'It's A Nice Place To Spend.. Summer'

NEW YORK (AP) — Musician Duke Ellington says he is going to start and end his singing career with a self-composed song inspired by the forthcoming flight of Apollo 11. It's entitled "Moon Maiden."

Recorded by the 70-year-old bandleader here Monday, the song will be broadcast for the first time at 10 p.m. Sunday, when astronauts Edwin Aldrin and Neil Armstrong are expected to be resting on the lunar surface.

"It's a one-shot thing," Ellington said. "This is the end of my singing career." An Ellington observation on the Apollo 11 moon shot itself: "I hope they will come back and say it's a very nice place to spend the summer."

Quoted From Psalms 81:3a Blow The Trumpet At The New Moon

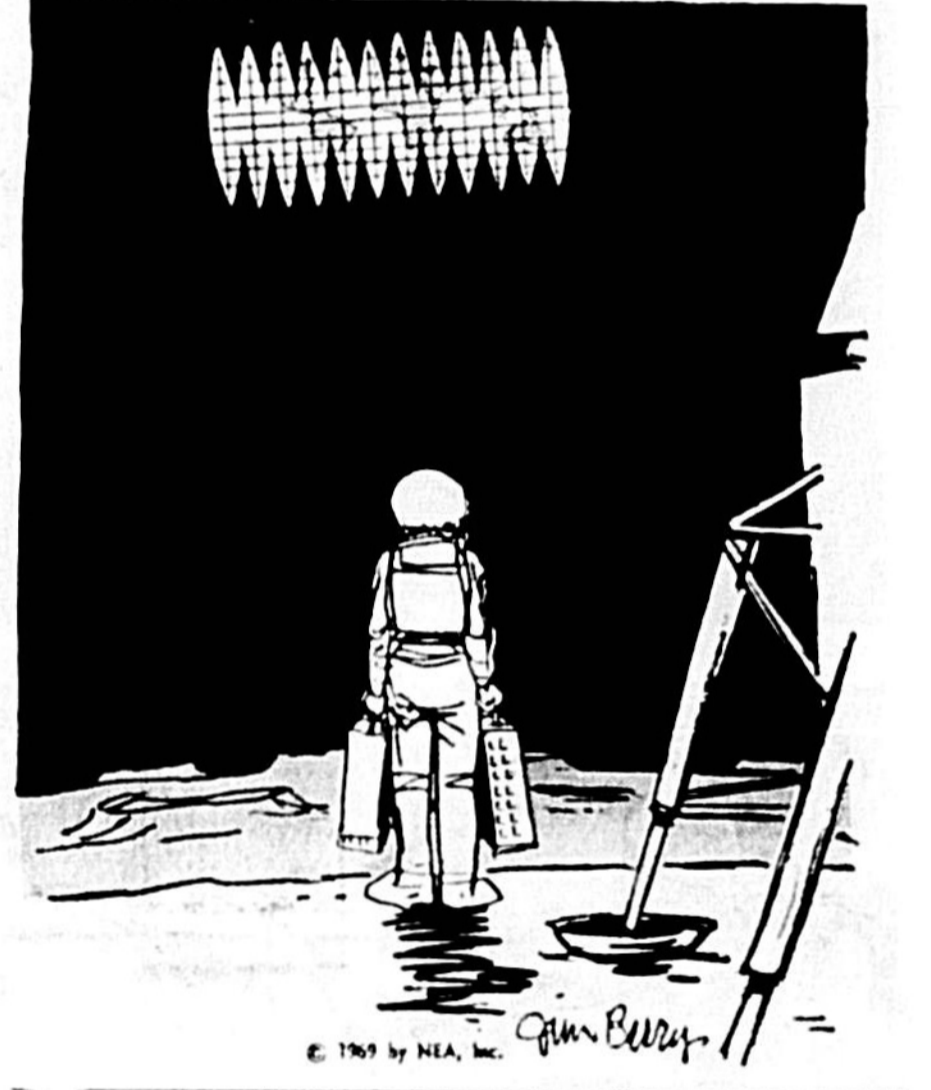

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Reaching for the dream, America's Apollo 11 astronauts soared into earth orbit today and passed the vital first milestone of the voyage of the agency's attempt to land men on the moon.
Civilian commander Neil A. Armstrong, Air Force Col. Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. and Air Force Lt. Col. Michael Collins started the journey on the awesome power of a Saturn 5 super rocket that thundered from Cape Kennedy at 9:32 a.m. EDT with a roar heard round the globe.
"Houston, we've achieved the visual is go today," one of the astronauts said shortly after the spacecraft left the ground. "They finally gave me a window to look out."

Armstrong's first words on achieving orbit were very businesslike.
"The booster has been confirmed for orbital flight. Both spacecraft are looking good," he said. He referred to the still attached third stage of the Saturn 5 which was to ignite later to boost Apollo 11 toward the moon.
The astronauts were to circle the globe for 2 1/2 hours to make certain the spacecraft's thousands of systems were functioning. Then, at 12:16 p.m. (EDT), they were to restart the still-attached third stage of the Saturn 5 to start toward their target, 238,000 miles away.
Barring problems, these three Columbus of the Space Age are to sail outward across a quarter-million-mile ocean of space for three days and fire themselves into orbit just 49 miles above the moon on Saturday.
They are to follow the trail blazed twice in the last seven months, by the pioneers of Apollo 8 and 9.
Sunday afternoon, Armstrong and "Buzz" Aldrin are to detach a lunar module and fly it down to a landing at the Sea of Tran-

LBJ Tops VIPs At Cape

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — "It's kind of like standing around the hospital room before your first baby is born," former President Lyndon B. Johnson said as he and 500 other special guests marked time before the Apollo 11 launching.
"You must be prepared to accept the worst, but you hope for the best," Johnson explained.
Vice President Spiro Agnew, like Johnson, arrived in the jam-packed Cape Kennedy area on the eve of the flight to the moon and attended a private dinner party given by Dr. Thomas O. Paine, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.
Not all the VIPs had housing in the immediate vicinity of the Cape midway down Florida's east coast. Dr. Lee A. Underdodge, President Nixon's science adviser, stayed overnight in Orlando, 50 miles away.
Sixty-nine ambassadors of foreign governments fly in this morning, as do many other visitors.
Ten representatives of the Rev. Ralph David Abernethy were added to the VIP list after a meeting with Paine.
They protested the nation's high spending on space exploration compared to antipoverty programs.
Paine promised Alternately 10 VIP passes and said it would solve the problems of the poor by withholding the Apollo 11

Astrokids: What's Up?

By MIK COCHRAN
Associated Press Writer
SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Asked once about his father's profession, the young son of an Apollo astronaut replied that "daddy drives a truck in a sewer."
Another astronaut announced that her father was "up there in the sky flying around in a big, pink balloon."
With disarming distaste, the astronauts' children usually remain happily oblivious to the whole space flight business.
But this is not the case with most of the children of the moon-bound Apollo 11 astronauts.
Moonship pilot Edwin Aldrin Jr. says his sons, Michael, 13, and Andrew, 11, and daughter, Janice, 12 next month, "all of a sudden realize their father is involved in this endeavor of national importance."
He adds, however, "I don't have a tremendous amount of opportunity to sit down and discuss things with the children. We find that just to be able to locate them is an event around the house."
"They're extremely independent. We do try to have family get-togethers whenever we can."
Neil Armstrong, the Apollo 11 commander, says sons Eric, 12, and Mark, 6, "are very enthusiastic" about the moon flight.

Sanford Citizens Demonstrate Deep Concern

Make no mistake! The citizens of Sanford not only are concerned about the future of their hometown but are ready to stand up and be counted when vital decisions are to be made.

A crowded hearing-room in City Hall on Monday night stands as witness to the truth of this conclusion.

Congratulations are in order for all concerned. To the turnout of newcomers and stalwarts whose families were among the founders of this lake-side community, to the representatives of civic clubs, to the professional and business leaders who commended.

From the time that Mayor Lee P. Moore opened the meeting with preliminary remarks which congratulated the turnout and explained the preliminary events which had triggered the popular interest in a proposal to move City Hall from its historic lakeside location to an abandoned Navy barracks in the Sanford Airport, it was lively.

Editorial Comment

Traffic Jamming?

It isn't often that an area gets a chance to experience an actual try-out which certainly will result in lessons learned before another such challenge comes rolling along.

We refer to traffic control. More specifically the almost impossible task before the law enforcement people and the traffic regulators trying to cope with the flood of people and machines now in, on or going to and from Cape Kennedy.

Today eyes and thoughts certainly are on the moon-bound crew of Apollo 11. But it won't be long before these eyes and thoughts will be focused on the ground-level problem of traffic flow, traffic signs and traffic lights.

Looking at this as a "try-out" is not far-fetched. For what Brevard County is wrestling with during these few days is but a sample of what the counties in and around Walt Disney World will be up against within a year.

Coping with these, is not something that can be done with words, meetings or plans. Roads are needed. Wider roads, better engineered roads, roads which will conform with the existing 16-year plan prepared by the defunct State Road Board are the need.

Whether if our state legislators and our governor can be hurried enough in this Cape Kennedy traffic to persuade them to drop political rivalries and get on with funding these roads?

Clarence Fades!

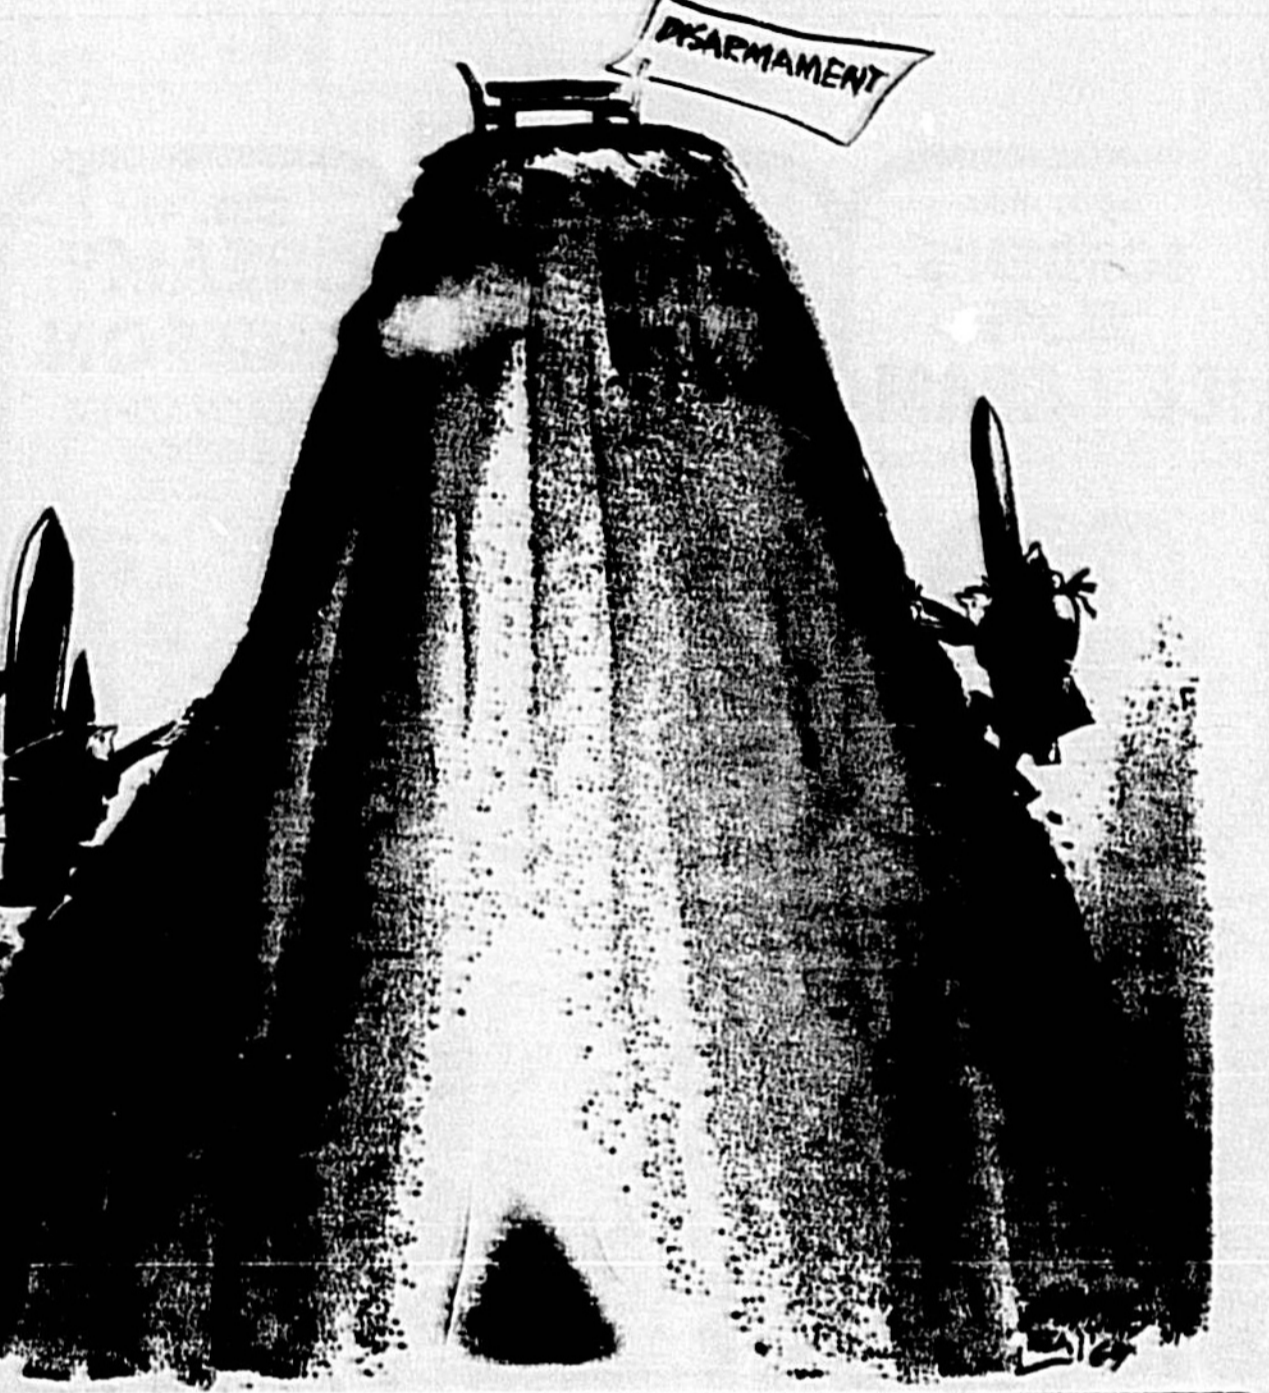

Word that Clarence, the cross-eyed lion, of TV fame has gone into his happy hunting ground comes with the impact of a rather warm memory.

True his was a TV acquaintanceship. Yet there was always something so disarming when the great man came into view, his mending fur lumbered along the African trails and then came the close-up of those disarming cross-eyes which, wittingly or not, shone with friendship.

Surely not a major faction in American life, or even an important factor in the make-believe and fancy world of television, yet here was a moment which was welcomed by many, aroused many a chuckle and did more than a little to make a TV program entertaining in its literal sense.

Good growing and straight seeing, Clarence in your post-mortem meanderings!

Rec Insurance Hike Held County's Due

County Commission should pick up the increased costs of liability insurance at the county's recreation sites at the public schools rather than forego the program, County Commission Chairman John Alexander recommended yesterday during budget hearings.

"Cost of the insurance should be negligible," Alexander declared. "If there is an additional cost, the county should fund it."

The county is ending a three-year program in a planned $100,000 project of providing recreation in Seminole. Maintenance Supt. Henderson Ferguson has included some $10,000 for materials to continue the program in fiscal 1969-70.

Facilities included at most of the schools are ball diamonds, tennis courts and basketball courts.

School Board attorney, Douglas Stromstrom, has suggested that only those activities dealing directly with the school program be allowed use of board facilities.

Unsupervised use of the facilities at the schools are not being permitted at this time, it is reported.

Commissioner Robert Parker made it clear yesterday that if the playgrounds at the school plants are closed after school hours the county should take another look at its program.

Any plans the county may have had to create swimming areas is a dead issue with elimination of the sovereign immunity law, Commissioner Greg Drummond declared.

Garbage: By Any Other Name ...

"I don't know why we have to make it so attractive to bury garbage in Seminole County," Commissioner Dan Pelham declared yesterday afternoon as he pushed a proposal to charge householders from 15 cents to 25 cents per cubic yard.

The district 5 commissioner insisted it was necessary to put money aside for future expansion of the program.

Pelham had earlier opposed imposition of a use fee on householders.

County Sanitarian Val Robbins was told to take his budget for the arthropod program and recompute it in light of the new charges.

The sanitarian had originally requested $128,756 in funds to operate the dumps in the new fiscal year under a different program. The program recommended by Robbins called for the four dumps to become pickup stations with another pickup station at the road department. Garbage would then be hauled by the county to a central landfill area at Ocala Airfield. The Commission decided not to implement the recommended program until 1971.

Robbins, in a report to the board yesterday, said local funds necessary to keep the four dumps open seven days per week with an attendant on hand to collect the charge from individual householders would be $86,000. If it were not necessary to have a person qualified to accept moneys on hand the cost would drop to $63,999, Robbins said.

He also noted a rise in commercial fees to 30 cents would fund the operations with no tax money necessary. The increase in commercial rates to 20 cents would cost the garbage collectors approximately 25 cents per household per month and would not justify an increase in commercial rates to homeowners, it was stated.

In the meantime, Commissioner Greg Drummond invited the board to view his district and the garbage and trash dumped along the sides of the roads near the Seminole pit since it has been closed on Sundays.

"The Seminole pit must be opened on Sundays before Oct. 1," he insisted.

Only one to oppose the charge to householders and large increase to the garbage collectors was Commission Chairman John Alexander who stated the money were not needed to operate the program this year. "At this time, I cannot support a 50 cent charge on these individuals."

Alexander proposed an increase to commercial users 20 cents only, but was voted down four-to-one.

Some $15,000 of the rising revenues from the landfill is to be set aside for future expansion or needs of the program.

Zoo Relocation Budget Urged Merchants Push Beauty

By BILL SCOTT

Sanford Downtown Merchants Association is not giving up on having palm trees planted down town on First Street despite the action of the City Commission in a Monday night amendment of an earlier approval of the merchants' beautification plan.

The association at this morning's breakfast session voted to continue pressing for the palm trees and medians that were removed from the beautification plan by the commission in a Monday night's action.

Latest plans for getting the trees put back involve an effort by the merchants to petition downtown property owners asking them to state their objections, so all downtowners affected by the medians will have an opportunity to voice their feelings.

Led by Commissioner J. H. Clumpp, the commission took the trees and medians out of the city's beauty plan after having approved them. Reasons for the removal were safety and better movement of traffic, Clumpp said.

Alex Serraes, merchants president, said, "There is no question about it, the city is no longer the nation's celebrity capital and a father's town or grandfather's town."

He said the merchants will have to "work with city officials to get what we want and we voice this stand, it will hurt us."

He added, "If Mr. Crapps understands that merchants do not oppose the idea, perhaps he would go along with it."

On the subject of the Sanford zoo, Serraes read a letter from

Hunger Program Cost Set

Funding of a food stamp program to help feed Seminole County hungry would be at least $29,000 in addition to matching funds, County Commissioner Greg Drummond estimated before the Board of County Commissioners Tuesday.

Drummond revealed the figures following a study of the new planned program in Orange County.

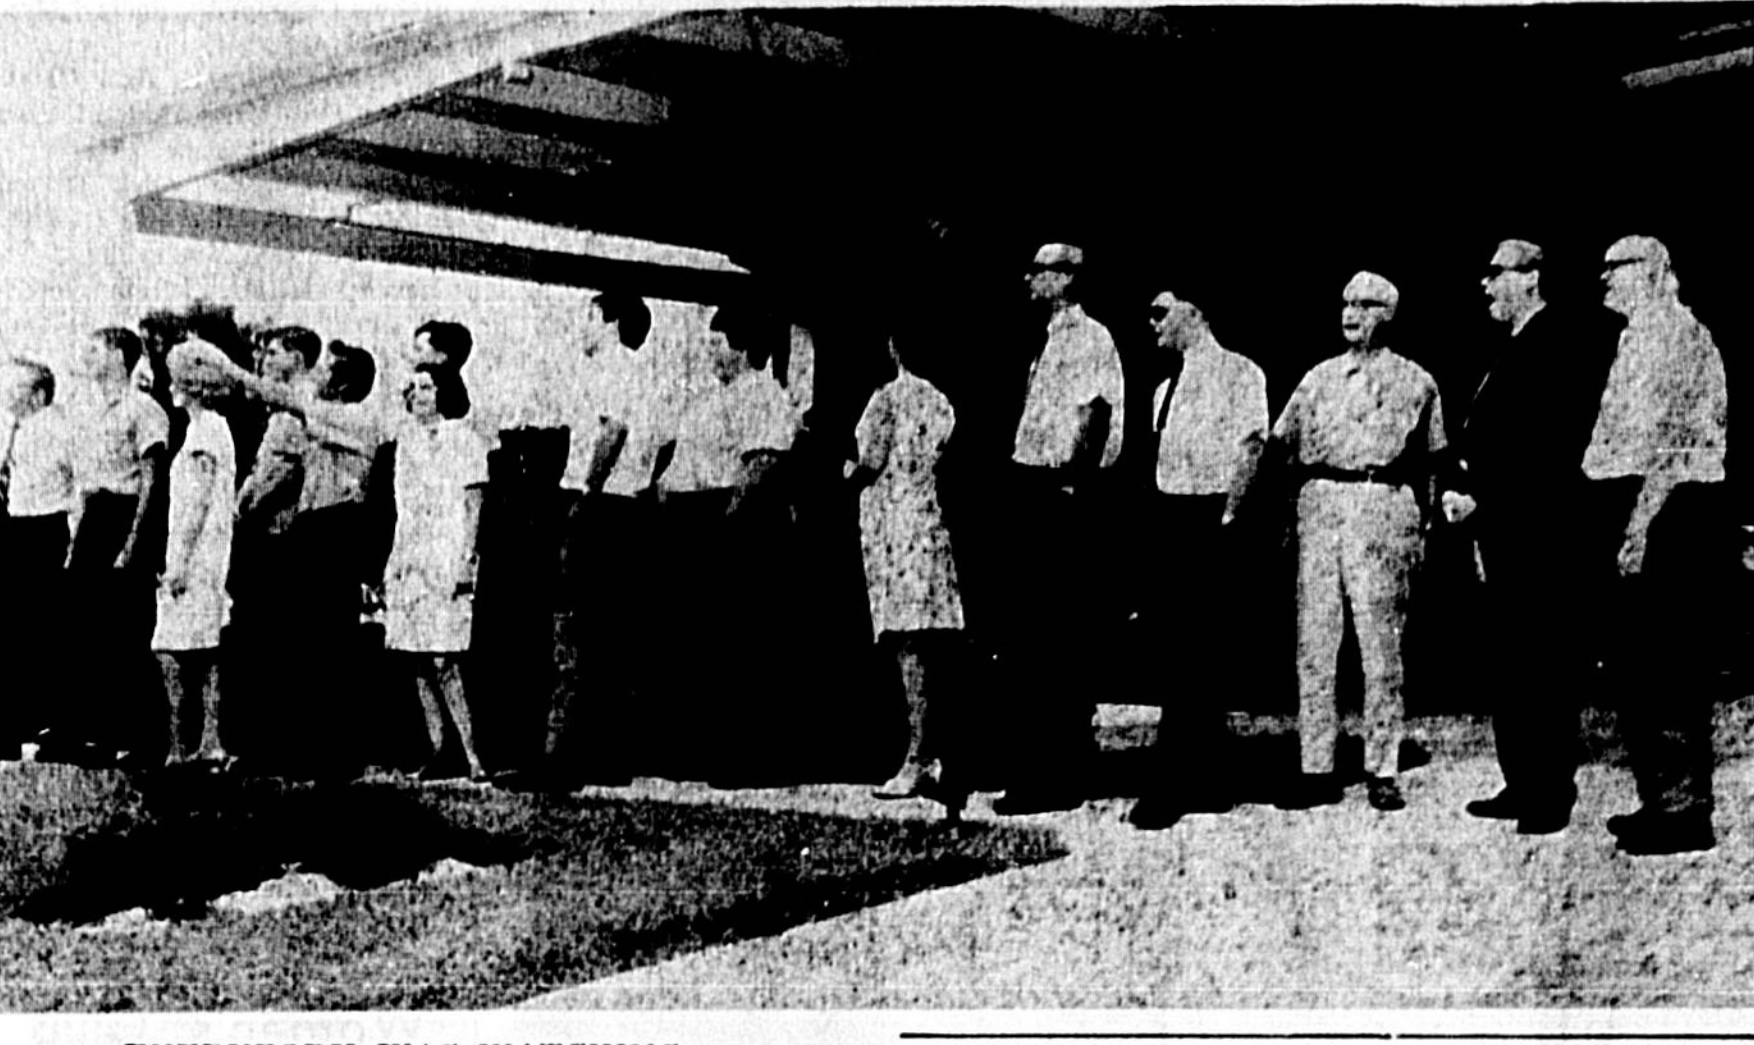

Firm figures for a proposed budget item in fiscal 1969-70 are being sought by the County Commission for consideration.

Mrs. Abby Boyd, director of the county welfare department, told the Commission that difficulty in obtaining cost estimates from the fact that number of users who would take advantage is an unknown factor. Under the program, not only persons on public assistance but also the non-public assistance case load would have to be served.

Pelham's funds in addition to local allocation would be forthcoming. Recipients would have to pay approximately half the cost of the stamps purchased with the program paying the remainder.

Although Clerk Ashley Jones stated that the state has no figures to give the county a reasonably accurate estimate of families to be served, the board ordered him to seek such information from the state.

"Mrs. Boyd 'goatsmatted' some 2,200 families would seek the aid.

'Phone Facilities At Airport Sold

Telephone facilities at Sanford Airport were sold yesterday to the Southern Bell Telephone Company for $18,376.10.

Don Rathel, SIC executive director, told the afternoon meeting of the commission, held at the Sanford airport, that the amount was a good price for the existing equipment at the facility and was backed up in his summary by Florida Power and Light Sanitary Manager Scott Burns, a commissioner on the Industrial Board.

Page Aircraft's lease was accepted by the SIC on Building Four, the main hangar at the airport. Page will be the base craft operator for the Sanford complex. Page will pay $1,000 per month for use of the building or 35 cents per square foot. Next year, Page will pay 50 cents per square foot to maintain the lease.

Rev. Larry D. Soper Jr. was the officiating clergyman at the candlelight, double ring ceremony before the altar which held two silver vases of white Quillen daisies and white stock in a background setting of potted palms and two seven-branched candelabra entwined with fern. White satin ribbons and Magnolia foliage identified the family party.

Refunding Proves Profitable, Fun For Lady Of The House

By FRANCES CALABRIA. "Friendly neighbors" for other homemakers who have discovered gold in those labels. The paper, in bulletins, offers you a circulation of 2,000 throughout the United States.

So, don't ever empty the trash unless you've stripped said it. Refunding, let's face it, is fun. It's fun to try new products. That's how my husband got hooked on frozen chicken-and-dumplings buffets.

It was a hobby she found so lucrative herself that she turned it into a business venture. She offers directing. Just send the items back to the manufacturer and special coupon for a 30 cent refund.

"That," emphasized Mrs. Biondo, "is the simple magic of refunding and the simple secret of beating the high cost of dining."

When she first began, Mrs. Biondo said, it was a way to get a quarter back.

"But within the past year my funds started getting bigger and better. Many of today's supermarket refund finds are for $1, $1.50, $2 or even more. For as little as four soup box tops you can receive a 24-piece set of stainless steel cutlery, for example," she said.

Last year, instead of discarding wrappers, labels and box tops, Mrs. Biondo forwarded the items back to the manufacturer in exchange for cameras, steak knives, thermal baby blankets, transistor radios, electric mixers and tricycles in addition to cash. The largest cash offer was $25 worth of soap for a year with $2 and $3 grocery tape reimbursements trailing behind.

Mrs. Biondo's paper is a job in itself. She even has a secretary.

As editor and publisher she also runs her own contests, conducts a "trading post" for homemakers wanting to exchange labels, lists prizes to be obtained and answers questions. And what does the new subscriber get? Trading stamps, of course.

Mrs. Biondo's hints for new refunders who would like to collect a week's grocery money back per month include:

1. Print your name and address clearly. You can read your own name and address when you write it, but can others?
2. Be sure to send exactly what is asked for. Some companies ask for box bottoms or front labels.
3. Save your box tops and labels for future offers.
4. Develop a simple system to make it easy for yourself. Set one night aside each week. Keep a container in the kitchen where you save labels, forms, envelopes and stamps. Then when you start refunding, everything will be together and not scattered throughout the house.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I recently moved into a very nice bedroom apartment which we furnish ourselves.

Last evening some neighbors we hardly know stopped by for a drink, and the woman says, "You said you were going away on a two-week vacation in September, so would you mind if we used your apartment for some friends who will be visiting us at that time?"

Before I could even open my mouth, my husband said YES (after two martinis). I could have brained him.

After they left I told my husband I didn't want strangers using our apartment, and I didn't feel I needed neighbors of that kind.

My husband says he thinks I'm right, and now he's sorry he said yes. He has the guts to tell them our minds. Well, I haven't got the guts to tell them either, but I don't want to turn my apartment over to strangers, so what do you suggest?

DEAR STUCK: People without "guts" are frequently stuck. Your husband should tell your neighbors you've reconsidered. But if you must, the alternative is to let them come and take the job of the neighbor.

DEAR ABBY: For the past year I have had a very good cleaning woman once a week. Recently she mentioned to me that one family

Horoscope Forecast

THURSDAY, JULY 17, 1969

GENERAL TENDENCIES
A day to use care that you do not break any promises you have made. Do not be harsh on others, who do not have your advanced knowledge and are unable to carry their plans through. The evening is fine for making a new start on gaining those longtime plans that mean so much to you. Be precise.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19)
You do not know whether to complete what has been started or begin some new project. If you plan your time well, you can do both. Find the right co-workers to assist you. Be productive.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20)
—You want to go to some scandalous affair. Be open to you, but a partner expects you to handle some matter in a precise way. Plan your time well. Think twice before you go to pleasure. Be wise.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)
—A family tie and a business partner could argue and expect you to take sides, but remain neutral and all works out fine. Be tactful where that situation arises that could split your security. Do whatever pleases him tonight.

MOON CHILDREN (June to July 21)
—Think twice before you leave some important work behind to go out for pleasure or you could lose out where it counts the most. Take time to improve health. Evening is fine for being with friends.

DEAR ABBY: (July 22 to Aug. 21)
If you budget carefully, you can go out for the kind of recreation you like. Analyze your assets more carefully. Some judgment is in financing the good will of one who is a financial wizard. Be clever.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)
—Try not to be so possessive with a family tie. Contact those who are truly interested in your welfare. Get much improved in all spheres of your endeavor. Recreation you like is possible in afternoon.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)
—You can handle those business matters in the outside world easily, but do not neglect confidential matters as well. Be careful in motion and keep out of trouble. Evening can be romantically happy.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)
—Anything you want to do that brings up in contact with some friends is fine, but be careful you do not spend too much money. Become interested in social matters. This can lead to wonderful things.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)
—Get busy with personal aims instead of trying to have an altercation with big-wigs, which would go very badly for you. Evening is best spent making plans to further career, once self-improvement matters are well handled.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
—Put aside those limiting personal conditions and become interested in new outlets, fascinating personalities. Gather the information that is needed for greater progress. Stop working so many angles and all is better with you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
—You can handle responsibilities in a most efficient way now. Avoid those who try to get you into wrong channels. See what it is that associates expect of you. Follow through enthusiastically.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)
—Although the situation may be tense, a partner has the right answers so don't try to avoid it. Support that associate. Avoid a petty higher-up.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY
—he, or she, will be one of those delightful young people who will be lost in fantasy one time and then be over-concerned with the smallest detail. Teach early to listen to what others are saying instead of thinking others are slighting him. There is much sensitivity here. The parents have to inculcate the right philosophy of life early for your progeny to make a big success of life. An ideal chart for the actor, the artist, or the teacher.

—The Stars Impel, they do not compel. What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Jacoby On Bridge

There must be many more unlucky bridge players than lucky ones. At least, our experience has been that, for every person who connects that he is lucky, we find 10 who complain about mistreatment by the gods of chance.

We sympathize with their partners.

South wanted to go to three trumps after his partner raised him to two but he couldn't count more than the have 16 points he needed for his no-trump opening.

When he looked over dummy, he was glad he had bid correctly. He counted one trick. All he needed to get to eight was to set up dummy's diamond suit. He won the heart lead in his hand and went right after the diamonds.

Diagrams didn't break 3-3 as he had expected but South was held by West. This was held by West. This was held by West. This was held by West.

Polly's Pointers

DEAR POLLY — We had the same problem with silver fish as Beatrice. Sprinkle plastic borax in corners, under short paper, on the floor under built-in drawers (as in kitchen and bathroom) sprinkle borax under the edges of rug. After the silver fish have disappeared it can be vacuumed away. This was most successful for me. — ELIZABETH

DEAR READERS — Some professionals feel this treatment is more of a repellent than a cure. Another powder than can be sprinkled around the house to eliminate these pests who thrive in warm, damp places and who love books, paper and starched fabrics is sodium fluoride. Do remember that it is poisonous and would not be recommended where there were children and pets who might get it. — POLLY

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY — I have several pretty stones that were picked up on the beach and would like to use them as paper weights, door stops, etc. Do you know how fairly large beach stones can be ground and polished with home equipment? — JEAN

DEAR POLLY — When putting pennies in a wrapper the seal on the back insert a round-headed clothespin in one end. Start pennies in the other end and draw the pin back as you put more pennies in the wrapper. Seal end with tape, remove clothespin and the remaining pennies will be very easily. — MRS. E. M. H.

DEAR POLLY — Mrs. B. V. K. wanted to know how to protect the white wool embroidery on her wall hanging. The best protection, of course, is to put it under glass-protecting glass which is a bit more expensive than ordinary glass. If left uncovered, the more beautiful way to display this work is to water-repellent spray such as directed for a similar type of fabric. This would greatly reduce the penetration of dust and simplify dusting with a very soft brush. These sprays come in pressurized cans under various trade names. — MRS. C. H. M.

and led a second heart. South led another diamond to set up the last one in dummy. East won and led a spade to West. West cleared the heart and, although South did cash one extra diamond trick, that still left him one short of his contract.

South complained about bad luck. Suits never broke for him.

He was right that diamonds had never broken, but his partner's fault this time but he had no right to blame luck for losing his contract. When East won the third diamond and led a second heart, South should have abandoned the diamond suit and tried to double finesse in clubs. Unless both club honors were held by West, this would give South three club tricks and his contract.

Beauty after Forty

"I am very slender and have never had to diet. But — I have a huge bosom, never had to wear a bra. Now my bosom sags and I look a sight. Can I firm my bosom and how? I am fifty." N. N.

Little possibility, but a properly fitted bra will do wonders to control the bosom and when properly controlled it will look like a "bust" in a corset. Be careful in choosing dresses, the bodice needs careful fitting. Do not have any front ornamentation and do not wear styles with buttons down the front. Long beads and/or chains will add a slimming effect.

Most of my women friends are worried about the coming Menopause for us. We all have good jobs and wish to continue our careers for some time. We are able to do that. — C. W.

Be modern and visit your doctor. He can alley your fears and when you need him he can do so much to guide you through, but why worry about it? Of course, you can continue your careers. If you want some information about the Menopause write to me, ask for a copy of "Menopause" which I have enclosed a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and ten cents in coin return envelope and to put a stamp on it.

"Is August too late or too early to wear a black velvet hat with a black organza and lace dress for a dinner?"

Mrs. J. J. is exactly the right age to be conscious of her fashion and after the bright colors of summer, black velvet and black dresses look so smart. Tomorrow: "She Knitted a Career."

Aimed At Lowering Prices

U. S. Sues Drug Firms

By WILLIAM BARTON, Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, trying to lower spiraling drug prices through vigorous antitrust enforcement, has charged seven major drug firms with using a fraudulent patent to monopolize sales of a leading antibiotic. The government, in a three-count civil suit, also demanded at least $25 million in damages — probably much more — from two of the companies, Charles Pfizer & Co. Inc. and American Cyanamid Co.

Foes Of Safeguard Turn To New Tack

By WALTER R. MEARS, Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., which argues that the United States has MIRV tests so long as the Soviet Union does the same. Brooke has enlisted 40 cosponsors for his MIRV resolution, thus bringing it within 10 votes of a Senate majority. His aides say private pledges of support from other senators put the bill past a majority.

Senators Differ On Surtax

By JOE HALL, Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Russell B. Long has indicated he will not go along with a Republican move to force the surtax extension bill out of the Senate Finance Committee Thursday. Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, a Finance Committee member, told newsmen he was hopeful the panel would send the embattled legislation to the Senate floor for debate at Thursday's session.

The action marked the second time in a week Justice Department antitrust enforcers moved against drug patents in a concerted drive for more competition in the industry. In Tuesday's suit, filed in federal court here, Pfizer was accused of obtaining a fraudulent patent in 1955 on the drug tetracycline, the nation's largest-selling broad spectrum antibiotic. Broad spectrum antibiotics are popularly known as "wonder drugs" for their ability to counteract and cure a broad range of illnesses and diseases. The department claimed Pfizer got the tetracycline patent by withholding information and making "false and misleading statements" to the U.S. patent office. In doing so, the suit alleged, Pfizer gained support from Cyanamid, holder of a patent to Aureomycin, the first wonder drug marketed in this country. The government said Cyanamid made deceptive statements to back Pfizer's patent claim in exchange for a licensing arrangement that allowed the two firms to maintain holds on antibiotic sales. In addition to Pfizer and Cyanamid, five other leading drug producers — Bristol-Myers, Co., Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp., Squibb, Beech-Nut Inc., E. H. Squibb & Sons Inc. and the Lipjohn Co. — were charged with conspiracy to monopolize the tetracycline trade. That count stemmed, the government said, from licensing agreements under which Pfizer, Cyanamid and Bristol-Myers would manufacture the drug and all seven firms could sell it in dosage form. The complaint also asked the court to cancel the Pfizer patent and prohibited the firm from collecting royalties on tetracycline. An antitrust task force appointed by former President Lyndon B. Johnson recommended last year the government attack drug prices by challenging patent abuses.

Nectarines Add Fillip To Veal

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

DINNER FOR FOUR

Fresh nectarines give a fillip to delicate tasting veal.
Veal Nectarine Potatoes
Green Peas Salad Bowl
Chocolate Roll Beverage

VEAL NECTARINE

1/2 to 1 pound boneless veal—from top cut in for scalop-pine

1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon Italian herb seasoning

1 large egg
Fine dry bread crumbs
Salad oil

1/2 cup sliced fresh nectarines
1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind
1/2 teaspoon cardamom or ginger

1 cup hot chicken bouillon
1/2 cup white dimer wine or orange juice

1/2 teaspoon sugar
2 teaspoons cornstarch mixed until smooth with 1 tablespoon cold water

Have veal pounded very thin.
Add salt, pepper and herb seasoning to egg and beat lightly.
Dip veal in egg, then in crumbs.
In a large skillet quickly cook veal in hot oil. Remove veal and keep warm in a low oven. To clean skillet and butter, nectarines, orange rind, cardamom, bouillon, wine and sugar. Simmer about 10 minutes. Stir in cornstarch mixture and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened and clear. Spoon over veal.
Makes four servings.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Charles, a pious churchgoer, had an odd habit. He would put such enthusiasm into his singing that, at the end of a hymn, his voice would linger on after everyone else had fallen silent.

This habit became so irri-some to certain members of the congregation that they finally had Charles arrested on a charge of "disturbing a religious meeting."

But the court dismissed the charge. The judge said he had no right to interfere with Charles' method of worshipping
God.

The case illustrates the rule that, whenever possible in religious matters, the courts will keep hands off. This applies not only to the method of worship but also to matters of religious doctrine. Thus:

A woman hailed a priest into court, complaining that he had refused to administer communion to her. But here too the court declined to take any action. The judge said:

"Her religious rights as a communicant are not enforceable in the civil courts."

Nevertheless, there are times when the law must and will step in. A church is not altogether "off limits." Crime is no less a crime merely because it takes place inside a church building.

For example, a court held it a punishable offense for a man to deliberately—and noisily—crack pecan nuts during a service. Even a minister was found guilty of public indecency for using profane language in the course of his sermon.

Furthermore, the law will take a hand if there is merely a question of property rights to be settled.

Suppose a church organization splits into two warring factions, each of which claims ownership of church property.
A court will ordinarily take the responsibility of deciding which faction is right, so long as it can do so without getting involved in doctrinal issues.

"Much as such dissensions
among the members of a religious society should be regretted," said the United States Supreme Court, "the courts when called upon must perform their functions as in other cases."

Meat Loaf Good For Few Meals

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
THE BRIDE COOKS DINNER
Use this meat loaf for a few meals.

Two-way Meat Loaf Potatoes
Green Beans Salad
Fruit Sherbet

TWO-WAY MEAT LOAF
1 1/2 tablespoons butter
1/4 cup frozen chopped onion
1 pound ground lean beef
1/4 cup tomato sauce—from an 8-ounce can
1/2 cup bread crumbs
1 egg
1 small clove garlic, crushed
1/4 to 1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon dry mustard

In a small skillet melt the butter. Then add onion and cook gently until softened. Mix onion and butter with remaining ingredients, blending well. Run a small loaf pan—7 1/2 by 2 1/2 inches—in cold water and pack meat mixture into it. Turn out onto a shallow pan—11 by 7 by 1 1/2 inches—if you haven't a small loaf pan shape loaf close to that size in a shallow pan. Bake in a preheated 400-degree oven until brown and crusty—about 40 minutes. Serve half the loaf hot, the other half cold. Loaf cuts well either way.

SATURDAY SUPPER

Cold Sliced Beef
Potato Puff Asparagus
Jellied Beet Salad
Apricot Tart Beverage
JELLIED BEET SALAD
FRANCES
1 can—8 1/2 ounces—sliced beets
1 package—7 1/2 ounces—lemon-flavor gelatin
1/4 cup red wine vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
4 teaspoons well drained horseradish
Salad greens
Sour cream, if desired

Turn beets into a strainer set over a one-pint measure and drain thoroughly. To the beet liquid add enough water to make two cups and bring to a boil. Then pour over gelatin and stir to dissolve. Stir in vinegar, salt and horseradish. Chop drained beets fine and add. Turn into a three-cup ring mold. Chill until set.

Unmold and there will be a thin layer of horseradish at top of unmolded salad. Garnish with salad greens and serve with sour cream at a dressing. If used, hot-style horseradish may be used for a tangy salad.

Prepay May Be Invested

By CARLTON SMITH and RICHARD PITMAN SMITH
Reader George W. asks for a "brass tacks" answer to a question that comes up in most families: Should we use surplus funds to make extra payments on the mortgage loan?

The answer, ultimately, depends on what alternative you'd make of the surplus funds. But first, the brass tacks. We asked a banker friend to run the figures. In through those machines that whir and click in the basement, and here's the result: George W. has been making payments for three years on his mortgage—a $20,000 loan at 7 per cent, with a 25-year term. The balance now is around $18,014. He has an extra $1,000 from a commission bonus. Should he apply it to the mortgage? If he does, the loan will be paid off two-and-a-half years earlier than the scheduled term of 25 years. Total interest costs would be $4,240 less. In effect, by putting the $1,000 "on deposit" now, they get back $4,240 in 2 1/2 years. Sounds good—but it has to be compared to using the $1,000 in other ways. If, instead of putting it "on deposit" in the mortgage account, the Ws put it in their own savings account, paying 5 per cent compounded quarterly (just today's top saving rate, but just under it), they would have $3,073 in the account. So they're ahead by $1,138 if they apply their surplus to the mortgage. So far.

The Ws also have to take savings into account. As things stand, mortgage interest is added during the next 12 months would give them an income tax deduction of $1,319. If they pay off $1,000 of the mortgage in the next 2 1/2 years, they'll have a deduction that's smaller by $73. In the Ws' tax bracket, this means they'll pay $14 more tax.

In each of the next 2 1/2 years there will be a smaller deduction, and a large tax payment. It's impossible to say what the tax savings would add up to—our crystal ball doesn't tell us what's going to happen to tax rates, and the Ws' tax bracket in the next 2 1/2 years. But if they took the $16 of tax savings in the coming year, and put that in their savings account too, it would grow to $49.18 in 2 1/2 years.

It's entirely possible that the tax savings, if also put to work earning money, would make up the $1,138 advantage that paying off the mortgage seemed to give them.

Actually, it's that "if" about what they can earn with their money that determines the answer to George W.'s question. We've only talked about getting the $1,000 in a savings account. If George knows of places where he can put $1,000 to return of 8 or 10 per cent a year, or maybe even 15, then what they should do with their $1,000 is obvious.

Because of their tax savings, the 7 per cent mortgage money that's been loaned to them has an effective rate—to them—of about 6 1/2 per cent. If they can make more than 6 1/2 per cent as investors, they'd better invest.

Finally, there's the inflation angle. Will they be using "cheap money" to make that monthly payment 10 years from now? Again, unfortunately, our crystal ball doesn't tell us. But if we had to make a bet, we'd bet on inflation.

Surely we ran out of brass tacks, George, but that's how it always is with this question.

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP)—Television broadcasts of man's activity on the moon will be transmitted from the Apollo 11 lunar module, using an umbrella-like antenna placed on the moon's surface.

The signals will be beamed to the radio telescope at the National Radio Astronomy Observatory, Parkes, Australia, for relay via Intelsat 8 Pacific satellite to Houston.

Television transmissions from the command module will be in color, from the lunar module in black and white.
