Chambers Says Hiss Gave Him Secret Papers

Hiss Accused Of Taking Job With Department To Aid Communist Party

NEW YORK, Nov. 21—(AP)—Whittaker Chambers testified today that he received and had photographs made of State Department documents turned over to him by Alger Hiss at the instigation of a Soviet spy chief. Chambers, self-described courier for a pre-war Russian spy ring, said from the witness stand in Hiss' second perjury trial.

"Mr. Hiss would bring documents from the State Department to his home at the end of the day's work. I would then take the documents to Baltimore where they would be photographed. I would return them to Mr. Hiss at his home that same night."

Chambers, the government's star witness, said this practice was followed after he arranged a New York meeting in a Chinese restaurant between Hiss and Col. Boris Bykov, whom he identified as the mastermind of the Soviet underground in this country.

The witness said Bykov told Hiss, a State Department official, that the Soviet Union was endangered by the rise of Fascist powers and "would be tremendously helped if Mr. Hiss could obtain documents relating to the far east and other areas."

Chambers also testified that Hiss went to work for the Justice Department in 1938 after learning that the Communist Party "wished him to take the job."

Chambers said he got papers from Hiss "approximately once a week or once in 10 days" at first. "The practice continued until the middle of 1947," he said. "Later, Mr. Hiss told me that he wished to have the papers brought out nearly every day, some types as nearly as possible, some originals."

Noronic Owners Are Held Guilty In Steamship Fire

Certificate Of Captain Of Ship Is Suspended For Year

OTTAWA, Nov. 21—(AP)—The owners and master of the cruise ship Noronic were blamed by a Supreme Court of Canada judge today for the Sept. 17 flash fire that took 118 lives as the luxury vessel lay at a Toronto dock.

Justice R. L. Kellock, reporting as commissioner in the transport department's inquiry, ordered the master's certificate of Capt. William C. Taylor of Sarnia, Ont., suspended for a year. He also recommended a series of measures designed to tighten safety regulations for vessels like the Noronic.

A 30,000-word report was presented to the House of Commons following the reading by Justice Kellock of a brief court judgment suspending the captain. In the report, Justice Kellock found that the fire was caused by a "failure" of the Canada Steamship Lines, Ltd., the Noronic's owners. Capt. Taylor to take adequate precautions against fire.

The justice censured the owners and the master, saying they failed to provide proper means of detecting and fighting fires while in dock, and for getting passengers off the ship in the event of a fire in port.

Chester Bowles Asks U. S. Inspect Welfare Program

HANTFORD, Conn., Nov. 21—(AP)—Governor Chester Bowles today asked the Federal Security Administration to make a "full investigation and an appraisal of Connecticut's welfare program."

He said the program contained "serious shortcomings" which were "imposing a needless heavy burden upon Connecticut taxpayers."

The Governor's office made public a letter in which he addressed the request to Lawrence J. Branagan, regional director of the Federal Security Agency at Boston.

The Governor told Branagan he wanted to know whether "Connecticut is availing itself fully of the opportunities provided by law for federal sharing of administrative costs and benefit payments."

The Governor told Branagan he realized he was making a "very burdensome" request, but said that "the federal government has a vital stake in the efficiency of our Connecticut welfare program because it delays half the program amounting to an annual contribution of about $8,000,000."

The Welfare Department is headed by a commissioner appointed during a Republican administration, Robert J. Smith.

The request for an investigation marked the second time within a week that Bowles has questioned the operation of a department headed by a Republican appointee.

Reporting that the welfare program now embraces about 85,000 cases of old age assistance, aid to the blind and aid to dependent children, the Governor said that lack of a staff adequate to review each case frequently "means that in many instances welfare funds are going to the wrong people, too much to some and too little to others."

James Cooper Joins Advertising Firm

Robert G. Hammond of Orlando, president of Robert Hammond Associates, Inc., national advertising agency with offices in Orlando and Daytona Beach, today announced the appointment of James H. Cooper, of this city, as account executive for Sanford and Seminole county.

Hammond said that Cooper is authorized to make available to advertisers in this area the complete services of the Hammond organization, including commercial art and copy for direct mail, radio, newspaper and magazine advertising, and publicity. In Orlando the firm's offices are located at 60 East Pine Street and in Daytona Beach at 104 Bay Street.

Cooper, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Cooper, of Sanford, was graduated from Duke University, Durham, N. C. He also did post graduate work in the School of Journalism of the State University of Iowa, at Iowa City, Iowa.

FIRE DAMAGE

POTTSTOWN, Pa., Nov. 21—(AP)—Fire gutted nearly half a block in the heart of Pottstown's business district today.

Hundreds of fire fighters battled the flames that first swept the three-story Kessler Drug and Department Store building and quickly spread to adjoining structures.

The fire started at 10:30 A. M. Eastern Standard Time. Firemen reported it under control at 12:30 P. M., although flames still raged fiercely.

TRIAL POSTPONED

DETROIT, Nov. 21—(AP)—The trial of Carl Bolton in the Walter Reuther shooting was postponed today until Jan. 18.

LEGION SUPPER

Campbell-Leslie Post No. 88 will hold a supper tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the Legion Hut, followed by a meeting at 8:00 o'clock at which a report of the Legion Roundup at Orlando will be reported. Members who cannot attend the supper are urged by Commander James Gallagher to attend the meeting.

George Williams Tells Rotary Of Low Rent Housing

Only Those With Incomes Of Less Than $1,971 Are Admitted

Emphasizing that the 125 low rent housing units under negotiation between the Federal Housing Authority and Sanford is only the beginning and that further units to satisfy all local needs for low rent housing must be built during the next six years, George Williams, secretary of the Sanford Housing Authority, told the Rotary Club today that the project is entirely local in nature and that the federal government is merely assisting with the financing.

Pointing out that only low income groups will be admitted to the housing project, Mr. Williams said that an income of less than $1,971 would be necessary and that the average income of tenants in existing low rent housing projects is $1,471 a year. He explained further the rents must be 20 percent of the tenant's income. In other words, a person earning $1,000 a year, would pay a rent of $200 a year, he said.

G. W. Spencer, chairman of the Rotary Club's housing committee, suggested a plan for the construction of the club building which would be rented to other civic clubs on a five year basis at a certain fixed sum per plate. He proposed that the project be financed by certificates of indebtedness subscribed to by members of the club. At his suggestion H. B. Pope and Elton Moughton were added by President George Touhy to the building committee. (Continued on Page Three)

Mayor Carraway Is 1st Purchaser Of Christmas Seals

Mayor Andrew Carraway this morning officially opened the 1949 Christmas Seal Sale in Sanford as he bought his first sheet of Seals from his wife who called on him at City Hall to make the sale. Besides being Sanford's "first" Mayor, Carraway is a volunteer for the year round for the Tuberculosis and Health Association which is conducting the Seal Sale here. Funds from the Seal Sale, which will continue until Dec. 25, will support the tuberculosis prevention and control program of the association during 1950.

Guilty Plea Entered By Boris Malkovich

Boris Malkovich, charged with armed robbery in connection with the holdup attempt on June 4 of the Seminole Club on June 4, pleaded guilty to the charge Friday afternoon in Circuit Court after Frank Palermo, alleged driver of the getaway car, had been found guilty on a like charge. State Attorney Murray Overstreet has agreed not to prosecute a charge of kidnaping against Malkovich, said G. W. Spencer, attorney for Malkovich, this morning. This charge was based on evidence that Malkovich, panicked when a voice over an intercom speaker in the Seminole Club told his pals Fantasia and Salvi had been shot and to give up, had blasted the bar mirror with his shot gun, and using Peggy Thompson, a patron, as a shield, had backed out of the club and escaped with her in a commandeered truck.

JOHN GARNER 81

UVALDE, Tex., Nov. 21—(AP)—Castro Jack is 81 tomorrow. That's another milestone for John Nance Garner, 82nd vice president of the United States, to reach an ambition to live to be 83. The former rocky faced and white haired, said when he retired from politics in 1941 he wanted to live that long so that more than half his life can be that of a private citizen.

U.N. Tackles Plan To Feed Entire World

World Food Bank Financed Mostly By U.S. Is Urged To Eliminate Hunger

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21—(AP)—A world in which "no man need go hungry, or ill-clad, or without a home" was the goal held up today to the Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) of the United Nations.

The goal was pictured by Norris E. Dood, director-general of the FAO, at the opening of its annual conference. Representatives of 48 nations are here to tackle the job of how to increase food production in some countries and how to handle unmarketable surpluses in others.

Dood is a former Undersecretary of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. He said in his prepared text:

"In respect of the state of food and agriculture, 1949 has been in general what farmers call a good year, even if not quite as good as total as 1948.

"Food scarcity is no longer a problem for nearly the whole world, as it was through 1947. For more than half the world, however, the old chronic undernourishment continues and hunger is scarcely one month away from millions. For the world as a whole, per person food supplies are not as good as before the war."

Dood said that an FAO report issued over the weekend, which said harvests in the northern hemisphere were turned the "negative" world starvation. The report added that production still is behind world needs.

The director general mentioned briefly, in his opening talk, the proposal to set up a world bank, or clearing house, as a means of getting surpluses from one area into another area where food is scarce.

Dood said "perfection is not claimed" for recommendations as to how to meet world food needs, and added:

"But the world would long ago have starved if farmers had waited for perfect seed, tools, soil and climate. Let us, like people in the past, be satisfied with good enough, and improve it in practice."

Dood said there are two great needs confronting government and their people:

"One of these great needs is to push forward as fast as possible toward economic development. If this is to come about food is an absolute prerequisite."

U.S. Asks 30 Governments To Protest Consul's Jailing

Russia Is Included Among Those Asked To Intervene With Chinese Comies

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21—(AP)—The United States has appealed to 30 nations, including Russia, to intervene with the Chinese Communists in behalf of the imprisoned American consul general, Angus Ward.

The State Department announced that Secretary Acheson sent out messages Friday night asking the other governments "as a matter of urgency" to express to the Communist authorities at Peking their "concern" over the jailing of Ward and four members of his staff.

Ward and the others were jailed Oct. 24.

The State Department said that even today other American staff members at Mukden are still unable to get permission to visit Ward.

Acheson made his appeal after the repeated protests to the top Chinese Communist officials, through American consular representatives at Peking, had been ignored.

There has been a mounting cry in this country for some action—including demands that the United States use force—against the Communists.

The Communists have claimed that Ward and his staff members were arrested for looting a Chinese employe. The State Department calls these charges "trumped up."

In his communication to other governments, Acheson recited the circumstances leading up to the arrest of Ward. The secretary then told the other governments:

"The international practice of civilized countries for many years has recognized that consuls should be accorded all the privileges necessary for the proper conduct of their duties."

"Although consuls do not have diplomatic immunity, it has been the universal practice, because of the public and official character of their duties, to permit them and their staff freedom of movement, and in the event of their arrest, a change is made to permit them to remain at liberty on proper bail."

Lost Airmen In Atlantic Thought Mostly Of Beefsteak And Families

HAAMI ION, Bermuda, Nov. 21—(AP)—Beefsteak, families, insurance and "move over and give me a little room!"

That's what survivors of the ditched B-29 said they thought about during 79 "miserable" hours on two six-man life rafts in heavy Atlantic swells north of Bermuda.

The 18 survivors, four of them on stretchers, arrived here yesterday afternoon aboard the Canadian destroyer Ithaca. The ship picked them up Saturday afternoon after a U. S. Air Force B-29 ditched here about 400 miles northeast of Bermuda.

Two of the 20 man crew drowned before they could get through the heavy swells to the two life rafts. One of the 18 survivors was offering considerably from check.

But 14 of the banded and salt-crusted airmen walked unaided from the crashboats that brought them to the shore from the destroyer. They crumpled at the wildly cheering hundreds who watched them transfer to ambulances that took them to the Randolph Air Base hospital here.

Most of the men were considered in good condition. Some had suffered sprains. Some had salt water sores. But the majority seemed fairly fit.

The plane's commander and pilot, Lt. Col. John Grable of March Field Air Base, Calif., said the church was to be a first stop ashore for most of the rescued air men.

"Then maybe we will celebrate a bit," Grable added.

Grable said "no one turned evangelist" during the long wait, but "we all thought a lot and prayed we would be picked up."

The pilot said after the plane's radio navigation equipment failed Wednesday morning, "we hunted for the island (Bermuda) under every cloud we saw, but had no luck. It was pretty overcast."

With their fuel almost out, "we attained everything we could and prepared for ditching."

When the tall bomber hit the water, the tail broke off, taking one of the three life rafts aboard down with it. The fuselage turned nose down in less than a minute.

The men on the rafts lived on emergency rations, mostly hard candy. When they were picked up, they had one day's supply left. There was no problem because they drank rain water from frequent showers. They also had equipment to purify the salty sea water.

Grable said he caught one fish, a two-foot yellow tail. But it got away when he tried to land it. It was the nearest the group came to getting their food from the sea.

One of the crowded rafts capsized twice but everyone got back aboard.

Grable said he felt sure they would be picked up because (Continued on Page Four)

Monte Arves In U. S. For Military Strategy Talks

British General Will Talk Defense With Anyone Listening

NEW YORK, Nov. 21—(AP)—Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, military chairman of the Western European Union defense alliance, said today he was an immediate threat of open conflict in Western Europe. "If there were any immediate danger it wouldn't be here," he said. "It would be in Berlin or in the Ruhr."

By DON WHITEHEAD and RUTH COWAN

Editor's note: Whitehead was an Associated Press war correspondent during World War II and accompanied Montgomery's Eighth Army on its famous march from El Alamein into Tunisia. Later he was with Montgomery in the drive across Europe. Miss Cowan likes to write an A.P. war correspondent, seeing extensive service.

Civil Rights Program May Bring Bloodshed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21—(AP)—Rep. Andrews (D-Ala.) said today that passage and enforcement of legislation to abolish segregation would bring about bloodshed in the nation.

Andrews told a reporter President Truman's Civil Rights program is "nothing but a political football and many of its advocates are not sincere."

Andrews added that "no place is the Negro happier today than in the South."

He cited recent race riots in other sections of the nation. Recently, he said, a Negro was tried for the murder of a white man by an all-white jury in Greenville, Ala. and acquitted.

Andrews said he believes any part of Mr. Truman's program would pass the Congress if it were submitted to a roll call vote. He said this would place the lawmakers on record and there are not enough southerners to block its passage.

RAILROAD JOB

ISHLIN, N. J., Nov. 21—(AP)—Eastbound Pennsylvania Railroad trains today roared over a 180-foot, 1,800-ton bridge that was used into place on 8-inch steel rollers.

It was the biggest operation of its kind ever attempted on a railroad bridge, company officials said.

The bridge will carry the tracks over New Jersey's first parkway, Route 4. Eventually the four-lane parkway will stretch from Clifftop to Cape May, the state's southernmost tip.

SEX CRIMES

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 21—(AP)—Both Democratic and Republican leaders predict that the next session of the state legislature will take measures to halt what they call the rising incidence of sex crimes.

Oswald D. Hook, Schenectady Republican and speaker of the assembly, said yesterday "something must be done about the problem."

Citrus Group Eases Tangerine Maturity Tests

GROVER'S COMPLAINTS OF MARKET LOSSES BRING STATE ACTION

LAKELAND, Nov. 21—(AP)—The Florida Citrus Commission took action today to loosen the hand-caps on growers with tangerines which don't meet the new state maturity tests.

The Commission agreed to change its regulation on inspection of tangerines to permit a check by a so-called "composite test."

This means lumping all grades of tangerines, reddish and yellow colored, together to reach an average test rather than inspecting each by specific grades.

If the fruit then should fail to meet the state tests of maturity, the batch of fruit can be broken down and given another inspection to see if it can meet the test by grade.

Vice chairman J. J. Prevatt of Tavares called the change in regulations "just the first step" in helping solve the problem which many growers face of losing their entire tangerine crop because it cannot pass the state test. (Continued on Page Three)

Brisson Cruiser 'Jennie' Strikes Piling And Sinks

The 20 foot Owens cabin cruiser 'Jennie', piloted and owned by Gordon Brisson, sank in Lake Monroe near the seasonal close by the new home of Harry S. Toke yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock after hitting concealed piling at the foot of Melvilleville Avenue.

The piling, sometimes visible at low water, cannot be seen during high water, and is often a menace to boats cruising near the shore line.

With Mr. Brisson at the time were Mrs. Brisson and Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Rivers of Leesburg. After striking the piling, Mr. Brisson turned the cruiser around immediately and piloted it back to the seawall a bit to the east and near the Toke home. The passengers went ashore and Mrs. Brisson telephoned the Sanford Boat Works for the nearby Radio Station WTRR.

John Bramley, owner of the Boat Works, arrived soon afterward in a cruiser piloted by John Cameron. By this time the cabin and the forward part of the Brisson cruiser was filling with water from a gash in the hull. A barge was sent for together with a pump, and the cruiser, by means of continual pumping, was towed back to the boat works for repair. The 100 horsepower motorized cruiser has been owned by Mr. Brisson but a short time.

The concealed piling is a remnant of the dock used for the launching of boats from Jacksonville during the early days of the town of Melvilleville, and prior to the founding of Sanford.

Chinese Peasants Flee Chungking As Commies Approach

CHUNGKING, Nov. 21—(AP)— Chungking bustling with activity today as peasants headed for the country in fear of a scorched earth policy here if the Chinese Nationalists abandon this provisional capital.

Other peasants from the country, fearing advancing Communists, came to the city for safety. Buses running between here and Chungking, capital of Szechwan province, were virtual mobile "Black Holes of Calcutta" so dangerously near the suffocation point were they packed.

Peasants being jolted on the red road passengers faced the danger of robbers who have become active.

Many junior employees of the Nationalist government are moving their dependents to Chungking for safety. They hope to join later. But many hundreds of them are going to find themselves trapped in Chungking jobless and hungry when the Reds come.

Chungking's only air link outside is by way of civil air transport, the line operated by retired U. S. Major General Claire Chennault. Its facilities are limited and crowded. Only a few persons are able to obtain air passage to Hong Kong. Mail service is irregular. Even radiograms require days for transmission.

As the hectic bustle of evacuation swirled around Chungking, a high source close to acting President Li Taung-jen Li would go to the United States for his health if it did not improve in a Hong Kong hospital.

General Pai Chung-hai, Nationalist commander in central China and close friend of Li, conferred with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek today and then flew back to his troops in Kwangsi.

While Li's ostensible reason for going to the States might be his health (he has a stomach ailment), his real reason, many think, is the hope he might be able to obtain some aid for China.

Public Housing

President Touhy announced that the Christmas Seal campaign for tuberculosis began today and urged all Rotarians to make prompt remittances when they received their Seals which will be placed in the mail during the next few days.

Introduced by Ed Higgins who pointed out that the Sanford Housing Authority consists of Sam Martina, Rev. J. E. McKinley, Ralph Cowan, Harry Lee and himself, Mr. Williams declared that we are now engaged in a great war, a war between Communism and democracy. In order to win this war, he added, certain basic elements of the individual must be met. He defined these as food, clothing and shelter.

"Anyone who is ill fed, ill clothed and ill housed, he said, is a dissatisfied citizen regardless of the type of government we may live under. There are today even in this country, he said, hundreds of thousands of individuals whose living conditions as best must be described as poor. If their needs for better housing are not met, they become ill prey for Communist agitators, he said.

"Democracy must do something for these people," he said, "or they must some day become a serious threat to all we hold dear. Low rent public housing is designed to provide decent housing for low income groups in order they may have something left over for food and clothing after they have paid rent."

The Public Housing Act of 1949 provides for the construction of 10,000 low rent public housing units at a cost of $1,800,000,000 in the next six years. The nature and after the temporary projects are to be strictly local and financing is supplemented with long term bonds, the projects are subject only to state and local laws.

WHAT ANOTHER STICK-UP BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Nov. 21—(AP)—William Snyder fired a law suit at the government and more officials at Secretary of the Treasury Snyder today in her battle against the income tax withholding law.

The suit, Mrs. Kellams announced here, was filed in federal district court in an effort to recover $7,119.80 which, she asserted, the government took from her "in the tradition of the boldest bank robber."

Of Snyder, she said: "The only difference between me and Snyder and Mr. James is Mr. James is an 'out-law' and used a gun."

Food Problem

(Continued from Page One) must be more plentifully and efficiently produced where they are now insufficient. The fundamental well being of people must be increased.

The other great need is to year the distribution of the products of farms, forests and fisheries more rationally to the world's production potential, so as to avoid disastrous surpluses and resultant restrictive actions, even while millions remain unfed, unclothed and unsheltered.

"The great thing is that we are advancing, nation side by side with nation. Let us here take the decisions, and let us follow them with the actions, which will keep us moving toward a world where no man need go hungry, or ill-clothed, or without a home."

The proposed World Food Plan would give the eventual annual of $5,000,000,000, most of it from the U. S.

Citrus Deal

Johnny A. Snelvel, Sr., Winter Haven packer and grower, emphasized this was not a "cure-all" but just an aid.

A majority of Florida tangerine growers had complained they faced the loss of big portions of the static crop because the fruit cannot meet the maturity regulations and will dry on the trees.

These growers contend they already have lost the rich Thanksgiving market in the north and they fear being knocked out of the Christmas trade unless something is done.

"After that we received not just the papers for a single day but for the entire period between meetings. The originals with the typed documents were turned over to a photographer in Baltimore. His name was Felix.

"I returned only the originals to Mr. Hiss. I burned the typed documents. From time to time Mr. Hiss also gave me small handwritten notes. Those I would turn over directly to Col. Bykov. The film also was turned over by me to Col. Bykov.

"Mrs. Hiss would type the documents. The practice continued until I broke with the Communist Party in 1938."

Chambers said that before quitting the party he took a government job.

"I wanted to establish an identity for myself," he explained, "because I was afraid I would be killed and because I knew in 1938 more difficult to kill a man with an identity."

Chambers directly contradicted

Noronic Disaster

(Continued from Page One) Partisans of the government would carefully consider the judge's recommendations with a view to preventing, in the future disasters such as the Noronic fire. The blaze broke out suddenly in the dead of night Sept. 17 and spread through the 600 holiday-bound passengers. All but one of the passengers were from the United States, mostly from the Detroit-Cleveland area.

Besides suspending Taylor's certificate, Kellock ordered the company to pay expenses incurred by the transport department in a 17-day investigation held at Toronto. Inquiry hearings also had been held in Cleveland and Detroit.

Justice Kellock had been appointed commissioner by the department to seek answers to specific questions dealing with the disaster to the 36-year-old ship as she lay at her pier in Toronto. Her fateful cruise had started at Detroit.

Of the dead, 111 have been identified. Most of them had been trapped in their bunks. Remains of the other seven-11 had been brought previously there were eight other dead—still are to be identified.

No other licenses were affected by Justice Kellock's order. As soon as it was read in open court, Frank Wilkinson, counsel for the lines, asked if it would be possible for Capt. Taylor to get a certificate at a lower rank during the period of the suspension. The justice said that would be a matter for the Federal Transport Department.

During the hearings Capt. Taylor vehemently denied a suggestion by a witness that he had been under the influence of liquor when the ship caught fire in the dead of night. The charge was made by witness C. H. Wilson, a survivor, at the Cleveland inquiry. Other survivors, however, said the 60-year-old master had acted in a normal manner.

Survivors among the 600 holiday makers who were on the cruise ship told of the scene of panic and terror when a wall of flame swept through the ship. Passengers, most of them in bed, were awakened by screams and smoke. Many jumped overboard to safety.

Hiss' statement to a federal grand jury that the two men never met after Jan. 1, 1937.

The witness said he saw Mr. and Mrs. Hiss around Christmas, 1938, in their Washington home. One of the two counts in the indictment against Hiss charges he lied to the grand jury on this point. The other count accuses him of lying when he denied passing any State Department papers to Chambers.

Chambers said that when he called on the Hisses late in 1938 he told them of his break with the Communist Party and they tried to talk him out of it.

"The treatment accorded to as the fire consumed the 36-year-old Great Lakes steamer at her dock.

Taylor acknowledged in testimony at Toronto that he had "one small drink, under two ounces," of Scotch whisky, but he said he was not at all under the influence of liquor. Wilkinson has announced that instructions have been issued to start libel or slander suit action against the person or persons who make such a charge.

Taylor testified that despite printed company regulations ordering all masters of ships to instruct crews personally in emergency duties, he had delegated this duty to heads of various departments aboard the ship. He said he had not considered the possibility of a fire at the dock being as serious as one at sea because facilities for fighting such a fire would be on call from the port city.

NEGROES SUIT BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 21—(AP)—A streetcar conductor shut three negro passengers last night after one of them took a seat in the section reserved for whites, police reported.

Detective P. A. Macaruba said two of the men were wounded accidentally. The third, Sammy Lee Williams, 31, suffered a serious wound of the abdomen.

Mr. Ward and to the American consular staff in Mukden is in direct violation of the basic concepts of international relations which have been developed throughout the centuries. As such, it is of direct and immediate concern to all countries interested in diplomatic intercourse, particularly to those with missions or consulates in China.

"I ask you, as a matter of urgency, to express to the highest Chinese authorities in Peking through such channels as may be available to you the concern which your government undoubtedly feels over the treatment of the American consular staff in Mukden who have been arbitrarily deprived of their freedom for one year."

Acheson said at the outset that since late November, 1948 the entire U. S. consulate staff, which numbers 13, had been detained under house arrest at Mukden. Ward and the four others were jailed on Oct. 24.

President Touhy announced that the Christmas Seal campaign for tuberculosis began today and urged all Rotarians to make prompt remittances when they received their Seals which will be placed in the mail during the next few days.

Introduced by Ed Higgins who pointed out that the Sanford Housing Authority consists of Sam Martina, Rev. J. E. McKinley, Ralph Cowan, Harry Lee and himself, Mr. Williams declared that we are now engaged in a great war, a war between Communism and democracy. In order to win this war, he added, certain basic elements of the individual must be met. He defined these as food, clothing and shelter.

"Anyone who is ill fed, ill clothed and ill housed, he said, is a dissatisfied citizen regardless of the type of government we may live under. There are today even in this country, he said, hundreds of thousands of individuals whose living conditions as best must be described as poor. If their needs for better housing are not met, they become ill prey for Communist agitators, he said.

"Democracy must do something for these people," he said, "or they must some day become a serious threat to all we hold dear. Low rent public housing is designed to provide decent housing for low income groups in order they may have something left over for food and clothing after they have paid rent."

The Public Housing Act of 1949 provides for the construction of 10,000 low rent public housing units at a cost of $1,800,000,000 in the next six years. The nature and after the temporary projects are to be strictly local and financing is supplemented with long term bonds, the projects are subject only to state and local laws.

The Sanford Herald

Established in 1908... Published daily except Saturdays and Sundays at 515 Main Street, Sanford, Florida.

MONDAY, NOV. 21, 1949

We are a very patient long suffering people in this country. It has taken just 86 years Margaret Mitchell got back in his driver's seat and crashed into a truck within two hours of his conviction for his 24th traffic offense.

James Gordon Bennett, we believe it was, used to tell his reporters, "When a man bites a dog, that's news." So it was news the other day when a Jacksonville jury convicted a 29 year old white man of the rape of a 16 year old negro girl. Notions newspapers, please copy.

A newspaper is merely the mirror which reflects the life of the community. Read any good newspaper and you will find in it enough murder, rape and robbery, to give you cause for pause. We are not among those who believe that the younger generation is going to hell, or that longevity is the curse of our civilization. But we are inclined to believe there is a growing number of all ages who have not found the answer to successful living.

Sir Stafford Cripps, of all people, tells churches to stay out of politics. "The churches should not attempt to devise remedies for particular social, economic, or industrial evils," he says. "That is the function of technicians such as politicians and administrators." That leaves the situation in pretty foul shape, it seems to us. Perhaps if the churches mingled a little more in politics, the politicians, when they lie as Sir Stafford did about devaluation, would be held more accountable.

Rev. Fleming of Daytona Beach tells the Men's Club that the only solution for the racial problem is the Christian solution, that there will be no segregation in Heaven. The trouble is of course that we are not Christians, at least 47 percent of us are not, and half of those who profess to be are Christians for appearances only. To open the swimming pool to one and all alike and let them go down there and beat each other's brains out would not seem to us to be a very Christian act.

Comptroller Gay blames the people for the sales tax when he says they are continually demanding more services without more money. How true. And yet Fuller Warren told them he could when he was campaigning for office. Like Truman when he was running against Dewey, he said no new taxes would be needed. And the great FDR promised to reduce government expenses 25 percent, and instead he raised them 1,000 percent. And so the people are not entirely to blame. They are simply too trusting. It is possible to be wise of city government. It costs a lot of money to govern adequately and competently for all the legitimate activities which a prolific population is encouraged to produce.

Just 86 years ago Saturday, Nov. 21, 1963, Lincoln in the White House on the 100th anniversary of the signing of the Emancipation Proclamation, signed the Civil Rights Act of 1964. It gave the federal government the power to enforce desegregation in public places, schools, and employment. It also gave the federal government the power to sue for desegregation in public places, schools, and employment.

When You Are Old

The set-in-their-ways old people worry you. The demanding old people irritate you. The selfish old people infuriate you. The old people who want you to entertain them get on your nerves. But have you ever thought that they are no different as old people than they were as young people—except in a greater degree. The stubborn old people were set in their ways when they were young people. The demanding old people were demanding at twenty, more demanding at fifty, and still more demanding at seventy.

Rules Of The Chase

Cruising detectives in Washington, D. C., the other day stopped a known numbers racket operator to check on the contents of a bag he was carrying, and the operator readily admitted that he was carrying numbers slips. The detectives promptly arrested him. The judge before whom the man was arraigned set him free. The judge ruled that he was actually arrested at the time the detectives stopped him, and that at that time they did not know what was in the bag and therefore had no evidence on which to arrest him. Similar incidents are by no means uncommon.

Prime Source Of Anxiety

"Most of our anxieties," writes Dr. William G. Niederland in Your Life, "originate in infancy and childhood. They are primarily the product of environment—or ignorance, superstition, and faulty training. The fear of disease, for example, almost always is engendered by parents who are overanxious and oversolicitous, thus instilling their own fears and apprehensions in their children's minds." "An eminent educator once made a series of inquiries into the anxieties of school children. She found that virtually all of them were plagued by multiple fears—fear of the dark, of animals, of disease, of rejection or punishment. "The worst cases of anxiety were found among children who came from broken homes or who were deprived of mother and father love for other reasons. A child's inner security and normal development depend on a well-integrated family situation. There is no adequate substitute for a healthy and happy home life."

Markets Show Vegetable Sales Volume Increasing

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 21. (Special)—The winter vegetable crop is beginning to move in quantities over many of the State Markets this week. William L. Wilson, Director of State Markets, announced in his weekly review of State Markets today, "Volume at Fort Pierce and Palmetto has increased sufficiently to warrant daily auctions beginning this week. At the Palmetto State Market the increased tomato volume is accompanied by a light volume of pole beans, eggplant, pepper and squash. "Tomato volume at the Fort Pierce Market is expected to be between 40 to 45,000 crates. Cukes of an excellent quality continue to move through the market. "A light volume of pepper, eggplant, tomatoes and squash moved through the Fort Myers State Farmers Market last week. An increase in volume of these items is expected this week. "Pompano Market reports an increased supply of beans and squash with small lots of cucumbers, eggplant and pepper available daily. "Florida City suffered from heavy rains last week but the ground was reported to be drying rapidly and heavy planting during the next two or three weeks is anticipated. "Houlihan State Market handled 2,000 pounds of pecans on the weekly sale. The crop is shorter than last year but the quality is improved. "The first celery moved from the Sanford market during the past week. The quality was good and moved freely at $2.50 per crate. A good supply of celery, bean, cucumbers, peppers, squash, lima, radishes and all varieties of citrus fruit will be available this week. All commodities will grade good. "The Wauchula State Market reported volume of $9,188 worth of produce through the market during the past week. $51,292.52. "The volume of produce reported for the week ending 11/21. The volume is expected to drop slightly this week. Small quantities of pepper, eggplant, white and yellow squash and tomatoes were also sold. The volume of all these commodities, except celery, is expected to increase this week. "The State Farmers Market held its second weekly produce sale on Wednesday, Nov. 18, 1949. The volume of produce sold was $1,200.00. The volume of produce sold on the weekly sale will be held Thursday, Nov. 24, 1949.

Airmen Found

(Continued from Page One) realized planes and ships were looking for them. Several times they heard planes pass over and tried to paddle toward one of them, heavy swells kept them from making any progress. "We began to feel the hopeless, nearsighted position when we saw planes overhead but they kept circling without seeing us," said Tech. Sgt. William Johnson, of Tech. Hills, Calif. "The morale of the men was excellent," said Staff Sgt. John J. Harris, Bradford, Pa., the plane engineer. "Everyone got along fine." "When the B-17 finally found the rafts, it dropped the survivors on a lifeboat by parachute. The rescue plane crew said by then some of the survivors were so weakened, they took them 45 minutes to transfer from the life rafts to the boat. The captain of the rescuing destroyer, Lt. Comdr. Edward T. G. Markwick, of Ottawa, said waves 60 to 80 feet high were tossing the lifeboat as he brought it ashore. The waves were so high he said, the men stepped were handed across the destroyer's forward deck without using a ladder. "The men, said Lt. Comdr. Alfred A. H. Kerley of Victoria, B. C., seemed pretty dazed when they were picked up. On their arrival here, Sgt. Roy Coulter, 46, Beverly Hills, Calif., was ruled not in shape to talk to reporters. Lying quiet and unsmiling on his stretcher, he was reported suffering considerable shock. "The other survivors brought ashore on stretchers were Staff Sgt. William H. Pratt, Brockton, Mass.; Capt. Joseph A. Petrovich, East Providence, R. I., and Cpl. Bruce W. Neal, Sault St. Marie, Mich. "The two men lost were Cpl. Raymond G. Reel, 32, Arlington, Calif., who received a severe head injury from the wrecked plane's yinders, and Pvt. Robert Dobson, 19, Decatur, Ill., who was unable to swim through the swells. Lt. Col. Grable said the heavy seas overruled the other survivors from reaching them. "Five other airmen died during the huge search for the plane crew when their own B-52, taking off from MacDill, Fla., to join in the search, crashed at the edge of Tampa Bay. "The crash, and a series of other B-52 accidents, recently—of which the crash in two weeks—resulted in an order Friday grounding these B-52's and engaged in the search for the missing crew and rescuing."

THE NATION TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—(AP)—On Jan. 1 the Social Security tax is going up from the present 1 per cent each to 1 1/2 per cent each on all employees and employers covered by the law. This increase of one-half of 1 per cent in the Social Security tax will affect about 17,000,000 employees and about 50,000,000 employers. Congress voted for this increase in 1947. This is the way the tax works and how it will work after Jan. 1.

The employer—You're a covered employee. Now you pay a yearly tax of 1 per cent on whatever salary you make up to $3,000. There's no tax on anything you make over $3,000.

So the highest tax such an employer has to pay is 1 1/2 per cent of $3,000, or $45 a year, earned from any one employer. When the 1 1/2 per cent tax a year on the first $3,000 goes into effect, the highest tax is $45 a year.

(What happens in the case of an employee who changes jobs during the year? Suppose he earned as much as $3,000 from one employer and paid the maximum tax on that—$45—and then went to work for another employer during the year. No matter. The employer pays his Social Security tax for the year? No. He has to pay 1 per cent of his pay up to the first $3,000 of it earned from the second employer.

(But isn't $30 the most an employer has to pay in any one year now? Yes. But when he pays more than that, he can get a refund by asking the Internal Revenue Bureau for it at the end of the year. The bureau collects the tax.)

The employer—You have to match, out of your own pocket, whatever tax your covered employee has to pay: 1 per cent of his salary up to the first $3,000 of it.

So while most employer has to pay on any employer's salary is $30 now, or 1 per cent of $3,000. Suppose the employer's total salary is $1,000 or $10,000. No matter. The employer pays only 1 per cent—$30—on the first $3,000. Suppose the employer's salary is $1,000. The boss pays only 1 per cent of $1,000, or $10.

When the tax goes up to 1 1/2 per cent Jan. 1, the employer and the employee each will have to pay more. The employer pays salary up to the first $3,000 for a maximum of $45 each. (So, while the combined tax is only 3 per cent after Jan. 1, it will be 3 percent.)

This is an explanation of how the tax increase on Jan. 1 comes about. When the Social Security Act was passed in 1935, Congress said the tax should start in 1937 and would run this way: 1937-40—1 per cent each on employees and employers; 1940-2—1 1/2 per cent; 1943-4-5—2 per cent; 1946-7-8—2 1/2 per cent; and 1949-50—3 per cent.

But as 1949 began to roll around—with the tax due to go up from 1 to 1 1/2 per cent—Congress voted to keep it at 1 per cent. Yes, after it voted to freeze the tax at 1 per cent to prevent an increase.

But—in 1947 Congress voted to keep the tax at 1 per cent on employees and employers through 1949 and then let it go up to 1 1/2 per cent on each, starting Jan. 1, 1950.

Since Congress hasn't changed its mind, the tax will go home to 1 1/2 per cent in 1947. The tax rise of one-half of one percent starts Jan. 1.

This year the present Congress considered a bill to increase Social Security taxes on an increasing scale until they reach a total of 4 1/2 per cent on employees and employers in 1970 and thereafter.

The House passed this bill late this year. But the Senate didn't. So the bill didn't become law.

Hunt Is Continuing For Missing Plane With 28 Children

OSLO, Norway, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Land, sea and air teams pressed an intensive hunt today for a missing plane feared to have carried 28 persons, including 28 malnourished Jewish refugee children, to a flaming death in the tangled forests of southern Norway.

The plane, with the 28 children, three nurses and four crewmen aboard, last was heard from by radio at about 6 P. M. last night as it neared Oslo's Fornebu Airport. Soon afterward a sharp flash, followed by an explosion, was reported near Gjerfjorden Lake, a mile southeast of Oslo.

Home guard and police, along with hundreds of volunteer searchers, combed the dense forests and the lake region swampy. Rescue vessels searched in Swedish and Norwegian waters far out in the Skagerrak on the chance the plane came down at sea. Danish ships were alerted. Swedish and Danish planes and craft of the Norwegian air force joined in the hunt for the plane, owned by Aero Holland. The owners said at The Hague the plane was considered lost.

Another Dutch DC-3, sister ship of the lost craft, landed safely today at Gothenburg, Sweden, with 27 other Jewish children, like the others en route from Tunisia, North Africa, to Israel by way of Scandinavia. The youngsters, ranging in age from six to 12 years, had been so undernourished that they had been threatened with tuberculosis. All 55 children were to have had six months of rest and rehabilitation in Scandinavia before travelling on the Israel.

After the sister ship discharged its passengers, it took off again to join in the search for the missing twin-engine craft. The pilot, Capt. Thorvald Andersson, said the missing plane had an experienced and well trained crew. However, it ran into cloudy weather, lowering visibility, when it was over Oslo fjord, only a mile or two from its destination.

Though its total border line is only 1000 miles, Austria is bounded by seven countries: Switzerland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Yugoslavia, Germany and Liechtenstein.

Seminole High Has Homecoming Parade

Seminole High School students, in happy anticipation of their homecoming football game with the Seabreeze Sandcrabs, paraded Friday afternoon downtown with much fanfare and with colorful floats and ended up with an enthusiastic rally at the Bandshell.

One of the floats showed two high school boys attired as football players with a huge kettle for "barbecuing" the "Sandcrabs." As it turned out, however, that evening the Sandcrabs dined on Celery to the tune of 6 to 0, in spite of the bitter opposition of the Celery-fed gridlers.

Having no forethought of anything but victory Friday afternoon, however, the students and High School Band turned out en-masse and with noisy enthusiasm, sounding the strains of decorated jeeps, trucks and cars. The Junior Class float had a big cake with a candle, the Sophomore class carried in the "Sandcrabs," while on another float was a tubular of "Little Women" as future home makers of America.

"We Seashore Victory" was the sign of the Pep Squad float while the members, depicted a beach scene covered in the "Sandcrabs," the Latin Club featured old Neptune himself. In all there were about 10 floats, and many decorated automobiles.

States Rights Endorsed By Dixie Leaders

Governor Thurmond Is Named Chairman Of Governor's Confer- ence At Biloxi

BLOXI, Miss., Nov. 22—(AP)—
The Southern Governor's Conference today elected J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina as chairman, and adopted a modified draft on the State's Rights ticket, States' Rights resolution.

Thurmond, 1948 presidential candidate, was named by unanimous vote at the final conference session.

In other action the convention
went on record favoring state ownership of tidelands, urging the states to follow uniform procedure in honoring requests for return of fugitives, and calling on the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to broaden its policy to help states and municipalities to provide additional public service.

The resolution on States' Rights
said:

"We are opposed to government
regimentation of the individual citizen and to socialization of competitive industry and we unqualifiedly support the traditional American way of life and our free enterprise system.

"We believe in the freedom of the individual, the sovereignty of the several states in keeping with the federal Constitution as essential to the survival of the republic."

Yesterday, States' Rights leaders passed a stronger resolution on the subject but Leander Perez of Pointe-A-La-Hache, La., said
they had abandoned plans for bringing it before the conference.
Perez said the resolution finally adopted was prepared by Governor Earl K. Long of Louisiana

World Federalists Hold Discussions At Tourist Center

The question of whether or not the United States should give up sovereignty in order to strengthen the United Nations organization
in order to bring about a world peace program, precipitated a lively discussion last night at the Tourist Center where more than 70
members of the Sanford Tourist Club met with members of the local chapter of the United World
Federalist organization.

The discussion lasted for more than an hour and a half following a half hour broadcast program
led by Judge Douglas Stenstrom,
Mrs. Clover Marrs, J. Bralley
Ridman, the Rev. J. K. McKinley,
Dr. H. W. Rucker, Marion Harman
of Station WTRR and Mrs. T. E.
Tucker, who also presided.

The radio discussion concerned the UN and resolutions now before Congress in making it a fundamental objective of the United States to strengthen the UN into a World Federation capable of preventing war.

In the discussion that followed the radio program, the question of the United States giving up its sovereignty came to the fore. The United Federalists contended that all nations would ultimately give up the sovereignty to make war and the weapons of war, and that this is the only way to achieve actual security against the destruction of atomic bombs or biological warfare.

versity, here to address a Columbia alumni meeting, told newsmen: "I'll repeat what I've been saying all along. I am not now seeking a political position and I have no intention of doing so."

"I have a job to do as president of Columbia University and I am devoting all my time to it. That's what I plan to continue doing."

Jewish Refugee: Children Die In Dutch Air Crash

Plane Is Found With 26 Known Dead Out Of 35 On Board

OSLO, Norway, Nov. 22 (AP)— Police announced today they recovered 26 bodies from the wreckage of a Dutch plane which had carried 28 Jewish refugee children and seven adults. The police said one child is known to have survived.

There was the slimmest chance that there were any more survivors, the rescue parties reported.

The searchers found the twin-engine DC-3 transport after searching since Sunday through the dense forests of southern Norway.
It was lost en route from Tunis,
North Africa, to Norway with the 28 disembarked refugee children,
three nurses and four crewmen.

The plane smashed into the forest, cutting a broad swath through the trees. The front part of the chartered aero Holland craft was badly damaged, but the rear section was said to have been almost intact. As rescue workers climbed upon it, some of them reported they could hear faint, feeble cries.

It was reported that the lone survivor was a 12-year-old boy.
Several bodies were found strewn about in the dense woods.
The plane was found near Filtvet,
a small town on the west side of the Oslo fjord, about 30 miles from the Norwegian capital. The nearest house to the crash scene is almost two miles away, and apparently its occupants did not hear the explosion when the plane crashed.

Even though hopes were slim
for any more survivors, squads
of ambulance and rescue teams were sent to reinforce those already on the scene. The search place difficult to penetrate.

The child who survived was taken to a hospital at Drammen, 20 miles from Oslo, police said,
and a doctor there, quoted as saying the boy has a good chance of recovery.

The boy, one of the pitifully underfed refugee children who had been on their way to rest and rehabilitation in Norway, speaks fluent, officials said, but it was impossible for the time being to persuade him to tell his name.

Chambers Says Reds Hired In Atlantic City

One Of Them Changed Birth Certificate: Coplon Trial Is Put Off Till Dec. 27

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
Whittaker Chambers, chief prosecution witness in the second perjury trial of Alger Hiss, testified today that former Communist underground chief "J. Peters" had a contact in the city government
at Atlantic City, N. J.

Chambers told a federal court jury that the contact changed the birth record of Chambers' daughter in 1935.

The former $30,000-a-year Time magazine editor said the change
was made after he and his family changed their name on orders of the Communist Party.

Chambers, admitted former Soviet spy courier, did not name the Atlantic City official.

Claude R. Cross, counsel for Hiss, former high State Department official, hammered incessantly at Chambers' background in an attack on the witness' credibility.
He drew from Chambers an admission that he used the birth certificate of a dead child in applying for a passport in 1933.

In another New York courtroom, the espionage conspiracy trial of Judith Coplon, 28, former government girl, and Valentin A.
Gulibichev, 32, Soviet engineer,
was postponed until Dec. 27.

Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan granted the delay on the plea of Gulibichev's newly retained counsel that he needed "at least 30 days"
to prepare for the trial.

The lawyer, Abraham L. Pomer-antz, told the judge he expected to explore Gulibichev's claim that he is entitled to diplomatic immunity, a claim that has been rejected by the courts. This point was raised on Oct. 19 that Gulibichev formerly was assigned to the United Nations, was used by the engineer as his reason for not engaging counsel. Last week he changed his mind and engaged Pomerantz.

Judge Ryan instructed counsel for both defendants that they must begin their motion by Dec. 27.
He indicated that only disposition of pre-trial motions might delay start of the trial on that date.

The court ruled that all motions
must be made by Dec. 12.
Pomerantz told the court that he needed at least 18 days to read 2,000 pages of testimony at the Washington trial of Miss Coplon,
who was convicted here of stealing Department of Justice documents and was sentenced to 40
months in 10 years in prison.

Britain Tells Why Peanut Crop Failed

LONDON, Nov. 22—(AP)—Britain's multi-million dollar African peanut development program is to be pushed despite Conservative Party stalling and disappointing failures in the scheme
thus far.

The Conservatives were defeated in Parliament last night
on their motion calling for a full dress investigation into the £25,000,000 ($70,000,000) scheme
for cultivating peanuts and sunflowers for food oils.

The government has admitted that it has already spent £25, 000,000 ($64,400,000) on the project, and has reaped fewer peasants than it hoped. Drainage technical difficulties and miscellaneous failures were blamed.

Truman Offers U.S. Help On U.N. Food Plan

Abundance Of Food In All Countries Is Called Prime Need Of Peaceful World

By ERNEST H. VACCARO
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22—(AP)—
President Truman today pledged
United States cooperation to help
"create an abundance of food
for all countries."

He called this "a major cooperative endeavor toward our common objective of a stable and peaceful world."

In a speech for the annual meeting of the Food and Agriculture organization of the United Nations,
the President declared:

"If by working together in this abundance of food for all countries, we shall bring better health, longer lives, and greater happiness
in mankind everywhere."

Mr. Truman said the "Point Four" program he presented in his inaugural address last January
could be utilized to increase production of foods in under-developed areas.

"Our experience, our knowledge,
our technical experts are all available to you, and I hope that you will continue to call upon them as needed."

The President made no reference to a proposal to set up a world food bank, or clearing house, as a means of getting surpluses from one area into another area where food is scarce.
The proposed world food bank would have a revolving fund of $1,000,000,000, most of it probably from the United States.
Douglas, that Congress would not act on the bill until the originally proposed capital of $5, 000,000,000 prompting the 80 per cent scale down.

However, Mr. Truman declared that the work of the FAO centers around two major problems.

"The first is to increase the production of 'foodstuffs and other agricultural commodities,' he said.
"The second is to see that those commodities reach the people and countries which need them."

The President expressed hope the FAO soon will be able to establish permanent headquarters
in this country.

His task, he said, "is central to the whole broad effort to raise living standards and achieve great freedom for all mankind."

He spoke, too, of the "agricultural revolution" that has been taking place in the United States.

In a speech prepared for delivery before the student body of Pomona College, the chief of the Economic Cooperation Administration (ECA) traced the background of ECA and the Marshall Plan.

Red Decision: In Ward Case Expected Soon

No Direct Word From Ward Received By State Department Since October 28

LONDON, Nov. 22—(AP)—The British Foreign Office expressed
"concern" today at the Chinese Communist "people's court" decision in the case of a Communist four members of the American consular staff in Mukden. A spokesman said the U. S. State Department call for a concerted protest to the Communist government in the treatment of these officials is being considered.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22—(AP)—
The United States received an indirect report today that a Chinese Communist "people's court" appears to reach a final decision in a matter of days on an American General Angus Ward.

The report came from a Chinese newspaper. It was picked up from a Mukden radio broadcast yesterday, the State Department said.
There has been no direct word from Ward himself since he and two members of his consulate staff
at Mukden were jailed Oct. 24.
They are charged with beating a Chinese employe who asked for back pay.

The State Department has denounced the charges as "frumped up."

This development occurred at the U. S. awarded response from 30 nations, including Soviet Russia,
to a personal appeal from Secretary of State Acheson for concerted Consul General Angus Ward.

The State Department's press
attache in Moscow, J. McDermott, today reported the Mukden radio report of an early decision on Ward's case, translated, said:
"In the course of the investigation,
the people's court probed into all materials relating to the case obtained from various sources. An investigation has been completed,
the court will give a final hearing to the case in a matter of days. The verdict will be announced."

Thus there was no indication whether Ward and the others held will be given a public trial.

The broadcast was reported in a dispatch from American consul official at Shanghai.
Another report, which the department would not discuss.

Farmers Renew Fight Against Hike In Postal Rates

ORLANDO, Nov. 22 (Special) Plans for renewed opposition to postal rate increases were announced today by the Florida
Farm Bureau Federation.

When the second act of the 81st Congress convenes Jan. 3,
Congress will debate a postal rate increase. It is expected to be passed on both floors when the postal rate increase bills come up. Congressmen in the House and in the Senate have reported bills calling for hikes in first, second, third and fourth class rates. One expects increments of $100,000,000.

During the previous session the Florida Farm Bureau joined the American Farm Bureau in vigorously opposing the bills.

"We are particularly concerned with the rate increases in second and fourth class rates," declared John Ford, executive Vice-President of the Florida Farm Bureau. "Rural folks do not have access to neighborhood stores.
They must, of necessity, rely upon the mails, especially the parcel post for some of the things they buy. To force them to pay more would work a real hardship upon our farm families."

FLOR. CHARGES PRESSURE ROMAN

ROME, Italy, Nov. 22—(AP)—
Federal Judge Frank A. Hooper refused today to dismiss indictments against 12 men charged with conspiring to flood several negroes.

The judge directed that the government proceed with its case against the twelve.

Before the day is out the district court is expected to get down to the business of selecting a jury with the actual trial
getting under way tomorrow.
