ITALY RECEIVES CREDIT OF FIFTY MILLION DOLLARS

Morgan and Company Grants Loan to Be Used to Stabilize Exchange; Position of Italy Declared Strengthened

ROME, June 3.—Finance Minister di Stefani announced to the chamber of deputies Tuesday that the banking firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. had granted a credit of $50,000,000 to consortium of Italian banks to be used to stabilize exchange.

Strengthen Italy's Position.
NEW YORK, June 3.—Established by J. P. Morgan & Co. of a $50,000,000 revolving credit for the stabilization of Italian exchange, which was announced Tuesday, was viewed in the financial district as a step of great importance, certain to strengthen Italy's position in refunding her war debts and likely to pave the way for an eventual revelation of the life on a new gold basis.

An increase in the bank of Italy's discount rate, from 6 to 8 per cent, is expected to give further support to the currency.

The immediate response of the exchange was a rally of 13 points in the lire, which after selling for some days below 115, mounted to 128. Other exchanges appeared to be strengthened also by the announcement, French francs recovering after touching a new low price for the year.

FINAL TRIBUTE TO MARSHALL PAID BY NATION

Simple Services Held Tuesday At Capital When Government Heads Gather to do Honor to War Executives

Funeral Services To Be Held Thursday and Body Placed For Time in Receiving Vault

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Accompanied by those who most loved him among the hosts of friends won to him during his life by his unflinching kindness, fairness and human philosophy, Thomas Riley Marshall, former vice president of the United States Tuesday night began his last journey from the nation's capital to his home at Indianapolis.

The nation, through President Coolidge and other high government officials, first paid its tribute to the memory of the war-time vice president, who succumbed to a heart attack Monday, in a simple service here yesterday. Then the body reverently was taken to a train which left at 6:30 p. m. and is expected to arrive at noon today at Indianapolis, where the funeral will be held Thursday morning with Masonic rites. Afterwards, the body will be placed in a receiving vault at the Crown Hill cemetery there, pending a decision by Mrs. Marshall as to its last resting place.

Mrs. Marshall, who has bravely faced the ordeal of final parting after nearly thirty years of married life with the former vice president, went on the same train with the body, accompanied by Mark Thistlewaite, Indianapolis news correspondent, who was her husband's former secretary; John H. Cowley, representing the South Side Masons of the South; John R. Little, representing the National Association of Army Officers; and James M. Baker, secretary of the senate during six years of Mr. Marshall's regime as its presiding officer.

Services In Hotel.
The service today was held in the New Willard hotel, where he lived while vice president and when he died more than forty years after his retirement from that office, having returned to Washington for a brief visit, as he had frequently done. Some 200 officials and friends, including a number of judges and chaplains, attended the service, which was conducted by the Rev. Dr. Charles Wood of the Presbyterian church of the Capital.

Puritan of Puritans.
He was a "puritan of puritans," Dr. Wood said, likening him to John Bunyan and asserting that the secret of his life was his faith. His influence, the minister declared, "will carry ever yet further and further as the years go by," warning and restraining in political life, and because of what he was and did and said, "many unworthy things will be left undone."

Juniors Banquet Seniors On Tuesday Night With Faculty And School Heads As Guests

Members of the Junior Class of the Sanford High School were hosts Tuesday night to the graduating class at the annual Junior-Senior banquet held at the Woman's Club when more than 100 persons, including in addition to members of the two classes, faculty advisers and city and county school board members were present.

Principal G. E. McKay was toastmaster and in addition to the responses on the regular program there were many bright talks made by class members during the exercises.

One of the features of the evening was the reading by Warner Scoggon of a letter to the class written by Mrs. G. E. McKay, in which she told how sad it made the faculty feel in bidding farewell to the students with whom for four years the teachers had been so pleasantly associated in school work.

H. C. DuBose responded to the toast, "To Mr. Lawton and the School Board," offered by Lee Peck. The program was as follows:

Toastmaster G. E. McKay To the class of '25, Cloyd Russell. Response, Warner Scoggon. Music, Carmina Barber. To the Faculty, Sam Byrd. Response, Miss Ida M. Gray. Reading, Evelyn Edenfield. To Mr. Lawton and the School Board, Lee Peck. Response, H. C. DuBose.

Violin Solo, Clinton Rivers. Velma Shipp, accompanist. The banqueters sat at five long tables arranged to form a star in the center of which was a great bowl of daisies and fern. Vari-colored ribbon confetti was draped from the balcony over the table to this centerpiece.

The class colors, green and gold, were used in the table decorations. Down the center of each table streamers of green and gold were stretched, tiny crystal baskets of daisies and ferns alternating with green tapers in brass holders down the length of each table. Golden nut cups decorated with single daisies were used and the place cards were figures dressed as daisies.

Great bowl of daisies, the class flower, were placed with artistic effect about the room. The balcony rail was entwined with graceful fern, and a golden glow was cast by the shaded lights.

The following menu was served:

MACMILLAN WILL PLACE U. S. FLAG ON ARCTIC LANDS

Noted Explorer to Claim All Territory For America Despite Canadian Claims; U.S. Officials A Re Perturbed

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., June 3.—Lieut. Commander Donald MacMillan, when informed last evening by the Associated Press of the report that Charles Stewart, minister of the interior, had told the house of commons Monday night that Canada claims all land north of the dominion to the north pole, said: "There is nothing new in this claim, although I have often wondered on what it was based."

"Any land which we discover on the expedition which is to start this month from Boston, will certainly be claimed by us for the United States. We were told in 1913 on the Crocker land expedition. We sailed 160 miles across the Polar sea and took some map lands which had previously been shown on them, but we found none."

"This summer's expedition will seek land in a region lying partly north of the dominion but the greater part will be north of Alaska. If we find any land, we shall claim it for the United States and I think that the nations of the world will regard it as just."

Commander MacMillan is scheduled to sail from Boston with the Peary and the Bowdoin on July 17.

$450,000 FOR CITY SCHOOLS WILL BE ASKED

Superintendent T. W. Lawton Presents Needs Before Kiwanis Club and Petition Is Given Endorsement

New $250,000 High Is Included in Program

Building For Negroes And Repairs Take Remainder of Proposed Education Fund

A movement for the voting of a $450,000 bond issue in the Sanford school district for the purpose of building a new high school building for white pupils to cost $250,000 and a new high school for negroes was launched at today's luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club by County Superintendent T. W. Lawton.

The Kiwanis Club unanimously endorsed the issue and all members who were qualified signed the petition for the election call. Superintendent Lawton addressed the club calling attention to what he said was the absolute necessity of extending the school facilities due to the rapid growth of Sanford.

The petition, which will need approximately 800 signers in District one and three composing the special Sanford school tax district asks the school board to call an election on an issue of $450,000 to be spent as follows:

$15,000 for purchase of site for new High School building.
$50,000 for the completion of the Southside primary school.
$50,000 for the construction of a no white school for negroes.
$10,000 for repairing and replacing the heating systems in the grammar and primary school buildings.

$45,000 for furniture and incidentals for all schools in special school tax district No. 1, which includes the city of Sanford.
$15,000 for the paying of paying liens on school property.

In speaking of the necessity for the new high school for negroes, Superintendent Lawton told the club that the school authorities were trying to care for 800 negro pupils with accommodations, for only 450. He said the heating plants in the grammar and primary schools were "the finest in the world in the summer time but the worst in the winter."

It is the plan of the board, declared Superintendent Lawton, if the bond issue is carried, to rush the construction of the new high school buildings in order to be ready by next year.

President P. B. Rowley, of the Kiwanis Club introduced two new members, P. H. Wight and F. A. Clark and they were welcomed into the organization.

A short address was made by Kiwanian P. B. Smith, who related how his old town club in Tennessee succeeded in obtaining a 100 per cent attendance of members at luncheons.

The members present today were: E. D. Browne, R. H. Berg, I. C. Holton, C. A. Byrd, A. C. Carter, F. A. Clark, A. P. Connolly, D. D. Caswell, R. B. Chapman, T. L. Dumas, Ray Durden, George A. Sheriff Hand And Deputy Williamson Capture 3 Stills

Sheriff C. M. Hand and Deputy Sheriff W. C. Williamson have started on another collection of copper stills following the destruction several days ago of a number of "liquor stills" which they had accumulated.

They say the other office just didn't look right without some copper about and so this week they have already added three big reports to the new collection.

Sheriff Hand went out Sunday and brought back two stills with capacities of 50 gallons each and Monday Deputy Sheriff Williamson gathered in one which could turn out 75 gallons of "white lightning" with one charge, it is declared. A large quantity of beer was poured out as the three still locations.

Chief Executive Gives Young Officers Task Of Promoting Peace and Good Citizenship

AMERICA'S POLICY IS PEACE, HE SAYS

Denies Suggestion Of Other Nations Harboring U. S. Grudge

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 3.—Reduction of the nation's standing military forces to a minimum is predicted upon attention to military affairs by the average citizen, President Coolidge declared here today before the graduating class of the Naval Academy.

While appointing the new officers as ambassadors of peace and citizenship, the President reminded them that the first essential of peace and security is an adequate defense, which "should be quite defense, which 'should be our people.'"

"We do not believe in or wish to bear the expense to maintain large standing military forces," he said. "The very genius of a republic would be threatened by that policy. But while military science has advanced to such a degree that it is necessary constantly to maintain a considerable body of trained experts in that profession, the true spirit of American institutions requires that each citizen should be potentially a soldier, prepared to take his place in the ranks in time of need either in the field or in the necessary productive activity."

It is exactly because we wish to keep our standing forces small that the average citizen must give some attention to military affairs, precisely as he gives some attention to other government affairs, in order that he may express a moderate and informed judgment in the ballot box."

The President reiterated that America's aim was "a policy of peace through reason rather than force," and declared that in its dealings with the peoples of Africa and other nations, the Navy must remember that the "dominant traits of mankind are truth and justice and righteousness, and that the appeal to reason must ultimately prevail."

"Though ultimately I believe peace will prevail," he continued, "I have a much greater knowledge of the history of mankind and too much experience with the traits of human nature to dare to assert that we shall never again be engaged in war. It is known of all the world that we have no present or traditional enmities, that we covet no territory, harbor no imperialistic designs, and are not arming ourselves with the expectation of attacking or being attacked. And so far as we can look into the future, as far as we can gauge the power and courage of other peoples, there never was a time when it was less likely that any other nation or combination of nations would or could make any attack on us."

"As one who is responsible not only for our national defense, but for showing our friendly relations with other peoples and our title to the good opinion of the world, I feel that the occasion will very seldom arise, and I know it does not now exist, when those connected with our Navy are justified, either directly or by inference, in asserting that other specified powers are arming against us, and by arming national suspicion and hatred attempting to cause us to arm against them."

"The suggestion that any other people are harboring a hostile intent toward us is a very serious charge to make. We would not relish having our honorable motives and peaceful intentions questioned; others can not relish having any of us question theirs. We should not forget that in the world over the strongest attributes of all peoples is a desire to do right."

As an instrument of peace, Mr. Coolidge gave assurance that the Navy would draw adequate support from the federal treasury and he gave support also to voluntary organizations which attempted to advance the welfare of the Navy by keeping the public informed of its true aims and purposes. A strong military establishment alone, he said, would not prevent anyone from ever attempting to molest the nation.

Barrel Silhouette

HON. ED. WALTHAM, ex-Governor, Hudson-Exeter Co., SANFORD, FLA.

Dear Ed: The fashions of fashion that come across the old pond from Paris seem to indicate a decided drift away from present day modes when the ideas of fall run around.

For the last few years the more a woman could make herself look like she wasn't, the more stylish she was. It has been counted practically to a disgrace for any woman to weigh more than 25 pounds no matter how high she happened to be. Unless she was a veritable bag of bones she was considered, however she was not stylish, and the surest way to make a woman suffer the pangs of misery is to let her be convinced she is not in perfect harmony with the latest vogues.

Well, the thin sisters have certainly had their day, and they have had the least of it, so to speak. They have made themselves just as little as they could. But the day of the plump girl is coming back, woman will not hide her head in the days are returning when a change if she fills out a pair of silk stockings, when she will not feel like she never wants to show herself in company if she isn't as flat as the chest in a balloon tire with a puncture.

Yes, the tendency seems to be pointing in the opposite time when even a woman with a double chin will not feel guilty that she longs to be taken out and shot at sunrise.

The barrel silhouette—the silhouette which leaves plenty of room for intestines and syrup and all the good things that stylish women have had craved from their menus for years.

And think of how much easier it is to look like a barrel than it is to look like a bean pole! Think how much pleasanter it is to put on such dress as it is to take it off! Think how much more comfortable it is to have a regular old fashioned walk in some suitable condition than it is to be suffering with an aching void.

Let the barrel silhouette come! So far as I am concerned they can take it or leave it. Then I could be in style myself, as long as some one else had out the going to have a longhead silhouette. That's all there is to it. Essex females will be worn even more in the fall. In fact, every family should have one. Yours, BIL.

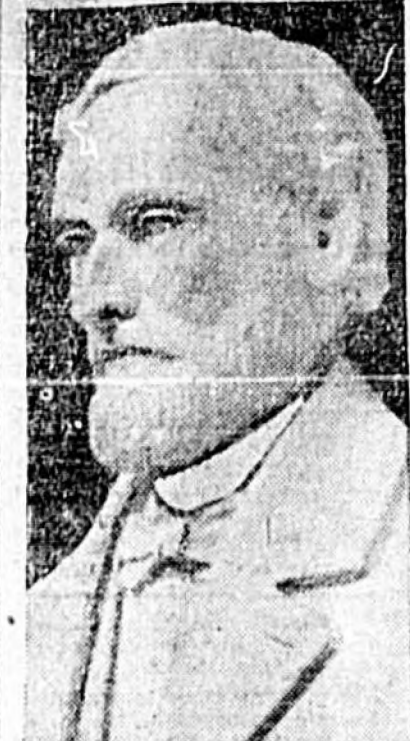

Fosdick Makes Plea For Liberality In Doctrines Of All The Churches

NEW YORK, June 1.—A congregation that crowded to capacity the Park Avenue Baptist Church Sunday heard its newly called pastor, the Rev. Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, preach his first sermon from its pulpit—a plea for a broad liberality in church doctrine. In the congregation were John D. Rockefeller, Sr. his son and grand son John D. Jr., and Winthrop A. For the sermon, Dr. Fosdick was enthusiastically received. He stood for more than an hour shaking hands with the hundreds of persons who attended the services.

Referring to "the thrilling adventure which we are undertaking here," Dr. Fosdick said "as I see it we are endeavoring to exalt the central and spiritual elements in Christianity, to make great things great and small things small, and to make this so explicit in the origination of our church that nobody can mistake our sincerity in meaning it."

"We want to say to this city," he continued, "that just one thing is central in Christianity—discipleship of Jesus—and that anybody

Proposed Miami Shores Railway Station

People Are Talking Magazines Are Writing

And Books Are Being Published on MIAMI —the new seaport metropolis of the South—that wonderful city built upon a definite and positive foundation—not a boom city—not a bubble, but a real, honest-to-goodness fulfillment of destiny—always intended, but just recently appreciated by those who desire to live in an environment of beauty and salubrious climate not found elsewhere to the same degree as it is found in the Greater Miami District. And Greater Miami is not dependent alone upon one or two individual causes—to the contrary, Miami's era of prosperity, now just in the beginning, has back of it eternal sunshine and balmy trade winds, a year-around June climate, ever-increasing accessibility by rail and steamships and ever-increasing production along agricultural lines and ever-increasing industry—as a natural result of the fact that population makes industry.

AND that is why Miami Shores today presents such a wonderful opportunity for buyers to profit as others profited in years gone by. Its tremendous area, its beauty of location on Biscayne Bay, its elaborate and complete plan of development, and its situation in the direct path of Miami's expansion are responsible for the record-breaking sales which Miami Shores has enjoyed since its inception.

Florida Weather and Crop Conditions Given

JACKSONVILLE, June 3.—In contrast with the previous week, which was featured by heavy rains, 99 per cent of the peninsula the report of A. J. Mitchell, meteorologist of the United States Department of Agriculture Weather Bureau of Florida division, declares in his report for the week ending yesterday that the current week saw showers fall over most of the state but dry weather, however, persisted west of the Apalachicola river. Locally heavy showers on the East Coast notably at Titusville, where three weeks total exceeded four inches. The week was favorable for farm work, the crops showing progress. Priming of tobacco was begun in Madison and

Special Session State Legislature Probable, Solons Declare Today

TALLAHASSEE, June 3.—With adjournment of the 1925 regular session of Florida legislature but two and half days off, an extra session appeared on the horizon soon after today's deliberations began. Representative Davis of Leon, chairman of the Rules Committee and one of the floor leaders declared he had been advised that an extra session is inevitable and offered a resolution proposing that members should serve during such session without pay.

He later attempted to withdraw the resolution but was prevented from doing so by objections from floor and the resolution was voted down 49 to 33. A situation has arisen through house action late yesterday in abating the senate appropriation measure, causing the necessity of a conference committee to redraft the measure, which contains 140 pages.

15 Rescued When Dredgeboat Sinks In Stormy Sea

WEST PALM BEACH, June 3.—Lashed to the decks so thwart the fury of wild northeastern winds that threatened to sweep them overboard, the crews of the tugboats, Mohave and Nemo, finally rescued 15 men and Captain Percy Jackson from their perilous position on the Deal, 100-foot dredgeboat of the Waldeck-Deal Company, 15 miles north of Jupiter Light at 2 o'clock Tuesday morning.

The rescue was made by the Mohave and Nemo, which were towing the Deal, amid waves running 40 feet high, according to First Mate Ted Allen, of the Mohave. At 2:30 o'clock the last man, Captain Jackson, was hauled aboard the Mohave. Five minutes later the Deal heeled over and vanished in 110 feet of sea, her lights burning and with full steam on.

The thrilling story of rescue was made known here yesterday as the Mohave and Nemo anchored in Lake Worth. The tugs were towing the dredge enroute from Ft. Pierce to Ft. Lauderdale, where the dredge was to go into service in Sunset Lake. The start was made on Monday afternoon with the sea calm.

Fifteen miles north of Jupiter and six miles off shore, heavy gales and tremendous seas were encountered suddenly. Five hundred feet ahead of the Deal the two tugs wallowed along unconscious of the fact that the Deal's pumps could not keep out the furious water that broke over her. Finally sighting the Deal's distress signals, the tugs cut their lines and returned to the drifting dredge.

"We got on her starboard, picked up her line and fastened it to the Mohave," said First Mate Allen. "From a distance of 50 feet—we dared go no closer—we kept this line taut.

"Our crew had lashed themselves to the decks in their life belts, and the Deal's men had their life belts on. Then we took a small heaving line and with this we pulled each of the 16 men through the raging seas on board the Mohave.

"First we tried to use our lifeboats, but they swamped as soon as they were lowered. Some of the men were unconscious when we got them aboard the Mohave, the waves having pounded them into insensibility."

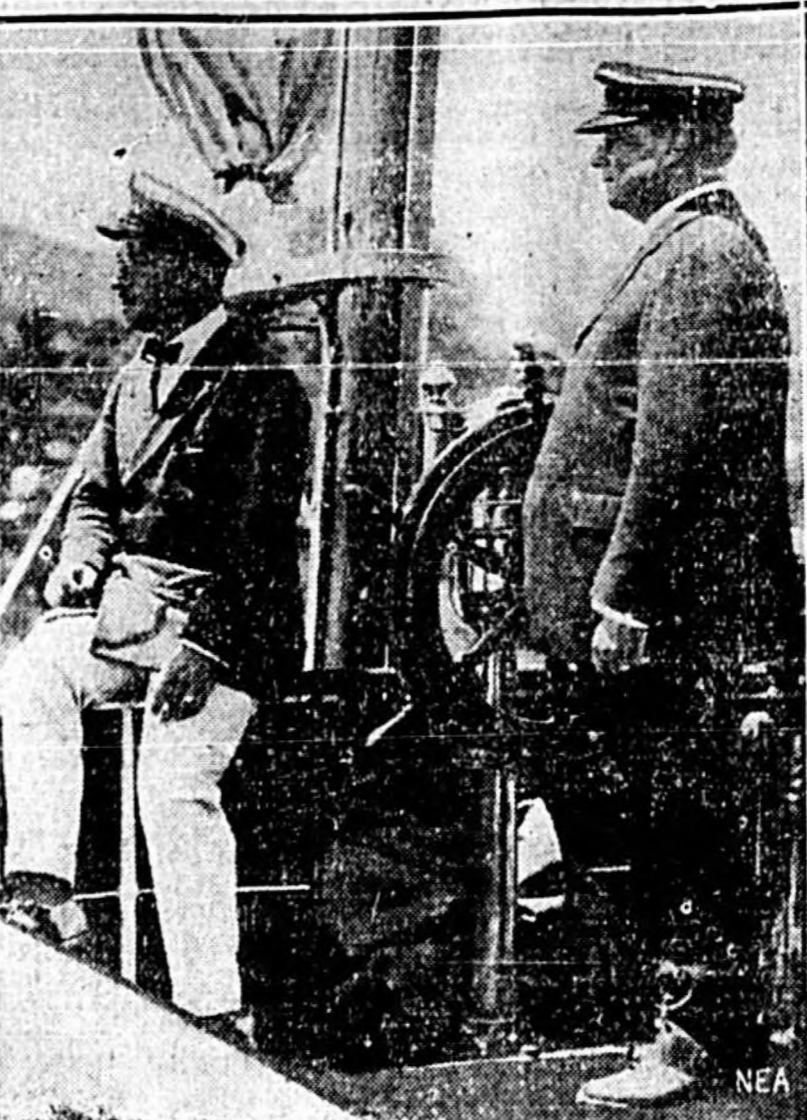

Double Header To Be Played Tomorrow By Civic Club Leaguers

A double header will be played tomorrow afternoon in the Civic Baseball League at Municipal Park, according to league officials who promise the fans plenty of fun.

The first game will be between the American Legion and "Pop" Wallace's Independents, the new comers in the League, taking the place of the Kiwanians who were forced to withdraw on account of conflict with state games, and the second contest will be between the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Knights of Columbus.

The first game will be called at 2:30 and the second at 4 o'clock.

Rebels Can't Hold Hiram

"Wallingford and Blackie Daw"

Thomas Hennessy, left, and Harry D. Hibbs, are held in jail in Los Angeles, charged with operating a "get-rich-quick" scheme. They are said to have swindled hundreds of persons of nearly $500,000. They told their victims they were planning to merge several large railroads of the west and that $15 would be returned for every $1 invested.

IF A LOVED ONE SHOULD DIE TONIGHT?

Death is no respecter of persons. Death doesn't wait until times are good, until you have money in the bank and can "afford" a funeral. Death comes like a thief in the night.

If one of your loved ones should die tonight and you were broke, would the undertaker welcome your name upon his books—would he put the loved one away for you and trust you until some day when you COULD pay?

Even undertakers are business men. They, no more than other business men, can afford to give their merchandise away. To buy from them on credit you must have a good credit rating, a reputation for paying your bills promptly, when due. For their own protection they, too, belong to credit men's associations. Be sure that they would "look you up."

It's easy to have a good credit rating. Just buy within your means, pay your bills promptly, and no day can be so dark that there is not a friend waiting to serve you and trust you until prosperity smiles again.

It's never uphill to the man on the level.

FLORIDA FACTORY VALUES INCREASE RESEARCH SHOWS

Continued Growth in Manufacturing Is Forecast by Officials of Florida Society of America Recently Formed

HOLLYWOOD, Fla., June 3.—The value of products manufactured in the state of Florida will grow in large proportions during the next few years, it is predicted by the research department of the Florida Society of America. According to a recent announcement by the United States Department of Commerce the value of products at factory prices of manufacturing establishments in Florida showed a gain of 29.1 per cent or approximately $43,000,000 between the years 1921, and 1923. In the latter year the value of the state's manufactured products amounted to $188,258,000.

In a statement issued today the research department of the Florida Society estimated that there would be an approximate gain of more than 12 1/2 per cent from 1925 to 1927 in the value of the state's manufactured products. This statement is all the more interesting in view of the fact that the Florida Society at this time is sponsoring a nationwide competition known as "The Florida Industrial Contest" with $20,000 in cash offered as prizes, for the best suggestions of products for manufacture in the state.

The person who names the one product which can be manufactured to best advantage anywhere in the state of Florida, will receive $10,000 cash. The remaining $10,000 in prizes is divided into about twenty parts.

Joseph W. Young, who is the president of the Florida Society and the donor of the rich industrial awards, is also the developer of Hollywood, Fla., where $15,000,000 deep water harbor which is to be the largest between New York and San Francisco and which is now under construction under the supervision of General George W. Goethals of Panama Canal zone fame.

Mr. Young is intensely interested in building a great industrial zone adjacent to the harbor and for this reason is taking a keen interest in the industrial contest which is to determine the various products which are best suited for manufacture here.

Four Prostrations NEW YORK, June 3.—A drop of 3 degrees in the temperature of yesterday's high of 88, gave the city little relief from the heat, four new prostrations being reported, making a total of twelve in the two days. Little hope was held out by the weather bureau for cooler weather before tomorrow.

No Relief For East WASHINGTON, June 3.—The heat wave in which the eastern half of the country has sweltered for the last two days showed no sign of a break when the weather bureau tonight scanned the prospects for the next 48 hours.

Philadelphia shared with Lynchburg, Va., the discomfort of being the hottest spot in the country, both places soaring to a maximum of 98 degrees. This broke the record for Philadelphia temperature this early in June.

"Sanford's entertainment of us was the best we have had since coming to Florida" was the expression of members of the American Association of Engineers, who spent a part of yesterday inspecting the irrigation systems in the trucking districts and were dined by the Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary Club, when they passed through the city today returning to Orlando from Daytona.

The engineers were taken to Daytona yesterday afternoon by a Daytona committee and were returned here this morning and then were transported to Orlando by the Sanford committee.

The delegates will begin their convention in Orlando this afternoon and on Saturday will adjourn and continue their tour of the southern part of the state.

An Adventure in Remodeling On An Average Man's Budget

Above: The House As It Is Now. Below: When Reconstruction Started.

The man who thinks that women are impractical has, patently, never discussed with his wife ways and means of buying a home which she liked. A Congressional Investigating Committee could have learned much from the report my wife gave me. Our little house (we already were beginning to feel that it belonged to us) belonged to Mr. R. He was going to tear it down, because he thought it detracted from the beauty of the entrance to his big place, but, if we could move it away at once we could have it for a ridiculously small sum—about one-tenth its value. We could get two lots just off Creek Road, giving us a quarter of an acre, for $1,200. By going in with a neighbor who was moving a house (a lucky break for us) we could get our house moved for $400. We would have to have a cellar and foundations built, but T. (the village old job contractor) would do it for $500. If we drew up plans for remodeling, Mr. P. (the village president and an old friend of ours) would go over to the local bank with us and help us to arrange a mortgage. "Madame," said I, "you are a wonder. A little simple arithmetic tells me that the house will cost $400; the cellar and foundations, $500; the cellar and foundations, $500; total, $1,400. Against that we have twenty shares of a stock, present market value about $120 a share. This gives us, discounting brokerage for selling the stock, just about $2,400. The old house, then, is a good deal better than we were led to believe. It is a large bedroom on the right and two tiny ones on the left, opened into a tiny hall. Armed with floor plans and perspective drawings made with practically no regard for perspective, the bank granted our mortgage. Within twenty-four hours after that event work had started. Furthermore, it continued for the rest of the summer. The indefatigable One lived up to her name by superintending the job every day. Around the first of November, we moved in our order to crowd the painters out. Out of a six-room cottage without heat or water, we had made an eight-room house with two baths and a lavatory, equipped with an efficient hot air furnace that warms us with only a ton of coal a month. —Western Electric News.

Problems of a Growing City

Sanford's rapid growth is evidenced by the parking problem which is daily becoming more serious. A year or two ago we weren't bothered very much about this matter, but so many new people have come to make their homes here, and the growth of this section has been so fast, the automobile parking situation is getting complicated and soon some action will have to be taken to relieve congestion.

Last Saturday night demonstrated the fact that some of the streets in the downtown business section should be made wider. And busy days and nights to come will again find automobiles parked so thickly on some streets that passing drivers experience trouble.

With the widening of Park and Magnolia Avenue, and this should be done right away, the situation will be greatly relieved. But parking on both sides of Second street is dangerous business. The street is so narrow that when cars are parked on both the north and south sides, hardly enough room is left in the middle of the street for two cars to pass and frequently is heard the scraping of fenders.

The Herald doesn't believe it advisable to place a time limit on cars parked on First Street, just at present. But it would like to see use made of the streets leading to the lake for parking purposes, and believes that the problem would be practically solved if those who have business in the downtown districts at busy times would utilize this section of the city which is so near the majority of the business houses.

We are glad to see the parking problem become serious for it means Sanford is keeping step with other Florida towns where the same conditions exist. The time will come, and soon, when Sanford will be designating one way streets, will have automatic traffic regulators at busy corners, and will have fifteen minutes parking limits on all its downtown streets.

When To Stop Talking

It is a wise man who knows when to stop talking. The day of long winded talks has gone, and there are few of us who would care to see it return.

Busy business men today like to have men call at their offices and get right down to brass tacks without discussing the weather, and the crops, and the tourist business, and every other subject they can think of.

The salesman who knows his business doesn't waste very much time before he gets right to work at his job. The man who has some proposition to make, if he really hopes to convince his prospect, will explain his scheme in the shortest time possible.

These are busy days and there are few men who become successful who don't know when to quit talking. Many persons have talked themselves into a job and then immediately have succeeded in talking themselves right out of the job. It happens frequently.

In a short editorial which gives plenty of food for thought, the St. Augustine Record expresses it as follows:

Brevity is the soul that not only to wit but of effective business communication. Many excellent business propositions have been turned down because of too great prolixity in writing or in conversation. A busy business man—and the phrase is not pleonastic—is frequently turned away by talk from a proposal that might have appealed to him if briefly and tersely presented.

The psychology of the business man's unfavorable reaction to too many words by tongue or pen is easy to understand. In the beginning of submission of a proposition his mind is presumably open. The problem of the proponent is to interest him. When interest has been aroused and the mind has become cautiously receptive as a result the negotiation enters a critical stage—one in which the person to whom proposals are being submitted is easily "scared" off by loose statements. It is a wise man who knows when to stop talking.

HUMILITY IS TO make a right estimate of one's self. It is no humility for a man to think less of himself than he ought, though it might rather puzzle him to do that.—Spurgeon.

GO MADMAN! Rush over the wildest Alps, that you may please children and be made the subject of declamation.—Juvenal.

THE GREAT ARE only great because we carry them on our shoulders; when we throw them off they sprawl on the ground.—Montandré.

MY FAVORITE STORIES
BY IRVIN S. COBB

Harry Dickson, the writer, probably knows as much about the southern negro as any white man can ever expect to know. But even so, in his search for local color and quaint lines with which to illuminate his stories, he constantly is striking a new angle of thought or a new angle of observation on the part of some one or another of his dusky neighbors, down in Mississippi.

Once upon a time Dickson was on a hunting trip in Sunflower county. While there, he met an old negro guide, a bear-hunter of superior attainments and a person of a quaint and an original philosophy. All his life the old man had been buried at the back edge of the canebrakes. Only once or twice had he been to large town. The dream of his life, it developed was to see a circus. He had heard of circuses, he had talked with persons who had seen circuses and he treasured a tattered program of a circus performance which a white man had given him. But the marvels of the red wagon and the white top never had revealed themselves to him.

Learning of the old man's ambition, Dickson had an inspiration. It was an inspiration born partly of philanthropy and partly of selfish and mercenary motives; for he sensed a chance to get some prime material for one of his stories. He promised Uncle Jim that when next the circus visited Vicksburg, he Uncle Jim, should see it.

In the middle of the following summer Pingling Brothers came along with their show. Dickson sent Uncle Jim money for his railroad fare and bade him be in Vicksburg at daylight of a certain morning. He met Uncle Jim at the train.

That day was probably the most crowded day and the most eventful one in Uncle Jim's entire life. His patron took him up into the yards to see the circus unload from the cars, and took him then to the show tent to watch the raising of the tents. Under escort of Dickson the old negro saw the street parade, the afternoon performance and the side-show and heard the concert. He saw it all—menagerie, hippodrome, freaks and the rest of it. His widely popped eyes and the look on his face testified to this enthralment at beholding all these wonders, but not a word of either commendation or admiration fell from his lips. Harry was rather disappointed. He had expected a constant flow of "copy."

Still maintaining his silence Uncle Jim trailed Dickson to his home when the day was ended. He had dinner in the kitchen with the servants and a little later was to be taken to the train which would carry him back to his home in Sunflower county. Toward dark Dickson went to the back of the house to bid his guest farewell.

Uncle Jim, with his shoes off, sat on the lowermost step of the porch easing his feet.

"Uncle Jim," said Dickson, "I'm afraid you haven't enjoyed your trip very much."

"Why, Mist' Dickson," said Uncle Jim, "what mucks you think dat? I n't never gwine forget what I seen today ez long ez I livee, an' I's always gwine be grateful fo' you suth."

H. R. H. Brought Rain It's Wet In Geneva. Moth Monoplane Record Only $16,812,809. By ARTHUR BRISBANE (Copyright 1925)

THE PRINCE of Wales, arriving in Basutoland, brought with him heavy rains, first bad weather of his "pleasing African" trip, but another instance of royal good fortune.

The Basutos NEEDED rain, Their best with doctors had prayed their heads off, exhausted their incantations, and even got to accusing one another of keeping the rain away—they have their fundamentalists and W. J. Bryans out there.

THEN ALONG came the Prince, with his pleasant smile under his African sunhat, and down came the rain in torrents, and 100,000 Basutos cheered him, saying "You have brought peace and rain."

Chief Jonathan, aged 90, "as one about to die," thanked the Prince and hinted that he would say a pleasant word for him up above.

EVEN YET, in barbarous regions, where the British have not yet introduced Manchester goods and Christianity, it is customary to select some individual, give him a message for the gods, then knock him on the head and send him up to deliver it.

THIRSTY DESERT travelers console themselves with the green oases of mirage. So you, plodding the prohibition desert, may find mental solace in this.

The United States delegation to Geneva gave a dinner last Thursday, to League of Nations officials, and as Mr. James Walker, of New York's State Senate remarks, it "was as pleasant a dinner as ever you drank."

FIRST, EXTRA strength, dry Martini cocktails. Then, in solemn order, old white Bordeaux, red Burgundy, champagne "Bruit Napoleon" fine champagne, Chartreuse and Kirsch. Seven different and distinct "kicks" one for each day of the week.

THE BURGUNDY, following the white wine, was gastronomic error it should have been claret with Burgundy or port at the end. However, American delegates will learn with practice.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE, who lives on buckwheat cakes and hutter-and had just had his 1921 straw hat blocked, will ask: "Did the public pay for that?"

EUROPE IS HARD at work on flying machine development. Germany is perfecting the aeroplane without an engine, because the Versailles agreement forbade her to own flying machines.

Italy leads in huge high-powered machines, of great speed.

France is ahead of all nations in her number of fighting machines and trained flyers, with Japan, a close second. The Dutch excel in making the all-metal monoplane.

THE BRITISH specialize just now in very light machines, swift enough and very economical. One tiny machine, only 27 horse-power, as compared with the great six and eight hundred horsepower Capronis, has just flown from England to Zurich and back, 1,000 miles, in 14 hours, using only 64 gallons of gasoline.

THINK WHAT SUCH little machines, perfected in speed and economy as they will be perfected, would mean to cheap transportation.

That British aerial midjet, called the DeHavilland speed, make railroad owners and stockholders think. With such a machine, and gasoline at 20 cents a gallon, a man could fly from New York to Chicago, by daylight in a little over 12 hours, the trip costing less than $10 and no Pullman fare to pay.

WHAT WILL happen if Henry Ford and his son, Edsel,—the latter in this case the pioneer,—persist in their plan to do for air travel what Henry Ford has done for earth travel. They probably will persist, for they have never shown signs of quitting.

Mark this moderate prediction: The Fords or someone else, will enable the Chicago man and his family to fly, by the light of one day, to California. FLORIDA or New Orleans, with safety, exceeding and cost one-fifth of railroad travel.

And it does not take any "ghost come from the grave" to predict that.

THE YOUNG VAN Sweringens—two brothers—had some slight equity in real estate and a great deal of imagination. All success and accomplishment, you know, is the result of IMAGINATION.

The brothers using their real estate as a basis of credit adopted Mr. Joe Day's wise slogan, "O. P. M." which means, "other people's money" and began buying railroads. It was not long before the Sweringens were alive now, he would own control of the New York Central, in October.

IN REAL PROFITS, so far, the Van Sweringens have not accomplished much, only $16,812,809 since 1916, according to their own confession. And for that pittance they have worked hard.

But, as they truly say, the first step however humble, is the important thing. Using, now their 16 millions of "O. P. M." there is no reason why they should not make "real money" as the years roll by.

This is still the land of opportunity, if you combine energy and the magic "O. P. M." formula of business chemistry.

ONE CAMP FIRE PALM BEACH TIMES

A jolly automobile party made a little camp on the bank of the Mullis river in New Jersey. Then they went away, but their camp fire stayed. It stayed and thrived, and went out to see the world, as is the way of fires in the woods. Whenever the fire met it marked its progress. It left hideous devastation. After twenty-four hours it had destroyed 10,000 acres of valuable forest.

All the men and boys and most of the women went out to fight the fire, but they made little headway till it had almost burned itself out for lack of fuel. Forty thousand acres of burned trees are left to tell the story of the camp fire and the jolly campers.

The sad part of it is that the campers suffered no harm whatever. Today they are probably little concerned about the damage which they did. There is a high feeling of irresponsibility manifested by campers who leave fires in the woods. They belong to that class of Americans which feels that everything is all right as long as it is not found out. "Finding out" of course means the identification of the campers and the administering of punishment of some kind.

Probably it is no use to preach to men who leave fires in the woods. Were they amenable to reason or heedful of the common good there would be no need to preach to them. Only utter selfishness and callous disregard of the rights and interests of others can be responsible for acts of this kind. To such individuals there is no appeal. Preaching is a wasted effort. The only hope is in general education. Keep on preaching, and if certain individuals are beyond reach of American citizenship as a whole may be responsive. The encouragement lies in the fear that while the process of general education is in progress, the unregenerate individuals may do damage which is quite beyond repair.

SELECTING AMERICAN JURIES TIMES-UNION

Whenever a trial which attracts national interest comes into view, there is always a great deal of curiosity regarding the selection of a jury, the public regarding this as an important and properly so. But the present day methods of securing a jury are so far from what was originally intended, when the jury system was adopted, that it is often criticized. That there could be better ways than observed is probable, but the matter of handling important cases has become general in the way of state and defense endeavoring to secure jurors who have no opinions and have evidenced little interest in anybody or anything.

Says the New York Commercial: "To the man who is not a lawyer—just a plain commonsense sort of citizen, who believes that two and two make four, not five or seven—the ways of a court, when it comes to the selection of a jury, pass understanding. Here is how it seems to him:

The prospective juror is called, if he betrays intelligence and a fair impartiality with the daily news as indicated by the reading of one of several newspapers, he is unfit. He is curiously dismissed, as if somehow he had proved his unworthiness to be considered discreet or trustworthy. On the other hand, he who takes the stand and, like the half-wit that he is, declares that he never reads the newspapers and has never heard of the case before the court, is eagerly accepted by both sides as an ideal juror. To put it another way; he is the best juror, who by a process of questioning, is shown to be the most backward, dull-witted and uninformated. Could absurdity go much farther?

British practice is quite different, and it would appear that in England a respectable man who is willing to take oath to hear the evidence and decide the matter upon it, to the best of his ability, is accepted, and British justice seems to accomplish much more than it does on this side of the water. With our records of thousands of crimes, hundreds of trials, dozens of convictions and fewer yet sentences, the business of the criminal flourishes splendidly. The average criminal is apparently convinced that if he carries enough margin of his profits to hire a famous lawyer he can "get away with anything."

Justice would be best served in every community perhaps, if all juries were arbitrarily formed from a list perhaps of fifty of its best and most intelligent citizens," says the Commercial. This would seem to be a reasonable proposition. The way in which they are secured usually satisfies the lawyers, and no one else. It would seem that they feel it impossible to convince intelligent men or women and dependent upon impressing the weak and least dependable minds in order to secure conviction or acquittal—for the prosecution is often as prompt as the defense in refusing well-informed talentsmen.

That is probably the most reliable statement concerning cancer, of many made at the meeting. But it is an encouraging statement. When men realize that they know nothing, they are on the way to LEARNING.

RADIUM CANNOT cure cancer but can check it for a while. Immediate surgery is the only reliable remedy, and that is uncertain.

Bride and Groom In Tuesday's Wedding

Miss Leola Mae King, lovely daughter of Dr. and Mrs. F. D. King, whose marriage to J. Paul Edmunds was a beautiful event of yesterday afternoon, the ceremony being performed at the First Baptist Church in the presence of a large group of friends and relatives of the happy couple. Mr. and Mrs. Edmunds will make their home in Jacksonville upon their return from their wedding tour.

MISS LEOLA MAE KING BECOMES THE BRIDE OF J. PAUL EDMUNDS IN BEAUTIFUL CHURCH WEDDING

The marriage of Miss Leola Mae King, the lovely daughter of Dr. and Mrs. F. D. King, of Sanford, and J. Paul Edmunds, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Edmunds, of Deland, was beautifully solemnized Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the First Baptist Church. Dr. King, father of the bride, officiated in the presence of a large gathering of friends of the couple.

The church was handsomely decorated. Quantities of soft pink roses were used and a garland of fern entwined the choir rail and was backed by the altar. Over the white covered stair, which led to the platform, an arch of fern interspersed with roses and tied with tulle, was placed.

Tall French baskets of roses and palms were placed about the platform. Myriads of pink tapers in crystal holders burned in each window and across the front of the church casting a soft glow over a lovely picture. Pews for the family and close friends were marked with bows of pink tulle holding roses and fern.

Following the ceremony a musical program was given by Miss Margaret Davis at the organ; Mrs. A. M. Phillips sang, "I love You Truly," and "O Promise Me," "To A Wild Rose" was softly played during the ceremony.

As the bridal chorus from Loehengrin was played the wedding party advanced. The bride party consisted of the bride, her maid of honor, Mrs. Gwynne High School at Ft. Myers and has an A. B. degree from Stetson University of De Land. She is a member of the Alpha Zeta Delta Sorority and is a prominent member of church and social circles in Sanford.

Charity Work Needs Methods of Business

LONDON, June 2.—There has been such a slump in the net receipts from charity functions, balls, tea dances and concerts given by society folk, that an effort is being made toward proper organization. By this means it is hoped hitherto ridiculous expenses will be wiped out, and good profits made for the various deserving charities for which the particular functions are given.

In a recent case a ball committee paid out $1,500 for expenses, and everybody enjoyed themselves dancing, but the charity got only $250. All this is to cease, and the management of affairs has been placed in the hands of Mrs. Frank Braham, a well known society woman. Her dances are among the most popular in London.

If the child is pale, has dark rings under the eyes, bad breath, and takes no interest in play, it is almost a certainty that worms are eating away its vitality. The surest remedy for worms is White's Cream Vermifuge. It is positive destruction to the worms, but harmless to the child. Price 35c. Sold by Laney's Drug Store.

TWO ERRORS ARE COSTLY, SANFORD LOSING TILT 3 TO 2

Wildness of Walsh in 5th Also Contributes to Defeat of Celery-Feds By Highlanders in Second Game

Walsh's wildness in the fifth and two errors in the sixth were responsible for two of the three runs made yesterday afternoon by Lakeland in the second of the series, which the Highlanders won from the Celery-Feds 3 to 2. Walsh allowed only six hits, the same number his teammates obtained off H. Johnson, but the Highlanders were luckier in placing them in the third and fifth and in the sixth a run was scored off him without a hit being made.

The Celery-Feds with the score 1 to 1 against them staged a rally in the ninth, but were able to get only one run over.

The Highlanders began their scoring in the third when with two out, Surface singled to third base; he stole second; Brazier walked and stole second; Welsh got an infield hit and Surface scored.

In the fifth, Dumas walked and stole second; Buckley walked; Surface was out to pitcher; Brazier singled to right and Dumas scored; Buckley was out at the plate; Walsh fanned.

In the sixth, Doyle went to second on wild throw by Walsh, was sacrificed to third by Ponder and scored when Bailey let one get by him at first; the next two were outs.

Sanford kept the score even in the third. Walsh doubled to center, went to third on the out of Curley, second to first; Walzak filed out to left.

Sanford added one more in the ninth, just one less than enough to tie the score.

Young Blanco Of Cuba Gives Bobby Cox Real Scrappy Job Despite Difference In Weight

When Matchmaker "Seaman" Mitchell was forced last night to allow a substitute for Happy Henry to go in the final ten-round tilt with Bobby Cox, of Jacksonville, he and the fans didn't expect much of a fight, as the substitute, Young Blanco, of Cuba, was much lighter than Cox.

However, the little fighter from the island republic had not been in the ring a half minute before Cox found that he was not battling a stalling rope holder but a little bundle of the real fighting spirit.

Blanco met Cox's aggressiveness with the same kind of tactics and he evened and won several of the rounds up to the seventh. He showed more science than Cox, but as the fight came to a close, the little fellow weakened and just as the bell in the ninth he fell exhausted following a body punch a moment before.

Cox was given the decision, as was his due, but "Seaman" Mitchell immediately assured Blanco that he would get him a match here with a boy more of his size and let the fans see him in action when the odds were not so good against him.

In the six-round preliminary by Tommy Leaf and Barney Bass was accidentally fouled in the second round and was given the decision. Garner Johns, the Baltimore bantam, knocked out Battling Kid in the second round of the eight-round mill.

The curtain raiser was a "bat-tle royal" which was amusing just as these comedy fights always are.

Kills Bumps

This man, Alden L. Putnam, inventor of the balloon tire, may be the center of an extensive patent litigation in the next few months. He hurried to Lansing, Mich., from the west last week to assist the Motor Wheel Corp. in defense of the right to collect royalties for the invention.

YANKEES DEFEAT WASHINGTON 8-5; DOUBLE FOR RUTH

"Bambino" Lams Out One For Two Bases and Puts Tying Score Across; Is Also Credited With Single Previously

NEW YORK, June 3.—With second stringers replacing slumping regulars together with the presence and hitting of Babe Ruth yesterday, the Yankees ended their five game losing streak by repulsing the Senators 8 to 5.

Bob Meusel knocked out his 13th and 14th home run, the first coming in the third and the other in the eighth with two on base. Ruth made his first hits of the 1925 season, singling in the fourth and doubling in the eighth his last blow sending in the score that tied up the game.

ATHLETICS BEAT BOSTON BOSTON, June 3.—Philadelphia battered the Boston pitchers Lucey and Wingfield savagely today and took the second game today. Room-mell had opening hitting, annexing his ninth win of the season. Boone clouted a long home run into the center field bleachers in the first inning for Boston.

TIGERS WIN BATTING ORGY DETROIT, June 3.—Detroit won a batting orgy from Chicago here yesterday, 16 to 15, after the White Sox came from behind and wiped out the ten run lead the Tigers had at the start of the sixth inning. With the score tied at "15-all" in the ninth with one out and the count three and two, Cobb lashed out a home run into the right field bleachers, giving the Tigers their fourth consecutive victory.

In college baseball circles they call Owen Carroll, star pitcher of Holy Cross, one of the greatest of all time. As captain and leading hurler, Carroll is now serving his fourth and last year on the team. So sensational has his work been that several major league clubs are reportedly after his services and he's likely to be seen in a big time uniform next season.
