Republicans Lose Senate Seats Unfriendly Congress Faces Nixon

By EDMOND Le BRETON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The voters who gave President Nixon his landslide victory Tuesday also elected a Congress as firmly in Democratic hands as the House and Senate with which Nixon dealt during his first term.

The Democrats widened their margin in the Senate by at least two. The Republican incumbent was running ahead in Michigan in the last undecided race. If he kept his lead, the division in the new Senate would be 57 to 43.

With only seven of the 435 House races undecided, Republicans had made a net gain of 11, compared with the 41 needed to take control. And some of the new Republicans replace conservative Southern Democrats who generally had voted with the administration.

The Senate outcome was an especially hard blow to Republican hopes. The GOP had written off the House as probably unwinnable, but needed a gain of only five to take control of the Senate and thought there was a real chance.

But there was consolation for Republican strategists working for a full two-party system in the South, where many voters in recent years had shown readiness to vote for Republican presidential candidates, but stuck with Democratic candidates at other levels.

Two Republicans were elected to the House from Mississippi and one from Louisiana, the first since the Reconstruction period after the Civil War. And in Virginia, William L. Scott defeated Sen. William B. Spong to become the first Republican senator from the Old Dominion since 1892.

The ticket-splitting voters across the country conformed to no pattern, but ousted conservative incumbents here and liberals there.

Democrat William D. Hathaway ended the 24-year Senate career of Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, chairman of the Senate Republican Conference and senior Republican member of the Armed Services Committee.

But the Democrats lost a Senate seat in North Carolina. Rep. Nick Galifianakis, who defeated Democratic Sen. Everett Jordan in the primary, was defeated in turn by a self-described conservative Republican television editorialist, Jesse Helms.

A stunner was the defeat of Sen. Gordon Allott of Colorado, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee and an administration stalwart, by Democrat Floyd K. Haskell. Allott had been expected to win easily.

In Rhode Island, Democratic Sen. Claiborne Pell, once regarded as an underdog, won by a comfortable margin over John H. Chafee, who resigned as Secretary of the Navy to carry the Republican standard in the Senate race.

Four Senate seats vacated by incumbents changed hands—and the net result was a stand-off.

Republican Dewey F. Barrett defeated Democratic Rep. Ed Edmondson in Oklahoma to take over the seat vacated by Democrat Fred R. Harris.

The New Mexico seat left open by Democratic Sen. Clinton P. Anderson went to Republican Pete V. Domenici, who defeated Democrat Jack Daniels.

In South Dakota—George McGovern's home state which he failed to carry—the voters chose a Democrat, Rep. James Abourezk, for the Senate seat vacated by Republican Karl Mundt.

And in Kentucky, Democrat Walter Huddleston defeated ex-Gov. Louis B. Nunn to win the seat formerly held by Republican John Sherman Cooper.

Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, Democratic leader of the House who has been missing since his plane disappeared in Alaska, was re-elected without opposition.

Rep. Nick Begich, D-Alaska, men in the House would increase from 12 to at least 15, and that the number of black members would go from 13 to 18.

Keeth pointed out that the apparent winners in Tuesday election to the School Board would take office on Nov. 21, under the new state election arrangement, which specifies winners can assume their new jobs in 14 days after an election.

Unless absentee ballots bring about a change, this means that Bud Feather and Davis Sims, Republicans, apparent winners, will take office on Nov. 21.

Next Board meeting is Nov. 14, at 3 p.m. in the county office building.

Asked if Angel might be placed in the principal's post at Teague, now that Layer is moving into the superintendent's spot, Keeth replied it might be possible, but he envisioned there might be another opening at another school, if some shifting of principals was done.

With a wave of the hand in a gesture, he said "I have learned one hell of a lot in the past four years."

Layer will assume the county school superintendent post on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of the new year or Jan. 2, 1973.

Questioned about Angel's future with the school system, board chairman A. F. Keeth said, "as far as I am concerned he will have a job in this school system."

Asked if Angel might be placed in the principal's post at Teague, now that Layer is moving into the superintendent's spot, Keeth replied it might be possible, but he envisioned there might be another opening at another school, if some shifting of principals was done.

AROUND THE CLOCK

"Knock, knock."
"Who's There?"
"George."
"George who?"
"SEE HOW QUICKLY YOU FORGET!"

Surprisingly, the phone didn't jump off the hook ... rubbing it in.

Only Jean Bryant made the offer and I accepted.

"How well do you want your crew?" asked this staunch Republican.

I appreciated Mr. Nixon's remarks which he delivered around midnight ... that a healthy two-party system is important to this country. And of how we should now all "seek a new era of peace."

To that end I promise my support and cooperation.

The traumatic shock of all those Nixon votes gave me a restless night. Much the same as happened following the LBJ landslide in '64.

Takes a little time to sink in, but as we all now know ... many times it's not the voter cast his opinion in favor of something as much as he or she is AGAINST something.

Oh to be able to turn back the hands of time and remove ... the $1,000 proposal for each American; or, the handing of Mister Eagleton, eh?

So, now all I have to fuss about is the point spread between this week's classic encounter of the Florida Gators and the Georgia Bulldogs.

One person extremely happy ... Mrs. Edna Brining of 617 Beth Drive in Sanford ... winner of the Volkswagen as a result of the All Souls Fall Festival.

My compliments to the U.S. Postal System ... AGAIN!
The writer, who lives at 1309 Williams Avenue in Sanford, submitted a letter with their football predictions (for our local sports contest). It was mailed on Nov. 2—and arrived here on the 6th.
Four days ... ?????

One way to make the time pass more slowly is to take out a good, long-time payment loan.

California voted two-to-one against legalizing possession and private use—but not the sale—of marijuana.

The California Supreme Court voted six to one to outlaw the death penalty, but voters decided to reinstate it. The U.S. Supreme Court has outlawed the penalty as it has been generally applied.

In other issues, Maryland voters turned down a plan for tuition grants to parents of non-public school students.

New York's $1.15 billion bond issue for cleaner air and water rolled up 2-1 favorable margins.

Voters in Florida okayed two bond issues to spend $240 million to buy environmentally endangered land and sites for outdoor recreation.

Ballot propositions in Oregon, California and Michigan reflecting the rising uneasiness about property tax for support of education were defeated solidly.

California's proposition would have cut property taxes statewide by an estimated $3.2 billion a year. Increased taxes on sales, corporation, cigarettes and liquor would have taken up $1.2 billion of that, but the legislature would have been left to make up the rest elsewhere. It lost by a 2-1 margin.

In Oregon, nearly all vocal interests opposed a proposition to ban the property tax that supplies 75 per cent of public education's financial support. The voters agreed by a 3-2 margin.

In Michigan, an proposition would have banned all locally collected property taxes for schools with an order to the legislature to come up with an alternate means of financing public education. A related proposition would have authorized a boost in the state tax. Both lost.

Propositions in Michigan and North Dakota to lift tough bans on abortion in favor of termination within the first 20 weeks of pregnancy lost by heavy margins.

Ballot Propositions Reviewed

By VERNON A. GUIDRY JR.
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Colorado voters have cut off funds for the 1976 winter Olympics, thus sending the once sought-after games elsewhere.

California overruled its Supreme Court on capital punishment and rejected a grow-your-own treatment of marijuana as voters around the nation spoke Tuesday on a host of state constitutional amendments, referenda and the like.

After years of effort to attract the games, doubts began to form in Colorado about the impact of the Olympics on the state treasury and the countryside.

The ballot proposition voters heavily favored cuts off state money for the games at the already spent $1.9 million. The cutoff brings a halt to federal money, effectively sending the games elsewhere, Lake Placid, N.Y., site of the first winter Olympics hosted by the United States 40 years ago, stepped in line as an alternate site.

Latest Vote Totals

By DONNA ESTES

Despite inclement weather and long lines at the 43 polling places Tuesday, Seminole voters turned out 79.4 per cent strong to give its votes to President Richard M. Nixon by a four-to-one margin.

Of the 44,371 registered voters, some 34,345 cast ballots in the election. Unofficial returns, not including some 2,102 absentee votes being counted today, gave the Nixon-Agnew team 25,922 to 8,221 for McGovern-Shriver.

The turnout was lower than that registered in the 1968 election when 83.9 per cent went to the polls locally to give the President his first term in office.

The Republican Party fared well in Seminole and appears to have taken all the seats on the School Board and four of the five posts on the Board of County Commissioners.

In unofficial returns not including the absentees, Missouri Belle Swafford (D), spouse of Altamonte Springs Mayor Lawrence Swafford was soundly defeated by Republican challenger, Davis Sims for the district 3 school board seat.

For the district 2 seat, the absentees might change the outcome, but this does not appear likely. Political newcomer Bud Feather (R) is leading another new face Ken Patrick (D) by 1,556.

For the County Commission, first term board member Al Davis (D) lost by more than 2,000 votes to Dick Williams, who ran on a strong platform of strict land development regulations. Young Jaycee, Mike Hattaway (D) is leading Republican Donald Struble for the district 1 seat.

Other contests saw a resounding vote of confidence go to incumbent Sheriff John Polk, and Tax Collector Troy Ray while Bud Layer (D) unseated his former boss, John Angel (R) for the school superintendent's office. Also winning are Terry Goemmel (R) for tax assessor as Superintendent of Elections Camilla Bruce (D) walked away with her election win. Incumbent Clerk of Circuit Court Arthur H. Beckwith Jr. (D) is leading Kenneth Monroe for return to his office.

DELTONA — The newly organized Deltona Sing-A-Longs made their first appearance of the 1972-73 season at the Volusia County Fair on Saturday at 2:30 P.M. under the Direction of Louis Bucher of Deltona. Accompanist on the piano was Mrs. Edwin Pullen. Their program of songs was very well received and gave them encouragement for future engagements.

On Tuesday, Nov. 21 they will present a program on TV Channel 24 in Orlando. Future engagements include the Lions Club of DeLand and the NARCE Club of DeBary in December. Many organizations would like the Sing-A-Longs for entertainment, call Mr. Al Nabicht, business manager of the group at 668-6642 for arrangements. The club meets every Wednesday at 2 p.m. in the United Methodist Church of Deltona.

Mrs. Thompson left for New Jersey after spending an enjoyable vacation in our beautiful state.

Master Anthony Maurice (Tony) Clark celebrated his seventh birthday at the home of his special aunt, Mrs. Mable Matthews. Those helping Tony celebrate were Annette Roberts, Richard Feacher, Brenda Fields, Mark Gibson, William Pinky Jr., and Mosque Bell. Hostesses were his grandmother, Mrs. Alma Rock, his mother, Mrs. Evelyn Clark, Mrs. Rosa McCoy and Bonnie G. James.

Donthel Darryl Hall is a former student in the schools of Seminole County, where his mother Mrs. Thelma Dehose Hall, has taught for many years. The many people in Sanford who know him are indeed proud of the great educational accomplishments he has made. Donthel graduated with a bachelor of Arts degree in history from Tennessee State University in Nashville.

He graduated with distinction, having over a 3.0 average. Honors and awards received by Donthel were Pi Omega Pi award, Tau Sigma Phi award, Tau Sigma Phi award, and Tau Sigma Phi award.

Nixon Schedules Meeting

By FRANK COHMER Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, wasting scant time on celebration, scheduled three meetings with key aides and officials today to look toward the next four years. Nixon set up sessions with members of the White House staff, the Cabinet and heads of federal agencies. Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the purpose was "to look ahead to the next year." Nixon returned to the White House about 1 a.m. today after attending formal GOP victory celebrations in a Washington hotel, then went immediately to his office in the Executive Office Building next door. Ziegler said the President wanted to return some of the phone calls he had received from prominent well-wishers. The press spokesman said Nixon was likely to fly to his home in New York, home late this afternoon. Asked if the trip would amount to a vacation, he said key staff aides would go along and that he expected it to be a working trip. In a televised election night statement from his Oval Office, Nixon said he may have won one of the great political victories of all time. "In terms of votes that may be true," he said, "but in terms of what a victory really is, a huge landslide margin means nothing at all unless it is a victory for America. It will be a victory for America only if, in these next four years we, all of us, can work together to achieve our common great goals of peace at home and peace for all nations in the world; and for that new progress and prosperity which all Americans deserve."

Lose Missouri Race Demos Gain One Governor

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democrats increased their majority of the nation's governorships by one, but lost Missouri to a Republican for the first time since 1948, as a Democratic Rockefeller got close to defeat. John D. Rockefeller IV, nephew of New York's Republican governor and son-in-law of Illinois' Republican senator, lost to Gov. Arch Moore in West Virginia. Moore was one of seven governors to win re-election. Two didn't make it. One of those who lost was Illinois' Republican Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie, who stayed neck-and-neck with Democrat Daniel Walker through the election's early hours today, long after it was known President Nixon had carried every state but Massachusetts and the District of Columbia. Walker finally won by a slim edge.

The other losing incumbent was Delaware's Republican Gov. Russell W. Peterson, who lost to a conservative Democrat, Sherman W. Tribbitt. Vermont's and New Hampshire's top state office also changed parties—Vermont going Democrat, North Carolina Republican. Texas' governorship was still in doubt, although Democrat Dolph Briscoe held a commanding lead over Republican Henry Grover. If Briscoe's margin holds, the Democrats would be in 31 governorships, the Republicans in 19. Ten Democratic governors and 8 Republican were involved in Tuesday's election. Republicans retained the top state office in Indiana, Iowa, New Hampshire, Washington and West Virginia. Arkansas Gov. Dale Bumpers led Democrats by winning his

Broad Approval Given

MIAMI (AP) — Florida voters have given broad approval to five ballot propositions, including a proposal to allow the state to buy up to $300 million in environmentally endangered and recreation lands.

The land referendum, strongly endorsed by conservation groups and Gov. Reubin Askew, was adopted Tuesday with 70 per cent of the vote.

It will allow the state to sell bonds to buy $200 million in swamps, marshes or other lands regarded as environmentally endangered, and $40 million in recreation lands.

The proposal also sets in motion a comprehensive land use planning act adopted by the 1972 Legislature that will block the State Cabinet to allow development or control zoning in areas of the state it views as ecologically critical.

"I'm very pleased by this tremendous vote," said Askew. "It's a strong mandate by the people of Florida that they want to do what's necessary to preserve the state."

Also adopted by a similar vote was a constitutional amendment to allow the state to buy additional recreation land with returns from a tax on property transaction documents which amounts to about $40 million a year.

Voters gave their 68 per cent approval to an amendment that increases state funding of school construction from $35 million for junior college construction in the first year.

The fifth proposal, adopted with a 68 per cent vote, is a technical amendment which allows a person to will to his spouse full interest in his home if no minor child is involved.

If a couple has a minor child, the surviving spouse and the child would share equally in the home.

MIAMI (AP) — Florida's voters swept Republican Paula Hawkins from her Matland kitchen to the Public Service Commission in a headline upset over Democratic State Sen. Gerald Lewis early today.

"I'm absolutely thrilled," said Mrs. Hawkins, "but it's more than a housewife's win, it's the people's victory. They identified with me as a person they could trust, and I won't fail them."

Early morning returns showed Mrs. Hawkins leading the Harvard-educated Miami attorney 1,057,285 votes to 1,035,296, with 2,963 or 99 per cent of 2,978 precincts reporting. That gave her a margin of 31 to 49 per cent.

Absentee votes had not been counted, and Lewis aides said some 20,000 of them still were to be tabulated in his home county of Dade.

The six-year legislative veteran refused to make an outright concession, but said, "If the trend continues, it would appear that she has won, and I would congratulate her on a victory. I think the people now will be looking eagerly for the next two years to see what the PSC does."

In the jubilation of her victory celebration the vitamin enthusiast Mrs. Hawkins revealed her age—45—and hinted high ranking GOP strategists would be keeping their eyes on her when she starts to earn her $32,000-a-year paycheck next January.

"I've had several calls from close party friends in Washington tonight and they told me the race had national prominence because I am a woman," she said.

She became the second woman ever to hold statewide office in Florida.

But despite President Nixon's 3-1 landslide victory in Florida, Mrs. Hawkins discounted his coattails as a major factor in her victory.

Democrats In Control Of Senate

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democrats without President Nixon's re-election sweep Tuesday, won control of the Senate for two more years and appeared headed for control of the House.

Widepread ticket-splitting kept the Democrats in Kentucky and also were threatening to end the 33-year Senate career of Maine's Margaret Chase Smith. Iowa and South Dakota also appeared likely to switch to the Democratic column.

But in Virginia, Rep. William L. Scott became that state's first Republican senator since 1892 when he defeated incumbent William B. Spong, who was trying for a second term.

The Republicans also took a seat from the Democrats in New Mexico and were leading in Oklahoma and North Carolina.

The Republicans went into battle needing to pick up five seats to end the Democrats' long reign in the Senate. On the basis of mounting returns, it appeared the division might remain as it was—55-45.

In the House, Republicans were far from the net gain of 41 seats needed for control.

The first two days of the Republicans was in Kentucky, where Walter "Dee" Huddleston, Democratic leader of the state Senate, defeated former Gov. Louis B. Nunn for the seat vacated by Republican John Sherman Cooper.

Huddleston's victory despite Nixon's strong swing in Kentucky provided the first evidence that the President's coattails might not be enough to bring him the Republican Congress he has been seeking since he was first elected in 1968.

MIAMI (AP) — Florida's voters swept Republican Paula Hawkins from her Matland kitchen to the Public Service Commission in a headline upset over Democratic State Sen. Gerald Lewis early today.

"I'm absolutely thrilled," said Mrs. Hawkins, "but it's more than a housewife's win, it's the people's victory. They identified with me as a person they could trust, and I won't fail them."

Early morning returns showed Mrs. Hawkins leading the Harvard-educated Miami attorney 1,057,285 votes to 1,035,296, with 2,963 or 99 per cent of 2,978 precincts reporting. That gave her a margin of 31 to 49 per cent.

Absentee votes had not been counted, and Lewis aides said some 20,000 of them still were to be tabulated in his home county of Dade.

The six-year legislative veteran refused to make an outright concession, but said, "If the trend continues, it would appear that she has won, and I would congratulate her on a victory. I think the people now will be looking eagerly for the next two

Mollie Fleischman, William R. Adams Exchange Vows

Miss Mollie Kristine Fleischman and William Robert Adams were united in Holy Matrimony, Saturday, Oct. 21, 1972 at 3 p.m. in All Souls Catholic Church, Sanford.

Rev. Patrick J. Kett was officiating clergyman at the double ring ceremony. John Charles Aiken, organist, presented an appropriate nuptial program.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Fleischman, 823 Rosalia Dr., Sanford and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John L.

Adams, 1818 Locust Ave., also of Sanford.

The couple exchanged vows under an arch before an altar decorated with floral arrangements of white mums, baby's breath and white ribbon streamers. The bride wore a formal-length gown of deep purple crepe, with long Juliet sleeves, wide lace panel down the front and self covered buttons. Her chapel length train of matching material was trimmed with lace appliques.

The groom wore a tuxedo with a white carnation corsage. He carried a white carnation boutonniere and a white carnation boutonniere.

Maid of honor was Miss Nancy C. Lang, of Cape Canaveral, cousin of the bride. Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a formal length gown of white lutescent crepe with long Juliet sleeves, wide lace panel down the front and self covered buttons. Her chapel length train of matching material was trimmed with lace appliques.

The three-tiered veil of silk illusion was attached to a lace Juliet cap and she carried a cascade bouquet of white mums, roses, baby's breath and white ribbon streamers. The entire wedding ensemble was made by the bride's mother.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I need help desperately. Please don't tell me that I am stupid to be worrying about something like this with so much real unhappiness in the world today, but here is my problem.

My husband and I have been happily married for 24 years. I am 45 and he is 46. We have three children. About a year ago I caught my husband smoking a cigar after he had promised he'd quit three years ago. Well, I bumped into him accidentally downtown and he had a cigar in his mouth! I was sick with disappointment.

I promised me on bonded knees that he would never smoke another cigar as long as he lived, but when he'd come home, sometimes I smelled smoke on his clothes and in his hair. He said he'd been around smokers, and I believed him.

Well, I caught him smoking again in the basement and then I really went to pieces. I am especially heartick because his father, who was a chain smoker, died of throat cancer at the age of 53. I love him, Abby, but I feel like leaving him. He has disappointed me so terribly, I've lost all respect for him. And here I was bragging to all our friends that he had quit when his brothers didn't have the guts to. What a fool I've made of myself. Can you help me?

HUMILIATED AND MISERABLE:

DEAR HUMILIATED: Let's put first things first. Are you miserable because you were humiliated, or because you are concerned about your husband's health? I know you love him, but your husband's smoking has turned into a power struggle between you two. Quit nagging him and making him feel like a little boy who has to sneak a smoke behind the barn. He knows the hazards involved, but the poor man is hooked. He needs your love and understanding, not threats and punishment. You can't MAKE him quit. But he can quit if he really wants to.

DEAR ABBY: I am very much in love with a young man, and we plan to marry soon. I have a 2-year-old child, but I have never been married. I am very nervous about my fiancé of course knows all about it, as the child lives with me. The problem is how to tell his parents. He says they are from the old country and may not understand.

I have never met them as they live in another state, but I have been asking their son to bring me to meet them. How do we go about breaking the news?

CHICAGO PROBLEM

DEAR PROBLEM: When you go to meet them, take your child along. His parents will probably assume you are widowed or divorced. If [and when] they hear about the child's father, tell them the truth. They'll survive.

Problem? Tell Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 6700, L. A., CALIF. 90008 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

four spades and king-queen of hearts. West did not have found a two-spade club. This didn't worry South. He could get to dummy with the ace of clubs and lead a trump from dummy to hold his trump losses to one. Then if the queen of clubs was fall on a second club lead South would make his contract.

South decided that this was a hand where clubs would break 3-1. He led a club; took a first round finesse with dummy's jack and proceeded to make his game. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

By Oswald & James Jacoby

West's failure to bid two spades was an example of why some people lose at bridge. His hand was worthless in defense against hearts and had tremendous potential as dummy at a spade contract. In fact there was enough potential to work with the spade finesse that East would have wrapped up a spade game.

Then to add insult to injury, South managed to bring home his four-heart contract.

South went right up with dummy's king of spades to encourage a continuation of the suit, but East was too smart for that. He took his ace and shifted to the king of diamonds.

South led that hold; won the diamond continuation and promptly laid down the ace of hearts. West queen fell and South came to the conclusion that the queen had been a singleton. With

Congress Gets 3 New Faces

By TOM RAUM

MIAMI (AP) — Florida voters have returned the state's entire congressional delegation to Washington intact with three new faces, two of them Democrats.

The Democratic sweep dashed Republican hopes of seizing a majority of Florida's 15 House seats.

Republicans retained their three incumbents and picked up the third new seat created by reapportionment — South Florida's 10th District—for a net gain of one congressman.

It was a decisive blow to state Republican leaders who hoped President Nixon's landslide victory would yield them eight House seats. But as the night wore on and election returns piled up, even the most optimistic Republicans were ready to concede that Nixon's popularity hadn't filtered down to the congressional level.

McCall Is Defeated By Bliss

LEESBURG, Fla. (AP) — Former policeman Guy Bliss has ended the 28-year-reign of suspended Lake County Sheriff Willis McCall, who he called the "Archie Bunker of Lake County politics."

Bliss, a Republican, won an upset victory Tuesday with a 2,000-vote edge in this rural central Florida county.

With all 49 precincts reporting, Bliss polled 13,677 votes to McCall's 11,896 in unofficial returns.

McCall stood beneath a giant vote board shaking hands and managing a smile while his challenger outdistanced him in the neck-and-neck race.

The seven-term veteran lawmaker wore his traditional western-style hat as he greeted fans in the Citizens National Bank Building, where vote tallies were being compiled.

But he slipped out quietly without speaking to newsmen when it became certain he'd lost his bid for another term.

Bliss, 57, jumped to a slight lead in early returns and stayed out in front most of the way.

"The only thing I have against him," McCall is said to have said, "is that he's trying to take my job away from me."

Reached at his home in Umatilla after voters were counted, McCall refused to discuss the outcome.

"I haven't even spoken to my opponent yet," McCall said, "and I have nothing to say to 'all'."

Asked if he'd run again, he replied tersely: "I said I have no comment."

Deltonans Set Trips

By FANNETTE EDWARDS

DELTONA — The Deltona Fun and Travel Club met Sunday in the Community Center and heard Joseph Matra, president, announce that the Club is planning a tour to Disney World on Dec. 13. Bus leaves Deltona Inn at 9 a.m. and return late Sunday, because they will stay to see the Christmas lights that will adorn the Magic Kingdom for Dec. 10 to the New Year.

Make reservations with Sinatra at 668-678.

Reservations are now being taken for a 10-day Cruise to the West Indies beginning Jan. 19 on the S.S. Nieuw Amsterdam. They will stop at five ports of call: Aruba, St. Thomas, LaGuaira, Guadeloupe, and Curacao. Bryan Porter of the Holland-American Line showed a film on the proposed trip.

Plans were completed for a Christmas Party to take place at the next meeting in the Center Dec. 3 at 5 p.m.

Nixon Wins By Million In State

MIAMI (AP) — Florida contributed a million-vote margin to President Nixon's record national landslide over Democrat George S. McGovern Tuesday, but Nixon's 3-1 popularity did not rub off on state GOP candidates who failed to gain control of the Legislature.

With 99 per cent of the vote counted in Florida's 2,978 precincts, Nixon swept all 67 counties, won 17 electoral votes by a popular vote margin of 1,746,359 to 689,074, or 71.5 per cent.

The amazing show of support stunned Democratic leaders and surprised top Republicans who had considered optimistic state GOP Chairman L.E. "Tommy" Thomas' prediction that Nixon would win by a million votes.

The only county in Florida where the South Dakota senator ever came close to making a race of it was Alachua, home of the University of Florida in Gainesville, where Tom won 51.1 per cent of the vote.

"I thought we'd do better in the state races," admitted Thomas, a Panama City automobile dealer. "I expected a greater coalition effect, and we didn't do as well as I'd hoped."

But the next move is that we expect some top level Democrats to switch to the Republican party in the next county election, Thomas said, but he refused to say who those Democrats might be.

Republicans cut the Democratic edge in the state with also one independent elected and one Republican added to the House.

One of those Republicans, Don Gruber of Miami, made history when he defeated incumbent Eddie Gong and became the first GOP senator from Dade since the Civil War.

Maitland housewife Paula Hawkins gave the GOP a stunning upset with her narrow victory over Democratic state Sen. Gerald Lewis of Miami.

In the races for Florida's three new Congressional seats, the Republicans picked up one when former state Sen. L. A. "Skip" Bufalis defeated Democrat Bill Sykes in the 10th District.

But Democrat William Lehman, a Miami car dealer, trounced GOP candidate Paul Bebel in the 13th District and Democrat Bill Gunter won the 5th to give the Democrats an 11-4 edge in the state's congressional delegation.

Thomas' opposite number in the state Democratic Party, Jon Moyle, was surprised that he had fulfilled the GOP chairman's pre-election prediction of "70 million-vote margin and better than 70 per cent."

"I was very pleased with the voter turnout," he said, "because it showed people are not apathetic and that they chose the man, not the party."

Robbers Busy In Sanford

By GARY TAYLOR

Over 75 sets of keys to used cars at Joe Creamons Chevrolet in Sanford are still missing after a break-in at his building on south U. S. 17-92.

Entry was gained through a rear door by breaking a window. All of the keys to used cars were taken, along with a 1971 Cadillac off the lot. Several of the keys were found scattered around the premises, but according to investigating officers Det. Sgt. William Bernosky, at least 75 sets of keys are missing.

The car was found abandoned on Interstate 95 in Brevard County by the Florida Highway Patrol.

Parker and Bernosky also investigated a break-in at Crooms High School and arrested three 14-year-old students of the school in connection with the theft of 32 cases of candy.

The candy, valued at $384, was recovered in a drainage ditch behind the school. According to the detectives, the three youths made two trips into the school after breaking a window on the roof. The candy was being stored until a candy sale scheduled by the school.

Gary Denton, of lot 82, Park Avenue Trailer Park, reported a 12 gauge shotgun valued at $25 missing.

Jerry Temple, Rt. 1 Box 27, Longwood, told Patrolman Mike Tindel that someone broke into his car while it was parked in the Jet Lanes parking lot at Airport Boulevard in Sanford and took his spare tire.

Whatever Happened To Patriotism ???

By MARION BELHEA

Arrangements were made with Fulenwider and Assistant State Attorney Newman Brock to accompany this reporter and a Herald photographer to Crooms.

Arriving shortly after class dismissal, we told Miss Epstein a flag had been donated and we wished to photograph her with the flag. Her comment was, "We already have a flag." (The miniature one donated by the student.) "We don't need another one." Pointing out the flag is a standard one and more appropriate, she said, "what difference does it make what they salute as long as it's a flag?" Then she said she had to go to a faculty meeting and would lock her class. Rudely brushing past us she departed.

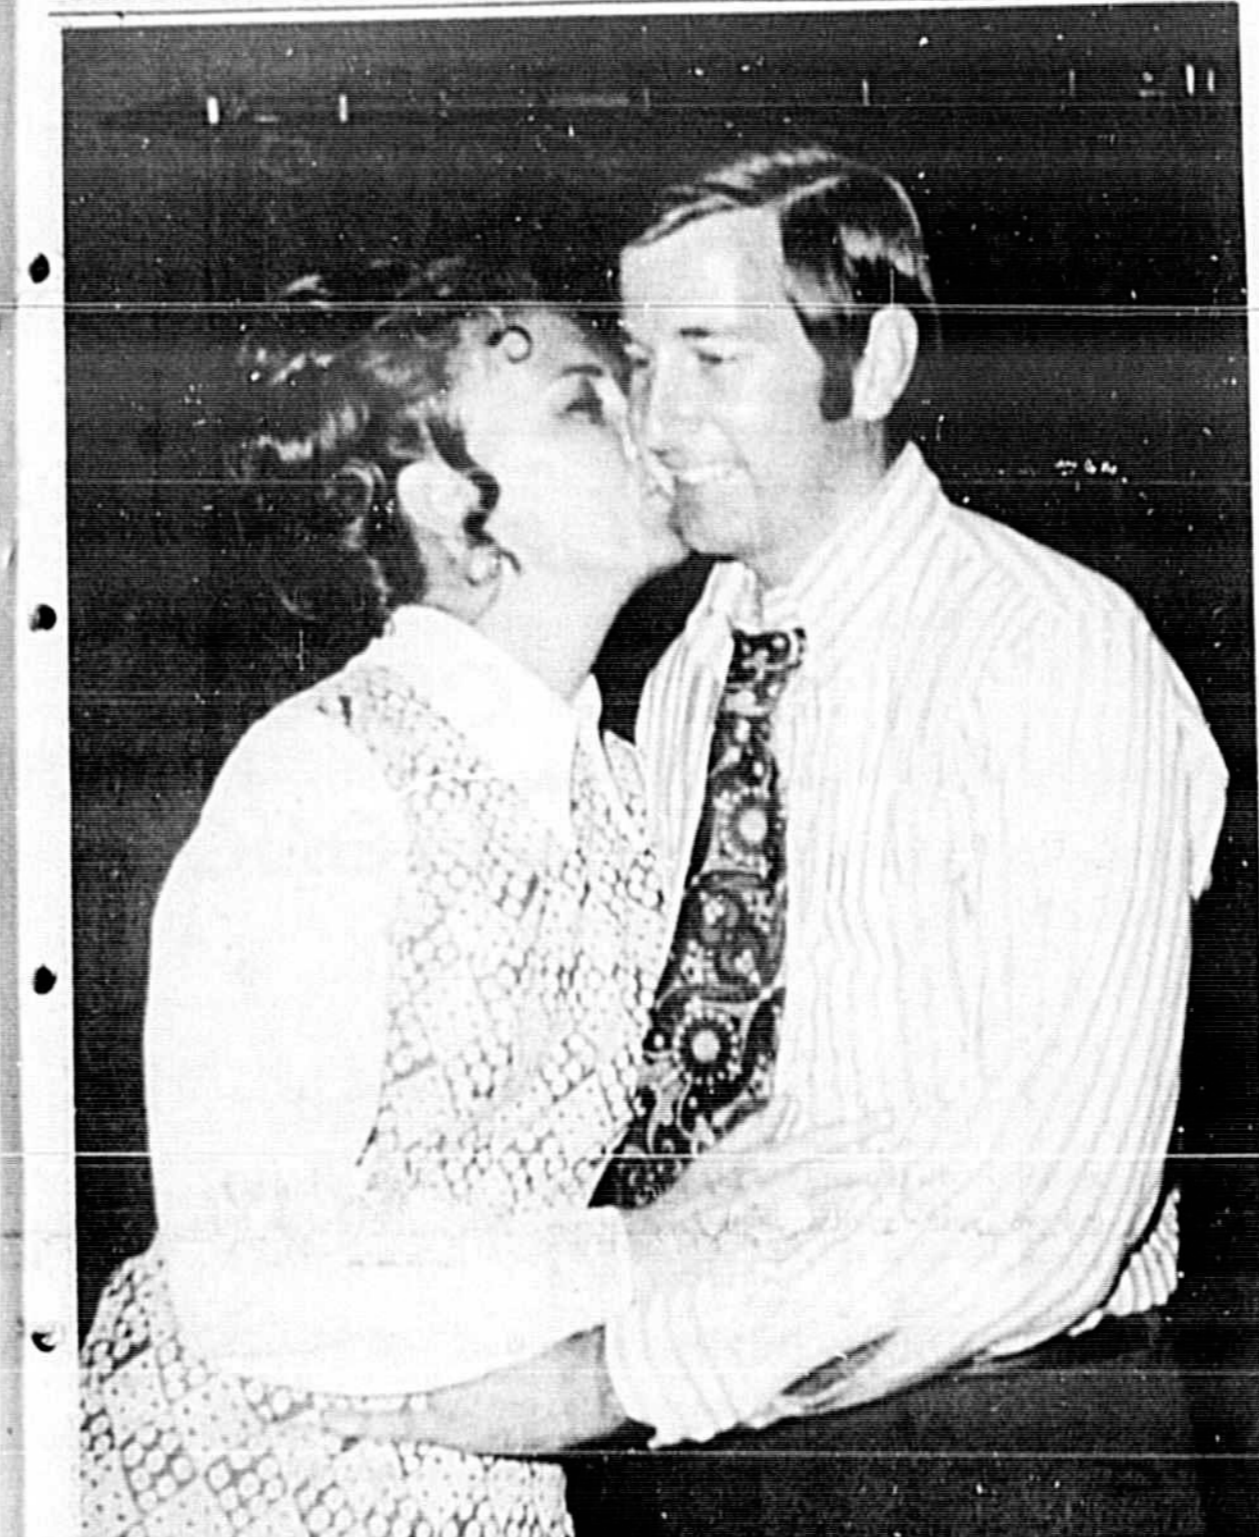

This reporter explained the photo would only take possibly two minutes, but it was "no go."

Fulenwider then suggested the flag be presented to a school official. Principal Edward Blacksheare was not to be located, so we contacted Assistant Principal William Ashley and asked if he would accept the flag, introducing him to the state attorney's representative. Ashley said he would have to locate Blacksheare. We requested he either accept the flag, have Miss Epstein excuse from the meeting or have Blacksheare accept the flag.

All of us waited for approximately 20 minutes and Ashley did not extend the courtesy to return to apprise us of any action to be taken.

Eventually, we located the Dean of Students, Mr. Johnson and explained the situation. He made no difference what sort of flag the students saluted, and we contented it did to us when a student had to supply the flag in use by the school when it is a taxpayer supported institution. Nevertheless, we said this did not excuse the fact Ashley did not have the courtesy to give us a reply, and Johnson agreed it inexcusable.

This reporter asked if Johnson would tell the representatives from the state attorney office the school refused to accept the flag, and he agreed. However, apprising

REQUEST GRANTED

Approval of the zoning request was granted by the planning and zoning commission and the board of adjustment.

Baker told the Board of County Commissioners that over the past few weeks Wilco officials have conferred on many occasions with County officials, school board officials and members of the Lake Mary Fire District to gather data and ideas relevant to their desire to provide within the proposed Greenbelt community all of the necessary public and community facilities.

"We wish to work with the county in accomplishing a planned community that is self-supporting from the standpoint of taxation in relation to service demand and we pledge to provide those facilities within our community."

In discussing the school participation, Baker said that in discussions with members of the school administration and with the recently hired economic consultant, Bill Legiz, exploring in depth the possibility of a pilot program for a lease-purchase arrangement to construct the first elementary school within Greenbelt. The legality of such a program has been investigated as well as the financing and physical problems associated with construction. A formal proposal will be made using the school board plans and specifications and subject to the Board's supervision. Farr said that there are presently only 1,068 desk spaces available which will have to be shared with the

Also proposed is widening and constructing to four lanes that portion of the road from Lake Emma Road to the intersection of the Greenbelt project.

As part of the interior street system, Humphrey Road will be widened and four lanes to fit into the master transportation plan for Seminole County. Baker said this work would be done according to County Highway standards for four lane facilities and at no cost to the county, other than right-of-way costs over property not owned by Wilco.

TAX RATIO

In a presentation of a cost-benefit-ratio of taxes expected to be generated from the community of Greenbelt, Baker said that the comparison shows that the average unit dwelling and tax per person contribution will be twice that of the existing county standard.

Farr said that he felt the county would be better served if Lake Emma Road is two lanes south to the Longwood Hills Road. Developers said that they would be happy to pave the length of Lake Emma Road with storage and acceleration lanes and signals where necessary on all access roads. Commissioner Sid Vihlen proposed that the developers of Wilco and Heathrow and any other similar development project assume the total cost of the roads and interlateral loops required because of their developing. Baker said that he would meet with the DOT and would pursue the matter if and when the need is apparent.

Freighter Slams Bridge; Five Dead, Six Missing

BRUNSWICK, Ga. (AP)—An estimated 16-12 vehicles plunged 80 feet into the deep waters of the Brunswick River after a loaded freighter sliced into a drawbridge. At least five persons died and six are missing.

Two children were among the dead, another was missing. The freighter ship African Neptune missed the raised drawspan of the 572-foot Sidney Lanier bridge Tuesday night as it headed out of port on a swift outbound tide.

The crash downed two spans on the south end of the graceful 16-year-old bridge and badly damaged the prow of the freighter. The ship's crew apparently tried to avert the collision by dropping anchor, but the anchor did not hold. A crew member later told the U.S. Coast Guard that he was steering the ship away from the bridge.

The Miami indictments were returned from the drawspan operator, said the freighter manager by several Miami lawyers and went plumb through the bridge's south side.

"It was pitch black," said D. J. Moore, a mechanical maintenance engineer. Darkness hampered initial rescue efforts, but helicopters and divers were called into help search for bodies.

They dove up onto the bridge and stopped behind a line of cars. "We didn't know why the cars were stopped," Mrs. Donald said. "My husband got out and walked over to the rail and came back and said, 'I don't see anything wrong.'"

Five persons were known dead and at least six were missing. Mrs. Donald and her husband were returning from a 10-day honeymoon in Florida. They had visited Disneyland and Cypress Gardens, among other places.

They drove up onto the bridge and stopped behind a line of cars. "We didn't know why the cars were stopped," Mrs. Donald said. "My husband got out and walked over to the rail and came back and said, 'I don't see anything wrong.'"

By DALLAS LEE Associated Press Writer BRUNSWICK, Ga. (AP)—A 21-year-old bride who can't swim somehow managed to survive for half an hour in the cold deep murky waters of the Brunswick River Tuesday night.

Political World Has Been Truly Shaken

There are some hard political lessons which have been taught by the general elections campaigns which have now ended, but which should not be allowed to be forgotten.

The late primary elections. With more and more states attempting to seize the political limelight by holding these preference primaries the result was a crazy quilt which was costly in terms of money and even more so in terms of intelligently selecting the candidates.

The move towards a national presidential preference primary which has received some important backing by the leaders of both parties is a consequence of this and, indeed, becoming almost a national scandal is the zooming of campaign costs which has made the collection and disbursement of millions of dollars through traditional channels intolerable if the public good and not the private interest good is to be achieved.

Closely allied to this and, indeed, becoming almost a national scandal is the zooming of campaign costs which has made the collection and disbursement of millions of dollars through traditional channels intolerable if the public good and not the private interest good is to be achieved.

This is a theme and a condition which the people's lobby Common Cause, has kept under its scrutiny and which will be pursued by that non-partisan and intensely professional group in 1973.

There can be no question that this thorny and controversial matter of financing political campaigns is something that will be brushed under the rug or put on the "file-and-forget" shelf unless public pressure is generated and used to make changes not later than the 1974 mid-term elections.

So much for some of the generalities which seem worth commenting upon on this day—Election Day—even before the ballots are counted.

But there are two important developments within the political world of the American two-party system which took place before, during and after the two national party conventions at Miami Beach this summer.

The Democrats held their convention first. It was an affair which did present the open-door policy within the party to allow the boss domination which exploded in the '68 campaign riots to be ended by the wish of the party members, even the grassroots Democrats.

The nomination of Senator George McGovern of South Dakota by his supporters in a display of intra-party skill of tying up delegations, was expected to give this approach new life and to make the presidential campaign one in which each nominee would stand-up and be counted.

But when the GOP staged — and that is the precise and accurate word to use in labeling the Nixon-Agnew nominating presentation in tempt to open the way for a wider participation in the nomination of a presidential candidate is the nomination of an encouraging.

But the Republicans will have to stand at the bar of public opinion as the party which swung away in a wide arc from the principles of its great President Lincoln and seemed to be willing to tolerate any means towards the end of winning an election.

These are some of the events which have stirred the political world in Presidential '72. They present to the citizens a covey of issues which must be flushed from the brush and shot down if the American democracy is to reach the character and strength which 1976 should exhibit!

How To Prepare Chicken

Copley News Service
Low in price and low in fat, chicken is high in taste and can be prepared in an endless variety of ways. Try these unusual chicken and fruit kabobs while the fresh fruit is still available.
Casseroles if carefully prepared with the low-saturated fat, low-cholesterol rules, can be an excellent way to have inexpensive company dishes, as well as good family meals. This delicious salmon casserole will answer the need for guests or family.

- 16 chunks (one and one-half inch) raw chicken breasts
- 2 oranges, peeled and quartered
- 8 chunks (one and one-half inch) melon
- 2 large plums, pitted and quartered
- 6 cubes pineapple, fresh or canned
- 1/4 cup polyunsaturated oil
- 1/4 cup fresh squeezed lemon juice
- 1 tablespoon firmly packed brown sugar
- 2 teaspoons curry powder
- 1/4 teaspoon powdered ginger

Remove skin from cleaned, boned chicken breasts, cut into cubes. String chicken chunks and fruits on skewers, using two pieces chicken and one piece of each fruit on each skewer. Place skewers in shallow pan. Combine remaining ingredients; pour over kabobs. Marinate about two hours, turning every thirty minutes. Meantime, light charcoal and let it burn down until covered with grey ashes, about an hour. Cook kabobs on grill about four inches above the coals until slightly browned, about 10 minutes on each side. Serve on hot rice. Marinade may be heated and served over kabobs. Makes four servings.

- FESTIVE SALMON CASSEROLE
- 1 cup "Heart-Line" White Sauce (Nestle)
  - 1/4 cup mayonnaise
  - 1/4 teaspoon dill
  - 1/4 teaspoon salt
  - Dash of pepper
  - 1 pound can salmon
  - 2 cups cooked rice
  - 1/2 cup sliced zucchini
  - One-third cup sliced green onion
  - 1/4 cup parmesan strips
  - Parley sprigs
- Blend mayonnaise and spices into "Heart-Line" white sauce. Add the drained and flaked salmon, rice, zucchini, and onions. Mix lightly. Pour into a greased, shallow 2-quart baking dish. Bake at 350 degrees for 15 to 40 minutes. Garnish with parmesan and parley. Makes 6 servings.

(Note: "HEART-LINE" WHITE SAUCE)
2 tablespoons of polyunsaturated oil
2 tablespoons of flour
1 teaspoon of salt
1 cup of skim milk
This easy method will help you achieve a smoother sauce with less worry about the problem of lumps. Pour skim milk into a small jar with a tight lid. Sprinkle flour on top of the milk. Shake the jar until flour and liquid are blended. Pour oil into a one-quart heavy sauce pan and add the blended flour and milk mixture. Add salt. Heat while stirring constantly until mixture thickens. This makes a medium thick sauce.

SOME SUGGESTED VARIATIONS

- For a thick sauce, which is also lower in calories, use one tablespoon of oil and one tablespoon of flour to one cup of skim milk.
- For a thick sauce, use three tablespoons each of oil and flour to one cup of skim milk.
- Wine may be substituted for part of the liquid.
- Fat-free broth may be substituted for all or part of the skim milk.
- Spices and herbs can be added according to the recipe or your taste.
- Other additions may include onions, chives, garlic, mustard, mushrooms, lemon juice, catsup, etc.
- Mayonnaise may be blended in for extra richness. Small amounts of mayonnaise are permissible on the modified fat diet.

Making Health Cereal

By CECILY BROWNSTONE, Associated Press Food Editor
DEAR CECILY: A while back there was a recipe in the paper for making one's own natural-food cereal. Unfortunately the paper was thrown out before I had a chance to clip it. Some of the ingredients were quick-cooking oats, prunes and dried apricots, but I don't recall the rest or the amounts. I hope you can give a similar recipe because it sounded very healthy and good. BRKFAST FAN

DEAR BREAKFAST FAN: It's interesting to see home-made health cereals come back into vogue. Recipes for these first appeared in my newsletter about 40 years ago in a cookbook of Swiss-German origin and were called Muesli or fruit porridges. Nowadays the recipes have been expanded to include a wider variety of ingredients and often go under the name of granola. Here's the following recipe please try it.

- HOMEMADE HEALTH CEREAL
- 1 cup finely chopped dried prunes
  - 1 cup finely chopped dried apricots
  - 1 cup finely chopped dried apples
  - 1 can (4 ounces) silvered almonds or 1 cup raw shelled peanuts
  - 1 cup wheat germ
  - 1 jar (1 3/4 ounces) sesame seeds
  - 1 1/2 cup safflower oil
  - 1/2 cup honey

Turn mixture into a jelly-roll pan 13 1/2 by 9 inches or onto a large cookie sheet and spread evenly.
Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven for 15 minutes, stirring mixture once after it has baked for 7 minutes. Cool thoroughly and then spoon into jars and cover tightly. Store in refrigerator or in another cool dry place.
Use 1/2 cup of the mixture for each serving, adding milk and - if a sweeter cereal is desired - a little sugar.
Note: The rolled whole-wheat cereal comes in a 14-ounce package.

Is Truly American

By AILEEN CLAIRE, NEA Food Editor

Corn pudding or corn custard recipes are found in cookbook collections from early settlers' menus. This is a truly American dish that is easy to make and is best when kernels cut from fresh corn are used. Sweet corn is shipped almost year round, making this recipe for Southern Corn Pudding a staple for any season.

SOUTHERN CORN PUDDING

- 4 ears fresh Florida corn
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
- 3 eggs, lightly beaten
- 2 cups milk
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Remove husks and silk from corn. Cut kernels off cob (makes about 3 cups). In a heavy skillet, combine corn with sugar, salt and black pepper. Add eggs and mix well. Heat milk with butter. Stir into corn mixture. Turn into a buttered 1-quart casserole. Place in a pan containing hot water. Bake in a 325-degree oven for 1 hour or until a knife inserted in the center comes out clean. Cut in 1/2-inch squares. If desired, Makes 8 portions.

DINNER FOR FOUR

- Baked Potatoes
  - Green Peas
  - Vegetable Cucumber
  - Baked Apples with Custard Sauce
  - YOCURT CUCUMBER
- Choose a narrow cucumber so the seeds will be small.
1 medium or large cucumber
1/2 cup sugar
2 tablespoons distilled white vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup (scant) plain yogurt

Classic Mixed-Up Dinner

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

There has been a mixup about the mixed-up dish most regard as a "casserole." Most think of a casserole as a dish with multiple ingredients, and usually with some kind of noodles as a stretcher and baked in an oven. A true casserole by its definition can be cooked on top of the stove, in the oven or run under the broiler to finish. In French, terms the word "casserole" refers to the pot itself rather than what is in it. A classic French dish cooked on top of the stove is a Boeuf Bourguignon (beef en casserole).

CLASSIC BOEUF BOURGUIGNON
(Beef en casserole)
1 1/2 pounds bottom round beef steak
1/4 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons cooking oil
Water
1 (10 1/2-ounce) can beef consommé
2 tablespoons instant minced onion
1/2 bay leaf
1/2 teaspoon fines herbes
1/2 teaspoon savory
1/2 cup sliced celery
1/2 pound sliced mushrooms
1/2 cup red wine or cider

Put beef into 1-inch cubes. Dredge in flour mixed with salt and pepper. Reserve remaining seasoned flour. Brown beef in hot oil. Add 1 cup water, consommé, onion, bay leaf, fines herbes and savory. Cover and simmer 1 1/2 hours or until tender, adding more water if necessary. Combine 2 tablespoons reserved seasoned flour with 2 tablespoons cold water. Add to beef stirring constantly until slightly thickened. Add celery, mushrooms and wine. Cover and cook 15 minutes longer.

Applesauce
Cake With Chocolate

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
Here's the newest idea we've come across lately for an applesauce cake — that popular dessert. This recipe hails from Pennsylvania — the home of the rhoter of a friend of ours.
Dates, lots of them, are included in the cake and the top is sprinkled with nuts and chocolate pieces and walnuts. This is a really sweet cake so it tastes good with a splash of frosty milk or a cup of hot tea or coffee. Serve the dessert, if you like, with unwhipped or only slightly sweetened whipped cream.

DATE-CHOCOLATE APPLESauce CAKE
1 can (16 ounces) applesauce
1 package (16 ounces) pitted dates, cut up
1/4 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 cup unsifted flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening
1 cup plus 2 tablespoons sugar
2 eggs
1 package (6 ounces) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1/2 cup chopped (medium-line) walnuts
Grease and flour a baking pan (13 by 9 by 2 inches).
In a medium saucepan bring applesauce to a boil; remove from heat; stir in dates and 1 teaspoon baking soda; cool.
On wax paper thoroughly stir together the flour, remaining 3/4 teaspoon baking soda and the salt.
In a large mixing bowl cream shortening and 1 cup sugar; stir in applesauce mixture; then flour mixture. Turn into the prepared pan.
Stir together the remaining 2 tablespoons sugar, chocolate pieces and walnuts; sprinkle over cake batter.
Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until a cake tester inserted in center comes out free of batter. Cool cake in pan on wire rack. Cut in pan.

THE BRIDE COOKS LUNCH
Cream of Tomato Soup
Chicken and Bacon Sandwiches
Fresh Fruit Beverage
CHICKEN AND BACON SANDWICHES
Sliced roast turkey, if on hand, may be used instead of the chicken.
2 chicken legs, from a roasted broiler-dryer
4 slices whole wheat bread.
Mayonnaise
Sweet pickle relish
2 slices bacon, crisply cooked
Slice the meat from the chicken legs, leaving the skin intact. Spread one side of each slice of bread generously with mayonnaise, now spread with a little relish. Arrange chicken over 2 of the slices; crumble bacon coarsely and place over chicken; top with remaining bread slices. Cut each sandwich into 2 triangles. Makes 2 servings.

Author Seeking Answer

By GAYNOR MADDOX
A young scientist believes that chemical additives would rarely, if ever, be needed in quality foods if the manufacturers used good practices.

Dr. Michael F. Jacobson, co-director of the Center for Science in the Public Interest, a Washington-based consumer group, testified recently in the hearings on the $500-million-a-year food additive market.
To prove his point, he showed two brands of vegetable oil. One had additives added, the other had none. Potato chips — those without additives and those with them. Salted peanuts — with and without additives. And yogurt — strawberry flavor. Yes, fresh strawberries were used in both brands. But one used nothing else, whereas the other brand used some strawberries plus artificial flavor to make up the total.
"The several exhibits of pairs of almost identical but competing common brands of food showed the label of one brand listed no chemical additives while the competitive product's label included preservatives, emulsifiers, dyes and foaming agents."
"Which facts prove my point that chemical additives are not usually necessary if manufacturers use better methods," he said.
Dr. Jacobson, a microbiologist from Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and author of a new book for the layman called "Eater's Digest," a consumer's fact-book of food additives, says further:
"I doubt if the nation's food and chemical manufacturers are trying to solve our hunger and malnutrition problems. No, they are probably trying to figure out how to increase sales. Some food additives do make food safer. Others can make food more or less nutritious. But remember — the sale of all food additives helps companies make more money."
He explained further that some chocolate bar manufacturers replace a portion of expensive cocoa butter with lecithin, which is much cheaper. Soft drink bottlers promote artificially sweetened drinks because saccharine and before it was banned, cyclamates is far cheaper than sugar on a per bottle basis. No, not because the substitution for sugar of 2 non-calorie agents may help persons lose weight. Profit is the driving impulse.
"Protein or starch binders replace a fraction of expensive meat in frankfurters, chili con carne and frozen or dehydrated prepackaged dinners. People don't often think of vitamins and minerals as additives. Yet they often are used to fortify lower-grade common foods."
"Eater's Digest" is intended to provide the average eater with accurate, unbiased reports on additives.

3 tablespoons (96 proof) bourbon
1 cup sugar
1/8 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter, melted
2 cups (about 8 ounces) pecan halves
1-inch unbacked pastry shell
Beat eggs well; stir in the remaining pie filling ingredients adding the pecans after all the others are combined. Pour into pie shell. Bake on rack below center in a preheated 400-degree oven until well browned — 35 minutes; if top gets too brown, lightly place a piece of foil over it shortly before pie finishes baking. Place on wire rack to cool. Before serving, let you like, ring edge of filling with 1/2 cup cream that has been whipped, sweetened with 1 tablespoon congar and 1/2 teaspoon vanilla. You will need a sharp knife to cut through pecan halves.

Buffet Salad Luncheon Is A New Entertaining Trend

By SUSAN DELIGHT
Copley News Service

A new trend in entertaining is a buffet salad luncheon, where guests are offered a selection of salads, from hearty meat to light fruit salads. Or, the hostess can offer the makings of a buffet salad and guests can make their own. A buffet salad can be as expansive as the guest list, the more you serve, the larger the variety of salad makings you need. Start with a basic plan — two meats, two cheeses, two vegetables, plus a few extras such as hard-cooked eggs and watercress. Accompany the salad with a variety of dressings.

The two salads and dressings which follow will help in planning a salad buffet.

PRUNE-HOW-NOW SALAD
1 bunch fresh spinach
2 medium apples
18 California pitted prunes
1/2 pound Tybo cheese
Honey Yogurt Dressing (Note)

Wash, stem and drain spinach. Slice apples and cut in julienne strips. On four individual serving plates place apple slices, prunes and cheese on bed of fresh spinach. Top with Honey Yogurt Dressing. Makes four individual salads.

(Note) HONEY YOGURT DRESSING
1 carton (8 ounces) plain yogurt
3 tablespoons honey
1 teaspoon poppy seeds
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Blend all ingredients in small mixing bowl to creamy consistency. Makes about 1 1/2 cups of dressing. Serve over Prune-How-New Salad.

BUFFET SALAD
10 cups torn assorted greens
1 cup julienne strips cooked ham
1 cup julienne strips cooked chicken or turkey
1 cup chunks or strips Swiss cheese
1 package (3-ounce) Riquetier or blue cheese, crumbled
1 cup water
1/2 cup sliced celery
1/2 cup sliced radishes
Russian, Garlic, French or Herb Dressing

Arrange salad greens on large serving platter. Place ham, chicken, cheeses, water, cream, cucumber, tomatoes, eggs, celery, and radishes in rows on greens.

To serve, toss ingredients with desired dressing. Makes six servings.

BASIC MAYONNAISE
2 eggs
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1/4 cup white vinegar
2 cups peanut oil

Combine eggs, salt, dry mustard, paprika, vinegar, and 1/2 cup peanut oil in blender container. Cover and whirl on medium-high speed just until mixture is blended. Without turning off blender, immediately pour in remaining 1 1/2 cups oil in a steady stream. If necessary, use rubber spatula to keep mixture flowing to processing blades. Makes 2 1/2 cups.

Russian Dressing: To make 1 1/2 cups, combine 1 cup basic mayonnaise, 3 tablespoons chili sauce, 1 teaspoon chopped chives and 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Blend well.

BASIC FRENCH DRESSING
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/4 cup water
2 cups

peanut oil
Two-thirds cup white vinegar or lemon juice

Combine salt, sugar, dry mustard, pepper, and water in a large jar. Cover tightly and shake until well mixed.

Add peanut oil and vinegar or lemon juice. Cover and shake vigorously until thoroughly blended. Makes 2 1/2 cups.

Garlic French Dressing: To make 1 cup, combine 1 cup basic french dressing and two crushed cloves garlic in a jar.

Cover tightly and shake vigorously until thoroughly mixed. Chill before serving.

Herb French Dressing: To make 1 cup, combine 1 cup basic french dressing, 1 tablespoon chopped chives, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, and 1/2 teaspoon ground thyme in a jar. Cover tightly and shake vigorously until thoroughly mixed. Chill before serving.

The Hecks Are Noted For Making Great Champagne

By MARY LESTER
Copley News Service

Around the Korbel Champagne Cellars, anyone overheard mumbling or shouting the ejaculation "Oh, Heck!" could, within moments, be surrounded by three giant-size men. The brothers Heck — Adolph, Paul and Ben — have been coping all their life with sometimes clever, most often corny phrases with a play on their last name. Nevertheless, they are always alert for any call that sounds like they are needed: a key to success for the Hecks and their family-owned Korbel winery. Since its 1862 birthdate, Korbel has maintained a top priority in the world of champagne. And, although the Heck family has only been continuously in the wine-making business for some eight decades, it is long enough for "olders" to refer to them as the "House of Heck."

Before the turn of the century, Grandfather Heck was making wine to sell to the winery. Grandfather Heck was making wine to sell to the winery. Grandfather Heck was making wine to sell to the winery.

After Prohibition, "Papa" Adolph moved to St. Louis as vice president-general manager of American Wine, whose most famous product was Cook's Imperial Champagne. "Papa" also became the extraordinary teacher of his three sons.

Now, between the mid-1930s and his death in 1947, "Papa" made semi-annual business trips to California, which enabled him to visit and revisit a small, superb champagne cellar. He dreamed of owning that winery called Korbel; it was not for sale.

Then, in 1953, with hesitant belief, "Papa's" three sons (all executives with various agencies) heard the Korbel family was finally considering selling. Knowing they were the men needed to retain the family name and the quality image, and the Korbels believing likewise, the champagne cellars changed hands in 1954.

In less than 20 years, Korbel has progressed from 5,000 cases of champagne annually to 140,000, is noted for producing a great brandy and is now concentrating on its heretofore little known wines.

Together, Adolph, Paul and Ben have converted a dream into reality and convinced thousands and thousands of champagne and brandy connoisseurs that the House of Heck, blended with Korbel's, makes a great combination.

A young cook, interested in using yogurt, has evolved an utterly delicious version of Tartar Sauce as an accompaniment to cooked, chilled artichokes to be served as an appetizer or a salad course. When we tried this combination, all our tasters fell in love with it. The yogurt is combined with mayonnaise, and the other ingredients Americans add to Tartar Sauce are of course included.

To prepare the artichokes cut off stems at base and remove into a small mixing bowl. With a sharp heavy knife, cut about 1 inch from top of artichokes. With a kitchen scissors, trim off the tip of each leaf. Boil the artichokes in several inches of salted water — adding 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1/2 teaspoon olive oil for each — until base can be easily pierced with a fork, 25 to 45 minutes. Drain and turn artichokes upside to drain further; chill. Serve the artichokes with the sauce on the side. Urgently spread outer leaves and pull out inner small leaves and discard, then with a sturdy teaspoon scoop out choke (thistle portion) and discard; at serving time spoon sauce into artichoke hearts.

ARTICHOKE WITH YOGURT TARTAR SAUCE
1/2 cup plain (unflavored) yogurt
1/2 cup mayonnaise
2 to 3 tablespoons finely chopped canned drained pimiento
2 tablespoons minced fresh parsley
2 tablespoons minced sweet onion
2 tablespoons pickle relish, drained
4 medium artichokes, cooked and drained and chilled
In a small mixing bowl, thoroughly stir together all the ingredients except the artichokes. Cover lightly and chill at least 1 hour, or overnight, if you like, before serving.

At serving time offer the Yogurt Tartar Sauce with the artichokes as a dip for the leaves and spread for the artichoke hearts at the bottom; both forks and knives will be needed because eaters will have to remove chokes (thistle portion). If the inner leaves and chokes are removed from the artichokes before serving, the Yogurt Tartar Sauce may be spooned into the center of each artichoke and forks only will be needed for eating the hearts. Makes 4 servings.

Two Zoning Board Members Resign

Two members of the Seminole County Planning and Zoning Board tendered their resignations effective Nov. 22 from the county board at Wednesday night's regular monthly session. Clifford Banks of Oviedo and Gene Shirley of Apopka advised the board at the conclusion of the meeting of intentions to leave the panel for various reasons.

Shirley advised there was a conflict in the meeting time, since Wednesday night's he was involved in activities at his church, where he is educational director.

Banks explained he was leaving the area and would not be available to continue in the position he held for approximately four years.

Zoning Chairman Robert Daehn told the pair they would have to send letters of resignation to the county commission, since that body appointed members to the zoning board.

Other members of the panel are: George Deschambeau, Richard Hanks, William E. Kirchoff, J. Wendell Agee and Daehn. All but Agee were present for two hour session.

The board, in actions:

- Approved a request for zoning change from A-1—agricultural to CN—restricted commercial for property located on the East side of Aldus Road off SR 434 near Sanlando Springs, for use as a Shop 'N' Go convenience store with the stipulation that access be on August Road and at least 50 feet from SR 434.

Commission Hires Local Administrator

Seminole County Commission has hired Frank Daley, consultant Inc., formed May 1, 1972 by Frank Daley, an Altamonte Springs man, as administrator of Seminole County Industrial Development Authority (SICIDA).

Daley accepted the position Wednesday at $13,000 annual salary, it was divulged.

A former Martin Marietta Corporation quality engineer and member of that firm's Material Review Board, Daley left the defense plant to become campaign director for Congressman Lou Frey, in the Orlando's quest for election.

Daley said he formed his own consultant firm, specializing in the conduct of business between private enterprise and all levels of municipal, county, state and federal government.

Married and father of two, Daley resides in Altamonte Springs.

Absentees Will Decide Herring's Still Leading

By DONNA ESTES

Seminole and Brevard election officials were scurrying today counting thousands of absentee ballots in the contest between Republican incumbent Abbott Herring and Democratic challenger, Charles F. Broomer, for the state attorney's office for the 18th judicial circuit.

Unofficial returns in the two counties show the incumbent to be slightly more than 700 votes in the lead. But, according to Bob Hudson, of the Today newspaper, informed sources say another 500 votes has been found in the unofficial count in Brevard for Herring.

Hudson said election officials in Titusville have refused to confirm or deny the report. Without the 500 extra votes in Brevard, unofficial totals show Herring to have garnered 30,357

17,744 in Seminole for a total of 48,101 while Broomer has 27,961 in Brevard and 5,437 in Seminole for a total of 47,387.

The cliff-hanger is not expected to be resolved until late this afternoon unofficially and sometime tomorrow officially.

In Seminole with little more than half the votes counted, workers who quit at 7:15 last night began work again under direction of Commission County Commissioner John Kimbrough, County Judge Wallace Hall and Assistant Elections Supervisor R. E. Higgins at 9 this morning.

A squeaker of this sort is no new thing for Herring. In his first election four years ago, he lost popularly Broomer to his Democratic opponent, Jackson Brownlee, only to carry Seminole by a handy margin and win the election by a handful of votes.

Whether his Seminole margin will be large enough to overcome mightily Broomer this time around will not be known probably until tomorrow. However, Today's Bob Hudson said since so much interest has been generated in this contest there, election officials have promised an unofficial count as soon as possible today.

In 1968, the Republican nominee for the post, Tom Warrenner, who was very popular, was expected to win the office by a landslide. When Warrenner suffered a severe heart attack and died, the Republican Party began its search for someone to appear on the ballot for the office against Brownlee.

Demetrius Saffi, now circuit court judge, lost the primary election to Warrenner and then declined the invitation to take Warrenner's place on the ballot. Herring was prevailed upon to run for the office and the rest is history.

ABBOTT HERRING... anxiously awaiting the final tabulations of the absentee ballots.

Vogt, Fechtler Winners Lori Wilson 'In' Senate Seat

Lori Wilson, the pretty Brevard County Commission Chairman, who pursued the seemingly impossible task of running for the Florida Senate as an independent, appears to have won her election to the district 18 seat.

Beating the nominees of both major parties as well as another independent female challenger, the blonde politician who gathered thousands of signatures on petitions to have her name placed on the ballot, expressed joy today at her victory. She is the first independent to ever win a post in the Florida Legislature.

Mrs. Wilson, mother of two teenage daughters, stated, "Everybody said it couldn't be done with the two major parties on the ballot. But in the election I wanted to go directly to the people and they responded." Her district covers Brevard.

Locally, absentees appear to be following the same trend established Tuesday and none of the races appear to be changed by the count.

Arthur Beckwith Jr., (D) appears to have defeated challenger Kenneth Monroe (R) to retain the clerk of circuit court office. Terry Goembel (D) is the personal choice of current Tax Assessor Guy Allen received the nod for the office (Cont'd On Pg. 2A Col 1)

ABSENTEE COUNTING DRAGS ON

Eighteen women were on hand at 9 a. m. today to begin anew the chore of counting some 2,102 absentee ballots cast in Tuesday's general election. The women are working under the supervision of County Commissioner John Kimbrough, County Judge Wallace Hall and Assistant Supervisor of Elections R. E. Higgins. Count is expected to be completed by late this afternoon.

New Shopping Center Planned Progress Hits Midway

A $300,000 shopping center consisting of 11 shops, including a convenience food store, barber shop, dry cleaners, coin laundry and other businesses is planned for the Midway Area.

This was disclosed Wednesday night at the regular monthly Seminole County Zoning and Planning Board meeting by Fred Mobley, area property owner who advised that a group of prominent black businessmen known as Midway Investment were planning the center.

Mobley said the center would employ 30 persons and was designed to "uplift" the predominantly black area.

The investment group is E. E. Williams and other men include: Amos Jones, Seminole Community Action director and Mobley.

New zoning director J. B. Williams said the request for a zoning change for the property, located on the corner of SR 427 and Magnolia Street, from R-1 residential to C-1 retail commercial, would include the businesses proposed for the area.

Gene Shirley, board member, moved that board recommend to the county commission that C-1 zoning be approved. This passed without any opposition.

Trustees Approve Giant Building Program

Seminole Junior College trustees at a Wednesday night meeting approved a project priority list that would bring $3 million in new construction under Phase Two of the SJC building program to possible completion by September, 1974.

Included in the new construction that is expected to be let out for bidding during the Summer of 1973 are: new shops for construction trades, and automobile mechanics.

Other construction will include faculty offices, work rooms, conference rooms, auditorium and related areas.

A health building, complete with an assembly area, basketball court, six classrooms is also included. Also, a student services center with a book store and other facilities.

SJC President Dr. Earl Weldon said the trustees had approved preliminary plans for the additions, which would include additional college classrooms and administrative areas.

Money for the new SJC building phase will be made available from sale of State Higher Education bonds.
