cars' headlights off.

incident occurred about 15 minutes before the accident, according to the reports. Little is a six-year veteran of the force, according to Butler, who said the investigation concluded the firecracker incident was not related to the subsequent accident.

● The result: Chief Butler says he has placed a written reprimand in Little's personnel file "and that will stay part of his record throughout his professional career." Three written reprimands filed against an officer may result in dismissal, Butler said.

● The findings: The headlights of not one, but both, police cars were turned off when they collided; and it apparently has been common practice for night-shift officers to patrol in their cars — sometimes for as much as three hours at a time — with the headlights off, according to officers' sworn statements. However, while the officer conducting the internal investigation, Det. Sgt. Bill Hasson, says he is convinced the headlights of both cars were turned off before the accident occurred, and that the officers were "...playing hide and seek on the streets with their lights out prior to the accident." Butler says that can't be proved. That's because the other officer involved in the accident, Patrolman N. J. Raby, who sustained a head injury, claims he cannot recall anything that occurred prior to the accident and doesn't remember if his car's headlights were off. "There's no way for us to prove it, or disprove Raby's statement," Butler said, although Hasson says in his report he doesn't

Military Retirement A Scandal, Stockman Tells Senate Panel

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Budget director David Stockman angrily criticized spending in areas with broad constituencies, charging that the military retirement system is a "scandal" and farm price supports are merely a taxpayer bailout.

Stockman came to the Senate Budget Committee Tuesday to make the case for President Reagan's new $973.7 billion budget, which cuts many domestic programs but includes a $30 billion increase for the military.

Congressional Budget Office director Rudolph Penner was scheduled to see the senators today.

Stockman walked in step with Reagan when it comes to farmers, as the fiscal 1986 budget calls for slashing farm programs. But he broke with his boss when he went after military retirement.

"It's a scandal. It's an outrage," Stockman said. "The institutional forces of the military are more concerned about protecting their retirement than '...the military are more concerned about protecting their retirement than they are about protecting the security of the American people.'

—David Stockman

they are about protecting the security of the American people.

"When push comes to shove, they give up on security before they give up on retirement," he said.

Stockman later said he was expressing his personal opinion on military retirement and said the president does not agree with him.

Despite a proposal in the budget for a one-year cost-of-living freeze in most retirement programs, including veterans benefits, the president's budget envisions spending $18.3 billion of its $313.7 billion Pentagon budget on military retirement in fiscal 1986.

Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger, told of Stockman's comments, said the military retirement provisions in Reagan's budget are "proper," and said, "There's no scandal that I know of."

Reagan's farm proposal would cut spending for farm subsidies by almost 50 percent over the next five fiscal years.

The proposal would phase down government involvement in agricultural pricing so farm prices would be set in the

Reagan Readies State Of Union Address

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan, celebrating his 74th birthday today, is expected to present a conciliatory blueprint for the first year of his second term in his State of the Union address at 9 p.m.

The address will be covered by all three television networks.

With Congress, including many Republicans, taking pot shots at his domestic budget cut proposals, Reagan will lay out a broad view of his hopes for 1985 on both national and international issues, a senior official said.

The State of the Union address, a constitutional requirement traditionally delivered in the House chamber to a joint session of Congress with the Cabinet and diplomatic corps attending, usually comes before submission of the budget.

This year, however, it follows the budget and a week of posturing by congressional leaders and the president himself over specific programs.

"This will be a little broader in scope, a little more open in appealing to all Americans" than the laundry list of programs a president usually presents in his annual message to Congress, the official said.

Reagan will express "a strong commitment to tax reform," supporting the concept of a modified flat tax — a single rate paid by all taxpayers in several different brackets — and will re-emphasize his determination to slash the deficit by cutting government spending, except in defense, the official said.

The speech also will emphasize "the search for peace with arms control," the official said. The president likely will call for renewed aid to rebels trying to overthrow the government of Nicaragua and for the government of El Salvador, fighting off left wing rebels.

The official Reagan has worked on several drafts of the speech, first put together under the aegis of departed aides James Baker and Richard Darman.

Chief of staff Donald Regan told reporters Tuesday, "I think you'll find it'll be a good speech."

The official said, "The speech will be a very statesmanlike review of the state of the union and he won't indulge in criticism" of congressional opponents of his severe domestic budget cuts and freezes.

At a ceremony Tuesday when he signed the Economic Report of the President, Reagan lamented criticism that the defense budget had not been cut more, though he claims it is $30 billion less than what was first considered.

'Old Men, Women And Children' Took Toll Of U.S. Troops In Nam

NEW YORK (UPI) — Up to half the U.S. soldiers killed in the Vietnam war died at the hands of "old men, women and children" Gen. William Westmoreland refused to count as enemy troops, a senior American intelligence officer says.

Col. Donald Blaacak, now chief of U.S. intelligence for the Army's Fifth Corps in Frankfurt, West Germany, testified Tuesday at Westmoreland's $120 million libel trial against CBS.

At issue in the 17-week-old trial is a documentary entitled "The Uncounted Enemy: A Vietnam Deception." The program accused Westmoreland of reducing the estimate of communist troop strength to make it appear the United States was winning a war of attrition and convince President Johnson to commit more U.S. troops.

A major argument in the trial has been whether the Self Defense and Secret Self Defense forces, or "home guard" of the Viet Cong, should have been counted in the official estimate of enemy strength.

Westmoreland refused to count these irregular forces, regarding them as "old men, women and children" who did not play a major role in combat.

Blaacak said "they (irregulars) lived with them (regular troops). They were considered a military threat."

Reagan's Cabinet Shaping Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Edwin Meese and two other nominees for Cabinet posts have glided through Senate committees and a fourth, Education Secretary-designate William Bennett, is due for certain approval today.

Senate committees approved the nominations Tuesday of Meese as attorney general by a 2-1 ratio, and Donald Hodel for interior and John Herrington for energy unanimously.

Bennett won committee approval last week and the Senate was to consider his nomination today.

Senate Republican leader Robert Dole said he hoped the Senate also could act on the Hodel and Herrington nominations today.

Meese's nomination, which went through two sets of confirmation hearings a year apart, likely will be considered within days after the Senate returns Feb. 18 from the President's Day recess.

The Senate has not rejected a Cabinet nomination since 1959.

Bragging Gets Thief Jailed

BOSTON (UPI) — Frances James knew she recognized the story of a purse snatching and shooting she overheard a teenager boasting about on the subway. Her daughter was the victim.

"He was telling the story verbatim like my daughter had told me," said James, 55, whose 21-year-old daughter Mary was mugged and shot in the back Thursday in a holdup outside a subway station.

The bullet only grazed her back, passing through several layers of clothing but leaving her uninjured.

"It's incredible but it's true," said James, a guard at Charles Street Jail for seven years, who later pointed the suspect out to police.

James followed the youth, 14, off the train at a downtown stop and called police, but he disappeared. She later scouted around, spotted him and grabbed another officer to arrest him.

Bureaucrats Dressed Down; Cabinet Backs Teachers

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — With a blast at the state education bureaucracy, Gov. Bob Graham and the Cabinet have come to the aid of more than 4,000 teachers whose applications to take the new master teacher's test were rejected for omitted zip codes and like technicalities.

Bitling as the state Board of Education, Graham and the Cabinet Tuesday instructed the Department of Education to take steps to give the rejected applicants another chance to compete for the extra pay master teachers will receive under the new program.

Education Commission Ralph Turlington defended his agency, saying its hands were tied legally by the language of the rule adopted by Graham and the Cabinet last fall to implement the master teacher program. That rule requires a "complete application."

Other education officials said they have been hampered by a lack of time for processing applications and developing the master teacher tests. They also said they had only two permanent staffers and two telephone lines to handle a potential pool of 40,000 applicants.

Killer Escapes Chair Again

STARKE (UPI) — Condemned killer Carl Ray Songer, who was scheduled to die at 7 a.m. today, will escape Florida's electric chair a third time, believed to be the only man to do so.

The 11th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Atlanta Tuesday granted Songer a stay to give it time to consider the similar appeal of another Florida death row inmate, James Ernest Hitchcock. Songer, convicted of running down a rookie highway patrolman in 1973, had escaped execution with last-minute reprieves twice before under previous death warrants.

Hitchcock's case, like Songer's, tests whether a 1978 Supreme Court ruling broadening the admissibility of mitigating evidence in sentencing hearings should be retroactive. The judge who sentenced Songer to death ruled the Supreme Court decision was not retroactive and had no effect on his decision to bar certain evidence favorable to Songer from the sentencing phase of Songer's 1974 trial.

Fire Splits Up Student Body

INVERNESS (UPI) — The 1,200-member student body of Citrus High School will be split up with students attending school in four separate locations as a result of a fire that destroyed one-third of the classrooms.

The students received an unexpected vacation as a result of the fire early Tuesday, but will resume classes Monday.

School officials huddled over the classroom problem Tuesday and came up with a plan that will include bussing some students and using some extra hospital rooms as classrooms.

Teen Tried As Adult For Rape

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer
Trial began today in the case of a 18-year-old Longwood boy charged with the rape of an 18-year-old Longwood woman and the burglary of her home.

The case is not being held in juvenile court because the boy, Williams R. Dukas Jr., is charged as an adult. The case is being tried before semi-retired Circuit Judge Volie Williams and a two-man, four-woman jury.

According to sheriff's investigators, the victim reportedly recognized a man who entered her bedroom at 3:20 a.m. Oct. 23. The suspect closed and locked the door of the woman's bedroom, pushed her down on the bed and held a screwdriver to her throat as he raped her, deputies reported.

The woman told deputies she frightened the suspect by screaming and he jumped out a bedroom window and fled.

When deputies arrived at the woman's home at 3:30 a.m., she gave them the suspect's name, description and a description of his car.

A Longwood officer spotted the suspect's vehicle and stopped him on E.E. Williamson Road, Longwood, at 3:35 a.m. A screwdriver and a pair of bloody men's underwear were found in the car.

If convicted, Dukas faces 4½ to 5½ years in prison.

In other court action, a Longwood man was found guilty of lewd and lascivious assault on a child. And in a separate case an Orlando man pleaded guilty to committing a lewd and lascivious act in the presence of a child.

A jury took about an hour to convict John Seasuma Worling of the assault on an 11-year-old girl.

During the trial, the girl testified that Worling, 51, of 318 Heather Drive, fondled her repeatedly on two occasions — Dec. 26, 1983, and Sept. 3, 1984.

The girl was composed as she stood up in the witness box and identified Worling. She told the court and seven jurors that on those dates she and her younger cousin went to Worling's house to play with computer games and use a swing. Her cousin lives in Longwood.

It was while she, her cousin and several other kids took turns swinging on a swing near his house that the assaults occurred, she said.

The girl, from Orlando, testified that each time she took her turn at the swing, Worling put his hand under her, and "tickled" her even though she told him to stop.

Worling testified he put his hand there to protect her from the single-rope swing. She told the court that she mentioned the incidents to her mother after the two watched a television show about child abuse.

Worling, a realtor, could receive up to a year in the county jail when sentenced. He also faces numerous charges involving sexual acts with other children.

In a separate case, Danny Edwards, now of Orlando but formerly of 517 Eldorado Way, Casselberry, pleaded guilty to a lewd and lascivious act in the presence of a child.

According to court records, he prompted a 10-year-old girl to touch him in the genital area.

The incidents occurred in his home between Sept. 13 and 20, 1983.

Edwards could receive up to a year in the county jail when sentenced by Circuit Judge Dominick J. Salfi.

Conservatives Cheered By Buchanan's New Job

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Buchanan will be only one of several advisers who have Regan's ear, "and his opinion may or may not hold."

Conservative and architect of the Nixon administration's blistering attacks on the press, will be plotting media strategy for President Reagan as White House communications director.

Reporters winced and conservatives cheered Tuesday as White House chief of staff Donald Regan announced Buchanan, a feisty columnist and television commentator, will take control of speechwriting and presidential image-shaping.

"I was looking for a good communicator and he fit the bill," Regan explained.

Buchanan will direct long-range media planning — deciding what messages to convey and how best to sell the president's programs to the public. Deputy press secretary Larry Speakes will handle day-to-day contact with reporters.

But the appointment installs Buchanan as the leading conservative voice in the White House as the president adapts to an exodus of longtime aides and surrounds himself with a staff of relative newcomers headed by Regan.

"To the extent that Pat Buchanan has his views, he will represent them strongly," Regan told reporters. He stressed

Murder Suspect Captured; Companion Still At Large

ORLANDO (UPI) — One of two Indian River men charged with first-degree murder was in custody today, but his companion remained at large after escaping from a police dragnet.

Steven Wonder, 20, and Carl Edward Schuck, 18, both of Sebastian, a small town north of Vero Beach, were charged with the Saturday night slaying of a service station attendant during a robbery at Dunford in north Indian River County.

Wonder was captured by Orlando police Tuesday morning after he was surprised by a patrolman responding to a report of a residential burglary.

A police spokesman said patrolman J.R. Smith did not see Schuck but he was believed to have been with Wonder at the time and escaped as Smith was capturing Wonder and a 14-year-old female companion.

Police said Wonder almost killed Smith, missing him with a shot fired at his head from point-blank range.

Smith said he spotted Wonder when he arrived at the house in an older residential area near downtown Orlando, and ordered him to stop.

He said Wonder spun around and fired at his head but missed, then started to run.

Smith gave chase but by the time he caught up with Wonder, the fugitive had no weapon.

Wonder and the girl, who was not identified because of her age, were taken to a nearby fire station and police cordoned off a two-square-block area in the search for Schuck. They thought they had Schuck cornered in a house, but when they stormed the residence, it was empty.

City Manager Review Committee Seeks Guidance, Comes Away With Applause

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

A special citizens' advisory commission went to the Sanford City Commission for help in reviewing applications of city manager hopefuls, but came away with none. Instead, it received applause for its work so far.

After nearly an hour meeting with commissioners, the committee's three women — Sara Jacobson, Shirley Schilke and Eliza Pringle — and two men — former City Commissioner Eddie Keith and Circuit Judge S. Joseph Davis Jr. — left city hall with few answers to their questions.

They also left with a "no" response to their suggestion that they be allowed to check out references of the most qualified applicants by using city telephones.

Commissioner Milton Smith said the commission will handle that chore after the committee recommends the 10 top applicants.

The group asked for guidance on "in-depth criteria, specific field experience and talent" the commission is looking for in a new city manager who will replace 32-year veteran W.E. "Pete" Knowles who is retiring April 30.

All they got were comments from Commissioner David Farr who said the manager should be an administrator and not a teacher and Commissioner John Mercer who said the manager should have communication skills, both verbal and written.

In response to Ms. Jacobson's report that the committee is meeting daily and may have a report of its 10 recommendations by next week, Mayor Betty Smith asked commissioners whether the city "would spring for the cost of providing sandwiches" for the group to eat as they work.

Before any answer could be given, however, Davis said, "We'll buy our own sandwiches."

Meanwhile, Farr got nods of agreement from his colleagues that the commission will "thumb through" all 101 applications for the job after receiving the committee's recommendations.

Ms. Jacobson said the new manager must be "almost godlike, flexible and foresighted."

She explained how the committee has placed each application in the category it seems to fit. The first category includes those who fill the advertised requirements of a master's degree in public administration or a related field and four years top experience. Some 46 of the applications fall into this category.

The second contains applications from those with a master's degree, but who are not city managers or administrators. She said most of these 13 are assistant city managers.

The third — those with master's degrees, but who have not been a city manager, city administrator or who have less than four years experience — contains 14 applicants.

The fourth category of 20 have related experience and the fifth category of 8 have no degrees and unrelated experience.

Ms. Jacobson said most of the hopefuls fall into the 35-to-55-year age group and most are "heavy in background experience."

Farr commended the group for its scientific approach to the screening process. Commissioner John Mercer said he also commended the group and would give it his vote of confidence.

The job of screening city manager applicants fell solely to the advisory committee after the Florida Association of City and County Management pulled out of the process. The association had agreed to name three experienced city managers to screen the applications and recommend the top 10, but declined to participate, apparently insulted that its work would be reviewed by a citizens group.

Moderation In Quebec

Fifteen years ago, French Canadians rioted in the streets, a government minister was kidnapped and murdered by separatist terrorists, and it looked then, and for many years afterward, as if Canada might literally be torn apart by the most divisive issue ever to face this country's northern neighbor.

Times have changed. Quebecers have turned steadily away from confrontation with Canada's central government, which long has been dominated by Anglophone Ontario. This change reflected in a nearly two-thirds decline in membership of the governing Parti Quebecois, and by a recent poll showing only 4 percent of Quebec's French-speaking voters favoring independence — has come about partly because continuing economic hard times have caused people to concentrate more on bread-and-butter issues and less on such questions as whether merchants should be allowed to advertise their wares in English as well as French.

In any case, the Parti Quebecois, which was founded on the single issue of creating an independent Quebec, has pulled back from a party resolution adopted last year announcing it would campaign in the next provincial election (expected in 1988) principally on the issue of Quebec sovereignty. Instead, the party conference, which met recently, watered down the resolution to a statement that independence is a "fundamental objective" but will not be made the "raison d'être" of the party's campaign.

Ironically, this moderate shift, which won a better than 2-1 majority, was led by provincial Premier Rene Levesque, once the most hardline separatist of all. That doesn't mean that Levesque and his followers are abandoning independence altogether, or that the rank and file will necessarily fall meekly into line. A large group of delegates stormed out of the party conference declaring that "our party has been stolen from us."

So long as substantial numbers of Quebecers see themselves as second-class citizens, the threat of a separatist resurgence remains. But clearly, Canada, thanks largely to the efforts of former Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau, himself a bilingual Quebecer, has turned an important corner in reconciling the interests and deep ethnic diversity of the country's two principal groups.

Veil Over Vail

One expects to see smog in Los Angeles or Denver. The cities are known for their air pollution. But it is frightening to learn there is smog even in Vail, Colo.

Vail is a beautiful gem of a community nestled in a deep valley under the high Rockies. In winter, the famous ski resort looks like a scene in an idyllic picture postcard.

The people of Vail banned through-traffic in their town and have a superb free bus system, virtually eliminating vehicle pollution. Apparently, the smog is caused by a plethora of wood-burning fireplaces.

If you go to the top of the ski lifts, some 10,250 feet high, view of snow-covered mountains are magnificent. On a clear day you can almost see forever. But on a recent visit, some were shocked to see a thin cloud of smog over distant mountains.

Although far away, it was a disturbing sight. It makes us realize that even America's isolated mountain country air, once so pure, now is being polluted.

Unless stronger rules are enacted to protect our air, soon there will be no place in the United States outside of Alaska where views will be unobstructed and where air will be clean for breathing.

A VIP Can Be Spotted By His Scrawl

WASHINGTON (UPI) — National Handwriting Day, which I customarily observe seated at a typewriter, came and went this year without my being aware of it.

Perhaps this was just as well, for my afterthought was that the celebration was slightly off base.

Where Frank King, a vice president of the Writing Instruments Manufacturers Association, went amiss, in my judgment, was in urging national leaders "to set a good, clear example for our children" by writing legibly.

It may be true, as he pointed out, that John Hancock had a clear signature. It also should be noted, however, that two of the most legible presidential signatures belonged to Gerald Ford and Jimmy Carter.

Most presidents are manufacturers of what the association characterized as "indecipherable scrawls, scribbles, scratches and squiggles." Since neither Ford nor Carter was returned to the White House after they became chief executives, perhaps their handwriting was too good.

The voters have come to expect our presidential candidates to exhibit poor penmanship. It is generally taken as a sign they have better things to do than sign their names legibly.

The problem was brought home to me by a government worker I met at a party. When he first took the job, every time the poor guy signed his name, people could read it. That handicap almost wrecked his federal career and I don't need to tell you what the political implications would be.

"It took me awhile, but I finally conquered the weakness that was holding me back in public service," he confided.

"What was the matter?" I asked. "Were you drinking too much, smoking pot, pinching your secretary or something like that?"

"No, nothing that simple," he replied. "My trouble was I formed the letters in my name so clearly, people could readily read my handwriting. This put me at a horrible disadvantage."

"When you reach a certain level in government, your inter-office memos are expected to resemble a doctor's prescription. This stamps you as an important bureaucrat who is too busy making vital decisions to waste precious seconds writing in a way that is readable.

"Generally speaking, illegibility becomes necessary for advancement when you get your own secretary. As long as a stenographer from a pool takes your dictation, it's OK to sign your name so people can read it."

"But once you have a private secretary, you want her to be able to exchange your inter-office memos for a bottle of antibiotics."

"I just couldn't get the hang of it. I tried scrawling memos real fast with my eyes shut, but people could still read them. Consequently, nobody took them seriously. They figured that if the memos were legible, I couldn't possibly swing any weight."

I asked how he finally overcame that shortcoming.

"I simply quit signing my name and began marking my inter-office memos with an 'X,'" he explained. "Almost immediately my superiors pegged me as a bureaucrat with a brilliant future in politics."

Powers Locked In Plants

By Amanda Sharp
MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Consider the purple periwinkle. It toils not, neither does it spin, but locked inside the innocent-looking plant is one of the most powerful anti-cancer extracts known to medicine.

Testing of the periwinkle resulted in the drugs vincristine and vinblastine, both used to fight leukemia, Hodgkins Disease, lymphoma and testicular cancer.

The creation of many cancer drugs from lowly organisms one would never suspect possess such properties seems part of a mysterious and fortuitous science — a proposition even researchers grudgingly admit.

While many drugs are found by methodical investigation, some are the result of folk remedies and many are found by luck.

"If you look at how these things come about, serendipity probably plays as big a role as anything," said Dr. William E. Evans, director of the pharmaceutical division at St. Jude Children's Research Hospital. "Some of it has been attributed to things like folklore."

Because of stringent criteria involved in drug testing, less than 50 anti-cancer drugs are commercially available in the United States, but more than 700,000 substances have been screened for anti-cancer properties.

Of that number, 100,000 extracts came from plants.

Anti-cancer compounds come from almost any source — plants, fungi, marine life and synthetic chemicals.

About 500 to 1,000 of the 20,000 compounds tested annually show some effectiveness, Evans said. They move into further lab and animal testing, including tests on xenografts, human tumors grown in rodents.

Enzymes extracted from bacteria are one source of anti-cancer compounds. The most common, L-asparaginase, is an enzyme taken from bacteria.

Other compounds, such as doxorubicin and daunorubicin, which treat a number of cancers, are produced by the fermentation process in fungi, he said. Even certain vitamins have been identified as having cancer-fighting properties.

Although it's now synthetically produced, the drug methotrexate originated from folic acid, which is found in fresh green vegetables, liver, yeast and some fruits.

"That's a drug that's been around for over 30 years, and it's one of the most widely used anti-cancer drugs," he said.

Superpowers May Find Peace In Space

WASHINGTON — In a move that could lead to better Soviet-American relations, President Reagan and Chairman Konstantin Chernenko have approved the idea of establishing ties between America's Young Astronauts and Russia's Young Cosmonauts.

This raises new hope that by exchanging visits and sharing dreams, Young Astronauts and Young Cosmonauts might lead the way to peaceful cooperation in space.

In behalf of the Young Astronaut Council, I wrote a letter to Chernenko proposing the affiliation. I pleaded that we are passengers together on a great spaceship called Earth, which cannot be broken into pieces, with the Soviet Union and the United States assigned separate orbits. The letter was hand-carried to Moscow last month by my daughter Tanya.

Two weeks later, the Soviet Em-

Who Voted How

NEW YORK (NEA) — Three months have now elapsed since Election Day, and we are not noticeably further forward in ascertaining how various key blocs voted. Everybody tends to talk as if we knew precisely what percentage of blacks, or Catholics, or those between 18 and 24, voted for (say) Walter Mondale; but of course all the official statistics tell us is how many of the total number of voters voted for a particular candidate.

Anything else is more or less guesswork, aided by exit polls or by in-depth interviews conducted still longer after the event, when the outcome is known. Even if those questioned are completely truthful in their answers, it may still be debated how accurate a cross section of the electorate they constituted.

Nevertheless, the matter is an important one, with potentially serious consequences. Take the problem of how Jewish voters divided between Reagan and Mondale. Broadly speaking, Jews were, of course, loyal members of the old "Roosevelt coalition," casting their votes overwhelmingly for the Democratic Party in election after election. But in recent years growing numbers of Jews have been voting Republican, and in 1980's three-cornered election (remember John Anderson?) Ronald Reagan is believed to have received the support of 35 percent or more of Jewish voters — a remarkably high figure under the circumstances.

Last November, the Republicans hoped, with reason, that the figure might go even higher. Jesse Jackson's own scarcely veiled anti-Semitism, not to mention his refusal to repudiate Louis Farrakhan, had understandably of-ended many Jews, and it was unclear whether Mondale had managed to offset the loss by his warnings that Jerry Falwell and other born-again Christians would be appointing Supreme Court justices if Reagan was re-elected.

According to some post-election analyses, however, Reagan's share of the Jewish vote dropped in 1984. It held at 35 percent according to NBC's exit pollsters, but was put at 32 percent by The New York Times-CBS survey, and at 31 by ABC News. Jewish liberals were overjoyed, and Sidney Blumenthal, national political correspondent for The New Republic, promptly delivered a funeral oration for such Jewish neoconservatives as Norman Podhoretz and Irving Kristol (who had backed Reagan), declaring that "their image as self-appointed brokers (between Jews and the GOP) has been shattered."

Or, consider the fast-growing Hispanic bloc, which by the year 2000 is expected to replace blacks as America's largest ethnic minority. Reagan's percentage of the 1984 Hispanic vote is variously estimated at 32 by NBC, 33 by the Times-CBS, and a whopping 44 by ABC. A further breakdown by NBC and ABC of the Hispanic vote in key states is even more confusing. In Florida, where strongly anti-communist Cubans predominate, Reagan's percentage of the Hispanic vote is given as 68 (NBC) and 73 (ABC). In New York, bailiwick of the far more liberal Puerto Ricans, it was understandably less: 40 percent, according to ABC. (NBC for some reason omits the category.)

Among the Mexican-Americans of California it was either 42 percent (ABC) or only 24 (NBC) — somebody is clearly wrong.

Radio Marti Silent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Florida's Cuban community — one of the strongest pro-Reagan voting blocs in November — is up in arms, charging that the administration has dragged its feet on a key promise.

At issue is Radio Marti — the Voice of America station that was to beam anti-Castro programming to Cuba from powerful transmitters based in Florida. The White House denies that it has put the idea on the back burner.

The Reagan administration presented the idea for Radio Marti nearly three years ago and Congress approved it 14 months ago, after more than a year of sharp debate.

Technically, Radio Marti has been ready to go on the air for more than six months. VOA sources say the station could immediately begin as many as eight hours of daily broadcasting. But — for unexplained reasons — the station hasn't started operations. This has angered its backers including members of the Florida congressional delegation who are under a great deal of local pressure, and other legislators and officials, mostly conservatives, who have worked on the project since the start.

The station was named after Cuban hero Jose Marti, the 19th-century patriot who fought Spanish rule. Its official purpose was to give the Cuban people an alternative source of information. Since the revolution, all Cuban media have been under strict government control. Radio Marti was to be modeled after Radio Free Europe, which broadcasts to Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union.

Radio Marti was to offer a mixture of Latin and U.S. pop music, news and commentary. The commentary is especially important to anti-Castro Cubans, since it would cover issues not openly discussed or publicized in Cuba — issues like Angola, where more than 20,000 Cuban troops are stationed, and problems in other Soviet-bloc countries, including Ethiopia and Poland.

Anti-Castro Cubans fear that the station is stalled because the United States is involved in secret talks with Castro regarding Cuban involvement in Central America, and they suspect Radio Marti's start-up is part of those negotiations. They also worry that the White House is backing away from Radio Marti due to pressure from commercial broadcasters in the United States.

Castro has threatened to retaliate against Radio Marti by using powerful Cuban transmitters to jam U.S. commercial stations.

have young people had the incentive that space now offers.

For half a millennium, the spirit of maximum adventure has awaited new Columbus and Magellans. Now, for our children, it is at hand and on a scale far more vast.

Footnote: The Young Astronaut Council is recruiting 6-to-16-year-olds for future space exploration. All who sign up will be eligible to participate in the "Letter to a Young Cosmonaut" contest. For particulars, write to the Young Astronauts, 1015 16th Street, N.W., Suite 905, Washington, D.C. 20005.

If the Young Cosmonauts accept our invitation to attend a space launching, their host will be Pepsi-Cola, one of the sponsors of the Young Astronaut program. Another sponsor, Disney World, will invite the Young Cosmonauts to its Florida resort.

Man Tried To Buy Radar Adapter From Wrong Store

A Longwood man brought his radar detector into an Altamonte Springs store to buy an adaptor for the device and wound up being arrested after the store manager noticed the serial number on the detector matched that of one stolen from the store last month.

Gary Teppers of Discount CB, state Road 436, Altamonte Springs, called the Seminole County Sheriff's Department Tuesday while the man was in the store after Teppers reportedly identified the stolen detector. It is reported to be one of several stolen along with a citizens band radio by a burglar who threw a concrete block through the front door of the store on Jan. 31, a sheriff's report said.

A deputy arrived and the suspect was charged with dealing in stolen property and on a Volusia County warrant for failure to appear in court.

Tyrone Simpson, 20, of 347 Longwood Ave., was arrested at 3:48 p.m. Tuesday. He was being held in the Seminole County jail today in lieu of $8,100 bond.

SHOT OUT TIRE

A 61-year-old Maitland man has been released on $8,000 after being charged for allegedly shooting a tire on an Orlando woman's car at a Kmart parking lot in Fern Park Sunday.

As Seminole County sheriff's deputy M.E. Simpson was investigating 62-year-old Pella Louise Marr's complaint that a man had fired a single shot from a pistol into the left rear tire of her car at about 6:20 p.m. Sunday, the suspect reportedly returned to the scene.

Simpson reported questioning the man who appeared intoxicated and spotted a pistol and a box of ammunition on the front seat of the suspect's car. No reason for the shooting was given in a sheriff's report.

Simpson reported the gun held five spent shells and one live round.

Jessie Lawton High, of 2126 Michigan Trail, was charged with shooting into a vehicle at 6:26 p.m. Sunday. He is scheduled to appear in court Feb. 18.

GOLD THEFT

A Winter Springs man was charged with grand theft following the theft of a gold coin from a residence.

According to a police report, the owner of the Krugersand reported it missing from a jewelry box on his dresser Jan. 16. The coin was valued at $491.75.

After receiving some information about the theft, police arrested a man who was working in the area removing mud. The man was arrested Friday at the sheriff's department.

Being held Monday in lieu of $5,000 bond was Robert Wesley Barrett, 26, of 208 Flamingo Ave.

THREATENED HUSBAND

A 31-year-old Sanford woman who reportedly threatened her husband with a knife has been charged with aggravated assault.

Sanford police reported Larry Bradley, was restraining his wife and was holding her for police when they arrived at their home at 84 Masters Grove Apartments, at about 10:30 p.m. Saturday.

Police reportedly took a knife from the woman and Bradley told them she had threatened him.

Barbara Elaine Bradley was charged in the case and has been released on $1,500 bond. She is scheduled to appear in court Feb. 18.

CLOTHES HEIST

A woman told sheriff's deputies that three men shoplifted five articles of clothing from her store valued together at $5,000.

The men entered the store, Gray European Fashions, 1889 W. state Road 434, Longwood at about 10:45 a.m. Friday, according to the report.

While Imao R. Maari, 34, helped two of the men, the third one made several trips to their car, she said.

After the trio left, she said she noticed the merchandise missing.

She told the deputies the men had been in the store before.

PLENTIFUL PURSE

An Altamonte Springs woman told police someone stole her purse which she left in a shopping cart at about 1 p.m. Friday. It contained $1,300 in cash.

Janice M. Lamb, 33, of 3820 Albert Drive, left the purse in a cart in the parking lot of Winn Dixie on Howell Branch Road, according to the report.

When she returned, the purse was missing.

Besides the cash, it contained a $50 gift certificate. The purse was worth $100, according to the report.

RIGHT AT HOME

A thief snatched on cookies and a soda after he broke into a Casselberry woman's second-story apartment.

Marcia Harmon, 25, of #1107 at 2515 state Road 436, said the thief helped himself to the food and drink while taking an undetermined amount of coins and jewelry from her apartment.

According to the report, the man climbed to the second-floor balcony and entered the apartment through a window.

CHASED TO SEMINOLE

A high-speed Winter Park police chase ended in the arrest of two burglary suspects at a Seminole County sheriff's and Casselberry police roadblock in Casselberry at about 3:20 a.m. Tuesday.

Winter Park policeman Brett C. Ralley reported spotting the suspects in the parking lot of Winter Park Corners Shopping Center on Lakemonte Drive at Aloma Avenue, Winter Park.

As Ralley approached the suspects' 1976 Buick he saw clothing hanging outside a closed passenger side door of the car. As the car sped away Ralley pursued it onto U.S. Highway 17-92, through Maitland and into Casselberry. Ralley reported his patrol car reached a speed of 125 mph in the chase.

The run ended at a police roadblock on U.S. Highway 17-92 at Lake Triplet Drive, Casselberry.

Lawmen reportedly found in the suspects' car 51 jogging suits worth a total of $2,226, which had reportedly been stolen from Athletic Attic in the shopping center where Ralley first spotted the suspects, a police report said. There were also glass fragments in the car that police believe came from a broken glass door at that store, the report said.

Terence M. Blankenship, 22, and Larry Willis, 25, both of Orlando, were arrested in the case at about 4 a.m. Tuesday. Blankenship was charged with burglary, fleeing and eluding police and driving without a license. Willis was charged with burglary and on an outstanding Orange County warrant for retail petty theft. Both were being held in lieu of $5,000 bond each.

DRIVE-IN FOR ARREST

A 29-year-old Sanford man who reportedly drove his vehicle through a fence into the backyard of a Sanford home, chased his girlfriend from his car and then entered the home at 2526 Laurel Ave., through a window, was nabbed by police in the living room, police said.

Sanford police reported the man appeared to be intoxicated and had broken items including potted plants at the home of Amy Burrows, where he was an uninvited, unexpected, unknown intruder.

Kevin D. Cook, 29, of 2542 Sanford Ave., was arrested at about 2:40 a.m. Tuesday. He was charged with burglary to an occupied dwelling, criminal mischief and reckless driving. He was being held in lieu of $8,000 bond.

BEAT IN HAND

Seminole County sheriff's deputies report charging two suspects with burglary after one man was spotted crossing state Road 436 in Altamonte Springs, carrying a car seat and the other was found in a vacant building next to a car lot.

The arrests came at about 12:54 a.m. Tuesday after the suspects were stopped at a used car lot near Uncle Jones Barbecue on state Road 436 at Lake Howell Road.

Deputies reported finding a car at the lot with a missing seat of the type one suspect was seen carrying and they reported finding bolts in the pocket of the second man and a wrench was lying at his feet when he was caught.

The name of the car lot was not given in the arrest report.

Eddie Lee Butler, 22, of 392 Longwood Ave., Altamonte Springs, has been charged with burglary and William Carr, 44, of 430 New England Ave., Winter Park, has been charged with burglary to a vehicle. Both were being held in lieu of $5,000 bond each.

BURGLARIES & THEFTS

Shaila Pacheco, 32, of #234 2500 Howell Branch Road, Winter Park, reported to deputies $3,328 worth of items including a video recorder, clothing and jewelry were stolen from her home around 6 p.m. Monday.

A $400 heat pump was stolen from a construction site at Fox Hill Circle, Apopka, between Friday and Monday. Doug Schutt, 21, of Orlando, reported the loss of the item which belongs to Oxford Construction Co., Apopka, a sheriff's report said.

A thief took $200 in tip money from an office at the White Martin, 1811 state Road 434, Longwood, and ignored $1,500 in an open safe in the same room victim Johnnie Murphy, reported to deputies. Ms. Murphy, a hostess, reported her tip money was stolen between 1:30 a.m. and 2:15 p.m. Monday, but the cash in the safe wasn't touched, a sheriff's report said.

Henry Keller of Route 3, state Road 427, Sanford, reported to deputies he left his 1966 Pontiac worth $5,400 to be painted at a body shop on Sanford Avenue at 25th Street on Jan. 4 and when he went back on Feb. 4 the shop wasn't there and neither was his car, a sheriff's report said.

Almost $2,000 worth of items were stolen from the storage bins of two vehicles belonging to Mickey Isler, 31, of 232 N. Wekiva Springs Road, Apopka. The items were stolen while parked behind Granny's Grocery, state Road 419 Chuluota. The theft occurred between 4 p.m. Friday and 6:15 a.m. Monday, a sheriff's report said and items taken include two radios, a generator, tools and hoists.

Walter Jerome Bachelor, 34, of 363 S. Oleander St., Longwood, reported to deputies his $1,000 car and $400 worth of tools and other items were stolen when the 1973 Oldsmobile was parked at 1541 N. Carolwood Blvd., Fern Park, around 3 p.m. Monday.

The thief who took Margaret Sara Banghman's wallet from a locker at Holiday Health Spa, Butler Plaza, state Road 436, Casselberry, got $150 cash and about $160 worth of other items, a sheriff's report said. Ms. Banghman, 18, told deputies the theft occurred around 6 p.m. Monday.

A team of female thieves stole a wallet containing $93 from the purse of Cheryl L. Brooks, 28, of E. Main Ave., Longwood. Ms. Brooks reported to deputies one woman distracted her while the second took her wallet from her purse while it was on a counter at Ariza Pool Supplies, 610 Hunt Club Blvd., Apopka, at about 4 p.m. Monday.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Rebels Have Proposition For The Serious Investor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — For "sophisticated investors" with ideological faith and a little extra cash, Nicaraguan rebels seeking to overthrow their country's Marxist-led government plan to offer interest-bearing bonds.

Officials of the rightist Nicaraguan Democratic Force, which has turned to private donors since Congress cut off U.S. aid in June, liken the idea to Israeli bonds sold to American Jews and other supporters of Israel.

The bonds, cautioned FDN spokesman Bosco Matamoros, are not for everybody.

"They are for sophisticated investors," he said.

Since U.S. funding was halted, FDN officials say they have raised about $1 million a month from private sources to cover expenses of about $600,000. They reportedly also have received considerable aid from El Salvador, Honduras and Israel.

The Reagan administration has begun an intense campaign to persuade Congress to approve $14 million in new aid set aside in October, but Congress is expected to deny any more funding through the CIA.

marketplace rather than bolstered by price supports.

Sen. Bob Kasten, R-Wis., questioned Stockman about the reductions, saying it would not be fair to "balance the budget by singling out for disproportionate cuts any one single area ... especially agriculture where people are already hard-pressed."

Stockman, who until then had been giving mostly restrained answers, grew agitated.

"For the life of me, I can't figure out why the taxpayers of this country have the responsibility to refinance the bad debts willingly incurred by consenting adults who went out and bought farm land when the price was going up because they could get rich, or who went and bought machinery and production assets because they made a business judgment that they could make some money," Stockman said, barely pausing for breath.

"So it turns out that land prices didn't go up forever," he said. "All kinds of loans have gone bad and the collateral has collapsed. Why should the taxpayers have the responsibility to bail out loan guarantees that will create a loss down the road for that kind of speculation?"

Boy Fair After One-Vehicle Crash

A 16-year-old Apopka boy was hospitalized following a one-vehicle accident that killed an Apopka man Tuesday.

Taken to Central Florida Regional Hospital where he was in fair condition today was John Paul Brooks, 16, of 10 Apollo Drive. He was being treated for severe leg and head injuries, according to the Florida Highway Patrol.

Killed in the crash was the driver of the vehicle, Randall Lee Allen, of P.O. Box 363.

According to FHP investigators, the pair was riding in a stolen truck on Markham Woods Road between 12:01 and 6:59 a.m. when it left the road two-tenths of a mile north of Acres Court.

The vehicle, a 1983 Ford pickup, hit several large oak trees and traveled 136 feet before coming to a stop.

Allen was found under the truck. Brooks crawled from the vehicle, investigators said.

The accident was not discovered until 6:59 a.m. because fog hid the demolished truck from passersby. A school bus driver saw the crumpled truck and called authorities.

Details of the theft were not available.

employee in charge of arbor enforcement and an employee would have to be hired to fulfill that function.

He reminded that Sanford will have no city engineer to issue permits on May 1. Knowles, a civil engineer, has been acting as both city manager and city engineer for some time. He is scheduled to retire on April 30.

Knowles said there is no money allocated in the city budget for arbor enforcement and creating a new budget would clean out the contingency fund.

Mayor Bettye Smith, who has pushed for adoption of the ordinance, asked if her colleagues intend to vote it down Monday night.

Thomas did not answer the question. Farr remains opposed to the proposal, but Commissioner Smith and Mercer indicated they still will vote for the proposal.

Knowles also said the city commission can budget funds for its enforcement in its 1985-86 budget.

When the former city commission attempted last summer to adopt an identical arbor ordinance, complaints that enforcement could infringe on private homeowners' property rights killed the proposal. It also had received preliminary approval.

believe Raby.

●The result: Butler says he has researched the statutes and determined it is illegal for anyone to drive an auto during hours of dark with the headlights turned off. "so I'm issuing a memo in the department that no officer is to drive a patrol car with the headlights off, except in special circumstances such as when they're just arriving at the site of a burglary in progress, or the site of a prowler or trespasser report."

Paul "Barry" Little
...He fired firecracker

●The findings: Sworn statements by night-shift officers indicate police in patrol cars often drive around the streets with their vehicle's lights turned off and try to evade each other in a hide-and-seek fashion. It had first been reported that Lt. Nooney had been distracted and was looking into his rearview mirror when his car rammied head-on into Raby's. In fact, Nooney had been looking over his shoulder and through the rear window with his car's headlights off, according to his statement. He drove his car through a stop sign and turned in the intersection, then rammed his car into Raby's. Investigators speculate a game of "cat and mouse" was being played by both officers just before the accident, according to Hasson.

●The result: Butler says all department personnel will be warned that horseplay of any kind, day or night, will "be severely dealt with in the future. This matter's settled now, but any such activity will not be tolerated in the future."

Butler today defended his decision to give Lt. Nooney and Ptl. Raby a 10-day suspension without pay as their punishment. He said he took into consideration the length of service of both men — Nooney's got 19 years and 11 months with the department and is scheduled to retire soon; Raby has been with the department about 5 1/2 years. "Not only that, neither of them has ever had any problems before, or ever had a reprimand. They have clean, outstanding records with the department," Butler noted. He said the suspended officers will lose a combined "roughly $2,000" in pay during the suspension.

Butler commended Sgt. Hasson "for his candid and professional investigation and his results. It's a tough job to investigate your own colleagues, and Hasson did an outstanding job."

Butler said an accident review board has agreed with Hasson's findings, and limited their conclusions to "what could be proved, namely, that they (Nooney and Raby) were careless and negligent, that's about it."

(Reporters Deane Jordan, Rick Brunson and Donna Estes also worked on this story).

EPA: Where There's Smoke, There's Cancer

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An Environmental Protection Agency spokesman says its own analysis supports some of the conclusions of an independent study that found hundreds of people die of cancer caused by breathing other people's tobacco smoke.

The study by EPA policy analyst James Repace and chemist Alfred Lowrey of the Naval Research Laboratory concluded that second-hand tobacco smoke is one of the most deadly indoor air pollutants. They estimated between 500 and 5,000 non-smokers die each year of lung cancer caused by breathing second-hand — or "passive" — smoke.

The two conducted the studies independently, not for the government, but the EPA's Carcinogen Assessment Group reviewed their findings.

The group questioned the conclusion that second-hand smoke could kill as many as 5,000 non-smokers a year. EPA spokesman Dave Cohen said Monday.

But he added that the review "tends to adhere to the part of it that supports the possibility of 500 deaths per year."

William Tooney of the Tobacco Institute criticized the document, saying Repace, a physicist, was "out of his area of expertise here."

"Even the surgeon general has not asserted that ambient tobacco smoke causes cancer in non-smokers," he said.

Tribe's 5-Minute Offense Can't Overhaul Spruce Creek

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor
PORT ORANGE — Coach Chris Marlette said his Fighting Seminoles played five minutes of basketball Tuesday night. Unfortunately, they were held accountable for the other 27 minutes, too.

The result was another sputtering offensive display en route to a 56-47 setback to the Spruce Creek Hawks in Five Star Conference basketball at Spruce Creek High School. Seminole fell to 12-8 for the year, 7-6 in the conference and 7-4 in the district. Spruce Creek improved to 7-8, 12-9 and 7-4.

Jon Fedor, Spruce Creek's multi-talented junior, was the difference. The 6-8 forward tossed in 27 points and pulled down 10 rebounds. "I lost count on the dunks Fedor had," said Marlette. "But our defense didn't do a bad job on their big men (Fedor and 6-10 Mark Nichols). It was our offense which let us down."

Spruce Creek, which starts four underclassmen along with senior Nichols, opened an 11-5 lead in the first quarter and increased it to 23-13 at halftime. Fedor tossed in eight points but was just warming up for the third quarter.

In that eight-minute span, Fedor threw in 12 points and although the Hawks couldn't increase their lead, it didn't decrease either as they headed into the fourth quarter with a 42-32 edge.

Seminole, which had double-figure scoring from Kenny Gordon (16), James Rouse (13) and Rod Henderson (10), received just eight points from the rest of the team. Point guard Mickel Wright, who had been the catalyst in recent victories, was held scoreless.

Basketball

"We just couldn't get anything going offensively," said Marlette. "The offense was just lethargic. We were telegraphing our passes and didn't have any intensity."

Until the final five minutes, Seminole went to a furious man-to-man pressure defense and baskets by Gordon and Rouse pulled the Tribe within six with two minutes to play. After a missed free throw and a turnover, Gordon and Rouse each scored again to pull Sanford within 48-47 with 59 seconds to play.

Another missed Spruce Creek shot gave Seminole its chance to tie. Rouse fired away from just below the key and missed. After a scramble for the loose ball, Henderson was whistled for a foul — his fifth. Tiny (5-0)

William Hill made one of the two free throws to push the lead to 50-47 with 48 seconds left.

The Tribe still had a chance to pull within one but Marlette said impatience cost it again. Freshman Andre Whitney tossed one up from the outside but missed. Fedor grabbed the rebound and fed to Hill who was fouled.

With 38 seconds left, Hill cashed in both free throws to put the game out of reach, 52-47. Spruce Creek added four more free throws in the final 30 seconds for the final nine-point difference.

"We didn't take good shots at the crucial times," said Marlette. "We should have been more patient. But it would have been a different game if we'd played the whole game like the last five minutes. It took us too long to start playing."

Fedor was the only Hawk in double figures. Johnnie Bennett added nine points and Kenny Southall added seven.

In the junior varsity game, Seminole dropped a 69-66 overtime victory despite 30 points and 12 rebounds by freshman Craig Walker. The 6-6 center teamed with freshmen Walter "Dunkman" Hopson and Ernie Lewis to rally the JV from 13 points down, but Spruce Creek prevailed in the overtime.

"The three freshmen brought them back," said Marlette. "They did a good job on offense but they gave up a lot of easy shots on defense."

Joe Holden tossed in 12 points for the Tribe and Hopson added eight.

Sand Crabs Bite Down On 'Hounds

LONGWOOD — When it comes to the family tree, Terry and Pat Johnson are several branches apart, but put them on a basketball court together and they perform like identical twins.

The Johnsons, a pair of do-everything guards, each tossed in 18 points as the Seabreeze Sand Crabs buried Lyman, 78-41, in Five Star Conference basketball at Lyman High School before 200 fans Tuesday night.

Seabreeze, the No. 1 ranked 3A school in the state, did nothing to tarnish that exalted position. The Crabs rolled up a 32-17 first-half lead, then blew the Greyhounds off the track with a 25-4 tear in the third quarter.

"Their outside shooting hurt," said Lyman coach Tom Lawrence about his team's 14th loss in 19 games. "But we hurt ourselves the most. We tried to hold the ball and we couldn't. We just threw it away. Too many turnovers."

Seabreeze built a 14-8 first-quarter lead as the Johnsons each scored four points. Sophomore Robert Thomas, who led the 'Hounds with 12 points, tallied four for the Greyhounds.

Seabreeze started to find the range in the second quarter as it built the lead to 10 and then 15 points by capitalizing on the Lyman turnovers. "It's frustrating," said Lawrence. "We play a good tight zone and they throw up a 20-footer than goes in."

"Then, we go down, take our time and work for a good shot — and miss it."

"Good shooting can make up for a lot of mistakes. They just ran the ball up and down the court but they hit their shots. They've got a lot of talent. They're tough."

T.J. Scaletta was the only other Greyhound in double figures with 10 points. Lyman played with junior Brett Marshall, who injured his ankle against DeLand. Lawrence said his status is unknown for Friday at Mainland. — Sam Cook

SCC's Juana Coletti goes up for a short jumper between Florida Junior College's Brenda Nicholson (23) and Sandra Seymore. Coletti, a sophomore forward, pumped in 17 points and pulled down nine rebounds as the Lady Raiders rolled to a 76-43 rout of the Lady Stars. SCC can clinch a berth in the state tournament with a win over Santa Fe Thursday.

Lady Raiders Shoot Down Stars

By Chris Pieter
Herald Sports Writer

The sign said, "Watch the Stars fall." And they did.

Florida Junior College's Lady Stars fell so fast that they didn't have time to wish for a comeback.

The scoring of Tammy Johnson and Juana Coletti in the first half, and Kim Lemon in the second, along with a stubborn defense enabled Seminole Community College's Lady Raiders to build a big lead early and they never looked back en route to a 76-43 thrashing of the Stars Tuesday night in Mid Florida Conference action at the SCC Health Center.

SCC, 13-8 overall and 3-2 in the conference, can clinch a berth in the State Tournament, which SCC is hosting, with a victory over Santa Fe Thursday. The Lady Raiders host that game at 7 p.m.

"It wasn't surprising that SCC played so well Tuesday. When the Lady Raiders are on they can beat anyone. What was surprising is how bad they beat FJC by after losing to the Lady Stars by two, 66-64, in January.

"I'm shocked," SCC coach Ileana Gallagher said. "I thought it was going to be a tough game. But the defense did an excellent job tonight. We pushed them (FJC) and they fell apart."

Johnson led the balanced Lady Raider attack with a game-high 20 points as she continually used her quickness to get by the FJC defense. The freshman point guard also pulled down seven rebounds.

"We were really relaxed tonight," Johnson said. "We play well when we're relaxed."

Coletti, a 5-11 sophomore forward, pumped in 17 points and ripped down nine boards while Lemon connected on 8 of 10 shots from the floor for 18 points and the freshman center also grabbed 10 rebounds.

Sophomore guard Pam Lee chipped in with eight points, dished out a game-high 10 assists and nabbed seven rebounds while freshman forward Raysha Roberts matched Lemons' game-high 10 rebounds.

Sharon Nicholson's 14 points were high for FJC and Brenda Holland added 10. The Lady Stars hit just 19 of 71 shots from the floor for a frigid 27 percent.

SCC raced out to a 6-0 lead in the first two minutes of play as Coletti hit the first two baskets and Johnson made the third. The Lady Raiders built a 10-point lead, 16-6, with 13:02 left in the first half and FJC never got closer than 10 points the rest of the game.

Basketball

The Lady Raiders went on to take a 32-17 halftime lead behind Johnson's 12 points and Coletti's 10.

SCC continued to dominate inside in the second half and got even stronger on defense as the Lady Raiders rolled off the first 15 points of the half.

Lemon started it off with a layup on an assist by Lee and Johnson's baseline jumper gave SCC a 36-17 lead. Lemon hit a short jumper for a 38-17 lead and the 5-10 Lyman High graduate came back to convert a pair of layups after offensive rebounds to make it 42-17 with 18:35 left to play.

Coletti made one of two from the line and Johnson dropped in a layup at the end of a fast-break for a 45-17 lead. Lemon completed the run when she hit a layup after a nice shovel pass from Coletti as the Lady Raiders took a 47-17 lead with 13:45 remaining.

While SCC was making baskets right and left, the Lady Stars were shooting airballs on layups and hitting the side of the backboard on baseline jumper. FJC just couldn't hit anything in the first seven minutes of the second half.

SCC's tough defense in the second half added to FJC's woes. The defense was keyed by Coletti who didn't let the Stars get anything inside. SCC also did a good job of blocking out underneath and holding FJC off the offensive boards.

"The last time we played them (FJC) I was sick and got in foul trouble early," Coletti said. "We knew they were tough, but if we played hard enough and solid on defense we could beat them."

After putting the game away early in the second half, SCC got a chance to clear its bench and everyone got into the scoring column. Freshman forward Elizabeth Dietrich, a Lake Howell High graduate, hit 3 of 5 shots from the floor for six points. Sanford's Andrea Johnson, a Lake Mary High grad, had two points and made two excellent passes that resulted in SCC baskets.

Thursday's game will be a big one for the Lady Raiders. Santa Fe leads the conference with a 4-1 mark and has already clin-

Hartfield's Salt, Merthie's Pretzel Twist Up Apopka

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

APOPKA — Darryl Merthie looked more like a pretzel than a basketball player. There he was all twisted up near the out of bounds line way underneath the Lake Mary basket. There were just seven seconds left to play and Lake Mary was losing by one point.

Quite a predicament. For anybody but Darryl Merthie, that is. Well, Darryl, how are you going to get the Rams out of this one? After all, even the best high school players have trouble scoring from the wrong side of the backboard.

"I was just too far under the basket," admitted the Lake Mary senior. "So I tried to jump back to draw the foul and make the basket."

He succeeded on one of the two, which was good enough for the Rams. Merthie's off-balance, leaning, lunging basket somehow found nothing but net with just six seconds to play as the Rams pulled out an exciting 83-82 Five Star Conference victory over the Blue Darters at Apopka High School before 200 fans.

"I can't believe how lucky we are," said Lake Mary coach Willie Richardson. "Darryl shot a real tough shot...but he made it."

Merthie's final two points gave him 30 for the night as the 6-1 wingman turned in one of his best outside shooting performances of the year. Merthie consistently swished soft jumpers from the baseline, several coming with Blue Darters hanging all over him.

Basketball

As important as Merthie's shot was to the outcome, the assist which came via a cross-court pass from Ray Hartfield, who was equally crucial. Hartfield, who finished with 11 points, was the salt to Merthie's pretzel move.

"Darryl was playing the weakside," said Hartfield as he set the scene. "Eric (Czerniejewski) started to drive, then he saw me open, so he threw the ball toward me."

Czerniejewski, who Richardson credited with turning in a good floor game at point guard, had his pass tipped, however, and by the time Hartfield could correct it, he was balancing precariously on one leg.

"I just turned to face the basket," he said about his move which came with just nine seconds to play. "I didn't think about shooting, I was too far out. It was just a desperation pass but Darryl got it."

Even though Merthie's subsequent tangled-up jumper put Lake Mary ahead by one, it was far from over. Apopka tried to hurry the ball up the court, but Hartfield interceded and tipped the ball out of bounds just past half court with three seconds to play.

Apopka coach Earl Stokes, who watched his squad fall to 12-9 overall, 7-6 in the conference and 6-5 in the district, called a timeout and set up a play for Earl Clayton. The move came off perfectly and Clayton was open for an 18-footer. His shot, though, caught the front of the rim and bounced harmlessly away at the buzzer.

Although Lake Mary had to pull it out at the end, a few converted free throws might have made the task much easier. The Rams led by as many as six points in the first half before settling for a 27-23 halftime edge.

Darryl Merthie scored 30 points Tuesday night and came through with the game-winning basket to top Apopka. Lake Mary travels to Wymore Tech tonight.

Top-ranked (4A) Lake Howell added the Five Star Conference championship to their list of accomplishments this season as the Silver Hawks of coach Norm Wight finished out the regular season by dismantling Seminole, 5-1, Tuesday night at Lake Howell High.

The Hawks improved to 19-1-2 overall and 7-0-2 in the Five Star while securing the top spot in next week's district tournament with a 7-0-1 mark (discounting tie against Seabreeze). Lake Brantley, at 6-1-1, will be the second seed in the district tourney.

"We lost the conference by one game last year," Wight said. "So the kids worked really hard this year. They feel great to have won the conference and hope to keep up the ranking."

The Fighting Seminoles showed they are continuing to improve as they stayed within a goal, 2-1, of the top-ranked Silver Hawks after the first half. Jim Morrissey and Mike Serino scored the goals for Lake Howell and

Soccer

Tim Roberts scored the Tribe's goal.

Lake Howell's defense held Seminole in check the rest of the way while the offense tacked on three more goals in the second half. Jeff Schicker, Eric Reesman and Bryan Droze scored the second-half goals for the Hawks.

Lake Howell took 26 shots on goal Tuesday compared to just four for the Seminoles.

The Silver Hawks will host the first round of the district tournament Tuesday against either Seminole or Apopka.

In other action Tuesday, Lake Brantley's Patriots shelled Apopka's Blue Darters, 11-0, in Five Star Conference action at Lake Brantley High.

The sixth-ranked Patriots improved to 16-2-1 overall and 7-1-1 in the conference. Brantley will be the second seed in the district tourney with a 6-1-1 district record.

Lake Brantley, which has won 11 straight matches and is 9-0 at home this season, concludes the regular season Friday as it hosts Orlando Evans.

The Patriots scored four goals in the opening half Tuesday and added seven more in the second while outshooting Apopka, 43-7.

Mo Moghaddam, Steve Earl and Aaron Guttman scored two goals each for the Patriots while Rick Williams, Chad Marten, Fred Rash and Chris McManus scored one apiece. The 11th goal was and own goal, that is Apopka scored it for Brantley.

Goalkeeper Scott McCollough had six saves in recording his third shutout of the season. Brantley's other keeper, Aaron Kindle, has eight shutouts and the two keepers combined for one more shutout.

"Aaron (Kindle) has played the majority of the games because he's a little older and more experienced," Lake Brantley coach Jim Brody said. "Scott (McCollough) was injured earlier in the year but we try to get him in as much as possible."

Boston College Surprises Syracuse

Basketball

BOSTON (UPI) — The Big East will hear from Boston College, after all.

With Michael Adams hitting 2 free throws with one second left Tuesday night, Boston College ran up its first victory against one of the league's heavyweights with a 67-66 decision over No. 8 Syracuse.

The outcome at Boston Garden raised the Eagles' record to 16-5. But until Tuesday night they had yet to beat any of the conference power brokers — St. John's, Georgetown, Syracuse and Villanova.

The Orangemen went up 66-65 with 20 seconds to go on a pair of foul shots by Wendell Alexis. Boston College's Stu Primus then missed from the outside with eight seconds left.

Syracuse's Ron Seikaly was fouled on the rebound but missed his foul shot. Trevor Gordon rebounded and sent an outlet pass to Adams. The waterbug guard was then fouled 30 feet from the basket by Andre Hawkins with a second left.

"It was a strange case because we were so far away from the basket," BC coach Gary Williams said. "But it was a blocking foul and that's what counts."

Said Adams: "It's unfortunate for Andre to get called for a foul with that much time left on the clock. But there was contact and

It was a foul."

"I thought (the foul) was two shots but then when I got to the line I knew it was 1-and-1. I tried my best to stay away from the foul line and keep my concentration."

For Syracuse, 15-4, Dwayne Washington had 17 points. He missed a desperation buzzer shot following Adams' free throws. Adams and Roger McCready scored 16 points each for the Eagles.

"He's our leader ... and he's not going to let us down," BC guard Dominic Pressley said of Adams. "I knew they were going to go in."

In the only other Top 20 game, Villanova beat Connecticut 79-71 at Hartford, Conn. Dwayne McClain scored 23 points on 10-of-12 shooting and Harold Pressley added 19 to carry the Wildcats, 15-5. Earl Kelley's 22 points led Connecticut.

In New York, a bomb scare at the Fordham-Army game forced evacuation of 2,000 spectators. Police did not discover a bomb. The game was suspended with Fordham ahead 26-20 and will be continued Feb. 18.

Kareem Destructs Rockets

HOUSTON (UPI) — Playing against the Twin Towers meant single coverage for Kareem Abdul-Jabbar. That translated into a season-high 40 points for the 7-foot-2 center and a 113-104 victory for the Los Angeles Lakers over the Houston Rockets.

Jabbar hit 16-of-29 field goal attempts and 8-of-9 from the foul line to help the Lakers to their 12th straight victory over the Rockets in Houston.

"Tonight felt like the '70s again," Abdul-Jabbar said. "I was single-covered a lot. I can usually get my shots off against one-on-one coverage."

"I still feel competitive in this type of game."

It was the type of game played primarily inside, way above the rim. Houston's 7-4 Ralph Sampson (33 points) and 15 rebounds) and 7-0 Akeem Olatunju (30 points) had Abdul-Jabbar outnumbered but only one of the Rockets' young giants could guard the 37-year-old veteran at a time.

"We were never ready to help out on Jabbar," Houston Coach Bill Fitch said. "We didn't get to any of the spots to help out on Jabbar. I think we were a step slow all night."

Abdul-Jabbar's three-point play snapped a 98-98 tie and James Worthy dropped in two free throws to make it 103-98 and Houston never caught up.

"Kareem can make that take-home all night," Sampson said. "You can sometimes win games in the last few minutes, but tonight, we couldn't stay close enough to them. They were definitely the better team tonight."

In other games Tuesday, New Jersey edged Detroit 119-117, Kansas City crushed San Antonio 135-116, Boston shined Chicago 110-106, Dallas dumped Atlanta 112-103, Phoenix nipped Denver 108-103, Portland rocked Utah 138-108 and New York edged Seattle 110-108.

Balanced Jones Crushes Oviedo

ORLANDO — Eight players scored six or more points Tuesday as Jones' Tigers used their balanced attack to eat up Oviedo's Lions, 78-45, in Orange Belt Conference action at Jones High.

Oviedo, which was playing without point guard Cary Justice and lost center James Stewart (ankle injury) in the early going Tuesday, fell to 8-12 overall with the loss and 4-4 in the conference. Jones now stands at 15-7 overall and 8-0 in the Orange Belt.

"Jones hit from everywhere and they spread out their scoring well," Oviedo coach Dale Phillips said. "We were just outmanned." Jones bolted to a 25-9 lead after one quarter and ran the lead to 43-21 by halftime.

Mark Stewart's 12 points and 15 rebounds were high for Oviedo and the junior forward also hit 6 of 10 free throws including six in a row after missing his first four. Allen Unroe contributed 11 points but hit just 3 of 16 shots from the floor.

Bucs Control Inside, Overpower Brantley

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — With 6-8 center Greg Courtney in foul trouble most of the game, Mainland's Bucs were able to dominate inside Tuesday en route to a 73-55 victory over Lake Brantley's Patriots in Five Star Conference action at Lake Brantley High.

The Bucs, who improved to 15-5 overall and 7-5 in the conference, led by just one, 9-8, after the first quarter, but Courtney picked up his third foul midway through the second quarter and Mainland went on to take a 25-16 halftime lead.

"It stayed close when Greg

Rex Black hit a season-high 13 points.

(Courtney) was in there," Lake Brantley coach Bob Peterson said. "But it changes a lot of things when he's not in."

Mark Moser's 16 points were high for the Patriots who fell to 3-16 overall and 1-11 in the Five Star. Rex Black added a season-high 13 points and six rebounds while David Hardwick contributed 11 points, five assists and two steals and Wade Wittig chipped in with eight points.

DeLand Overcomes Stubborn Hawks

John Nelson
Herald Sports Writer
DeLand coach John Zeoli said it would be different the next time the Bulldogs played the Lake Howell Silver Hawks, but he didn't expect the narrow 52-46 Five Star Conference victory his Bulldogs escaped with Tuesday night at Lake Howell High School.

The last time the Bulldogs met the Hawks, they were at home where they cruised to a 58-32 victory. Lake Howell, however, missed its star player Efreem Brooks because of illness.

At Lake Howell, with Brooks back in the line-up, the Hawks came very close to pulling off an upset from the sixth-ranked (4A) Bulldogs, but free throw shooting and calm play down the stretch helped the Dogs dodge the bullet.

"They just didn't miss," said Zeoli while watching his team fall behind 16-8 in the first quarter. Once again the Scott Anderson-Efreem Brooks combination broke through the defense to build the lead. Brooks came out firing to score 12 in the first eight minutes. Meanwhile, Anderson picked off two passes setting up Brooks on the breakaway layups.

In the next period, DeLand made somewhat of a comeback behind powerful offensive boards by 6-8 Randy Anderson and 6-5 Marcus Johnson but the Hawks still held a 30-29 edge just enough to out score the challenging Hawks in the final quarter.

Both teams came out slowly. Johnson's jumper and Weickel's 22-footer from the corner broke the ice. Then, 6-3 Hawk Fred Hicks countered with a shot from inside the key leaving 4:47 on the clock. From there (40-39) began a scoreless back and forth race until Anderson hit both free throws to gain a one point advantage. DeLand began its spread offense running more than a minute when Weickel added to the score with a three-point play for a 43-41 lead.

The Hawks came within two once more when Brooks stole the ball to take it in for a layup bringing the score to 48-46, but with 15 seconds remaining, Lake Howell had to resort to fouling senior guard Terry Williams. Williams hit both complementing DeLand's 10 of 12 from the line in the half.

Anderson took the final shot for Lake Howell but it bounced away and into DeLand hands for the Hawks last gasp. A coast-to-coast score by Williams ended the battle, 52-46.

DELAND (52) — Williams 13, Pasley 2, Weickel 18, Anderson 9, Johnson 10, Ruegger 8. Totals: 18 14 19 52.

LAKE HOWELL (46) — Anderson 4, Brooks 22, Beasley 8, Weickel 3, Leonard 4, Hicks 8, Evans 8, Lowe 8, Schmitter 6. Totals: 19 8 16 46.

Halftime — Lake Howell 28, DeLand 29. Fouls — DeLand 11, Lake Howell 18. Fouled out — None. Technicals — None.

Tribe Triumphs At Indoor Meet

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer
GAINESVILLE — Coming off a successful cross country season, six Seminole High runners made the transition to track and did it in a big way Saturday in the Florida Indoor Meet at the University of Florida.

Seniors Olenda Bass and Katrina Walker, junior Debbie Coleman, sophomore Jennifer Roberts and freshmen Shonda Martin and Dorehelle Webster, who comprised the Lady Seminoles' top six in cross country, combined for three first places, one second, one third and two fourth places in the meet including a new meet record in the 4x400 meter relay.

Bass, Martin, Webster and Walker teamed up to set the new record with a time of 3:58.2 in the 4x400 relay. The old record was also held by Seminole at 4:05.

Bass turned in an impressive performance for the Lady Seminoles Saturday as she also won the 400 meters with a time of 58.2 and was second in the 300 meters with a time of 42.0. Bass was selected the Quincy's Restaurant Award winner for the first week of the track season. The Quincy's Award is a new one this year for Seminole High track athletes.

Track

The Lady Seminoles also came away with first place in the 4x800 meter relay. That team included Coleman, Webster, Roberts and Martin.

Walker also took fourth places in the 400 and 300 meters while Webster placed third in the 800 meters.

Seminole will take some of its team to the Hi-Y Games this weekend in Winter Park.

"We'll only take a few girls because we don't want too many meets this early in the season," Seminole coach Emory Blake said. "We want to concentrate on practices until the whole team is together and then concentrate on competing."

Ram Netters Victorious

Lake Mary's girls swept Mainland while the double team of Shea Whigham and Mike Renaud pulled out a narrow victory for the boys as Lake Mary opened the season with a pair of victory's of the Bucs in prep tennis action Tuesday at Lake Mary High.

The Lady Rams won all seven matches including singles victories by Suzy Stewart, Gina Caputo, Raelene Ryerson, Bernadette Peters and Erin Higgins and doubles triumphs by the Stewart-Ryerson duo and the Caputo-Peters team.

The boys took three of the five singles matches and clinched the victory with the Whigham-Renaud doubles win. Singles winners for the Rams included Renaud, Trey Siebold and Robbie Shakar.

The Rams return to action Thursday at 3:15 p.m. (girls followed by boys) when they host Orlando Evans.

In other action Tuesday, Lake Howell swept all 14 matches as both its boys and girls teams rolled over Evans.

Cheers For Bayhead Team, Britts

Congratulations are in order for Bayhead Raquet Clubs Bronze league team on its recent success in winning the championship in the Central Florida Tennis League.

The decisive win came on Jan. 15 when the Bayhead team defeated Sweetwater Country Club of the score of 4-1. This win enabled Bayhead to move into first place and ultimately claim the championship.

The five teams that represented Bayhead were, #1 Rick Moreland and Eddie White, #2 Al Nejarke and Jerry Webb, #3 Ron Hunt and Bob Gregory, #4 Andy Adcock and Robbie Robertson, and #5 Mike Pelton and Steve Baker. The team of Robertson and Adcock had a really great season as they won all their matches finishing with a 16-0 record.

The new league starts Feb. 12 and the Bayhead Bronze Team will now move into a higher level and participate in the Silver League. Again, congratulations for a job well done and good luck in the new season.

Sanford's John Holt, one of the top young players in the area, has decided to take his tennis talents on to the college level. John will enroll at Jefferson State Junior College in Birmingham, Ala. He plans to go there in March so that he will be eligible to play this coming spring. Jefferson State has one of the top junior college programs in the nation and John will be a strong addition to their program.

I spoke with the Jefferson State coach, Bal Moore on the phone this past week and he is delighted that John has decided to accept the scholarship at his school. Coach Moore said, "John was a fine prospect with lots of potential and a very bright future."

The Seminole Community College Fall Faculty Single League has been completed and there is a new champion. Dr. Bob Levin, chairman of the

Larry Castle
Herald Tennis Writer

Humanities Division, is this year's winner. Levin finished in a tie for first place with Russ Calvet. Both has 16-1 records and had a playoff to determine the champion. Levin defeated Calvet in straight sets thus claiming the championship.

Calvet, of course, finished second. Tony Begley was third and Larry McAdam was fourth. Eighteen faculty members at SCC participated in the league and are now ready to move into the doubles part of the schedule.

Bayhead Raquet Club is getting a facelift. For sometime now there has been a need at the club to have extensive work done on its courts. For the past week or so, under the watchful eye of pro Colvin Meik, workers have been resurfacing the courts and building up the composition courts to a very high standard.

Bayhead, of course, is an old and established clay court club and the owners are always willing and anxious to provide the best in facilities for its members. If you have never played on the composition courts at Bayhead, I think you would love it, and I know your feet will.

Two of the more avid and dedicated tennis players in Sanford are Lillie and Roy Britt. The Britts, longtime Sanford residents, play at least three or four times a week and work very hard at their tennis as well as staying very fit.

Even though both have been playing tennis for many years they still have a desire to learn more about the game and become better players. In fact, both are taking the advanced tennis course at the college. Hats off to this hard working husband and wife tennis team, we admire them for their hard work and their love of the game. By the way the Britts are both in their 70s.

Baseball Boosters Will Meet Tonight

The first meeting of the Seminole Baseball Boosters Club will be held tonight at 7 at the Grace United Methodist Church on Airport Boulevard, according to Seminole baseball coach Mike Ferrell.

"We'll be playing most of our games on the road because we don't have a home field," said Ferrell. "We need to get things organized for the upcoming season."

The Seminoles will open the season Saturday at Titusville at 1 p.m. against Astronaut.

Cook Of The Week

Retiree Shares Secret In Making Her Award Winning Potato Salad

By Dorothy Greene
Herald Correspondent

If there were 12 more hours in the day, it still wouldn't be enough for one busy cook of the week, Claudine Milano.

Originally from Ohio, Claudine and her family moved to Hollywood, Fla. when she was 3 years old. She worked for Southern Bell in Hollywood for 30 years, "10 years as an operator, then 20 years as a repair service clerk. All this time in the same office building." A grandmother three times, Claudine has a daughter in Hollywood and a son in Atlanta.

Enjoying retirement to the fullest, Claudine tries to do all the things she never had time to do before, like cooking, canning and gardening.

A two-time Blue Ribbon winner for her potato salad recipe, Claudine and her husband, Jim, have lived in Sanford for four years. Jim, who is a former chef, is now in restaurant management. Claudine says that Jim occasionally cooks up some marvelous dishes in his wok, but for the most part, the kitchen is her domain. She says, "He gets very inventive with chicken breasts and then I've got the rest of the chicken to make soup with. Then I clean up the kitchen after him."

Among her many interests, Claudine enjoys sewing "beach blankets." These are colorful patchwork quilts, without the quilting, that she runs up on the sewing machine and are made from scrap pieces of material that her friends save for her. Many of them she sells at yard sales.

Walking and bicycle riding for exercise help keep her slim and trim. Taking an interest in the environment and the beauty of our city, Claudine will often collect cans and bottles she spots on the roadside and turn them in for recycling.

A member of the St. John's River Life Member Club, which is a chapter of the Telephone Pioneers of America, Claudine is actively involved with "people helping people." She is a group representative and keeps in touch with about 15 people to inform them of monthly meetings and to check on their well-being. Claudine explains, "A lot of people live alone and have no one to look after them. We call to ask you they are doing, find out if they've been ill or need anything. If we don't get an answer, and their phone hasn't been put on temporary disconnect, we send someone to check on them."

A recent project of the "Pioneers" was to raise funds to send to the Statue of Liberty restoration. They also make Christmas and Christmas baskets of food for the needy, and all this is a very rewarding outlet for Claudine.

A plentiful garden grows at the Milanos and Claudine and Jim plant "just about everything." A special attraction in the garden is their "tomato ring," which is actually a compost pile about four feet in diameter. After carefully preparing the compost for about two months with peelings, coffee grounds, egg shells, etc. from the kitchen, allowing it to "rot," Claudine puts a circle of wire fencing around it, about four feet high. On the outside of the fencing, in a circle, she plants tomatoes. As the tomato plants grow taller, she ties them to the compost pile. Kitchen peelings are added regularly and every so often a shovelful or two of sand is added then watered to pack it down. The nutrients from the compost are continuously fed into the ground and this makes for a healthy crop.

Claudine plants zucchini, broccoli, eggplant, yellow squash, potatoes, onions, and, of course, tomatoes and many more delectables. Claudine says that she "cans everything that comes out of the garden. If we don't eat it then we share with the neighbors, and they share with us." Her kitchen cupboard holds a fine display of canned fruits, vegetables and relishes.

Claudine and Jim have a camper and enjoy visiting all the state campgrounds. A lover of the outdoors and also a very frugal homemaker, Claudine says she tries to save energy any way she can. To cut down on heating costs, they put their lovely fireplace to full use. Claudine says, "We love to go to the Ocala National Forest where we are given a permit and are allowed to cut down certain designated trees for firewood. I pack a lunch and we really make a day of it. The permit is valid for six months, so we really keep a good supply of firewood on hand. I also collect pine cones which are excellent fire starters. Two or three in the fireplace really get a good fire going."

Claudine has always loved to cook and now that she has the time to try her expertise, she very often will take a basic recipe and improve on it. She uses her own canned pears in the Pear Cake recipe below, but you can substitute your favorite store brand.

Although her recipe for Southern Fried Chicken is not unique, Claudine uses one ingredient that is a must, and that's bacon grease. This is important to the flavor, she says, along with a heavy iron skillet.

Another staple in the Milano household is Capalatina, which can be eaten cold as an antipasto. Claudine keeps a jar of this in the refrigerator at all times, and Jim reminds her when it is time to replenish it.

Following are some of Claudine's favorite recipes. Enjoy!

CAPALATINA

- 2 medium eggplant
- 2 medium onions
- 1 cup diced celery
- 1 No. 2 can tomatoes
- ¼ cup capers
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- ¼ cup wine vinegar
- 1 cup pitted olives (black or green)
- Salt and pepper to taste

Do not peel eggplant. Cut into one inch cubes. Sprinkle with salt and let stand in colander two hours. Heat enough olive oil in skillet to cover bottom. Drain eggplant and brown very slowly. Remove with slotted spoon and put in large pot. Add celery and chopped onion to skillet, adding a little more oil if necessary. When celery is tender, add tomatoes, capers and olives. Keep stirring lightly over low heat for another ten minutes. Heat sugar and wine vinegar until sugar is dissolved. Add this to eggplant, then add celery mixture, cooking slowly another 20 minutes. Add salt and pepper to taste. Makes two quarts. Eat hot or keep refrigerated and use as antipasto.

SOUTHERN FRIED CHICKEN

- 1 whole frying chicken, cut up
- ¾ cup flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon pepper
- ½ teaspoon paprika
- At least one cup bacon grease

Combine flour, salt, pepper and paprika in sugar sack or brown paper bag. Place chicken pieces, one or two at a time, in bag and shake until well coated. In a cast iron skillet with bacon grease, over medium heat, fry chicken pieces until golden brown, turning only once. Drain on absorbent paper towel. Serves four.

KITCHEN SINK SOUP

- (A great way to use leftover vegetables)
- 1 cup Navy beans, rinsed and soaked overnight
- 1 soup bone
- 3 stalks celery, chopped
- 3 carrots, cut into bite-sized pieces
- 2 large onions
- 1 can tomatoes (16 oz.) with liquid
- ½ head cabbage, chopped
- 1 bay leaf
- Salt and pepper to taste
- Any leftover vegetables such as corn, peas, green beans, etc.

In large pot, combine all ingredients, using water which Navy beans have been soaked in to preserve nutrients. Cook slowly over medium heat, adding water from time to time, for about one hour. About 15 minutes before soup is done, add your leftover vegetables from the refrigerator, including juices. Serve with Italian bread or homemade biscuits.

BLUE RIBBON POTATO SALAD

- 6 boiled potatoes, diced
- 4 hard cooked eggs, diced
- 1 cup salad olives, chopped
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 1 stalk celery, finely chopped
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1 cup mayonnaise
- 1 teaspoon sweet pickle juice
- Mix all ingredients, adding mayonnaise last, and toss lightly until thoroughly combined.

OLD FASHIONED PEAR CAKE

- 1 egg, beaten
- ¼ cup sugar
- ¼ cup oil or melted butter
- ½ cup milk
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1½ cups flour
- 2½ teaspoons baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 can sliced pears, drained

Now that she has retired from Southern Bell after 30 years of service, Claudine Milano says she enjoys doing things she never had too much time for before such as cooking. She dishes up a bowl of her mouth-watering, steaming and savory original Kitchen Sink Soup.

The featured speaker will be State Representative Art Grindle discussing what is ahead for the 1985 legislative session, and how the legislation will affect lives and our pocketbooks. Grindle was recently elected chairman of the Seminole County delegation.

According to Marilyn Denton, Pankhurst members are honored to have two state representatives speak, as Representative Fran Carito gave an excellent talk to the group in January.

Also, at Pankhurst monthly meetings, two outstanding Seminole County high school girls are honored at the luncheon. These girls are selected based on their academic achievement, school involvement and leadership ability.

For February, the students are Becky Baker and Dana Ray from Seminole High School.

Discovery '85 will again be held at Lake Mary High School from 8:30-2:00. All Pankhurst members will be participating. Interested girls are to watch for registration announcements at their high school and every high school girl invited to attend.

All meetings, fund raising and fellowship activities and special events help to further Pankhurst's goal of working toward the growth development and education of women.

Members and any other interested women wishing to attend the noon meeting on Feb. 14 are asked to call Norma Ragadale or her secretary at 831-4025, Casseberry Elementary School, by noon, Feb. 12 for reservations.

The American Red Cross needs volunteers for a variety of duties. In Orange County, volunteer drivers are needed for a 30-passenger bus used for senior citizen transportation. Training is provided by the Red Cross and Tri-County Transit.

Also in Orange County, volunteers are needed one day a week to work with both the baby safety seat program and the Dial-A-Friend program where phone calls are made to elderly shut-ins.

In Seminole County, the Longwood office needs volunteer caseworkers as well as typists and receptionists. In all cases, training is provided by the Red Cross.

For further information, call the Red Cross in Orlando at 894-4141 or in Longwood at 831-3000.

Wedding Ring Could Be Fatal To Some Workers

DEAR ABBY: The letter from the bride who insisted that her husband wear a wedding band prompts this: I am a superintendent at an industrial plant in Macon, Ga. After two accidents, both caused by rings, I posted an order that no employee was to wear a ring while working.

This rule was enforced until a mechanic was assigned from the general maintenance department. He was not under my control, but I saw a wedding ring on his finger and asked him to remove it—and I explained why.

He said, "My wife put that ring on my finger, and I intend to wear it until the day I die!"

Well, he didn't die, but two days later he came close. An electrical circuit on a welder was completed when he accidentally brushed against it with his ring.

Maybe branding is the answer.

JOHN B. NAPIER
DEAR JOHN: If branding would save a life, I'm for branding. Many years ago I had a letter from an electrician's wife who said that her husband had worn a wedding ring for years, had gained weight and couldn't get it off. It seems his wedding ring had worn a tiny hole through his insulated glove, and a fatal contact was made. When his lifeless body was examined, the only sign of injury was a small burn where his wedding ring had encircled his finger.

Now I tell wives: If you

Dear Abby

husband works around machines or electricity, if you really love him, insist that he leave his wedding ring at home! Sentiment is a poor excuse for wearing a ring if it can cause the loss of a finger, hand, arm or a life.

DEAR ABBY: Do I ever have a bone to pick with you! Now you say that dentists whose practice is limited to school children should work from 3 p.m. to 9 p.m. and all day Saturday, so kids won't have to miss school for dental appointments.

You sure have your nerve! Dentists are people, too. They get married and have kids of their own. When are they supposed to see their own kids — on Sunday afternoons?

The dentist may be "Doctor" to his patients, but he is "Daddy" to his children.

DENTIST'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: A person who chooses a specialty should be prepared to practice during hours that will accommodate his patients. And by the way, Mother, some dentists are "Doctor" to their patients, but "Mama" to their children.

Problems? What's bugging you? Unload on Abby, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Evening Herald, Sanford, Fl. Wednesday, Feb. 6, 1985-3B

Fifteen celebrity chef couples were in competition on Jan. 26 for awards in the First Annual Gourmet Gala 1985 to benefit the March of Dimes toward conquering children's birth defects.

The Gourmet Gala was held in the Grand Cypress Ballroom at the Hyatt Hotel, Orlando. About $100,000 was raised with 600 persons contributing $250 per couple for the dinner and other festivities.

Central Florida Celebrities submitted and prepared their favorite recipes for judging. The hotel chefs prepared the 15 winning recipes to serve to the 600 guests.

6 Tb fresh spinach, minced
3 Tb onions (preferably Vidalia) minced
3 Tb fresh parsley, minced
3 Tb celery leaves, minced
5 Tb fresh white bread crumbs
Dash hot pepper sauce (Tobasco)
1 tsp Herbsaint*
1 Rock salt

Melt butter in saucepan. Add all ingredients, except rock salt, and stir constantly over low heat for 15 minutes or until mixture is soft. Place in food processor and cool. Puree with metal blade.

Place rock salt in 6 pie tins. Set oysters on top of salt, six for each tin. Place a spoonful of topping on each oyster. Broil under medium heat until salt browns (about 3-5 minutes). Serve immediately.

If oysters are part of a buffet, they are served directly from the pie tins, garnished with parsley. If served as an appetizer, two oyster shells are arranged on a lettuce leaf and served with lemon wedge and parsley.

Can be prepared up to 24 hours in advance and placed under broiler just before serving.

*Herbsaint is a Liqueur D'Anis (anise liqueur) produced in New Orleans, Louisiana; and is renowned as "The Spirit of New Orleans." Pernod's Aperitif Anis (anise aperitif), an exclusive product of France, can be substituted.

HOT ARTICHOKE DIP

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Fenner

1 14-oz. can artichoke hearts, drained
1 cup mayonnaise
1 cup Parmesan cheese, grated
1 tsp garlic salt
Pepper to taste

PECAN-BREADED CHICKEN WITH MUSTARD SAUCE

Joseph Hara and Barbara Hara

2 whole chicken breasts, skinned, boned, and halved
6 Tb butter
2 Tb Dijon mustard
6 oz. pecans, ground fine
4 Tb butter
2 Tb safflower oil
Sauce:
1/4 cup sour cream
1 Tb Dijon mustard
1 tsp salt
1/4 tsp pepper

Between two pieces of wax paper, lightly flatten chicken breasts with a meat pounder or skillet. Season with salt and pepper.

Melt butter (6 Tb) in small sauce pan over medium heat. Remove from heat and whisk in mustard (2 Tb). Dip each chicken breast in the butter and mustard mixture; then heavily coat each with the pecans by patting them on by hand.

Melt butter (4 Tb) in a 12x14" skillet. Stir in the oil (2 Tb). When hot, saute chicken breasts for about three minutes on each side. Do not crowd in pan. Remove to a baking dish and keep warm in oven (200°).

For the sauce, deglaze the skillet with sour cream, scraping up all the browned bits. Whisk in mustard, salt and pepper. The sauce should have a strong mustardy flavor. Remove from heat.

To serve, spoon a small dollop of the sour cream-mustard sauce in the center of warmed dinner plates and place a chicken breast on top to completely cover the sauce. It will be a flavor surprise to the diner. Three-four servings.
* Pour off any excess oil

Casual Entertaining

Plan An Open-House Buffet To Fit Today's Busy Lifestyle

Opening your home to friends and family is a wonderful way to express your affection, yet today's fast-paced living leaves little time for elaborate entertaining.

One solution is a casual open-house buffet that offers guests light foods and a variety of tastes and textures. There is a wide selection of frozen and prepared foods to use as a base for the menu, and many of today's popular recipes are designed for simplicity. Team up easy-to-prepare dishes with versatile appliances, such as a toaster oven, and you have the formula for a delicious buffet dinner the host and hostesses can enjoy as much as the guests.

The Menu

The buffet featured includes fried chicken, dressed up with a choice of three dipping sauces. The warm chicken is complemented by the Saucy Apple Crunch Salad, which combines the refreshing taste of applesauce with a hint of tangy cinnamon. This apple salad is easily prepared ahead so it's ready for serving when the guests arrive. Fresh Western New York apples and red cinnamon candies give the salad a warm, rosy glow that adds color to your buffet table decor.

To save time and the fuss of washing, cutting and frying, use frozen fried chicken that bakes to a crisp golden brown in 40 minutes in a toaster oven and remains moist and tender after baking. A two-pound box contains pairs of meaty breast halves, drumsticks, thighs and wings and is enough to feed a party of six and gives guests a choice of the chicken pieces they like best. For smaller parties the chicken can be combined with vegetables or apples.

Three flavorful dipping sauces add a new taste dimension to the chicken. Very Berry Applesauce is a tangy mixture of cranberry and applesauce. Cranberry gives it a vibrant color and applesauce lends a deliciously fresh flavor that is enjoyed by both children and adults. Applesauce is a wholesome food and a versatile ingredient that adds zip to almost anything — entrees, desserts, breads, and even soups.*

Blue Cheese and Dill Dipping Sauce blends the rich flavor and texture of sour cream with tangy blue cheese. A spicy Salsa made with roasted green and red peppers brings a vibrant Mexican flavor to the party. All three sauces are easy to prepare.

The Buffet Table

Place the dipping sauces and the Saucy Apple Crunch Salad in decorative platters on the buffet table along with your toaster oven. When the first guests arrive place a batch of chicken in the toaster oven to bake — it will be ready to eat when your guests are. When the next group arrives, simply place another batch of chicken in the oven to bake.

This buffet menu is ideal for casual entertaining. Keep easy-to-use ingredients on hand and add festive gingerbread cookies and fresh fruit for a finishing touch. This simple menu can be served for an after-work gathering of friends or extended to an afternoon open house. The chicken and rolls can be kept warm in the toaster oven and chilled salad brought out cold from the refrigerator. Even with a minimum of free time, there's always enough for good food and good friends.

*For additional applesauce recipes, write Western New York Apple Growers, Dept. FF, Box 350, Fishers, NY 14453. Request the free recipe leaflet "Applesauce Temptations: A Garden of Appetizing Ideas."

Tomatoes And Fish Combine In Stews

The combination of fresh tomatoes and fish has led to some world-famous soups and stews, such as the French bouillabaisse, Italian cioppino or New Orleans gumbo.

A tomato-fish stew Provencale or a Caribbean fish stew fit nicely into the soup-and-salad menus of those who are eating more lightly and healthfully these days.

TOMATO-FISH STEW PROVENCALE

- 1 ½ pounds Florida tomatoes
- 2 cups chicken broth
- 2 cups zucchini, cut in ½-inch slices, halved
- 1 cup green pepper, cut in 1-inch squares
- 1 cup coarsely chopped onion
- 2 teaspoons paprika
- ¾ teaspoon thyme leaves, crushed
- ½ teaspoon minced garlic
- 1 bay leaf
- 1 pound fresh or frozen and partially thawed fish fillets cut in 1-inch pieces

Use tomatoes held at room temperature until fully ripe. Cut out stem ends of tomatoes. Chop tomatoes (makes about 3 ¾ cups).

In a large saucepan place tomatoes, chicken broth, zucchini, green pepper, onion, paprika, thyme, garlic and bay leaf. Bring to a boil; reduce heat and simmer, covered, for 15 minutes.

Add fish. Simmer, covered, until fish is opaque, about 3 minutes. Remove bay leaf. Serve with rice, if desired. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 portions, 6 cups.

CARIBBEAN FISH STEW

In a large pot place tomatoes, onion, garlic, salt, oregano and chicken broth. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer, covered, for 10 minutes.

garnish: lettuce leaves, apple slices

In small bowl combine one package gelatin, two tablespoons cinnamon candies, one tablespoon lemon juice and one cup boiling water. Stir until gelatin and candies are dissolved; set aside.

In medium bowl with mixer set at low speed, beat cream cheese and mayonnaise until smooth; beat in one cup applesauce and gelatin mixture. Refrigerate until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon, about one hour. Gently fold in apple, celery and walnuts; pour into 6-cup mold; refrigerate until almost firm, about two hours.

Meanwhile, in small bowl dissolve remaining one package gelatin, two tablespoons cinnamon candies and one tablespoon lemon juice in one cup boiling water; stir in remaining one cup applesauce. When first layer of salad is almost firm, gently spoon gelatin-applesauce mixture on top. Cover and refrigerate until both layers are firm, about four hours.

Dieter's Almanac

If Your Prefer Not To Eat Breakfast Daily, Then Don't

(Editor's Note: The following column is excerpted from "The Dieter's Almanac" by Theodore Berland.)

You've been listening to all those ads telling you and your children to eat breakfast every day, preferably a hot one. And diet gurus have been telling you breakfast is the most important meal of the day.

Yet you may hate breakfast. Confused? Small wonder. Well, here are the facts.

First, not everyone fasts from dinner to dawn. In fact, most people eat a snack before turning in. If you go to bed late and rise early, there still may be food in your stomach when you awaken.

Second, you have plenty of energy reserves in your body. Glycogen, a starch, is stored in liver muscles. Your body quickly converts it to keep blood-sugar levels up. Then there is fat, oh, so much of it, to be burned or converted to sugar.

Most supporters of hearty breakfasts quote the Iowa Breakfast Study conducted at the University of Iowa in the 1940s and 1950s. It was supported by generous grants from General Mills, a maker of breakfast cereals, and from the Cereal Institute, a promoter of breakfast cereals.

The Iowa research team, led by W.W. Tuttle, reported in 1949 that subjects who ate a light breakfast did better on a stationary bicycle and had quicker reaction times and smaller tremors of the fingers in the morning than when they ate heavy breakfasts or just drank coffee and cream.

The light breakfast consisted of fruit, a slice of buttered toast, a glass of milk and coffee — a total of 400 calories. The heavy breakfast consisted of fruit, cereal and cream, an egg, a slice of bacon, two slices of toast and jam, milk and coffee — a total of 800 calories.

In studies reported in the 1950s, the Iowans said that when men did not eat anything from 8 p.m. until noon, they had larger tremors and did poorly on the static bicycle, compared to days when they were allowed a basic breakfast of 749 calories (fruit, cereal with sugar and milk, two slices of buttered toast and jelly).

Yet another study, sponsored by the Cereal Institute, found that a cereal-and-milk breakfast produced the same favorable results as a bacon-and-eggs breakfast. (No surprise there.)

However, the researchers found that the omission of breakfast bothered men more often than women.

And unloved? The main effect of breakfast seems to be psychological. Unfortunately, the Iowa study did not test for nutrition. It tested style of eating. The researchers should have simply supplied no nutrients, some nutrients and more nutrients for breakfast if they really wanted to test pure physical reactions.

A Spicy Touch Of The Bayou

Creole and Cajun cookery are spreading throughout the country. Many dishes are prepared with rice, tomatoes and peppers, and represent a melting pot of French, Spanish, American Indian and black influences.

PICKLED PEPPER CREOLE

- 3 tablespoons vegetable oil
- 2 medium-size onions, chopped
- 2 stalks celery, chopped
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 3 tablespoons chopped parsley
- 4 whole cloves
- 1/2 teaspoon dried basil
- 1/4 teaspoon cumin
- 1/4-1/2 teaspoon cayenne pepper
- 1/4 teaspoon dried thyme
- 4 sweet pickled peppers, chopped
- 2 hot pickled peppers, chopped
- 1 can (28 ounces) whole tomatoes, drained and chopped
- 1 pound scallops or chopped tofu
- 4 cups rice, cooked

Heat oil in large skillet, and saute onions, celery, garlic and parsley for 5 minutes. Add cloves, basil, cumin, cayenne pepper, thyme, pickled peppers and tomatoes.

Cook, covered, for 15 minutes; add scallops or tofu and cook for an additional 10 minutes. Serve over rice. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 servings.

Listen to Dr. William F. Kremer and Dr. Laura J. Kremer of Maryland. They say that "thin nutritionists who like breakfast" tell us everyone must eat breakfast. The couple says that "all that talk about breakfast being necessary to start the day off right is just a lot of hogwash. As a matter of fact, if you are overweight, breakfast is the worst way to start the day."

The Kreiners maintain that you are far better off exercising in the morning than eating. It's a better way to boost your metabolism, tone your muscles, sweep the cobwebs from your brain and whip up your blood circulation. Jog instead of eating granola.

Typical breakfasts are high in carbohydrates and fats. The carbohydrates are rapidly absorbed and boost your blood sugar. But then the blood sugar plummets, and you get hungry again. This occurs about mid-morning, when you want a doughnut. The caffeine in coffee or tea adds to this effect.

As for the benefits of hot cereal vs. cold — again, they are psychological. Hot cereal, cold cereal and bread have an almost identical nutritional content. Actually, the milk added to cereal has more nutrition. Together, cereal and milk about equals bacon and eggs. (If you use skim milk, you save lots of fat and calories.)

This is all by way of emphasizing that a diet has to fit your lifestyle. Unless it does, it is doomed to fail. After a few weeks, you'll be back at your old habits. Better to adjust a diet to you than you to a diet.

What counts are the day's total calories. If you prefer not to eat breakfast, don't. If you prefer to eat a light breakfast, do it.

Don't let any diet push you around.

Microwave Magic

No More Fuss, Muss To Make Great Sauces

If you haven't used your microwave for the preparation of sauces and puddings you are in for a pleasant surprise. No more scorching and no more pans that are difficult to clean. No more constant stirring to ensure a smooth, lump-free product.

Sauces are easy in the microwave because the energy penetrates from all directions so they cook fast. Clean-up is even easier if you measure, mix and microwave in a glass measuring cup. Inexpensive glass measures of 1, 2, 4 and 8 cups are valuable utensils for microwave cooking. Some of these sauces you may not have tried because they appear difficult. See how easy they can be.

This sauce is versatile in that it can be served with vegetables,

TUMBLEWEEDS

Added Calcium Helps Offset Bone Crumbling

DEAR DR. LAMB - I'm 36 and was told that I have osteoporosis. How serious is this, and is there a cure? Can one live a relatively unpainful life by receiving the right treatments? Can a young woman get this disease early and not know it until menopause, especially if she was nutritionally deprived during childhood? Will removal of the ovaries bring this on faster?

DEAR READER - Estrogen seems to be an important key to osteoporosis (dissolving bones). Estrogen increases calcium absorption from the digestive system. If one doesn't have enough estrogen, one may not absorb enough calcium, and then calcium is robbed from the bones. When there is an estrogen deficiency, one can help compensate for this by getting more calcium every day. Removal of the ovaries at an early age can cause osteoporosis at an early age. After all, that is technically a surgical menopause. This complication can be avoided by replacing the lost estrogen immediately after surgery and continuing it thereafter.

Your question about a nutritionally deprived childhood is a good one. A woman who develops a good strong skeleton is less likely to have serious problems with osteoporosis. Therefore, it is important to have good nutrition and plenty of calcium during the years in which the skeleton is developing. The skeleton doesn't mature until the early 30s. Young girls who go on fad diets and overemphasize excessive thinness may be setting the stage for osteoporosis after menopause.

It is important to have either estrogen replacement or increased calcium intake at the very onset of menopause. Some think it is a good idea to increase the calcium intake in the years preceding menopause to help protect bones.

With proper management, most women can prevent bone degeneration from osteoporosis. You need not be crippled by this disorder.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I am a 40-year-old woman and jog three days a week for about 35 minutes each time. If I were unable to jog, would I burn up the same number of calories by using a rowing machine? Would the same muscles be exercised?

DEAR READER - How many calories you use depends on how much oxygen you need for an exercise. The amount of additional oxygen required depends on the amount of muscular effort, regardless of the exercise you perform. Jogging and running use very large muscles, so such exercises use lots of oxygen. No, by using a rowing machine, you will not use the same muscles in the same way or to the same degree as you would by jogging. However, you will be using other muscles that you don't use in jogging.

Send your questions to Dr. Lamb, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y., 10019.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby Today's deal demonstrates an uncommon method of compressing the defenders' four winners into only three. North was a trifle aggressive to go right to four hearts after his partner's one-level overcall. It was up to South to justify North's confidence.

overtrumped with the six. The spade ace and a spade ruff in dummy enabled declarer to lead still another high diamond through East. This too was ruffed low and overruffed by South. Declarer's third spade was trumped in dummy and the last diamond was led. It did not matter whether this card was trumped by East or West, since declarer was now able to discard a losing club.

It would also have been possible for South to lead a trump after the second overruff and have the pleasure of seeing the ace and king fall together, but that play would fail if either defender was left with the A-K alone in the trump suit at that point.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY FEBRUARY 7, 1985 Any unique or original ideas you get this coming year should at least be given the chance to prove their merit. One or more could contain the seeds of success. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) A friend who is indebted to you may renege on his obligation today because he knows if he gives you a sob story he'll be able to wiggle off the hook. Looking for Mr. Right? PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Be careful in partnership arrangements today so that you don't bank too heavily upon an undependable ally who has let you down previously. ARIES (March 21-April 19) Unless you are patient and methodical today, you are likely to experience more frustrations than usual at work. TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Do not confuse wishful thinking with positive thinking today and count on something that has not yet happened as if it were a fait accompli. GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Do not spring any changes on your family today without first talking them out with all members. Unexpected alterations will disturb domestic tranquility. CANCER (June 21-July 22) You may find it necessary today to rush around from place to place. Don't be in such a hurry that you're tempted to drive carelessly. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You could be a shade too extravagant today. Hide your checkbook or, better yet, avoid places where you're tempted to splurge. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Normally you think your moves through rather carefully, but today your customary caution could desert you and you may be tempted to take imprudent chances. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Your hunches today may not be all that swift. Acting impulsively without thinking things through could provide a bitter lesson. SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Novel or faddish types of merchandise could have a special appeal for you today. Be careful that you don't buy a white elephant you may never use. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Little of value will be accomplished today if you lack consistency. Have a definite game plan and don't attempt to do things in fits and starts. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Usually you're a self-reliant person, but today you may look to others to do things you should be taking care of yourself.

Series Angers Atlanta Officials

ATLANTA (UPI) — A CBS mini-series based on Atlanta's missing and murdered children suggests convicted killer Wayne Williams was framed, a contention that angers city officials, who call the film entertaining but inaccurate.

Civic leaders have asked the network for free air time to counter the claims of the two-part docudrama scheduled for airing Sunday and Tuesday at 8 p.m. each night.

"The Atlanta Child Murders" portrays Williams, a would-be record promoter and media hound, as a man unwittingly caught between fearful citizens and a police department troubled by its inability to crack a series of baffling child murders.

The film depicts a city coming apart at the seams as children disappear and then turn up dead. Police are baffled until finally finding threads of evidence — fibers, in fact — that connect Williams to the killings.

The five-hour presentation says Williams was "a sacrificial lamb on the altar of Atlanta."

"My personal reaction is I think it is well done (but) unfortunate," said Fulton County District Attorney Lewis Slaton, chief prosecutor in Williams' trial. The 26-year-old free-lance photographer was convicted in 1982 for the murders of two of the 29 missing or slain children.

"It is unfortunate because of the general slant that the man was railroaded," he said. "I think it is important that people realize that it is not a documentary. It is a docudrama."

Former Georgia Gov. George Busbee has requested a meeting with CBS officials "to see if we can mitigate somewhat the damage that will be done to Atlanta" by the film's airing.

The docudrama depicts Atlanta's police department as frustrated and sharply divided by racial conflicts. Detectives at one point face angry black citizens who have armed themselves with baseball bats
