County To Push For Canal In Proposed Water Control Plan

A proposed plan which lists the long-discussed Sanford-Titusville Canal as one possible means of discharging excess waters in this area will be discussed at a meeting in Sanford April 21.

Seminole, Brevard, Orange and Volusia County officials who have been working on water problems will attend the meeting in the courthouse to talk about the plan with representatives of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District, who proposed it.

The flood control district is asking support of the proposal by officials and property owners in counties involved. A report distributed by the district stresses that emphasis being placed on "reflection of local interests" in the plan.

Chamber of Commerce Manager John Krider said the plan has much merit, but that Seminole County interests would be served best by a drain-off outlet somewhere in this section instead of much farther south as has been suggested.

This would mean that the Sanford-Titusville Canal could serve two purposes: . . . for navigation and to discharge excess waters, with part of the cost of the canal being borne by the flood control district.

"At present we're getting no real benefit from any funds being spent through the flood control district as all the money is being put into projects in the south end of the state," Krider said.

Seminole County will propose that the canal be included in the plan as one of two runoff channels, he said.

"We have improved on the idea for the canal by eliminating some complications concerning the route it would take," Krider said. "We now think it might terminate south of Titusville, maybe around Indian River City. This would bypass some well fields and other obstacles easier than in some earlier proposals and we have the support of some property owners involved in the rights of way."

The plan to be discussed at the upcoming meeting here may soon be recommended to the U. S. engineers if it is received favorably by the areas affected, the report of the flood control district said.

It includes a series of dual purpose water storage reservoirs in the low lying marsh area and the existing river channel. During the wet portion of each year the water in these reservoirs would be lowered to elevations calculated to provide the storage capacity required in case of excessive rainfall and high flood runoff. The minimum elevations would leave adequate water to prevent fish loss and for home and industrial demands.

During the dry season the reservoirs would retain enough water for irrigation of farms and other requirements.

Four such reservoirs are suggested, forming a series of lakes, two to four miles wide just above SR 46 in Seminole and Volusia Counties to SR 60 in Indian River County, a distance of 80 miles. Each would be required to be built with gates for use as required.

The report said that runoff would be taken through Sebastian Creek in southeast Brevard County. It noted that a second diversion canal had been considered, but now might not be required.

Seminole County planners think that runoff is necessary in this section as well as in the Sebastian location and will push use of the canal as the means of disposal. Another point is that control of the water head for the dry season is considered necessary here.

Board Adopts Drain Aid Plan

The County Commission Wednesday unanimously adopted the recommendations of the County Water Control and conservation committee and hailed the long range plan as a "step forward" in eliminating flooding in the county.

The Commission agreed that the first step in the program was to ask the U. S. Geographical Service for survey maps of the county to find out where to locate the four primary drainage canals in the county as recommended by the committee.

The Commission also added two new members to the five member board including Zoning Director Robert Brown and Homer Osborn of the County Farm Bureau.

The commission also asked Ben Wiggins of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, County Agent Cecil Tucker, Sanitarian Val Robbins and County Engineer Robert Davis to serve as an advisory board to the committee.

M. L. Cullum, who acted as spokesman for the committee in the absence of Chairman Harold Kastner, said that the county needs a definite policy for solving its drainage and conservation problems and stated that the principal recommendations as made by the group was the removal of water from county property and the setting up of a series of primary canals or ditches.

The committee pointed out that this was a long range program and could not take care of any emergency measures.

The commission stressed that it was in any serious flood situation the county would be in a bind, the only solution was a tax district in that specific area and not a county-wide tax district.

Completion of the building, in the $200,000 bracket, has been set for six months.

This is the second new structure planned for the bank. The first was the Countywide store. Officers of the Florida State Bank have announced their intention to build soon on their site at Oak Ave. and said that plans are being pushed to the bidding stage.

NASA Gets Okay On Space Requests

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Appropriations Committee today to the federal space agency today to stop hiring so many executives and spending so much on buildings, but granted every cent of its request for rockets and moon shots.

The committee approved the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's budget of $277,000,000 for rocket development in fiscal year starting July 1. Part of the funds are earmarked for the Saturn space vehicle which NASA plans to combine with a nuclear-powered upper stage to try a "soft" landing on the moon in six or seven years.

It said NASA's headquarters here is overstaffed with high paid personnel. It chopped 373 jobs from the agency's plan to add 3,999 new positions.

Fancy Drug Ads Used On Doctors, Committee Told

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate investigators were told today that some companies use the same advertising techniques to peddle new drugs to physicians that are used to sell new automobiles to the general public.

Dr. Chauncey D. Leake of the Ohio State University Medical School said drug prices could be reduced if manufacturers toned down advertising and promotional campaigns.

He said drug advertisers "seem to think that physicians are simpletons and that they may be persuaded to use new drugs in the same way that people generally are persuaded to buy new clothes and new automobiles."

Leake made his statements in prepared testimony to the Senate Anti-Trust and Monopoly subcommittee, headed by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), which is investigating prices and profits in the drug industry.

Leake also recommended that every new drug be tested first on healthy adult humans — "preferably by those advocating the new drug" — before it is used on sick people.

Outlawed African Group Urges Action

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — The outlawed African National Congress has launched an underground move for a new active stay-home protest against South Africa's racial laws. It was disclosed today.

Police broke a similar demonstration last week by raiding the native township of Nyanga on several days and beating blacks who refused to go to work.

Leaflets signed by an "emergency committee" of the Congress were found in Mofoka, 30 miles north of Johannesburg. They called on Africans to pull a week-long stay-home protest starting next Monday.

The move was seen likely to touch off a new round of violence.

The country has been relatively quiet since a white assassin shot and seriously wounded Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd last Saturday.

Cabinet member Paul Kruger ordered the nation Wednesday night that the government had the situation well in hand and that there need no reason to fear of any more than isolated incidents.

Trial Of Christ Was Illegal, McIntosh Tells Kiwanis Club

The trial of Jesus Christ was illegal, a Sanford attorney said Wednesday.

McIntosh described the trial from a legal point of view at the Kiwanis Club luncheon.

He said the proceedings before the 71 member Hebrew Sanhedrin court was illegal, according to Hebrew law.

Christ's accuser before the Sanhedrin court was the high priest Caiaphas. That was illegal because a judge cannot be an accuser, and Caiaphas was prosecutor and judge, McIntosh said.

Judas Iscariot was the only witness against Christ. A confession cannot be used against an accused person unless attested by two witnesses, the attorney said.

The Sanhedrin voted unanimously that Christ was "guilty of death" for blasphemy. The law said that a unanimous verdict of guilt given on the day of the trial meant the accused should be acquitted.

"The arrest and trial was at night," which was another error, the attorney explained. He said Christ was arrested shortly after midnight and was turned over to the crowd by 5 a. m.

"The sentence could not be pronounced on the first day of trial," yet all the serious proceedings of the trial had taken place by 9 a. m. of the same day he was arrested, McIntosh said.

The statutes provided for death by stoning for anyone guilty of blasphemy, the attorney said. Yet Christ was crucified.

Hebrew law was guided by statutes filling 400 volumes and about 14,000 pages. Florida statutes fill three volumes and 4,000 pages he pointed out.

David Admits Lobby Remark Was A Mistake

By United Press International
Ted David backtracked on a campaign statement Wednesday, but most of the other candidates for governor pushed forward with further charges, pledges, and proposals.

David admitted at Miami that he did take some liberties with Alfred A. McKethan of Brooksville, a lobbyist for Florida bankers.

David said recently that McKethan endorsed his proposal that the state sales tax be applied to banks.

Wednesday David said he had made the statement with "tongue in cheek."

"I certainly would not expect him to support my program," David said.

McKethan, who had denied David's statement in letters to Florida bankers, termed David "a demagogue."

John McCarty charged Fred Dickinson with meeting secretly recently with Negro groups.

Said McCarty in Wakulla: "It is wrong to meet secretly with colored leaders and then elsewhere in the state promise loudly to uphold segregation."

Earlier at Monticello, McCarty pledged that "as your governor, I will not yield to pressure or threats from the NAACP."

Farris Bryant said in his Ocala hometown that a unified department of natural resources was needed to improve state flood control.

Florida's natural resources, he said, are now administered by more than a dozen independent agencies.

At Palatka, Hayden Burns criticized outcries in Florida military bases when "a headhead of Communism lies only 30 miles offshore."

Presumably referring to Cuba, the attorney explained. He said the governor and state officials should join Florida Sen. George Smathers "in warning the nation of the Communist threat that today is closest to our doorstep."

Doris E. Carlin Jr. said a suggestion by the attorney under the guidance of the Florida Development Commission was a needed to build better Latin American relations.

Doris E. Connor of Starke and W. H. Hancock of Groveland continued to urge a spirited campaign in the race for commissioner of agriculture.

At Tallahassee, Connor said if elected he would strictly enforce laws against mislabeling of fertilizers.

Connor said on a West Florida swing that Hancock "quit his job with a fertilizer company in order to run against me." He described Hancock as "the fertilizer industry's main lobbyist."

Hancock said at West Palm Beach that Georgia and Alabama would refuse to admit Florida citrus and vegetables if a proposed embargo on poultry from there goes into effect.

He predicted "the price of eggs in Florida would jump from 30 cents to a dollar a dozen" if the embargo were applied.

He criticized Connor for "failure to object to this embargo which discriminates against every house wife in Florida."

Student Council Takes Active Part In School Affairs

The student council goes further than being a political backdrop or popularity club. It sponsors the annual May Day ball, football homecoming parade and dance, and Betsy Hawkins Day.

It tries to provide leadership in school campaigns, like the last term's cleanup drive.

On the business side of the ledger, the council runs the paper and pencil school supply concession stand. It gets the income from the stand and may loan money to other school organizations that need funds.

The council also got the voting machines for Friday's elections. The junior government aims at furnishing services and leadership, Christensen said. It meets every second Monday.

The council's veteran advisor, Mrs. Ethel Riser, says the group probably started in the 1930's. Miss Riser has been working with the young politicians for the past 23 years. Teacher Richard Leitz look over as co-advisor this year.

In past years, each class elected representatives to the council, with the student body officers (the top in school politics), the vice president and past president of each class sitting "ex-officio."

This system gave representation to each of the four high school classes, while giving each class more voice than the one just below.

Next year the council will take an even more realistic approach to politics with "homogeneous home rooms." Representatives from each class will be elected directly from home rooms, instead of from the class at large.

That way, each councilman or girl will have something like a constituency, Christensen said. There will be less upperclass votes, but they will count for more.

Seminole teenagers just above student body and class officers when they pulled the voting machines levers last Friday. The choice of council reps will wait until fall.

Schooner Runs Into Trouble

DAYTONA BEACH (UPI)—Four young women at sea in a schooner for six days had a swift current to thank today for bringing them safely into shore.

Bette Gilpin, 24, Boyce, Va.; Sue Reed, 23, Mary Anna Van Wordgragen, 23, and Pamela Swift, all of New York, left Miami last Thursday with two dogs named Coccanut and Queenie, intending to sail to New York.

About midnight Saturday, they said, a storm tore the sails off their 31-foot schooner and the motor went dead. The craft drifted until Tuesday when a swift current ran it aground near Ormond Beach north of here.

The schooner was named "The Windy" and was captained by Bette Gilpin.

13-Year-Old Huckster Promotes 1,500-Mile Jaunt, Mostly On Cuff

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI)—Dean Siering, 13, has the wanderlust of Tom Sawyer, the imagination of Jules Verne and the glibness of a huckster. He parlayed these talents into a 1,500-mile trip by bicycle, taxi, plane and train—and almost all on the cuff.

The urge to visit California hit Dean Saturday night at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Siering, in Sea Cliff, N. Y., a suburban Long Island community.

By the time police caught up with him five states and two days later Dean had promoted a $52.75 plane ride from New York to Chicago, an $84.88 train ride in a private roomette from Chicago to Buffalo and a hotel room for almost half price.

"I just decided to go," Dean told reporters at the Erie County Division on Monday. "I wanted to go as far away from home as possible the fastest way."

The blue-eyed seventh grader set his alarm clock for 4 a. m. Sunday, but "I didn't hear it go off."

His travel plans were delayed but not derailed.

Dean's grandparents thought it was just a growing boy's appetite when the youngster had double helpings of everything for breakfast Sunday. Then he kissed grandma goodbye, stuffed $30 in his pocket and set off on his bike to visit a friend before meeting Mrs. Siering at church.

By the time his grandmother got to church Dean was on the first leg of his on-the-cuff odyssey and had hidden his bike to the Glen Head station of the Long Island railroad.

When Dean learned he would have to wait too long for a train he took a taxi to another station and caught a train to Manhattan. From there he took a bus to Idlewild Airport.

Dean joined a group of passengers waiting to take a United Air Lines flight to Chicago.

When an employe asked for his plane ticket, Dean sobbed that he had lost his mother, he was going back to school in Chicago and his Aunt Amelia Ralph would meet him at O'Hare Field.

Softened perhaps by Dean's innocent blue eyes, airlines officials let him board the plane, then alerted United's passenger agent at Chicago.

Dean arrived in Chicago but his aunt didn't. While officials paged Aunt Amelia and checked her address, Dean wandered again.

"I grabbed a cab and finally reached the New York Central terminal in Chicago," Dean said. "The taxi driver was pretty annoying. He wanted to take me on a sightseeing tour of the city."

Then Dean boarded the east-bound Chicago Limited and found an empty roomette where he bedded down for the night. He was awakened by a conductor.

"I told him I lost my ticket and that my aunt who was waiting in Buffalo would pay my fare," Dean said.

The next morning he slipped from his berth and went into the dining car where he had wheatcakes and sausage for breakfast. "With a tip, it cost me $5."

On the train Dean said he was awakened by a conductor.

"I told him I lost my ticket and that my aunt who was waiting in Buffalo would pay my fare," Dean said.

Dean's mother, Mrs. John Siering, who is separated from her husband, said at her parents' home in Sea Cliff:

"I think it would be very nice to have him cool his heels up there for a week to realize the seriousness of his mistake."

Brewing Tea Is An Old Art

NEW YORK (UPI)—The method of brewing perfect tea has changed little in 4,000 years, says the Tea Council of the U. S. A.

The council said it still calls for a preheated teapot, freshly drawn water brought to a full rolling boil (reheated water gives a dull, flat taste), 1 tea bag or 1 teaspoon of tea leaves to each 8-ounce cup of water (double the amount of tea for lead tea), and three to five minutes of brewing.

Don't judge the strength of tea by its color, the council warned. Some weak teas produce a dark brew, while strong blends may produce a light one. Water differences also affect color: If you like the beverage weak, add freshly boiled water after the brewing period.

Books Bound To Interest You

NEW YORK (UPI)—New publications of special interest to women:

"The New Setting Your Table," by Helen Sprackling (Barrows). The author discusses table settings for a variety of meals, from backyard to buffet, and for a variety of occasions, from the formal dinner to the extra plate for the unexpected guest. One chapter covers wine service.

"Foods Without Fads," by Dr. E. W. McHenry (Lippincott). The author, head of the Department of Nutrition at the University of Toronto, bills his book as "a common-sense guide to nutrition and advises 'it pays to eat wisely and not waste money on pills.'"

ASSIGNMENT WASHINGTON by Ed Koterba

WASHINGTON—In the inner lobby of the posh Sheraton-Park Hotel, a fountain of perfumes danced across pink lights. Beside the perpetual spray, a pretty model huckstered $2.95 boxes of sample bottles of the stuff under a sign that read:

"Here's a plan to fill the air for a Republican victory in 1960." The perfume bottles were labeled, "GOP-TIME!"

"Corny? That's just the start of it. We have 6,000 ladies here giving the 1960 Republican campaign the official kickoff, and they've been putting so much kick into this annual jamboree that a stranger who happened by mistake thought them Democrats."

Out at the Ulton Arena they gave a box lunch supper to the swing and sway of Sammy Kaye and Johnnie Lee. It was the ladies from the county committees who were doing most of the buying.

These gals are really looking ahead. A Texas Republican, Mrs. Aileen O'Callaghan of San Antonio was selling GOP Christmas cards for the next season. Already, she'd gotten orders for 1,000. They're to be mailed out just before the November election. I walked sort of leisurely past a stand manned by a Pittsburgh button manufacturer. Before I reached the opposite end of the counter, I found in my coat pocket an "I'm for Nixon" handkerchief; in my trousers pocket a comb stamped, "Comb for Nixon votes"; and a fistful of other doodads—"I'm a Nixon fan" fan; a note pad, "Make a note to vote for Dick Nixon"; and an emery board marked, "Vote Republican."

Then somebody thrust into my hand a metal cricket-clacker. It had this line: "I'm chirping for Nixon."

The Nixon gismos got as fancy as pearl necklaces from which dangled the five letters of his last name in gold. They were selling, for one dollar, cotton stocking caps with a bell as a tassel growing out of the letters, "GOP" and the line: "Ring for a better America." They also had family wastebaskets labeled: "Republican—the family party."

There was only one Rockefeller button available. It carried the pictures of both Nixon and Rocky and the slogan: "What a ticket!" These the lady kept under the counter. "They're not selling too well," she said.

The fastest-moving gadget was the Elect Barry Goldwater pot-holder. Goldwater, Republican senator of Arizona, recently took some potshots at Nixon for leaning too far "left." The potholders were free.

"He's more my man for president," one lady said as she passed the counter. But the potholders were not booming Goldwater for president—merely for re-election as senator.

that really tells you what a selling campaign they have in store. If these pin-happy, button-baiting hucksters give only half as much energy selling the Republican ticket as they've given hawking those doodads, the Democrats are sunk.

One saleslady buttonholed me to look over some trinkets. They were white plastic, selling at about three cents apiece. "I got orders for 100,000 already today," she said. The line across the nut read: "Sew it up for Nixon."

"Imagine," she said, "how well these will go on a tour of a garment factory?" It was the ladies from the county committees who were doing most of the buying.

These gals are really looking ahead. A Texas Republican, Mrs. Aileen O'Callaghan of San Antonio was selling GOP Christmas cards for the next season. Already, she'd gotten orders for 1,000. They're to be mailed out

Outnumbered South African Whites Face Economic Problem With Crisis

By PHIL NEWCOM

While most of the outside world has joined in condemning the Union of South Africa's harsh white supremacy laws, recent racial violence also has brought South Africa's white population face to face with some unpleasant facts of life.

To the outside world, the struggle appears mostly a social one. Negroes attempting to free themselves of repressive bonds, and the South African government attempting to stem a tide which will not be stopped.

But while this may be true, for the whites of South Africa it also has great economic significance. Negroes and persons of mixed blood outnumber the whites of South Africa nearly 10 to 1.

Natives make up 24 per cent of the work force in business and 82 per cent in agriculture.

Last week, South Africans were learning with a shock the extent to which their economy depends upon native help and the ruin that could come in the event of an African general strike.

Native strikes are outlawed in South Africa, but events of the last month have been a sign of what could happen.

When native labor stayed home by the thousands, South Africa's steel industry was crippled. Ships have stood in the harbors with no one to unload them. Garment factories lost many man hours of labor.

Deliveries were non-existent and the stream of meat and other foodstuffs to the market came to a virtual halt.

Many a man thinks he is buying pleasure, when he is really selling himself a slave to it.

THE WORRY CLINIC By Dr. George Crane

Cora's use of the toothpaste tube horrified my scientific soul when we were first married. For I was a typical Research Psychologist, having just won my Ph. D. for 5 years of work with the National Research Council and Carnegie Institution. Note the effect of sequence in the family as regards your child's personality:

CASE 2—428: Cora is the name of my wife. She is a vivacious brunette who has always exuded "personality" and "oomph." I fell in love with her at first sight at a Young People's meeting in a church at Ft. Wayne, Ind. Although I had never seen her before, when she was nominated to an office in this church group, and rose to be introduced, she flashed a smile that made my heart do a flipflop.

It has never recovered, although I shopped around widely to make sure.

So we were finally married. And the first morning after the wedding, I started to brush my teeth. But the big, new tube of toothpaste was dented severely right in the middle.

"Cora must have dropped it," I thought, as I carefully tried to squeeze the toothpaste up from the bottom and erase that ugly dimple midway of the tube.

That night, however, I again found the tube crushed right in the middle, so I asked her about it.

"Yes, I always squeeze the tube like that," she glibly replied.

As an introverted scientist, I NEVER had been guilty of such careless, inefficiency.

So I tried to explain that the proper way to use a toothpaste tube is to start at the bottom. Then you can neatly fold the used part of the metal tube as you go along and always have the paste at the upper end.

"What's the difference?" she partly objected, and after more than 30 years of futile tutoring, I have finally given up trying to change her extroverted habit.

Which one of us—my wife or myself—was the middle child? And which was the eldest?

You can probably guess at once from the toothpaste episode, for Mrs. Crane was the middle child, sandwiched between an older and a younger brother.

As the eldest of four, I was the quiet, shy introvert. Two years below me in age was my brother, Dr. John B. Crane, visiting professor of the Economics Department at Earlham College.

As newspaper boys, when we did our collecting, I tried to mastermind the situation, but pushed John forward to ring the doorbell and do the talking.

The Biblical story of the Prodigal Son is a fairly accurate picture of the personality differences between the eldest and the next child in the sequence, especially if both are of the same sex.

For the oldest is more quiet, less affectionate as regards kissing his mother and using endearing terms, but usually more responsible when it comes to putting tasks away after use, or completing loans and supporting aged parents.

Although there are exceptions, the oldest child tends to be a doer while the second child in the sequence is more the talker and social mixer.

Indeed, in his basic personality traits the second son of a rich, wealthy suburban home is more like the second boy in a tenement district, than he is like his own older brother.

And the eldest son is more akin to the eldest boy in the tenement family. So it isn't heredity but sequence in the family that yields the greatest influence in determining our personality.

But you can change: My wife has now got me squeezing the toothpaste tube from the middle! (Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 4¢ stamped, addressed envelope and 25¢ to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Quotable Quotes

By United Press International

PARIS—Automobile magnate Roland Peugeot, pleading in a television broadcast for the safe return of his four-and-a-half-year-old son who was kidnaped for $10,000 ransom:

"I am only seeking one thing—to get back my boy, for the fact is there, I have lost my child."

SAN FRANCISCO—Attorney George T. Davis, commenting on Caryl Chessman's angry refusal to name "the real red light bandit":

"He apparently wants to die. I want to save him and I'll continue to work in his behalf."

Two Youths Face Driving Charge

LIBERTY, N. Y.—Police sergeant Dwight Startup, commenting on three young boys who are putting nickels into overdue parking meters and leaving cards blinding that the grateful drivers should send a contribution to keep them in business:

"It's OK with us, as long as we get our nickels."

ALBANY, N. Y.—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, discussing an editorial in the Denver Post, urging Republicans to organize a "draft Rockefeller" movement:

"I don't think a movement in that direction will develop."

ROSE CIRCLE

Members of the Rose Circle of the Sanford Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. C. M. Slaughter in Orlando, for their April program.

Following the business session, Mrs. Slaughter spoke to the group concerning her 25 years of hybridizing Day Lilies. She has 20 registered lilies among the many thousands that she has worked with.

Everyone also enjoyed her wonderful collection of orchids, at least 100 plants were in bloom. The tour of the garden was very interesting and the members especially enjoyed the beautiful specimens of lilies that were blooming.

Next month, Mrs. Slaughter's garden will be on the tour for the "National Day Lily Society."

Following the meeting, circle members enjoyed luncheon at the Driftwood Cafeteria.

HIBISCUS CIRCLE

The Hibiscus circle of the garden club met at the home of Mrs. John Fox in Paola. Hostesses Mrs. Fox, Mrs. John Ludwig, Mrs. Joe Meisch and Mrs. W. H. Stewart, served a dessert course to the members.

Mrs. Gordon Brisson gave an interesting talk on the culture of geraniums. She stressed the fact that they preferred dryness and heat and could not take too much moisture. Plans for the coming year were discussed.

Sherry Fails As 'Bum' Starter

United Press International World Series hero Larry Sherry may think his future is brighter as a starting pitcher than his luck in one outing as a reliever.

The hard-throwing hero of the Los Angeles Dodgers' playoff and World Series triumph got his long-awaited chance as a starter Wednesday night and suffered a 6-0 loss to the Chicago Cubs. Red Sox slugger Babe Ruth, who never had beaten the Dodgers, fired a five-inning game and never was in serious danger.

The San Francisco Giants got a spectacular three-hit pitching from 31-year-old Mike McCormick to whip the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-1, and now lead the National League with a 2-0 state, while Mike Ryan cracked out four hits in five tries in the only other major league game of the day or night.

Manager Walt Alton wants to give 34-year-old Sherry every opportunity to make good as a starter but if he believes in good luck charms he'll send Sherry back to the bullpen. Sherry now has lost three big league games and all three were as a starter. He won one start last September 11 and has a perfect 6-0 mark as a relief pitcher.

Actually, Sherry's performance Wednesday night could not be called a complete disappointment. He pitched strongly out of a bases-filled jam in the first inning and the first run he yielded was a pop fly homer over the left field screen by Ernie Banks in the fourth. The Cubs clinched matters in the eighth when Richie Ashburn and Tony Taylor beat out infield singles and Frank Thomas, acquired from the Pirates in the winter, belted a three-run homer.

Hobbie, who had a 0-4 mark against the Dodgers although he had an overall 16-15 mark last season, struck out three and walked six but the Dodgers left 10 men stranded. Sherry yielded nine hits, walked one and struck out six.

McCormick, a hard-luck pitcher who was much better than his 12-16 record last year, was working on a no-hitter when Stan Musial opened the Cardinals' eighth inning with a single. Musial was erased in a double play and then ex-Giant Leon Wagner followed with his second homer in as many days for the only run off McCormick. Sam Jones also three-hit the Cardinals in the Giants' 5-1 opening-day victory.

Mays drove in two runs with a double off Wilmer Missal in the second inning and also had three singles. Orlando Cepeda, Jim Davenport, Willie Kirkland and Eddie Bressoud contributed two hits each to the Giants' 13-hit attack.

The Dodgers and Giants remain at home against the Cardinals and Cubs in Thursday night games but there are "secondary openers" in Pittsburgh where the Reds are sending Cal McLish against the Pirates' Vern Law and in Philadelphia (night) where the Milwaukee Braves will start Carlton Willey against the Phillies' Curt Simmons.

The Boston Red Sox beat the Chicago White Sox, 3-0, behind the two-hit pitching of Tom Braker and Frank Sullivan while the Washington Senators downed the Cleveland Indians, 5-4, on Lenny Green's 10th-inning homer in American League exhibition games.

The Kansas City Athletics announced that Bud Daley, left-handed knuckleballer who had a 16-13 record last season, would pitch their opening game against the White Sox next Tuesday. Daley beat the American League champions three times last year.

Chisox Hurler Bob Shaw Rated As Top Contender For AL Honors

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bob Shaw, strapping surprise star of the Chicago White Sox pitching staff in 1937, was picked today to be the American League "pitcher of the year" by the nation's top baseball experts.

The 6-foot, 2-inch, 185-pound right-hander was selected by 13 of the 50 writers and broadcasters who composed the United Press International's 1938 board of experts. Early Wynn, veteran right-hander who won 22 games for the White Sox in 1937, was the second most popular choice with six votes.

Amateur Boxer On Brink Of Death

MADISON, Wis. (UPI)—University of Wisconsin boxer Charles Mohr remained at the brink of death today but his father said, "don't blame the sport."

The father, whose name also is Charles, was asked if he blamed boxing for his son's very critical brain injury, and he said, "absolutely not."

The father, who has remained around the clock at the hospital with his wife, two daughters and numerous friends, said boxing had always been Charles' main interest and that he and his wife had approved their son's participation in the sport.

Moppie Takes Powerboat Race

NASSAU (UPI)—Thirteen straggling boats headed here today, half a day behind the "Moppie" which won the 184-mile Miami-to-Nassau powerboat race Wednesday in eight hours flat.

The Moppie, piloted by Sam Griffith of Miami, slid into port three and a half hours ahead of second-place "Aquatic 11," piloted by Jim Wynne of Miami.

The stragglers were still at least 25 miles out of port on the course Wednesday night and were ordered to spend the night at sea and come in today by daylight.

Seminoles Smash Four Track Marks

The Seminole High thinleads broke four school records in a five-way meet at Leesburg Wednesday.

Sanford won the meeting taking 13 out of 15 first places. Other teams in the meet were Leesburg, Clermont, Tavares and Mt. Dora.

New records smashed by the Seminoles were:

- The 120-yard high hurdles broken by Bob Barbour with a time of 1:4.3.
- 880 relay race comprised of John Mann, Alex McKibben, Don Harvey and Jim Gracey with a time of 1:33.9.
- 440-yard run by Ray Lundquist with a time of 53.1.
- Gracey broke the school's broad jump mark with a leap of 19 feet, 10 inches.

Cold Weather Blamed For Bout Loss

CHICAGO (UPI)—Welterweight Sugar Hart beat only "one fourth of a fighter," vanquished Rocky Kallingo of the Philippines declared today.

Kallingo, who suffered his seventh loss in 82 pro fights while making his United States television debut Wednesday night, blamed cold weather for his loss. And Hart, who broke a two-fight losing streak, said his foreign foe was "the hardest puncher I ever met."

The fight packed plenty of action into its brief 15 minutes. But Kallingo was tagged with a solid right hook near the end of the fourth round and finished the session on his knees against the ropes, when the bell sounded at the count of seven.

Hart, who weighed 155 pounds,

Sanford Greyhounds To Get Use Of 21-Passenger Bus For Season

Sanford's Greyhounds will ride the Florida State League circuit this summer in the big 21-passenger bus that formerly carried Mayfair Inn guests from the Mayfair to the Seminole Country Club and back.

Club officials arranged for the purchase of the bus from the city this week, and the vehicle is now being painted in bright colors by Willie Gay of the Seminole Body and Paint Shop at 304 W. Second St.

As a matter of fact, Club President Harold Kastner reported that not only is Gay giving the club a very special discount on the job but, his employees are donating their services for the labor involved on the inside portion of the bus.

Meantime, General Manager Peter Schaal announced that the club's business office will be open for the season at Memorial Stadium at 10:30 a. m. Saturday. Phones will be installed at that hour, he said, and fans wishing box seats or general admission tickets should call at their convenience all during the morning and afternoon.

Schaal indicated that the same

Canucks Favored To Clobber Leafs

TORONTO (UPI)—The haughty Montreal Canadiens are 11-3 favorites to clobber the Toronto Maple Leafs again tonight and thus become the second team in history to complete an eight-game sweep in the Stanley Cup playoffs.

The Flying Frenchmen eliminated the Chicago Black Hawks in a four-game semifinal series and enter tonight's contest with a 3-0 lead over Toronto in their best-of-seven title round.

In the 42-year-history of the National Hockey League, only one other team skated off with the cup in the minimum eight games. That was the 1951-52 Detroit Red Wings' squad.

Even some members of the Maple Leafs are tired of chasing the Canadiens in this series.

"How long can you swim upstream?" asked one Toronto player today.

Neither club has any injuries, therefore there can be no alibis. The Leafs are tired of chasing the fast-skating Canadiens showing Toronto the puck on occasions but retaining command.

Famed Racing Driver Needs Chauffeur Now

SHREWSBURY, England (UPI)—Stirling Moss, one of the world's leading race drivers, today was searching for a chauffeur to drive him around England.

The British speed demon was found guilty of dangerous driving Wednesday and will have to confine his driving to closed circuits for one year. He also was fined 50 pounds.

Although his lawyer told the court the conviction was a "great blow," Moss said he would not appeal.

"I shall now have to have someone drive me around England," Moss added. "I drive about 50,000 miles a year on the road — about 20,000 of which are in this country."

Dobie Gillis Still Plagued By Same Old Problems On TV

By FRED DANZIG
NEW YORK (UPI)—The last time I saw "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis," a number of weeks ago, Dobie was long on girl trouble, short on cash. And his dad kept saying, "I gotta kill that boy. I just gotta."

Since the "Startime" hour obliged with a re-run Tuesday night, I was able to rejoin Dobie and his many loves on CBS-TV. I discovered that I haven't missed a thing. Dobie, still wearing the checkered button-down shirt and khaki jeans, is still moaning about girls. Still broke, too. And his dad is reciting the same lines in trying to get Dobie to work.

Tuesday night's chapter had Dobie spurning a sweet girl who loved him madly in order to court the banker's strong-willed, no-goodnik daughter. The match was supposed to help Dobie's dad negotiate a bank loan. In the end, Dobie spurned the banker's daughter, regained his old friends and his independence. P. S. His dad got the loan, anyhow. (How irrelevant can you expect a TV series to be?)

The series, now bogged down in sameness, nevertheless has some fresh qualities. It's not a Western. Nor is it a private eye frenzy. There's no violence, no wild adventure. The father, ably played by Frank Faylen, is not alluent, like the other dads in such TV shows. He's not a lawyer, insurance man or doctor. He is his son, Dobie, hard up for cash. And Poppy Gillis works long, hard hours in his grocery—something Dobie refuses to do. It's not very glamorous for TV situations but it was a realistic check his button-down shirt and khaki jeans.

Other favorable qualities are the supporting players. Bob Denver, as Maynard Krebs, caricatures the beatnik set with frequently refreshing style. A succession of attractive starlets depict teen-age chicks who range from romantics to soda fountain B-girls. Unfortunately, while they are given opportunities for deft satire, the girls—Tuesday Weld excepted—usually fail to master the subtleties of their roles.

Perhaps the biggest drawback is Dobie, played by Dwayne Hickman. He's dull, square. His interests are girls, girl, girls. Study? College? Work? A career? Nothing. He makes Andy Hardy and Henry Aldrich look like the Revere brothers. And his pursuit is always videogore. I recall that one time an episode hinted that Dobie may have sneaked a peek at a biology book and CBS refused to run it. But that's not Dobie's fault, of course.

I'm afraid the series isn't going to get better and, in TV, no change means regression. Built around Dobie's repellent escapades, saddled with satire that too often falls to take off, with performers who lack the necessary professional experience to carry off their assignments—these girls, I must say—the future looks bleak for the show.

I think the series should be built around Dobie's parents—Frank Faylen and Florida Friebus handle the parts so well—and Dobie should be less of a factor. Besides, after putting up with Dobie all this time, Mr. and Mrs. Gillis deserve a show of their own.

The Channel Swim: Ann Sheridan will star in "The Impostor," a "U.S. Steel Hour" presentation scheduled for CBS-TV on Wednesday, June 15. Appearing with Miss Sheridan are Claude Dauphin and Liliane Montevecchi.

A contemporary ballet based on the Biblical story of Noah is being created by Igor Stravinsky and George Balanchine, on commission from CBS-TV. The ballet will be performed during the 1960-61 season.

"The Shirley Temple Enchantment Hour," a series of classics and fairy tales, goes into NBC-TV's 7-8 p.m. e.s.t. Sunday time slot next fall. In addition to serving as hostess, Miss Temple will star in a number of the presentations. Instead of music, suspense and mystery plays will replace "The Dinah Shore Show" on NBC-TV this summer. Walter Slezak is the series' host. First play is set for May 29.

Carl Erskine, former National League pitcher, has signed a TV contract. He'll participate in ABC-TV's baseball game-of-the-week series starting April 16.

Beatnik Beats Rap For Poetry Reading

NEW YORK (UPI)—Ballad for a Beat: He read his verse in Washington Square, and found he owed the city dough. Because making a speech with the public there, without a permit just don't go. Disorderly conduct was the charge against William Morris, 28. A poet, artist, avant-garde, and beatnik quite irate. In the court his lawyer roamed, said this was verse, judge, not a speech, reading their own poems. And yesterday let Morris off, said poets can read in a public place. Making a speech and reciting an ode, are not the same, we must be fair. But I'll not comment on what Morris wrote. said Magistrate Walter J. Bayer. Morris, arrested nine months ago, was not on hand when he was cleared. To San Francisco he decided to go, the home of the beat—and the beard.

Osteen Youngsters Put On First Class Production Of Pinocchio

Capacity Crowd Watches Show; Children Made Sets

The children of the first, second and third grades of the Osteen School presented the play, "Pinocchio" Tuesday night before a capacity crowd at the school auditorium.

The production was under the supervision of their teacher, Mrs. Margaret Harris.

All stage settings and scenery were made and painted by the children. One mural depicted Geppeto's workshop with snow capped mountains in the background and another was Paradise Island.

A stage coach drawn by a hobby horse and lollipop, ice cream, cigar and peppermint stick trees, were also made by the children.

The cast included Susan Seitz as the narrator; Mary Gary as Geppeto; Loren Jones as Pinocchio; Linda Whiddon as Cleo the gold fish; Douglas Jones as Jimmy Cricket; Mike Shiner as the stage coach driver and Ronnie Riggs and Louis Sutton as the bad boys.

Others in the cast were Neal Caldwell, Ash Pell, Dell Rutherford, Chester Carpenter, Karen Osteen, Brenda Palmer, Beck Gowan, Charles Sutton, Curtis Vincent, Robert Workman, Melissa German and George Fraser.

Fund Approved For Tomb Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has voted to let the United States spend foreign aid funds to help save tombs and temples dating from the dawn on history.

The committee tentatively agreed Wednesday to let the United States participate in a major international program to preserve ancient historical treasures along the Nile River in Egypt and the Sudan.

The tombs and temples will be covered by a lake 300 miles long when the Aswan High Dam is completed in about five years. Egypt and the Sudan have asked scientists the world over to help unearth the treasures of antiquity before it is too late.

The committee approved an amendment to the foreign aid bill which would permit the U. S. government to contribute up to one-third of the cost of the big international program.

It has been estimated that the proposed explorations and excavations might cost up to 90 million dollars. Other nations are being asked to help also.

Florida Agricultural Growers Plan To Combat Cuban Tomato Imports

HOMESTEAD — Some Florida agricultural growers and shippers are ready to declare war on Fidel Castro -- if necessary -- to curtail Cuba's wholesale invasion of their U. S. markets.

A group of growers here reports that Castro, not satisfied with the recent nationalization of Cuba's substantial tomato industry which ruined a number of American growers in that country, is determined to undermine Florida's own tomato and vegetable industry.

According to these growers, Cuban tomatoes are being "dumped" on American markets, uncommitted and unseasoned, artificially depressing prices at a time when south Florida's crop is ready for sale.

They maintain that this practice has already ruined some Florida agricultural producers and is destined to create further damage.

Unable to combat Cuba's tactics in any other way, these producers, organized as the Southmost Vegetable Cooperative here, have been forced to turn to the out mechanization to reduce costs, hoping in this way to compete with Cuba's "state subsidized" tomatoes.

Charles C. Carpenter, president of the cooperative and prominent in Florida Fruit & Vegetable Association activities, explains that Cuba's tomato crop requires little spraying or fertilizing, is harvested by labor paid the equivalent of $1.25 a day, and is packed for only 30 to 40 cents per hour.

"In contrast," he says, "we protect our crop from disease by using costly chemical sprays and further invest in soil-enriching fertilizers."

"People in our harvesting crews earn up to $17 a day, and we pay our packing house workers $1.50 per hour. Our fixed costs are much higher because of taxes, insurance, and the necessity of complying with many questionable but costly federal state and local regulations."

Irvin Barnett, another member of the Southmost Cooperative, points out that Dade County has cut its tomato crop from 31,000 to 12,000 acres, largely due to Cuban competition.

"But," he adds, "our cooperative has again planted 2,500 acres in tomatoes, and where last season we needed 140 to 150 people in our packing house to handle the 1,500 cartloads a season we ship to all parts of the U. S. and Canada, this year we are packing the same volume with 90 to 100 people and doing a better job."

The federal government spends more in a year on the purchase of paper towels than it did on the whole annual federal budget in George Washington's day.

Finsterwald, Nieporte Favorites

GREENSBORO, N. C. (UPI) — Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta and Tom Nieporte of Bronxville, N. Y., were the early favorites in a field of 180 pros and amateurs opening play today in the $17,500 Greater Greensboro Open golf tournament.

Finsterwald, the 1959 winner, copped the Los Angeles Open and has placed third in his last three tournaments. Nieporte took the Azalea Open at Wilmington, N. C., two weeks ago.

Slammin' Sammy Snead, the millionaire golfer from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., will be looking for his seventh win here. The gallery favorite finished in the money in last year's tournament on the par 71 Starmount Forest Country Club course.

Eighteen holes will be played daily through Sunday with the big cut coming after the second day.

Absent was Masters champion Arnold Palmer who has played here twice, the last time in 1957.

Doug Ford, 1954 winner, notified tournament officials he would be unable to play because he is undergoing dental treatment in New York this week.

U. S. Netters Win

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Taxpayers who haven't settled up yet with Uncle Sam won't have to burn the midnight oil to mail in their returns by the usual April 15 deadline Friday.

Because the deadline is Good Friday, the Internal Revenue Service has extended the deadline to next Monday—for this year only. This gives taxpayers all weekend to complete their 1959 returns.

Tax Commissioner Dana Latham granted the three-day grace period Wednesday to give all taxpayers "equal treatment."

Under the law, taxpayers in 13 states and three U. S. possessions where Good Friday is a legal holiday had until midnight, Monday—the first working day after the 15th—to file their returns.

Rather than have two different deadlines, Latham told all 60 million taxpayers their returns need not be postmarked before April 18.

Kennedy Camp Anxious To Downgrade Primary

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There were signs today that the Kennedy camp would like to downgrade the West Virginia primary test it has overrated as a factor in settling the Democratic presidential nomination.

Forecasts have come since the Wisconsin primary that Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) could just about clinch the nomination by winning the May 10 West Virginia primary from Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), the loser in Wisconsin.

A defeat for Kennedy in West Virginia would forestall any bandwagon scramble by uncommitted national convention delegates to throw their support to him two months ahead of the convention.

While Kennedy is outwardly confident about West Virginia, his supporters are citing reasons for worry about the outcome.

They are voicing fear that backers of all other Democratic candidates will rally behind Humphrey in a "stop Kennedy" movement. They also see Humphrey as the chief beneficiary of support from the United Mine Workers Union, a potent force in West Virginia.

Still another unknown factor is the impact of the religious issue. Kennedy, a Catholic, appeared to have benefitted more in Wisconsin than he was hurt by anti-Catholic votes.

Unlike Wisconsin, where 30 percent of the people are Catholics, West Virginia's population is less than 5 per cent Catholic. West Virginia could provide a better clue as to whether there still is an anti-Catholic vote like that which contributed to the 1928 defeat of Democratic candidate Alfred E. Smith.

Auto Ends Up In Tree Tops

BEDFORD, Pa. (UPI) — An automobile driven by a New Jersey woman spun out of control on the Pennsylvania Turnpike Wednesday and soared a measured 175 feet into the tops of two trees.

Mrs. Francis Caniff, Millburn, N. J., was thrown from the car as it left an embankment along the turnpike four miles west of the Bedford interchange.

The 66-year-old woman suffered a badly bruised eye and lacerated eyelid. Attendants at Bedford County Memorial Hospital said it would be several days before the full extent of the eye injury could be learned.

In November, 1954, more than 1,000 Misourians invaded Kansas and helped elect a pro-slavery delegate to Congress.

Machine Found

A stolen chewing gum machine was recovered here Tuesday with the gum gone and the money intact, Sanford Police said.

Someone with a fondness for gum took the machine from in front of Cherry's Grocery at 1018 French Ave. and left it in front of the Furniture Center at 1100 French Ave.

County To Get New Pick-Up

The County Road Department will get a new pick-up truck in an effort to speed up needed maintenance work over the county.

The County Commission Tuesday awarded a bid to the Strickland-Morrison Co. of Sanford for the new truck at a cost of $1,825.

With the addition of the new truck, the road department will have the use of five pick-ups.

Elect

Harvie J. Belser

GOVERNOR

To the Voters of Florida:

The following is a reprint of an article appearing in the Florida Times Union, Sunday, April 2, 1960:

"Clearwater — State Senator Harvie Belser of Bonifay told groups that one of his primary aims in entering the race for Governor was to give the people a chance to vote for a strong segregationist.

"He said he thought the voters should have a 'clear-cut choice of voting for a staunch segregationist and believer in states' rights and constitutional government, or of voting otherwise."

"The returns on May 3 will indicate conclusively in which direction the people of Florida desire to go for the next four years," he said.

Belser said he'd spent about $10,000.00 on his campaign so far and that it all has been contributed in amounts of $50 or less from persons of average or below means."

Would you vote for a man who has a 100% pro legislative record against RACE MIXING?

Would you vote for a man who in the Florida Senate in 1957 told Governor Collins that he didn't have sufficient support to fight RACE MIXING and stand up for the RIGHTS, CUSTOMS AND TRADITIONS of the SOUTH?

Would you compare BELSER'S record on segregation legislation with the record of the other gubernatorial candidates?

Would you vote for a man who is not obligated to the politicians or vested interests in the state but who is free and will be free to make the people of Florida a real Governor?

Would you vote for a man 42 years of age, married, three children, with the following record of governmental experience:

Member Florida State Senate, former member Florida House of Representatives; former County Attorney, former Prosecuting Attorney, former school board attorney, Veterans World War II, domestic and press service, editor and columnist, Member Florida, District of Columbia and American Bar Associations?

This is your right. Belser is spearheading it for you. Vote him, help him, and ask your friends and relatives to do likewise.

New Paving Work To Start

Work on paving Sanford Ave. from 25th St. to Ginder's Corner will start next Wednesday, County Commission Chairman John Krider said today.

The work is expected to be completed in about a year, Krider added.

The C. A. Mayer Construction Co. of Orlando will do the job at a cost of $214,200.

The Tyler Co. of Louisville, Ky.,

was originally scheduled to begin the project but canceled its contract because of the long awaited delay in getting the needed right of way.

In Tallahassee the State Road Department set May 26 as the date for a public hearing on a tentative $33 million tentative work budget adopted Thursday.

Among the primary projects announced by the State Road Department is the four-laning of SR 46 from French Ave. to the Interstate Route.

The budget is almost one million dollars less than the record $41,483,000 budget adopted last year.

The department said only about $27 million of next year's budget can be financed during the coming 12 months.

The department always approves a work budget bigger than available funds. That affords leeway in project selection. No primary project can be built unless it is in the annual budget.

Biggest shares of this year's budget are allotted for District 1 (West Coast); District 3 (Volusia, Brevard, Citrus, and St. Johns counties); and District 4 (Collier, Dade, and Broward counties north to Indian River County).

Bales Urges Better Wages For Teachers

District 1 County Commission candidate Don Bales, who has been relatively quiet in past rallies, "spoke up" at the Paola rally Thursday night saying that he favored raising the tax millage if necessary to give Seminole teachers a "decent" pay wage.

"At the risk of being unpopular," Bales said, "Seminole teachers are not getting the amount of money that teachers in surrounding counties get and something should be done about it."

"If raising the millage is the solution to a better wage scale, then I am in favor of it," Bales emphasized.

Other candidates who had something to say beside the usual run of qualifications included Lawrence Swafford, candidate for the District 3 commission post, who said he was standing on his past record and would never vote to increase tax millage to build streets in subdivisions for tax exempt homes and overburden new industries in the county.

One of Swafford's opponents, James Avery, said that if he is elected he would see that Seminole County prisoners work on county roads and not roads in any other county.

Avery said that at present, Seminole prisoners are leased out to Orange County.

Another candidate in the District 3 commission race, A. R. Lormann, said that he favors getting dollar value for a dollar spent. "We all know we need a change, else why would there be five candidates running for the District 3 post?" Lormann asked.

John Fitzpatrick, candidate for District 3 commissioner, asked why the County Commission agreed to build the health center on a valuable piece of property when they could just as well found a more "suitable area."

Senatorial candidate from the 5th district Gary Bennett Jr. said he would work for a fair reapportionment and work closely with the county legislative delegation.

Two Brevard County officials were on hand to solicit support for the other candidate for senator, Bernard Parrish who was in Sanford earlier Thursday.

George Bailey, mayor of Cocoa and Curtis Barnes, mayor of Rockledge, added their efforts to the Brevard citizens and officials working in this area in behalf of Parrish.

On recent county growth and progress from an outside group Thursday night while they were guests of the Orlando Chamber of Commerce at a "boosters" dinner at the Shrine Club here.

The Orlandoans, 80 strong, came armed with envelopes containing honorary colonel citations in "the great army of Central Florida Boosters."

Each Seminole County resident was given a citation designating him an ambassador of good will for Central Florida. The citations were signed by Richard Tucker, chairman of the CoC's Inter-City Relations Committee, a d. H. Stuart Johnson, CoC manager, and charged the recipients to forever extol the charm and virtues of "this great and growing section of the State of Florida." The citations also entitled the colonels to carry with them the "delightful aroma of Orange blossoms."

Each Orlando host was introduced after the dinner, and each remarked on the accomplishments of the various communities in Seminole County. The Orlando CoC pledged its "complete facilities" to serving the area.

The groups of civic and business leaders were headed by Mayor Robert Carr of Orlando and Earl Higginbotham of Sanford.

TINY HOSTESS, Judy Ann Goldman (with ponytail) and Patty Fogarty search for Easter eggs at a party given at Chuluota Thursday. Jeffrey Cobberly won the hunt when he found 15 eggs. The party was given by Judy Ann and Little Paula K. Jones for their Chuluota friends. It officially opened the Easter egg roundup. (Herald Photo)

The Springfield Giants will clash against the Eugene, Oregon, Giants in the benefit tilt. Admission prices are $1.

Egg Hunts Set Over Weekend In Sanford Area

The Jaycee Easter Egg Hunt scheduled for Ft. Mellon Park Sunday will be among the many highlights of the day planned throughout the county.

The egg hunt will start at 9 p. m.

Jaycee wives have painted approximately 200 dozen eggs for the hunt. Prizes and toys will be awarded to the lucky youngster who can spot the eggs.

Another Easter egg hunt will be sponsored by the Luther League of the Good Shepherd United Lutheran Churches. This egg hunt will be held Saturday at 10 a. m. on the church property located on Hwy 17-92.

The church site is located a half mile south of Sanford.

Further information on the hunt can be obtained by contacting Douglas Smith at FA 2-1781 or Richard Martin at FA 2-1801.

An Easter egg hunt will also be held at the Mayvona Park community at 10:30 a. m. Saturday.

Easter Lily Drive Slated Saturday

The sale of paper Easter lilies Saturday will benefit the Seminole County Crippled Children's Society Easter Seal drive.

The lilies made by handicapped employees of the Easter Seal Society will be sold in all downtown areas in Seminole County. Young ladies from county Junior high schools and high schools have volunteered to sell the lilies. They will be directed by Mrs. D. K. McNab of the Sanford Pilot Club, which sponsored the organization of the Society.

Contributions will be used to provide medical care, wheelchairs, crutches, braces, walkers and physiotherapy treatment for crippled children and adults in Seminole County. Plans are also underway to send many children as possible to the Youth Conservation Camp on Lake Eaton, in Ocala National Forest this summer. The camp is especially equipped and staffed to meet the needs of handicapped children.

Society President Phillip Logan urged all who have not seen their Easter Seal contributions to do so this weekend. Logan pointed out that 71 percent of all contributions made here remain in Seminole County to help local crippled persons. Contributions should be mailed to Kenneth McIntosh, treasurer, Crippled Children's Society, Sanford. Anyone who wants to use the society's services should contact McIntosh or Logan.

Oviedo Political Rally Saturday

The sixth political rally sponsored by the County Executive Democratic Committee will be held at 8 p. m. Saturday in Oviedo.

The rally will be held in the school gymnasium and a dinner will be served from 9:30 to 1:30 in the gym.

All proceeds of the dinner will go toward the Oviedo Women's Club building fund.

Tickets are being sold in advance by Mrs. Charles T. Milback and Mrs. Ross Clinton Jr. The dinner will consist of fried chicken, baked beans, cold slaw, french bread, cake, coffee and tea cream. Prices for the dinner is $2 for adults and .75 for children.

Candidate's Criticism Of Drainage Efforts By Board Brings Protest

John Krider, chairman of the County Commission who is not seeking re-election, protested today a statement by a candidate for the commission which Krider said he felt was not a proper criticism of the board and also was unfair to the efforts of at least one volunteer public service group in the county.

Krider referred to a talk made one of the current series of political rallies and reported in the The Herald. He said:

"During political campaigns, criticisms and charges are directed by the hopeful against those in office. Usually these may be attributed to lack of information or personal opinions. However, in the case of one candidate, neither of these reasons appear to be sufficient to justify the false statements made by Mr. James P. Avery at the Bear Lake rally, Tuesday night, April 12."

"Candidate Avery said 'the board has gone to unnecessary expense to hire consulting engineers to meet with local engineers to find out where to dig ditches. The board could have gotten the same service free of charge from the U.S. Soil Conservation Service.'

Board Challenges Mixing Petition

DELAND (UPI) — Thirty signers of a petition calling for Volusia County school integration have 60 days to prepare a reply to a suit filed by the school board in circuit court.

The suit asks a court declaration saying that the petition is without grounds and the petitioners without standing "to challenge any actions by the board."

Properly, the suit contended, the petition should have been filed under procedures set out by the Florida pupil assignment law. The board contended it had no duty to act on the petition except through steps provided by the assignment law.

Thirty-two Negroes and two white persons, all from the Daytona Beach-Ormond Beach area, signed the petition, presented to the school board Tuesday.

The suit asked for integration of teachers as well as pupils.
