Proposed Sentinel System Blasted By Senator

WASHINGTON (AP) — A ranking Senate foe of President Nixon's Safeguard missile defense system confronted Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird today with the argument that it is "a defense in search of a mission."

And the critic, Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., said that mission has not yet been discovered.

Gore said:

"It is my serious conviction that the program which you recommend would further endanger our security, it would make an armament limitation agreement more difficult, if not impossible to obtain, and thus ultimately could degrade our deterrent."

'Defense In Search Of A Mission'

Laird, fresh from two days of testimony in favor of the Safeguard ABM system in the friendly confines of the Senate Armed Services Committee, thus encountered immediate resistance in the foreign relations subcommittee dominated by ABM opponents.

Gore issued a lengthy critique of Laird's testimony Thursday and said "it has been well said that this ABM system is a defense in search of a mission. We have heard every possible kind of argument for it and many of these are contradictory.

"Our real security rests in stopping the nuclear armament race, and not in promoting it," the Tennessee Democrat added, saying the subcommittee is interested in knowing why a promised disarmament talk with the Soviets has not yet started.

One of the few rough spots Laird had before the Armed Services Committee was a set of questions from Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., who noted he was "the only gentleman here who is critical."

In a sense, the opening round of the debate became a battle of television ratings. Laird's Thursday testimony, at what originally was to have been a closed Armed Services Committee session, was nationally televised.

Laird blended his insistence that the Nixon system is a national defense necessity with the argument that it will not impede the arms control negotiations the President seeks.

He said, in fact, that it should prove an incentive to successful negotiations.

"I believe this system is no stumbling block to arms limitation talks as far as the Soviet Union is involved," the defense secretary said.

He said such negotiations are being considered at the highest level of government—by Nixon. "I can assure you that it is under active consideration," he said.

Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., who said he has doubts about the system, raised the question of the ABM as a bargaining table topic.

"Is it correct that the presently planned Safeguard system is a negotiable issue?" he asked.

"Yes, it is," Laird replied. He said he hopes both offensive and defensive weapons systems will be covered by such negotiations.

It was not clear, however, whether Laird meant the whole ABM system could be scrapped if the Russians scrapped theirs.

When he announced his plans for the Sentinel at a news conference last week, Nixon said that because of the Red Chinese threat the Soviets might be as unwilling as this country to give up protection.

Laird said repeatedly that he is sure the Soviet Union does not consider the planned deployment a U.S. provocation. But he would not say whether the administration has received assurances that this is the Russian view.

Laird said "there is serious question" as to whether U.S. deterrent power can be maintained through the 1970s without an ABM system. He expressed doubt that, by the mid-1970s, the United States could withstand a Russian attack and maintain the ability to destroy the Soviet Union in retaliation—unless the ABM is in place.

"I don't want the Soviet Union to have any question," he said.

The administration seeks some $900 million from Congress this year to begin construction of a system which would defend U.S. offensive missile sites.

Commies Lash Out In Renewed Fury

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong and North Vietnamese smashed at American bases with renewed fury today, hitting them with rockets, mortars and infantry assaults that caused serious casualties and losses of aircraft, vehicles and fuel.

In one of the heaviest series of blows since the opening of the spring offensive 27 nights ago, enemy rockets and mortars hit 65 allied bases and towns, and infantry assaults ripped into three of the bases.

It was the largest number of attacks since last Friday, when 70 bases and towns were hit.

All of the enemy infantry attacks were on American bases along the northwest approaches to Saigon, between 21 and 31 miles from the capital. Twelve Americans were killed and 47 wounded, while known enemy losses were 36 dead, U.S. spokesmen said.

Ten of the Americans were killed and 28 were wounded in one attack on an artillery base.

Spokesmen said only five enemy bodies were found after an estimated 400 North Vietnamese attacked the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division's Fire Support Base White behind a 150-round mortar barrage. However, the Americans said many blood trails and drag marks were found, indicating the enemy took a number of wounded and dead with them when they pulled back toward the Cambodian border at daybreak.

The attack began shortly before 3 a.m. when mortars, bazooka-type rockets and small arms hit the American camp 50 miles northwest of Saigon. The 250 American troops called for help, hurriedly donned their gas masks as the North Vietnamese fired tear gas grenades, and turned the base's eight 105mm and 155mm guns on the enemy positions. Helicopter gunships fired rockets as one of the camp's a guns illuminated the enemy batteries with flares.

All the Americans killed were victims of the bombardment. Six were members of a mortar platoon trying to hit the enemy mortars. The other four were riflemen in a bunker that took a direct hit.

Two infantry assaults were made on the south and east sides of the base within 90 minutes, but they were small, officers said. Thirty enemy troops were repulsed in the first thrust, while 15 to 20 North Vietnamese failed to find an opening in the second assault.

Only 12 of the 28 Americans wounded had to be evacuated. The rest were treated and returned to duty.

The base is one of four artillery and patrol camps along the southern edge of the Viet Cong's War Zone which impede the enemy approach to Saigon from the northwest.

White Base is just north of the Michelin rubber plantation where more than 10,000 American troops and scores of tanks are trying to root out an estimated 7,500 North Vietnamese threatening Saigon. U.S. intelligence officers said the purpose of the attack on the base apparently was to tie down the artillery batteries while North Vietnamese troops tried to maneuver away from American ground forces closing on them.

AP photographer Horst Faas reported from the area that the bulk of the North Vietnamese believed to have been in the Michelin plantation area apparently had escaped to the north and east.

Only one major contact was reported today in the big U.S. counteroffensive, known as Operation Atlas Wedge. Troops of Col. George S. Patton's 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment and men of the 1st Air Cavalry Division fought a day-long battle 35 miles northwest of Saigon Thursday, and killed at least 72 North Vietnamese, U.S. headquarters said.

The North Vietnamese cut into Patton's tanks and armored personnel carriers with heavy small arms fire, machine guns and armor piercing rocket-grenades. The tanks replied with their 90mm cannons while the armored carriers fired .50-caliber machine guns.

The headquarters said one American was killed and 23 wounded, but damage to the armored column was "light to moderate," meaning some tanks and personnel carriers were destroyed or damaged.

Military spokesmen said the big Atlas Wedge force, now has killed about 200 of the enemy since the operation was launched Tuesday. About half a dozen Americans have been killed and about 55 wounded, they said.

In an attempt to catch the escaping enemy, more than 60 B52 bombers pounded the area south of the plantation with over 1,500 tons of explosives.

Sanfordite Promoted

It all began when Chief Aviation Fire Control Technician Russell F. Germain, of Sanford, Fla., received his first proficiency paycheck 10 years ago. At that time, Rear Adm. James D. Ramage acknowledged the career landmark with his personal congratulations.

When Germain was commissioned an ensign in 1960, Adm. Ramage again handled the honors.

A year and one-half later, the admiral pinned Lieutenant Junior grade shoulderboards on Germain as he continued up the ladder. Admiral Ramage was commanding officer of the USS Independence and Germain was serving aboard the attack carrier with Heavy Attack Squadron 1.

Germain was promoted to lieutenant in 1964 while he was working with Heavy Attack Squadron 3 at Sanford Naval Air Station. Again, he was congratulated by Admiral Ramage.

Today, Germain moved up to lieutenant commander. Guess who made it official?

Top Cities Are Named

NEW YORK (AP) — Eleven communities have been named All-American Cities. Look magazine and the National Municipal League announced today.

The winners were: Charlotte, N.C.; Cottage Grove, Ore.; Danville, Ky.; Edinburg, Tex.; Fairbanks, Alaska; Jacksonville, Fla.; New Albany, Ind.; Saginaw, Mich.; San Diego, Calif.; Savannah, Ga., and Snyder, Texas.

The All-Americans were culled from 155 entries for their "citizens action" in solving major problems, Look said in a statement released in New York.

Eleven cities were named runners-up: Athens, Ga.; Bristol, Tenn.-Va.; Columbia, S.C.; Decatur, Calo.; Elkhart, Ind.; Jacksonville, Ill.; Kittery, Maine; Lockhart, Tex.; Redmond and Visalia, Calif., and Williamson, W.Va.

Ten Moon Landings Planned

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — If the first manned lunar landing comes off as planned in July, a space official says, it will be followed up by a series of others for "a sum total of 10 voyages to the surface of the moon."

Dr. Thomas O. Paine, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, told the Air Force Association convention Thursday:

"If we do make the first touchdown this summer, we'll follow that with three similar voyages, each time increasing the scientific equipment."

Each of the first four moon landings, he said, would leave equipment to measure lunar surface disturbances and to reflect laser beams back to earth.

The six later landings, he said, could be set up in areas of the most significant interest and could include overland exploration.

Paine said the second decade of space exploration which began this year would include a number of probes of Earth's sister planets.

Two probes, one launched last month and the other due to leave next week, will orbit Mars and send back to Earth television pictures of that planet. They also will transmit temperatures, examine the Martian atmospheres and measure light radiation.

"We hope to get a fairly definitive idea as to whether or not conditions on Mars are such that life might exist," Paine said.

Mars orbiters also will be launched in 1971 and two unmanned landings will be attempted in 1973.

During the 1977 to 1979 period, Paine said, it will be possible to launch an unmanned probe which will make "a grand tour" of four planets, using the gravitational pull of each to speed toward the next.

The planets then will be in a lineup that will not occur again in 170 years.

The lineup, said Paine, "will allow us first to go past the gravity field of Jupiter, then swing out past Saturn, then to Uranus and to Neptune."

The voyage would take nine years, he said, and would have to be nuclear powered "to complete the journey and send back the information."

Blacks, Whites Cooperate In Apopka School Boycott

APOPKA, Fla. (AP)—Empty classrooms dominated eight schools around this central Florida town as blacks and whites worked together to stay apart.

"Until something happens which we feel will work in the community," said Mayor Leonart Hurst, "the parents are going to keep their children home."

A parent backed boycott of northwest Orange County schools kept 2,200 children out of class Thursday in a protest of the school board's latest desegregation plan.

Town business and civic leaders, including the mayor and a former mayor, were supporting the boycott actively. Most downtown Apopka stores closed in a sympathy move.

A countywide school boycott was planned for Monday, spearheaded by black students and a chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality in nearby Orlando.

Monday is the deadline for the school board to change its mind on a desegregation plan it has filed in federal court. It would mean the possible closing of an all-Negro junior-senior high school.

The move would require some 800 to 900 students from the two Apopka junior high schools to attend portable classrooms next year, and all senior high pupils would attend the white Apopka Memorial High.

The boycott Thursday more than halved attendance at several elementary schools and the two high schools—Apopka Memorial and predominantly black Phyllis Wheatley — were almost empty.

The school board has stood solidly behind its plan.

Orange County Solicitor Colis White, at the request of the board, told those at a boycott meeting that persons encouraging pupils to stay away from school would be subject to criminal prosecution.

Ham Occupies Solons' Minds

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Cook, a Baker and a Byrd are on the outs about hams, and they're asking the Senate to settle the dispute.

These aren't the political kind of hams, however—they're cured country hams from Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia.

The squabble started when Sen. Marlow W. Cook, R-Ky., wrote to Sens. Howard Baker Jr., R-Tenn., and Harry Byrd, D-Va., claiming that Kentucky country hams are better than their Tennessee and Virginia competitors.

Cook, predicting "the winner must assuredly be Kentucky country ham," suggested that each senator take some of his state's best hams to the Senate chef—along with personal cooking hints—to be served to the entire Senate as a team of judges.

Baker said he hated to "reveal the inadequacy of the Kentucky and Virginia hams," but accepted the challenge.

"Everyone knows," he added, "that the rich, red Tennessee ham is the best in the country and that red-eye gravy originated in Tennessee when commoners tired of the dull, brown broth produced by Virginia and Kentucky ham."

Byrd was equal to the challenge, too.

"I have thrown down my gauntlet," he said in a letter to Cook. "You will find it in the Senate chef's kitchen. I will shortly replace the glove with a Virginia ham—the best what am."

Baker had referred to the stately competition as ham fry, to which Cook retorted:

"Whoever said this is going to be a ham fry? Is frying a Tennessee ham the only way you can get rid of its onus? This is ham bake, Baker."

There was no word as to when the Senate was going to settle the issue, but a ham dinner may be in the offing soon.

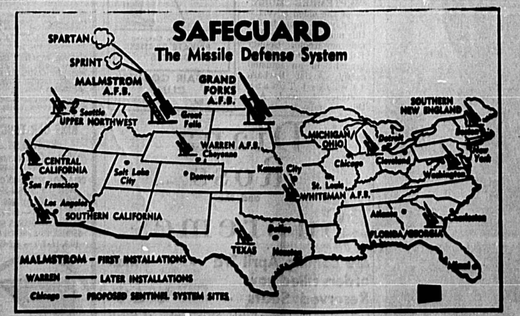
Wreckage Probed

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A team of six federal investigators collected the wreckage of a chartered airplane from the swamps of International Airport here in hopes it will shed light into the cause of Thursday's crash which killed 16 of the 27 aboard.

Oscar M. Laurel, Washington, heading the National Transportation Safety Board crew, said it may be months before a report is issued.

Soft, woodcreaking fog covered the area when the DC3 from Memphis hit the hard, bounced, yawed out of control and then crashed in flames. The aircraft carried 24 Tennessee sportsmen, most of them from the Memphis area, who were going to the British Honduras on a hunting and fishing trip.

Thirteen of them, plus the plane's three-man crew, died in the fire. Eleven more survived, through windows or rips in the fuselage. The uninjured walked around in dazed bewilderment — lost in the fog, with the plane flaming.



President Nixon's revision of the Johnson administration's project is now back and a new label—Safeguard. The new system, limited to Sentinel sites, indicated on map, to key points in continental ballistic missile sites, air bases and the Polaris submarine base at Charleston. Work will begin on two sites, Malmstrom and Grand Forks, first and another 12, indicated on map plus Hawaii and Alaska, later. Sites will be equipped with both Spartan interceptor missiles attacking enemy missiles up to 400 miles from the target, and short-range Sprint missiles to shot off enemy warheads in the atmosphere.

AREA DEATHS

BRIEF RANGING

A. H. (Britt) Rahenn, 68, a former Sanford resident, died Tuesday morning at his residence, 810 Richmond Road, Cleveland, Ohio, following a lengthy illness.

He attended Sanford schools and served in the service with the local National Guard Unit during World War II. During the latter months of the war he was captured and placed in a German prison camp. A time of his death, he owned and operated "Britt Rahenn's Fireside Inn," which seats 1,000 guests, in Cleveland.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Faye Rahenn of Cleveland; a son, Britt Jr., a student at Rollins College in Winter Park; a daughter, Miss Sharon Rahenn of Green Cove Springs; a brother, Walter Rahenn of Cypress Lake; three brothers, Fred Jr., of Atlanta, Albert Virginia of Pompano, and J. A. (Buck), of Tampa; a sister, Mrs. Ruth Bishop of Tampa; his father, Fred Rahenn of Sanford; and several grandchildren.

Funeral and burial services will be conducted Saturday in Cleveland.

7:30-8:30 p. m. ABC. This Is Tom Jones. (color) Mama Cass Elliot makes a fine singing partner for Tom tonight. Their duets, which include "Do Right Woman, Do Right Man" and "Love Me," are the highpoint of an unusually good show. Also on hand are the Davie Clark Five who do "Mulberry Tree," Spanish singer Massiel who sings "Deja La Vie" and George Carlin who speculates on Christopher Columbus' return trip.

8:30-10 p. m. NBC. The Name of the Game. "An Agent for the Plaintiff." (color) Publisher Howard heads for London to get the dope on why Anthony Malcolm and other British press lords are suing Howard Publications. His first clue that Malcolm's case is phony comes when he learns that notorious Bethany Cromwell is his solicitor. A good episode, helped by a first-rate cast. Honor Blackman plays Bethany. Maurice Evans an aging industrialist who falls for her, and Brain Bedford, Malcolm.

9-11 p. m. CBS. Friday Night Movies. "Stalag 17." (1953) Starring William Holden, with Don Taylor, Otto Preminger and Peter Graves. Billy Wilder's classic, for which Holden won an Oscar. Set in a German prisoner-of-war camp during World War II, the story concerns the efforts of the inmates to discover which one of them leaked their foolproof escape plans. Holden, as Sefton, a greedy lone wolf, is the logical target of their suspicion. Often funny, often grim, this is a brilliant movie.

'Good Morning & Good Bye

"Good Morning and Goodbye"—is a provocative title, and the title only hints at the broader theme of this explosive motion picture . . . the ultimate film . . . by Russ Meyer.

"Good Morning and Goodbye" will have its local premiere at the Movieland Drive-In Theatre starting Sunday for a three-day showing.

This movie stars Alaina Capri and establishes her as a new star in ascendency, with qualities which bring to mind the names, "Sophia" and "Gina." Alaina Capri is a spectacular young actress of Italian extraction.

Writer Russ Meyer, in his own words, says, that "in making 'Good Morning and Goodbye' we attempted to condense life to its basic essentials—to strip away amenities—and show people with their emotions bared. To reveal them as they have never been seen, but as they really are—to depict, rather than to imply." This movie is code rated R-(restricted) and no one under the age of 16 will be admitted without a parent. Companion feature is "THE BRIDE WORE BLACK," starring Jeanne Moreau. Both features are in color.

Beginning this coming week the Movieland is instituting a change in scheduling policy. The program stated above will be showing three days, Sunday through Tuesday. A new program will play Wednesday through Friday and for next week only on March 26 there will be a one-day showing on Saturday.

Starting next Wednesday and playing through Friday will be a new war film (first Sanford showing) of "Anzio," in color and starring Robert Mitchum and Robert Ryan. Mitchum plays a war correspondent with the Allied Forces when they land at Anzio. Many movie patrons will remember that the landing at Anzio was one of the bloodiest of the war. Co-feature will be a return showing of "African Queen," the great movie of yester-year starring Katherine Hepburn and Humphrey Bogart.

On Saturday, March 29, the Movieland will present a "Dusk to Dawn" show. Program will start at 7 p.m. and will continue until every one of the six features has been shown. "Dusk to Dawn" shows have been popular with the younger movie fans and the Movieland promises that every patron will see a movie that will be enjoyed for each person staying through the entire show will receive a free early morning breakfast of coffee and donuts.

The features that are showing are "Have You Heard the One About the Travelling Saleslady," in color with Phyllis Diller; "War Wagon," in color, starring John Wayne; "A Time to Sing," in color, with country music star Hank Williams; "Around the World Under The Sea," in color, starring Lloyd Bridges; "Born Losers," in color, starring Jane Russell, and "Psych-Out," in color, starring Susan Strasberg.

'Space Odyssey' Is Featured

It was inevitable that the futuristic atmosphere of "2001: A Space Odyssey," Stanley Kubrick's MGM Super Panavision and Metrocolor production, should affect the crew and technicians involved in the unique picture.

From the creator of the project, producer-director and co-writer Stanley Kubrick, to the hundreds of technicians, there was a feeling of dissatisfaction with modern living. "Modern," it seems, was not advanced enough. It was a natural reaction to an undertaking that minutely pieces together an exciting vision of the future which makes today's existence pale in comparison.

To make "2001: A Space Odyssey," a technical team was gathered from all corners of the industrial world. Scientific consultants from a dozen nations, including leading space authorities, were constantly at Kubrick's side to give authenticity and guidance to each aspect of this film.

More than 40 leading commercial companies offered us their research facilities to the picture, with the result that everyone on the set became indoctrinated and acclimatized to living standards on Earth, 32 years from now.

Every day, as they passed through the studio gates, the crew left the present and entered a world of almost total automation and computerization, with a predictable working week no longer than three or four days, with no war, no incurable diseases, longer life expectancy, new fashions and designs for better living.

In "2001: A Space Odyssey," man has at last severed earth-ly shackles and is on the threshold of the solar system and the universe. When you spend your days living in the world of tomorrow, the world of today seems obsolete.

2 Convicts Escape

RAIFORD, Fla. (AP) — Two prisoners overpowered a guard at knifepoint Wednesday and escaped from Raiford Prison in his truck. The truck was found several hours later in Jacksonville.

Prison officials identified the escapees as Norman Tripp, 26, of Jacksonville and Merle Stover of Miami. Both were convicted of breaking and entering.

Union County Sheriff John Whitehead said the men were working outside the prison fence when they overpowered guard William Hatch.

He said they forced Hatch to accompany them, but released him at Starke after stripping him of everything but his shirt.

Women's Touch

BURLINGTON, Mass (AP) — Behind most successful men are ambitious women, and there are two who figured prominently in design and development of the rendezvous radar that was the key to the Apollo 8 earth orbiting mission and the eventual landing on the moon.

Amy Spear and Beverly Eckhardt are the only feminine engineers at RCA's facility here that built the compact rendezvous radar system that enabled the lunar module to separate from, and then rejoin, the command module in space.

These two mothers admit to some problems among 2,300 men, many of whom they supervise, but agree to having a particularly feminine advantage when they argue a point. "We just cry," says Amy, "and usually we get things done the way we think they should be done."

Entertainment IN THE GREATER SANFORD AREA

THINGS TO DO/PLACES TO GO/PEOPLE TO MEET!

Start Spring Season Right

Looking for a different spot to dine these days? Try DEBARY RESTAURANT for a real treat. The Sunday Buffet is extra-special and also the cocktail lounge is open on Sundays. Chatbroiled steaks and seafoods are house specialties and the restaurant has facilities for handling all your catering needs.

MAYFAIR COUNTRY CLUB is alive with action and activities as the Spring season gets underway. Here you'll find the most beautifully developed golf course in Central Florida with green fees and memberships invited. Also this is the ideal spot for all those Spring parties coming up.

Home-cooked meals spark the appetite! For a different dining experience, head over Oviedo way to TOWN HOUSE RESTAURANT. A delicious buffet is served at luncheon and dinner with menu service also available. Also breakfast is served daily and Sunday.

COLUMBIA RESTAURANT in Orlando's Park Plaza Hotel features a special dinner every Sunday from 11 a.m. until 9 p.m. Children are welcome here and you'll be amazed at the refined atmosphere and deluxe service at reasonable prices.

There's plenty of entertainment nightly in the two fashionable lounges at FREDERICK'S, Central Florida's "in" spot where the sophisticates retreat. Also food here is divine with charbroiled steaks and other exciting entrees listed on the variety bill of fare.

Everybody keeps returning to PINE CREST INN once they have been introduced to the friendly restaurant where good old-fashioned home cooking is the order of the day every day. Everything on the menu is excellent, so take your choice. Chicken is the house specialty on Monday night with Friday night set aside as fish night.

If local atmosphere is your desire, then Sanford's HOUSE OF STEAK, located in the beautiful Holiday Inn was designed for you. A luncheon special is served daily with a fashion show every Friday during luncheon. During the "happy hour", Monday through Friday, drinks are served at reduced rates. Also you'll find the answer to all your catering needs here.

Quality food at budget prices has long been the hallmark of DAVE AND ALENE REMLEY'S FAMILY RESTAURANT, the busiest spot in town, with lowest prices. A special plate lunch is served until 8 p.m. and it's delish!

A & W RESTAURANT is everybody's favorite drive-in. The burgers and root beer served here are out of this world. Too, dining room service is also available. If you're lucky, you may win a free order — that is if the alarm goes off while you are ordering.

OTTO'S HOFBRAUHAUS is now serving a buffet luncheon at the lowest price in town. Also drinks during the cocktail hour are at a low, low tab. Open seven days a week, Otto's also has live entertainment on Friday and Saturday nights.

Eat, drink and be merry every night at LAKE MONROE INN where happiness is food, fun 'n festivity. All of the items on the menu are prepared with TLC and once you've joined the throngs here you'll keep returning. There's plenty of live entertainment for your complete pleasure.

There is no minimum, no cover charge at CLUB JUANA, one of the liveliest spots in the county. If you're looking for action and lots of girls, then the entertainment here is designed for you. Two shows are billed nightly with VALORIE MASON now featured as an exotic dancer.

Head on out to SEMINOLE PACKAGE STORE AND COCKTAIL LOUNGE where FLORIDA DRIFTERS are now appearing. The group displays the best of country and Western music and you can dance your heart away. In addition to good drinks and entertainment, food is also served here.

Every night is party night at THE FIESTA in Longwood. THE COUNTRY GEMS are packin' 'em in on Tuesday, Friday and Saturday nights. A business men's special is served daily with an extra-special price on drinks during the cocktail hour. JIMMY CHOULIS is the new chef here and really turns out good food.

Gals, you're still getting that VIP treatment every day during the happy hour at THE FOUNTAIN. Drinks for you are reduced to practically nothing during the hours, 5-7 p.m. THE RENEGADES are currently appearing here and there's also lots of good food available for your dining pleasure.

Begin that busy day with breakfast at TOUCHTON'S in downtown Sanford. You'll really get your money's worth with any of the combinations listed on the menu. For example, a delicious eye-opener is two waffles, sausage and coffee at a real down-to-earth price.

For that extra-special night out on the town and if you really want to make an impression on those VIP's, Orlando's TOP O' CITIZENS fills the bill. The atmosphere here is plush, plush and the food and service are exceptional.

Retirement

LONDON (AP) — Dr. Michael Gresford Jones, Bishop of St. Albans, will retire later this year on reaching the age of 68 —the new age at which Church of England clergy are entitled to draw full pensions. He will be the first bishop to take advantage of the lowered age limit, which used to be 70. But several others could qualify the bishops of London, Bradford, Birmingham and Peterborough. Some churchmen think there will be a big changeover in the State Church in the next five years.

Good Excuse

NEW YORK (AP) — Last Feb. 23 William A. Johnson, 29, failed to show up for a date in federal court to stand trial on a charge of attempted bank robbery. Tried later, he was sentenced to 25 years in the Atlanta federal penitentiary.

Thursday, a New York grand jury offered an explanation for Johnson's tardiness a year ago. In an indictment, it said he was busy last Feb. 23 helping rob an other bank of $52,436.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: About three years ago my husband and I began a friendship with another young couple. Perhaps we saw too much of them, but talk of wife-swapping developed. Against my husband's strong veto, the other man and I began an affair which lasted almost a year.

About seven months ago, guilt-ridden and miserable, I told my husband all. He was wonderfully forgiving, but never wanted to see this other couple again. The other man's wife knew about us and she blamed herself, for she had pushed the idea in the first place. This woman and I were almost like sisters, and now the friendship has ended. We are all in our late twenties, and we did have a wonderful four-sided friendship. I can't seem to warm up to any other couple. It is definitely ALL over between this other man and me, but my husband says no, he doesn't want to see them again. Is he being fair? I think we've all grown up a lot. Am I wrong in wanting to resume our friendship? I give you my word, I am not interested in this man, but I do love his wife. Signed,

"BLUE GRASS"

DEAR "BLUE GRASS": Better find another couple. I can't blame your husband. If you "love" his wife, see her in the daytime.

DEAR ABBY: My husband rushed me to the hospital to have my baby as I started to get pains in the lower part of my back and since I never had a baby before I was told that is where the pains start.

Well, after I got to the hospital the pains tapered off and nothing happened so they finally sent me home saying it was "false labor."

I got a bill for $45.50. Since it was false labor and nothing happened, do I have to pay this bill? NO BABY

DEAR NO: Yes. (And not in confederate money, either.)

DEAR ABBY: How does this grab you? The other day while visiting my mother-in-law, I noticed two hand-painted plates that were mine. I was shocked when I saw them and asked, "When did I give those plates to you?"

She replied, "You didn't. I saw them down in your cellar during those three weeks you and Tom were separated. I figured they'd just get broken, so I took them."

What would YOU have done? MAD REDHEAD

DEAR MAD: I'd have told her that now that the danger of "breakage" had subsided, I'd like to have my plates.

DEAR ABBY: In a few words in a recent column you refocused my outlook on a problem concerning my 75-year-old parents, and relieved me of a responsibility which I now see was not mine.

In their retirement years, my parents have fought and bickered almost continually until it has become a way of life. Our children no longer enjoy their grandparents' company, and I must admit that my patience has worn thin listening to them argue, one against the other.

Your magic words, "They understand each other better than you will understand either one of them," did me worlds of good.

I had been trying to "understand" them, and resolve their differences to keep the peace, but with no success. Now I realize that what you said is so true. They DO understand each other, and that is why they have remained together. Thank you for your insight.

Horoscope Forecast

SATURDAY, MARCH 22, 1969

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is a day of very confusing influences. You would be wise to restrict yourself to conventional and precise activities. Avoid yielding to anything of a peculiar nature. Also, avoid all kinds of deception. The evening becomes a splendid time for gaining the good will of prominent people.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Get all of your practical affairs in fine order today and then plan in the afternoon how to add to present interests. Be of a conciliatory attitude toward one you like. Your belligerent attitude gains you nothing

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Keep premises made to others in a most conscientious fashion now, and then you can go out socially happily, get your results. Don't make mistakes where the personal is concerned. Be adroit.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Certain limitations restrict your activity during day, but tonight you can advance quite quickly. Do nothing to add to upsets yourself during morning hours. Dress elaborately in the evening and make a fine impression on others.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Your pals hardly seem to be working in your favor during day, but you might be mistaken, so take it easy. Wait until evening to socialize. Force nothing during the day or there ire bound to be repercussions.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Get rid of that temptation to do something foolish that would influence others to think wrongly of you. Evening is fine for sociability otherwise. Be confident. Gather the advice you need for your regular work.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Are you certain that itinerary you have planned for today isn't like going off on a wild goose chase? Wait for the evening if you want right results. Listen to the wise in the morning.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Nov. 22) Day hours are not good for assuming new obligations, but tonight you can do so cautiously and properly. Your mate may be upset during day, but by evening everything is fine. Be patient.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Avoid that temptation to argue with an associate in the morning, since by evening all blows over and everything is fine. Being forceful with anyone could be almost disastrous. Control your temper.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Be grateful for aid which a co-worker gives you without doubting his motives. Accomplish what has not been possible before this. Relax at whatever pleases most in the afternoon.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You have some particular aim which will be realized better in the afternoon. That desire for pleasure is also satisfied then. Keep busy during routine work during day and have a cheerful attitude.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Don't stir up any trouble at home and you can entertain there happily in the afternoon. Others are in a bad mood during day hours but take no heed. Keep busy at your own duties and all is fine.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Make up your mind to put aside financial and other worries during the day so that your evening can be happier and more serene. Be wise.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he, or she, will be one of those charming young people who will have a wide variety of interests. You must be patient and teach early to control the temper. Because of his, or her, lively mind and excessive energy, your offspring will be quite a handful during childhood. Nevertheless, a great force for good is in this chart. A college education is necessary here, and for best results, let your progeny pick own college. Will do well in business, banking, or the fine arts. Big success will come after middle age.

SUNDAY, MARCH 23, 1969

GENERAL TENDENCIES — You could feel very discontented today and tonight. If you were to express it, it could detract from your success. Instead, maintain an attitude of calm. Hold yourself steadily on a sensible, intelligent course of action. It will help to study spiritual ideas.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19)—One who enjoys arguing could give you quite a time of it, if you permit. This person is unreasonable. Drive with utmost care or you could get into some serious accident. Be careful in walking, also.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) —You have some silly idea of spending a great deal for something almost worthless. Forget it. Ineffectual items around you can decrease your ability to become more affluent. Rid yourself of them.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You almost want to give up on the personal aim you have and be ungracious about it, also. Keep steady and you win out. Improve your health and appearance. Then out tonight in high style.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21)— You believe others are imposing on you too much, but if you keep busy at the constructive ones, you find you go through duties efficiently. Assist those who are in need. You are in a fine position compared to him, or her.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)— Others are in a mood to criticize, but don't let them bother you. Go along with whatever you have to do quietly. Do some studying tonight and avoid the social or you get into unnecessary arguments.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)— Gain the respect of those who are in an influential position where your own line of endeavor is concerned. Learn from them. Stop being so doubtful about your own particular talents. Get ahead.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)— Don't run away from all that work ahead of you or you get into real trouble later on. Get busy and get it done. You have a wonderful plan that will improve your image with everyone. Use it.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Spend some time at that new place or with the fascinating person you just met whose ideas inspire you. Garner the information you need from reliable people. Keep busy and all will be fine for you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Be sure that you are precise in all that you do now; and especially clear in dealing with a vacillating co-worker. Drive with utmost care. Buy that nice gift for the person who means a great deal to you.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Put that plan to work that will improve the job you do. Show that you are highly efficient. Check your health and do something that makes your wardrobe stand out.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Be sure you get in touch with persons you admire so that you can enjoy their cheerful spirits during the day. Become happier yourself. Develop your talent and you will delight one you love.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Devise a plan, ethical and ingenious, that will give you an added abundance. Seek advice from an expert who is practical, too. Follow it and you can make strides.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he, or she, will be one of those very clever young people who can sell anything to the public and will do well in selling, publicity, or writing advertising copy. New ideas and products will be understood readily by your progeny. Must learn self-discipline early to complete whatever has been started. Otherwise, the big promise here will be diminished. God grounding in sports and religion will provide skill and wisdom that will last throughout the lifetime.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Jacoby On Bridge

Jacoby and Son

"Well, partner!" growled North, "you just about won first prize for throwing the dummy."

"What do you mean?" replied South. "I know I could have made my contract by stripping my hand, running all my trumps and throwing West in with his last heart to make him lead a diamond up to my ace-queen. But that play would fail if hearts were 3-3, divide 4-3 or if West should happen to unguard his king of diamonds. My play was much better. It would work against a 5-3 heart break or if the diamond finesse was on for me."

"Not that at all," said North. "I was referring to your play of the jack of hearts at trick one."

"How was I to know that East held the doubleton queen?" said South.

South's play at trick one was as bad as North thought. It was. At slam contract you play as safely as possible to make the slam and disregard overtricks. You take the overtrick only in a recent column you refocused my outlook on a problem concerning my 75-year-old parents, and relieved me of a responsibility which I now see was not mine.

In their retirement years, my parents have fought and bickered almost continually until it has become a way of life. Our children no longer enjoy their grandparents' company, and I must admit that my patience has worn thin listening to them argue, one against the other.

We The Women:

By Betty Canary

One day last week, while sitting around hopefully waiting for the elves to wash dishes, make shoes or do something around here, I found myself engaged in serious conversation with my eldest son and his best friend, Roger.

"Get your feet off my coffee table," I said.

"You display a proprietary attitude," Roger said. "Don't you believes that young adults need a sense of participation in decisions that affect them?"

"Huh?" I answered.

They removed their feet from the table, then Roger lifted a crystal apple that belongs on the table and tossed it back and forth through the air.

"Put that down," I said in a proprietary tone. "It's a keepsake and I want you to stop playing ball with it. What's the matter, with you anyway?"

"Perhaps I never had ample opportunity as an infant to develop my tactile sense," he said.

Now I know you're thinking that he was being rude and that perhaps I must anticipate a wave of disturbance within our home environs, disturbance perhaps influenced by the general aura of disobedience surrounding us, based upon the widespread assumption that snide remarks and bad manners will ruin a person's poise and a sense of worth. As a matter of fact, that's exactly what I was thinking.

Instead of looking for a confrontation, or, what is around here commonly called and argument?" I asked.

"I was thinking we might discuss my thwarted idealism," he said sullenly.

"There is no conceivable subject we cannot discuss in this house," I assured him, "as long as you don't mess around with the knickknacks."

"I believe you are caught up in the old materialism," Roger said. "Truthfully, is a glass apple more important to you than the pleasure, the relief of tension that it might give to a human being?"

"You might put it that way."

"And you offer no compromise on my part?"

"You bet."

"You do not even care to debate the issue?"

"By jingo, you're right again!"

"No communal deliberation. No joint decision?"

Using the classic words of Dick and Jane to illustrate my feelings on the matter I said simply, "See the apple? The apple is mine. Do not play with the apple."

"Not a very co-operative governance around here," Roger commented to my son. "Your mother is a real authoritarian."

I'll admit the remark wasn't too complimentary, but I asked him to stay for dinner anyway. After all, with five children of my own, what's one more mouth to feed?

Polly's Pointers

By Polly Cramer

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY— An elderly, senile person lives with us and keeps the wall along the staircase soiled from rubbing against it with hands and arms. Can anyone suggest a solution? The whole wall recently has been papered.—LIZ

DEAR POLLY— Betty wanted to know how her school organization could make money. I thought she might be interested in how our Camp Fire Girls made money to go to a conference. First, the girls went to a barbershop and had the shoeshine boy teach them the proper way to clean and shine shoes. They made posters for publicity purposes and got permission from the proper city authorities to shine shoes on a downtown sidewalk. Each girl had a shoeshine kit, and men, boys and even some women leaned against a wall and put one foot at a time on the kit while one of the girls shined their shoes on her knees on a throw rug. There were no charges, just donations. Most men gave from 50 cents to a dollar, some gave as much as $5 and one man actually gave $20 and still an other gave just a penny. This was something new and different for our town—seeing shoeshine girls all around and polish all over them. It was even put on television.—MRS. M. L. H.

DEAR POLLY— Every time I look up a number in our city telephone directory, I mark the line with a colored pen that is always kept close to the phone. This help me keep my finger on the number while I am dialing. Also it helps me find it again much more easily. Chances are that I may want to repeat during the time the book is in service. —MRS. H. Beauty after Forty

by Edyth Thornton McLeod

"I have just made a trip on business, and had a mess with colognes and hair spray and perfumes opening in my tote bag on the plane. I need these things, how can I prevent such happenings? I have not traveled widely." B. W.

Get a roll of masking tape, fasten all bottles with it. They often "explode" during a plane trip, change of altitude will do it. Carry the roll of masking tape in your bag. And also here is a good tip. Put a strip over the locks on your bags in your hotel room, no need to fasten with your keys. If anyone wants to steal, they hesitate to break the tape, as you would know immediately and notify your hotel manager. I have traveled all over the world and find this a very good idea.

"My husband has become an invalid after a stroke. He does not get out of bed now. My neighbor's husband helps me move him. But, the doctor says he could get out of bed and break his leg or his back. I hate to put up a railing; he would feel "fenced in." Worrying Wife.

Put up a long board, cover it with plastic in a color your husband likes. Get a flock of small framed pictures from the local dime store, hang them on the inside. Your husband can be amused with them, his own little art gallery. If you do not wish framed little pictures, cut pictures from magazines about whatever interests him such as baseball, and put them up with thumb tacks, but push them in good. Try it, let me know if you do.

"I plan a trip. I have a tapestry suit case, very large. I fear the softness would be bad for my clothes. Are there soft-sided cases good for travel?" E.

Yes, they travel well, but why not put a piece of the weight fiber-board on bottom and lay one on top after packing, good protection.

Monday, Dear Edyth Thornton McLeod."

Computer Program Jobs Are Plentiful

By JOYCE LAIN

Miss Lain awards a Mercury portable courtesy of the Royal Typewriter Co., to Vicki Fleetwood, Hearne, Texas, for her question:

A. — Among the best. A good computer programmer can call his own "flow charts" in choosing jobs. The demand is epic and women are welcome. Hardly a decade old, the electronic data processing industry has shot up faster than any other major industry, ever. Only systems analysts (discussed in an earlier column) are more courted than fine short-term, profit-making computer schools, and there are some worthless ones tho. One reader wrote to complain that she had taken a six-month course and the promised job failed to materialize. Another sent me a copy of the "aptitude test" required for entering another profit-making school; it was so absurdly simple anybody could pass it! How could potential students do you think this particular schools turns down on the basis of its test? The Data Processing Management Association strongly urges you to investigate carefully before plunking down your tuition and time.

Subjects and experts. Most programmers in scientific or engineering work are college grads with degrees in engineering, physical sciences or math — some have graduate degrees. Although in business, programmers may rise through the ranks, a programmer with no college training at all is at a disadvantage today. However, in the future, probably two years of training during or after high school will be enough as the routine part of the job may be done by management people.

Students Cheer Prexy

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) — When the time was apropos, university of Idaho President Ernest W. Hartung climbed up on the make-shift stage and told 3,000 students standing in the rain:

"I thank you for this demonstration. It's truly wonderful. The president's office gets complaints and sometimes it's a very lonesome place. But after tonight, I will never feel so lonesome."

The demonstration was staged by students, faculty and townspeople to show support for Hartung who has been hassling with state legislators over school appropriations.

Truth in Adv.

OLIVE HILL, Ky. (AP) — Mrs. J. P. Carpenter was standing in a department store when a man walked in and asked to see someone model a bathing suit advertised on a sign in the front window.

The sign read: "Bathing Suits Half Off."

Treasure Hunters Abound

CHARLOTTE AMALIE, St. Thomas, Virgin Islands (AP) — Trade routes in the Caribbean frequented by the pirates and adventurers of years ago are today crowded by modern-day treasure hunters.

The Virgin Islands, discovered by Columbus in 1492, are now the mecca for tourists bent on buying the luxury items displayed in great abundance and variety at enticing free port prices.

St. Thomas with its harbor town of Charlotte Amalie claims to be the busiest cruise port in the world. It is expected that over 350 passenger liners will visit the port in the six months ending May 31. Great ships like the United States, France, Nieuw Amsterdam and many more will land thousands of passengers to crowd the narrow streets and alleys of the town. Many more tourists will arrive via the hundreds of planes that land at the island's airstrip.

More tourists this year than ever before will tread streets named Dromingen's Gade, Drakes Passage, Gutters Gade, First Cregues Alley. Narrow streets and alleys are lined with warehouses built by Danes, French, Dutch, Spanish and English who occupied the islands until Denmark sold them to the United States in 1917 for $25 million.

Warehouses that held the rum and treasures of years ago now house the glamorous shops that display desirable goods from all corners of the earth. Stores have names like Bolero, Compas Rose, Golden Hynda, Saint. Lithe Switzerland, Snake in the Grass, The Bounty, Spanish Main, etc.

Attend Church This Sunday

"I am the resurrection and the life; he who believes in me, even if he die, shall live; and whoever lives and believes in me, shall never die."
John 11:25-26

Flimsy as a Kite

What is an unenlightened man or a spring day, with just enough breeze to fly a mere kite? It seems higher and flighty, a bright blank of color in the sky. It is a mere plaything which exerts power to vanish it, and, to most of us, it is perhaps a symbol of unaccompanied freedom.

Yet, in flying a kite there is need for control, or it will soon crash. What was sheer loveliness will become a crumpled heap of sticks and torn paper. This is true of many things that catch our fancies—from whim of money of our dreams.

In this life, we need to learn the differences between the things that endure and those that are as flimsy as a kite in the wind. We need to learn control, courage and faith. None of these comes easily, but the first step will be found in the teachings of your church. Have you been going to church lately?
