AMERICAN AND BRITISH CAPTIVES WILL BE SHOT NEXT TUESDAY SAY BANDITS

IF CHINESE TROOPS ARE NOT WITHDRAWN ACCORDING TO PLANS SAYS CAPTIVE

Who Was Released Today to Carry Ultimatum of Bandits Who Are Ruling China

(By The Associated Press) SHANGHAI, May 18.—American and British captives of Shantung Chinese troops are not withdrawn, according to a "final ultimatum" of the bandits brought from the mountain stronghold, by Marcel Oliver Berube, Frenchman, and one of the prisoners who was released for that purpose.

(By The Associated Press) SHANGHAI, May 18.—Chinese bandits last night attacked Tawenkow, a town 90 miles north of Lincheng and seized a number of captives, according to report received here.

TSAOCHWANG, Province of Shantung, China, May 10.—Get the foreign captives out of the grip of the Suchow bandits and talk terms afterwards, otherwise there will be "drastic action" was the ultimatum laid down to the Chinese government officials here late yesterday by Dr. Jacob G. Schurman, American minister to China.

The American diplomat, who stopped off here on his way from Shanghai to Peking, told Chinese officials congregated here to negotiate with the bandits, unless the foreign prisoners were released immediately serious international complications would result.

"End these delays and confusion between various departments of the government," he said. "Get the captives out and talk terms afterwards, otherwise there will be drastic action taken."

Relations between the Chinese government and the representatives of foreign countries is described on all hands as "strained" as a result of the bandit situation.

Dr. Schurman kept in constant cable communication with Washington during his stay in Shanghai.

J. B. Powell and other captives held by the bandits are suffering some discomfort, and some are ill as a result of having to eat unaccustomed food.

The bandits charged that the Chinese troops have not been withdrawn, despite official assertions to the contrary. This apparently constitutes the greatest hitch to the negotiations for the captives' release.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—A Peking dispatch to the state department yesterday said that Consul John K. Davis and Major Philoon, assistant military attaché at Lincheng, had reported that the bandits had stated they were ready to negotiate with Chinese authorities for the release of the Americans and other foreigners recently captured. The message said that a representative of the Chinese government would leave on the morning of May 17 to begin the negotiations.

The statement was issued by the department shortly after it had made public the text of a note delivered by the diplomatic corps at Peking to the Chinese foreign office. The note reiterated that the Chinese government was under obligations to obtain the release of the captives and added that the diplomatic corps was waiting impatiently for it to take efficacious measures for liberation of the prisoners.

Following is the text of the note as made public by the state department:

"In view of the assurances received from the representatives of the Chinese government under the date of May 14, the diplomatic corps believed that it could count upon the immediate release of the prisoners

HIGGINBOTHAM TRIAL HALTED AGAIN TODAY

DEFENSE FILED AFFIDAVITS ACCUSING JUDGE OF PREJUDICE

(By The Associated Press) CROSS CITY, May 18.—The trial of Walter Higginbotham, charged with first degree murder in connection with the death of Martin Tabert of North Dakota, in a convict camp, was halted again today when the defense filed affidavits from two citizens accusing Judge Horne, presiding jurist, of being prejudiced against the defendant. The judge disqualified himself and recessed hearing until the governor could name another judge to come here to preside. Affidavits were filed immediately after the state made motion for change of venue on ground that a fair and impartial trial could not be obtained here. The state entered exception to the judge's decision in disqualifying himself.

Excellent Play to Be Given at High School

BY WELFARE DEPARTMENT OF THE WOMAN'S CLUB

The one-act play "The Twelve Pound Look," that was to have been given last Wednesday afternoon under the auspices of the Welfare Department of the Woman's Club, will be given Tuesday evening, May 22nd, at the High School auditorium, at 8:15 o'clock.

"The Twelve Pound Look," by Sir James Barrie, will be presented under the direction of Mrs. D. P. Drummond, with the following cast:

Mrs. Endor Curlett
Lady Sims
Mrs. Ralph Wight
Kate, a Typist
Mrs. D. P. Drummond
Butler
Mrs. Aylett Pitts

held captive by the brigands of Shantung. The diplomatic corps has been astonished to ascertain these prisoners have not been freed, and that the negotiations entered upon with a view to their release appear to be interrupted for reasons which have not yet been explained.

"The diplomatic corps again emphasized the responsibility which devolves on the Chinese government in this regard and waits with impatience for it to take with no further delay efficacious measures for the liberation of the prisoners. It reserves the right to fix at a later date the nature and scope of the sanctions which the delay in the settlement of this deplorable affair entail and which will be destined to prevent its recurrence.

"The dean of the diplomatic corps is directed to recall the undertaking of the Chinese government regarding the investigation entrusted to the international commission now convened at Tsaocheng, and requests to be informed of the instructions sent to the representatives of the Chinese government."

"The diplomatic corps is greatly surprised to learn that on May 14 the representative of the foreign office alleged that he had not received these instructions."

Minister Schurman pointed out that the Chinese government would "undoubtedly do everything possible to shift the blame on the foreigners if anything goes wrong" and added that for this reason the Peking diplomatic corps had consistently refused to enter negotiations with the brigands or otherwise afford the Chinese government "an excuse to shirk or shift its own obvious responsibility."

SEVENTY-ONE KNOWN DEAD IS THE TOLL OF CLEVELAND SCHOOL HOUSE FIRE LAST NIGHT

Eight Miles from Camden Where Wooden School House and One Stairway Proved Funeral Pyre for the Panic-Stricken People

(By The Associated Press) CAMDEN, S. C., May 18.—Seventy-one are known to be dead and the condition of two others still doubtful was the toll of the Cleveland school house fire last night, eight miles from this city, according to county and local officials. The collapse of a narrow wooden stairway leading from the second floor where an entertainment incident to school closing was in progress caused many deaths, a number of persons being crushed in the debris. Others cut off from escape in this way burned to death while still others jumped from windows. The fire was caused by over turning an oil lamp on the stage during commencement exercise which was witnessed by crowds that jammed the room. A panic followed. The school building a two story frame building containing three school rooms, burned rapidly and before outside aid could be summoned nothing remained but to collect the dead and give medical care to the injured. All available doctors were called from Camden and other nearby towns. The death list reads like a roster of families of the community. Family after family virtually wiped out. In almost every instance where parents are listed as dead from one to four children perished. The audience was watching a little comedy presented by the pupils when a lamp, suspended from the ceiling by a bracket, fell to the stage. Panic ensued and little effort apparently was made to fight the flames which quickly communicated to the dry timber of the building. Mothers, with children in their arms, were trampled under foot. Young and old alike fought for exit. The stairway collapsed, many being impaled on the jagged timbers. Others were pinned down by the weight of bodies above them.

CAMDEN, S. C., May 18.—The funeral services for the seventy odd victims of the Cleveland school house fire, will be held jointly at six o'clock this afternoon near the ashes of the building where they met death. Announcement of the plan was made by committees appointed by Mayor Garrison, of Camden, who are in charge of arrangements. The plan is to bury all at the same time in the same grave.

PUBLIC MEETING MONDAY

A public meeting will be held at the Court house Monday morning at 11 o'clock to discuss pending measures with Representative Forest Lake. Everyone invited to attend.

SENTENCE IMPOSED ON KRUPP AND OTHER GERMAN LEADERS WILL BE CARRIED OUT TODAY

Convicted Men Will Be Transferred to Prisons in France

(By The Associated Press) DUSSELDORF, May 18.—The sentences imposed by recent court martial upon Dr. Krupp von Bohlen and other Krupp directors tried for investigation and imposition to French at the Krupp plant at the time of the shooting March 31st was confirmed today by the court of revision. The convicted men will be transferred to prisons in France while their counsel prepare for an appeal.

DR. CARR SPEAKS ON TALENTS AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Dr. Carr spoke last night on the text "Take the talent from him" to a large congregation which had been prepared for the sermon by the fine singing of the old songs by the chorus of men. Many declared the singing of these old songs to be the best congregational singing ever known at the Presbyterian church. Many friends of other denominations are sharing in these treats given by Dr. Carr.

Dr. Carr gave the congregation much for serious thought last night as he developed his theme. He spoke first of the primary purpose of the parable in calling attention to the serious responsibility of stewardship of money. He then spoke of the responsibility which rested upon the talented person to use their talents for God and men, but he got under the skins of the crowd when he called attention to the fact that these words were not spoken of the gifted man but to the one talented one, whose gifts were below the ordinary. He declared that this parable was giving a law for all life, that any man who did not use the powers given him lost those powers. He said: "This is the law which has governed the fish of the Mammoth cave who because they did and could not use their eyes have lost them entirely; it is the operation of this law which caused the stioled wings of those birds in certain islands of the sea which because of the isolation from other lands and the absence of trees do, not fly, they lose the power of wing, it is the operation of this law which causes the eastern fanatic who ties his arm above his head in obedience to a vow to gradually lose the power of the arm. God always demands a use of the gifts and powers committed to a man."

At this point Dr. Carr spoke of man's talent for religion, the demand for God planted in his bosom, and his closing words of warning lest we neglect this gift of the Father and lead to our losing the power and desire to worship.

There will be no service tomorrow, but Dr. Carr will speak at both services Sunday and each night next week until Thursday night.

The Florida State Championship Trapshooting Tournament started their first day of shooting yesterday afternoon and though it poured in torrents for some time after the events started it did not dampen the ardor of the sports who are here from all over the state to take part and after the skies had cleared somewhat they were hard at it again and the heavy bombardment sounded like war had broken out and the enemy was coming up Lake Monroe.

LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE ON CONVICT BRUTALITIES REPORTS TO BOTH HOUSES

MASS MEETING IS CALLED HERE MONDAY MORN.

TO DISCUSS LEGISLATIVE MATTERS WITH REPRESENTATIVE LAKE

In order to secure the consensus of opinion of the people of Sanford and Seminole county on certain bills now pending in Tallahassee, Representative Lake has requested that a special meeting be called at which would be present the county commissioners, Chamber of Commerce and all other organizations and citizens.

The measures coming up for discussion at that time are the creation of a county court, the lakefront bulkhead bill and the one making sundry changes in the city charter. The first bill affects the county as a whole, the second, the city and county jointly, while the third is entirely a local measure.

The meeting has been arranged for Monday, 11 a. m., and will be held in the court house. Inasmuch as all of these measures are of paramount importance it is urged that a large number be present so that Mr. Lake can ascertain the true sentiments of the majority.

Mr. Lake has already passed legislation which will be reflected in the future development of both Sanford and Seminole county. His work as a legislator is facilitated by the co-operation and counsel of his constituency.

RECOMMENDS THAT LEASE SYSTEM AND CORPORAL PUNISHMENT STOP

BETTER TREATMENT All Prisoners and Mass of Testimony on Tabert Case Was Also in Report

(By The Associated Press) TALLAHASSEE, May 18.—The joint legislative committee that for several weeks investigated alleged convict brutalities in this state today made report to the senate and house. Beyond recommending that the county convict lease system and corporal punishment be abolished and that present laws regarding the supervision of prisoners be strengthened the report itself was perfunctory but accompanying it was a mass of testimony relating to the death of Martin Tabert and conditions in camps of State Senator Knabb in Baker county. The legislature has already acted to abolish corporal punishment measure to that end now being on way to governor. The convict lease system has also been tabooed by both houses.

TALLAHASSEE, May 18.—A three cent gasoline tax bill, passed already by the senate, went through the house yesterday after one of the bitterest fights of the session, and was on the fair way to be law of the land. The measure goes back to the senate for concurrence in some changes to its less important provisions, and thence it goes to the governor.

Passage of the bill, which provides for a two cent levy on gas to go to the state road department and one cent to be divided equally among the sixty-three counties, was made possible by a most unusual parliamentary procedure which took it from the hazards of a filibuster that showed no signs of abating. It was accompanied by dire warnings of disaster if it reached the courts and good roads advocates recalled with a shudder the litigation that took the effectiveness from the one cent act of '21 and held it so far several months.

Representative Stuart delivered a parting shot to the effect that no theory of taxation would stand the tests of the courts which made a statewide levy for allocation to its several counties. He was opposed, too, he said, to a three cent tax. It was placing on the automobile industry too much of a burden for the road building, he declared, and would work to throttle that industry.

According to figures developed during the debate on the measure, a two-cent tax for the road department will yield approximately $1,500,000 annually. With its other resources the department's budget is expected to be increased to some $4,500,000. The counties will split approximately $750,000 for their one cent tax or each one will get about $12,000. Opponents of this penny tax argued that the amount was so small that none of the counties would be able to do more than buy an ice cream cone.

Representative Merchant, however, in explaining his favorable vote, said that it was nothing but right that those counties which have heretofore supported the road department, year after year, without enjoying any immediate return because they happened not to be on any of the trunk lines or other recognized state roads, should be given some money. This was the view of the county splicers, as they were termed. Some of the other members voted with them because they thought that if the counties were not given something the road department would fall to get anything.

A Kentucky mountaineer who had been reared by his older brother was sent on his first visit to town. Gazing out of a window, he asked the merchant:

"What's that?"

"A woman," the merchant replied. "I want one."

"I'll get one for you."

A few weeks later he returned. "I want another woman," he said.

"Why, I just got you one a short time ago."

"Yep, I know, but she broke her leg and I had to shoot her."

THOSE MOTHERS-IN-LAW ARE ALWAYS DOING PECULIAR STUNTS.

(From Norfolk Ledger.) The mother of the bride wore a gown of black Spanish lace over white satin and her flowers were a bouquet of orchids and lilies-of-the-valley. The mother of the groom wore a corsage bouquet of violets and orchids. And the guests all wore smiles.

A BUSTED FRIENDSHIP.

For seven years Bill Prune and I resided side by side with not a cloud to cross the sky and cast a shadow wide. I nursed him when he had the flu and did up all his chores; I helped him build his bungalow by fitting all the doors. He sat beside my bed of pain when I was down and out; he reaped my corn and shucked my grain, and fed the hogs their kraut. Oh, we were friends of purest ray—real neighbors frank and square—I cobbled up his one-horse shay, he trimmed my aburn hair. But now vendetta's been declared between old Prune and me; no more our mutual joys are shared in loving comradesry. For Willyum bought a speckled hen with long, sharp-pointed toes and kept it in a little pen—for why? Nobody knows. And that durned hen raised general heck out in my garden cote; she made of it an awful wreck and spilled the beans to boot. I grabbed my double-shovelled gun and sallied forth in ire; I slew her as she turned to run, and threw her in the fire. Oh, had Bill not procured that hen, our friendship would have thrived, but it went gallivanting when she in my garden strived. Good feeling now is on the hog and you may bank on that; last eve he chloroformed my dog, today I killed his cat.

If you take a walk through the cemetery alone you will pass the last resting place of the man who looked down the muzzle of a shotgun to see if it was loaded. A little further down the slope is the crank who tried to show how close he could come to a moving train. In strolling about you see the monument of a bird girl who tried to light the fire with kerosene, and a grass-covered knoll that covers the boy that put a cob under a mule's tail. That tall shaft over the man that blew out the gas casts a shadow over the boy who tried to jump on a moving train. There with the top of a shoe box driven over his head is a rich man who married a young wife. Away over yonder reposes the boy who went fishing on Sunday and the woman who kept strychnine in her cupboard, and over in the potter's field may be seen the bleaching bones of a man who tried to whip the editor.

FABLE OF CUPID AND MAMMON

If one cares to look through the Who's Who Book, the name of Mr. Newgold will be found ranking as high as the rankiest. And Mr. Newgold had a daughter, Pearl. Pearl was the Apple of her dad's eye, and he took particular Pains to Shoe-horn her into the Best Society. Mrs. Newgold having social Aspirations in her own right, dreamed of the day when she could bask in the reflected glory that an International Alliance would bring to the house of Newgold.

All unconscious of this delightful little mess that her fond parents were wishing on her, Pearl stepped high, Wide and Handsome in the inner circle of Jazzbo Jazzers, and hung many scalps on her Girdle.

Old Guys with lotsa mopus, but not much Physique offered her the chance to hang several different titles on her visiting cards. Others from across the Herring Pond offered her exclusive rights to long unpronounceable names, if she would Hitch up with them, and allow her Pater to pay off the mortgage on the old Baronial Castle. But Pearl was having a Good time, and was not thinking of Tying herself up to any male at this period of her Existence.

In vain her mother and father railed at her. In vain they pointed out to her the advantages of a Big name. She would have none of this old Noise, and at last she picked out a nice, Clean-Cut, fellow about her own age, who had a Nice kind face, and who could talk American.

When her parents found this out, they threw a Connipion fit—or its equal—and made all Haste to meet this bird, in order to get the Low-down on him as soon as possible, for she was the only child, and they were Sore afraid that she would commit some faux-pas. (Author's note: I think this is Polish for non de trop.)

So they put on a Party and handed Oscar—that was the young man's given name—a Bid.

Tickled stiff the young Blood came to the Mansion that Pearl called home, and was with much Ceremony given a Knock-down to the Folks. Of course, being just a plain ordinary fellow—even as you or I—he struck them as being one of the masses, and they Vetted him Instantly—or maybe a little sooner. In other words they put their feet down heavy on him.

Well the long and short of it was that Pearl, and the honest, but poor Lover, eloped, and were Thrown out of Society. But strange to relate they were happy.

Moral: Cheer up, Mammon never yet knocked out Cupid in fair Battle.

AGENTS WILL TRY TO STOP BOOZE RING

NEW YORK, May 16.—An attempt to break up a country-wide ring of bootleggers with headquarters in this city, which is charged with operating the maritime liquor mart off Jersey's three mile limit, will be emade by the government today.

Assistant United States Attorney Herman L. Falk made this announcement yesterday after quizzing the captain and crew of the British steamer Yankton which put into port yesterday with empty larder and bunker after the super-cargo had left the ship off Montauk Point several weeks ago.

Mr. Falk said the government today would file a complaint in federal district court against six men believed to be the brains of the ring, which is credited with having flooded the Atlantic seaboard with smuggled liquor in the last six months. Mr. Falk estimated that the ring had landed at least sixty thousand cases from Scotland and the Bahamas from the fleet operating from Miami to Boston.

The charges against the sextet will be conspiracy to violate the Volstead act and to attempt to defraud the government out of customs duties.

The names were not made public, but the suspects, Mr. Falk said, now were in New York, Boston and Philadelphia.

Mr. Falk added that the government in its massed attack on the rum fleet including patrolling the three mile limit with coast guard cutters and cutting off fuel and food supplies from shore, has issued orders for the seizure of twelve craft with which the ring was believed to have been communicating with the shore.

Potato shipping commenced in earnest at Hastings with $8 a barrel paid. There will be somewhere around 2,200 carloads, as against 3,500 last year. The fields not touched by frost are showing a normal yield of 50 to 85 barrels, and those which suffered from the cold are yielding from 5 to 25 barrels per acre. First shipments brought $14 a barrel.

Breach of Promise Suit Against Whitney Assumes New Phase

(By The Associated Press) NEW CITY, N. Y., May 16.—Evan Burrows Fontaine, dancer and mother, Mrs. Florence Fontaine, were indicted by the Rockland county grand jury today for perjury in connection with Miss Fontaine's million-dollar breach of promise suit against Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney.

BANISHED.

The whipping-boss and his lash have been banished from Florida.

The senate advocates of the lash dwindled to thirteen Monday and the Senate concurred in the House bill which absolutely prohibits the whipping of prisoners in this state, anywhere, at any time and under any circumstances.

This action should have been taken by both houses the first week of the session. The delay was due to the stubbornness of friends and allies of the lessees in the Senate. These "friends" numbered sixteen on the first vote. On the final vote, they could muster only thirteen—which was just thirteen too many for the good name and reputation of the state.

Since the first publication of the facts in the Martin Tabert case, all Florida has been ringing with the demand for justice. Each new development made more damaging the case against the lease and the lash. State and county officers became involved. A State Senator, himself a lessee, was shown to be as culpable in permitting the cruel beating of helpless men and boys as the northern corporation responsible for the Tabert outrage. It developed that a sheriff was employed by a leasing corporation to "arrest" convicts to take their hole of brutality and death. A drunken County Judge was a party to the shameful bargain. Yet, despite all this, certain so-called representatives of the people either sidestepped the issue, dilly-dallied in attempted compromises or openly opposed the proper action.

The people began to be heard from in unmistakable terms. The press, practically as a unit—the "subsidized" press as the chief lease-and-lash Senator terms it—trained its guns upon Tallahassee. Civic organizations, of men and women, in every part of the state, passed indignant and eloquent resolutions. Mass meetings were adopted as a timely and potent method of expressing the will of the people.

Then, the opposition weakened. The inevitable arrived. The Senate passed the House bill prohibiting the lash—not experimentally for two years, but for all time.

The lease-and-lash leaders gave a few expiring gasps—and they pass out of Florida legislative history forever.

They are "dead"—as dead as the iniquitous, barbarous system they defended and fought to preserve.

Florida has again "righted herself." She has had several similar experiences, when her own citizens have brought shame and discredit upon her—but she has always "come clean." Out of this, her most humiliating situation, she emerges, unafraid, smiling, with the consciousness of duty done!

The pen of the Governor will sign Florida's deliverance from her detractors and defamers.

Florida is all right!—Tampa Tribune.

FORMER CLERK NAMED FOR HIGH POSITION IN COM-TROLLERS' OFFICE

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Willis J. Fowler, who entered the government service in Fort Wayne, Ind., in 1886 as a $900 a year clerk, today was appointed first deputy comptroller of the currency, and Joseph W. McIntosh formerly of Chicago and now director of finance of the Emergency Flett corporation, was named deputy comptroller of agricultural credit corporations.

STATE R. A. M. MEET BEGINS IN TAMPA

TAMPA, May 16.—Royal Arch Masons representing practically every chapter in the state opened their annual convocation here yesterday, J. H. Fishbaugh of West Palm Beach presiding.

The meeting will continue through Thursday, after which many delegates will go to St. Petersburg for special ceremonies.

This is the first meeting of the jurisdiction held outside of Jacksonville in many years.

Most of the first day's session was consumed in the hearing of reports of officers and committees.

Much is being said about marking historic spots, and the boys are attending to the same with their pencils and jackknives on the school-house.

BAPTIST CONVENTION AT KANSAS CITY WILL TAKE UP VITAL TOPICS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 16.—The sixty-eighth annual Southern Baptist convention, which opens here tomorrow will take up plans for completing the $75,000,000 campaign, the five-year forward movement of the denomination that will terminate in December 1924. Means for continuing the missionary educational, benevolent and other work after this campaign is ended, also will be considered.

COAT OF EXCELLENT STYLE

Top coats seem smartest this season when they are developed in the tweeds—imported or domestic. The model pictured is belted in the latest fashion and trimmed with collar and cuffs of its own material. The collar is designed in convertible style so that it can be worn buttoned close up to the throat or turned back. Medium size requires 2 1/2 yards 54-inch material. Pictorial Review Coat No. 9679. Sizes, 34 to 46 inches bust. Price, 35 cents. Skirt No. 1060. Sizes, 24 to 36 inches waist. Price, 30 cents.

JUST IRRESISTIBLY LOVELY

New fabrics exalt the blouse from an accessory to a strangely significant fashion. Expressing naive youth and charm is this design in mauve crepe, worn with a plaited skirt of white flannel. The embroidery is done in mauve and orange, being used to emphasize the irregular lower edge and sleeves of the blouse, as well as the round neck. A string belt of self-material decides the line of the waist and controls the fulness at one and the same time. Medium size requires 1 1/2 yards 36-inch material for the blouse and 3 1/2 yards for the skirt. Pictorial Review Blouse No. 1474. Sizes, 34 to 46 inches bust. Price, 35 cents. Skirt No. 9126. Sizes, 62 to 34 inches waist. Price, 30 cents.

CUT ON SIMPLE LINES

This frock would be practical as well as chic, carried out in dark blue pebble crepe or serge, with sleeves in heavy crepe de Chine in Oriental pattern. It is slashed at the front and trimmed with buttons of self-material. A narrow string belt holds in the fulness at the waist, which is loosely defined. Medium size requires 4 yards 36-inch plain and 1 1/2 yard 36-inch figured material. Pictorial Review Dress No. 9955. Sizes, 34 to 44 inches bust. Price, 35 cents.

Another good endurance test is to be a taxpayer.

Vero's citrus fruit shipping season has practically come to an end, with total car shipments of 243 cars, besides express shipments totalling several car loads. This was the largest amount of fruit ever moved from Vero in one season.

FOR THE MOVIE FAN

Another fine picture last night.

In fact Osborne has been putting over some big ones here of late.

And tonight is no exception.

Betty Compson, Bert Lytell and May McAvoy in "Kick In" is the feature tonight.

It is a crook picture, and one that's you'll regret if you miss.

Osborne invites two families tonight to be his guests and see this wonderful picture, the families being

Jim Estridge and wife, and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. McMullen and family and they will see this picture without cost. The treat's on the house. Bring this as it's your ticket, and above all, be there!

Monday night—Lon Cheney in "The Trap" with added attractions.
Tuesday night—Dorothy Dalton in "Dark Secrets" with International News as an added attraction.

Wednesday—Katherine MacDonald in "Money! Money! Money!" with a comedy.

CELERY SEED

No game yesterday!

All on account of rain!

DeMolay-Ovido game called off, too much rain.

But tonight we'll see Collie Biggers and Young London in their final match at Lake Monroe.

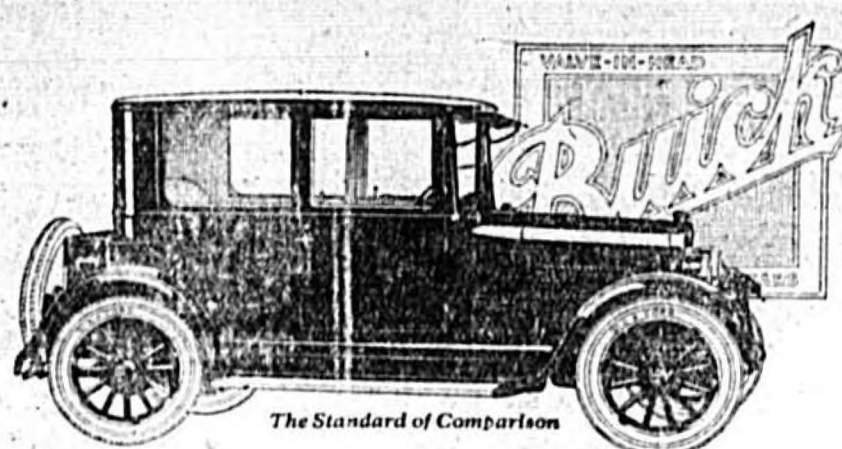

In other cities tonight when sport fans are discussing Dempsey, Mettigue, Gibbons, Willard and others, Sanford fans will be perched up at Monroe watching London, Biggers, Peck, McLucas and others wrestle and box.

Since Gainesville dropped out of the baseball tournament Miami has been selected to fill her place. Baseball critics are wondering now if Miami will furnish as much excitement as the Purple Hurricane would have done.

Miami's Hell-Cats showed up fine in athletics this year, they having been contenders for state honors several times this year. They were especially prominent in football, playing Gainesville for the championship although defeated.
