Hostess Arrested In Spouse's Death

Seminole County authorities last night arrested Sylvia Tobia Powell, 37-year-old restaurant hostess, on murder charges in connection with the shooting death of her husband Maynard G. Powell, who was killed Sept. 25 in the yard of his Lake Monroe home. Mrs. Powell was arrested by Lt. L. J. Kriz, Sgt. Tony Calangelo and Matron Sherry Clark on a warrant issued by Peace Justice Robert Carroll, according to a statement issued by Sheriff John Polk.

The woman's arrest comes a month after her 32-year-old husband's body was found by a neighbor in his yard and Henry Porter Joyce, 30, Baltimore, Md., truck driver, was arrested at a Deland motel and charged with murder on Sept. 27.

Seminole County grand jury indicted Joyce on a first degree murder charge in connection with Powell's death and he is being held at the county jail without bond. Joyce was to be arraigned today in Circuit Court.

A motion to force the State to release testimony before a grand jury was filed in Circuit Court by Clark Jennings, attorney for Charlene Powers. Mrs. Powers and her husband, Ronald, are accused of murder in the beating death of their two-year-old daughter, Lana, Feb. 6 in the motion Jennings (who is also Mrs. Powers' employer) stated that the names of those who testified before the grand jury when Mrs. Powers was indicted include names of three people "in whose sworn testimony nothing appears which could possibly link Mrs. Powers with the charge founded against her by the grand jury."

Also filed was a notice for hearing for bond reduction or release under recognizance (without bond) for Elizabeth G. Davis.

The Ocala woman, daughter of a Seminole County resident, is accused of manslaughter in the death of Guy Roger Winkler. The information charging her states that by operation of a motor vehicle in the vicinity of U.S. 17-92 and Seminola Blvd. in Longwood in an intoxicated condition or under the influence of intoxicating liquor she caused the death of Winkler.

The event is said to have taken place on Aug. 14. The motion will be heard Thursday at 4:15 by Judge Richard B. Muldrew.

What this female didn't know was that, while watching the LA Rams getting drubbed by the Minnesota Vikings, the announcement was made by Howard Cosell that Clay had won by a TKO over Quarry.

And this brings me to a paradox of gigantic proportions... this man has to be the most irritating commentator on TV, and yet, the musings of former football quarterback great Don Meredith (who shares the announcing chores) is perhaps the most realistic football voice on the boob-tube.

(So, like the man sez, John... if he was winning another fight, this country was taking another step backwards... losing another ounce of self-respect.)

And now back to Clay.

While he was winning another fight, this country was taking another step backwards... losing another ounce of self-respect.

This has nothing to do with him being a black man... least of all was there any question in my mind or in my writings on this subject about his fighting ability.

He's a good fighter... maybe, maybe almost as good as some of the 50,000 who gave their lives in 'Nam; who fought for Clay's right to enter a ring... AND POCKET $500,000 FOR HIS EFFORTS LAST NIGHT. That's one-half million dollars, folks.

The tragedy of it all, is that we both agree (strange as it may sound to many, I'm sure)... it's just that we go about trying to resolve the problem from different angles.

I'm opposed because I resent the first drop of American blood being spilled for a corrupt government, which to my way of thinking, isn't any more interested in democracy or freedom than they are to continue their "civil" (now how do you like that appropriate word?) war, and pocket the $5 dividends $5 from continuing same.

You see... I don't believe that there's enough money in the world to exchange for the life of one American.

A man that seeks truth and loves it must be reckoned precious to any human society... Frederick the Great, emperor of Prussia.

Polk Accepts Blame

Answers to questions relating to the "filing of no information" against a man and woman arrested in Sanford on possession of stolen property charges and holding them in jail for 10 days after the charges were dropped were unavailable at press time today.

The Herald made efforts to contact Thomas Speer, assistant state attorney for Brevard and Seminole Counties, but was told at his Sanford office that Speer is in Brevard County. But efforts to contact him at 200-8214 (number given by Speer's secretary) proved unsuccessful as a persistent busy signal was all that could be heard when the number was dialed.

According to Circuit Court records, charges made by Seminole County sheriff's office against Richard Drebrow, 26, and Janet Kunselman, 27, were nolle prossed (not prosecuted) as a result of an Oct. 16 action filed by Speer but Drebrow was held in Seminole County jail until Oct. 28, fully 10 days after Speer filed "no information" against the pair.

Polk called at noon today to reveal the 10-day detention of Drebrow was his fault. Polk said that the release order for both prisoners came in Oct. 16, but they were locked in a basket and overlooked. "I take full responsibility for this action," Polk said. He further revealed the Kunselman woman was released five days previous to Drebrow after she had served time on a check charge.

Sheriff Polk said this morning his office did not receive a notification of Speer's action until yesterday and Drebrow was set free at that time.

Sheriff Polk said the information relating to Drebrow was delivered to J. Q. Galloway, county detective chief, Monday. Galloway was unavailable this morning to relate who delivered the information to him but Sheriff Polk said he would have a detective call Herd upon his return.

Last night, Polk revealed that charges against Drebrow and Mrs. Kunselman were dropped after it was determined that a search warrant to enable county authorities and Sanford police to enter a Park Avenue apartment was defective.

Polk stated that the warrant was drawn up by Speer and served when authorities invaded the premises.

Tony Calangelo, county deputy, said three rifles, a color television set, Polaroid camera and an electric drill were recovered.

Calangelo also disclosed that Sanford policeman Roy Williams, who also went on the raid, had recovered tools believed taken from Volusia County, and worth approximately $1,500.

Attorney Scheduled For Court Hearing

Edward R. Kirkland is due for arraignment in Circuit Court Thursday at 3 p.m. Kirkland is accused of violating the law on three counts.

The criminal attorney and Harlan Blackburn, (who was since convicted on gambling charges by a federal court), were arrested early in the morning of Jan. 15. Blackburn was found innocent by a jury in that charge.

Kirkland is accused in one count of a crime against nature and on two counts of a lewd and lascivious act upon a female child.

Set for arraignment today before Circuit Court Judge Tom Waddell is Zane Edward Clark, accused in an amended information of possession of barbiturates. Clark was arrested Sept. 18 on the charge only hours after he was found innocent by a Circuit Court jury of the sale of narcotics.

Other arraignments for persons accused of narcotic law violations are Chester Banowicz, possession of a narcotic drug, and Larry Bowden, possession or control of a central nervous stimulant.

Gary George Adair, Larry Daniel DeMorse and Ronald Revels are accused in the same information of grand larceny and will be arraigned. Robert L. Washburn will be arraigned for breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony, grand larceny and conspiracy, and Gary Lee Methvin for B and E.

All of these men are accused of committing felonies, punishable, if found guilty, by imprisonment in state prison.

$395,381 Budget Approved

By KATHY NIBLACK
CASSELBERRY — Last night was a night of big accomplishments for the City Council. Following a public hearing on the proposed 1971 budget, it adopted the budget unanimously. During the course of the regular Council meeting that followed the council adopted an emergency jury trial ordinance and the controversial Civil Service ordinance over the veto of Mayor Curtis Blow.

Only one change was made in the proposed $395,381.11 budget, and this came in the area of the municipal court. Municipal Judge Thomas Freeman renewed his appeal to the Council to make provisions in the budget for a full-time court clerk, stating that such a person "would greatly assist me in the dispensing of justice." He also pointed out that due to the growth of the police department, and an increase in the number of citations written, a court clerk would have been made in the budget if the city had at this time been fiscally able to do so. The council decided to make provisions in the budget for a court clerk, however, by designating the funds formerly allocated for jury trial costs as "administrative expenses."

This new wording would allow these funds ($5,000) to be used for jury trial expenses and would also cover the hiring of a court clerk in the future.

SLIGHT OBJECTION
Councilman Edith Durr made a slight objection to the budget on the basis of the contingency fund, saying that the $450 presently allocated for this is "totally inadequate." She did not consider this a basis for voting against the budget, however, and the council voted unanimously.

The course is free except for a small instruction material charge. It is open for all age groups.

Suspects Held Overtime In Bastille

Commissioner Sydney Vihlen Jr. reported to county commissioners this morning on research which he had done relative to the reduction of the speed limit on Grapeville Avenue from the present 45 mph to 35 mph.

Vihlen said that the decrease is necessitated due to the growth of the residential neighborhood.

Vihlen went on to say that he had contacted local law officials to research the matter and then read a letter by Sheriff John Polk in which the sheriff said that due to this growth in residential neighborhood he recommended a reduction in the speed limit to 35 mph between 20th Street and SR46, and on Onora Road between 20th and 23rd. Endorsements also were given to the reduction by Constable Fred Galloway and representatives of the Florida Highway Patrol.

Vihlen further stated that a petition had been circulated by 200 residents of the area requesting a reduction. Commissioner Greg Drummond supported this proposal with the contention that homes are close to the road, that it is a high density area and that there has been one death due to the present speed limit.

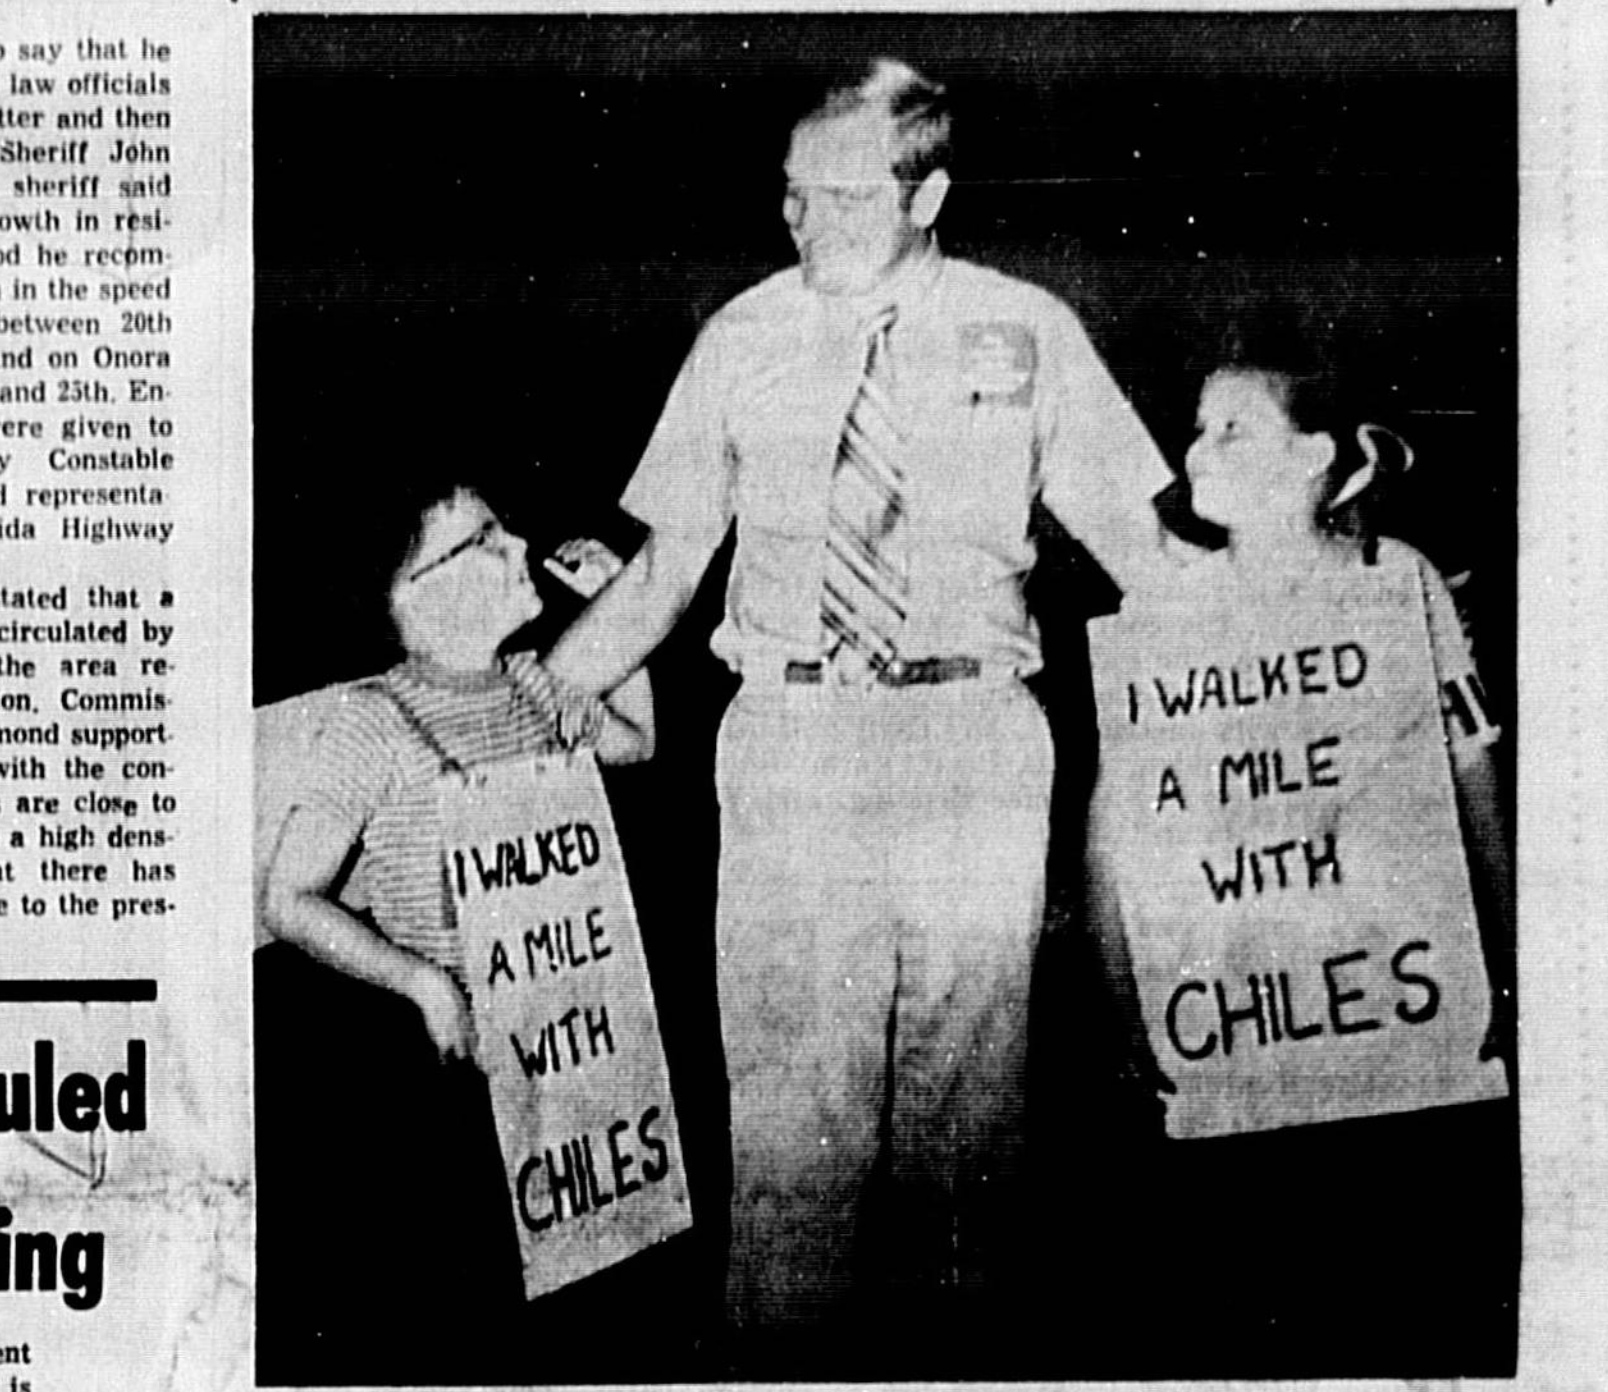

Grapeville Speed Cut Proposed

Commission Chairman John Alexander said the board has no jurisdiction in the matter and suggested adoption of a resolution to the State Department of Transportation requesting that it review the reduction of the speed limit.

Drummond suggested amending the resolution to include forwarding the information which Vihlen had presented from Sheriff Polk. Vihlen said that this resolution would put DOT on the spot, since the county has no power to reduce the speed limit.

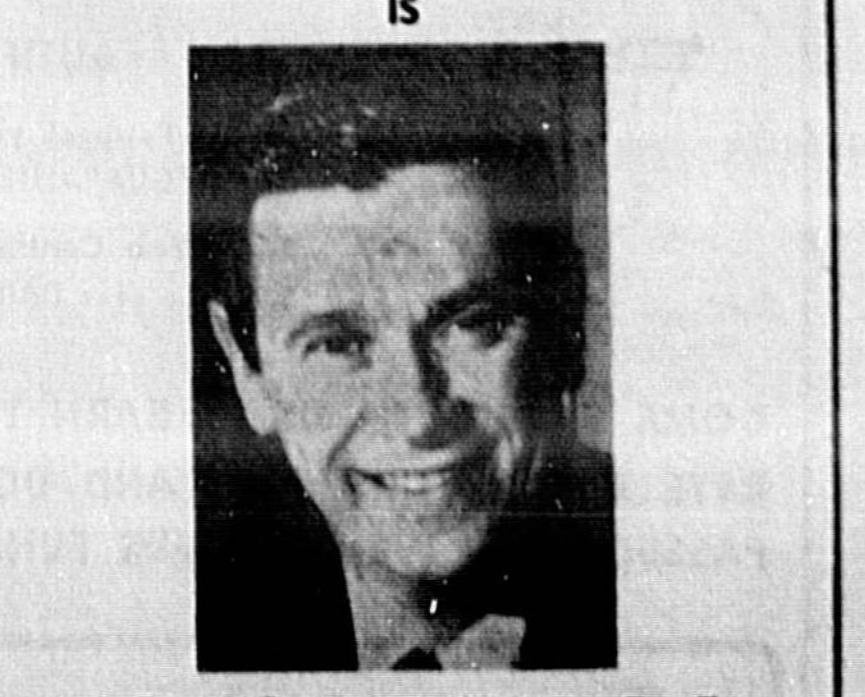

Vihlen concluded the issue by saying that although the county has no jurisdiction in the matter "I don't think we can turn our back on local problems."

 Nixon's executive order, gov- ernment's first survey of con- sumer attitudes, is being re- leased to the public. It was released after Consumers Union filed suit to force the data out of the Veterans Adminis- tration.
 And the other items—soap used by surgeons and paint used to mark trees along hiking trails—are not exactly big consumer items.
 However, in responses to Mrs. Knauer's queries, the Com- merce Department and Veter- ans Administration have listed products for which it has test or experience data, although not necessarily by brand name.
 The products are water faucet washers, asphalt roofing, vinyl elastic bandages, and asphalt tiles, interior and exterior paint, floor stain, insulation, sealants and caulking materials, eye glasses, hospital beds, clinical thermometers, dry milk, cream substitutes and washers, asphalt roofing, vinyl elastic bandages.

High Loan Rates 'Here To Stay'

By DAVID BURKE
 AP Business Writer
 MIAMI BEACH (AP) — High mortgage rates may be here to stay, many mortgage bankers predict. Some, though, say a slight easing may occur in the near future.
 In any event, all seem to agree that the long awaited housing upturn has finally begun.
 Several experts interviewed here Monday at the Mortgage Bankers Association (MBA) convention also said they see the federal government playing an increasing role in housing.
 Some claim this was taking away incentive from the private sector, but others argued that private enterprise alone lacks the ability to meet the nation's housing needs.
 "I don't feel there will be a big reduction in mortgage rates for a while to come," said Ever- ett Mattson, senior vice president with the Houston-based Lo- mas & Nettleton Co.
 Another banker, Claude E. Pope, executive vice president with Cameron Brown Co. of Raleigh, N.C., predicted that "long term mortgage rates would stabilize around current levels."
 However, outgoing MBA President Robert H. Pease said he anticipated a decline from anywhere between one-fourth and one-half a per cent.
 The current effective mort- gage rate for new single family houses was estimated last month at around 8.49 per cent by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board. This figure, which in- cludes initial fees and assumes that the mortgage will be paid off in 30 years, is .89 per cent lower than the August rate.
 Despite high mortgage costs, housing starts are on the up- swing and the banking experts said they expected the trend to continue.
 "People are growing accus- tomed to the high cost of mon- ey, and they're beginning to realize that it won't do any good to sit around waiting for inter- est rates to fall," Pope said.
 A significant portion of this new housing is the result of fed- eral subsidies authorized under the 1968 housing act, the bank- ers pointed out.

Vote FOR On Amendment 3-Judiciary-Is Choice

We believe that the best interests of the people of this state will be served if Amendment 3 to the state constitution is approved in the Nov. 3rd general election.

In surveying the seven amendments which will be on the long ballot, we had tagged this one as one which we were "undecided." Not now, not today.

We believe that the adoption of this revision of Article V of the State Constitution, which was not done in the 1968 revision is a needed breakthrough which will allow the Florida courts to operate better and opens the door for further legislative changes.

Since then the increasing seriousness of the problem of law enforcement, in which the courts are a major factor, brooks no further delay.

Article V amendment is not perfect. It has been studied and debated and is opposed by several of the state's leading attorneys. It has been studied by such other "experts" as the League of Women Voters of Florida, the Crime Commission of Greater Miami, and the American Judiciary Society of Chicago and received their endorsement.

This amendment would simplify the court structure and permit greater flexibility for the judicial system by legislative action.

Counties of more than 100,000 population would be served by two levels of courts - magistrate and circuit - performing the duties now in the hands of county courts, courts of record and other courts.

Counties under 100,000 (like Seminole), the article provides three levels of courts: magistrate, county and circuit. Either the county or magistrate court could be abolished by vote of the electors.

Chesterfield Smith, formerly chairman of the Florida Constitutional Revision Commission, and whose personal experience and high professional standing makes his opinions reliable guidelines approves the amendment.

In doing so he makes some observations with which we are in complete agreement. One deals with the many complaints by litigants which he received as chairman of the commission.

Litigants seeking relief from the courts complained that "litigation is too expensive." Mr. Smith states: "That is true... We cannot and we must not reserve our forums of justice for only the very rich or the very poor."

Second complaint is one which is heard all over the nation: "Litigation takes too long!" For this there is "no easy cure... case load will continue to increase in major proportions." Thus, he concludes that "some... must be given attention for 'flow is made for the people—not people made for the law... the courts are not designed merely to satisfy lawyers... they must satisfy the people.'"

A FOR vote, thus is our recommendation. This is not to minimize the objections for some very important, very substantial and very knowledgeable persons and organizations.

But it is to say, on balance, that this initial step to modernize the Florida judiciary, which was sidestepped in 1968, cannot be further delayed. The need is now. The start is approval of the new Article V, Amendment 3.

People Must Know

As time goes on, old problems, old ideas and old principles of a timeless nature are presented in different ways and in different words. Public relations experts used to speak simply of building public understanding of the private enterprise system and what it means to individuals in terms of opportunities, jobs and political liberty.

The long-term goal of building public understanding of the economic system by which we live remains unchanged. But, as industries and companies have grown larger, the need has become more pressing for everyone to have a working knowledge of what keeps the wheels turning.

The task of reaching a common ground of understanding between management, stockholders, the public and employees in the very large company becomes more difficult. Yet, this is being undertaken on an expanding scale by progressive concerns.

Among the most progressive in this respect are some of the nation's largest timber companies. Through publications and meetings with groups of citizens of all kinds, they endeavor to explain company policies, timber management methods, multiple use of natural resources and other subjects.

One of the largest of the timber companies has initiated a series of seminars at which the president of the company and other top officials meet face-to-face with employees of the company in no-holds-barred question and answer discussions.

The purpose of these meetings rests on a fundamental unchanging truth. As long as we live in a nation of free choice, under a private enterprise system, a majority of people must understand that system. It is their voice that will shape the policies determining the future of private enterprise, as well as the future of representative government which is inseparable from the right of property ownership and political liberty.

Don Oakley Says:

Bombings Solve Nothing Now

By DON OAKLEY, NEA Editor

One of the comforts of history is that no matter how bad things may seem, they usually have been worse at some other time.

What could be worse than the terrorist bombings that have taken place in court houses, office buildings, police stations and elsewhere in the past year or two, culminating in the death of one person in a laboratory at the University of Wisconsin?

The answer is the wave of bombings that swept the country in the early part of this century, damaging or demolishing courthouses, police stations, post offices and homes, killing dozens of people and injuring scores of others.

There were hundreds of bombings. Robert E. Dallas, writer for the Los Angeles Times, has compiled a list of the worst examples:

July 2, 1915—The Capital Hill in Washington was heavily damaged by a bomb.

July 6, 1915—Police headquarters in New York City damaged by a bomb.

March 8, 1917—Two persons killed in a bomb explosion in Boston court.

Feb. 10, 1918—Lower floor of the Passaic County (N.J.) courthouse demolished by a bomb.

Sept. 1, 1918—Four persons killed, 50 injured in a Chicago post office bomb explosion.

Dec. 31, 1918—Bombs exploded at the homes of a judge and police superintendent in Philadelphia.

April 30, 1919—Discovery of 16 bombs in the mails addressed to prominent citizens.

But by far the worst act of terrorism occurred at an institute past noon on Sept. 16, 1920, when a massive explosion shattered Wall Street outside the offices of J. P. Morgan & Co. The ghastly toll was 40 dead and more than 200 injured. And, in one hour, believed to have been pulling a wagon in which the bomb was placed.

The explosion sent shock waves through the financial centers of the world. The New York, Pittsburgh and Detroit stock exchanges were closed. Guards were placed at the Montreal exchange and Scotland Yard posted guards at public buildings in London.

Newspaper editorial comment of the time reads as if it were written this morning:

"The anarchists have declared open warfare," said one paper. "It is a situation that will have to be met with all the force the government may have at its command... the whole anarchist element will have to be rooted out and treated not with the leniency of toleration that has characterized the government's attitude thus far..."

Said the New York Tribune: "The explosion that shook the financial district yesterday did not come by accident. Candidates for office, even for the highest, spread the doctrine that when there is discontent it is the government's fault and that a corrupt conspiracy exists... to oppress the masses..."

In strides U.S. Rep. Laurence J. Burton, the respected, broad-faced Republican challenger to incumbent Democratic Sen. Frank E. Moss, a liberal "sport" in general conservative Utah.

(Their close race is representative of the heated tension that has characterized the general election in that state.)

Moss knows it, too, and has scurried for the center on the crime-unrest-violence issue. With a reliable Oct. 31 poll showing Moss just two points ahead after adjustments for the likely turnout, top Moss said he may feel some of the on-rushing Burton on the violence issue could tip the scales against the two-term incumbent.

Each candidate utters stock stuff on the other issues—the economy and the Vietnam war. Burton says Nixon is curbing an inflation the Democrats began; Moss replies Nixon is making it worse and his hitting Utah hard (it is, with unemployment 6.8 per cent). Burton says Nixon is winding down the war; Moss, echoing other dovish senators, says yes but not fast enough.

But the deep cut is on violence. Burton, in his own special press conference to charge Burton with disturbing evidence to portray him as an encouraging disrupter. Moss says that during last October's antiwar moratorium he sent a telegram to a "peaceful assembly" of people in Salt Lake City, praising their purpose but cautioning against violence. Burton, in a paid TV spot, says the message went to moratorium leaders in Washington, was read there and encouraged later looting and rioting.

The senator says Burton promised to take the item off the air if given proof such as a telegram was not read in Washington. It is still on radio at least, and Moss fears Utah voters, whose turnout reach 70 per cent, may find this decisive in a neck-and-neck race.

Washington Window:

President Nixon At The UN

By STEWART HENSLEY, UPI Diplomatic Reporter

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon in his United Nations address last week acknowledged that the state of nuclear terror is the major factor preventing outbreak of a major conflict.

He said that "the most important and the most obvious factor in compelling Russia and the United States to try to reduce their differences is that 'neither of us wants a nuclear exchange that would cost the lives of tens of millions of people.'"

Against that background, Nixon went on to invite the Soviet Union to join the United States in taking "a new road" toward peace by abandoning efforts to "outpace the game-mum advantage" from every troubled situation.

Nixon administration officials believe that events of the next few weeks should indicate whether Russia will respond positively.

If the Soviet Union persists in its present course of supporting Egypt's violations of the cease-fire standstill agreement of Aug. 7, U.S. officials will consider it a bad omen for the future.

While a talk by Nixon with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko did nothing to narrow the gap on this and other points of conflict between the two nuclear super powers, the President and his top aides hope that the increasing danger of a new outbreak in the Middle East will cause the Kremlin to alter its tactics.

The assumption here has been and still is that Russia turmoil in the Middle East which it can exploit to its own political advantage.

U.S. officials believe that the Soviet Union wants to step short of a nuclear confrontation with the United States in the area. But as Nixon said at the U.N., "history shows... that great powers can be drawn into conflict without their intending it by war between smaller nations."

That evening, addressing an accountants' dinner, Burton recounts the poster episode again and says:

"I got upset and I am asking you to get upset... it's not the kind of thing we expect to have happen here in Utah."

High Price Put On "POWs"

By RAY CROMLEY, NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The fate of U.S. prisoners in North Vietnam may depend significantly on how Canada, the United States and other Western countries react to their kidnappers and their bargaining offers.

It is quite clear by now that Hanoi has been watching closely the Middle East peace negotiations and ransom negotiations in various Latin-American countries as the Americans in the area.

If Hanoi learns that the kidnapers are able to get their ransom successfully by killing some of their victims, this result is not likely to be forgotten either by Ho's pupils.

Hanoi has already employed American prisoners as pawns. On several occasions, in north and south, a few men have been released. In each case, the prisoners have been turned over to groups on their side of the war.

In private conversations in front of these groups and co-operating with the American army of their war.

When Hanoi has released "lists" of prisoners, again it has been to these favored groups. When in Paris, the representatives of Hanoi have been approached by wives of prisoners. Hanoi spokesmen have referred them to these same groups for their avenue for information.

It is, of course, clear to any observer, that these moves have constituted an attempt by Hanoi to use the prestige of what Hanoi calls its friends and workers in the United States and to build up some emotional sympathy for these groups as being interested in and concerned for the prisoners. It is known from talks this reporter has had with former prisoners that Hanoi has consulted with these groups as to which American prisoners should be released so as to produce the political results desired by Hanoi.

But this, of course, is only the beginning. Only a handful of American prisoners have been freed. Hanoi has thus far refused to talk about prisoners and has said it will talk only after the United States meets its unconditional withdrawal demands. So one can only speculate on what price Hanoi will ask and what the fate of these men will be if Washington refuses to meet the Communist demands.

The latest reports list 376 American known to be prisoners in North Vietnam, 79 in South Vietnam and three in Laos. Only 100 known prisoners there may be can only be conjectured.

DECISION MADE

This opinion has not yet been received as yet, however, and the Council made the decision to go ahead and adopt the ordinance "under the purview of the city charter, overriding the Mayor's veto." This means that if the section including "holdover employees" is found to be in conflict with the city charter, the section will be deleted.

In further action, the Council voted to adopt an emergency ordinance authorizing jury trials in the city. This action was taken despite the continued strong objections of Councilman Duerr, who is opposed to the adoption of such an ordinance, and in favor of transferring municipal jury trials to the county court. Since this was an emergency ordinance, only four affirmative Council votes were required, and these were obtained. Dr. Duerr was the only member to vote against the ordinance.

PURCHASE PLANS

The Council voted to enter into an agreement with the firm of Black, Crowe and Eldridge for the appraisal of the City of Casselberry and South Seminole Utility Company's water and sewage treatment facilities, which the city hopes to purchase.

"Days Of Rage" Reach Utah

By BRUCE BLOSSAT, NEA Washington Correspondent

SALT LAKE CITY—(NEA)—In a rare headquarters room filled out with metal chairs for a press conference, two women are sitting up front, looking as if they had just a slight headache.

In strides U.S. Rep. Laurence J. Burton, the respected, broad-faced Republican challenger to incumbent Democratic Sen. Frank E. Moss, a liberal "sport" in general conservative Utah.

(Their close race is representative of the heated tension that has characterized the general election in that state.)

Moss knows it, too, and has scurried for the center on the crime-unrest-violence issue. With a reliable Oct. 31 poll showing Moss just two points ahead after adjustments for the likely turnout, top Moss said he may feel some of the on-rushing Burton on the violence issue could tip the scales against the two-term incumbent.

Each candidate utters stock stuff on the other issues—the economy and the Vietnam war. Burton says Nixon is curbing an inflation the Democrats began; Moss replies Nixon is making it worse and his hitting Utah hard (it is, with unemployment 6.8 per cent). Burton says Nixon is winding down the war; Moss, echoing other dovish senators, says yes but not fast enough.

But the deep cut is on violence. Burton, in his own special press conference to charge Burton with disturbing evidence to portray him as an encouraging disrupter. Moss says that during last October's antiwar moratorium he sent a telegram to a "peaceful assembly" of people in Salt Lake City, praising their purpose but cautioning against violence. Burton, in a paid TV spot, says the message went to moratorium leaders in Washington, was read there and encouraged later looting and rioting.

The senator says Burton promised to take the item off the air if given proof such as a telegram was not read in Washington. It is still on radio at least, and Moss fears Utah voters, whose turnout reach 70 per cent, may find this decisive in a neck-and-neck race.

President Nixon At The UN

By STEWART HENSLEY, UPI Diplomatic Reporter

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon in his United Nations address last week acknowledged that the state of nuclear terror is the major factor preventing outbreak of a major conflict.

He said that "the most important and the most obvious factor in compelling Russia and the United States to try to reduce their differences is that 'neither of us wants a nuclear exchange that would cost the lives of tens of millions of people.'"

Against that background, Nixon went on to invite the Soviet Union to join the United States in taking "a new road" toward peace by abandoning efforts to "outpace the game-mum advantage" from every

School Change Wins Nod

By BILL SCOTT, Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce legislative and municipal affairs committee

At a meeting of the group this morning, which was chaired by Mack N. Cleveland Jr., there was an indication that only amendment No. 7 is acceptable to these committee members on hand.

That amendment deals with local school capital improvements and would amend a section of Article 7 to authorize school boards to levy ad valorem taxes in excess of 10 mills for periods of up to 10 years for capital improvements when first authorized by a vote of the electors who are freeholders.

There were insufficient committee members on hand to vote on the amendments but views of general opposition to allowing 18-year-olds the right to vote and to give them the same legal rights at 18 that are now reserved for 21-year-old citizens.

This is contained in amendments 1 and 2.

It was the feeling of those present that No. 3, which deals with the judiciary revision, is not the answer to the judicial reform that is needed, according to Cleveland, a Sanford attorney.

On the fourth amendment on pollution abatement, it was felt that tax reform is needed first before allowing issuance of state bonds to finance air and water pollution control.

Consider The Prettier You; Visit Slenderette Salons

By CHARNER LEONE
"My daughter is a diabetic," said Kathleen Menken (Mrs. Arthur Menken) simply. "I had to learn all there is to know about diets and weight control and exercise."
She learned her lesson well; her teenage daughter is a happy and healthy person despite the restrictions placed upon her by her illness. And as a by-product Seminole and Orange Counties now have the Slenderette Reducing Salons.
The plush red and chrome ultra modern decor of the Regency Square Slenderette extends a warm and friendly welcome to the women who go there to exercise, tone up, and slim down. The friendly "girl talk" of the patrons as they sip coffee and bicycle creates an aura of warmth. And the reassuring presence of Pattie Henderson, the manager, insures the women that the exercise they take will be the most beneficial for them.

A long-time resident of the Orlando area, Mrs. Menken decided to put her expertise in the area of weight and diet control to use so her friends and neighbors could benefit from her experience. Thus she opened the first Slenderette Salon about a year and a half ago in the Winn Dixie Plaza in Orlando's Pine Hills section.
The demand for her salon became too great in order to serve the women of North Orange County and Seminole County she opened the Regency Square Salon. The latter salon is located conveniently to all of Seminole County on Highway 436 just east of the 17-92 and 436 intersection, just minutes from any point in the county.
But Slenderette is more than just a reducing salon. The total person is involved. "I want to help each woman develop the charm and beauty that is within her," said Mrs. Menken sincerely. In view of this she is a proponent of the "Dare to be Great" international organization. The philosophy behind Dare to be Great is the idea that one attempts to alter one's life by altering one's attitude towards life.
So there is a philosophy and a definite design behind the plan for exercise and weight control that will be tailored just for you at Slenderette. There is an emphasis on self development. "Each woman should achieve her greatest potential. You are what you want to be!" explained the good-looking blond proprietress.
Diet consultation, makeup, personal grooming, and the proper use of health foods and vitamins (but no medical advice) are important aspects of the combination program offered at Slenderette.
And to help you achieve that wonderful new you (that you know is lurking there somewhere!) the most modern exercise equipment is available. Slenderette carries a complete line of home and professional equipment, including the marvelous new, medically approved, slim-gym and the Jet Bath.
"We also carry the 'My Genie' bars, leotards and tights for members," said Mrs. Menken.
The thoughtfulness you will find at Slenderette goes even further. There is a little "kiddie corner" for the tots, equipped to keep them busy and creatively occupied while mama enjoys her exercise program.
"We're branching out now," said Mrs. Menken. "We can now set up reducing salons in condominiums and apartment houses, using professional equipment."
And, again for your convenience, Mrs. Menken will speak to women's groups, demonstrating her marvelous exercises, and giving friendly, girl-to-girl, yet professional advice on how to most fully develop one's self. For more information on this service call 831-3242.
So, "Dare to be Great!" Visit Slenderette (the price is very reasonable and your BankAmericard and Master Charge cards are welcome) and see how pleasant it can be to find that new, prettier you.
"After all, you are what you want to be!"

'Home' For Troubled Youth

'Out Patient Care' Center Needed

By RAY KNIGHT

While there must be a certain amount of security built into a juvenile detention home, it seems possible that a wing of the same building might double as a parental home, or kind of "out-patient-care" center for youth from state training schools. Their influence on the others could be a very good thing. If reformed, it would be a change of attitude, a change of scene. Some "open door," some security, some home where they feel "in."

We have a good head-start in such a home. Rev. Jack Lindsey and C. L. Cooper gathered a dedicated group and founded the Seminole All Youth Shelter, with Karl Murray, director. This is still in the formation, the building phase, envisioning a permanent residence for some, like a boys' ranch or girls' manor, as well as a temporary refuge for those who need only a breather from home, a neutral retreat.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — If technical indications are to be believed, a near-term rally will now take place, lasting through election week, TPO Inc. says.

In view of this possible minor upswing, traders should become more aggressive, using minor dips to add to their positions, it adds.

In recent sessions, the market's technical condition has been improving, which may explain why losses have been small even in the face of seemingly bad news. E.F. Hutton & Co. says. Advance decline figures "are well into overbought territory," perhaps because the odd-lotter has shown unusual willingness to sell on down days. Hutton adds. This marked bullishness on the part of the odd-lotter should be viewed as a favorable technical sign, the firm believes.

The fact that selling pressure remains light is an encouraging sign for the market, as is the substantial amount of sidelined buying strength. Alexander Hamilton Institute says. However, until good news appears, the firm recommends sticking to a conservative investment policy. "Now's an excellent time to tune up portfolios," it advises.

The market's basic long-term trend is now upward, says Spear & Stant says. Although this does not rule out periods of skepticism, and even of intermedial decline. The market's "much heralded discounting powers" are encouraging investors to set their sights on an expected improved business climate for 1971, the firm adds.

HIJWAY BOOBY TRAPS condemn motorists to death or serious injury, according to the Ohio Defense Association and the Ohio Claims Association. The two organizations are joined in a campaign to remove or correct hazards such as the above. Top left photo shows two traps: Steel pole should be behind guard rail and railing itself should extend to bridge abutment with rear end buried in ground instead of jutting out like a spear. As things are, guard rail might deflect skidding car into steel pole. At right, end of guard rails could impale a skidding auto. It should be buried in ground. Steel post is unnecessary; sign could have been mounted on overpass. Bottom left photo shows "V" section called "core area" because its accident rate is four times higher than most run-off-the-road accident locations. Steel post could have been set behind rail at extreme right with signs cantilevered over exit ramp. End of rail should be buried in ground instead of pointed like a missile toward errant car.

Nixon Enters Florida Campaign In Support Of Kirk And Cramer

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Miami Beach Wednesday night was expected to draw 10,000 people to see the President and the candidates. Nixon was to make a statewide television broadcast from the Miami Beach convention hall at 8:30 p.m.

Nixon was scheduled to spend the night at his Key Biscayne retreat with Kirk as his guest; then head for St. Petersburg and Tallahassee on Wednesday. Cramer, a 16-year-house veteran, is considered an underdog in his race with Democratic State Sen. Lawton Chiles. The big question in the race was whether Nixon's visit would be enough to give Cramer an edge against continued U.S. support of Israel.

The newspaper, echoing Foreign Minister Mahmoud Faidi's speech to the United Nations Monday, also warned of "redoubling of military efforts" on both sides of the Suez Canal as the end of the Arab-Israeli cease-fire approaches.

John Lindsay Hits Nixon-Agnew Act

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mayor John V. Lindsay, warning the nation is close to taking a first step toward a "single-minded state," strongly criticized Nixon-Agnew campaign tactics Monday as having "spread a cloud of suspicion and mistrust over our whole nation."

"Charging 13 1/2 'credits' more than the excess of one politician," Lindsay said the administration tactics were forming a pattern of attempting to brand opposition as disloyalty. He accused both Nixon and Agnew of distorting facts.

Lindsay told the New York City Council of Churches, which honored him with a medalion at its Family of Man Dinner; that the Republican drive was "a voice of national leadership backed with writers, researchers and senior advisers from the White House and the President of the United States."

"This is one of the few campaigns in memory in which men apparently are seeking not merely to defeat their opponents but literally to eliminate them from public life," the Republican mayor said.

"When the President and his lieutenants tell us to be afraid, when they pretend that respected candidates condone violence—as though the Westerner were running in this election—then they are deserting the essential principles of both parties."

"Here in New York Sen. (Charles) Goodell is the target of a purge and is labeled 'radical liberal'—an undefined term both vulgar and absurd for the sin of urging an early end to the war in Vietnam."

Lindsay, who seconded Agnew's vice presidential nomination in 1968, said the nation would always "ask political men under the pressure of winning or losing to campaign with grace and dignity—to set an example for people who must then live together no matter how they voted."

City Commissioners Defer Refuse Action

By BILL SCOTT

Sanford City Commissioners last night deferred action on amending the refuse pickup until a special meeting to be held Friday noon can resolve the situation.

Running alternately hot and cold on allowing refuse pickups in the back yard for an extra 50 cents a month, the commissioners last night appeared cold to the idea—of least two of them did.

Commissioners W. Vincent Roberts and Gordon Meyer expressed their preference that a uniform policy governing garbage collections be set, rather than allow some customers to receive street side and others rear yard, depending on payment of the extra 50 cents a month. Prior to curb side collection is $2 monthly.

Commissioner Thomas McDonald, who first moved to set a special rate for those city residents wanting pickups at the rear of their homes, said "the purpose of us being here is to serve the people and this is what they want," referring to the rear yard collections.

Commissioner Gordon Meyer stated there was not sufficient persons who would work as laborers on the city's garbage packers, thus the problem for going to curb side was infeasibility to get enough "tote men." McDonald replied, "We have leadership in this city that is capable of solving problems."

Mayor Lee P. Moore, seeing there was a problem of getting the two sides together, ended the discussion with a proposal to set up a special session to deal with the issue.

On still another city service, brought out that the city would have to roll back its water and sewer charges to out-of-city customers to 25 per cent of what is being charged in town customers effective Dec. 1, or a special rate for those city residents wanting pickups at the rear of their homes, said "the purpose of us being here is to serve the people and this is what they want," referring to the rear yard collections.

7th Fleet Strength Cut Aircraft Carrier Sails Home

By DEW W. OKULEY

SAIGON (UPI)—The Navy said today it has cut its aircraft carrier strength in the Western Pacific to the pre-Vietnam War level as part of President Nixon's Vietnamization program. Naval sources said the return of one carrier to the United States would not much affect the 7th Fleet's fighting capacity in the war zone.

Communications from Phnom Penh said Cambodian troops broke up a Viet Cong attack with air strikes 14 miles east of the capital.

The U.S. Navy announcement released in Saigon said the number of attack carriers assigned to the 7th Fleet had been cut from four to three with the departure of the Bon Homme Richard, which sailed on a tip off that he might be living in the area, Casselberry Police arrested Arnold Letellier of 15 Apple Hill Hollow on a warrant issued by Anoka, Minn., Sheriff's Department Sept. 10, 1969, on a charge of fraud.

The arrest was made Monday night by Sgt. Harold Peck assisted by Detective Timothy McEvers, Patrolman Ronald Tambo, Patrolman Robert Hamill, and Police Reservist Mike DeWitt. Letellier will be transferred to the Seminole County Jail to await extradition to Minnesota.

Wife Pleads For Spouse's Freedom

By TERRANCE MCGARRY

MONTREAL (UPI)—Barbara Cross, her voice halting as she pleaded in French Monday night appealed to the kidnappers of her husband, James, to release him "without any more delay."

Mrs. Cross, whose husband, the British trade minister, was kidnapped Oct. 3 at a machine gun point from his suburban Montreal home by Quebec Liberation Front (FLQ) terrorists, called him "a victim of circumstances."

Shortly before she made her dramatic appeal, the Quebec government reiterated its offer of safe conduct for Cross' kidnappers to Cuba in exchange for the Briton's freedom.

In a message to the FLQ and her husband, broadcast over the French language radio station CKLM—used previously by the terrorists to convey their communications stating conditions for Cross' safe return—Mrs. Cross said in a halting voice:

MRS. CROSS PLEADS
 "To those holding my husband, I express the hope that as a victim of circumstances, he will be well treated. I beg you to free him without any more delay."

The diplomat's blood wife began by speaking to her husband.

"It is now more than a week since I have heard from you," Mrs. Cross said.

"You are constantly in my thoughts. It is agonizing to endure the long period of waiting but I am confident that you are still alive," she said, speaking in French.

A government statement urged the terrorists to proceed to the Canadian pavilion at the Expo '67 World's Fair site and turn Cross over to the Cuban consul.

LAST LETTER OCT. 18
 Cross' last letter to his wife was on Oct. 18. He told her he was well but warned his wife was in danger if the kidnappers' demands—principally the release from Quebec jails for 28 convicted FLQ members—were not met.

Contacted more than three hours after the broadcast, a spokesman for Mrs. Cross said there had been "no response whatsoever from the FLQ to the house or to the police."

KNEE DEEP in OUTDOORS

by BILL VINCENT JR.

All phases of fishing have been good this past week with some of the area fishermen catching their limits daily. The specks are hitting real good in Lake Monroe in live Missouri minnows and no albino while trolling. Mr. and Mrs. Abner Jackson caught themselves 61 specks in two days, fishing in Lake Monroe with Missouri minnows while fishing close to the power plant.

TWO HAPPY fishermen display a big string of specks they caught while fishing in Lake Jessup with Missouri minnows. They are Mr. and Mrs. Abner Jackson.

The specks are hitting real hard in Lake Monroe across at the power plant about one mile off shore, but you will have to fish real deep with a live Missouri minnow. Some of the specks are as big as two pounds in size. The blue gills are also starting to bite real well in the mouth of the Wekiva River on live worms and the popping bug while fly fishing.

Two local salt water fishermen that have been having good luck in the Indian River while fishing with live, small, shrimp. The two "salty dogs" are Jimmy Williams and Gary Donaldson. They have broken all local drum fishing records, with some real beauties.

The cool weather has brought in some real nice size ducks but they're so high that we can't tell what kind they are. They landed in Lake Jessup and scattered into the Salt Creek area east of the lake. Attention turkey hunters, there's some nice size turkeys being spotted in the Farmington area. In one sighting alone, there were 10 turkeys counted.

Old Game Just Isn't The Same

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Sports Editor

Homecoming isn't homecoming anymore... or at least not the way it used to be. Nowadays, homecoming is what is commonly referred to as a "money game."

Many local pigskin followers remember the days of the Seminoles-DeLand feud. DeLand was almost always the opponent for the Black and Orange Homecoming.

But it's different now. Homecoming is just a game where the school can take advantage of circumstances and pack the house, taking in valuable "cents" to keep the athletic program going.

No longer do you pick the top rival for Homecoming, but you look for the school traveling the farthest distance, and possibly, one that won't be too difficult to win. Nothing can be worse than losing before a homecoming crowd.

You pick a team coming a long distance, figuring not too many fans will follow the squad. This means the extra local fans will make up for the lack of visiting rooters.

Another thing that has changed is when you play the game. It seems the whole affair was always played as the last home game back in the "old days." Not so anymore. The time or placement on the schedule of the game makes no matter. Why in some instances, the second or third game of the season is marked for Homecoming.

Party Goers Robbed

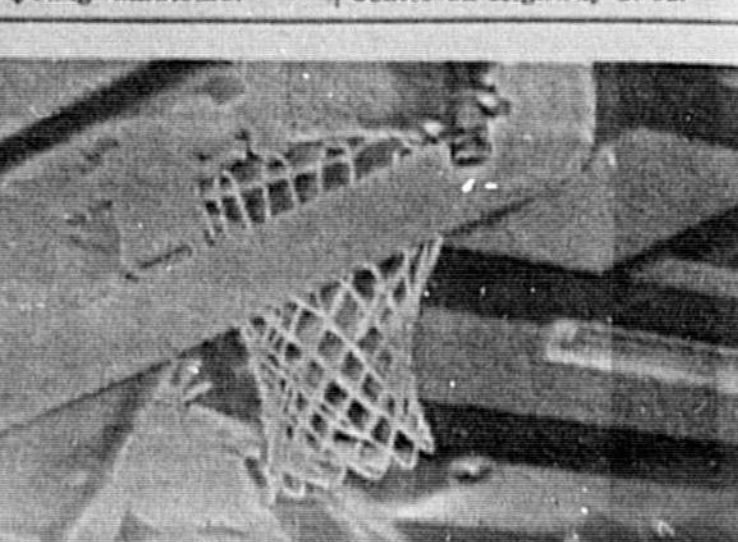

By TOM LAWRENCE

ATLANTA (UPI) - Thieves handed out invitations to a party following the Cassius Clay-Jerry Quarry fight on downtown streets, then greeted some 100 revelers at a home early today with saved-off cash and forced them to strip and took thousands of dollars in shag and valises.

Police said the gunmen may have gotten as much as $100,000 in the hold, carefully plotted robbery.

Two women hostages were taken in the pre-dawn holdup. One young woman was later released, but was hospitalized. Police said she refused to give her name or details of the robbery and was released.

Clay Is Back Ready To Settle Title

ATLANTA (AP) - Muhammad Ali is back and ready to meet champion Joe Frazier in a fight that should be an explosive climax to what has been several years of confusion, frustration and doubt in boxing's heavyweight division.

Frazier did not see Ali's triumphant return, which was shown on closed circuit television, but he didn't go to sleep until he knew the result.

Frazier, the heavyweight champion, jammed with 5,100 people in Detroit. "We're ready to fight him as soon as we can get rid of Foster," said Frazier.

Durham said he watched the fight on closed circuit television in Allentown, Pa., and was highly dissatisfied with Quarry's performance.

FTU BASKETBALL coach Gene Clark can expect to find himself in this position much more during the 1970-71 season, which will make the University's entry into intercollegiate play with a 26-game schedule. Last year, playing a 16-game club schedule, FTU under Clark finished with a 13-3 record. Ten of this season's games will be played at the Oviedo High School gymnasium, temporary "home" for the FTU team.

Tougher Schedule Planned For FTU Basketball Team

Gene "Torchy" Clark's second "tour" as Florida Technological University basketball coach could very well be a rewarding experience but it's doubtful the Marquette graduate can come anywhere near his winning percentage of 1969-70. FTU's first basketball team won 13 of 18 playing against mostly service teams.

Joe Louis Anxious For Match

DENVER (AP) - Former heavyweight champion Joe Louis appeared to be more excited about a possible future heavyweight match between Muhammad Ali and Joe Frazier than in the quick All fight of Jerry Quarry Monday night.

Louis, co-promoter of a closed circuit television showing of the fight in Denver, said, Ali, also known as Cassius Clay, looked good in his first fight in 3 1/2 years. "It is not ready to meet more than Quarry."

Pistons Beat Old Mark; Runaway In Midwest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Detroit's runaway Pistons beat Seattle, opened a 15-point bulge, a record for success while Cincinnati was snapping a string of futility.

The undefeated Pistons, making a shambles of the National Basketball Association's Midwest Division, battered Seattle 121-111 Monday night for their eighth successive victory. That exceeds the seven-win mark set when they were the Fort Wayne, Ind., Pistons in 1956 and equaled in Detroit in 1961.

In the lone American Basketball Association game, the Virginia Squires remained unbeaten and in solid command in the East Division, beating the Memphis Pros 120-103.

Lineings Have Rattled At

By PAT THOMPSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
MINNEAPOLIS — ST. PAUL (AP) — Carl Eller simply explained that the Minnesota Vikings took the right attitude to the line of scrimmage on a game-winning goal line stand against the Los Angeles Rams. "We never doubt ourselves," said Eller, a 6-foot-6, 250-pound defensive end. "We realize the percentages. But we will never concede."

The Rams, after Kermit Alexander's 49-yard return of a deflected punt, had a first down on Minnesota's two with 19 seconds left in the first half and the Vikings leading 16-9 in a rainy, muddy National Football League game Monday night at the Hubert H. Humphrey Stadium.

Tommy Johnson got a yard in the middle. Roman Gabriel got a few inches on a quarterback sneak. And Gabriel was considered in the middle again on third down as time ran out for the second time of the half, and the Vikings finished with a 13-0 victory in the Monday night television game.

The Rams actually got an extra down on Carl Eller's end and down three over right tackle and no time on the score. Eller, though, brought the matter which school was chosen to pay that amount to the attention of the committee. The financial A-K-D Committee had to be notified. The committee scheduled a news conference at noon to announce its decision on whether to present the committee's plan to the next convention of the NCAA for discussion.

An informal poll of several council members Monday night found most of them receptive to the idea.

The proposal would limit the number of scholarships any NCAA member could give to 36 in football and six in basketball. The other half of the program would set up a four-year plan which would allow a one-week period for the recipient to choose which school he would attend.

Once that decision was made, the committee would be notified. The other half of the program would set up a four-year plan which would allow a one-week period for the recipient to choose which school he would attend.

Committee Has Good Suggestion

By JERRY ESTILL

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A National Collegiate Athletic Association committee looking for ways to help college athletic departments has a revolutionary suggestion — limit the number of scholarships and base the amount of the scholarship on need.

The Financial A-K-D Committee of the NCAA presented its suggestion Monday to the general body meeting of the governing council of the NCAA.

The council scheduled a news conference at noon to announce its decision on whether to present the committee's plan to the next convention of the NCAA for discussion.

WORLD NEWS

By Herbert Shea, Jr.

I would first like to apologize to Jake Adams for not including his name in last week's article on the moose hunt in Canada. From the latest reports on that hunt I can see that these two men had the best of them. The hunt took place in the northwest part of Ontario. The hunt started off in the worst kind of way. Earl and Jake spent the first two days stranded on a small island because of bad weather. On the first day they were able to hunt but they got no moose.

In the next few weeks before the opening of the general hunting season I will try to get the full up-to-date regulations on the different management areas in Ontario. Each week I will take one of these areas and put in enough information to answer any questions you might have. Next week we will take a look at the Jane Green, or Bull Creek area as it is now called.

If you have a question pertaining to fishing or hunting regulations feel free to send them to me in care of The Sanford Herald or call me after 6 p.m. any day at 223-7771, and I will get the answer for you.

The new waterfowl identification guides are out now and as soon as I can get a good supply of them they will be yours for the asking at The Herald office. It will be about two weeks and I will mention the fact when they are ready for distribution.

The Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission will meet for a regular business meeting on Thursday, October 29. The meeting is scheduled for 7:00 p.m., at the Ramada Inn located at the junction of 17th and Bush Boulevard in Tampa.

On Thursday morning members of the five man Commission will meet with members of the Southwest Florida Water Management District at the same location. The combined meeting is scheduled for 9:00 a.m.

According to Commission Chairman, William M. Blake of Tampa, meetings of the Commission are open meetings and sportsmen and interested citizens are invited to attend and discuss matters relating to hunting, fishing and wildlife conservation.

Commission members are: William M. Blake, Tampa; Dr. R. A. Peach, Marianna; James E. Windham, Jacksonville; C. H. Neacok, Miami; Robert E. Langford, Winter Park.

The ability to identify waterfowl can be a major factor in duck hunting this season. Florida hunters will have the opportunity to buy additional ducks, but the key to the increased bag limit is duck identification.

The bag limit for ducks during the 1970-71 season will be governed by points rather than number of birds. Hunters will be allowed a total of 100 points for a day's bag, and the limit is reached when the points of the last duck taken, added to values of others taken, reaches or exceeds 100 points.

Ducks have been assigned point values of 90 points, 20 points and 10 points. Ducks with 90 point value are Canvasback, Redhead, Mallard Hen, Wood Duck, Black Duck, Florida Duck and Hooded Merganser. Ducks with 20 point value are Mallard Drake, Ring-necked Pheasant, Teal and Pintail Hen. All other ducks are classified as 10 point ducks.

To help hunters identify the birds they have bagged, the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission has published a guide to the ducks with 90 and 20 point values, and is making the guide available without charge to Florida sportsmen.

The waterfowl identification guide may be obtained at all regional and field offices of the Commission and from all wildlife officers.

Croons At Lyman For Year's Final Tilt

By MOSE PERKINS

Tonight the Croons Panthers will play the Lyman Greyhounds at Longwood. Game time will be 7:00 p.m. This will be the Panthers' last game of the 1970 football season.

Last week the Panthers tied with the Greyhounds. Both teams will be playing their best in order to tell which team is the best in the county.

The Panthers' practice session consisted of offensive running and blocking. The defense worked on tackling drills. Both teams have been practicing hard to correct the mistakes which were made in last week's game.

Alexander actually thought he had got a point on the run with his run after Willie Ellison started off a hand job. Tom McNeill's punt, Jim Lindsey tackled him at the two. "I thought I was over," said Alexander. "I should have tried to evade Lindsey, but I was not."

NO SINGLE GIRL should forget that a bachelor who always knows how much change he's got in his pocket is a poor marriage risk. Exceedingly poor is says our Love and War man...

BLONDES—Odds run 64 to 36 the young bachelor in any state bordering Canada will marry a blonde. So reports a Chicago statistician. Can't understand that. There aren't that many more blondes than brunettes. Blondes must marry often. Consider your girlfriends. Do the blondes among them record more marriages?

OPEN QUESTION—How do you account for the fact it's easier to teach a male parent to talk than a female? MISTER, YOU'RE not the man you were five years ago, believe that. At least, a specialist named Robert C. Cook says so. The cells of your body almost completely replace themselves, bones, brain, everything, in five years, he reports...

CONSIDER THIS—You don't hear much about the wives of professional football players. But they're significant to the outcome of the game. A loss may be the wife's fault. To some degree, anyhow. Jealousies run strong. They're competitive. More so than their husbands maybe. If they're not dealt with properly, they can wreck the spirit and the instincts without damaging the muscles and the bone. Such is the claim of a team physician.

NEED YOU IN POSSESSION of some old cotted pain that will not be strayed? Pour it through a lady's nylon stockings. WHAT ANIMAL has the most natural enemies? Among fish, it's the herring. I think... THE AVERAGE LIFE IN-SURANCE policy has about eight times as many words in it as this column ordinarily carries.

Your questions and comments are welcomed and will be used in PASS IT ON whenever possible. Please address your letters to L. M. Boyd, P. O. Box 36066, Seattle, Wash. 98139.

ANALYZING RESULTS — Checking a print-out from FTU's newest computer... CUSTOMER SERVICE—Q "Can a private secretary be compelled to testify against her boss?" A. So far as I know, she can. On occasion, in some places, a man's wife, his lawyer, his doctor, even his minister in certain instances, can't be so compelled. A private secretary ought not be called upon to reveal her employer's secrets. Just as no newspaperman should ever be required to disclose his sources.

With ostentatious reminiscence of his successful 1966 campaign against the late Robert King High, Gov. Claude Kirk has opened an all-out effort to paint a liberal label on Democratic opponent Reubin Askew.

Kirk, preparing to share some of the limelight that shines on President Nixon's visit to Florida today, hit Askew Monday with accusations of being "a permissive liberal... like Hubert H. Humphries and LeRoy Collins."

Askew also was "a patsy powderpuff for the pollsters," the Republican governor said as he swung into the final week of his re-election campaign. Kirk, also said Askew's tax reform program would end up as a tax on food and medicines even though Askew insisted it would only tax corporation profits.

Kirk stamped the Lakeland area and addressed the Florida State Federation meeting before returning to Tallahassee. He joins Nixon in West Palm Beach today and appears with the President at Miami Beach rally tonight.

Chiles Is Optimistic Of Winning

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Democrat Lawton Chiles picked to keep up his walking campaign in the final days of the U.S. Senate race, but Republicans, an aide says, hope he will be able to get into the cost-of-living index was up another four-tenths of one percent in September.

Chiles drove his camper to Lake Apopka near Winter Garden Monday, then took a boat ride over the polluted waters. "I can remember when Lake Apopka was considered the best bass fishing in Florida," the 46-year-old state senator said. "Now, it's a green, bubbling, like a yeast, pool."

When Bill was running for election, he promised you he would not vote for a pay raise for state legislators. He kept his promise to you. He voted against the pay raise and voted to uphold the Governor's veto.

Innocent Plea Entered By Suspect In Murder

Henry Joyce, charged in the first degree murder of a Lake Monroe man, Maynard G. Powell, entered a plea of "not guilty" Tuesday at his arraignment before Circuit Judge Tom Waddell.

Mysterious red lights were bobbing around the night sky over Casselberry last week resulting in a UFO filmed report on TV news... "Air Force reported to planes in the area, but weather balloons had been launched from Eglin Field," the report said.

President Nixon, continuing his personal campaigning today in Florida and Texas, is making a new appeal for Democratic support in states where Republicans are a minority of registered voters.

State Insurance Commissioner Broward Williams says he took an unusual step, because of "intense interest." (Page 5A)

Unable To Recover Stolen Items Burglary Victims File Charge

By BILL SCOTT A Longwood couple's problem in obtaining a search warrant, to enable authorities to enter a Sanford apartment to recover property stolen from their home, came to light today after The Herald yesterday revealed two persons were held in the county jail after possession of stolen property charges had been dropped.

Sibyl Coombs, in a disclosure to The Herald, said it took from 2 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 19, until ten-thirty a.m. the following Sunday to get someone to issue a search warrant, so officers could search a Park Avenue apartment to recover household items stolen Sept. 15 from their 800 Grant Street home.

Arrested in the raid were Richard Drebloh, 26, and Janet Kunselman, 27, who were charged after several items listed as missing by the Coombses were found in a closet at the apartment.

The two have been freed after having been held in detention 10 days after Thomas Speer, assistant state attorney, said that Sanford Detective Roy Wil-wood police managed to get Judge Lovett's secretary on the phone and, according to Mrs. Coombs, she told Chief Sweet (Continued on Page 1B, Col. 5)

MISSING PROPERTY Today, Mrs. Coombs related how, through an informant, Longwood Police Chief Claude Sweet had located the missing property and tried without success to get a search warrant, so Sanford police and Seminole County investigators could make the raid.

Mrs. Coombs said the Chief first sought a warrant from Peace Justice Robert Carroll but he refused to issue one, saying it must come from County Judge Wallace Hall, Speer or Peace Justice Thomas Lovett.

The woman said she was told that Sanford Detective Roy Wil-

5 Bond Issues Before Voters

By FRED VAN PELT Five bond issues will be offered for approval or disapproval by the electorate in the Nov. 3 elections. Three bond issues will be for the purpose of purchasing lands for parks and recreation. The county seeks to raise $1,680,750 in the sale of bonds for this purpose.

Juvenile Detention Facility Another referendum is for a vote on the question of selling bonds in the amount of $25,000 to pay the cost of construction of a juvenile detention facility. Juveniles now are placed in the county jail for lack of other facilities.

Mental Health Facility A third referendum will be decided on the question of selling bonds in the amount of $25,000 to pay the cost of construction of a mental health and incompetency facility. Seminole County has been using Orange County facilities, when feasible.

Branch County Office A fourth question for the voters will be a bond issue in the amount of $21,350 to cover the cost of construction of a branch county office building in the southern part of the county. Officers now are maintained in rental space at Seminole Plaza.

Agricultural Center Final referendum before the electorate will be a bond issue in the amount of $170,000 to pay the cost of construction of a new agricultural center building. Agricultural extension offices now occupy the building once condemned as the "county poor farm."

Explosion Tests Disaster Planning

By LARRY NEELY Shortly before two yesterday afternoon the emergency disaster plan for Seminole County was tested. The services of Seminole Memorial Hospital, Sanford fire and police departments along with Herndon Ambulance Service were involved in the test.

A mock disaster was set up at the old business school at Ninth Street and Palmetto Avenue in Sanford. To the unknown of the disaster was a real one with about 20 casualties, including this reporter, a fire and an ambulance of acid smoke.

The "casualties" were students from Seminole Junior College and with the help of SJC first aid instructor Rachel Roll and Seminole County Civil Defense director, Clinton Westbrook along with other Civil Defense workers, the students were made up to appear really injured. The injuries varied from lacerations; acute shock; broken bones; and amputations.

By a quarter before 2 all the "casualties" were in position and the fires and smoke bombs were ignited and the emergency agencies involved were alerted. Within minutes six ambulances and two fire vehicles were at the scene of what was supposed to have been a boiler explosion. Police units had cordoned off the area and were stopping traffic for the ambulances en route to the hospital.

Titusville Well Permit Rescinded By State DOT

The City of Titusville will not be allowed to drill a test well on state road right-of-way located 1,000 feet west of SR 46 and SR 426 intersection in Geneva, as a direct result of action initiated by the County Commission yesterday.

The board authorized County Attorney Harold Johnson to contact the State Department of Transportation advising that the commission believes it should be apprised by Titusville of intentions prior to the granting of a permit by the DOT, and requested that the DOT rescind its action in granting the permit.

Before Johnson could send the telegram, it was learned that State Rep. E. Pope (Sanddy) Bassett, secretary of the legislative delegation, was in the court house. He was subsequently advised of the matter by Commissioner Greg Drummond. At the close of the meeting Drummond said that Bassett had contacted Edward Mueller, secretary of the state DOT, and that the commission would have "a pleasant report tomorrow." It was later reported that the permit for the test well was revoked by the DOT, and would not be re-issued without the approval of the Seminole County Commission.

The controversy arose, according to state Rep. Lewis Earle, who advised The Sanford Herald of the decision of the DOT, due to the fact that the DOT was under the impression that the permit was for a test well where in reality a 16-inch well was being drilled. Commission Chairman John Alexander had contended that the well could not be permanently located on the public right-of-way and that this was illegal action on the part of the DOT.

Local Canal Cost Is Attacked

By MARION BETHEA "If this project goes through, the only people who will benefit are certain corporations with an increase in land values" (for lakefront property). So stated S. B. (Jim) Crowe at a meeting of the County Commission yesterday in which he presented remarks of the possible effects of salt water intrusion into the county's water table if the St. Johns Indian River Canal becomes a reality.

Crowe is a member of the county's long range planning committee for recreation and requested that he be allowed to elucidate upon the matter before the hearing on the canal right-of-way scheduled by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers on Nov. 20 at Sanford. Crowe stated that the intrusion of salt water would cause possible contamination of the waterways and that, with a possible transfer of authority at the hearing, the five-foot depth which has started might go on to 12 feet. He stated pollution occurring in Lake Harney and Lake Monroe, and that the latter would become a "giant polluting pond." Crowe went on to say that there should be geological/hydrological surveys taken in the Mullet Lake area.
