The latest in a number of reported attempted child molestations oc-

vear-old Bear Lake school girl. The middle-aged man with gray hair was frightened away when the o 11-year-old sister of the girl appeared on the scene, according to information furnished the sheriff's department by the mother of the two girls.

The girls' mother called county authorities after 4:30 p.m. Monday, when the incident reportedly happened at the intersection of Sunset Avenue and Balmy Beach Drive in Bear Lake. The younger girl had just alighted from the bus near her home, when a man, described as gray-haired and wearing gray pants and a white shirt, appeared and tried to get the girl into his orange Chevrolet pickup truck with a camper attached.

As the child began to cry, her older sister arrived and the man drove quickly away. A possible clue to the owner of the car may be available as investigators believe they have at least a partial license number and a check of registrations

Investigators also are talking with county school bus drivers in efforts to determine if they have observed a gray-haired man parked along bus routes when children are being loaded and unloaded. Since the opening of school this term there have been several reports of attempted child molestations but thus far no child has been reported abducted. Just last week, there were two separate reports a reporter telephoned the "exin Sanford in the area of Summerlin and Celery Ave- perts" trying to identify the nues of men attempting to get small elementary flower. One said it was a sunschool children into their vehicles.

Estrength to bring about a cure . Prison conditions such as have been exposed by Columnist Jack Anderson and his investigators as existing in Florida's Raiford prison hospital produce almost stomach-turning reactions. Basic to the one is the existence of the other. -Neither would take place if the whole prob-I lem of arrest, conviction and confinement were given the kind of consideration that almost every other -area of American life is receiving and has received. - Modernization of any such complex and controversial operation as exists within the meaning of one word - prison - involves all of the factors which create the "population." Thus the necessity for a real house-cleaning in the thinking of the public, the tradition bound courts of deep social sores which plague the American conscience, but are never tackled with enough true and operation of what have been as and segment agencies and — above all — those charged with the creation and operation of what have been as and segment agencies and operation of what have been as and segment agencies. "correctional" institutions, is obvious,

> History of the reform movement in the United States is dated by most students of the problem from the days when Thomas Mott Osborne took up the cudgel and, by personal experience, saw the horrors of imprisonment and recruited others to let the public know of the evils that were then existent.

This was in WW I days. Since then there have been times when great and devoted wardens of prisons have done their part in trying to help from within and stimulate from without the public awareness which must exist if the funds needed for prison change be provided

Yet it was only this last week-end that the truly unbearable conditions in New York City jails - including the "Tombs" - resulted in prison riots with rioters and secured the release of the hostages.

rioting goes back to what must be an astounding fact to most of our readers. As Reuters reported: "Most of the prisoners in the affected institutions have been charged with crimes but not tried."

This puts the spotlight on what Supreme Court Chief Justice Mr. Warren Burger has emphasized. The urgent necessity for getting court calendars cleared, to speed-up the moss-covered red tape of traditional court procedure.

Of course this is most difficult. Of course it involves new thinking in the minds of the leaders of bar and courts which will bring about that speedy trial which is, in itself, the basic guarantee of justice. Yet it is the prison which must get attention. And, from what was reported by Mr. Anderson the

John Lindsay personally took charge, listened to the mates of Raiford are more than intolerable. They are horrendous and a blot on the name of Florida, We speak from the standpoint of a reporter and editor who has heard the clang of cell doors behind when incarcerated in a prison and who (as a researcher) lived in a prison.

We speak also from the standpoint of one who has done nation-wide research on the ways and means of truly preparing the convict who has served his term for a return to private life.

We deplore the revelations by Mr. Anderson. We deplore the prison riots in New York, But if such events and such startling information can awaken the public conscience to the peril which exists as the most effective police, court and correctional personnel do their part only to have it all set to nought by prisons as inadequate as the Tombs in New York and alarming as Raiford in Florida, then it is all

This may mark a new beginning for Ameri ca if it serves as a continuing reminder that the Nation's beginnings were based on faith in Divine Providence and acceptance of the disciplines of religion and education.

Previous Tuesday incidents included a call to the sheriff's office from Casselberry Elementary School officials after a nire-yearold girl reported a man standing by a road sign near her bus stop. The girl was afraid to approach the bus stop because of the menacing attitude of the man.

Two girls, ages nine and 10, had to seek help from a sheriff's Helping Hand home, when two older youths tried to assault them while they walked home from Midway Elementary School.

IT APPEARS that is the question expounded by this goose from the Sanford Zoo, addressed to Mrs. Arnold Hood, the zookeeper. Tax Exempt?

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS - "Is this similar to so many church organizations that want tax exempt property?" These were the words of Mayor Lawrence Swofford in questioning a request by Ralph Williams, Williams Development Company, for a variance at the Roache and Burk's property presently zoned R-3.

Williams told Swofford that construction was proposed for a 16 story building comprised of units to be occupied by elderly persons. The building will be sponsored by the Presby terian Church and owned by a non-profit group. To be included in the project are offices for doctors, a barber, and beauty salon,

When Swofford asked if the request would include a tax exemption for churches and received a negative reply that the development was under the federal 236 program, Swofford replied, "Good, then I'm willing to listen." He continued that he was "sick of churches (oriented businesses) making a profit and then wanting a tax exemption." The request was made for a variance upon the height and also for on site services. A hearing upon the matter was set for Nov. 10 at 4:30 p.m.
