

County, Hospital Staffs To Meet

Make SMH Private? Reaction Positive

By MAX ERKLETTIAN
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County officials and Seminole Memorial Hospital administrators will meet the first week in December to discuss the hospital's proposal to become a private entity to finance a $13.5 million expansion.

The meeting is due to take place shortly after the new county attorney takes office Dec. 1, according to County Administrator Roger Nelawender.

The hospital board unanimously voted Tuesday to attempt to raise funds for the expansion it says is vital to the hospital's survival by becoming a non-profit institution and selling tax exempt bonds to private investors.

Reactions to the proposal have ranged from cautious to full support.

Former County Commission Chairman Dick Williams said he would need to study the proposal and learn more about it before commenting.

Newly-elected Commission Chairman Bob French said he would direct county staff to prepare recommendations on the proposal before bringing it to the commission for review.

"It doesn't bother me if the hospital is private or public, so long as it serves the needs of the hospital patrons," said French. "If I'll need to know more."

French noted the south end of the county has operated for many years relying on private hospitals in South Seminole and north Orange counties.

'It is not unusual for a move in that direction'

However, he pointed out, "I am not blindly endorsing the proposal."

"This is a very big decision and I would like to treat it like we would a budget matter and have a preliminary meeting between the hospital staff and county, so we can get opinions and we can have a lot of information before making a decision."

Before the hospital's proposal can go into effect it must be approved by the state legislature as a special act.

State Representative Bobby Hattaway, who said Tuesday he expects to be named chairman of the Seminole County legislative delegation, wants to study the proposal.

"If they are going to have a special act, they had better sit down and explain it to me and the legislative delegation," commented Hattaway.

The delegation will hold the first of three meetings in Seminole County in early December, according to Hattaway.

Though he has not seen the hospital's proposal, Hattaway said his initial reaction is that, "this would be very favorable to the citizens of Seminole County, because people in the south end feel they have been paying taxes too long for something they don't benefit from."

Kim Boston, executive director of the Health Systems Agency of Central Florida, which has the task of planning for health care and reviewing health related projects in this area, said he is well aware of the proposal and has been working with Seminole Memorial Hospital officials.

"I have no feeling about public versus private hospitals, that is a board decision. Whatever provides the best service to meet the needs of the people in the delivery of health care and cost containment to keep down the cost to the patient, is fine with me," said Boston.

"It is not unusual for a move in that direction (away from the tax district to private) because there are some advantages in getting money for capital improvements," he added.

'I am not blindly endorsing the proposal'

As far as the expansion plans go, Boston said he feels the hospital is justified in doing the expansion all at one time rather

SHE WAS TRAPPED, BUT SHE'S OK TODAY

The driver of this car, a 26-year-old Sanford woman, is reported in satisfactory condition at Seminole Memorial Hospital this morning. Sanford fire and rescue personnel freed Janice C. Madsonado of Scott Avenue who was trapped in the car. Patrolman Robert E. Bernosky said witnesses reported the woman lost control of her 1966 Plymouth when a right front tire blew out. The car hit a concrete utility pole at Stenstrom Boulevard and South Sanford Avenue. The accident occurred at 12:45 p.m. Monday.

Kaiser: If Seminole Goes Into Ambulance Business, Get Best

If Seminole County goes into the ambulance service business, the emphasis should be on sophisticated equipment with highly trained personnel who can handle any medical emergency.

At least this is the recommendation of Gary Kaiser, the county's public safety director.

Kaiser has recommended that the county commission consider purchasing three or four ambulances equipped in much the same fashion as the vehicles seen in the "Emergency" television program.

Para-medics, qualified by the state after receiving 600 hours medical training over a four to six month period, would staff the ambulances containing sophisticated equipment ranging from different types of intravenous materials, different types of drugs to handle cardiac problems, diabetes and other illnesses and heart defibrillators, monitors, "pretty technical stuff" said Kaiser. The ambulances would also contain standard first aid supplies.

In addition, the vehicles would be in communication with a hospital to send in medical prescriptions on patients for a doctor's examination to prescribe appropriate treatment.

But the cost for ambulances of this type with advanced life support (ALS) is high and the difficulties of staffing with para-medics are involved. Fred Lewis, of the state's Emergency Medical Service Council, told county commissioners

Feather Heads School Board

By LEONARD KRANSIDORF
Herald Staff Writer

The 1978-1979 version of the Seminole County School Board Tuesday unanimously selected a new chairman, vice chairman and voted to retain the same meeting times and renewed a contract with its attorney.

In addition to selecting Robert Feather as chairman and Allan Keith as vice-chairman, the board voted to continue meeting on the second and fourth Wednesday of the month at 7:30 p.m.

The board also unanimously voted to retain Douglas Stanstrom as board attorney. Stanstrom is paid $700 a month or $8,000 a year which covers his attendance at meetings and routine matters such as court cases and grievances against the school board.

Feather, in his second term on the board, has served two previous times as chairman and succeeded Pat Tolson.

"I believe it is a tremendous honor to serve as chairman," commended Feather. "We are one of the top three school systems in the state, but I also know we have a long way to go to get to the top."

Feather also noted many staff members come to meetings and it is not fair for them to have to stay late and have to be into work in the morning.

He said he will succeed E. C. Harper Jr. who was defeated in his re-election bid by William Krul.

Feather had initially wanted the board to agree to end meetings at 10 p.m. but after some discussion the new chairman agreed to handle each meeting on an individual basis and if needed adjourn at 10 p.m. and meet the following week.

Feather said many times the meetings drag on and "when I get to 10 or 11 at night I really don't think the members can deal with such issues effectively and in the best interests of the school children."

Layor said if meetings were held every week it would be more of a burden on the staff to get out information on a weekly basis.

The board met Tuesday this week to have an organizational meeting following an election as required by state law.

BOB FRENCH SANDRA GLENN

A Lift

The elevator door opened.

Bob French, newly elected Seminole County Commission chairman, entered.

So did Sandra Glenn, newly elected Seminole County commissioner.

The elevator door closed.

When the machine got to the second floor, the doors started to open. But they "jammed about two inches apart," said French.

They they stopped completely.

The chairman and the commissioner called for help and pushed the buzzer. After several minutes rescuers arrived.

The legislators' destination had been the third-floor commission chambers.

Commissioner Glenn continued on the elevator to that floor.

Chairman French decided not to press his luck first day on the job as boss.

He walked that extra flight.

"I can tell you all the chairman holds up well under pressure," reported Commissioner Glenn.

Picks Committees

Give Us A Chance, Pleads State Senate President

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Senate President Phil Lewis says his administration will be fair and non-political, even though he picked a couple of "old guard" north Florida power brokers for key jobs.

"I would hope the opinion makers give this group a chance to work. It can work. It will work. The way things used to be, hopefully, is not the way they're going to be now."

In appointing his committee chairmen Tuesday, Lewis struck a delicate balance between the unlikely coalition which brought him to power — dissidents nicknamed the Doghouse Democrats because they stayed out of favor and power and the north Florida clique which has run the Senate for years.

Demogay Barron of Panama City was named Rules Committee chairman and W.D. Childers of Pensacola put in charge of the Commerce Committee.

A Doghouse Democrat leader, Ocala Sen. Kenneth "Buddy" MacKay, was made Education Committee chairman and put on two Ways and Means subcommittees, including the schools panel. Another dissident, Harry Johnston, also got major assignments and appeared likely to emerge as Lewis' chief assistant.

Johnston was given chairmanships of the Health and Rehabilitative Services Committee and a Ways and Means subcommittee and named vice chairman of the Rules Committee. Johnston and Lewis are each from West Palm Beach and are close friends as well as neighbors.

"I believe Sen. Lewis has an understanding with Sen. Barron on how the Rules Committee will operate and if he does, then it's not a compromise," MacKay said. "With that exception, I feel like the Doghouse group has been treated very fairly."

The daily calendar won't be established by Barron single-handedly, Lewis said. The job will be done by a committee — Barron, Johnston, Republican Leader John Ware of Ft. Stewart, and two other Rules Committee members serving on a rotating basis.

Children was put back in charge of the Commerce Committee, a panel he headed until shortly after the Rules Committee by Senate President Lew Brantley last year. Children has been blasted as being too special interest and big business oriented, Lewis admitted, but there is some new membership, including Johnston, which will take a different approach.

Lewis was criticized by Equal Rights Amendment supporters who said the Rules Committee is stacked 184 against the ERA. Any constitutional amendment must go to Rules before hitting the floor.

"That wasn't in my mind at all," he says. And, some ERA opponents on the committee probably would vote to send it to the floor, figuring the full Senate should have a chance to decide the issue.

Incoming House Speaker Hyatt Brown appointed his chairmen throughout the summer. Lewis made only one appointment — Jack Gordon of Miami Beach as head of the Ways and Means Committee, which handles the budget and taxes. The other selections remained a carefully guarded secret until announced Tuesday.

Gordon's subcommittee chairmen are: Children over roads and natural resources; Curtis Peterson of Lakeland, education; John Trask, Fort Meade, retained as Agriculture chairman; Ed Dunn, Daytona Beach, Governmental Operations; Pat Thomas, Jacksonville, retained as Judiciary-Civil chairman; Pat Thomas, Quincy, Economic, Community, Consumer Affairs; Guy Spicco, Tampa, Judiciary-Criminal; Vogt, Natural Resources; and Vernon Holloway, Miami, Transportation.

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Florida's new legislative leaders, House Speaker Hyatt Brown and Senate President Phil Lewis, hope to break through ground this spring by getting major legislative proposals early in the session.

Rep. on their list in the reports of the state's workmen's compensation law. A joint legislative committee and new House Committee on Insurance are working on the issue and the goal is to get a bill on the floor of both houses the first week of the session.

Brown, meeting with reporters Tuesday following his installation as the 69th House speaker, said he hopes to carry this goal one step further and get much of the major legislation in education, water, bond financing and transportation out of the way as early as possible.

He acknowledged his goal is a departure from the traditional way the Legislature operates — waiting until the final days to pass key bills. "If we can pass five major issues in April it would be a major accomplishment," he said.

The new speaker also confirmed he has spoken with Gov. Foy Kohler about the possibility of a special legislative session concerning ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment.

Brown indicated he'd welcome such a call since ERA is a "burning issue" and if it is considered now it won't take up the Legislature's time during the regular session in April. Ashby, through his office, issued a "no comment" two weeks ago. The governor said he would not call a special session unless it was requested by those who demand accountability from lawmakers — especially in the area of taxes.

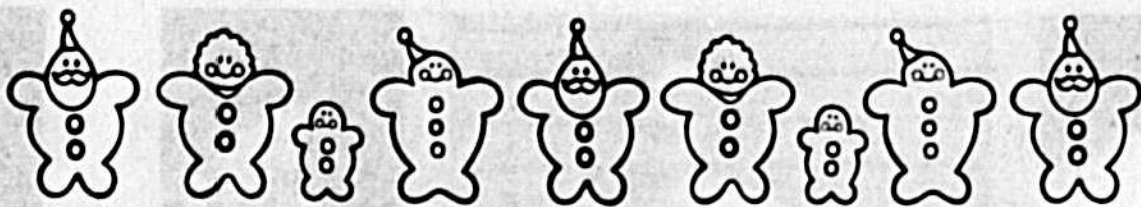

"I gather from the mood of the people here, especially those who are concerned with government spending — to do it responsibly — and to cut taxes," Lewis told the 69 members.

"A new era of trust, responsibility and accountability in this year's spotlight," Brown said in his remarks to 120 House members.

Lake Brantley Makes Rotary Semis; Oviedo Dumped

LIONS' TROY KESSINGER UP FOR TWO

Round No. 2 Set For Lyman Gym

Lake Brantley High School's basketball team threw its hat into the Rotary Bowl semifinal ring Tuesday night with a 66-36 victory over Leesburg, advancing to tonight's second round matchup against Frankfort, Ky. at 7 o'clock.

Oviedo was eliminated by Frankfort, 65-37.

Lake Howell and Lyman, Monday night victors, meet in the other game tonight starting at 8:30.

There will be no games Thursday, but the teams come back Friday with three consolation bracket games prior to the 8:30 p.m. championship contest. Friday action starts at 1:30 with Seminole meeting Leesburg, Bishop Moore takes on Oviedo at 3, and tonight's losers vie at 7 p.m. Friday to

ROTARY ACTION: BASKETBALL OR TAG TEAM WRESTLING?

Raiders 99-93 Winner

Seminole Community College isn't doing poorly for a team that hasn't hit stride yet.

The Raiders posted their third straight victory Tuesday night, clobbering defending state champion Florida College of Tampa, 99-93.

"I'm pleased. It was a big win," said SCC coach Joe Sterling, "but still, we didn't play well in all aspects."

Seminole had a 14-point lead with 18 minutes left to play, a position Sterling prefers to be. He generally favors a ball-control tactic, forcing the opponent into making mistakes.

But this night it was Seminole who made the mistakes at that point.

"Turnovers," sighed Sterling. "We made too many of them."

One of the brighter aspects of the Raider campaign thus far is the assist pace set by freshman guard Ron Johnson. The 6-footer from Detroit is averaging 10 per game. He was guilty of 11 turnovers, however, so Tuesday night would not be considered a strong game for him. He had 13 points.

Reboundingwise, it was Rogers with 11 and Smith with 10 leading the way for SCC.

Sophomores Curtis Smith had his best game of the campaign with a 23-point effort.

He had plenty of help as Richard Crooks added 17 and Jamie Rogers came up with 18 points. Mike Roberts had 14 points and Frankie Carter 11 for the Raiders.

Seminole plays again Friday and Saturday night in Cocoa in the Brevard Thanksgiving Tournament.

Oklahoma State Fires Coach

STILLWATER, Okla. (UPI) — Oklahoma State head football coach Jim Stanley, whose worst season under his direction was relieved of his coaching duties Tuesday.

The announcement was made by University President L. L. Rogers, who said Stanley will be reassigned at the university and a nationwide search for a replacement will begin immediately.

Rose To Sift Through Offers

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Pete Rose comes home from Japan today to start sifting through millions of dollars worth of offers from teams that want his services.

A free agent, Rose is being wooed by a dozen teams, but Reds reportedly are preparing a two-year, $12 million offer in a last-ditch effort to keep Rose in his hometown. However, Rose says early offers from some other teams have been even higher.

Four Collegians Tops In Voting

HOUSTON (UPI) — Penn State defensive tackle Matt Miller and Bruce Clark and Notre Dame players Dave Huffman and Bob Golc were four of 18 collegians named Tuesday as the top vote-getters in balloting for the Lombardi Award.

Votes were still being accepted through Friday from the 97 sportswriters, sportscasters and coaches who select the award, which annually goes to a college lineman. Four finalists will be honored in January at a $100-a-plate dinner.

Truck's 51 Keys Nets Demolition

By United Press International

The scary thing about Truck Robinson is that his best game is probably still ahead of him.

"Everything was in order — my timing, everything," Robinson said Tuesday night after scoring a career-high 51 points in leading the New Orleans Jazz to a 100-118 demolition of the New Jersey Nets.

Robinson hit 20-of-36 field goal attempts, a 77 percent clip, and at one point in the game made 12 straight shots from the floor and 11 free throws in a row.

The lopsided victory was particularly welcome since the Jazz had lost their previous five games, all on the road.

"We were able to do a lot of things we couldn't do on the road trip," Robinson said. "We played good defense besides good offense. We developed well from each spot on the court and we got good play from our reserves, something we've not been able to do."

A frustrated Coach Kevin Loughery admitted it was a night Robinson was not to be handed.

"We tried three or four different players guarding Robinson, but he just had a great night," he said.

The defense kept the Nets' Bernard King to a mere 14 points — seven below his 23.5 points per game average.

In other games, the New York Knicks ripped Detroit, 96-79; Indiana beat San Antonio, 100-103; Golden State surprised Philadelphia, 115-105; Phoenix topped Cleveland, 110-100; Milwaukee hammered Portland, 125-93; and Atlanta defeated San Diego, 115-107.

Knicks' M. Pistone 79; Spencer Haywood scored a game-high 27 points and keyed a third-quarter surge when New York rolled to its fifth straight victory under returning Coach Pat Riley, Cavaliers 100; Pacers 108, Spurs 103; James Edwards scored 26 points and grabbed 15 rebounds as Indiana handed San Antonio its fourth straight loss; Warriors 115, Stars 106; John Lucas scored 35 points and Phil Smith added 23 as Golden State ripped Atlantic Division-leading Philadelphia, Suns 118, Cavaliers 100; Alvan Adams scored 20 of his season-high 22 points in the second half and Paul Westphal made five foul shots in the last two minutes to spark Phoenix to its fourth victory in the last five games and hand Cleveland its eighth straight loss; Bucks 123, Trail Blazers 92; Marques Johnson scored 24 points and Milwaukee snapped a four-game losing streak with its victory over the Trail Blazers; Hawks 113, Clippers 107; Dan Roundfield scored a career-high 38 points and John Drew added 25 when Atlanta broke San Diego's three-game winning streak.

Injured Steelers
PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Steelers Tuesday said four injured players probably will return for Monday night's game against the San Francisco 49ers.

The four were defensive ends L.C. Greenwood and Dwight White, offensive tackle Larry Brown and linebacker Loren Brown. Browns has missed seven games with an ankle sprain and the others missed last Sunday's Cincinnati game with knee injuries.

John Joins Yankees' Fold
NEW YORK (UPI) — Continuing the practice of building on an already solid foundation, the New York Yankees today signed free-agent pitcher Tommy John, the man with the bienic arm.

The world champion Yankees announced the signing at an 11 a.m. press conference.

John, a 35-year-old lefthander for the Los Angeles Dodgers and a veteran of 15 major-league seasons, agreed to a multi-year contract with provisions for deferred payments.

He now joins Luis Tiant — who was signed by New York from Boston only nine days ago — to perhaps give the Yankees the best pitching staff in baseball.

"We definitely have to do something about our lefthanded pitching," Yankees President Al Rosen said last week.

Now it is done. After two straight champion bids, a third looks on the horizon.

In his career, John has posted a 171-123 record, 47 of the victories coming after Dr. Frank

For months, John's arm was swollen. He had to be fed and clothed by his wife while he lay flat, slow to recover, was limited in a checked hall of hospitals. He was offered little hope of ever pitching again by doctors, but John was determined to make one more go of it.

Since the 1975 operation, the left-hander has won 10, 20 and 17 games in three seasons and led the Dodgers to National League championships in each of the past two seasons.

The signing of John by the Yankees comes as a disappointment to the Cincinnati Reds, who until Monday thought they had a virtual lock on his services. John's lawyer had met with Reds' President Dick Wiegman for several hours on the West Coast, but obviously received a better offer from New York.

Whitaker Named A.L.'s Rookie

NEW YORK (UPI) — Lou Whitaker, second baseman in the stunning double-play combination sponsored by the Detroit Tigers' productive farm system, is the landline winner of the American League's 1978 Rookie of the Year Award.

Whitaker, who with shortstop Alan Trammell gave the Tigers considerable strength up the middle, polled 21 first-place ballots from the 28 voting members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America Second baseman Paul Molitor of the Milwaukee Brewers was a distant second with three.

Two members from each A.L. city voted with each vote counting one point.

Cincinnati's third baseman Carney Lansford was third with two votes, and Trammell and pitcher Rich Gale of Kansas City was each named one.

Whitaker, who was 20 years old when he played his first game for the Tigers, batted .265 with 18 hits and 10 RBIs. He also turned 90 double plays.

A native of Brooklyn, N.Y., who stands 5-foot-11 and weighs 160 pounds, Whitaker is the third Detroit player ever to win the award. Harvey Kuhn won it in 1963 and Mark "The Bird" Fidrych took it in 1976.

Whitaker had gone to bed Tuesday night and although he knew he might be receiving a telephone call, said he could barely believe the news when his family awakened him.

"I thought I was still dreaming when my brother told me," he said. "Then someone else told me, and I knew it was true. I'm very proud of it."

Whitaker said he set no statistical goals for himself in his rookie year, but that the award itself was on the back of his mind.

"That's the award for a rookie to win," he said. "I was trying to do my best and it turned out everything went good for me."

Molitor, who tallied off to .273 after a fast start, turned 73 double plays and was a valued member of a team that hovered near the top of the A.L. East much of the year. He received the Sporting News rookie award, which is voted by the players.

"I thought Lou might get it. He's a fine player, but my season and I'm happy to win the one voted by the players. I'm surprised there was such a margin. That's the way it turned out."

Lansford finished at .264 and Trammell at .264. Gale, a big right-hander, compiled a record of 16-4 after a 5-0 start.

Rice Hoping For No Trade

GREENVILLE, S.C. (UPI) — Jim Rice, the American League's most valuable player, says he hopes the Boston Red Sox have no plans to trade him because he loves playing on the team.

"I have one year left on my contract, and I've got to go ahead and play at least one year unless they trade me. And I hope they never will," Rice, who has one year left in his contract, said. Rice's agent and the Red Sox are negotiating on a long-term contract to keep the slugger in Boston for the rest of his career.

Toronto Halts Flames By 4-3

By United Press International
Toronto Coach Roger Neilson says his team accomplished a feat last night no other team will manage for the rest of the NHL season, when they headed the Atlanta Flames their second straight loss at home.

"We caught them at a good time," said Neilson after the Maple Leafs' 4-3 victory. "They won't lose two in a row at home all year."

Toronto jumped to a 3-0 lead in the first period with Jerry Butler, who scored two goals in the contest, getting the first goal unassisted, his third goal of the season.

Walt McKechnie gave the Leafs a two-goal margin at the 17:12 mark of the first period and Butler came back with his second goal 35 seconds later.

"I got a good deflection. Ian (Turnbull) saw me there and eased up on his shot. I just stuck my stick on it," said Butler. "It feels good to win."

Tom Lysiak scored on a power play in the closing seconds of the first period to keep the Flames from being shut out.

Atlanta's Eric Vail and Guy
Chouinard tied the score at 3-3 in the second period, but Toronto's Dave Williams scored at 5:00 of the third period for victory.

"The third period was anybody's and we got the lead. It could have been the other way," said Neilson.

Atlanta Coach Fred
Craghead said the Flames tried to play catch-up and failed.
"We can't fall behind consistently

"A woman should always give her husband something attractive to walk into the house to," says burlesque dancer Ann Corio. And if the woman follows Ms. Corio's instructions, her husband might never again leave the house — or even turn on the Monday night football game.

Attention Football Widows: Wow Him With Your Skin - Not Pigskin

NEW YORK (NEA)—There may be a way around Monday night football. First, make him watch TV in the bedroom. Now, get into a two-fro hostess gown with a zipper in front. And now get out of it, like Ann Corio, our strategist, who brought more tease than strip to burlesque years ago when she joined the chorus at 16, and left Hartford and a loving, strict, poor Italian Catholic family who had been sending her to the nuns to learn. (She did learn, although the nuns couldn't rap the piano into her fingers, hard as they tried, and poppa, a contractor with a passion for opera, finally bought an electric piano to sing along with, she recalls.) But back to the Cowboys and the Broncos. To guarantee his attention, maybe you should wait for a commercial. Then, stay on the stereo and something appealing. Ms. Corio likes semi-classical music herself, so that eliminates "Shrimp Boats Are A-Coming." "Now you move gracefully across the room towards the closet," she says, working your hostess zipper up and down, hiding behind the furniture and enticing him with a flourish of leg, a round of shoulder. (Get the laundry off the wing chair beforehand.) "When you reach the closet," she says, "peek over your shoulder at him, keep your back turned and slowly take off the hostess gown. Then hang it up. You never drop anything on the floor. That's untidy and not a bit graceful." You don't do bumps and grinds, either. And, even though he knows your shape like the turnoff for home, tonight you're going to keep it coyly under wraps. Mostly. "Under the gown you should be wearing some frilly, pretty lingerie or, if you want some fun, position with tassels," she says. If you can get your pectoral muscles going this way, then that and counter-clockwise, the tassels will start twirling and all hell will break loose. Ah, well, you get the picture.

(Continued From Page 18) middle sized tray for the oven. Spread a spoonful of butter on it. The mixture of nuts and raisins is spread upon the toasty dough. The rest of the toasty is spread upon the nuts. A spoonful of butter is sprinkled on the top. The tray is placed in an oven of moderate heat for about 10 min. A couple of drops of water is added to the sugar. The mixture is boiled. Add a few drops of citron juice and vanilla. When the tray is taken out of the oven, the syrup is sprinkled over the toasty.

KOHARI (Inexpensive and rich in protein) 1 cup brown lentils, with the cover unbroken 1 cup rice 1 big onion 2 tbsp. oil Cut onion into tiny bits which are roasted in oil and then kept apart. A spoonful of oil is put in a pot with a cup of water, and a little salt. Place mixture over fire until it boils. Lower fire for about 10 min., until the rice is tender. The lentils are boiled in water until tender. One layer of rice is placed on a flat plate, then another layer of lentils, then a layer of roasted onions is placed on top.

NARUTO MAKI (Serving) 2 eggs, med. size 1/4 cup cooked rice 2 tsp. rice vinegar 1/4 tsp. sugar Dash of salt 6 or 7 med. size shrimp or 4 or 5 anchovy 18 inches of spinach Cucumber Carrut Cook rice according to directions (however, cook only with water). Mix vinegar, sugar and salt well. Mix this liquid with 1/4 cup of oil and stir thoroughly and quickly. Keep it warm. Boil shrimp in salted water. Skin and drain them. (Can use anchovy in place). Make a strip of carrot about the size of 1/4x4 1/2 in. and cook in the slightly salted water till tender. Three spinach leaves into salted water, boiling, turn over and remove, cooking with hand flat immediately to preserve fresh green color. Drain on paper towel. Make strip of cucumber same size of carrot, salt lightly. Remove excess water with paper towel. Boil eggs like small hard. Add dash of salt, mix well. Grapes 9x2 in. frying pan with vegetable oil, lightly. Pour egg into hot pan. When egg cooks in done, remove it to rest surface slightly done, very thin cotton cloth is spread on top of the egg. Flatten rice on the egg cups evenly, leaving 1/4 in. of egg at far end. Place shrimp, spinach, cucumber and carrot in a row, each a straight line but all together one inch from closed end. Roll smooth, cotton cloth, craps and rice from one end to the far end lightly, keeping the inside material in contact with each other. As you roll, remove smooth and cloth from closed end. So they will not roll inside when it cools, slice 1/4 in. length and serve. Can be served with consommé soup and spinach salad. Or use as side dish.

SWEET POTATO WITH MARSHMALLOWS 3 med. sweet potatoes 25 large marshmallows Dash of salt Peel skin of sweet potatoes. Boil in water. Mash in bowl, add 1/2 in. amount butter, salt and pepper. Cook turkey pieces with egg. Grease fry pan heavily with vegetable oil. Fry sweet potatoes in turkey fat. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Add marshmallows and top in brown.

FRUE FEE 1 lb. red snapper 1 med. onion 1 med. carrot 1/4 potato 1-2nd cup frozen green peas Beans and skin red snapper. Peel potato. Cut first four ingredients into 1/2 in. slices. Put all remaining ingredients with this mixture and put in pie shell and bake at 400 degrees for 20 min. or until potato is done.

SPINACH SALAD 1/2 cup soy sprouts 1/2 cup rice vinegar Fresh ginger (sliced) 1 tsp. sesame Wash spinach thoroughly. Boil water in pan, enough to submerge whole amount of spinach. Dip whole spinach stems once only in boiling water, push down, standing

Not Volunteering Truth Makes Her Feel Like Liar

Dear Abby: I have a terrific job as assistant to the head of a professional firm. I've been here only three months and love it. My boss gets frequent calls from women who are in reality his girlfriends. I know for a fact they are divorced. His ex-wife phones him—and he calls her often to discuss their children. They have a friendly and even close relationship. I have heard my boss tell his girlfriends that he is only separated, and that his wife will never give him a divorce. He is aware that I have heard him say this, and he's asked me to answer no questions about his personal life. I never have. I feel that by not volunteering the truth I am lying. My mother thinks I should quit my job and tell my boss why. I don't think I could ever get a job I like as much, and I don't want to quit. My mother and I have agreed to follow your advice.

Flower Arranging Workshop Slated

A Flower Arranging Workshop will be held at the First Presbyterian Church of Sanford on Dec. 3. The event is sponsored by the Preschool Center, and proceeds will benefit the Preschool's child development program. Joe Freeman will conduct the workshop and Collins Florist is providing materials at cost. Learn principles of flower arranging, and take home a beautiful Christmas bouquet! Participants will have the option of attending either a 9:30 a.m. workshop or a 7:30 p.m. workshop. The $5.00 registration fee will include all materials required to finish the arrangement. A limited number of reservations is available on a first come basis. For further information call Sue Coon, 322-1076, or Joe Freeman, 322-7014.

Children's Carnival Set

Sanford Unit 38 of the Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary is holding a "Children's Festive Carnival" on Sunday, Nov. 25, from 9:30 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. at the DAV Home, located on U.S. 17-46, between the American Legion and Joe Freeman. The Auxiliary will have 11 booths including a Housed Mail Booth (look for the free coupon in the Herald, Monday edition). Proceeds will be used to carry on the charity work the Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary does throughout the year.

Gospel Sing Friday

The Sanford Fire Department's annual Gospel Sing will be Friday at 7 p.m. at the Sanford Civic Center featuring The Florida Boys, The Gospel Family, The Laurens Quartet and the Marshall Harmon Quartet. Proceeds will go to the Sanford Firemen's Benevolent Fund. Children 8-11 will be admitted half price, and children under five free.

Taking Medicine Not Always Forever

DEAR DR. LAMB—In one of your columns, a person wrote and said that he had lost 15 pounds and after weight loss was able to stop his blood pressure medicine. He asked that he suspected he wouldn't have needed to take medication in the first place if he had lost the weight earlier.

It has been my understanding that once a person starts taking high blood pressure medicine he has to keep on doing so. Is this true? Would you please comment on this.

The only purpose for any of the blood pressure medicines is to lower blood pressure. If it's already within normal limits and stays there without medication, then there is no reason to take the medicine.

My husband had a blood pressure problem and he decreased his medicine and seemed to feel better. He is 72 and still active in his reading and has a balanced diet and ample rest. He does have less stress than he did when the medicine was first prescribed during carving time in the early spring. Could he safely stop more days between medicine or even discontinue it?

DEAR READER—On more than one occasion I have been confronted with the idea that if you were taking blood pressure medicine, you have to take it for life.

Most such dogmatic statements aren't true and that's the case here. It depends entirely upon why you are taking the blood pressure medicine to begin with. If a second measurement will be interpreted as normal readings, it's possible he didn't need any medicine to begin with. Certainly there is no reason to continue taking medicine that you shouldn't have been given in the first place.

The second point is that situations can change. For example, a person may have high blood pressure associated with obesity. If their blood pressure becomes completely normal with weight reduction and stays normal without medication, there is no reason at all to continue the medicine.

Now this is in sharp contradiction to the theory that has persisted elevated blood pressure and vision pressure medicine only be kept in normal limits with medicine. This person does need to continue medicine indefinitely. You can always identify this person, though, because when his medicine is stopped, his pressure will go up.

I am sending you The Health Letter number 1-4, Blood Pressure, to give you more information on what determines the level of your blood pressure. Other readers who want this issue can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1841, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10101.

Another point that needs to be made is the influence of anxiety. A person who is anxious can have elevated blood pressure during the anxiety episode. The doctor has to be sure whether he is treating anxiety or hypertension.

HOROSCOPE

By DENNIS BEEBE OGDEN

For Thursday, November 23, 1978

YOUR BIRTHDAY November 23, 1978

This coming year you may undertake a very ambitious project. Success will be yours if you don't give up too easily, since the size of your reward will be based upon the effort expended.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Goals you seek today will not be handed to you on a silver platter. Be prepared to expend extra effort for what you deem important. Like to find out more about yourself? Send for your 1979 copy of Astro-Graph letter by mailing 50 cents for each and a long, self-addressed stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, P.O. Box 68, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10101. Be sure to specify birth date.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Today you could let your logic and objectivity desert you and let you be the beneficiary of emotionalizing. This won't give a thing.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) If you're not careful you could allow yourself to engage in some undesirable activity. Choose your companions wisely and this won't happen.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) It's necessary today to do all you can to be cooperative. An important relationship could be jeopardized if you behave rebelliously.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Synthesize your work and not a repetitive schedule today. You'll quickly become bored if you also.

WIN AT BRIDGE

play at this contract at either three notrump or three or four of the suit. You place the contract.

5. A new suit. I am forcing on the way to a game or slam somewhere.

North has a hand that is very hard to bid without the use of JTB. With 10 high-card points and 5-3-3-2 distribution, he wants to be in game in either notrump or hearts. He shows that clearly by first transferring to hearts and then jumping to three notrump. With only one spade stopped, South goes back to four hearts.

There isn't much to the play. South will only make one trick against a spade lead. The diamond lead allows him to get a spade discard before the opponents get a trick in that suit.

Ask the Experts

You see the Jacoby transfer (JTB) in any sort of hand. The only requirement is that you hold the suit you are transferring to.

If you transfer with a bid hand you just let your partner play at two of your suit. A better hand you rebid as follows:

- Four of suit. I want to be in game and there you are.
- Three notrump. I want you to choose between notrump or in the suit.
- Three of suit. I am forcing game in the suit.
- Two notrump. I will

It's Happy Holiday After All A Little Girl's Family Gives Thanks

Angela Larsen woke up screaming that fateful Sunday night three weeks ago. She was dreaming. She had something on her mind.

It was more than a dream. It was a nightmare. And she was remembering... She was remembering what had happened that very afternoon, Nov. 5, 1978.

She was remembering how she had jumped into a murky pond and saved the life of 18-month-old Marty Burk.

She was remembering how, together with Michelle Chastain, she had pulled the baby to safety.

And those memories are still fresh in Angela's mind. And in the minds of Marty's parents, Mike and Helen Burk, who are extra thankful this Thanksgiving Day.

And the incident is fresh in the minds of the members of the Sunrise Kiwanis Club who Wednesday presented to Angela a plaque for her heroism in the life-saving adventure.

"I went into the middle and grabbed Marty," recalls soft-spoken Angela, a fourth grader at Idlewild Elementary, "and after we both went down a couple of times, I pushed her over to Michelle who took her out of the water."

If there was any doubt at that time the baby was alive, it was quickly erased that Sunday afternoon. "I know she was alive because she was crying her head off," remembers Angela.

It all began when several families, including the Larsens, Burks and Chastains (Calvin and Donna Chastain) gathered at the home of Dick and Joy Joyce on Lake Avenue in Sanford.

"The adults were having a barbecue and the children wandered off," Mrs. Larsen says. "And then a few minutes later one of them ran up and told us that the baby had fallen into the pond." The manager was Melissa Chastain, 16. As the adults were getting ready to rush to the scene, the rescue was under way. Angela Larsen remembers it all. And the aftermath.

"I had a nightmare about her drowning," she says, recalling the night of the incident.

"She doesn't know how to swim toe well!"

Angela. The experience is still on her mind. It's not clear as to whether the water is not clear or she was afraid if they had gone under, it would have been hard to see where they were," says Mrs. Joyce, also recollecting that day.

"With that green algae which was on the pond a lot of kids wouldn't have gone in, but they put their heads together and knew what to do," adds Donna Chastain of Orlando, whose daughter helped in the rescue.

Marty's mother, Helen, has high praise for the brave girl who saved her daughter.

"She, too, is counting her blessings this Thanksgiving Day."

The Ritz: 'A Palace' For Arts?

By LEONARD KRANSDORF Herald Staff Writer

Sanford's Ritz Theater, once the showplace of plays and movies, may be in line for a new use—the teaching and displaying of fine art if Fran Kemp has his way.

Her idea: "If it becomes a reality it would eventually convert the Biagonia Avenue theater into a community center where the older and younger population of Sanford could meet and learn various new art skills."

"We could bring Sanford back to its feet and make the Ritz into a palace," said the exuberant Mrs. Kemp, art consultant for the Seminole County school system.

Mrs. Kemp said the first thing she hopes to achieve in bringing about the project is to generate enough community support and enthusiasm, a prerequisite to applying for a state grant.

Armed with community support, Mrs. Kemp said she would apply to the Florida Fine Arts Council (FAC) for a $5,000 grant.

...And What Are You Thankful For?

MARY HAWTHORNE, Coconino County clerk: "I'm healthy, wealthy and wise. What more can I say? I just count my blessings for all the wonderful things I have."

FRANK JARA, Seminole County agricultural agent: "For still being here. I'm primarily thankful for the good life I've had and for good health."

REV. LEO KING, pastor of First United Methodist Church, Sanford: "I'm most thankful to be alive; for awhile this year it didn't look like I would be. Next, my family and a faith that keeps things in perspective."

WILLIAM F. (BUD) LAYER, Seminole County superintendent of schools: "I'm thankful for good health and happiness of my family."

LEE P. MOORE, Mayor of Sanford: "I'm thankful for my five children, two grandchildren and a beautiful wife."

DAVID PORTER, public defender: "My job. It's a field I've been in all my life and I'm very happy in my job."

CAMILLA BRUCE, Seminole supervisor of elections: "I'm thankful to be in jail. I thought with all the threatened suits and everything that went wrong in the Sept. 11 primary election, I might be in jail by now. I'm thankful to be free."

DOUGLAS CHESHIRE, state attorney: "Good health, good spirit, good friends, and with the result of the Florida-Georgia game, good luck."

SANDRA GLENN, county commissioner: "For good health, good family and friends and a new job."

GEORGE M. HARRITT, Sanford fire chief: "It's just like it says in the Bible—the things to be thankful for: I'm living in a good home, I've got plenty to eat, my family's well fed. I praise and give thanks to God."

2 Stores Robbed, 2 Men Arrested

By DENNIS FEDLA Herald Staff Writer

Two Sanford men have been arrested in connection with an armed robbery in Longwood Friday evening. Sanford police said the two men are also suspects in an armed robbery at a Sanford convenience store.

In both robberies the team wore masks. One man wore a Halloween mask and the other an ape mask.

Longwood Police arrested Dennis Willis, 26, of 180 Boheme Circle and Francis Cozzer Hartman, 25, of 268 Byrd Ave. The two were arrested for armed robbery, use of a firearm in the commission of a felony and grand theft.

The man got about $80 and drove away in a yellow car, according to witnesses, heading east on State Road 44.

The second robbery occurred at 9:30 p.m. at the Handy Way food store at 817 E. Orange Ave. About 6 minutes after the second robbery, Sheriff's Deputy Karl Rossmann stopped a 1977 Mercury with two occupants at State Road 67 and Oak Street in Altamonte Springs.

According to records, Broderick was brought to where the two men had been stopped in an attempt to identify them as the robbers. Two men were arrested.

As Dayan Says U.S. Favoring Egypt

Israeli Police Gas Arabs Protesting Land Takeover

By United Press International

Israeli police used MACE gas to keep West Bank Arabs from forcing their way into a synagogue court hearing on the legality of Israel's taking land for an air base, radio reports said. Two Arab lawyers were taken away for questioning.

In the latest peace talks, Foreign Minister Dayan said today the United States has been favoring the Egyptian side in negotiations on a peace treaty with Israel. Wednesday, Dayan said the work on the treaty is finished and Egypt must take it or leave it.

The Arabs from El Bireh, who tried to get into the Jerusalem courtroom, charged in a petition filed Sept. 12, 779 acres of land which was confiscated for the expansion of a settlement at Beit El and not an army base as the military government says.

The residents demanded that all the restrictions be dropped, and view the position as a test case on the taking over land in the occupied territories.

Police used the chemical MACE to quell the disturbance in a lobby outside the courtroom, the radio said.

Mayor Karim Khalil of Ramallah and Mayor Ibrahim e-Tawil of El-Bireh were taken to police headquarters for questioning after they led a group of Arabs from their town to try to force their way into the packed courtroom, the national radio said.

The court issued a temporary injunction Sept. 17 ordering military authorities in the West Bank to halt construction. At the time, 60 Jewish families moved into temporary houses at Beit El.

Dayan, in a special briefing concerning the U.S. role in the historic peace talks with Egypt, said:

"In principle, we appreciate the stand of the United States and the efforts of President Carter and Secretary of State Cyrus Vance. No other administration has put so much effort and imagination into the solving of our conflict, but I don't think the Americans always use an equal yardstick toward us and towards Egypt."

Dayan's remarks came as Israel and Washington waded toward Israel on whether it will withdraw its demand to include a timetable for Palestinian autonomy in the peace treaty. Israel rejected the demand Tuesday.

The timing of his remarks clearly seemed an attempt to caution the United States against taking Egypt's side on the timetable issue.

Dayan said U.S. authorities toward Israel went beyond the long-standing U.S. treaty commitments over the future of the occupied territories and the status of Jerusalem, which Israel claims as its capital.

HOROSCOPE

By DENNIS FIEDA

For Thursday, November 23, 1978

YOUR BIRTHDAY November 23, 1978

This coming year you may undertake a very ambitious project. Success will be yours if you don't give up too easily. Since the size of your reward will be based upon the effort expended.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Goals you seek today will not be handed to you on a silver platter. Be prepared to expend extra effort for what you deem important. Like to find out more about yourself? Send for your 1979 copy of Astro-Graph letter by mailing 50 cents for each and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, P.O. Box 68, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10101. Be sure to specify birth date.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Today you could let your logic and objectivity desert you and let the luxury of sentimentalizing. This won't give a thing.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) If you're not careful you could allow yourself to engage in some undesirable activity. Choose your companions wisely and this won't happen.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) It's necessary today to do all you can to be cooperative. An important relationship could be jeopardized if you behave rebelliously.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Synthesize your work and not a realistic schedule today. You'll quickly become impatient if you also.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Newman

You use the Jacoby transfer (JTB) in any sort of hand. The only requirement is that you hold the suit you are transferring to.

If you're transferring with a bad hand you just let your partner play at two of your suit. A better hand you rebid as follows:

- Four of suit. I want to be in the game and there you are.
- Three notrump. I want you to choose between a no-trump or in the suit.
- Three of suit. I am passing game in the suit.
- Two notrump. I will play at this contract at either three notrump or three or four of the suit. You place the contract.

A new suit. I am forcing on the way to a game or slam somewhere.

North has a hand that is very hard to bid without the use of JTB. With 10 high-card points and 5-3-3-2 distribution he wants to be in game in either notrump or hearts. He shows that clearly by first transferring to hearts and then jumping to three notrump. With only one spade stopped, South goes back to four hearts.

There isn't much to the play. South will only make one trick against a spade lead. The diamond lead allows him to get a spade discard before the opponents get a trick in that suit.

George Willis, president of Sunrise Kiwanis, presents Angela Larsen (right) with plaque for her heroism in rescuing 18-month-old Marty Burk (in arms of mother, Helen).

It's Happy Holiday After All A Little Girl's Family Gives Thanks

Angela Larsen woke up screaming that fateful Sunday night three weeks ago. She was dreaming. She had something on her mind.

It was more than a dream. It was a nightmare. And she was remembering... She was remembering what had happened that very afternoon, Nov. 5, 1978.

She was remembering how she had jumped into a murky pond and saved the life of 18-month-old Marty Burk.

She was remembering how, together with Michelle Chastain, she had pulled the baby to safety.

And those memories are still fresh in Angela's mind. And in the minds of Marty's parents, Mike and Helen Burk, who are extra thankful this Thanksgiving Day.

And the incident is fresh in the minds of the members of the Sunrise Kiwanis Club who Wednesday presented to Angela a plaque for her heroism in the life-saving adventure.

"I went into the middle and grabbed Marty," recalls soft-spoken Angela, a fourth grader at Idlewild Elementary, "and after we both went down a couple of times, I pushed her over to Michelle who took her out of the water."

If there was any doubt at that time the baby was alive, it was quickly erased that Sunday afternoon. "I know she was alive because she was crying her head off," remembers Angela.

It all began when several families, including the Larsens, Burks and Chastains (Calvin and Donna Chastain) gathered at the home of Dick and Joy Joyce on Lake Avenue in Sanford.

"The adults were having a barbecue and the children wandered off," Mrs. Larsen says. "And then a few minutes later one of them ran up and told us that the baby had fallen into the pond." The manager was Angela. The experience is still on her mind. It doesn't linger on since the deed was done and since that restless night.

"She went to sleep but then woke up screaming," recalls Mrs. Larsen.

"I think she probably realized that not only could the baby have drowned, but she too could have because she doesn't know how to swim too well."

She, too, is counting her blessings this Thanksgiving Day.

The Ritz: 'A Palace' For Arts?

By LEONARD KRANSDORF
Herald Staff Writer

Sanford's Ritz Theater, once the showplace of plays and movies, may be in line for a new use—the teaching and displaying of fine art if Fran Kemp has his way.

His idea: "If it becomes a reality it would eventually convert the Biograph Avenue theater into a community center where the older and younger population of Sanford could meet and learn various new art skills."

"We could bring Sanford back to its feet and make the Ritz into a palace," said the exuberant Mrs. Kemp, art consultant for the Seminole County school system.

Mrs. Kemp said the first thing she hopes to achieve in bringing about the project is to generate enough community support and enthusiasm, a prerequisite to applying for a state grant.

Armed with community support, Mrs. Kemp said she would apply to the Florida Fine Arts Council (FAC) for a $5,000 grant.

The grant can be forthcoming, however, only if local government, either the city, county or school board, matches the amount, she said.

The $10,000 or so combined would pay for the first year's salary for an artist, as well as some supplies. But, Mrs. Kemp said, the application would have to be resubmitted annually to FAC for continuing state matching funds for that purpose.

The artist would make his headquarters at the theater and be an instructor for school children as well as anyone else who would come to the theater.

"The theater has been closed for about a year since the death of its owner."

She is hoping the program can begin by September of next year and to do so she has to have the applications in to the state by February at the latest.

"Once the grant application is in, the council would send representatives here to gauge the support by talking to city government, businessmen, school officials and even go into the schools and ask the children," she said.

However, before she even applies for the grant she has spoken to several community organizations and hopes to speak to several more.

"This idea will go nowhere if the fine arts council does not see the community support, there had to be some type of community center where the artist can work and teach, and an army base as the military government says."

The residents demanded that all the furniture be removed, and view the position as a lost case on the tabling over land in the occupied territories.

Police and the chemical MACE is used the distance in a baby outside the courtroom, the radio said.

...And What Are You Thankful For?

MARY HAWTHORNE, Coconino County clerk: "I'm healthy, wealthy and wise. What more can I say? I just count my blessings for all the wonderful things I have."

FRANK JARA, Seminole County agricultural agent: "For still being here. I'm primarily thankful for the good life I've had and for good health."

REV. LEO KING, pastor of First United Methodist Church, Sanford: "I'm most thankful to be alive; for awhile this year it didn't look like I would be. Next, my family and a faith that keeps things in perspective."

WILLIAM F. (BUD) LAYER, Seminole County superintendent of schools: "I'm thankful for good health and happiness of my family."

LEE P. MOORE, Mayor of Sanford: "I'm thankful for my five children, two grandchildren and a beautiful wife."

DAVID PORTER, public defender: "My job. It's a field I've been in all my life and I'm very happy in my job."

CAMILLA BRUCE, Seminole supervisor of elections: "I'm thankful to be in jail. I thought with all the threatened suits and everything that went wrong in the Sept. 11 primary election, I might be in jail by now. I'm thankful to be free."

DOUGLAS CHESHIRE, state attorney: "Good health, good spirit, good friends, and with the result of the Florida-Georgia game, good luck."

SANDRA GLENN, county commissioner: "For good health, good family and friends and a new job."

GEORGE M. MARRIETT, Sanford fire chief: "It's just like it says in the Bible—the things to be thankful for. I'm living in a good home, I've got plenty to eat, my family's well fed. I praise and give thanks to God."

2 Stores Robbed, 2 Men Arrested

By DENNIS FIEDA

Longwood Police arrested Dennis Willis, 35, of 180 Boheme Circle and Francis Cozzer Hartman, 25, of 268 Byrd Ave. The two were arrested for an armed robbery, use of a firearm in the commission of a felony and grand theft.

The man got about $80 and drove away in a yellow car, according to witnesses, heading east on State Road 44A.

The second robbery occurred at 9:30 p.m. at the Handy Way food store at 817 E. Orange Ave. About 6 minutes after the second robbery, Sheriff's Deputy Carl Rosman stopped a 1977 Mercury with two occupants at State Road 67 and Oak Street in Altamonte Springs.

According to records, Broderick was brought to where the two men had been stopped in an attempt to identify them as the robbers. Two men were arrested.

As Dayan Says U.S. Favoring Egypt

By United Press International

Israeli police used MACE gas to keep West Bank Arabs from forcing their way into a synagogue court hearing on the legality of Israel's taking land for an air base, radio reports said. Two Arab lawyers were taken away for questioning.

In the latest peace talks, Foreign Minister Dayan said today the United States has been favoring the Egyptian side in negotiations on a peace treaty with Israel. Wednesday, Dayan said the work on the treaty is finished and Egypt must take it or leave it.

The Arabs from El Bireh, who tried to get into the Jerusalem courtroom, charged in a petition filed Sept. 12 for 750 acres of land which was confiscated for the expansion of a settlement at Beit El and not an army base as the military government says.

The residents demanded that all the furniture be removed, and view the position as a lost case on the tabling over land in the occupied territories.

Police and the chemical MACE is used the distance in a baby outside the courtroom, the radio said.

Mayor Karim Khelof of Hamatiah and Mayor Ibrahim

Dayan's remarks came as Israel and Washington worked toward Israel's decision on whether it will withdraw its demand to include a timetable for Palestinian autonomy in the peace treaty. Israel rejected the demand Tuesday.

The timing of his remarks clearly seemed an attempt to cool the United States against taking Egypt's side on the intangible issue.

Dayan said U.S. ambassadors toward Israel were beyond the long-standing U.S. Jewish demographics over the future of the occupied territories and the status of Jerusalem, which Israel claims as its capital.

408 Bodies From Jonestown Cult-Suicide Returned To U.S.

GEORGETOWN, Guyana (UPI) — The first of 408 bodies found in the Jonestown religious cult mass suicide were flown to the United States today and were immediately transferred to a mortuary. U.S. soldiers packed other bloated corpses for removal from their bizarre jungle graveyard.

The giant C141 transport carrying the corpses touched down before dawn at Dover, Del. Air Force Base, and the base chaplain Paul Wragg prayed over the bodies before they were transferred to a mortuary for embalming.

No effort was mounted to find more survivors of Saturday's mass suicide at the commune. U.S. officials said there may not be any more survivors.

Israel says it has finished negotiations on a peace treaty and it is a "take it or leave it situation" for Egypt, but President Carter and Egypt's Anwar Sadat are agreed there must be more negotiating.

Foreign Minister Moshe Dayan announced the new Israeli position at a staff briefing Wednesday, one day after the Cabinet approved an American-authored draft treaty by a 152 vote.

Mao Tse-tung Denounced

TOKYO (UPI) — A wall poster denouncing the "idol worship" of the late Chairman Mao Tse-tung and demanding the Chinese people be given freedom to criticize him appeared in Peking late Wednesday, Tokyo newspapers said in reports from the Chinese capital.

It was the latest in a series of attacks on Mao and his associates that began Nov. 15 after a Peking newspaper admitted Mao was guilty of mistakes during his 27-year rule of China.

Agriculture Impact Grows, Kiwanis Told

By DONNA EVES
 Herald Staff Writer

The economy of Florida and the nation is going to be more and more dependent upon agriculture, Dr. Tefer Tiller, vice president of the University of Florida for Agriculture, told members of the Sanford Kiwanis Club Wednesday.

The guest speaker at the noon luncheon meeting at the Sanford Civic Center said the United States is importing $45 billion in oil annually and the $26 billion worth of agricultural products being exported from the nation is adding to the balance of payments problem and preventing further worldwide decline of the dollar.

"It is not just farmers involved in this state in agriculture, but the whole free economy," he said, adding that Florida currently ranks 11th or 12th in agricultural production in the country. But, Dr. Tiller added, the agriculture industry is second in complexity only to the state of California.

"We have 26 different crops in the state and Florida ranks first in the numbers of different bugs attacking any one plant,"

Dr. Tiller's appearance in the former colony capital of the world was in observation of the conclusion of Farm-City Week celebrated for its 20th consecutive year.

Dr. John Darby, who heads the agriculture experiment station of the University of Florida in Sanford, introduced Dr. Tiller.

Dr. Darby said Dr. Tiller had a role in the establishment at the Sanford station of the research program, designed to reduce the midge (blatid mosquito) from a nuisance to an acceptable level.

'I'm excited about the challenge of agriculture'

Pointing to the role Sanford played in the early-growing industry in the past, Dr. Tiller said the crop moved to become the largest user of nitrogen in the world.

"Other states have bugs, but they also have hard frosts in and three tons of fertilizer per acre and celery moved to where it would take one ton of nitrogen," he noted.

He said farmers can't do anything to move prices up, but rather must through higher technology become more efficient to cut costs.

Agriculture came late to Florida's history, he said, noting that the Spaniards spent 200 years trying to conquer the land in Florida.

"It was in the 1890's before Yankee ingenuity and technology conquered Florida agriculture. The agricultural industry was built, however, on cheap energy," he said, adding that cheap energy is no longer available.

Pointing to the costs of farming, Dr. Tiller said that 10 years ago nitrogen cost about a penny a pound and today that cost is five to six times that and is soon going to double in cost.

The basic concern, said Dr. Tiller, are that Florida has the most infertile soil in the country; more bugs per plant than anywhere and is the biggest user of nitrogen.

the winter that kill off the bugs. Despite these things, said Dr. Tiller, "I'm excited about the challenge of agriculture in the 21st Century."

The University of Florida vice president who heads the Institute of Food and Agri-cultural Science (IFUS) there, and is director of the Florida Agriculture stations and cooperative extension program, took the opportunity to commend State Rep. Robert Hattaway, currently in Tallahassee for the reorganization of the legislature. "Rep. Hattaway is one of the really outstanding legislators in the state," said Dr. Tiller, noting that Hattaway is considered a friend of agriculture all over the state.

She Wants To Convert Ritz Into Theater For The Arts

This is where the Ritz Theater comes into the picture. Once she believes she has enough support, Mrs. Kemp said she hopes to approach the city to suggest purchasing the theater for an estimated $80,000.

However, if that falls through, she said she is prepared with an alternative. This idea would have a group of lawyers, one of whom is her husband, purchase the theater and then lease it to the city for a minimal cost.

She stresses it is important that the city become involved. "The fine arts council is very reluctant to give money to private individuals to work on their own buildings," she said.

The way Mrs. Kemp envisions it, the artist would come to the city and the first thing he would do would be renovate the theater's outside by designing different murals.

Once the designs are completed, the community participants would paint the murals on the building.

The artist would not be the only teacher in the theater according to Mrs. Kemp. "There are many people in this community with a lot of talent, such as dancing who could volunteer their time and energy to be teachers," she said.

"Once this thing gets going you can have a community theater that people could walk to and become involved in the visual arts, performing arts, music and dancing," she said.

She stresses other cities throughout the state have the program and, "if they can do it, there is no doubt Sanford can too." Among the cities which have established ongoing programs are Monticello, Live Oak, Plant City, Sarasota and Tampa.

If the Ritz Theater idea falls through, Mrs. Kemp is considering asking the school board to establish the program in the old school building on Commercial Street in Sanford. The building is currently for sale and would have to be taken off the selling block or possibly the group of lawyers might consider buying the building, depending on the price, she said.

Askew: Let Legislature Rule On Land

TALLAHASSEE, (UPI) — The Supreme Court says land use plans adopted by the Cabinet to preserve the Florida Keys and Green Swamp are unconstitutional, but can be salvaged by the Legislature.

The court Wednesday threw out a provision in the 1972 Environmental Land and Water Management Act allowing the Cabinet to control growth and development in designated areas of critical state concern.

Land use plans in effect for the Keys and swamp need not be changed, however, it said, if the Legislature ratifies the critical state concern designations given the areas by the Cabinet.

Gov. Jeb Bush said he probably would include the issue in a special session if he calls one later this year. He indicated Tuesday he is again considering a session on mortgage interest rates and other issues.

Askew said he may decide to leave the matter for Gov.-elect Bob Graham who, while a state senator, helped write the landowner's environmental protection law.

In a unanimous decision, the court struck the critical state concern portion of the ELWMS Act, saying it was an unconstitutional delegation of legislative authority.

"Fundamental and primary policy decisions shall be made by members of the Legislature who are elected to perform those tasks and administration of legislative programs must be pursuant to some minimal standards and guidelines," Justice Alan Sundaugh wrote for the court.

Cabinet members were given almost unlimited authority to decide which areas of the state are valuable enough environmentally to justify drastic restrictions covering both public and private land, and Florida Constitution doesn't allow that kind of delegation, Sundaugh said.

The Legislature "must exercise constitutional prerogative and duty to identify and designate these resources and facilities." Lawmakers have already made one critical state concern designation. Big Cypress swamp in Collier County in 1972. That was the first step in state-of-the-art legislation leading to the creation of Big Cypress National Preserve.

The critical state concern designation has been made by the Cabinet only twice — on 22,000 acres of Green Swamp, a watershed-wetlands area in 1974, and over most of the Florida Keys a year later.

Land use plans for the areas developed by the Department of Administration and imposed by the Cabinet cover new construction, repair of existing structures, water and air pollution, roads and recreation areas.

Attorney General Robert Stevin personally argued on behalf of the critical state concern law, calling it the foundation of Florida's environmental protection efforts.

The Keys are "an environmental jewel," Stevin said, and Green Swamp, a valuable swampland whose destruction could jeopardize the Florida underground water system.

Officials in the two areas had shown themselves unable or unwilling to provide the type of environmental protection in the best interest of all of Florida, he said.

Trooper Alive, Man Dead

WEST PALM BEACH (UPI) — A Florida Highway Patrol trooper was in satisfactory condition today after he was shot Wednesday night by a man — apparently fleeing police in Pennsylvania — who later turned the gun on himself.

Trooper Raymond West was shot by Jerry Peter Snyder, 29, of Pittsburgh, Pa., after a chase through West Palm Beach.

West spotted Snyder speeding on Interstate 95 and began chasing the car. West eventually caught Snyder after both cars had pulled off the highway, Inspector Mollie Fisher said. After the shooting, Snyder got back in his car and took off. West staggered back to his car and radioed for help shortly before 7 p.m. Troopers surrounded the area, Trooper Jim Robertson said.

Robertson picked up Snyder's trail and chased him down a dead-end street. When the car stopped, Robertson shot out its two rear tires and walked towards Snyder with his pistol drawn.

As he approached the car, an FHP spokesman said, Snyder put the gun to his temple and pulled the trigger. Robertson found Snyder slumped over the wheel, seriously wounded. He died several hours later.

The Lake Mary Planning and Zoning Board has unanimously vetoed a rezoning request that would have allowed Landura Corp. of Clearwater, to build a 60-unit apartment complex on 30 acres of land on the corner of Wilbur and Lake Mary Road.

The action came during the board's regular monthly meeting where about 50 people crowded into the city council chambers. About 10 more stood on the sidewalk outside and listened to the proceedings through an open door.

Following better than an hour of sometimes unruly discussion, Board Chairman Roger Dixon asked for a poll of the audience, comprised mostly of property owners near the site.

Only two raised their hands in support of the rezoning for the complex. The board's vote met with a resounding round of applause from the audience.

Count Blessings As You Enjoy

Thanksgiving, contrary to popular belief, is neither strictly nor originally our own in this country. Festivals of gratitude for the harvest are the custom in much of the world today, and as far as man has been able to delve into his own past, there are evidences of similar observances.

For our Western civilization, as with so much else, the tradition goes back to the Greeks, who annually celebrated a nine-day festival in honor of Demeter, the goddess of agriculture.

And the first Thanksgiving, U.S. style, were victory celebrations, respites in life-and-death struggles with a new and harsh environment. Then, as now, eating well was the order of the day. But it has evolved into something more for us. Today, more than a century since Abraham Lincoln nationalized Thanksgiving during the dark days of the Civil War to reinforce a sense of national community and purpose, the day's significance has broadened and deepened.

It stands as a testimonial to all that is best in our past and a reaffirmation of our national purpose. It stands, too, as a reminder of our present. For it is customary this day for everyone to stop. To reflect. To pray. To think. To give thanks. To count blessings.

For some, it is blessing enough — in these economically difficult times — to have survived another year. For some, who have come through major illnesses or deprivation, it is blessing enough to be alive. For some, it is blessing enough that the status quo has persisted. For some, it is blessing enough that the basics of life are available and at hand.

With the 1978 Golden Age Olympics now a part of history, one might expect the hardworking committee members would be hanging up their track shoes and taking time out to get their breathers right.

The indefatigable Florence Korgan, last year's women's champ, is in charge of the Golden Age Olympics entry in the Sanford Christmas Parade expanded to "Golden Ages Olympic and Jubilee" to broaden the scope to include such non-athletic events as a dramatic presentation, a bar's club competition, talent show, fashion show and beauty contest.

After more than an hour of back and questions from Longwood city commissioners and residents concerning the "The Landings"—a cluster homes development which has been designed—environmental consultant Paul Thrift of San Diego, Cal., still had his sense of humor. Neighbors of the proposed project on West Lake had questioned its effect on their environment and Commission Chairman J. R. Grant expressed surprise he could speak English. As the Commission debated whether or not to approve the plan, Thrift jokingly suggested it might be a nice spot for a taco stand.

ANGLE-WALTERS Voters Take The Initiative

WASHINGTON — However muddled the ideological messages of Election '78, one major procedural trend was evident. The longer the judgment of elected officials, increasingly opted to make their own decisions on key issues.

There were 46 separate initiatives, or citizen-led legislative proposals, on the ballot Nov. 7 in a total of 16 states — the most for any presidential election in at least 20 years, and second only to the 44 which were up for a vote in 1976.

The most highly publicized, of course, were the various offering and initiatives of California's Proposition 13, the tax-slashing initiative of last June which overnight established the tone and direction of the entire national political debate of 1978.

But taxes and spending were by no means the only topics addressed by initiative this year; everything from gay rights to busing, from nuclear power to health care costs, from utility rates to returnable bottles showed up on ballots from coast to coast.

Despite the emotional heat connected with some of the proposals, and the legendary lobbying expenditures associated with others, the voters showed remarkable care and sophistication in deciding the issues presented them.

Twenty initiatives were approved, 20 rejected. That is an unusually high success rate in historical terms; of more than 1,200 initiatives which have appeared on state ballots in the last 80 years, a cumulative average of 20 percent have been adopted. But it was by no means an indiscriminate endorsement by the electorate.

The results are virtually certain to add impetus to the drive by "Initiative America," a small Washington-based organization, to extend the initiative process to more states and to seek a constitutional amendment to permit use of the initiative at the national level.

VIEWPOINT A Few Points For The Indian

By DON GRAFT

The American Indian may have lost the military and political battles, but currently he's scoring a few points on the white man in another area — economic. Numerous tribes, capitalizing on the resources underlying their reservation lands, are driving increasingly hard bargains with corporate developers. In some cases they are establishing their own businesses and there is reported to be some interest in going international through deals with firms in other countries.

The Council of Energy Resource Tribes, as reported by McGraw-Hill's Chemical Week magazine, estimates that the 35 tribal units represented in the Washington-based council own 40 percent of uranium, 11 percent of coal, 4 percent of oil and natural gas and a "large potential" of oil and geothermal reserves in the United States.

The Bureau of Indian Affairs disagrees, however. It finds the council figures "gross understatements." The nation's growing energy needs, it appears, are generating Indian power.

Grateful Patient Licks Doc's Hand

The operation was over and the patient not up and gratefully licked his doctor's hand in appreciation.

The patient, a young blood cancer specialist when struck by a car on Nov. 13 in 19-48 in Boston, is now unscathed by his operation.

He underwent a traumatic 14-hour operation that had been termed "itch and go" by the veterinarian in charge.

"There is still concern for the little dog, but we're hopeful he is on his way to a safe recovery," said Ruth Henry, humane society officer. "If no one comes forward to claim him, we will put him up for adoption. He will need a very special home with very special people. Any little who has gone through so much and who wants to live so healthily should have a very special home."

Anyone wishing to help the humane society with expenses of the dog's operation may contribute by calling Ruth Henry at 253-0261.—ELDA NICHOLES

Courtesy Busing Lawsuit Pondered

A Longwood lawyer representing the parents of some 30 Casselberry Elementary School students said he may file suit to force the school district to provide courtesy busing for the children, claiming the route they walk to school is hazardous.

The lawyer, Carmine Bravo, said he will confer with the parents early next week to form a plan of action, "but as I see it today, we'll probably sue the school board, the county commission and the state of Florida."

The school board Tuesday night decided to let stand its ruling of a few weeks ago that it will not provide courtesy busing to those children because they live within the two-mile limit and because a study by a safety committee determined the hazards along the route fall short of the required danger level to justify such busing.

The matter was on the school board's agenda Tuesday, but after Bravo addressed the board and asked for the courtesy busing, School Superintendent William Leyer commented on the matter.

The superintendent had been instructed by the board to contact city of Casselberry officials to determine if a cooperative effort could be worked out to eliminate some of the hazards.

Leyer told the board Tuesday he had had no word from Casselberry officials after sending them a letter asking if the city could do something about correcting some of the hazards, such as working on a narrow bridge in need of some repair, and asking the city to provide a route for the students to walk on rather than on the street.

After Leyer's presentation, school board members requested that when asked if anyone wanted to vote for courtesy busing.

"As far as we've concerned, the two-mile limit has nothing to do with it. There are hazards and, in my opinion, the school board, the county commission and the state should be ordered to correct the situation," Bravo said.

Some Confusion On Cholesterol

DEAR DR. LAMB—In one of your columns you said that alcohol contains no cholesterol and then again you stated that it was a large molecule of cholesterol. In another column you said alcohol increased the blood flow to the heart. I thought it decreased the flow.

Now I read in the paper where alcohol in small amounts increases the heart rate and it is better than any diet in reducing the harmful cholesterol found in the large fat particles. Is this correct? DEAR READER—No, cholesterol does not contain any cholesterol. But it is true that cholesterol is an alcohol.

HOROSCOPE

By BERNICE BEEB OOL. For Friday, November 24, 1978

YOUR BIRTHDAY November 24, 1978. Many changes are in store for you this coming year. Some will happen slowly and others in the twinkling of an eye. This should appeal to you, variety being the spice of life to which you aspire. GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Family matters that get everyone upset should be avoided today. The solution to the disagreements isn't likely to be found yet, so why spoil a nice day? CANCER (June 21-July 22): Don't take it for granted that one who has helped you knows your appreciation. A "thank you" is definitely needed or this person will feel imposed upon. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): You still won't be able to figure out how to get the cash for your pleasurable pursuits. Better face up to the hard facts and plan your day accordingly. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Making excuses is not the solution to getting along with others today. Be honest with them and they might understand your position. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): "Inside" information should be taken with a grain of salt today. Believing all you hear could steer you off a wrong direction. SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): It's nice to be generous, but don't waste your hard-earned money on ingrates. Seek the company of those who are unpretentious and appreciative as yourself.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Benes. Actually, South rebids two spades. North passes and South plays at a nice comfortable contract. We aren't going too far into the play. Buries to say that if South leaves trump alone and leads his long clubs and dummy's long hearts, South will have no trouble collecting nine tricks and might well come up with 10 if the defense misplays. Two hearts would probably be down one as would one notrump. But even if an expert, lucky declarer managed to make one of these contracts he would not do as well as the man who played two spades.

In And Around Lake Mary

Olympics Winner Proved Mom Still A Good Sport

I met Harriet Boyd here in Lake Mary some years ago. At that time I learned that she was an accomplished horsewoman. Very active in sports before she got married, Harriet saw the opportunity to prove to her daughter Frances (an accomplished athlete herself) through the Golden Age Olympics, that she still could do well at anything related to sports.

Harriet has been training for some time to that when she reached the legal age for competition she would be ready. She took physical education courses at Seminole Community College (jogging and using the exercise machines are her favorite). So her dream came true this year. She was a participant in the 6th Annual Golden Age Olympics sponsored by the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce and it paid off — she was this year's overall winner in the Women's Division. She earned a total of 15 medals; eight gold for first place, three silver for second and four bronze for third place in several of the activities—plus a beautiful trophy.

Harriet is already training to prepare for next year's events. Her family and friends are very proud of her.

She says with a wide smile: "My daughter Frances was my inspiration. Thanks to her I had the determination to prove that as a woman and an athlete I still can do a lot of things and enjoy them at the same time." Other winners in the Golden Age Olympics from this area were: Bill and Mrs. Thomas Johnson received a bronze medal and Margaret — two ribbons. Good job!

Other winners from the beautiful Forest in the Arts and Crafts and Ceramics category (all part of the Golden Olympics) also were: Connie Dickey, white ribbons; Edith Lambert, a bronze medal; an honorable mention (purple ribbon) and a blue ribbon;

The Lake Mary Woman's Club had its annual educational program meeting at the United Presbyterian Church. A new member, Mrs. Lois Pennington, was welcomed.

This meeting marked the third annual school awards sponsored by the club with a $25 savings bond award.

The club's Education chairman, Martha Mitchell, her and her committee, chose a theme on the State of Florida, on which a short summary was written, with a three dimensional object to depict the subject. Lake Mary students of the 6th and 8th grades participated.

A Chance To Replace The President In His Swivel Chair?

'Saleswoman' Author Advises 'Build Up Your Ego'

By ELLIE GROSMAN
NEW YORK — How do you think that miracle cleaner got on the grocery shelf — fastidious elves? Come. It was talked there by the man representing the miracle cleaning company: an "industrial" saleswoman who, unlike the grocer, talks to businessmen, not consumers. (Well, they are consumers. If you want to get picky.) If he sells well enough, the industrial salesman enjoys lots of things: his own time; money; "hello, Fred, nice job you did for us in Cincinnati," from the company president. And the chance to replace the president in his swivel chair. Sales is good training for basics like endurance, survival and winner take all.

Barbara Fletcher, who wrote "Saleswoman, A Guide to Career Success," published by Dow-Jones Irwin, well, talk about cloud and equal pay and not having to wash the boss' coffee cup unless it's your own. Of course, not all women are right for industrial sales, concedes Ms. Fletcher, who also runs Creative Sales Careers, Inc., a California company that encourages women and corporate sales divisions to find each other. She's appealing partly to those movers and shakers in their 30s who get "run-ins" into difficult desk jobs in that miracle cleaning company because that's where women get jobs years ago. Now that things are essentially opening up, what do you do with "the generation of talented, educated women" sitting there, she asks? "Write them off? Or say to a woman who's put all that time in with the company, go back and get a degree in medicine because medical schools are opening up?" No. You steer them into industrial sales with a gentle but calloused hand because for every smooth "plus" favoring the move, there's a "surround" minus.

Barbara Fletcher: "We're taught we're not supposed to pat ourselves on the back, so we let other people stab us in the back instead."

SEIKO

Someday all watches will be made this way.

Zales makes sure every moment is right with a fine collection of Seiko watches.

You dial phones, pound on doors, travel — sometimes often — which women aren't supposed to like or be able to do. And because you are a woman and industrial sales make sense (the CBS Research Institute of America figures reporting that in 1975, only 38 percent of the nation's 600 largest manufacturing firms employed industrial salespeople, women), you are also harassed, chided, avoided, sabotaged and shot down by men and women alike. (And you eat alone in your hotel room so you won't be hassled by Johnny Goodtime in the lounge.) What's more you put up with a plentitude of rejection. Still, you can survive by grasping the guidelines. Ms. Fletcher supplies with the vigor and faith of the college cheerleader she resembles. You keep going, she says, "by learning to build up your ego. It would be nice to depend on other people for strokes when you need them, but in the end you only have yourself. So set yourself little intermediate goals. "Say you decide to make ten phone calls this morning. You make them and you're rejected all ten times. It doesn't matter because you've accomplished what you said you were going to do. So while this rejection is floating out there, you reward yourself. Buy a

DEAR ABBY

I'm about to ask you but have asked before, but I'm a guy who needs the answer and had because for once in my 34 years of life I know what it's like to be lonely. It's a bad feeling. Sometimes it's so bad I could cry. But I don't know how. I don't drink. I don't smoke. I am very few cues words, if any. I am very considerate toward women (maybe overly so). I'm a college student of average intelligence. I'm a good dresser, not bad-looking and I'm not cheap. But for some reason, I can't get a woman interested in me. Is there such a thing as being too nice? Here's an example of my courtship pattern: I see a girl I like and I'll ask her name and give her mine. Then we exchange phone numbers. Then I arrange for a date. I take her home and kiss her goodnight only if she's willing. I never push myself on a woman. For some reason, most women don't seem interested in seeing me again. I wonder why? Am I too old-fashioned? Should I jump all over them on the first or second date? Please help me.

LONGSOME IN PHILA
DEAR LONGSOME: We see you can be "too nice." There's nothing wrong with your pattern of courtship as you describe it, but in order for a girl to become interested in you, the chemistry between you must be mutually attractive. Don't change your steady style. Get involved in wholesome activities and meet more people. Pleasant people attract pleasant people. DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who always brings something she has cooked or baked whenever I invite her to dinner.

All-State Flower Show
Open To Public Dec. 1

The State Flower Show of the Florida Federation of Garden Clubs will be presented in Orlando over the three-day period of December 1-3.

The show, titled "Season's Greetings," will be held in Exposition Park, off I-4, near Colonial Boulevard. This extensive show is being held in this area for the first time in 19 years.

Many special exhibits related to the holiday season will be on display, including decorated Christmas trees, vignettes on Chanukkah and on the Chinese New Year. There will also be holiday decorations for doors and other areas.

The competitive division will include artistic designs of flowers, fruits, and dried materials, as well as miniatures, cottages and horticulture. These will be submitted by garden club members from all areas of Florida, and will be judged prior to the opening of the show.

Invitational, or non-competitive, flower arrangements will be made by members of the DeBary International chapters of Orlando and DeLand, some of whom live in DeLona, DeBarry and Daytona Beach. These will represent several schools of Japanese floral art, including Ikebana, Ichiya, O'Hara and Sogetsu.

Admission is by a ticket donation of $2.00 which also includes one program on creative flower arranging by Bob Thomas of St. Petersburg.

The hour-long programs are scheduled for Dec. 1 at 3:00 p.m., Dec. 2 at 11:00 a.m., 3:00 and 7:00 p.m., and Dec. 3 at 1:00 p.m.

The show hours are Dec. 1, 3:00 to 9:00 p.m.; Dec. 2, 10:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m.; and Dec. 3, 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

Suicide Toll Nears 800 In Guyana

GEORGETOWN, Guyana (UPI) — U.S. troops conducting recovery operations at the Peoples Temple settlement in Guyana said today they are finding "new bodies every minute" and that the death toll in the mass suicide is expected to reach 800.

The team said it had found out 270 bodies of the 600 reportedly died. Today it said it had discovered more than 200 bodies not previously counted in the Rev. Jim Jones' Jonestown jungle commune 186 miles north-west of Georgetown where Jones' fanatic cultists willingly drink a mixture of purple Kool-Aid and cyanide.

"We are finding more bodies every minute and expect there will be up to 800 of them," a spokesman said.

Previously it was thought that 600 or more persons might have survived the ritual suicide and fled into the jungles. The new bodies were found on the bridge of the camp and the toll was rising constantly.

Only today U.S. helicopters began searching the jungles for those reported survivors and five more helicopters were ordered into service to aid Guyanese search parties. This came before the new bodies were found.

(In Washington, government sources quoting U.S. government reports from Guyana said, "Current total estimates are that there could be up to 800 bodies in Jonestown. What is happening is that they are finding bodies under bodies.")

The figure, sent to Washington by U.S. officials and filed into the number of those known dead at the colony of Peoples Temple leader Jim Jones by one-third. They go at least part way toward accounting for large numbers of settlement members still now listed as "missing," sources said.

"They are uncovering more bodies all the time," said a government source monitoring the operations in Guyana.

The reports of additional victims who died in the mass suicide ritual by drinking a cyanide-laced potion came as U.S. commanders were throwing more helicopters into a search of the surrounding jungle in an attempt to find any survivors not previously located.

But U.S. officials reported that Guyanese forces, assisted by two American military helicopters, Thursday completed an extensive search of the few trails leaving Jonestown as well as waterways without finding signs of additional survivors.

Sources here said the officials reported "an extensive ground and aerial search" has so far uncovered "no evidence that any Jonestown inhabitants not currently accounted for fled into the surrounding area."

The reports said four more U.S. helicopters were today joining an aerial search ranging as far as the coastline and the Venezuelan border about 200 miles away.

Additional small boats and outboard motors are also being provided by the United States to aid in searching along streams and rivers, sources said.

But the Guyanese government was reducing the number of ground troops in-

Sanford Apartment House Fire Leaves Six Families Homeless

By JANE CABELLERRY Herald Staff Writer

Eight tenants in six apartments at 301 E. Fifth St., Sanford, were rudely awakened early today when a fire broke out in the 78-year-old wooden house where they lived forcing them to flee for their lives.

The fire apparently started in a corner of Apartment 2, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Durland about 1:30 a.m. The apartment was gutted. Raymond Landquist of 424 W. Crystal Drive, Sanford, owner of the building, said, "Thank God, everyone got out. The fire department was really on the ball, but the flames had a good start before they got here."

Earl Black, who was working late in his furniture store on Sanford Avenue and Fifth Street, had smelled smoke for sometime and he and a friend, Don Tabor, looked around for the fire. Durland came out of the house with a burning couch cushion and told the man "All the fire's out, I got it all out, it's all out."

Black then called the Sanford Fire Department and before they arrived, he said, the fire was coming out of the window of Durland's apartment. Black credited the quick response time by the firefighters with saving property and lives. Most of the fire damage was confined to Apartment 2, Apartment 4 upstairs, occupied by Dorothy Fowler, 80, and the hall and staircase area, while other occupants had smoke damage. Mrs. Fowler, overcome by smoke, was taken to Seminole Memorial Hospital where her condition is listed as satisfactory.

This morning residents of the building recalled their nightmarish experience as they re-entered the blackened and smoke permeated interior to find a place to stay with the help of the Red Cross.

The Mitchells had lived in the apartment for two years.

Joe Trombetta of Apartment 5 half awake and smelling smoke, was alerted by Mrs. Fowler. "She was screaming and banging on the door," he said. "I got my clothes on and had to get fresh air. I went downstairs, but I couldn't see her because the wall of smoke was so thick you could cut it with a knife."

"It was a nightmare. It was the first time I had been in a fire in a building. I could feel the heat building up. I groped my way down the back stairway in the pitch dark," said Trombetta, who had lived in the apartment for 18 months. "I'm packing up my stuff and leaving my valuables with friends while I find a place to stay," he added.

Seventy-four-year-old Ted Edwards lived in Apartment 3 upstairs for three years. "I retired late and woke up
