Downtown organizations plan fall events

Arthur Zielski
Staff Writer

SANFORD — The Downtown Business Association held its Sept. general membership meeting Thursday evening at SunTrust Bank.

The group focused on how to insure the best interest of local business people during the upcoming special events in the downtown area.

The three special events that the Association discussed were Octoberfest, the Heritage Festival, and the Holiday Celebration.

Laine Wood addressed the group and offered information on each event starting with Octoberfest.

Octoberfest will be held on Oct. 21 starting at 6 p.m. This is the last street party of the year, Wood said, which is sponsored by The Main Street Organization. Traditional German food will be sold by the Historical Trust as a fund raiser. And an antique car show will take place during the evening. "We want to turn this into something bigger and better as the years go by," Wood said.

The next special event will be Halloween night, Oct. 31. First Street will be closed to traffic (around 6 p.m., but Wood was not certain of the exact time) as local children "trick or treat" for candy from the merchants. The candy is provided by The Main Street

Organization.

The fun will continue in November as the city hosts the annual Heritage Festival. According to Association president Tom Winterhelmer, visitors will be able to shop the antique stores for free or purchase an ID card for $5 for admittance to the special events in the evening. The amount of the card also can be increased to any amount and used for

Becoming Super Scientists

Pat Burkett, second from right, teaches a group of parents and volunteers how to conduct science experiments for students. The seminar is part of the Super Scientist program that helps school volunteers learn how to conduct hands-on learning opportunities for kids.

Learning science by making paper

By Michelle Jeria
Managing Editor

SANFORD — Stefanie Wollam spent time away from her job at ReMax Realty Thursday making ice cream and popcorn and throwing pieces of paper in a blender — but her co-workers didn't mind.

Wollam and about 20 other volunteers were learning how to become "Super Scientists" for the Seminole County School System. The six-hour training session included instructions on various experiments, including "Recycle Your Spelling Test," an activity where students complete the recycle cycle by using the resources in used paper to make new paper.

"I am taking time out of my work schedule to help children," Wollam said. "This is a way to give back to the community and be involved with children, which is very important."

Thursday's training session will allow Wollam to teach various activities to elementary school students. She plans on using her new science skills at her daughters' school, Lake Mary Elementary School.

The Super Scientist Program was developed in 1982 to encourage volunteers to get involved in teaching hands-on science to elementary school students, Seminole County Environmental Education Specialist Pat Burkett said. It is sponsored by the Dividends School Volunteer Program.

The program grew in popularity, and by 1992, it expanded to book form. In 1997, Burkett and Benstrom Elementary School teacher Ruth Meyers revised the textbook to include activities and correlations with the Sunshine State Standards.

Since then, the program has had hundreds of volunteers teaching science at local schools. Burkett said she has to go through training similar to Thursday's session, which means hours of preparation for Burkett and Meyers.

"I spend at least seven or eight hours getting ready for every four- to six-hour workshop," Burkett said. "There's a lot of shopping, making and preparing before a training session."

But, Burkett said she doesn't mind spending time on the Super Scientist Program.

"What I like best about this program is the look of joy when parents, who don't think they are good at science, realize they can really do it," she said. "They may not be good in science, but they can volunteer for this program. We show them everything they need to know."

Burkett said anybody can volunteer to be a Super Scientist.

"We have parents, grandparents and teacher interns who participate in the program," she said. "We have one mom here today that came because her child begged her to do it."

Eleanor and Norm Hart decided to attend Thursday's session because they wanted to give something back to their community. Although the Hartrow grandparents have no children in the Seminole County School System, they both feel helping children is very important.

Community mourns loss of crash victims

By Russ White
Staff Writer

SANFORD — By 10 a.m. everyone knew Thursday, Sept. 21, was a day of sorrow at Seminole High School. The school flag was at half-mast. Principal Karen Coleman was solemnly speaking on the intercom to students, teachers and staff.

Two boys were dead, a third hospitalized with head injuries after a car crash a mile away from the school.

At 6:30 p.m., more than 300 students gathered for a prayer vigil in the school courtyard — similar to one earlier in the year for another classmate, Ryan McCool, who lost his life in an accident.

The latest crash occurred at 6:45 a.m. on the make-shift section of County Road 46A where there is expressway construction work.

Phillip Loveland, Bobby Smathers and Ben Butler were on their way to school. Loveland, who turned 17 on Wednesday, was driving a red Mitsubishi that veered into the west lane, colliding head-on with a produce truck.

instantly, crushed in the car. Butler, 15, was airlifted to Orlando Regional Medical Center where he remains with head injuries. The truck driver was taken to Central Florida Hospital. His injuries were said not to be life-threatening.

"We're all affected by this tragedy," Coleman said. "We're saddened

Deputies search for Cracker Barrel robber

From Staff Reports

The Seminole County Sheriff's Office is investigating an armed robbery at the Cracker Barrel Restaurant at 200 Hickman Drive in Sanford at 5:20 a.m., Thursday, Sept. 21.

The suspect, armed with a semi-automatic handgun, forced employees inside the business as they were arriving for work.

All five employees were then directed to the office where he forced them to lie on the floor.

The suspect ordered one employee to open the safe. The suspect then forced the victims into the men's restroom, where they were ordered to stay while he fled the premises with an undisclosed amount of money.

The victims waited several minutes before exiting the restroom and calling authorities.

The suspect was described as a black male in his 20's, 5 feet 8 inches to 5 feet 9 inches tall, 140 to 145 pounds with a dark complexion.

He wore jeans and a hooded sweatshirt type shirt, with the hood pulled over his head and his face partially concealed.

Anybody with information about this incident is asked to contact Investigator Dan Prast at 407-665-6722 or Crimeline at 1-800-423-TIPS.

the girls' half of the SAC standings, where Lake Brantley all but mathematically clinched the first-half championship with an 18-0 shutout of Lyman.

In other competition Wednesday, Lake Mary rocked Seminole, 16-2, and Winter Springs bested Oviedo, 13-5.

Even with the bye on Monday, the Patriots (75-15) have a nearly insurmountable advantage over the second-place Lake Mary (43-28). Any combination of Lake Mary losses and Lake Brantley wins totaling five next week gives the Patriots the first-half crown.

Third-place Lake Howell (41-31) also is mathematically alive, but the Patriots' magic number to eliminate the Silver Hawks is three. The best fourth-place Winter Springs (39-33) could do to force a tie with Lake Brantley and that would require a 36-0 week along with a Lake Howell shutout of the Patriots on Wednesday.

Trailing the pack are Oviedo (28-44), Seminole (24-48), and Lyman (19-70).

HUGHES MOVED TO ATLANTA; FUND RAISERS SATURDAY

SANFORD - Injured Oviedo High School football player Sammy Hughes, still paralyzed from the chest down, has been moved to the Shepherd Center in Atlanta.

The Shepherd Center is one of the top facilities to treat spinal-cord injuries in the country.

The 17-year-old Hughes, severely injured his back and spine while making a tackle against Lake Brantley two weeks ago.

This Saturday has been designated "Sammy's Saturday" at Oviedo High School, 601 King Street.

Activities will include the Oviedo Lions Pop Warner Youth Football Association hosting a SILENT AUCTION from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the John Courter Field with all proceeds being donated to the Sam Hughes Trust Fund.

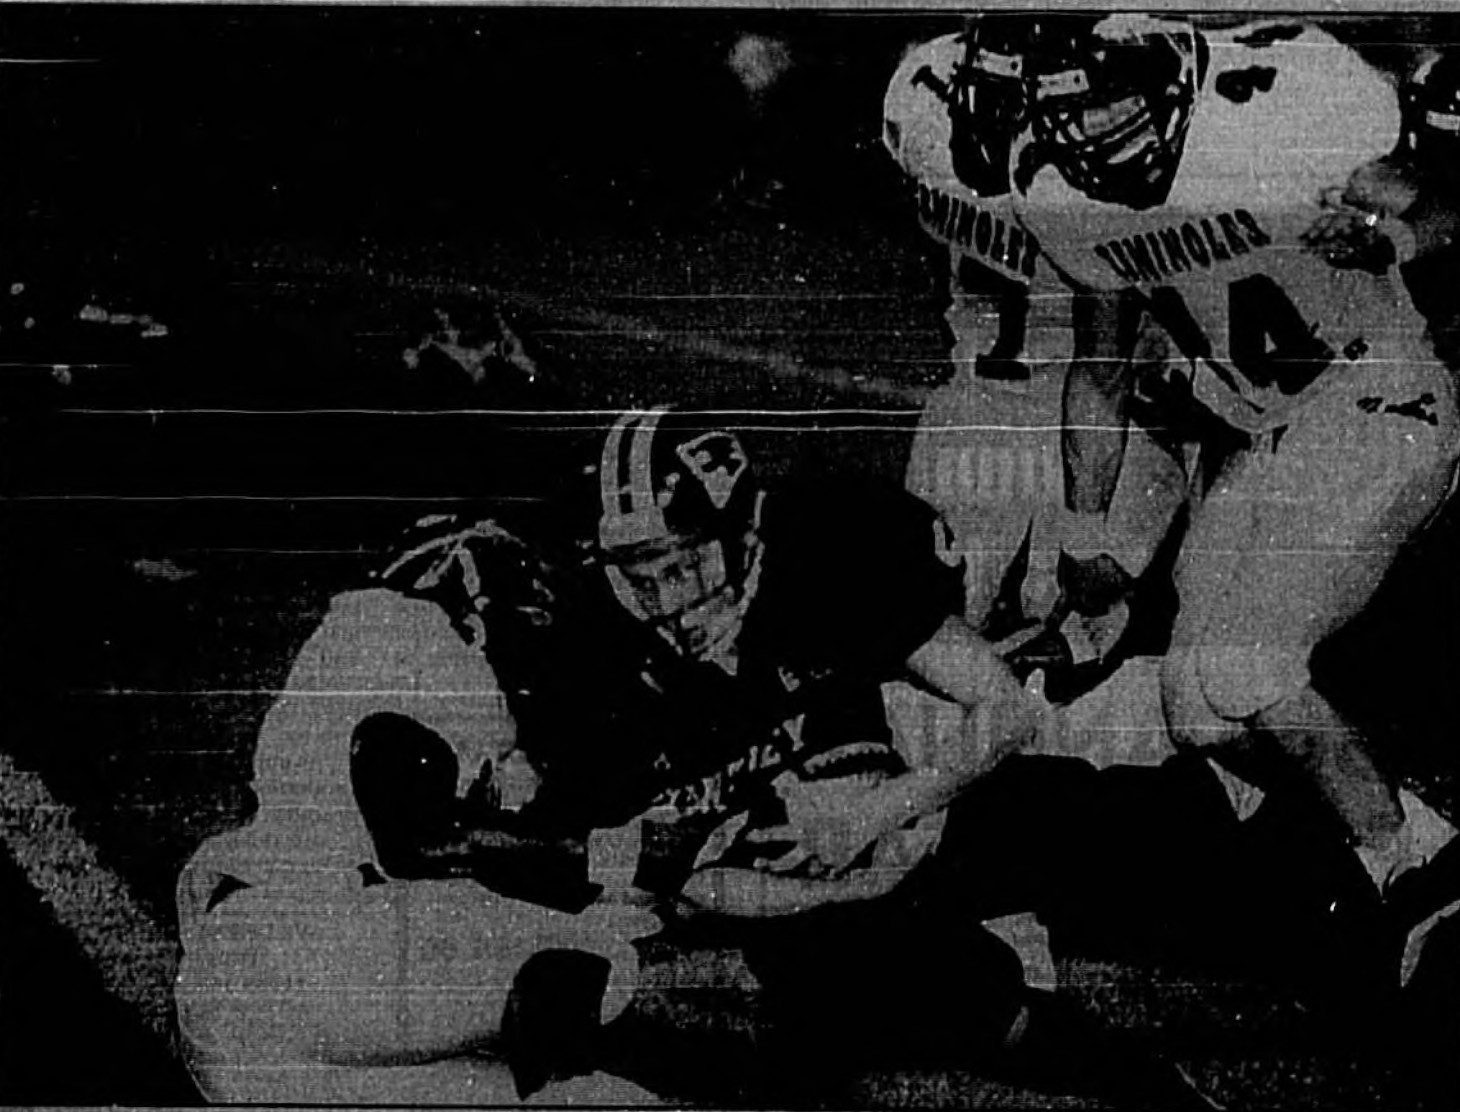

Hughes was a former OLYF player.

In related news, Florida Solar Technology, Inc. in Sanford has donated a solar pool heating system worth more than $4,400 to the silent auction.

In Oviedo, individuals or companies interested in making a donation for the auction should contact Debbie Lorenzoli at 407-365-1956 or 407-771-5415. Do not contact the school.

Also, a group of concerned parents has established a trust fund at Bank of America branches throughout Central Florida to aid the young man. Anyone interested in making a donation can stop by any Bank of America and donate. Checks should be made out to the Sammy Hughes Fund.

Time to get some answers

District matchups should shed light on future

By Dean Smith
SPORTS EDITOR

SANFORD - Can Seminole and Lake Mary shake off tough road losses?

Will Oviedo establish itself as Central Florida's best?

Can Lake Mary and Winter Springs turn the momentum gained from upset wins into a run for district crowns?

Can Lyman or Lake Howell turn around tough starts and have successful seasons?

These are some of the questions that should be answered this Friday night as the high school football season reaches week No. 4.

Both Seminole (2-1) and Mainland (1-1) will be looking to bounce back from their first losses of the season when they meet in a crucial Class 5A-District 4 contest at Thomas E. Whigham Stadium.

The Fighting Seminoles suffered a 40-39 last-second loss to Lake Brantley in just an amazing game and their defense will be under the gun again when they host the quick No. 4 ranked Buccaneers, who lost to Class 6A State-ranked Lake City-Columbia 16-3 at Disney last week.

Lake Mary saw its record fall to 1-2 as Winter Springs rallied to pull off the upset and now must take on an unbeaten and talented Oviedo (3-0) squad in a monster Class 5A-District 2 game at Don T. Reynolds Stadium.

Despite the losing record, the Rams are 1-0 in the district and are the defending champions, while the Lions will be trying to keep a streak alive that has seen them lose only once, in the state playoff quarterfinals, since losing on a last-second field goal to Lake Mary last year.

Winter Springs (1-1) will be looking to remain undefeated in the newly dedicated A.W. Epps Stadium when it welcomes defending 5A-District 4 champion Spruce Creek to town.

The Bears have steadily progressed since moving up to Class 5A and should have gained a lot of confidence with win over Lake Mary.

This game will also show if the Hawks (3-0) are as good as last year and if they will again fight Seminole and Mainland for district honors.

Lake Brantley (2-1) has quickly showed that the Patriots don't rebuild, they reload.

They have impressive victories. See Football, Page 2B

Last Friday was a coming-out party of sorts for the Winter Springs football team (top) and Lake Brantley quarterback Taylor Ramsaur (with ball, bottom photo). The Bears pulled off one of the biggest upsets in SAC football history with a last-minute win over Lake Mary and Ramsaur had an excellent all-around game as he guided the Patriots to a 40-39 last-second victory over powerful Seminole.

SAC boys teams headed for a first-half shootout

From Staff Reports

LONGWOOD - Things should be terribly interesting next Wednesday at the AMF Bowling Center-Longwood.

After action Wednesday afternoon at the Longwood house, four teams were within five points of each other heading into the final week of the first half of the Seminole Athletic Conference boys' schedule.

The Lake Brantley Patriots, who defeated Lyman 11-7 Wednesday, sit atop the SAC race with a 49-41 mark. Lake Howell, which had a bye Wednesday, dropped into second place at 45-27. A point behind to a tie for third place are Seminole and Oviedo (both 44-28).

Seminole knocked off Lake Mary 13-5 while Oviedo suffered its first defeat of the season, an 8-10 setback at the hands of sixth-place Winter Springs.

Following the top quartet are Lyman (now 33-57), Winter Springs (28-44), and Lake Mary (27-45).

On Monday, Lake Brantley will have a bye, forcing the Patriots to sit and watch as Lake Howell bowls Lyman. Seminole faces Winter Springs, and Oviedo tangles with Lake Mary at the AMF Bowling Center-Casselberry.

Then, next Wednesday, the SAC returns to Longwood when Lake Brantley squares off with Lake Howell and Seminole takes on Oviedo while Lake Mary battles Winter Springs. Lyman will have the bye on the final night of the first half.

The circumstances are considerably different in See Bowling, Page 2B

We're Changing
But, we're still the best source for local news and advertising

Effective Oct. 1, 2000, The Seminole Herald will change its publication schedule to twice per week. This was not an easy decision, but one that assures northern Seminole County will keep a quality community newspaper.

All of us at The Herald and our parent company, Republic Newspapers Inc., have worked very hard over the last three years to try to maintain the five-day a week publication schedule. We have brought in or developed top-notch people in the newsroom, advertising, circulation and production departments. We have invested in new computers, systems and equipment for new circulation and rejuvenated the news pages, throughout Seminole County.

When Republic bought The Herald, its intention was to turn around years of declining circulation and advertising revenues and give Sanford and Seminole County the newspaper it deserved. We have succeeded in our efforts to increase circulation, increase revenues and improve the quality and content of the newspaper. While we were able to generate more revenue, we also increased costs out of proportion to the revenue we were able to generate.

Our intention is to continue to give you the best possible LOCAL newspaper we can. You will still receive a mid-week Herald on Wednesdays and the weekend paper on Saturdays. They will be delivered in your mailbox by the U.S. Postal Service. We hope to give you even better LOCAL news in these two papers than you are now getting in five. We will continue to report on local sports, city government, county commission, schools, police, fire, and every other thing that you can't get from the big papers in the rest of the county. We will find new issues and pages that will give you even more local news and information than you are getting now.

We will extend all of our subscription, circulation and advertising rates on the newspapers that they have paid for based on a pro-rated formula. Our readers will continue to have an excellent local newspaper like no other source that will focus on the North Seminole County community like no other newspaper — we are trying a community newspaper.

We ask for your input and support. You can reach me at (407) 322-2611 or at news@seminoleherald.com if you wish to talk to me about this or any other matter.

Zookeeper for a day

Mary Lumpas gives a bunny a check-up at the Central Florida Zoo. Mary, who is diagnosed with Wilms' Tumor, a type of cancer that affects the kidney, was made a zookeeper for a day as part of the Make-A-Wish Foundation. In addition to checking the bunny, Mary took care of an elephant that hadn't been eating, and made sure the chickens were earning their keep.

Friends throw cancer patient a party to cover up her fears

DEAR ABBY: I experienced such an incredible act of kindness and generosity from my co-workers that I feel compelled to share it.

I was diagnosed with stage three breast cancer just seven months after the death of my lovely, sweet mother from the same disease.

Besides being terrified of the disease, I was terrified of the side effects of chemotherapy, especially the hair loss. I work in a busy cancer center at a large hospital, and I have a lot of patient contact. I have observed firsthand the psychological effects suffered by both men and women.

Abby, two wonderful co-workers came up with an idea to help me. One day at work, they surprised me with a "hat and scarf party." My co-workers and people I barely knew gave me the most beautiful accessories. They bought me different colors and patterns of scarves and hats, things I would never have spent money on for myself. I was overwhelmed by their generosity.

When you are first told the diagnosis, shock overtakes you. After the chemo starts, shopping is difficult because the therapy zaps your energy. My hair loss was very traumatic, but because of my co-workers, I already had a wide selection of hats and scarves at my disposal. I will be eternally grateful.

I hope sharing this story will inspire others to do the same for a family member, friend or co-worker who has cancer. There is so much cancer that I'm sure almost everyone who must undergo chemotherapy. If you want to help but don't know what to do, cook a meal, help with shopping, offer to do laundry or clean the bathroom, or host a hat/scarf party. I guarantee your kindness will be appreciated and boost the morale of the cancer patient.

Abby, I feel very blessed to work with such caring people, so I would like to thank them through your column. Thank you, friends!

DEAR MICHELLE: Bless you, and good luck with your therapy. You are in my prayers, and I hope that your treatment will result in full recovery.

DEAR ABBY: My stepson is 18 and living with my husband and me. He is a high school dropout who has been arrested for criminal mischief and theft. He is now out on bail, running up extremely high phone bills, calling girls he meets on the Internet.

After several attempts to get my husband to demonstrate tough love, and being met with deaf ears, I finally took it upon myself to cut off our long-distance service to the house. I provided my husband with a 200-minute phone card so he can still call his daughter in Arizona. He is furious with me for doing this "without consulting him," and says I am a control freak. I simply wanted to send a message to his son. Was I wrong in doing this?

HAD IT IN TEXAS

DEAR HAD IT: If you are the sole support of the household, then you were within your rights. However, if you both work and share the bills or he brings home the paycheck, you have to discuss your plan with him first.

Perhaps your husband feels guilty for the way his son has turned out, and that's the reason he has failed to take a firm stand with him. This young man is putting your marriage in danger. You and your husband would be doing yourselves a big favor to get marriage counseling — and family counseling — until his "boy" is either straightened out or is off to the pokey.

No saints on election day

As a rule, I don't give opinions to strangers calling me at home. Monday night, I broke my own rule.

Whom do you favor — Daryl McLain or Bob West?

"Who are you?" I asked.

"I'm taking a poll," the caller said. "You don't have to answer."

"In that case, I will."

My choice revealed, I heard a click at the other end of the line. I don't think the poll taker cared for my choice.

McLain vs. West has become one of the more capricious races in county commission history.

Russ White

Teacher

Continued from Page 1A when she was in the fifth grade and the new school building opened its doors to students.

"We had to brown bag it because there was no lunchroom, and there were no blackboards," she said. "They were still building the roof over our heads."

A native of Sanford, Swann left the city to attend Tift University in Georgia, where she earned her teaching degree. While earning her diploma, she would student teach in Georgia during the school year and in Seminole County during the summers.

Following the completion of her junior year, Pine Crest Elementary School Principal Herold Heckenbach asked Swann to teach at his school contingent on her successful completion of her senior year. She agreed, and the deal was sealed through a handshake.

Eslinger

At the invitation of U.S. Representative Bill McCollum, who chairs the Subcommittee, Eslinger will talk today about the newly created Seminole County Mental Health and Substance Task Force, the county's Crisis Intervention Team, in-jail mental health services, post-bookings diversion pilot and medical security plan.

"I would ask this subcommittee to give consideration to how federal government can assess the magnitude of this problem from a national perspective and what assistance can be given to state and local jurisdictions," Eslinger said today.

"Mentally disturbed offenders are a community problem and we are committed to Their Republican Party Primary, District 5 run-off will be conducted on Oct. 3.

Was I ever surprised at the reactions I received taking my own random McLain-West survey:

- "I saw Jerry West play for the Lakers."
- "Didn't Daryl McLain sing, 'American Pie?'"
- "That was some kind of kiss, heh!"
- "Which one can't pronounce, subliminal?"
- "Is it McCain or McLain?"
- "Tell that guy West, I like his signs."
- "Both those guys are major-league —holes."

On it went. Finally, Don Nicholas made some sense of the situation. Mr. Nicholas helped make the run-off necessary. His own run took enough votes away from McLain and West that neither won the Primary.

Publicly, Mr. Nicholas supports neither opponent.

Privately, he supports McLain's policies but said the man isn't the saint the press is making him out to be.

"Well, who is?" I asked while on the subject of sainthood.

To Fred Streetman's knowledge, no saint has ever served on the board of county commissioners.

"Some were close, some not so close," said former commissioner Streetman. "We should be grateful for having good, decent people on the board."

Dwight Eisenhower said he believed politics to be a profession, serious and complicated but in its true sense, a noble one.

That shouldn't be too much to ask of either Mr. McLain or Mr. West. You guys don't need to be saints but please be noble. Gentlemen, behave.

Russ White's column appears Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday in the Seminole Herald.

"He told me he didn't have a contract for me to sign but the handshake was legal and binding," Swann said.

During her senior year, Swann was asked to remain in Georgia to teach. She declined the offer, informing them of her already negotiated deal.

"They asked me if I signed a contract," she said. "I told them I had a legal and binding handshake. They almost didn't believe it. Not many people would trust a handshake."

So, Swann turned down a job that offered $10,000 a year job for the position at Pine Crest Elementary that offered $5,000 annually.

It's a decision she doesn't regret. Her only disappointment was the grade level she was assigned to teach.

"I loved the fourth grade," she said. "But, I got the third grade, and I stayed in the third grade for 13 years."

After teaching several other grade levels, Swann finally made it to the fourth grade. During her last four years of teaching, she taught the STAR program at Pine Crest.

Grade levels were not the only changes in Swann's career. During her three decades in teaching, she saw the integration of schools, changes in education techniques and styles and the closing of the Sanford navel.

"They said when the Navy base left, Sanford would dry up," she said. "There were changes, but Sanford's still here."

As for the future, Swann said she may substitute in the Seminole County School System. But, it may be a few months before she returns to the classroom.

"I'm still not used to retirement yet," she said. "It takes a while to be retired."

provocatively address those problems," he said.

"What's alarming is the fact more than 16 percent of our nation's local jail inmates are mentally ill," Eslinger said. It ranks Eslinger Singletary received no help although his family requested treatment for a number of years.

Gregory's widow, Linda Gregory and Singletary's sister, Alice Petree are members of the Seminole County Mental Health Task Force. Eslinger said the group meets each month to discuss system coordination and to make legislative proposals.

"We have become increasingly more aware of what must be done in mental health services," Eslinger said. "Unfortunately, most agencies and communities lack the resources, training and services necessary."

"Failure to appropriately treat the mentally ill is not only morally wrong but it is a legitimate national public safety concern," Eslinger said.

Eslinger gained approval from the county commission to allocate inmate phone revenues to contract mental health services at the jail. Prisoners being booked will be charged for mental health screenings. "We want to know just who these people are who are coming in and out of our jails daily," Eslinger said.

The sheriff said field officers need a facility to take mentally disturbed individuals for assessment and evaluation to determine the best course of action for the individual and the community.

Servants of the People

Seminole County Commissioner Daryl McLain and Circuit Court Judge James Perry take a break from their duties during the Servants of the People Luncheon. The event, in which local elected officials and dignitaries worked as waiters and waitresses, raised money for the Rescue Outreach Mission of Sanford.

Crash

Sanford police officers David Morgenstern and Bill Crapps are in charge of the investigation.

During a press conference at the high school, Seminole County Schools public information officer Dede Schaffner said Phillip Loveland's mother, Laura, is a secretary in the guidance department at Seminole High.

Schaffner said the media center at the school is already being used as a grieving room, and counselors counselors from other schools have been brought in to meet with teachers and students.

Coleman announced the accident at about 10 a.m. A moment of silence was observed and the school's flag was lowered to half-mast.

"The tragic loss of any student touches the heart of the entire school family," Coleman said. Seminole High School has been designated the crisis and counseling support center for this tragedy. Students are encouraged to take advantage of these services, and counselors will be available as long as needed.
