12 Sanford Firms Sued For Failure To Pay Sales Tax

Comptroller Lee Asks Restraining Order To Close Up Establishments In Suits

Legislative Act Of 1935 Is Cited

Landis Ascertains Failure To Report Or Pay Assessments

Comptroller J. M. Lee today institutes suits in the local circuit court to restrain 12 Sanford individuals and firms from doing business because the defendants have failed to comply with a State law requiring the payment of a sales tax.

In the bill of complaint originating in the office of Cary D. Landis, attorney general, it was set forth that the defendants had "failed and refused" to enter their returns showing gross sales on which the tax is based.

Landis pointed out that a statute passed by the 1935 legislature required that operators of certain businesses enter returns of their gross sales to State governmental authorities in Tallahassee.

Approximately 200 more sanitary units are yet to be placed in residences here under provisions adopted recently in a City ordinance, according to G. P. Paxton, City health inspector.

Mr. Paxton and Commissioner W. R. Dupree are overseeing installation of sewer disposal units that have been standardized by the State Board of Health.

In certain sections of the city where no sewer connections are possible, individual disposal plants are installed. Connections with a central system are made where such is feasible.

Owners of buildings complying with the ordinance pay only for the materials used in the operation.

Winter visitors expecting to attend the Chamber of Commerce reception at the Women's Club Saturday night were urged today to register at the Chamber office on Lakeshore Boulevard opposite Municipal Zoo.

Two building permits were issued here yesterday afternoon and this morning, according to City Hall records. They totaled $100.

Welfare Report Says 56 Clients Draw Pensions

484 Families Aided With Donations Of Food And Clothing

Fifty-six old age assistance cases are on the records of the Seminole County branch of the State Board of Social Welfare Department, according to a monthly report released today by the district office in Orlando.

Under provisions by which pension payments are made possible, the County will continue to furnish half the monthly amount until the legislature meets this year to authorize old age assistance funds being taken from the State treasury.

This social welfare unit in January furnished surplus commodities to 484 families, the report continued. Supplies consisted chiefly of beef, flour, dried peas, dried milk and clothing.

The social unit gave service as well as relief to 14 families which included cases of domestic difficulties, behavior or personality problems of children, unsatisfactory relationship between parents and children, mental health problems associated with old age, and adult personality problems.

The County organization made complete investigation of six cases for out-of-town agencies and placed seven applicants with the CCC.

Thirteen cases, in which all defendants were negroes, were disposed of yesterday afternoon in the weekly session of Municipal Court under City Judge Frank Miller.

Following are the defendants, the charges on which they were booked and the dispositions of the cases:

Willie Johnson, assault, $10 or 30 days; Mattie Butler, drunk and disorderly, $10 or 30 days; Freddie Byrd, disorderly conduct, sentenced $10 bond; Emma Thomas, assault, $10 or 30 days; James Thomas, disorderly conduct, $10 or 30 days.

Local Scout Troops Show Increase Of 36 In Year

Ritz Theater Gives Party For Youths In Recognition Of Scouting's 27th Birthday Anniversary

Thirty-six Boy Scouts were added to five local troops during the last 12 months, it was reported by Arthur Branan, an official of the Central Council, as Boy Scout Week moved into its second day.

Quoting statistics released by Dr. James E. West, Scout authority, Mr. Branan asserted that 6,000,000 boys have been affiliated with the organization since it was born 27 years ago this week.

The service these young citizens have rendered to America in flood and storm and emergency is truly impressive, he said.

Mr. Williams, who declined to reveal the names of the youngsters, declared that some of the individuals had given police previous trouble while others of the group were new to the department.

Chief Williams said he and Police Officers Charles Shaffer and J. A. Howard picked up information from some of the quintet's past records that divert suspicion on the five.

Arrests and an admission of guilt followed shortly, according to official reports.

The youths still were in the City Jail at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, but Chief Williams said he probably would arraign the defendants in juvenile court sometime late today.

Slavia District Destroys Issue Of Certificates

$80,000 In Old Bonds Burned As Refund Plan Takes Effect

The Slavia Drainage District yesterday afternoon destroyed $80,000 worth of bonds which had been refunded through a loan by the RFC.

In the presence of district supervisors, a large group watched flames consume the certificates which had been the means of producing funds that brought great improvement to the area in southeastern part of Seminole County.

Through the refunding operation, it was reported, the district managed to save about $64,000.

The drainage district, encompassing considerable muck land highly suitable for celery production, was created in 1920 and in 1927 the $80,000 bond issue was made for improvements to about 4,500 acres of land. The certificates drew six percent interest.

Later, at the time some $18,000 in interest was due, the district applied to the RFC for a $31,000 loan with which new bonds bearing four percent interest, were issued. This operation effected the huge saving.

The refined certificates were exchanged last Friday in Jacksonville.

The Slavia section was settled by citizens of Central Europe. Since several families immigrated into the region, it has been transformed from uncultivated land into a highly profitable farming land.

Present yesterday at the bond fire were the supervisors, Matt Stanko, president of the district, C. T. Niblack and John Duda. Among the former supervisors attending the event were George Breha, Joe Mikler and Paul Lucas.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanko served refreshments after the official ceremony.

Tree-Planting Honors Memory Of Gen. Sanford

Historical Paper By Mrs. J. N. Whitner Read At Function

Deep within the firm sod in the City Zoological Gardens yesterday afternoon a tree was planted, designed to be a living memorial to the efforts of Gen. Henry Sanford who gave time, energy and cash to build a city on the shores of Lake Monroe.

In the brilliance of a summer-like descending sun that bathed the landscape in a mid-winter warmth known only to Florida, City Commissioner W. A. Leffler read a paper prepared by Mrs. J. N. Whitner in which she set forth a plea for "an examination of ourselves to see what we are contributing to the beauty and advancement of our little City."

"A town or a community," Mrs. Whitner wrote, "is a reflection and a mirror of its people—a monument, whatever kind it may be, of those that have lived there."

Mrs. Whitner further wrote that the one of one's town, like like the love of one's home, is a natural instinct of many people, and is more highly cultivated by example and tradition.

In other parts of Mrs. Whitner's paper, she reviewed briefly some of the history of Sanford and commented on certain events of the founder's life.

Mrs. Whitner is former historian of the Sallie Harrison Chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution.

Preceding the reading of the historical paper, Mrs. R. J. Holly, DAR conservation chairman, made a short address in which she outlined the purpose of the afternoon's ceremony.

The Rev. Dr. E. D. Brownlee gave the invocation after which Mrs. Whitner and Mr. Leffler were introduced.

Seminole High School's band added to the function by staging a parade through the downtown section of the City and marching to the Zoological Garden.

C. D. Leffler Relates Humorous Stories Of Early Life In First Community

Romance Seen In Florida History

Rollins Professor Tells Of Battle On Lake Monroe

By PAT PATTERSON - Sanford closed her three-day centennial program last night with a dinner in the Episcopal Church Parish House where nearly 200 diners heard seven speakers laud the courage and spirit of Central Florida pioneers.

An attentive audience sought eagerly to grasp every word of tales about Gen. Henry Sanford; of the fateful battle on the morning of Feb. 8, 1837, when Capt. Charles Melton fell; of anecdotes of early settlers; of the romantic phase in Florida's history.

Fountains of humor popped up continuously in the address, reaching their height in the address of C. D. Leffler of Miami, who recalled his personal experiences in Meltonville where as a youth he lived with his family.

For 20 minutes he halted the time's advance and stripped the curtain from the past, telling of the "sneaking, drunken hero" that once roamed Meltonville thoroughfares after eating the refuse from an "orange bitters shop," a popular establishment half a century ago.

Mrs. Leffler traced the growth of Meltonville, its later merger with the then small community of Sanford. He asserted that the citizens of the present Sanford "have everything here to give the tourists, and will get them some day if the proper effort is put forth." He recommended advertising as the most effective method of calling this City's advantages to the attention of A. Mellon of Pittsburgh who of northern people.

Many localities heard for the first time the dramatic tale of the death of Capt. Melton, for whom the fort was named that was the nucleus for this City's early growth. The story was told by Prof. A. J. Hanna of Rollins College, pinch hitter for was unable to attend the dinner. (Continued on page six)

The Annual Tax Bill

According to an article appearing in the Times-Union yesterday, the annual tax bill of every man, woman and child in the country is $100. Furthermore, this article in quoting from a report of a staff of tax experts operating under the Twentieth Century Fund, Inc., goes on to show that this $100 a year is for the operation of city, county, and state governments only.

Putting it another way, the Century Fund reports that approximately one-fifth of every dollar that every man, woman, and child in this country earns is used to pay taxes. But what is even more significant is the statement that "the fraction would be close to one-fourth if borrowing were to be replaced by an increase in taxes."

The reason that no bigger protest is made against exorbitant taxation, the Century Fund further explains, is because most people do not realize they are being taxed to any great extent.

Taxes generally are collected from a very few persons. The big gasoline companies pay the exorbitant eight cent tax on gasoline and then raise the price of their gasoline, which every automobile owner has to buy, by enough to offset the tax.

Trailer Business

Palm Beach, in accordance with the desires of its socially prominent residents with lavish residences, large estates and exclusive bathing clubs, has taken drastic steps to keep the city clear of trailer tourists.

At the Detroit Automobile Show in 1936 Mr. Sherman got a batch of orders, reached a production of 189 trailers by 1933. That year his sales were $56,000. By 1935 he sold 1,100 trailers for $500,000. Last year, working night and day, Covered Wagon turned out 6,000 trailers worth some $3,000,000.

THE SANFORD FORUM

Editor The Herald: What is the matter with Sanford that it doesn't have a Trailer camp? This is the question that has been asked us ever and over again, as Mr. Davy and I have visited the many lovely and attractive trailer camps in Florida.

We have been very interested in the Winter Trailer visitors and have visited the camps from Daytona Beach to Sarasota, and the very first thing we were asked was why Sanford, such a pretty, attractive, place with fishing etc., offer did not have a camp.

Now every person in these trailers has to eat, buy food, gas for their cars, clothes to wear, shoes to show, and has to have entertainment. Why couldn't Sanford derive some of its business? We have beauty scenery, fishing, water, and sunshine to offer them, even Elder Springs water to drink.

Youthful Player Takes Lead Role In Navy Picture

Man the lifeboat! Run up the stern signals! "Ginger" Jane is in the Navy now, as the rollicking star of "The Holy Terror," the Twentieth Century-Fox riot of fun opening Wednesday at the Ritz Theater, laughable, pranks, riotous—a whirlwind of mischief, excitement and joy—that's Jane Withers, and the starring role which makes her the joy of the multiplex, and the despair of the Admirals.

Aided and abetted in the gayest concert of her madcap career by Anthony Martin, Leah Ray, Joan Davis, El Brendel and Joe Lewis, the anguished imp sings her way into trouble, and dances her way right out again.

As the pet of the Navy at base, Jane Withers gets into such mischief that Anthony Martin, a sailor, is assigned to look after her. This is all right with Jane, because Anthony, in love with Leah Ray, the owner of "The Golden Anchor," a sailor's hangout, spends most of his time at the inn.

However, Jane and her sailor pals, already in trouble for lathering a Navy Officer, in the belief that he is a spy, pour their displeasure when the musical show they present at the inn breaks up in a frazzle, started by impertinent strangers, by sailor pals. Because of his "The Golden Anchor" is declared "out of bounds" for the girls.

She has been visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Griffin, for some time.

Leo A. Conoley has gone to Miami where he has accepted a position under the State Racing Commission. He will return to Sanford Sunday and will be accompanied back to Miami by Mrs. Conoley.

The World of Stamps

By QUINTON JAMES

Known to collectors as the "Aguinaldo issues," a group of stamps issued in the Philippines nearly 30 years ago is finally receiving catalog recognition.

Although the exact date of their appearance is not certain, the stamps are inscribed 1898 and 1899, the time that Republica Filipina existed under the presidency of General Emilio Aguinaldo.

The latest issue of the U. S. catalog classifies these stamps under "Filipino revolutionary government issues." It lists 21 major varieties, divided into postage, registration, newspaper, revenue and telegraph stamps as well as revenue stamped paper. Apparently, except for the revenue stamped paper, the various types were used indiscriminately in the mails.

In unused condition the stamps are fairly common and have a low market value. However, those bearing cancellations or attached to covers are considered quite valuable; comparatively few are known to exist in this condition. No doubt they were not so widely used in the mails as they set up under Aguinaldo.

Each of the stamps, besides the dates, bears the letters "K K K." They represent the first three words of the society known in

When Admiral Dewey captured Manila, the Republica Filipina was in control of all the islands except Manila and vicinity and the naval station at Cavite. The Filipinos cooperated in the capture of Manila, but in the Spanish surrender there was a proviso that Filipino insurgents not be allowed to enter the city.

During this period, American soldiers found plenty of evidence of the activities of the republican government, including establishment of postal and other services for which stamps were printed. Many of these stamps were found and sent home as souvenirs. Some soldier collectors like Colonel Goodale tried to obtain as many varieties as possible.

tells how Senators choose a light smoke... considerate of their throats

"I often lunch in the Senate restaurant at the Capitol. Nearly every Senator and Representative there smokes, and the number I see take out a package of Luckies is quite surprising. Perhaps surprising is not the word. Because off and on, ever since 1917, I myself have used Luckies for this sound reason: They really are a light smoke—kind to the throat. It's simply common sense that these Senators and Representatives, whose voices must meet the continuous strain of public speaking, should also need a cigarette that is considerate of their throats... a light smoke."

In a recent independent survey, an overwhelming majority of lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc., who said they smoked cigarettes, expressed their personal preference for a light smoke.

Mrs. Longworth's statement verifies the wisdom of this preference and so do leading artists of radio, stage, screen and opera, whose voices are their fortunes, and who choose Luckies, a light smoke. Seminole Cagers And DeLand Clash Here Tonight

Bulldogs Come Here To Avenge Setback Handed Them On DeLand Court

Couch Melucas Lifts Ban On Suspended Players, May Use Them As Starters

Trio Put Off Team Week Ago

Local B Squad Plays DeLand B Team In Preliminary Tilt

The DeLand Bulldogs, who have been making great strides toward improvement since their last battle with the Seminole High School cagers, will be the main attraction at a basketball game here tonight when they tangle with the "Colony" Feds.

Defeated 42 to 27 on their own floor a little more than two weeks ago, the Bulldogs come here tonight with vengeance in their eyes, planning to take into camp what they believe is a crippled Sanford squad.

The Sanfordites, showing more or less poorly in their last two contests, due partly to the absence of three of the members of the squad who had been suspended indefinitely for disobedience of orders, and partly to the nervousness of the boys who replaced them. However, since Coach Leonard Melucas has lifted the suspension, all three are expected to be in action tonight although as yet, the local manager has not determined the starters for the contest. The three who were absent under the suspension ban included Jack Purdon, center, Lester Phillips second string forward, and John Morgan, regular guard. Art Williams, who missed one game due to failure to keep up his scholastic standing made up his work to the satisfaction of his tutors, permitting him to rejoin the squad last Friday.

In all likelihood, the starting lineup for the Bulldogs will include, Sample and Coggin, forwards, Shadburn, center, and McMillan and Kiehligher, guards.

Preceding the varsity game, the B squad will clash with the DeLand B squad in a contest scheduled to begin at 7:30 o'clock. In their last meeting, the local crew scored a 28-11 win over the little Bulldogs.

THAT'S NO EXCUSE

EAST LANSING, Mich., Feb. 9.—(AP)—Michigan State's baseball players won't get by with the old strikeout alibi of not having a suitable bat next spring. Coach John Kobs asked a representative of a bat manufacturing concern to provide a complete display of the big sticks. All candidates for the team were told to "choose their weapons."

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Brooklyn is sure of leading the National league in one thing in '37—namely, southpaw outfielders. Eight of the nine Dodger outfielders are left-hand hitters.

Seeders Drop From Tie For Top Post; Lose Two Games Of 3

Winning two out of three games from the Valdes Hotel bowlers, the H. B. Pope pin tumbler took the lead in the Sanford Bowling Club as the Kilgore Seed Company crew, previously tied with Pope's for first place, dropped two out of three to the New York Life combine in matches which took place last week.

The Pope outfit won the first game by a margin of 85 pins and at the Hoosiers down in the second game by an edge of 104 sticks, losing the finale by 10 pins.

The Seeders dropped their first game to the Insurance group by a margin of 39 sticks.

Indians last won a series from the Bears in 1921, but didn't stop California that year from winning the conference title.

BULLS YIELD TO BOXERS
MEXICO CITY, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Boxing may supersede bullfighting as the national pastime of Mexico. Then he studied the science of grappling as hard as he studied his textbooks. He took third place in the Big Ten conference in his weight the first season. He advanced to second as a junior. This year he's aiming one step higher.

The Roumillat and Anderson quint moved ahead of the J. C. Hutchinson team, winning two out of three from the latter as the former lost the first game by eight sticks won the second by 80 sticks and then copped the third by 67 sticks.

Dr. Scott took three game high with a total of 570 pins to his credit.

To Make NEW FRIENDS AND Keep THE OLD

Your telephone is a means of quick personal contact with those friends and relatives whom you do not visit as often as you would like, especially those who live in other cities.
More and more people who are separated by distances are using "long distance" telephone service to keep friendships alive and to maintain family ties. The relief from anxiety and the pleasure of hearing a friendly, cheerful voice, gives satisfaction and value which are almost priceless.
Yet the cost of a telephone conversation between friends or relatives who are miles apart is surprisingly low. You can get an idea of the low cost of "long distance" from the lists of cities and rates which you will find in the front section of your telephone directory.
If the town you wish to call is not listed in the front of your telephone directory, just ask your "long distance" operator. She will gladly quote rates to any point.

Prof. Hanna, a history instructor, related that Capt. Nelson came from France in 1804, was an artillery officer, devoted to the study of captives after two years of service, and that he "devoted his life to the cause of the army."

Mrs. Roland Stone, of Sanford, took several historical facts pertaining to Florida and showed how they furnish a romantic background for the State.

She told of 4-masted schooners riding anchor in Miami during the 1800s; the huge cylinders of Pan-American Airways ready to spring into the air and waite two continents in an immediate short time; of the romantic atmosphere surrounding Tallahassee when Lafayette was given a land grant for his participation in the Revolutionary War.

Mrs. Dean said one of the high romantic points in Florida's past was the great struggle between Ribault of France and Menéndez of Spain for a foothold in the New World, particularly around St. Augustine.

She also introduced Mrs. J. N. Whitner, whose historical research provided the basis for much of the fascinating story of Melleoville and early Orange County.

Algernon Spear, a descendant of one of the pioneer families here, sketched briefly a history of some of the early settlers.

He said the first influx of the white race into this section probably was inspired in 1836 by Col. Fanning who commanded a detachment of troops on the site where Ft. Mellon was later erected.

Families poured into the vicinity for several years until the Civil War brought a temporary halt to immigration. Among those arriving here first were the families of City. Cowan, Brock, Munday, 1908.

500 Annual Dinner Changing Controversial Pioneers Lauded

After the Civil War another influx of settlers brought, among other families those of Humphrey, Caldwell and Whitner.

J. C. Chase, president of the Florida Historical Society, read a paper by his brother, H. G. Chase, relating some of the latter's personal contacts with Gen. Sanford.

The two met in 1878 and their relations were not severed until 1891 when Mr. Chase drove the general to a local wharf where he boarded a steamer for his old Connecticut hometown but died en route.

Mr. Chase told of Gen. Sanford's drift, of his involvement in the Singer Sewing Machine Company which later paid him as much as $50,000 per year. He also recalled the plans made by Gen. Sanford for this City, many of which he now recalled before his death.

Gen. Sanford, according to Mr. Chase, at one time attempted to buy 4,000,000 acres of land in Central Florida at 10 cents per acre but was defeated when a rival bid 25 cents per acre. Mr. Chase was the general's secretary.

T. E. Simpson, president of the Chamber of Commerce, was the dinner's toastmaster. In brief remarks before introducing each of the speakers given to the pioneers such of the credit for the "re-naissance program" evidenced here.

Mayor Ed Higgins extended the official greetings of the City and in line with the ceremonial said he hoped "that some future generation will honor its own future citizens the names of some of those sitting here tonight."

Mrs. E. J. Lohman, chairman of Pioneer's Day activities, publicly thanked every person and individual who had part in making the ceremonial program a success.

Mrs. Sam Finkston, regent of the Galle Harrison Chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution, sponsors of the event, made a brief address in which she sketched the highlights of the City's history.

Film Fans Hate To Hate, Says Hollywood Villain

By SHEEN COORS
HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 9.—(AP)—The set of "Waikiki Wedding" and the elaborate set-like ceremony was in progress, without however the presence of the star, Bing Crosby.

The set was brilliant with flowers and ornamental robes—the robes on the bride and bridegroom and the native priest, the flowers on the trees and shrubs, and garlands about the houses of native-children, black-haired hale girls.

The girls—and native men—were dressed in a circle, ready to be taken at the command of LeRoy Prinz, the dance director, and Frank Tuttle, the director. They were going into their dance and into other exotic matrimonial scenes of the island. Suddenly Prinz, seeing a woman in the circle, called out:

"Virginia! Virginia Hogan!"

"Coming" came from off-stage, followed by the slim form of a dark-skinned, black-haired girl who took her place in line.

Hogan in Hawaii? No, smiled Mrs. Louise Beamer, the technical advisor, tolerantly. That was make-up. Miss Hogan would be an Irish as her name.

In fact, continued Scotch-Irish-Hawaiian Mrs. Beamer, who has a school of the dance in Honolulu, and came over especially to "assist" on this film, there is just one native Hawaiian girl in the whole crowd: Mabel Keolu, who lives here and dances in a night club. The others are all make-believe—for a sad but inevitable reason.

"Hawaiian girls won't do," said Mrs. Beamer, "because they begin to put on weight very early. Some of them are two-fingered eaters—a lady, you know, eats with one finger. The food is rich and fattening. Many of them don't care. We interviewed some 500 girls, but Mabel was the only full-blooded Hawaiian we could use."

Why then, I wanted to know, don't these some organization of native girls who would agree to keep in trim for picture careers? The answer was—movie cycles. There is no frequent demand for such types. When there is, all the studios want them at once. As now, when besides "Waikiki Wedding" there are the productions "Hurricane" and "Wings Over Honolulu" clamoring for both artists.

Another English picture—this one, "Fire Over England"—gives a time "Fire Over England"—gives a dollar a second.

Two Movements By Rebels Aid Fascist Cause

MADRID, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Fascism's offensive in Spain, aimed for more than three months, marched across two fronts today and seemingly took two long strides toward the domination of Spain.

Fascist leaders said it was the beginning of the end.

No matter how a security-restricted rebel army could complete control of Malaga, second support of Spain, than from the front outside of Madrid came the announcement that the Madrid-Valencia road had been cut a few miles south of the City. That severed the main artery of supplies for Madrid and closed direct communication between this important capital and Valencia, western seat of the Socialist Government.

It also advanced the slow and difficult Fascist encirclement of Madrid.

Fascist leaders said the capture of Malaga would enable the southern army to join in an attack on Madrid and predicted the fall of this capital.

The Socialist Government denied Fascist claims of victory on the road to Valencia.

Hollywood an urge to invite back an actor it once had. His name is Lawrence Olivier, who with his wife Jill Esmond was here before.

Olivier does an emotional role in this political, romantic, sometime swashbuckling film about Queen Elizabeth and the Spanish Armada—and he does it with such telling effect upon ladies in the audience that a Hollywood bid is inevitable.

Shi insurance is the latest winner wrinkle. A British insurance firm will insure skin against break-up. Fire, theft and burglary for time "Fire Over England"—gives a dollar a second.

STAR BUT NOT STARTER

UNIVERSITY, Ala., Feb. 9.—(AP)—Paul (Slim) Estes, "Bama" soph, scored 10 points in the recent Tide-Tennessee cage game to lead scorers. He's third in scoring on the team, with 30 points. He has an unusual knack of handling the ball and holding onto it. Yet—he's not a starter.

North Sneed, senior center, starts, with Estes substituted early in each contest.

Derrick's, Sea Divers Exerting Efforts To Lift Ship From Depths Of Pacific

Air Death Total Expanded To 46

Prominent Persons Reported Aboard Ill-Fated Ship

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10 (AP)—Its 11 occupants given up for dead, a wrecked United Airlines plane was found under water in South San Francisco Bay today where it plunged last night after passing up a landing field. Several prominent westerners, including one millionaire, were aboard.

Derrick's and sea divers tried today to lift plane and its cargo of bodies from the water but expected operation to take most of the day. The plane weighed 12 tons.

The tragedy increased to 43 the number who died in western transport crashes since Dec. 15. Witnesses said the plane came into the landing field, after the radio operator at the field had given the pilot instructions for a landing, but instead of settling to the ground the ship turned and headed out over the bay. About one mile offshore it plunged into the water "with a big wham," witnesses said.

Those aboard plane listed as Rodgers Meyer, Ridgewood, New Jersey; M. Lodge, Los Angeles; Mark Fontana, 57-year-old millionaire manufacturer and yachtsman of San Francisco; J. F. Gilmore, Los Angeles; H. Margerum, San Bruno, Calif.; H. H. Friedlander, Berkeley, Calif.; his daughter, Gertrude, socially prominent bride-to-be; Pilot Tommy Thompson, veteran flier; copilot Joe Derricks; and Stewardess Ruth Kimmel.

Other action by the Society included the appointment of Mrs. A. W. Knox, C. L. Park and D. G. Scott to the permanent Hospital Committee.

Dr. T. J. Denton was named to represent the Society at the next session of the Florida Tuberculosis and Health Association.

The entire membership of the Society attended the session in Emerald Lighthouse Memorial Hospital. Membership is as follows: Dr. H. D. Smith, president; Dr. J. N. Tolar, vice-president; Dr. Scott, secretary; Mrs. Denton, Knox, Langley, T. P. McDaniel, C. M. Mitchell, Park, S. Puleston, and G. S. Schuman, all of Sanford, and Dr. J. W. Martin of Oviedo.

Uniform Charter Committee Plans Tampa Discussion

The first move in Florida to draft uniform municipal charters will be made Thursday in Tampa when representatives of that city, Jacksonville and Miami assemble to study tentative plans for placing all State municipalities under the same governing code.

Fred R. Wilson, Sanford attorney, is a member of the State Committee named by Sen. John R. Beaham to study the possibilities of drawing up a uniform charter for cities with a population of 7,500 to 20,000.

While the Tampa-Miami-Jacksonville Committee is the first of seven committees to call a session for chart discussion, the activity is expected to expedite action by the other six.

Sen. Beaham has requested that all Committees make some report within the next 30 days.

Shipping Changes Subject Of Conclave

Proposed changes in container specifications of loading rules for fresh fruits, vegetables and melons were being discussed in Orlando today at the fifth docked hearing of Association of American Railroads.

All Seminole County shippers and container manufacturers displayed an interest in the session. Railroad interests here, too, were watching developments.
