SANFORD - Sanford Police Capt. Herb Shea, who suffered a broken hip and cuts in a Sept. 23 traffic accident in Georgia, is recuperating at t atral Florida Regional Hospital, Sanford.

Shea, who supervised support services for the department, was moved from a hospital in Georgia to Sanford on Thursday, police said.

Sgt. Ray Bronson, who also received injuries in the same accident, was back at work today for the first time since the accident.

The two officers were on a hunting trip when a vehicle struck their car from behind and forced it into oncoming traffic, Police Chief Steven Harriett said.

Boy puts town on map

MISHAWAKA, Ind. - A 10-year-old boy literally put his grandparents' hometown on the map by prompting a change in the Rand McNally road atlas.

Chris Muncy of Mishawaka was looking for a way for his family to reach Parrott, Va., as they planned a trip last year.

"I was trying to map out a route for us, and I couldn't find Parrott. When we got there, I didn't know where we were," Chris said.

After the trip. Chris wrote Rand McNally, the lilinois map and atlas company. He noted that he enjoyed examining the atlas to see how cities and towns grow.

It turns out Parrott, 35 miles west of Roanoke, had grown from a town of 500 residents to more than 600. Also, Parrott has a post office, which cinched its inclusion in the 1991 atlas.

Residents care for soldiers pets

KILLEEN, Texas - Central Texas residents are providing a special service for Fort Hood Army personnel involved in Operation Descri Shield in Saudi Arabia.

'Adopt a Soldier's Pet," devised by the Killeen Convention and Visitors Bureau, matches people willing to adopt a dog or cat with Army personnel at nearby Fort Hood.

Convention Bureau workers said the Army makes no provision to care for the pets of military men and women being sent to active duty. The pet owners are often forced to take their animals to city-owned shelters, where the chances of adoption are minimal and life expectancy is not good.

The Convention Bureau's free program has found homes for 40 dogs and cats since it was started about a month ago. About 100 additional people have signed forms volunteering to take additional pets which must be left behind.

County Commissioner Bob Sturm was all smiles last night.

SANFORD - Bob Sturm said his solid re-election support Tuesday shows Seminole County residents don't think incumbents are all bad.

"There was an anti-incumbency vote out there," Sturm said Tuesday night. "You're always going to get that, this year more than ever though. But I think the voters will look at the record and say 'They're not doing such a bad job."'

Sturm also credited the "old line" party faithful for outvoting the Republican "outsiders" represented by former Lake Mary mayor Dick Fess, who forced the run-off with Sturm.

With all 95 precincts reporting. Sturm won the run-off with a 56.2 percent margin over Fess' 43.8 percent. A total of 16 percent of Seminole County's 111,922 registered voters cast ballots in the election.

Cuts could eliminate actical program

TALLAHABEE — Mandatory budget cuts could eliminate the 8 credit-hour summer school requirement for graduating senters at the state's nine public universities.

The 8-hour rule requires any student entering the state university system with fewer than 60 credit hours to earn at least nine credit hours during a summer term.

The state Board of Regents said circumstances would have to be severe for them to lift the requirement. But they said they would do so under severe circumstances, such as if graduating senters postpoor taking summer courses until their last examiner.

ACLU seeks injunction to stop school Bible readings

JACKBONVILLE — The American Civil Liberties Union of Florida filed a federal auit Tuesday seeking an injunction against the reading of Bible stories to fifth grade students at Emma Love Elementary School.

The suit was prompted by the parents of Micole Hatch, who brought the issue to the ACLU after unsuccessfully appealing to the Nassau County School Board to stop the parents.

Hatch is a student in the fifth grade class of Martha Mitchell, who has been reading Bable stories to her students every morning and allegedly encouraging daily prayer.

"It is well settled law that achool personnel may not involve students in religious activities. Tolerance of religious pluralism is fundamental to a free society." said Robyn E. Blumner, executive director of the ACLU of Florids.

The suit claims that fiftchell's activities visites the Constitution's gurantees of freedom of religion and provisions separating church and state as contained in the

A hearing on the request for an injunction against the reading is scheduled for Wednesday before U.S. District Judge John H. Moore in Jacksonville.

The suit names the Nassau County School Board, which voted unanimously last week not to have Mitchell change the way she conducts class; Mitchell; the principal of the Emma Love Elementary School and Superintendes; Craig Marsh.

"The school board does not have a policy on prayer or Bible reading in schools." Marsh said, "As the person charged with carrying out school policies, I have never put out an administrative directive one way or another on the matter. I did not know she (Mitchell) was doing this. I guess we'll get a directive now (from the court)."

directive now (from the court)."

On Saturday, area church and civic leaders vowed to financially support the school board, if it fights the matter all the way to the Supreme Court.

The ACLU sought the injunction, pending a legal challenge by Donald and Louise Hatch, who were jeered when they protested the readings at a school board meeting Thursday.

Mitchell, 51, has said she reads from a storytook Bible for about 5 minutes every morning to settle down her students before class. She denied trying to indoctrinate her students and said anyone who objects would be permitted to leave the classroom.

"Nassau County schools are impermissibly placing their imprimatur on a particular set of religious beliefs to the exclusion of others." Blumner said. "It is simply not the role of the government to indoctrinate and proselytise — maybe in Iran it is OK, but not in America."

Disney enters road pact with Osceola landholders

KISSIMMEE - Walt Dianey Co. is among the private land-holders planning to help finance a $137 million, 11-mile toll road that could open 6,800 acres of northern Osceola County to high-priced development. If the deal becomes final, the proposed Dart Boulevard extension from Florida's Turnpike to Walt Disney World would be the first public road in Florida entirely backed by private landowners who would benefit by the project. "If we're successful in pulling this off, it will be one of the this off, it will be one of the largest public-private partnerships for a public works project anywhere, "said Tom Lewis, vice president for Disney Development Co. "This is really a chance to make history."

hammered out in close-door ne-gotiations last week.

Osceola County would issue $137 million in tax-free municipal bonds. Toll revenues would be pledged to the bond-holders, with shortfalls expected in the first four to six years covered by the landowners through a special tax district.

Each developer would be consigned a share of the debt, based on acreage in the Dart corridor and proximity to Dianey World. They would be repaid after the road is paid for. The county would pay nothing to build the road. But taxpayers would shell out $1.13 million a year to operate and maintain the road and tollbooths.

The deal is contingent on bond market conditions and must still be approved by the county commission, sources said.

Nick Pope, an Orlando lawyer representing Oscoola Progress, inc., the landholders' group, said the negotiations lasted some 18 me negociations sested some 18 months. The final hurdle was cleared, he said, when Disney agreed to shoulder up to $1 million per year of the debt burden.

Garbage workers targeted in Dade bribery allegations inited Press International

MIAMI — A couple of dollars or a can of soda may be all some residents have been paying to have their trash disposed of by Miami's sanitation department.

Miami police have questioned about two dozen city sanitation workers in an investigation into allegations garbage collectors and drivers took bribes to pick up trash from customers not paying for the service. Bob lienditto, acting director of the Sanitation Employees Association, said Tuesday.

Detectives secretly videotaped collectors and drivers accepting $01 or $2 and an occasional bottle or two of code or boar as they made their rounds of apartment buildings and stores. Union officials said workers considered the cash and drinks tips.

Though the alleged bribes amounted to little more than pocket change, the city estimates it lost more than $1$

Lake Mary reviews zoning

LAKE MARY - City commissoners will consider creation of possibly as many as four new soning districts at this Thursday night's meeting, in order to provide clearer guidelines for the future establishment and location of new business and industry.

The actual ordinance to be discussed would create C-2 and M-2A soning districts plus amending the present C-1 and M-1A districts.

The question of the four zoning districts was discussed un-der new business during the last meeting of the city's planning and soning board which fine-tuned the ordinance. There was no public input at the time. Only P a 'Z members, the city attorney and other city officials attended the meeting.

Both the P&Z and staff have recommended the commission approve the ordinance.

The new C-2 soning would be a commercial district, and as described in the ordinance. would be those areas "that are appropriate for the development and maintenance of higher in-tenalty commercial uses." In this case, the higher intensity relates to large retail outlets as well as those that might generate large volumes of traffic or operate beyond normal business hours.

The new M-SA soning will be for heavy commercial use as well as office and light industrial use.

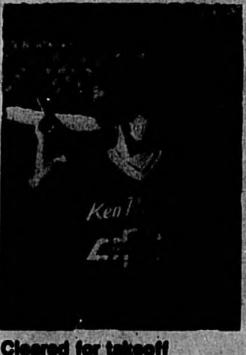

The ordinance to be presented says the M-2A district would be "appropriate for the development and maintenance of a heavy commercial/light industrial office, manufacturing and warehousing environment."

Changes to be considered for the C-1 and M-1A districts deal with clarification or modification of such matters as building height, setback, site size, allowable parking and traffic flow. Certain areas are being re-commended for possible consid-eration for the two new soning leations. They are all located around the extreme outer perimiters of the city, with the majority adjoining Interstate 4.

Possibly as many as 60 acres could be designated C-2, while 114 acres are believed to be suitable for M-2A soning.

The ordinance will be cons ered during a public hearing. Thursday beginning at 7 p.m., during the regular city com-mission meeting at Lake Mary City Hall, 100 W. Lake Mary Blvd.

restive union of Soviet republics appears to be distitugrating.

For the first time since the Communist Party consultated its grip on power in the early 1950s, Moscow's authority over the country is in doubt. The impending economic colleges which Soviet citizens perceive more vividity with each passing week has stoked a mass revolt against seven decades of centralised control. It is no longer far-fetched to speculate the Kremlin may ultimately be reduced to a Russian-etyle Vatican City without influence beyond the Kremlin walls.

Gorbachev's bungled attempts during the last five years to reform the comman sconomy have only accelerated the slide in living standards. The Kremlin's half-measures are chiefly to blame for the alarming shortages of basic products such as bread, potatoes and cigarettes. Although the command structure is crumbling swiftly, Corbachev has stopped far short of the fundamental changes needed to free individual initiative and implement a true market system:

Life-time politicians face extinction

Turn on C-Span some night and view with pity the pack of dinosaurs waddling about the nation's Capitol. They are the last members of a doomed species of politician.

These hoary creatures, some of whom have inhabited their Washington lairs for a quartercentury or more, possess no other livelihood than passing laws and bullying citizens who appear before their congressional committees. Like mandarins of old, they've actually come to see their privileges as the natural order of the world. Poor things: They do not yet realize that a revolution is under way.

Okiahomans fired the first ahot recently, by voting to limit terms of state officials. Califor-

Oklahomans fired the first shot recently, by voting to limit terms of state officials. Californians and Coloradans will follow suit in November, at least if voters in both states are telling polisters the truth. But the real action in limiting terms is likely to begin after November, as citizens in more than a dosen states — and perhaps as many as 20 — begin organizing for the 1992 elections.

Increasingly, citizen groups interested in limiting terms are taking their cue not from Oklahoma or California, but from Colorado. That's because Colorado is the only state now attempting to limit both state and congressional terms — state offices to eight years and Congress to 12. The man behind the movement in Colorado — state Sen. Terry Considine — reports pouring in from around the country.

But does a state have the authority to limit the terms of U.S. senators and representatives? No one knows, as Con-sidine is the first to admit. The issue will have to be tested in have to be tested in court. But Considine does cite a hopeful precedent or two.

Last year, he notes.

New Hampshire passed a law limiting how much congressional candidates could arend on their could spend on their campaigns, which has so far withstood challenge. In the 19th century, for that matter, the states independently began to elect senators directly, rather than permit legislatures to make the selection. In ratifying the change, Congress, merely recognized the inevitable.

Even if courts rule against the right of states to limit congressional terms by law. Americans will still possess the ability to limit congressional terms by constitutional amendment. And one will become more likely as most state lawmakers have their own terms fixed.

Up until 50 years ago, most members of Congress considered their service temporary—and as a result, the U.S. House was a true citizens' legislature. Meanwhile, challengers regularly deleated between 10 percent and 50 percent of incumbents. By 1950, however, nine of 10 incumbents were being re-elected, a rate that would soar to 96.5 percent in 1968. Still another change from the earlier era: More than 90 percent of today's incumbents regularly choose to run again.

And why not? For many modern representatives, public service is their only chance to achieve power, riches and prestige. Theirs is a lifetime career privilege, one they defend with every weapon within reach.

Fortunately, they have no weapon to defeat a grass-roots political movement seeking to limit their terms. All they can do is rage impotently as Americans, frustrated too long, take matters into

Nevada site wrong for nuclear dump

WASHINGTON — It's a hot potato, the proverbial ticking time bomb. America's nuclear waste needs a safe resting place — and soon. The government has spent years searching for the perfect spot — a location that some esteemed scientists now say could be a catastrophic mistake.

From the moment that the Energy Department picked Yucca Mounmin in 1987, the most credible critic of the choice has been the department's own chief geologist on the project. Groundwater under the mountain Energy Department employee who is willing to any what others won't: Yucca Mountain is the wrong place. It seems that groundwater under the mountain could flood the radioactive dump in the event of an earthquake, which his study says is highly likely in the next 10,000 years — barely a tick on the radioactive clock. If that happened, the water and earth would be poisoned. Nevada's leadership, understandably opposed to turning their state into a nuclear dump site, got an early copy of Reymanski's study and made it public several years ago. Ssymanski's bosses fired back with a propaganda blits suggesting that his analysis was off-the-wall and solitary.

Reymanaki didn't back down. When the final draft of his study was finished last year, he imitated that it be reviewed by five electrific peers. That panel of geologists is winding up its review and the preliminary report is due out any day. While the panel chairman declined to tell us which way the panel was leaning, one prominent member and our associate Dan Njegomir that it leaks like Saymanaki is right on the money.

"You've got a voiceno stering you right there in the face," said panel member Charles Archambeau, an eminent geologist at the University of Colorado, "I've already decided they already start looking for another place." Archambeau said he was rejuctant to jump the gun and pre-empt other panel members, he also doesn't want his criticism to delay construction of the dump even longer, it's just that he wants it in the right place. He scared the Energy Department for "dishesenty" in its approach to its own accentiat's research.

"They're pretending Ssymanski's hypothesis is ridiculous," he told us. Why would the federal government be as bladly devoted to Yucca identatin? Ssymanski offered one explanation — inertia. The bureaucracy gets sold on one notion and can't charge course, he noted that two other sites under consideration earlier were also touted as ideal by their respective fame in the Energy Department. The panel's findings wan't be the last word on Yucca bloustain. Politics and yet other studies will use to that. But Archamiseus said that if actions alone in the judge, it won't take much to council Yucca Bountain of the last. The finding licensing requirement for the damp allows almost no possibility of any of the geological countrypies that Ssymanski says are blody. 'Lovely ladies' meet glass ceiling

BOSTON — Not long ago, Woody Allen was asked if his social life had changed since he'd become a star. Without skipping a best, the comedian answered yea: "I strike out with a much better class of women."

This delicious response has popped into my brain repeatedly over the years. This is also what it's like being a successful woman in America. You get to be treated as the second sex by an ever-more-elite class of men.

I offer this dour thought as a member of the generation of women which has broken through several concentric circles approaching the center of power. Time and again, we have played the first woman and the only woman in a more rarefied strata.

Whenever one of our number schieves a new status, others are convinced that at last and at least BHE is now immune from second-extism. Then it turns out that she is just an outsider in an ever-more-inner circle and a newcomer in an ever-more-inner anctum. The treatment may be more subtle, more difficult to assess or to admit, but it is there.

This pottern may be excised to see — or ensist to hear — in the way man and women interest, the way we talk and listed to each other. What is said, what is beard.

In my own preference for talk shows these days there is usually one pair of high beats. But it's the rare woman in that setting who hamn't been talked over, around or through by her male counterparts.

In politics, where matus and titles abound, it is the same. Daries the late universale.

Singing raisins shuffle off to new agency

PORTLAND, Ore. — The California Raisins and their clay-molding creator, Will Vinton, are parting company, with the wrinking TV commercial stars getting a change of image in the hands of former Vinton associates.

The California Raisin Advisory Board has dropped Will Vinton Productions Inc. of Portland as its commercial producer. It was replaced by Sculptoons of San Francisco, owned by former Vinton animator Tom Gasek and Elizabeth Buttler, who was a model builder for the studio.

Last week, Vinton's company announced it was laying off 25 employees, although a spokesman said the move was not connected to the loss of the raisin commercials.

New York mayor's Rx for street violence

NEW YORK — Besieged by demands for action after a long, violent summer, New York Mayor David Dinkins Tuesday unveiled a $1.5 billion "battle plan against fear" to take back New York City's crime-ridden streets with a massive army of new police.

The mayor's program called for hiring nearly 8,000 more police, bringing the nation's largest force to almost 32,000 officers — the highest in its history.

It also calls for a sweeping reorganization of the department, the first in decades, to emphasize community patrol.

Octogenarian wins $3 million

NEW YORK — Chester Dorough, an octogenarian from Birmingham, Ala., will collect 96 million as the first winner in an NBC-McDonald's promotion, it was announced today.

Dorough, 80, who retired in 1969 after 33 years with the Alabama Social Security office, said he would use the money to help his children — to pay off his debts and theirs.

"Maybe I'll buy me a new suit," he said.

He doesn't plan to replace his car — a 1979 Toyota Corolla hatchback — because, he said, it runs fine.

"As health care providers, we strive to alert women to the harmful effects of smoking and discourage women from this

Novelio participated in a news conference where the college released a new policy statement that criticized tobacco companies for their "irresponsible" practice of singling out women, especially less educated

Former school board member Bill Kroil, who got 15.2 percent of the vote, said he "did not like to lose," but added that he was "really happy with what he was able to do."

Kroll, who along with the Seminole County Republican Executive Committee, fought an unsuccessful legal battle to try to make the school board races partisan, said he believer it was the attention brought by that suit that attracted so many people to the races this year. He does not, however, blame the large field for his loss.

Division of Germany ends with tears of joy

By PATRICK MOSER United Press International

BERLIN - Germans cheered and shed tears of joy Wednesday as a giant unity flag was hoisted outside the former parliament building, signifying the rebirth of a single Germany and the demise of its 45-year postwar division.

Tears streamed down the cheeks of an elderly German as he watched the black, red and gold flag being raised in front of the Reichstag at midnight, when the states of East and West Germany officially ceased to exist.

"It's a wonderful feeling." the man said, his voice choked with emotion.

The moment of unification was heralded with the tolling of the Freedom Bell - cast in the image of Philadelphia's Liberty Bell - as fireworks exploded in the sky over what had been West Berlin since the end of World War II.

Hundreds of thousands of revelers at Berlin's historic Brandenburg Gate sang the Deutschlandlied national anthem and waved flags in an emotional celebration as German leaders shook hands and embraced each other.

Germany became Europe's most populous nation with 78.4 million people - 62 million westerners and 16.4 million easterners. Thanks to West Germany, it also dominates Europe and rivals the United States and Japan in sheer wealth with an annual gross domestic product of $1.3 trillion. Helmut Kohl, 60, chancellor of West Germany for the past eight years, automatically became chancellor of united Germany. He is the first chancellor of a unified Germany since the fall of Adolf Hitler's Third Reich.

"More than 40 years of communist dictatorship have cut deep wounds, particularly in people's hearts," Kohl said. The third of October is a day of joy, gratitude and hope. The young generation of Germans have every chance of spending their whole lives in peace and freedom.

East e Minister Lothar De Maiziere said East Germany had no regrets in disappearing from the map and joining the West German Federal Republic.

"It is a time of great joy and a farewell without tears," he said. "We are leaving behind a state which called itself democratic without being democratic."

U.S. Senate joins House in approving Iraq resolution

By GARY SILVERMAN United Press International

WASHINGTON - The Senate adopted a resolution supporting President Bush's handling of the Persian Gulf crisis amid assurances from Democratic leaders that the measure would not hand the president a "blank check" for future military action.

The resolution approved 96-3 Tuesday says Congress "strongly approves the leader-ship of the president" and supports "continued action" by Bush in accordance with U.N. Security Council decisions and U.S. constitutional and legal processes.

Dissenting votes were cast by Sens. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., Robert Kerrey, D-Neb., and Mark Hatfield, R.Ore. Sen. Pete Wilson, R-Calif., did not vote.

The action came one day after the House voted 380-29 for a resolution that also applauded the president while urging Bush to emphasize "diplomatic and non-military means" in solving the crisis.

Haunting the Congress as it moved to show support for Bush was the specter of the 1964 Gulf of Tonkin Resolution, which was used by President Johnson as his authority to escalate the U.S. role in the Vietnam War.

Debate in the Senate focused on whether the current resolution's support for "continued action" by the president could be interpreted by Bush as a green light for a military strike against Iraq.

When it says 'the Congress supports continued action by the president,' I don't know what that means. And if that is a

Bomb explodes at home of American ambassador

United Press International

JOHANNESBURG - A homemade bomb exploded early today outside the residence of U.S. Ambassador William Swing in Pretoria, causing slight damage but no injuries, the U.S. Embassy and police reported. No one immediately claimed responsibility for the blast, an embassy spokesman said. It was the first such incident involving the U.S. ambassador in South Africa and occurred just a week after President Frederik de Klerk returned from talks in Washington with President Bush, who endorsed his racial reforms.

The embassy reported that a "small explosive device was detonated" about 1 a.m.m outside the rear metal gate that leads to a recreation center inside the ambassador's compound in the exclusive Pretoria suburb of Waterkloof Ridge. The sound of the blast was heard over a wide area and awakened a number of people in the suburb, including Swing, and caused slight damage to the gate and a garden shed.

NCAA rejects Lombardi option

GAINESVILLE - The National Collegiate Athletic Association rejected an offer from the University of Florida to swap a bowl ban for cuts in football scholarships over two years, school officials announced Tuesday.

UF President John Lombardi's proposal that the ban on 1980 postsesson play be lifted in exchange for 12 scholarship cuts over two seasons was denied last weekend by the NCAA Committee on Infractions, which convened in Kansas City, Mo. Violations by former Florida football coach Galen Hall and former basketball coach Norm Sloan were cited by the NCAA, which placed the school's football and basketball programs on two years probation.

Under the NCAA sanctions, the Gator basketball program suffered financial sanctions and relatively light scholarship reductions.

Meanwhile, Coach Steve Spurrier's football team, 4-0 and atop the Southeastern Conference, was banished from participating in a bowl game this season.

County won't follow lead of Orange, Brevard . . . yet

By TONY DeSORMIER Herald Sports Editor

SANFORD - On Tuesday morning. Seminole County high school principals awoke to learn that Orange County schools have had to reschedule varsity football games because of the recent outbreak of the St. Louis encephalitis virus carried by night-flying mosquitoes.

By Tuesday afternoon, it was learned that Brevard County also will reschedule its games from Friday nights to either Friday afternoons or Saturday mornings. That change will have an immediate impact locally. Seminole's game at Titusville-Astronaut now scheduled

"I spoke with Dr. Jorge Deju, the director of the Seminole County Health and Human Services Department, and he said that he would not recommend any drastic changes at this time," said Roger Beathard, the Executive Secretary of the Seminole Athletic Conference as well as the county coordinator of health, physical education and driver education.

"He did suggest that we contact everyone and inform them of the precautions to take, like using insect repellant and wearing long sleeves and long pants."

St. Louis encephalitis is a dangerous, potentially fatal, virus to the elderly and infants. Healthy adults generally aren't seriously affected. There were a reported five new cases of encephalitis confirmed in Orange County last week. As of Tuesday, no cases have been reported within Seminole County.

Another way the schools are being urged to prevent the disease from spreading is to have their campuses sprayed, especially around the stadiums. According to Principal Wayne Epps, that's something that Seminole High already does.

"We've always sprayed our physical education areas and around the stadium." said Epps. "Disease or not, nobody likes to get bit by mosquitos. It (spraying the school grounds) is a common thing to be

Beathard said that he knows both

Lake Mary and Lake Brantley high schools, because of their stadiums' close proximity to lakes, regularly, spray their grounds. "Lake Mely has its own spraying equipment." added Beathard.

While the decision to reschedols games has been left in the hands of the prinicipals. Epps said that any change would probably come from the Health Department through, Beathard.

"All the schools would probably: do the same thing," said Epps. "We all talk about it with each other. We could do it individually but I don-tthink we would."

While it is a relatively minorconcern when compared to the possibly catostrophic affects encephalitis may have, the rescheduling of games to avoid plays ing at night would mean a severe See Footbell, Page 3B

Seminoles serve win to Patriots

By TONY DeSORMIER Herald Correspondent

SANFORD — Taking advantage of Seminole's difficulty to successfully receive serve, the Lake Brantley Patriots railled to pull out a 15-12. 8-15, 15-9 victory in a Seminole Athletic Conference girls volleyball match Tuesday night at Seminole's Bill Flenning Memorial Gymnasiy

After dropping the first gam Seminole came back to win the second game and jumped out to a 5-0 lead in the third game. But Shelley Davis quickly crased that lead as she served seven consecutive points to give Lake Brantley a 7-5 advantage.

The two sides exchanged serves and points for a while until, with the acore 10-9 in Lake Brantley's favor, Davis returned to the service line. This time, she served the last five points to cap the victory.

Of the final five points, two came on aces and three came on Seminole receiving errors.

"We lost this game on serve receiving," said Seminole Coach Beth Corso, "In the first game, they (Lake Brantley) made so many mistakes that we didn't capitalize on. That was our big mistake.

'My starters couldn't serve the ball. So we went with a different lineup in the second game and went for it from there. You could see that they were all working out there and playing volleyball. I really liked the intensity I saw on the floor with the second lineup. But we still had a big problem with receiving serve. We have to fix that."

It wasn't all bleak for the Sem!-☐Sec Velleyball, Page SB

Amy Williams turned in a solid performance for Seminole High School on Tuesday night but it wasn't enough to keep the Fighting Seminoles from dropping a three-game decision to the Lake Brantley Patriots.

Romp, thriller highlight play

From staff report

SANFORD - Tuesday night's play in the Sanford Recreation Department Women's Fall Slowpitch Softball League was highlighted by a slaughter and two come-from-behind wins at Ft. Mellon Softball Field.

Defending league champion Thermocarbon opened the night's action by blasting Sanford Auto Auction 18-1, Electone acored seven runs in the bottom of the fifth inning to defeat Dick Joyce Well Drilling 11-10 and Harcar Aluminum Products scored five runs in the bottom of the fifth to stop Seko Air Freight 8-7. Jones and Associates had the week off. After two weeks, Electone is the only undefeated team at 20. They are followed by Thermocarbon, Seko Air Freight and Dick Joyce Well Drilling (all at 1-1) and Sanford Auto Auction and Jones & Associates (both 0-1).

SpeedWorld, Donnie is in front of Jimmy Johns by 124 points.
Gary Salvatore is "King of the Hill" in the open-wheel Florida Modified division in Orlando, while Mike Fitch, who hopes to raise his wins total to 30 by season's end, leads the stan-dings at New Smyrna.

Another red hot poonts battle is on in New Smyrna's Sportsman class, where Mike Kubanek leads Ricky Marshall by 16 points, while Ricky is over 200 points ahead at SpeedWorld.

The 52 weeks a year season will end on Friday and Saturday, October 26-27 with triple point nights. Speedworld and New Smyrna are the only two tracks in the United States and Canada operating year-round.

The new season starts promptly on Friday and Saturday, November 2-3 with the 26th Annual "Florida Governor's Cup 200" State Late Model Championship weekend.

Authentic dishes from scratch are cook's specialty

SANFORD — Felicia Tringali, our Cook of the Week, was born near Rome. Italy.

Tringali remembers that as a 10-year old, she had to cook and raise her sisters and brothers. There was no time to play or be a child as her mother helped her father in the fields and vineyards of their own farm in Italy. All of the cooking was done by young Felicia then and she still does all of the cooking now.

"My kids say, Mom, you were born in the kitchen," she says,

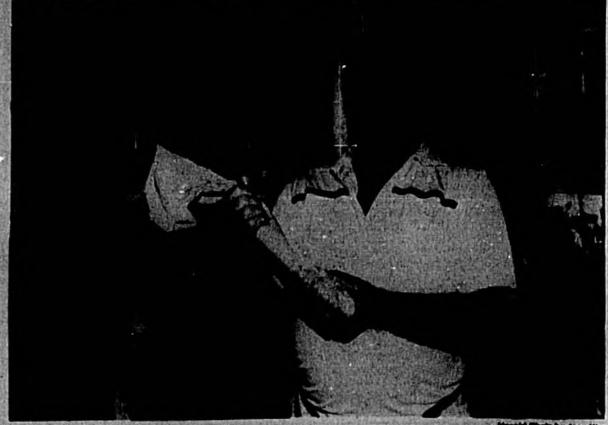

Tringali's mother taught her to cook everything with fresh ingredients and never use anything prepared. She still makes every morsel from scratch and would never think of skimping or using ingredients made by another.

When she married Jim Tringali 33 years ago, his mother introduced her to Sicilian-style cooking, a style she readily incorporated into the cooking methods her own mother taught her. With the Sicilian influence, Tringali consistently creates culinary magic which sends diners on a meamerizing journey of caloric bliss. Her delectable creations entice one and all to delve into sencond helpings for one is not enough. Nothing pleases our cook more than seeing satisfied faces while consuming her delicious home-made meals.

The Tringali's have five grown children and five grandchilren. Their family is scattered from Michigan to Fort Lauderdale and

Out of the past 35 years in America, Tringali has been in business in Sanford for four years. Previously, she and Jim owned Roma Bakery in Longwood where they made pastries for Church Street Station and other similar establishments.

Anti-depressants help phantom pain

DEAR DR. GOTT: About 11 years ago, I lost my legs to bad circulation and have been confined to a wheelchair ever since. Every once in a while, I get sharp pains in my stumps that resemble jolts of electricity rushing through me. Is there any medication I can take that would help me when these attacks occur?

DEAR READER: You are describing "phantom pain" the scribing "phantom pain," the perception of marked discomfort that can affect amputees. The cause of this condition is un-

Anti-depressants, such as amitriptyline, are sometimes useful: no one is sure exactly how they help phantom pain. You should check with your doctor about these and other drugs. Also, you may choose to enter a chronic pain clinic. This resource is available in most teaching hospitals. With time, most phantom pains disappear, but you'll be more comfortable using medicine until the affliction runs its course.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Please discuss the options of hemorrhold treatment. I'm a senior citizen and have been bothered with bleeding hemorrhoids for about 10 years. I've had the rubber-band method performed. injections to the affected area and cauterization twice. Now where do I go from here?

DEARREADER:
Hemorrhoids are swollen veins in or around the anus. Internal hemorrhoids lie within the lower rectum. If, because of bleeding, pain or prolapse (slipping out of the rectum), they require surgery, they can be removed by a qualified surgeon. Some specialists are now using lasers to burn away hemorrhoids, without the need for the more traditional carrier although

On the other hand, external hemorrhoids lie outside the anus. This makes them more accessible, so cautery (burning them off), rubber-band ligation (to shrink them) and injections (to shrivel them) are common

MEDICINE

(C)1989 NEWSPAPER EN-TERPRISE ASSN.

South bid his hand well, up to a point. For example, it was correct for him to show his clubs. If North held four or five clubs headed by the Q-J, there would be an excellent play for a club slam. When North showed mild heart support. South might mild heart support, South might have tried three no-trump. The nine-trick no-trump game is eas-ier. But with a little help from West, South brought in four hearts anyway. East won the ace of clube and returned the queen. West ruffed out declarer's king of clubs and returned a diamond. Declarer won and tried A-K of hearts. (If West had started with no more than three hearts, the last club could be ruffed in dummy.) When East showed out on the second round of trumps, that approach was no good, so declarer continued with his remaining trumps. West, with two discards to make, threw a spade and a dismond, while a spade and a club were discarded from dummy. Declarer now cashed the ace of OK 10 8 spades, played his high diamonds ending in dummy, and led the spade queen. De-clarer threw a club. West had to win the king and give up the last trick to dummy's spade jack. West's error was in throwing away a low diamond. If West keeps all his diamonds, he will have a winning exit card when he is eventually thrown in with the spade king, and four hearts will be set. The need to keep extra length in spades is an illusion.

What do the Civic Theater For Young People, the Fiorida

Symphony and the Florida Citrus Sports Association have in common? These and numerous other organizations receive support from Arvida, developer of three master planned communities in Central Florida: Heathrow, Wesmere and Orange Tree. Arvida has a corporate philosophy that believes a developer's commitment to a community doesn't end with the sale. Promoting worthwhile organizations like the Civic Theater For Young People is one way

Arvida provides ongoing community support.

Another example is Arvida's donation of 45 acres to the Seminole County School Board for the construction of one elementary school and one middle school to be located on the north end of Arvida's Heathrow community.

For 32 years Arvida has built a reputation for quality land development and active support of community interests - two reasons why it has emerged as one of Central Florida's most successful companies.

Kids' area expanded

Herald People Editor

Students who attend the Heathrow-Lake Mary Festival of the Arts will have ample opportunity to discover the artist within themselves through a myriad of ac-tivities planned just for them, according to Renee Lewis, director of art and entertainment for the festival.

"We're a little festival within a festival." Lewis said.

What festival organizers found after the first three events was a children in attendance. For this, the fourth event. Lewis said, organizers decided to expand offerings for young art aftcionados.

'The children's area is not new, but some of the things we're doing are new," she said.

Crealde School of Art

has always participated with workshops and demonstrations. This year the school will offer even more.

"We've never actually had children paint on the site, but this year they will," Lewis said.

The theme for the murals is "Saving the Earth." Crealde will exhibit the murals after they are completed. "We will also try to get the murals exhibited in Lake Mary after the festival. It would be the in-the-flesh result of the festival." Lewis said.

Lewis said art for kids will take h'c m at the fesuval this year. InaComp Computers will provide computers with which kids can learn to create graphics.

"We'll offer the tradistate-of-the-art way to produce art." Lewis said.

Another exciting pre-miere event is the Kidzshoppe, housed in a tent in the children's area and catering to students' tastes. Kidzshoppe will feature art from festival participants. Selections are priced at $10 and below. Parents are not permitted to assist children with their selections.

'Kidzshoppe will expose children to original art and allow them to develop their own tastes. We have 125 artists who agreed to contribute to this shop," Lewis said.

Seminole County School students will exhibit at the festival, too.

"The high school division will be judged," Lewis said. "In all, we have 700 students participating.

Children will be treated to storytelling, a folk singer, a quartet and puppet players.

Corporate sponsors supporting the childrens' area are: Stromberg Carlson, Southern Bell. InaComp Computers and Courtesy Pontiac.

Lewis said the childrens' area is like a little child itself. She has seen it grow from a baby four years ago through infancy to the curious and free-spirited child who loves the arts.

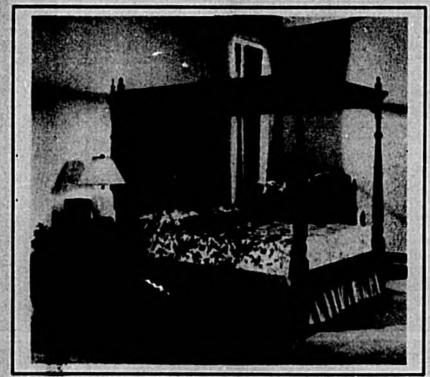

"We want to get children while they're young and expose them to the arts. Creativity has not been stifled when a person is a child." Lewis

Festival scholarships benefit local talent

By LACY DOMEN Heraid People Editor

Many talented students of the arts and police academy aspirants in Seminole County will be one step closer to their chosen careers thanks to the scholarships awarded by the Lake Mary-Heathrow Festival of the Arts. Scholarships are what the festival is really all about.

Scholarship Committee Chairman Larry Lucas said."The Lake Mary-Heathrow Festival of the Arts is the only known arts festival in the state of Florida that endows scholarships for art students and performing arts students as well as solice academy aspirants to help them to achieve higher academic status and return to the commity as valuable citizens and law enforcement officers."

Even the idea of a festival ties in with the idea of scholarships. Postering Education for STudents InVolved in Artistic Learning is the theme the festival's planners have adopted.

"Partners in Scholarships" program will distribute $15,000 in scholarship funds in 1990 in a c c o r d a n c e with established guidelines.

The money is raised through poster sales, concessions, and donations at the festival. Students eligible for awards are from the following institutions of higher learning: Seminole Community College, Sanford: University of Central Florida, Orlando: Rollins College, Winter Park: Police Academy, Seminole Sheriff's Department and Stetson University, DeLand. Other Seminole County schools such as high a c h o o is within a seven-mile radius of the festival grounds will also be considered for student scholarships.

Selected high achools are: Lake Mary High School, Lyman High School, Seminole High School and Lake Brantley High School.

Seminole Community College will be awarded two acholarships of $500 each.

University of Central Florida, Rollina College and Stetson University will each receive two scholarships at $1,000 each and one scholarship at $500,

The Seminole Sheriff's Department will receive two scholarships. $500 each, for the Police Academy. Lake Mary Police Department will receive one scholarship at $500.

Lucas said these two police departments do a fine job with security for the festival and the committee wanted to thank the departments in a special way.

"That's why we include them in the scholarship awards." Lucas said.

The four area high schools will each receive two scholarships at $500 each.

The Lake Mary-Heathrow Festival of the Arts Scholarship Committee includes Larry Lucas, Terrie Scharr. Connie Prebenda, Bonnie Manjura Delores Lash. JoAnn Lucas and Jennifer Kelley.

The Sponsor Honorces of the Scholarships in conjunction with the Lake Mary-Heathrow Festival of Arts are as follows: Dr. Bert Perinchief; Grady Kimsey; Lake Mary Centre; Heathrow Land & Development: Publix Markets: Arvida: Oyler Construc-tion Co.; L & L Acres: Scott & Martin Contruc-tion: Clatting, Lopez. ORLANDO LOVES PUBLIX AT HEATHROW.

People come from far and wide to take in the sights of the Publix at Heathrow. They know they'll find all the values they expect at any Publix, as well as specialty products throughout the store. So no matter where you're headed, a tour of Heathrow is worth the trip.

In the Deli we take the butcher's choicest cuts of Angus beef and marinate them with spices, sauces and other good things. You just add the grill.

Marco Polo first brought back reports of ice creamy from the Far East. Fortunately you don't have to go that far to find the finest in ice cream. Just look in our Frozen Food Department.

We get our lobsters fresh from the cold waters off the New England coast. So you can enjoy them in the warmth of Florida.

Now I Have Everything I Need

BEFORE I moved to Howell Place everyone worried, my children, grandchildren, friends and especially me. I needed more help, now I have just what I need. My own private apartment, delicious, nutritious meals, housekeeping, transportation, activities to enjoy and companionship. Good neighbors and a caring staff have relieved my friends and relatives.

There are also Certified Nursing Assistants and a Home Healthcare Services office on the premises. Visit Howell Place today and see for yourself, it's GREAT!

Festival has adopted the personality of its organizer: refreshing

By LACY DOMEN
Herald People Editor

Chairman of the Lake Mary-Heathrow Festival of the Arts. Bonnie Manjura, personifies the spirit in which the event was conceived almost four years ago.

Young, fresh and dedicated to a cause are terms that apply to both Manjura and the festival.

Manjura is also execute the Centerra Group, a non-pront corporation promoting quality business in the Lake Mary-Heathrow area.

Centerra, founded in 1985, unites developers, employers and citizens who are working together to plan quality growth for an area which is doubling in size at a rapid rate.

In the past, Centerra participated in negotiating proposed development amendments for the St. Johns River Water Management District, as well as the one-cent local option tax for roads to assist the Seminole County Beltway project, the MTA referendum, the Florida Congressional Partnership, etc.

Manjura met with Lake Mary City Commissioners in 1987 to "hammer out an outline for some type of festival," she said. She put the first festival together in just four months. It was a raging success from the start. drawing 70,000 the first year, and garnering the distinction of being the largest event of its kind in Seminole County, a title it still holds.

"We had no idea. That first year out is where we thought we would be in five years." Manjura said. Manjura is especially proud of the Manjura is especially proud of the scholarship money awarded from proceeds of the festival. She said the festival, while encouraging the arts in Seminole County, beyond scholarship awards.

"We offer something for everybody at the festival," she said. "We are also the only festival that gives the money away. Students who benefit through scholarship awards eventually return to the area, enriching our cultural pool," Manjura said.

This year, Manjura cited the expanded offerings for children at the festival as a source of pride for all committee members.

"We wanted to get children while they're young, expose them to the arts, and encourage them to develop their own tastes," she said.

own tastes," she said.
Children, future artists, can join Manjura's 2-year-old son, Robbie Max, this weekend as he celebrates the arts with his mom at the Lake Mary-Heathrow Festival.

June Meadows, Lake Mary, tries to get her daughter Kami, 3, to do the Hokey Pokey, one of the many activities available for children this weekend.

CARING STAFF MAKES THE DIFFERENCE

You'll find many nursing homes that, like ours, are clean and comfortable.
What sets us apart is the caring and dedication of every single member of our staff.

You're invited to stop in anytime to observe these exceptional people at work, ask questions of them and our residents, and discover for yourself the very best in nursing home care.
