To Weigh Brains

This is Dr. Arthur Macdonald, of Washington, who wants to measure the heads of all congressmen. He has a theory that he can determine the weight of a man's brain by certain head measurements and he thinks congressmen will be ideal for his experiments.

LEAGUE SECRETS ARE DISCLOSED IN LODGE'S BOOK

Late Senator From Massachusetts Blames Wilson For Failure of Pact; Struggle Over Agreement Related

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The League of Nations fight and the compelling forces underlying it are described by one of its chief figures, the late Henry Cabot Lodge, in a book entitled "The League and the League of Nations," placed on sale today by Scribner, who holds the copyright.

The manuscript was written by Senator Lodge a month before his death and in it he attributes full responsibility for defeat of the league to the unbending attitude of President Wilson, who he says was actuated throughout by "an overwhelming thought of self."

He adds what amounts to a deathbed declaration that although he worked and voted for ratification of the league with reservations, he was thankful in the end that it had been defeated. In practice, he says, the league thus far has proved futile for the purpose for which it ostensibly was designed.

Several hitherto unpublished incidents of the ratification struggle are related in the book, although in the main the late foreign relations committee chairman obviously was striving to set down for posterity a compact account of that historic battle. Much of the manuscript is made up of speeches, statements and other data taken from the congressional record.

It does disclose for the first time, however, how in March, 1919, Republican leaders escaped what they thought was a trap to commit them beforehand to support the league. On the advice of Elihu Root, Philander C. Knox and others, Mr. Lodge declined an invitation to address the Wilson peace commission in Paris on what changes in the covenant would satisfy the senate. He replied instead that if the President desired to consult the senate, he should call it into session.

CABINET HEAD SUBMITS STILL BIGGER TAX CUT

Revised Schedule Presented To House Ways and Means Committee on Thursday By the Secretary of Treasury

Plan Represents Cut Of About 40 Million

Scheme Is Made On Basis To Eliminate Provision Allowing 25 Per Cent on Incomes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Slightly greater reductions on the normal income tax rates than he suggested Monday were proposed Thursday by Secretary Mellon in a revised schedule submitted to the house ways and means committee.

The new proposal of the treasury affecting these rates, which are the ones applying to small incomes, was figured on a basis calling for elimination of the provision in the present law allowing a 25 per cent reduction on earned incomes.

The schedule provides for rates of one per cent on the one per cent on the first $3,000 of taxable income, two per cent on the $3,000, three per cent on the next $4,000, and five per cent on taxable income in excess of $8,000.

Present normal rates are two per cent on the first $4,000 of taxable income, four per cent on the next $4,000 and six per cent on the remainder.

Mr. Mellon's letter forwarding these rates to Chairman Green as a suggestion but not as a definite plan, did not mention that they were calculated on a basis of elimination of the 25 per cent earned income reduction provision, which applies to incomes up to $10,000, and embraces all incomes, whatever the source, up to $20,000, who framed the schedule declared, however, that the estimates were conditioned on these cuts.

Mr. McCoy estimated that the reduction in total revenue involved in these cuts in the normal rates would be $40,000,000. Mr. Mellon's suggestion Monday that the surtax rate maximum be reduced to 20 per cent from the present level of 40 per cent was not altered in today's communication.

The secretary's letter was read today at the outset of the fourth day of public hearings by the committee, which plans to continue through next week before beginning work on its new bill. Both Democratic and Republican members of the committee expressed approval of the new schedule as compared with the suggestions he advanced Monday, which called for normal rates of one per cent on the first $3,000 of taxable income, three per cent on the next $4,000 and five per cent on the remainder of income.

John Robinson's Circus Is Late Arrival For Annual Appearance In This City

"Oh Maw! Here they come up our street!" Dorgan's phraseology will likely be heard on more than one street in Sanford today. For John Robinson's Circus, complete with elephants, camels, clowns and calipers, horses and dogs, lovely ladies and acrobats and heavy, rumbling, brightly painted cages full of awe-inspiring former denizens of other climes, arrive in Sanford this morning to present the local residents with the only large exhibition of marvels which will appear here this year under canvas.

The train did not arrive from Bartow until nearly 10 o'clock, but the circus personnel was equal to the occasion. A systematic and highly efficient organization of workmen was actively engaged within a few minutes after the long flats and stock cars were spotted, and the wagons, cages, tents, boats and other paraphernalia started leaving the train.

Because of the delay incurred enroute to this city, and the late arrival here, the management announced that plans for the parade had been abandoned.

The circus grounds on Union Avenue had already been mapped out by the 24 hour agent, so that when the first wagons reached the city, they were put into position. The cook-house, which requires seven long wagons was the first to reach the grounds and within 50 minutes after being located breakfast was being served to the 700 members of the big circus.

Horse tents, menagerie tents, blacksmith tents, the side-show and annex were raised into the air almost simultaneously and then the big seven pole "top" which seats in the neighborhood of 8,000 people greeted the noon-day sun. Hundreds of employees were busy on the grounds, getting everything in readiness for the afternoon performance, which started about 45 minutes late.

Trained wild animals are the primary feature of the John Robinson Circus and noted subjects are: Ricardo, Theo Schroeder, Nellie Roth, R. McKay, Lorraine Wallace, Lone Carle and others will send their jungle charges through sensational routines in the big steel arena. Two of the extraordinary features are the fighting tiger and the quartet of Siberian polar bears.

Beautiful women and thoroughbred horses predominate in several other displays, especially the menage number and fox-hunt scene. Several of the horses are prize winners at the national horse shows, including "Texas Tommy," "Boston," "Dixie Maid" and "Miss America." Two feature riding acts are offered by the Rudyon family. FEDERAL PROBE OF SHIP FIRE IS ENDED THURSDAY

"Hero of Comanche Fire" Is Quizzed by Captain Harney at Her Bedside; Decision in Case Will Be Made Shortly

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Federal investigation here of the steamship Comanche disaster off the Florida coast last Saturday night has been concluded, it was announced Thursday afternoon by Captain George W. Harney, Norfolk, Va., supervising inspector of the United States local steamship inspection service, after he had questioned, at her bedside, Mrs. Walter B. Frazier of Atlanta, a passenger on the vessel.

Captain Harney is to leave Jacksonville when the transcription of the court stenographer. He did not indicate what decision in the case would be made.

BIG RUM PLOT DISCOVERED BY TAMPA AGENTS

Two In Coast Guard Service Are Involved In Conspiracy Unearthed By Federal Authorities On Thursday

Whiskey Valued At $36,000 Is Seized

Large Consignment of Cognac Found In Hillsborough Bay Gave Officers First Clue

TAMPA, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Evidence of an alleged plot by men in the government coast guard service and rum runners to land liquor on Florida shores was revealed here Thursday with the arrest of four persons on federal indictments charging conspiracy to violate the national prohibition law.

The indictments were secretly returned against L. D. Austin, chief boatswain's mate of the coast guard cutter No. 247; William H. Chase, formerly in command of the same vessel, stationed at Tampa; Danton Claremont, alleged rum runner and already under indictment on charges brought by immigration officials, and Robert Turner, said to be his partner.

Discovery of 728 sacks of cognac concealed in the waters of Tampa Bay near Manatee river by Capt. L. A. Yancey, commander of the United States coast guard cutter No. 235, led to the suspicion that it was more than an ordinary case of smuggling. The cognac, bottled and sacked, was valued at $36,000. Subsequent investigation by special agents of the customs service, called in after the big find by Tampa agents, followed a long, winding trail, that reached out to the Honduras steamer Nena Sande, from which the liquor is said to have been taken, back in July.

According to testimony laid before the federal grand jury by customs officials, the Nena Sande was seized July 22 about 11 miles off Anclote lighthouse by coast guard cutter No. 236. The manifest showed she was bound from Havana to Trujillo, Honduras.

Brought to Tampa, the vessel was held while investigation was made as to the exact place of seizure. There was lack of proof to show that she had come within the twelve mile limit. The crew meanwhile asserted that she had been driven off her course by high winds. In the absence of direct evidence that she had passed the deadline, 12 miles out, the Nena Sande was ordered released. She cleared through the regular channels and was permitted to proceed from Tampa for Trujillo, via Havana.

Civic Committee Is Appointed To Study Recreational Needs

ROAD PROBLEMS CONSIDERED BY LOCAL CHAMBER

Suggestions Made at Chamber of Commerce Meeting Would Provide Means of Securing Relief From Conditions Soon

Following a report by S. O. Shiholzer regarding the condition of the Sanford-DeLand highway, a general discussion of the good roads problem as applied to Sanford and Seminole county, commanded the attention of Chamber of Commerce members at their weekly luncheon today.

A number of suggestions were introduced at this time which are expected to arouse the interest of road department heads at Tallahassee in the present condition of a number of highways in this section of the state which are said to be badly in need of attention.

Some of them, it was declared, are under construction, but building operations have been reduced on account of the prevalent congestion of freight in Florida.

Suggestions presented today included plans for the formation of a motorcade, to be made up of representative business men from Sanford and the surrounding country, which would be sent to Tallahassee in an effort to obtain relief in the present situation.

Another plan introduced provides for a community dinner to be held here, to which Mrs. A. Hathaway, chairman of the State Road Department, would be invited to attend, and at which time the question would be thoroughly discussed with the idea of reaching some solution. All of these proposals were held for further consideration.

In connection with the road talk, Fred T. Williams, county engineer, reported to the members that forces employed by him had completed plans and advertising for the construction of 42 miles of road in Seminole county. He explained that bids will be received on the entire project and will be held returnable Nov. 16. This program includes new hard surfaced roads in every section of Seminole county.

Following the road discussion, it was announced that Sanford is in a much better position at this time to handle the flood of freight traffic pouring into the state, than the majority of cities in this section. It was pointed out that with the different embargoes now effective over Florida, shipping conditions are rapidly becoming worse, but that Sanford is comparatively free from any shortage other than that resulting from the state of traffic elsewhere.

Woman's Club Efforts Result in Selection Of Body to Plan An Amusement Center

Local Clubs Join Hands In Project

Over 100 Are Present At Banquet Given On Thursday Night

The first step in the city wide movement to provide recreational facilities for Sanford's visitors this winter, was taken Thursday night at a banquet at the woman's club when a committee, composed of representatives from the various civic organizations, was appointed to begin work immediately upon an entertainment program that could be put into effect upon the opening of the tourist season.

Members of the committee, appointed by Edward Higgins, town master for the occasion, include: Chairman, Howard Hulick of the Chamber of Commerce, Leon L. LeRoy of the Rotary Club; W. R. Smith of the Kiwanis Club, Frank W. Talbot of the Lions Club, Mrs. Henry Wright of the Woman's Club, Mrs. Anne Van Ness Brown of the Municipal Library, J. R. Emory of the Sanford Yacht Club and S. O. Shiholzer of the City Planning Commission.

Decision to appoint a committee to devise ways and means of meeting the situation came as a result of a motion by W. M. Scott, followed by a number of enthusiastic talks by representatives from every civic organization in the city.

Originated With Woman's Club Last night's banquet was given as the result of the efforts of Mrs. W. L. Henley, chairman of the Welfare Department of the Woman's Club, and officials of the Chamber of Commerce. The idea of providing an entertainment center here originated in the Woman's Club, according to Mr. Higgins in explaining the purpose of the gathering and the efforts of that organization in creating interest in the project were lauded by the various speakers of the evening.

Howard Hulick, one of the builders of the Hotel Forrest Lake, was the principal speaker, and in a short address enumerated the recreational needs of Sanford for the coming season. Among other things, he declared that the city should have tennis courts, horse shoe pitching courts, shuffle boards, roque and croquet courts and other forms of recreation in addition to suitable equipment for small children.

Mr. Hulick praised the Rotary Club for its Boy Scout work, the Kiwanians for their efforts in trying to secure a Y. M. C. A. for Sanford, the newly formed Lions Club for sponsoring the movement to secure play-ground equipment for children and the Woman's Club for its part in suggesting the recreational project and its cooperation in every civic endeavor.

Mr. Hulick pledged support to the new hotel and expressed the hope that the new hotel will be used by the people of Sanford as one of their places for entertainment. A statement by Mr. Hulick which elicited much applause was that "so far as the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act are concerned, the Hotel Forrest Lake will be conducted in strict accordance with the law."

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—While it would cause terrific temporary confusion, treasury officials generally agree that the discovery of a cheap method of transmuting base metal into gold would not for very long continue to cripple the currency system of a country like the United States.

Several scientists claim actually to have produced synthetic gold, though at a cost greater than the synthetic product's market value. Whether or not these claims are well founded, most scientific men of today admit their possibility and that the process might conceivably be so cheapened as to rob gold of its monetary utility.

This worries the treasury folk very little, even stretching credulity so far as to concede such a situation. The experts don't believe some other metal, like platinum, would be substituted for gold—that might be produced artificially, too.

Bartering goods would be extremely inconvenient. A system of tokens representing labor performed is one suggestion.

But by far a majority of the treasury people think the best plan would be to place a kind of mortgage on the nation's natural resources and base paper money issues on that, which would give them an even truer value than issues based on a gold reserve.

Membership Drive At Capitol Ends As Services Are Held

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 22.—(AP)—The Y. M. C. A. membership campaign, conducted recently at the State College for Women, ended with installation services, which were featured by a short address by Blanche Curry, of Key West, vice president of the organization, and a procession.

The installation took place in front of the Administration Building. All new members wore white, as also did the smaller Cabinet of the "Y. W." The new girls formed a procession, marching out of the Administration building, between the two lines of cabinet members, and each received a lighted candle as a symbol of her membership.

Jeanne King, of Bonifay, president of the college's organization, administered the oath of membership, and the charge to the old members, following Miss Curry's talk. The procession then formed a ring around the fountain, and held their lighted candles high to form a fiery circle.

In the membership campaign the new girls were urged to sign up in various rooms by personal talks and clever posters on the bulletin boards. About three hundred of the Freshman class signed up as members.

The installation services are of the most beautiful of ceremonies held at the college during the year.

Landis Favors Move To Shorten Major Schedules In 1926

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Kenesaw Mountain Landis, baseball commissioner, favors concluding the 1926 campaigns of the major league a week earlier than heretofore to avoid conflicting with the opening of the football season, and also the disagreeable weather for the world's series. He believes the last Sunday in September is the proper time for the teams to finish the season, starting the world's series two or three days later.

"This question will be among those scheduled for discussion at the joint session of the American and National Leagues next December," Commissioner Landis said Tuesday night, adding that if the season is shortened, the usual schedules of 154 games would be maintained.

Hard Surfaced Roads In Charlotte County

PUNTA GORDA, Oct. 22.—Charlotte County last week voted a bond issue of $1,788,895 to expand its highway system and almost before the ballots were counted had received bids and awarded the contract for the work. The Broadbent Construction Company, which recently completed State Road No. 5 from Punta Gorda to Miaka River, one of the finest pieces of road work in the state, was the successful bidder. The construction company will begin building the new highways within the next ten days, its officials announced. Nine-three miles of hard surfaced road will be constructed.

TAKE HARD COAL FROM RIVER BED FOR MARKET USE

Dredges Remoe Coal Dust From Bottom of Three Pennsylvania Rivers As Anthracite Strike Is Felt

HARRISBURG, Oct. 22.—(AP)—Hard coal sucked from the beds of three rivers, much of it washed out as fine as sand by a method similar to the principle of panning gold, is in greater demand as the result of the strike of anthracite coal miners.

The "miners" working the Susquehanna, Lehigh and Schuylkill rivers annually take approximately a half-million tons of hard coal from their beds—coal picked up by these rivers as they traverse the anthracite coal regions. The industry is the outgrowth of careless mining methods of early days.

When coal was plentiful and easily obtained little effort was made by operators to save the small sizes or to utilize any that was swept into the culm banks. These banks piled up along the streams in the vicinity of the collieries and washeries until thousands of tons accumulated. Much of this waste went into the streams and huge quantities of coal of good quality but small in size were washed down by the spring freshets.

When the discovery was made that this coal was of value efforts were started to recover it. The methods most employed consist of the use of suction pumps by which the coal is drawn from the river beds upon flat scows. The sand is washed out and the resulting product is a good grade of hard coal, much of it as fine as sand.

Its use requires special blower attachments upon boilers but many residents of the region where the bulk of the river coal is recovered have found the installation of the apparatus an economy and use it in their homes. Public utility plants in the vicinity of the largest consumers. During the last few years the quantity of river coal recovered has decreased as a result of better mining methods and increased utilization of the small sizes.

The river coal "miner" is not a miner in the general sense of the word. He has no affiliation with the hard coal industry itself. Each dredge out coal valued at more than $600,000. Shipments by dredgers along the Susquehanna river were reported as considerably heavier during September than usual, although the season had not been more than ordinarily successful.

Virginian Fined For Toting Gun on Sunday

WINCHESTER, Va., Oct. 22.—(AP)—Just as Gus Hill of Strasburg was about to appeal a conviction in justice's court for having a pistol in his possession, the Commonwealth's attorney dug up an ancient law of Virginia which prohibited the possession of a pistol on the Sabbath no matter what the pretext. The statute had never been repealed. Hill's offense had been committed on the Sabbath, and the justice accordingly assessed a heavy fine.

Mayo Advises Home Training For Boys In Rural Sections

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 23.—(P) "The advantages to the rural sections, and to the country at large, of agricultural, and home demonstration club work for boys and girls has been well established to be open for discussion," Nathan Mayo, commissioner of agriculture declared in a statement issued for use during observance of Boys' and Girls' Club Enrollment Week, Oct. 19 to 24. "The only thing I can do is to emphasize the good work that is being done through these clubs. It is now admitted by agriculturists that education is needed by the farmer as much as it is needed by men engaged in commerce, finance and the professions," Mr. Mayo added. "That education should center around agricultural subjects, and the club work is the most effective method of teaching the youths of the country the why and the how of farming in all its phases, goes without saying," the agricultural commissioner continued. "The more one knows about what he is doing, the more satisfaction he gets out of it. When the boy learns the reasons for every character of work which he does in order to produce a crop, he gets more satisfaction from his work, puts more enthusiasm into it, and gets better results.

"Billy's" Court Martial

Wednesday's despatches told the story of the selection of the court which will try Colonel "Billy" Mitchell for the violation of the Ninety-sixth Article of War and set the date on which the trial will begin. Under this article of war punishment might be anything from reprimand to dismissal from the service.

Inasmuch as under the rules of the court martial Colonel Mitchell will not have the right to set forth any "extenuating circumstance" or make any reasonable defense of his conduct and will be tried solely on the question of "prejudice of good order and military discipline" and as there is no question but that Colonel Mitchell did raise "the merry hob" with his superiors, he will in all probability be dismissed.

What the effect of such action upon Mitchell's popularity among his countrymen at large will be, is interesting to contemplate. Americans will not judge Mitchell with the same strict adherence to technical military custom as will the high ranking Army officers. Americans will recall that Mitchell saw his brother killed when a plane in which he was flying came to pieces in mid air.

They will recall that Mitchell is the ablest flying officer in America. They will recall that when he attempted to improve aviation in this country, he was removed to an out-of-the-way post where it was thought his voice could not be heard. They will recall that at least some of the things Mitchell said about incompetence and politics in the Army and Navy Departments have since been proved.

What do Americans in general care if Mitchell did tell his superiors where to get off? It is exactly what most of them would have wanted to do under the same circumstances.

Only The Jails Are Open

Standing before the justice of a New York court, Benjamin Starr awaited sentence. The wind howled outside and the thermometer was dropping to near the freezing point. It was going to be another cold night when sleeping under the stars in Central Park would be rendered almost impossible by chilled blood and aching limbs.

"Thank God," he cried, when the judge pronounced a sentence not to exceed three years. "I have nobody in this world," he said, "I want to go to prison this winter so that I can be sure someone will look after me."

It is difficult to realize that such conditions exist in this free country of ours in our age of civilization. To most of us nothing could be more unpleasant than having to spend a night in jail. Yet here is a man who deliberately goes out to commit a crime so that he may call jail his home during the winter months.

His point of view is not difficult to get. Certainly a piece of bread and a cup of water is better than nothing at all. A hard floor surrounded by four stone walls is better than an equally hard ground in some city park which is not surrounded by walls and which has nothing to break the bleak drafts which come up the Hudson.

Yet to us living in the warm climate of Florida which gives us the greatest abundance of fruit and vegetables the year around, and which is so largely responsible for almost universal freedom from poverty and the luxury in which most of us reside, it seems incredible that in another city of our own country, a city which we have come to know as the banking center of the whole world, such a condition can exist that a man must knock at a prison door in order to avoid starvation and freezing winds.

The incident stamps upon our mind with indelible ink our own good fortune in living in a country blest with a warm climate and an abundance of all the necessities of life, and also the need which there is in northern cities for organized charities to care for the aged and provide for those unfortunate persons unable to compete in the struggle for existence.

THE GUBERNATORIAL mission to other states is not new; but it has remained for Governor John W. Martin of Florida to introduce something new in gubernatorial missions. Governor Martin recently headed a delegation which visited New York in the effort to secure aid in the fight which Florida is making against the get-rich-quick artists who, in return for cold cash, are selling to the gullible the airy fabric of dreams of great wealth. The dishonest thus capitalize an undoubted opportunity for honest development. —Frederick G. Fassett in Boston Transcript.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

By IRVIN S. COBB

A well dressed party, who was far overtaken in alcoholic stimulation, stumbled into a restaurant, slumped into a handy chair at a table and gave unmistakable evidence that he was about to enjoy a refreshing slumber. A waitress shook him by the arm. "What is it you want?" she asked. "Dearie," he said drowsily, "what have you?" "Almost anything in the food line." "Ver' well, then," he said, "bring me almost anything in the food line." "How about a nice salad?" she asked, on a venture. "That'd be lovely, dearie," he assented. "Glad you thought of it—shows you got a good mind—quick thinker, everything like that. Bring me a nice salad."

IN DEFENSE OF LIVING THE SATURDAY REVUE

Count Hermann Keyserling, in the most remarkable book published in English this year, strikes off in a paragraph an image of the siren fascination of America. There never was a country where success on a low plane of culture, but still success, was so easily gained, where so many lived fully and lived intensely in their pursuit of progress. The saint who fails of perfect saintliness, the artist who does not master his craft, the idealist who never gets his theory into practice are not so fully alive not so happy, as the vigorous American who sets a house, an automobile, a good business, and an education for his children as his objectives, and reaches them by the middle age. "Don't knock, boost," says the slogan, now a little dusty. It is the same idea. To turn up the intellectual nose at the rough and tumble of American life is a gesture just a little absurd in itself, who can afford to be supercilious only because their ancestors were willing to rough it in mixed society. The pallid individual, neurotic from too little action, emotionally starved, who looks down upon the vulgar because they live too hard, talk loud, laugh heartily, is an irritating by-product of a civilization that has to be energetic or go under. To live life fully is the first requisite for worthy living on any plane, and therefore a tipsy bootlegger shooting his car at sixty miles an hour across the border is probably nearer heaven in the philosophic as well as the slang sense than a thin-blooded clerk drying in a shop corner or a critic of everything that has the demerit of still existing.

As Brisbane Sees It

A Widow's Cash. Ford the King. No More "Obey." No, to Atheism. BY ARTHUR BRISBANE (Copyright 1925)

MRS. LEATHE'S husband left her five million dollars eighteen years ago. In a bankruptcy court she testified that her total assets are reduced to $600, including a wrist watch worth $300.

Mrs. Leathe kept her money longer than is customary with widows of rich men. Gentlemen who consider it almost a business virtue to rob a woman usually get their money in much less than eighteen years.

If you expect to leave a widow or daughter, leave a certain income so tied up that it cannot be stolen from them. A good trust company or the right insurance policy will help to do that.

OF THE women made widows by the Shenandoah, all but two must work for a living. Ignorant and incompetent men in the navy department, ignoring the warning of Commander Lansdowne, made them widows. The government ought to support those women as long as they live. Some congressman should prepare a bill with that idea in mind. Such a bill might make it possible in congress to wipe the coat of whitewash from the Shenandoah investigation and find what really happened.

POLAND WOULD like Henry Ford for president, or King Henry Ford. However, Ford is like the British farmer whose clergyman told him he was soon going to heaven. The farmer did not want to go to heaven, he wanted to stay here and ride his white-faced mare that went "tip-top" over the fences.

Henry Ford would rather stay at Dearborn and be king of the greatest industrial enterprise ever created.

FORD'S WORK in the aircraft is to this nation a blessing of which the importance cannot be exaggerated. It may mean the difference between defeat and victory in the next war, or more probably it may mean that for America there will not be any next war.

MR. FORD offers to build the government at a cost of $200,000 an all-metal dirigible 150 feet long. It is the type of aircraft that the world needs, can fly 2,000 miles without coming down. It represents common sense and economy. There is no doubt that President Coolidge will accept Mr. Ford's offer. He was among the very first to praise and encourage Henry Ford's aircraft plans.

THE PROTESTANT Episcopal church house of bishops definitely removes "obey" from the marriage ceremony. Many married ladies had already removed it from the routine of daily life, common sense telling them that if marriage is not an equal partnership, it isn't much.

The old idea about women is dying out not too soon. British husbands no longer are allowed by law to beat their wives with a stick "thicker than the thumb." The French unwritten law gave fathers authority over their children, according to Westermarck, on the theory that the child was the property of the mother, and the mother was the property of the father.

The Moors, according to the same Westermarck (see "origin and development of moral ideas") believed that old men became saints and old women witches.

Breach of promise cases prove that old men become foolish and old women have to be very patient.

IN NEW YORK City a group of foolish young men seek to charter a corporation to encourage atheism, and destroy the power of church and clergy.

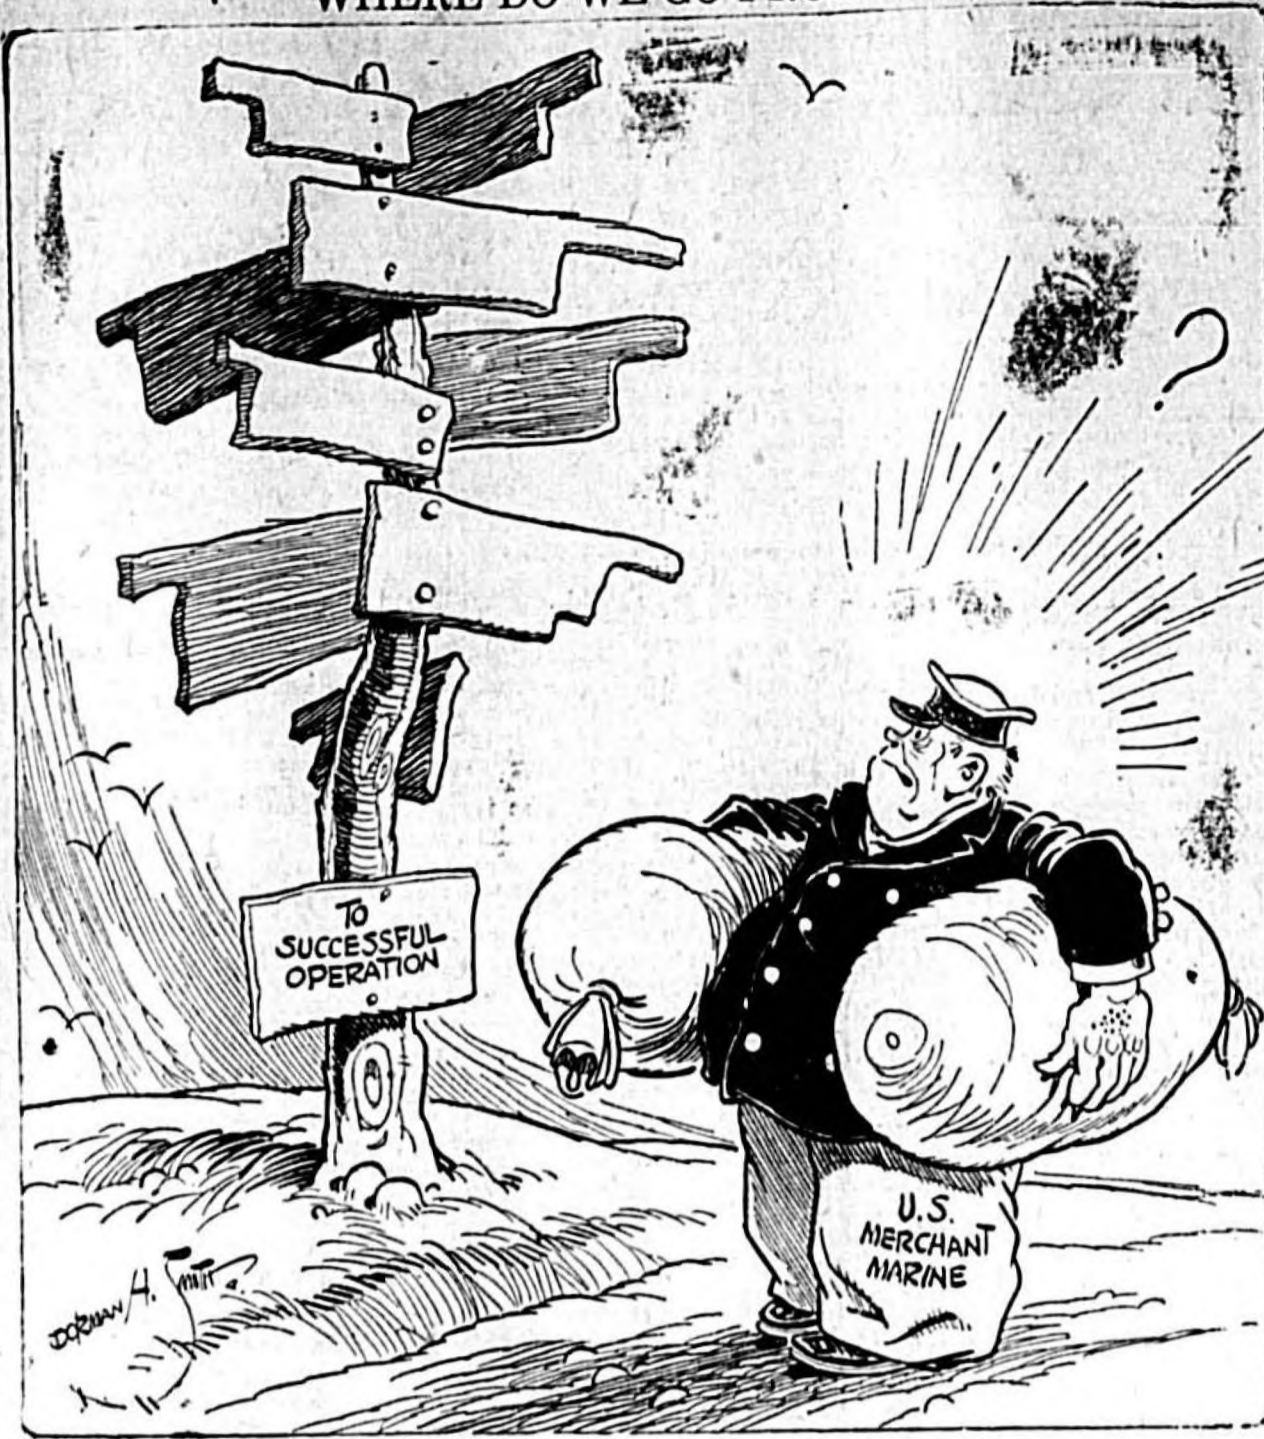

Quite a programme but the judge wouldn't let it go through. In Russia, on the other hand, a delegation of orthodox priests and bishops begged the government "for an equal status with citizens of the soviet state."

AGAIN YESTERDAY Wall Street celebrated a 2,000,000 share day. A seat on the stock exchange has sold for $135,000. It is a record price, but cheap when you consider that it makes the purchaser one of the happy eleven hundred that make "one-eighth of one percent" of the nation's stock speculators. It's a valuable seat for a man with sound nerves, a cool head able to leave gambling to his clients. But is it not easy to find 1,100 men of that kind.

VARIOUS ADVERTISEMENTS of Florida land schemes have published the statement that this writer is directly or indirectly connected with such schemes and requests for information as to their value come from many parts of the country.

Florida is a great state and will be greater. But the writer is not connected in any way whatever with any Florida land scheme. If he ever had any Florida or other land for sale, that fact will be announced later.

DOES THIS nation, in order to please the sentimentalists who do not understand what they are discussing, intend to leave the overwhelmingly powerful weapon, CHEMICAL WARFARE, exclusively to the use of our enemies? As well agree to use only Indian bows and arrows, because some dear old lady thinks the machine gun is "barbarous."

A UNIVERSITY ANSWERS

NEW YORK TIMES

When a recent American visitor in Moscow was making some unfavorable observations to the Commissioner of Education, Lunacharsky, about Russia's treatment of scientists, he was confronted with newspaper accounts of the Dayton trial, of which episode the American was up to that moment ignorant. It is to be hoped that he will now send to the Moscow Commissar accounts of last week's celebration of the semi-centennial of Vanderbilt University, in the capital city of Tennessee. The Chancellor of that institution, Dr. Kirkland, who has done more to raise the standard of higher education in the south than any one other person, declared that the building of new science laboratories on its campus is the best answer to Dayton, while the establishment of a school of religion, illustrating the strength of a common faith and the glory of a "universal worship" is the best answer to narrow sectarianism.

This answer was applauded by delegates from three hundred American institutions of higher education as well as by Vanderbilt graduates and citizens, who thronged the largest halls to show their sympathy with the courageous and liberal policies of the university and their approval of its Chancellor. It was one of the greatest demonstrations ever made in America in support of sound learning and in endorsement of constructive educational policies. A certain State university has recently decided to refuse gifts from Foundations and other private organizations. Others have been placed under restriction in the teaching of science. But Vanderbilt University, welcoming and seeking gifts from the Foundations on the one hand, and being free, on the other hand, from restraint in its teaching of what science has revealed, illustrates the advantage

THE PUBLIC GRAB BAG

LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL

John W. O'Leary, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, expressed his views here on the policy of levying tribute on the people. He is convinced that direct taxation has a tendency to compel thought about the Government and there is plenty to think about. The multiplicity of more or less independent governmental agencies, each out after money, separately seizing upon the same sources of revenue, is visible in the so-called "death tax," a capital levy and a double toll, with the Federal and State treasuries getting their respective shares.

At home the State relieves class after class from local rates and takes it all, pointing with self-praise to its achievement of reducing the proportion of public expenses borne by real estate, when the very means by which it is accomplished throws the whole load of higher local taxes back on the land. Each agency considers only its own levy; but the taxpayer has a habit of lumping the total he has to contribute, and it interests him in government far more than the politicians are aware. Then the widespread distribution of stocks makes the taxpayer a part owner of the railroads, utilities and insurance companies, and he is torn between the incentive to protect these investments and the impulse to save his individual property. "You are taxing yourself when you tax the corporation," he admonishes, and knows he is taxing himself when he doesn't. The money has to come from somewhere.

The same holds true, Mr. O'Leary observes, as to insurance companies. The expense of the State Department of Insurance and Fire Prevention and Rates, assessed against the companies, is distributed at last among the policy holders. Considerable general revenue in some States, he said, is derived from this source. It is an indirect tax on the policyholders. The appeal to confine the assessment to the requirements of the departments may be effective. Then again, the taxpayer may reason that it is more agreeable to pay that way than to face the prospect of a personal levy to cover the deficit. In Kentucky last year the general revenues received $51,000 from insurance companies out of a total tax on them of $164,000; the year before $48,000 out of $140,000. The department of Fire Prevention and Rates spends more in its benevolent mission of preventing fires and reducing rates than it receives from the companies, although they keep on paying more each year. It seems the more they pay the more fires the department finds to prevent and the more rates there are to reduce. The Insurance Department is profitable, but headed in the same direction. Its revenues increased $10,000 last year and its expenses $18,000. Kentucky taxpayers, fortunately, will have no cause for mental fatigue worrying over the relative advantages and disadvantages of trimming the tax to eliminate the deficit. If they are patient it will be eliminated in time by increasing the expenses. This is just one of the many little devices for making taxes cut both ways. Public revenues and their expenditures for such governmental police activities as looking after the people's health, their property and lives, are too complicated to be entrusted to the hands of those who understand them only in once and a while contributions. Big men and campaign contributors, their own interests, are chiefly affected by the overlapping State and Federal taxes. It will require a conscientious and studious Tax Commission, technically competent, to do anything for the small fellow in Kentucky.

MARRIAGE OF MISS DICKENSON TO PAUL LAKE IN BRILLIANT EVENT

Friends in this city of the contracting parties will be interested in the following account in the Tampa Tribune concerning Dickenson-Lake wedding, which was a brilliant social event in Tampa Thursday evening:

Miss Mary Louise Dickenson, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Dickenson, and Paul Lake, of Sanford, were married last night at 8 o'clock at the Hyde Park Methodist church.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. John T. Myers before many relatives and friends.

A striking color scheme of old ivory and gold was used in the church decorations and all details of the wedding. The chancel was illuminated by myriads of white tapers, in tall candleabra and yellow chrysanthemums arranged in large white baskets. Potted palms formed the background.

Several rows of pews, in front, were reserved for relatives and close friends of the popular young couple. Ends of these seats were tied with yellow tulle streamers, entwined with sprays of asparagus fern.

Program of Nuptial Music.

Mrs. E. H. Hart, organist, was in charge of the wedding music. She was assisted by James McCravy, tenor and violinist, of Laurens, S. C., and Mrs. J. M. Hall, gifted soprano vocalist of this city. They gave the following numbers: violin and organ, "Berceuse" from Jocelyn, (Gouldard); "All for You" (Bertram Brown) sung by Mr. McCravy; violin and organ, "Menuetto" (Beethoven); "Until" (Sanderson), sung by Mrs. J. M. Hall; "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise," played by violin and organ; "Thank God for a Garden" (Del Reigo), sung by Mr. McCravy; "At Dawning," sung by Mrs. J. M. Hall. The bridal chorus from Lohegrin was used as the processional, and for the recessional Mendelssohn's wedding march.

Bride's Attendants.

The attendants of the bride made a brilliant entrance gown in old ivory chiffon over gold cloth, all of the dresses being of the same material. Gold ribbon, lovely flow- ing tulle in blending tones and gold lace gave a rich ornamentation to each gown. All carried yellow chrysanthemums.

The bridesmaids were as follows: Misses Margaret Lake, of Laurens, S. C., sister of the groom; Margaret McMullen, Katherine Frazier, Marie McKee, Carlotta Cuesta and Ada Louise Simpson, of Orlando; Mrs. J. Frank Jones, Mrs. Monroe B. Hutton, of Sanford; and Mrs. Frank J. Knight of Orlando, were the matrons of honor.

All the bride's attendants were chosen from the Chi Omega sorority of which she is a member.

Miss Katherine Broadus, maid of honor, wore a gown of gold chiffon over gold cloth, with tight fitting bodice and wide flaring skirt. A roll collar in the front of the gown, and a decollete neckline in the back, gave it a distinctive touch. Velvet flowers with petals of gold and shades of orange, flame and fuchsia were along the hem of the skirt and in the front of the bodice. Her slippers were of gold, with cut steel buckles, giving a touch of richness to the ensemble. She carried yellow roses.

The matron of honor, Mrs. J. Frank Jones, wore a gown of old ivory chiffon over gold cloth, with full skirt, and folds of the bodice gathered into a jeweled buckle in the front at the waistline. Her slippers were also of gold, and she also carried yellow chrysanthemums.

Little Betty Jo Mims, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Mims, and Martha Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. J. Anderson wore frocks of white taffeta with tiny ruffles. The neckline and armholes were outlined in gold ribbon and flowers. They carried baskets of white and gold, tied with golden tulle, and tossed white and yellow rose petals along the bridal aisle.

Entrance of Bride.

Miss Dickenson entered on the arm of her father, W. B. Dickenson. She wore a rich costume of white Duchess satin, embroidered in raised white velvet flowers which were outlined and centered with pearls and rhinestones. Her veil of tulle was fashioned in a high coronet of orange blossoms and pearls, on real lace. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses and lilies-of-the-valley, and wore the handkerchief, which was carried by her mother at her wedding 23 years ago, on the same day.

William Lake, of Sanford, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Other attendants were: Edmund Lake, of Sanford; Shelton Sossamon, of Daytona; Monroe B. Hutton, of Sanford; G. W. Spencer of Sanford; Elwyn T. Moore and Edgeron Patterson, all of Sanford.

The ushers were: Forest Lake, of Sanford, uncle of Paul Lake; W. J. Hardy of Sanford, and J. W. Broadus, of Tampa.

Bride Born in Tampa.

Mrs. Lake was born in this city. She attended in Hillsborough high school in 1921. The past four years, she has been a student at the Florida State College for Women, in Tallahassee, receiving a diploma last June. Many friends throughout the state join in wishing her and Mr. Lake much future happiness.

Mr. Lake, son of Mrs. T. D. Lake came to Florida from Laurens, S. C., five years ago. He completed his education at The Citadel in Charleston, S. C. He is now engaged in real estate business at Sanford, where he and his charming bride have a lovely new home awaiting them in Edgewood Estates.

The couple left on the 9:30 o'clock train, enroute to New York city. They plan to stop for short visits in various cities.

Mrs. Lake is traveling in a handsome ensemble suit of faille, made with two tones of tan. The long coat is fur trimmed and her small hat is of matching colors.

After two weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Lake will return to Sanford.

Something like seven million sponges are gathered from the Florida waters annually and sold at the markets at Tarpon Springs and Key West.

Regional Workers To Hold Red Cross Meet In Tallahassee Soon

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Red Cross workers from Northern Florida and Southern Georgia will gather in Tallahassee, Thursday, Nov. 12, to attend a Regional Conference of chapters.

The gathering to be held in the Presbyterian church will take place in response to invitations sent out by Rev. James W. Jackson, chairman of the Tallahassee chapter.

Perry, Marianna and Pensacola chapters will be represented, as well as Quitman, Thomasville and Bainbridge, of South Georgia, with Cairo, Ga., which has no organized Red Cross chapter at the time, to be represented by the Woman's Club.

Most of the chapter chairmen are expected to be among those present. Miss Stella Avery, newly-chosen secretary of the Pensacola chapter, is expected to be a delegate from that organization.

Comptroller Beard further pointed out that Florida was one of the few states in the union at that time which had established an income tax system.

RAILWAY BOARD GRANTS PERMIT FOR FRANCHISES

Commission Issues Order Allowing Telephone Interests to Acquire Property and Property Right-Of-Way

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 23.—(P)—The Florida Railroad Commission has just issued an order permitting the Florida Telephone Corporation to acquire the property and property rights, franchises, easements, rights of way and other assets of the Lake County Telephone Company, the Florida Telephone Securities Corporation, and certain real estate owned by Otto Wetstein, Jr., used and connected with the telephone systems of the two last named corporations.

The order was issued following a hearing before Commissioners Burr, Wells and Matthews in which an application was presented by a number of those interested in the transfer, including Mr. Wetstein.

The commission also ordered that after the acquisition the same schedule of rates must be charged as authorized for the Lake County Telephone company and the Florida Telephone Securities Corporation.

The Florida Telephone Corporation was founded by Mr. Wetstein several years ago. The corporation, which operates in five or six counties in the central section of the state enjoyed a growth notwithstanding the short of marvelous. Mr. Wetstein, to incorporate, sought the aid of a number of Wall street financiers.

The monetary considerations involved in the transfer were not announced by the commission.

Drive-Your-Own-Car Garage Opens Today In Wight Building

The Atlantic Auto Renting Company, with headquarters in Boston, Mass., is opening a branch establishment in the Wight Brothers building on Magnolia Avenue today where, according to an announcement made by G. R. Webb the local manager, a drive-it-yourself taxi stand will be conducted.

BIG RUM PLOT DISCOVERED BY TAMPA AGENTS

CABINET HEAD SUBMITS STILL BIGGER TAX CUT

(Continued from Page One) edules for proposed reduction of the normal rates, and that he had finally decided to advance this scheme.

Hearings today were devoted largely to the corporation taxes and administrative features of the law.

Reduction of the corporation tax, now 12 1/2 per cent, was urged by the American Bankers Association and R. B. Loudon of Fairfield, Iowa. The association also asked repeal of the levy on capital stock and was joined in this plea by the American Paper and Pulp Association.

Repeal of the provision in the present law permitting publicity of income tax returns was another change advocated by the bankers. Speaking for the association, R. H. Barry, of Detroit, argued the provision, "does not furnish information for the apprehension of delinquents, nor cause tax payers to be more careful in the preparation of small returns."

Court House Costs Going Up, Seattle Jail Budget Shows

SEATTLE, Oct. 23.—(P)—Taxpayers are going to pay three times the actual cost of the obsolete King County courthouse built in 1889, printed copies of the 1926 county budget showed.

A new county-city building constructed in 1916, but financed under a different plan is to be paid for in 1934, three years after the old obligations are wiped out.

The original bond issue for the old courthouse was for $200,000 to run for 40 years at five per cent interest. Up to February 1, 1911, the county had paid in interest $215,833 and nothing had on the principal. In 1911 the 1889 issue was refunded with serial bonds of $10,000 maturing each year for 20 years at an interest rate of four and one-half per cent. Each year since then the county has levied $10,000 with interest for old court house bond retirement. Interest on the second issue will amount to $94,500 making the total interest charges on the two issues $310,333. Added to the $200,000 principal, it makes the total aggregate debt total $510,333.

Clyde Line Files Suit On Freight Rate Bill

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 23.—(P)—The Clyde Line has filed another demurrer in the Railroad Commission efforts to fix steamship freight rates between Jacksonville and Miami, according to Fred Davis, the commission's attorney.

The latest demurrer, Mr. Davis said, sets forth the claim that the Shipping Board only has jurisdiction in the matter. A previous demurrer, filed by the Clyde Line, questioned the jurisdiction of the Railroad Commission to fix rates on the high seas.

The case is now before the State Supreme Court. The Clyde Line, however, Mr. Davis said, has never filed a brief, and the court will, of course, not render an opinion until the brief is submitted.

Guests Escape When Fire Threatens Hotel

CINCINNATI, Oct. 23.—(P)—One hundred and fifty guests escaped without injury from the Hotel Newland where fire broke out early today and for half an hour threatened to destroy the entire building. The blaze started in the hotel basement and quickly ascended to the roof and top floor where it was halted.

A number of women guests became hysterical and had to be assisted through the smoke filled halls and down fire escapes. One woman, whose name was not learned, was seized by firemen as she was about to leap from a third story window to the street. Police estimated the loss from fire and water at $50,000.

Wood Back In Gotham With First $100,000

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—(P)—Broke six months ago, Osborne Cutler Wood, son of and former aide of Major General Leonard Wood, says that he has made $100,000 in Tampa real estate. He is in New York to buy some clothes.

He insists that the $100,000 is the first installment he is going to get back of nearly $1,000,000 which he made in Wall Street speculation and lost at the gambling tables of Athens, Cannes and Deauville. He says that he is going into the Palm Beach realty field soon.

Two Hurt When Train Is Derailed In Iowa

...WATERLOO, Iowa, Oct. 23.—(P)—A fast passenger train running from Des Moines to Minneapolis on the Great Western Railroad was wrecked early today seven miles southwest of here. The engine and baggage car were overturned and six coaches derailed. R. Thomas Hall, fireman, was injured and James Liddell, engineer, had his foot caught in the wreckage. The train was loaded with residents of Des Moines.

Small Percentage Of Truants Among Pupils

DULUTH, Oct. 23.—(P)—Only two per cent of school children are truants, but in this two percent are 90 per cent of delinquents, said

James A. Starkweather, assistant supervisor of Duluth schools. He spoke before the meeting of the National League of Compulsory Education and Child Welfare.

Announcing— the long awaited and much discussed DAYTONA SHORES

Note the location of Daytona Shores in the heart of the long established resort section of Orange, Seaboard, and Halifax Counties and its proximity to the Florida coast.

W. S. McADAMS,
115 West Park Street, Daytona,
Florida, Fla.

Please send me information regarding the investment possibilities of the first unit (Causeway Section) of Daytona Shores.

The great moment in the history of the Halifax Country has arrived! For months it has been generally rumored that something big was going to happen at Daytona.

In a single day two hundred requests for advance information have been received, and from one single town—Daytona.

From all over the State people have been coming to Daytona to acquaint themselves with the property. Until now, Daytona Shores has been a much veiled secret. Now it becomes a definite reality and offers to investors an opportunity unrivaled in the history of Florida development. With full appreciation of the remarkable developments being made elsewhere in Florida, we propose to make Daytona Shores the most sought-after property in the entire State.

Among the first people to make reservations in Daytona Shores will be many of those who have made fortunes in Coral Gables, Hollywood, Miami Shores, Davis Island and other large developments. These people know the opportunities of profit in buying FIRST UNITS in big development projects. It is not too much to anticipate that Daytona Shores profits will rival any development in Florida.

FIRST—Daytona Shores has location in the heart of a long established resort section.

SECONDLY—Daytona Shores is an incomparably beautiful tract of land with fifteen miles of natural waterfront.

THIRDLY—Daytona Shores has behind it a development program the like of which has been attempted in few other places.

The FIRST UNIT of Daytona Shores, the CAUSEWAY SECTION, is open to reservations today. The offering is limited. The demand already existing is great. This first unit will be immediately reserved. Brokers, other sub-dividers, business men all through the State have formed syndicates on the first unit. Daytona Shores will attract the wise money and that is the best indication of investment worth.

The Directors of Daytona Shores have deliberately UNDERPRICED the Causeway Section by approximately $2,000,000—feeling that the best way to advertise the property is to make profits for investors AT ONCE. Your chances of getting a part of the Causeway Section are as good as any one else's, but you must act quickly. Plats and prices are being distributed today.

To the Woman who does a Man's Work

Read this message if you tire out easily
Energy and endurance come from carbohydrates, protein, gluten and vitamins. These things make up food calories—and calories are energy. Women who tire out easily lack energy and physical or mental endurance. There is no food that gives as much energy, is so evenly balanced with all the elements needed by the body as good bread. Merita bread is recognized as the Southland's richest. Make it a rule to eat more Merita bread each meal—then notice how your energy and endurance lasts all day long.

 Correspondence is beginning to ply back and forth from the local baseball headquarters to the players, now in different parts of the country, in an effort to reach an agreement on the emblem.

Japanese Island Rich In Coal Vein Deposits
 TOKYO, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The northern part of the Island Saghalien could supply all the coal needed by the factories of Japan if mining was carried on according to plans drawn by experts, said Mr. Hidakoff, chief of the Russian Investigation Commission, just returned from there.
 "The coal deposits are great and almost immeasurable," he said. "Veins are so numerous that mines can be established readily in almost any part of the northern territory. The quality is also so good that the best of coal tar can be obtained from it."

Clemson Loses, 33-0, To Carolina Gamecock
 COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Encountering a demoralized and at times helpless Tiger, the University of South Carolina Gamecock struffed from the Fair Ground field Thursday afternoon with its greatest victory over Clemson College in the 24 years that the two teams have been meeting in the annual Palmetto State football classic. The score was 33 to 0 and it was fairly indicative of the strength of the two teams today.

When Cyrus McCormick Went to Chicago
 —it was a struggling little city with its glory all ahead. He located his reaper factory there because it was the most central city to the adjacent wheat belt.
 * * *
 Chicago grew and Cyrus prospered. A city serving a farming belt like that surrounding Chicago for hundreds of miles had to grow. It will have to keep on growing.
 * * *
 Plant City today is almost as large as Chicago was when Cyrus blew in from Virginia with his funny looking contraption to cut wheat.
 * * *
 And for the same reason that Chicago has grown to be a great city, Plant City is one of these days not so far away, going to be a great city.
 * * *
 Farm lands that make farmers rich are just as certain as anything can be to make the city serving them rich.
 * * *
 These rich farm lands surround Plant City even as the fertile prairies surrounded Chicago.
 * * *
 But, Plant City has spent more than two million dollars in the last year preparing the way for her McCormicks.
