

Layos Issue Statement On Benefit Fund

By Donna Estes
Mrs. Ruth Layo, speaking for her husband, Longwood's Fire Chief Claude Layo, announced today that persons wishing to donate monies to the fund administered by the fire department and auxiliary to benefit Mrs. Kenneth Brabazon and family may send their contributions to any member of either group.

Mrs. Layo stated that "under no circumstances should donations for this fund be sent directly to Florida Sanitarium Hospital or to the family."

Details and administration of the fund were decided at a joint meeting of the two groups last week with Mrs. Bernetta Morris named chairman.

Mrs. Brabazon, a member of the auxiliary, was severely scalded receiving second and third degree burns over most of the front of her body in an accident at the Longwood Community Children's Christmas Party sponsored by the fire department Dec. 19. Although still hospitalized, she is now permitted to have visitors.

County Growth Ranking Third In Florida

By Julian Stenstrom
Seminole is the third fastest growing county in the State of Florida, according to figures released today by Manager Joe Foy of the Florida State Employment Service office in Sanford. This applies to counties with populations of 50,000 or more.

With a population of 67,100 as of July 1, 1964, as compared to 54,900 in 1960, Seminole's percentage of increase was 22 and equalled that of Broward County (Fort Lauderdale). Broward's population jumped from 333,900 in 1960 to 408,400 as of July 1, 1964.

Still leading the state, percentage-wise, in the population explosion is Brevard. That county's 1960 population of 111,400 jumped to 171,400 for a 54 per cent increase. In second place is the 25 per cent hike in Lee County (Fl. Myers) population. It went from 54,500 to 68,250 according to Foy's figures from the University of Florida's Bureau of Economic and Business Research.

Seminole and Broward are tied for third, Sarasota is fifth, Palm Beach sixth, Volusia seventh, Okaloosa eighth, Monroe ninth and Alachua 10th.

"Employment in non-farm firms," said Foy in his official December report, "was estimated at 9,700 in November—the highest level to be reached in 10 months and 300 above a year ago. The annual advance," Foy explained, "was credited to expansion in trade and government as these facilities were increased to meet the needs of a rapidly growing population."

Foy added: "Between October and November employment in non-farm firms gained 600—a normal advance for this time of the year. The winter season saw business activity accelerating in many industries. Worker gains were reported in manufacturing, wholesale trade and services."

TRADE GAINS
Wholesale trade, said Foy, gained as packing houses acquired personnel to handle volume. Fruit shipments, the service group experienced gain as amusement places and hotels expanded employment for the winter vacation season and retail trade continued at a substantial level with Christmas buying at a record volume for the area.

"Construction activity," he declared, "held steady and agricultural employment strengthened with citrus and vegetable harvests on the upswing in November."

Foy said unemployment was firm at 6.80, accounting for 3.8 per cent of the labor force. He said this was considered a moderate surplus.

The total civilian labor force in Seminole during November was 18,900, said Foy. "This," he added, "is an increase of 400 over October of 1964 and 1,000 over that of November, 1963."

Johnson To See In Year At Ranch
JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI)—President and Mrs. Johnson will ring in the New Year in Texas tonight while their two daughters celebrate with friends in Washington.

The President and First Lady planned a quiet holiday at the LBJ Ranch. But they may collect on some invitations to parties in Austin before midnight.

The First family was short on New Year's resolutions. The President said he had made none. "I didn't make any," said Lynda, 20. Nor did Mrs. Johnson reveal any vows for the future.

Seventeen-year-old Luci said she's "made a lot" but she kept them to herself.

Metro 'Phone System Drive In New Spurt

George Touhy today was named chairman of a committee which will be appointed to spearhead the establishment of a metropolitan telephone system for Seminole County.

The appointment was announced today by Loring Burgess, president-elect of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

"We are pleased," said Burgess, "that Touhy has accepted the chairmanship of this effort. He has the ability to service throughout the county. This project is one of the major goals in the chamber's 1965 program."

"Communications," Burgess added, "plays a vital role in the chamber's efforts to serve all of Seminole County. Therefore, we feel a metro system is absolutely essential if we are to achieve our objective of a greater Seminole County."

Meanwhile, Touhy—executive vice president of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association—declared "Seminole County has been pushed into the spotlight of a great business development that encompasses all of Central Florida. The opinions of many economists stress the tremendous growth potential here in the next few years."

Touhy continued, "The economic surveys for the port authority, the lakefront development, the community college plus the impact of the approved Central Florida University, all have established firm bases for the bright forecasts and amazing growth."

"How promptly the people of our county act in getting the necessary wheels in motion will determine to a large degree how much we benefit from this favorable business climate."

"Of great and immediate need," Touhy explained, "is a simplified metro phone system that makes exchanging of ideas, placing of orders and bids, the coordinating of promotional plans and general communication instantaneous. Benefits will come to everyone," Touhy pointed out, "as we grow, and everyone who is interested in this progress should go to work now to make sure we have this important communications device."

Herald Writer Suffers Attack
STUART (UPI)—Lyle C. Wilson, former manager of United Press International in Washington, was reported in fair condition today at Stuart's Martin Memorial Hospital, where he was taken following a heart attack.

Wilson and his wife moved here from Washington after his retirement last fall. Wilson still contributes three columns a week to UPI and the Sanford Herald. These will be suspended pending his recovery.

Radio Stolen
A radio was stolen and desk drawers ransacked at Southside School at 1401 Magnolia Avenue, police reported today.

J. Dan Wright Gets State Post

Sanford's J. Dan Wright Jr. has been named state industrial commissioner by Governor Haydon Burns. Wright thus becomes one of the few men from Sanford in recent years to hold a statewide appointment.

As chairman, Wright will assume the day-to-day operation of the agency, administering the big state unemployment and workmen's compensation programs and the state employment offices throughout Florida.

Wright will be given the office of office on Tuesday at Tallahassee. He said today he will resign as chairman of the Seminole County Board of Public Instruction after its organizational meeting of Jan. 5. Burns will name Wright's successor on the School Board.

"Mr. Wright will carry with him into the office the actual and practical experience of a businessman operating under the Workmen's Compensation Laws," said Burns.

Burns said Wright "will also carry a complete background and knowledgeable approach to the subject of migrant labor and other problems felt within citrus, vegetable and other Florida industries."

Wright will take over the post from acting chairman Ronald Spencer of Ocala. Spencer took over the job when A. Worley Brown resigned to enter private business.

Burns also appointed Frank Nelson, longtime Panama City mayor, as business representative to the commission. Walter Lightsey of Tampa was reappointed as its labor representative.

A vice president of Patrick Fruit Company, Wright has lived in this city for the past 22 years. He came here from Jacksonville where he had lived since he was eight years of age. He was born in Nashville, Tenn.

Wright was also past chairman of the Florida Citrus Commission.

Other activities include the directorship of Minute Maid, the First National Bank of Maitland, Florida Citrus Production Association, a vestryman of Holy Cross Episcopal Church and memberships in the Orlando Country Club and University Club.

The industrial commissioner was graduated from the Robert E. Lee High School in Jacksonville and attended the University of Florida. He and his wife have four children and live in Larch Arbor.

C. E. Marsh, Friend Of LBJ, Dies At 77

Former newspaper publisher Charles E. Marsh, whose newspaper empire spread over much of the United States, died Wednesday in Washington, D.C., after an extended illness. He was 77.

Marsh was a close friend of President Lyndon B. Johnson and one of the first persons the President contacted after his assumption of office.

He is credited with much of the success of Johnson as he urged him to continue his political career.

He had been in retirement since 1954 as a result of a stroke and other illnesses.

Johnson, former editor of Marsh's death at the Texas White House, said he was "greatly saddened" by the news. They had been friends since Marsh backed Johnson's first bid for Congress in 1937.

At that time, Marsh was an Austin (Texas) publisher. He was the father-in-law of Robert Haskell, publisher of a newspaper in Martinsville, Va., and partner owner of the Sanford Herald. Marsh also, at one time, owned the two Orlando newspapers later sold to the present owner, Martin Andersen.

Marsh, a native of Cincinnati, Ohio, was graduated from the University of Oklahoma in 1908. He returned to his native Ohio as editor of the Akron Press and later became managing editor of the Cincinnati Post.

Marsh formed a partnership in 1916 and purchased newspapers in Fargo, N. D., and Waco, Tex. They steadily expanded their newspaper ownership. Marsh's family still has some newspaper interests.

Survivors include his widow, three sons, Charles Marsh II, Miffland, Tex.; John E. Marsh, Clearwater, Fla.; and Michael Marsh, Woodville, Va.; and two daughters, Mrs. Robert Haskell, Martinsville, Va., and Diana Marsh, New York City.

Under the terms of the law, the terms of Robert Morgan, of Miami, and Joe Bill Hood, of Bradenton, expire when Burns take office. Bryant has already appointed Morgan to the Board of Regents.

The unexpired length of the terms are only to get the commission on a staggered basis and after the initial appointments, each new appointment will be for four years. If there is a reappointment of an appointee, the term would run until Jan. 1, 1967.

Gov. Bryant Slaps Burns Again
TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Gov. Farris Bryant, living again in the face of Gov. elect Haydon Burns today reappointed two members of the State Racing Commission to terms running well into and beyond the Burns administration.

Bryant quickly accepted the resignations of expiring commissioners Sam L. Pyle, of Leesburg, and John A. Touhy, of Starke, and immediately reappointed them. Touhy's new term runs until January 1, 1967, and Pyle's until January 1, 1968.

Burns, who already is angry with Bryant for naming a nine-member Board of Regents without giving him a choice in the selection, said two weeks ago that he intends to appoint the five-member Racing Commission when he takes office.

He said at that time he did not expect that Bryant would take advantage of a 1963 law which put the Racing Commission on staggered terms and had the effect of extending the terms of three members so they held over through the next governor's term.

The third member whose term was extended in the act is Jack Fiveash, of Pensacola, but he did not submit his resignation to Governor Bryant so he could be reappointed. Speculation is that Burns intends to reappoint Fiveash anyway.

The reasons for the resignations and reappointment was a ruling by former Atty. Gen. Richard E. Ryan a year ago that cast doubt on validity of extending the terms because the Constitution, with the only exception being the Board of Regents, limits terms of state officials and commissions to four years.

The Racing Commission, prior to this 1963 law, had allowed the terms of its members to be extended by the legislature.

Mayor Axes Late Drinking
By Donna Estes
The mayor's threats to veto the ordinance passed Dec. 23 by the city council were carried out Monday just before the 8 p. m. deadline through written statements personally delivered to each councilman.

Reasons for the veto cited in the statement were that the ordinance "was not consistent with ordinances in other communities in the county" and that the action was "not in the best interest of the town and would serve no good purpose."

At press time today, no move had been made to override the veto which could be done by three-fourths vote of the council.

Obscene Peddler Sought By Police
An attempt to peddle obscene literature to two children was reported to police last night. The caller said his daughter, 9, and her companion, 8, were stopped while in the Pinecrest Shopping area around noon yesterday.

Judge Appointed
TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Gov. Farris Bryant today appointed George E. Adams, Orlando, a circuit judge of the Ninth Judicial Circuit.

Succeeding Adams as Orange County judge will be state beverage director Richard B. King.

Goals Outlined For Next Year

By Harry I. Johnson
"We have determined the basic needs of Seminole County and we are now building the many segments into one solid package."

"I predict 1965 will see the greatest development ever seen in our county."

These two statements sum up the thoughts of John Krider, executive manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, as he looked to 1965. Krider pointed to five goals for 1965:

- 1—More and better educational facilities.
- 2—Metropolitan communications.
- 3—St. Johns River development projects.
- 4—Continued co-operation with the Navy.
- 5—Beautification.

Krider placed education at the head of his list declaring this will keep the many young people in the county rather than having them leave when they have completed their primary and secondary education.

"A four-year college and a junior college are in the works and these will be pushed to the limit this coming year," Krider said.

A facility which will be ready in next week, he added, is an electronics course to be offered at the vocational school site.

"Many electronics companies ask us if we have training facilities for young people," Krider said, "and now we can tell them we have and will have more."

Such higher education facilities will "create the atmosphere which will attract industry," he pointed out.

County Isolated
The metropolitan communication project was second on his list as he noted that "our county seat is now isolated from the rest of the metropolitan area." Ties of telephones into one system is an essential point to "merge the residents."

The proposal was turned down in a vote earlier this year and solid efforts are being made to get another referendum quickly.

The St. Johns River development is a three-pronged effort.

The lakefront marina project which is now being developed with the City Commission studying a comprehensive engineering report.

2 The Port Authority which has made big strides toward a start of actual construction. This would open up a new field of endeavor in the area and in turn would lure many diversified industries.

3—The Sanford-Titusville Canal which would link this area with the Atlantic Ocean and thus to many foreign ports. This project, as an immediate goal, would be completed by the end of the year.

Continued cooperation with the Navy is deemed another of the essential projects. Of special interest, says Krider, is acquiring of funds to extend the north-south runway.

Top Five
And in the top five is beautification of the area with special emphasis being placed on the lakefront. This project has caught fire like little else ever has in the county.

It was suggested several weeks ago at a Chamber of Commerce meeting and since then has blossomed into one of the most energetic efforts by a vast number of persons throughout the county.

Krider noted today that the economy of the county is switching from dependency on agriculture to non-farm enterprises. He said agriculture employment dipped by 2,400 while at the same time non-farm employment leaped by 3,000.

"This clearly shows the trend," he declared.

This past year saw the creation of new leadership in the county and the Chamber official pointed to the "intense interest" shown by virtually the entire membership. "We'll invite 15 or 17 people to a special meeting," Krider said, "and more than 20 will show up."

"These people," he continued, "represent the future of our county and have accepted the challenge to build it."

Seminole County has done much in 1964, Krider reviewed, but 1965 will see the greatest development ever seen in our county."

H. A. MONTEITH
Insurance Firm Executive Tells Of Retirement

Howard A. Monteith, vice president of Crumley-Monteith, Inc., will retire from the firm tomorrow.

Monteith came to Sanford in 1940 and was associated with Metropolitan Life Insurance Company until he and Hada R. Crumley formed a partnership and established a general insurance agency here in 1945.

Later the firm added a real estate division and in May, 1962, the firm was consolidated with the Bob Crumley Agency.

Following retirement, Monteith plans to catch up on his hunting and fishing. During the latter part of June, he plans an extended tour of the United States. The tour will also include fishing trips in British Columbia as well as other parts of the midwest and west states.

Crumley and his son, Bob, will continue with the firm and no other changes in personnel or in the operation of the business are anticipated.

Crumley said today, "Howard will be missed very much by our firm."

MOHAWK, N.J. (UPI) — Police Chief P. George Geffken turned to the parents of this northwestern New Jersey resort town today to help in ending a string of wild "Dolce Vita" teen-age drinking parties in private homes.

Geffken said police would no longer tolerate drinking brawls like the one his men broke up when they arrested 77 teen-agers.

Geffken said that authorities were considering charges of contributing to the juvenile delinquency of a minor for those over 18 arrested at the party.

He also pointed out that legal action could be taken against their parents who are responsible under the law for the actions of their children.

Arrested in the raid were teen-agers from moderate and well-to-do families from 10 New Jersey towns, Norristown and Pittsburgh, Pa., and Gloversville, N.Y.

Six drinking orgies have been held since June, Geffken said, with up to 100 teen-agers from New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New York jamming into one home each time.

Geffken said police were powerless to do anything until the last party. At the previous ones, parents were present and denied officers admission to the homes.

But they had permission from the owner of the home where this party was in full swing.

The interior of the house was a shambles. Hundreds of beer cans and whiskey bottles littered the six rooms. Tables and chairs were overturned and broken. Lamps upset and walls scarred. Damage was estimated in the hundreds of dollars.

Harry W. Stone Sr. had put the house up for sale Dec. 4 when he moved to Syracuse, N.Y.

The party was set up by his son, John, 18, a student at a

Mixed Up House, Mixed Up Wife

BANNING, Calif. (UPI) — When Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Worley returned from a three-week vacation, their home of 17 years didn't quite seem the same.

The Banning Water Company, which employs Worley and owns the home, had built him a new house on the site. Mrs. Worley liked it except that the floor plan was exactly opposite of the old house.

"Every time I start for the kitchen, I wind up in the bedroom," she complained.

Tennessee college.

Geffken telephoned Stone in Syracuse to inform him of the party and was told:

"Go in there and remove everyone from the house."

Geffken and 18 other officers moved in. "When we hit, the kids started scurrying in all directions," he said. "Some went out the back door with six-packs under their arms. They ran behind homes and threw beer cans all over lawns."

Police corralled 29 teen-agers in the house. Others were grabbed outside and at roadblocks. The roundup lasted 4½ hours.

The chief vowed to continue the crackdown and end the drinking bouts. "But we need the co-operation from the parents," he said. "They're the ones to blame."

Air Bottleneck Study Planned

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Air Transport Association is going to do something about one of the airlines' biggest bottlenecks—getting passengers to and from airports in big cities.

The association said it would survey the ground transport situation in 11 cities—Detroit, Washington, Baltimore, Chicago, New York, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Miami, Atlanta, Seattle and Cleveland.

The aim is to reduce the 30 to 45 minutes it takes for a passenger to get from the downtown area to the airport in major cities.

Some solutions to be considered are use of elevated trains, monorails, subways, or helicopters.

112 More Whites Saved

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — White-led troops conducted mopping-up operations today after rescuing white captives in two north-eastern jungle towns from the Communist-supported rebels.

A government column reached Mungbes and freed whites who had been dragged away from Wamba over the weekend by the rebels.

Last night 112 white refugees fled into Leopoldville from Wamba, where they were rescued from the rebels by a fighter-supported column led by 24 white soldiers of fortune.

The refugees, mostly Greek, said the rebels massacred 30 persons, including seven Belgian priests, when they heard on Nov. 26 that Belgian paratroopers had landed in Stanleyville to rescue white prisoners there.

The first to die was Belgian-born Bishop Joseph Wilhelms. Missionary William McChesney, the last American known to be held by the rebels, was killed Dec. 15 along with a British protestant missionary, the survivors said.

Four Europeans were killed earlier this month, three at Madje and one at the mission station of Ibambi the survivors said.

At least 195 white men and women have been murdered in the Congo since mid-November.

UN Financial Crisis Unsolved At Recess

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — The General Assembly started an 18-day recess today, leaving unsolved its financial crisis and Russia's right to vote despite its refusal to pay peace-keeping assessments.

Throughout Wednesday, delegates sought in private talks to solve the fiscal dilemma that has been in negotiation between the United States and Russia since last March.

And twice they marched to the office of assembly President Alex Quaison-Sackey of Ghana to participate in unofficial straw votes to solve a dispute over a Security Council vacancy.

For almost five hours, Quaison-Sackey delayed the start of a scheduled assembly meeting. Then, in 13 minutes Wednesday night, the assembly: —Approved by acclamation a split of the disputed council term between Jordan and Mali. Each will serve for one year unless pending amendments to the charter are ratified, expanding the membership of the 11-nation council. —Approved, also by acclamation, Secretary General Thant's request for authority to meet the organization's running expenses on the basis of the 1964 budget until a new budget is adopted in the session resuming next month. The Soviet Union continued to insist it will contribute nothing to U.N. activities in Palestine or Korea, or to retire the emergency bond issue of two years ago.

The new establishment now permits the firm to do its own laundry while in the past this phase of the operation was leased out.

Hoover To Continue As FBI Chief At 70

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "I intend to continue to serve my country as director of the FBI as long as my health and the confidence of the President and the American people will permit."

This statement, characteristically emphatic, was made by John Edgar Hoover today in reply to a UPI question about his retirement plans. Hoover marks his 70th birthday Friday, New Year's Day.

Last May 10, the renowned crime fighter celebrated his 40th anniversary as head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. President Johnson called him a "magnificent public servant" and in a special ceremony formally waived the requirement that government officials must retire at the age of 70.

As the prime force in the creation of an elite corps of enforcement officers with high morale and discipline, Hoover today enjoys a national standing as something of a legend in his time, a living hero to millions of Americans.

But at the height of a long career, he is encountering trouble from law-abiding friends as law-breaking foes. Most of the trouble comes in an area where Hoover always has done well — public relations.

He relayed the answers from his vacation spot outside Miami, Fla., where he is spending the holidays.

Tourists May Visit Moonport Sundays

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — Starting next Sunday tourists will be able to get their first close-up look at the huge complex being built to launch Americans to the moon.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) announced that tourists would be allowed to drive through the rocket complex, which is situated on Merritt Island adjacent to Cape Kennedy.

The tour is similar to one which has been opened on Cape Kennedy.

The agency said photographs could be taken from automobiles, but no stopping would be allowed.

Persons driving through the area will be able to see at close range the huge structure where America's giant Saturn rocket, which will carry the nation's moon travelers will be assembled.

It is considered the world's largest building and encloses 125 million cubic feet.

In addition, the mobile platforms which will transport the fully assembled rocket and capsule out to the launch site and the launch site, itself, will be visible.

The agency said tourists must enter the government reservation from the NASA causeway at U. S. 1 between the towns of Cocoa and Titusville.

The roadway will be opened to motorists each Sunday between the hours of 1 p. m. and 4 p. m.

Determined Man Wins 'Success'

DETROIT (UPI) — Two Detroit youths, Dave DeLaliga, 17, and Daniel Papanton, 14, were walking by some railroad tracks on the city's West Side when they saw a man standing in front of an approaching train.

The boys said they shouted at the man to get out of the way. But he ignored them.

Daniel said he grabbed the man and tried to pull him out of the tracks.

The man jerked free and said "Get the hell out of the way!" Daniel told homicide detectives.

Then the man turned around, sat down on the tracks and was hit by the train.

He was not immediately identified.

Don't Bet On It

Have you heard the latest in income tax proposals? It's that people be paid NOT to pay income taxes!

Don't laugh. This may be for real. It's reported to be under consideration by a government tax force in Washington.

Here's how it would work: Mr. Glomp makes $2,500 a year. He has a wife and four children.

He can, under the new proposal, forget about paying an income tax, since the plan sets up an automatic $8,000 tax exemption.

Mr. Glomp can do more than forget about paying an income tax. He can claim exemption of $800 for each member of his family from the tax he's not paying.

Six times $800 equals $4,800. On top of this, he also can claim a minimum standard deduction of $800.

A total exemption of $4,400. But remember—Mr. Glomp has earned only $2,500 during the year. What about that?

Why, under the proposed plan the government would pay Mr. Glomp for not having earned as much income as the total of the exemptions he could have claimed had he earned enough to pay an income tax, which he hadn't.

It would pay him 15 per cent—the 1965 rate for an equivalent amount of taxable income—of the $1,900 difference between actual income and total exemption.

This would come to $285. So Mr. Glomp would be handed a government check for $285 for not having had to pay any income tax. Simple, eh?

You say such a plan is fantastic—that it could never happen? Don't bet on it.

In Dark Mood

Anyone with about 100 square miles of desert just sitting around doing nothing might contact a group of scientists busy painting the desert near Yuma, Ariz.

They hope to blacken, with asphalt or some other heat-absorbing material, that much desert somewhere in the world sometime within the next few years in an experiment which they believe could triple rainfall in a vast surrounding area.

The theory is that the blackened ground, baking under the sun, would generate powerful updrafts of air. Like a mountain, they would meet incoming moist air from the sea and carry it to great heights where the moisture would condense and fall as rain.

If successful, great barren areas like North Africa, the west coast of South America and much of Australia could be opened up for farming and living.

Currently, the researchers, employed by the Esso Research and Engineering Corp., are testing small 10x-10-foot plots of different types of asphalt and other substances.

From 100 square feet to 100 square miles is quite a jump. But even if it doesn't work—what a fantastic lot.

Thought For Today

And, he said to them, take heed, and be of all covetousness; for a man's life does not consist in the abundance of his possessions.—Luke 12:15.

It's good to have money, and the things that money can buy, but it's good to check up once in a while and be sure you haven't lost the things money can't buy.—George Horace Lorimer.

Expressions Of Joy

The expressions of joy throughout the hemisphere. Throughout Latin America over President Johnson's announcement that he would renegotiate the Panama Canal treaty reflected a condition which has been fruitful not only to U. S.-Panama relations but to U. S. relations

For the United States' stiff refusal to renegotiate the 1903 treaty and its rights in perpetuity over the canal generally was taken as evidence of a by-gone diplomacy among free nations — of a large nation impressing its will upon a weaker one. For the Panamanians it was a matter both of emotions and money, and twinned in four years it spilled over in bloody violence.

Through the years, the overriding U. S. concern was the canal's strategic value and the obvious fact that the Panamanians neither could operate the canal nor defend it.

For the Panamanians it stood as a lasting symbol of a violation of their sovereignty and a status which reduced them to second class citizens.

The 1903 treaty itself came about as a result of a none-too-glorious episode in U. S. history.

After failure of a French attempt to build the canal, Colombia, which held Panama as province, granted rights to the United States but the Colombian senate delayed ratification. In November, 1903, Panama revolted and U. S. warships prevented Colombian troops from reaching Panama to put down the revolt.

Some said the U. S. paid and encouraged the rebels.

In any event, within 15 days the United States had both recognized Panama and for $10 million obtained full jurisdiction in perpetuity over a five-mile-wide strip on either side of the future canal. Subsequently annual rent was set at $250,000.

Through the years there were many U. S. concessions to the feelings of the Panamanians.

In 1936, the United States gave up its right to intervene in Panama to preserve order. The annual rent went up in two stages to its present $1.9 million.

And in 1960, President Eisenhower ordered the Panamanians to be flown alongside that of the United States in the canal zone.

It was done over the objections of many in the Pentagon, members of Congress, and the "consent," those Americans living in the zone.

This year, relations between the United States and Panama were broken on the same old issue of the canal and remained so for weeks in a battle over whether the United States would "discuss" the old treaty or renegotiate.

Panama has benefited from the canal through subsidiary income, to the tune of about $65 million a year, plus receiving other benefits from the alliance for progress. But she has always believed she should have more.

HARD TO SWALLOW

Lyle C. Wilson Says:

'Bleeding Hearts'

United Free International Arizona is doing the necessary toward making the state's next generation of (Wanglers) the most intelligent, best educated, least delinquent of that age group in the United States.

The bleeding hearts of social reform should inquire into what goes on in Arizona. What goes on is a dynamic reform in elementary education. The objective of reform is to teach Arizona's little kids to read.

On the basis of results to date the objective is being attained. This is very good news indeed because it is not nonsense to believe that an intelligent, well educated citizenry is the best defense of the American way of life, come war cold or hot.

No matter how intelligent a kid may be, he cannot hope to become a well educated, or well employed citizen unless he learns to read. The little Arizona kids were not learning and that is why Mrs. Bettina Rubicum, of Scottsdale and others moved to shake up the Arizona schools. Mrs. Rubicum (her husband is Madison Avenue's Raymond Rubicam) fostered an organization called Arizona Citizens for Strengthening Public Schools.

Education ACPSE. The major results so far have been these: —The inclusion of a required course in phonetics at Arizona State University letters and the creation of syllables. —A wildfire spread among Arizona school districts of the phonetic system of teaching reading. —A really astonishing improvement in the reading level of the kids. —The improvement in the whole academic area.

Look-say requires a little kid to memorize the outlines of each word added to his vocabulary. He may never be able to spell it. This leads to confusion bordering on chaos in the little minds because of an inability to distinguish easily between such words as sergeant and surgeon, monkey and donkey, funny and bunny, where teachers are trained. Phonetics is the tool or method by which young children are introduced to the alphabet, the sounds of letters, the association of letters in other sounds, the creation of syllables by a combination of English is not a picture language.

Arizona claims to be first among the 50 states in the degree to which it is shucking the shackles of look-say. Mrs. Rubicum and others believe the elementary school child who does not learn to read becomes the high school dropout and later the unemployed juvenile delinquent. If she is right, Arizona is on the way to alleviating one of our greatest social and economic problems.

ACSPSE came into being because Arizona parents and others believe the little kids were being cheated of their chance for good lives. If you have that problem in your town or state, you need information on what to do about it. You can obtain that information from the Reading Reform Foundation, 86 West 44th Street, New York, 26, N.Y.

Kennedy Dynasty Eyed

By Lyle C. Wilson

Americans of sound memory have not forgotten when that Man was in the White House and was planning with his clutch of big, rangy, marriageable kids to found a Roosevelt dynasty in the United States.

Such was the nightmare that disturbed the citizens from about the time FDR attempted to kidnap the U.S. Supreme Court until the big war came along. The big war tended to divert the citizenry from fear of a Roosevelt dynasty to clearer and more present dangers.

The citizens should not have needed diversion from such fears. They were foolish, to begin with. A careful examination of the potentialities of the Roosevelt kids, dynastically or otherwise, would have reassured the citizens pronto.

It is a fact, of course, that a Roosevelt had preceded FDR got the door key he FDR to the White House. And it is equally true that when hung onto it so long as there was breath in his body. But the FDR dynasty, if any, was back-broken in the second generation because among that clutch of young Roosevelts who called FDR and Er Pa and Ma, there was more good looks than ability. Much more.

The younger Roosevelts never have done much. It is late now for them much to improve the records. By the time the last of the Kennedys leave public office for good, the young Roosevelts will be as remote as the young of Chester, A. Arthur. The Ken-nedys intrude into this essay on the fading Roosevelt clan because old Joe Kennedy, the papa money bags, bred his brood with the kind of genes dynasties are made of. Who but a Joe Kennedy could endow half a dozen young, each with multi-millions, tab the eldest as a president-to-be and make good his determination that one of his get should be president of the United States even though the brilliant eldest and first choice died a wartime hero?

The Kennedy genes bore a charge of brash arrogance along with wit, humor and a powerful kind of Irish good looks. Else, how could the youngest tad, Teddy, dare seek a Senate seat in his first lap on the political track and almost too young, to boot? Else, too, how could Robert F., the hard-nosed Kennedy, dare seek a U.S. Senate seat in New York state while still enrolled as a voter in the commonwealth of Massachusetts?

The saying went when John F. Kennedy was early in the White House, Bob in the cabinet and Teddy was on the Boston launching pad that all gull was divided into three parts, among Jack and Bobby and Ted. A bit severe, perhaps, but there is no recent match nor long-range match, either, for the Kennedys. If Pierre Salinger makes it from California and Bob wins in New York, there will be a Kennedy bloc of three solid votes in the U.S. Senate. The family will have power bases for political purposes in three great states.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Harry is like many unhappy persons who may even grow so despondent that they consider suicide. But 20 cents and a few days with the "Compliment Club" project can change their negative outlook to one of happiness. If you wish to win oodles of friends within the next year, follow the advice below! It gets results fast!

CASE U-470: Harry Z., aged 28, is a friendless fellow.

"Dr. Crane," he began glumly, "I have hardly a friend except for my parents."

"Yet I am not any worse looking than average, wouldn't you admit?"

"But I seem to have the knack of saying the wrong things. From indirect sources, I have thus been told that I am very tactless."

"So how can I change and become popular, or is that too much to hope for?"

"I want to make any new resolutions that will help me win friends."

Millions of people are tactless and not intentionally so. They simply lack empathy. Empathy requires an extroverted outlook so you begin to focus on the wishes and desires of the OTHER person more than yourself.

The Golden Rule is a superb definition of empathy, for it says:

"Do unto others as you'd have others do unto you."

But far too many timid, tongue-tied introverts are so wrapped up in themselves that they pay little attention to their human companions.

"I Want To Feel Important," is the key sentence for winning friends and popularity with both sexes.

But you must curb your first reaction, which is to tout your own horn and show off your own importance.

Subdue this natural impulse and turn your attention to your companion, whose chest also carries this universal tattoo:

"I Want To Feel Important."

Remember, both of you bear that same tattoo.

But the popular person checks the very natural impulse to flaunt his importance and helps bolster the pride of his companion.

So he smiles, which is a non-verbal or "sign language" compliment that almost invariably generates a smile in return.

Popular people thus break the ice first!

Two snobs on a park bench are each dying of loneliness. But neither will break the ice, so they remain snobby, aloof, and unhappy.

Force yourself to take the initiative and smile first. Then go the second mile, which means phrase a spoken compliment to reinforce your smile.

If you are excessively shy, then sit down tonight and figure out the people tomorrow whom you'd like to be on friendly terms.

Write their names on a slip of paper.

Next, analyze them in your imagination for virtues or merits on which you can pay them sincere compliments.

Maybe they will be wearing a new tie or attractive frock or be carrying a new purse or maybe they have slender, artistic fingers or a melodious voice or dimples or beautiful white teeth.

Mark down one such item on which you wish to deliver a verbal bit of praise.

Then rehearse what you expect to say as you look into the mirror.

Even if you are now so timid that you can hardly whisper your compliment, be sure to force yourself to utter it, for that is the magic "Open Sesame" to friends and popularity!

The net effect of watching scores of detergent commercials on television is to make you wonder "how white is white?"

A psychiatrist suggests that a reasonable goal in teaching the family's children to get along with each other is "avoidance of bloodshed." Come to think of it, that is rather reasonable.

A firm is advertising kits for making wine at home. Now if someone would only offer kits for women and song!

Children's shoes are now being made of plastics. They're proof against rain and snow and everything except children.

A medical authority declares that the chronic backaches many women suffer are caused by "the little frictions of everyday life." Such as husbands, maybe?

Mass Schedules Announced

By Donna Estes
Area Catholic Churches today announced schedules for New Year's Day.

Mass will be celebrated at St. Mary-Magdalen Church in Altamonte Springs at 7 a.m., 8:30 a.m., 10 a.m. and 11 a.m. No Mass will be held at 12:15. At the Church of Nativity, Lake Mary, Mass will be conducted at 8 a.m., 10 a.m. and 12 noon. Confessions will be heard preceding each Mass.

The 19-year-old green-eyed Sunday school teacher was so charming during the 30-minute interview that a young newspaperman asked her for a date. She agreed, but said it would have to wait until next December when she steps down from her throne.

Judy, a Texas Christian University sophomore, told newsmen that she had to make a long-distance call to Fort Worth after being crowned 1965 Maid of Cotton to break a date she had made for tonight.

"He said he understands," she told newsmen.

The 19-year-old lass was selected from a field of 20 girls from 11 states at King Cotton's 1965 fashion ambassador.

During the coming year she will visit Europe twice, go to Canada, and travel over much of her own country.

The first trip started today, when she left for Dallas to begin over the Cotton Bowl football game.

"I just can't believe all this has happened. I still can't believe it," she said.

"I'm so excited I've never been to Europe, and I can't wait to see Paris," she said.

"I think every girl dreams of going to Paris one day."

During her reign, Miss Hill will be backed up by Linda Kay Smith of Fairfax, Ala., first runnerup, and Cheryl Ann Semrad, Waukomis, Okla., second runnerup.

The new Maid, five feet, 7½ inches tall, and weighing 122 pounds, chose a camel-colored two-piece suit accented with a wide black leather belt for the press conference.

Thinking Out Loud

BY JULIAN STENSTROM

Once again Sanford has an opportunity to return to the Florida State League.

Will it take advantage of it? That's the 75-cent question today.

Following Tuesday's meeting of the Sanford Lions Club when FSL President George McDonald explained how it could be done, there were a hundred and one questions on the minds and lips of those who are interested in a summer program of professional baseball here.

But the answers are going to have to come from almost that many sources before Sanford can have the franchise that's available right now for the taking.

To review briefly, the FSL wants to operate in 1965 with 10 clubs. Right now there's Miami, Tampa, St. Petersburg, Fort Lauderdale, Daytona Beach, Orlando, Sarasota and West Palm Beach. Cocoa has been admitted to the circuit and a 10th club is needed to enable the league to play a balanced schedule of 72 home dates and a like number of road games for each club.

In 1966, according to the FSL chief, the loop wants to expand again—this time to 12 clubs, six in each of two divisions.

Major league sponsors are available for each club in the league and the Kansas City Athletics want to operate a farm club in Sanford.

What this means is this: Under the new type player development agreement, the A's would furnish players, manager, salaries, uniforms and transportation to and from Sanford for personnel. The local sponsoring unit must provide a park, lights, intraleague transportation, bats and baseballs. For this, the local unit would be entitled to all gate, advertising, program and concession receipts.

To lay it on the line, the first requirement would be to obtain the local ball park. Whether the City of Sanford would make the park available is a big question. In the first place, there's the problem of converting the field from football to baseball and this, according to City Manager Pete Knowles, costs about $6,200, that is— for a complete conversion and re-conversion job.

The next question is who'd pay for the lights. In most FSL cities the municipal government provides power for the lamps. However, it is doubtful that the present City Commission would do this.

Thirdly, and this is the biggest question of all— "Does Sanford want professional baseball?"

We've done some checking

Eagles Sink Talons Into Oviedo Lions

Ellsworth Runs Away With Game

By Julian Stenstrom

The two-game, inter-state cage series between the Ellsworth Eagles and the Oviedo Lions came to a successful conclusion Wednesday night—at least for the youngsters from Maine.

Head Coach Stuart Taylor's defending Class L Maine champions lengthened their wings in the second half of last night's performance before the largest crowd to ever jam the Oviedo High gymnasium and at the final buzzer Ellsworth was ahead 64 to 55 and still pulling away.

The first half and part of the third period was a continuation of the point-for-point battle the two clubs fought at Lyman High's gymnasium but various factors began to enter into the affair and the Eagles raked up a win to gain an even break in the series.

One of the factors was the play of the Eagles Mack Nash, a 6-foot-5 sophomore cager who didn't even dress out for the Monday night affair, Nash hit for three field goals and six points but his primary contribution was his rebounding. Time and time again the towering youth plucked the ball away from the smaller Lions.

Nash didn't get into the affair until midway in the second stanza with the Lions commanding a 26 to 20 lead. But from that point on the ball game took on a different complexion.

Three Eagles paced the Maine quintet in the point-making department. Jimmy Markos racked up 18 on eight floor shots and a pair of charity throws. Joe Royal was right behind him with 17 markers on seven field goals and a trio of free shots. Wayne Mayo contributed 11 points.

Nevertheless, the game's high point honors went to Rex Brooks, hero of Monday night's game with a field goal in the final two seconds, who last evening bucketed 23 points. Jim Courier hit for only three field goals but he sank 10 shots from the free throw line. The points of Brooks and Courier, coupled with the eight by Billy Mikler, accounted for all the Lions' scoring.

Other point makers for the Eagles were Larry Gross and John Whitmore, each with a half dozen.

Oviedo jumped into a four-point lead before the Eagles tied it up with a field goal and a pair of free shots but the Lions moved ahead to a 13 to 6 lead with Courier making most of the points. In the waning moments of the quarter Mayo, Markos and Royal raked the gap and the period ended with Oviedo leading 18 to 14.

Midway in the second frame the Lions again moved to a six-point lead but the picture began to change when Taylor sent Nash into the game. Gradually the Eagles, this time with Larry Gross paving the way, closed in again and at the intermission buzzer the Lions left the floor with a scant one-point margin, 30 to 29.

Ellsworth took the lead for the first time in the opening seconds of the third frame when Nash dropped in a bucket but the Lions roared back with six straight points, four by Courier. But the Eagles started to soar again and moved ahead 45 to 42 at the end of a period.

Early in the fourth a free shot and a field goal by Courier knotted the score at 45-45 but Markos untied it with a free toss and from that point the Maine flock was never in trouble. Markos quickly added two field goals and Royal also sank a pair and with four minutes remaining the Eagles commanded a 55 to 47 edge.

The Lions came within five points of the Eagles with two and a half minutes left but on-ly Brooks could sink another two-pointer for Oviedo while Markos rang up a field goal. Whitmore dumped in a pair of free shots, Mayo did the same and Royal added another field goal.

The Lions got into difficulty early in the game when Cour-

TV Quarterbacks In For Treat

By Gary Kale

UPI Sports Writer New Year's Day video quarterbacks with plenty of time on their hands have a day-night television treat at Friday night college football when eight college football squads with a combined 68-10-1 record play in the nation's four oldest bowl classics.

More than 300,000 are expected to attend the contests that kick off a six-game bowl weekend.

Earlier starters are the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans (NBC 1:45 p. m. EST) where Syracuse, (7-3) meets Louisiana State (7-2-1) and the Cotton Bowl at Dallas (CBS, 1:45 p. m. EST) that features Arkansas (10-0) vs. Nebraska (9-1). The Rose Bowl at Pasadena,

Bold Lad Shows 'Sweep' Promise

NEW YORK (UPI) — As the Thoroughbred rocket into a new year Friday, it seems that 1965 should produce the first triple-crown winner in 17 years.

A flashy young colt named Bold Lad showed sufficient class in 1964 to win the Juvenile, Championship in a breeze, and to threaten a sweep of the three-year-old classics in '65.

If the son of Bold Ruler can dominate the opposition next season as he did last, he appears a cinch to take the Kentucky Derby, the Preakness and the Belmont Stakes. His performances in winter racing will be watched closely, however, to make certain that he's still headed for the triple tiara.

Receives Award

WESTBURY, N. Y. (UPI) — John Ernst, director of operations of the American Machine and Foundry Company's bowling equipment manufacturing division in Shelby, Ohio, has been honored with the AMF achievement award. A graduate of Purdue, Ernst joined AMF as chief pinspotters development engineer in 1946.

Ernst and Mikler got close to fouling out and Oviedo's coach Paul Mikler had to call off his full court press and go into a zone defense. Tim Colbert played with a jammed thumb and for all practical purposes was unable to do any shooting. Also seeing action for the Lions were Charlie Mikler, Mike Partin, Gardner Freedy and Charlie Beasley. Dick Small also saw action for the Eagles.

Keller Carries Gators To Win

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Sophomore Gary Keller of the University of Florida is a string-bender who looks too fragile to mix it up on a basketball court.

But what better proof that looks are deceiving than the fact he was named the most valuable player in the Gator Bowl basketball tournament.

Keller, who stands 6-9 but weighs only 187 pounds, was the difference Wednesday night when the Florida Gators beat Texas 62-49 to win their second straight and fifth Gator Bowl title.

The lanky Keller led the scoring with 21 points and was top rebounder in the game. He had 23 points and a dozen rebounds the previous night when the Gators overpowered Wake Forest 82-65.

Wake Forest earned third place in the tournament by beating Georgia 83-76 with a balanced scoring attack.

Named with Keller to be the all-tournament team by sportswriters were teammate guards Tom Bazley and Brooks Henderson, Jimmy Pitts of Georgia, Bob Leonard of Wake Forest and Bo Rothchild of Texas.

Henderson was named the most valuable player when Florida won last year's Gator Bowl tournament.

Leonard was high scorer in the consolation game with 23 and Rothchild had 18 on opening night to lead the Longhorns, although he was held to only six Wednesday night.

Consolation 'Very Little' For Indians

ORLANDO (Spl.) — Seminole High's cage team played an Elks Tangerine Bowl Tournament consolation tilt last night but there was little consolation to it.

The Tribe bowed to the Colonial High Grenadiers by a score of 81 to 33 in what must go down in SHS records as one of—if not the worst—basketball defeat in hard-board history at the school.

The only time Head Coach Mack Blythe's Seminoles were in the contest was during the first period when they closed out the frame trailing the Orlando five-14 to 12. But from there on it was strictly no contest.

The Grenadiers pumped in 23 points in the second stanza while the Tribe came up with a lowly three points. In the third and fourth periods the Seminoles managed only nine points in each frame while the Grenadiers got 13 in the third and turned the burners on full force in the final quarter to register 31 points.

Steve Groover led the hapless Tribe with a trio of field goals and a like number of free shots for nine points. Ron Hinson got two, Dave Murray three, Jeff Williams two, Hunt two, Loyd six, Mike Gray a pair, Buddy Stumpf one, Lamar Oxford four.

Meanwhile, Colonial's Ronnie Andreychik sank 29 points while mates Russ Hanson accounted for 13 and Terry Seawell 10.

In the main event of the evening, the Wildcats of Winter Park took the tourney title with a 67 to 47 victory over the Bishop Moore Hornets of Orlando. During the first two periods it was a ball game and a half with the Parkers leaving the floor at intermission with a 28 to 26 lead. But Winter Park pulled away from the Hornets in the third period and more than doubled Bishop Moore's output in the final stanza.

H. Smith Named Davidson Coach

DAVIDSON, N.C. (UPI) — Homer Smith, 33, said he applied for the head coaching job at Davidson College when he heard of the opening from Wake Forest Coach Bill Tate.

Smith, currently offensive backfield coach at the Air Force Academy, said he recently met Tate in Los Angeles and had a general discussion about the North Carolina area.

The announcement of Smith's selection as the Wildcats' 21st head coach was made by Dr. Tom Scott, school athletic director. He was picked from among 75 applicants.

Smith succeeds Bill Dole, who resigned recently under pressure after serving 13 years as head coach, longer than any previous Wildcat mentor.

The Wildcats suffered through a dismal 3-6 record this past season, their fifth losing season in six years.

Ooops — HONOLULU (UPI) — Australian Rodney Sumpter came in fourth in a six-mile surfboard paddling race here.

He demanded that all boards be weighed to make sure that they conformed to the 45-pound minimum.

Only one board was found to be too light-Sumpter's. He was disqualified.

Dog Track Opens Saturday Night

The Inaugural Handicap at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club had its fifth starter last night after Deep Rock Kennel's Ebony Rock won the 10th schooling race.

Racing Secy. R. C. Williamson quickly added the Sodrac Park Derby winner of 1964 to the list of sure starters in the Saturday night event which is traditionally the opening night feature.

Ebony Rock was clocked at 31.53 seconds. Other sure starters in the Inaugural Handicap are Larry Hughes' Miss Whirl, Joe Girard's Kiss-n-tell, Starlight Kennel's Orbital and Oswald Brothers' O. B.'s Walla — the defending champion.

Williamson was to select the other three inaugural starters today.

Last night's 25 schooling events concluded the pre-season trials at SOKC. The track will be dark tonight and Friday night while preparations are made for the gala opening night ceremonies Saturday.

Liston Pleads Not Guilty

DENVER (UPI) — Former heavyweight boxing champion Sonny Liston, arrested Christmas Day following a "shoving match" with 10 Denver police officers, pleaded innocent in Municipal Court to a charge of drunken driving.

The fighter, whose arrest last Friday was his third this year on alleged traffic violations, was ordered to stand trial Jan. 29 before a six-member jury panel.

The maximum sentence on a drunken driving conviction is a jail term of one year and a fine of $1,000.

Marathon Game Score 690-673

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (UPI) — Who said American children aren't physically fit? The Catholic Youth Organization defeated the Market Street YMCA 690-673 in a nine-hour basketball marathon in which there was only a five minute break and no timeouts.

There were no substitutions but players were allowed to sip orange juice during the game which began at noon and ended at 9 p.m. yesterday.

Maxwells Star In Mixed Loop

The Maxwell team in the Friday Night Mr. and Mrs. League at Jet Lanes were really on the beam as they swept a four point decision from the Henning team, Shirley Maxwell rolled a cool 168/462 and husband Neal really tore up the pins with a fine 210/681. Clarence Henning tallied a steady 178/507.

An et Trepanowick was pounding the strike pocket as she rolled 182/469 series in a three game win over Betty and Rich Murphy. Irene and Jack Weible took three games from Elaine and Steve Kostival in another Mr. and Mrs. match. Audrey Bolger banged home a beautiful 173/450 series in a three point win over the team of Betty and Ross Church. Jane and John Spolski hit for good series in a four game win over the Gabriel duo of Ann and Bob. Jane hit a 175/485 series and John came through with a fine 203/575.

Arkansas, the only other perfect record team in Friday's action, will draw an estimated 75,000 for its Cotton Bowl clash with Nebraska team that tumbled from the unbeaten ranks on a closing day loss to Oklahoma.

Quarterback Pat Screen, perhaps the greatest Louisiana State passer since Y. A. Tittle, mans the Tiger attack that has made LSU a five-point pick over Syracuse in the Sugar classic.

Florida State is a field goal choice over Oklahoma in Saturday's Gator Bowl game. The Seminole's have a strong forward wall, bulwarked by 227 pound tackle Avery Sumner.

The 49th annual Shrine game has impressive passers in Roger Staubach of Navy and Fred Mazurek of Pittsburgh to credit the throwing of California's Craig Morton and Bob Berry of Oregon for the West.

Wilson Offered 2 Coaching Jobs

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI) — Two teams in the American Football League have offered head coaching jobs to George Wilson, who last week quit his top coaching post with the National Football League Detroit Lions.

Wilson, 51, said he would not identify the AFL teams but he said one matched the salary paid by Detroit, reportedly $47,000 a year, and the other "is offering me a great deal more."

He said he wants to remain in the National Football League and will wait 30 days before making a decision on the AFL offers to see if "something develops."

The speckled green and yellow tilefish is a beautiful creature, says the Miami Aquarium's Capt. Bill Gray. However, because it is a fish which lives at depths of 600 feet, it is rarely seen.

New Markets Devoted Entirely To Gourmet Foods

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Housewives may someday find papaya from Formosa, truffles from Italy or angulas eels from Spain at the corner supermarket if an experiment underway here is successful.

One supermarket chain has opened its first international supermarket devoted to gourmet foods from 50 countries—the first international supermarket in the United States, the company believes. From fish to cheese, wine to coffee, the shelves offer thousands of varieties of foreign delicacies and native specialties, along with the know-how to prepare them properly, company officials say.

The latter problem—how to tempt housewives to try foods they do not know how to cook—is solved by providing attendants and consultants in each department to explain how it's done, according to the store. Among the special departments are cheeses and sausages, prime meat, fish and poultry, wine and liquor, specialty and foreign grocery, fruit and produce, bulk coffee, frozen foods and others.

Keeping Current
Something that has been around for years is accepted without question. Talcum powder is such an item. Keeping pace with current packaging, it now comes in refreshing spray containers. But, talcum powder or powdered talc is the same. Talc is a type of soft stone, similar to soapstone or French chalk, and the finest comes from Italy. It is pulverized and scented for lady's use.

CARE'S GOAL
NEW YORK (UPI) — Every dollar spent for a CARE package sends 27 pounds or more of food to a hungry person in need, CARE, Inc. reports. Goal of the 1964-65 campaign is delivery of 6.5 million packages in the names of Americans who donate a dollar-per-package as part of CARE's plan to help feed a record 27 million hungry persons in 34 countries.

Mrs. Anderson Honors Sister At Open House

Open house was observed Tuesday afternoon and evening at the home of Mrs. C. A. Anderson Jr. on Shannon Drive. Guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Symonds and children, James and Kaye, of Sodus, N. Y.

Mrs. Symonds, the sister of Mrs. Anderson, formerly lived in Sanford, graduating from Seminole High School with the class of 1931. She has lived in Sodus since her marriage in 1935.

The home was adorned with holiday decorations. The punch table was overlaid with a nylon net cloth applied with felt poinsettias and the punch bowl surrounded with holly berries and holly leaves. Refreshments of hors d'oeuvres, holiday cookies, punch, nuts and mints were served.

Between 75 and 100 friends called during the appointed hours. Assisting with the serving were Mrs. V. B. Hasty, Mrs. B. L. Dann and Mrs. Vernon Davis.

Hollywood Paper Reflects Success With Lady Boss

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Tichi Wilkerson, owner and publisher of "The Hollywood Reporter," is anything but the stereotype of a journalism magsate. You know—old, crusty and desk-pounding.

Tichi is young, good-looking and quiet. The tall, brown-eyed brunette became publisher of the entertainment-oriented journal just two years ago on the death of her husband and the paper's founder, William Richard (Billy) Wilkerson.

She immediately turned out to be something of a female whiz kid. Circulation, advertising and the paper's coverage all shot up.

"I love the paper," she said. "I used to handle its finances for my husband, and when he died 'The Reporter' was in a bind."

Wilkerson, who began the paper in 1930, married Tichi in 1951. As his widow, she wasn't awed by her sudden position. She hired a new crew of young editors and writers who reflected her ideas, and things couldn't have turned out better.

"I carry the paper around with me everywhere," she said. "Even when I go to parties I'm thinking all the time."

Her mind may be on paper most of the day, but somehow Mrs. Wilkerson has found time to write several television scripts.

"I took creative writing in college," she said. "I really hope to write for television or do short stories, my writing is more poetic than journalistic."

Her paper covers a greater field than ever — including plays.

"I think we started the revival of the legitimate theater in this area," she said. "We've been giving it prominence, including Shakespearean drama, and there are now over 50 small theaters here."

"We've also changed the paper to cover television. My husband was hoping television would go away, if he ignored it."

Tichi has proved to be a positive thinker, as her associate editor Lewis Arnold points out.

"When 20th Century Fox was down, Tichi said 'let's be upbeat in our coverage, get people to think positive.' I think we helped revive it (the studio)."

And they think Hollywood is healthy now, pointing to the existence of 22 independent studios.

The children went back home to Center Hill for Christmas Day and returned on Tuesday with the rest of the family. They are the children of Rev. and Mrs. Jack Stewart. The Stewarts have one other child, Helen.

The Stewarts had left for home about one hour when the Jacksons other daughter and her family arrived. They are Mr. and Mrs. John William Pace Jr. from Jacksonville. Both the Paces go school teachers in Duval County and have three children, Billy, Bobby and Mary.

Mrs. Lennie McLain, who is in the Delbert Nursing Home, had as recent visitors her brother, Willard Howell, and sister, Mrs. Myra Smith, of Columbia, S. C. They arrived Saturday morning and spent the day. Mrs. McLain was able to go to the dining room for dinner with her visitors. The first time she had been able to go there. Mr. McLain was with Mrs. McLain for Christmas dinner and reports that she is doing much better.

HAPPY NEW YEAR
GENERAL TENDENCIES:

Until mid-afternoon you are able to wind up whatever you have already placed in motion that has to do with conditions or persons at a distance and where your special obligations are concerned. Afterward you can certainly think over the long-range desires that you want to put in motion very soon.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Planning the exact things you want to do in the immediate future is possible in AM. Talk ideas over with others, contacting any backers you need. Use practical methods in PM especially.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Making matters of policy more effective during morning is wise, and they can then be put into effect tonight. Increase will bring. Come for far better understanding with both new and long-time allies.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Cementing better relations with associates, especially in the matter of policy to be followed in the future is excellent in AM. Think of their welfare as well as your own. Get things rolling well in PM.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Get at those chores you like to do in AM, but then have a little rest period before getting on with good friends. Know what it is that co-workers want from you. Plan future work well.

LEO (July 22 to August 21) Make your plans for recreation in AM, so that you can settle down to the work before you with enthusiasm. First do that in which you specialize. Then on with the sort of humdrum part.

VIRGO (August 22 to September 22) Better carry through with whatever is most important at your dwelling during morning. Then concentrate upon creative outlets, increasing abundance. Evening just fine in the romantic sense.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 23) Every chance is yours now to find better ways to have harmony with associates during AM, and equally so at home in PM. Use right data before you. Have discussions with relatives.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Monetary affairs can be nicely handled during morning, and be sure to set up a finer budget. Improve property, make out reports, etc. Have fun with good friends in PM.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) You can handle those fascinating duties you like during the morning. This includes anything of a social nature. Be sure you now have a good budget set up. Concentrate on having greater income tonight.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20) No better morning than this to plan how you will have things in the New Year. Also handle any problematical affairs wisely. Evening can be wonderful. Be happy.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19) Know where you stand with associates and pals during morning, after which you get down to work with vim. Make plans early for evening. Be of assistance to others then as well.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20) Business affairs should be handled well in AM. Leave time for sociability tonight. Are you doing everything in your power to have a fine credit rating? Be on the qui vive.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, he or she will be most interested in foreign countries, affairs, cultures and will absorb such information very quickly. The desire to learn is great and will be put to use in a practical way upon maturity. There can be fame in this chart, but if not, big success in business and finances is very possible.

"The Stars Impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Carroll Righter's individual Forecast for your sign for February is now ready. For your copy send your birthdate and $1.00 to Carroll Righter Forecast (The Sanford Herald), Box 1921, Hollywood 28, California.
