

But Lake Mary Rejects Facility 'We Won,' Says Track Developer

MARC ROBINSON
Track developer

By DIANE PETHYK
Herald Staff Writer

Though Lake Mary voters rejected a proposed horse track 24 to 26, the track's promoter said this morning he may go ahead with the project as planned.

Before the race track question was put on the ballot, developer Marc J. Robinson promised to abide by the results of such a ballot. He didn't vote, he said, but he would interpret the results.

"We think we've won," Robinson said. "There are 142 registered voters in Lake Mary. Only 57 had voted. That's 39 percent of the total voting population. It means 61 percent are in favor of the track."

Robinson said only the people against something turn out to vote. Those who didn't vote, he said, are either for the track or don't care.

"I have to break this to him, but it doesn't matter what they think," said Lake Mary Mayor Walter Sorenson.

Sorenson said he is sure the city council will consider the vote a mandate to oppose the track.

"He definitely will put that thing out there over our dead bodies," Sorenson said. "Well, maybe not dead, but greatly muted."

The 574 to 238 vote rejected Robinson's proposal to build a horse racing track at Lake Emma Road and Interstate 4 in Lake Mary.

Another ballot question asked Lake Mary voters if they favored a horse track anywhere in Lake Mary. Voters rejected the idea 665 to 204.

According to the Lake Mary City Hall, a total of 856 voters turned out at the polls or by absentee ballot. Forty-six voters did not address the specific horse track proposal. Forty-seven did not vote on the general question.

"It's very clear to me the vast majority of people in this city don't want that thing here," Sorenson said.

Robinson said the people are for the track and city officials "used every dirty trick in the book" to encourage people to vote against it.

"There isn't a single person against it that didn't vote," he said. "I don't think the people for it voted."

Robinson said a track at Lake Emma Road and Interstate 4 is still a possibility.

"I have a $1 million piece of land. What I'm going to do with it if we don't build the track?" he said.

Robinson added he expects to make a decision on the matter sometime this week. He did not rule out the selection of another location.

"If he moves a shovel full of dirt we'll have an injunction on him before he can move a second shovel," Sorenson said.

Robinson's proposed track raised the ire of area residents in March, when Robinson announced plans for the track without first contacting city or county officials.

Robinson told city officials under a new law passed during the 1980 session of the Legislature he did not have to follow local zoning and building rules.

He said the new law specifically exempted capital improvement projects at pari-mutuel wagering facilities from local laws on zoning and building.

Lake Mary officials disagreed with Robinson and filed a suit in court seeking an injunction against the entrepreneur. At the same time, other cities in the county as the county commission joined Lake Mary in protesting the "assumption" of home rule.

One of the protests was lodged with the state. Parimutuel Wagering Commission, from which Robinson was seeking approval of quarter horse racing dates. Gary Rallegue, chairman of the commission, pledged he would not consider issuing the permit until a public hearing was held in Lake Mary.

Moore Keeps Mayor's Post Sanfordites Pick Yancey, Keith; McClanahan, Smith Face Runoff

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

Sanford voters Tuesday re-elected their mayor to another four year term and re-elected an incumbent city commissioner. At the same time they elected a long-time promoter of the city to the city commission and called for a runoff to determine the winner in a fourth race.

With a voter turnout of 20.1 percent, Lee Moore, who has served 12 years on the city commission, 11 of those years as mayor, won re-election by a landslide. He defeated his opponent, City Commissioner Julian Stenstrom, by a 24-1 margin.

Moore received 1,731 votes to 76 for Stenstrom.

In the Seat 2 race between incumbent first term City Commissioner Eddie Keith and political newcomer, Ernie "Bo" Speir, Keith was winner by almost 3-1. Keith received 1,717 votes to 640 for Speir.

For the Seat 1 city commission office vacated by Stenstrom, Edward A. "Red" Yancey, an active Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce member, defeated local businessman Larry D. Blair. The final total was 1,355 for Yancey and 1,049 for Blair.

A runoff is to be held on Dec. 16 to determine the winner of the Seat 4 post on the city commission between former commissioner A. A. "Mac" McClanahan and Milton Smith. McClanahan received 948 votes to 78 for Smith. The third man in the contest, Clyde H. "Hobbie" Robertson, received 724 votes.

Those who voted for him Tuesday will continue their support in the waning days of a county commission seat. Morris was defeated in that effort. The winner will serve the remaining two years in Morris' term.

Terms of office for the other winners are four years.

Both McClanahan and Smith were planning to meet with Robertson today. Smith said Tuesday night, after the election returns were announced, that he will be talking to "Hobbie," seeking his assistance in the upcoming runoff dates.

McClanahan said he can get "Smith" said, adding he is going to be working harder in the next two weeks and hopes those who voted for him Tuesday will continue their support in the waning days of a county commission seat.

McClanahan said, "I'll be working for the remaining two years in Morris' term."

Sorenson Wins Again Lake Mary Voters Select Fess, King For Seats On City Council

By DIANE PETHYK
Herald Staff Writer

Lake Mary voters Tuesday returned their three term mayor to another two years in office and elected two new faces to the city council.

Walter A. Sorenson, Lake Mary mayor for the past six years, was elected to another term, garnering more votes than his two opponents combined.

Final results gave the 38-year old former-councilman 537 votes to 127 for Errol Greene and 134 for former-councilman Harry Ferry.

In the race for the Seat 2 on the city council, Richard Fess, general manager of Robinson's Department Store in the Alamo Mall, defeated incumbent Councilman Francis Mark. Fess received 505 votes to Mark's 108.

Also celebrating the victory with Sorenson was his son, Chris, a fifth grader at Lake Mary Elementary School. Chris often attends public meetings with his father.

"I helped in the campaign," Chris said. "I licked stamps and folded letters."

Meanwhile, Fess and King celebrated their victories with a few close friends at the "Pub," a gathering place in the city.

Mark, Fess' opponent, was the only city councilman to support the horse-track proposal.

Lake Mary had the largest voter turnout of the four Seminole County cities with elections Tuesday. A 60 percent turnout was seen. The city has 1,442 qualified voters and 856 cast ballots in the election.

Mrs. Majie had predicted the 60 percent turnout early pointing to the straw ballot reread questions as generating interest among the voters. — DONNA ESTES

Mayor Lee P. Moore of Sanford spent election night at home as he has during five previous elections. His wife, Ann, shares his victory.

Walter Sorenson receives the news that he has been re-elected to a fourth term as Lake Mary's mayor.

Sanford Votes Down District Elections

By DAVID M. HAZLER
Herald Staff Writer

The results of a four-part straw ballot on reshaping Sanford's city commission shows city residents who voted do not want to change the current five-seat commission in which all members are elected at large.

The four referendums asked for a yes-no vote on four questions.

The first, placed on the front of the ballot, asked voters whether they wanted to continue the current system.

The second, third and fourth questions, located on the back of the punch card ballot, asked residents if they were in favor of imposing residence requirements on each seat, whether the commissioners should be elected from districts by district residents only; and whether the commission should have both at-large and district-elected representatives.

The vote to keep things the way they are passed 127-85.

The district vote referendum failed 68-119.

The combination at-large-district vote failed 63-114.

While 481 Sanford residents cast their vote for the two mayoral candidates, only 2,033 voted for the first resolution.

Less than 1,850 people voted for each of the resolutions on the back of the ballot offering alternatives.

A group of black civic leaders requested the commission to place a question on the ballot to provide districting in the city. Their request was that at least two of the city commission members should reside in a given district and be elected by the voters in that geographic area.

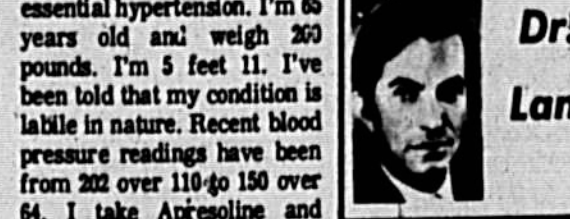

After several discussions the city commission agreed to place four advisory questions on the ballot, one of which concerned continuing the present at-large election of city commissioners. The other three questions gave other forms including districting.

Rev. Amos Jones, executive director of Seminole Community Action, which led the citizens group, said their request for districting was to provide more equal representation on the commission for all segments of the community.

Sandra Gaines, a member of the Community Action staff and a member of the citizens group, said today she prefers not commenting on the group's planned action. She would only say she was pleased with the election results. She indicated, however, the group will be meeting at a future time to decide a course of action, if any.

Blood Pressure Checks Can Vary

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB— I have essential hypertension. I'm 65 years old and weigh 200 pounds. I'm 5 feet 11. I've been told that my condition is labile in nature. Recent blood pressure readings have been from 200 over 110 to 180 over 64. I take Aproxolol and Hydrochlorothiazide. Also Motrin for my arthritis and a zinc tablet each day.

What bothers me is the wide spread between my systolic and diastolic readings. Frequently the spread is 100 points or more. Would you also comment on my medications?

The labile nature of your blood pressure may be associated with increased pumping action of your heart. In view of your history and the two pressure readings you've included in your letter, I would think that you probably have some loss of elasticity of your aorta which would be normal in your age group.

The wide nature of your blood pressure may be associated with increased pumping action of your heart. It's a little difficult to judge since you're already on medicine.

It is true that you have a tendency to have an overactive heart part of the time, you might do well on propranolol (Inderal). Many times doctors have to try different combinations of medicines to find out what works best for each individual patient.

One reason for the systolic pressure to be high is because the heart is pumping out a lot of blood each time it contracts. You can see this in the healthy young athlete who is working vigorously.

A second reason for a rise in the systolic pressure is the loss of the elasticity of the aorta, the large artery that comes directly from your heart. In a young person this large artery is very elastic and as blood is squirted out from the heart into the arteries it merely stretches. That keeps the pressure from going too high.

As people get older the artery hardens and loses its elasticity. The more this occurs the more likely it is that the systolic blood pressure will rise. This can occur even though the low reading (diastolic) might be normal. There are other reasons for a high systolic pressure and a normal or a low diastolic pressure. These are usually related to a defect in the valve at the outlet of the heart.

You can influence your blood pressure a great deal by the way you live. If you have excess fat, and I suspect you do at your body weight, you'd be very wise to get rid of it.

Other aspects of your life style that influence your blood pressure are also discussed in The Health Letter. I'm sending you a copy.

WIN AT BRIDGE

With 13 high-card points and a rather good live-card heart suit, one nortrup, two hearts and two spades are a handsome take while a forcing jump to two nortrup is a trifle too strong.

The hand is no problem at all to the expert as he plays the second-round jump to two nortrup as his best invitation, but not absolutely forcing, before the third round.

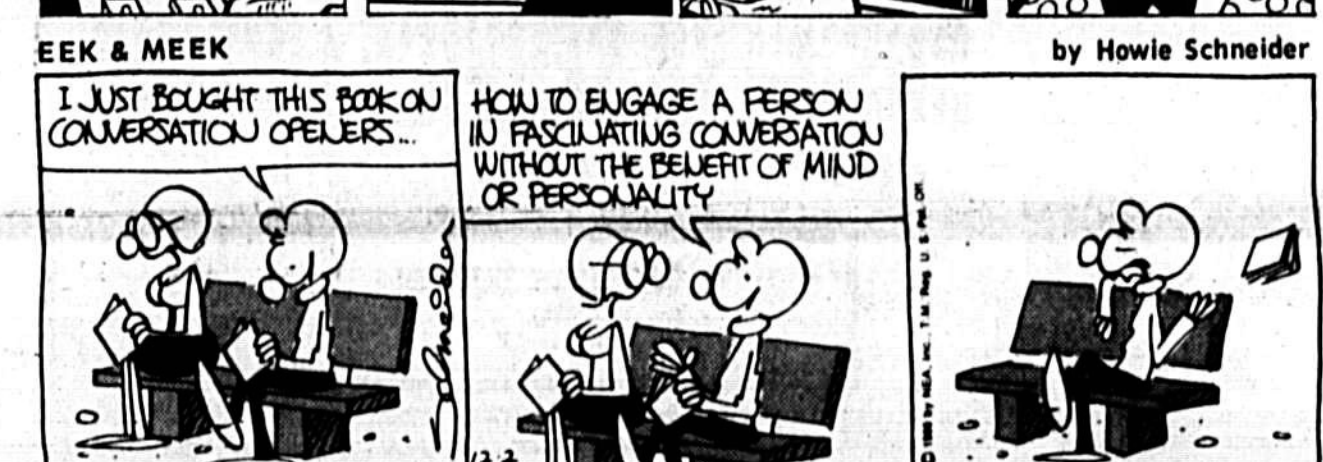

North has a trifle over a minimum and goes to game. South sees plenty of trouble at his game contract. His king of diamonds takes East's 10 at trick one and he decides to go after spades.

West takes his ace of spades and leads a low diamond. South must make the right decision here and rise with dummy's queen.

Now he has enough top tricks for two spades and finally comes down to cash play. He leads the 10 from dummy. East ducks, but South has no guess at this point. West dealt and passed and has shown two aces. He will not hold the heart ace as well, so South hops up with his king and makes his optimistic game contract.

South has a tough problem in finding his correct robot (NEWSPAPER EDITOR: PLEASE ASK)

Policeman Arrests Former War Buddy

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Steve Boshard and Luther were Marine Corps buddies and served together in Vietnam, but back home they found themselves on different sides in another war.

Boshard became a narcotics officer and Brock became a junkie. Their latest meeting was over the barrel of a gun.

Brock, 33, surrendered to Boshard and was charged with being responsible for the drug overdose death of his friend, Iris Southall.

"Luther started out as a 'together dude,'" said Boshard, 34, who had contacted Brock and asked him to surrender on his own.

He said they met in line at the Oakland Induction Center 10 years ago, joined up, went to basic training together and shipped out together for Vietnam.

"Luther was one of the few guys to make private first class out of basic," and was "always on top of it," said Boshard.

That is, the officer added, until they met in a Vietnam village called "Dogpatch," after having not seen each other for two years.

"It was the first time I'd ever seen anyone on heroin," Boshard said. "Luther didn't have it together anymore."

Boshard ran into Brock again in 1971 when he stopped him for driving what he thought was a stolen car. It wasn't and Boshard let him go after a brief chat.

Six months later, Boshard saw Brock among a number of other suspects being booked into City Prison after a narcotics arrest.

"Luther had gone to hell," Boshard said. "He was getting involved in armed robberies, dope dealing, you name it. It was the dope. The man had been a together dude and the heroin did him in."

Brock was arrested twice for murder. In one case the charges were dropped but in 1974 he pleaded guilty to manslaughter and was sentenced to four years in prison.

Boshard said he met Brock after he was released and Brock said he started a shipping company in Long Beach and was staying away from drugs.

"I wished him good luck," Boshard said.

However, Brock was recently arrested in another narcotics raid along with Miss Southall, who appeared ill and was sent to a hospital. Brock died of a drug overdose, police said.

Boshard was able to get in touch with Brock in Long Beach and told him over the phone to give himself up.

"Otherwise we were just going to end up looking at each other over a gun," Brock did not surrender, but police eventually tracked him to a residence in San Jose. Two officers entered the front door and Brock went out a secondary window in the back.

Brock landed on his feet and found himself looking at Boshard over the barrel of a gun.

Weinberger, Haig May Be Cabinet Choices

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Ronald Reagan is not ready to reveal his top Cabinet choices, but widespread reports indicate he has pegged Casper Weinberger as secretary of defense and possibly Gen. Alexander Haig as secretary of state.

"The leaks are starting," said Joe Holmes, Reagan's spokesman on the West Coast. "We will not confirm or deny any of the reported choices until we are ready to announce" the selections at the end of the week or early next week.

The New York Daily News quoted Republican sources as saying Reagan has picked Walter Watson, chairman of New York's Citicorp, to be secretary of treasury.

Weinberger, former New secretary and Reagan's longtime trusted ally, has been mentioned in all the speculation as Reagan's choice to head the defense department.

Weinberger, general counsel of the Bechtel Corp. of San Francisco, flew to England Tuesday and will be back in Washington at the end of the week.

Haig, former White House chief of staff and NATO supreme commander, has figured prominently in the speculation as secretary of state.

Reagan's campaign manager, William Casey, also has been widely reported to be the next CIA director, succeeding Adm. Stansfield Turner.

Others who may win spots in the Reagan Cabinet are former Wyoming Sen. Clifford Hansen as secretary of interior; William Brock, chairman of

Florida Man Considered

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — President-elect Ronald Reagan is considering K. R. Teffertiller, head of the University of Florida's Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences, as a candidate for agriculture secretary, it was revealed Tuesday.

"Because of the challenges of the job, it's hard not to be interested," Teffertiller, 50, who also is vice president for agricultural affairs at UF, told reporters. "In many ways, it could be the most important job (in government) in the next 10 years."

Reagan remained in seclusion most of Tuesday, making telephone calls and trying to catch up on his correspondence. He does not have any appointments scheduled for today.

Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, he and wife Nancy were the guests of honor at dinner parties hosted by their close inner-circle friends in California.

Cabinet May Sell Preserve

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — The Cabinet is taking a second look at environmentally endangered land bought over the years to see if the public might not be best served by selling some of it.

Cabinet members agreed Tuesday to consider selling Toxachache State Preserve near Orlando and other tracts if the money can be used to buy property more valuable from an environmental standpoint.

They also opened up the Toxachache — 28,000 acres along the St. Johns River — to limited deer hunting next month, ending a three-year fight between hunters and environmentalists.

Regular Season Gets Underway

Lyman Rises, Seminoles Fall In Opener

Gillis Gears Greyhounds

By HENTON WOOD
Herald Sports Writer

Lyman head coach Tom Lawrence was a little worried going into last week's Rotary Bowl basketball tournament because last year's second team all conference forward Neal Gillis was bothered by a groin injury.

However, Gillis showed no signs of injury Tuesday night in the Greyhounds' regular season home opener against Boone. "Gillis played a heck of a ball game once he got going," Lawrence bragged.

The 6'3" Gillis scored 19 of his game high 23 points in the second half along with grabbing eight rebounds and collecting four steals as Lyman came from behind to trounce the Braves 68-61.

Boone controlled the game early and opened up a 18-12 lead with 33 seconds in the first period on a layup by Ed Kerben. The Braves led until the 26 second mark of the second quarter when guard William Scott scored on a breakaway layup for a 29-27 Greyhound edge. A basket by Brave center Steve Murray eight seconds later allowed Boone to own a one point lead at intermission.

Scott held the Hoonds close through the first 16 minutes by netting 10 of Lyman's 24 points.

But the second half was a different story for the run and gun Greyhounds. Gillis drove down the lane and hit eight foot pullup jumper just 1:14 into the second half giving Lyman a 22-21 advantage. From that point on, the Hoonds were off to the races.

"In the second half we took advantage of our team speed," explained assistant coach Burton Hall. "In the first half we didn't have an outlet, but we made some adjustments at halftime and got everyone in their right positions."

Guard Antonio Lennie hit three consecutive "halo" Mary's giving Lyman a 30-23 lead.

After the third Lennie bonus Brave coach Wayne Rickman looked over at the scorers table griping, "That kid's throwing seven from the rubbers." Actually they were "just" 30 leaders. Lennie picked up his fourth foul but it didn't matter as Gillis and Scott already had the Hoonds on the way to their third win of the season.

A Gillis layup gave Lyman a 12 point (50-42) lead with 6:56 to play. Another unassisted by "The Wheel" (Gillis) helped Lyman to a 42-45 advantage with 2:47 left.

"Although the team scoring doesn't indicate it, this was our best team effort thus far," Lawrence grinned.

Point guard Kevin Zastro, who was tabbed to the Rotary Bowl all-tourney squad, scored just two points but he quarterbacked the Hoond fast break dishing off six assists.

Lennie ended up from the floor for eight points but he set out most of the game in foul trouble.

"It's too bad (Lennie) had four fouls," Lawrence said. "He had his shot down tonight and there's no telling how many he might have scored. He and I talked about his shooting and worked on it in practice Monday. During the tournament he was shooting ballfaced but he got out of that habit."

Gillis was 12-18 from the floor and 1-4 from the foul line to pace Lyman. Scott finished with 19 points.

The Greyhound junior varsity began its season on a good note by edging the Braves 44-39 in overtime.

Lyman Opens Against Grenadiers

'Hound Matmen Look Strong For '80 Campaign

By SAM LOOK
Herald Sports Writer

LINWOOD—Lyman wrestling coach Skip Pletzer knows he has good paper. And when district, regional and state tournament time descends on the Greyhound campus Pletzer hopes his paper will turn into fine parchment.

Team strength-wise, on paper, we've got the overall edge," admitted the Skipper Tuesday before the Hoonds home opener against Colonial tonight. The junior varsity opens the card at 6:30 p.m., followed by the varsity at 8 p.m.

FIRST AND TEN? In what looked like a sprint out option pass from a football game, flying bodies included, Seminole High's Maurice Holloway tries to go up and over Colonial's Dan Leighton with a pass to teammate Richard Gray (10). Tribe turners a steady parade to the charity stripe by Colonial spelled out a 54-41 Grenadier win over the Seminoles Tuesday night.

Charity Aids Colonial Win

By JOE DESANTIS
Herald Sports Editor

Seminole High was a little too big on generosity Tuesday night, and Colonial's Grenadiers gladly accepted a 54-41 prep roundball victory.

Bill Payne's Fighting Tribe matched Zeke Kinard's Grenadiers from the floor with 20 field goals apiece, but mostly turnovers and a steady parade of Grenadiers at the charity stripe combined to spell out a Colonial victory.

The win opened the season on a successful note for Colonial at 1-0 while the Seminoles now stand at 0-2 following Rotary Bowl action.

The difference was graphically illustrated in the first period. Colonial put up no less than 28 charity shots and sank 14 of them. Seminole came to the free throw line just nine times and could only connect on three shots.

"I thought we did a good job on the boards and a decent job of defense," commented Kinney of his season opener. "We're a pretty young team so overall I'm happy with the victory."

Bill Payne took the philosophical approach to the loss. "It's going to take us a while, but we'll get there," Payne said.

"We've got some football players that will take a little time to work this flow of things. Right now I haven't don't have a starting lineup. But we did get a good effort from everybody that played, and we had a solid effort."

One of those football players who turned in a solid effort was Seminole quarterback-turned-guard Clarence Sippio.

"Sip" came off the bench with a minute remaining in the first period and began a torrid shooting display that pulled the Tribe within four points by intermission 22-18.

Sippio connected on four straight jumpers and went on to finish the night with shooting performance from the floor to garner game high honors for the Tribe with 14 points.

Colonial countered however with a combined 27-point effort from Greg Way and Jose Diaz in a sometimes on-and-off game and a sometimes slow down effort on the part of the Grenadiers.

Colonial's Way and Diaz outmuscled Seminole's boarders throughout the game, allowing the Grenadier human defense to keep the Tribe from penetrating the most of the game.

"Big Red" Steve Grabe ran intelligently but trouble despite an eight-point eighth period performance as the lineup too long to keep Colonial off the board.

The Tribe used a jumper by Mike Gaudreau, a tip by Rufus Christian and a three-point play by diminutive guard Richard Gray to close the gap to 34-31 at the end of the period, but the Grenadiers went to the charity stripe often, and connected on too many foul shots for Seminole to make much of a comeback hit.

"Other than the free throws it was a close game," pointed out Kinney.

"We're still a little tentative on defense," offered Payne. "We've got some football players that will help, but my haven't been out very long and it's a question of every getting to know where they're supposed to be on the floor."

SCC Notches 9th Straight

Raiders Pressed In OT Victory

If Indian River Community College could have its way Tuesday night, Seminole Community College's Raiders, and their high flying eight game undefeated winning streak would have come to an abrupt halt. But SCC had other ideas in mind enroute to a 116-108 overtime win that pushed the Raider skein to nine straight games.

Leading by six at the half, and holding a comfortable lead throughout the second stanza, SCC wilted in the closing minutes against Indian River.

Regulation ended in a 97-67 deadlock before the Raiders forced off a pair of four point spurts in the extra frame to secure the win and keep their undefeated record intact at 9-0.

Lorne Jones and Travis Filer were the big guns in the Raider victory.

Jones rapped the nets for a season high 32 point performance while free shooting Filer carried 39 in the win. Three other Raiders hit the double figure mark in the scoring column.

Forward Bruce McCray carried 18 while ever improving center Mike Kinney chipped in with 14 and reserve forward Everett Harner notched 10. Ed Begley paced Indian River's upset minded losers with 31 points.

SEMINOLE (116): Ervin 12, Whitney 27, Barnes 102, McCray 2-18, Jones 11-12, Filer 11-17, Jackson 9-2-2, Harner 12-10, Ryals 1-1-12. Totals: 49-182-41.

INDIAN RIVER (108): Evans 6-13, Carithers 8-9-18, Ballarone 6-16, Bagley 13-3-31, Coles 4-0-8, Haas 9-2-2, Calkner 9-18, Whitaker 1-0-2. Totals: 48-131-108.

Halftime: Seminole 51, Indian River 16. Regulation: 97-67. Fouled out: McCray, Coles, Filer.

Tribe Grapplers Hope To Improve

By SAM LOOK
Herald Sports Writer

Seminole High School's wrestling team has the job tonight for its initial match of the year against Jones High School. The junior varsity begins at 6:30 with the varsity immediately following at Seminole.

Former University of Central Florida (then New College) wrestler Scott Sherman enters his fourth year of the Tribe, looking for an improvement over last year's 10-10 mark.

"We're still struggling," said Sherman who was a four year varsity performer for the Knights. "But this is the biggest turnout (2) and best group since I've been here."

Some of the best of that group include senior Paul Price, sophomore Vince Clark, 220-pounder Lee Moley, and unlimited John Bryant. Unfortunately for the Tribe, Bruce is currently nursing a broken wrist.

"He got the cast off a couple days ago," Sherman said concerning his 105-pounder. "Paul's the best wrestler in the team. He still wanted to wrestle Wednesday, but he probably kept him out a little while."

Clark, who wrestles in 111, had an outstanding year as a freshman. He won the junior varsity tournament and placed fourth in the varsity district last year at Lyman.

"Clark is not real strong, but he is very knowledgeable," pointed out Sherman. "I'm looking for him to have a real good year."

Another junior varsity tournament champion was Bryant, who Sherman says "has improved his balance and coordination very much this year."

Of his healthy wrestlers, Sherman seems most impressed with Moley, who moved in from Delton. Moley played defensive line for Coach Jerry Posoy.

"He's awesome," Sherman exclaimed about his senior. "I wish we had more kids built like him. Very big, strong."

Filling in below Moley at 187 is senior Howard who is in his first year. At 109 will be freshman Joe who Sherman says has "tremendous potential."

"Whack is real strong and quick," said Sherman. "If we can get him to know some moves, he'll be an animal."

At 127, Sherman plans to use Paul Campbell, although the junior will not start against Jones because he has been sick the past few days. Mike Thornton will replace him.

"Five juniors make up the next weight classes. At 147 John Ellis in his second year gets the nod. At 161, Ricky Sassemer will open for the Tribe."

Spencer Baggett opens at 174, while usual 178 man Isaac Williams will be replaced by sophomore Lee Hamilton tonight and Tony Williams is at 212.

"In the lower classes, senior Willie Jones holds down 107 and sophomore Todd Bedient will open the varsity match at 106.

"I'd say if we won half of our 14 matches it would be a successful season," observed Sherman, who was State Collegiate champ at 126 in 1973-74.

Indian's Oh, Joe Rookie Of The Year

NEW YORK (UPI)—Joe Charboneau, the heir apparent to Rocky Colavito as Cleveland's next baseball hero, was named American League Rookie of the Year today by the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Charboneau received 15 first-place votes from the 28-member committee to easily eclipse Boston's Dave Stapleton, who picked up three first-place votes. Minnesota reliever Doug Cobble also received three first-place mentions and finished third in the balloting.

The 28 writers were asked to list their three choices for the award with a first-place vote counting for five points. Second place was worth three points and third was earned for a third-place mention.

"I'm really so happy," said Charboneau, who was out dining with his wife when reached by UPI. "I wasn't expecting this at all. There were so many super rookies in the league and it's a real honor to win over guys like Stapleton and Burns."

Toronto's Damaso Garcia finished fourth, also picking up three first-place votes, and pitcher Bert Burns of the Chicago White Sox finished fifth despite four first-place mentions. Rick Peters of Detroit finished sixth and Dick Dotson of the White Sox was seventh.

"I'm going nuts not being able to play," said Charboneau. "... You know, I once told my wife if I made the big leagues, I'd make Rookie of the Year for her. For a while, I thought I put my foot in my mouth. What an honor. With news like this, you can pull me away from the dinner table any time."

Although he gained most of his acclaim with a peglet bat that drilled 22 homers and knocked in 87 runs for the Indians, Charboneau drew almost as much attention for his reputation as a flanker.

The 6-foot-2, 200-pound slugger advanced teammates with such fealty as opening beer bottles with the socket of his bat. He also has been known to open beer bottles for his teammates, including a 1970 home run game when he used his bat to crack open a beer.

And, as a handyman, nobody can match the skills Charboneau has shown with a pair of pliers. He once used the tool to mend his shoe, which has been broken three times—and also extracted a bothersome tooth. His ability to consume fluids through his nose came about when doctors were forced to surgically remove all the damaged cartilage in his nose.

But Charboneau was no joke on the playing field this season and he captivated a city that is starved for a winning baseball team. "Go Joe Charboneau," a song performed by a group called Section 26 that occupies that section in Municipal Stadium, reached No. 3 on the singles chart in Cleveland. A Super Joe poster, featuring Charboneau in a Western hat and a cape, has been selling out all over town.

Tribe Grapplers Hope To Improve

By SAM LOOK
Herald Sports Writer

Seminole High School's wrestling team has the job tonight for its initial match of the year against Jones High School. The junior varsity begins at 6:30 with the varsity immediately following at Seminole.

Former University of Central Florida (then New College) wrestler Scott Sherman enters his fourth year of the Tribe, looking for an improvement over last year's 10-10 mark.

"We're still struggling," said Sherman who was a four year varsity performer for the Knights. "But this is the biggest turnout (2) and best group since I've been here."

Some of the best of that group include senior Paul Price, sophomore Vince Clark, 220-pounder Lee Moley, and unlimited John Bryant. Unfortunately for the Tribe, Bruce is currently nursing a broken wrist.

"He got the cast off a couple days ago," Sherman said concerning his 105-pounder. "Paul's the best wrestler in the team. He still wanted to wrestle Wednesday, but he probably kept him out a little while."

Atlanta Clips
76ers 112-108

By United Press International
It was a high-powered game and Atlanta forward John Drew showed the Philadelphia 76ers what the word desire means.

Drew, playing perhaps his finest game in a long time, scored 30 points Tuesday night, including five in overtime, to spark Atlanta to an emotional 112-108 victory over the 76ers.

The less snappier Philadelphia 76ers were unable to keep up with the Atlanta Hawks, who had won 11 of their last 15 games. Atlanta's Drew scored 30 points, including a key jumper with 30 seconds left, to lead the Hawks to their eighth straight win and a 24 record.

The Hawks got as close as nine, but Davis scored 16 in the third quarter to pull away. Bulls 122, Nuggets 111. Pacers 122, Spurs 107. Dallas its eighth straight loss. Dallas had led the score, 92-92, with 5:41 left but South bit on a foul play.

Walter Davis scored 22 points and five other Phoenix players hit for double figures to lead the Suns to their sixth straight win and a 24 record. The Suns got as close as nine, but Davis scored 16 in the third quarter to pull away.

Bulls 122, Nuggets 111. Pacers 122, Spurs 107. Dallas its eighth straight loss. Dallas had led the score, 92-92, with 5:41 left but South bit on a foul play.

Cook Of The Week
Retiree Keeps Helping People

By TOM NISSEL, Herald Staff Writer
It was 1918 when a widespread influenza epidemic killed thousands of people. People became sick and died because no one could care for them. That was when a young Mississippi girl decided to become a nurse.

Today, Rachel Lee is 83 years old and, while she has retired from nursing, she is still helping people. Several days each week she does volunteer work with the Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP).

Minor Boys Are Protected By Law

DEAR ABBY: My 15-year-old grandson is nearly 5 feet tall and looks like a full-grown man, but he has two years of high school left. I'll call him Billy. Billy has always been a good boy and never gave his mother any trouble. Now turns out that Billy had been seeing a friend of his mother's. She's a 30-year-old divorcee with two children. She claims she's 4 months pregnant with Billy's child. My daughter says that the divorcee has had several affairs with other high school boys, but she's blaming that pregnancy on Billy. He admitted he had been skipping his first class at school every day and going to this woman's place to have sex with her. He says he will quit school and marry her if that's what she wants. Abby, he's only a child himself and this would ruin his life.

Harriett To Lead Sanford Parade

Sanford Fire Chief George Manning Harriett, who will be retiring next month, has been chosen grand marshal of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce Christmas Parade.

Harriett, who has been chief for 10 years and a member of the department for 24 years, will head up the Saturday Dec. 13 parade at 10 a.m. in downtown Sanford.

The countdown for the parade king and queen contestants will be at 5 p.m. Thursday at the Sanford Civic Center. Candidates for the title include Cathy Hall and Scott Arnold, Gary and Carme Osterman, Greg Chase and Gina Jones, Jim Volentine and Wendy Schirard, and Donald Crain and Terry Fitzpatrick. Winners will be the couple garnering the most votes at a party a week.

The king and queen will each receive a prize of $50 and will ride on a float in the Christmas Parade with the runner-up couple.

Entries are still being received for the parade, according to committee chairman Jack Weible, who said there are currently nine bands and 18 floats scheduled. A total of 100 parade units, including decorated cars and boats and marching units, are expected, Weible said.

Sanita's float will be a 20-foot boat supplied by Morning Harbour.

The parade will move down First Street past the reviewing stand at Park Avenue and First Street.

The parade date originally was set for Dec. 6, but was changed to Dec. 13 because of a conflict with the Orlando Jaycees' Christmas parade to be held this Saturday at 10 a.m. The Orlando parade will be televised live on Channel 9 from 10:30 a.m. to noon.

The Sanford parade will be broadcast live on Radio Station WTRR.

Altamonte Parade Saturday

The 130-unit Altamonte-Casselberry Chamber of Commerce Christmas Parade, to be held at 2 p.m. Sunday is expected to attract 35,000 to 40,000 spectators. The theme will be "An Old Fashioned Christmas."

Grand Marshals of the parade will be State Reps. Bob Hattaway and Bobby Brantley. Serving as masters of ceremonies at the reviewing stand at the parking lot of Furniture Plaza at 1028 E. Altamonte Drive will be television's "PM Magazine" co-hosts Bill Casale and Carl Haught.

The parade, which will feature 14 bands, will form on Longwood Avenue south of Altamonte Drive (State Road 436) and will proceed east crossing Highway 17-92 and turning south on Oxford Road. The parade will turn west on Fernwood Boulevard, dispersing in the parking lot of the Jai Alai Fronton.

The eastbound traffic will share the westbound lanes during the parade, which is expected to last approximately two hours.

It Pays To Rehabilitate Alcoholics

NEW YORK (UPI)—Every dollar a company spends to rehabilitate an alcoholic employee is returned tenfold, says the chairman of Charter Medical Corp., which is helping to fund psychiatric hospitals for treatment of alcohol addiction and mental problems.

Charter Medical owns and operates 25 hospitals, 14 of them psychiatric institutions. It is expanding and profitably, expanding into the latter field.

Charter's revenues have grown from just over $25 million in 1975 to $183 million for fiscal 1980. During the five-year period earnings rose from $1.4 million to $7.4 million.

The company currently has three psychiatric hospitals under construction and has applications pending to build five more.

"We believe very strongly in the concept of the expanding hospital for treatment of mental illness and alcohol addiction," said William A. Fickling Jr., chairman and chief executive.

"Many people still prefer to enter the psychiatric wing of a general hospital for treatment, perhaps so their friends and Hunter, who don't know the reason for their hospitalization," Fickling said.

He said Charter Medical works with many companies who are recognizing alcoholism as a medical problem and not a social disease.

"We deal with almost all major industries in the Southeastern states, including large manufacturing companies, banks, and automobile firms," said Dr. Conway Hunter, a recovered alcoholic who is medical director for Charter and in charge of its program for alcoholics.

Charter's alcoholic patients, who undergo the standard "dry-out" treatment with support and counseling services, are referred by private doctors, but many come directly from companies who generally pay for treatment.

But while "countless thousands of alcoholics" are being helped by company programs there still is much to be learned about diagnosis and treatment of the disease. Hunter, who won't help alcoholics avoid the "misdiagnosis I received — drugs, straightjackets, I had them all" — said over 50 percent of alcoholics in the business world are at the executive or managerial level.

"Alcoholics tend to be overachievers; they outperform the general population," Hunter said. "Think of the cost of severing a valuable employee and training his replacement in relation to the cost of rehabilitating him, and putting him back to work."

As much of the social stigma formerly associated with mental illness and with alcohol and drug addiction disappears "we find the psychiatric hospital is the best place for a particular problem," Fickling said.

Bud Feather New County Commissioner Set For Latest Challenge

By DIANE PETRY,
 Herald-Staff Writer

Bud Feather isn't sure how he's going to like "trading children for roads," but now that he's moved from the Seminole County School Board to the Seminole County Commission he said he's ready to tackle a new set of problems.

He said he thinks the worst problems for the county are going to be controlling the budget to operate within existing tax revenues, resisting bureaucratic growth, providing for efficient traffic movement, seeing to it the county gets its share of state dollars and preserving the area's water quality.

After eight years on the school board—Robert G. "Bud" Feather, 35, was elected to the commission as part of the Republican "wave" in November.

"I'm so delighted the Reagan got elected," Feather said. "Over the next four years you're going to see it benefit the little guy. He'll be encouraged to do something for himself."

"Under the Democrats government takes from the taxpayer and gives to those who don't contribute providing make-work jobs. Republicans say 'You do it yourself' and take some of the restrictions off. Democrats reward failure and penalize success."

People will begin to realize that they're not going to get something from the government perhaps they can get it for themselves, he said.

"When I was on the school board I woke my 8-year-old son up at 4 a.m. to go to school. He said 'You should look to government to take care of everything.'"

"I said it's your own fault that you went to school. You shouldn't look to government to take care of everything."

"In everything, what does Feather think government should do?"

"Government should provide services and defense. If it can do, he said, to protect private property rights.

Next to maintaining his own health and being able to provide food and shelter, the most important thing a person should be able to do is own and protect real property, Feather said.

Feather said he would like to see the first county or state funds available for preservation and he said he would like to see the first county or state funds available for preservation and he said he would like to see the first county or state funds available for preservation.

Feather said he would like to see the first county or state funds available for preservation and he said he would like to see the first county or state funds available for preservation.

Robert G. "Bud" Feather (in photos above) feels the "little guy" will benefit from a Republican president and more Republicans in other offices.

Feather said he would like to see the first county or state funds available for preservation and he said he would like to see the first county or state funds available for preservation.

Stars Appear To Witness 'Perfectly Frank' Musical

By United Press International

LOESSER MEDLEY: "The music was the star of the evening." That's how the new musical revue, "Perfectly Frank," was summed up by its star performer, Jo Sullivan. It wasn't just musical. Ms. Sullivan is the widow of Frank Loesser, on whose music the revue is based. Loesser, who died in 1969, is best known for the Broadway hits "Guys and Dolls," "The Most Happy Fella" and "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying." Among the stars in the audience were Carol Channing, Goldie Hawn, Angela Lansbury and Douglas Fairbanks Jr. Sandy Duncan, whose "Peter Pan" closes on Broadway Dec. 4, also was on hand. Not surprising, since her husband, Don Corcoran, is in the cast of "Perfectly Frank."

Teddy, Joan Socially 'Out'

TED SOCIALLY "OUT": Son, Ted Kennedy and his wife, Joan, are "out" socially, as far as the Social Register's new 1981 edition goes. The book of national society listings, edited by an anonymous advisory board, dropped the Kennedy listing that had appeared in the 1980 Register with their McLean, Va., address.

The listing in the past year survived the Chapin scandal of 1980. Still in the Register are Ethel Kennedy, Robert Kennedy's widow, and their children: Mrs. and Mrs. George (Eunice Kennedy) Shriver, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy II (he's Robert and Ethel's son). Mother Rose has never made it, nor have her daughters, Pat Lawford and Joan Smith.

5-Year-Old Enjoys Driving

SUNDAY DRIVER: Chad Engelbrecht decided Sunday would be a swell day to drive the more than 40 miles from Leonard, Minn., to Bemidji. He brought along his grandfather's 1973 Pontiac and took off for the very edge of his seat to see out the windshield. Chad is only 5 years old. Apparently he learned to drive by careful observation while sitting on his parents' knees. He was spotted by two women in Bemidji, who contacted police. The police stopped Chad and spelled his plan of being around Bemidji to see the sights before starting on the drive home.

Woman Seeks Younger Men

QUOTE OF THE DAY: Diana Vreeland, former editor of Vogue and Harper's Bazaar, doesn't let her 78 years stop her. The grande dame of American fashion has just written a book, stages important costume shows at New York's Metropolitan Museum of Art, and attends chic gatherings escorted by younger people — preferably younger men. As she explained in the current People magazine, "I can't go out with people my own age. They're all dead."

It was 25 years ago Monday that Rosa Parks, a black seamstress, refused to give up her seat in a Montgomery, Ala., city bus to a white person, and the civil rights movement of Dr. Martin Luther King began. Mrs. Parks, who lives in Detroit now, was scheduled to return to Montgomery for the anniversary "Xaveria Holland, the 'Happy Hooker' who was deported from the U.S. to her native Holland, is busy in Amsterdam writing three articles for Forum magazine.

In An Eggshell

Deck Table With Edible, Festive Fare

Traditional family favorites are always fun at holiday time. This season, though, why not serve a surprise? Feature Festive Florentine Wreath for your holiday celebration.

Nutritious ingredients like eggs, spinach, mushrooms and cheese, form a lovely wreath when baked in a ring mold. Add a bright pimiento low for a festive finishing touch, and let this picture-pretty treat make your holiday meal merrier.

Those on tight budgets will especially appreciate Festive Florentine Wreath. The incredible edible egg makes it a real cost-saving recipe. Eggs are only 10 cents a pound when large eggs sell for 30 cents a dozen.

Busy hosts and hostesses will welcome this egg-rich spinach ring, too, because it's fast as well as festive!

Start a new tradition in your home this year. Serve Festive Florentine Wreath for inexpensive, but elegant, holiday entertaining.

FESTIVE FLORENTINE WREATH
 1 jar (2 oz.) sliced pimiento, undrained
 8 eggs, well beaten
 2 packages (10 oz. each) frozen chopped spinach, cooked and very well drained (about 1 cup)
 1 cup (8 oz.) small curd cottage cheese
 1 can (4 oz.) sliced mushrooms, undrained
 1/2 cup (2 oz.) shredded Cheddar cheese
 2 tablespoons instant minced onion

Reserve several large pimiento strips to form low garish, if desired. Thoroughly combine all remaining ingredients and pour into well-greased 1 1/2-quart ring mold. Bake in preheated 350 degree F. oven until knife inserted near center comes out clean, about 35 to 40 minutes. Invert onto platter. Garnish with low formed from reserved pimiento strips, if desired.

Microwave: Combine ingredients as above. Pour into well-greased 1 1/2-quart microwaveable ring mold. Or place a greased, straight-sided, 2- to 3-inch diameter beverage glass upright in a well-greased square casserole dish. Pour in mixture. Microwave on Full power 13 to 15 minutes. Let stand 10 minutes. Yield: 6 servings.

FRIDDLE EGG DIP
 1 can (11 1/2 oz.) condensed bean with bacon soup
 2 tablespoons mayonnaise
 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
 1/4 teaspoon hot pepper sauce, optional
 4 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
 1/4 cup finely chopped green onion
 In medium-size bowl combine soup, mayonnaise, mustard and hot pepper sauce. Stir in hard-cooked eggs and green onion. Garnish with parsley and egg slices, if desired.

To prepare in blender: Measure soup, mayonnaise, mustard and hot pepper sauce into blender container. Blend until combined, about 30 seconds. Scrape down blender sides with rubber spatula. Add hard-cooked eggs and green onion. Blend for 30 seconds to 1 minute, stopping blender to push mixture down in blades if necessary, until ingredients are blended. Serve as a dip for fresh vegetables or crackers or use as a sandwich filling. Yield: 2 1/2 cups.

QUICHE NOEL
 1 (9-inch) pie shell, unbaked
 6 eggs, beaten
 1 cup (4 oz.) shredded Cheddar cheese
 1/4 cup chopped cooked chicken or turkey

OR
 1 can (5 oz.) broiled chicken
 1/4 cup chopped green pepper
 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
 1 cup half and half or light cream
 1 tablespoon instant minced onion
 1/2 teaspoon seasoned salt

Brush pie shell with small amount of the beaten eggs. Prick bottom and sides with fork. If using metal pie pan, bake shell in preheated 400 degrees F. oven until golden brown, about 5 minutes. If using pie plate, bake shell at 425 degrees F. Cool on wire rack. Reduce oven temperature to 375 degrees F. for metal pan or 350 degrees F. for pie plate.

Sprinkle cheese, chicken, green pepper and pimiento in pie shell. Beat remaining ingredients together until well blended. Pour into pie shell.

Bake in preheated oven until knife inserted halfway between center and outside edge comes out clean, 35 to 40 minutes. Let stand 10 minutes before serving. Yield: 6 servings.

Microwave: Cook pricked pie shell in microwaveable pie dish 4 to 5 minutes on High. Fill as directed. Cook on High 5 minutes. Cook on reduced power (30 percent to 50 percent) 10 to 12 minutes, rotating 3 or 4 times. Let stand 10 minutes.

After The Gobble Is Over

Delicious Ways To Take Advantage Of Turkey Left From Holiday Feast

Since California growers boast a bumper crop of avocados this year, take advantage of greatly reduced prices. Your family may flip when this prized fruit becomes a center attraction as in this half-shell entree.

BOMBAY TURKEY ON THE HALF-SHELL
 1 1/2 cups diced cooked turkey
 1/4 cup mayonnaise
 1/4 teaspoon curry powder
 1/4 cup sliced celery
 1/4 cup raisins
 1/4 cup whole salt cashews
 2 soft avocados
 Boston Bibb lettuce leaves
 Lemon juice
 Lemon slices, for garnish

Combine turkey, mayonnaise and curry powder in a medium bowl. Add celery, raisins, and cashews; mix. Cut avocados in half lengthwise; remove seeds; peel if desired. Place each avocado half on a lettuce-lined plate and brush each lightly with lemon juice. Spoon turkey mixture into avocados. Garnish with lemon slices. Yield: 4 servings.

Puff pastry thaws quickly and gives best results when used cold, so always keep refrigerated until ready to shape. To give puff pastry a beautiful brown sheen, brush the top with beaten egg or milk before baking. Do not allow the glaze to drip over the sides as this will prevent puffing.

HAWAIIAN TURKEY PASTRY PUFF
 1 1/2 cups cubed cooked turkey
 1 pkg. (4 oz.) sliced ham
 1 cup grated Swiss cheese
 1/4 cup green onion
 1/4 cup mayonnaise
 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
 1 teaspoon garlic salt
 1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
 1 pkg. (17 1/2 oz.) frozen puff pastry
 1 egg mixed with one teaspoon water

Preheat oven to 400 degrees F. In blender or food processor, grind turkey and ham. Place in medium bowl with grated Swiss cheese and green onion. Blend with mayonnaise, mustard, garlic salt and Worcestershire sauce; set aside. Thaw pastry dough for 20 minutes; unfold sheets. On lightly floured board, roll dough to remove creases. Using a batch take pan as a guide, cut circles from each sheet of dough. Place one circle on ungreased cookie sheet; prick with fork. Mound turkey mixture in center of dough, leaving 1/4 inches of dough showing at edge of circle. Place other circle of pastry dough on top, stretching gently to cover turkey mixture and to meet edges at bottom. Seal the edges together with light brushing of cold water. Poke hole in the top of center of mound to let steam escape during cooking. To decorate: scallop outer edges of circle with a sharp knife. Brush top of entire pastry puff with egg wash; allow to set briefly and repeat the egg wash. With sharp knife lightly score mound with seven lines starting in center and going to edges in spoke fashion. Do not cut all the way through the dough. Bake at 400 degrees F. for 20 minutes. Turn oven to 400 degrees F. and continue cooking for another 20 minutes. Allow to cool for 10 minutes before eating. Yield: 4-6 servings.

A melt-your-mouth blend of flavors results by combining turkey with the smooth textures of cream cheese and avocado. Bacon adds a crisp "crisp" that makes this sandwich an unbeatable crowd pleaser.

CALIFORNIA CLUB SANDWICH
 8 slices oatmeal or honey wheatberry bread
 1 (4 oz.) container whipped cream cheese
 1 tomato, sliced thin
 8 slices bacon, cooked
 1 soft avocado, sliced lengthwise
 1 soft avocado, sliced lengthwise

On each of four slices of bread, spread cream cheese. On each place 1/4 of tomato slices, bacon and turkey. Top with slices of California avocados; top each sandwich with other slice of bread. Yield: 4 sandwiches.

Hint: To prepare California avocado, halve lengthwise; twist halves to separate. Slide tip of spoon underneath the seed to remove. To peel the avocado, place the cut side of the fruit down and strip or pare the skin away. Uniquely different goldfish crackers add texture and flavor to this hearty, thick turkey chowder.

TURKEY TATER CHOWDER
 2 tablespoons margarine or butter
 1/2 cup finely chopped onion
 2 chicken-flavored bouillon cubes
 1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
 3 cups milk or half-and-half
 2 cups mashed potatoes
 1 (17 oz.) can whole kernel corn, well drained
 1 cup diced cooked turkey
 1/4 cup chopped chives

Melt margarine in large saucepan. Add onion. Cook over moderate heat until tender but not browned. Stir in bouillon cubes, garlic powder, milk, mashed potatoes, corn, turkey and chives. Simmer 15 minutes. Pour into bowls. Garnish with "goldfish" crackers. Yield: 6 servings.

Hint: For added convenience, bake patty shells early in the day; remove centers. Wrap in foil and store in a cabinet until needed. Patty shells bake best when put in the oven frozen and spaced on a baking sheet with ample space around each shell for heat circulation.

Prepare the ingredients for this recipe beforehand: it's a snap to put together for "10-minute" meal. Sliced avocado coated with lemon juice and covered lightly with plastic wrap will hold its pretty green color for several hours in the refrigerator.

SKILLET TURKEY TOSS
 1/4 cup vegetable oil
 2 tablespoons flour
 1 teaspoon each: garlic and onion salt
 1 tablespoon sugar
 1 tablespoon prepared mustard
 1-3rd cup vinegar
 1-3rd cup turkey stock or water
 2 cups cooked turkey, cut in long thin strips
 2 cups cooked vegetables (sliced carrots, cauliflowerettes, broccoli chunks, cut green beans)
 1 cup (4 oz.) Swiss cheese, cut in long thin strips
 1 soft avocado, peeled, seeded and sliced
 4 cups torn romaine lettuce
 Heat oil in large frypan. Stir in flour, garlic and onion salts, sugar, mustard, vinegar and turkey stock. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until bubbly and thickened. Stir in turkey and vegetables. Cook 1 minute more. Add Swiss cheese, avocado and lettuce. Remove from heat. Toss. Serve immediately.

SHEPHERDESS' PIE
 2 cups diced, cooked turkey
 3 cups cooked, mixed vegetables (cauliflower, onions, green beans and carrots)
 1/4 cup Florida orange juice
 1 cup turkey gravy
 1 Florida orange, peeled and sectioned
 2 cups cooked, mashed, seasoned sweet potatoes
 1 egg

Toasted sliced almonds
 In a 1 1/2-quart casserole, combine turkey, vegetables, orange juice, gravy and orange sections. Mix sweet potatoes with egg; pour over turkey mixture. Bake in a 350 degree F. oven 35 to 40 minutes or until hot and bubbly. Just before serving sprinkle with toasted almonds.

Yield: 4 servings.
 Note: Use frozen, mixed vegetables thawed and drained, or cooked vegetables from Orange Vegetable Melange.

TURKEY AND BROCCOLI STIR-FRY
 two-thirds cup Florida grapefruit juice
 6 tablespoons soy sauce
 1/4 cup water
 4 teaspoons cornstarch
 2 teaspoons grated fresh ginger
 1 teaspoon sugar
 1/4 teaspoon minced garlic
 4 tablespoons vegetable oil, divided
 1 bunch fresh broccoli, tough stalks discarded and tops broken into small florets (4 cups)
 1 1/4 cups sliced mushrooms
 one-third cup sliced green onions or scallions
 2 cups diced, cooked turkey
 1/2 cup sliced water chestnuts
 2 Florida grapefruit, peeled and sectioned

In a small bowl, mix grapefruit juice, soy sauce, water, cornstarch, ginger, sugar and garlic until smooth. Set aside. In a large skillet or wok, heat 3 tablespoons oil; stir-fry broccoli, mushrooms and green onions over high heat, stirring constantly, until broccoli is crisp-tender. Transfer to a large bowl. Heat remaining 1 tablespoon oil in skillet; add turkey and water chestnuts. Cook, stirring constantly, 1 minute until heated through. Return broccoli mixture to skillet and toss. Stir grapefruit mixture and add, all at once, to skillet; cook, stirring constantly, until sauce is thickened. Add grapefruit sections, toss, serve at once.

DEVILED TURKEY CASSEOLE
 4 tablespoons butter
 6 tablespoons flour
 1 tablespoon mustard
 2 teaspoons salt
 2 1/2 cups milk
 1 cup celery, sliced
 3 cups cooked turkey, diced
 1 cup ripe olives, sliced
 12-ounce jar pimiento, chopped
 1/2 cup raisins
 1/2 cup Borden dark rum
 1 cup seasoned bread crumbs

In saucepan, saute onion in butter until golden. Blend in flour, mustard and salt. Add milk and cook, stirring, until mixture thickens. Add celery, turkey, olives, pimiento and raisins, heat thoroughly. Add rum and spoon into a large baking dish or casserole. Top with bread crumbs and bake in a pre-heated 350 degree oven for 30 minutes. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 8-10 servings.

1/4 cup sliced mushrooms
 one-third cup sliced green onions or scallions
 2 cups diced, cooked turkey
 1/2 cup sliced water chestnuts
 2 Florida grapefruit, peeled and sectioned

In a small bowl, mix grapefruit juice, soy sauce, water, cornstarch, ginger, sugar and garlic until smooth. Set aside. In a large skillet or wok, heat 3 tablespoons oil; stir-fry broccoli, mushrooms and green onions over high heat, stirring constantly, until broccoli is crisp-tender. Transfer to a large bowl. Heat remaining 1 tablespoon oil in skillet; add turkey and water chestnuts. Cook, stirring constantly, 1 minute until heated through. Return broccoli mixture to skillet and toss. Stir grapefruit mixture and add, all at once, to skillet; cook, stirring constantly, until sauce is thickened. Add grapefruit sections, toss, serve at once.

Treasured Traditions Honor Christmas

There's magic in serving traditional foods for the holidays. They build treasured memories to last a lifetime, and, of course, they're especially delicious when made with butter, spices, fruits and nuts. Stories about these customs are charming and make the traditions more interesting.

Austrian Peaches Cookies are delicious with their tender, buttery dough and peach preserve-chocolate "pits." They're considered symbols of fertility and rebirth, appropriate for both Christmas and the winter solstice. Good Cookies are light and buttery enough to disappear on first taste. That's why the Greeks call them by that name (Kourabiedes). For Christmas, they stand each cookie with a clove as a reminder of the gifts of rare spices brought by the three wise men of the east.

The Swedes call their spice cookies Pepparkakor, because "peppar" is their word for many spices. These cookies are shaped like hearts or animals, preferably the pig or goat. Scandinavians regard the pig as a symbol of good luck; the goat is thought to have been the animal that pulled Thor's chariot in Norse mythology. Modern Swedes consider the goat mischievous and good natured, thus appropriate for the season.

Tom Thumb cookies are typical of the type Americans like: a rich, two-layer bar cookie, decorated like a patchwork quilt.

Also typical of ethnic holiday fare are the sweet yeast breads made with fruits and nuts. These include Christmas Twists (Czech Hlaska or Hruska), Pecan Crescents (Vuganitsa) and the Austrian Kugelhupf, which takes its name from the fancy, fluted mold. Fruits and butter signify richness, while nuts with their hard shells and kernels stand for the mysteries and difficulties of life.

CHRISTMAS TWISTS

1 cup lukewarm water (100 to 115 degrees F.)
1 package active dry yeast
1 teaspoon sugar
1/4 to 1/2 cup all-purpose flour
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
1/2 teaspoon mace
1 cup lukewarm milk (100 to 115 degrees F.)
2 whole eggs
1 egg, separated
1/2 cup (1 stick) butter, softened
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1/2 cup dark seedless raisins
1/2 cup chopped mixed candied fruit
1 tablespoon water

Dissolve yeast in water; stir in 1 teaspoon sugar. Set in a warm place until mixture is doubled in volume, about 10 minutes. Combine 1/4 cups of the flour, the sugar, salt, lemon peel and mace in a large mixing bowl. Add yeast mixture, milk, 2 whole eggs, 1 egg yolk and butter. Beat until medium stiff dough is formed. Turn out onto lightly floured surface. Knead in enough remaining flour to form a firm dough. Continue kneading until dough is smooth and satiny, about 10 minutes. Place in buttered bowl, turning to butter top of dough. Cover; let rise in warm place until double in bulk, about 1 hour. Punch dough down; knead in nuts, raisins and fruit. Divide dough in half. Cut each half into 8 pieces. Roll each piece on a lightly floured surface to form a rope 12 inches by 1 inch. Braid three of the ropes; tuck ends under. Place on buttered baking sheet. Twist remaining two ropes together; place on top of braid. Repeat with remaining half of dough. Cover; let rise in a warm place until double in bulk, about 45 minutes. Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. Combine egg white and water. Carefully brush tops of loaves with egg mixture. Bake 20 to 25 minutes or until golden. Remove from baking sheets. Cool completely on wire rack. Yield: 2

CLOUD COOKIES

1/2 cup (1 stick) butter
1/2 cup confectioners' sugar
1 egg yolk
2 tablespoons milk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1/4 cup all-purpose flour
1/4 cup finely chopped walnuts
1 teaspoon baking powder

Whole clove
Confectioners' sugar

Cream butter; gradually add sugar and beat until light and fluffy. Beat in egg yolk, milk and vanilla. Combine flour, nuts and baking powder. Gradually add dry ingredients to creamed mixture; mix well. Gather dough into a ball; wrap in plastic wrap. Chill dough 1 to 2 hours for ease in handling. Preheat oven to 325 degrees F. Shape dough into 1-inch balls. Place 1-inch apart on unbuttered cookie sheets. Flatten to 1/2-inch thickness, using glass with smooth bottom dipped in flour. Place whole clove in center of each cookie. Bake 25 to 30 minutes or until cookies are slightly firm to the touch since they do not brown. Remove to wire rack to cool. Sprinkle with confectioners' sugar when completely cool. Store in airtight container at room temperature. Yield: About 6 dozen.

1 cup finely chopped pecans

Small Myoma Tumor Can Cause Bleeding

DEAR DR. LAMB — My doctor says I have a myoma and I have to have a hysterectomy. She said if I want more children she would only take out part of the uterus where the myoma is located. What is the cause of these tumors? Is there any chance they'll appear anywhere else in my body? I there any other treatment besides removal? Do all women have to take hormones after a hysterectomy? She's not doing the operation for three more months. I've had the tumor for two months already. I had spotting which is why I went to her in the first place. Is it usual to wait before doing the surgery? If it is malignant, which she says they rarely are, wouldn't it give it a chance to spread? I would appreciate any information you have. I'm 33 years old and have had two children.

DEAR READER — A myoma is what most people call a fibroid. It's an overgrowth in a symmetrical, organized fashion of the muscle and connective tissue in the wall of the uterus. Such a tumor is common and many times when they're small they may cause no symptoms. In some locations they will cause bleeding and that's probably why you had the spotting. Depending on their location, or if they get too large, they can cause pressure on the bowels and bladder and induce symptoms in that manner. Also some, depending on the location, may interfere with a woman's ability to get pregnant.

You never really know what a tumor is until you've looked at it under the microscope but almost all of these are benign — not cancer. That's why your doctor isn't excited about doing the surgery on a semi-emergency basis. No, fibroids are limited to the uterus and just because you have fibroid tumors does not mean that you'll have tumors or cancer anywhere else.

really good job this time... Today's hand is taken from one of the preliminary rounds in which each hand was played six times. The bidding in the box seems logical and leaves South at a cinch four-heart contract for a score of 620. Two South players were allowed to play there, but at the other four tables the East-West pair definitely bid and played at four spades. At three tables it was played undoubled and West went down three for a mere 150 point loss. At the fourth table Chagas of Brazil was doubled. North led the king of clubs, cashed the king and queen of hearts, led ace and another club to his partner's jack overruled East's right. Now South led a trump which Chagas won. He drew North's last trump and led a diamond. North played the seven and Chagas played low from dummy. South was in with the eight and made things easy for Chagas. South led back the nine. Chagas played low and got out for 100 to gain 120 points or three IMPs for Brazil. NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.
