CHOSEN AS THE MOST OUTSTANDING for this six weeks at Sanford Grammar School are Patrol Boy Tommy Jones and Patrol Girl Laura Faye Watson, shown here being congratulated by Mrs. Lida Stine, of the Public Affairs Committee of the Sanford Pilot Club, who awarded them their merit certificates at the school today.

School Board Demands Racing Revenue Be Left For Educational Purpose

The County School Board today demanded that the County Commission withdraw its resolution requesting the transfer of race track revenue from the school system to the road revenue fund. School Board Attorney Douglas Stenstrom, in a strongly worded statement, said that he will appear before the commission next Tuesday asking for the withdrawal and "if they should continue their request we will then ask for a hearing before the legislative delegation in Tallahassee."

asked that an existing law turning over Seminole share of race track funds to the school board be repealed and that money be turned into the county's road and bridge fund.

Supt. of Schools R. T. Milwee, at a special meeting this morning, said that "the repeal of this act must result in either a decrease in teachers' salaries or an increase in school millage to make up for the loss of funds."

Milwee added that the $50,000 from the race tracks goes for teacher's salaries and "not one nickel goes elsewhere."

The school board also criticized the commission for voting to repeal the act without discussing it with members of the school board first.

"The first I heard about it was in the paper," Milwee said. Stenstrom said that he felt that the commissioners do not understand the effect of repealing the law.

"I expect to ask them to withdraw their request and I believe they will when they realize that they are compelling the school board to make up the $50,000 by levying additional school taxes or compelling them to reduce the salaries of our teachers."

Stenstrom also disagreed with Commissioner James P. Avery who proposed the repeal. Avery said that the act was only an emergency measure.

Stenstrom, who was state senator when the act was passed in 1957, said "It was not presented to me at that time as an emergency measure."

"Over the years I have worked along with many others to obtain better roads in Florida and Seminole County, and I certainly sympathize with the commissioners in their search for monies with which to provide better roads. However, I do not feel it is proper to go into the pockets of the teachers for the money," Stenstrom said.

State Demands Peel's Death; Jury Gets Case

FORT PIERCE (UPI) — The trial of Joseph A. Peel Jr., went into the hands of a 12-man jury today, climaxed by the state's dramatic plea that Peel die in the electric chair for murdering the 1933 murders of Circuit Judge and Mrs. C. E. Chillingworth.

The jury of 12 retired persons and small-town businessmen filed out of the little St. Lucie County courtroom after listening to a 21-minute charge from Judge D. C. Smith.

Smith told the jurors they could find Peel guilty or innocent. He said if they found him guilty, a majority of the jury could recommend mercy and spare his life.

A first degree murder conviction with no recommendation of mercy carries a mandatory death sentence. Peel was charged with being an accessory before the fact in the murder of Chillingworth, whose body has never been found.

The trial capped one of Florida's most sensational mysteries, the disappearance of Chillingworth and his wife, Marjorie, from their beachfront home near Palm Beach in June 1955.

Peel showed little emotion as the jury left the room. He sat at a table with his attorneys and apparently planned to wait out the verdict in the courtroom next to the jail where he has been held. "I feel pretty good. I don't know how it's going to come out but I'm glad the trial is all over," Peel said. "It's been a very tiring experience."

Board To Proceed With Hopper Plans

The County School Board today rejected a request to sell the Bay St. school property for commercial use and agreed to go ahead with the construction of a new Hopper Academy on that site.

Final plans for the school are in Tallahassee and expected to be returned in time for the April 13 regular board meeting, Supt. of Schools R. T. Milwee said.

Milwee said that the board will authorize Architect John Burton to get bids on the school, with the bid letting scheduled in late May.

Milwee said that he had been told that the Bay Ave. site could be used for commercial purposes and that there was a possibility it could be sold for $40,000 to $60,000.

It was suggested that that money be used to purchase land around the present Hopper Academy on 11th St. and Pine to build the school there, he said.

However, the board agreed that would take too much time and cause condemnation proceedings. Last week the City Commission authorized the vacation of the 11th St. right of way bordering Bay Ave. to pave the way for the new school.

Communion Today

Dr. Walter Cremons, pastor of the Allamonte Springs Chapel, will conduct Maundy Thursday Holy Communion Services today at 7:30 p.m. All new members will be received in the church at this service.

Untouchable

President T. E. Tucker of the Florida State Bank will wheel a load of money along First St. Saturday in a hijacker's dream, but he warned today that pickings will be mighty tough.

There'll be a cordon of police deputies and security guards along to insure the safe delivery of the deposits at Florida State's new building at the corner of W. First and Oak Aves.

Tucker will lead the coin transfer with a wheelbarrow full of the bank's funds. The rest will be moved by armored truck. "Mr. Tucker is making sure

Reds May Okay Laos Solution — On Their Terms

United Press International Word came out of Moscow today that the Communists might be willing to consider a cease fire in Laos—but on their terms.

Diplomatic sources said Russia shortly would propose that the Indochina Control Commission composed of Canada, India and Poland be reactivated to investigate the possibilities and work out the mechanics of a halt to hostilities in the little jungle kingdom.

This would reverse procedure proposed by Britain—and supported by the United States—to call a cease fire first and then send the control commission in to supervise it.

There was no immediate formal Western reaction.

Diplomatic observers in London said there might be a basis for an agreement between the two sides but they expressed fears that reversing the procedure would permit too much delay before a cease fire.

Rebel Pathet Lao forces gained ground against pro-Western government troops recently as the result of a massive arms supply buildup through an airlift of Soviet planes.

The Moscow sources said the Russians also would seek further assurances that after the shooting stops there would be a 14-nation conference—including the United States, Russia and Communist China—to work out the political future of Laos.

Although the British submitted their proposal to the Kremlin last Thursday, it was considered likely that a formal reply would be withheld until the Communist European leaders end their Warsaw Pact meeting in Moscow Friday or Saturday.

One reason given for the delay in Moscow was that the Russians did not want to appear to be reacting to pressure from the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization's meeting in Bangkok this week.

The SEATO foreign ministers wound up their meeting with a compromise resolution that only implied the West would use force in Laos if a peace were not negotiated and did not set a time limit on the Russians.

News Briefs

Stocks Gain

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks carved out a small gain at the opening today with special issues again scoring the broader moves. Trading continued active. The list Wednesday moved to within striking distance of the all-time market high, a recovery that snapped a string of four consecutive declines.

Citrus Moving

WINTER HAVEN (UPI) — Daily carloadings (in boxes) from the Citrus Vegetable Inspection Division included, by rail, 17,607 grapefruit, 12,295 oranges, 424 tangerines, 2,200 lemons; by boat, 27 grapefruit; by truck, 40,444 grapefruit, 28,042 oranges, 10 tangerines, 138 lemons.

Typhoid Studied

CHICAGO (UPI) — Health officials today pursued the source of a typhoid outbreak on the city's West Side. The Chicago Board of Health said Wednesday that laboratory tests confirmed that four of 11 children suspected of typhoid fever are victims of the disease. There is also "good presumptive evidence" the other three are infected, they said.

Kennedy Rests

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy flew to Palm Beach today for a brief Easter vacation, but was ready to return to Washington if required. The president, who will join his wife and daughter and son in Palm Beach, was accompanied by Sen. J. William Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Mrs. Fulbright, and Ambassador Averell Harriman.

Bookies Arrested

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — State and county agents arrested three suspected bookies operating out of a saloon at the plush Eden Roc Hotel Wednesday, only to have two of them escape in the excitement of the raid. Frank (Red) Heemster, 55, and Morris Molise Schmiertaler, 54, shipped out after their arrest in what agents called a $10,000-a-day bookie racket. Jules (Julie) Levitt, 56, of Opa-Locka, didn't get away.

Two Prisoners Make Escape

Two Negro prisoners escaped from a city work gang Wednesday afternoon, police reported today. The two, identified as George Washington and Robert Franklin Wilson, jumped off a work truck at 3030 Magnolia Ave. at about 4 p.m., Chief Hoy Williams said. Both men were arrested Mar. 11 and sentenced to 90 days for working a confidence game, Williams said. Both of the escapees are from Tampa.

Rebel Hanged

ADDIS ABABA (UPI) — Brig. Gen. Mengusiu Neway, leader of the abortive December revolt against Emperor Haile Selassie, was hanged in the market place here today as a rebel and a murderer.

Control Fight Delays Jobs Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A fight over control of the purse strings today held up final congressional passage of President Kennedy's $394 million program for creating jobs in economically depressed communities.

The House on a 250-167 roll call vote Wednesday approved the administration's area development program despite protests from some Republicans that it would become a "gigantic boondoggle." The Senate passed it 15 days ago, 63-27.

The only question still to be resolved was whether Congress would keep a tight grip on the purse strings. Under the House bill, no funds could be spent until appropriated by Congress in a subsequent money bill. The Senate measure would permit outlays of $200 million without further congressional action.

Senate liberals vowed they would "stand fast" on this issue, but all signs indicated the Senate ultimately would have to back down and accept the House-passed bill.

Democratic leaders deliberately omitted the Senate's financing provision from the House bill to help minimize opposition from conservatives and ease passage of the legislation.

The House approval was particularly sweet for the administration because it evened the score with the conservative coalition which defeated Kennedy's minimum wage bill by one vote last Friday.

The new program is aimed at re-vitalizing areas which for various reasons have been suffering from chronic unemployment at rates higher than the national average.

Under the bill's aid program, an approved area must be eligible to apply for federal help in creating new industry.

Bold Thief Takes $1 Million In Gems

NEW YORK (UPI) — Police and the FBI today sought the rush-hour Raffia who stole more than $1 million in diamonds from a midtown gem dealer in what was described as probably New York's biggest jewel robbery.

It was the second diamond district holdup in two days. Police said the general build of the gunman in each robbery was similar, but Wednesday's jewel thief wore a grotesque full-face Halloween mask, and they could not say whether it was the same man.

The well-dressed gunman tricked diamond dealer David Amel, 37, into letting him into the locked, 10th floor office about 4:40 p.m. He forced Amel to open the safe, grabbed four white envelopes containing cut and uncut diamonds, and ran.

Then the thief apparently shed his mask and mingled with homebound office workers on 47th Street, between Fifth and Sixth Avenues.

A criminal operating even more like the fictional society thief Raffia entered singer Eartha Kitt's room at the Hotel Plaza and stole $20,000 worth of furs and jewelry, police reported early today.

Amel said the stolen gems were worth at least $900,000 wholesale. This would be well over $1 million retail.

The FBI entered the investigation on the possibility the stones had been taken across a state line. Police searched the 16-story building floor by floor.

All But One Student Freed By Judge

FORT LAUDERDALE (UPI) — City Judge Raymond Doumar today released all but one of 83 vacationing college students jailed for misconduct during the annual student holiday pilgrimage. Doumar did not release Theodore Dallage of Minneapolis, Minn., serving 70 days for inciting a riot and resisting arrest Monday night from atop a traffic signal pole. A story of the disturbances is on Page 2.

Excess Waters, Stormy Weather Still Stirring

By United Press International

Midwestern dikes turned spongy today under the fifth day of runaway river pressure but officials indicated only a rash of uncontrolled leaks could renew critical flood danger.

Iowa flood battlers moved downstream on the Cedar River to Cedar Rapids where the tired workers prepared for a record 21-foot crest Friday.

The Red Cross said it expects to remove another 1,500 families, bringing to 4,300 the number of persons made homeless since the Cedar, the Kickapoo in Wisconsin and scores of smaller waterways swelled under rain and melted snow, covering thousands of acres of rich midwestern farm and pasture land.

Warm air and generally fair to partly cloudy skies were in store for floodworkers in eastern Iowa, southwest Wisconsin and northern Illinois.

The Weather Bureau said most of the warmth was associated with winds drifting north from Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas.

A vigorous storm system battered Texas and Arkansas, a tornado was sighted near Holden, Okla., and gusts up to 60 miles per hour raked Tallahassee, Fla. Wednesday night.

Pilots Sponsor Easter Movie

"I Beheld His Glory" a movie on the life of Christ in keeping with the Easter season will be presented by the Sanford Pilot Club with proceeds going to their Milk Fund.

It will be shown at the Civic Center at 7:30 and 8:45 p.m. Friday.

The public is requested to contact their local merchants for tickets to this movie in support of a humanitarian cause.

Seven Last Words Good Friday Theme

"The Seven Last Words," chosen by Sanford Area Assn. ministers for Good Friday services, will be heard at the First Presbyterian Church from noon until 3 p.m. The schedule for the three-hour service has Rev. John Adams speaking on "Forgiveness" from noon until 12:25 p.m.; Rev. Joseph Stock, "Pardon," 12:25 until 1:30 p.m.; Rev. I. W. Justice, "Love," 1:30 until 1:45 p.m.; R. L. Clark, "Loneliness," 1:45 p.m. until 1:55 p.m.; Rev. Robert Strickland, "Human Need," 1:55 p.m. until 2:05 p.m.; Rev. Cecil Seale, "Triumph," 2:05 p.m. until 2:45 p.m.; and Rev. Hugh Booth, "Reunion," 2:45 p.m. until 3 p.m. Special music will be provided by association churches. Rev. Hugh Booth will deliver the benediction.

Castroites Catch 12 Terrorists

HAVANA (UPI) — The government today announced the capture of 12 rebel terrorists in Havana, including the son of a top Cuban exile leader now in Miami.

Major Raul Castro's Armed Forces Ministry said a 10-member terrorist group was seized in a downtown apartment.

The county commissioners have just about given up the idea on microfilming all the records in the courthouse because of the excessive costs. They are now considering insuring all the records in the courthouse at a cost of $395 per year.

Sanford Citizens, meeting at the Sea Shell Restaurant at 7 p.m. today, will devote their meeting entirely to business with no special program planned this week.

College Riots Caused By Idle Boredom, Liquor And Punks

EDITOR'S NOTE: For the first time in the years-long history of the spring-vacation trek of college students to their romance mecca, Fort Lauderdale, rioting broke out this week when mobs of youngsters defied police authority. UPI Correspondent H. D. Quigg arrived during a riot Monday night to study the troubled situation on the storied beach which is the setting of the book and the recent motion picture "Where the Boys Are." Here is his report.

FORT LAUDERDALE (UPI)—The sign at the outskirts of town reads: "Welcome to Fort Lauderdale." And underneath in small letters that almost seem an afterthought, it says: "Have Fun."

As the Easter weekend approaches, the small word "fun" has worked itself from a tickle of pleasure to a throbbing migraine headache for this lovely, palm-fringed, town-in-the-sun.

At mid-week some wag stuck a sign up at the city jail entrance saying: "Where the Boys Are." It was entirely correct. The girls who were arrested were sent to another jail. About 400 students have been arrested. More than 200 male students were in jail Wednesday.

The trouble is a compound of ideal boredom and liquor—but it has been catalyzed by a mixture of local punks and pug-uglies and callow, beer-sourly high school youths. The police allowed them to take over a state highway paralleling the beach in bottle-throwing, firecracker-popping melees for two nights and then, wary of trying to be nice, slapped them down.

Police barricaded the roads leading to the beach area and screened out the carloads of local sightseers and high-schoolers. They let no knots of persons congregate except at a roped-off section of highway set aside for college dancing—a mile and a half north of the spot of the riots. And so, comparative—but tense—quiet was brought to the night in the strip "where the boys are," from the place called the Elbow Room (beer and whisky) to the apartments named—so help me—Carmelita.

By day, the scene has been good. Thousands of college students on the brown-yellow sand and sidewalks. A pale moon riding high over the Atlantic. Sunburns and garish attire—sweaters, blazers, jackets with names of a myriad colleges and student societies. One little brunette with a sweat-shirt lettered "U.S.A. Drinking Team." Students singing in groups.

And most of these kids are not rioters, although many of them have got themselves worked up in the bars on beer and spirits during the long afternoons. Most of them just "went along with the mob" to watch.

This town is sorely troubled at the problem. But it is not a town engulfed by trouble or taken over by young fry on the loose. Fort Lauderdale and environs comprise about 80 square miles. There are 500 miles of streets. The student trouble has been in one beach area of only about six blocks.

A gentle southeast breeze wafted over the breakers Monday at 11 p. m. as this observer walked south down the beach toward the corner where a riot the night before had been quelled with the aid of fire hoses.

The street along the beach is Atlantic Blvd., which is also Highway A1A. The police had blocked it off a few blocks from the corner of Las Olas Blvd. because now for the second night a mob—or maybe "unruly crowd" is a better word—had formed and blocked it at the corner. The crowd grew from 3,000 to 5,000. The number of students in town has been estimated variously by authorities from 15,000 to 35,000. Las Olas runs at right angles westward, over the inland waterway and into the city. The unruly corner always has been a sort of "drugstore corner" for local youth even in the off-season. Mayor Edward H. Johns has said "for them it's Times Square, and there's no getting away from it."

The crowd was surging around, cheering, chanting amid firecracker reports, giving the police a hard time when suddenly, at 11:15 a boy in white shorts and a checked sports shirt shinned up a 25-foot pole and started doing stunts on a long arm that angles over the street to hold a traffic light. The crowd cheered his every move, booed the police who told him to come down. The mayor, agitated, asked for order and got hooded. He was on a balcony with a loudspeaker.

Most of the crowd was just watching good naturedly.

This eruption of violence will seem strange to oldsters who remember beautiful Fort Lauderdale from their college days. The annual heira from the campus to this beach is popularly stated to have started 16 years ago. But old timers say they can remember that in the 1930s, this was a spring-vacation center for collegians.

Fort Lauderdale has an 85,000 permanent population, which swells to around 150,000 at the peak of the winter season. It is used to influxes, but as editor and publisher Jack W. Gore of the Fort Lauderdale News says: "You cannot stick 15,000 kids in a six-block area and not have trouble."

"There are a lot of phonies in there, and a lot of high school punks looking for trouble. Ninety percent of these college kids are good kids. They live on the beach, taking a rest from exams. Most of them come by car. They leave a lot of money here, when you figure they come and go over a period of four to five weeks and stay five days per kid."

Police Chief J. Lester Holt, 45, a square-jawed former infantryman and professional waterweight boxer, said emphatically that the police patience "is wearing a little thin."

Holt said 40 percent of the people in the Monday-night mob were "residents of this county," that someone "could well have been killed." He said he was against giving the students a beach where they could drink: "If someone gets drowned, who will have condoned it?"

On the beach, a carload of girls from Michigan State pulled to a curb. "It's a shame, like Newport," said straw-skimmered Sheila Blimon, 19, of Grosse Pointe, Mich. "It's too bad, the majority disapproved it," said Leigh Campbell, 20, of Fowler, Mich.

Asked what caused the mob, Doris Anderson, 20, of Chicago, said: "Too much drinking—they want to let off steam. We were here last week and it wasn't bad at all—very nice."

The girls drove down in 35 hours in the convertible of blonde Diana Bob, 31, of Detroit, who said several girls were living in one apartment a mile and a half inland: "We've been living for 50 cents a day apiece for food—been buying all our food and cooking it. We spend the afternoon at the beach and go back and cook again. Usually we find someone to take us to breakfast. How? They find us."

Carl (Butch) MacCartee, 20, (he has a butch haircut) a Duke University sophomore, said this was his third trip here and that "this year too many came at once—also, you only got so much money and you don't want to take a girl to the bar at night, you want to take 'em on the beach."

That nothing-to-do theme is the alleged cause of the trouble. The students in previous years have had night blanket and bonfire and beer parties on Jade Beach, a privately owned beach seven miles to the north, and on the municipal beach at Dania, the next town to the south. But Jade Beach was closed this year, and Dania prohibited the students.

Fort Lauderdale does not allow parties at night on its public beach, and there can be no beer drinking on it at any time. Drinking is in the bars. They, too, began closing when the Sunday riot started.

In the City Commission room, four commissioners and Mayor Johns heard suggestions on what to do. The mayor said: "Monday night we cut off Atlantic Blvd. and let them in there and what did they do? Stood and posed for television. There were a lot of local hangers-on. They're not all bad. I counted 70 Sunday in church. But when we tried to talk to them out there, they booted. I tell you, the language they used was disgraceful."

"If some of them can't act like ladies and gentlemen, let them get out. We were very lucky there was not somebody killed."

A white-haired former professor Earl Fleischman, proposed a five-point program including special Good Friday services, a dance, and a field meet to help rid congestion on the beaches.

William Weir, past president of the Apartment House Association, said the students do not want planned entertainment.

Fleischman started to interject what they wanted and Weir snapped: "I'll tell you what they want, sir." The mayor ordered the remark stricken from the record. Weir said he thought, in view of the students' arrogance, "we had some adverse publicity — not 'Where the Boys Are,' but 'Where the Boys Shouldn't Be.'"

Scouts Present Program At Enterprise

By HELEN SNODGRASS

Three Girl Scout Troops combined their talents to present an interesting and colorful program at a meeting of the Enterprise Parent-Teacher Council held at the school.

DeBary Intermediate Troop 20 handled the flag salute, devotions and introductions and members of Enterprise Brownie Troop 41 staged a puppet show entitled "Juliette and the Girl Scouts."

Hats representing the 11 fields of scouting and "The Birthday Years" were modeled in an advance "Easter Parade" by 13 girls of Troop 20 and Intermediate Troop 108 of Enterprise presented "A Round The World in Eight Minutes." In this production, copies of scout and guide uniforms from 50 countries were shown before a background setting which featured a large blue and gold World Association emblem surrounded by flags of many nations.

The humorous monologue, "Camper's Letter Home," was read by an Intermediate and the finale had all 34 girls seated around a campfire singing songs. The closing number, "Taps," was sung to the harmonica accompaniment played by a leader and was closed again as the curtains closed.

During the business session which followed, Mrs. J. W. Brenner, chairman of the spaghetti supper held March 14, reported that a profit of $107.53 was made on the event. A percentage of this sum still is to be paid to the Seventh Grade class for ticket-selling services.

Mrs. Donald Drach, landscaping committee chairman, reported that although work around the new cafeteria is nearly completed, additional plant donations will allow the committee to further enlarge the landscaping work.

A report from Mrs. J. Sweeney on the cost of draperies for use in the auditorium resulted in a council vote to purchase venetian blinds which are less expensive.

An approving vote also was given for a letter to be written requesting that the legislature allow the kindergarten program to be continued in Volusia County.

The proposed move of Enterprise seventh and eighth grades to DeLand next fall was discussed by J. M. Smiley, J. F. McCallum and E. G. Dunn, principal of the Osceola School. The guests also answered many questions on the issue.

Room count, by a close margin, was taken by the fourth grade and mothers of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades were in charge of refreshments.

Central Baptists Plan Easter Events

Activities for members of the Central Baptist Church during the days preceding Easter include an egg hunt for the Beginner Department from 2 until 4 p. m. Friday at the church; one for the Primary Sunday School Classes on Saturday from 3 p. m. until 4 p. m. and a visit at 10 a. m. Friday to the County Home WMU members.

Supervising the Beginner's hunt will be Mrs. Bobbie Jean Reaves, department superintendent, and Mrs. Thelma Maddox, Mrs. June Bagwell and Mrs. Mary Cameron teachers.

In charge of the Primary entertainment will be Mrs. Phyllis Nash, superintendent, and Mrs. Margaret Dillard, Mrs. Eloise Chester, Mrs. Nell Bellock, Mrs. Lillian LaRoche and Mrs. Edith Cason, teachers.

Members of the Missionary Society will present the older citizens who reside at the County Home with a large Easter Basket containing gifts for all.

Holy Week Rites Recall Last Supper

United Press International

In Holy Week services today through Sunday, Protestant and Roman Catholic Christians will commemorate the climactic events in the life of Jesus.

Today's "Maundy Thursday" services recall Jesus' Last Supper with His disciples, from which stemmed the central rite of Christian worship, known variously as the Eucharist, the Mass, the Lord's Supper and Holy Communion.

It was during the Last Supper, in the upper room of a home in Jerusalem, that Jesus washed the feet of His disciples, as a lesson in humility, and distributed bread and wine as symbols of His body and blood, soon to be sacrificed for them.

In Good Friday services, Christians will remember the agony of Jesus' crucifixion by Roman soldiers on a hill named Calvary, just outside of Jerusalem. Many churches will conduct three-hour services, from noon until 3 p. m., the hours during which Jesus hung on the cross.

Despite the grim nature of the event it commemorates, the Friday of Holy Week is called "good" because on that day, Christians believe, Jesus achieved an eternal reconciliation between the holiness of God and the sinfulness of man.

Business Briefs

Florida Lake-Park Properties, Inc. has purchased from Plantation Estates, Inc. all of the latter's property in DeBary, consisting of over 500 platted lots and approximately 190 acres immediately adjoining the present subdivision, it was announced today by Dorothy Greig Wheeler, president, from the company's New York office at 23 West 42nd St., N. Y. C.

"For the past two years our company has been purchasing property in this central highland section of Florida," Mrs. Wheeler said. "This new purchase includes a mile-and-a-half of waterfront property on the DeBary Lagoon which our company plans to develop into waterfront homesites."

Mrs. Wheeler said that Florida Lake-Park Properties, Inc. is already advertising the homesites at DeBary in New York City at prices ranging from $890 to $3,800 per homesite depending on size and location.

Eichmann Trial In Israel To Get Plenty Of Coverage

JERUSALEM (UPI)—Twelve reporters and photographers, under the direction of Harry Ferguson, general European news manager, will cover the trial of Adolf Eichmann for United Press International.

A special UPI bureau has been set up in the courthouse where Eichmann will be tried, starting April 11, for his part in the mass killing of Jews during the regime of Adolf Hitler in Germany.

The bureau is being equipped with special circuits, one direct to the London bureau where dispatches will be fed into the UPI's world wide communications system. The others are radio-telephoto beam-casts for transmission of pictures to London and Rome for worldwide distribution.

Ferguson, who covered the recent London spy trial, will write the main leads for afternoon newspapers. Joseph W. Grigg, chief correspondent for Europe, with headquarters in Paris, will write the leads for morning newspapers. Grigg was a member of UPI's Berlin staff when war broke out between Germany and the United States and was interned for five months at Bad Nauheim, Germany.

Eliav Simon, manager of the Tel Aviv bureau, and four of his staff also have been assigned to the trial.

James Spencer, London picture editor, will head the news picture staff including Henry Parker, chief European telephoto engineer, and photographers Luciano Melace and Renzo Brizzi from Rome and Harry Hermann, resident staffer in Israel.

A topic of continuing interest and controversy is this: Should the name of a juvenile offender be made public when he commits a felony?

Thus far this year we have had youngsters taken into custody on charges from petty larceny to breaking and entering to grand theft.

However, if the youngster is under 18, state law says you cannot publish the names.

We believe that the public should be informed and take appropriate action in the hope that the threat of publicity would make potential offenders think twice; to encourage parents to exercise more control over their children and most important—because a juvenile who commits a felony isn't entitled to any more protection than an adult.

WASHINGTON

by Ed Koterba

WASHINGTON — A lot of intimate little White House secrets, leaked for eight years within the Eisenhower administration, have been sneaking to the surface.

For one, there is the revelation that President Eisenhower directed the nation's business through a private office—wearing golf shoes.

This personal tidbit was not relayed by President Kennedy himself, as have some other entertaining morsels, but it was uncovered by photographers through a Sherlock Holmes kind of deduction.

The cameramen, permitted into the first-floor private office of the chief executive, found the tell-tale evidence — clear marks just outside the rim of the presidential oval rug.

The floor is of highly-polished hard cork. The dents in the floor make a trail to the door leading to the office of the presidential personal secretary.

At a spot where the door swings open, photographers found one large depression in the cork.

It was apparent that the hole was made by the cleat of a twisting shoe, at the point where President Eisenhower turned his body while opening the door to summon personal secretary Ann Whitman through the years.

But one mystery remains: Did the practice tee shots in the private office? It had been rumored that he often did, when weather was bad for any outdoor practice.

That's a question that perhaps only President Eisenhower himself can answer.

Then there was the secret about what happened to Harry Truman's name during Eisenhower's eight years. The secret was disclosed not long ago—by Harry Truman himself.

The old warhorse was taken on a conducted tour of the executive mansion by President Kennedy. This was Harry's first visit to his old stomping grounds since that day he took the long ride to the capital for Ike's inauguration in 1953.

REFEREE! STOP THE FIGHT!

CROSSROADS OF THE WORLD

By William Drury

My friend Millie loves to tell jokes but can never remember a punch line. I do not recall ever having heard the end of a tale told by Millie, for she is utterly incapable of getting to the point.

She can ramble on for an hour, and then fizzle out, but nobody minds. Those of us who know Millie never find her stories dull. In fact, we think she is one of the funniest raconteurs in this world.

Chiefly because of the hilarious things she does to the Queen's English.

It is not certain whether Millie ever heard of Mrs. Malaprop, that delightful character in Sheridan's "Rivals" whose genius for murdering the English language brought her undying fame and gave the dictionaries a new word: "Malapropism."

Millie is the Mrs. Malaprop of our time. Her own priceless boners are known as millipropisms.

I remember the day we met. "Let's sit down," said Millie, "and have a good earth to earth talk."

It was more of a moon to earth talk. Much of what she said was out of this world and away over my head.

However, we made progress. As Millie herself said later: "We got along like a horse on fire."

The best fenders on her aging automobile may be regarded as symbols of the manner in which Millie cheerfully barges through life. And through all language barriers.

Once, some purist questioned her use of the word "irreverent" and was ill-mannered enough to suggest that she did not know what it meant.

"Certainly I know," said Millie. "Irreverent means not kosher."

Another millipropism was born the day she tried to describe to a tourist how Hawaiians prepare a pig for a luau.

"They put hot rocks in its stomach," she explained, "and steam it in an underground oven. Then, when it's been immunized . . ."

"Immunized?" asked the tourist. "Against what?"

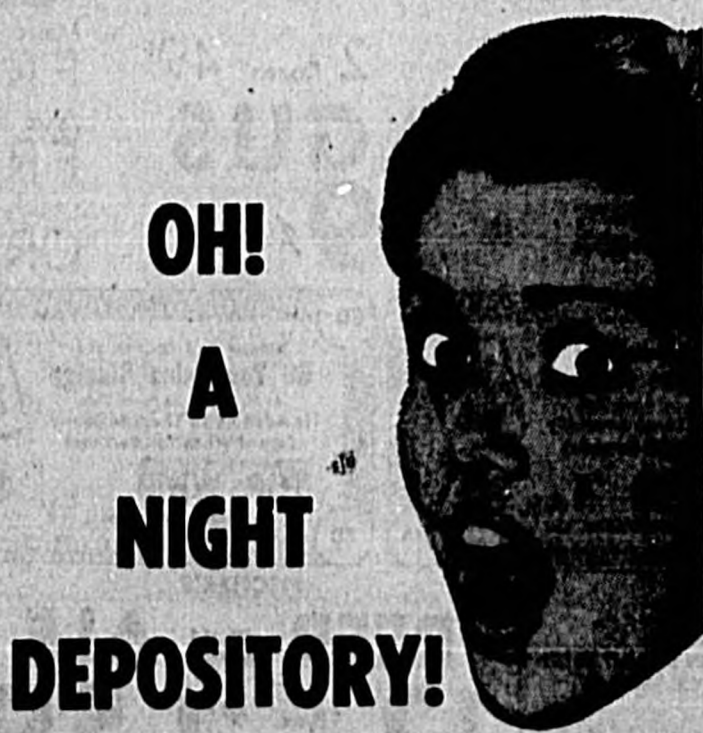

He pictured the pig's being jabbed with a hypodermic needle.

"No," said Millie, "that's the way it is cooked. They do it in this underground oven called an imu."

FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS & LOAN ASSOCIATION

THE WORRY CLINIC by Dr. George Crane

Want to be a popular public speaker? Then avoid Fred's error. Any intelligent person can put together the makings for an interesting speech in a few hours, if he follows the proper psychological formula.

CASE H-446: Fred T., aged 44, recently gave a lecture on labor relations. A large crowd of people filled the auditorium.

"But he was terribly dry and uninteresting," my secretary later informed me.

"Although he was a distinguished looking man, he actually put us to sleep."

"In the first place he read his speech from a manuscript; besides, he never told a single story or joke. There wasn't even one laugh in the solid hour that he spoke."

"The crowd was soon bored to death. Several of them began dozing in my row before he got halfway through his address."

"It was too bad, moreover, because this weekly lecture series had been developing momentum."

"Now it has had a setback. It will be harder to get a crowd out for the speaker next week."

Isn't it a tragedy that smart men or women with a wealth of interesting experience, still don't know how to "package" their ideas attractively?

Some of the best orators in the world are in the pulpits of America but, alas, some clergy still are very poor orators.

Despite 25 years of sermonizing, these clergymen still have not learned the simple formula for interesting a crowd. But Jesus showed it to them repeatedly!

And others from business or professional fields, seem oblivious to these same psychological axioms for a good speech.

Every intelligent individual can soon learn to make an interesting talk. There is a definite formula for so doing.

And it isn't very difficult to follow the directions, except for the initial stage fright that all beginners will suffer.

That stage fright wears off considerably with practice, but not entirely. For every good speaker is always keyed up before an address, even if he is a professional.

Here is the surefire formula for making an interesting talk, sermon or address.

First, pick out a text to serve as your central motif. It is the major destination for your forerunner's journey and helps you keep on the main highway.

Second, dig up several relevant stories that will help advance your idea toward its logical conclusion.

By "stories," I refer not necessarily to humor or anecdotes, but to narrative episodes with a moral or logical point that fits into the theme of your address. Use cases from real life.

People always enjoy narration, so they will listen with rapt attention to a discussion of the Einstein theory or the composition of bricks, if you can do so via a chain of stories.

This technique is called the "anecdotal method." It is popular with the audience and easy on the speaker, for the latter doesn't have to memorize an "essay" type of talk. Christ used it routinely as the theme of his parables.

It is helpful to be enthusiastic and fervent in your message. Remember, the hotter the fire, the quicker the kettle boils.

A livewire, fervent speaker warms up the audience more quickly. It catches its enthusiasm from the speaker, or conversely grows cold and sleepy if he acts dull and sluggish.

Keep a few jokes in reserve to use in an explosive way to waken the crowd or bring it back to a polarized condition with yourself as the focal point.

Never read a speech, unless over the radio where that may be required. Use a few notes, partly to reassure yourself, though you may never look at them.

For further advice, send for my booklet "Public Platform Strategy," enclosing a stamped return envelope and 20 cents.

Remember, it takes a livewire in the pulpit to electrify a congregation!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Titan Scores Another Success

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — An Air Force Titan missile, facing a possible 15 percent cutback in its military future, soared 5,000 miles Tuesday night to its 23rd test success in 31 firings.

A recovery ship roaming the target area near Ascension Island, off the west coast of Africa, picked up within two hours a small data capsule expected to yield more detailed information on the 80-minute trip.

The 98-foot missile was launched before an audience that included Canadian Defense Minister Douglas Harkness and Evangelist Billy Graham.

The success represented an even split in a pair of launchings here Tuesday. An Air Force advanced model Mace missile, triggered on a planned 1,000-mile flight, lost electrical power at blast-off and crashed on the Cape's barren tip after flying less than one mile.

Despite Tuesday night's shot, it was a bad day for the Titan program. In proposals submitted to Congress, President Kennedy sought to reduce the number of Titan missile squadrons from 14 to 12 in favor of buying more of the faster-firing Minutemen ICBMs.

Kennedy Nears Sugar Bill Signing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy was expected shortly to sign into law a compromise 15-month extension of the Sugar Act, which expires at midnight Friday.

The Senate and House rushed the bill to passage Wednesday night and sent it to the White House. It was not certain when Kennedy, who requested the extension, would sign it.

Within minutes, a Senate-House conference committee ironed out differences between the two versions, the Senate shouted approval and the House followed suit.

The Senate originally had approved a 15-month extension of the act with a last-minute amendment to favor U.S. sugar beet and cane growers in splitting the 3.3 million ton quota taken away from Cuba. The conference committee knocked out the amendment.

The House had voted a 21-month extension, without the special consideration for American growers. House conferees then agreed to the shorter-term extension, in return for killing the favored-growers amendment.

The measure would give Kennedy power to cut off the $90,000,000 share of the Cuban quota earmarked for the Dominican Republic.

The congressional news: Aid: House investigators were planning to quiz government officials about the $200,000 Peruvian cattle business holdings of the man who headed the U.S. foreign aid program in Peru. The man in question, John R. Neale, was found guilty of "conflict of interest" by a board of inquiry of the International Cooperation Administration. ICA officials were summoned to testify at the House government operations subcommittee hearing.

Jobless: A House-Senate conference committee Wednesday okayed a $700 million appropriation to finance immediate jobless payments. The House later concurred with the item, which is part of the administration's plan to continue payments to unemployed persons who have exhausted regular state benefits.

DeBary Hears

Opera Group

By MRS. ADAM MULLER
The DeBary Opera Group presented an evening of music Tuesday at the Community Center after which contributions were received for the Center expansion building fund.

Master of ceremonies for the evening's entertainment was James Duffy who spoke briefly on selections from various operas by the masters and light operas by noted composers.

Featured artists of the program included Robert N. McGee, baritone; Isabel Rearick, soprano; Florence St. Amand, soprano; Janet Smith, soprano; Mildred Blair, contralto; Laura Platt Brown and Theresa Kucecz, pianists, and Mrs. Adam Muller, contralto.

Mrs. Charles Bertsch directed the entire chorus in the closing selection, "The Angel's Chorus."

The meeting will be held in the school auditorium at 8 p.m. next Tuesday and an announcement has been made that no soon visitor will be included in the program.

The P-TA Executive Board, which met Tuesday, has reported that plans for a turkey dinner on May 13 will be discussed at the membership meeting and a proposal to have school children's teeth checked by a county dentist also will be made.

Action on bids for paving the asphalt playground area is scheduled and announcement will be made that the Brownies and Cub Scouts have donated their services for landscaping and beautifying the playground area when the work is completed.

Arms Debate In United Nations May Be Put Off Until Fall

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI)—A United States-Soviet agreement to put off the disarmament debate in the United Nations until next fall was expected to win speedy approval today from the 99-nation world organization.

The agreement to drop the controversial cold war issue from the agenda of the current assembly was reached after weeks of private talks between U. S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

The United States had pressed for a postponement to give President Kennedy's arms policies a chance to jell as well as to avert acrimonious debate in the assembly which is still struggling over the Congo and other issues. Stevenson and Gromyko were reported to have agreed to forego disarmament debate until the next session of the assembly and to continue talks for a resumption of the East-West negotiations this summer.

The assembly's target date for adjournment is April 21. By that time, it is expected to dispose of the Congo political question, the financing of the UN operations in the Congo, the question of the Palestinian Arab refugees, the apartheid issue in South Africa and a raft of budgetary and minor "housekeeping" questions.

Stripling Ends Engineer's Course

By MONA GRINDSTEAD

Ruell Stripling who has been with the North Orlando Utility Co. for the past three years, recently completed the annual course for Water Works engineers which is held by the State Board of Health.

Instructors came from the University of Florida and the State Health Dept. and general supervisor of the course, was Gordon Folke, district health engineer.

Stripling, upon receipt of his state license, will take over as head engineer at the North Orlando Water Co. and advises that any resident with water problems may contact him during the week or, on weekends, contact Councilman Clarence Memory at his home or through the North Orlando police by calling officer Jack Sutton.

Easter Token Cops Derby

Easter Token proved her victory in a qualifying race last Friday was no fluke by stepping to an impressive triumph in the 24th annual Central Florida Derby Wednesday night at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club.

Fred Whitehead's speedy 55-pound miss led all the way to win by a length and a half over Andie, the defending champion. It was the seventh victory in 24 starts for Easter Token who paid $10.50 on the nose for his win last night.

Andie ran a strong race and didn't miss making it two Derby crowns in a row by much. Mike Castellani's $30,000 winner took second at the first turn about four lengths off Easter Token's pace, but couldn't quite close the gap.

Punky Girl, a 10 to 1 shot, closed well to finish third.

Joe Haynes, former big league pitching star who is now executive vice president of the Minnesota Twins, and Mrs. Haynes made the trophy presentation. Sanford-Orlando track General Manager Jack Ledoux and Mrs. Ledoux joined in the ceremonies with trainer George Manderville accepting the coveted award for the Whitehead kennel.

The Sanford-Orlando track closes its record campaign with matinee and night programs Monday. Fabulous Super Foam, who has won four straight races in her maiden season, gets her first start in a main event tonight at the club.

The 58-pound, two-year-old owned by Fred Whitehead has won four of her only five starts this year. She failed to win only the first race of her career and was bumped on the break then. Her times have been superior in all her starts and the beautiful red brindle could easily become one of the top main event runners during the next three nights of racing — all that remains on the SOKC program.

Hobby Hour Ranch's Earnhart is also in the featured ninth and will be out to win his ninth race of the year. W. A. McCarty has won seven times and placed five going into tonight's race.

Other greyhounds in the field are Aunt Hortie, Petri, Super Chappie, Kinvara and Arlene Nug.

DESPITE THE determined look, Roger Maris of the New York Yankees is fooled by an outside pitch in batting practice at Al Lang Field in St. Petersburg. Jesse Gonder is the catcher. Manager Ralph Houk is highly interested observer behind the batting cage.

Commissioner Bill Urged For Boxing

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Stranding No. 1 heavyweight contender Sonny Liston "mob controlled," Sen. Estes Kefauver has introduced legislation to create a national professional boxing commissioner.

The Tennessee Democrat told the Senate Wednesday that the commissioner should be given enough federal power to deliver a knockout blow against "underworld control of boxing."

He singled out Liston as an example of a fighter controlled by racketeers, listing Frank (Blinky) Palermo, John Vitale and Frank Carbo. He termed them "three powerful racketeers" operating through a "front manager," Joseph (Pop) Barone.

Kefauver warned that if Liston should be matched against world champion Floyd Patterson, and win, "we face the ugly prospect of having the heavyweight championship revert to mob control."

The boxing control bill would empower the national commissioner to conduct a five-year clean-up drive.

Kefauver, chairman of the Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee, said his aim was to "aid the states in their efforts to drive the racketeers out of boxing."

The bill would empower the commissioner to license professional boxers, managers, promoters and matchmakers. The new federal boxing czar would operate within the Department of Justice.

To strengthen the clean-up role, the bill calls for stiff criminal penalties for violations, and permits the commissioner to use the FBI for investigations.

Top Fight Pros Cite Need To Clean Up Sport

NEW YORK (UPI)—Boxing's greatest names — from Jack Dempsey to Floyd Patterson—today endorsed a congressional bill that would establish a national commissioner to clean up the sport.

"It's about time somebody decided to do something about boxing," Dempsey said when he learned Sen. Estes Kefauver introduced legislation Wednesday that would place professional boxing under strong federal control.

"Anything would help right now and I sure hope those fellows in Washington pass the bill," Dempsey added.

Sugar Ray Robinson was the only boxing figure polled by United Press International who did not favor the appointment of a national czar.

"I don't think a commissioner is the solution," said the former middleweight champion. "He would just enforce the rules and regulations. It's a much bigger job than that. I've been boxing 22 years and would be happy to show Mr. Kefauver how to rectify the situation if he asks me."

Patterson pointed out that "a lot of guys in boxing would run the minute a commissioner is appointed."

"I'm all for it," the heavyweight champion added. "It would be a wonderful thing."

Dr. Dan O. Kilroy, chairman of the California State Athletic Commission, said his group favored the bill because it would force every state to honor license suspensions and revocations.

Tony Galento, one-time heavyweight challenger, hailed the proposal as "a great idea" which should bring boxing back to where it should be.

"There are a bunch of people—you know what I mean—undesirable people in boxing now who shouldn't be in it," Tony declared. "Maybe this commissioner guy could give 'em the old heave."

Clutch Drive Wins For Hamm's

DETROIT (UPI)—The Hamm's team of Chicago, deprived of at least a share of the 1960 American Bowling Congress team title by a single pin, put on a great clutch performance here Wednesday night to take the classic division lead in the 1961 tournament.

After an opening 2934 block, the Hamm's club totaled 2976 Wednesday night in its second series for a 5910 six-game total. They took the lead away from the pick-up Continental Plastics of Roseville, Mich., who had led with 5903.

A dramatic spare by anchorman Ed Kawolicek, bowling in his 30th consecutive ABC tournament, brought the Hamm's team the classic division lead.

Last year at Toledo the Hamm's had bowled a 8095 while the winning A & A Asphalt of Birmingham, Mich., captured the crown with 3096.

$100,000 Side Bet Looms In Laurel Match Race Soon

LAUREL, Md. (UPI)—Jerome Derenzo, owner of April Skies, has accepted an offer to pit his horse against Tudor Way in a match race, and speculation today was that the event would be held here in about two weeks.

The challenge, which was issued by an associate of Juan D'Agostino, Tudor Way's owner, also called for a $100,000 side bet on the race, with winner taking all.

Bad feeling had been precipitated between the two owners by a casual remark issued by Gene Semler, April Skies' trainer, prior to last Saturday's $100,000 added Campbell Handicap at Bowie in which Semler lightly dismissed Tudor Way.

As it turned out, the Argentine horse was scratched when he was grounded in Florida and April Skies finished second by less than a length to Conestoga.

The two horses have met once, in the Palm Beach Handicap at seven furlongs, and April Skies was the winner. April Skies went on to take the Florida spring championship.

In accepting the challenge Wednesday, Derenzo suggested the match race be held at seven furlongs since the Tudor Way camp feels its horse should have won that first meeting.

Tudor Way has won five of eight starts in the United States, including the $100,000 added Gulfstream Park Handicap earlier this month, while April Skies won five stakes events during the winter season in Florida.

Sheldon Could Be Top Yank Prospect

United Press International
There will be a lot of new faces on the scene when the 1961 major league baseball season opens in 11 days, and one of them could be young Roland Sheldon.

Sheldon, a 21-year-old University of Connecticut "phenom" who hung up a 15-1 record last year with Auburn (N. Y.) of the Pennsylvania-New York League, turned in five more shutout innings Wednesday to send the New York Yankees on their way to a 5-3 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

That gave Sheldon, who is attempting to become one of a handful of players to make the big jump from Class D to the majors, a total of 14 innings, pitched in spring practice games in which he has allowed only three runs and 15 hits for a 1.93 earned run average.

Yankee Manager Ralph Houk

was practically bustin' his buttons with pride over Sheldon's latest performance, and Detroit General Manager Rick Ferrell, who took in the game at Miller Huggins Field in St. Petersburg, Fla., echoed Houk's praise.

"This boy has very good control and a fast curve," Ferrell observed. "It's no secret my club is hurting for pitchers, and I'll tell you one thing, if we had this kid, I know I'd look at him a long time."

As the game turned out, the Tigers were doing a lot of looking, too. Sheldon, a native of Woodstock, Conn., who received a $50,000 bonus for signing with the Yankees a year ago, merely breezed through the Detroit line-up, and one of the hits he gave up was a slow roller which just stayed fair.

The Yankee pitching staff has been Houk's biggest headache this spring. The club lost four pitchers in the American League grab bag to staff the new clubs at Los Angeles and Washington and the holdovers have been raked over fairly regularly in exhibition games. With the exception of Sheldon's work, there has been little to brighten Houk's optimism for the coming season.

Meanwhile, Robin Roberts of the Phillies, a former bonus baby who pitched a total of only 96 innings of minor league ball, looks about ready for an opening day assignment.

5-4 victory over the Cincinnati Reds' "B" team; the Red Sox nipped the Indians, 6-4; the White Sox whipped the Dodgers, 10-6; the Athletics clipped the Cardinals, 3-2; the Braves toppled the Minnesota Twins, 6-2; the Giants shutout the Cubs, 8-0; and the Orioles shaded the Reds, 9-8, in other games.

Wild Action Sparks NBA Cage Playoffs

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—"What a series!"

St. Louis Hawks Coach Paul Seymour was trying to speak above the jubilant shouts and celebrating of his players, who fought like cornered cats Wednesday night and beat the Los Angeles Lakers, 114-113, in a wild overtime.

The Hawk victory forced the National Basketball Association Western Division playoffs into the final seventh game, which will be played in St. Louis Saturday on national television. The winner meets Boston for the NBA championship.

St. Louis was in a precarious position before the game, playing without injured center Clyde Lovellette on the Lakers' home court, and with Los Angeles having to win to take the series. Except for the injury, the Hawks had the same task last season and won.

The Lakers trailed in the game by 16 points at one time but fought back to tie it, 90-90, at 4:24 left in the fourth quarter. Frank Selvy put Los Angeles ahead, 100-97, with 45 seconds left, but rookie guard Len Wilkins of the Hawks coolly put in three straight free throws in the closing moments to tie it, 100-100, and send the game into a five-minute overtime.

Laker Elgin Baylor fouled out with 2:10 left in the overtime, having scored 39 points and pulled down 21 rebounds. From that point, the Hawks stormed from behind and outscored Los Angeles, 11-6, with rookie Jerry West making all of the Lakers' points.

Los Angeles' Rudy La Russo missed two free throws with 37 seconds remaining.

The Hawks' all-pro forward, Bob Pettit, had 21 rebounds and 31 points. Woody Sauberry followed with 26 and Cliff Hagan had 22. West followed Baylor with 24 for Los Angeles.

Laker Coach Fred Schaus was grim.

"It's unfortunate we had in this game one of the officials (referring to Jim Duffy) whom the Hawks gave a night to this year," he said, admitting he probably would be fined by the league for his statement.

Americans consumed more than three billion quarts of ice cream in 1960.

Beach Party Honors Judy On Birthday

Miss Judy Lavender, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Lavender, celebrated her 15th birthday with a beach party last weekend.

A group of friends assembled at the Lavender home, 1107 Oak Ave., and Mrs. Lavender assisted by Mrs. W. W. Tyre, Mrs. L. T. Brown and Mrs. Willis Jones took the guests to New Smyrna Beach for the party, which lasted from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

JUDY LAVENDER

As soon as they arrived the honoree opened her many gifts, including a transistor radio from her parents. Some of the braver guests took a dip in the ocean and pictures were made of the festivities.

Hot dogs were roasted and lunch served at noon on the beach. A large birthday cake was decorated in white, with a "Happy Birthday Judy" and lavender candles arranged on the top.

Served with cake and hot dogs were salads, baked beans, potato chips, roasted marshmallows and cold drinks.

Guests included the honoree, Pat McGuire, from Jacksonville, Joe Purdy, Thad Boyd, Norma Whittem, Jimmy Touhy, Michelle Jones, Earl Black, Marilyn Hunt,

The Ladies of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, sponsored a "Kids Party", Friday night at the Holly Ave. Kindergarten.

The party room was decorated with balloons and works of art created by the (real) kindergarten children.

Each guest arrived in appropriate costumes of short dresses and pig tails, tied with ribbon. Lollipops, dolls, freckles and bubble gum were much in evidence.

Games were led by Jane Titshaw for the evening. Some of the games were Matching nursery rhymes, reciting them then making a rhyme, using the first line of the original as the beginning; an Easter egg hunt, a rope jumping contest and a race and contest to see who could solve a picture puzzle first.

Prizes were awarded to the winners including Betty Turner, LaVerne Wells, Betty Williams and Betty Hartz.

Mrs. Titshaw served refreshments to those present. Others attending were: Arthurene Cook, Pauline Goethe, Nan Fortner, Donice Ethridge, Vallie Wilson, Susie Calhoun and Myra Eisenhoff.

Spring Dresses For Her Evenings Personals

GAILE DUGAS
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK (NEA)—There's no single "look" for evening dresses this spring. Rather, there are bubble skirts and bias skirts, flounced skirts and slim, tiered skirts.

There's just as much variety in top treatments. While there's definitely more top than ever before, this wrap-up technique may be achieved via a cape stole, a cowl neckline dipping way down in back, cap sleeves or squared-off neckline with single straps.

Both the bias cut and the cowl neckline suggest the 1930s strongly. But they suggest; they do not copy. In heavy, fluid white crepe, the evening dress with bloused top and cowl neckline is very definitely 1961.

The bubble skirt is favored by many top designers for the full-length evening gown. Used in combination with a modified tank top, it may be done all in one fabric or in beaded or sequined silk to contrast with a plain skirt.

The woman who will take her evening dress short, sleek and simple will have no trouble finding what she wants this spring. She can pick from a sheath tiered from top to hem in lace so that it resembles a slim column.

Or, she can have a bloused top, crystal-beaded dress with straight-hanging narrowly pleated skirt. She can choose a very wide, flounced skirt with matching cape-stole in silk, a costume definitely suggesting the Spanish influence.

More American women will, of course, buy the short length in evening dresses again this spring. The full length evening gown is reserved for very formal affairs. There are lots of misty silk and silk chiffon prints this spring, many of them in muted shades of brown-and-gray.

The Porcupine Mountains in Michigan's upper peninsula rise to an elevation of 2,023 feet above sea level, one of highest land masses between the Adirondacks and the Black Hills. The "Porkies" are part of Michigan's Porcupine Mountain State Park, which, with its 87 thousand acres, is the largest state park in the nation.

FORMAL GOWN for spring evenings is in white silk chiffon. This Cecil Chapman design has tunic over skirt pleat-draped into gentle swirls. There's a big pink rose at the waist.

Story League Holds Easter Program

"Footprints of Great Christians and Easter", was the theme for the March meeting of the Sanford Story League. The group met Monday night at 8 p.m. at the Episcopal Parish House.

The program, planned and presented by Mrs. S. J. Nix, was one of the outstanding programs of the year.

The Concord Choir, from the First Baptist Church, accompanied by Mrs. Marvin Millam, sang "Our Father in Heaven" and "Rise Arise." Mrs. R. F. Moule read the story of the first Easter, from the Bible.

Mrs. W. L. Roche told a very old legend which appears in the folklore of Jew, Persian and Gentile. It was entitled "Wings and a Happy Song."

Mrs. David Fauver read "Four Men of God," by Edgar Guest. The poem told of the sinking of the transport, Dorchester, and the four chaplains of different faiths who dared to die for their belief in ties of brotherhood.

Mrs. S. G. Harriman told the story of Cal Farley, using excerpts from the book "A Shirt Tail to Hang to," by Beth Day. The story told of the dream and inspiration of Cal Farley, who brought his dream to reality by building Boy's Ranch, in Amarillo, Texas.

A story told by Mrs. C. C. Welsh was a condensation from Dr. Tom Dooley's book, "The Night They Burned the Mountain." She vividly pictured the burning of the mountain and its meaning for Dr. Dooley.

Mrs. Eloise Pfeiffau concluded the program by singing "The Holy City", accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Clarence Snyder.

Mrs. Snyder, president welcomed two new members to the group. They were Mrs. Earl Heise, a former member of the Story League in Columbus, Ohio and Long Beach, Calif.

Mrs. Welsh, Mrs. E. C. Williams and Mrs. R. C. Maxwell were appointed to serve on the nominating committee.

Red and white floral arrangements were used throughout the Parish House and hostesses Mrs. Howard Fauver, Mrs. David Fauver, Mr. K. V. Mykkanen, Mrs. Nix and Mrs. Moule served cup cakes, candies, nuts and cold drinks to the large number of members and guests present for the meeting.

Rev. Hartley Honored At Dinner Party

Mr. and Mrs. George Allen and family were hosts at a dinner party, at their home in Longwood last week.

The party was in honor of Rev. Kenneth Hartley, of Cocoa Beach. The Christian Churches of Cocoa Beach and Casselberry have been conducting a contest for new Sunday School members at the Casselberry Church won.

Rev. Hartley has been visiting in Longwood and was entertained by various members in the area.

Training By The Letters
In the Army specialized-training programs of World War II, GI students were assigned to the various colleges by alphabetical listing. As a result, out of 300 soldiers arriving at one small college in the South, 297 were named Brown.

DeBary Couple Entertains At Dinner-Bridge

Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Brown of Madera Rd., Gem Lake, DeBary, entertained last week, with a St. Patrick's dinner party at their home.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Carol Blackburn, Mr. and Mrs. William Stephan, and Mr. and Mrs. H. Brebner of Orange City; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sparrow, Durard Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. Merton Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Anstey from DeLand.

The table and house decorations were in the St. Patrick theme, and was also carried out in the food served.

At the close of the dinner the guests played cards with prizes awarded to the winners.

Woman Designer Displays New Slim Fashions

PARIS (UPI) — Madame Gres, one of the few women designers who still makes an impact on the Paris fashion world, agreed with the men today that slim is the word for 1961.

"My spring styles are meant to make women slim and supple looking," she said as she displayed her spring collection.

Her slenderizing dresses had short kimono sleeves, supple bodices and hip-hugging skirts. She showed them in loosely woven wool fabrics and jersey.

Gres' version of the new Parisian navy-and-red color team was a slender navy blue crepe dress worn with a cape-sleeved coat reversible from navy to red.

The lovely, timeless evening dresses which she so expertly drapes in chiffon or jersey were shown in long, slim lines for spring and summer.

For stormy weather, Gres wrapped girls in plastic like meat or cheese. She presented slim, transparent plastic trousers worn with cone-shaped hooded capes as an over-all protection against rain.

Her newest beach idea comprised super-tight pedal-pushers topped with a long princess-flared tunic, both in lime-green linen.

BROWNIE TROOP 106

Brownies of Troop 106, which meets Monday afternoons at the Lake Mary Elementary School under the leadership of Mrs. Olan Boutwell and Mrs. Milton Sorokowsky, welcomed Mrs. Alvin Kilpatrick as their new leader, replacing Mrs. Lawrence Anglin, who has recently moved to Gainesville.

At their March 27 meeting, the girls put together styrofoam, flowers and Easter grass to form a tray favor. These were presented to Mrs. Lorraine Graham, who will deliver them to the Central Florida Tuberculosis Hospital, to delight the patients on Easter day.

The girls also practiced their "bula" and each was given a special job to do at the upcoming Girl Scout Fair.

Members of Troop 106 include: Ella Boutwell, Cheryl Cavitt, Carin Chapman, Iris Dominey, Cathy Dunn, Deborah Goerss, Sandy Hartwig, Susan Hartwig, Linda Kilpatrick, Kathy Kimmons, Jan McCracken.

Donna Manire, Phyllis Mitchell, Jay Morrison, Patti Rowell, Diane Sorokowsky, Barbara Fenn, Lucia Wallace and Beth Williams.

The most brainless animal in history was the Stegosaurus. It weighed six tons, but its brain was only 3 1/2 ounces and "it was probably only dimly aware it was alive."

Miss Connie Louise Brown To Marry Charles Dugan

Mrs. Lexton A. Brown, 2670 Magnolia Ave., Sanford, announces the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Connie Louise, to Charles Dugan, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Joseph Dugan, 827 Richmond Ave., Staten Island, N. Y.

Miss Brown is the daughter of the late Lexton Augusta Brown Sr. She was born in Sanford, attended local schools and was a member of the 1959 graduating class of Seminole High School. While in high school she was a member of the Glee Club, Triple Trio, Student Council and Tri-Hi Y. She is an active member of the Central Baptist Church and is employed by the Southern Bell Telephone Company, in Sanford.

The groom-elect was born in Staten Island, attended schools there and graduated from McKee Vocational and Technical High School in 1956.

He was recently discharged from the United States Marine Corp., where he was affiliated with the guard detachment at the Sanford Naval Air Station.

A May wedding is being planned. Complete plans to be announced at a later date.

Ta Prohm, an ancient Buddhist monastery in Cambodia, once required a staff of nearly 80 thousand persons. According to an inscription there, 12,640 persons were in residence, and 66,625 men and women supplied food and other services. Eighteen high priests and 2,740 ordinary priests presided at ceremonies.

MRS. W. L. ROCHE, left, Mrs. Eva Beckham, noble grand and Mrs. Auburn Rector, hostess, are shown at the refreshment table with some of Mrs. Roche's dolls at the silver tea.

Rebekahs Sponsor Silver Tea

A Silver tea sponsored by the Seminola Rebekah Lodge No. 43 was held recently at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Auburn Rector on the Old Orlando Highway.

Mrs. W. L. Roche presented her collection of 100 dolls for the pleasure of the guests. The collection included two dolls more than 75 years old, several German bisque over 60 years old and two Bylo German made dolls 35 years old. Two life size Dionne Quint dolls were made of Papier mache. There were also dolls in native costume from Japan, China, France, England, Holland, Korea, Greece and Portugal.

The tea table, in the Florida room was centered with a large fan shaped vase holding snapdragons. In front of the flowers were four 12 inch Chinese dolls, the bride and groom and the bride's parents.

Mrs. Mae Myers presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Robert Williams poured tea and coffee. Small cookies, candy, nuts, punch, tea and coffee were served.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I attended a dinner party recently where the subject of your column was discussed. Those taking part were intelligent people and a few were professionals in mental health. Doubts were expressed by some that your brief answers to some extremely complicated problems were very helpful. Others disagreed. What do you accomplish within the limitations of your work?

JUST ASKING

DEAR JUST: I regard the letters I receive as important as the answers I write. There is real therapy in confession. An astounding number of people tell me they feel better after telling me about their suspicions, their frustrations and their guilt. If the thousands who continue to write to me feel better for it, who am I to worry about the limitations of popular journalism?

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me if my upbringing was wrong. My mother always told us girls to stay away from married men. "Do not smile, talk to or look at them," she said. This went for neighbors and anywhere we worked. If we ever spoke to a married man, it was just, "Good morning." We would not ever look them in the eye because they were "look" and likely to be fathers and have responsibilities. You hear so much about girls getting mixed up with married men these days. How does this happen?

THIRTY, MARRIED AND SATISFIED

DEAR T. M. and S.: Girls who get "mixed up" with married men do more than "smile, talk to or look at them." One doesn't have to concede from the human race to avoid a union.

DEAR ABBY: I am a woman who enjoys sleeping in the morning. I have no children to get off to school, and my husband prefers eating his breakfast downtown, so I don't have to apologize to anyone for sleeping late.

I have a friend who gets up with the birds. She has a habit of calling me in the morning at 9:45 or 10:00. She knows I dislike it because I have told her, but she says, "If I woke you up I am not sorry because it's time you were up anyway." How can I get her to quit calling me before noon?

LATE SLEEPER

DEAR LATE: Your friend not only gets up with the birds, she is for them. Apparently your admonitions have been far too gentle. Don't ASK her, TELL her, not to call you before noon—and accentuate the NEGATIVE! If that fails, hung up on her a few times and go back to sleep.

CONFIDENTIAL TO WORRIED STUDENT: See a physician at once. Doctors have had a great deal of experience in situations such as these, and can be trusted to respect confidences.

Yes, Abby will answer your letter personally if you write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's pamphlet, "What Teenagers Want to Know," send 25 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Gigi In Reverse -- That's Vicki Benet

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA) — Vicki Benet, the French chant-lootie, laughed about her Americanization when we discovered it sounded just like "Gigi" in reverse—little French girl learns to be a Yankee Doodle doll.

Even a couple of "Gigi" songs could be paraphrased for the plot of "Vicki" with the titles:

"The Night They Invented Candy Bars" and "Thank Heaven for Little Boys" (Who can go walking on the streets of New York with little girls).

She was laughing, Vicki Benet said, because she had just added a new note to her Americanization by singing "Don't Go to Paris" in Jerry Lewis' new comedy, "The Ladies' Man." Except, of course, that it was written so everyone would want to go to Paris.

ironic laugh because born-in-Paris Vicki, top record seller of all French vocalists in the U. S. (according to Decca Records) is as American as hot dogs, apple pie and hot buttered popcorn.

IT ALL CAME ABOUT, you see, because of "Gigi—in reverse."

Vicki grew up on 55th street in New York instead of on the Champs Elysees. The little boys in her life played tag with her around the Plaza Hotel fountain instead of the one in the middle of the Place de la Concorde.

"Gigi" had an old aunt who wised her up about life and men, and so did Vicki. Vicki's aunt Natalia was completely Americanized by the time Vicki arrived in New York at the age of 11 just before World War II, and where she soon was asking:

"What's wrong with me, anyway, Aunt Natalia?"

That's when aunt Natalia taught her to be a Yankee Doodle doll. "That short knitted dress and the long ringlets in your hair must go," Vicki was told.

"But aunt Natalia," she protested, "ALL little French girls dress like this."

"In this country," her aunt explained, "women have more individualism."

THAT WAS THE BEGINNING of all-American Vicki. She changed her name—it was Emilienne Ralchinsten. She switched to sweaters and skirts. She took the curl out of her hair. She learned English by listening to radio disc jockeys and radio soap operas.

"The day I learned about the invention of candy bars was positively historic for me," she laughed.

"In France, you know, proper young ladies are not seen out talking with young men. My aunt Natalia explained things were different in America. That's the day I was 12—when I said to myself, 'Thank heaven for little boys.' I was in love with a 13-year-old named Bill who lived on Sixth Avenue. He looked like Tyrone Power and our big dates were to go walking."

So thank heaven for little French girls—who grow up to become Yankee Doodle dolls.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millet

Are you ashamed of your poor handwriting? You can stop apologizing for your illegible scratches.

A handwriting study made at one of our large universities has come up with the comforting discovery (comforting to all of us scribblers), that the smarter a person is, the worse his scrawl. It's thinking faster than you can write that makes handwriting messy. The faster you think, naturally, the poorer your penmanship.

The handwriting experts who made the study claim that anybody can improve his handwriting if he really tries. But who wants to, if an illegible scribble indicates a high I. Q.?

In case you doubt the findings, here's a clincher:

In the same edition of the newspaper in which I read about the handwriting study was a little story about a Southern mayor who received a letter on White House stationery—but couldn't make out the signature.

So he sent a photostat of the letter to Pierre Salinger, presidential press secretary, with the question: "Maybe I am a prize boob, but whose signature is this?"

Came back Salinger's one-line reply: "That happens to be the signature of John F. Kennedy."

So now, all of us who can't write a decent hand can quit apologizing. And all those who have been taking pride in their beautiful penmanship can just start forgetting to cross their T's, dot their I's and practice making O's look like U's.

However, it is only fair to admit that the handwriting study also reveals that the researchers estimate that a million dollars a week is lost by business and industry in scrambled orders, lost deliveries, clerical mistakes and other forms of inefficiency traceable to unreadable writing.

Maybe that's too high a price to pay for the ego satisfaction of letting your poor handwriting proclaim that we're quick thinkers.

Lampoon Names Butterfield 8 As 'Worst' Movie Of The Year

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI) — The movie "Butterfield 8," and actors Eddie Fisher, Robert Mitchum, Frank Sinatra and Fabian were among top "movie worst" award winners today in the Harvard Lampoon's annual poll.

"Butterfield 8," was named the worst movie of 1960 while Eddie Fisher, who played in the movie, was given the worst supporting actor award.

The lampoon, Harvard humor magazine, said that the choice of Fisher was difficult. "In any other year he would have won easily but this was a banner year for bad movies."

Sinatra was voted worst actor of the year for his part in "Caucasian" while Eva Marie Saint was named worst actress for her part in "Exodus."

Fabian took the "uncrossed heart" award as the least promising actor of 1960 for his role in "North to Alaska."

"The Roscoe," a trophy presented to that actor or actress who throughout the year has unflinching maintained the lowest level of performance in the eyes of the Lampoon, went to Mitchum.

Joint Space Patrol Urged

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States today asked the Soviet Union to join in the launching of a space patrol of a dozen satellites to prevent secret nuclear testing high above the earth or behind the moon.

Chief American delegate Arthur H. Dean outlined the proposition as the last of the concessions President John F. Kennedy's administration has offered as evidence of its desire to sign a nuclear weapons test ban treaty with Moscow.

After a further meeting Thursday, at which the United States and Britain plan to summarize their newest concessions, the conference take a four-day Easter recess.

Capital Residents Get Right To Vote

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Residents of the District of Columbia will have to wait nearly four years to exercise a privilege they waited 161 years for, and some said the battle still was only half won.

The nation's capital won a long fight Wednesday when Kansas became the crucial 38th state to ratify the 23rd Amendment to the Constitution, giving District residents the right to vote for president and vice president. But it won't do them any good until 1964, when the next national elections will be held.

President Kennedy led a group of District residents who refused to be totally satisfied by permission to vote for the first time in American history. Kennedy called approval of the amendment "a major step in the right direction."

But he urged Congress to let

Washington residents have home rule, too. "It is equally important that residents of the District of Columbia have the right to select the officials who govern the District," he said.

Population, Business Spreading In Oviedo

By MARIAN R. JONES

(One of a series of growth reports of the communities of Seminole County.)

Oviedo, located in the heart of Southeast Seminole County's mucklands and widely known for its celery lands and citrus industry, is spread over a considerable amount of territory. To a visitor, the increasing population of Oviedo and its surrounding areas is not readily visible when passing through.

However, in the Lake Hayes section, south of the heart of town, new homes have sprung up almost overnight and an estimated 50 residences have been added in this location in the past two years with some on the shores of lovely Lake Hayes termed in the Estete classification.

A number of the most desirable locations which were owned by the late Mrs. Bill Wetmore have been purchased by a development company but as yet remain unopened. Additional properties in this location are in similar status, however, if growth continues, new residential areas may appear as if by magic at almost any time. In other areas, including the town proper, it is estimated that at least 20 new homes have been added over a two-year period and many of the older homes have been remodeled, repainted or enlarged.

Texaco and Pure Oil Companies have built two new modern service stations in Oviedo and the Standard Oil and Sinclair Companies located here not too long ago.

The two Lee Buildings occupied by Alfred's Red and White Grocery which received quite extensive fire damage a few weeks ago are undergoing a face-lifting and modernization. Here, Leonard L. Faulk Jr., associated now with his father in the construction business, will open a paint and furnishings store.

The Jones Building, home of the Oviedo Post Office for many years, was completely renovated by its owners and was occupied by the Alford Grocery for a period of time.

The Charles T. Niblack building, also once the post office home, now is occupied by Bert Anderson's Donut Diner and Mrs. Anderson fills daily orders of local food stores and for those in adjoining communities in addition to supplying her own customers.

W. A. Ward Jr. and Howard S. Scott are co-owners of the new Oviedo TV Repair business in the King Building which has been completely remodeled and is located on the town's Main St.

A new post office, complete with new furnishings, boxes and equipment, began operations in February of 1961 and a "far cry" from the first post office which was located on the shores of Lake Jessup in a grocery many years ago.

A fish market has located in one of the Daniels Buildings on Broadway and, east of town, a new super market and food store and a bookkeeping service have opened.

Two new florists shops, Vaughn, near Lake Charm and Col. W. D. Brown's Orchid Gardens near Slavia, have opened in recent years and a health clinic, under supervision of County Health Doctor Clyde S. Brothers and a county nurses began operations in the Estes Building several months ago.

Included in recent business service additions is the new drive-in window at Citizens Bank which also has built an employes' snack bar and added much new equipment.

The Lake Charm Fruit Co., making an advantage from a catastrophe which saw its citrus packing house, celery packing plant and ice plant completely destroyed by fire, has rebuilt its main office and an announcement this week from W.A. Ward Jr., business manager, stated that fruit packing operations will begin again in Oviedo next fall. The former company celery wash house, providing 20,000 square feet of space will house the citrus packing business, which specializes in premium fruit. Contracts for machinery installation were let this week. The company, before last year's fire, had been operation for 32 years and is nationally known for its quality products.

Nelson and Co., produce handlers which used the facilities of the Lake Charm packing plant, after the fire purchased the R. W. Estes Packing Plant and continued its operations there.

In Oviedo's rural areas, several new poultry farms have begun operations and the T-M Ranch, east of town, also is in business now.

One of the loveliest additions to the town is the new Fellowship Hall, Methodist Church addition, which with the Methodist Youth Building next to the parsonage has been dedicated during the two-year period.

On the calendar for future construction is a Woman's Club Building to be located across the street from the Methodist parsonage and a Home Demonstration Club Building. Women's Club members met today in a special session for membership signatures to incorporate the club so that L.L. Faulk can begin work immediately on the new building.

Among the largest construction programs taking place in Oviedo during the past year was the addition of seven classrooms, a cafeteria and an administrative suite to Oviedo High School at a cost of $317,000. Three classrooms, a library, a cafeteria and administrative suite also has been added to Jackson Heights Negro Elementary School costing $180,000. Landscaping and grounds beautification now are underway at the high school under the supervision of Mrs. George A. Kelsey.

Oviedo recently completed the paving of Clark St., at a cost of $10,000 which greatly reduces the traffic problem on Broadway and the town also has spent approximately $2,000 on the swimming pool and grounds facilities at Sweetwater Park, a main attraction for Oviedo residents and young people and for those of surrounding areas.

Oviedo's City Hall has had new equipment additions and Oviedo Terrace, a new subdivision located northeast of the town is being developed by D. D. Daniel.

In Oviedo, as in all Seminole County towns and communities, continued growth and business progress seems to be in store and a proposed causeway across Lake Jessup from Sanford can only speed developments.

PAT AND JANE KLINGER, members of Lyman High Future Teachers, assisted in Altamonte Elementary classes during a recent visit. Pat spent the day with Miss Gloria Miller's third graders helping with the reading groups. Jane spent her time with physical ed classes of Miss Durrenberger, read a story to a sixth grade class and conducted a spelling test. Four younger members of the Klinger family, Martha, Thomas, Daniel and Mary Beth attend the Altamonte school.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Solution Nears

The land-locked lake problem which has been plaguing the county for many years may come to an end soon.

Reynolds, Smith and Hill, Jacksonville engineers, have reported that the first step in a $9 million water control program will be finding outlets for all the land-locked lakes and streams in the county.

South Seminole residents have been dismayed over frequent flood threats to their homes. Hardly a county commission meeting went by last year without some delegation asking for flood relief.

Now under the initial phase this problem will be met head-on.

Lake Monroe Jottings

By MRS. H. L. JOHNSON

Here's wishing everyone a very happy Easter this Sunday. And it has just got to be a real nice day too, because all these Mothers have been working so hard to get the kiddies all dolled up for this special day. Out here we might have some future fashion models and the best dressed ladies in the world. There are some real little cuties out here and I am anxious to see them Easter Sunday. Sure wish we were having an Easter parade. . . . Be sure and go to some church and hear the wonderful music that is being planned for Easter. . . . Saturday night Hambone and Tambo are going to start in on Mr. Interlocutor trouble again. The P-T-O Minstrel will go to Sorrento to give a show for the benefit of the Volunteer Fire dept. and auxiliary. It will be at the old school house and will start at 7:30 p. m. Hope some of you ride over to see it. . . . The Boy and Girl Scouts and Brownies

Women's Club Plans Egg Hunt

An Easter Egg Hunt for all children in Chuluota and for those of the Lutheran Home in Slavia will be sponsored by the Chuluota Women's Club Saturday at 3:30 p. m.

Through cooperation of Rev. Charles Swagerty, the hunt will be held on the grounds of Chuluota's First Baptist Church for all children under 11 years of age.

The hunt will be divided into age groups and games with prizes also are planned for the afternoon. Children participating are requested to bring their own baskets or containers for holding the eggs.

Mrs. Grace Fox is chairman of the event with Mrs. Joan Sinclair, co-chairman.

'Sno-Bird' Picnic

Chuluota Retired Folks, at their March meeting, appointed Mrs. Beverly Stout program chairman for the balance of the year and Mrs. Roscoe Morrison and Mrs. H. Boswell to serve as a visiting committee.

Mrs. and Mrs. Edward Richardson and Mr. and Mrs. H. Boswell were named to a special picnic committee and plans were made for the farewell event honoring the "sno-birds." To be held April 28.

Lake Harriett Group Sets Meet

By ATLANTA MCGINNIS

A membership meeting and picnic for the Lake Harriett Civic Assn. has been announced for Saturday by President William Kelley.

The afternoon's activities will begin with an egg hunt at 4 p. m. for the youngsters at the Lakeside picnic area with a wienner roast for members and their families at 6 p. m.

An association meeting will get underway at 7 p. m. with committee reports on the many projects expected during the season.

Kelley said today that undertakings included in the long list of projects are building a shelter on the lake complete with picnic tables and barbecue pits; building a Community Hall; working to get the lake restocked with game fish and building a bus shelter for the school children.

Work already in progress, he reported, includes foggging the area against insects, cleaning vacant lots for a baseball and football field, organizing a Garden Club and sponsoring an all-out clean-up campaign to beautify

South Seminole Area Egg Hunts Planned Saturday

By ATLANTA MCGINNIS

South Seminole children have a busy day ahead on Saturday and again on Sunday when they attend Easter Egg Hunts which are being given in several communities.

A hunt for children of the Forest City Baptist Church will be held at 10 a. m. Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elden Whilden on SR 436.

Members of the Lake Harriett Estates Civic Assn. will entertain their youngsters at the picnic grounds at 4 p. m. Saturday with a wienner roast and association meeting to follow.

Sunday at 2:30 p. m. all of the children who attend the Altamonte Springs Chapel will take part in an egg hunt which will be divided into age levels with two prizes to be awarded for each group. Special prizes will be given for finding the gold and silver eggs.

United Citizens Appoint Chairmen

United Citizens of Casselberry appointed three committee chairmen at a meeting of the executive board held at the home of the Citizens' president, Herbert Olson, Mrs. Ruth Moore, secretary, reported.

Paul Lewis was named precinct chairman, Mrs. Isabel Taylor, social chairman and Mrs. Velvet Jacobs, wife of former Casselberry Councilman Myron Jacobs who died in February, was named hospitality chairman.

A publicity chairman was not appointed at this time, Mrs. Moore, said, however, work on the newsletter, distributed monthly by the group, and press releases will be handled by a group of United Citizens members working together, she advised.

General membership meetings of the organization are held on the third Tuesday of each month at the Casselberry Women's Club Building.

Oviedo Campaign Ends Successfully

By MARIAN R. JONES

Oviedo Beautification Week, sponsored by the Oviedo Garden Club and the Town Council, ended with magnificent results and the town has taken on a polished look.

Mrs. M. L. Gary, chairman from the Garden Club, had teamed working together with the Beautification project. Plans and landscaping services were offered by the members of these committees to business firms willing same.

They are hopeful that this drive will encourage "clean-up mindedness" not only at this season of the year, but all year round. The new trash cans purchased last year have helped tremendously with the "litterbugs." Mrs. Jack Riddley, acting secretary, requested that all persons interested in doing association committee work register with her in order that their names can be added to the list she is keeping.

Helmly Named To Represent Assn. At Hearing

By MONA GRINSTEAD

Members of the North Orlando Property Owners Assn., who at their second meeting Monday decided to change the name to North Orlando Civic Assn., appointed F. Stewart Helmly as their representative for the April 11 public hearing on an appeal against locating a bituminous concrete plant in the area.

Oviedo Juniors Have Talent Night

By MARIAN R. JONES

The Junior Class-sponsored Talent Night at the school auditorium filled the house and helped the treasury of the class for its main project of the year — the Junior-Senior banquet.

The 13 specialty acts was stolen by the team of Johnny Courier, Jerry Ulrey, Walter Holland and Roy Wainright. Their set, "The House Rocker," really did that, calling for several encores. They, of course, were awarded first prize of the evening and maybe they will be exhibiting their talents over our TV's one of these days.

Nancy Swenson, Jan Beasley, Gay Ulrey, Mariya Partin, Rex Brooks, Marshall Ling, Jimmy Courier and Arthur Evans, known as the Eight 8's, received second prize for their dance numbers. Third prize went to Mike Kennedy for his monologue.

Judges for the event were Col. W. D. Brown, Mrs. Levi Norman and Mrs. George Carlton.

Other students participating in the show included Judy Powers, Linda Memory, Karen Memory, John Crossdale, Linda Riggins, Jean Ridenour, Linda Harris, Suzanne Partin, Kathy Staley, Donn Burney, Mike Teslasky, Linda Woodard, Pat Lynn and Shirley Woodard. Naomi Tubbs, president of the Junior class, introduced each act of the evening.

Swimming Lessons To Be Conducted For Handicapped

Mrs. Virginia Chadwick of Chuluota has been appointed chairman of swimming classes for the handicapped offered through the Seminole County American Red Cross Water Safety Program.

Assisting Mrs. Chadwick will be Mrs. Fran Stumpf, also of Chuluota.

County Water Safety Chairman Miss Sally Neider reports that both women attended special courses under the direction of Mrs. Mary Wittengier of the Forest Park School for the handicapped and are qualified to teach the specialized courses.

Plans now are underway to procure use of a county-owned school bus equipped to take care of the handicapped in transporting children from throughout the county in Sanford where the lessons will be conducted.

New Church Members

Beulah Unley of Overbank Dr., Bear Lake Rd. and Billy Agoe of Forest Lake Dr., Forest City, were received in the Faith Lutheran Church, Silver Star Rd., Orlando, by adult confirmation on Palm Sunday.

Firemen Elect Burke To Post

By MONA GRINDSTEAD
North Orlando firemen have elected Roy Burke as assistant chief and Robert Dean as secretary-treasurer, Ernest Longcore, president of the volunteer organization announced this week.
The department now has 12 active members, Longcore said, with a 15-member quota. When the quota is filled, applications for membership will be placed on a waiting list.
The organization also acts as a recreation commission for North Orlando and when a program is drawn up and the playground completed, members will supervise and maintain the area.
Fire Chief Robert Stephenson and the volunteers have announced that they are available for burning off vacant lots between residential properties and last week burned a field on the west side of Bombay.

WESLEY L. EMERSON

Dream Comes True For Lake Mary Boy

Wesley L. Emerson, 19-year-old son of Mrs. Thelma Emerson of Lake Mary finally had his "wish come true" and now is serving with the Army's Alaskan Command at Anchorage.
Emerson received some little recognition a while back when the Sanford Army Recruiting Officer reported him to be the first enlistee ever to request duty in Alaska. The young army private was born in Seward, Alaska, only 128 miles from his present station, and though he has lived in California, New England and Florida since coming to the Mainland as a small boy, he always has wanted to return to his home land.
Emerson completed eight weeks basic training and eight weeks special automotive training before receiving his present assignment to the Headquarters Company Motor Pool at the Alaskan Base.

Strike Threatened

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Flight engineers threatened today to renew a wildcat strike against six major airlines in a "week or 10 days" unless engineers on Western Airlines are reinstated in their jobs.

Scout Patrol Is Organized

North Orlando members of Girl Scout Troop 336 which is led by Mrs. Nance Russell of Fern Park, last week organized a Patrol at the home of Mrs. J. D. Grinstead.
Barbara Derum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Derum, was named to lead the new patrol and one new member, Darlene Anderson, joined the group.
Other members, who have been meeting in Longwood, present at the North Orlando organizational meeting were Patty Harville, Debbie Davis and Cathy Dean.
Mrs. Grinstead reports that an adult leader is needed for these girls, "at least for the months through July when meetings will adjourn for the summer." If, in October, there are eight active members, a Troop can be formed for the North Orlando area girls.

The weekly meetings on Wednesdays at 4:30 p.m. will be continued at the home of Mrs. Grinstead until a leader can be found, she said. Any adult who can lend assistance in the program may contact her at her home on 41 N. Third St. or by phone. Assisting at last week's meeting was Mrs. Frank Bailey

Road Projects

The County Commission Tuesday gave the okay to improving six roads in the county including Bear Lake Rd.
The roads included are Derbyshire Rd., Pearl Lake Causeway, Crippin and Ohio Aves. and Lakewood Circle. Work on Bear Lake Rd. will start next week at a cost of $18,000.

Copter Rescues Tot
SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (UPI) — Nine-year-old Janice Nadler of St. Louis was rescued from a dangerous 1,400 foot cliff near the city of Mayaguez Tuesday by a U. S. Air Force helicopter. She had been missing 18 hours, but was unharmed except for a few scratches. The girl became separated from her father, Prof. Gerald Nadler of Washington University.

Legislators Oppose Fund Repeal

State Reps. Mack Cleveland Jr. and Gordon Frederick today said they would not vote for any repeal of a bill requesting the transfer of race track funds from the school board to the county's road revenue fund.

Cleveland, who also serves as county attorney, declared that the county is obligated to assist the school board in paying teacher's salaries. He said that the county commission in 1956 voted to divert the $50,000 of race track funds, and the legislature approved that bill in 1957 to assure its permanency.

Frederick said that under no circumstances would he ever favor repeal of the bill. "Those funds are earmarked for the schools and that's where they'll stay," he said.

The commission voted to adopt a resolution asking for the repeal Tuesday. Thursday, the School Board voiced opposition to the proposal and authorized Attorney Douglas Stenstrom to appear before the commission next Tuesday to withdraw its motion.

Both legislators will leave for Tallahassee Sunday to start the 60 day session next week.

Some 20 local bills will be presented including a drainage levy bill, a combined tax roll for Sanford and the county, staggered terms for Oviedo Councilmen and a new charter for Casselberry.

Legislators today said they favored the new Casselberry charter because the charter could not go into effect without a referendum by the town people.

The legislators said that the drainage levy bill when it is presented will definitely have a clause for a referendum by the people.

Both also favored the combined tax roll as well as staggered terms for the Oviedo council.

The legislators also felt that the big issues this year once again will be reapportionment, money and taxes.

Grinding Session Set For Legislators

Bryant Optimistic Over Senate Reapportionment

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Farris Bryant will go before the new Legislature next week with high hopes of getting the lawmakers to approve a 45-senator reapportionment plan and to revise the state Constitution all within the session's allotted 60 days.

State Rep. Mack Cleveland Jr. was appointed to the rules committee of the House today for the 1961 term of the legislature while Gordon Frederick was named to the appropriations committee.

Cleveland will also serve on the ethics committee.

These were the highlights of Bryant's news conference report Thursday of the plans he will present to the Legislature.

Bryant said he had devised a Senate reapportionment plan "too good" he indicated he already had "pocketed" enough votes to pass it.

The governor would not discuss details but said it was "good speculation" that the plan would give the 23 most populous counties one senator each and divide 22 seats among the remaining 44 counties. He said he had given up trying to reapportion the Senate within the present framework of 38 members.

And he said he anticipated a House reapportionment plan, still to be worked out, would bring the present 95 membership up to 103, 105 or 107.

Bryant said the redistricting of the state to provide four more congressional seats authorized by the 1960 census is proving to be a particularly knotty problem.

"Just about everyone is agreed that trade-off should have two congressmen," he said, but added thereafter there seems to be no agreement on anything.

The main stumbling block is in trying to redistrict Central Florida into "homogenous interests," he said. He said proposals to dilute Republican strength in the Tampa Bay area does not concern him.

On other legislative subjects, the governor commented: "It (Legislature) can easily finish up in the regular 60-day session."

—He still plans to ask for a doubled gross receipts tax on utilities and thinks it will pass. —He fully expects the Legislature to approve a new state Constitution.

—He will not ask repeal of capital punishment.

—He will request "certain legislative changes in the Florida Sheriff's Bureau."

—He endorsed a proposal for a professional highway commissioner to handle the state's road building program, but said he will oppose staggered terms for Road Board members.

—If he had to choose, Boca Raton would get the nod over Pensacola in priority for building a new state university. Bryant said he hoped the state could provide both institutions at the same time.

City crews have planted 35 palm trees along the lake side of Seminole Blvd. It seems everyone has this beautification kick going now. How about some colored lights to reflect on the trees at night?

If any of you want to build a Civil defense shelter the city has given the green light by waiving a building permit for such a structure. You also won't be assessed for the building. Of course the building inspector will have to look over the building and plans will have to be approved by the city engineer.

There won't be any radios in any county commissioner's car for a while yet—anyway.

The board decided to wait for enabling legislation to make it okay for commissioners to have a radio. However, since the board authorized the purchase of an additional radio, they decided this week to turn it over to the road department as a spare unit.

U. S., Reds Urged To Halt Laos Aid

LONDON (UPI) — Laos "neutralist" ex-Premier Prince Souvannah Phouma called on the United States and Russia today to halt shipments of military aid to opposing forces in his embattled homeland.

Souvannah told a news conference that the United States would stop shipping arms to the forces of pro-Western Premier Prince Boun Oum he would retract his request for Soviet aid to the Communist rebels.

He solicited Soviet aid late last year, shortly before his government was overthrown by pro-Western forces.

The prince pledged he would not permit Communists to control Laos and said he would be the first to fight them if they tried to take over the country. He said Hanoi and Peking had agreed that Laos should be neutral.

The refugee ex-premier also proposed modification of the U. S.-supported British peace plan for Laos, saying the Canadian-Indian-Polish supervisory commission should be recalled to the jungle kingdom before instead of after a cease-fire.

Jet Explodes Over Carolina

DENTON, N. C. (UPI) — An Air Force B52 jet bomber with eight men aboard apparently exploded in flight Thursday night and crashed in flames near a group of rural farmhouses.

Two of the huge plane's crew of eight were known dead and two of the men survived. The four others were missing and a cold rain and deep mud badly slowed a search for them in wooded farmlands near here today.

An Air Force spokesman said he feared the men may be dead and their bodies buried in a deep, trench-like crater gouged in the sandy clay where the main wreckage of the multi-million dollar plane fell.

The crater, described by witnesses as "big enough to drop a house in," was smoking and flaming more than 13 hours after the crash despite the rain. The wreckage was too hot for rescue workers to search it.

The two survivors parachuted as the plane plunged to earth from high altitude while on an aerial refueling mission. An Air Force K133 tanker plane was in the vicinity but apparently was unaware that the intercontinental bomber from Dow Air Force Base, Maine, was in trouble.

Another parachute was found today, hanging in a tree some nine miles from the scene.

The rains began shortly after the bomber plunged into the rural countryside with a blinding flash of light at 9:20 p.m. Thursday.

The two survivors, one of whom walked seven miles to a farmhouse after his ordeal, were identified as: Maj. Wilbur F. Minnich, 40, the navigator, of Des Plaines, Ill.; 1st Lt. Glen Farnham, 26, of Loveland, Colo., the electronics warfare officer. Both are married and each has two children.

The plane, an intercontinental jet on an aerial refueling mission, carried no nuclear weapons, the Air Force said.

The crash scene was a small patch of woods, sprinkled with farmhouses, just off North Carolina Highway 8, six miles north of Denton. The plane dug a crater 10 feet deep and 100 yards long and set numerous brush fires in the area.

Wreckage was scattered over several acres of farmland owned by Calvin Frank and Newman Luckabill. Frank said the explosion awakened him and, "The whole sky was ablaze when I looked out. It was a hell of an experience."

The giant bomber was reported flying approximately 37,000 feet when the trouble developed.

ALL READY TO START HUNTING EASTER EGGS at the big Joyce sponsored egg hunt in Fort Mellon Park, Sunday at 2 p. m. are twins Dunnie and Ronnie Wilbur, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wilbur. The hunt is for children one through 10, who must bring their own containers and will be divided into groups according to age. If they find one of the golden eggs they will win a prize, donated by local merchants.

Flood Crests

Ravage Plains

By United Press International
Floods in the Midwest and South today threatened a near-record crest in Iowa and a new outbreak of damage in the Gulf states.

Weather created these crises as the Easter weekend began.

Thunderstorms, accompanied by damaging winds, hail and possible tornadoes, hovered over central Alabama and Georgia. The U. S. Weather Bureau predicted the severest onslaught in an area stretching 140 miles north of a line from Evergreen, Ala., to 70 miles southeast of Macon, Ga.

Oklahoma measured 10 inches of new snow in the Panhandle and highway patrolmen closed a road between Guyton and Fort Supply, Seminary, Miss., reported eight inches of rain in 2 1/2 hours during the night. A tornado ripped through Plaucheville, La., and Gov. Jimmie H. Davis wired President Kennedy for emergency aid for flood-besieged rattlemen in east-central Louisiana.

Cedar Rapids, Iowa's second largest city, braced for a crest on the Cedar River at 19 1/2 feet, inches short of an all-time record set in 1926. Iowa flood damages were set at $70 million and total homeless soared into the thousands.

Rusk Returns From Bangkok

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk flew homeward from Bangkok and India today to prospects of long negotiations with Russia on Laos. Rusk, returning from conferences of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) in Bangkok and talks with India's Prime Minister Nehru, was to land at noon at Andrews Air Force Base near here.

Sanford, Area Easter Services Set

By JUDY WELLS
Christians throughout the world Sunday will celebrate the joyous occasion commemorating the resurrection of Christ.

In Sanford, all churches of the Sanford Ministerial Association will take part in a Sunrise Service at Memorial Stadium beginning at 6:14 a. m. with the sermon to be delivered by Rev. Ernest Bolick of the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church.

Sunrise Services for residents of the Altamonte Springs area are to be held at the old Altamonte Springs Hotel property, corner of Mainland Ave. and SR 436 with Rev. Lewis D. Holmes of the First Baptist Church delivering the sermon and special music provided by Teddy B. York and Miss Donna Baird, soloist.

Later in the day at the Altamonte Springs Chapel, Sunday School students will present a program for their parents at 9:30 a. m. with acordion solos by Jerry Cockley and Jackie Ament with Mrs. Peggy Cockley as accompanist.

The St. Mary Magdalen Catholic Mass of the Feast of the Resurrection will be conducted at 7 a. m., 9 a. m., 10 a. m. and 11 a. m. with a High Mass at noon.

Residents of Chuluota will attend early morning services on the shores of Lake Catherine with Rev. Ben F. West of the Chuluota Community Church presiding. Music is to begin at 5:45 a. m. with the Worship Service scheduled at 6:15 a. m.

Sunrise worship for the Enterprise area will be held on the campus of the Methodist Children's Home overlooking Lake Monroe at 6:15 a. m.

Residents To Hear Zellwood Cantata

Members and friends of the Lake Mary Community Presbyterian Church will form a caravan Sunday at 2:15 p. m. to attend the Hampden DuBose Easter Cantata at Zellwood.

All persons interested in hearing the more than 80 Negro High School boys and girls in this presentation are invited to join the caravan.

Peel To Ask For New Trial

FORT PIERCE (UPI) — Joseph A. Peel Jr. will ask for a new trial on his conviction as the employer of the Chillingworth assassins, and an equally dissatisfied prosecution will try to put the ex-judge in the electric chair.

The dapper, 37-year-old Peel was found guilty Thursday on accessory to first degree murder charges by a 12-man jury in the St. Lucie County Circuit Court. But the panel recommended mercy, making a life sentence mandatory.

The former West Palm Beach city judge was convicted of ordering ex-convict Floyd (Lucky) Holzapfel and Negro moonshiner George (Bobby) Lincoln to carry out the 1955 abduction and murder of Circuit Judge and Mrs. C. E. Chillingworth.

Trial Judge D. C. Smith postponed sentencing of Peel pending filing of motions for a new trial on April 14, and further argument of the motions on April 26. Peel was certain to ask for a new trial and had 90 days to appeal the verdict.

"I wasn't a bit satisfied," Peel commented to newsmen as he was being returned to his cell in the county jail adjacent to the musty, stone and stucco courthouse.

Offerings Shared

Lenten Offering Folders of the Lake Mary Community Presbyterian Church will be collected Sunday and have been designated for The One Great Hour of Sharing, a united sharing of Protestant Christians to send relief to refugees throughout the world.

Bulletin

PARIS (UPI) — The Algerian rebels announced today they are canceling the Evian peace talks with France.

News Briefs

Dream Car

DETROIT (UPI) — The auto industry introduced three new cars today, including a dream car with only two wheels. The two wheeler is the Gyron, a delta-shaped car developed by Ford Motor Co. It would have a gyroscope for stability and might be powered by fuel cells instead of a regular engine.

Mass Funeral

CLARKSVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Mass funeral services will be held today for 12 members of a single family who died when fire destroyed their rural cabin. Mr. and Mrs. Alex Whitehead, their nine children and the woman's father died in the fire, which authorities believe may have been touched off by lightning.

Mayor Killed

PARIS, France (UPI) — Two bombs believed set by fighting extremists today killed Mayor Camille Blanc of Evian, the resort city on Lake Geneva where France is to start negotiation with Algerian rebels next Friday. The explosions, 15 seconds apart at 3 a. m., shattered the front of Evian's Hotel Beau Rivage, home of the mayor.

Breather

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress took a springtime breather today with President Kennedy's lieutenants generally pleased with action so far on his program. The legislative machinery—which has been churning faster than usual for this time of year—won't crank up again for at least another 10 days. The lawmakers were off on their annual Easter vacation.
