Augustine A Five Wins By 2 Points, B By Only 1 Point

The Sanford Celery Feds swapped both their games to St. Augustine in the Ancient City last night by the narrowest margins.

Two more scores for the A squad were tied both contests, for the total score in the game between the A's was 23 to 21 and the score of the B game was 21 to 20.

Coach McLucas said the Feds had the St. Augustine teams whipped until the last few seconds of play, and then in each contest the opposition was able to put across the winning plays.

2 Million Dollar Revenue Increase In State Report

Yearly Disbursements Up About One And One Half Million

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 26.—(AP)—An increase of nearly $2,000,000 in revenue collections by the state in 1935 over the previous year was shown today in the annual report of Comptroller J. M. Lee.

During the same period, disbursement climbed $1,563,000. Total receipts for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1935, were listed at $77,629,959.54, against $75,126,959.54 in 1934.

Disbursements for the year ended June 30, 1935, were $76,066,956.54, against $74,503,956.54 in the previous year.

Principal source of revenue was $19,185,524.29 in excise taxes, including the seven cents a gallon gasoline tax. This source produced $16,937,667.83 in 1934.

General property taxes in 1935 amounted to $3,137,430.76, against $3,228,824.57 in 1934, while licenses produced $4,236,091.65, against $5,511,577.76 in the previous year.

Highways, with $10,656,367.67, took the bulk of disbursements in 1935, but this expenditure was a decrease from the $12,628,518.01 for the same fund in 1934.

Other comparative disbursements, with the 1935 figure shown first and the 1934 figure following, included: General government, $3,560,077.85 and $1,977,778.71; protection of person and property, $979,111.29 and $867,344.88; development and conservation of natural resources, $1,342,571.47 and $1,172,319.47; charities, hospitals and corrections, $2,158,270.06 and $1,891,669.98; education, $7,619,156.21 and $7,201,682.83; miscellaneous, $9,858,545.22 and $8,553,653.40.

The general government expenses for 1935 included $405,101.61 for the cost of the 1935 and 1933 sessions of the Legislature, the 1933 session not being paid for until the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1935.

Also in the general government expenses for 1935, on which there were no similar expenditures in 1934, were $120,274 for the 1935 state census, $235,922 for fire insurance premiums, $150,845 for the fire insurance fund, $102,151.99 for payments made to banks for advances to state creditor in 1927, and $50,029.89 for interest on money advanced by the banks. These and other items on which no such comparative disbursements were made in 1934 totaled $1,432,035.12.

C. F. Greene, general auditor of the comptroller's office who prepared the report, said in a letter of transmittal: "If the amount of extraordinary items were deducted from the total state operating disbursements the result would be $34,900,298.59 for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1935, as compared with $34,621,870.96 for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1934."

Comptroller Lee presented the report to Governor Sholtz with the statement: "I am pleased to advise that all current expenses have been paid and that the revenue receipts exceeded the operating disbursements in the sum of $1,168,736.01, of which $50,264.24 has been paid on bills previously incurred."

The ousted state treasurer deposited the state funds in a bank in his own name, but administration agencies provided funds to the amount of about one-half million dollars yesterday. Three state departments turned over that money to J. B. (Toke) Daniel, named by Governor Talmage as treasurer when he had the adjutant general of the National Guard serve the notice of ouster on Hamilton whom the people had elected as state treasurer.

The financial predicament came to a head when Comptroller Harrison and Treasurer Hamilton refused to honor a warrant of more than $130,000 for the board of control, drawn on 1936 appropriations. Late yesterday E. E. Lindsey, chairman of the board, announced that he had received the money, all of which is payable to charitable institutions.

Japan Military Coup Is Cause Of Sudden Change

The assassinations were true to custom. Soldiers surrounded homes of the leaders, called them out into the gray snowy dawn, pressed pistols against them and fired.

Diplomatic quarters in Washington heard that the army would promulgate a "new law of state" this afternoon.

The Tokyo government declared a state of emergency and ordered two fleets from the high seas to police duty at the great cities of Tokyo and Osaka.

The Japanese Empire, in one of the most delicate external situations in years, had first emerged from a bitter national election.

The government of Premier Kenseke Okada, threatened with overthrow, was victorious, however, all remained in control. Okada was an admiral.

There has long been friction between the cabinet of Count Nobuaki Makino, lord keeper of the privy seal, because they objected to his liberal views.

Tax Adjusting To Be Allowed By Bondholders

Applications Filed With City Clerk To Be Considered

The City of Sanford will be permitted by the Bondholders' Protective Committee to adjust delinquent taxes due the municipality if owners of properties on which taxes have not been paid for several years take advantage of the opportunity of settling their debts with the City on a lower schedule.

Such was the result of a conference held this morning behind closed doors, between members of the Sanford City Commission and Kenneth M. Keefe of New York, chairman of the Bondholders' Protective Committee. Mr. Keefe was accompanied by his attorney, J. W. Shands of Jacksonville.

Following the conference Acting Mayor B. O. Shinholser dictated the following statement:

"The interests of the City and of the Bondholders' Protective Committee appearing to be the same, the Committee is willing and agreeable to go ahead with the matter of adjusting irregularities in the form of taxes such matters as long as any such adjustments result in the City accruing to the City no financial difficulties."

The Tax Adjustment Board will meet in adjourned session at 7:30 o'clock this evening in the City Hall to begin its work. Sixteen applications for adjustment of taxes were filed some time ago but no action was taken on them pending the reaching of an agreement with the owners of the City's bonds, and these will probably be taken up at the meeting.

When the Tax Adjustment Board was first suggested Attorney Shands rushed to Sanford and notified the Mayor and City Attorney that the Bondholders' Protective Committee would not favor the contemplated action.

Reinstatement Of General Hagood Asked By Byrnes

Chief Of Staff Says "Wisecracks" Caused Officer's Removal

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Senator Byrnes, Democrat, South Carolina, accompanied by two representatives of the War Department today to set aside the disciplinary action taken by the Army against Major General Johnson Hagood.

They went to the War Department after General Hagood, chief of staff, (named Hagood for "wisecracking" remarks in an extraordinary public explanation of the order removing Hagood from command of the Eighth Army Corps area. Upon leaving they let it be known they failed to get any assurance.

General Craig said Hagood's remarks before the subcommittee "can only be characterized as flippant in tone and entirely uncalled for and designed to bring ridicule and contempt upon the civil agencies of the government."

"They were not necessary to the laudible purpose which he desired to accomplish," Craig continued, "and can only be characterized as of the 'wisecrack' type which every Army officer—and most assuredly one of such high rank—should sedulously avoid in the presence of the public."

Resolution Is Introduced By Senator Nye, North Dakota

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(AP)—A resolution proposing a constitutional amendment to give Congress full power to regulate the sale and marketing of agricultural commodities was introduced in the Senate today by Senator Nye, Progressive Republican, North Dakota. The proposed amendment would insert in the Constitution, the following words: "Congress shall have the power to regulate the sale and marketing of all agricultural commodities."

"In the light of many conflicting decisions," Nye told newsmen off the floor, "it seems to be high time to clearly define the right of Congress to deal with this national agricultural problem."

His amendment would not be operative unless ratified by three-fourths of the states within seven years. Two-thirds majority is required in each house to submit amendments to the states.

Senator Logan, Democrat, Kentucky, has introduced an amendment which would give Congress power to regulate industry as well as agriculture.

Confiscation Of Excess War Time Profits Proposed

Bill Is Threatened To Force Consideration Of Excess War Time Profits Proposed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Threat of a filibuster "if necessary" to force consideration at this session of a bill to curb war profits was voiced today by Senator Nye, Republican, North Dakota.

The bill, developed by Nye's munitions committee, provides for stiff taxes on earnings and virtual confiscation of individual income above $10,000 per year in time of war. In addition, it would empower the President virtually to curtail industrial leaders to maintain production of essential war supplies.

Chairman Nye conducted a 20 months' inquiry into munitions deals in which J. P. Morgan, the DuPonts and others were interested, closing the inquiry about a week ago. The probe extended not only into war-time activities but also into peacetime activities.

Government Permits Soldiers To Keep Arms Upon Evacuating Police Station

Bloodshed Threat Believed Averted

Situation In Japan Declared Gravest In A Generation

TOKYO, Feb. 27.—(AP)—(Thursday) — After two days of the gravest crisis in a generation, Tokyo slept easier tonight, confident that sunrise would find the rebel soldiers who assassinated four government dignitaries Wednesday back in their barracks. They capitulated last night to the government request that they quit the police headquarters where they had barricaded themselves in defiance of loyal troops. A threat of bloodshed in the capital's streets was averted.

Ranking military authorities said they are confident that all danger was past since under arrangements between the rebels and the war office the former were promised safe return to their barracks and allowed to retain their arms, thereby escaping the dishonor of being disarmed. The insurgents began evacuation of the building they occupied during darkness before midnight.

The guns of the military contingent took the lives of Premier Katsuo Okada, Admiral Viscount Makoto Saito, former premier and at his death the keeper of the privy seal and Gen. Jotaro Watanabe, chief of military education.

Korekiyo Takahashi, distinguished minister of finance, and Admiral Kantaro Suzuki, lord chamberlain of the Imperial Court, were wounded.

Other members of the cabinet, including Koki Hirota, foreign minister, escaped injury. "Several of the minister's bodyguards and servants were reported slain."

The war office announced the insurgent officers believed themselves assassinated had attempted to destroy national policy and were "corrupt elements around the throne."

The government, the insurgents said they believed, was being weakened by financial factions and bureaucrats during a critical time and they wanted to fulfill their duties to the throne by protecting the national policy.

They had accused Premier Okada of not strongly supporting the military program in Asia.

Military men in Tokio assassinated Premier Okada for criticizing their policies. In this country the "assassinate" the military men.

Question of How Old is Man? Will be the old enough to know better.

Looks like Gen. Talmadge who criticized President Roosevelt for failing to do the job in the country needs to do a little seeing along the line himself.

Some of the candidates are already worrying about when the speaking begins. They can't understand why it is necessary that a candidate or a county commissioner should also have to be an orator.

General Hagood made some interesting crack about the "auger" which the WPA is handing out and promptly got relieved of his job. In Italy they would have had him castor oil.

Dr. F. J. Morgan, West Palm Beach, a candidate for governor, will be in Sanford tonight to deliver an address on his candidacy. This is Mr. Morgan's first appearance in Sanford, but we rather suspect that we will hear considerably more from him before the election.

The Jacksonville Times-Union says that when you see a man carrying a ten-gallon hat, watch for his political announcement. Business must be booming in ten-gallon hats over this state of ours.

Plant City Courier. We understand that some of the candidates are also getting rid of their Cellulose and buying Florida these days.

The thing that makes us the maddest about the Townsend Plan is that we're told that the reason we are not in favor of it is because we're ignorant. We can stand being called a "tool of the business," a "money changer," a "controlled person," and a "Wall Street hireling," but when they say we're ignorant after all the Townsend articles we've read on the subject, that's when we blow up!

The chain store tax has been upheld, at least in part, and so everybody is happy. What a lot of us are forgetting to remember is that we also have to pay license tax under this law of ten cents per store plus 1-3 of one percent of our gross receipts. Now this store selling $50,000 worth of goods a year would have to pay license receipts of $1250 a year plus the license tax of $10, making a total of $1375. We think our license tax was already high enough.

Some of the believing, someone had long before. A large number of people are still in the dark about the chain store tax. It is a law that is being passed in the State of Florida. It is a law that is being passed in the State of Florida. It is a law that is being passed in the State of Florida.

New Taxes

For the second time the State Supreme Court has upheld the so-called "chain store tax" law providing a new form of taxation in Florida, and has ruled that even though the measure was finally enacted after the constitutional limit for the legislative session had expired, it was nevertheless valid. As a result of this law all retail stores are required to pay license taxes ranging from $10 to $400 and a tax of 1/3 of 1 percent on all gross receipts.

Though it has been widely proclaimed that the "chain store tax" has been upheld by the Supreme Court, or at least that the major portions of the law have been upheld, one very important feature of the original act was invalidated. That was the graduated gross receipts tax. It was originally contemplated that single stores should pay 1/3 of 1 percent of their gross receipts in taxation, while multiple stores should pay increased percentages of gross receipts up to 5 percent in chains of 18 or more stores.

It should be remembered that the "chain store tax" law got its name because it was supposed to be a law which particularly hit the chain store. It grew out of a desperately effective piece of legislation known as the "Florida Recovery Act" designed to abolish the chain stores altogether. The compromise tax law was hardly expected to abolish the chains, but it was supposed to put such a damper on them that their flame would be considerably diminished if not actually extinguished.

What finally emerges, however, is not a law which especially impedes the development of chain stores or hampers their competition with the independents, but one which rather hits all merchants more or less alike. To be sure, the stores in the bigger chains will have to pay a $400 license as compared with a $10 license for the independents, but the gross receipts tax, which is the real bone of contention, will be the same for all.

And as we now have it, every merchant will have to pay a new kind of tax, in addition to all the other taxes which he has already been paying, of 1/3 of 1 percent of his gross receipts, plus his new license tax. This the independent will have to pay as well as the chain. For a single store doing an annual business of $100,000 a year (which is a fairly small business), this would amount to a new tax of $510 a year. And we have not abolished the chains, or eliminated their competition.

So it goes with most of our experimental social reform legislation. About all we succeed in doing is voting ourselves some new kind of tax to pay.

Looking For Scapegoats

Senator Nye's costly munitions committee which spent many months and thousands of dollars going through the wartime files of bankers and industrialists, and in asking questions of dozens of important witnesses, seems to have gotten exactly nowhere, not only in definitely fixing the blame for American participation in the last war, but also in trying to find some easy formula for keeping out of the next one.

Speaking of the Nye investigation, the Bradenton Herald says, "It produced a number of headlines, shed some interesting light on the activities of high finance, and gave Mr. Morgan a chance to speak his mind about maids, leisure classes, and the chances of civilization. But after that it seems to have vanished and those who expected to learn that Uncle Sam had been betrayed are getting remarkably little sustenance out of it."

Since the disclosures of the committee produced a good deal of confusion, and since Congress is ready to give up on the job of producing new neutrality legislation, it might be a good idea to review once more the obvious, undisputed facts about the way we got into the war.

"It is foolish to try to hunt for a scapegoat. People who expected the Nye committee to dig up some individual who would grin wickedly from the witness chair and say, 'yes, I did it,' have been disappointed. The committee's work will be worth all it cost if it convinces us that we went to war through force of circumstances, not through the connivance of any man or group of men."

"After all, German submarines were sinking our ships, killing our citizens, destroying our commerce and, in general, pursuing a course that a self-respecting nation could not tolerate. That was why we declared war. About all we can do is try to figure out why the Germans did what they did. In trying to answer that question we begin to acquire wisdom."

"We had become banker, granary, and factory for the allies. Allied soldiers were eating American beans and bacon, firing American shells at the enemy, and getting paid because their governments had tapped American tills. The Germans figured, sensibly enough, that they might as well have America as an out-and-out enemy."

"So when unrestricted submarine warfare was suggested, the German government agreed although it knew that this would bring America into the war. The kind of neutrality in which we had been indulging made Germany quite willing to provoke us into declaring war."

"That is the hub of the whole neutrality argument. We stacked the cards against ourselves. We enjoyed war prosperity and found out that it cost more than it was worth. That is the thing for us to remember."

SANFORD TWENTY YEARS AGO

Mrs. D. L. Ray, of Leon, Iowa, and Mrs. S. O. Coyne of Minneapolis, Minn., who have been spending the winter in Cuba and South Florida, stopped off at Sanford for a few days with W. E. Shatto, and Miss Helen Shatto.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—With the Supreme Court today upholding the chain store tax, the munitions crisis which has been the subject of the Nye investigation, the Senate today passed a bill to amend the Espionage Act, which was introduced by Senator Duffell and which would increase the punishment for espionage to death if the offender is found guilty of espionage.

HURRAH FOR HAGOOD
 JUST WHAT HE WANTS

The President of the United States being commander-in-chief of the Army and Navy, good excuse and plenty of precedent can no longer be found for disciplining General Hagood because he spoke what was construed as a crack at Administration policies while appearing at a congressional hearing.

However, there were mitigating circumstances which fully justify congressional indignation and got the Administration in a very bad light for countenancing criticism on the general. He was not only a witness by what associated to subpoena but was present on command of higher authority in the war department. Moreover, he was called upon to speak his mind freely and was permitted to do so by an order of the chief-of-staff of the Army, suspending restrictions governing the conduct of Army officers. The purpose of that order was to give the congressional committee the benefit of the personal judgment of competent experts. That Congress should have that kind of advice in arriving at its decisions is unquestionably in the public interest and any attempt to choke it off merits the rebuke now being voiced.

The charge may be made that the general's offense lies not so much in what he discussed as the way he said it. Reporting that the Army was in dire need of housing accommodations, he complained that while "there is a vast flow of silver—I won't say gold—spreading out all over the country like mud, it will soon dry up without anything permanent to show for it." "Remembering that he wasn't familiar with the various pockets in which Uncle Sam keeps his money" he went on to say he understood there was:

"Budget money (appropriated by Congress) which is very hard to get; PWA (Works) money which is not so hard to get; and a vast quantity of WPA (relief) money which is very easy to get for cringing projects but almost impossible to get for anything worthwhile."

It may have been indiscreet for an Army officer to say that even under the immunity of a congressional witness, but it can be said that he took the words right out of the mouth of a majority of the American people. Nobody has to look beyond the Florida visa for dispensing proof of that. With every needed public work crying for attention the country is witnessing the wasteful waste of federal funds on all manner of boondoggling while Mayor Shepard finds it next to impossible to get some of what General Hagood lists as semi-silly money for anything as worthwhile as a soft-water plant.

For a month past of what they have already thrown away on such a trifling project as the Gulf-Atlantic canal, which will "soon dry up without anything permanent to show for it," the Tamiami Trail could be permanently paved from here to Bonita Springs. With a tenth of what they are fixing to spend for a bridge across nothing up there can't build trap bridges across the trail to Bonita and Estero could be made safe for thousands.

Methodists Plan To Fight Ban In Poland

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 27.—(AP)—A high official of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, a spokesman said, might be sent to Poland to direct action against Polish suppression of a Methodist organization.

Dr. Elmer T. Clark, assistant secretary of the church board of missions, said that a "long legal fight" was in prospect and that, in an effort to get the ban lifted, the board might dispatch Dr. Winston G. Gram to Poland as its representative.

Yesterday Dr. Clark revealed that the Polish government had declared "invalid" the Methodist Church missionary organization known as "The Society for Education and Culture." Methodist mission activities have been carried on in Poland since the war. The church property there, Dr. Clark said, might be worth $750,000 or more.

With Dr. Gram, secretary of the board, in Texas, Dr. Clark sent a message to the Biga Department at Washington, over the Polish order. Today Secretary of State Cordell Hull revealed that the American Consul General in Warsaw was assisting officials of the society and that the American Embassy there had interposed itself in the case. Secretary Hull had not been advised as to whether representations had been made to the Polish government, however.

Ghostly Spell Of Something Grips Dead Man's Glass

Dying Man Told Hospital Mirror Would Cling To The Table

SAULT STE MARIE, Mich., Feb. 27.—A dozen explanations, scientific and otherwise, have been advanced to account for the strange conduct of a dead man's mirror.

Molecular attraction, chemical or electrical reaction, hypnosis, parlor magic, spirit manifestations, and a "spell," were mentioned by commentators seeking to tell why the mirror fulfilled the deathbed prediction of Jeffrey Derosier, 38 years old, that "you won't be able to pick it up."

Whether the explanation, all the witnesses but one were firm in their assertion that for twenty-four hours after Derosier's death the mirror defied all efforts to remove it from the top of the steel hospital table on which he had flung it, and that it yielded at last only when a nurse attacked it with an ice pick.

The noncommittal witness was Harvey Davenport, ward mate of Derosier, who could not be reached for comment. Fellow citizens of Davenport's home town of Exton said he had packed hurriedly and departed for "somewhere in the West," to escape "the dead man's spell."

"I tried to remove the mirror with my hands, and it wouldn't budge," said Dr. F. J. Maoney, Derosier's physician. "The mirror was stuck, as he forecast."

Elmer V. Jorgenson, hospital bookkeeper, said he had tried every method he could think of before the nurse used the ice pick. Several nurses and patients, including Lewis Ducheneaux, confirmed his statement.

After looking at his face in the glass, Derosier tossed it on the table with the statement that he was dying, Ducheneaux related.

"He asked Davenport to give him the mirror again," the patient said. "As Davenport reached for it, Derosier told him, 'You won't be able to pick it up from the table.' Davenport seemed frozen to the spot, Derosier died right away."

"Then Davenport and the others

Navy's Control Extended To Pacific Island

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Under an executive order newly issued by President Roosevelt the Navy holds new jurisdiction over another mid-Pacific island—Kure, or Ocean Island.

A short distance west of Midway Island, now a leading stage on the trans-Pacific air route between Honolulu and Wake Island, the tiny dot of land previously was under the civil control of the Hawaiian Territory.

Considerable speculation surrounded the transfer. At the Navy Department, the only reason advanced was that Midway has been under naval control and that the transfer would place its near neighbor in the same category.

No explanation was given in the presidential executive order beyond the statement that the island "is placed under the control and jurisdiction of the Secretary of the Navy for naval purposes."

Kure, or Ocean Island was described elsewhere as a small strip, mostly of coral formation and containing little ground, strategically, some suggested, it might be important as a potential base and tried to take the glass from the table. It wouldn't move."

Several scientists said the surface of the mirror and the table might have been smooth enough to create a vacuum between them, or possibly a molecular attraction. Others suggested that there might have been a chemical reaction set up in the quicksilver of the mirror by perspiration from Derosier's hand.

tial link in the cable stretching from Honolulu to Guam, by way of Midway Island. Lying within the Hawaiian archipelago, Kure Island is shown on charts to be about ten statute miles west and slightly north of Midway.

Although both Navy and State Department officials were chary in commenting on the matter, it was indicated in authoritative quarters that the island is not generally considered suitable for development as a naval base owing both to its small size and the fact that its formation is mostly coral.

Three Live Ghosts In Diverting Comedy

With Richard Arlen heading a notable cast comedy, drama and romance will romp across the screen of the Milane Theater Friday. The picture is "Three Live Ghosts."

In many respects this photoplay is guaranteed entertainment. Originally a best-selling novel and a hit play by Frederick S. Isham, it established new high records everywhere. Now it comes to the screen with a freshness and a sparkle that makes it superb entertainment.

The story concerns the adventures of three soldiers who escaped from a German prison camp and returned to London, to find themselves officially "dead." For varying reasons they decide to remain so, and their escapades provide moments of hilarious comedy, thrilling excitement and tender romance.

Cecilia Parker, a comparatively newcomer, who scored in the picture "Ah Wilderness," turns in her finest performance as Richard Arlen's sweetheart. Beryl Mercer as the Cockney mother and Charles McNaughton as her son are outstanding in the roles they first created on the New York stage.

Claude Allister as a shell-shocked nobleman who prefers his own study is a comedy highlight and the others in the cast—Dudley Digges Nydia Westman, Johnathan Hale and Lillian Cooper turn in excellent portrayals.

"Three Live Ghosts" was produced for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer by John W. Considine, Jr., and directed by H. Bruce Humberstone from a screen play by C. Gardner Sullivan. It is excellent entertainment.

Sally Rand Appears At DeLand Theater

Sally Rand, who has been referred to frequently as an "American phenom," may soon become an international celebrity.

Every since her fan dance at the World's Fair in 1934 started repercussions heard around the world, Sally has received offers from foreign theater interests to present her in various countries.

So busy has she been since with stage and screen contracts, that all these offers have been held in abeyance. As a matter of fact, Sally has set a record of 93 weeks of continuous engagement with only one week of rest. That one week was spent on her farm in Missouri.

Miss Rand, who is to appear in person at the Athens Theater, DeLand, has at last decided to consider her foreign offers seriously. She may accept a contract with a group of South American managers to appear for eight weeks in principal Latin-American cities.

This may be followed by a tour of the Orient. Theater men in Japan, Hawaii, China, the Philippines and the Malay countries report a very active interest in American attractions and shows and have been conducting a campaign to bring shows to the Far East.

Having scored heavily and profitably with her fan and bubble dance, Sally plans to introduce a new and sensational dance next year. One new dance every year is her schedule, a take-off on the yearly model idea so successfully employed by automobile companies and fashion designers.

At the Athens Theater, DeLand, Friday only, Sally is offering both of her dances and an elaborate stage show of her own. The entire show was devised and staged by Miss Rand herself. It includes a company of over forty entertainers and runs for over an hour.

Ball Park Will Be Ready For Opening Of Training Season Early Next Month

The Sanford Municipal Field will be in first class shape in time for the opening of the training season of the Chattanooga Lookouts early next month. It was stated today by Park Superintendent James Moughtin who is in charge of rehabilitating the park. A "ladder floor" has been laid over the concrete floor in the shower baths, more than 30 lockers have been built, the fence surrounding the park has all been repaired, and the roof of the grandstand is new thing. Lumber needed for repairs and new construction was all donated by local firms.

Mr. Moughtin put a 10-ton roller on the field today, and when it has completed its peripatations across the diamond and in the outfield there will not be a better playing field in the state, he declared.

The Lookouts begin their training here on Mar. 9, but they are expected to arrive several days ahead of that date. While in Sanford the baseball men will live at the Valdes Hotel.

TALMADGE MILITIAMEN OUST GEORGIA TREASURER

Working around the tie of Gov. Eugene Talmadge because he defied the governor's "financial dictatorship" of Georgia, State Treasurer George S. Hamilton is shown unsuccessfully resisting ejection from his office in the state capital at Atlanta. Escorting an order from Talmadge, Adj. Gen. Lindsey Camp (right) and Sgt. W. S. ### SNOW BATH FOR PAPOOSE

Ivan Drift, a Sioux Indian living in Washington, D. C., has his own ideas about what's good for babies and the started "paleface" of the capital can't modify them. Residents called for police intervention but the cops scratched their heads and walked away after Ivan explained. (Associated Press Photo)

Tax Adjusting Success Is Up To Lot Owners

New Board Will Not Function Long If Only Slight Interest Is Apparent

21 Applications Being Considered

Those Delinquent In Payment Of Taxes Are Urged To File

Readjustment of delinquent tax assessments will be tried by the Sanford City Commission, sitting as a tax adjustment board, as long as there is apparent interest on the part of those who are delinquent in the payment of their back taxes, but the life of the new board will depend to a large extent upon whether citizens avail themselves of the opportunity offered.

This was the decision reached last night at the first meeting of the Municipal Tax Adjustment Board, composed of members of the City Commission.

"If there are very little signs of interest showing the board will simply cease to function," was the explanation of the board's position as given by City Clerk F. S. Lamson. "For this reason the Commission strongly urged prompt action by those who wish to make applications for adjustments."

Paty For Change In Constitution On Two-Man Jobs

Declaring against "waste, de-politization and two-man jobs" in Florida, B. F. Paty, first to announce his candidacy for governor in this year's election, told an audience on the streets last night that he favors writing into the State Constitution an amendment which would prohibit any member of the State Legislature from accepting any office or position with the state during the period to which he was elected. However, he does not intend to ask legislators to propose such an amendment as he declared that "I am not asking favors of a member of the Legislature or of any other man."

While the State Supreme Court has recently held that a legislator can legally hold another state office, Mr. Paty said that the position is "undesirable" and that he will "debate the question with any man, anywhere." He asserted that the edicts that "no one can serve two masters" is true today, and that it is "positively wrong" for a lawmaker to create a position and then himself take the job he created.

"Who, lose or draw, I never intend to let up on my fight against the slot machine," was

Control Over Shipments Of Citrus Asked

Granting Of Federal Power To Board In Regulating Industry To Be Sought

LAKELAND, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Grant of federal powers to the Florida Citrus Commission to regulate marketing of fruit in citrus states was requested by the citrus industry of the state in an all day conference here. As finally adopted, the new agreement would empower the commission to act as a control board and say how much fruit can be shipped in any given period to bring the highest price, and to limit shipment of small size fruit when it would endanger the price of higher quality citrus.

As the hearing ended late yesterday a staff of 10 representatives of the Federal Department of Agriculture, armed with a transcript of the complete proceedings, planned to return immediately to Washington.

If Wallace approves the agreement, it will come back to Florida for ratification of the industry. To become effective, it must be approved by at least 50 percent of the citrus shippers and two-thirds of the growers.

Rebels Refuse To Return To Army Barracks

Authorities Hope To Avert Bloodshed In Tokyo; Appropriate Measures Are Taken

TOKYO, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Lieutenant General Kohsei Kazumi, assigned by the Japanese government to put down the military rebellion with martial law announced tonight that his forces, surrounding the rebels, were taking "appropriate measures." Meanwhile the rebels were still holding the Nagatcho section of Tokyo. The city was quiet except for that section, and peace and order prevails throughout the country, the general said.

The soldiers who assassinated four of the nation's leading elder statesmen defied the deadline set for their return to their own barracks and held their ground in the heart of Tokyo. Breaking their agreement to evacuate by 8 A. M., 1,000 rebels maintained their grip on government buildings against a force of more than 4,000 loyal troops.

Emperor Hirohito persisted in his negotiations for a new government to replace that of the assassinated Premier, Kuniida Okada, with Imperial princes and officers of the army in high command wielding predominant influence.

Wilentz Won't Halt Reprieve To Hauptmann

Attorney General Of New Jersey Will Allow Governor To Make Own Decision

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 25.—(AP)—An authoritative source said today that Attorney General David T. Wilentz, chief prosecutor of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, will not oppose a second reprieve for the convicted slayer of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's first son. Wilentz, the source said, will neither oppose a reprieve nor consent to it, but will stand aside and let Governor Harold G. Hoffman make his own decision whether to delay further Hauptmann's death sentence, without interference from the attorney general's office.

Wilentz will remain passive on the governor's contention that more than one person was implicated in the crime, that testimony of some witnesses would bear closer scrutiny and that prosecution officials have withheld important information in the case.

Hauptmann's sentence will be executed during the week of Mar. 30, unless the governor grants another reprieve. The first stay came Jan. 16, just 29 hours before Hauptmann was scheduled to be executed. Governor Hoffman yesterday attacked the testimony of another identification witness against Bruno Richard Hauptmann and, through that man's statements, the testimony of Dr. John F. (Jafese) Condon, Lindbergh ransom intermediary.

Mincer then asked the court to fine Hurley the minimum of $1,000 for violating the state racing law. Judge Willard declared "I am not going to fine this trainer the minimum of $1,000 when it is admitted in court that he is the 'fall guy,' and that the owner is guilty."

Favors $500,000,000 Permanent Tax And An Equal Amount On Temporary Basis

$1,125,000,000 Hole In Treasury

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(AP)—A combination tax program to raise $500,000,000 annually on a permanent basis and $500,000,000 more on a temporary basis of from one to three years was projected today by President Roosevelt. He told the press conference that the form of taxes and the rates will be left to Congress, but emphasized his view that temporary levies could be met through means taxes. Taxes are necessitated, he said, because of the passage of the bonus law and the Supreme Court decision invalidating the AAA. These actions, he said, opened a $1,125,000,000 gap in the treasury. The President said he believed a retroactive tax would work a hardship and would not be constitutional.

The tax program was drafted at a conference last night between the President and congressional leaders. Those invited to talk over the program with the Chief Executive were Vice President Garner, Speaker Hays, Senator Barkley (D. Ky.), Chairman Harrison (D. Miss.) of the Senate Finance Committee, Representative Bankhead (D. Ala.), majority leader in the House, and Representative Samuel B. Hill (D. Wash.).

Secretary Morgenthau announced that mid-March would find the Treasury borrowing not only $1,000,000,000 to retire maturing securities, but an additional $600,000,000 of ready cash. The new borrowing will shore the national debt to a new record peak—roughly $31,300,000,000. This is for the reason that on Mar. 15, the treasury plans to borrow $559,000,000 with which it will retire an equivalent amount of securities maturing on Apr. 15. On the latter date, the debt will revert to its $31,300,000,000 level. In addition to the $600,000,000, $450,000,000 will be sought to meet an equivalent amount of securities coming due then.

Thrilling Rescue Is Watched By Hundreds

MIAMI, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Frank H. Allen, his son and two other Elmira, N. Y., fishermen were rescued at considerable risk last night by a cutter from the U. S. Coast Guard cutter, which was on duty in the harbor waters of Baker's Hall-Over, exposing them to imminent danger of capsizing.

M. Simmons of Benson, Ill., and L. E. Ogle of Oklahoma, offered the rescue, in their cabin cruiser El Puma.

Roaring up to the channel mouth in their own boat, the two men found the other craft being dashed helplessly between pilings and bridge foundations, seemingly unable to capsize. A rope they got pitched her broke, nearly upsetting both craft over, and it was not until Ogle managed to swing the cutter rope over that the distressed crew could be towed to safety.
